Still stalemate in teacher talks school district and its teachers went to mediation Friday. However, the onehour session brought the two sides no closer to agreement on a wage re-opener clause

Teachers currently are working under a two-year contract that expires in June

"Our position basically is unchanged, and so is their's," said Tom Cotner, chief negotiator for the Plymouth-Canton Education Association.

"We just restated our positions. No progress was made."

Cotner, who resigned his union post after the teachers voted in late August to return to work, resumed his bargaining duties Tuesday after fellow teachers circulated petitions in a strong show of support.

'Our position is unchanged and so is their's . . . We just restated out position. No progress was made.'

> - Tom Cotner Chief negotiator.

A' UNION request for binding fact finding was turned down by the district. Cotner said.

Under binding factfinding, both sides report to an arbitrator on what they perceive to be the financial situation of the district and how their proposals are Bargainers for the Plymouth-Canton fair and equitable within that context, he added. Whatever decision the factfinder reaches after listening to each side must be accepted by both.

> "We were interested in that because it would bring a certain end to (bargaining) within a period of time," said Cotner, adding that the district gave no reason for rejecting the plan.

> "We were concerned that the process be expedited because of the situation that exists with the support groups (cafeteria, transportation, maintenance/custodian, secretarial employees and teacher aids)."

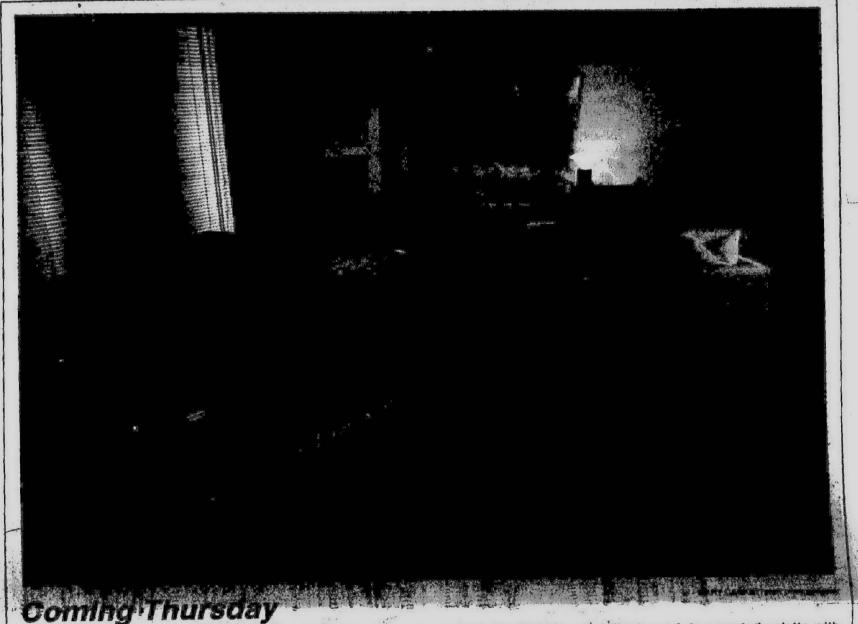

> Their unions have set a Friday, Sept. 30, deadline for a negotiated settlement on contracts and wage reopeners, and are requesting bargaining as a single team.

THE PCEA in its final action Friday asked mediator Ed Phillips of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission to certify for factfinding. Ordinarily, factfinding could take up to two to three months.

Because we're anxious to reach a settlement, we talked to the head of MERC about trying to get it done prior to the 30th. He agreed he would do everything to see that happen," said Cotner.

PCEA and district bargainers are awaiting word from Phillips, who is ex-pected to schedule a factfinding bearing for sometime this week. Factfinding, in which the mediator proposes a non-binding settlement, is the last step the teachers legally can take in their efforts to negotiate an agreement.

District officials were unavailable for comment Friday.

The family room created by Interior designers Joel Mettler and Jane Levy Mettler of Birmingham is on the lower level of a Bloom field Township condominium that will be featured in Thursday's "Interiors 83," a special section in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. The Mettlers, who like to work in a neutral palette with splashes of bright color, gave the entire home an upbest New York look without neglecting comfort.

Deborah Stein Sharpe of Plymouth came to learn how not to meet the fate of her close friend who was raped and murdered by an unknown assailant.

In attendance was another young woman who's earned several karate belts since an attacker raped and beat her. "I wasn't born with a face like this," she said bitterly, pointing to a visibly disfigured nose.

A Canton senior citizen who suffers from arthritis and heart trouble came because "there's so much sex crime all over. Sex offenders' minds are so sick they'll even rape a 90-year-old lady." The woman was hoping to leave the elderly. "I'm not very strong any-more," she said.

The three were among a mostly female audience of about 50 at a free Oakwood Canton Center self-defense class

Canton Police Cpl. Robert vanLith and Oakwood's Joan Petroske, organizers of the August program, had to turn away more than 30 women for whom there was no room. To accommodate them, another session is being scheduled

AT SOME time in their lives, 69 of every 100,000 American women will be raped, according to vanLith.

That means that of the approximately 41,500 women in the Plymouth-Canraped during their lifetime.

VanLith, who conducted the class for free, advocates survival techniques presented by Frederic Storaska in his book and film, "How to Say No to a Rapist and Survive." VanLith recommends the book as a confidence-builder for women whose lifestyles make them particularly vulnerable Ideally, women could enhance their chance of survival in life-threatening situations by studying the martial arts. Few, however, are willing or able to make the necessary commitment. Like Storaska, vanLith discourages women from carrying weapons because they're not always immediately accessible and easily can be used against the victim.

SCREAMING, struggling and fighting are recommended by vanLith only when a woman is under attack and her life is on the line.

More effective is "buying time" to think and the practice of "psychological karate." As a last resort, one of two bilitate an attacker 100 percent of the time, he says.

Psychological karate involves "eating humble pie" and making the attacker view you as a person, explains van-Lith.

"Go along attitudinally, not sexually, with the attacker," concurs Storaska in his film. "Make sure you represent no threat or risk to him."

A PLYMOUTH woman kidnapped recently by a would-be rapist in Hines Park escaped in this way. Forced to drive around for two hours locked in her assailant's car, she never allowed a pause in the conversation. She personalized herself as much as possible. Playing upon her attacker's sympathies, she told him she was the single parent of two young children who greatly needed her. She talked incessantly about both their interests and steered away from subjects that might agitate him. After a seemingly endless ride, the woman was freed, unhurt.

Women who've practiced the alterbrutalized and had their skulls ci VanLith's audience, however, wasn't entirely convinced.

MARY JO DURIVAGE, president of the National Organization for Women's northwest Wayne chapter, believes a woman under attack "should scream, fight, do anything she can to get away." Films entitled "Rape - Victim or Victor," (recommended by the Detroit Police Department,) "No Pat Answer," and "Rape - a Preventive Inquiry" treat the crime more seriously, focus on older as well as college-age women and contain a less sexist language than vanLith's film, she said.

"If you scrape up a guy's face with your keys you're going to get him madder than beck," continued vanLith. "Use verbal tactics to get him to calm down and drop his knife or weapon.

"Give yourself time to think. Put on an act. There are so many things a woman can use to verbally offset an attacker."

telling the assailant you have herpes or veneral disease may work.

"Tell him you're three months pregnant and have had three miscarriages.

The idea is to get the rapist to view you as a person, not a victim, he added. If unsuccessful, vanLith goes along with either of Storaska's recommended techniques.

A SUREFIRE way to rob a rapist of sight is to place your hands about his face, as if about to kiss him. Place your thumbs over his eyes and push.

"If nothing else, the pain and shock will be so bad he won't be able to see. He may black out or go blind. The technique works so well the eyeball can be popped right out," vanLith says.

A second measure can be used when attacked from behind. "Rub up against the rapist, your back to the front of his body. Reach back grab his testicles and squeeze as hard as you can. He's likely to black out from shock," says vanLith.

The not-too-pretty profile of rape

Every hour of every day in the United States, someone is raped. At a self-defense class for women at Oakwood Canton Center, Canton Police Cpl. Robert vanLith supplied facts and figures on sex crime.

· 80 percent of rape victims are divorced by their husbands.

. In 48 percent of rapes, the rapist is known to the victim.

• In 1981, 81,536 forcible rapes were reported in the U.S. -6 percent of total number of violent crimes. Twenty-one percent of the rapes occurred in the north central states, including Michigan. Thirtysix percent happened in the south; 27 percent in the west, and 16 percent in the northeast.

• Most rapes occur in July, the fewest November through February

• In Michigan in 1980, 4,366 sexual assaults were reported. In 1981, the figure dropped 15 percent to 3,698.

• 76 percent of reported rape victims are uninjured.

• 87 percent of rapists threaten but use no actual violence.

. is percent of rapes involve assailants and victims from the same neighborhood.

$ $1 percent of rapes occur within the victim's own home. • Last year in Detroit, 3,400 rapes were reported, a staggering 30 percent increase over 1981.

UNDER REVISED Michigan sex law, the offenses of child molesting, incest and statutory rape fall under the state's four-degree criminal sexual conduct code, CSC.

The code breaks down as follows: · 1st degree CSC involves victims of all ages and entails sexual penetration. It is a felony punishable by up to life in prison.

· 2nd degree CSC also involves victims of any age and stipulates sexual contact. It is a 15-year felo-

• 3rd degree CSC, also a 15-year felony, involves penetration, and is distinguished from 1st degree by age. The victim must be aged 13 through 15, and the offender be unarmed.

· 4th degree involves sexual contact with no age designation. Unlike other sex offenses, it is a mis-demeanor punishable by not more than two years in prison, and/or up to a $500 fine or both.

Fourth degree generally is the charge for an offense such as unpermitted touching.

If attacked, what can be done?

Several tips were offered by Canton Police Corporal Robert vanLith and women who attended a free self-defense class vanLith conducted at Oakwood Canton Center recently.

• If travelling alone at night and your car breaks down, vanLith advises against "advertising your plight by lifting the hood and waiting in your locked car for help. Pull over, lift the hood and hide about 50 feet away behind a bush or whatever's available," he said.

A police officer or good Samaritan will eventually stop after spotting you, and then you can emerge from your hideaway.

"If you're on 1-94 in Detroit and the last bush was stolen," he continued, "park the car in the right lane, not on the shoulder, turn on your flashers and

"No one's going to let you sit there for long.

• Avoid rest areas along the free-ways, which are havens for crime.

ways, which are havens for crime. • If shopping at a large mall such as Fairlane where women are being at-tacked with increasing frequency, think shead. If you're arriving in daylight but will be walking back to the parking lot in the dark, park under a light. Leave the store with a crowd, not alone.

One woman recommended using a mall's public services.

"Tell the security guard you can't find your car - that you've looked all over and just can't locate it. They'll drive you right to your car." • Avoid hitchhiking.

. If fleeing from an attacker and unable to find help in a residential or commercial area, yell "fire," suggests vanLith. "You better believe someone will hear you."

In some areas, it's advisable to call the fire department rather than police in a life-threatening situation, he said. Firefighters often are able to reach the scene faster than police officers.

LEGAL ADVICE was offered as well.

To prosecute a case, evidence and statements are needed. Above all, a rape victim should go directly to a hospital after being attacked. He or she should not change clothes, shower or douche beforehand, or evidence will be destroyed.

All hospitals are equipped with rape kits to collect evidence, said vanLith. Many rape victims hesitate to report or prosecute a rapist for various rea-3003

"If you don't wish to prosecute, at least report it," urged vanLith. "You anonymity and therefore are reluctant can save the next victim from an attack. If you don't come forward, who knows how many more will be stabbed or raped?"

to go the police. Police departments, however, can withhold victims' names while logging descriptions of assailants in a confidential statewide computer

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

A Statute of Limitations is a law setting a time limit on the enforcement of a right.

In Michigan, the Statute of Limitations is two years for an action charging assualt, battery, false inprisonment, malicious prosecution, or malpractice; one year for an action charging libel or slander; three years for an action to recover damages for a death or for an injury to a person or property; three years for a products liability action; generally none for workers' compensation actions; six years for breach of contract. There are, however, many factors which affect these time periods and some may be tolled (delayed). If you do need advice to determine if you do, or do not have a case, call for an appointment. There is no charge for the initial consultation.

During the school year, area high school students will be asked to decide upon and purchase their High School Class Rings

It is our decision this year not to participate in the class ring selection process at the local school. We believe it's fairer to the students, as young consumers, to visit our store at their leisure and make their class ring selection in an unhurried atmosphere. The class ring purchase represents a sizeable investment for the students and or their parents. Students want their class rings to be something they'll be proud to wear for a lifetime, thus deserving all the time and personal attention they need in the selection.

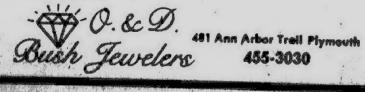

Please consider these positive reasons to make the selection in our store

- · We have many styles to choose from.
- As many as 26 different stones available -- many of them Genuine
- All ring options are included in the price-there are no add-on charges!
- · Initials are engraved free.
- · School colors are added to the sides of the ring at no cost
- Over 200 personalized side panels-sports, activities, etc.
- 600 designs beneath the stones to choose from-Free!
- · Our delivery time will be 4-6 weeks.

· Manufacturer's discounts are available most of the time. We are a permanent part of this community and hope to have you as life-long customers. There are no "now or never" ordering days; we're here all day, everyday and always available for resizing, repairs, and advice.

You can bring your family and friends into the pleasant atmosphere of our store, and take your time in choosing from our fine selection the class ring you'd really like to have.

We think you'll be happy with our personal attention and affordable prices.

The little gray bouse next to Beyer's Drug Store, that is reputed to be more than 100 years old and one of the oldest in Plymouth is leaving Main Screet for a new address in old Village.

The move was made necessary when work started on the widening of the intersection at Main and Mill streets. The widening of Mill Street took up most of the parking lot for the drug store and its owner decided to sell it instead of razing it.

As a result, Eric Carne, the architectural engineer, bought it and plans to move it to the rear of his headquarters on Blanche Street within the next few weeks

Approval of the sale and switch in addresses was approved by the Board

THE litte gray house has quite a background, though it is not certain just when it was built. The City Assessor's books identify it as "old" a designation given any house that was built before 1900.

It is known that it was once part of the old farm house and was given to a maiden daughter of the farmer. It fi-nally was the home of Margaret Fisher who lived in it from 1948 to 1978.

Bob Beyer, whose family had been in the drug business for years, bought the old home in 1979 and then closed the deal with Carne when the work on the intersection started.

'It is a grand old home," Carne said in telling of his plans. "Its age is told in a trip to the basement where one can see the heavy beams and how they are of Appeals, and Carne plans to make it fitted into one another. It is built as sol-a sort of showplece in its new location. Id as one could expect and on a difid as one could expect and on a dif-fereent form than is the vogue today."

FOR THE new setting, the Carne garage on Blasche Street is being moved back toward Amelia Street. That done, a basement will be dag and the little old gray bouse will be fitted to a new foundation. Carne and his wife said that it will be be of fun figure up the old house and a lot of fun fixing up the old house and arranging for the furniture that will be in keeping with the times when the house was new and on the farm.

In disposing of the old house, Beyer is delighted that it is going to be re-tained instead of being knocked down to make room for a parking lot.

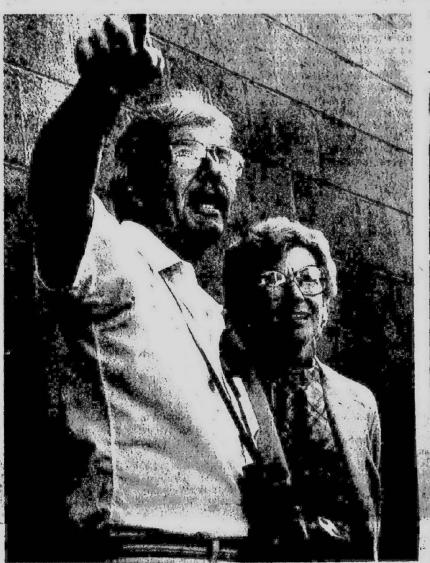

"I know it will be a showplace when Eric and his wife are through with it," Beyer said, even though in a sense he hated to part with it.

Galveston flood of 1900

at a comparise in a second in such a second of the second is recalled by city resident

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

While thousands of people were horrified looking at the recent flood and catastrophe in Galveston, Texas, Cecil Fehrlind commented to his Plymouth neighbors that "it was just a picnic compared to what I saw when I was just a young lad down there in 1900 and looked on as 1,700 people met their death in the hurricane."

Now 88 years old, he allowed the years to roll back and told of the scenes he remembers of one of the worst storms, tornadoes and floods the country ever has known.

"There were 1,700 people lost in that storm," he said in his home at 784 Coolidge the other afternoon, "and I still can see the bodies floating around and out to sea.

"I was only 5 years old at the time, but scenes like that you never forget."

Now a widower (his wife died two years ago) Fehrlind lives alone, does his own cooking and housework and even rides his lawn mower to cut his neighbors grass.

"THAT STORM was one of the worst things that ever happened in this country in times of peace, and I can only hope that it never will be repeated.

"I can well remember my mother stuffing pillows in our windows as we were floating along toward the sea. One day we found a horse on our second floor as we floated along, and before we knew it it was across the street in a monastery.

The flood water was a horrible thing for his young eyes to see, but the scenes that most horrified him were the work of the scavengers.

"They came along, if you can imagine such a thing, and cut the ears and fingers off the women just to get their jewelry. It was terrible.

"The police and the National Guard were there in a vain effort to stop them, but the only thing that worked was when the offi-cers shot the scavengers.

"You can imagine a scene like that and then compare it to the pictures we saw on television the other night and you will know what I mean when I tell you it was just a

Of those who lost their lives in the storm, many just floated out to ses. There was no way of trying to bring them to safety.

"THOSE (BODIES) who were saved from the drifting out to see were placed on boards and then stacked two high. But they had to be dumped into the sea, too, for health purposes. The survivors had to have some protection from the diseases that may carry over from the stacked up dead bodies.

That was 83 years ago and the memory of those scenes never will leave me. Talk about childhood days and their memories that flood was enough for me."

Fehrlind is a not a native Texan, even though he was in Galveston during that memorable flood. He was born in Wisconsin and went with his folks when they moved to Texas.

As he grew older he learned the steam fitters trade and came to Michigan about 30 years ago. He found work at his trade when many of the large industrial plants were being built in the downtown Detroit area.

He came to Plymth about 25 yewrs ago, as he recalls it, and finally retired in 1960.

Two years ago he was having a bit of a health problem and was sent to Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills where he had pacemaker installed. This belped with his health problem, but he has trouble with his legs so he walks outdoors with a cane. Indoors he uses a walker for fear of stumbling over the rugs.

He apologized for not having a larger vegetable garden his year.

Isbister wanted city and township to merge

(Part 2)

Russell L. Isbister, superintendent of schools here in the 1950s and '60s, was well-known in educational circles throughout the state of Michigan.

A year after he arrived in Plymouth, he was elected president of the Michigan School Business Administrators. One year later, he became president of the Wayne County School Administrators Association.

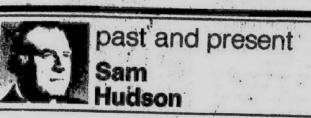

In 1961, he was elected president of the Michigan Schoolmasters Club. He also served as president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, an organization of 600 school superintendents, and was a member of seven other educational organizations.

ISBISTER TOOK part in a variety of civic activities in the Plymouth area.

In 1960, he chaired the Plymouth Community Fund drive, earning the "Go Go Bird" created that year by em-ployees of Burroughs Corp. The "bird" looked like a pheasant, but was made up of scrap parts of Burrough's sensamatic machines. In reporting the re-sults of the campaign, the Detroit News said the award "symbolized the spirit and enthusiasm Isbister showed in heading the drive." In 1963, after he. had served two terms as vice president, Isbister was elected president of the Community Fund.

Isbister was great for getting people together to discuss community prob-lems and what to do about them. I remember participating in two such gatherings in which he played a leading role. In the late 1950s or early '60s, he inspired a meeting of representatives of a variety of organizations for the purpose of arriving at a consensus of local problems and how they could be resolved.

I also remember participating with him in a conference at Hillsdale College in 1966 in which his hand was apparent. Sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, it was a communitywide effort at promoting more cooperation between the city and the township of Plymouth.

Unification of the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township was one of Is-bister's dream. When the township held hearings in 1965 about its new 701 master plan, Isbister, a resident of the township, was among those present. He read a prepared statement, objecting to that part of the plan which included a township civic center on North Terri-torial Road. He said: "To develop a Township Center Plan now without cooperative planning with other govern-mental units will add to the divisiveness which already exists and hence retard rather than enhance the movement toward consolidation."

He went on to say that he was con-vinced that consolidation of govern-ments should include more than the city of Plymouth and the township of Plymouth, "but also our neighbors to the south and possibily to the west as well who are part of the Plymouth community." He declared that he was in favor of a total community civic center but not a Plymouth Township Center. "The civic center," he said, should be concomitant part of the consolidation movement."

Isbister was speaking at a time when the relationship between township and city officials was less than cordial, partially due to efforts by the city to annex portions of the township, and even the township in its entirety. The annexation attempts, which began in 1955 and con-tinued into the 1970s, caused much of the divisiveness to which Isbister referred.

Isbister's remarks were applauded by the Plymouth Mail in its issue of Dec. 15, 1965. The editor declared: "Both the township and the city, and their neighbor to the south, Canton Township, need to sit down and discuss the concept of a united Plymouth com-munty. No growth of the Plymouth community can take place until many more people follow Isbister's lead and state publicly what they have discussed over the coffee tables for years."

It must be remembered that the remarkable growth of Canton Township that has occurred in recent years had not taken place in 1965 when Isbister spoke and the Mail ran its editorial.

When he was retiring as superintend-ent of schools in 1967, Isbister told a reporter he was sorry he wasn't able to bring about the unification of Plymouth and Plymouth Township. "I am sorely disappointed that unification has not been accomplished. The unification of our governments is bound to come. My only regret is that it didn't happen while I was serving in an offical capacity in the area."

O&E Monday, September 19, 1983

ISBISTER WAS active in the Plymouth Rotary Club and in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

He was chairman of the Chamber's Area Planning Commission which pro-moted the Hillsdale Conference.

In 1960-61 he was a member of the Citizens for Michigan Tax Study Committee and in 1965 was Crusade Chairman for the Western Wayne County Unit for the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

At the time of his death, he was chairman of the Metropolitan Bureau of School Studies Executive Committee.

Group watches the environment

To the editor:

We are writing to acquaint you with a newly formed, non-profit corporation known as S.A.L.E.M. which stands for Salem Area Local Environmental Management.

S.A.L.E.M. is an active, organized, and optimistic group of citizens concerned about the attempt to open a 168-acre addition adjacent to the current Holloway Landfill located in Salem.

We felt that citizens in the Plymouth area should be aware of the controversy surrounding this pro-posed addition. Further, we want your readers to be aware of the fact that surface water from this landfill flows to the southeast, in the direction of Plymouth, as it joins the Rouge River Watershed, according to statements by the Department of Natural Resources

Everyone should be concerned about the purity of their drinking water, as we have learned from so many tragic stories regarding toxic waste of late.

If any of your readers are interested in more information regarding our group, please contact Jean Bem-ish at 349-2687 or write to M. Kaericher at 8171 Brookville, Plymouth Mich. 48170. We issue a monthly newsletter for those unable to at-tend meetings. This issue is far from settled. Your help can make a difference.

Heroes all along the pits

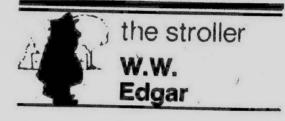

Another Fall Festival and chicken barbecue have been written into the records and if medals were awarded for unselfish efforts they would have to go to the fellow Rotarians who manned the pits and supervised the preparing of some 14,000 chickens that were sold in little more then six hours.

Outside the temperature was high and the humidity was at a very uncomfortable level. But in spite of this the pits under The Gathering on Penniman Avenue were manned beginning in the early morning.

Only the day before many of them had sat in the Michigan Stadium to watch the Wolverines win the opening game of their football season in temperatures above the 100-degree mark on the field. That seemed like punishment just to sit and watch the game. But, in any case, it was just training for the barbecue pits the next day.

If one watched carefully through the smoke that lay heavily under the root one could see bankers, school officials, lawyers, dantists and some of the city's top businessmen battling conditions — just so the folks could take part in the feast that has become a national leader in such events.

IF YOU looked close one could see John "Mike"

Hoben, the superintendent of schools, wiping his . brow but sticking on the job.

Close by would be Leo Calhoun, who had strayed away from his desk to supervise the "green" pit. With him were fellows like Jack Selle, the former Buick car dealer who came down from his summer home to battle conditions so the customers could enjoy their meal under the trees.

You could see the dentists, Bob Petersen and Joe Smulskey, along with lawyer John Thomas. In the midst of the group you'd find Bob Stremich, the portly gest who once reled Hillside Inn, and archi-tect Erick Carne. Even former mayor Joe Bida came up from his post in southern Illinois to join in the battle of the smoke.

And you'd see Fred Beitner, sitting in his wheelchair out in the blazing sun taking tickets as the customers came to the receiving line. He was not shielded from the sun and sat there doing his job until the last customer came along.

THESE ARE just a few of the army of Rotarians who, each year, give of their time to battle conditions just so Plymouth Rotary can carry on its work of playing a part in the city's charity program.

This year the task was more demanding than ever. This was due to the fact that conditions were such that the smoke could not escape as planned. In some cases the fellows almost collapsed. But they wouldn't quit.

Until two years ago the pits'always were open to the sky. Then it rained and almost ruined the day. That night it was planned to cover the pits to beat any rains of the future. But now another enemy has taken over - the smoke, which is almost unbearable.

Yet, these businessmen and civic leaders still man their posts on barbecne day. It is a fine exam-ple of charitable work and if silver medals were awarded for bravery, they'd surely be entitled to the most prized of all.

YMCA Fall Run spectators wanted

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA will hold its fourth annual Fall

Run on Sunday. The event will feature a one-mile fun run, a five-kilometer race, and a 10-kilometer race. All races will begin in downtown Plymouth alongside Kellogg Park on Main between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman Avenue.

n an idyllic setting high above the Hudson River just north of New York City, future chefs learn the skills, techniques and practicalities of running a food operation at the Culinary Institute of America. Whether hotel, restaurant, catering, or in-plant foodservice, the rules are the same: serve the best food in the most pleasant manner...while maintaining a profitable bottom line for financial statement.

The enthusiasm and creativity of these young people are astounding! They are immersed in their craft ... and it is a craft rather than a trade. Recently they shared their creativity with the Rice Council of America to come up with interesting rice dishes to serve with meat, poultry, or seafood.

And just as rice, at less than 4 cents per serving, can add to the profitability of a restaurant operation ... it can help with the budget at home, too. Rice, a gently-flavored food, does not need expensive toppings to add to its appeal. But a judicious seasoning or two added during or after cooking can make a meal a special one.

Try the following recipes and you will dress up your menus just as the professionals do.

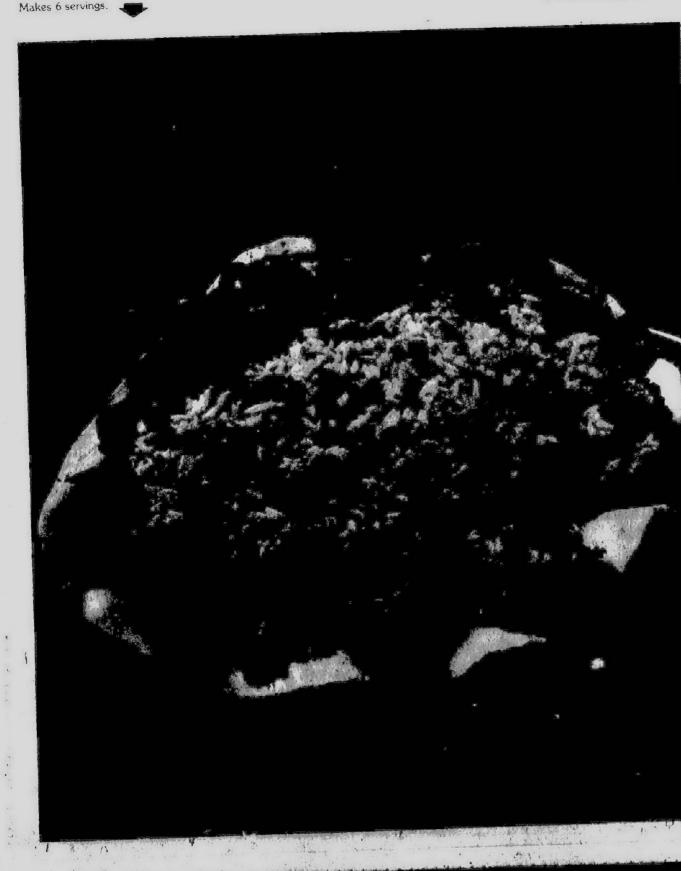

CARIBBEAN ISLAND RICE Refreshing as a tropical breeze 1/2 cup flaked or shredded coconut 1 cup uncooked rice 2 tablespoons unsalted butter or I cup orange juice margarine 1 cup water 2 cups peeled and diced papaya or 1-1/2 teaspoons salt 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper mango . Combine rice, orange juice, water, salt, and pepper in 1-1/2 to 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a boil; stir once or twice. Lower heat, cover, and simmer 15 minutes, or until rice is tender and bould is absorbed. Sin in coconut and butter. Cover and let stand 10 minutes. Fold is paraly proces. Makes 5 servings. *Or use 2 cups diced canned mangos or peaches, drained. CHUTNEY RICE A touch of India 1/2 cup mayonnaise . 3 cups cooked rice, cooled 2 tablespoons chutney, chopped cup cooked green peas

1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper

18 seedless green grapes, halved 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard

1 tablespoon minced onion Combine rice, peas, celery, grapes, and onion in large mixing bowl. Blend remaining ingredients. Pour over rice mixture. Toss lightly. Chill. Serve on salad greens and garnish with whole grapes, if desired.

1 cup sliced celery

UTHERN RICE

Good enough to be a dessert, too

CARAWAY BACON RICE An outstanding combination of flavors

1 can (8 ounces) or 1 cup sauerkraut,

6 slices bacon

3 cups hot cooked rice

- 1/3 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 green pepper, coarsely chopped
- small clove garlic, minced

3 cups cooked rice Cook bacon in large skillet over low heat until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Pour off fat; return 2 tablespoons to skillet. Add onion to skillet and cook until soft. Add green pepper and garlic. Cook until pepper is tender crisp. Stir in rice, sauerkraut, and caraway seed. Heat thoroughly. Add bacon, crumbled, and season to taste. Makes 6 servings.

- RICH RICE A perfect party casserole
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper 1/8 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1 cup grated Swiss cheese

1 cup sour cream

Paprika

rinsed and drained

Salt and ground black pepper

1/2 teaspoon caraway seed

- 4 cups cooked rice, divided
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 onion, chopped
- 8 ounces fresh mushrooms, sliced 1 tablespoon lemon juice

3 cups cooked rice, cooked in chicken

8 ounces fully cooked ham, chopped cup (4 ounces) grated Cheddar cheese

1-1/2 teaspoons salt

Spoon half the rice into buttered shallow 2-quart baking dish. Melt butter in large skillet. Add onion, mushrooms, lemon juice, and seasonings. What we eat may affect how our brain responds

Pizza canapes were hit

of Italian dinner party

Our moods, our alertness, our ability to remember, even our perceptions of pain can be affected by what we eat. So say the growing number of researchers studying how the brain responds to food. Their findings may lead not only to safer ways of influencing some of our states of mind, but also to possible treatments for aged patients, to help their brains function better," Maya Pines reports in the September Reader's Digest.

At Temple University in Philadelphia, patients with chronic facial pain around their jaws who were given tryptophan, one of the amino acids tems studied, and a high-carbohydrate diet said that their pain was reduced markedly. Even the dise alone gave the patients some relief. Recently a British researcher reported on a six-month trial with sufferers from Alzheimer's disease, a degenerative condition that destroys memory. The patients took 25 grams of purified lecithin (not the health-food-store variety) every day. Their memory improved slightly, or declined less than that of patients who didn't get lecithin. Lecithin is now being clinically tested in soup noodles and may soon be available - on doctors'orders - in various flavors.

"Eventually," concludes Pines, "we might get used to reaching for specific nutrients whenever we need help to sleep, to overcome the blues, to sharpen our memories, to relieve pain - and to assist us in other ways that will probably emerge as scientists discover ever more links between nutrition and the brain."

She also figured that paying him by the hour would save the fix-up-the-house budget some dollars. Anita was wrong on both counts. I made Italian sourdough English muffins, minus the garlic.

Luckily, I prepared ahead of time my favorite spaghetti sauce that had been requested by Anita's guests, including two sewing cronies. All three women - one ate much soul food, one was used to Jewish dishes and the other usually dined Spanish - wanted an Italian menu.

By the time the last of the guests arrived, the clock was pushing 8. There were cocktails and no one seemed in a hurry, so I recovered fairly well.

As a special appetizer, I made pizza canapes, us-ing some spaghetti sauce, which turned out to be the highlight of the evening.

AND GETTING BACK to the fall festival, the Centennial Dancers and the Plymouth Community Chorus deserve special plaudits for their festival booth decorations. The chorus motif was definitely Mexican and showed the planning and effort that had gone into It.

The Centennial Dancers of the Polish National Alliance with its red and white paper rosettes and vases of fresh marigolds had a Solidarnosc banner at each corner.

Profits from booth sales help support free public performances by the dancers and lower the cost of dance lessons. Boys and girls ages 4 to 18 may join the dancers. For information call Joanne, 464-1263, or Chris, 459-5695.

The Centennial Dancers displayed the trophy they won at the Farmington Memorial Day Parade for the best youth unit.

MEMBERS OF THE Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution remind us that Sept. 17 to 23 is Constitution Week. The DAR urges that on the 196th anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution everyone read and study the Constitution.

"In 1823, Justice Johnson of the United States Supreme Court wrote, 'The Constitution is the most wonderful instrument ever drawn by the band of man.' Visit your library and read the Constitution. Discover exactly what he meant," is the message from the DAR.

Chiefs win the battle — Salem wins

Rock quarterback Mark Tindall ran for 62 yards member of the Salem backfield Friday night. against Canton on 16 carries, by far the busiest

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Plymouth Canton coaches, players and fans left the field in tears last Friday night. They were tears of frustration

Canton outplayed neighboring Plymouth Salem for three quarters. They scrapped, fought and clawed right down to the final minute of the game, but wound up on the losing end, again, 13-7.

"We were damn lucky to win this football game," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "That team over there (pointing toward the Canton bench), had better be proud of themselves. They came to play tonight." Canton totally dominated the second half. Salem could muster just two first downs, one coming on a roughing-thekicker penalty.

BUT, EVERYTIME the Chiefs came knocking at the goal-line door, the Rocks turned them away. Three times late in the game, the Chiefs appeared poised to take it in. However, three costly pass interceptions, two in the end zone, cancelled the threats.

"Two losses in a row," said an emotionally drained Canton head coach Richard Barr. "We just couldn't get it into the end zone. It's very disappointing.'

Rod Boyd, almost single-handedly, kept Canton's offense on the move. The junior tailback gained 100 yards in the second half alone. He ran for 128 of Canton's 197 total yards.

Moshimer sent shock waves through the large and emotionally charged-up crowd when, on Salem's first offensive play, he called a halfback option pass. Quarterback Mark Tindall pitched to Steve Sobditch, a back-up quarterback and split end, who threw downfield to Craig Morton. The play caught Canton by surprise and went for 22 yards.

Salem moved inside the Canton 23yard line, but a Tindall pass was picked off in the end some by Canton's Jody Spitz

After a Canton fumble, Salem drove 58 yards in five plays for the first score of the game. Two Tindall passes, a 38yarder to Morton and an 18-yarder to Ken Harmon who made an outstanding one-hand grab, set up a 3-yard touchdown by Harmon. Mark Dixon's kick made it 7-0.

A SHORT PUNT early in the second quarter put the Rocks in business again. Fullback Scott Jurek capped off a 45-yard scoring drive with a 4-yard run. Dixon's extra point try was blocked.

Down 13-0, it looked like Canton was ripe to be blown out. Boyd, however, arrived on the scene just in time to deliver a much-needed spark to the Chiefs' attack.

He returned the Rocks' kick-off back to the 48-yard line, then took the next two carries for 11 yards and a first down. Quarterback Jody Spitz hit Jim Kaske, who made a brilliant catch, good for 20 yards down to the Rocks 18. Five plays later, on a fourth-andgoal play, Spitz ran it in from the 2. Kaske kicked the point after and the Chiefs were back in it.

"We had opportunities to put them away where they couldn't come back," said Moshimer. "But, mental errors, stupid plays, we let them stay in the game.

Boyd set the tone for the second half on Canton's first offensive play. He took the pitch from Spitz off the option and rambled 16 yards to the Rock 28. On the next play, he dropped the pitch and lost five. Two bad passes later, the drive was stalled.

ON SALEM'S NEXT possession, Canton's 6-foot-4, 222-pound senior tackle and co-captain Paul Fletcher broke his forearm jumping on a Salem fumble.

Canton's Rodney Williams recovered a Salem fumble at the Rocks' 45. Three plays later, Jurek picked off a Spitz Dasa Canton's defense held again on the pext series and the Chiefs moved inside Salem territory. Jeff Arnold then picked off a Spliz pass. After Canton held on the next series, they mounted their most serious threat. With less than 10 minutes remaining in the game, Canton drove to the Salem 16. Boyd amassed 55 of those yards on carries of 32, 6 and 17 yards, Spitz running the option perfectly. Then on a third-and-9 play, Jurek, a potential All-State linebacker, knifed through the line to stop a Canton run. On fourth down, Morton picked off Spitz's desperation lob into the end zone.

CANTON GOT THE ball back with more than three minutes to go, but three consecutive sacks by 5-5, 145 lineman George Condash, one of Sa-lem's 'smurfs,' forced the Chiefs to

(P.C)10

But, Salem gave the Chiefs one more chance to win it. Morton fumbled Kaske's punt and Canton had it on Salem's 45 with one minute to play. Three long passes intended for Dave Knapp fell incomplete and Salem had held on for their second win in a row.

"I will have to say one positive thing about our team tonight," Moshimer said. "When we got down, we sucked it up and did the job. But, the thing I told my kids, and they understand this, is we should have never been in that position."

Salem had 224 total yards, 157 in the first half. Tindall was Salem's leading rusher with 62 yards.

Defensively, Jurek, Condash, Randy Blaylock and David Bunch played outstanding for Salem.

For the Chiefs (0-2), defensively, Brian Callahan, Dave Szary, Eric Wines, Doug Chilcoff and Wain Yeung were the stalwarts.

Jody Spitz celebrates Canton's lone score, his two-yard run.

Western upsets Salem Canton stops Falcons

Walled Lake Western's towering center Val Hall scored 17 points, sparking the Warriors to an upset 42-28 girls' basketball win Thursday night over visiting Plymouth Salem.

Hall, a 6-foot-3 junior, led the Warriors to their fourth straight win.

"She was solid," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "She plays hard and gives a good effort. She's so big. When our kids have to deal with her, they have to give up so much.

"We did an adequate job on the glass, but it was nothing outstanding."

The Warriors outscored Salem in every quarter, the biggest coming in the first period, a 10-4 advantage.

"Early we missed some good scoring opportunities," said the Salem coach. "Like breakaway layups."

Pam McBride and Dawn Johnson led Salem in scoring with 13 and eight points, respectively.

We didn't do a good job with the ball," Thomann said. "Our offense was non-existent for a long time. We got great shots, but we didn't make any WESTERN was able to withstand Salem's potent man-to-man defense.

"Our defense was good enough, but they handled our pressure a lot better tonight," he said. "They were cranked up and ready to play." The Salem coach added: "We played hard, but not smart. That's what we have to improve on. The team has to understand that the other teams in the league are shooting for us because we're the league champs. "We have a long way to go."

PLYMOUTH CANTON $4 FARMINGTON 50

Junior Lisa Russell provided the oflense and defense Thursday to lift the girls basketball

Chiefs past visiting Farmington for their second straight win.

Russell scored 19 points and held Farmington's high-scoring junior, Alyse Fortune to 16, including only six in the first half.

Farmington led 50-48 in the final minute before Russell scored the equalizer.

Senior Marie Krashovets then pumped in four free throws in the final 22 seconds to preserve the victory

Canton coach Phyllis Cunningham Mulroy commented on the victory: "We played good, hard defense in the first half. We did a good job on Alyse, but we let Lancaster (Rhonda) free.

"In the third quarter we got a 10-point lead and thought we could relax, but Lancaster got hot and couldn't miss."

Lancaster led all scorers with 20.

"This is two heart-breakers in a row," said Farmington Bruce Brown. It's the story of our life - I guess.

"We came out real flat and let them control the tempo. In the second half, we went to the full-court press and turned the game into an alley fight.

LIVONIA BENTLEY 47 FARM. HARRISON 28

The unbeaten Buildogs got 13 points from Laurie Day and eight each from juniors Lonnie Payne and Sheri Wolfe to keep the visiting Hawks winless Thursday night.

Bentley, using a half-court trap, broke the game open with a 23-7 uprising in the second period, taking a $5-13 halftime advantage.

Karen Sklar scored eight points and Janine Whittemore added six in a losing cause.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 45 OAKLAND CHRISTIAN 26

Junior Debbie Van Hoose let loose for 23 points Friday as the Eagles trimmed Oakland.

Plymouth took control in the second quarter, outscoring Oakland 13-2. Oakland, pressing in the third quarter, cut the lead to 24-20, but the Eagles responded with a 16-6 surge in the final eight minutes.

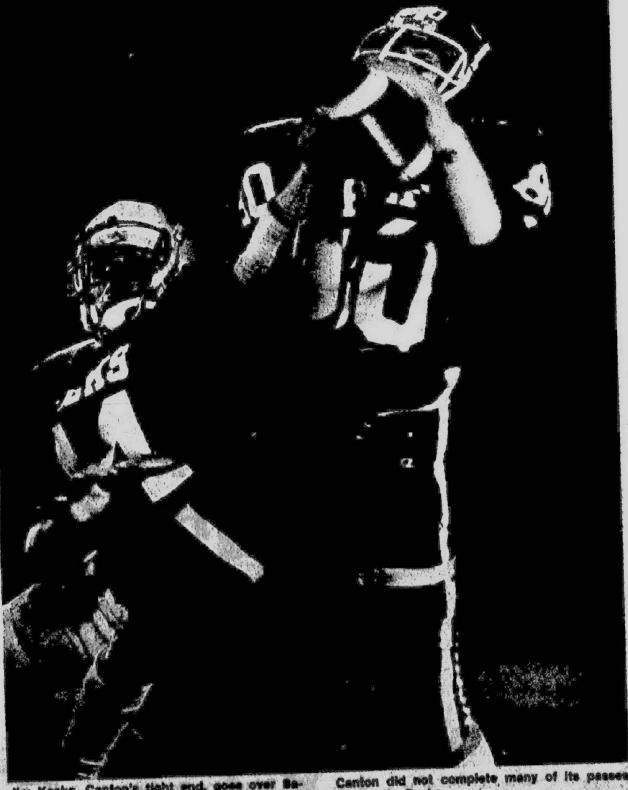

Junior Kim Allen, the team's defensive ace, added eight points for the winners. Kim Sieferth, meanwhile, led the Esgles in rebounding.

Lisa Gendich scored 16 to pace Oakland.

ON THURSDAY, Plymouth got past Sacred Heart Academy of Bloomfield Hills, 27-20.

The Eagles trailed 8-0 after one quarter before getting untracked with a 13-4 sport in the second period.

Van Hoose led the winners with 17 points, while Christs Crehan scored eight for Secred Heart.

'Puberty Blues' has style, but wipes out the movies

Louise

r the Frankie Avalon-Annette Funicello beach blanket movies? Uncover the lumps in the blanket and you've got "Puberty Blues" (R). This Australian import has the impact of "Fast Times at Ridgemont High" - at the beach.

It's the story of the "rights of passage" of two teenage girls, Debbie (Nell Scholleld) and Sue (Jad Capelja). Mostly, it's the story of Debbie. She also is the movie's narrator, a circumstance which cues us that she is a characterized of the story of a survivor looking back on some critical experiences of her adolescence in Sydney, Australia. Debble and her high school peers spend all their free time at the beach. The beach itself is divided by indivisible borders which reflect a caste system as rigid as any in pre-war India.

At the highest rung on this social ladder are the surfers — blond, tousle-haired boys devoted to surfing, sex and smoking joints. Next to them in status are the "surfer chicks." It is to this exalted inner echelon that Debbie and Sue aspire.

THE CHICKS do not surf. They literally wait on the boys. They wait for them to come out of the water and they wait on their wishes. Eagerly, they hand the boys towels and they run to fetch them hamburgers and milk shakes. (The girls don't eat with the boys, just as they don't surf.) At night, it's time for a drive-in movie and basic, back-of-the-van sex. There is no romance or courtship in these relations. When Debbie and Sue get accepted into the surfing crowd (because they keep quiet about a cheating episode at school), Debbie is paired off with Bruce (Jay Hack-ett). His ultimate concession to sensibility is to remove his wad of chewing gum before kissing her.

Bruce is neither better nor worse than the rest of the surfers, all of whom display a very narrow-minded, macho mentality. The only one who shows any sensitivity is Garry (Geoff Rhoe). Since he also is on hard drugs, you can write him off.

But if the boys act like wretched Neanderthals, the attitude of the girls is even more revolting. They are willing, compliant victims who cooperate readily in their own degradation. Perhaps the girls, as well as the boys, have become dulled by too much sun and too much salt spray.

BRUCE BERESFORD, who directed "Tender Mercies" and "Breaker Morant," directed "Puberty Blues." His style is seen in the film's visual coherence, moments of striking imagery and edgy, satiric bite. The lat-ter, however, is softened by the weak and skimpy character delineations. Debbie's middle-class parents, who are completely befuddled by her behavior, are too naive to be credible. When Debbie says she is going to the movies her mother marns her "don't sit on the airle. Some nusher the movies, her mother warns her "don't sit on the aisle. Some pusher might jab you with something."

Garry, the surfer who is one lota more sensitive than the others, seems to have no reason for being in the movie other than to make a point about drug abuse

And Debbie, the protagonist of the film, is herself somewhat vapid. But the oddest flaw in "Puberty Blues" is the narration. It introduces us to the sandy world of Debbie and her friends, offers comments on a few situations, then, unaccountably, stops. Wiped out by a wave, I suppose.

what's at the movies

CUJQ (R). Thriller based on the Stephen King horror story about a mad dog.

EASY MONEY (R). Rodney Dangerfield as Monty Capuletti can inherit millions but only if he gives up drinking, smoking and gambling for a year.

FLASHDANCE (R). A determined young woman works as a welder by a dancer by night. Movie doesn't make too much sense, but the dancing has a terrific impact.

Princess Leia and other characters from the previous films as the Rebel Alliance battles Darth Vader and the forces of the Empire.
