Sheriff patrol to enter Hines

By Gary Cates
staff writer

While the Wayne County Sheriff tries to quell patrol controversies in Hines Park, one police official isn't satisfied with the plans.

Plymouth Police Chief Carl Berry said the sheriff's patrol will come too late.

"My concern is that they're going to be down there after the problems start," Berry said.

Some 19 deputies will patrol Hines Park, from May 16 until Oct. 20, thanks to the new county charter (sec. 4.223), Sheriff Loren Pittman said.

Last year local police were forced to patrol the 17-mile park which runs through seven western Wayne County communities.

Angered local officials went to the county Board of Commissioners requesting the sheriff's department provide the patrol.

Citing a lack of funds and equipment, former Sheriff William Lucas refused to send his men into the park.

Pittman has a $316,000 budget for park patrol this year.

"We're now in the process of gearing up to go into the park," Pittman said.

However, Pittman's plan isn't enough for Berry.

"We're trying to figure out what's going to happen in the time before May 16," he said.

"As soon as warm weather hits, the problems start and that's when we want to put a stop to them.

"The problems are illegal parking, large gatherings of people drinking, shooting dope, or doing whatever comes to their minds that is illegal," he said.

Last summer Berry closed the Plymouth section of the park for one evening. The closing was prompted by large gatherings around the Haggerty field area.

"I don't want to react to the problems. I want to solve them before they start.

"We know what the solutions to the problems are. We will offer any assistance we can to the sheriff's department," Berry said. He wouldn't comment on the solutions.

Pittman is pleased with Berry's offer, but said his "budget says start May 16. Obviously I can't do much other than that.

"However, there are a couple outside chances of getting into the park before then," he said.

"If I sense problems starting in the park, I would not hesitate to ask the county executive to go in early."

The second option centers on using secondary road patrol officers in the park.

"Under state law, the secondary roads program allows those officers to go into the park for traffic enforcement. If problems start early, I can send secondary roads people down there."

After May 16, the secondary road officers will back-up officers assigned to park patrol. The park deputies will be former road patrol deputies now on layoff, he said.

Pittman also hopes to open the Hines Park mini-station at Newburgh Road and revive the mounted patrol.

"The mounted division was totally funded by private contributions. We will have to start from scratch again."

Pittman plans to collect a $10,000 Hudson-Weber Foundation grant set aside for the mounted division two years ago.

Reviving the mounted division involves soliciting funds for its operation.

Harmony in glass

Where once there was discord, now there is harmony between Mary Czarnowski and the Automobile Club of Michigan. Two years ago the Livonia resident was involved in a class action lawsuit that charged the auto club with discriminatory practices against women. That's been settled now and the auto club sponsored Czarnowski in a three-week stained-glass exhibition (titled "Harmony in Glass") at its Dearborn headquarters. One of the works on display was this leaded-glass art nouveau panel that she completed in 1981 — and was not for sale. Below are two miniature houses, using copper foil leading and opalescent glass. For a story on Czarnowski and the exhibition, please turn to Page 3A.

Cancer was his foe; film shows battle

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

"No man is an island."
— John Donne

If Donne's statement is true, then Bob Caloia was a continent.

Caloia gave of himself all his life, including giving to others in his death.

The 32-year-old former Plymouth Township firefighter died Wednesday in a Traverse City Hospital. He was a victim of cancer.

Yet, even in death, Bob overcame the cancer which claimed his stomach, spleen and bone marrow.

"In the last hour of this guy's life I saw hope, encouragement and power," said Connie Newell.

Newell and Caloia were working on a movie exploring the devastating effects of cancer. The film features candid discussions Caloia had with some Traverse City high-school students.

Caloia and his wife Beverly moved to Traverse City in December 1980. In August of 1982, he was told he had cancer of the stomach.

He underwent surgery and was released from the hospital. After the surgery, Caloia and Newell decided to make the film.

"It is one guy's effort at sharing himself openly, allowing himself to be used to teach these kids. Any question they wanted to ask, he answered," Newell said.

Talking with students was something with which Bob was familiar. During his eight years as a township firefighter, he frequently paid visits to Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"He was well known in the schools here. He put on CPR classes and fire career talks," said Township Fire Chief Larry Groth.

"He loved the kids and they wanted him back — it's obvious by the letters we received," Groth said.

Caloia planned to film four sessions with the Traverse City students. Each of the sessions was to deal with an asspleen and bone marrow.

"In the last hour of this guy's life I saw hope, encouragement and power," said Connie Newell.

This ice sculpture of a reindeer was done by Ted Wakar, chef of Bay Pointe Country Club, during the trial run earlier this month.

Ice sculpting artists to merge on park

More than 10 tons of ice and more than 50 of Michigan's finest chefs will be in Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth Feb. 12 for the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

Student chefs from the culinary arts department at Schoolcraft College also will be participating along with the professional chefs, many of them members of Michigan Chef De' Cuisine Association.

Many of the area's top restaurants, including Bay Pointe Country Club, Plymouth Hilton, Mayflower Hotel and the Plymouth Landing will be sending their best ice carvers.

The students are members of the culinary arts department headed by Robert Britaupt.

The Johnny Mann Choral Singers are scheduled to use the ice spectacular as a backdrop for a nationally televised program to be aired later in 1983. Some 20 million people are expected to view the two-hour television choral special.

The original concept of the ice sculpture event was conceived by Scott Lorenz, general manager of the Mayflower Hotel which sponsors the annual Hot Air Balloon Festival each July.

"The purpose is to send up a trial balloon, so to speak, so that we can prepare for the big ice spectacular to be held in January 1984," said Lorenz who, with Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper, is coordinating the event.

"Imagine 20 or 30 massive blocks of ice carved into life-sized houses, animals, cars, and who knows what else — all lit by colored lights at night. It will be an unbelievable sight."

Lorenz also hopes it will become the major annual event Michigan needs in the dead of winter to promote tourism in the state.

"We want to see if the concept will work," says Graper, "so we are trying this out on a smaller scale."

A trial run was held earlier this month in the park to see how many blocks can be done by one man in an eight-hour period. Usually ice carving is done indoors and the temperature ideal for carving should be between 37 and 42 degrees.

It's 32 degrees or colder, the ice becomes very brittle and great care must be exercised to insure completion of the sculpture, Graper said.

Some 50 sculptures, made by individual entrants, are planned. "We are going to use in excess of 350 ice blocks," said Lorenz.

Midwest Ice Company in Detroit already has begun to prepare the blocks in its giant freezers.

There will be two large sculptures using 50 blocks each.

One will be 20-by-25 feet and will be carved by a specially designated team from Schoolcraft under the supervision of chef Jim Van Vuren. The piece depicts two rising phoenix encircling a cherub. More than 50 man-hours will be needed to complete the phoenix sculpture.

Another of the large sculptures will be created by George Greenwall of Midwest Ice who will sculpt the characters of Disneyland. This piece will require three days work and more than 65 ice blocks.

Spectators can view the carving beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, at Kellogg Park. Colored lights will illuminate the sculptures both Saturday and Sunday nights.

Two competitions will be held, one for professional chefs and the other for student chefs.

Students will be competing for a scholarship sponsored by Chrysler Corporation, for a ice carving tools and for a chainsaw donated by Saxton's Garden Center.

The winner of the professional chef competition will receive two roundtrip tickets to Orlando, Fla. and two tickets to Epcot Center, courtesy of Eastern Airlines.

Cash prizes will be awarded for second and third place.

Many businesses have contributed to the effort financially and by providing services, including First National Bank of Plymouth, Plymouth division of Chrysler Corporation, Stahl Manufacturing, Mayflower Hotel, Fox Hills Chrysler-Plymouth, C&O Railroad, Michigan Bell, Greenfield Construction, Don Massey Cadillac, Dick Scott Buick, and Lou LaRiche Chevrolet.

Found guilty on 2 counts

City hall sniper faces sentencing

More than a year after his sniper attack on Plymouth City Hall, Billy W. Metcalf has been found guilty on two charges.

The 34-year-old Plymouth resident was found guilty Thursday of using a firearm in the commission of a crime and guilty, but mentally ill, of malicious destruction of property over $100.

Metcalf was found innocent on the charge of assault with the intent to commit great bodily harm less than murder.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Patrick Duggan scheduled sentencing for Feb. 23. Metcalf currently is free on bond.

Metcalf faces a mandatory two years in prison on the firearm felony and up to four years on the destruction of property conviction.

On Jan. 4, 1982, Metcalf fired five shots toward the back of city hall. The shots were fired from his home at 183 S. Union.

Three of the shots lodged in a fire department pick-up truck parked outside the building.

Two of the shots ripped through the building's exterior wall. One lodged in a desk and the other landed on the floor of the police detective bureau.

No one was seriously injured in the attack, which ended in a wrestling match inside Metcalf's home. Plymouth officer Robert Henry sustained an injury to his knee during the scuffle.

Once the firing started on Jan. 4, police contacted Metcalf by phone and tried to talk him into surrendering. The back wing of city hall was evacuated and the neighborhood was blocked off.

Officers from Plymouth, Canton and the Michigan State Police surrounded Metcalf's home, but didn't return the gunfire.

Plymouth Lt. Dan Carpenter agreed to enter the home and talk with Metcalf. Once inside, he secured Metcalf's gun and yelled for additional help.

Officers rushed inside the home and physically subdued Metcalf.

Metcalf plead insanity and went through forensic exams before standing trial on the charges.

Some 24 pieces of evidence were entered during the trial, which started last Monday.

Judge Duggan delayed sentencing to allow Metcalf time to prepare for jail, according to Lt. Robert Commire.

Slumpin' economy alters eating habits of area diners

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

The slumping economy that has gripped the country for the past few years has changed the nation's eating habits.

No longer are we a steak and potatoes people. No longer do we concentrate on rich gravies and big roasts for a Sunday dinner.

No longer do we yearn for rich foods and all the trimmings. Gone are the days, too, when we had dinner at noon and supper in the evening. Nowadays we have a light lunch and have dinner at the end of the day's work.

Today people are concentrating on lighter foods, especially salads. They are satisfied with a bit of soup and salad at noon and the heavier meal in the evening. And the big Sunday dinner at Grandma's house is now in the limbo of forgotten things.

An unofficial survey of the Plymouth area has shown that the populace has turned away from red meats, rich potatoes and gravy.

At Plymouth Landing, one of the popular eating places, the drop in meat consumption is about 30 percent. In its place the diners have turned to fish, chicken and salads.

At the Mayflower Hotel, the long-standing meeting place for diners, the turn also has been to lighter foods.

"In many cases it is a matter of health," Scott Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower, said. "These people eat light at noon. They concentrate on salads and soup. Or maybe soup and a sandwich. It isn't a time for big meals anymore."

Another thing is the price. Folks now don't eat as heavy as they once did. They also look at the price and choose accordingly.

One of the big changes is the drop in Sunday dinners in the main eating places. Folks now are eating at home and dining out just on Saturday nights.

Salad bars have come into their own in recent years, although the idea has been around for many years. It used to be that restaurants in outstate areas would have a large tub of salad fixings in the center of the dining room. You made your own salad, and you could have as much as you wanted.

Lately, most places have added a salad bar. The Mayflower and the Round Table Club once had salad bars with an all-you-can-eat policy. But folks had eyes bigger than their stomachs and didn't eat all they took from the bar.

"I found out that there was too much waste in the salad bar program," a Plymouth Landing spokesman said. "So we now have salad on the menu the same as most places. We find it much better, especially when the salad comes with the meal."

The switch away from red meat has been a boon for the fish dealer. Pickering and Boston scrod are the favorites in the Plymouth area. The seafood houses offer more of a variety, such as lobsters, clams, oyster and crabs and shrimp.

The city hopes to invest in renovations in its DPW yard and sell off excess property for industrial development.

City to modernize DPW yard

Tom Wolfe paints a sign in the main office building. The sign, to promote membership in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is now up on the Main Street side of Kellogg Park.

THE CITY of Plymouth is planning a massive renovation of its Department of Public Works (DPW) facility.

The DPW facility dates back about 25 years and is being used to store more than 40 pieces of equipment.

"Many of the structures used are not only energy inefficient," said Mayor Bud Martin, "but lack the necessary square footage, layout and safety needs."

The city owns more than 40 pieces of equipment, including additional equipment purchased last year, such as: A small cemetery backhoe, an Army surplus fifth wheel tractor, a new leaf attachment called the "claw," a used aerial truck, two new dump trucks, a new snow blower attachment and a new rotary-type salt spreader.

The city can house the equipment and service it, says Marton, but cannot do so in an efficient and effective manner.

"With the completion of a new DPW garage and yard, we will find ourselves in a position whereby we will be able to meet the goals and objectives which have been established by this administration for that department."

Once the renovation is completed, the city won't need all five acres at the DPW yard and expects to have about 3 1/2 acres which would become available for sale as industrial property for future private development.

Ken Vogras, DPW director, stands by a new lift truck owned by the city.

Stained glass exhibition blends old with new

By Marie McGee
staff writer

Mary Czarnowski titled the three-week stained glass exhibition sponsored by her employer, the Automobile Club of Michigan, as "Harmony in Glass" — blending the old with the new.

She couldn't have picked a better title — for a number of reasons.

It took a lot of harmony on both their parts to stage the exhibition that shows 23 items designed and created by Czarnowski in the off-hours from her AAA job as a programmer in the systems development department.

It is perhaps noteworthy that two years ago their working relationship was less harmonious.

BACK IN 1981, Czarnowski was in the forefront of a class-action suit filed by 4,000 area women who charged the auto club with discriminating against female employees. The suit was won by the women to the tune of a hefty $3.75-million. Terms of the settlement called for the implementation of a 10-year hiring program using a new quota system for the number of jobs that will be open to women at various levels.

Czarnowski received about $8,000 as the result of the settlement. At the time of the suit, she was a travel counselor. After an upgrading of skills on her part, she has become a programmer.

At the same time, she also got more serious about the art of stained glass.

It was also about this time that AAA initiated an arts program involving employees. Each year, the company staged a major art show; all employees were invited to participate.

It was at one of these shows that Czarnowski's works caught the eye of AAA's advertising art and display coordinator Dwight Smith. An artist in the advertising department before his present assignment, Smith is credited with originating the idea of the employee involvement project and then selling it to his superiors.

"I just felt it would be great for employees to relax in a creative environment," said Smith. Subsequently, he was put in charge of arranging for the shows.

After one of the all-employee shows and seeing other things Czarnowski had made at her home, Smith said he knew "she was a cut above the ordinary stained glass artist."

"She does other things with stained glass — beyond that of kits and things," he said. "She expands the horizons of the art." He said he then invited her to exhibit in a one-woman show and she accepted.

The culmination of about nine months of planning came Jan. 20 when the exhibition opened with a public reception from 4-7 p.m. in the AAA employee lobby. The auto club arranged for pictures and the in-house printing of a detailed catalogue of Czarnowski's works and had invitations printed. Light refreshments were also provided at company expense.

Sometimes, Smith said, the exhibits are held in the Dearborn office building's main lobby. Czarnowski's show, he said, was confined to the employee lobby because "her work needed more space" than was available in the main lobby.

On display are hanging and table lamps, jewelry/memento boxes, free form designs and a pelican lamp she created for the Dearborn Pelican Club, who loaned the artistic work of art to her for its inclusion in the show.

THE LIVONIA resident, who has an 8-year-old son, said she took up stained glass after many years of sewing. A lot of it was creating designer fashions for herself and friends.

"I've always liked to work with my hands," said Czarnowski.

She took stained glass classes at Greenfield Village where she feels the best instruction in terms of quality is offered. The approach there is more toward professionalism rather than a hobby, she said.

She has gone to teach stained glass classes with the Livonia and Dearborn public schools' adult education departments.

A member of the Michigan Glass Guild, Czarnowski, 32, is also active through the auto club as a consultant to several area public school business programs. She has taught eighth graders to read stock reports and develop good business skills.

SHE ADDED TOUCHES of her own to the exhibition in the areas of old and new. A musician friend attended and provided background baroque music. But Czarnowski showed up wearing the latest fashion — trendy black leather pants topped with a sweater.

She also sold a number of pieces of stained glass at the opening. Normally, even the sold pieces remain in the show until it closes. But Czarnowski made an exception for one customer who bought a leaded glass jewelry box.

"He was leaving for Denmark and had bought it for his 10-year-old daughter," she smiled.

Film shows the battle firefighter waged against cancer

pect of Bob's realization of cancer — physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual.

"What we've got on film right now is two sessions in the high school," said Newell, a chemotherapy nurse at Osteopathic Hospital in Traverse City.

"In the first one Bob looked great. He talked about 'What's cancer?' There were a lot of laughs, a lot of horsing around, and a lot of good questions from the kids," Newell said.

The need for chemotherapy postponed the second filming. The high-school students learned of the uncertainty in a cancer victim's life as they waited for the second filming.

"I wanted the kids to understand that's the life of a cancer victim. We would plan something and God would say, 'No, not today,'" Newell said.

Bob was a spiritual man who used prayer as one method of dealing with his disease, said Newell.

"I think Bob needed to do something creative with death, rather than letting it be a downer.

"There was something in Bob that said this message was God's — there's something being done here that was bigger than him and he was just an instrument. God changed the plans so many times," Newell said.

Five days after the intense therapy sessions, Caloia returned to the school. He was weaker and showing the effects of the disease which was slowly conquering his body.

The session dealt with the emotional effects of cancer and death.

"God said if you're going to talk about emotions, we're going to show some," Newell said.

While there were some light-hearted moments, the session was tense. Bob cried at some points, at other points he sat in complete silence. Sweat dripped from his brow as he spoke.

The students probed the thoughts of a man facing death.

Just two weeks before his death, Bob talked with a reporter from the Traverse City Record Eagle. He told the reporter about himself and the film.

"Most of the questions had to do with death — probably because that's what I looked like," he said in the article.

"You have to have fun with this. It's no big last scene with the violins playing," Caloia told the reporter.

"I don't see myself as being courageous at all. If I can help one person get out of the hospital as fast as I did or if I can help one person hang on another day longer, then the whole project will be worthwhile," he said.

Bob said cancer was a positive step in his life.

"I feel a little bit better about myself now. I seem to be able to go out of my way to give someone a smile," he said. "It's a better quality of life."

A deteriorating condition sent Bob to University Hospital in Ann Arbor shortly after the second filming.

The doctors told Caloia they couldn't do anymore for him. He was sent back to the Traverse City hospital, Newell said.

Caloia was scheduled to go home the day he died.

"He was high on going home. He put the emphasis on going home," Newell said of her last visit with Bob.

"He said to me, 'Connie, I'm going home today.' Then a couple minutes later he told me again.

"I thought he was forgetting he already told me — because of the medication. I think he knew he was really going home," Newell said.

Bob's wife and mother were in the hospital room when he died.

"He leaned back and said 'I love you, goodbye,'" Newell said. "He did it with a lot of class. That was the message of his film, to other cancer victims, do it with class."

Caloia's film is at a standstill — not because of his death, but due to a lack of funds.

"We need $6,000 to complete the film," said Newell.

A Bob Caloia Memorial Fund has been started in the Plymouth-Canton community. The donations will be used for completion of Caloia final project.

Monies can be sent to 935 Hartsough Court, Plymouth. Inquiries about the fund can be directed to Sandy Groth, 459-8513, or Paul Rainey, 453-8585.

"So many people that have cancer don't talk. We want to get them out of the closet. That was Bob's goal with the film," said Newell.

If Newell receives the needed funds, she plans to film a third segment with the students. She wants to discuss Bob's death with them.

Newell remains positive she will get the needed funds.

Geodesic dome seminar's free

Want to watch an unskilled crew assemble a geodesic dome in one day?

A free seminar on the geodesic dome construction process will be held Saturday at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Cathedralite Inc. of Capitola, Calif., will sponsor the seminar from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for potential home builders as well as for those interested in simply learning more about dome houses.

Besides the ease with which a dome can be built, cutting construction costs considerably, this type of housing uses about one-third less energy than a traditional rectangular home of comparable sizes according to company claims.

There is one-third less surface area to heat and cool in a geodesic dome.

Dean Hamilton and Mark Gaxiola, from Cathedralite headquarters (the world's largest manufacturer of geodesic housing), will conduct the seminar.

Using films and slide presentations, they will guide participants from site preparation through the finishing applications of dome building.

Active and passive solar systems also will be discussed.

"More people are realizing that to cost-effectively build a house, they must do a substantial portion of the work themselves," said Hamilton. "Cathedralite domes, with the pre-fabricated frames, are particularly conducive to this."

Hamilton said each home-builder is assigned a personal building consultant from Cathedralite to help during the building process.

Domes of Detroit, owned by Howard Meyer, is the area distributor for the homes. Meyer, who has been in business since 1977, is located at 50800 N. Territorial Drive in Plymouth.

Those interested in attending the free seminar should pre-register by calling toll-free 1-800-538-0782.

TOPICAL ANESTHESIA

The principal objection patients have to local anesthesia is the sensation caused by the entry of the needle. If you have this fear, be open and frank with your dentist. Several techniques have been developed to eliminate this problem.

Most needles used in dental offices today are disposable. They come presterilized, are used only once, and are then disposed of. This means a smoother entry, since needles used more than once may roughen slightly on the edge and make penetration more irritating.

To protect the area being injected, dentists often use a topical anesthetic, frequently in the form of benzocaine or lidocaine in a cream base. The solution is painted on at the point of injection and causes numbness that may help eliminate the sensation associated with the injection.

A recent innovation is the forcing of a drop of anesthetic into the area to be injected via a charge of compressed gas. This rapidly numbs the area and the anesthesia can then be given with no sensation whatsoever.

Method of electing SC trustees debated in 1973

(Part XXXVIII)
The spring of 1973 was a busy one for Schoolcraft trustees.

They made an announcement that pleased many of the college's students, acknowledged receipt of a large donation, debated once more the problem of how trustees should be elected, expanded the institution's Garden City facility, and made a new administrative appointment.

The announcement that most students welcomed came in March.

Acting on the recommendation of president C. Nelson Grote, the Board of Trustees changed the college's alcohol policy. It now permits the use of beer and wine on campus, not exceeding 16 percent alcohol content, for certain programs and special activities.

"We think there are times when the beverages should be permitted, such as in the culinary arts program where they teach the use of wine with foods," Dr. Grote said.

Karl Sjogren, vice president of the Student Senate, represented the students at a board meeting at which the change of policy was requested. "Students will be able to enjoy their rightful adult privileges while going to school," he told a newspaper reporter.

THE DONATION, a check for $25,000, went to the Schoolcraft College Foundation from the estate of Louise Thayer Bryan of Northville.

The largest ever made to the college up to that time, the gift was in memory of Mrs. Bryan's husband, Carl.

In April 1973, the board came to grips once more with the problem of how trustees should be elected. Two years had elapsed since Judge Olzak ruled against any method of electing the college trustees that violated the one-man/one-vote principle.

A bill sponsored by State Senator Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, was now being considered in the State Legislature. It would provide for electing trustees by the at-large method, and reduce the number of trustees on the college board from eight to seven.

Schoolcraft and Delta community colleges were the only two in the state to have more than seven board members. The eight trustees at Schoolcraft had been added with Northville joined the college district in 1963.

Trustees Rosina Raymond and Paul Kadish, both of Livonia, which, from the vote-getting standpoint, the at-large system favored, nevertheless saw some disadvantages in the method and past and present

opposed its adoption. Mrs. Raymond noted that the public had voted for the establishment of the college with the understanding that each school district would have a representative on the board.

"At-large elections fail to assure each school district will have a representative," she said. Equal district elections "would give each voter somebody to identify with. As it is now, a popular candidate from Livonia can outdraw everyone. That really isn't good, is it?"

Trustees Archie Vallier of Plymouth and Ervin Brown of Livonia also felt that smaller communities should have a better chance of being represented on the board. Brown moved to return to the original way of electing trustees with one change. Instead of three at-large and five district trustees, he proposed four at-large and five district, making a nine-member board.

No one appears to have addressed the matter of how this would jibe with the one-man/one-vote ruling of Judge Olzak. And, aside from the comments of Raymond and Kadish, no other members of the board seem to have warmed up to the idea of the ward or district method.

Trustee Leroy Bennett of Plymouth did, however, object to Brown's plan, saying that if the five-and-four method was adopted Schoolcraft would be the only college in the state with district rather than at-large elections.

Pursell had taken a similar position, saying: "I wouldn't support having Schoolcraft that different from all the other community colleges in the state."

Brown's motion passed, and in April 1973 the State Legislature was informed that the Schoolcraft board preferred the five-and-four method to that proposed in the Pursell bill. The suggestion made no headway at Lansing where the at-large method prevailed, as did the provision in the bill that cut the board from eight to seven members.

MEANTIME, Schoolcraft's Garden City facility was expanded when the board announced in April that it had approved a three-year lease on the former Florence Elementary School, thus making available an entire 11-classroom building for college use.

In addition to the evening classes conducted during the previous year in Garden City West High School, the new facility would offer daytime sessions.

The administrative appointment came in June when Thaddeus E. Diebel was named dean of applied sciences at Schoolcraft, succeeding dean Jon Adams who announced that he was retiring. Adams, who had served the college since 1965, had seen the technical division grow from 550 to 2,600 students during his tenure.

Diebel, who was chosen from a field of 72 applicants, was serving as an associate professor and dean of the vocational-technical division of Northern Montana College at the time of his appointment. He had earned his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University and his master's in vocational education at the University of Michigan.

Each manager has own theories

One of the most interesting things a fellow notices while traveling along the sports trail as The Stroller has for many years, is the different approach the coaches and managers take in handling their teams.

For instance, Bo Schembechler, the Michigan football coach says "if you keep the other fellow from scoring, you can't lose." So he stresses defense in spite of the fact that he has good runners and passers on his squad.

In the old days Fielding H. Yost, the legendary coach at Michigan, never wanted his team to take possession of the ball in its own territory. He stressed kicking it back to the enemy on the theory that a mistake in that area might give the Wolverines possession closer to touchdown territory. And this worked for years.

Meanwhile Knute Rockne, another of the legendary mentors, pointed out that a team couldn't score unless it had the ball. So he said, "We'll take the ball anywhere". And his theory worked well, too.

These coaches were fine leaders and have left their imprint on the record books. Each, in his own way, succeeded.

So, it was quite shocking the other evening when The Stroller had the chance to dine with Sparky Anderson, the Detroit Tigers manager, at the annual meeting of the baseball writers.

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

During the evening it was only natural that The Stroller asked the white-haired pilot where he thought the Tigers would finish in the campaign just ahead.

Throwing his hands up over his face Sparky answered, "Oh no, you won't catch me this year. I got burned pretty badly with my predictions the past several years and I don't plan to be burned again".

When pressed for an answer Sparky caught the writers by surprise when he said, "I have 25 players out there with talent good enough to play in the major leagues. So, it is going to be up to them. If they get the winning spirit we could be in the thick of the race to the finish. If they don't develop the winning spirit, there is no telling where we will finish. And there isn't anything I can do about it. We'll probably get some idea of our possible finish in spring training. But I won't make any predictions."

This was in great contrast to fiery Mickey Cochrane when he came here in 1933 to guide the Tigers. Mickey was a fighter with the old Philadelphia Athletics.

The first time he walked into the room to meet the Tigers, who had finished in the second division, he said, "It is sure great to be with champions." Everyone smiled. But that was Mickey's way of lifting the teams' spirit.

It is history now that Mickey's Tigers won the pennant in 1934 and the world series in 1935. He had them fighting to the last out.

Now the Tigers have a manager who says it is going to be up to the players. If they develop a winning spirit, things will be fine. He is going to sit back and watch — at spring training.

This is a rather peculiar approach as a leader. Perhaps, Sparky has lost some of his spark.

School cuts are the worst choice

By this time we've heard the bad news. The new kid in the governor's chair wants to back off $135 million from the education portion of the state's overburdened budget.

Bad idea — real bad, Jimbo.

The good news is that those of us who believe education is a primary route to long-range economic recovery still have time to convince state legislators that Gov. Blanchard is talking foolishness.

It's with great disappointment that we see Blanchard, in one of his first big decisions, teeing off on the whipping boy of the public sector. I mean some of us expected more, Blanchard being a Democrat and all.

But even an old left-wing Democrat like myself must admit that bad decisions are made on both sides of the aisle.

FOR MORE than a decade, education has been getting a bad rap for one reason or another. Guilt by association, some call it.

If it wasn't cross-district busing that raised the masses' hackles, it was those "mighty big" paychecks that teachers began taking home after the education associations were transformed from social clubs to a bona fide bargaining agent — well, sort of.

Some thought the only good teachers were the ones like great-grandma used to have in the little red school house — you know, old maids and Ichabod Crane-types who lived off the families of the children they taught.

The property tax system was another favorite which hardly made education endearing to the general public. First, millage increases failed, one

HIGHER EDUCATION stands even lower in public esteem. About the only way universities get rated is by the football squad that season. In the legislative debate over university funding, which school gets how much often has rested on alumni status of legislators.

Being an alumnus of Wayne State, I will always remember how that university's allocation was continually restricted by those in the legislature who believed it was a center for Communist agitators — a reputation gained in the McCarthy era.

Student demonstrations of the '60s were excuse enough for the less intellectually ponderous to cry, "I told you so."

But education is so very important — more important than any other industry in this state.

A finely tuned, well-financed education system leaves the door open for us to retrain our workers, replan our economic strategies and to give ourselves a chance to recover.

We can devote all the time in the world to retooling our factories, but it doesn't mean a thing if we don't have properly trained personnel — either on the line or in management.

WE ALSO need the schools and the universities for the valuable research they provide. For reliance on the old ways is the wrong road to recovery. We need innovation and that only comes from those allowed to think freely and with incentives to do so.

I'll put my money on education any day. It's the American way — even more American than my 1977 Buick.

Summer taxes could save S'craft $100,000

Schoolcraft College could save about $100,000 this year if local communities opt for a summer tax collection.

The college board of trustees Wednesday voted unanimously to notify city and township officials in the college district to collect part of the general property tax in summer instead of waiting until winter.

"The purpose of collecting a summer tax is to avoid heavy borrowing in anticipation of winter tax receipts," said board Chairperson Harry G. Greenleaf. The college's fiscal year begins July 1, but currently it gets little of its property tax revenue until the Dec. 1 bills are sent out by cities and townships.

BECAUSE OF the uncertainty surrounding state aid payments, the college borrowed $2.1 million last year, said Adelard Raby, college comptroller.

If taxes are collected in the summer, the college could avoid borrowing the money and paying interest on a short-term loan, Raby said. Last year, the college paid nearly $100,000 in interest on the loan.

Schoolcraft receives roughly a third of its revenue from property taxes, a third from the state and the remainder from student tuition and fees.

However, whether the college actually will save $100,000 depends on whether six school districts which comprise the college district decide to collect a summer tax.

So far, Livonia is the only city which has opted for a summer tax collection this year.

Under the new system, a Livonia taxpayer whose home was assessed at $40,000 would pay $77.60 in taxes to the community college during the summer rather than the winter.

UNTIL RECENTLY, community college and school district taxes were payable in winter, along with city, county and other property taxes. A recent state law allows school districts to request that taxes be collected in the summer and winter.

For more information, call Sandy Olson at 453-7926.

● MYSTERY TRIP
Feb. 22 — A mystery trip for one day is offered by the Plymouth recreation department. The excursion begins at the Plymouth Cultural Center at 9:30 a.m. and returns at about 4:15 p.m. Cost is $20.50 per person, including lunch, a mystery event and tour. Adventurous people interested in this trip should call the Plymouth recreation department (455-6620) for more information.

have the same option. They can only request a single summer tax collection if area public school districts vote to collect taxes in the summer.

The college faces yet another stumbling block. If the state delays payments past July, then the college may still have to borrow money to meet its cash flow requirements, Raby said.

The state already has delayed two monthly payments — totaling $834,000 — to the college.

Solar event is Thursday

While many Michigan consumers have found relief from high utility costs with a remedy spelled "S-O-L-A-R," many others view the use of solar technology as exotic and mysterious.

In an effort to take the mystery out of solar energy applications, Schoolcraft College will host its first Solar Energy Roundtable on Thursday, Feb. 3, at the Waterman Campus Center on the Livonia campus.

The roundtable, which will begin at 7 p.m., is aimed at giving homeowners an update on the feasibility, performance, and economics of solar energy options.

Representatives from Star Park Solar Systems of Novi, Econ Corp of Livonia, Energy Research of Novi, and Energy Craft Homes of Drayton Plains will provide information about: Solar electric systems, domestic hot water systems, solar hot air systems, solar home construction.

"Michigan is ideally suited to solar applications," says Pete DeNapoli of Econ Corp., a company which specializes in photovoltaic technology. "Our state ranks among the top ten nationwide in solar installations, yet people don't realize that."

Besides a panel discussion and slide presentation, the latest solar equipment will be on display. Such an exhibit will, according to participant Dan Rubyan of Star Pak Solar, "Show people at first-hand the cost effective things they can do to reduce their utility bills and offer an opportunity to talk with those who are doing it."

The roundtable is free. For more information and reservations, call Schoolcraft at 591-6400, ext. 409.

It's Tax Time

by Charles H. Williams, C.P.A.

CHOOSING AN ACCOUNTANT

Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.

If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.

Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.

Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.

A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee. How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find his accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

INCOME TAX

We're a local organization. Even though we served more than 3,000 clients last year we haven't forgotten that every client is an individual and that each individual deserves the best service we can provide.

When we sign a tax return that we've prepared, we're proud of having done the best possible job for you. When you see our signature on your tax return you can be sure that:

1. The counselor who prepared your return was competent and thoroughly experienced in tax matters.
2. You have received the maximum legal deductions and the minimum legal tax.
3. Your tax return has received all the time and attention that was necessary to do a proper job.
4. Your tax return has been double-checked for both accuracy and tax saving possibilities.
5. Your return has been handled in a confidential manner.

Call us for a free tax organizer. Our fees are often less than the highly advertised tax firms and averaged less than $50.00 last year.

THRIFTY TRIO

Classic chicken, piquant pineapple and remarkable rice are a combination to keep in mind when trying to plan meals on an already overextended budget...

Chicken, still one of the best buys at the meat counter, contains all the high quality protein of more expensive red meat. And what's more, chicken is lower in calories and in fat content.

Pineapple, a favorite fruit for salads, entrees, desserts and baking, comes in just the form you need: sliced, crushed, chunks or tidbits. Its tart/sweet accent is a delicious addition to any dish. And pineapple is always available. In fact, a can probably stands in waiting on your kitchen shelf right now.

Rice, it's likely you have this staple on hand as 79 percent of families do. At about four cents per half-cup serving, this great little grain is an unquestionably good buy. Rice has been used for centuries to make meals hearty, while effectively stretching expensive foods into more servings.

Use these three completely different foods often and see how their economy, flavor and nutrition can help you serve interesting and delicious family and party meals... within your budget limitations.

ITALIAN CHICKEN WITH COLORFUL RICE

(Photo)

- |   |                                   |
|---|-----------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup flour   | 1-1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms |
| 1 teaspoon salt   | 1/2 cup chicken broth             |
| 1/4 teaspoon each basil, ground oregano, ground thyme and ground black pepper | 2 tablespoons dry white wine      |
| 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in parts   | 3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice       |
| 3 tablespoons vegetable oil   | 2 cups diced tomatoes, OR         |
| 3 tablespoons butter or margarine   | 12 cherry tomatoes, halved        |
|   | 1/2 cup chopped fresh spinach     |

In plastic bag mix together flour, salt, basil, oregano, thyme and pepper. Add chicken one piece at a time, shaking to coat. In large frypan heat oil and butter. Add chicken and cook, turning, for about 20 minutes, or until brown on all sides. Add mushrooms and cook over medium heat for 3 minutes. Combine broth and wine; add to frypan. Cover, reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Remove chicken and keep warm. Pour off fat, leaving brown particles; return 1 tablespoon to skillet. Stir hot rice into mushrooms and drippings. Add tomatoes and spinach to rice mixture; carefully toss until warm throughout, about 3 minutes. Transfer rice to platter and arrange chicken on rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Be careful not to overcook vegetables, causing them to lose color and become watery.

UPSIDE-DOWN PINEAPPLE SPICE CAKE

(Photo)

- |   |                              |
|---|------------------------------|
| 2 cans (8-1/4 ounces each) sliced pineapple | 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon |
| 1/4 cup butter or margarine                 | 1/4 teaspoon ground mace     |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, divided    | 3 large eggs, separated      |
| 2 teaspoons light corn syrup                | 1/4 cup granulated sugar     |
| 8 walnut halves or large pieces             | 1/4 cup syrup from pineapple |
| 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour              | 1/2 cup finely grated carrot |
| 1 teaspoon baking powder                    | Maple Cream                  |
| 1/4 teaspoon salt                           |                              |

Turn pineapple into wire strainer and drain well, saving 1/4 cup syrup. Melt butter in upside-down cake pan or skillet (9-inches diameter, 2-inches deep). Combine 1/2 cup brown sugar and corn syrup with butter in bottom of pan. Arrange pineapple slices in mixture, placing walnut pieces in center of each slice. Set aside. Resift flour with baking powder, salt and spices. Beat egg whites in narrow, deep bowl to soft peaks. Gradually beat in granulated sugar, beating to a stiff meringue. With same beater, beat yolks with remaining 1/2 cup brown sugar until thick. Fold sifted dry ingredients into egg yolk mixture alternately with 1/4 cup reserved pineapple syrup. Turn carrots into wire strainer and press out any excess liquid with back of spoon. Stir into batter. Gently fold in meringue. Pour over fruit in pan. Bake below center of oven at 350° for 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Remove from oven and let cake stand in pan 5 minutes. Then, loosen edges with small spatula and invert onto flat serving plate. Serve warm with Maple Cream. Makes 8 servings.

Maple Cream: Beat 1 cup whipping cream with 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/16 teaspoon maple flavoring just until stiff. Makes 2 cups.

CHICKEN PINEAPPLE PIQUANT

(Photo)

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 1 large onion (slice; separate into rings)   | 1 can (20 ounces) pineapple chunks (drain; reserve juice) |
| 1 tablespoon vegetable oil                   | 2 tablespoons cornstarch                                  |
| 2 to 2-1/2 cups boned, cooked chicken pieces | 2 tablespoons soy sauce                                   |
| 1 teaspoon seasoned salt                     | 1 large green pepper, cut in 3/4-inch squares             |
| 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper             | 3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice                               |

In a 10-inch skillet cook onion in oil until tender crisp. Add chicken, salt and black pepper. Blend catsup and pineapple juice with enough water to make 2-1/2 cups liquid. Pour over chicken. Simmer 5 minutes. Dissolve cornstarch in soy sauce; stir into chicken mixture. Add green pepper and pineapple chunks. Cook 5 minutes more. Serve over beds of fluffy rice. Makes 6 servings.

ZESTY CHICKEN, PINEAPPLE AND RICE SALAD

| 3/4 teaspoon salt   | 1 small bunch watercress                         |

Winter barbecue

The true test of any recipe is in the tasting. But I'm getting ahead of myself.

Barbecue, in many parts of the country, is a seasonal affair. It doesn't have to be.

Frankly, I am not fond of the outdoor grill for several reasons, especially because the cook is left out in the cold when it comes to other activities.

In the kitchen, a simple two-step operation will produce tasty pork spareribs: simmer the meat in water to remove some fat and brown in the oven with your favorite barbecue sauce.

A saucy barbecue sauce can make or break ribs.

TWICE COOKED PORK SPARERIBS
5 pounds pork spareribs
Alabama barbecue sauce

Put ribs in serving portions, place in large pot, cover with water, leave lid slightly ajar and cook on medium low heat 40 minutes. Drain ribs, place on rack in baking pan and cook in 350° oven, turning and basting with barbecue sauce until desired doneness. Serves 6-7.

ALABAMA BARBECUE SAUCE

2 tbsp cooking oil
1 onion, minced
1 large garlic clove, minced
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
2 tsp dry mustard
1 tsp ground ginger
1 tsp salt
Juice of 1 lemon

Heat oil in medium saucepan over medium low heat, add onion and garlic and saute until onion is limp. Mix catsup, vinegar, honey and Worcestershire and add to pan, stir in remaining ingredients and cook 15 minutes, occasionally stirring.

(Readers are invited to send questions, suggestions or comments about food, cooking and shopping to Pilot Light, Greg Melikov, 650 NW 153rd St., Miami, Fla. 33169. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope for individual replies.)

If weight loss is goal then eat breakfast

Do you habitually skip breakfast in order to keep your weight down? If you do, you might be surprised to learn that those who skip breakfast in order to lose weight often consume as many — if not more — calories during the day as they tried to avoid by not eating breakfast.

Did you know that without breakfast, people may become less efficient in the late morning and that students may show a poorer attitude toward school work? Nutritionists recommend that breakfast should supply about one-quarter of your daily nutrient intake, and include foods from at least three of the Basic Four Food Groups.

Adults say they "know" breakfast is a healthy habit, but as many as 46 percent of Americans are habitual breakfast-skippers. They were "running late, out of milk, had to get to work early or would rather sleep." The excuses people have for not eating breakfast are almost endless.

Why not put creativity to better use by treating yourself to a nutritious and delicious breakfast every morning? For today's eat-on-the-run adults, nothing is easier — or faster — than ready-to-eat cereal with milk. It can be served with milk, juice, toast and tea or coffee to meet the requirements for a nutritious breakfast.

A plan for all seasons.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one of the easiest, safest ways to get started on the saving habit. Even if saving has always seemed too difficult in past seasons. A little is automatically taken out of each paycheck toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll never miss it, so you'll never spend it. It just keeps growing for some coming spring or maybe a warm vacation during a cold winter. It's a plan for all seasons. For all Americans.

THE USE OF HEAT IN TREATING ARTHRITIS-PART 2

In my last column I discussed the value of heat therapy in the treatment of arthritis. Today I will discuss what forms of heat can be used, advantages of heat over other treatments, and finally, the limits of heat therapy.

The two forms of heat are "WET HEAT," AND "dry heat." You are feeling the warmth of wet heat when you use a hot water bottle. Dry heat is what you get from a heating pad. For reasons unknown, wet heat penetrates further than dry and is generally the preferred form.

The greatest asset of heat is that it can be used at the convenience of the user and be applied repeatedly with no danger. All other therapies carry the risk of toxicity or the possibility of an allergic reaction.

The limits to the use of heat are twofold. One, if proper care isn't taken, burns from its application can occur. Second, there are numerous instances in which heat cannot be applied often enough or penetrate into the joint deep enough to fight inflammation. In such circumstances the use of medication is necessary.

Dr. Weiss welcomes questions from readers. Please send your inquiries to his office.

CUB SCOUTS in Pack 293 at Bird School had their third annual father-and-son cake bake last Wednesday. Each year the entries show more imagination and skill.

And each year the Cub Scouts' parents look younger and younger — they're beginning to look like high school students. This latter is a personal observation, the result of a lengthy association with Pack 293. It goes back more than 20 years, when younger son was a Cub Scout. Later, before the advent of the cake bake, a grandson was in the pack.

Judging the cakes is a heavy responsibility. The kids all deserve first-place ribbons, and decisions are most difficult. Even with five categories and four classifications in each, there aren't enough first-place ribbons to go around.

But the cake bake is well planned for all the others receive honorable mentions.

One consolation for the judges is the fact that they do not taste the cakes. They (the cakes) must remain intact for the auction which follows the announcement of the winners, for the contest also is a pack fundraiser.

EACH JUDGE was assigned one category.

Plymouth Mayor Bud Martin judged sports. These cakes are hard to describe — you have to see them to appreciate them. The themes represent the times.

Bud judged Jason Braidwood's Super Bowl XVII gridiron the best in the sports category. It was complete with the Redskins and the Dolphins printed in frosting at either end of the field. Doug Fry's sailboat was prettiest; Ryan Groat's rollerskate was most unique; and Chris Nelson's race track was the largest.

Dee Martin, the mayor's wife, was given the "Space — the Future" category. She selected Michael Kivisto's space shuttle at best, Jason Greanyea's Apple computer as prettiest, Scott Jones' cylinder city 2001 as most unique, and Bucky Farrow's 24-by-36 inch land, sea and air sheet cake as largest.

PHYLLIS REDFERN had the holiday category. Joey Binder's Santa Claus cake was best; Scott Vogel's Easter rabbit was prettiest; Bill Welsher's Halloween witch, with spider webs on her orange skirt, was unique; and Gary Minneman's Fourth of July book was largest.

Nancy Messerly judged the Scouting entries. Shawn Smith's cake, a large replica of the cover of the Cub Scout Bear Book, was best in category. Lance and Jason Loisel's totem pole was the prettiest. Most unusual was Jamison Messerly's picnic fare of french fries, a chocolate soda and sandwich, all made out of cake and frosting. Ryan Fitzpatrick's bonfire of chocolate coated logs was the largest.

ANIMATED Video was my category, and it had attracted the largest number of entries. Choosing the largest was easy; Darin Bell's bright green alligator was a yard long. PacMan game was best in category; Noel Ranka's Donkey Kong was the "prettiest," and Tony Hoover's PacMan, in three separate pieces, was the most unusual. There were others, a Garfield, a Mickey Mouse, another PacMan, a television screen, and a Garfield head that made the judging very difficult.

The boys and their dads turned out some works of art.

Dale Theake is cubmaster for the pack, and Bob and Joann Berg head the troop committee. Old Pack 293 is still going strong.

BELOW ARE the two ducks that spent some time with the mallards and other ducks in Newburgh Lake. They were photographed by Gary Caskey one day when David McCubrey made his daily jaunt to the lake to feed the ducks. Bill and Evelyn Edgar identified them as a mixture of domestic white and muscovy ducks — not white and merganser as mentioned in this column. Mr. McCubrey said they did not return, but there have been quite a few Canada geese out there.

Alice is coming

"Alice in Wonderland" is coming to town, and elementary students in the community schools will have the first opportunity to see her. Tickets for the children's play presented by the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women go on sale in the schools Feb. 1 and 2. Admission is $1.25.

The classic children's story will be presented the evening of Friday, Feb. 25, three times Saturday, Feb. 26, and twice Sunday, Feb. 27 in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School. A benefit performance is scheduled for Feb. 23, and group night is Feb. 24.

The AAUW produced its first play 23 years ago to show children the difference between live theater and the movies. The February presentation has become a tradition. Extra performances were added to accommodate ever-expanding audiences, and the show always is a sell-out.

Sharon Belobraidich is directing "Alice" with Kathy Woodruff as assistant. The action on stage is geared to young audiences who become personally involved in the story. The actors, all AAUW members, encourage responses from the children by directing some of their lines to them.

Anyone interested in attending the group night performance can send his name and telephone number to: group tickets, 40416 Orangelawn, Plymouth 48170. Seating information will be provided.

Sharon Belobraidich (center) director of "Alice in Wonderland," enjoys a break in rehearsal with cast members.

Earth science showcase at open house

Among the wonders of nature at the open house will be the fossilized imprint of a fern, 220 million years old. It belongs to Ted Kelish, a member of the society.

Nature's wonders will be on display at the Plymouth Rock & Mineral Society's seventh annual open house. The event will be from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 13 in the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street, Plymouth. Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for youngsters.

Marge Collins, who is the show's chairwoman, said, "The open house will be a showcase of the earth science hobbies. The many aspects of the field will be shown in a number of displays and demonstrations."

Movies and a slide presentation will highlight the interests of area rock hounds. Demonstrators will show the processes in polishing stones, revealing the shining beauty hidden in rough, unattractive chunks of rock. Exhibitors will display items they have crafted or found that reveal the beauties of the natural world, Collins said.

THE ROCK Exchange Club, a gem and mineral society from Garden City, will sponsor a silent auction and a white elephant table. Collins said, "They have bargains galore."

The Washtenaw Community College geology department will conduct an identification booth. Those visitors may learn the names of those mysterious rocks found on vacation. Dealers will offer for sale polished stones, finished jewelry, books, tools and exquisite mineral specimens.

Collins said, "Visitors will be able to view minerals whose crystal structure can be revealed only by a microscope."

Plymouth Rock and Mineral Society, a group of area rock hounds, will be hanging its sign at the Plymouth Cultural Center Feb. 13 to direct visitors to its annual open house.

Camp Fire candy on its way

Approximately 5,000 Camp Fire girls and boys in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties will be earning money for summer camp and gaining some first-hand business experience by selling candy, Feb. 18-March 17.

This year, the Detroit Area Council plans to sell 130,000 candy bars. The council once again will feature Cadbury products — Cadbury Milk Chocolate with Crisped Rice and Cadbury Milk Chocolate with Hazel Nuts. Both bars remain priced at a $1 per bar.

The sale remains the single-largest fund-raising effort of Camp Fire Detroit Area Council. The proceeds provide 38 percent of the council's yearly operating budget and also help maintain Camp Wathana.

Meryl Streep plays the title role of a Polish immigrant in "Sophie's Choice."

Louise Snider

'Sophie's Choice' shows brilliance of Meryl Streep

"Sophie's Choice" (R) calls to mind an observation by Sholem Asch: "Not the power to remember, but . . . the power to forget, is a necessary condition of our existence."

Meryl Streep, in a magnificent performance, is Sophie. The Catholic survivor of a Nazi concentration camp, she is a Polish immigrant in the United States (in 1947) engaged in a grand and passionate affair with a dashing Jewish scientist, Nathan Landau (Kevin Kline).

Based on William Syron's novel, the movie brings the characters to life with impressive strength. The excellent acting is complemented by costuming, lighting and photography used in ways that dramatically heighten the impact of events and emotions.

The direction by Alan J. Pakula succeeds in accomplishing a difficult task — holding together an involved tale that unfolds in layers of flashbacks and one that features characters with wildly different temperaments.

STINGO (PETER MAC NICOL), narrator of the story, is an aspiring, naive, young writer who comes to New York from the South to pursue a literary career. He moves into a rooming house in Brooklyn where Sophie and Nathan are tenants.

His first meeting with them is riveting. They are on the stairs engaged in an intense argument. He watches form his doorway as Sophie cries and pleads with Nathan who is vicious in his verbal abuse. Stingo is fascinated by the emotional fireworks and, at once, drawn to Sophie.

Such an introduction might scotch any ordinary overtures of friendship, but Nathan's outbursts are separated by stretches of dazzling charm. That, combined with Sophie's beauty and the couple's interest in Stingo, prove irresistible to the young author.

They take him under their wing and include him in their forays, whether dressing up as Southern gentry or romping at Coney Island. However, this joie de vivre masks a tortured world of dark secrets. Each period of high spirits is checked by the ashes of memory.

The memories are Sophie's. Highly charged events from her past are uncovered as layer after layer is peeled away. Even so, we are stunned by the impact of the final revelation.

"SOPHIE'S CHOICE" IS NOT a perfect film. It is unduly long and needs to be trimmed by, at least, 15 minutes. The introduction of Nathan's brother is abrupt and melodramatic. Subplots are introduced and left hanging, such as Nathan's obsession with the Nazis and the part that plays in his relation with Sophie.

These shortcomings, however, are overshadowed by the power of the drama, the superbly integrated look of the movie and the bravura performances. MacNicol, as Stingo, beams with youthful ardor. Kline is dashing as the volatile Nathan. He plays the role with ferocious intensity.

And Streep, as Sophie, gives the most sensational performance by an actress this year and the most outstanding of her career. Her face becomes a mesmerizing force demanding our attention.

Her mastery of accents and language, Polish and German, her cadences of speech as an immigrant hesitating and searching for words, her provocative combination of shyness and sensuality (not unlike the young Ingrid Bergman), and her moving expressions of anguish and love, all endow "Sophie's Choice" with luminous eloquence.

what's at the movies

AIDA. Sophia Loren stars in 1954 film version of Verdi's opera "Aida." Sophia's dubbed singing voice is that of opera star Reneta Tebaldi.

BEST FRIENDS (PG). When marriage comes in the door, friendship goes out the window in this romantic comedy with Burt Reynolds and Goldie Hawn as a couple of screenwriters who work well together until they get married.

THE DARK CRYSTAL (PG). An adventure-fantasy by the creators of the Muppets features strange, elf-like creatures caught up in a struggle between the forces of good and evil in a setting that resembles J.R.R. Tolkien's Middle Earth.

EATING RAOUL (R). Deadpan dialogue and tacky surroundings set the tone for this bizarre comedy about a stuffy couple who come up with an outrageous plan for bankrolling a restaurant.

FITZCARRALDO. Klaus Kinski stars as wealthy rubber baron who builds an opera house in the Peruvian jungle. Directed by Werner Herzog.

48 HOURS (R). Action drama with comic flair features Nick Nolte and Eddie Murphy as a white cop and a black con who are forced to work together to track down two killers.

Canton overcomes injuries to clobber Farmington

The start of Plymouth Canton's wrestling meet with Farmington was just what coach Dan Chrenko didn't want to happen.

Fortunately, this story had a happy ending for the Chiefs as they rolled to a 52-17 victory Thursday at Canton.

It was Canton's second straight dual meet without regulars John Allmand, Todd Gattoni and Todd Bartlett. Junior varsity wrestlers filled in at those positions and, when Jamie Riegal (100-pound weight class) and subs Dave Dunford (107) and Heath Smith (114) were beaten by their Falcon counterparts, things looked bleak for Canton.

Down 17-0, the Chiefs rallied to win every other match, with fill-in Jim Parks (121) getting it started by pinning Tom Lindbert in :59.

ALLMAND, GATTONI and Bartlett were involved in an auto accident prior to the North Farmington Invitational

wrestling

two weeks ago. Tim Collins and Riegal were also in the car but both have returned to action.

Chrenko said that "hopefully Bartlett will be back for Northville", with Allmand and Gattoni possibly returning for the final Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) dual meet against Walled Lake Western.

Canton will need them. Western has the same dual meet record as Canton (both 6-1) in WLAA play, with both gunning for the Western Division title.

"Emotionally, we're just not the same without them," Chrenko said. "We've got to get them back because they're a big emotional lift for us. Besides being real good wrestlers, both have tremendous leadership qualities."

AGAINST FARMINGTON, once the Chiefs got going it was strictly no contest. Collins (128) followed Parks' pin with another, nailing Farmington's Kevin Dearth in 5:22.

Canton matmen collected four other pins: Marty Heaton (157) over Mike Nolef in 3:25; Ernie Krumm (189) over Mike Sulek in 4:24; Paul Fletcher (200) over Dan Parilo in 2:50; and Jim Nelson (heavyweight) over Mike Pyoraco in 1:25.

Winners by decision for the Chiefs were Tom Frigge (132), 7-1 over Rob Anglin; Bob Parks (140), 12-2 over Bill Long; and Larry Janiga (147), 6-0 over Dave Cunningham. Wain Yeung (169) won on a void.

Canton, now 8-1 overall in dual meets, hosts Northville Thursday.

Comeback-killer Salem squashes Chief rally

By C.J. Risak

basketball

Glenn Medalle finally did what Plymouth Salem coach Fred Thomann hoped he would do.

Take charge offensively.

Medalle popped in three short jumpers to trigger a late Salem surge and lift the Rocks to a 48-33 triumph over Plymouth Canton Friday at Salem.

Earlier in the season the 6-foot-1 senior passed up scoring opportunities, but against Canton he drove to the basket to score three buckets in the final 2:19 just as the Rocks seemed on the verge of collapse.

Canton had closed to within four (37-33) with 2:42 remaining on Jim Schlicker's long jumper. That's when Medalle took command as the Rocks scored the final 11 points to win going away.

"IN THE OPEN court, when he's going one-on-one on someone, he can put it in," Thomann said. "He was called for traveling early in the game on moves I thought were really tremendous. That hurt him, it hurt his confidence."

If Medalle was unsure in the final quarter, it didn't show. The Chiefs' full-court pressure defense pestered Salem into committing eight turnovers in the first 4½ minutes of the fourth period.

"Their pressure was pretty good," Thomann admitted. "We just got to do a better job with it."

Canton was forced to play without starting guard Mark Bennett, who suffered a stress fracture of the foot. Bennett is expected to return to action against Northville Tuesday.

Still, the Chiefs led early, clinging to a 7-4 advantage after one quarter and a 12-10 lead midway through the second quarter. But the Rocks outpointed the Chiefs, 10-1, in the 3:49 left before half-time to take a 20-13 lead into the locker room.

SALEM INCREASED its advantage to 13 (28-15) on John Cohen's free throw with 2:42 left in the third quarter before Canton rallied for eight straight points, four by Mike Scarpello, to cut it to 30-23 going into the final period.

The Chiefs still trailed by six with 3:49 to play when Ron Rienas sped toward his basket. Rienas was tripped but no foul was called and the ball bounced out of bounds, with Salem gaining possession. Rienas immediately exploded and was tagged with a pair of technical fouls, and a third was called on Chief coach Dave Van Wagoner.

Matt Broderick stepped to the line and hit three of four free throws to increase Salem's advantage to nine, 35-26.

THE TECHNICAL foul calls may have helped Salem on the scoreboard, but Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner claimed they may have helped his team more.

"There was a distinct difference in our intensity after those technicals," Van Wagoner said. "They didn't hurt us, they helped us."

A pair of free throws by Mike Jennings and one by Pat Murphy and field goals by Gary Thomas and Schlicker got Canton back to within four before Medalle and Co. put a lid on the Chief uprising.

"(Salem) played great defense and got every rebound," was what Van Wagoner said made the difference.

Marvin Zurek topped the Rocks with 13 points, with Medalle finishing with 11, Broderick nine and Dave Houle eight. Canton's leading scorer was Scarpello with eight, followed by Rienas with seven and Schlicker with six.

The win kept Salem in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Lakes Division title hunt with a 7-1 mark, one game behind front-runner Livonia Stevenson (8-0). Canton fell to 3-5 in the WLAA's Western Division. Salem is 9-2 overall, while Canton is 5-7.

PLY. CHRISTIAN 34
OAKLAND CHRISTIAN 31

"We're on a roll," was how Plymouth Christian coach Butch DiRenzo reacted to his team's third win of the year and second in a row Friday at Pontiac Oakland Christian.

DiRenzo had good reason to be elated. The Eagles lost second-leading scorer Jim Koss for the season when he broke an ankle in three places last week, and then were forced to play without starter Jim Stevens, who hurt an ankle and will be lost for two weeks.

Still, Plymouth Christian prevailed behind a slow-down offense and 23 points by Brian Spicer. Chris Kiser chipped in with seven.

"It's obvious (Spicer) is going to have to pick up the scoring slack," DiRenzo said. "We were very patient, ran a lot of time off the clock. After we got the lead, we held the ball for two or three minutes at a time. Our philosophy was they can't score without the ball."

"The slow tempo with the young kids we have really paid off."

The win boosted the Eagles' record to 3-8 overall and 3-6 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. Plymouth Christian hosts Bloomfield Hills Roper at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Salem stays perfect in WLAA

Plymouth Salem's swimmers streaked to their sixth win in seven dual meets and third straight in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Thursday with a 79-48 dunking of Livonia Churchill at Salem.

Salem, winner of the WLAA Relays Dec. 18, is one of the favorites to capture the WLAA swim championship.

swimming

The loss dropped Churchill to 4-4 overall.

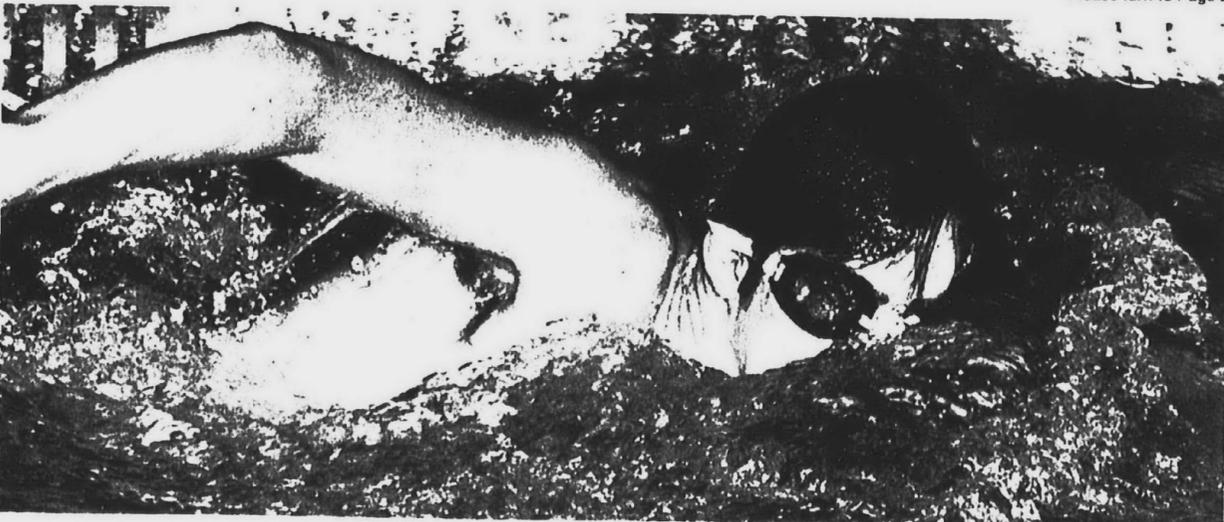

Seven different swimmers finished first for the Rocks in individual events, and they swept the top two spots four times.

Churchill claimed two firsts: Drew Baird won the 50-yard freestyle (23.9), and brother Eric Baird triumphed in the 100 breaststroke (1:05.4). John Hutchinson gave the Chargers their only sweep by placing second in the 100 breast (1:06.9).

THE ROCKS swept the 200 individual medley, with Tim Harwood first (2:08.9) and Ashley Long second (2:13.3); the 100 butterfly, with Mark Roehrig (59.1) and Tim Harwood (59.2); the 500 free, with Greg Wolff (5:20.9) and Tony Atwell (5:46.5); and the 100 backstroke, with Mike Harwood (1:02.4) and Bill Matthews (1:05.9).

Adaptable Lubanski still king of pin world

Ed Lubanski, the veteran all-star, has removed all doubt that his switch from a two-finger to a three-finger ball would affect his average. Taking turns bowling in the classics around the area, Lubanski is bowling as well as ever. He has rolled a pair of 700 series in the past week.

On Jan. 20 in the Bel-Aire Classic, Lubanski compiled a 701, then came back last Tuesday to post a 731 in the Wonderland Classic.

Aside from his steady performances, Lubanski is best remembered for bowling the first back-to-back 300 games on television, nearly 20 years ago.

EARL ANTHONY, the Seattle southpaw, has been named Bowler of the Year by the bowling writers of America. This is the fifth time Anthony has topped the balloting. He is now just one shy of equaling the record set by Don Carter, who was selected as top man six times.

What makes Anthony's achievement remarkable is that he is still at the top of the game despite suffering a severe heart attack a decade ago.

HIGH SCORING continued throughout the area last week, with Wonderland leading the way with six 700 series. Four came in the Wonderland Classic, with John Wodarski leading the way with a 766. Next was Greg Nicora (738), Lubanski and Tony Stepack (728).

In the Fisher Body League, Mike McLaughlin closed with a 257 to total 718, and in the Junior House League, Steve Ewald had an opening 252 in a 722.

AT PLAZA LANES, Jeff New-some opened with a 278 en route to a 711, while Bob Butler (698) and Glenn Brunell (695) both narrowly missed the 700 count.

The area's other 700 series were posted by Mike Stupe, a 707 at Woodland Lanes, and Mike Cawetzka, a 729 at Westland Lanes.

Jerry Cole Jr. suffered through the pangs of pressure at Westland when he rolled 11 straight strikes in the Tri-City Men's League. One strike away from a perfect game, Cole left standing the "bucket" — the 2, 4, 5 and 7 pins. He suffered a double-setback, missing his 300 game by five pins and a 700 series by three.

Other Salem swimmers to finish first were Erik Kleinsmith in the 200 free (1:54.8), Todd Riedel in the diving (200.65 points) and Scott Anderson in the 100 free (51.8).

Anderson, Long, Roehrig and Bob Bowling combined to take the 200 medley relay (1:50.6) and Kleinsmith, Tom Shaw, Roehrig and Tim Harwood teamed to capture the 400 free relay (3:33.25).

Taking seconds for Churchill were Brian Comstock in the 200 free (2:00.4), Vic Valente in the diving (161.9 points) and Drew Baird in the 100 free (53.3). Bowling had a second for the Rocks in the 50 free (24.6).

Drew and Eric Baird, John Hutchinson and Valente placed second in the 200 medley relay (1:50.9), and Valente, Vince Forment, Eric Hutchinson and Russ Bergendahl combined for a second in the 400 free relay (3:51.4).

Salem hosts Livonia Bentley Thursday at 7 p.m., while the Chargers entertain Northville Thursday at 7 p.m.

SKI CLINIC

If you've been dying to find out what all this cross country skiing ruckus is about, try attending one of the two remaining clinics sponsored by Canton's Parks and Recreation department.

Cost for the two-hour session is $4.50 with your own equipment and $6.50 if equipment must be provided. Sessions are slated for Thursday, Feb. 3 and Tuesday, Feb. 15 — if there's snow to ski on.

Clinics will run from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Maybury State Park under the tutelage of certified instructors. If interested, reserve a spot at least two days prior to each clinic by calling the Parks and Recreation department between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 397-1000.

GROUNDHOGS CLASSIC

The fourth annual Groundhogs' Day Classic has been postponed to Feb. 13, due to lack of snow.

And what is the Groundhogs' Day Classic? It's a slo-pitch softball tournament, that's what, and it's scheduled for fields No. 1 and 2 at Griffin Park.

For more information concerning the tournament, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000.

CANTON SOCCER

Final chance to register for Canton's soccer program is Feb. 12, from 10 a.m. until noon at Canton Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Youth and adult leagues are available. Cost is $12 for youngsters under eight years and $15 for all others. Many openings for girls remain. Birth certificates are required at registration.

For more information, call Sandy Olson at 453-7926.

ATHLETES NEEDED

The Tri-City Seals, a cerebral palsy sports team, is seeking Canton athletes to join its program.

Interested persons must be at least 10 years old and have CP or a related neuromuscular disease. Athletes will be classified in one of eight categories according to ability.

The Tri-City Seals meet from 10 a.m. until noon Saturdays at the Bailey Parks and Recreation Center in Westland. Athletes are responsible for their own transportation.

Interested individuals should contact the Canton Parks and Recreation center at 397-1000.

Christian goes 1-2

It was an up-and-down week for Plymouth Christian's volleyball team.

Last Tuesday, the Eagles bounced Flint Christian, 15-5, 15-11, to record their second win of the season. Debbie Van Hoose and Val Andres performed well to boost the winners.

On Thursday, disaster struck as Plymouth Christian suffered a double-dip setback, losing a pair to Southfield Christian, 15-8, 15-9 and 15-3, 15-3.

"They were very aggressive," said Eagle coach Jan Haarer of the Southfield Christian team. "That kind of intimidated our girls a little bit."

Faith Yuchida's serving and Muzette Carroll's leadership were strong points for Plymouth Christian, as its record fell to 2-7 for the season.

The Eagles travel to Warren Baptist Academy for a 4 p.m. match Monday.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills

and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common: When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost through the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

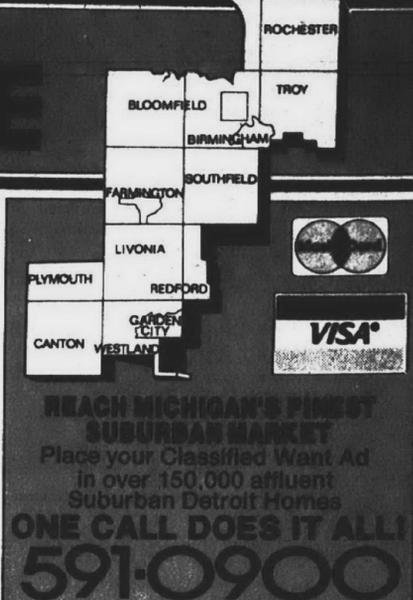

Ameri-Therm is the thermally actuated vent damper that's:

- Proven in millions of locations.
- Saves up to 20%* on fuel bills.
- Popular choice of American homeowners.
- Five year limited warranty.
- Thermally actuated to operate efficiently with no wires, electricity, or other power source.
- Eligible for 15% tax credit.
- Available for gas furnaces, boilers and water heaters.
