Teacher appeal is prepared

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

The Central Middle School teacher convicted of assault and battery in the disciplining of a student plans to appeal the court's decision.

Scott Kurtz, 30, of Wayne was found guilty last month by 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. Kurtz was fined $135. Imposition of the sentence was postponed until this Saturday.

"We have put together his appeal and plan to file this week," said Charles Bokos, Kurtz's attorney.

"We also are considering asking Judge Davis to reconsider his decision. We definitely will be doing something," Bokos said Monday.

The assault and battery charges and subsequent conviction stem from an Oct. 22 incident in which Kurtz confronted 16-year-old John James of Plymouth.

James had entered Kurtz's drafting class and failed to identify himself. Kurtz's attempt to identify the student and find out where he belonged resulted in physical discipline.

On two occassions during the short encounter, Kurtz physically lowered James to the floor.

Davis ruled the discipline (lowering James to the floor) wasn't unreasonable. But, the judge said the student wasn't under Kurtz's supervision after Kurtz and James left the drafting class.

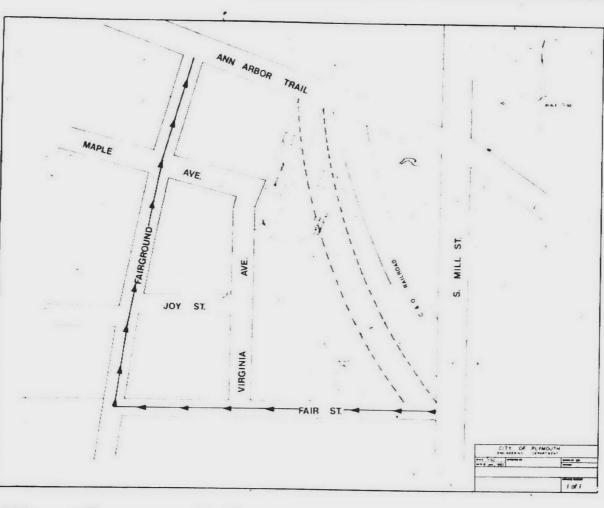

Davis relied on an attorney general's opinion which outlines the proper use of corporal punishment in the schools. That opinion allows teachers to use reasonable physical force on students under their supervision.

Because the discipline occurred outside of Kurtz's classroom, the judge found Kurtz guilty.

"The prosecutor never entered on the record any evidence that dealt with supervision. If there was a question of supervision, the prosecution should have entered some type of evidence to that regard," Bokos said.

Bokos said he believes James was under Kurtz's supervision, even though they left the classroom. Davis ruled differently.

"The judge assumed that fact on his own, without any evidence in that direction," Bokos said. "I think that's why the judge's decision surprised ev eryone

Railroad bypass drawn

By W.W. Edga staff writer

For years motorists coming into or leaving Plymouth have been riled by the long waits for the sight of the caboose at the Chessie railroad crossing on Main Street.

There has been talk from time to time of having an overpass or an underbass built to relieve the situation that raised tempers and burned gallons of gasoline needlessly.

And as modern methods to produce power made the locomotives more powerful the freight trains became longer and tempers flared and flared.

But all that can be forgotten if a new plan, now under study, becomes a reality. The plan eliminates the railroad crossing entirely and brings the motor traffic right into the heart of the downtown area at Kellogg Park.

Under this plan motorists will be advised to take the exit off I-275 at Ann Arbor Road and proceed west to Mill Street, at the corner where Plymouth Township Hall is located.

From there the plan calls for going north on Mill Street to a point just before you reach Ann Arbor Trail. There it will move westward like an arc and connect with Ann Arbor Trail. Once there the traveler will head directly up Ann Arbor Trail to Kellogg Park and the center of the business district.

City Manager Henry Graper said the study was underway and, if accepted, the construction could be financed by the revenue from the new fivecents-a-gallon tax being placed on gasoline.

The only new road that would have to be built under the plan would be a short stretch in an arc from Mill Street to Ann Arbor Trail north of the K.of C. Hall

The plan also calls for the reconstruction of part of Mill Street and widening the intersection at Ann Arbor Trail

It has been estimated that the entire project could be built for $500,000, aside from the money needed to pur-chase the present Glassline building and perhaps the little manufacturing building close to the intersectioon.

This is the first plan considered that would eliminate the railroad delays entirely. Most other plans called for either an overpass or an underpass, each of which drew protests from the neighboring business places.

Now, the new by-pass plan, eliminates the protests by forgetting the railroads entirely. And, if adopted, it will be a boon to travelers

Dual school tax adoption likely

Plymouth-Canton property owners should anticipate a summer tax collection beginning this year.

The Board of Education is expected to approve the summer collection of one-half of its annual school property taxes after a public hearing takes place at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 24 at the board offices on Harvey in Plymouth.

State Public Act No. 333, which became law last month, permits school districts to collect one-half of their property taxes in the summer without prior approval of a city or township governmental unit.

Plymouth-Canton school officials wasted no time implementing this law, and said the extra collection could save the district about $700,000 - encouraging news when the district projects a $3.5-million deficit next school year.

Of course, it also means property owners, who usually pay their entire tax bill at the end of the year, must pay one-half of their school taxes in the summer, when the extra collection is approved by the school board.

School districts receive most of their tax revenue in the first three months of the year, but incur expenses on a year-round basis. Consequently, many school districts are forced to borrow money to operate the district through the end of year - before annual tax collections from December to March.

Plymouth-Canton schools, for example, borrowed almost $17 million (about 40 percent of the budget) and paid more than $1.3 million in interest for the 1982-83 school year. This expense is a waste of money that could be used to finance educational programs, school officials say. About one-half of this expense could be saved by collecting taxes in the summer, they add.

PROPERTY OWNERS in the city of Plymouth will continue to pay their summer city tax, plus approximately one-half of their school taxes. The remaining portion of school taxes will be paid in the winter. Currently, city residents pay their school taxes in the winter

Property owners living in surrounding townships now will pay approximately one-third of their total property-tax bill (one-half of their school taxes) in the summer, and the other twothirds in the winter. Currently, the entire tax bill is collected by townships at the end of the year.

Township water bills to increase

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

The cost of taking a bath in Plymouth Township is going up starting March 1 - as is the cost of washing dishes, watering the lawn and doing the laundry.

The combined cost of water and sewer is being raised 28 cents per unit (1,000 gallons) to township residents, effective March 1

The rate increase is due to increased costs to the township, coupled with projected losses for 1983 if current rates are maintained. The Township Board formula for determining excess flow charges. Township Engineer Michael Bailey advised the board to look over the formula carefully because there wasn't a good alternative to it.

The excess flow charges were not passed on to the township prior to last year due to credits which offset any increase in the county's sewage bill to the township. Since then, a re-calibration of an industrial waste control meter has been performed which ended the township's billing credits.

Thus, the township foresees a $150,000 bill for excess flow in 1983, according to Chemieleski.

'I also disagree with the court's interpetation of the attorney general's opinion," he said.

Hall of Fame nominations are sought

The Kiwanis Club of Plymouth is accepting nominations from the community of persons that residents feel are eligible for selection to the Plymouth Hall of Fame

The candidates must be at least 30 years of age and have been residents of Plymouth or Plymouth Township for at least 10 years

Nominees may be male or female but must have made some significant contribution (monetary, political or emotional) to the community.

Nominations may be submitted in writing to Kiwanis Hall of Fame, Post Office Box 594, Plymouth, Mich. 48170.

Lents closing Saturday

Contrary to the article in the Dec. 27 edition of the Plymouth Observer, the J. Lent Co. in Plymouth will continue to be open through the close of the business day on Saturday, Jan. 15. Owner James Lent has no intention of continuing his clothing business in Plymouth. However his father, Wendell Lent, is planning to open a small custom tailoring and alteration business in the Plymouth area with Fawzi Hourani, the store's master tailor. Alterations can be picked up through the week of Jan. 17 at the present location. An announcement will be made in the future about the new location that the father will be opening.

approved the increase Tuesday night.

Residents now pay 83 cents per unit for water and 73 cents per unit for sewage. Starting March 1, residents will pay an additional 4 cents for water, or 87 cents per unit; and an additional 24 cents for sewage, or 97 cents per unit.

Township water and sewer costs were raised recently by the city of Detroit and Wayne County and are expected to be raised again, according to Mark Chemieleski of the Plante & Moran auditing firm.

Detroit provides the township with fresh water and sewage treatment. while the county owns the interceptor sewage line which transports waste water to the Detroit treatment plant.

In the past, township supply cost increases were absorbed by reducing the water department's working capital fund. Interest revenues from the working capital fund partially are used for defraying the administrative and maintenance costs of the system, said Supervisor Maurice Breen.

During the past year, the township experienced increasing excess flow charges from Wayne County for waste water disposal. These charges, in part, take into account storm water entering the sewers.

Wayne County uses a complicated

what's inside

In 1981, the township's water department had a $237,000 net loss, which depleted the working capital by some $117,000. A loss in working capital has a spiral effect, reducing the interest revenues earned on that money.

Projections for 1982 show a net loss of $241,000 for the department, which mean an additional $112,000 loss in working capital - further reducing interest revenues, according to Chemieleski.

If the township failed to raise the rates to residents in 1983, the water department would suffer a net loss of $339,000, which would result in a $214,000 loss in working capital, he said. .

The township can no longer invade the working capital to absorb supply cost increases, according to Breen.

Chemieleski offered the board several options for rate increases, including some which would recap revenues lost in previous years and some which would generate additional capital for water system improvements.

The option the board approved should bring the water department to a "break-even point" for 1983, while maintaining the integrity of the working capital fund, Chemieleski said.

Christmas giving is best ever

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

"This is the finest Christmas we ever have had.'

With these words Capt. William Harfoot, head of the Plymouth corps of the Salvation Army, laid aside the final report of the holiday drive and shook his head in surprise.

"When you think of the precent economy, the number of people out of work and the other things that have hurt our way of life, it is just amazing the job that the communities in this area did."

According to the records he had just completed, the Army took care of 460 families during the holidays and in those families were 660 children.

Aside from that, according to the Captain, 2800 persons in the hospitals and other institutions were given gifts or visited to cheer them during the vuletide

THE VARIOUS service clubs in the area played a key role in the drive. They provided the bell ringers who manned the traditioal kettles on the main corners of Plymouth, the township and Canton.

Between them they raised $12,000 and this amazed Capt. Harfoot.

"Remember," he said, "there was no snow this year and the snow always is a help even though it is a sort of hardship on the bell ringers."

One of the reasons for the success of the bell ringers was the revival of the keen rivalry between the two Kiwanis clubs in Plymouth and the Rotary Club. For years the Kiwanians raised the most money at the kettles. This year, for the first time, the Rotarians put on a special drive, and with 81 members participating, they finished on top.

So great was the success this year, according to Capt. Harfoot, the Army now has sufficient funds to carry on its regular program for the remainder of the year.

The success also spurred on activity for the opening of the new building on South Main Street that is scheduled for some time in March.

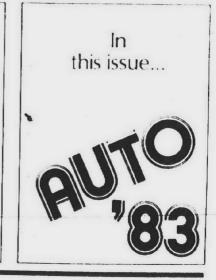

THE NEW QUARTERS - the transformation of an old church - now will have the necessary room for more ac tivities than ever. There will be a gymnasium, several meeting rooms and plenty of room for special activities.

Capt. Harfoot has several innovations in mind for the opening and plans to extend an invitation to the populace to attend and go through the buildings. Among these innovations a special day - or evening - for each of the luncheon and service clubs in the area.

"We will be able to feed them and thus get a good idea of the work that can be done in the new quarters."

And he added, " The best Christmas we ever have had will do the trick and we wish to thank all of the service clubs that helped in the holiday sea-

INTER SPORTS mean more than athletes bouncing a ball and shooting hoops at the Centennial Educational Park.

This season also features the sweat, tears — and even blood — of high school wrestling.

The Plymouth-Canton community is fortunate to have two respected and winning wrestling programs.

Dan Chrenko runs the Plymouth-Canton program, while Ron Krueger directs Plymouth Salem's efforts. Both men started, developed and have maintained outstanding teams for many years.

In fact, at one time both men forfeited assistant coaching positions in football to concentrate all their energies on wrestling.

Two highlights of each mat season are the annual invitationals hosted at both schools. Canton conducts its tourney during the Christmas season, while Salem has its event early in the new year.

Pictured here is last weekend's Rock invitational, which attracted 16 wrestling squads from around the state. Westland John Glenn won the event. Salem finished third and Canton sixth.

Baboon joins Schoolcraft instructor

By Mary Klemic staff writer

A baboon is an unusual breakfast guest, but not necessarily a dangerous one.

So says Schoolcraft College instructor Ralph Miller, who once lost a cup of coffee to a baboon who helped himself.

That was just one experience Miller had over the Christmas holiday when he was among five people from the area who traveled to Kenya on a 12-day, 13,000-mile safari. Miller said the incident with the baboon was nothing to be alarmed about, "as long as you don't interfere with them. They're only out for food," he said. "It was quite safe." MILLER, A geography instructor at Schoolcraft College, travels to a different part of the world every Christmas holiday. He has spent past yuletide vacations in Greece, Egypt and South Af-

Accompanying Miller this last holiday were biology instructor Harriet Morgan, student Mark Stevenson (both from Schoolcraft) and a Warren couple. They left Dec. 22 for New York, where they joined 15 others. The group then headed to Africa via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

The first stop was for 18 hours in Amsterdam. There the travelers took a boat ride down canals and visited the Rykes Museum and a place where diamonds were cut and polished.

IN KENYA the group stayed at several different hotels and campgrounds, always in a reserve area. The incident with the baboon took place at the Treetops Hotel.

Martin said actor William Holden and Queen Elizabeth have visited this hotel. It is built on stilts over a small lake that is a watering hole for a variety of animals. Miller saw large herds of elephants and cape buffalo there.

Baboons, monkeys and birds were plentiful in the surroanding trees, "I had gotten up the morning we were leaving, and was taking photos of the sunrise over Mt. Kenya," Miller recalled. "I had put my coffee cup down. A baboon came up and drank the coffee and put the cup back in the saucer, then took a cookie and left."

The group visited Nairobi, Aberdare National Park, the Samburu National Reserve, Mt. Kenya National Park and the Masai Mara National Reserve.

THE TRAVELERS journeyed in a van with a top that lifted up, enabling them to take photos. Each person had a window seat.

"It was a film safari," Miller said. "There is no more hunting in Kenya."

The drives were almost always filled with surprises, as when the group followed several elephants over a small round hill and suddenly found themselves in a herd of 70.

"It was wall-to-wall elephants," Miller said. "It was just magnificent."

Then there was the evening the van ran out of gas in the wilderness. The group waited six hours before they were found.

"There we were, with a few hyenas eyeing us," Miller said. "But there was a full moon and the birds were chirping — it was quite nice. We started to joke and sing songs and waited for somebody to find us. And they did."

MILLER SAID he did not expect to see so many animals on the trip. He estimated the group saw 80,000 animals in eight days, including gazelles, zebras, lions, giraffes, hippos and a leopard.

"It was like being in a zoo, except you were the ones in the cage," Miller recalled. "It really was a magnificent chance to see animals in their element.

"What you see in a zoo are rather frustrated creatures. (In Kenya) they were very playful."

The van got so close, Miller said, that he could have touched a lion's paw. In Masai Mara, the travelers stayed in cloth tents with grass roofs. Monkeys and baboons would crawl on top.

MANY ANIMALS weren't afraid of humans, according to Miller. He described how storks would approach and try to take sandwiches from people at tea time, and how the lions snoozed in the sun, only occasionally glancing at the visitors with one eye.

The warm local weather over the holidays was cool compared to that in Kenya, where daytime temperatures averaged 82 to 85 degrees. The only snow was on the top of Mt. Kenya.

"We started on our safari Christmas 'Day," Miller said. "There were Christmas trees and ornaments on them, but we really weren't aware that it was Christmas."

Each person paid $2,400 for the trip. Morgan said the trip was worth it. "It was marvelous," she said. "I just

"It was marvelous," she said. "I just had a great time. I enjoyed the flowers, which were brilliant; the people, and the wild animals were magnificent. It was quite an adventure I wouldn't miss."

Year-round school may be on the way out here

By Dénnis O'Connor staff writer

Extended School Year (ESY) scheduling may become extinct after this school year.

Plymouth-Canton school officials, wrestling with a projected $3.5-million budget deficit next year, are consider-ing eliminating ESY, a year-round school program, from both Eriksson and Field elementary schools next fall.

After receiving a report from an Elementary Housing Committee Monday night, the Board of Education directed Field and Eriksson principals to meet with parents in those attendance areas to discuss the proposal. These meetings will take place sometime next week, according to Dick Egli of the community relations department.

Formal decisions on ESY's future at these schools probably will come by the end of this month, Egli added.

Field and Eriksson, both in Canton Township, are the last two buildings on ESY. Last year, the board took four other elementary schools (Hulsing, Miller, Isbister and Gallimore) off ESY in a cost-cutting move.

"It comes down to a $3-million deficit and a $250,000 savings to get off ESY," Superintendent John Hoben told the board at Monday's workshop. If ESY is eliminated, Field's attendance area would stay the same except for 45 kindergarten students who would move to Eriksson for one year only, ac-cording to the committee's report. Field's Talented and Gifted (TAG) Center classroom would be moved to Miller Elementary School under this plan. Some students in the Eriksson area may be moved to Isbister Elementary School, if the plan is implemented. These students may come from the Cherry Hill-Sheldon corner, the committee suggested. These changes would come in late August, after the last "track" of students finish the 1982-83 school year, officials said.

POPULATION GROWTH in the 1970s forced the district to implement the year-round system to house more students, rather than build more school buildings. That growth now has turned to a declide in the early 1980s.

Although previous boards have fa-vored ESY elimination before trimming education programs when dealing with budget deficits, Eriksson principal Bill Lutz cautioned the board that many Canton parents have adjusted and favored the year-round schedule. "I've heard that everyone wants off ESY, and I don't think that's true,"

Lutz said. "I don't think there will be an overwhelming clamoring to get rid

Some board members agreed with Lutz, but added that ESY scheduling becomes difficult for families with middle-school aged students on a conflicting traditional school-year sched-

Board Treasurer Glenn Schroeder questioned ESY elimination because he said Plymouth-Canton may experience future population growth.

"It scares the hell out of me to make this move now," Schroeder said. "In a couple of years, this trend may reverse itself. It's easy to take them off ESY, but it's emotional to go back to it if things turn around."

Some 900 homes are empty in Canton and Plymouth township, according to Hoben.

Schroeder argued these home will be filled - with parents and children when the economy gets better.

"I think we are experiencing a dif-ferent kind of decline," Schroeder said. "I think we must be aware that we are, in fact, going to be in a declining What we have is a large amount of enrollment period for a number of empty homes out there that are eventuyears," Rodwell said.

Cable TV viewers no longer will receive WOR-TV (New York), Channel 29 on the basic service package.

Omnicom Cablevision, which owns the franchise in the Plymouth-Canton community, took WOR off the air Mon-

Officials are studying various op-tions and hope to replace the channel with different programming "as soon as possible," according to Omnicom General Manager Betsy Seeley.

A recent Supreme Court ruling raised Omnicom's copyright fees 645 percent if a third distant channel is broadcast on the Plymouth-Canton system, Seeley told Canton Township's board last week. Omnicom still offers WTVS (Atlanta) and WGN (Chicago) on its basic package.

The company has complete control of what it offers on basic service channels and may adjust it anytime without local government approval, according to the franchise agreement. Seeley stressed the court ruling affects all cable companies nationwide and not just Capital Cities Cable, which owns Omnicon.

Many competing cable companies, however, never originally offered all three channels (Atlanta, New York and Chicago) and probably won't be affect-ed by the new legislation, she added.

WOR recently was placed on Omnicom's basic service as the third distant channel. It was not part of the company's original package.

CAPITAL CITIES hired a research company last summer to conduct a phone survey on viewer interest, Seeley said.

WOR placed third, of the three stations, on what subscribers watched most, Seeley said. Atlanta's station was first, and Chicago second, she added. "WOR came out last in all our Capital Cities systems that did take the survey," Seeley said. "I know of at least eight of our systems in the Midwest that took this survey.'

Seeley added that beginning Jan. 10, Channel 12 on the cable system will be totally "scrambled" because the IT pay-television service now offers full-bay-television service now oriers that time programming. Originally, Channel 12 featured WIHT (Channel 31 in Ann Arbor), which included part-time IT and part-time programming from Ann Arbor. Omnicom will replace the nowscrambled Channel 12 with an elec-

Local programming listings, however, will not be on this station. Local listings are available in Monday editions of the Observer.

Cable viewers should not be surprised if they see other changes in their basic package this year, Seeley said.

The biggest difference, which will come April 1, is an expanded channel package which could include up to 52 channels, Seeley said. Currently, Omnicom offers a 35-channel receiver.

at most townships, however, because their departments are structured to collect taxes only once a year.

Some Canton Township officials, for example, have voiced opposition to the added collection, even if the schools offer to pay a fee for the extra work.

"I, personally, think that if you don't do it (collect school taxes), you will get rid of 90 percent of your complaints," Canton Supervisor James Poole said last week.

By law, the schools have up to 30 days after Jan. 24 to negotiate summer tax collection fees with each local governmental unit. Receiving tax income earlier - even with a fee — is worth it, Hoben said. Some, or all, of the government units may accept or reject to collect the summer tax.

"If they (other units), indeed, refuse to collect this tax, we can go to the county, and if they refuse, we can col-lect it ourselves," Hoben added.

By a 6-0 vote Monday, the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees approved a two-year contract with the Faculty Forum, bargaining agent for instructors, librarians and counselors. Trustee Laura Toy was absent from Monday's special meeting.

The faculty ratified the contract Jan. 5 by a vote of 117-15.

Counsel holds

THE AGREEMENT is retroactive to August and will be in effect through August 1984. The contract guarantees a 3-percent salary increase in the first year, and includes a provision to raise base salaries by up to 2 percent if college operating revenues exceed $15.5 million during the current fiscal year. Revenue in the current budget was projected at $15.2 million, a college spokesman said.

A one-time payment of $160 will be made to 138 faculty members now at the top of the base salary schedules, according to the settlement. The contract covers 155 full-time instructors, librarlans and counselors and some 200 parttime instructors.

Maximum salaries - the rates earned by 90 percent of Schoolcraft faculty because of thier seniority - in 1982-83 will be:

• $24,955 for faculty with bachelor's degrees, up from $24,228 in 1981-

• $29,262 for those with master's degrees, up from $28,410.

• $30,164 for faculty with master's degrees plus 30 credit hours, up from $29.285

• $31,060 for faculty with doctor-ates, up from $30,155.

UNDER THE pact, a 2-percent in-crease in base salaries will go into effect with the 1983 fall semester. The agreement carries a provision to go be-yond this percentage if the board agrees to a larger increase for the administrators' bargaining group.

The contract also calls for the college to pay $10,000 and a year's insurance, except long-term disability, to any full-time faculty member who ses early retirement.

Approximately 40 faculty members - more than 25 percent - are eligible for this early-retirement incentive. Those eligible are at least 55 years old, have completed 10 years service and are at least a full year away from the mandatory retirement age of 70.

THE AGREEMENT provides the 1983 summer session will run six weeks instead of eight. A one-week spring recess was added to the winter semester calendar for the first time.

The settlement calls for the board to contribute $10,000 a year, beginning 1983-84, to a fund for the retraining of some full-time faculty members for changing programs. The fund will stop at $20,000.

Contract negotiations began in April. Four months later, the previous contract was extended through Dec. 31. Tentative agreement was reached Dec. 14.

Rises in shuffle Lucas appoints Egeland to head DPW

By Teri Banas staff writer

Duane R. Egeland, 54, came out on top this week in a shuffling of executive positions in Wayne County government.

After five years as assistant director of the Wayne County Department of Public Works, the soft-spoken engineer from Livonia was named head of the department Tuesday by county executive William Lucas.

Egeland, who became known as the county's chief salesman of the controversial $300 million Super Sewer project, admits even he was surprised by the announcement.

A supporter of Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara in his unsuccessful bid for the executive's job, Egeland said his contact with Lucas has been extremely limited. He first met Lucas Monday night at Lucas' inaugural par-• ty at Roma Hall in Livonia.

The next morning he learned of his appointment in a mailed notice. He also learned of a staff meeting for all county department heads that evening. Politics aside, Egeland's appoint-ment is considered by many as a smart move. Egeland had served as engineering director and deputy managing director of the Wayne County Board of Public Works for the past five years, and has been a county employee for more than 20 years.

His training and education was in civil engineering. The man he replaced Royce Smith, a political appointee* had been a township supervisor and member of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners before his appointment.

The department, which has some 166 employees, is responsible for the planning, design, construction, operation and maintenance of the county's extensive wastewater management programs.

Egeland said he talked to one of Lucas' aides, Jamiel Akhtar, before the appointment was made. Akhtar interviewed members of the public works department in search of a successor and he asked Egeland if he thought he could run the department, Egeland said.

A DETROIT native, Egeland graduated from Michigan College of Mining and Technology in 1950 with a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering. He landed a job with the engineering consulting firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark where he stayed for nine years. The firm was then located in Detroit and now is headquartered in Bloomfield Township.

Engeland left the consulting firm to work for the city of Livonia during it growth years. He worked in the city's engineering department at the same time that McNamara was a city councilman. In Livonia, Egeland held the position of assistant city engineer.

Egeland's began his career with the county began in 1961 as a structural engineer for the Wayne County Road Commission. His first charge was to oversee a massive expansion project at the Wyandotte Wastewater Treatment Plant.

After some five years, he was named engineer of operations at the treatment plant. Following that he was promoted to assistant sanitation engineer in the department of public works.

Egeland and his family have lived in Livonia for almost 20 years. He says, 'We wouldn't think of living anywhere but Livonia." His wife, Elvira, who works for the county's senior citizen nutrition program, is a former Mrs. Michigan and fashion illustrator. She is a member of the Livonia Commission on Aging.

They have two children, Linda, 25, a chemist for the Wayne County Health Department and Michigan State University graduate, and Gary, 23, an aviation student at Western Michigan University. The Egelands are members of Ward Presbyterian Church.

A SOFT-SPOKEN man, Egeland calls himself apolitical. When asked if he carries an political party allegiances, his first response was no, although, he added, he's probably a Democrat because "I come from a family of auto workers and was raised in Detroit. I believe strongly in unions, except I think they've become too powerful. I think there should be a balance.'

He says one of his first directives from the new county executive is to carve a "lean" department budget; to which he says he's responded by declining to fill 10 previously budgeted slots in his department.

THE BIGGEST project on tap right now is Super Sewer, now 10 years in the making for 17 communities. The first $100 million phase of the project will begin with a groundbreaking in July, he says. According to Egeland, Lucas has pledged his support for the project.

Egeland is a member of several professional organizations, including the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, the American Public Works As-sociation and the Water Polution Control Federation. In the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, he is a former president of its Rouge Valley chapter and a former director of its Detroit chapter.

Thursday, January 13, 1983 O&E Lucas ia pushing 'super sewer' for western Wayne

The "super sewer" project is shrink-ing even as it wins the approval of Wayne County Executive William Lu-Cas

"The Walled Lake City Council voted not to participate in the project," reported Duane Egeland, managing di-rector of the Wayne County Public Works Department which has fostered the project for years.

Meanwhile, the city of Livonia was dropped from an "interim financing ement," Egeland wrote to 17 commuinities remaining in the project. "Because of Livonia's nominal design and cost impact on the project, the city could be added to the project at a later date."

"SUPER SEWER" is the nickname of the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System, a $210 million sewage treatment plant and interceptor runway from western Oakland County to where the Huron River flows into Lake Erie

In its early stage, "super sewer" was to include Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor in Washtenaw County, western Oakland County as far north as White Lake Township, and western range of Wayne County.

The Washtenaw County communitie vironmental reasons and fearing the domination of Wayne County.

Also dropping out have been White Lake Township, Wolverine Lake and now Walled Lake.

The Walled Lake decision came after Egeland had secured agreement from 18 communities to underwrite a $461,0000 interim financing agreement to cover engineering, legal'and finacial work. It meant that the bill had to be reallocated between, and re-approved by, the remaining communities.

These are Novi, Wixom and Comerce The Washtenaw County communitie opted out several years ago, citing en-ville city and township, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Rockwood, Romulus, South Rockwood, Woodhaven and the town-ships of Plymouth, Canton, Brownstown, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

EGELAND REQUESTED the participants to approve the agreement by Jan. 21. Local communitie' share run between $4,700 for Commerce to $180,000 for Canton.

Economic development interests have, pushed the project and added County Executive Lucas to the list of supporters. Lucas's letter said in part:

I am aware of concerns that the project may result in increased out-migration from older communities, but I am satisfied that this problem hjas been adequately addressed in the ex-tensive planning process. . . The popu-lations proposed to be served by the project are in conformance with mod-erate SEMCOG (Southeast Michigan Council of Governments) projections representing essentially inevitable population movement."

Super sewer had been opposed by the city of Detroit, which feared further population loss.

LUCAS CITED these benefits:

• "Elimination of numrous health hazards. .due to discharge of raw and improperly treated sewage. ... • "Stopping the state Department of. Natural Resources from imposing building bans in large areas of Wayne County, which would be a staggering blow to the area's already crippled

(P,C)11A

• "Injection of over $210 million of federal funds into the local economy and creation of over 5,000 jobs for local workers, which will significantly reduce unemployment in the area."

Some $73 million in federal funds are currently available for the first phase of the project, prompting Lucas to add, "I am deeply concerned, howev-er, that further delays in starting construction would result in the loss of part or all of the presently assured federal funding."

Pursell panel frowns on tax increase for Michigan

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Every department of state government may be asked to make reductions of 2 to 5 percent when the expenditures subcommittee of Gov. Blanchard's Fiscal Crisis Council submits its report, according to Carl Pursell of Plymouth. Although he is a Republican and a congressman; Pursell is chairman of the nine-member subcommittee, one of exception is the Corrections Departthree such panels drafting recommendations on the state's budget problems. He said the committee would probably not ask for a tax increase.

'You don't tax to improve prosperity," said the third-term congressman. He said the panel's recommendation would probably ask for a property tax freeze "up front" and reductions from almost every department. A possible

ment which runs Michigan's prisons. THE SUBCOMMITTEE heard testimony Dec. 29 in Lansing. Pursell said the speakers included representatives from the areas of mental health, general government, the fiscal agencies of the state Senate and House, the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and the state auditor general, along with former state legislators.

Suggestions from speakers included recommendations that cuts be made across the board, according to Pursell. "I'm in favor of that principle," said

Pursell, a former two-term state senator and member of the appropriations committee. Pursell said the full committee will

Season to hike and watch birds

By Lem Meses outdoors writer

Many an area outdoorsperson is finding this season to be a "winter of our discontent," as Shakespeare put it.,

Life without snow

The unusually warm weather that has been visiting southeast Michigan so far in the winter of 1982-83 has put some seasonal activities on hold. The ice is too firm for boaters but not firm enough for ice fishing. There is no snow for tracking game, snowmobiling or cross country skiing.

But all is not lost. For example, snow is not a requirement for a pleasant winter walk, according to Pat Carlson, naturalist at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark.

WITHOUT SNOW, she told us, "a lot of people don't have to work so hard to walk. And some things you can see that you didn't know were out there."

Mild temperatures, while providing wildlife with more movement and food gathering, have encouraged more hiking and birdwatching.

"A lot of people come out here and hike the nature trails," Carlson said. "Some like to go out and around and see what's happening. Some like it because they can get the exercise and don't feel cooped up."

Nature lovers will have a chance to get out and around Sunday, Jan. 16, when a free "Winter Wildlife Walk" will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark, outdoors north of the I-96 freeway near Milford. The family program will begin at 2 p.m. Naturalist Bob Hotaling will lead a 90-minute discovery walk on the nature trails. To register, contact the Nature Center in Milford at 685-1561.

SOME BIRDS, such as the junco and purple finch, make their local appearances at this time of year, Carlson said.

The junco has the nickname "snowbird" because it is seen here only in the winter, the Kensington naturalist said. The junco has a wingspread of up to 10 inches, a slaty gray belly and whitish outer tail feathers. It spends summers in evergreen forests in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and in the Upper Peninsula. The junco will eat out of suburban bird feeders in winter.

Wildlife is in abundance, including deer, muskrats, weasels and cottontail rabbits.

The cottontail rabbit seldom seeks winter shelter. It occasionally enters a woodchuck hole for shelter from a storm or to escape enemies

Carlson advised winter hikers to dress warmly and in layers. Wearing layers of clothing enables the hiker to remove items if he gets too warm. And your feet should be comfortable, she said. "Boots are fine as long as your feet feel

There are some restrictions on how state trees can be used. "They're not to be used for ornamental purposes or Christmas tree plantations, nor can they be resold with the roots attached," he said.

Hospitals store electricity

What's half the size of a football field, lives underground, consumes two million gallons of water and saves millions of dollars?

If you guessed a fat, miserly gnome, you're off.

It's the newly constructed thermal storage basin at the University of Michigan Hospital. It's the largest of its kind in a U.S. hospital, according to Gordon Holness, spokesman for the hospital's architect, Albert Kahn Associates Inc. of Detroit.

The basin is similar to passive solar storage systems used by many homeowners. But instead of storing the sun's energy, the basin will house electrically produced heating and cooling energy.

PART OF the U-M's Replacement Hospital Project, the $1.4 million basin was built primarily to economize on air conditioning, and the savings are substantial.

Engineers predict that when the replacement hospital is completed, the basin will help cut electrical costs by almost 25 percent

Every 10 hours of basin operation, they said, will supply cooling equivalent to 3,000 half-ton air conditioners.

Despite its immensity - 170 feet long, 72 feet wide and 25 feet deep - the basin is practically hidden from view. The only parts visible to a casual observer are a few vents and the eight manhole covers through which engineers may lower themselves to check basin operation.

UNDERGROUND, reinforced steel and concrete walls two feet thick retain the water, and eight identical chambers stratify the liquid.

Depending on the season, engineers will manipulate the temperature and the water flow direction to cool or heat the hospital.

Twenty-four probes mounted along the basin's side and immersed in the water will monitor the temperature with the help of a microprocessor. Engineers will take mean Michigan temperatures over a period of several years, feed them into the computer, and get an estimate of how much cooling is required for the next day.

"Only a 10-degree variation in water temperature between the warm and cool sections is needed for the basin to operate effectively," said Andy Parker, senior engineer for U-M Hospitals. Temperature range is from 55 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit, he said.

"THE BASIN is essentially a holding tank," said Parker.

"Water at ground temperature in the basin is cooled 10 degrees by a chiller, and from there the water travels to the hospital patient's room.

the chillers are used as pumps, producing heat much like a heat pump in many homes."

The basin permits the electrically powered chillers to run at night when rates are down, in effect storing energy for use the next day. In addition to saving energy, this capability saves money.

Detroit Edison penalizes commercial users by imposing a 24 percent penalty for electricity used between 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., the peak demand period for commercial use of electricity in Ann Arbor.

Commercial demand for electricity plummets during the late evening and early morning hours, and rates are considerably

At the U-M Hospital, rates have risen dramatically. In the 1950s, one kilowatt cost 1.5 cents, Parker said, while today that amount has jumped to six cents per kilowatt.

"Without the basin, an additional 1,500 tons of heating and cooling equipment would have been required," Parker said.

"The hospital will save about $750,000 in equipment alone and another $16,500 each month in penalty power fees to Detroit Edison.'

LaBo's treasurer of Brass-Craft

Larry J. LaBo of Canton has been named corporate treasurer by the board of directors of Brass-Craft Manufacturing Co. LaBo, 36, has been corporate controller of Brass-Craft since joining the Detroit firm in 1978 and will continue in that capacity as an adjunct to his expanded corporate office.

Before that he was controller of Circus World Toy Stores, Inc., a national retail toy chain, where he was employed for five years.

Earlier Labo was an audit supervisor for the national accounting firm of Ar-thur Anderson & Co., where he served for four years. He became a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) in 1971.

A 1969 graduate of Ferris State College where he earned a B.S. in account-ing, LaBo is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.

Brass-Craft is a manufacturer of shut-off valves and connectors to plumbing fixtures and appliances, brass flare and compression fittings, plastic tubular drainage waste and trap systems, and stainless-steel sinks.

COMPUTERS IN CLASS

Dr. James L. Franklin of Plymouth, an assistant professor of music at Wayne State University, will conduct two clinics at the Midwest Music Conference on School Vocal and Instrumental Music to be held Jan. 21, 22 at the University of Michigan. More than 5,000 music educators are expected to attend.

One clinic will be devoted to "Microcomputers in Your Classroom" and will cover computer application in music instruction. How they can be used where they are being used, and what is available will be discussed.

Franklin's presentation will be based on his teaching experience with the mircocomputer in the classroom at WSU and on research he has done in the area. He is developing software for music instruction via microcomputers.

Franklin also is the author of two recent articles in this area. One appeared in the December 1982 issue of Michigan Music Educator and was titled New Teaching Strategies of Microcomputers. The other is in the January issue of the Music Educators Journal, which is devoted to special technology. Franklin's article on "What's a Computer Doing in My Music Room" is the lead article.

Franklin also will be on a panel dealing with "Words of Wisdom from the Beginning Teacher."

A member of the WSU faculty since 1979, Franklin earned his Ph.D. from the University of Iowa. He will be the music specialist at the computer camp to be sponsored by WSU this summer in Lapeer. To be offered for youngsters between the ages of 10 and 18, the camp will combine computer instruction with recreation programs in five separate two-week sessions

Our credo: On these issues we take our stand

EEK AFTER WEEK in this editorial space, we tell you what we think about issues affecting the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Sometimes, readers say, our editorial positions seem inconsistent. Are we Republican or Democratic? Conservative or liberal? Optimistic or pessimistic?

To all such questions we respond the same way. We are not here to tout any party line or philosophy. Instead, we evaluate each issue on its merits and make our own recommendations and observations.

You are free to disagree with our opinions, of course. Editorials may not change your mind, but should charge it up and help you formulate your own opinions.

We always encourage those who disagree with us to submit a letter to the editor (300-word or less signed original) to the Plymouth Observer, 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170, to share your opinions with our readers STILL, IT WOULD be incorrect to imply that we lack a foundation for our editorial opinions.

This newspaper, as does any individual, holds certain fundamental beliefs. These tenets, although not chiseled in concrete, do provide the basis for many of our opinions.

So with 1983 still fresh on the scene we will tell you where we stand and why: ✓ School millages and bond issues: These pleas for tax dollars generally earn our support. Public education is an important strand in the fabric of American society. But while it is one of the more important, it also is one of the more vulnerable. No other institution relies as heavily on voters for tax renewals and increases. And no other institution suffers as much from voters angered and frustrated over rising property taxes.

Open meetings and participatory government: Government works best when the public knows what is going on and can contribute to the process. This is democracy.

Zero-based budgeting: It's an over-worked term, but not an over-used method. Using the method, all expenditures are eliminated from the governmental budget process, and then necessary expenses are added back in. Unnecessary items at least in theory - are eliminated and the public saves tax dollars.

✓ Sidewalks: This newspaper maintains that sidewalks areneeded for heavily-trafficked major roads in Plymouth. Cars and pedestrians don't mix. People need a safe place to walk along the side of the heavily-congested roads - that's why they call 'em sidewalks.

✓ Cooperation: The city, the schools, the county and all of southeastern Michigan are in this together. People living in this area share the same tax dollars and many of the same concerns. Local government representatives and employees work for us, the taxpayers of this area. So it's only logical that city, township and school district work together for our benefit. It doesn't always happen that way, but it should.

Public transportion: It's expensive, difficult to manage but necessary, and we support it. For many of our neighbors, a bus is the only means of getting to the store or the doctor. Public transportation is a lifeline that must not be withdrawn.

✓ Affirmative action: Everybody is supposed to have the same opportunities. Not everybody does.

Racism, bigotry, stereotyping and discrimination deserve our scorn and pity. We can do better. Barrier-free design: Handicapped people de-serve the right of access to public buildings. Taking away curbs and steps is a big step in the proper direction. Again, much has been done, and much more needs to bedone more needs to bedone.

✓ Quality of life: This is perhaps the most over-worked phrase of the 1980s. But if it means people should have a safe, pleasant and enjoyable community in which to live, we're all for it.

This is getting embarrassing - the American way of building cars, I mean. C'mon guys, let's fess up. The Japanese are doing a real job on us and, very simply, we should give it up. Even the biggest among us, General Motors, is faced with recalling 220,000 X-cars because of a faulty brake design for the front-wheel-drive cars.

Some experts claim that GM just didn't have the technological know-how to do the job correctly. Naturally GM officials take offense.

Gone are the days when the American auto industry dominated the world market. And not only will we never again rule the car-making world, we should get out altogether.

Oh sure, we shouldn't throw in the bucket tomorrow. Gradual withdrawal is fine with me. But for the sake of this economy, sound business planning and our pride, let's quit making automotive fools out of ourselves.

Like someone once suggested about the Vietnam War, let's declare victory and go home.

After all we've got our laurels on which to rest. For years we built those wide-bodied, fin-laden beauts. Cars of the future, we called them. Well...so we were wrong. Sure was fun cruising down the road in one of those gas-guzzling monsters at 85 or Local cable TV picture brightening?

OUND ONE between Omnicom cablevision at the Plymouth-Canton community came to an end last week.

Canton Township won this battle by a decisive margin but failed to register the knock-out punch.

It is to be hoped that the final blow will come when Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen and the rest of his board prepare to fight the penny-pinching, short-term antics of the the cable company which attempts to serve the Plymouth-Canton community

SOME OF THESE improvements included: • At least six full-time staffers by February to produce more local-origination programming. Increased local programming — from four to 10 hours weekly.

• 60-channel converter by April, leading to a

It is impossible to measure the time, effort and, strain exerted by committee members Steve Larson (Canton trustee), Chuck Miller and Jim Kronberg in negotiating this settlement with the stingy cable firm.

Canton cable subscribers owe one, big, nearty "thank-you" to these three men for negotiating a superior cable package.

Remember? Every two years would be the big model changeover. America would wait in great anticipation to get a glimpse of the newest Motor City dinosaur Press photographers would hide in the bushes around test tracks and feel a victory had been won if they came away with a grainy, telescopic glimpse of an American love machine.

Like a robed Venus, the newest model would be draped with a sheet as a TV announcer extolled this as yet-unseen beauty's virtues.

My, how we loved to buy 'em big. My how the American auto moguls loved to build 'em big.

And you know what? They still do.

But the American public just isn't buying the old sex routine anymore. We found out that smaller can be more efficient, more comfortable and better built - maybe not as sexy but less prone to recall.

We also realized the Japanese auto makers can do all these things better. And although the Big Three auto moguls hate to admit it, they know it, 100

In a recent Wall Street Journal article, it was noted that American auto makers are turning to the Japanese for assistance in producing subcompact cars

And the reasons are obvious. Instead of making money, the American industry loses $1,000 for each subcompact model it builds and sells. Now that's not any way to participate in the free enterprise system.

More reasons to throw in the towel:

 Japanese assemble a subcompact in 15 hours while we do it in 30 man hours costing $8 more an hour.

• Complete cost, starting from scratch with a hunk of iron ore, takes us 190 hours and the Japanese just 100

• All told, experts estimate the Japanese have a cost edge of $2,500 per subcompact over the American auto maker.

And while American automakers scramble to cut deals with Japanese industry to borrow their knowhow, Chrysler with Mitsubishi and GM with Toyota, the American consumer rushes in increasing numbers to buy foreign cars.

Domestic sales were down by 18.84 percent in 1982 as compared to 1981. Fourth-quarter sales alone were down 7.68 percent despite an 8.83 percent increase in December.

The Japanese are clobbering us in the small car market. Last year they sold 49 percent of the small cars in this country. That's up from 45 percent in 1979

Making cars? Let the people who can do it best, do it.

Computers, anyone?

Nearly seven months have past since the Observer advocated - and pleaded for - a change in Omnicom's attitude and a re-examination of the spirit behind their so-called desire to live up to their contractual promises to the community.

Omnicom made its position quite clear last summer to Canton's Township Board. Peter Newell, a corporate official for Capital Cities Cable (which owns Omnicon), said local programming services will increase as subscribers' demand increases.

So a strong three-member committee, representing Canton residents, demanded, warned, squeezed, threatened - and even urged revoking the cable company's license - before Omnicom finally got the message.

Presto! Omnicom's purse strings loosened a bit, and Canton got definitive answers leading to a much better service package.

better basic-service package.

 Additional portable, mobile "suitcase studios" for more flexibility of live programming.

Two-way home security system by July 1.

How is this new package? Not bad, although the problem of charging an extra $7.95 for channels on a satellite tier was never resolved. These channels normally are on the basic-service package of many other cable companies in the metropolitan Detroit. area. Even Omnicom offered both satellite and basic channels, in one package, to another prospective franchise in the northern suburbs.

Plymouth-Canton still pays $7.95 twice (basic and satellite) to get many of the same cable channels as other communities, and all residents get in return is a free remote-control unit.

And Omnicom officials did not deny at a public meeting that the satellite tier is offered at minimial cost to the company.

Canton's cable committee believed they went as far as they could, within the confines of the contract, to get those extra services.

THERE IS ONE catch to all this effort, however. Plymouth residents, as well as Cantonites, benefited from the committee's sweat and tears. An unwritten law - always kept by Omnicom - states that both Plymouth and Canton subscribers will receive the same service package. Any additional services given to one community also will be given to the other communities in the system.

So Plymouth cable viewers also should appreciate the efforts of Canton's cable committee.

And one way Plymouth Township can repay Canton for its efforts is to continue to put pressure on Onmicom and negotiate even more services originally promised in the franchise agreement.

It's a shame our local units of government are forced to twist and squeeze Omnicom, but that's the only way the Plymouth-Canton community will get the cable package it was promised more than three vears ago

Young reporter makes good in NY

DURING HIS more than a half-century of strolling along the river of printer's ink, The Stroller has enjoyed many a thrill.

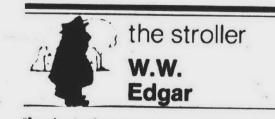

He was at ringside when Luis Firpo knocked Jack Dempsey out of the ring in Yankee Stadium. He rode with Gar Wood when the Gray Fox of Algonac established a new world record in his famed speedboat, Miss America X. He thrilled when he saw his first byline over a story in the Free Press back in 1926

But the thrill of thrills came the day he walked into the Free Press sports department and was told he was being assigned to go with the University of Detroit football team for a game at West Point with Army

Imagine that - traveling with a nationally known college football team, working in the press box with the top sports writers from New York City. It was a sign to him he had "made good" on a major metropolitan newspaper.

PART OF THE thrill came when he was asked to report to Phil Reid, the kindly old managing editor, for a chat.

Mr. Reid was a fascinating person. His eyesight was so poor that he had to wear thick glasses, and he held a newspaper up to his eyes to read it. But he was one of the most kind-hearted editors The Stroller ever has met.

"I understand you are going east this weekend," he said by way of starting the chat. "Well, there are a few things I would like to tell you.

"I want you to remember that when you walk out of this building with your little typewriter, you will be the show window of the paper. So I want you to dress nicely, wear a well-pressed suit, a clean shirt and be courteous to all you meet.

"I want you to stay at the hotel and eat in the hotel dining room. And when you tip, don't be tight. Tip liberally. It may not do you any good, but the next Free Press reporter will get the benefit of it."

With that he stuck out his hand and wished The Stroller well.

THERE WAS the thrill of seeing West Point, dining with the cadets, seeing the beauty of the Hudson River. But a strange moment lay ahead.

At halftime in the football game, he received a message to catch the first train back to Detroit to cover the Lions game on Sunday afternoon.

A quick check revealed that a train could be taken across the Hudson within two hours after the game.

Two cadets were assigned to take him down the hill to catch a ferry boat across the river. Halfway down the hill, the boat was signed leaving the dock. The cadets had to get special orders to continue the journey

When the cadets had him safely at the train, The Stroller went to tip them. The smallest bill he had was $20, so he gave it to them.

Making out his expense account later, he listed the $20 as special automobile hire. That was aside from charging taxi fare.

WHEN KINDLY old Mr. Reid lifted the expense account to his eyes, he noticed the $20 charge and said, "You certainly learned quickly.

The Stroller explained, and the editor said, "And you only gave them $20?" Turning to his secretary, he said, "Make that $50."

Then Mr. Reid turned to The Stroller and said, "That's OK. You keep the rest as a bonus for the good job you did - on your first trip.

Is it any wonder The Stroller has that trip on the top of his list of thrills?

The like of Phil Reid isn't found in the newspaper world today.

Make resolutions for better photos

Some of our 1983 resolutions should include our photography. By sticking with them, our first-of the-year resolutions can definitely improve our photography in the coming year.

Here are some ideas that you can use as some of your own 1983 photographic resolutions. But you can come up with some of your own, too.

LET'S TALK to all of you who were lucky enough to find new cameras, lenses, flash units, etc. under your Christmas tree.

Resolve that you will thoroughly read your instruction manuals to familiarize yourself with all functions. You'll be surprised at how much useful information you'll get from an in-depth reading of your camera's instruction booklet.

Make sufe all your equipment is in good working condition, all lenses are clean, all batteries fresh.

Make a resolution to insure all your photographic equipment. Insurance premiums are inexpensive when compared to the financial and emotional osses you'll suffer if a camera were to be lost or stolen. Usually all it takes to insure your gear is a phone call.

RESOLVE TO take a photography class or join a camera club.

There are an abundance of good classes in the area with qualified instructors. Chances are you'll be able to find a class close to home

The Detroit metropolitan area also has more than a dozen camera clubs, all of which will welcome you with camaraderie and a willingness to share photographic knowledge.

Resolve to start visiting the many fine photo galleries in the area. Looking at photographs is an exciting and rewarding experience.

Birmingham offers the Halstead and Pierce Street galleries, Rochester the Eloquent Light Gallery, and, for those you on the west side, it's only a short hop to Ann Arbor to the Blixt Gallery. Many libraries and public institu-

START LOOKING at photography books. Most bookstores in the area have good photography sections that welcome browsers. Even consider buying some books to begin building a library for yourself. You'll be glad you did.

Resolve to take more pictures this year and perhaps even of different subjects than you're used to. Maybe last year you brought out the camera only at birthdays and holidays.

Well, that's OK, but just think about how much enjoyment you'll get by shooting at other times, just for fun, and just for yourself. Besides, the more photographs you take, the more you'll learn about photography.

Finally, make a resolution to look "deeper" through your camera by paying closer attention to what you see. Become more aware of your surroundings and, in so doing, you'll be rewarded with a keener insight and a finer tuned sense of vision.

You'll be better able to zero-in on your subject and better able to express yourself through your photography. © 1983, Monte Nagler

Area firm 1st to aid hunger fund

The special state fund to attack hunger has received its first major contribution, a challenge and a new name.

League Insurance Cos., of Southfield, sent a -check for $26,520 to the trust fund established last week by then-Gov. William G. Milliken.

"Our contribution amounts to about a dollar a week for each of our employees over the next year," said League Insurance President Robert E. Vanderbeek. "I hope other companies and individuals across Michigan might do something similar in the year ahead.

"THIS IS a great way to get the fund off the ground just ahead of the new year," said Jim Jordan, Milliken's executive assistant, adding that the special trust fund will now be called the Michigan Human Emergency Lift Program (HELP).

"The idea of a dollar a week per person is a meaningful, yet realistic challenge for Michigan's corporate and private citizens to help meet basic human needs during this economic depression." Vanderbeek said League Insurance Cos. will provide a check-off program for those employees who wish to "give their own dollar a week to HELP during 1983

HE ADDED that the current $26,520 corporate contribution is doubly important because the League Companies were sold this month by the Michigan Credit Union League to CUNA Mutual Insurance Group of Madison, Wis. The companies will continue to operate from their Southfield headquarters.

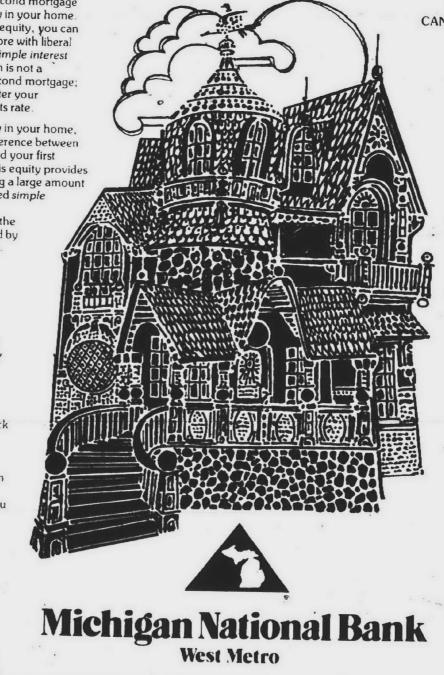

(R,W,G-13A)+ 15A

"This is a significant gesture by our new owners to the people of Michigan," said Vanderbeek: "And it is very much in keeping with the credit union tradition of helping people."

The HELP trust fund will obtain and distribute food to those who need it throughout Michigan. Contributions are tax-deductible. They may be sent to: Michigan HELP, Department of Treasury, PO Box 15128, Lansing 48922

New board elected for Fall Festival

The Plymouth Fall Festival Board met last week and elected new officers for the coming year.

Eleanor Shevlin of the Plymouth Symphony League was re-elected president.

Dennis Sienger of the Plymouth Lions is the first vice president and Grace Light of Business and Professional Women (BPW) club is the second vice president.

Gene Kafila of the Plymouth-Canton Civitans is the treasurer and Pat Carne of Old Village Association has been elected board secretary.

The remaining members of the board are Mary Childs of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, Sue McElroy of the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC), James Jabara of

Plymouth Colonial Kiwanis, Stan Klein of Plymouth Rotary, Louise Tritten of the Plymouth Grange, James Vermeulen of Plymouth Kiwanis and James

Ventittelli of the Plymouth Jaycees. Carl Glass will continue to be Festival Manager with Mike Vanderveen continuing as assistant manager. Cathy Kostreba will continue to direct publicity for the Festival with Henry Graper and Ken Vogras being liasons for the city of Plymouth.

The Festival committees will meet in February to work on improving the 1983 Festival. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 2 in the library of East Middle School.

The public is welcome to attend all board meetings which take place the first Wednesday of every month.

It's time to scrap ESY

To the editor:

I was very interested in the article in your paper about Eriksson and Field elementary schools going off yearround school (ESY). sion?

My children have been attending Field on the ESY scheduling for six years. I have a son who will be attending middle school next year. I am not looking forward to having one child on traditional and one child on ESY.

There are many pros and cons for ESY. At the time ESY was started, it was needed but it has outlived its usefulness. Economics dictate that ESY is costing us money rather than saving it. As Superintendent John Hoben said, it would save $250,000 to discontinue ESY. When the school district is experiencing a $3-million deficit, I would rather see ESY eliminated before trimming educational programs.

How can we be considering closing two schools because of declining enrollment, while paying more 'money to keep two other schools on ESY, which enables one-third more students to attend than a nine-month schedule. Could it be time for boundary revi-

Carol Micksch Canton

Parent wants traditional year

To the editor: I read the article concerning putting

Field and Eriksson elementary schools back to the traditional year with great interest.

After reading William Lutz' (Eriksson principal) comments about many parents favoring the year-round sched-ule (ESY), I decided to take a poll among my neighbors in the Field district. After making 11 calls, I found that nine would prefer the traditional year.

Concerning the 900 empty homes that are to be filled with children - do our children have to suffer the upheaval every nine weeks and early school hours during the summer (which certainly defeats the extra hour of Daylight Savings Time) to wait for the economy to improve? Do they have to remain on this schedule because there is a future possibility that ESY will be implemented again? Who is (board member) Glenn

Schroeder kidding that the economy will turn around enough to fill 900 homes in the near future? Why make two schools remain on it just in case this trend reverses itself? When will that be?

Either the whole district should return to ESY or the whole district be put on traditional. Why should our geographical choice for a home dictate what kind of school year our children have?

If we were to buy a home in Canton today, it would certainly be in a traditional district. I would take my chances on the trend reversing. We had no # choice five years ago, but now we do. Back to traditional, please. Be fair to the entire district.

THEY REFER TO

themselves now as the "Old Gang." Doesn't seem all that long ago that they were the young entrepreneurs, the young merchants in town. And there was never a dull moment.

The "Old Gang" got together early in the new year for a Mexican party. Each brought a Mexican dish to pass, and of course, with that group, it also was a costume party.

John Gibson and Debbie Jaquet hosted the party. Larry Janes greeted the guests in an outfit difficult to describe - longjohns, a wide-brimmed leather hat, and a bandoleer, complete with cartridges.

Diane Janes, Joan Gerigk, Bev Goss, Chuck Avis, Nancy Petrucelli and Mike and Dolly Ettinger were there. Dolly and Mike brought their daughters, Ann and Cheryl, and a Mexican pizza.

Jan and Dave Sibbold, Denise Radtke, Carl Dumas, and Fran and Bob Hennings completed the southof-the-border party list.

LINDA DWYER Giannetti, formerly of Plymouth and presently a resident of the Big Apple, will be going to the far east. Linda, who adds singing and dancing to her talents as a professional actor, will be leaving in February.

She will spend two weeks aboard a Holland-American cruise ship as a member of the trio, Southern Comfort. The trio usually sings backup for Eddie Arnold.

Among the ship's ports of call will be Singapore and India.

GOING OUT to Newburgh Lake last week with Gary Caskey, who was taking pictures of David McCubbrey feeding ducks, was more time consuming than expected. It didn't take Gary all that long to get his photographs.

It was the presence of two strange ducks that caused the trouble. Take a look at the pair at the bottom of this column - did you ever before see ducks like them?

I asked Mr. McCubbrey about them. He said they were newcomers to the flock of mallards, black ducks and white ducks. He had seen them for the first time the day before. As they swam in the water, their black wings and tails stood out against the white feathers of their heads and

The rusted out body parts were replaced with new fenders and new quarter panels. The chrome was replaced with new/old stock parts.

Garnet red was the original color. Jeff did the painting and Bill did the refined body work, rubbing and polishing.

"We paid $1,500 for it and have less than $6,000 invested. We have been offered $10,000 for it," Sheri said.

The Chevelle now has 45,000 miles on its odometer and leads a very pampered existence. It spends most of its time sitting - in state - in the Matauch's garage on Ayreshire in Canton Township.

IT COMES OUT only on dry and sunny days. "We don't want to mess up the undercarriage," explained Sheri. "We drive it locally and to shows, we don't trailer our cars to the shows. The Chevelle attracts a tremendous amount of attention at shows with its bright color and chrome.

bodies. Most distinctive were their bright orangy red bills and the red circle of skin around each eye.

When we returned to the office, I called Bill and Evelyn Edgar, but there was no answer. The Edgars are members of the Audubon Society and my foremost authorities on birds. A call to the Washtenaw Audubon Society office resulted in much interest in the ducks, but no identification.

A search through two bird books at Plymouth Book World - the Petersen's and the Golden - was fruitless

By this time, my imagination was almost running away with me. Because of the warm weather, these ducks could be the first of their kind to wander down from Labrador. Greenland, or perhaps Baffin Island.

Wild Wings Gallery has a fine collection of bird books, especially water fowl. Pat was helpful in looking through them but without any luck. Some customers in the gallery, a couple from Whitmore Lake, became involved in the conversation. They said they had seen some black and white ducks recently, just like the ones I described

Back at the office, I made one more call to the Edgars and they were at home. They could not identify the ducks sight-unseen, but they gave me some telephone numbers and some suggestions. I requested the number for the Rare Bird Alert, a great number to have. A recording tells of rare birds sighted in this area and as far away as Ohio, Illinois and Niagara Falls. The Rare Bird Alert service is provided by the Detroit Audubon Society and the recordings are kept up-to-date by Ernie Carhart. The number is 592-1811.

For some strange reason, I got a busy signal when I called. Evelyn Edgar suggested a call to Dr. Joe Kleiman who was most interested. He had never heard of Newburgh Lake and wanted to know how to get there. He also asked a very perceptive question: "Did they go near the person who was feeding

A television documentary of him performing on the Shenandoah is scheduled, as well as record albums and other television performances.

Schustik will be at the Penn Theater in Plymouth at 10:30 p.m. Feb. 2, the third speaker in Plymouth's first Town Hall Series. Individual tickets for the performance still are available at $7.50 at the Plymouth Family Y office. For information, call 453-2904.

SCHUSTIK presents a program that combines historical folk stories and folk songs.

A history major at Boston University, he did a great deal of research in nautical and American folklore. He continues his research as both avocation and vocation, increasing his extensive repertoire.

As a traditionalist, he sings the most authentic versions he can find. Schustik has a baritone voice singing voice. He is also a story-teller.

With guitar, concertina and harmonica, he weaves his songs and stories together.

His has performed at coffee houses, clubs, colleges and historical associations. He was artist in residence at Dartmouth College.

HE SAYS, "Folk songs, whether relating the sweat and strain in driving a clipper ship around the Horn, the blood and confusion of Shiloh and Gettysburg, form a vital part of our heritage. I be-lieve the presentation of these songs illuminated within their environment helps to retain, some of our human qualities in a mechanized, mass-produced society."

The balladeer takes his audience on a journey into the past.

One moment his listeners may be laughing at the same stories told around a bivouac fire in 1863. The next moment, they will be sobered by the feelings shared by both the men of the South and the North as they sang 'Tenting Tonight on the Old Campground.

After Schustik's Town Hall appearance in the Penn, the audience may join the celebrity luncheon in the Mayfloer Meeting House. Reservations for the luncheon must be made in advance by calling the Y office, 453-2904. The cost is $8

Friends of Plymouth Y, who arranged the Town Hall Series, encourage men to attend The Schustik performance in February and the March 2 lecture by NBC Bureau Chief Jack Reynolds will be of special interest to men as well as women, according to the Y.

A question and answer session is one of the regular features of the celebrity luncheon

Surgeon will teach cooking without meat

"Creative Cooking without Meat" classes are planned at Plymouth Canton High School beginning Jan. 17. Dr. Arthur Weaver, associate professor of surgery at Wayne State University, will conduct the sessions.

Four two-hour classes will include cooking demonstrations and discussions about adequacy of proteins, meal planning, cholesterol-free dishes, lowsugar desserts and more. The evening also will provide audio-visuals, food samples for tasting and the latest nutritional information

Classes are scheduled for 7 p.m. Jan. 17, 20, 24 and 25. Donations to cover the cost of materials will be requested at each class, although there will be no formal charge for the seminar.

THE CLASSES will be part of the Better Living Seminars conducted by Weaver.

They are aimed at families who have made the decision to change their eating habits. Some would like to cut down on the high fat in their diet, others are concerned about cholesterol, PBB and other additives fed to livestock. Other families simply can't afford to buy meat.

Most nutrition experts and dieticians agree that Americans eat too much meat and too much hard fat.

Those interested in registering for the cooking school should write to: Better Living Seminars, PO Box 574, Plymouth, Mich. 48170, or call 459-2028 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays. Plymouth Canton High School is on Canton Center just south of Joy.

Stroke victims take lessons to become drown-proof

By Loraine McClish staff writer

28(P,C)

Detroit Police Officer Dick Tomlinson had his hands tied together and his legs bound about his ankles when he jumped into Mercy Center's swimming pool to give a demonstration of drownproofing.

His audience was made up of area persons who were recovering from strokes, ready to take their first lesson in a swimming technique leading to water therapy exercises.

"I'll have the reluctant ones floating before the hour is up," Tomlinson boasted. And so he did.

Tomlinson has taught drown-proofing since his college days. It is a method of breathing while swimming with such a minimum of energy expenditure that complications such as cramps, heavy clothing, injuries, high waves, rough waters or long immersion have little or no effect on survival.

Drown-proofing has its basis in ap-plied physics, depending on air rather than muscle and produces rest instead of exhaustion.

"So it works equally well on he's or she's, old or young, fat or skinny, tall or short, smart or dumb and is extremely effective for the handicapped," Tomlinson said.

"Anybody, and I mean anybody, can swim.

TOMLINSON admitted that the class of students he had last week, and has committed himself to see a few more times to perfect their drownproofing, may be one of the hardest groups he's tackled yet.

'Adults who have never swam are the hardest to teach, probably because of old fears left over from a childhood experience. With these students their handicap builds up yet more layers of fears that have to be worked through." Even so, he expects success in the same degree he's seen success come to those "with every type of handicap imaginable," he said. When the swimmer learns to float, we teach how to cough under water, how to open their eyes under water so they know where they're at, what to do in case of cramps, and most important how to relax because panic is the principal reason for drowning," he said. "The method works with arms alone, or legs alone or using one of each and it should be learned by fishermen, boaters, swimmers, anyone who uses the water for either recreation or work.

"This technique in the head is worth millions of life-saving gadgets that may be out of reach.'

THE PEOPLE who are learning how to drown-proof themselves now are all members of Farmington Hills Senior Center's "Stroke Support Group."

"The group was started just for rec-reation and socializing away from home," said Maggie Loradis who is the center's senior adult specialist.

"The tendency is for these people to hide, to become house-bound. They don't want old friends and neighbors seeing them in a wheelchair or using a walker. That can be a terrible blow to your pride."

The support group, now faciliated by Cathy Carrier, did its job. As more persons joined the group, more recreation activities were planned. More members stayed on after the weekly meetings of discussion or hearing a speaker, to play bingo or cards or to lunch together.

"They had gone about as far as they could go. They had reached a plateau and maybe a complacent plateau. It was time to push them on to something else," Loradis said

"With the beautiful pool right next door, water seemed to be the answer. We knew these people should be exercising in the water, but we also knew it was going to take guts on their part to get them in the water."

Loradis took her how-to-get-thesepeople-in-the-water problem to Dr. Joe Gadbow of Henry Ford Hospital, West Bloomfield. Dr. Gadbow sent Lillie Straksys, a physical therapist from the hospital, to get the water therapy under way.

WHILE BEING in the water is pleasurable, Loradis says it is not beneficial unless it is done on a regular basis. She is working now towards getting a specific day and time for the support group to work out in the pool.

Meanwhile, persons who wish to have the benefit of Tomlinson's next set of instructions for persons who have had a stroke, are invited to call the Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department, 474-6115, for date and time.

Tomlinson is volunteering off-duty time to give the drown-proof lessons and will be contacting the center this week to make the arrangements.

The support group, as all other activities offered senior adults here, is sponsored by Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation and is free.

Registration is not necessary, but a support person to go into the pool with the person who has had the stroke is necessary.

"We have several people here who have volunteered to help in the pool;" but we cannot guarantee to have onevolunteer ready for everyone who shows up, and some persons might need, two to help them," Loradis said.

THE SUPPORT Group meets at 11 a.m. Tuesdays in the senior adult cenai. ter's facilities in Mercy Center on 11: Mile, through Gate 4, east of Middle->belt.

"A year ago I would have invited, newcomers to just show up," said ... Loretta Conway who is executive dia; rector of senior activities.

'Now I would advise them to call." ahead of time because every once in a. while they will decide to go out for. lunch, or they might have a field trip planned instead of holding a meetinghere," she said.

Loradis added, "We do all we can to.... help these people, but in the end it is up. to them as to how far they want to go in their therapy.

"The big thing with the water is they.... can do so many exercises, so much more in the pool that would be immpossible in a gym."

Program challenges students/teachers

Talented and Gifted (T.A.G.) students are six months into their new programs. in Field, Bird, Allen and Farrand elementary schools. It was quite an adjustment for the fourth, fifth and sixth graders, in most instances, leaving their familiar schools and daily playmates to be grouped together for a rewarding experience.

Cheryl Johnson coordinates the program from Central Middle School with teachers Ron Zang, Terri Michaelis, Lenore Goshorn and Sue Roberts. Sue earned a graduate degree in gifted education from Michigan State University. These four teachers were picked by the principals of the respective schools, Shirley Spaniel and concerned parents of the gifted children.

The children in the program realized they needed more from an ordinary class situation, so often they had completed their assignments in the opening hours of the school day and were left to help others accomplish their centers.

THE STUDENTS in the program are challenged daily with progressive work projects, discussing daily interests with fellow students with the same high degree of intelligence and setting their sights on fascinating new horizons.

In the past years the brighter students often were considered aloof by their fellow students and often set apart because of their constant thirst for knowledge. Class disruption is minimal in the four classrooms because there is time only for questioning and reasoning, not confusion and idle minutes. For the most part, the sixth graders are at a slight disadvantage with the younger students in the same room.

The peer pressure is much greater at the ages 11 and 12 than it is at the age of 9. While working at their own demanding pace, a need for commitment to the rest of the classroom as well as to the teacher is always evident.

At one time each student was numlenge to the gifted student.

Telephone hookup seminars offered

The telephone calls have been coming in since before Christmas. The most frequent question, "Will I get electrocuted if I hook up this telephone?" prompted Baiba Schimmell, to set up seminar dates to answer all the quer-

Schimmell, manager of the Canton Radio Shack in Harvard Square, has announced two free seminars. She and her assistant, David Dawley, will demonstrate telephone hookup and conduct a-question-and-answer period from 6-7 p.m. Jan. 19 and 1-2 p.m. Jan. 22.

The seminars are in response to the law that changes Michigan Bell services. Telephone users may do their own telephone hookups. The Bell Co. is responsible for bringing the wires to the residence but is not responsible for interior hookup as part of its service. Bell will do the interior installation for a fee - or, a customer may pick up a free conversion kit from Michigan

Bell and do their own. New telephones were a popular Christmas present, now the owners would like to do the installation job themselves and save some money. But they are wary and confused.

service days twice a month, when the teachers compare ideas, teaching techniques and opportunities to benefit the well-rounded student. We often think special education in the schools is just for the handicapped, when progressive special education is a necessity for our community. I admit there was a great deal of apprehension with many of the parents at the beginning of the school year.

The positive attitude of the students, their parents and teaching staff reinforces the fact we need this specialized program.

With the inevitability of Eriksson, and Field schools joining the traditional program, there will be additional cutbacks in the staff of the school system.

In the future we must encourage the

THE SEMINARS will give a brief introduction to the situation.

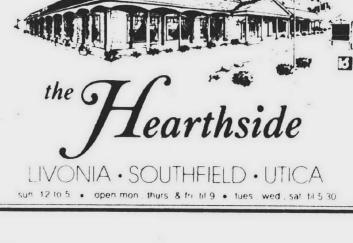

'We will show how to add an oldstyle four-pronged hookup to a modular," said Schimmell. She explained that the modular is a residential system that hooks up with a little plug.

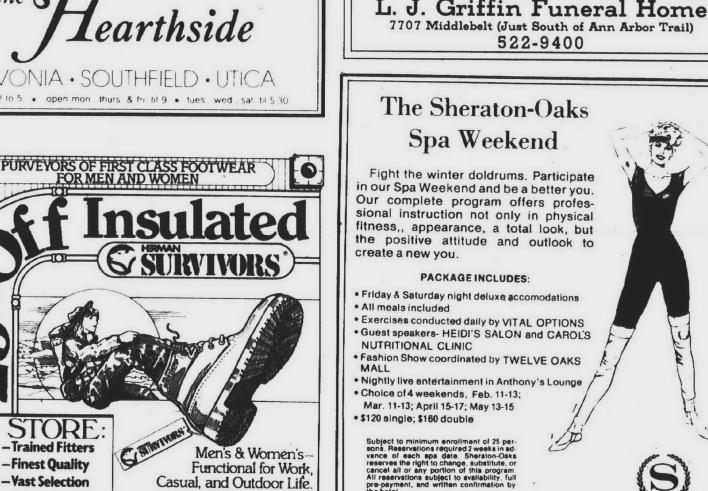

'We will cover all kinds of telephone hookups from the old types to modular at the seminars and demonstrate how to do them. I am trying to lump the answers to all the questions we have been asked. People will have an opportunity to ask questions and discuss their own particular problem."

She said responses to the seminars would indicate whether another should be scheduled.

"The many calls revealed a need for something like this, so I decided to try the demonstrations. We'll just have to see how many turn out."

T'S ALL done with fingers. The fingers of Marge Griep tap out raised dots on paper on her Braille writing machine. Later a blind person somewhere in the country will run the tips of his educated fingers over these embossed dots and understand their meaning.

The system invented by Frenchman Louis Braille in 1829 is still the only way" an unsighted person can read. Having a volunteer like Griep produce Braille with loving care is still the only way many blind persons can have access to special publications such as textbooks

Griep started what she calls "Brailling" about nine years after retiring from teaching mathematics in a series of Livonia schools, Riley and Bryant Junior High schools and Franklin High School.

"I was looking for a hobby that was intellectual so my mind wouldn't go blank," said the Livonian.

The result: "I became an addict immediately," she announced with a pleased smile. "Two years later f was teaching the course.'

FOR A WHILE her machine clackety clacked with literary Braille work. For Griep and her 60 fellow members of the Nardin Park Braille Transcribers that meant working on textbooks in history, geography or languages. Blind students can sit in classes with sighted students if their textbooks are in Braille," said Griep, explaining the reason behind her commitment in two sentences. "It enables them to be mainstreamed into regular classes."

Later she and three other Nardin Parkers took on an even more difficult project. They learned to transcribe math textbooks. The women are Cara Lynn Pender of Redford Township and Frances and Laurel Hoetger, mother and daughter of Farmington.

"Math Braille is amazingly complex," said Griep. "To learn it we attended a class for seven hours a day once a week for eight months.'

THIS IS A new direction for Braille. she pointed out. It was developed by Dr. Abraham Nemeth, a blind professor at the University of Detroit. The system devised by Louis Braille in-volved a cell of six dots resembling a domino, but much smaller. Dr. Nemeth, who teaches computer science and advanced mathematics, used the same dots, but gave them new mean-

In the ingenious system devised by Braille, the dots are numbered. The one at the top left is number 1. Below it are dots 2 and 3. At the upper right is dot 4, with 5 and 6 immediately beneath. Dot 1 is the first letter of the alphabet. Dots 2 and 3 mean the letter B.

new voices

Many rules and permutations have been devised to get greater use of these dots. For example, dots 3, 4 and 6 put together mean "ing." But in Dr. Nemeth's math Braille the same arrangement of dots stands for the plus sign.

To transcribe the new system calls for an unusual amount of care, patience and attention to detail. But it is not without its creative side - the development of tactile illustrations for blind math students. The four women who do math transcriptions have warmed to the chance to use different tools and materials to create "pictures" these students can feel.

With a spin wheel, griffel, Braille, compass, jumbo dotter and Braille eraser, the women devise raised graphs, charts and diagrams. It's a challenge also to introduce sand paper, sand, clay and sponge materials that will help the blind person experience the shapes of things mathematical.

"WE TRY TO handle all requests," said Griep, who has produced substantial amounts of Braille in French and some in German. Right now the four women are giving first priority to math students from Michigan. Requests have come to them from as far away as New Jersey and Texas. The requests might be for a whole book or merely a chapter.

"There are only about 200 math Braille transcribers in the country,' she said.

The Nardin Park Braille Transcribers store all their master Braille copies in the Nardin Park Braille Repositiory in the Farmington Hills Public Library. They then send the title of the work to the American Printing Co. in Louisville, Ky., which maintains a central catalog of all books done in Braille. Before undertaking a new book, Braillists call the company to check if a book has already been transcribed elsewhere.

GRIEP, WHO teaches math part time in Huron Valley Lutheran High School and sings with the We-Wa-Co Chapter of Sweet Adelines, only attempts to do her Brailling when she has at least two hours to work.

"I often to do at midnight," she said. "It is time consuming. But I like the fact it is worthwhile. I like anything to do with book learning. You can work when it is convenient for you. In the Nardin Park group we are allowed to say we don't want to do anything for three months.

"But ence we accept an assignment we usually have a deadline. We usually are not asked for a book unless it is to be used right away. Our biggest problem is that teachers don't tell us until June what materials they need by September.

Braille transcribers must be willing to concentrate and be accurate, said Griep. She calls the transcribers "special people who are a delight to be with

Town is Michigan's midpoint

Travelers find that Clare is halfway to everywhere

Draw a north-south line from the Mackinac Bridge south to the Indiana-Ohio border. Draw an east-west line at right angles exactly halfway down the lower peninsula. The two lines will cross just south of the intersection of U.S. 10 and U.S. 27.

What you'll find at that intersection is the town of Clare, once the midday or overnight stopping place for travelers en route from one part of Michigan to another. It doesn't matter whether you are traveling from Detroit to Traverse City, Alpena to Benton Harbour or Cheboygan to Coldwater, Clare always seems to be the halfway · point.

When Alfred James Doherty, a retired state senator, built the Doherty Hotel in 1924, he had a constant flow of commercial travelers and tourists to his table and his bedrooms. His grandson, A.J. Doherty II, still has a constant flow of travelers to his table, especially to his Sunday buffet, but Clare is an insider's destination now, and the insiders like to keep it to themselves.

What happened to Clare was Interstate-75, which now speeds us from Bay City to Grayling, totally bypassing Clare. Insiders slip off I-75 at Midland and take U.S. 10 into the small town set in its low nest of hills.

Most of them park in A:J.'s parking lot at the Doherty Hotel, which now has a newer motel wing and back-of-thehouse banquet facilities that weren't there in the senator's time. A.J. recently uncovered old wall murals in the bar that have been there for decades, little green leprechauns and all.

YOU CAN RENT a room at the hotel from $25 to $40, but most of the visitors come for meals. They join the locals at their round table in the bar during lunch, have dinner or crowd the dining room and bar for the Sunday Groaning Board.

A.J.'s Sunday buffet, $7.95 all-youcan-eat, is a masterpiece: huge juicy roast beef along with other savouries, a salad bar littered with loaves of fresh bread and highlighted by a huge bowl of crumbled blue cheese. A.J. doesn't like to even think about what that big bowl of expensive blue cheese costs him every Sunday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. when locals and tourists raid the buffet.

In winter, you will find a lot of people there in ski clothes. Being halfway to everywhere, Clare is a great stopping place for metro Detroiters going to any of the ski areas northwest towards Traverse City, including the Boynes

About 45 ice fishermen crowd his rooms and his table every January, driving north from Clare to Tip-Up Town on Houghton Lake. (Held this year Jan. 15-16 and 22-23.) Winter lovers go ice fishing on Houghton Lake, snowmobiling in Harrison, and cross country skiing within five miles of

The rest of us, sluggards that we are, just like to visit Clare on a Sunday drive, watching the snow dripping off the barns along the way and letting the juices dribble down our chin when we get there.

You can reach A.J. at (517) 386-3441 if you want to join us. Consider also the dinner theater ("Annie Get Your Gun," Jan. 27-28 or Feb. 4-5), Big Band Night dinner dance Feb. 26 and the Irish Festival March 12.

A CANADIAN WINTER CARNIVAL worth thinking about is Winterlude, Feb. 4-13 in Ottawa. Canada's capital features 25 events on the historic Rideau Canal, the world's longest skating rink, which runs through downtown in the shadow of both the parliament buildings and the Chateau Laurier Hotel.

You can take a sleigh to Dow's Lake for the Ice Dream, a musical village with nearly 100 ice sculptures in residence. You can also enjoy bed races, barrel jumping, skating shows, frozen fireworks, marathons and lots of winter partying. Via Rail Canada has train packages

House of snow offers winter shelter By Tony Sloan special writer way 148

Bill Evans of W 3 Adventure (left) and two adventurous ski touring guests sit atop a qunizee snow house in western Quebec. The quinzee is a comfortable and secure overnight shelter for winter campers.

The cone-shaped piles of snow rose ever higher in the late afternoon sun. It was getting steadily colder and one wondered if this sleeping overnight in a quinzee was such a good idea after all.

There were 12 of us out there in the woods, somewhere along the Canadian Ski Marathon Trail near Calumet, Quebec. Calumet is about halfway between Montreal and Ottawa, on High-

We had left the cozy confines of the W'3 Aventure base camp (Riviere Rough Motel and Restaurant) and after skiing with full trail packs for several hours, had proceeded to make camp for the night.

W 3 Aventure is a year-round outdoor recreational instruction and holiday center that specializes in Nordic ski touring, camping and survival and rescue training in winter while running, hiking, mountain climbing, kayaking and wild water river rafting expeditions in the Rough River Valley in summer

The unusual feature of our camp in the wilderness was the quinzees. There were four of them under construction, each designed to sleep three skiers.

In more physical terms, it means clearing or at least disturbing the snow in a circular area approximately 16 feet in diameter and then proceeding to pile it back in the center. The snow is piled to a height of 7 feet. This takes between one and two hours depending on the enthusiasm of the shovelers.

Once the desired height is attained - the shape forms automatically - the snow is allowed to set or crystalize and bond for an hour or more. A ground-level doorway, just large enough to admit a person on hands and knees, is carved out, and the excavator proceeds to hollow out the interior

A 7-foot-high quinzee will sleep three adults.

Bill Evans and Malcom Cox of W 3 Aventure maintained close supervision on the tricky hollowing out procedure.

A special insulating pad placed under the sleeping bag protects the camper from the cold ground. Both pad and bag are then encased in a waterproof "Bivo" sack which protects the sleeping compartment from moisture from the floor or melted snow.

The temperature inside the quinzee was a degree or two below freezing and quite comfortable.

Candle light flickered on the silver-domed ceiling, and the cold breeze whispered harmlessly outside the low entrance way. It was not only secure and snug, our snow shelter was quite beautiful in a simplistic sort of way.

The shelter's snow crystals continued to bond ever stronger during the night. By morning, ten people were able to sit or stand on the roof of the quinzee to prove the strength of the structure; in fact, the walls had to be cut through with shovels to collapse the roofs prior to our departure.

Quinzee camping while ski touring is a fairly rugged experience since it involves hours of intensive shoveling.

The huts can be used for a maximum of three nights before they have to be scaled or de-iced. The ice glaze that forms on the inside walls eliminates the porosity of the snow and the quinzee becomes too cold for comfort.

The three principals in W 3 Aventure, Bill Evans, Keith Wilkinson and Bill Powney, are all certified ski instructors and experienced river rafters.

The winter instructional programs revolve around cross-country skiing. They offer certificates in first aid and winter rescue, as well as professional guide level qualifications and leadership skills for Nordic ski tours.

Anyone wishing to acquire a new outdoor skill, expand their current knowledge or just have a pleasant outdoor adventure, should contact W 3 Aventure, C.P. 553, Succ. Westmount, Quebec H3Z 2T6 or call (514) 933-0601.

They add up to 615 years of wedded bliss

ST. Michael's Catholic Church has its own way of observing all the numerous wedding anniversaries that occur during the year. The special occasions:above and beyond 25 years are observed all at one time in a special mass in which all the couples then renew their wedding vows. The big day is always in January and this year it fell on Jan. 9. Sixteen couples repeated their vows before St. Michael's pastor Andrew Forish (right) and his assistant, Rev. Lawrence Edwards. In the group was one couple celebrating 60 years of marriage: Simeon and Albertine LaBelle; three who were celebrating their golden anniversaries: Rudy and Evelyn Kleinert, Antoni and Apolonia Szczepanik, Lewis and Alice Johnson; seven observing 40 years of marriage: William and Leonora Werner, Joseph and Tinsey Larabell, Aloysius and Clara Kowalski, William and Marian McNeece, Stephen and Anna Marie Matuzak, John and Ruth Tomassi, and Donald Florence McPherson. Twenty-five year celebrants were Richard and Edith Boyer, Theodore and Geraldine Geboski, Stanley and Mary Ann Kislel, Donald and Shirley Reeck and Earl and Patricia Ann Hoffman. Collectively, they represent 615 years of wedded bliss.

Sing for unity 9 churches join in choir festival

Nine Livonia churches will continue an interfaith program initiated last year to coincide with a nationwide Week of Prayer for Christian Unity observance Tagged last year as a "Neighborhood Festival of Music," the event will bring together at 2:30 p.m., Jan. 23, the choirs of the participating groups in an afternoon of what the organizers feel will be an outstanding musical program.

Host group will be St. Edith Catholic Church, 15089 Newburgh Road south of Five Mile.

Joining in the musical celebration will be St. Colette Catholic Church and St. Kenneth Catholic Church, Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, St. Andrew Episcopal Church, St. Timothy Presbyterian Church, St. Matthew United Methodist Church, Church of the Savior Reformed and St. Mary Antiochion Orthodox.

will be present and will sing an anthem. Handbell choirs from St. Matthew and Holy Trinity will also participate. The entire ensemble will sing two pieces, "Where There is Love," and "The Canon of Praise." Colbeck will direct "Where There is Love," originally presented at the Na-tional Pastoral Musicians' Convention last year in Pittsburgh. William Premin, director of St. Colette's choir and producer of Performing Artists Unlimited. Organist will be Lynette Popoff, Madonna College staff member. Included in the service will be a brief liturgy of prayers for Christian unity. Refreshments will be served following the service.

Last year seven groups participated. It was presented to a standing-roomonly crowd at St. Timothy's in the midst of near-blizzard conditions that gripped the area.

"It was a wonderful afternoon," said Rev. Robert Seltz, one of the organizers, "so we decided to try again. This one should be bigger and better."

Inter-generational respect vital

My great-aunt just celebrated her 91st birthday. She flew from North Carolina to Michigan for the holiday because she was lonely to see the children. The children she speaks of are not her own children, but those of her grand-nephews and nieces.

Five generations are living in our. family, but the better part of the year we do not see each other. I think I am among the minority of family members who thinks we are the richer for this inter-generational contact, as seldom as it now hap-

The teen-agers have little patience with such family gatherings with the old of the family. But like éating vegetables with the meal, they keep us healthy, even though sometimes a little goes a long way.

The meeting of the generations reminds me of the glue which sticks us all together. What has broken down in our society is simply paying attention to those of another generation

Like my 91-year-old great-aunt, I need to have little children around me at times. Their short attention span, their energy and responsiveness all remind me of what life is all about. Some of the older people have become thoughtless. They find it hard to remember what it is like to be a teen-ager. Other elderly people are present to their grandkids, and their grandchildren think "that's cool."

It comes down to this. Do the generations care enough to recognize the others who are distant in age as persons?

It is important for us to care for those of a different generation. Gift giving, writing and family gatherings are a way that we say that we need each other.

The older people need to ask themselves what do they have to offer to the younger people. There are special things they can say and do. There are special gifts and stories which they can hand down. There is encouragement and praise which have a speical meaning when they come from the elders.

The younger generation needs to be taught that a small amount of special attention means much to the elders.

We need to get beyond the segregation and avoidance which has been a mark of this society.

Rockets reign on Salem mats

Rocks 3rd. Canton 6th

By C.J. Risak staff writer

What Westland John Glenn had last Saturday was a little more than everyone else

The Rockets parlayed that little extra into a championship, capturing the 16-team Plymouth Salem Wrestling Invitational

It certainly was no easy triumph. Balance dominated as six teams scored more than 100 points. Three teams -Glenn, host-team Salem and Class C defending state champion Montrose won two weight class titles. The other seven belonged to seven different schools

But Glenn managed to score enough to nip runner-up Montrose by 3^{1/2} points - 147^{1/2} to 144. Salem wasn't far behind (135 1/2), followed by Portage Northern (1211/2), Mt. Clemens (1151/2) and Plymouth Canton (103).

"IT WAS A GOOD, tough tournament," said Salem coach Ron Krueger. "It was a fierce tournament, with lots of competition. Mt. Clemens is stateranked; they won the Macomb County tournament. But they finished fifth here

"If we would have had one more fifth place, we would have won. But we were shut out in six events. Usually, you can sneak one or two kids in to place. We didn't do that."

That was the difference. Both Salem and Glenn had the same number of firsts, seconds and thirds. However, the Rockets also had a fourth, seventh and eighth, and that boosted them over the Rocks.

Salem's John Beaudoin (140-pound weight class) was named the tournament's Most Valuable Wrestler. Beaudoin, the defending Class A state champion at 132, pinned his first three foes before narrowly beating Harold Thompson of Mt. Clemens, 8-7, in the GLENN'S CHAMPIONS came back to back, as Robb Paciocco (147) pinned Dave Seybold of Mt. Clemens in just 53 seconds of their final match. Don Forchione (157) followed Paciocco's performance with an 8-2 triumph over Mark Wilhelm of Montrose.

Salem's Dave Dameron (left) has a good hold of Canton's Todd Bartlett in a 114-pound weight class match - or so it seems. Moments later, Salem's other first was recorded by John Jeannotte (121), who piled up an 11-1 victory over Glenn's Mike Rossi in the deciding match.

Canton scored in eight of the 13 weight classes, but only four were higher than sixth. Tim Collins (128) outbattled Mt. Clemens' Mark White, 5-4, to claim the Chiefs' only championship.

Others to take titles were:

Deron Mellinger (114) of Portage Northern, 4-1 over Todd Bartlett of Canton; Brock Nigg (134) of Belleville, 3-2 over Montrose's Ken Reinhart; Dave Dean (169) of Montrose, 5-3 over Guenther Knoblich of Huron; Jerry

Out of soccer, into tennis

Soccer or tennis. It doesn't matter.

Marty Budner

Roger Faulkner appreciates both sports. In fact, he enjoys them so much he wants the people of the Metropolitan Detroit area to share the action

A stockbroker for the Merrill-Lynch office in Bloomfield Hills, the 44-year-old Faulkner is fast becoming one of the city's top sports promoters.

Faulkner was instrumental in bringing professional soccer to Detroit by promoting, along with former partner Gordon Preston, two exhibition soccer matches in the late '70s. One of the matches featured the legendary Pele and the Cosmos of New York against a professional team from Dallas.

Faulkner later became a partner with Preston in the original Detroit Express soccer team that played at the Pontiac Silverdome as a member of the North American Soccer League. He later severed his relationship with the Express, although Detroit still has a soccer representative in the American Soccer League.

When he left the soccer franchise, one of his goals was to bring professional men's tennis to Detroit.

Faulkner's dream will be realized Jan. 27-30 when the World Championship of Tennis (WCT) conducts its $250,000 Winter Finals in Detroit's Cobo Arena.

The eight featured participants are ranked no lower than No. 26 in the Nixdorf Computer world singles rankings list.

Czechoslovakian Ivan Lendi, the No. 2-ranked player who won an exhibition in Chicago over the weekend, will be the top attraction. Guillermo Vilas (Argentina), Balazs Taroczy (Hungary), Kevin Curren (South Africa), Wojtek Fibak (Poland), Paul McNamee (Australia), Brian Teacher (United States) and Bill Scanlon (United States) will be the other participants.

The winner is guaranteed $125,000, with the runner-up earning $40,000. Series tickets for all four days of the tournament will be $40 for Tier A (Inner Circle); $30 for Tier B (Circle Loge); and $20 for Tier C (Upper Reserved).

For ticket information, contact the Joe Louis Arena office at 567-6000

Faulkner agreed to do a question and answer session for the Observer & Eccentric earlier this week at the Square Lake Racquet Club. He reveals exactly how he was able to land the tournament, what his feelings are about professional tennis and what his future plans are for a possible annual stop in the city.

What was your original purpose of getting into the sports promotion business? Was it a flash-in-the-pan type thing or were you always interested in it?

No, I've always had an interest. I ran all sports at London University for a one year. I was still a student, obviously, but I had functional responsibility for it. And having been on the tennis circuit and associated with it through Trisha (his ex-wife), and associated with sports, and knowing the media people, and so on, I've always enjoyed that part of life tremendously.

Churchill thwarts

Canton comeback

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Steve O'Hara started his first game of the season for Livonia Churchill's basketball team Tuesday

Plymouth Canton fans wish he hadn't

O'Hara, a 6-foot-4 senior forward, who missed nearly all of the Chargers' first four games with an ankle injury, made his return as a starter agonizing for Canton fans by scoring four of Churchill's last six points in a 50-47 win at Canton

O'HARA'S POINTS came at crucial junctures for the Chargers. With 2:13 to play in the contest and Churchill ahead by three, he got the ball inside under his own basket and muscled it in, drawing a foul from Canton's Pat Murphy.

Murphy went to the bench with his fifth foul and O'Hara went to the line and hit the free throw to complete the three-point play and put Churchill ahead by six, 47-41

Ahead, but not safe. Canton's Jim Schlicker pilfered a Churchill pass with 11 seconds to play and popped it through the net to pull the Chiefs to within two, 49-47

In an effort to get the ball back in the closing seconds, Canton's Ron Rienas fouled O'Hara. O'Hara stepped to the line in a one-and-one situation and hit the first to ice the victory.

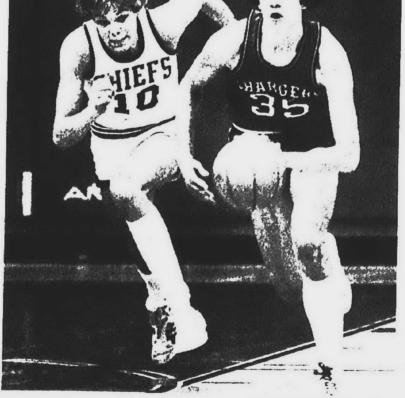

"I SAID AT the beginning of the season that every game in this new league (Western Lakes Activities Association WLAA) will be a good, exciting ball game," said Churchill coach Don Albertson. "I'll stand by that statement.

"I think they're all going to be like this. I feel good about coming out of here with a victory."

WLAA contests may be close, but not necessarily good. The Chargers were guilty of 26 turnovers in the contest, including six in the final four minutes of the game when they were trying to protect a four-point lead.

Canton was plagued by poor free throw shooting in the first half, converting just four of 13. With 1:22 to play in the game, Mike Scarpello was at the line with a chance to pull the Chiefs to within one. His first free throw bounced in, but Rienas was whistled for a lane infraction, a costly error

SKI CLINIC

If you've been dying to find out what all this cross country skiing ruckus is about, try attending one of the three clinics sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department.

Cost for the two-hour session is $4.50 with your own equipment and $6.50 if equipment must be provided. The first session is slated for Wednesday, Jan. 19, with others scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 3 and Tuesday, Feb. 15.

All clinics will run from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Maybury State Park under the tutelage of certified instructors. If interested, reserve a spot at least two days prior to each clinic by calling the Parks and Recreation department between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 397-1000.

GROUNDHOGS CLASSIC

Preparations for the fourth annual Groundhogs' Day Classic are already underway.

And what is the Groundhogs' Day Classic? It's a slo-pitch softball tournament, and it's scheduled for Jan. 29 at fields No. 1 and 2 at Griffin Park.

That's right - softball in the middle of winter. The only thing that will cancel this tournament is "good weather", according to tourney director Bob Dates of the Canton Parks and Recreation. Registration fee is $30, with each team limited to 18 players.

To register or for more information, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000.

CANTON SOCCER

Registration for Canton's soccer program is slated for three different dates: Jan. 15 and Jan. 22, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., and Feb. 12, from 10 a.m. until noon at Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Youth and adult leagues 'are available. Cost is $12 for youngsters under eight years and $15 for all others. Many openings for girls remain. Birth certificates are required at registration.

For more information, call Sandy Olson at 453-7926.

FLOOR HOCKEY

A series of youth floor hockey clinics will start the week of Jan. 24 and will be followed by a four-week league season, starting Feb. 12.

Sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department in cooperation with the Canton Extension YMCA, the program is targeted for first through sixth graders, both boys and girls. The clinics will be held at Eriksson Elementary on Mondays, Hulsing Elementary on Tuesdays and at Eriksson on Wednesdays.

There will be two sessions at each school, the first from 4-4:50 p.m. and the second from 4:50-5:40 p.m. League games will be played on Saturday mornings, with all kids receiving a t-shirt.

Registration is now underway at the Canton Parks and Recreation building, 1150 S. Canton Center. Cost is $15 per child. For more information, call the Parks and Rec-

SOCCER SIGN—UP Registration for the Plymouth Soccer Association is scheduled through Jan. 21 at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. Girls and boys, 6-18 years old, are elgible to participate. Cost is $17 per person. Birth certificates are required at registration. For further information, call the Plymouth Parks and Recreation department at 455-6620.

ATHLETES NEEDED

The Tri-City Seals, a cerebral palsy sports team, is seeking Canton athletes to join its program.

Interested persons must be at least 10 years old and have CP or a related neuromuscular disease. Athletes will be classified in one of eight categories according to ability. The Tri-City Seals meet from 10 a.m. until noon Saturdays at the Bailey Parks and Recreation Center in Westland. Athletes are responsible for their own transportation.

Interested individuals should contact the Canton Parks and Recreation center at 397-1000

SNOWMOBILE FUND-RA-ISER

Ever think about taking a scenic five-day ride through Michigan's Lower Peninsula - on a snowmobile?

That's what is set for Feb. 7-12, and it's all for a good cause: to support the Michigan Special Olympics.

The Vic Wertz Distributing Co. will sponsor the second annual event, and former American League baseball player Wertz will make the 625-mile trip. Last year, the benefit collected $27,000 to support the Special Olympics and, according to Wertz Distributors general manager Mitch Cohoon, that total should be surpassed."by $10,000 or more."

The caravan ride begins at the Wertz distributorship in Mt. Clemens on Monday, Feb. 7, and will arrive in Mackinaw City Saturday, Feb. 12. Along the route, the caravan will make overnight stops in Bay City, Grayling, Sugar Loaf Mountain (site of the Special Olympic Winter Games), Gaylord and Alpena.

Riders, in cooperation with the Michigan Lions' Club, are collecting funds. Anyone wishing to make a contribution should send a check to Vic Wertz - Special Olympics, PO Box 804, Mt. Clemens 48043, Attention: Kent Kukuk.

STRENGTH-TRAINING CLINIC

Gene Baker, coach for one of the National Sports Festival weightlifting teams last summer, will be the featured speaker at a strengthtraining clinic Saturday, Jan. 22 at Detroit Country Day School, located at 13 Mile and Lahser in Birmingham.

The clinic, sponsored by the American Weightlifting Coaches Association, is free and open to anyone interested in weight training. Baker's talk will center on Olympicstyle lifting and how to integrate it into a strength-training program. Baker will also talk about the

Shamrocks steam to 7th straight win

By Brad Emons staff writer

Detroit Catholic Central coach Bernie Holowicki went to his bench again Tuesday to pick up another important basketball win.

The Shamrocks made it seven straight games without a loss, scoring a 60-49 win over neighborhood rival Redford Bishop Borgess. Starting forward Kevin Kral teamed up with reserves Bobby Elwell and Chris Keane to spark a 19-5 secondquarter uprising, giving the Central Division leaders a 12-point halftime advantage after Borgess had led after one period, 1-7-15.

"They (Borgess) scored only one point in the last 51/2 minutes," said Holowicki. "That was the difference in the ballgame."

CC made the surge with its two top scorers on the bench. Center Mike Maleske, a 6-foot-6 senior, went to the bench early in the second period with three fouls and sophomore sharpshooter John McIntyre followed to take a breather.

That's when Kral and Elwell took charge, combining for 16 points. Keane, meanwhile, fit in well with CC's defensive scheme according to Holowicki.

"The match-ups we had out there were super," said the CC coach, "and. with Maleske and 'Mac' on the bench, who'd ever think it.

basketball

BOBBY thrives on coming off the bench and so has Keane. They just played super. They came off the bench against Gallagher last Friday and played well."

Borgess, behind six of Lewis Scott's game-high 21 points, pulled within six points at the end of three quarters. The Spartans (4-4), however, failed to get any closer as CC smartly used the clock.

"In the second quarter we stopped being aggressive in our offense," said Borgess coach Mike Fusco. "That was the difference in the game.

We wanted to score off their press and several times we got the opportunities and didn't convert. Our transition defense also hurt us in the second quarter.

Kral and Maleske both finished with 14 points. Elwell and Stan Heath each contributed 10

"Kevin (Kral) made some key baskets for us and he's been steady for us," Holowicki added. "Keane and McIntyre are only sophomores and they've played a lot for us. I've pleasantly surprised."

THE 6-5 SCOTT, although slightly off with his outside shooting, provided the outset of the third period, was the next highest scorer with nine points.

There wasn't much to be said after Tuesday's Livonia Bentley-Livonia Stevenson basketball confrontation.

What can a coach say when his team loses - or wins - by 25 points?

Bentley's Jim Komula could only remark, "We can't get anything to go right. We're struggling and we're all disappointed - not just me but all the players."

As one might expect, Komula's Bulldogs were on the bottom end of a 62-37 rout at Bentley.

STEVENSON COACH George Van Wagoner was more pleased if not more talkative after the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) contest. The veteran coach attributed the lopsided victory to a tenacious defense. "We played some great defense to-

And, when all else was said and done, Stevenson lengthened its lead to 21 in Stevenson senior guard Gary Mexicotte the third quarter before Bentley got had a hard time speaking after cutting back to within 15 by the start of the his chin in a first-quarter collision under the basket. Mexicotte sat out most of the second quarter but still managed to make six steals and dish out three assists. After the second quarter, Bentley home fans were no doubt more interested in talking about the weather or anything but what was happening on the court.

That's because Stevenson outpointed the Bulldogs, 17-4, in the eight-minute period to surge to a 30-15 halftime lead. And that was all that need be said, as Bentley never drew closer than 13 in the second half.

About the WCT tourney, how were you able to get it here in Detroit? Was it a personal dream of yours to get a WCT event to Detroit?

It began because at the league meetings which I attended — I was a director in the North American Socker League — and we used to sit alphabetically. Representing Detroit, I sat between the representatives from Ft. Lauderdale and Dallas.

It was kind of fun because for 50 days of my life I sat between Lamar Hunt on the one side representing Dallas and Joe Robbie - who owns the (Miami) Dolphins - on the other side representing the (Ft. Lauderdale) Strikers. So, Lamar and I, naturally, got to know each other very well. He is the man who created professional tennis in 1967. He runs World Championship Tennis which is 20 tournaments world wide.

I began to talk to him about five years ago as to why we had never had a major tennis tournament in Detroit. They have them everywhere else - from Buenos Aires to Bogota to Tokyo to Johannesburg. But, there isn't one in Detroit and there should be. At the time I wasn't thinking so much of personal involvement, but I just wanted to see it happen.

A month after I left the Express, the first thing I did was to fly down to Dallas to begin to pursue (getting a WCT tourney to Detroit) seriously. By that time, obviously, I began to think of more personal involvement. Detroit should have an event of this nature.

It's never happened, and one of the reasons why is you have an established circuit — just like the golf circuit — where it's very difficult to break in and get a new city to have an event. Those events are scheduled every year - it's the same tournaments the same week. The golf's circuit's fixed and the tennis circuit is pretty much fixed. You can't just say we're going to have an event.

So, you were fortunate there was a cancellation of one of the tournament's regularly-scheduled sites.

Yes, this tournament was scheduled to have been in Zurich. The irony of it is that we started talking about it five years ago and the decision to bring it here wasn't taken until two months prior to this event taking place. We started to talk in October. They (WCT officials) were saying: 'It looks as if we may have a problem in Zurich. If we had to move the tournament to Detroit, could you do it?' We were talking of doing one in '83 anyway, but that would have been a regular event. When he said this was the WCT Winter Finals - which is more than just a regular event, people who qualify get to play in the finals - then I said yes. Even if we only have two-and-a-half to three months to do it, we'll do it.

You've seen the old Detroit Loves of Team Tennis and the Virginia Slims women's professional players. They've been pretty well attended here. Why does this city have such a fascination - almost an infatuation — with professional tennis?

The women's event is one of the best drawing events in the country. There's a very great tennis interest. There's upwards of 100,000 people playing tennis actively in the Metropolitan area - maybe more. This city supports any major professional sport, provided it's the top names. and it's major league.

What about the difference in the women's game and the men's game. What do you feel are the basic differences?

With the men's game you have better depth. In the women's game you have four or five superstars. In a sense that's true - where you have four or five superstars - in the men's game too. But, the top men can't beat the lower-rated players 6-love, 6-1 in 40 minutes. That doesn't happen. So, when you see a (Ivan) Lendl play a (Balazs) Taroczy or (Kevin) Curren, even though the chances are that Lendl's going to win, the chances are also that you're going to see a fairly long battle. Men's tennis is better balanced. The quality is better.

Chiefs vault

Linda Beale helped Plymouth Canton open its girls' gymnastics season with a victory Monday as the Chiefs toppled Farmington Harrison, 104.5-93.65, at Canton.

Beale earned all-around honors with a 30.15 point total, ahead of Pam Modson, a Farmington Our Lady of Mercy student competing as an independent, who scored 29.6. In third place in the allaround was Annette Bryce of Canton with 29.5, followed by teammate Lisa Lovich.

Beale won two events to help her team to the victory. Her 7.5 was tops in the uneven parallel bars and her 7.0 was best in the balance beam. Beale also placed second in the floor exercise (7.8) and tied with Bryce for second in the vault (7.85).

Modson won the vault (8.0) and floor exercise (8.0) and was second in the uneven parallel bars (7.3). In addition to tying for second in the vault, Bryce was second in the balance beam (6.85) and third in both the uneven parallel bars (7.15) and floor exercise (7.65).

The Chiefs compete in the Dearborn Invitational Saturday before travelling to Northville for a dual meet Monday.

Schoolcraft led only once, with 9:19 to go in the first half on a flying slam dunk by Carlos Briggs.

But Briggs, the nation's leading scorer with a 37point average, was guilty of poor shot selection along with his teammates. He made just nine of 28 shots from the field. In the first half, Briggs hit only three of 16 as Schoolcraft trailed 31-24. He finished with 28 points. Point guard George

WHAT CRIPPLED Canton's chances was its failure to get Churchill into a faster, up-tempo game. The Chargers had the size, with three starters bigger than any of the Chiefs. Canton's game plan was to pressure Churchill into making mistakes and then run on offense when possible.

Churchill made the mistakes. But Canton didn't pick up the tempo.

CC ties top-rated Fraser, 2-2

Thursday, January 13, 1983 O&E

By Paul King special writer

Fraser, the state's top-rated prep hockey team, suffered its first loss of the season as Detroit Catholic Central earned a 2-2 tie before an estimated 1,000 fans Saturday night at the Redford Arena.

The Shamrocks are 5-2-1 overall and 3-1-1 in Michigan Metro play. Fraser is 7-0-1 and 4-0-1 in the league.

CC led 1-0 through two periods and appeared headed for an upset. But Fraser came roaring back at the outset of the third period as Larry Harm scored on a power-play goal and Mike Tegler tal-lied the go-ahead goal just minutes later to give Ramblers a 2-1 advantage.

Jeff Steffes then scored with just under five minutes remaining on an assist from Jim Peterson to gain the deadlock.

At 8:02 of the first period, Scott Summers tallied a power-play goal for CC with Eric Socia drawing the assist.

CC goalie John Bebes stopped 19 Fraser shots while CC peppered 34 at the Ramblers' Bill Hagener.

The Spartans put the game away Tuesday at Livonia's Edgar Arena with a pair of third-period goals.

The win gives Stevenson a 10-2 overall record and first place all alone in the Suburban Prep Hockey League (SPHL).

Leading 3-2, Stevenson added two insurance goals in the final period with Brian Cox scoring unassisted on a power play at 6:05 followed by Dave Cox' score at 12:27 with E.J. Perrault and Bill Jordan gaining assists.

Stevenson got a pair of first-period goals from Pat Tavolacci (shorthanded) and Erik Strom (from Brian Cox.

Dave Cox scored the first of his two goals at. 12:20 of the second period to break a 2-2 tie. Strom and Al Harmon drew assists.

Goalie Darin Phillips recorded his second straight win, stopping 18 Lahser shots.

Judges work hard at picking winners

By Tim Richard staff writer

Boris Nelson was the iconoclast among the four judges.

"Calling someone third place is ridiculous," said the music critic of the Toledo Blade and former director of fine arts at the University of Toledo.

'The person called 'third' may have the best career. There should be three awards," said Nelson, who has been honored by his peers as president of the Music Critics Association.

mechanics of the musical instruments and vocal instruments are different. "Often we (judges) are simply giving gut impressions," he laughed "Bartok said contests are for horses." YET FOR ALL of Nelson's putdowns of contests and judges, the four listened carefully to every note. Perhaps they were remembering that the most famous contest winner of the century, pianist Van Cliburn, was about to up his concert career until his give 1958 victory in Moscow gave him the publicity break he needed to catapult

'The most difficult thing is to put instruments and voices together (in a competition). The mechanics of the musical instruments and vocal instruments are different.'

> -Boris Nelson music critic

NELSON AND three other music instructors spent an entire chilly Saturday recently listening to three pianists, two trumpeters, two clarinetists, a saxophonist, five violinists, a cellist, four sopranos and two mezzo-sopranos and then trying to judge them.

The 20 young artists were competing for three cash prizes and chances to be soloists with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Feb. 6 (see accompanying story)

In part, Nelson got his wish. Two of the winners got $1,000 awards and one a $500 prize. The Plymouth Symphony Society played down the notion that any one was first, second or third.

"The most difficult thing," said Nelson, as his fellow judges nodded in agreement, "is to put instruments and voices together (in a competition). The him into the fattest recording contract RCA ever gave anybody.

Plymouth's contest was open to musicians in either private study or a degree program. It was confined to young persons who are not yet considered 'seasoned" solo performers, excluding full-time members of major orchestras or opera companies.

Cliburn, at 48, has retired for several years from performing and runs his own musical competition.

"Any of you gentlemen seen the Van Cliburn Competition in Fort Worth?" Nelson asked. "Fourteen judges. Sixty consultants. They have some vicious fights."

THE PLYMOUTH judges spanned the range of musical types.

Thomas Hardie is chairman of the vocal area at Western Michigan University's school of music. Russell Reed, a band musician to start, is associate professor of music and director of the symphony orchestra at Eastern Michigan University.

Alfio Pignottf, violinist, is professor of music at EMU and was heard with the Plymouth Symphony a couple of years ago in the Brahms "double concerto." Nelson received a Ph.D. in philology (cultural use of language) at the University of Heidelberg in his native Germany and has conducted and taught.

Yet there is little chance the young artists will play something they don't all know.

"We know the pieces. If not, we can look at the music," said Pignotti.

"They're all common pieces in the repertory," added Nelson.

THE JUDGES listen and watch for intonation, agility, stage presence, deportment, musical technique and interpretation.

"It's never enough to play the notes. It's interpretation that counts," said Nelson. "They have to know the mu-

All those elements, said Reed, add up to overall performance. The exact composition isn't particularly important, he said, "unless someone performs a piece of no stature."

Mozart was tied as the most popular single composer among the contestants. A clarinet concerto, a concert aria and the Queen of the Night's aria from "The Magic Flute" were heard in the competition.

Saint-Saens was represented by his Violin Concerto No. 3, the Cello Concerto and an aria.

the violinist competitors chose works by the 19th century virtuoso violinist composers: Paganini, Wieniawski and Sarasate. That wasn't important to the judges. "Often teachers impose a piece on a student before the student is ready,' said Nelson. "On the tapes, many were eliminated because they tried to play works that were beyond them, or that they were forced into."

He referred to the fact that, of the 95 persons who expressed interest in the competition, 53 sent applications and tape recordings. Music teachers winnowed those 53 tapes down to the 20 finalists who were auditioned.

The Naked Runner" (1967), 4 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 104 minutes.

You can count Frank Sinatra's good films on one hand, while it takes sever-al appendages to number his more forgettable efforts. "Naked Runner" falls into the former category. The spy thriller finds blue eyes forced into a despicable undercover assignment while his son is held hostage until the dirty work is done. Plausible script, fine acting and plot twists make this a first-rate film.

Rating: $2.90.

"big-heist' pictures that assign almost-

The acting is atrocious, the script is awful and the scenery stinks, but "Captain Blood" endures. It's Errol Flynn's first major movie, and that's what counts. In one improbable scene early on, Errol recites his life story to a maid who simply asks how late he'll be out.

Oakway announces prize winners

Oakway Symphony has announced the winners of its recent Young Artist Competition. Winners will perform with the orchestra at an "Artists of Tomorrow" concert Feb. 20 at Harrison High School in Farmington Hills.

Mark Agabian of Livonia, pianist, received first prize of $1,000. He is a University of Michigan stuent. For the competition, he played the Khachaturian Piano Concerto, Third Movement.

Carol Sahokian of Birmingham, who competed in voice, was awarded $750. She attends the University of Michigan. She sang arias by Puccini and Gounod.

Maria Fattore of Pleasant Ridge and Jeffrey Zook of Ann Arbor tied for third place and each received $450. Fattore, in the voice division, sang arias of Verdi, Mozart and Straus. She is a student at Eastern Michigan University. Zook, who plays flute, performed the Mozart Flute Concerto, Second and Third Movements. He attends the University of Michigan.

Tony Cross of Grosse Pointe, violinist, received $350 for fourth prize. He is a student at the Grosse Pointe Academy. His musical selection was the

from the U-M. Judges were Kenneth Jean, resident conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Douglas Morrison, conductor of the Scandanavian Symphony Orchestra; and Francesco Di Blasi, conductor of the Oakway Symphony Orchestra.

The talent is right up there again," Di Blasi said. "For some reason, there were more voice contestants than in past years - a much higher standard. The whole standard was high again but particularly in voice.

"Fourteen were really in the running for the

Among the main attractions of the exhibitors will be these:

AMERICAN MOTORS/RENAULT/ JEEP - The full line of vehicles from American Motors, Renault and Jeep will be on display. Featured will be the Renault Alliance, the first U.S.built product resulting from the partnership between AMC and Renault.

BUICK - Buick is offering five "balanced performance" cars in six body styles in 1983. Called the Buick

Seven cars are prizes in Auto Show contest

The Most Incredible Contest offers visitors to the 1983 Detroit Auto Show an opportunity to win one of seven new cars.

The contest works this way: • There will be seven cars on display at the exhibition areas of Cadillac, Chevrolet, Plymouth, Dodge, Ford, Pontlac and Oldsmobile · Each car will be filled with objects - one with tennis balls, one with spark plugs, etc.

A sign at each display will tell the interior capacity of the car as well as the dimensions of one filler item such as a spark plug, tennis

 Each contestant will estimate the number of items in each of the seven cars, then total them. That total will be listed, along with the contestant's name, address and telephone number, on an entry blank which showgoers will receive upon entering Cobo Hall's display area.

• The seven contestants estimating closest to the actual number of objects in the seven cars will win those cars.

. In case of ties, the earliest entry will be the winner

The contest is restricted to people with valid driver's licenses

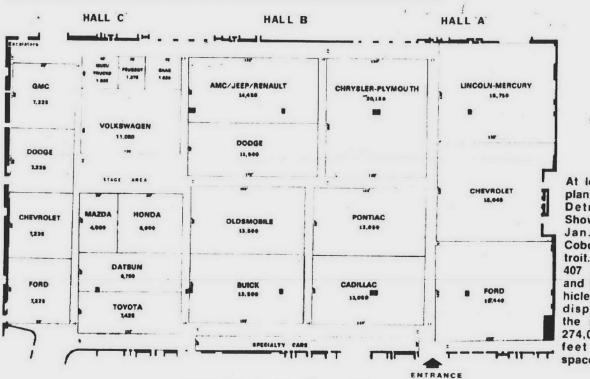

"T Types," the cars are designed to meet Import competition. Getting the "T Type" treatment are the Bulck Skyhawk, Skylark, Century, Regal and Riviera. Only the Century comes in both coupe and sedan models. It comes only in the color silver with a charcoal lower, and features blacked-out grille, moldings, head-lamp and taillamp bezels, bumper fillers, door handles and locks; fixed mast antenna and accent stripes. A Buick V-6 Riviera convertible with turbocharger will be the pace car in next May's running of the 67th Indianapolis 500 auto race CADILLAC - Visitors to the Cadillac exhibit will be treated to a display of the company's Bose quadriphonic stereo system in a specially constructed Delco Bose Theatre. The room is designed to conform to the exact specifications of the dynamic sound system. Cadillac says "it is like no other car sound system available.

Also on tap to entertain and inform visitors will be a 10-minute stage show highlighting the company's 80year history using audio-visual mate-

Mercedes continues tradition

The Mercedes-Benz 380SL (left) continues a tradition of two-seat, open-air motoring that began with the world's first automobile, Karl Benz's 1886 three-wheeler. The V8-powered 380SL comes standard with two tops and power windows. Among Mercedes-Benz's other offerings for 1983 are a series of turbodiesels which get better than 30 mpg yet still can reach speeds of 100 mph.

Ford adds to Ranger pickups

Ranger 4-by-4s are offered in short (108 inches) and long (114 inches) wheelbases and in payload capacities of 1,200 and 1,600 pounds. They offer many 4-by-4 features, including two-speed transfer case, limited-slip front and rear axles, a tough chassis for off-road punishment and tuned suspension

WITH ROOM for five passengers, the LTD is 900 pounds lighter and 18 inches shorter than Ford's Crown Victoria. This downsizing has helped the LTD to achieve fuel-economy ratings of 26 mpg in the city and 40 on the highway for the improved 2.3liter, four-cylinder engine with fourspeed manual transmission

The new LTD has a 15.1-cubicfoot, deep-well trunk; a luxury-car ride provided by gas-pressurized shocks and struts; improved corrosion protection with expanded use of galvanized steel and zincrometal; longer, seven-inch seat travel; and engine shock absorbers to isolate vibrations.

The LTD comes in two body styles: a four-door sedan and a station wagon. Both have such standard equipment as reclining front split-bench seats, steel-belted, radial-ply tires, trip odometer and lights for the glove box, ashtray and luggage compartment

Chevy has refined its power trains for '83

Monte Carlo, Chevrolet's six-passenger rear-drive personal coupe with sporty inclinations, has both V6 and V8 engine available in either gasoline or diesel.

Celebrity, largest of all Chevrolet front-wheel-drive models, offers fivepassenger seating in Caprice-style comfort and quiet.

Malibu, Chevrolet's six-passenger, rear-drive mid-size family car, is available as either a four-door sedan or a four-door station wagon.

Motor Trend's Car of the Year in 1982, Camaro adds two new transmissions to its power-train lineup - a five-speed overdrive manual and a four-speed overdrive automatiC.

This 1983 Ford Ranger pickup features cast-aluminum wheels, a bright chrome grille and accents, wide black rocker panel moldings, and a deluxe two-tone paint treatment.

GUESS WHO'S STEALING THE SHOW AGAIN!

DETROIT AUTO SHOW JANUARY 15-23, 1983 COBO HALL

When it comes to stealing the show, Pontiac does it every time. That's because Pontiac keeps breaking the chains of boredom, by building exciting, fun-to-drive cars.

Our 1983 lineup is proof of this. Check out the new Firebird Trans Am and see what we mean. Its super-sleek shape slips through the wind almost undetected. And it offers a hearty 5.0 liter V-8 engine and a smooth 5-speed manual transmission

Before your pulse stops pounding, take in a new Pontiac 6000. It's got some great driving-oriented features like front-wheel drive, MacPherson front struts, power rack and pinion steering and a 2.5 liter 4-cylinder engine with electronic fuel injection

Pontiac 2000 is ready for you, too. It takes on the road with an overhead cam 4-cylinder engine with electronic fuel injection. Front-wheel drive. And a 5-speed manual transmission.

Come on and take a long look at that many of them are equipped with exciting "Pontiac

Premium Option

Packages." And

they're ready to steal your heart away!

CHEVROLET - Chevrolet will be showing more than half a million dollars worth of vehicles in the 1983 Detroit Auto Show. A standout in the Chevy exhibit will be the Monte Carlo SS, the first Chevy convertible since 1975. It features a new, wind-tunneltuned shape and a power train that includes the most powerful, carbureted V-8 engine available in a 1983 Chevrolet passenger car. Chevy also will entertain with a robot and a magiclan, aerobic dancers and a computer to answer questions about Chevy's 6.2-liter engine.

CHEVROLET TRUCKS - Included In Chevy's 1983 line of trucks will be the Compact S-10 Blazer, the S-10 Maxi-Cab, pickups of 1/2-ton, 3/4-ton, and one-ton, Blazers and Suburbans, Suburban, Chassis Cab and Big Blazer, Bonus and Crew Cab models, G-20 and G-30 Chevy Vans and Sportvans, a motor home chassis, hi-cube and step yans, the El Camino pickup school and bus chassis and mediumduty conventional cabs.

CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH - Being shown to the public for the first time at the Chrysler-Plymouth exhibit will be the Chrysler G-24, a fuel-inlected. turbocharged 2² scheduled for production in 1984. Also shown will be a concept car, a Chrysler, two-place, turbocharged roadster.

Three new 1983-1/2 models in the show will be a front-wheel-drive Chrysler New Yorker, the company's four-door, luxury flagship; a Chrysler Town & Country convertible popularly called a "Woody" because of it simulated white ash treatment on the body exterior; a Chrysler executive sedan which is a stretched LeBaron: and a limousine version of the Le-Baron on a 131-Inch wheelbase. Chrysler Plymouth imports will include the Plymouth Sapporo Technica and the Colt GTS with twin-stick manual transmissions.

DODGE - Four new specialty cars, including the as-vet-unnamed G-24 spors car, will be highlighted in the Dodge exhibit.

FORD - Ford is featuring all-new vehicles which include the dramatically designed, high-technology Thunderbird, the aerodynamic, resized LTD and the Mustang Convertible. Ford is calling its lineup "part of the largest array of new vehicles launched by Ford Motor in its 80-year history."

Another feature of the Ford exhibit will be a $50,000 custom-built Bronco owned by rock singer Ted Nugent. And Ford says that its front-wheeldrive Escort - America's best-selling car, foreign or domestic, in 1982 has undergone significant improvements

FORD TRUCK - Ford trucks entered in the show include the Ranger compact pickup line which is now available with a new diesel engine, 4WD and a new five-speed manual transmission. The diesel carries an Auto Show 1983

EPA mileage rating of 41 on the highway and 33 in the city. Ford's F-Series pickups also are available with a new heavy-duty diesel engine in either the F-250 or F-350 models.

GMC TRUCKS - The GMC Truck display will feature E.T., the extraterrestrial visitor from outer space, with a troupe of dancer-narrators, all calling attention to the S-15 Club Coupe and the S-15 Coupe. Also being displayed will be a heavy-duty Aero Astro Tractor, an S-15 Jimmy and an upfitted van being offered for the first time with a 6.1 diesel engine. Emphasis also will be placed on a standard pickup, a suburban and a rally van, all featuring the 6.2 diesel.

OLDSMOBILE - Six specialty cars will be featured in the Oldsmobile exhibit. They include a high-performance Hurst Olds, a Cutlass Clera Husky, a Cutlass Ciera Holiday coupe and an Omega ES sedan. Olds turntables also will contain a Cutlass Supreme Special Edition and a 98 Regency Brougham.

PONTIAC - Pontlac will be featuring its world-class performance 6000 STE, its sport Firebird with a new, five-speed manual transmission and its 2000, a car with fuel economy of more than 50 mpg.

Also in the Pontiac display will be Richard Petty's No. 43 Grand Prix NASCAR racing car. Natalie Carroll, being billed as the Firebird Girl, will make personal appearances. And David Hasselhoff, star of the NBC-TV adventure series "Knight Rider," will be appearing on Saturday and Sun-day, Jan. 15-16.

VOLKSWAGEN - The hot new performance car of 1983, the Volkswagen Rabbit GTI, headlines the Volkswagen of America exhibit. The Volkswagen display features a live, 15-minute demonstration of VW engineering features and their capabilities: front-wheel-drive; overheadcamshaft engines; fuel injection; fourwheel, independent suspension; dual-diagonal brakes; negative-roll steering radius and diesel and turbo diesel engines. The complete line of VW vehicles - Rabbit, Jetta, VWPickup, Scirocco, Rabbit Convertible, Quantum and Vanagon - will be on display. mThe Porsche 911SC Cabriolet and 928S are the "new for 1983" cars in the Porsche Audi lineup. The 911SC David Hasselhoff, Cabriolet is a soft-top version of the star of the NBC-TV sports car and makes the 928S the series "Knight fastest production car sold in America. A tradition:

The Detroit Auto Show got its start back in 1907

The Detroit Auto Show got a modest start in Beller's Beer Garden on East Jefferson Avenue in 1907

In the beginning, the newly formed Detroit Auto Dealers Association held its 1907 show in an 11,376-square-foot hall at Beller's near the Belle Isle Bridge.

There were 17 exhibitors displaying 33 makes of cars. Many of the makes from the first show have long since faded into oblivion. There were cars such as the De Lux, the Wayne, the Detroit Electric and the Maxwell, long beloved by the late comedian Jack Benny.

But many other 1907 exhibitors thrived, becoming leaders of the auto industry. Some still hold these leadership positions today. Included in the 1907 show were such stalwarts as Ford, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac.

At the first auto show, local fire officials issued stern orders to assure against any dangers with the newfangled machines.

"On account of the restrictions enforced by the Fire Department, no acetylene lights will be permitted to be operated," the 1907 rules said. And to assure that nobody's hearing was damaged by a too-high decibel level, the rules ordered that all horns "must have the reeds removed therefrom." According to the Automobile Hall of Fame, Inc., an organization dedicated to the history of people In the automobile industry, many of the cars at the first show were built locally.

GOING EVEN FURTHER back in history, Detroit's first auto dealer was William E. Metzger, a bicycle merchant who foresaw the future potential of the automobile

He became the country's first auto dealer when he set up a dealership for steam-drive and electric autos on Woodward Avenue in Detroit in 1898.

DETROIT'S VERY FIRST display of autos for sale was in 1899 in the Light Guard Armory. At that time, William Metzger joined with Seneca G. Lewis of the Fletcher Hardware Co. of Detroit to organize the Tri-State Sportsman's and Automobile Association. Two steam-driven Mobiles and two Waverly Electrics were put on display among a variety of fishing rods and reels, hunting equipment and camping gear.

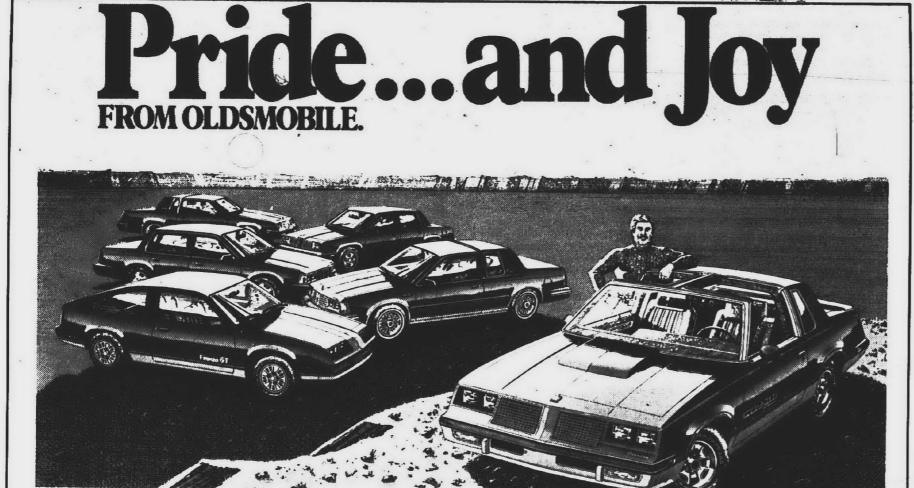

In the years since the first DADA Auto Show, the event has been held in a number of locations.

An early show was held in a lumber plant on West Forest Avenut. Another was held in a dance hall in Riverview Park at the Belle Isle Bridge.

During the early 1920s, the show was held at the Billy Sunday Tabernacle, which stood on the old Detroit Athletic Club's athletic field, then called Grindley Field. Shows at that site continued until 1940 when World War II and postwar adjustments eliminated the event until 1954.

Resumed that year, the Auto Show was held at the State Fairgrounds. In 1957, it moved to the Detroit Artillery Armory, where it was held until moving to Cobo Hall in 1965.
