Teachers, schools reach tentative agreement

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Tentative agreement was reached last week on a new two-year contract between the Board of Education and the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA), the teachers' union.

Although specific terms of the agreement were not released, union sources said the pact includes a wage freeze and an open-ended agreement to bargain for salary changes next year. The freeze does not apply to wage-scale increments built into the contract.

Contract language will remain the same for both years, teacher sources said. Adjustments are made in the teachers' school calendar — but not the student calendar — under the agreement.

A pay adjustment for high school teachers also is part of the proposed contract. Although that "pay adjustment" wasn't discussed in detail, some teachers privately said it pertained to a reimbursement of one-day's pay forfeited by many teachers who conducted parent-teacher conferences in classrooms, rather than reporting to assigned spots in a cafeteria last year.

The school board agreed on the proposed contract at a special meeting at 7 a.m. Friday, according to Norm Kee, assistant superintendent of personnel. Some 750 members of the PCEA are scheduled to meet at 4 p.m. today at Plymouth Salem High School's auditorium to discuss the settlement, said Candi Reece, PCEA's chief negotiator. A ratification vote will follow.

REECE CREDITED state mediator Ed Phillips for bringing both sides together. Union and administration officials met, under mediation, several times since mid-December.

"There was not a proposal on the table," Reece said. "It was all very verbal."

"It is because of Mr. Phillips that we have an agreement because he said, 'you (both sides) are going to sit there and talk.'"

Communication with Phillips, administration and the union continued late last week — even after an all-day session on Wednesday, Kee said.

"He wanted to make sure both sides could live with his suggestions," Kee said. "We've been working off what he had been suggesting."

PCEA members, along with the district's six other labor groups, have worked without a contract since last fall.

The board, faced with a projected $3.5 million deficit, offered teachers a one-year agreement (freeze plus increments) last April when negotiations first began. It never moved from that position, although it offered a sum total of $540,000 (representing increment increases) to be divided anyway among PCEA members.

The union, disgruntled because the increment-only proposal represented a pay freeze for 38 percent of the membership, originally asked for a 9½ percent wage increase for three years. Later, the union shifted to a 6 percent raise in 1982-83 and 8 percent raises the following two years.

A 1 percent wage increase for district employees represents approximately $300,000, school officials said. Under the old agreement, beginning teachers hired into the district at $15,532 annually. Teachers at the top of the scale receive a maximum salary of $31,750 annually.

Police fire twice at suspect

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

For the first time in the department's history, Plymouth police have fired shots in the line of duty.

Officers fired two shots at a man suspected of harboring stolen property who confronted them armed with a 30.06-caliber rifle early Wednesday morning. No one was injured in the shooting. The man and another suspect subsequently were arrested by police.

The incident occurred as a team of seven officers attempted to enter an apartment at the Manor Rooms boarding house on a search warrant. The boarding house is located at 369 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

Gary Lee Willoughby Jr., 22, Apartment 1 of Manor Rooms, stood mute Wednesday to charges of conspiracy to receive and conceal stolen property, felonious assault with a firearm, and use of a firearm in a crime (firearm felony).

A Jan. 20 preliminary examination and $5,000 bond were set for Willoughby by 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis.

Clay Kennedy White, 18, Apartment 2 of Manor Rooms, stood mute Wednesday to charges of conspiracy to receive and conceal stolen property. A Jan. 20 preliminary examination and $2,500 bond was set by Davis.

As of Friday, neither Willoughby or White had posted bond and were being held in the Wayne County Jail.

Police had obtained a search warrant after receiving information that stolen property was being concealed by two tenants at the boarding house, according to Police Chief Carl Berry.

The officers knocked on the door of one of the apartments and identified themselves as policemen, Berry said.

When the door wasn't opened, officer Thomas Zedan kicked the door in and fell into the room, he said.

Zedan yelled, "Gun, shotgun," according to the police reports. Willoughby allegedly was behind the apartment door with a gun.

Lt. Robert Commire fired a shot into the door.

"Commire's shot went through the door and lodged in a jacket hanging on the back of the door," Berry said.

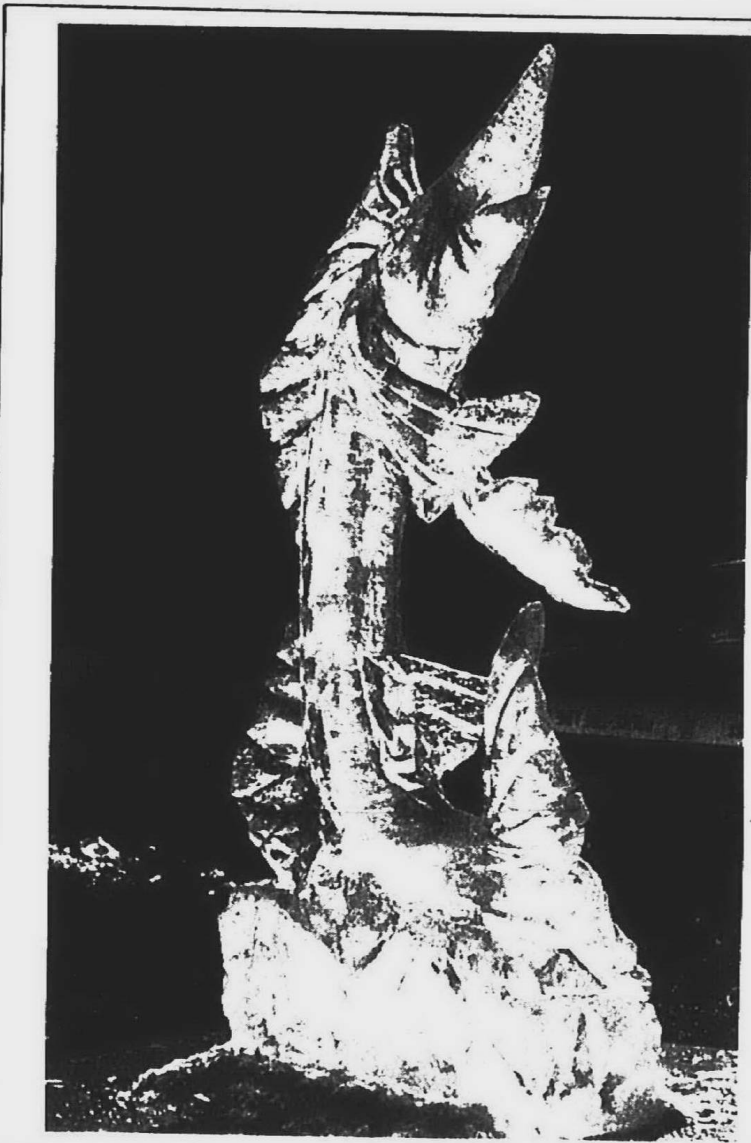

"Officer Melvin Meck fired a second shot which ricocheted off the door," he said.

Both Commire and Meck ran into the room, while officer Robert Scoggins reached in and grabbed the barrel of the rifle the suspect was holding.

The man let go of the rifle and lunged toward a 12-gauge shotgun leaned against a far wall. The man then was subdued and arrested, Berry said.

"Officer Zedan couldn't fire his gun (when he fell into the room) because

A chip off the ol' block

A trial run was held Wednesday for Plymouth's first Ice Sculpture Festival sponsored by the city of Plymouth. Chefs from surrounding areas will be doing the sculpturing beginning at 10 a.m. Feb. 12 in Kellogg Park with judging taking place at 6 p.m. The four major sculptures will be carved out of ice blocks about four-by-six feet and more than 50 ice carvings will be displayed in the park. The public is welcome to watch the work in progress. Participating in the trial run last week were Ted Wakar, Baypoint chef who created swordfish (left), and Dale Schulman, chef for the Mayflower's Roundtable Club who created the polar bear being photographed by Marge Winkler of Plymouth, who sneaked inside the roped-in area to grab a couple close-up snapshots.

Accused arsonist goes to exam

Witness says suspect admitted killing friend to brother

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The man charged in the arson of the Old Village Inn talked about killing a friend to teach him "a lesson" even as flames were consuming the hotel, according to court testimony Thursday.

Testifying at a preliminary examination of Gary L. Cook, 34, of Livonia, a witness said he overheard Cook tell his brother about killing a man.

"I heard him (Gary Cook) discussing a fire, and the fact that somebody had died," said Robert Gornowich of Starkweather.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Mike Gurskin asked Gornowich if Cook explained why he killed his friend.

"Because he was upset with his friend for some reason," Gornowich said. "To teach him a lesson... he would show him."

COOK, A former hotel resident who was asked to leave the hotel in April, is charged with first degree murder, arson and felonious assault with the intent to murder.

The Old Village Inn was gutted Jan. 5 by a fire which officials said was deliberately started. A hotel resident, Clifford Bearden, 61, was found dead in a second-floor hallway. An autopsy showed he died from smoke and carbon monoxide inhalation.

Four witnesses testified at the examination Thursday before District Judge Dunbar Davis recessed the case until this Thursday. The examination will continue at 9:30 a.m. in 35th District Court in Plymouth.

Gornowich, a group home worker in Canton, lives with Cook's brother and sister-in-law, Richard and Cathy Cook. Cook came to the home shortly after 6 p.m. on the day of the fire, he said.

GORNOWICH said the brothers talked for about 15 minutes in the living room. "Richard and Gary were discussing a fire at the Nelson Hotel (the former name of the Old Village Inn) and the fact that somebody had died," Gornowich testified.

"He (Gary) said something about killing his friend," the witness said.

"Gary filled Richard in on the details of how he had done it," Gornowich added.

The witness also testified: "After they talked about it for a few minutes, Gary said 'I got to go' and headed out of the living room."

Gornowich and Richard saw Cook to the back door of the home, a half-block from the hotel, he said.

"Richard said he didn't hear any sirens," Gary said. "You will soon enough," Gornowich testified.

Defense attorney Robert Delany questioned Gornowich about Cook's physical condition.

Gornowich said Cook didn't walk steadily and had slurred speech. But, Gornowich said, this was the first time he had met Cook.

GORNOWICH, who was seated with a few feet of Cook, said he did not smell any peculiar odors, such as alcohol, turpentine or gasoline.

As Gornowich left the stand, he paused to speak to Cook, who was seated at the defense table. Cook, dressed in a plaid shirt and jeans, turned to speak with Gornowich.

When Gornowich departed, he patted Cook on the back and wished him good luck. Cook kept quiet through most of the proceedings, occasionally turning to talk with his attorney.

Initially Cook didn't want an attorney, but agreed to let the court appoint Delany to represent him.

Hotel owner Eugene LaBlanc testified that he asked Cook to move in April because of Cook's rowdiness drinking and fighting and because of a fire in his room. Cook complied with his request, LaBlanc said.

THE OWNER admitted that he never saw Cook fight or light the alleged fire in his room. The hotel owner said he did not file complaints to police about the alleged rowdiness or drunkenness.

Michigan State Police Detective Sgt. LaVerne Erickson testified to finding evidence which led him to believe a flammable liquid was used to accelerate the fire.

He said two containers were found in the building which could have contained gasoline or a petroleum distillate, such as paint thinner or turpentine.

LaBlanc said such items weren't stored in the hotel.

Plymouth police Lt. Robert Commire testified to seeing the body in an upstairs hallway of the hotel, after the fire.

Cook was arrested because of information given to the police by tenants of the hotel and because of statements given police by Gornowich and Richard Cook, he said.

Livonia police arrested Cook the day after the fire at the Livonia Post Office on Merriman at Plymouth Road. Commire said an unidentified woman told police where they could find Cook.

Cook is being held without bond in the Wayne County Jail. If convicted, he faces a total of two life sentences and 20 years in prison.

Unemployment office is busy

Jobless aren't left totally payless

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

On these cold winter days the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MES) office on Joy Road in Canton has turned into a Temple of Hope.

The lobby is crowded all day with men and women waiting to collect their payments. They come in such numbers that payments have reached an all time high.

According to Victor Mayette, the manager, the payments are rising each month with little or no sign of letting up.

Those who stand for hours in the lobby to get to the payoff window just smile at the headlines in the papers that state the economy is improving. They say, "We hope so."

The interest rates may be falling and home building may be on the rise as the government points out, but to these folks — and they are all ages — the headlines mean little.

"IT MAY be so," one of the women said, "but I won't believe it until I can find a job. And I have been looking for six months." She wouldn't reveal her name, but to her the compensation office is just a temple of hope.

"Our claim load," Manager Mayette said, "has reached 13,500 people each month."

"We issue checks every two weeks because we can't possibly handle the load in a single week."

"At that figure we handle about 8,500 to 7,000 persons here during a week's period. The lobby always seems to be crowded."

"Then, on holidays, such as Dr. Martin Luther King Day, we are closed and that means our load is almost impossible to handle the four remaining working days."

One of the vast throngs in the lobby just shook his head in disgust when he confided that he had been looking for work for three years.

He was Albert Fisciardi who had been employed at Fisher Body.

"I HAVE tried everything but there

Schools need industry's aid

A new term enters the world of vocational and industrial education — linkage.

It doesn't represent the linkage of an automobile, but it has a lot to do with the survival of automotive education in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and surrounding school districts.

"Linkage," as defined by Dr. Barbara Kline, a vocational education researcher at Ohio State University, is a cooperative process between industry and education with each side working together in a joint venture to achieve a mutually beneficial objective.

Plymouth-Canton schools' objective to offer equipment to students that is current with the ever-changing car industry, according to Larry Deck of the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) automotive vocational wing.

"The bottom line is we want to remain current with what's happening in the industry, but to stay current it costs bucks," Deck said.

Private industry's objective, said Deck, is to develop community trained and educated personnel that understand how to repair new automobiles.

That's where "linkage" evolves. Private car dealerships and repair stations may offer the dollars needed by the school district for an up-to-date vocational facility, while school teachers retrain dealer personnel to adapt to the changing industry.

MORE THAN 25 businesses from the Plymouth-Canton area recently were invited to an open house at the CEP vocational facility, behind Plymouth Canton High School, on Canton Center south of Joy.

From this meeting, an advisory committee was formed to discuss linkage. That committee meets for the first time this month, Deck said.

The first order of business will be to examine ways to raise funds for repair equipment for unibody construction, which will be part of automotive production in the mid-1980s.

Some $40,000 must be raised for this equipment, Deck said, and he hopes the advisory committee can work together to accomplish this goal.

Deck believes it is imperative for schools to continue vocational education programs to help train students, and re-train workers, in the automotive field.

Teacher Larry Deck (seated on top of the desk) leads pre-class discussion before entering the automotive vocational area.

Student Mark Bryden paints the vinyl top of a car during class. This vocational section of the high school is used about 70 hours a week by students, adults and other school districts.

Roebuck wins car at game

"It was the biggest surprise I ever experienced."

And Charles Roebuck of Plymouth admitted that he is enjoying every minute he spends behind the wheel of the automobile he won at a Red Wing hockey game in Joe Louis arena two weeks ago.

"I never had won anything more than a lawn chair and a clock radio on the golf course. So, I wasn't expecting anything when I went to the hockey game, other than a chance to see a good game.

"Then, the drawing took place and they called the section in which I was sitting. Then came the surprise. It was my number."

The car is an American Motors Spirit and in the 1,000 miles he has driven, the car has performed up to his expectations.

And though he just returned from Hawaii where he went to visit friends he is looking forward to a lot of pleasure with his surprise car.

Walking Haberdasher tells success story

"You can't sit back and wait for business to come to you. You have to go out and get it! — even in the retail business."

That's the explanation given by Fred Hill of John Smith Clothing Company at 336 S. Main in Plymouth on why he is taking an unusual approach to retailing.

Two months ago Hill donned tails, derby and walking stick — dubbed himself 'the Walking Haberdasher' — and began a 500-mile walk.

On his 500-mile journey Hill would stop at each home in Plymouth and leave a packet of materials designed to promote his men's clothing store — much like a Johnny Appleseed in formal evening wear.

"Thus far I have been called Charlie Chaplin, had offers to buy my derby, helped teach a boy to walk on stilts, been introduced to a dog named Maggie, almost caused a roofer to fall from his perch, worn out a pair of shoes and been asked what my problem was."

"I also have been peeked at from behind closed blinds, been waved at by hundreds of passing motorists and have met many nice folks."

Beyond that, said Hill, the idea is working. Business is good.

"We have just completed our best November in 15 years and experienced a 20 percent volume increase in December."

"I wonder if it isn't simply because it's fun — fun for me, and fun for the customers."

"Perhaps more than the lure of sale, sale, sale; buying quality, placing trust in the small town merchant, and having fun while shopping may be the way we're headed."

The packet the Walking Haberdasher leaves at residences includes information about the history of the building and store. Hill, the owner of John Smith, also includes a letter explaining why he has donned the eye-catching apparel.

Also included in the packet are some attractively designed coupons with offers such as a free dress shirt with purchase of a suit, $50 off on alterations on an individual's own clothes, a $3 trade-in allowance on old ties, and a vinyl zipper garment as a free gift.

Why is Fred Hill catching the attention of passing motorists these days?

Most major crimes drop in Plymouth

Plymouth's 1982 crime statistics show an overall decrease in most major crime categories.

The figures were released last week by Police Chief Carl F. Berry. This is the second year the Plymouth Police Department released combined figures for Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

"In taking a few of the items used in the report, we show a decrease in some areas of crime that are of major concern to the public," Berry said.

This is how the figures break down for 1982 (comparisons to 1981 are listed where provided):

• Homicides — none in 1982, compared with two in 1981.

• Robberies — a total of 13. There were eight armed robberies (four in the city and four in the township) and five unarmed robberies (all in the city).

• Assaults — a total of 120. There were 20 felony assaults (six in the city and 14 in the township), which is up 35 percent from 1981. There were three high misdemeanor assaults (all in the township) and 97 misdemeanor assaults (53 in the city and 44 in the township).

• Arsons — a total of seven. There were three residence arsons (one in the city and two in the township) and four non-residence arsons (three in the city and one in the township).

• Burglaries — a total of 320. There were 192 residence burglaries (67 in the city and 125 in the township) and 128 non-residence burglaries (55 in the city and 73 in the township). The number of residence burglaries was down 13 percent, while the number of non-residence burglaries was up 9 percent.

• Larceny — at a total of 841. There were 344 larcenies in the city and 497 larcenies in the township.

• Auto theft — a total of 74. There were 35 cars stolen in the city and 39 stolen in the township. This showed a 10 percent drop in the number of cars stolen from 1981.

Joblessness

just aren't any jobs and very little hope of finding one."

Another was Charles Lewis, a middle-aged man who works at the Detroit Race Course. He admitted the hardship of being out of work was not too bad because the track in Livonia will open again in March.

One by one — from the youngest to the oldest — they were of one thought. It was the hope that things would get better and soon.

Among this group was Ray Marce, a mechanic, who had been employed at the Pontiac dealership in Westland.

"I am only 28 years old, and I possibly will see the end of the slump but I sure hope it is soon."

Mayette joined in the hopeful group, although he admitted being pessimistic enough to believe that there won't be much change in the claim load until mid-year at the earliest.

"It took about three years to get in the position we are today. So, we can't expect to get out of it in a few months. So, I have to join in the hope that it will end before that."

Meanwhile the distribution of $1.8 million a month goes on in the Temple of Hope.

Police fire 1st shot in raid

there was a girl behind (the man)," Berry said.

The officers then kicked in a door to another room and arrested its occupants, White and another woman, without incident, Berry said.

The two women were brought to the police station, and later released, said Berry.

The other officers involved in the raid were: Lt. William Fletcher, Edward Ochal and Jerry Vorva.

Police later learned the 30.06 rifle was unloaded, but the man had ammunition in his hand, Berry said.

The 12-gauge shotgun, which the man lunged for, was loaded, he said.

Conspiracy to receive and conceal stolen property carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison upon conviction.

Felonious assault with a firearm carries a maximum sentence of four years in prison, while using a firearm in a crime carries a mandatory two years in prison upon conviction.

Police recovered an undetermined amount of stolen jewelry, weapons, and other house goods in the raid, Berry said.

The information that led to the arrests, and subsequent shooting, was developed by patrol officers, Berry said.

"The officers involved in the incident did follow policy. There is no doubt in my mind that the officers did what was necessary," he said.

"They only used the force necessary to secure the arrest. Nobody has been suspended," he said.

"To the best of my knowledge, this is the first time a Plymouth officer has had to fire a shot," he said. "In Commire's 16 years of experience on the force, he has never had to use his gun."

The shooting record of the department is something Berry is proud of.

"We've had some pretty serious situations, yet our officers haven't fired," he said.

"Last year, when we had a sniper shooting at the back of city hall, not a single shot was fired by the officers," Berry said.

TOOTHACHE OR TENDER TEETH
 There's a world of difference between a toothache and tender teeth. Occasionally, some people will experience the discomfort of a tooth that has suddenly become hypersensitive. It hurts when you sip a hot or cold drink, suck in cold air, or eat foods that are sweet or sour or acidic. This happens more often to children because their teeth are more sensitive.
 Usually, the tooth is tender only for a short time. The sensitivity soon goes away. But not when someone has a toothache. This can begin like the tender tooth syndrome, when eating hot or cold foods or when you are chewing vigorously. But the toothache doesn't go away. It stays and becomes worse, until you get the treatment you need. The pain becomes intense. The jaw begins to swell up and you may experience fever. This usually means an abscess has formed in the affected tooth. Decay has eaten through the pulp and infected the gums and hard tissues. There may be a pocket of pus around the root.
 Don't waste any time in getting help from your dentist. He can stop the pain, treat the tooth, and save it with prompt treatment.

SC sees belt-tightening ahead

By Mary Klemic
staff writer

Schoolcraft College is taking a wait-and-see attitude toward word that Gov. James Blanchard is withholding state payments to schools and local governments.

But Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell cautioned that a lengthy delay in payment would result in some belt tightening affecting services and programs at the school, which has more than 10,000 students.

"We will lose $800,000 in two months and $1.2 million in three months," he said. "You simply can't operate (with that) and continue to provide the services that you have been providing."

BLANCHARD, citing the state's poor economy, froze state hiring and withheld $509 million in aid to colleges, elementary through high schools and local governments.

State colleges absorbed $135 million of those cuts, elementary and secondary schools $216 million, local governments $144 million, and private colleges $14 million.

Of Schoolcraft's $15-million budget, $5 million comes from the state, according to McDowell. The rest comes from property taxes and student tuition.

Blanchard's order withheld two-thirds of the January-March quarterly payment — about $800,000, in Schoolcraft's case.

Blanchard's order comes on top of a $200 million delay ordered in September by then-Gov. William G. Milliken. That payment is due in the April-June quarter. There is doubt in Lansing, however, that that can be met.

That delay cost Schoolcraft $586,000. The new delay, McDowell said, "is a lot to swallow down."

The state constitution gives the governor authority to cut state spending when he determines revenue projections are insufficient to meet appropriations.

THE COLLEGE president said last week that it was too soon to tell what the delays would mean to Schoolcraft College, whose semester started only a few days before the announcement.

"We haven't made any decisions," he said. "How we're going to handle it depends on whether the payments will be restored. We're going through business as usual."

McDowell said he understands the reluctance to raise taxes because of the economy. "You can't continue to go on spending," he said. "I think he (Blanchard) is on the right track, assuming that there's additional revenue to go with it."

McDowell suggested that some budget cuts and a revenue increase, possibly in taxes, could be a long-term answer. "We would be supportive of that, just assuming not all the cuts will come in education," he said.

Orchestra to play at music confab

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Orchestra will present a concert in Ann Arbor Friday, Jan. 21.

The orchestra will be performing as part of the 38th annual Midwestern Conference on School Vocal and Instrumental Music.

The concert will be performed beginning 11:30 a.m. Friday in Hill Auditorium on the campus of the University of Michigan.

The 44-member orchestra, under the direction of H. Michael Endres, is one of 24 outstanding public school and college ensembles which will perform at the 2 1/2-day conference.

The CEP Orchestra was invited to perform on the basis of outstanding festival ratings which were earned during the past two years.

This year the conference will be attended by nearly 5,000 music educators, students, and guests. The gathering will feature 120 music industry exhibits, 44 clinicians and soloists, and 10 panel presentations in addition to the ensembles.

Endres says that "being selected to perform at the Midwestern Conference is one of the most exciting honors which can come to a public school musical ensemble."

"The orchestra members have been working very hard since last fall, and we are very excited about our chance to perform at Hill Auditorium."

The CEP Orchestra is sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and by the American String Teacher's Association.

The conference opens Thursday evening, Jan. 20, and continues through Saturday.

Adversary relationship between Grote and faculty

(Part XXXVI)

In the summer of 1971, shortly before Dr. C. Nelson Grote assumed the presidency of Schoolcraft College, he told an Observer reporter that if he could have written a job description, the position he was about to take is what he would have considered to be ideal.

He noted that he had experience in working toward the passage of local millage and bond issues, and was "familiar with the movements which have developed in collective bargaining in higher education."

Before his 10-year tenure was over, Dr. Grote was to have his skill and experience tested in both areas.

THE FIRST TEST came in September 1971, when the trustees went before the voters with a one-mill proposal, one-half of which was to be used for capital construction, and one-half for operating expenses.

On Sept. 13, the proposal failed — the first of five millage defeats that occurred during Grote's administration.

His experience in dealing with college faculty members was put to the test toward the end of 1971 and the beginning of 1972.

In December 1971, six months after Grote became president, Richard Arlen of Plymouth, president of the Faculty Forum, (the bargaining unit for most of the faculty members) asked the trustees to create a faculty advisory seat on the board. He indicated that the seat would be advisory only, that the faculty representative would not have a vote

past and present

or participate in personnel matters except those involving faculty members, and would not participate in the area of labor contract negotiation. The request was not granted.

Later in the same month, the Faculty Forum went to court to challenge the administration's efforts to implement faculty work schedules to conform to terms specified in an appropriations act just passed by the state legislature.

The administration saw this as a cost-reducing opportunity, but the faculty objected on the ground that the schedules set up in the act were in conflict with the agreement negotiated with the college.

On Dec. 29, 1971, Judge Horace Gilmore of the Wayne County Circuit Court ruled in favor of the faculty contract, not by those in the appropriations act.

Four months later, in April 1972, the Faculty Forum, which had been the bargaining agent since 1966, was itself challenged. The United Schoolcraft Faculty, another union group on campus, got authorization cards from at least 50 faculty members and petitioned the state for an election to determine which organization should represent the instructors.

The conflict was seen at the time as a contest between a "liberal" faction (the USF) and the "moderate" group which dominated the Faculty Forum.

The choices confronting the 156 instructors, counselors and assistant librarians who voted in the state-conducted election were three: (1) stick with the Faculty Forum, (2) change to the United Schoolcraft Faculty, or (3) vote for no union at all. State law required that the third option be on the ballot.

The Faculty Forum won by a 2-to-1 margin. Of the 154 votes cast, not one was for the "no union" option.

DR. GROTE'S FIRST REAL brush with the faculty union came early in 1972.

In the previous fall, he had invited the Faculty Forum to suggest ways to cut the college budget. The organization had put the question to its member in a survey which drew a 62 percent response. The report on the survey was delivered to Grote on Feb. 18.

Contained in the report was a suggestion that six of the college's 10 administrators, called "area directors," be eliminated at an estimated savings of $130,000 and that the college return to the principle of elected department chairmen. The president was asked to respond to this suggestion.

His reply was couched in terms not calculated to win friends among the faculty, as indicated in an interview he had with Tim Richard which appeared in the Observer on May 3, 1972. Calling the faculty suggestion "primarily a political document, shrouded in a budget or cost-saving report," Grote said the union was simply raising the issue of "governance of the college."

He declared that the faculty wanted to do away with the area directors so that their duties could be given to members of the bargaining unit. "You cannot expect department heads to perform necessary and essential administrative duties," he told Richard, "when they are members of the same union as those they are supervising."

Referring to what he called the Forum's "blatant attack on the cost of area directors," Grote declared that the instructors had made no comment about "the fact that if the faculty had permitted the administration to have implemented the minimum teaching load required in Public Act 121 in 1971, the college would have saved $208,573 during the fall and winter semesters of 1971-72."

Whatever the motive of the faculty in presenting the suggestion, a suggestion that Dr. Grote himself had prompted by soliciting cost-cutting ideas, the tone of his response boded ill for his future dealings with the instructors. (To be continued.)

Forecasting: a dangerous task

These are the days when the nation's sympathy should go out to the weather forecasters.

Day after day and week after week they have been forecasting snow — at least flurries — only to have Mother Nature turn her back on them. Now we are in to the middle of January with only an inch of the white stuff so far.

How they must feel when they go on the air knowing the forecast of the day before had turned against them. They must wonder if the viewers are going to pay any attention to them.

It must be a terrible feeling, and one that would shake the confidence of the most vain person.

In his long travels along the journalistic trail, The Stroller never has been asked to predict weather. But he has had some weird experiences in forecasting the outcome of sports events. And the memory of some of them never will be lived down.

The one prediction he never will forget came the day before Joe Louis fought Max Schmeling for the first time. It was back in 1936, when the Brown Bomber was climbing the ladder to the heavyweight title.

After watching both men in their training camps he predicted that Louis would win easily. It never dawned on him that, for the first time, Louis had refused to name a round in which he would win.

So, when it came to make the prediction official for the morning paper The Stroller wrote that Mrs. Louis would have a say in how long the fight would go.

"If she wants to go to a movie," he wrote, "Joe will end it early; if she desires to go nightclubbing, Joe may let Max stay around a while."

Well, you know what happened.

W.W. Edgar

Fighting a well-planned attack, Schmeling knocked Joe out in the 12th round after giving him a good beating with 57 solid right-hand punches to the jaw.

You can imagine how The Stroller felt when he returned to the office and had to face his superiors. It wasn't a good feeling.

On another occasion he was in Chicago to cover the Max Baer-Frankie Campbell fight.

The fight had not gone very far when Campbell went down and was counted out. Along with many other writers at ringside, The Stroller didn't see the knockout punch. So he filed a story saying that Campbell went down without being hit hard. He further stated that Campbell set the fight game back about 200 years. Many of the other writers wrote in the same vein.

When the stories were finished we gathered at the Morrison Hotel, then fight headquarters, to hold court with Damon Runyan and some of the other nationally known fight writers.

These sessions lasted well into the wee hours. So you can imagine the shock when the early edition of the Chicago Tribune said Campbell had died from the effects of the blow.

Now, how could The Stroller face his superiors when he returned? The Free Press had Campbell taking a "dive," and the News, coming out a few hours later, had him dead from the blow.

It was a sickening feeling to make an appearance back in the office. So that's why the Stroller's sympathy now goes to the TV weathermen who keep predicting snow, and it doesn't fall.

Is rail bypass really needed?

To the editor:

The map and the accompanying article about a proposed railroad-crossing bypass on the front page of the Plymouth Observer on Jan. 13 made intriguing reading. After reading the article twice and thoroughly studying the map, I still don't understand what would be accomplished by building the bypass.

City Manager Henry Graper has indicated the proposal was under study and could possibly be built with tax money from the new 5-cent gasoline tax. Before the plan is finalized, can the following questions be answered:

1. Why should a railroad bypass on the east side of town between Ann Arbor Trail and Mill Street be a solution to a problem on Main Street as highlighted by the front page article?
2. Why would a motorist be encouraged to enter Plymouth by Mill Street, where a railroad crossing could be a problem, when they could continue on Ann Arbor Road to Main Street and go north to the center of the business district?
3. Why should two thriving businesses, employing several people, which we will assume are paying their fair share of city taxes, be torn down and removed from the tax rolls to allow access for an unnecessary bypass?

4. What is wrong with the present bypass as noted by arrows on the map — Fair Street to Fairground to Ann Arbor Trail?

I'm sure this "free government money" as described by a mayor of a nearby city, can be put to better use. Let's first patch the holes in city streets, I-75, I-94 and, yes, even I-275 before we find ways to waste our tax money.

What this city and state needs are citizens, city managers, mayors and a governor making studies and proposals to reduce government spending. If we ever expect to bring this state out of an 18 percent unemployment condition, the people presently working must have cash to buy consumer goods — not cash to pay taxes on over-assessed property, an increase in the gasoline tax, or pay a 46 percent increase in state income tax.

This is not the time for our leaders to build monuments to their reign.

ESY schedule is the worst

To the editor:

We are house hunting in Canton, and we would like to tell Glenn Schroeder of the school board that of the 900 empty homes in the Plymouth-Canton area, we would most certainly buy in a traditional (schedule) school district.

You couldn't give us a home in the Field-Erickson area (on Extended School Year Schedule).

It's one thing if the whole district is on ESY, but why should two schools remain on it?

If there is so much overcrowding in the Field-Erickson area why is the board considering closing two schools? There has to be some other solution.

ESY is the worst.

CELEBRATIONS

NOW AND THEN

Ten decades of changing tastes in food and drink

One hundred years ago a man could sip his brandy in regal splendor at the local hotel dining room. For many ladies, a celebration meant eating out at the new drug store fountain where ice cream was all the rage. But since the advent of the "cocktail," with or without ice cream, ladies and gents have been celebrating hand in hand.

In their hundred years of winemaking to help support education, The Christian Brothers of Napa Valley, California, have seen ten decades of changing tastes. And since their teaching Order originated in France, you might say that these brandy recipes reflect both the vielle and the nouvelle, the old and new styles of celebrating with food and drink.

1882-1892 What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander... and also sauce for the salad, if you can believe an early cookbook of this vintage.

AGES-OLD BRANDY SALAD SAUCE

In container of electric blender combine 1 egg, 1/4 cup Brandy, 2 tablespoons white wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon honey, 2 teaspoons Dijon-style mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Blend 20 seconds. With motor running, add 2/3 cup vegetable oil in a steady stream; blend 30 seconds. Pour into jar; cover and chill. Use to dress assorted crisp greens. Makes 8 servings (about 1-1/4 cups).

1892-1902 The Waldorf Astoria opens as the unofficial palace of New York City with $250 a plate dinners and nightingales singing in a grove of rose trees.

OLD WALDORF'S BRANDIED BEEF & ONIONS

4-rib standing rib roast (about 8 pounds)	3/4 to 1 cup Brandy
8 whole yellow onions (about 6 ounces each)	3/4 to 1 cup water
	Salt and pepper

Roast beef in 325 degree oven to desired internal temperature. Two hours before meat is expected to be done, add whole, unpeeled onions to the pan. Continue baking until onions are tender when pierced. Remove from pan; cover and keep warm. Remove cooked roast; deglaze pan with brandy and water. Season juices with salt and pepper to taste. Place roast on platter, surround with halved roasted onions. Serve with hot juices to pour over onions and sliced meat. Makes 8 servings.

1902-1912 Less sumptuous fare could be had at the first Horn & Hardart automat, but for real style and show-off, the soda fountain reigned supreme.

BRANDIED COFFEE SODA

1/4 cup instant coffee	3/4 cup plus 1 tablespoon Brandy
6 tablespoons boiling water	1 pint coffee ice cream
1/4 cup plus 1 teaspoon sugar	2 cups sparkling water
1/2 cup whipping cream	Chocolate curls

In small bowl dissolve coffee in boiling water; stir in 1/4 cup sugar to dissolve. Whip cream to form soft peaks. Whip in the remaining teaspoon sugar and 1 tablespoon of the brandy. For each soda, pour 2 tablespoons coffee mixture into 12-ounce glass. Add 3 tablespoons brandy, 1/2 cup ice cream, scooped, and 1/2 cup sparkling water; stir. Dollop top with cream mixture and garnish with chocolate curls. Serve with straw and a long spoon. Makes 4 servings.

1912-1922 These were the days of the speakeasies, cafeterias, nickel hamburgers and great theatrical cheesecakes.

THE BEST BRANDYFRUIT CHEESECAKE

(Illustrated)

Branded Fruits:

1 cup (about 6 ounces) moist pack dried apricot halves
1 cup (about 6 ounces) moist pack dried Calmyrna figs, halved lengthwise
4 ounces candied yellow pineapple
1 cup Brandy

Crust:

1 package (6 ounces) zwieback
6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons ground allspice

Filling and Glaze:

1/2 cup almond paste
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
3 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
4 eggs, at room temperature
2/3 cup apricot jam
2 tablespoons Brandy

To prepare Branded Fruits: In bowl or jar combine apricots, figs, pineapple and brandy. Cover and let stand at room temperature 24 to 48 hours, stirring once or twice. To prepare Crust: With electric food processor or blender make zwieback into fine crumbs. Combine crumbs with butter, sugar and allspice. Mix thoroughly. Press firmly onto bottom and half way up sides of buttered 9 x 3-inch springform pan; set aside. To prepare Filling and Glaze: Crumble almond paste into large mixing bowl; add sugar and flour. Blend with electric mixer at low speed until almost smooth. Drain Branded Fruits over measuring cup; cover and reserve fruits. Measure 1/3 cup drained liquid (add brandy if needed to make 1/3 cup). Beat measured liquid into almond paste mixture. Add cream cheese, one package at a time, beating 2 minutes after each addition. Add eggs, one at a time, beating 1 minute after each addition. Beat at high speed 1 minute scraping sides of bowl as needed. Chop enough of the Branded Fruits to make 1 cup; fold into cheese mixture. Pour into prepared pan; smooth top. Bake in center of preheated 350 degree oven 50 to 60 minutes, until set. Cool on rack.

Cover and chill 6 to 24 hours before garnishing and serving. To make glaze, strain jam; discard pulp. Heat the remaining jam in small saucepan. Stir in brandy. Simmer 2 minutes. Cool to room temperature. To garnish cake, place on serving plate; carefully remove side of pan. Arrange the remaining Branded Fruits on top of cake. Spoon glaze over cake. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 12 to 14 servings.

1922-1932 Everything was not champagne and fine gras during these hard times of the Depression, but brandy was still the currency of the elegant.

Sausage linked to flavorful past

The origins of sausages that fit so conveniently into modern life can be traced back thousands of years through history. Many of our most popular sausages are linked to those created in the Old World during the Middle Ages when sausage making was considered an art.

Climate as well as taste was responsible for the development of the different sausages in the different areas of Europe. In the cooler, northern regions, Germans and Norsemen developed fresh and semi-fresh products that would keep well in their climate. They also made smoked and cooked sausages and a semi-dry sausage called summer sausage because it was made in the winter to be eaten in the summer. In the warmer climates of Italy and southern France, very dry, highly seasoned sausages were made for they would keep well in the warmer temperatures.

Some early "wurstmakers" were so adept at making distinctive types of sausages that their products became famous throughout Europe.

TODAY, WE are able to enjoy a wide variety of these sausages for the immigrants from Europe brought with them their knowledge of sausage making and their preference for sausages from their home lands.

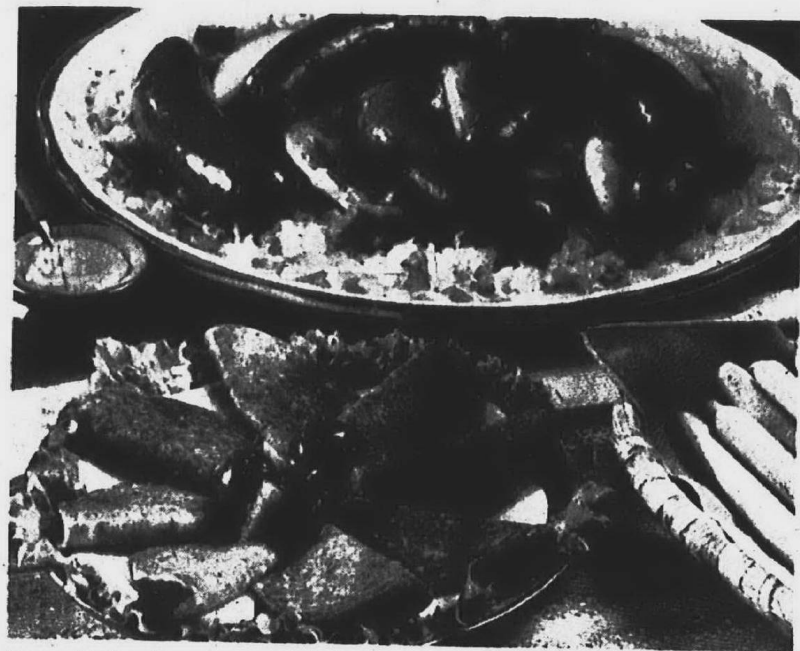

For a modern sampling of the flavors of old Italy, arrange slices of Genoa salami and provolone cheese on a plate and garnish with Italian olives. If it's the heartier flavors of Germany you prefer, treat yourself to Thuringer and Kraut. It's an easy-to-make entree that calls for fully cooked thuringer sausage links to cook atop sauerkraut that's flavored with onion, apple and caraway seed.

THURINGER AND KRAUT

- 1 pound fully cooked smoked thuringer sausage links
- 4 slices bacon, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 can (16 ounces) sauerkraut, drained
- 1 medium-size tart apple, cut into 8 wedges

- ¼ cup water
- 1 tsp brown sugar
- ¼ tsp caraway seed

Cook bacon in large skillet until crisp; remove to absorbent paper. Cook onions in bacon drippings 2 to 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour off drippings. Add sauerkraut, apple, water, brown sugar and caraway seed, stirring to combine. Arrange sausages on top of sauerkraut mixture, cover tightly and simmer 20 minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking 5 minutes. Sprinkle with bacon. 4 servings.

For a taste of sausages with international flavor, make a cold plate featuring Genoa salami, which originated in Italy, or a hearty sausage-kraut entree with thuringer links, first made in Germany.

Pop corn balls are made with maple

Long, cold winter nights are still ahead of us — nights when the kids get bored, or Saturday afternoons when the weather outside does not invite them out to play.

At times like these why not break out the popcorn and get the kids making popcorn balls. They are fun to make and even more fun to eat. This recipe is a bit different in that it combines popcorn, peanuts and raisins. Maple-flavored table syrup is the tie that binds all the ingredients together.

Securely wrapped in plastic they'll stay fresh for days... if they last that long.

- ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- ¼ cup butter or margarine

In large bowl, combine popped corn, peanuts and raisins. In heavy small saucepan, combine syrup and sugar. Bring to a boil over medium-high heat, stirring constantly. Continue cooking over medium heat until mixture reaches hard ball stage (260°) or until small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a hard, but pliable, ball. Remove from heat; immediately stir in butter, mixing just until melted. Immediately pour syrup mixture over popped corn mixture, mixing until well coated; let stand 10 minutes. Butter palms of hands. Using about 1 cup mixture for each, shape to form 8 balls. Place on wax paper; cool thoroughly. Wrap securely in plastic wrap. Makes 8 popcorn balls.

POPCORN BALLS

- 8 cups popped corn (remove unpopped kernels)
- ½ cup chopped peanuts
- ½ cup raisins
- ¾ cup maple flavored table syrup

Creating a miracle — do it in your mind

Plymouth Study Group met Thursday in the auditorium of the Plymouth Cultural Center. The meeting was switched from one of the smaller rooms to accommodate the crowd. Members brought guests to hear Marilyn Semonick talk about "Miracles Began to Happen When I Looked in the Mirror."

Semonick had been invited, by popular request, to speak to the group for the second time. As co-director of Spectrum Communications, she usually has as her audience business and middle management people. But her message of personal growth and understanding has something for everyone.

She spoke about getting along with people — business associates, family, and acquaintances.

"The more you know about a person, the easier it is to understand and accept them. Communication is a major roadblock in marriages, too," she said.

Members of the audience were asked to team off in pairs and tell each other about themselves, briefly. After the sessions, the women were asked their feelings, their reactions.

The majority responded that they had formed a new opinion of the other person.

SHE URGED her listeners to consider their strengths. "Say to yourself, 'My three best strengths are — and list them.'"

So-called "constructive criticism" preceded by "If I didn't love you I wouldn't say this," brought groans from the audience.

"We all know our faults," said Semonick. "We've been told about them for years. Most of us don't look at our strengths, but can list our weaknesses from here to there. Focus on the things you do well."

She said, "Accept compliments. Respond with a 'Thank you, that felt good.' If someone says, 'I love that sweater,' don't mumble, 'Oh, I got it on sale at Kmart.'"

Her message was, "Give it what you've got every moment. You are what you think you are. Don't set yourself up for failure. Change the picture of yourself in your brain."

"Before you go to bed, look in the mirror and see a calm, relaxed, sophisticated person. Program your brain. The 'garbage in, garbage out' works in your brain the same way it does for a computer. You see yourself as humble, not confident, that's what you'll be."

GLADYS BOWEN and Ardyth Fischer, charter members of the study club and two of its founders, were in the audience.

They recalled their first meeting in 1950. Eight women met under a big tree on the Fischers' front lawn. At that time, they lived on the corner of Haggerty and Plymouth roads, where the Lou LaRiche dealership is now.

They met in each other's homes, first at the Fischers', then for a year at the Bowens' and later at Geneva Guenther's.

"Our children were young, and we were interested in improving their upbringing and expanding our knowledge," said Gladys Bowen. She said that at first they required reading and had lessons to do.

"We delved into different areas. One year it was psychology. We read Plato and 'The Brothers Karamazov.' We really worked," Bowen said.

When the group grew to more than 25 members, it moved to the second floor of Dunning-Hough Library for its meetings. Membership was limited to 50, and there was a long waiting list.

They moved to the Cultural Center several years ago, and membership now is limited to 90 persons. They still have a waiting list.

Betty Laird, Doris Chatterley and Mary Elizabeth Smith are co-directors.

Betty Urquhart (left), Betsy Delaney, Ardyth Fischer and Gladys Bowen were just four members of a large crowd listening to guest speaker Marilyn Semonick at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

For 1st time Brownies will sell Scout cookies

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale begins Friday in the Plymouth-Canton community. Orders will be taken Jan. 21 through Feb. 11 by scouts in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

For the first time, Brownie Scouts will be selling cookies. The Brownies have permission to add to their troop treasuries by joining in the this major Girl Scout fund-raiser.

A new variety of cookie has been added this year — the nutty chocolate chip — with pecan morsels. There are still the traditional thin mints, peanut butter patties, shortbreads, assorted sandwich cremes, caramel delights and peanut butter sandwiches.

The cookies will be delivered Feb. 28 through March 11.

The council has set a sales goal of 625,000 packages for 1983. Realization of the sales would mean $637,500 raised to support Girl Scouting in Huron Valley — $481,250 for the council and $156,250 for the troops.

PRICE OF THE cookies will be $1.75 per box. Each box of cookies sold provides a $1.02 contribution to Girl Scouting.

Cookie chairwomen for the area are: Ruth Dostie of Amherst Court, Plymouth A, which covers the 20 troops in the Bird, Smith, Starkweather and Our Lady of Good Council School clusters;

Doris Prosyk of Tavistock Street, has Plymouth B, for the 18 troops in Allen, Fiegel and Gallimore schools clusters; Angie Clifford of Napier Road will take care of Plymouth C, the 16 troops in the Farland, Tanger and Isbister clusters as well as all cadette and senior troops; Sue Hoffmeister of Arlington Street, has Canton A, an area involving the 20 troops in the Eriksson and Hulsing schools clusters; Bunny Gumber of Gloucester is cookie chairman for Canton B, the 20 troops in the Field and Miller schools clusters and Sharon Leannais is chairing the sale for the 24 Northville troops. Northville is part of the local area association.

THE PROCEEDS from the sale are returned to the Scouts through the use of three council camps, special programs and events, staff services, girl and adult training.

Cookie sale receipts provide program activities for each troop. Each troop determines for itself how the girls might sell, what techniques to use, safety factors to consider, how to set goals, and how to budget and spend the income earned.

The Huron Valley Council will celebrate its 25th anniversary this year. It is a United Way Agency serving girls in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne and northern Monroe counties.

The cookies are baked in Battle Creek by the FFV-Interbake Co. They are made with vegetable oil and are free from all artificial preservatives.

Each year the cookie sale has a special theme. "Kites and Flying High with Girl Scout Cookies" is the theme this year. The girls had kite-making workshops and their kite show was Saturday in Westland Mall.

Courtroom drama has impact

Performances of the Birmingham Theatre production of "Nuts," drama by Tom Topor, continue through Feb. 6. Ticket prices range from $11-$18. For further information call the box office at 644-3533.
By Helen Zucker
Special writer

Anyone who misses Tom Topor's "Nuts" at the Birmingham Theatre is nuts. Topor's script, despite a few loopholes, beats the play "Tally's Folly" and the movie "The Verdict" (both currently in town) by miles. For sheer believability, punch, wit, for the heart-breaking, knotty, real issues it raises, "Nuts" is the best script around. It should have won the Tony Award.

Cleanly directed by Stephen Zuckerman, this production hasn't got a moment of waste or busywork in it. The pacing is so good, in fact, that the only objection I have is the two intermissions. One would be sufficient.

The two scenes that end Act I and II both end on such a climactic high that I didn't really want 10 minutes to break the mood. I'd have been happy to watch this work climb to its inevitable peak without any break at all.

It's a swift, clear novella of a play filled with wonderful, canny dialogue. It's old material; the "nice, ordinary people" from Mt. Kisco, Westchester,

review

with a daughter in Bellevue, but Topor has wrung something new from a family saga we are all familiar with and don't speak about, and his play has a sharp, naturalistic edge that I have missed seeing for too long.

A CAST OF fine actors flesh out the surprising script, and the result is the kind of theater of which we don't get enough. I want to congratulate Birmingham Theatre for putting this play on the boards. I haven't seen anything this good here since "Elephant Man."

Richard Zobel as Aaron Levinsky, the defense attorney, is superb. And William Cain as Arthur Kirk, the businessman-stepfather, "Mr. normal-looking gentleman," is very effective.

It's rather amazing that the lawyer gets the businessman to say the things he says, but it's so well done, we don't stop to question it. (This is the loophole I mentioned earlier, but when actors like this get going, I am willing to forgive almost anything.)

Giulia Pagano, as brilliant Claudia Faith Draper, does her best to not walk away with the play. Pagano is an actress of immense strength. She has terrific timing, a quick mind, a mobile face and tremendous presence.

I'm not sure that her mesmerizing speech about how she makes her living isn't a bit gratuitous. She bites off each detail with a mean, searing pleasure, but the agony at the heart of the speech somehow proves that this "nut" is hardly nuts in any conventional sense.

PAGANO HAS total credibility as the character who understands everyone else.

Patricia Morison as Rose Kirk, the rather theatrical mother hiding behind her suburban veneer, has a good moment in the dock when she throws her unanswered letters on the floor. Her confusion as Claudia's mother is quite understandable.

William R. Riker as the "Republican, but smart" Judge Murdoch has neat gestures that serve him well. He seems a good listener and is.

Gregory T. Daniel is endearing as officer Harry Haggerty, the guard "with nothing to gain." Dave Florek is fine as Franklin Macmillan, the prosecutor. And Peter J. Saputo, as Dr. Herbert Rosenthal, who speaks in jargonese until Claudia gets to him, is believably unimaginative — that most tragic flaw in a psychiatrist.

Dana Keeler, as the silent recorder, gives us an effective epilogue at the finale.

Romantic comedy revives the spirit of 1940s humor

Ghost stories are a curious lot, because in spite of their far-fetched content, they can be as current or dated as more socially relevant material. Contemporary stories involving the supernatural tend to emphasize poltergeists, evil spirits and menacing phenomena.

This was not always the case. The ghosts which popped up in movies of the 1930s and '40s were more likely to be mischievous than malicious. They spooked about in such films as "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," the Topper series, "The Ghost Goes West" and "Blithe Spirit."

"Kiss Me Goodbye" belongs, in spirit, to these earlier films, though it doesn't match them in wit or sparkle. It's a pleasant romantic comedy about an engaged couple pestered by an attention-loving ghost.

Sally Field as Kay, a young widow of three years, is half the engaged couple, and Jeff Bridges as Rupert, an Egyptologist, is the other half. The ghost is Kay's late husband, Jolly (James Caan), a Broadway dancer-choreographer who tap danced his way to oblivion.

HE MATERIALIZES when Kay is about to remarry. She moves back into the Manhattan townhouse she and Jolly had occupied and begins redecorating it with the intention of now living there with Rupert.

A dancing ghost does not fit into her interior design scheme and definitely does not fit into her domestic plans. Jolly doesn't see things that way. Accustomed to the limelight while alive, he is not content to be a quiet, retiring spirit around the house. He's a ghost with an ego who still wants to be the focus of Kay's interest.

This leads to a number of scenes built on the classic situation of ghost-movie comedy: The ghost is visible to only one person (Kay, in this movie), who keeps yakking away in conversation with it while everyone else within hearing thinks that person has gone bonkers.

Embarrassing as that may be in public, it's worse in private when Kay and Rupert try to make love while Jolly sits on the edge of the bed offering disturbing observations.

Jolly might have been a jolly entertainer, but he is not an entertaining ghost. He is conceited to the point of being an irritant, and Kay is too naive and hysterical to be endearing. This makes it a matter of indifference to us whether she clings to an old love and lives with a ghost or builds a new life with her fiancé.

JEFF BRIDGES and Claire Trevor, as his future mother-in-law Charlotte, are the two characters responsible for giving this movie some tang and perkiness.

Charlotte loudly, rudely and often, extols the merits of Kay's late husband, whom she praises for his talent and personality. In contrast, she has nothing to say about Rupert except that he digs up dead bodies.

Rupert, however, loves Kay and isn't going to let a mother-in-law or a ghost push him out of her life. His exchanges with Charlotte are the movie's best moments. Bridges brings an enthusiasm and spunkiness to his role that, along with Trevor's snobbish sarcasm, rescues "Kiss Me Goodbye" from a trough of sentimentality.

Dorothy Fielding as Kay's best friend also has a positive effect on the film, which generally labors for laughs. The worst instance of this is the finale in which the director, Robert Mulligan, tries to organize a sequence of disasters into a spectacular ending. The individual elements are brought together clumsily and predictably for a lame, if happy, conclusion.

Stevenson's firepower clips Chiefs

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

If only the game were a little bit shorter. About 11 minutes or so.

Take away the last 11 minutes of Plymouth Canton's contest with Livonia Stevenson Friday and you have a battle. Play it out and it's a Spartan blitz, 62-41.

Still, there might have been another factor that, if eliminated, would have benefitted Canton more: the play of Tom Domako, the Spartans' 6-foot-7 junior forward. Domako was the offensive power for Stevenson, pouring in 24 points to lead all scorers.

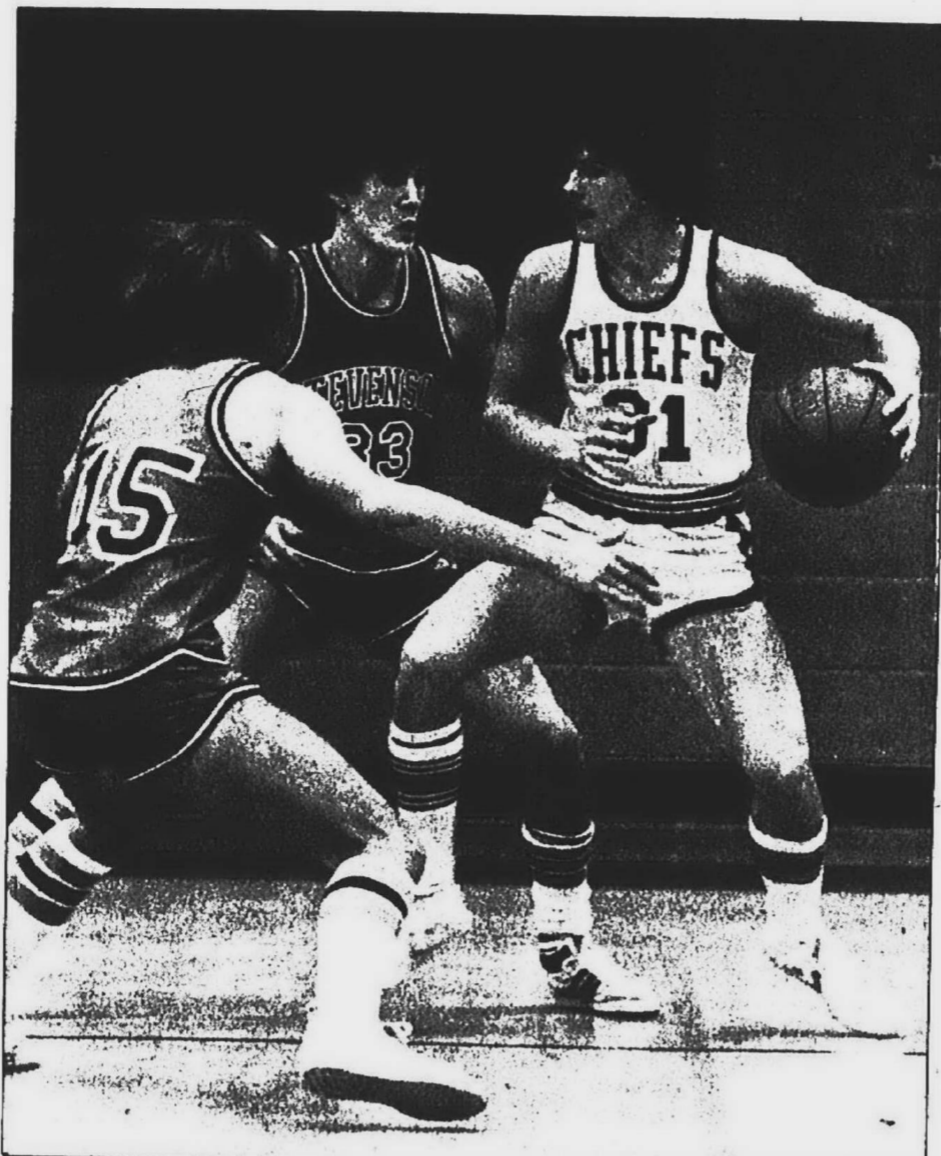

His points were not lumped in one streak, either. He scored from both inside and out, collecting four in the first quarter, eight in the second and six in both the third and fourth.

DOMAKO'S SCORING combined with senior guard Gary Mexicotte's eight second-quarter points lifted Stevenson to a 25-19 halftime advantage. Still, Canton was far from through. Three times in the third quarter the Chiefs were within five points and, with 3 1/2 minutes left in the period, they had a pair of chances to pull to within three.

But they failed to capitalize offensively, and a three-point play by Pete Rose followed by a breakaway basket by Mexicotte pushed the Spartans to a 10-point advantage. By the end of the quarter Stevenson led by 12 and Canton never got closer than that the rest of the way.

Even though Domako was dominant offensively, Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner was unwilling to label him as the team's top threat. "We like to work him into our offense, but (his teammates) know that when the other teams start to concentrate on him they are going to have to produce," he said.

FOR THE CHIEFS, a second-straight game of offensive inconsistency proved costly in the loss column. Canton's failure to score in the waning moments of Tuesday's game with Livonia Churchill resulted in a 50-47 defeat.

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Surrounded by Stevenson defensive troops Gary Mexicotte (45) and Bob Palmsano (33), Canton's Jim Schlicker is looking for help during Friday's contest.

The Stevenson game was more of the same. A three-point play by Ron Rienas made it a five-point game early in the third quarter. The Spartans went up by nine, but Mike Scarpello and Mike Jennings netted baskets to again get Canton to within five.

Stevenson followed with a missed shot and a turnover, but Canton failed to connect the next two times down the floor.

"By the end of the third quarter and through-out the fourth we were just standing around," said Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner, nephew of the Stevenson coach who failed to beat his uncle for the third time in three meetings over the past two seasons.

League's best Canton, Salem in title fight

There are two wrestling teams in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) that are unbeaten in league dual meets this season.

After Thursday, there will be only one.

The two schools are not only close in mat records but proximity as well. Plymouth Salem improved its record to 5-0 in the WLAA by trouncing Farmington Thursday, 58-15. The Rocks won all but three matches in dominating the Falcons.

Canton kept pace by topping Walled Lake Central, 40-24, in a match that could have been much closer. The Chiefs earned 18 points on three Central voids. But a win's a win, and this one made Canton 5-0 for the season.

On Thursday, the two teams will clash in a key WLAA mat contest at Salem. The dual meet starts at 6:30 p.m.

"THEY DIDN'T HAVE the depth or balance that we did," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "Going into the meet, I told our kids we had to win from 134 (pound weight class) to 157."

Chrenko's wrestlers proved to be good listeners, winning all four of those matches. Tom Frigge (134) edged Andy Chinarian, 5-3; Bob Parks (138) out-pointed Curt Calhoun, 8-3; Larry Janiga (147) pinned Mike Leist in 2:29; and

wrestling

Marty Heaton (157) blanked Kirk Kinjorski, 9-0.

Other Canton winners were Todd Gattoni (107), who pinned Jeff Sherman in :58, and Jamie Riegall (100), Todd Bartlett (114) and Paul Fletcher (200), who all won on voids.

SALEM DOMINATED throughout in its win over Farmington. Rick Ver-shave (100), Bill Morley (134), John Beaudoin (140), Jeff Davis (147), John Wochuk (157) and Tom Walkley (187) all pinned their Falcon foes.

Dave Dameron (114) won on a decision and Jeff Vojcek (107), Steve Grytza (126) and Kevin Vanotten (heavy-weight) all were winners on voids.

Salem is now a heavy favorite to win the WLAA Lakes Division dual meet crown. Canton has a major test ahead of it in Walled Lake Western, a team that was narrowly beaten by Salem earlier this year, 37-31. In that dual meet, the score was tied at 31-all when Vanotten pinned Western's Scott Stoehr in 3:01 to clinch the Rock triumph.

Rocks rattle to 6-2

Going on the road to play a league foe can be hazardous to a contending team's won-lost record.

Even if the opponent's record hovers around the .500 mark, the contender has to be careful or it could be disastrous.

Friday night, Plymouth Salem's basketball team was the contender, on the road to play at Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) rival Northville. The Rocks had several things to be thinking about in playing the Mustangs, including their own sputtering offense and Northville's full-court pressure defense.

basketball

IT DIDN'T SEEM to bother Salem much, however. The Rocks rattled Northville's press and raced to an easy 73-46 victory.

The win improved Salem's record to 6-2 overall and 4-1 in the WLAA's Lakes Division, keeping the Rocks one

Chief's Simone a double-winner Salem dunks Canton, 78-48

For starters, Plymouth Salem's swimmers couldn't have asked for much better.

But Plymouth Canton's could have. The two teams met in the Canton pool Thursday night in what was more than a battle between cross-town rivals. It was also the first Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) dual meet for both.

And it was the Rocks who prevailed, taking eight of 11 firsts in streaking to a 78-48 victory over the Chiefs.

CANTON'S JOHN SIMONE was the only double-winner in individual events. The senior competed in a pair of grueling distance

swimming

freestyle events and emerged on top in each, winning the 200-yard free in 1:50.57 and the 500 free in 5:05.66. Salem's Erik Kleinsmith was clocked at 1:54.15 in the 200 and 5:16.61 in the 500 to finish second in both.

Salem's depth was superior to Canton and, ultimately, that was the difference.

The Rocks swept the top two spots in four events.

Salem's team of Tim Harwood, Ashley Long, Mark Roehrig and Jeff Walker captured the 200 medley relay (1:49.64) and Scott Anderson, Bob Bowling, Tom Shaw and Walker combined to win the 400 free relay (3:38.35).

Canton's Bob Lewelling, Craig Vandenburg, Matt Krazak and Glenn Plagens took second in the 200 medley relay (1:49.64) and Plagens, Krazak, Jim Casler and Simone teamed to place second in the 400 free relay (3:39.17).

SKI CLINIC

If you've been dying to find out what all this cross country skiing ruckus is about, try attending one of the three clinics sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department.

Cost for the two-hour session is $4.50 with your own equipment and $6.50 if equipment must be provided. The first session is slated for Wednesday, Jan. 19, with others scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 3 and Tuesday, Feb. 15.

All clinics will run from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Maybury State Park under the tutelage of certified instructors. If interested, reserve a spot at least two days prior to each clinic by calling the Parks and Recreation department between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 397-1000.

GROUNDHOGS CLASSIC

Preparations for the fourth annual Groundhogs' Day Classic are already underway.

And what is the Groundhogs' Day Classic? It's a slo-pitch softball tournament, and it's scheduled for Jan. 29 at fields No. 1 and 2 at Griffin Park.

That's right — softball in the middle of winter. The only thing that will cancel this tournament is "good weather", according to tourney director Bob Dates of the Canton Parks and Recreation. Registration fee is $30, with each team limited to 18 players.

To register or for more information, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000.

CANTON SOCCER

Registration for Canton's soccer program is slated for Jan. 22, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., and Feb. 12, from 10 a.m. until noon at Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Youth and adult leagues are available. Cost is $12 for youngsters under eight years and $15 for all others. Many openings for girls remain. Birth certificates are required at registration.

For more information, call Sandy Olson at 453-7926.

FLOOR HOCKEY

A series of youth floor hockey clinics will start the week of Jan. 24 and will be followed by a four-week league season, starting Feb. 12.

Sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department in cooperation with the Canton Extension YMCA, the program is targeted for first through sixth graders, both boys and girls. The clinics will be held at Eriksson Elementary on Mondays, Hulsing Elementary on Tuesdays and at Eriksson on Wednesdays.

There will be two sessions at each school, the first from 4-4:50 p.m. and the second from 4:50-5:40 p.m. League games will be played on Saturday mornings, with all kids receiving a t-shirt.

Registration is now underway at the Canton Parks and Recreation building, 1150 S. Canton Center. Cost is $15 per child. For more information, call the Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000.

SNOWMOBILE FUND-RAISER

Ever think about taking a scenic five-day ride through Michigan's lower peninsula — on a snowmobile?

That's what is set for Feb. 7-12, and it's all for a good cause: to support the Michigan Special Olympics.

The Vic Wertz Distributing Co. will sponsor the second annual event, and former American League baseballer Wertz will make the 625-mile trip. Last year, the benefit collected $27,000 to support the Special Olympics and, according to Wertz Distributors general manager Mitch Cohoon, that total should be surpassed "by $10,000 or more."

The caravan ride begins at the Wertz distributorship in Mt. Clemens on Monday, Feb. 7 and will arrive in Mackinaw City Saturday, Feb. 12. Along the route, the caravan will make overnight stops in Bay City, Grayling, Sugar Loaf Mountain (site of the Special Olympic Winter Games), Gaylord and Alpena.

Riders, in cooperation with the Michigan Lions' Club, are collecting funds. Anyone wishing to make a contribution should send a check to Vic Wertz — Special Olympics, PO Box 804, Mt. Clemens 48043. Attention: Kent Kukuk.

STRENGTH-TRAINING CLINIC

Gene Baker, coach for one of the National Sports Festival weightlifting teams last summer, will be the featured speaker at a strength-training clinic Saturday, Jan. 22 at Detroit Country Day School, located at 13 Mile and Lahser in Birmingham.

The clinic, sponsored by the American Weightlifting Coaches Association, is free and open to anyone interested in weight training. Baker's talk will center on Olympic-style lifting and how to integrate it into a strength-training program.

Baker will also talk about the Junior Olympic weightlifting program, sponsored by the AAU. The program will feature demonstrations and a question-and-answer period.

The clinic runs 1-3 p.m. For further information, contact Baker at 981-0784.

PISTON SPECIALS

The Detroit Pistons are sponsoring a pair of special gift nights.

On Wednesday, Jan. 26, the first 3,000 fans 14-and-under entering with tickets priced $7 or above will receive free dental kits courtesy of Daniels Associates. The kits include toothbrush, toothpaste and dental floss. The Pistons face the Seattle SuperSonics.

On Friday, Jan. 28, the Pistons host the Cleveland Cavaliers and it will be Winston ski cap night. The first 3,000 fans 21-and-over entering with tickets priced at $7 or more will receive free red-and-white ski caps.

game behind league-leader Livonia Stevenson.

"Tonight, we flowed pretty good," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We shot the ball better. (Northville) put on some full-court pressure and we broke it very well."

"We made some mistakes, but not as many as we have been."

True enough, as Salem took the lead in the first quarter and never trailed. Dave Houle, the Rocks' 6-foot-4 center, set the pace by scoring 17 points in a performance Thomann said was "as good as he's been all year."

SALEM TOOK advantage of Northville's attempted defensive pressure to jump to an 18-12 lead after one quarter. The Rocks increased their advantage to 12 at the half (31-19) and upped it to 50-31 after three quarters.

Salem was respectable from the free throw line, making 17 of 26 (65 percent), while Northville struggled. The Mustangs leading scorer was center Steve Schrader, who netted 11 points but hit just one of eight foul shots.

Glenn Medalle added 11 points to the Salem cause and Erich Hartnett tossed in 10. John Cohen scored nine and Matt Broderick and Jeff Arnold chipped in with eight each.

UNIV.-LIGGETT 62
PLY. CHRISTIAN 48

A first-half scoring spree by Grosse Pointe University-Liggett proved to be too much for Plymouth Christian to overcome Friday at Liggett.

The Knights outscored Christian, 15-8 in the first quarter and 19-10 in the second, to take a 16-point halftime advantage. The Eagles outscored Liggett in the second half, 30-28, but it wasn't nearly enough.

"They were stronger and quicker than we were," said Christian coach Butch DeRenzo. "They outscored us 3-to-1. We got as close as 10, but they limited us to one shot while they got three or four."

Brian Spicer paced Christian with 15 points, while teammate Jim Koss added 14. J.T. Parks was high for Liggett with 17.

The setback dropped Christian to 1-6 overall. The Eagles travel to Detroit Bethesda for a 7:30 p.m. contest Thursday.

Bob Lewelling took one of three Canton first places in the meet against Salem, winning the 100-yard backstroke.

Rocks go to 2-1

SIX DIFFERENT Salem swimmers won individual events. Harwood was first in the 200 individual medley (2:13.27). Bowling took top honors in the 50 free (23.72). Todd Riedel won the diving (194.50 points). Roehrig captured the 100 butterfly (1:00.15). Anderson swam to first in the 100 free (52.46), and Dave Workman was best in the 100 breaststroke (1:10.5).

Canton's third first-place finish was earned by Lewelling in the 100 backstroke (1:03.83).

Salem seconds went to Long in the 200 IM (2:14.35), Anderson in the 50 free (23.78), Tim Harwood in the 100 fly (1:00.63), Bowling in the 100 free (54.07), and Mike Harwood in the 100 back (1:04.03).

Canton's second-place finishers were Vandenburg in the diving (144.95 points) and John Watts in the 100 breast (1:13.79).

The triumph boosted Salem's record to 2-1 overall and 1-0 in the WLA. Canton fell to 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the conference.

Wrestling clash

BUT FOR NOW, the toughest dual meet either team can expect to have this season is this Thursday at Salem.

"There will be a couple of key matches," said Salem coach Ron Krueger. "We have to have everybody ready to go, no one out sick."

"A couple weeks ago I figured it at 7-6 in matches in our favor, but things have been swinging back and forth since. I'm looking at Canton as being a real tough meet."

Canton's Chrenko agreed, adding that, for the Chiefs to prevail, they will once again have to "control the middle matches to succeed. We won't be able to beat a Beaudoin but we've got to hang in there."

The winner should be the favorite at the WLA conference meet Feb. 12 at Western.

Mat coaches: Call

All wrestling coaches in the Observerland area are asked to call in the records of their wrestlers to aid us in publishing a complete listing.

The first listing is tentatively scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 27. Coaches should contact Plymouth Canton mat coach Dan Chrenko at 453-3100, ext. 398, between noon and 2 p.m. Friday afternoons. The only information needed is the wrestler's name and match record in his weight class.

Schools included in the Observer's coverage area are Canton and Salem in Plymouth; Stevenson, Bentley, Clarenceville, Churchill and Franklin in Livonia; Redford Union, Thupton, Bishop Borgess and Catholic Central in Redford; Westland John Glenn; and Garden City.

If the team's coach is unable to call, an assistant may do it. But all schools are urged to participate to make the listing as accurate and fair as possible.

If there are any questions or problems, contact Observer sports editor C.J. Risak at 591-2312.

Writer picked to Hall

Steve Cruchon, former member of the All-Star Leagues and currently editor and publisher of Bowling Digest, one of the leading bowling papers in the country, has received the highest of all bowling honors.

Cruchon has been named to the National Bowling Hall of Fame, now under construction in St. Louis. He will be inducted at the annual convention of the American Bowling Congress in March at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

As a youth, Cruchon was honored with a place on the fabled Chene-Trombly team and later captained the Coca-Cola team in the All-Star Classic. His writing has earned him a national reputation.

BOB GOIKE JR. will be battling a jinx of sorts when he defends his title in the Masters Tournament, the prestigious event sponsored by the Greater Detroit Bowling Association.

In the 15-year history of the tournament, only three bowlers managed to repeat. This year's event will be next week in Troy.

Randy Onca felt the sting of pressure at Westland Bowl last Friday while bowling in the Classic. He opened with a 238 and followed that with a perfect 300 game. But his efforts for a 700 series went awry as he dropped to a 155 in the final game and had to settle for a 693.

THE PINS WERE flying again at Wonderland Lanes as five members of the Classic broke the 700 barrier and brought the count to more than 60 for the season.

Larry Brandt linked games of 247, 243 and 277 for a 767 to set the pace. Next in line were Jim Timmerman with 718, Bob Wilcox with 714, Jerry Dunlap with 713 and Tony Stepcak at 702.

Only two other 700 series were posted during the week. A 708 was rolled by Dick Clark in the Edison League at Westland Bowl, and a 710 was recorded by Bob Fill at Merri-Bowl in the Senior League.

Donna Herron executed one of the hardest shots in bowling, and she doesn't even know how she did it. Bowling in the Ladies League at Woodland Lanes, she converted the nearly impossible 7-10 split. After throwing the ball, she turned her back and never saw the pins fall.

OTHER GOOD PERFORMANCES: Jim Blitz's 657 paced the Men's League at Westland Bowl, beating Dan Wilson by 10 pins and Steve Kemp, who had a 279 game, by 22; Mike Rose rolled a 261 at Woodland.

As a homeowner you may qualify for a MICHIGAN NATIONAL BANK EQUI-LOAN

WHAT IS AN EQUI-LOAN?

An Equi-Loan is a second mortgage secured by the equity in your home. By using your home equity, you can borrow $3,000 or more with liberal repayment terms at simple interest rates. * An Equi-Loan is not a remortgage, but a second mortgage; it will therefore not alter your present mortgage or its rate.

The amount of equity in your home, by the way, is the difference between its appraised value and your first mortgage (if any). This equity provides the basis for borrowing a large amount of money at established simple interest rates with the maximum amount of the loan being determined by the size of your equity.

WITH A SIMPLE INTEREST EQUI-LOAN YOU HAVE THE OPTION OF SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCING THE AMOUNT OF INTEREST YOU PAY.

The earlier you pay back a simple interest loan, the less you'll pay in interest charges. So every time you make an early payment, or an additional payment, you are actually reducing the amount of interest you pay for your loan.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE OF THE AMOUNT YOU CAN EXPECT TO BORROW.

Each transaction is different and subject to credit approval. However, we are flexible in our lending policy. In general, you can expect that the total of your first and second mortgage will amount to 70% of our valuation of your home. For Example:

Appraised Valuation	$50,000
70%	$35,000
Total Loan Value	$35,000
1st Mortgage Bal.	$25,000
Available for 2nd Mortgage	$10,000

HERE'S HOW TO APPLY FOR AN EQUI-LOAN.

The procedure is much the same as it is for a personal loan. Simply take this ad to the installment loan department at Michigan National Bank West Metro. Or you can phone us at 421-4990 and discuss your plans with a trained loan executive. An appointment can be made if you like.

CC bombs Irish

Catholic Central's basketball team brought the old television series "To Catch a Thief" back to life Friday night. The Shamrocks came up with 21 steals, including 12 in the first quarter, hammering to a 70-44 Central Division win over Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Sophomore John McIntyre was the master culprit, splitting the nets for 14 points and coming up with five steals. Center Mike Maleske added 12 points and eight rebounds while teammates Kevin Kral and Tom Malone tallied 11 and 10, respectively. Malone also had four assists as did CC point-guard Stan Heath.

CC, now 9-0 overall, broke away from a nine-point halftime lead with 20-9 scoring surge in the third quarter.

BISHOP BORGESS 67
 WARREN DeLaSALLE 55

The Spartans opened up a 20-point lead in the third period and coasted to their fifth win in nine games Friday night.

S'craft girls crumble

Lake Michigan Community College held off the Schoolcraft College Wednesday night in a women's basketball game, 82-76. The loss drops Schoolcraft to 5-4 overall. Cathi Hengy tallied 25 points in a losing cause. Center Cheryl Sobkow added 15

A.A. GABRIEL RICHARD 61
 REDFORD ST. AGATHA 42

The Aggies stumbled to a 5-4 overall record Friday in Ann Arbor as upstart Gabriel Richard posted the surprise victory.

Both teams are 2-2 in the West Bracket of the Catholic League's C-D Division.

Canton can't stop Spartans

"In fact, we did a lot of standing around. We broke down totally offensively in the last half of the third quarter and in the fourth."

BUT DAVE VAN WAGONER wouldn't take anything away from the Spartan victory. "The best team won tonight," he said.

Mexicotte joined Domako in scoring in double figures, finishing with 14. Rose and Curt Ullstrom added seven apiece, with Rose dishing off for five assists and Ullstrom four. Ullstrom also had five steals.

Scarpello and Mark Bennett topped the Chiefs' offensive efforts with 10 points each.

The win kept Stevenson atop the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Lakes Division with a 6-0 mark. The Spartans are 8-1 overall. Canton fell to 2-6 overall and 1-4 in the WLAA's Western Division.

Streak ends for Bentley

Livonia Bentley snapped a two-game losing streak and evened its overall record at 4-4 with a 66-55 basketball win Friday at Walled Lake Western.

The Bulldogs led 29-19 at halftime and broke the game open with a 23-10 scoring surge in the third quarter.

Senior Bob Friedrichs led the winners with 14 points. Guards Dan Rayes and John Turner added 12 and 10, respectively.

Bob Wendland paced Western with 17, and Bill Robertson bagged 14.

"Our passing game was a lot better tonight through three quarters," said Bentley coach Jim Komula. "The kids played a little better than they have been lately."

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 60
 FARMINGTON 49

The Chargers moved into first place all alone in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) behind John Merner's 28 points Friday at Churchill.

The 6-foot-6 senior tallied 13 of his points in the final quarter as Churchill halted a Falcon comeback. Merner also grabbed 18 rebounds as the Chargers increased their division mark to 5-1. They are 6-3 overall.

Thurston remains atop NSL

George Sibel burned the nets for 31 points as Redford Thurston won a key Northwest Suburban League (NSL) basketball encounter Friday night at Garden City, 68-61.

The win keeps Thurston in first place with a 4-0 league record. The Eagles are now 7-1 overall. Garden City dipped to 6-3 overall and 2-2 in league play.

Thurston coach Gary Fralick said Sibel "was outstanding offensively as well as defensively. This was a big one for us, and I'll take it."

Sibel, a 6-foot-2 senior, also grabbed nine rebounds.

"He shoots very well," GC coach Bob Dropp said. "He shot from the corners and scored on drives. We were concerned about him even before the game."

Guard Steve Smith added 16 points, and forward Jim Weiss grabbed 10 rebounds and added nine points. Center Dan Starinsky also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Junior forward Scott McCloskey tallied 25 in a losing cause. Guards Brett Emery and Tom Ferrell tallied 16 and 12, respectively.

Thurston, using a potent fast-break, rolled to a 23-point advantage in the third quarter, but GC made one of its patented comebacks. The Cougars, however, couldn't get any closer than six points in the final period.

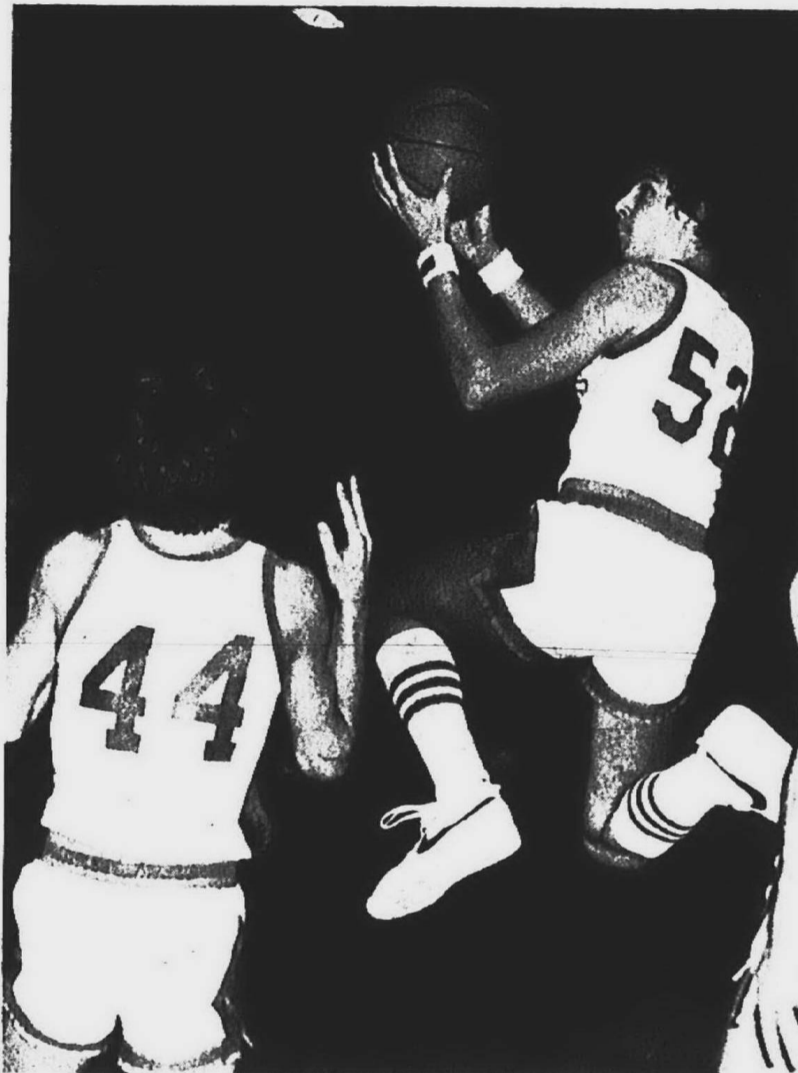

"We didn't shoot well in the first half from the outside," said Dropp. "Thurston played a 1-2-2 zone. We were getting and taking the shot, but we needed a little more patience to get the ball inside. We just dug ourselves in hole and got too far behind."

Paul Grazulis, a 6-foot-8 senior center, scored the winning basket with 40 seconds to go Friday, keeping the Rockets one game behind Redford Thurston in the NSL race.

Glenn is 8-3 overall and 3-1 in league play. Grazulis finished with 15 points, and Todd Jennings had 17.

Mike Black led North (1-3) with a career-high 23. Ray Boyle added 15.
