Plymouth makes pitch for St. Joseph clinic

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

City of Plymouth officials presented a $2.5-million health clinic/parking deck facility proposal Thursday to administrators from St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The presentation is tied into the City Commission's proposed Downtown Development Authority (DDA) and City Manager Henry Graper's plan to build a parking deck in Central Parking Lot.

Although the city's presentation included architects' sketches and financing plans, Graper said the hospital hasn't agreed to anything yet.

"It simply was a proposal we made to the hospital," Graper told the Observer last week.

"We were very impressed by the presentation and it certainly will help to set the agenda for future sessions," said Phil Stoffan, director of community relations at St. Joseph.

The city's proposal, presented by Graper, Mayor Bud Martin, and Paul Perrot of the First National Bank of Plymouth, called for a $1.5-million clinic/doctors office complex built on the first level of a $1-million parking deck.

Under the city's plan, the clinic portion of the structure would be at the west end of Central Lot — facing Harvey Street. The total structure would be 25,000 square feet, Graper said.

The city would pay for the parking deck portion of the costs while the hospital would pay for the clinic portion.

THE UP-FRONT financing for the project could be generated in one of three ways: through an Economic Development Corporation (EDC) bond issue, the building authority, or the DDA, Graper said.

The city's debt on the project, regardless of the initial financing plan, would be paid off by the DDA — which receives revenues from property tax increases in the downtown area, he said.

St. Joseph is considering a number of building sites at this time, the hospital spokesman said.

"We certainly will be doing something with expansion in the Plymouth area," he said.

"We are working closely with the city to find ways to meet the health needs of the residents. Our role must be defined before a site is selected," the spokesman said.

"We need to know what kind of services to provide, what times and the number of patients.

"We are very interested in providing additional health services in Plymouth, and we are very encouraged with the participation and similar interests of the city," he said.

The advantages of locating in downtown are the city owned parking set-up, being within walking distance of shops and restaurants and receiving city services such as snow removal, Graper said.

Initially, Graper said hospital officials thought Central Lot wouldn't be an accessible location.

"We have invited them to come down and look at the location. We told them how accessible it would be, now we want to bring them over and show them the ease of getting to that site," he said.

"They were very receptive to our presentation. And it's very refreshing for us to have that type of response."

The next meeting between city and hospital officials hasn't been scheduled.

Mickey will visit

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Get out your Mickey Mouse hats, boys and girls.

The most famous rodent — M-I-C-K-E-Y — is paying a visit to Canton, Plymouth and Northville later this week. Wow!

The famed cartoon character will arrive Friday and make several weekend guest appearances to promote a new Disney channel on cable TV. Omnicon of Michigan, the cable firm serving this community, is sponsoring Mickey's visit.

"This is exciting," said Thomas Publiski, director of marketing for Omnicon. "We just wanted to do something for the people, for the community, and to promote the service — all at the same time."

THE COMMUNITIES are rolling out the red carpet in honor of the popular mouse. Consider this:

• Plymouth's bright red double-decker bus will meet Mickey's plane when it arrives Friday at Detroit Metropolitan Airport. Publiski isn't sure if Mickey will be arriving from Disneyland in California, or Disney World in Florida.

• First stop on the whirlwind schedule will be a private, official greeting at Canton's Township Hall shortly after noon. A group of Canton Crickets preschoolers and the senior-citizen Kitchen Band will welcome the group.

Only people with invitations will be allowed to attend that ceremony. Otherwise, "we would have mass chaos," said Canton recreation superintendent Mike Gouin, who is planning that portion of the visit.

MICKY MOUSE will visit Northville for another "welcome," then back to Plymouth's Westchester Mall around 2:30 p.m., for still more greetings. Later, at the mall, there will be free photos, autographs and special events.

Saturday's events begin at 11:15 a.m., when the cartoon character visits the New Towne Plaza shopping center in Canton. He'll be there until 3 p.m. From 4:30-7 p.m., Mickey will be in Northville.

On Sunday, Donald Duck will be in town to join Mickey. The cartoon characters will be at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth at 9:30 a.m., leaving at 12:15 p.m. to march in a parade in Ann Arbor.

CANTON OFFICIALS, getting into the fun, have designated April 22 as Mickey Mouse Day.

"Do you want us (to go to) Metro Airport, too?" asked Canton Treasurer Maria Sterlino. The schedule is too tight for that, Publiski said.

Canton Clerk John Flodin quickly offered to escort former Mickey Mouse Club star Annette Funicello, should she decide to accompany Mickey Mouse (she isn't).

The visit will cost Omnicon $10,000-$12,000, Publiski said. It will publicize the new Disney channel, which starts today.

The channel, which runs 7 a.m. to 11 p.m., offers family entertainment. It will be available at an extra monthly charge, probably in the $7.95-$9.95 range, Publiski said.

"It could be as high as $11.95," Publiski said. "To my knowledge, no other system in this area, except Ann Arbor, will have the Disney channel at this time."

The monthly cost will include a full-sized monthly magazine with articles for both parents and children, games, puzzles and quizzes, Publiski said.

Commission approached for tax hearings on 2 projects

The Plymouth City Commission is expected to set public hearings tonight for two requests for property tax relief.

The requests for property tax abatement come from William K. Piercy, owner and president of Omni Controls, Inc., who wants to build an industrial building at 1000 Cherry and from Howard A. Hamerink for a dental office project at 130 S. Harvey.

City Manager Henry Graper Jr. is asking the City Commission to set a public hearing for both requests on Tuesday, May 17.

Piercy says the building will be used for light manufacturing of products under the name of American Finish Co.

Piercy estimates the building will cost about $100,000 to build. He doesn't yet have any estimates on equipment cost.

In the application, Piercy said he expects to begin construction this month and finish in September.

HE CURRENTLY is employing three persons in rented space at 41855 Joy Road, Plymouth. Piercy expects to create an additional six jobs within two years of the building's completion.

Dr. Hamerink's dental clinic will be in an existing building on Harvey. Renovation of the main building began last month and is expected to be completed in May.

The first floor of the main building and its addition will be used as a dental office while the second floor will remain as an apartment.

Next year Hamerink plans to convert a garage on the site to an office.

The main building will receive new heating and cooling, electrical and plumbing service.

Hamerink says the building is a structurally sound but mechanically depleted residence.

He expects to create some 10-20 construction jobs and about 2-3 permanent jobs after the project is finished as well as retaining some seven existing jobs.

Project cost of $107,000 includes the purchase price of $42,000 for the building, improvements of $67,000 and land improvements of $7,000.

Omnicom replies to cable charges

Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Omnicom cablevision officials have denied allegations of non-compliance with Plymouth Township's cable ordinance made recently by a township attorney.

Peter Newell, an Omnicom spokesman said the attorney's report contained "misinformation."

Newell's point-by-point rebuttal was followed up with a letter written by Betsy Seeley, Omnicom vice president and general manager.

The attorney's report, written by Angelo Plakas, incorporated a report from the Canton Cable TV Committee.

Points raised in the Canton report "in large measure also apply to Omnicom's performance, or lack thereof, in Plymouth Township," Plakas wrote.

"There were references to the Canton report. We are fulfilling all commitments to that community," Newell said. "I believe Canton is satisfied with the service they are receiving."

Plakas accused Omnicom of being "deficient in providing and making available perimeter security, fire alarm, medical and emergency alert services to subscribers."

The franchise ordinance didn't require the security services from the start, according to Seeley.

"The ordinance does require two-way capability, which we have had in place," she said.

HOWEVER, A handicapped resident attending the meeting, said he bought cable service based on an Omnicom salesman's promise that the security and medical alert system was being offered.

"The security system is in the process of being provided," Newell said. "By July 1 we expect to have an agreement finalized with a major security company."

"We have a definite timetable. We didn't initiate this when the cable system was first built for a number of reasons," he said.

Those reasons included the unreliability of a new cable system and the high cost of installing alarm wires in a home.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said although the cable ordinance didn't require the security systems from the start, Omnicom promised it from the beginning.

City eyes tax hike to balance budget

The city of Plymouth is considering an increase in operational millage for this coming year to partially offset the decrease in the taxbase.

The proposal follows budget sessions between the city manager and City Commission and precedes a public hearing set for Monday, April 25.

City Manager Henry Graper has informed the commission that to balance the 1983-84 budget it would be necessary to eliminate six jobs, adjust fees, consider self-insurance for short-term disability and have department heads and non-union employees take a pay freeze for the next year.

Graper also said he hoped to negotiate a freeze of concessions with the other unions. If negotiations were unsuccessful, he added, it might be necessary to raise taxes by 2.65 mills ($2.65 per $1,000 state equalized valuation).

After considering factors proposed by the administration, the City Commission has come up with a budget which is 1.56-percent less than the current budget but still requires an increase of eight-tenths of a mill (80 cents per $1,000 SEV).

The 0.80 mill increase was needed, said the manager, because of the loss in value from reassessing residential property and because of increased costs in operation of the library as well as an increase in the cost of refuse collection and disposal.

ALSO PART of the budget discussions were the operation of the 35th District Court which is costing the city of Plymouth more than in the past, the cost of fringe benefits and how they have risen over the past 10 years.

After the April 25 budget hearing, the City Commission must give final adoption to the budget and set the millage rate at its first meeting in May.

The city will have to work real hard to stay within the budget which includes the 0.80 mill increase, said Graper, and hope it does not receive any more executive cuts from the governor or experience other shortfalls in revenues.

Martin marries many couples

Plymouth's mayor specializes in civil ceremonies

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

He will do it anywhere, anytime, for anybody — as long as it's done within the city limits.

That's right, Plymouth Mayor Bruce Martin will marry anybody, anywhere within the city, anytime. That's his standing offer.

Since taking office in 1981, Martin has married 124 couples — a record of which he is proud.

"I'd challenge anyone to match our record," Martin said, just minutes before the 124th couple exchanged vows:

Monday afternoon.

"Lots of mayors don't marry people I don't know or very many mayors who perform as many weddings as I do.

"I think that's because I have stated publicly I'll do it anywhere at anytime I'm accessible," he said.

Former Mayor Mary Childs "popularized" weddings performed by the mayor of Plymouth, Martin said. He is carrying on the tradition.

Unlike the practice in many churches, Martin doesn't meet with the prospective couple prior to the ceremony. He doesn't hold wedding rehearsals and his $20 ceremony is free of religious references.

"The church has made it tough or people to get married. I don't have any rules or requirements."

MANY OF the couples Martin marries are on their second or third marriage, have religious backgrounds that conflict or have children involved, he said.

"People accept the vows and make marriage as sacred as they want.

"Believe it or not, there is only one marriage that I know did not make it. I think many of them work out — the odds are in my favor," he said.

Figures from the National Center for Health Statistics support Martin's claim.

During 1982 some 2.5-million American couples exchanged wedding vows more than any year before. And it appears more couples took those vows seriously in 1982.

Some 1.18-million couples were divorced last year, 3-percent fewer than 1981 and the first decrease since 1962.

Martin's ceremonies have included a wide range of participants.

The youngest groom he married was 18 years old and the oldest groom was 58. The youngest bride was 16 years old and the oldest bride was 56.

He once married a couple who were divorced and then wanted to be remarried — the same day they called him.

The groom was going into the hospital for open-heart surgery, Martin said.

"FOR SOME reason or another, the only way she could collect his insurance and pension was if they were married.

"I ran out on my lunch hour and married the people. He was on his death bed, he looked real bad," Martin said.

The witnesses for the ceremony were two city employees since the couple didn't have anybody with them.

Another time Martin married a couple from India.

"The people kept calling me 'Your Lordship,'" he said.

It's joy on the job for teacher

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

When Gloria Logan accepted a drama instructor's post with the Plymouth-Canton schools at age 20 in the early 1970s, she had "no intention of creating artists."

"Theater is such a scary, tentative business I tell my kids 'go into theater only if your heart won't let you do anything else.'"

Nonetheless, Logan's love of the theater makes her a natural matchmaker. She's sparked countless enduring romances between budding teen-age actors and theater. In 13 years, she's watched 47 members of her "educational family" emerge as theatrical professionals. Collectively, they've waltzed off with $70,000 in scholarships.

This summer, the United States will be represented by a single high school thespian group at Austria's Sixth Spectrum International Theatre Festival in June — Logan's. To raise the $25,000 the trip will cost, the Plymouth Salem and Canton High Schools' drama troupe has sold donuts door-to-door in a downtown, delivered singing telegrams, staged midnight madness sales, talent and craft shows.

LAST WEEK, with fund raising set aside for the moment, Logan was coaching her students on the auditorium stage.

"We don't want to put any pressure on you Cindy, but be interesting!" she implored of the leading lady in a lover's triangle scene.

She captured the rest of the group's rapt attention saying, "They're working for you, so watch them."

Impromptu drama was the order of the day, and the class "hams" were performing sans prodding.

But 1982 graduate Cletus Karamon of Plymouth, now employed as the schools' carpenter and stageman, said Logan makes every student feel like a professional.

"She's fabulous. I've worked with her for four years. She's given me so much. I love her — she's a sweet lady," said Karamon, who's now studying dance.

"She makes us give our all and brings everything out of us. I've been a dancer for the past two years. She taught us — people in the audience would never know we weren't danc-

McNamara has always valued art

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

Dorothy McNamara has taken on a new role in the art world.

McNamara already is well-known in Plymouth for her beautiful gardens on Penniman Avenue and her work while she was in charge of Monsignor Edward Hickey's art museum on Deer Street several years ago.

Now she is the local representative of Mary George Caleal & Associates, a new firm dealing in all sorts of art and located in the Renaissance Center in downtown Detroit.

"I have been asked to take over this area to meet with folks who are eager to have special pieces appraised and to give further advice on the handling of any transaction dealing with art, and I am most happy to be chosen," said McNamara, a graduate of the art school at Rochester University in New York.

It will be a new outlet for her as she has taken part in various artistic endeavors since arriving in Plymouth 19 years ago.

First, it was the gardens at the McNamara home that attracted attention because of their beauty and the special manner in which the gardens each year were linked to the past.

All the while she had been a confidant of Monsignor Hickey, a connoisseur of art who has traveled the world in search of outstanding works of the masters. Under his guidance she became an archivist for the Art Guild of St. Mary's and the curator for the Cloister Museum.

Monsignor Hickey once had a great showing of his art at St. Aloysius (next to the Book-Cadillac in downtown Detroit) and later at St. Mary's in Redford.

Each year in his travels in search of paintings, he always reports back to McNamara when he comes across an outstanding work.

ASIDE FROM serving as an adviser and appraiser of any artwork Caleal and Associates wishes to offer for sale, McNamara also will serve as an appraiser of continental and American antiques, and works of art that will include paintings, furniture, silver, oriental carpets, porcelain and glass, period jewelry, dolls, toys, statuary, bronze and metal wares.

Her parent company is a newly organized firm with Mary Caleal as the head. Caleal is the first woman fine arts auctioneer in the state. She has a fine arts degree from Marygrove College and has studied in Paris, at the Sorbonne and the Ecole du Louvre and at the school of fine arts in Banff, Alberta, Canada.

"I now will be doing the kind of work I always have longed to do in the art world, and my experience with Monsignor Hickey will come in good stead," McNamara said.

Surprise at Hilltop

A septic system failure Easter weekend at the Hilltop Golf Course clubhouse caused sewage to seep onto the practice green, according to Tony Hollis, department of public works supervisor.

After investigation, Hollis said he found "the tile field would no longer disburse the liquids as designed."

The situation posed a potential health problem and needed repair, Hollis said.

The township board last week approved spending about $6,800 to tie the clubhouse into a public sewer line. The golf course is leased to John Jawor by the township.

The work was completed by Thursday and the course and clubhouse are back to normal, Hollis said.

ORDINANCE NO. 78-C

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 78, THE WATER AND SEWER ORDINANCE, BY AMENDING SECTION 5(D) TO INCREASE THE WATER TAP CHARGES AND BY AMENDING SECTION 5(K) TO REDUCE THE INDUSTRIAL WASTE CONTROL (IWC) CHARGE.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. Paragraphs D and K of Section 5 of Ordinance No. 78 shall be amended to read as follows:

D. WATER TAP CHARGE: The Township charge includes the total cost of installation of water service, including labor, materials, inspection fee and meter. The work is performed by the Township and relates to the following size of service:

SIZE OF SERVICE	SIZE OF METER	0-60'	61-80'	81-102'	121-204'
3/4"	3/4"	$470.	$630.	$850.	$1,350.
1"	1"	625.	800.	1050.	1,525.

The Water Tap Charge is determined by the road width of property address requesting service, with the following exceptions:

- In the event the property is a corner lot with service available on either side, the charge will be the lesser of the two charges, if there is a difference.
- For properties that are located on boundary roads of Plymouth Township, the charge will be based on the applicable rate for a 0-60' road, if the water main is on the same side of the road.
- Water taps to the system which involve pipe sizes other than 3/4" or 1" are allowed upon application to the Water and Sewer Department, and the cost of such installation shall be the sole responsibility of the applicant in accordance with the application.

K. INDUSTRIAL WASTE CONTROL (IWC) CHARGE: A monthly charge shall be applied to all nonresidential customers for the purpose of the surcharge. A residential unit shall be defined as any structure designed and used for year round habitation where average occupancy by the same person or persons was longer than two consecutive months during the previous year. Nonresidential units shall include any sewer premises which do not meet the above description. The monthly charge shall not be applied on the basis of any meter which services solely residential users or which are used for fire protection purposes only. The IWC surcharge shall be applied as follows, effective as of July 1, 1983, and will apply to June sewage contributions:

METER SIZE	MONTHLY CHARGE
3/4"	$ 1.33
1"	1.99

2"	7.31
3"	10.63
4"	19.36
6"	26.57
8"	39.85
10"	66.42
12"	92.98
15"	106.27

Section 2. The balance of Ordinance No. 78 remains in full force and effect.
Section 3. Severability - The various parts, sections and clauses of this Ordinance are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected thereby.
Section 4. Repeal - All other Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistency, hereby repealed.
Section 5. Publication - The Township Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the manner required by law.
Section 6. Effective Date - This Ordinance shall become effective immediately upon adoption thereof.

Omnicom Court exam Thursday for crash death case

"There's no question if it was promised initially, the point is there are reasons why it wasn't put in right at the start," Newell said.

Plakas' report also accused the company of failing to provide FM stereo services to subscribers.

Although the ordinance doesn't mention FM services, Omnicom started providing that service this month, Newell said.

Charging subscribers $15 to disconnect premium pay services contradicted Omnicom's promise to "radiate community goodwill," Plakas wrote.

The downgrading fee "is not a rate over which the local governing bodies have jurisdiction," Newell said.

LOCAL GOVERNMENTS can control charges for basic service, installation charges, second set charges and charges for remote control converters, he said.

Omnicom should pay Plymouth Township $200,000 with 11-percent interest, since it made a $200,000 prepayment of franchise fees to Canton in 1979, Plakas said.

"Just because we paid $200,000 to Canton and Plymouth Township now wants $200,000 just doesn't make sense to us," Newell said.

A preliminary examination in 35th District Court will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday for a Plymouth Township woman charged in the traffic death of a Canton man last January.

Jeanne Kozlarski, 37, of Turtlehead is charged with manslaughter with a motor vehicle. Lawrence Konkol, 33, of Canton died of injuries suffered when his car collided with Kozlarski's vehicle on Ford Road Jan. 27.

According to tests, Kozlarski's blood registered an alcohol content of 0.19, police said. A reading of 0.10 is legally intoxicated.

THE PRELIMINARY examination determines if there is sufficient evidence for the case to be bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for a trial. Kozlarski's attorney requested a delay in the preliminary examination, which normally is held shortly after arraignment, police said.

Kozlarski remains free on bond. She stood mute at her earlier arraignment and the court entered a not-guilty plea in her behalf.

Manslaughter with a motor vehicle carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison upon conviction.

era."

The word's gotten out about Logan. "Only 50 kids get in (each high school production) and last time we had 160 try out," Karamon said.

Logan, however, claims: "I learn as much from the kids as they learn from me."

"I've learned an awful lot about warmth, about how gracious people can be, even though they're young. It's so wonderful to see them grow."

"At 14, they're just little kids. Yet they take on tasks with their two hands that grown-up people wouldn't think of tackling," added Logan, who "to keep fresh" joins summer stock every two years.

It's Logan's hope that her students "can continue to enjoy theater forever, if not as a vocation, as an avocation."

The Eastern Michigan University grad regularly hears from graduates who do.

"Just last night I was on the phone until midnight with Brian Godwin, a struggling young actor out in California. He put a check in the mail for $100 to help support this thing (trip to Austria)."

"He's doing industrial films and is moving to Hollywood Hills, so he can't be doing too bad," said Logan, who often invites students into her home to view videotapes of student productions.

Linda Dwyer, a 1975 graduate is touring as a singing actress in Amsterdam, India and Egypt, while another former student, 1975 graduate Charles Burr, is a budding playwright, she said.

Several others are making their way up as young actors, costume designers and stagehands in New York and Chicago.

"I'm so glad I'm allowed to teach theater, and that the kids seem to benefit," she said. "It's great fun — I can't imagine doing anything else."

New drunk driving laws give police 'the tools'

By Carol Azizian
staff writer

Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, saying the state's new drunk driving laws are long overdue, vowed to work hand-in-hand with police officers to crack down on offenders. A spokesman for the Wayne County prosecutor agrees.

forcement officials at a recent conference of the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan.

Patterson said that nearly a decade ago, he proposed changes similar to those made in the new law which took effect March 30.

"We built a hell of a case against the drunk driver back in 1974, but we couldn't do a damn thing with it," he said. "Now it's almost in vogue to get involved with this issue."

"IT TOOK a group like Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) to get the legislation off dead center," Patterson said.

"I congratulate them for doing what this office was unable to do — lobby in Lansing and get legislators to recognize this as a serious problem. Maybe hell hath no fury like mothers who've lost their loved ones banded together for a good cause."

The new laws will give law police officers and prosecuting attorneys the "tools for identifying drunk drivers," Patterson said.

BUT THEY fail to go far enough in preventing drunk driving offenses, he said.

"On major felonies, we will be able to prosecute as charged. Since 1974, we've had a policy that attorneys can't plea-bargain on cases where drunk drivers either kill or injure someone."

"But there are no provisions in the law dealing with persons who are arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly," Patterson said.

"If a person is arrested on those charges, we should notify the Secretary of State's office and make him go through screening. That way we can identify him early as a problem drinker — before he causes an accident."

THE NEW laws impose stiffer minimum penalties for driver's license suspensions, mandatory pre-sentence substance abuse screening, optional sentencing to community service work and six points on drivers' records for refusal to take a Breathalyzer test.

Under the new law, police officers can administer roadside Breathalyzer tests.

Drivers convicted of operating a vehicle while impaired face license suspensions of six months to a year.

Under the law, anyone with a percentage of alcohol in his or her bloodstream of .10 is considered drunk. A percentage between .05 and .10 is proof that the person is impaired. No longer as those percentages merely evidence that the person may be drunk.

WAYNE COUNTY Assistant Prosecutor Richard Padziewski said that provision adds more weight to the prosecuting attorney's case.

"It's what my boss (Wayne County Prosecutor) Bill Cahalan likes to call certainty of punishment," Padziewski said. "It should have some impact on keeping drunk drivers off the road."

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John Skrzyński told law enforcement officials that the new law will make their jobs easier.

But, Skrzyński said, police officers must record details of the crime to convince juries.

"You guys are out there putting your life on the line. Then we lose the case because you don't give enough detail.

"Drunk driving is sort of like a bad joke. You tell someone 'I guess you had to be there.'"

"The jury has to be there. If you can make it live for them, they'll convict the driver."

FOR POLICE in Oakland County, the new law is "one more weapon in an arsenal that is already more impressive than that possessed by any other law enforcement community in Michigan," Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy said.

Since 1980, when the Alcohol Enforcement/Education Project began, Oakland County sheriff's deputies have increased arrests for drunk driving by 130 percent.

"Nearly 2,000 arrests were made during that period, a rate far exceeding the national average," Murphy said.

Earlier, Murphy made a pitch before the Board of Commissioners for continuing Oakland County's "drunk driving project," which is scheduled to expire at the end of May.

MURPHY, WHO asked state officials for a one-year extension of a four-year grant to pay for the project, said he has received assurances from state officials that they will honor his request.

His proposal would continue the role of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department while "vastly expanding the activities of our 41 local police departments."

"These departments have approximately 1,000 patrol officers on the streets now. They're highly trained, dedicated police officers and are ready, willing and able to join our alcohol enforcement teams in the war against drunk driving."

SC Wind Ensemble to play Wednesday

Schoolcraft College's Wind Ensemble will perform in concert at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 20, in the Waterman Center on campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Under the direction of Richard Saunders, the 40-piece band will present works of Hamlisch, Strauss, Shostakovich and others. Alto saxophone soloist Richard Witten will be featured in Wiedner's "Saxophobia."

Tickets are available at the door for $3 general admission, $2 for senior citizens and students.

A community group, members of the Wind Ensemble have diverse backgrounds — professional musicians, physicians, teachers, engineers, dentists, business managers and salespersons.

Formed by Saunders in 1979, the Wind Ensemble has performed in about 40 places in the United States and Canada. It is scheduled to present five "Concerts under the Stars" for the city of Livonia during June and July.

While at Wayne State University, Saunders was president of bands. He is prominent as a clinician and guest conductor and is a member of the American School Band Directors Association and Phi Mu Alpha.

4 enter SC race; St. Louis pulls out

With eight days left before filing deadline, one candidate has dropped out and two more have quietly entered the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees race.

Filing deadline is 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 26. To be on the ballot in June, petitions with 50 to 200 signatures of registered voters are required.

James St. Louis, a Farmington Hills police officer who lives in Livonia, announced this week he will drop out of the race because he plans to move to a new job in northern Michigan.

AS OF FRIDAY, four persons had filed nominating petitions for three six-year terms on the college board, virtually assuring a contested election. Those who have filed are:

- Myron Kasey, 15246 Jamestown Circle, Northville.
- Harry G. Greenleaf, 35936 Pine-tree, Livonia — current board chairman.
- Harvey A. Fallor, 1454 Wagon Wheel Circle, Canton Township.
- Daryl DeLabbio, 33151 Bock, Ger-den City — the city's director of administrative services.

Incumbent board treasurer Rosina Raymond of Livonia indicated she would seek a new six-year term but has not filed nominating petitions. Incumbent trustee Len Wozniak of Livonia is not expected to seek a new term.

A TWO-YEAR term is also open. Incumbent Sharon Sarris, a Livonian who was appointed to the post in 1982, has announced she will run for it but has not yet filed nominating petitions.

She is filling the vacancy created by the resignation of board vice chairwoman Nancie Blatt, who moved to Chicago.

Nominating petitions are available in the president's office in the Grote Administration Building on campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The Schoolcraft College District includes all of the Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth-Canton K-12 school districts and a small portion of Novi.

County Commission to meet in Dearborn

The Wayne County Commission will travel to Dearborn for a meeting at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The new county charter requires that "at least four meetings shall be held outside the county seat and at least four meetings shall be held within the county seat at locations other than the regular meeting place." Board Chairman William Gorman said.

Gorman's statement will be in the afternoon at Henry Ford Community Library, 16301 Michigan, between Southfield and Greenfield roads.

The County Commission's usual meeting place is the 13th floor of the City-County Building at 1 Woodward, Detroit. Committee members are in a separate room on the 13th floor of the City-County Building.

All meetings are open to the public, and persons may address the commission at any time.

More than 300 applied for job as SC president

In April 1981 trustee Mark McQuesten announced he would not seek reelection to the Schoolcraft College board.

An activist during his student days at the college, a supporter of student causes during his six-year tenure on the board, McQuesten had won the seat on his third try for public office.

At the time he made his decision not to run again, McQuesten had been in the Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit for two years and was about to begin four years of work at St. John Seminary in Plymouth, leading to a master of divinity degree.

HE HAD wanted to run for a second term on the Schoolcraft board, but church superiors said no, acting in response to a 1979 papal order that priests were to remove themselves from the public arena.

During the election in June, Paul Kadish, former chairman of the Schoolcraft board, and Laura Toy were elected to six-year terms. Toy, like McQuesten, was a graduate of the college. All of the six who ran for the two seats were Livonia residents. After the election, the board consisted of four Democrats and three Republicans.

The growing influence of party politics in the race for board seats was apparent in a comment by Tim Richard in the Observer.

"HISTORICALLY, THE Schoolcraft board has been a good jumping off point for persons seeking other political office," he wrote on June 25. "State Sen. R. Robert Geake, a Republican of Northville, and county commissioner Mary Dumas, a Republican of Livonia, are former Schoolcraft trustees. Paul Kadish and Nancie Blatt also have run for the Michigan legislature."

Richard could have added that James F. O'Neil, a short-time member of the college's first board in the 1960s,

past and present

Sam Hudson

parlayed his charter trustee's seat to a seat on the State Board of Education.

PRIOR TO THE election, the college trustees once more addressed the question of whether they would permit the faculty to have non-voting "advisory" seats on the board.

During the discussion, President C. Nelson Grote said there was at least one precedent for such a move. Illinois law, he told the trustees, requires that college boards in that state have advisory seats for students as well as faculty.

Trustee Rosina Raymond, who favored the idea of an advisory seat, declared that a faculty advisor would give the board better rapport with the instructors. "Are we afraid of communication," she asked the other members of the board.

THE PROPOSAL, which had originated with Del Sipes, president of the Faculty Forum, was rejected 8 to 1.

In May Dr. Grote announced approval of an articulation agreement with the University of Michigan-Dearborn. He said discussions on similar agreements were being conducted with Wayne State University, Eastern Michigan University and Madonna College.

"Articulation agreements build in assurances of the transferability of credits earned at Schoolcraft College for those who wish to pursue the bachelor's degree at one of the senior colleges or universities," Grote said. "Agreements permit each institution to serve the student and at the same time avoid unnecessary duplication of programs and services."

DURING THE same month, it was announced that Dr. Jewell E. Stindt, who had joined the college in 1979 as provost and vice president for instructional affairs, was leaving to become president of the Southwestern College in Chula Vista, Calif.

This meant that the person selected to succeed Grote would be able to name two top vice presidents since Edward V. McNally, vice president for student affairs, had announced he would be retiring at the end of the summer. McNally's retirement was delayed, however, because the board asked him to serve as interim president of the college from July 1 to Dec. 1 while it sought a replacement for Dr. Grote.

MORE THAN 300 applicants for the position had been received by a consulting team from the Association of Community College Trustees. Those had been winnowed to about 25. The trustees, in turn, had narrowed the list to 10.

This list was subjected to an exhaustive screening. Almost every group on the college campus had been invited to give comments. The campus advisory committee on the selection of a new president included one representative from each of the following: Schoolcraft Foundation, executive administrators, administrative and professional staff, the Faculty Forum, classified personnel, other personnel union, physical plant employees, food service employees, and students.

THE COST of the presidential search had been estimated at about $40,000. Included in this figure was an estimated $6,500 for advertising, $6,000 for the Association of Community College Trustees consulting service, $4,000 for first interviews, and $4,000 for visits to the finalists' current towns of employment.

Blood pressure clinics

Free blood pressure clinics are offered on the first Tuesday of each month now through May 1983. The clinics run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center, 525 Farmer, Plymouth. The clinics are free and open to the public.

This service is sponsored by the city of Plymouth in cooperation with Madonna College, Livonia.

For more information, call Plymouth's recreation department at 455-6620.

An unusual plan given for losing lots of weight

Often the successful solution to a problem depends on the approach that is made.

It may be an old-fashioned remedy for a common cold as when our mothers wrapped a red flannel band around our necks. Or it may be a hot bath and a massage, or it may be just an odd twist to the prescribed remedy.

The Stroller got to thinking about this the other day when he picked up an old volume on proper eating by his old-time friend, Dr. Ernest R. Reiner.

Some years ago The Stroller happened to be very fit, carrying more weight than anyone would deem sufficient. Then he happened upon his good friend, the doctor.

"Doc, I would like to take off some weight and as soon as possible. How about you prescribing a diet for me?"

"Don't mention that word around here," the good doctor replied. "The word diet is not allowed in this office."

It took the Stroller by surprise and in an instant his thought of losing weight vanished.

"What we do in this office," the doctor explained, "is to reshape your body. That is what you want, isn't it?"

"That's the idea," the Stroller answered, and then got the surprise of his life.

AT THE time the Stroller weighed in at 176 pounds and often was referred to as "the little round man."

When the doctor went to work the first thing he asked was, "If you saw a card marked 'poison' on the dinner table tonight, would you eat this morbid food?"

The answer was a defiant, "no."

"Okay," Doc said, "starting tonight, potatoes are poison to you."

Next he set a limit of six six-ounce glasses of water each day, but specified that the Stroller should eat lots of fresh salad provided it was covered with a rich dressing.

That sounded against all rules he had received ## the stroller W.W. Edgar from his sources, but the doctor, this time said, "We are going to burn the fat off your body and the rich dressing will stoke the fire."

Then came another shocker.

"And from now on apples are taboo," he said. "Doc, I always was taught that an apple a day would keep the doctor away. Don't you want to see me anymore?"

He just smiled and then explained:

"During the war when I was in the field service, we found that nothing would stop the flow of blood of the injured better than apple juice. So, if we want to get rid of the flesh and the extra poundage there is no sense in having you eat apples."

THAT WAS a new approach and very unusual. It was against the old theory that eating apples would be healthy.

But apples were placed on the doctor's "poison" list.

And what do you think happened? Within the course of slightly less than a year the Stroller's weight was down to 176 pounds — a loss of 70 pounds.

That was fine until folks started asking how long he had been sick and what ailed him.

The finale came when one of the Stroller's old-time friends remarked, "You are not half the man you used to be."

That was enough, and the so-called re-shaping of my body came to an abrupt end.

But the plan was unique.

AN ARRAY OF CREATIVE SANDWICHES

Ever since the Earl of Sandwich reputedly invented a dish which could be eaten without sitting down to a full meal, countless combinations have been "sandwiched" between two slices of bread. Today the term sandwich can apply to anything which contains bread and filling, or in the case of open-faced sandwiches, a topping. Having entered French culinary terminology, the sandwich has become familiar in many European countries. But probably nowhere is the sandwich as commonplace as here in the United States. It has been glorified with innumerable spreads, sauces, fillings, and toppings. Whether it's baked, chilled, toasted, or grilled, the sandwich is an unquestionable favorite.

This array of sandwich recipes ranges from simple to elegant. The common element is one ingredient — salad dressing. And since sandwiches are popular take-alongs, some of these recipes were made especially for toting. Of these recipes were made especially for toting.

For example, BLT Salad Sandwiches combine all the popular ingredients of a traditional bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich, but in this salad form, it's neater to eat and easier to tote. A sure hit with the kids is Bologna Apple Wrap, which combines chopped apples, raisins, peanuts, and salad dressing. Each sandwich begins with a frankfurter bun spread with salad dressing. Lined with lettuce and a slice of bologna. Spoon in the apple mixture, fold over the bologna, and secure with a toothpick, for a neat treat for school lunches. And sandwiches go sophisticated with this recipe for Deluxe Turkey Croissants.

A split croissant, rather than bread, is the base for this classy combination of lettuce, tomato, Swiss cheese, turkey, and artichoke hearts. The savory duo of salad dressing and mustard provides a tangy flavor, while the delicate croissant and turkey are complemented by the nutty taste of Swiss cheese. A sandwich recipe made for hearty appetites is Meat and Potato Carryout. Cooked, sliced potatoes are tossed with a mixture of salad dressing and horseradish sauce. Rye bread slices hold the filling of roast beef or pastrami slices, red onion rings, and the potato mixture.

The display of distinctive at-home ideas includes Mexican Salad Tortillas. The "cups" are made easily by frying the tortillas in deep oil, pressed down with a ladle. Salad dressing accents the filling ingredients of chopped cooked chicken, ripe olive slices, and chopped avocado and pimiento, for a delightful combination of textures and flavors.

No meal or variety of bread has been forgotten, as evidenced by the recipes for Grilled Brunch Sandwiches and Vegetarian Filled Loaves. Eggs, ham, cheddar cheese, and salad dressing come together for the brunch sandwich filling. Instead of butter or margarine, the whole wheat bread is spread with Miracle Whip salad dressing on the outside before grilling to a golden brown. The last offering uses individual French bread loaves, scooped out, to hold a mixture of marinated vegetables and cheese.

These creations begin to show the endless possibilities for unique and delicious sandwiches. Whether at home or on the go, the Earl of Sandwich had the right idea for convenience and good eating.

Swedish cuisine is featured at Summit

Gourmets who particularly enjoy sampling the various world cuisines but can't afford to leave the country to do so, may want to visit the Summit Restaurant in Detroit's Westin Hotel this week as the cooking style of Sweden is featured.

Per Nilsson and Bernhard Stumpf, two Swedish chefs who trained under the famed Tore Wretman, will work with the Summit staff to prepare authentic Swedish dishes made from fresh ingredients flown in daily from Scandinavia.

Helping to sponsor the event are the Swedish Trade Office in New York and SAS Airlines.

The following two recipes are examples of what Sweden has to offer.

SWEDISH HASH PYTT-I-PANNA

Carefully prepared, this dish is superb. All the ingredients should be finely diced or chopped and fried separately, exactly right. Immediately before serving, they are blended together thoroughly.

Peel and dice finely:

6 to 8 medium potatoes, boiled and cold

Fry in slightly browned butter until golden. Remove to hot casserole dish and keep warm. Fry in the same pan in freshly browned butter:

about 2 cups fried and boiled meat, diced

Place with potatoes in casserole dish. Lower heat and fry in pan:

2 or 3 yellow onions, chopped
1 cup diced ham, lightly smoked or boiled

Add to meat and potatoes in casserole dish. Blend well. Remove to hot serving platter, sprinkle with finely chopped parsley, and serve with pickled beets and fried eggs, or hardboiled eggs, or raw egg yolks.

Variation: Pour 1 cup light cream over the fried hash and simmer over low heat for a few minutes. Serve with poached eggs and pickled beets. This variation has its own Swedish name: Doppsko.

SWEDISH PUNCH CAKE PUNSCHTARTA

Preheat oven to 350° (moderately hot). Butter thoroughly two 9-inch cake layer pans. Lightly flour pans. Beat together until light and fluffy:

4 eggs
1 cup (good measure) sugar

Sift, and mix into egg mixture:

1 cup (scent) cake flour
pinch of salt

Divide batter equally in cake pans and bake for 10-15 minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle immediately, leaving cakes in pans, with:

¼ cup Swedish Punch (a famous Swedish liquor) for each layer

Cover with aluminum foil and refrigerate. Unmold one layer on the serving dish and cover generously with whipped cream flavored with a few drops of Swedish Punch. Carefully place the other layer on top and cover with whipped cream, flavored with Punch. Serve cake well chilled.

French food is forte of Chef Izumi

Izumi Kabata is a 32-year-old bachelor who got his first taste of cooking in a French restaurant in Tokyo after washing dishes and waiting on tables.

He joined Benihana of Tokyo at 19, went to its special school, where he learned the technique of cutting steaks, chicken, shrimp and vegetables, and worked in Japan until 1974.

Being a Benihana chef isn't all showmanship. Sure, whipping the six to 10-inch knives from metal scabbards attached to a thick belt and flipping them like an expert gunfighter is important.

But a Benihana chef also must know how to cook on the steel grill, he must have an instinct for seasonings and he must make sure the sauces taste just right. You might find a couple of chefs on their days off at the next communal table eating and sampling the sauces to ensure this.

Izumi, who is more talkative preparing a meal at the hibachi than sitting at a table giving an interview, learned English working in New York in 1975.

"How would you like your steak?" he asked diners, finally getting the question perfect. "I didn't have to ask them how they liked their chicken, we cooked it all the same."

WHEN A party sat down one evening, Izumi decided to try out some Spanish.

"Buenas noches," he said, with a trace of Japanese accent.

"No comprende," one person replied. "I'm American, not Spanish."

After the meal, the same person complimented him. "You're a good chef."

"Gracias," Izumi persisted.

The diner became a bit huffy. "I'm American!"

Countered Izumi, "I'm Japanese."

In January, 1976, he helped open a Benihana in Dallas, where he is No. 2 chef. He also had a hand in starting new restaurants in New Orleans and Farmington, Conn.

IZUMI KABATA'S SHRIMP AU GRATIN

1 lb. medium shrimp
6 tsp. butter
4 tsp. all-purpose flour
½ small carrot, thinly sliced
1 onion, thinly sliced
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
½ cup shredded Edam cheese

Allow shrimp to boil 2 minutes, drain, let cook, peel, remove tails and devein. In large heated skillet, make a roux of butter and flour, fry carrot, onion, mushrooms and shrimp on medium high until carrot is almost tender, stirring often. Pour into 2-quart casserole, top with cheese and bake in preheated 350-degree oven 7 minutes. Serves 3-4.

BENIHANA'S GINGER SAUCE

¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup red wine vinegar

¼ cup chopped onion
½ tsp. ground ginger or small piece ginger root
Pinch of salt

In blender or food processor, combine all ingredients until smooth. Pour through strainer, stirring, into bowl to remove foam. Yields about ¾ cup, 6 servings. Dip cooked shrimp or scallops in sauce.

Nutritional cooking is topic of book by Liu

Chinese cooking expert and author, Christine Liu, has released her second cookbook called "More Nutritional Chinese Cooking."

Unlike many cookbooks, it contains accurate nutritional information about each recipe. Nutritional counts of the calories, protein, carbohydrates, fat, cholesterol, calcium, iron, fiber and vitamins B1, B2, A and C are documented.

"By providing specific, nutritional information," said Mrs. Liu, "cooks are able to enjoy and appreciate the low cholesterol, low fat advantages of cooking in the Chinese tradition. It's easy to see that Chinese dishes are both delicious and nutritious."

IN ADDITION, "More Nutritional

Chinese Cooking" contains information about fats, suggested diet menus and recommended daily requirements of calories, certain vitamins and minerals. Other sections outline Chinese customs and utensils along with traditional methods of preparation. Recipes are easy-to-follow and illustrated with decorative paper-cut designs by China's leading artists. Photographs from Mrs. Liu's recent trips to China are also included.

Christine Liu received her master's degree in nutrition and public health from the University of Michigan and lives in Ann Arbor with her husband, Dr. Stephen Liu. They have four children. Mrs. Liu was born in Shanghai and reared in mainland China.

Hamburger still popular

For many families today, ground beef can almost be considered a staple ingredient in the kitchen for it is used on a regular basis. A recent survey found in the households serving beef that ground beef dishes were served 3.1

times in an average two-week period in 1981/82.

This compares with beef roasts that were served 2.1 times and steaks that were served on 1.9 occasions in the same time period.

Beef empanada: Good way to a thrifty meal

For many families today, ground beef is considered a staple ingredient in the kitchen for it is used on a very regular basis. This popular meat is a frequent lead item at the supermarket.

Since ground beef comes to the table so often creative cooks always appreciate a new way to use ground beef and will want to try this recipe for Beef Empanada, the Mexican version of meat pie. Providing an especially tasty variation of this favorite south-of-the-border entree, in this recipe spicy ground beef filling is wrapped and baked in a simple cornmeal pastry. The filling will definitely appeal to fans of Mexican cuisine for the ground beef is combined with refried beans, tomato sauce and Cheddar cheese. Chili powder, cumin, oregano leaves and garlic powder join flavor forces to season the ground beef robustly.

Meat pies have long been popular with thrifty cooks, not only because they are delicious and add variety to menus, but also because they are usually economical. You will want to add Beef Empanada to your file of special ground beef recipes.

onion, stirring to combine. Cook slowly 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in cheese. Cool. Meanwhile, prepare Cornmeal Pastry. Roll pastry out on lightly floured surface to measure 14 x 15 inches. Cut two 1/4 x 15-inch strips of pastry; twist, cover and reserve. Transfer remaining pastry to baking sheet. Place meat mixture lengthwise in 5-inch strip down center of pastry. Bring long sides of pastry together on top, overlapping slightly at seam, and press to close. Press ends firmly together and pinch into a twist or rope edge. Place a reserved twisted pastry strip along each side of center seam. Beat egg with 1 teaspoon water; brush over surface of pastry. Cut seven 1 1/2-inch crosswise slits on top of pastry, of each side. Bake in moderate oven (375°) 35 to 40 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before cutting. 8 servings.

*CORNMEAL PASTRY
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 cup cornmeal
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup lard
5 tsp. cold water

Combine flour, cornmeal and salt; cut lard into mixture with a fork or pastry blender until it resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, 1 table-spoon at a time, mixing quickly and evenly until dough just holds in a ball when pressed. Yield: pastry for 14 x 15-inch crust.

Serve slices of Beef Empanada with a combination of cooked carrots and celery. A crisp salad of mixed greens will offer nice contrast. End the meal on a cool note with cups of orange sections sprinkled with shredded coconut.

Beef Empanada combines many favorite Mexican flavors — beef, tomato, refried beans, cheese and spices — in a flaky cornmeal pastry.

Fad diets risky, experts say

Americans today are far too quick to embrace the newest diet or health fad that comes along, especially those that promise instant weight loss by eating nothing but fruit or special low-calorie substances. There always seems to be an audience out there looking for a quick and easy way to trimmer looks.

Those who follow such fads risk poor health in the long run no matter what instant benefits they may seem to enjoy, two nutrition experts warn in the March Reader's Digest.

Dr. Fredrick J. Stare, professor emeritus of nutrition at Harvard University, and Elizabeth M. Whelan, executive director of the New York-based American Council on Science and Health, write that "most diet and nutrition fads have built-in health hazards that may do you more harm than good. Some diets may deprive your body of essential nutrients; others may overload your system with potentially hazardous substances; in a few cases, the regimen may encourage you to overlook symptoms that deserve professional medical attention."

DISCUSSING the popular Beverly Hills diet, which calls for the consumption of nothing but fruit for 10 days, Dr. Stare and Whelan write: "It's obvious why so many people lose weight quickly and dramatically on this bizarre plan. Ten days of eating nothing but fruit is likely to cause diarrhea and possible urinary frequency. So while much of the weight loss may come from the decrease in calories, a good bit is due to dehydration. Some people may think this is a fair trade-off for a quick 10-to-15-pound weight loss... but fluid loss can cause severe loss of nutrients, particularly minerals, with an attendant risk of cardiac problems."

The authors also offer a word of caution about the Cambridge diet, which promises weight loss by use of a special low-calorie protein product in powdered form. They say that the safety and effectiveness of this diet, which is being promoted to "hundreds of thousands of people," have yet to be proved.

Because most diets and health fads are not scientifically tested before being presented to the public, the authors say anyone considering a drastic change in eating habits should remember that there are no "revolutionary," "miracle" or "special eating substances" that will help the body burn off unwanted fats.

The best way to take off pounds is still through a tried-and-true formula — smaller portions of a balanced diet, permanent change in eating habits and increased exercise.

THE LATEST NEWSLETTER published by the West Suburban Stamp Club had a little item members of other clubs might enjoy — if they haven't read it before. It was new to me, but oh, how true!

"There are four kinds of bones in every organization 1) The Wishbones, those who spend their time wishing someone else would do the work; 2) The Jawbones, who do a lot of talking, but little else; 3) The Knucklebones, who knock everything anyone tries; and 4) the backbones, who get under the load and do the work."

The WSSC members finalized plans Friday night for their annual stamp show next Saturday and Sunday in Central Middle School. It is the largest fun stamp show in Michigan, attracting thousands of visitors. You don't have to be a stamp collector to enjoy the show. And it's an exciting learning experience for children.

THE 1983 HONEY Princess is none other than Karen Cady of Canton Township. Karen was crowned recently by the Michigan Beekeepers Association at a meeting in Lansing.

As the Michigan Honey Princess, Karen will promote honey for the beekeepers at state and local fairs and take part in various parades all over Michigan. She plans to be in the Canton Country Festival parade.

Karen went to Lansing with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alloway, longtime beekeepers in Canton. The Beekeepers Association always meets during Farmers Week in Lansing. The new Honey Princess has become fascinated with beekeeping and hopes to get her own hive started later this spring. The Alloways are taking her to beekeepers' school at Schoolcraft College.

Karen is a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University, soon to be a junior. She is majoring in theater and telecommunications. Karen graduated from Plymouth Canton High School in 1981. She is a member of the International Thespians Honor Society and was involved in drama as a student at the Centennial Educational Park. She worked on "Fiddler on the Roof" and had roles in "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

"I am so proud of the CEP drama group being invited to perform in the Austrian festival," Karen said.

At EMU she has appeared in such plays as "Electra," "Street Scene" and "Wind in the Willows." She said several middle school groups from here went over to Ypsilanti to see "Wind in the Willows."

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cady of Lilley Road.

GARY CASKEY, our photographer for the past seven years, has gone to work for the Birmingham Eccentric in our Observer and Eccentric chain. He took and processed his last pictures for the Plymouth and Canton Observers last week.

It was a gloomy week as Gary did a little packing every day. The staff took him out for lunch — a not very cheerful affair. In a small office like this one, joys and sorrows are shared. We rejoice and we agonize together.

It seems so long ago that Gary first came from Ann Arbor to work here. Photo assignments had to include detailed instructions on how to get from here to there. He soon knew his way around better than the rest of us. And the community grew on him. He wasn't happy until he found a place to live here. He was a fan of all the athletic teams, although a photographer rarely can stay until the end of the game. They have to get to the lab to print their pictures.

He's taken thousands of pictures of our parades, festivals, ceremonies, theatrical performances, fashion shows, book sales, sporting events, the elderly, students and children. He's recorded — photographically — seven years of life in this small community.

I like to think of all those pictures and newspaper clippings preserved in boxes of family, club and school snapshots. And, I'd wager, 30 years from now they'll still look at them and say, "That was a darned good picture."

A group of special women will be honored Thursday night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. They will be dined, entertained and receive awards at the annual recognition banquet.

Dinner will be served to the volunteers and their guests by the administrative department and department heads. Speakers for the evening will be Mayor Louis Belcher of Ann Arbor and Mayor Peter Murdoch of Ypsilanti. Bob Ferns R.N. will be master of ceremonies.

Entertainment will be provided by LaVonne Zuelling R.N., an accomplished pianist, and the "Ivy League" barbershop quartet. Patricia Sage, coordinator of volunteer services, and Phyllis Anderson will present the American Hospital Association pins.

EVA HATCHER, who will receive her 1,000-hour guard, is one of the many volunteers from the Plymouth-Canton community. She began her volunteer service in 1979. She works in the room-scheduling office in the Education Center at the hospital. In addition to her volunteer work, she enjoys golfing, bowling and gardening. She and her husband are the parents of a son and a daughter and have four grandchildren.

Helen Merrill will be honored for 700 hours as a volunteer. Virginia Breneman and Joan Kindree will receive new 600-hour guards for their volunteer pins.

Carolyn Jacobs, one of the original members of the Hazel Larsen Guild esablished in 1978, will receive a 500-hour guard. The guild initiated a program in the admitting area of the hospital to assist not only the staff, but also to give support to patients being admitted.

MARIE MAST and Jacobs work as a team on Thursdays in the admitting department. Mast began her volunteer work in September 1980 and will receive an award pin for 300 hours of service.

Marian Gotshall and Patricia Prchlik also will receive 300-hour guards.

Phyllis Kordick, Ann Taylor and Joan Wehmeyer will be honored for 400 hours of volunteer duty. Ruth Klosterhaus will receive a 200-hour guard and pin. Dorian Dybas and Pat Guthrie have earned 200 200-hour guards.

One hundred hour pins go to Carole Carlson, Teresa Johnson, Peggy Leonard, Marilyn Lynch, Patricia Stewart, Mary Tyson and Janet West.

Up to 100-hour volunteers are Timothy Bernth, Lucy Bishop, Judith Chrysler, Eileen Dunn, Margaret Fisher, Joyce Foust, Carol Gardner, Peggy Huffer, Loretta Klein, Lou Larrow, Phyllis Lawrence, Rose Manooogian, Diane Ost, Mary Priebe, Kathy Richardson, Jackie Stack, Virginia Taylor and Phyllis VanWagoner.

Breezy clothes made for spring

John Miller modelled clothes from the John Smith store.

Highlighting the children's fashions for spring were (left) Cindy Stocki and Mandy Stocki. Cindy's culottes and top were from Minerva's and Mandy's clam diggers and knit shirt were from Before and After.

The commentator for the fashion show was Lynn Lyon. She provided colorful descriptions of the spring show.

The Plymouth Newcomers Club's "Spring Designer Showcase" played to a full house. Guests scampered through a torrential April rain to the party in the Mayflower Meeting House.

They dined on fresh pineapple boats, tossed salad, stuffed boneless breast of chicken, broccoli with Hollandaise sauce, homemade rolls and daquiri ice, and champagne.

Club president Judy Lore welcomed the guests. Later, she presented a check to Pat Thomas of Dunning-Hough Library. Lynn Lyon commented on the fashions and dozens of prizes were awarded.

The women applauded the fashions and the prizes provided by Plymouth merchants. They left the party to find the sun shining brightly.

Beekeepers swarm to school at Schoolcraft on Saturday

By Carol Anderson
Staff writer

Wayne and Oakland County apiarists will be busy this weekend. Instead of gathering honey, they'll be learning everything anyone ever wanted to know about beekeeping.

More than 200 amateur and professional beekeepers will swarm around Schoolcraft College in Livonia for their association's 48th annual Bee School. It begins at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Liberal Arts Building, 10400 Haggerty.

"There's a lot of camaraderie among beekeepers," said Robert Kimball of Plymouth, president of the Southeastern Michigan Beekeepers Association, which is sponsoring the program.

Lecture halls will be abuzz with discussions of bee diseases, equipment for hives, beekeeping for the hobbyist and spring management of hives. A street fair — complete with demonstrations on candle dripping, packaging honey, making soap, bee balm and Ukrainian eggs — is also planned.

MANY APIARISTS take up the profession not only for profit, but also for pleasure, said Kimball, who earns about $5,000 a year selling honey made in his several hives.

"It gives me lunch and beer money," he joked. The bulk of his earnings comes from his full-time job as an education professor at Mercy College, Detroit.

Aside from the business aspects, Kimball appreciates the scientific process of beekeeping.

"A beekeeper becomes a farmer. He develops an awareness of nature because he worries about whether the bees will make it through the winter."

That's a problem in Michigan, where harsh winters may take the lives of bees and profits of beekeepers.

"Bees must get out of the hives in mid-January," Kimball said. "They have to go to the bathroom sometime. If the temperature is 40 degrees or higher, they'll fly out and survive. If it's not, they fly out the door and die."

BEESKEEPERS are busiest during spring and summer. During summer, many hives increase in number and produce a few queen bees. When that happens, they swarm.

Then the "old queen" leads a troop of bees out of the hive to set up housekeeping in an old oak tree, fireplace or ing by artificially swarming the hive, splitting the bee colony in half, adding a new queen bee and putting the new colony in a new hive," Kimball said.

The process is tricky because beekeepers get stung several times before making a new home for their bees.

"I've already been stung 20 times this year," said Kimball. "After a while, I don't think about it anymore."

MANY PROFESSIONAL beekeepers act as rescue squads for area residents whose backyards or homes have been infiltrated by swarms of bees, said Robert Byberg, another member of the group.

"Police and fire departments don't want to bother with it so they call us," said Byberg, who teaches beekeeping classes at Cranbrook Institute of Science in Bloomfield Hills.

"We approach the hive after dark when all the little monsters are ready to go to bed, put them in a car and transport them to Cranbrook."

Byberg, a surgeon at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, said he has been interested in beekeeping since he was a child.

"I lived on a farm in Pennsylvania and watched my neighbor, who was an excellent beekeeper, take care of his hives. He helped me start my first hive."

"When I went to college, I abandoned the hobby and didn't take it up again until 12 years ago. One of my friends at Beaumont had a farm in Weston. His daughter, who had five hives, got married and went to Germany, leaving my friend holding the bag."

"Helping him out renewed my interest in beekeeping," Byberg said. SINCE THEN, Byberg has taught classes at Cranbrook and helped establish the Cranbrook Bee Club in 1978.

The avid apiarist said he appreciates the aesthetic aspect more than the business side of beekeeping.

"You can't help being fascinated while watching a bee colony," Byberg said.

Robert Kimball, a professional beekeeper, handles his hives with care. He earns about $5,000 annually from selling honey made in his hives, some of which are located at Haggerty and Park, Northville. CHRIS BOYD/Staff photographer

TEMPORARY CROWNS
If you're waiting for a crown to be fitted to a tooth, chances are you'll be given a temporary crown until the permanent one is ready. The "temporary" will have cosmetic value in maintaining the appearance of your mouth. It will also serve some important functions, such as maintaining the proper space and the relationship with adjacent and opposing teeth.
Often the temporary crown will be made of acrylic material of the exact shade to match your other teeth. But it is not intended to last very long, only until the permanent crown is in place to give the tooth long-lasting protection.
Sometimes a temporary crown may have to last several months. This can happen if other work has to be completed before the crown is put in place. If this is the case, a longer-lasting temporary crown will be made. This may be made of a heat-processed acrylic which has a harder, more durable finish than the usual acrylic, or of some other wear-resistant material.

Two different teams share only the track

By Jim DuFreese
staff writer

The Plymouth Canton and Salem boys track teams use the same track, share the same starting gun, open up their season at home at the same meet.

But don't be fooled. They are not the same team. They are as different as they are similar. Maybe more so. Canton has 45 runners on the squad which endured a 2-3-1 season last spring. Salem has a whopping 97 kids on the team, including 18 seniors who were 7-1 in dual meets last year.

"THIS IS really an unknown team," said Salem coach Gary Balconi. "We have many large gaps left over from last year. But we have a lot of kids out and their attitude is good."

"We're out to do two things this spring. One, to win our division; and two, to win the league championship. That's going to be a tough challenge with Livonia Stevenson in the same league this year."

But one that Balconi knows he can take on. His clipboard is loaded with returning runners, including co-captain Dan Lingg who the Salem coach calls his "multi-purpose man".

The senior will enter a variety of events including the 440 relay and the long jump in which he placed sixth at the Spartan Relays recently with an effort of 21-feet-6. But he puts on his best show in the pole vault event.

LAST YEAR Lingg cleared 13-feet-6 and finished his junior season by placing seventh at the state meet. This spring Lingg has set a higher goal for himself.

"He wants to clear 14 foot," said Balconi. "He has done that already in practice, in fact he's cleared 14-foot-8, but never in competition."

Salem's other co-captains are just as talented. Senior Mark Zurek will be part of the mile and 880 relay teams and should score points in the high jump. He is also the second fastest hurdler Balconi has ever had in his nine-year coaching reign.

Senior Frank Brosnan is the third captain and a fine two-miler who will be joined in the distance events by returning classmates Brad Haertel and Skip Whittaker. Balconi is leaving the half-mile runs to the juniors as Karl Gansler and Jerry Smith return to improve their times in the event.

ONE OF the gaps the Salem coach has to fill is his sprinting corps which was senior-studded last spring. His most promising sprinter this spring is Mark Tindall.

"Mark was part of our excellent 440 and 880 relay teams last year," Balconi said. "But the other three members on it were seniors that I have to replace. We're a big team though and that helps."

Salem lost its first meet of the year when Dearborn, the only team to beat the Rocks last spring, ran over them, 86 1/2 to 46 1/2. Salem managed firsts with Gansler in the half mile, junior Doug Spencer in the discus and in the relays with its 440 and 880 teams.

The 880 squad of George Condash, Tindall, Zurek and Mike White were clocked at 1:39 while Lingg, Jeff Arnold, Matt Broderick and Randy Johnson raced to a winning time of 45.9 in the 440.

PLYMOUTH CANTON

The numbers aren't quite as large as Salem's but they're growing for the Canton boys track team. Last year coach Mike Spitz had 20 boys to build a team with. This spring he has 45, including 14 letter winners.

"We had a lot of outstanding sprinters last spring, this year we're much more balanced," said the Canton coach who is entering his seventh season. "We're going to be a well-rounded team. It would be nice if we got back to a 500 record in dual meets."

To fill out his depleted sprinter corps, Spitz is turning to junior Elijah Rogers and seniors Steve Light and Bob Billings.

THE CHIEF coach, a Boston Marathon finisher himself, thinks of his distance men as one of the team's strengths. Senior Ralph DiCosto heads the group of runners which includes junior Glenn Furgie and senior Mike Thomas, a one-time sprinter.

Cindy McSurely returns to the Plymouth Salem lineup to give the Rocks strength in the hurdle and high jump events.

Teams in rebuilding year

By Jim DuFreese
staff writer

Fred Thomann is just happy to be back, and Bob Richardson is not too happy with what he has coming back.

And so it goes with the girls' track teams at Plymouth Canton and Salem as their coaches scramble to rebuild the squads for the Mangan Memorial Meet Saturday. The all-Plymouth classic will be the opening test for Thomann and Richardson, who will be fielding young and untested squads.

"It's real good to be back," said Thomann, who last coached the Salem girls' track team in 1976. "It's been fun so far this spring."

THOMANN HAS only 11 runners and six seniors returning from the 1982 season when the Rocks posted a spotless 7-0 dual-meet record and finished the year fifth in the regional meet.

But the runners he does have coming back are good. Salem will be hard to beat this year in the sprints, especially the sprint relays. Returning to the 440 and 880 teams are senior Ann Glomski and juniors Kelly Bemiss and Dawn Johnson. Last year the relay squads finished second in the regionals to qualify for the state meet.

Johnson was also the regional champ in the 220 last spring with an effort of 28.1 while all three are the team's long jumpers. Glomski set a school record in the event as a junior with the leap of 17 feet 8 1/2 and went on to finish third in the regionals.

"The long jumpers who are coming back this year are very good," Thomann said. "They should score some points for us."

SO SHOULD Cheri Muneo, who set a school record in the discus last year with the toss of 113 feet, and Cindy McSurely who set a pair of school records. As a junior, McSurely cleared 5 foot 4 to break one mark and then was clocked 15.7 in the 110 hurdles for another.

Thomann is also counting on junior Shelly Simons in the quarter- and half-mile runs, Ruth Ettinger in the distance events, Garene Gray in the high jump and sprinter Carol Lindsay in the 220 and quarter mile for points in the Mangan Meet.

"It's a good meet to open the season on," Thomann said. "I'll have an opportunity to run all my kids as we'll have three or four heats."

PLYMOUTH CANTON

This is Richardson's fourth year as coach of the Canton girls' track team but the first year he has so little returning. There are just six letter winners on Richardson's squad this spring and only one senior.

As any coach in this situation would say it's going to be a learning experience for the Chief coach.

"We seem to have a lot of freshmen and sophomores on this team," Richardson said. "I've never had a team so young before. I usually have around eight seniors on the team. This year I have one."

THAT'S KIM BROWN, a sprinter who teamed up with junior Lisa Wood and co-captain Ruthann Trout to form the 440 relay that scored in the league meet last year. Junior Pat Brennan also scored points in the Western Six Championships in the long jump while junior co-captain Ida Williams, a distance runner, and junior Julie Durkin, quarter- and half-miler, complete the list of returning members of last year's 1-5 squad.

Richardson sees this as a year where some younger members of the team will gain the experience for later years. Running with or maybe behind the best of them in the Western Lakes Conference will be sophomores Kim Bennett, Carolyn Nagy, Hollie Ivey and Jan Alvarado and freshmen Lori Schauda, Marie Jarosz and Pam Barstow.

"Hopefully we're building for later on the experience we get from this season," Richardson said. "We'll be as competitive as we can, but we're going to take our lumps this spring."

Judges ruin gymnast's dream

By Jim DuFreese
staff writer

The trouble with gymnastics is that it's a judge, not the competitors, who determine the winner. The trouble with being a senior is that it's your last shot.

The trouble with Greg Bosscawen is that he was a senior on the Michigan State gymnastic team. This was his final season, so he was gunning for the top honors: He wanted to finish his career as an all-American.

The MSU captain entered the NCAA meet in early April with the second highest average in the nation for the parallel bars. Only Scott Johnson of University of Nebraska had a higher seasonal average.

BUT THE MEET ended for Bosscawen in the preliminaries. One judge rated his performance 9.8, the other 9.3. Because of the wide discrepancy between the ratings, the judges compromised and gave the North Farmington grad a 9.4.

It was Bosscawen's lowest mark of the year, but worse, it was 0.5 points short of qualifying for the finals.

"I was a little disappointed, no, I was really disappointed," said Bosscawen. "What I wanted to do was make all-American, and I would have done it if I made the finals."

"But that's the sport. It all depends on the judges."

THE SCORE CAUSED a minor uproar among the meet's 12 judges. Many wanted it reconsidered and protested throughout the day. But in the end, it remained, and the MSU senior watched the finals from the stands.

"There was quite a controversy over his score," said Kurt Golder, assistant coach for the Spartan squad. "Five judges approached me and said that Greg got a hose job."

Bosscawen wasn't the only one stripping off the green-and-white uniform for the last time after the preliminaries. Pete Roberts, a Southfield-Lathrup grad, also wrapped up his gymnastic career at the NCAA cham-ionships. The vaulter failed to make the finals when he scored a 9.4 in the first round.

"Pete took three steps on his landing, and that cost him a 9.7 score" said Golder. "Still, both of them had great seasons. At one time, Pete was rated number one in the nation, and Greg was rated second for their events."

NOT BAD, CONSIDERING both were walk-ons their freshman year.

Bosscawen began the sport as a sophomore in high school. He learned much from North Farmington coach Dennis Fitzgerald but took few honors during his prep days.

"Our team was mediocre at best," said Bosscawen. "Everybody on the squad had never been in gymnastics before."

But the groundwork had been laid. Both gymnasts signed up for the Spartan team, stuck with it their freshman year and earned a spot on the varsity squad the following season.

Perfect game won't count

Strange things are happening in the bowling establishments these days and few of them are any stranger than what happened to Jim Strange in the senior classic at Super Bowl.

As a regular sharpshooter in the league on Mondays, he came through with the first nine strikes and then faltered with a perfect game in sight. But he did finish with a 278 game for a 731 series.

Then on Tuesday, he came back to take part in a make-up match. And here is what happened. He opened with 245, followed with 225 and then closed with 300 for 770.

The irony, however, is the fact that the American Bowling Congress will not recognize the perfect game, because it wasn't in competition. And the Congress doesn't have special awards for 700 series. So here is a fellow who rolled back-to-back 700 series and a perfect game but will have nothing to show for it.

Could anything be stranger?
ADDING TO STRANGE happenings, Shirley Vassas, bowling with the Early Birds at Woodland Lanes, rolled an all space game and finished with a 181 game.

WONDERLAND LANES: Two more members were added to the 700 club rolls Tuesday night when Jerry Heilstadt posted a 745 in the Classic and Chuck Powell followed with a 717.

In the ladies division Monica Dlugoo was high with a 652.

MERRI-BOWL: Randy Smith was high man in the senior house league with a 279 opener in a 734 series. Next in line came and Tom Bushell had a 719 to pace the Bell league.

Rose Aprahamian was high in the ladies classic with 621.

WOODLAND LANES: Mike Urda and Ambrose Jacobs waged a battle for leadership in the GM Daisel loop. When it ended Jacobs was high with 627 and Arba had a 615.

WESTLAND BOWL: The ladies classic offered most of the competition and when the last pin fell Kim Jones was high with 656. Behind her came Jan Vaderwill with 642, Jan Lapham with 638, Jane Martin with 607 and Mary Hansen with 602.

Frosh's goal knots contest

By Paul King
 special writer

Livonia Churchill started seven freshman in its game against Plymouth Salem Wednesday, but it was a single Rock frosh who caused the outing to end in a 3-3 tie.

In a constant downpour, Julie Tortora booted three goals in her first game for Salem. The freshman scored only 1:16 into the first half to give her school a quick 1-0 lead.

Churchill's Teri Zeches came right back to tie the game with a goal at 1:40 before Tortora put a header in for Salem's 2-1 halftime advantage. The Livonia team went ahead 3-2 with goals by Jennifer Huegll and Zeches in the second half and appeared to have the game won in the closing minutes.

But Tortora kicked in her final goal from 10 yards out with 40 seconds remaining for the tie. Shelly Staszal assisted the freshman on all three scores.

Sarah Wallman made 13 saves in the goal for the Rocks, while Sarah Porter and Sarah Edwards split goaltending duties for Churchill, combining for six saves.

The outing was the league opener for both schools, leaving them with an overall and conference mark of 0-0-1 in the Western Lakes.

Swim registration set

The Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club will conduct registration and tryouts Saturday for two programs — Munchkin and Age Group Swimming. Registration will take place at Stevenson High School, 2:30-4 p.m. For more information, call Mike Sullivan at 464-1452.

Cost of the Munchkin program is $20 per swimmer for 12 one-hour sessions, while the age group cost has a $10 membership fee and a $20-per-month practice fee.

Figuring out plot heightens action of Norris' latest

Chuck Norris, of the flying feet and flying fists, is Texas Ranger J.J. McQuade, known as "Long Wolf McQuade" (PG).

About all we know for sure is that he is after gun smugglers. Everything else in this movie fits together haphazardly, like a collection of snippets from stock scenes at a B-movie festival.

There is the bad guy (David Carradine) who does everything but twirl his mustache and tie the heroine to the railroad tracks. There is the bad guy's girlfriend (Barbara Carrera), who leads the ranger on and sets him up.

There is the ranger's commanding officer (R.G. Armstrong), who tells him he can't keep bending the laws and he can't continue to work alone. Finally, there is the well-intentioned but unwanted partner (Robert Beltran).

THE FEDS ALSO get involved in this case, and McQuade ends up with still another partner (Leon Isaac Kennedy). By now we expect a chorus of "The Star-Spangled Banner" on the soundtrack as the WASP ranger with the help of a Hispanic and a black Federal agent goes after the smugglers.

One thing this democratically arranged trio demonstrates is that one single ethnic or racial group has the monopoly on stupidity. These three officers, along with other rangers and Federal agents, generally manage to muck things up.

This might lead one to think that the script isn't so fair-minded after all, when it shows the good guys as a bunch of dim bulbs, but the bad guys also have their moments of non compos mentis. One incident that stands out is when they kidnap McQuade's daughter and take her to their desert hideout where the weapons are stored.

Since the one thing they don't want is McQuade to discover the hideout, why do they do the one thing that guarantees that McQuade will track them down?

As for Ranger McQuade, he doesn't have much to say except for the occasional pithy remark such as, "Trouble never takes a vacation." Perhaps there is more than one level of meaning to this movie. Consider, for example, the insistence of McQuade on working alone. Maybe McQuade is a sensitive fellow who is trying to cover up the fact that no one wants to work with him.

THERE ARE GOOD reasons to support this theory. McQuade wears the sweatiest, grungiest clothes; drives the dirtiest, most battered station wagon and lives in a house that could be classified among the 10 most hazardous-waste sites in the country.

This movie seems to equate manliness with smelliness, bad habits and a refrigerator stocked only with beer. McQuade, incidentally, is separated from his wife (Sharon Farrell), who probably regards his absence with a sigh of relief, not to mention a lungful of air.

"Lone Wolf McQuade" can only be recommended for die-hard martial arts fans who will put up with anything in order to see a few scenes of hand-to-hand, foot-to-foot combat. These scenes, by the way, have been orchestrated with sound effects which suggest each man has been struck by a howitzer, not a hand.

Films held over

Burt Lancaster stars as the eccentric head of a Texas oil company who attempts to buy a quaint Scottish fishing village in "Local Hero." Also in the cast are Peter Riegert, Fulton McKay and Dennis Lawson. (Below) Clio Goldsmith is Barbara, who becomes a very special gift, in "The Gift." Venice, the city of romance, is the setting for the film, which also stars Pierre Mondy and Claudia Cardinale. Both movies are being held over exclusively at the Maple Theatre in Birmingham.

what's at the movies

BAD BOYS (R). Violent film of teen-agers in prison, with strong performance by Sean Penn, the spaced-out surfer from "Fast Times at Ridgemont High."

BETRAYAL (R). Jeremy Irons, Ben Kingsley and Patricia Hodge are caught up in emotional triangle in movie scripted by Harold Pinter.

GANDHI (PG). Epic film about Mahatma Gandhi, political and spiritual leader who led movement for Indian independence from Britain. Magnificent performance by Ben Kingsley as Gandhi.

THE GIFT (R). Bedroom farce with Pierre Mondy as a retired, married banker whose quiet life is changed by an unusual gift — an international beauty.

HIGH ROAD TO CHINA (PG). Action, romance and adventure as Tom Selleck and Bess Armstrong make their way across the orient in a race against time.

JOYSTICKS (R). Contemporary comedy starring Joe Don Baker, Leif Green and Jim Greenleaf.

LOCAL HERO (PG). Cliches go flying in this wry film about a Texas oil company that wants to buy out a quaint Scottish fishing village. Directed by Bill Forsyth ("Gregory's Girl"). Burt Lancaster is featured in cast.

LONE WOLF McQUADE (R). Martial arts (heavy on martial, light on arts) action with Chuck Norris as Texas Ranger after gun smugglers. He likes to work solo, and it's too bad the plot won't let him because every time he opens his mouth this movie becomes an unintentional comedy.

MAX DUGAN RETURNS (PG). Marsha Mason, Neil Simon, Donald Sutherland and Jason Robards combine talents in story of teacher who struggles to support her young son, then receives big-money gifts from ex-convict father.

THE OUTSIDERS (PG). C. Thomas Howell, Matt Dillon and Ralf Macchio star in adaptation of S.E. Hinton's classic about conflict between poor and rich boys in Tulsa of 1966.

PIAF, THE EARLY YEARS (PG). Traces the singer's early years, from the streets and brothels of Pigalle through her startling rise to stardom, based on biography by her half-sister, Simone Berteaut.
