Lawsuit ready on Supersewer

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

Township boards in Plymouth and Canton will be asked Tuesday night to concur in a decision to file a lawsuit to recover money pumped into planning the now defunct Supersewer project.

Notices of claim - alerting the named parties of the townships' intentions - were sent last week to some 30 governmental agencies allegedly involved in the decision to exclude seven northwestern Wayne County communities from the project.

The remaining Supersewer communities are proceeding with a scaled-down version of the project - expected to solve sewer capacity problems for the southwestern Wayne County and downriver municipalities.

The two townships plan to seek some $200 million in damages from the 30member group which includes Wayne County, Detroit, the Detroit Water and Sewer Department, the state of Michigan, the Michigan Department of Natu-ral Resources, the federal Enviromental Protection Agency and the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

"All these people have acted togeth-er to the extent that these two townships are not in Supersewer," said Brian James of the Plymouth Township attorney's office.

1983 Suburban Communication Corporation. All Rights Rese

"WE KNOW how it happened, and we now want to find out why it happened," James said.

The $200 million sought includes the townships' investment in Supersewer planning and the calculated damages for "stunting the growth of the two townships" by denying them increased sewer capacity, he said.

The two township boards will be asked for authorization to file the lawsuit in either federal or county circuit court

"There is absolute reason and justifi-cation for the lawsuit," said Canton Township Supervisor James Poole.

'When I'm told in 1983 that Canton was included in a project for six years just for financial reasons, I begin to wonder about the motives," Poole said. The Supersewer ordeal was the "ultimate fleecing of the taxpayers of Canton Township," Poole said.

More than $100,000 is being made available through the Wayne County Energy Conservation Program, according to Paul Sincock, Plymouth grants coordinator.

The program offers residents loan reduction assistance for energy conservation improvement loans from qualified institutions.

'Just about any home energy improvement qualifies as part of this program," Sincock said.

Residents interested in more information about the program should contact:

• In the city of Plymouth — Paul Sincock at 455-6623. In Plymouth Township — Barbara Pray at 453-3840.

 In Canton Township — Terry Carroll at 397-1000.

Information packets and applications for the program are available at the respective municipal halls.

Before going into effect the plan faces a Nov. 21 public hearing and second reading

The plan calls for using increased tax revenues, brought on by higher valuations (assessments) in the downtown development district, to pay for construction or improvement projects within that district.

Action on the plan is being expedited so that increased tax revenues for 1983 can be captured, according to City Manager Henry Graper.

trict for 1983.

AT THE HEART OF THE PLAN is the city administration's desire to finance a proposed $1 million parking deck in the Central Parking Lot. The deck would be tied into a $2 million medical facility being considered by St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

If the plan reaches final approval, the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) could use the generated funds to finance a bond issue for the deck construction. Under the plan the debt retirement could be stretched over 20 years.

However, the plan would not limit

"This is a new way to improve the downtown area without taxing the entire city for it," said Mayor Eldon Martin

The lengthy plan outlines a wide range of possible projects which can be financed through the tax increment process.

The general language of the plan allows the DDA leverage in financing future projects. Without the general language, Graper said, the DDA would have a harder time financing border line projects in coming years.

Graper said Another immediate project to be undertaken is moving utility lines in the Central Lot area underground, Graper said.

This would allow for aesthetic improvements after the construction of the deck, he said.

The plan was written for the city by the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone since the process isn't that familiar in Michigan.

"The plan has been reviewed by Miller, Canfield and meets all of the needs of the law," Graper said.

Allowable projects range from window caulking to furnance replacement and repairs

The targeted types of work are insulation improvements, upgrading heating and cooling units, and installation of solar and wind devices.

In most cases, the work must be done by a contractor participating in the program.

Participants must have an energy audit conducted on their home before they qualify for assistance.

THE PROGRAM requires the homeowner to acquire a loan from an authorized bank for the total amount of the energy improvements. Once the work is completed a check will be issued for the determined amount.

Assistance levels will be determined according to the income guidlines outlined in the program, Sincock said.

'For example, if a homeowner earns less than $24,640, they can qualify for up to $1,250 in grant monies," he said.

'Homeowners can earn as much as $46,200 and still qualify for some monies under this program.'

"The money will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis. They want to have 40 percent of the funds be used in conjunction with tax-exempt borrowing, Sincock said.

Fingerprinting for children provided free

A program of fingerprinting children who live in Plymouth or Plymouth Township is being started by Plymouth Police Department.

Fingerprinting will be provided free on the first Saturday of each month on an appointment basis 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. for children ages 5-8.

To participate, the child must have a parent or legal guardian present, have a valid birth certificate to show when fingerprinted and have an appointment

Upon completion of the fingerprinting process all records will be turned over to the child's parent or legal guardian.

Appointments may be made for Nov. 5 by calling 453-8600, Ext. 57. Appointments are on a first-come basis.

City ready to purchase Gas &

Plans are being finalized for the purchase of the Boron Oil Company property needed for Plymouth's prope $3 million hospital clinic and parking deck

If negotiations go as planned, construction could start soon on the Central Parking Lot complex.

A deal to sell the city the Gas & Go station on the corner of Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail should be comp eted sometime next week, according to City Manager Henry Graper.

The city intends to sell the property to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor for the construction of a $2 million medical facility.

Also needed for the project is the adjacent Plymouth Veterinary Hospital hopes to buy in the near future, Graper said. property, which the city administration

"We expect a settlement on the veterinary clinic very quickly. They are looking at a couple of sites we have recommended for relocation," he said.

That property, 367 S. Harvey St., is owned by Mary Beth and Steven Lein-inger and backs up to the Central Lot. "They are very cooperative," said

Graper. "We don't want to disturb their business anymore than we have to."

ALTHOUGH GRAPER wouldn't release details of the deal on the Gas & Go property, it apparently involves a cash payment from the city along with a contribution back to the city from Boron

"They are very, very good people to work with. The price includes a contribution from Boron to the community,' Graper said. "St. Joseph will reimburse us for all the cost of the land, unless the cost goes beyond what we told St. Joe we would pay for the property - but I don't an-

The Plymouth Township board will be asked to buy a fully equipped police car and a two-year supply of police uni-form patches at Tuesday night's meet-

Besides the apparent price advan-tage to buying the police car at this time, Police Chief Carl Berry recom-mends its purchase because the car "could be used by a part-time traffic enforcement section."

However, the township doesn't have a traffic enforcement section. In fact, Berry is a police chief without a police department since police services are contracted from the city of Plymouth.

So, does the recommended purchase of the equipment mean the township plans to hire officers and start building a department?

Berry and Township Supervisor aurice Breen avoided directly answering the question.

Berry - whose name is on the information being sent to the board - said to talk with Breen.

BREEN SAID the recommendations to buy the equipment came from the police chief — and that the supervisor's office hasn't made a recommendation on the matter.

"It's a matter of purchasing a car," he said. "He is the police chief, and he ds a police car made available to

> If you have a bad heart, if you can't stand a good fright, if Halloween every year has you hiding in your locked bedroom with the covers pulled up over your head while the ghosts and goblins creak and howl, then there are lots of places Plymouth and Canton you should avoid.

Places like haunted houses. Parties where only ghouls get in without a cos-tume and Halloween happenings for the strong of spirit and courageous.

Both the Canton and Plymouth Jaycees boast haunted houses too creepy for bats, so frightening even Dracula has to sleep with the lights on.

The Canton haunted house is on the south side of Ford about 100 yards east of 1-375. The bewitching hours are from 7-10-39 p.m. weedays and from 7 p.m. to midnight weekends. Admission is $1.50.

The Plymouth haunted house is at 16300 Seldon, between Five and Six Mile. Breaking the binding ties of smoking, overeating

Do you need to quit smoking or lose eight but are unable to?

A hypnotist says you can break the tes that bind you to the self-destruc-ive habits of smoking and overeating with the help of "self psych" hypnosis sessions offered on Nov. 10 by Plymouth Community Family YMCA.

"If you are afraid hypnosis won't work for you, worry no more," says David Rowe, a clinical hypnotist with Self Psych Inc. During each session the participant will be hypnotized four times, said Howe. "Half way through the session after you've been hypnotized twice you'll have a chance to get your $30 fee back if you think the hypnosis is not

From the time she was a tiny toddler, Penny Parrish spent most of her time helping her mother and dad in the vegetable garden at the rear of their home on Brookline in Canton.

Now 33 years old with four children at her side, she opened the kitchen panry recently and proudly showed the reults of the hard work and the hours pent in the sun.

From floor to ceiling it was filled with jars of vegetables of all kinds. "I spent my time this fall canning 50 jars of the goodies out of our garden and, like the older folks used to, store things for the winter, I am all set.

To the editor:

Having been clever enough to avoid Flori-da swampland, Arizona desert property and even "Pet Rocks," I can clearly see the moti-vation behind the Plymouth-Canton teachers' cry for smaller class sizes. People in this district have been pulling their children out of these schools in droves. Some, who seldom attend religious services, pay thousands of dollars per year in order to obtain a more acceptable education program at Catholic, Protestant and Christian schools. Religion may be of some importance, but the majority of these transfers represent a lack of confidence in our public school system.

So when we see a teacher with a sign on his shoulder, which demands "Smaller Class Size," chances are he is just concerned that the sign next to him the next time around will not have a teacher under it.

Plymouth's past seen in old newspaper items

(Part I)

You pull aside the vell of the past when you look at the reports and ad-vertisements in an old newspaper. You catch glimpses of life as it used to be, and remember again the things you have seen that you can see no more. You recall, with Wordsworth, the time when mesdow, grove and stream, the earth and every common sizh seemed earth and every common sight seemed "apparelled in celestial light." Experience tells you that the past al-ways looks better than it was; that it only looks pleasant because it isn't here. Yet, despite that, you recall with fondness times past when life seemed simpler, when the pace was less frenzied, when your ears and eyes were yet to be assailed with the violent sounds and sights inflicted by the age of electronics.

The old newspaper that caused such thoughts to surface was the Friday, May 21, 1915, issue of the Plymouth Mail which recently came my way. I was a toddler in Carbondale, Pa., and had heard of neither Plymouth nor Michigan in 1915, but I believe I got as much pleasure reading the advertise-ments and news reports of Plymouth of 68 years ago as I would have had I been native born.

PLYMOUTH IN 1915 was a small village at the center of an agricultural region known for its farm produce, especially sweet corn.

It also was known as a railroad center, as the home of the Daisy Air Rifle, and as the place where the Alter Motor Car Co. had decided to build its new line of automobiles.

The Plymouth Mail, established in 1887, was now the property of F.W. Samsen who came here from Saginaw. The editor and general manager was his son, Lawrence B. Samsen. The newspaper was printed in a building on Penniman Avenue, just west of the al-ley across from today's post office. The Samsens ran a low-key operation, preferring to eschew local arguments.

advertisements. Three advertised pharmacies. Beyer's, in the block south of the Pere Marquette Railroad, stuck harmacies. Beyer's, in the block south to prescriptions. But Pinckney's and O.M. Rockwell made a big thing of their ice cream facilities.

Pickney's, which sold "Polar Brand" ice cream, was proud of the perfect sanitation at their soda fountain. "When you but your ice cream here, you run no risk of contracting (sic) a disease-breeding germ," Pinckley de-clared, with a candor that would make the opening of its new "Sanitary Iceless Soda Fountain." The special of the week, strawberry ice cream soda with fresh strawberries and ice cream, sold for five cents. "We have placed in charge of our fountain, Mr. Charles K. Roney, who is an expert in his line and comes to us from one of the largest fountains in Detroit," Rockwell proclaimed.

Under the heading "Little Bits of He-nology," the ad for Blatchford's Egg chicken raiser was advised to "satisfy your hens or you'll never know just when, they're going to quit layin' which means they'll quit a payin'." Lending emphasis to the importance of chickens and cows to the local economy in 1915 was a nearby ad by Carney and Mills Variety Grocery, located on Main Street. It offered the highest pric-es to farmers who brought in their butter and eggs. Paul Voorhies and John Dayton, local attorneys, made it known that they also were agents for automobile insur-ance. Voorhies went on to become Michigan's attorney general in 1931.

THE EDISON THEATRE, which I believe was located on the north side of Penniman Avenue, advertised that the movie for May 22 would be "The Squaw Man," in six parts, starring Dustin Farnum.

News items on the front page included reports of the deaths of J.D. McLaren and Leland Clark Dye. School Superintendent Charles F. Reebs, in a nearby column, issued a call for a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing a Home and School Association. He said this was needed to bring about "closer and more intelligent cooperation be-tween the home and the school to promote the welfare of our children."

Another item concerned the 16th meeting of the Woman's Literary Club at the home of Mrs. William T. Pettingill. Mrs. R.E. Cooper sang in an im-pressive manner, "Little Boy Blue." A report about Audubon was given by Mrs. Huldah Knapp. Mrs. 'Pettingill read a paper on "Our Feathered Evicante."

The Woman's Literary Club, organized in 1893 as the Ladies' Literary Club, changed its name in 1898. Today it is known simply as the Woman's Club, the oldest women's organization in Plymouth.

In 1915, the group was doing more than reading literary papers. During that year, it backed an anti-cigarette bill, supported a movement to abolish saloons in the village, and wrote to Congress protesting the shipment of horses to "the belligerents at war." (To be continued)

Mash, distributed locally by Wilcox Brothers (for whom the pond is named) informed the reader that "A chicken's most modern advertisers shudder. "Our dishes are properly sterilized. No such thing as a free ride—even in autumn

It was a rather cold morning in the foot hills of the Blue Ridge mountains back in Pennsylvania. The frost was heavy and there was a crackling with every step. It was a morning the Stroller never will forget.

It was the morning he went to school to bid his fellow students goodbye. Mother had been left a widow with five children to worry about. She took the Stroller aside one day and broke the news to him - he would have to leave school and seek employment to help raise the family.

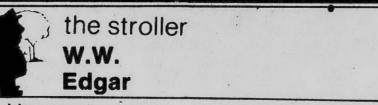

The Stroller walked up and down the aisles of the old school that morning, ddi ng goodbye to his ch

Then he came to his teacher to say goodbye for the last time.

She was what we called in those days an old maid, but a very wise woman and a good teacher. She shook hands with the Stroller then placed her arm around his neck and gave him some advice

"THERE'S ONE thing to bear in mind as you now go out into the world," she said. "There is no such a thing as a free ride. You will have to pay for everything you get." At the time The Stroller didn't realize the truth of those words. But as the years wore on the wise old teacher's words became more important to him. "He got to thinking about them the other day while raking a mound of leaves on the front lawn of the little white house with the green shutters.

It had been only a few weeks ago that he walked up and down the road to view the colored leaves. As he passed one tree after the other he got to thinking that he didn't have to join in any of the highly advertised color tours to see the beauty of the fall season. Our road is a thing of beauty and it even draws its share of sightseers. But now the leaves had fallen. Each day they left a blanket over the lawn. To allow the leaves to remain would have been gambling with next sum-mer's lawn. So there was nothing to do, but rake them. With each swish of the rake the load got heavier. Soon it became quite a task.

THEN THE words of the old teacher back home came to mind.As he raked, the words "There is no such a thing as a free ride" came back through the years. The Stroller realized he would have to pay the price for the grandeur of the leaves of autumn that made our road a sight to behold. And he gladly paid the price.

When the Stroller moved out into the country some years ago, it was because of the trees and the country atmos-phere. He had envisioned a nice lawn and a vegetable garden to grow items for the table and for home cooked meale

The vision came true in no uncertain way, but there was also a price.

Sure, there were vegetables to be had — if you prepared the soil and then planted and nursed the seed. You could have almost any kind of vegetable - if you worked for it.

IT WAS the same with the lawn. Sure, it was nice looking, but it just didn't happen. It had to be trimmed every week. The hedges at the flower beds had to be cared for and time had to be taken to give them a drink every evening. They got thirsty, too.

So, taking care of the lawn was quite job. So was taking care of the vegetable garden.

It was a grand feeling to show off the place and see the look of envy in the eyes of the city folks who came to visit and admire the sight. But behind it all was hours and hours of work.

NIGHT CRAMPS

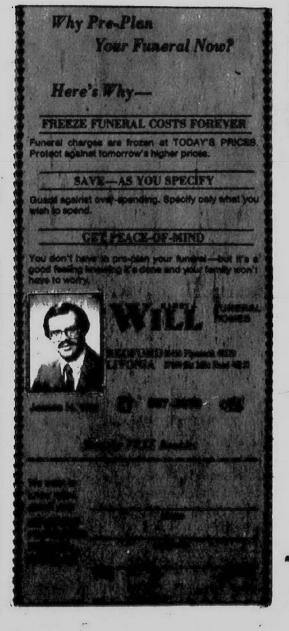

WEISS

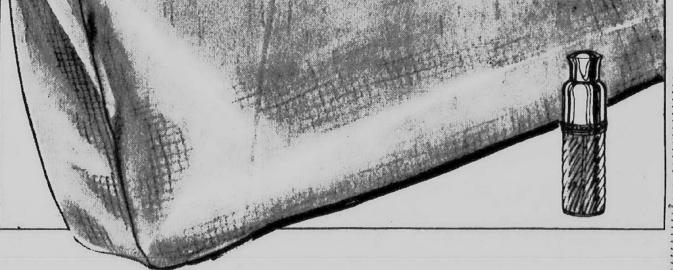

A problem that plagues a number of people is being awakened from sleep by leg cramps. Investigation has revealed that these pains are not due to poor blood supply or irritation of the involved muscles.

Night cramps are the result of insufficient deep sleep, called Stage IV, or R.E.M. sleep. Relaxation of muscles occurs in Stage IV sleep. In contrast, in Stage III sleep the muscles are in a state of tension, and prolonged time at this sleep level causes muscle cramps. An abrupt awakening to stop this pain becomes necessary when the body, for unknown reasons, cannot relax muscles by reaching R.E.M. sleep.

Treatment of night cramps consists of medi-cine able to encourage R.E.M. sleep. Certain rugs used to treat depression, when taken at light, are effective for this purpose. Anyone suffering from night cramps should seek med-cal aid, therapy is possible, safe, and reliable.

THE EDISON THEATRE, which I believe was located on the north side of Penniman Avenue, advertised that the movie for May 22 would be "The Squaw Man," in six parts, starring Dustin Farnum.

News items on the front page includ-ed reports of the deaths of J.D. McLaren and Leland Clark Dye. School Superintendent Charles F. Reebs, in a nearby column, issued a call for a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing a Home and School Association. He said this was needed to bring about "closer and more intelligent cooperation be-tween the home and the school to promote the welfare of our children.

O&E Monday, October 24, 1983

Another item concerned the 16th meeting of the Woman's Literary Club at the home of Mrs. William T. Pettingill. Mrs. R.E. Cooper sang in an im-pressive manner, "Little Boy Blue." A report about Audubon was given by Mrs. Huldah Knapp. Mrs. Pettingill read a paper on "Our Feathered Friends."

The Woman's Literary Club, organized in 1893 as the Ladies' Literary Club, changed its name in 1898. Today it is known simply as the Woman's Club, the oldest women's organization in Plymouth.

In 1915, the group was doing more than reading literary papers. During that year, it backed an anti-cigarette bill, supported a movement to abolish saloons in the village, and wrote to Congress protesting the shipment of horses to "the belligerents at war."

No such thing as a free ride—even in autumn

It was a rather cold morning in the foot hills of the Blue Ridge mountains back in Pennsylvania. The frost was heavy and there was a crackling with every step. It was a morning the Stroller never will forget.

It was the morning he went to school to bid his fellow students goodbye. Mother had been left a widow with five children to worry about. She took the Stroller aside one day and broke the news to him - he would have to leave school and seek employment to help raise the family.

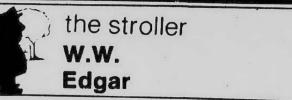

The Stroller walked up and down the aisles of the old school that morning, bidding goodbye to his classmates.

Then he came to his teacher to say goodbye for the last time.

She was what we called in those days an old maid, but a very wise woman and a good teacher. She shook hands with the Stroller then placed her arm around his neck and gave him some advice.

'THERE'S ONE thing to bear in mind as you now go out into the world," she said. "There is no such a thing as a free ride. You will have to pay for everything you get." At the time The Stroller didn't realize the truth of those words. But as the years wore on the wise old teacher's words became more important to him. He got to thinking about them the other day while raking a mound of leaves on the front lawn of the little white house with the green shutters.

It had been only a few weeks ago that he walked up and down the road to view the colored leaves. As he passed one tree after the other he got to thinking that he didn't have to join in any of the highly advertised color tours to see the beauty of the fall season. Our road is a thing of beauty and it even draws its share of sightseers.

But now the leaves had fallen. Each day they left a blanket over the lawn. To allow the leaves to remain would have been gambling with next sum-mer's lawn. So there was nothing to do, but rake them. With each swish of the rake the load got heavier. Soon it became quite a task.

THEN THE words of the old teacher back home came to mind.As he raked, the words "There is no such a thing as a free ride" came back through the years. The Stroller realized he would have to pay the price for the grandeur of the leaves of autumn that made our road a sight to behold. And he gladly paid the price.

When the Stroller moved out into the country some years ago, it was because of the trees and the country atmos-phere. He had envisioned a nice lawn and a vegetable garden to grow items for the table and for home cooked meals.

The vision came true in no uncertain way, but there was also a price.

Sure, there were vegetables to be had - if you prepared the soil and then planted and nursed the seed. You could have almost any kind of vegetable - if you worked for it.

IT WAS the same with the lawn. Sure, it was nice looking, but it just didn't happen. It had to be trimmed every week. The hedges at the flower beds had to be cared for and time had to be taken to give them a drink every evening. They got thirsty, too.

So, taking care of the lawn was quite a job. So was taking care of the vegetable garden.

It was a grand feeling to show off the place and see the look of envy in the eyes of the city folks who came to visit and admire the sight. But behind it all was hours and hours of work.

State signing up for par-value plan

More than 20 Michigan communities appear ready to join a travel pro-motion program in which Canadian dollars would be accepted at par with American dollars, says Jack Wilson, Michigan Travel Bureau Director.

The cooperative par value program, spon-sored by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, the Michigan Travel Bureau and local chambers of commerce, was inspired by a highly successful experiment initiated in Plymouth last year by Scott Lorenz, general manager of the Mayflower Hotel. "Plymouth — in ignor-ing the approximately 22 percent differential be-tween Canadian and U.S. dollars — has attracted dollars — has attracted thousands of Canadian tourists and brought some $300,000 into the lo-cal economy," Wilson said. "As a result of the suc-cess in Plymouth, involv-ing state and local sup-

DR. WEISS

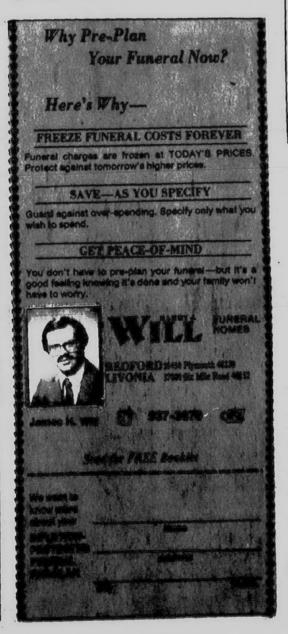

A problem that plagues a number of people is being awakened from sleep by leg cramps. investigation has revealed that these pains are not due to poor blood supply or irritation of the involved muscles.

Night cramps are the result of insufficient deep sleep, called Stage IV, or R.E.M. sleep. Relaxation of muscles occurs in Stage IV sleep. In contrast, in Stage III sleep the muscles are in a state of tension, and prolonged time at this sleep level causes muscle cramps. An abrupt awakening to stop this pain becomes necessary when the body, for unknown reasons, cannot relax muscles by reaching R.E.M. sleep.

reaching R.E.M. sleep. Treatment of night cramps consists of medi-cine able to encourage R.E.M. sleep. Certain drugs used to treat depression, when taken at night, are effective for this purpose. Anyone suffering from night cramps should seek med-ical aid, therapy is possible, safe, and reliable.

Halloween is one of the happiest days of the year for children, particularly when it is capped by a gathering of family and friends. This year, plan to meet for an extra-special treat of Jack-O'-Lantern Cake, a centerpiece dessert that will disappear like magic.

The Jack-O'-Lantern Cake is a treasure trove of treats — with candy baked inside as well as tumbling out. Its zesty taste results from crushed sour orange hard candies that also give it a light orange color. Two bundt pans are required to create the perfect pumpkin shape. The cakes are trimmed slightly of their rounded tops, stacked inverted so the bases face each other, and then iced with a gay pumpkin-hued buttercream frosting.

The center "well" of the cake is filled with confections, a charming way to reflect the tradition of the holiday. Cider or a simple punch made festive by adding sparkling club soda provides the perfect liquid refreshment.

An informal party is right in keeping with the "Meet 'n Treat" program urged by the National Confectioners Association for more than ten years. The program encourages parents to accompany their children on treating rounds, observing safety rules outlined by the NCA and the National Safety Council, and then climax the day's celebration with family, neighborhood or community parties.

The party can be kept very simple — no more than just a sharing of the "goodies" as parents watch — or it can be a full-scale production, featuring haunted house recreations and dinner. The point is to experience the sharing of an occasion with one another, which will insure that everyone has a truly happy Halloween.

Jack-O'-Lantern Cake

4 1/2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
3 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups butter or margarine, softened at room temperature

2 cups sugar

- 1 tablespoon orange extract 6 large eggs, at room temperature 1 3/4 cups milk 3/4 cup finely crushed extra sour orange hard candles (6-ounce package)
 - Assorted candy for decoration

loring

Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. In a large bowl cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add orange extract. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Alternately add milk with dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Blend well. Stir in crushed candies. Grease two 10-inch bundt cake pans. Preheat oven to 350 °F. Divide batter between two prepared pans and bake 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center of cake comes out clean. Cool 15 minutes in pan. Turn out onto cooling racks. Cool completely. With a sharp knife trim bottom of cakes so they lie flat. Invert one cake flat side up; frost with Orange Frosting*, place remaining cake on top so two flat surfaces are together; frost outside of cake. Decorate with licorice sticks and fill center with assorted Halloween candies. YIELD: 20 to 30 servings.

No tricks to find in these party treats

Capture the look of autumn with col-orful arrangements of dried leaves and wers, with a bowl of big red apples, a spray of Indian corn on the door and pumpkins everywhere. Then, capture the season's flavor with a fresh new pumpkin dessert. Made with whipped topping, the dessert has a nutty graham cracker crust topped with a pumpkinple-spiced, creamy mixture of marshmallow creme, pumpkin, gelatin and whipped topping. Frozen topping right from the freezer - blended with orange juice makes another great treat for ghosts, goblins and other Halloween revelers.

THE SEPTEMBER-October issue of Michigan History magazine gives state-wide attention to the Plymouth Historical Museum. Dr. Sam Hudson, local historian and author of two books about Plymouth, wrote the article about the social history programs offered at the museum.

Sam, a long-time member of the Plymouth Historical Society, wrote the piece last spring. Quoted in the article is Marjory Mitchell, another Plymouth resident, who initiated the program in 1975 with the approval of the museum's board of directors. Marje, a graduate of speech and drama department of Michigan State University, retired as volunteer head of the educational programs after Sam wrote the

It is illustrated with presentations seen by the children at the museum. Sam points out that the local museum is taking the lead in demonstrating that artifacts and documents are of little value unless people understand them and make use of them. He notes the program has been beneficial to all, especially school children.

Michigan History is published by the Department of State six times a vear:

THE EDUCATIONAL programs are popular with local teachers and those from the surrounding communities. They return with their students for each of the five topics covered in individual programs. Barbara Saunders said they have just two openings left for November and December is almost completely booked.

"We're doing as many as three in one day," Barbara said, adding that they need more volunteers to conduct the tours and classes.

Carol Davis, Linda Daley, Betty Childs, Louise Bradley, Carol Kennedy, Carol Packard and Barbara Malleck conduct the programs. Men or women who would like to become involved in the program may call the museum, 455-8940. You don't need teaching expérience to participate, but it is a wonderful opportunity for former teachers who miss their kids.

Blue becomes a member of the family

Rick Williams feeds cracked corn to Blue, his pet blue jay.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Elaine Piewers. HALLONE

Blue, the Blue Jay, has become a neighborhood character on Chichester in Canton Township.

Rick Williams found Blue when he was just a fledgling, early in July. He seemed to have a broken wing and most of his wing feathers were still at the pinfeather stage. Rick took him home and fed him cat food soaked in milk. Blue thrived on his cat food diet and decided he was a member of the Williams family.

Now a full-grown jay, he spends his days outdoors and his nights in a cage in the Williams' house.

"Ouring the last few weeks, he's been been flying around with some other jays, but he always comes home," said Rick. "He doesn't sound like the other jays, either. When I found him he had a squeaky baby cry and he can't squawk like the other jays — he still squeaks."

Rick says he is not aggressive but he is adventurous and curious

THE JAY FLIES and lands on Rick's shoulder. "He starts pulling at my ear or going through my hair. When my sister or mother wear earrings, he really likes them and tries to pull them off." Rich said he worries about Blue landing on a stranger's shoulder and startling them. "They may become fright-ened and hit him."

Blue is a very observant bird. If someone leaves keys lying on a table, he goes over and pecks at them. Rick has a jar of pennies which Blue likes to pick out of the jar and drop. He picks a * pencil out of a pencil holder and flies around with it in his beak.

Once he got into some checks from Rick's brother's paper route collection and started tearing at them.

"He likes to rip papers. He grabs one corner and just keeps ripping," Rick said. Blue was afraid of Rick's rabbit and very curious and cautious around his box turtle. "He'd hop around him in circles and when the turtle would stick his head out of his shell he'd jump backwards.'

NOW BLUE eats bird seed, cracked corn, and he likes crickets and worms. He also likes potato chips.

He has stayed out overnight a couple of times

"One day he was out in the rain for about 15 minutes and he just sat in a tree, didn't try to seek shelter. When I found him in the tree, he just dropped to the ground — he didn't fly, he just dropped," said Rick. Rick is concerned about how he will make out in winter. Blue flies well now, but the broken back wing still "sticks up" a little where it was injured.

Rick, a 10th grader at Plymouth Salem High School, said he hopes to be-come a veterinarian. At 15, he finds life with a blue jay is a most interesting experience.

JOHAN VAN der Merwe, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony, was given a surprise birthday gift opening concert of the new season.

The present was something he had wanted - even coveted - since the pop concert last May. In keeping with the theme, "Around the World in 80 Minutes," replicas of hot air balloons were used as decorations for the concert. And Johan said he would like to have one of them. It turned out that they had been borrowed for the occasion, and had to be returned.

Johan got his balloon for his birthday. It was handmade by Carole Brandt, president of the Symphony League. She even had the van der Merwe family in the gondola. Johan wore a tuxedo and had a baton tucked in his pocket; wife Barbara wore a Madam Butterfly costume, one of her favorite operatic roles; and daughter Brenda was there, too. When she saw it, Brenda immediately switched the baton to the other side with the explanation, "My dad's left-handed you know."

JOHNNIE Crosby's painting, Frozen Fern, is in The Scarab Club's 40th annual watercolor exhibition. The juried exhibit will continue at the gallery, 217 Farnsworth, Detroit, through Oct. 29. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays, and 2-5 p.m. Sundays.

VFW announces scholarship title

"My Role in Upholding the Constitution" is the theme of the 37th annual Voice of democracy scholarship program. The radio scriptwriting competition is sponsored locally by the Mayflower Lt. Gamble Post and Auxiliary 6695 Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The scholarship program is open to all 10th through 12th grade students. Local, district and national recognition is offered as well as monetary grants with the top award of a $14,000 scholarship. Kenneth Fisher, 453-6144, and Ruth Salisbury, 261-2336, co-chairs of the program, urge interested students to call.

"The program has been entered in the local high schools, but students can work independently of the schools and enter by contacting either of the chairmen. Students from other schools also are encouraged to take part," said Eileen Williams, VFW Auxiliary member.

STUDENTS ARE asked to tape their scripts using professional equipment available at cooperating radio stations. The recorded script must be at least three minutes and not more than five minutes in length. It is recommended the script be transcribed on reel-type magnetic tape at a speed of 7½ inches per second.

Deadline for local entries is Nov. 30. Last year more than 250,000 young people from more than 8,000 public, private and parochial schools participated in the national Voice of Democracy program.

The winner from the state of Michigan will receive a five-day all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C. in March, together with winners from the other 49 states. They will visit National monu-ments, see Congress in action and meet high government officials. National awards, in addition to first place, are $7,000, $4,000, $3,500, $2,500 and $1,000 grants for second through sixth place winners.

THE PROGRAM, in its 37th year, is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Ladies Auxiliary with the cooperation of the National and State Association of Broadcasters.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed the Voice of Democracy Program on the advisory list of National Contests and Activities for 1983-1984.

Participation in the Voice of democracy program gives students experience in writing and speaking, and a chance to reflect on their nation and its meaning for them.

Central rally costs Rocks victory, title

By Chris McCosky staff writer

You look at the statistics and wonder how it could have happened.

How did Plymouth Salem lose? Quarterback Mark Tindall ran for 121 yards. Fullback Scott Jurek ran for 111. The Rock offense put 25 points on the board. The Rock defense held Walled Lake Central's premier tailback Wayne Adams to just two yards rushing. In fact, Central amassed just 86 yards on the ground all night. So how did Central win 28-25?

"I guess it was just their night," said a dejected Salem coach Tom Moshimer afterwards. "We got all the breaks last week against Bentley. Tonight, Central got the breaks. It all comes around in the end."

CENTRAL QUARTERBACK Tom Menard was the difference in the game. He rushed for 79 yards, but more important, he completed 8 of 12 passes for 148 yards. It was Menard who ignited Central's stunning fourth-quarter comeback.

With the score deadlocked at 15 at halftime, Salem drove from its 20-yard line to the Central 8 in its first possession of the second half.

The drive was similar to the Rocks' two first half scoring drives. The Rocks took the game's opening kickoff and drove 72 yards in 14 plays to score on a 13-yard Tindall to Craig Morton pass.

Tindall, running the wishbone to perfection, battered the right and left sides of the Central line for big chunks of yardage. Tindall rushed for 48 of the 72 yards in that drive.

A 41-yard punt return by Central's Paul Henry, set up Menard's 5-yard TD Then Menard hit Jeff Schneider with a 2-point conversion pass to tie the score.

Salem, on its next possession, marched 73 yards in 12 plays to score on Jurek's 1-yard plunge. Central altered their defense to stop Tindall on the outside, so the Rocks gave the ball to Jurek up the middle.

After Mark Dixon's point after, Salem was ahead 15-8.

Central tied the score on Menard's 24-yard run with five minutes left in

THAT BRINGS US to the third quarter with the score tied at 15. Another long Salem drive stalled. With a fourth down on the Central 8, Dixon put Salem ahead 18-15 with his 25-yard field goal. Salem appeared to have things sewn up when Tindall fooled everybody on a bootleg around left end for a 12-yard touchdown. Dixon's point after gave the Rocks a 10-point lead with just nine minutes left to play.

Things looked even better when, with eight minutes left, Steve Sobditch picked off a Menard pass.

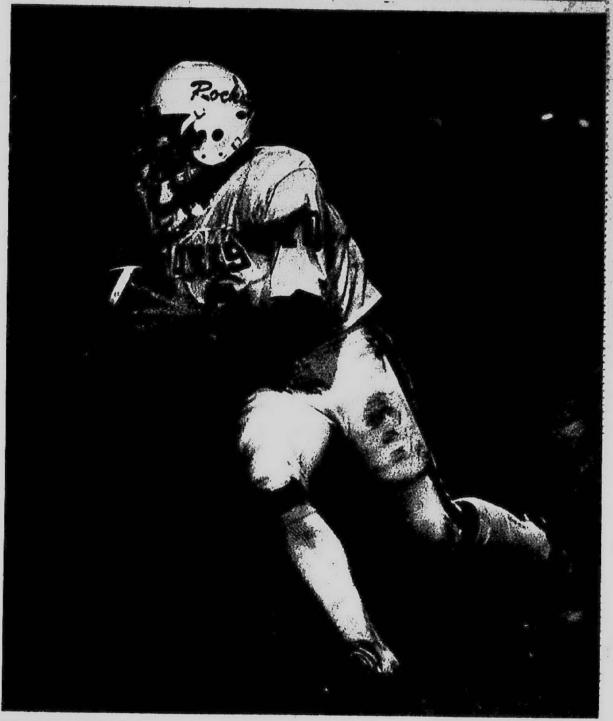

That's when Menard took over.

He picked off a Tindall pass at the Rock 37. He hit Dave Chwalibag twice, once for 19 yards and once for 10 to set up Adams' 6-yard TD run. Central's 2point conversion bid failed and with 4:47 remaining, Central cut the lead to 25-21

SALEM AGAIN failed to move the ball. With 3:15 left, Menard was back in business.

He hit Adams with an 18-yard pass that was tipped by the Rocks' Chris Raymond. Then Menard missed on three passes in a row, which set up a fourth-and-10 situation.

Jeff Wilkinson recorded his seventh shutout of the season as Livonia Bentley upset Redford Catholic Central 2-0 in state pre-regional boys soccer action Friday afternoon.

The win enables the Bulldogs (9-3-4) to advance to regional semifinal play against crosstown rival Livonia Churchill.

After a scoreless first half, Bentley took the lead for good when Keith Archambault poked in a loose ball in the CC crease. Dennis Patchett drew the only assist on the goal six minutes into the second half. Just four minutes later, however, the Bulldogs would have some insurance, courtesy of Patchett.

The junior netted his 15th goal of the season when he beat CC goalie Pat Stocker with a penalty kick. Meanwhile, the CC offense was stagnated as the Shamrocks could muster only 10 shots for the game at Wilkin-

The Bulldogs kept the pressure on Stocker most of the afternoon especially in the second half, when they peppered him with 16 of their 21 total

The loss ended the season for the Shamrocks, which finished at 10-4-3.

CANTON 3, A.A.PIONEER 1: Pioneer took the early lead but Canton roared back with three second half goals to get the pre-regional win.

Tom Wright started the Chiefs scoring run at the 10 minute mark. Brian Whiteley and Steve Morell soon followed as the Chiefs went over .500 at 7-6-0.

ANDOVER 5, N. FARMINGTON 0: It was a big day for Andover, which was led by forwards John Artz and Chris Tennant, who each scored two goals Raider goalie Dan McCarthy topped 15 of 20 Baron shots but lacked support from the offense.

CHURCHILL 4, FRANKLIN 1: Churchill won the battle of Livonia Friday, breaking open a close 2-1 game to advance to the next round. After the Patriots opened the scoron a penalty kick. Ray Glasso then put the Chargers in front to stay with his sixth goal of the year.

ing, Churchill evened matters when Senior John Neff rounded out the scoring with two second half goals for the Chargers.

FARMINGTON 2, GRAND BLANC 1: The shots were even, but Mario Said's two goals were the difference as Farmington advanced.

Falcon goalie Mark Pingree, meanwhile, stopped 15 Bobcat shots. The win upped Farmington's overall record to 8-6-3.

Wednesday also belonged to Said, as he tallied two goals and added two assists as the Falcons beat Livonia Franklin, 5-1, on their home turf. Doug Prince also helped the Falcon cause with two goals.

NOTRE DAME 3, GARDEN CITY 1: The Irish used two goals by Matt Bergtold to beat Garden City and advance to regional semifinal play.

The Cougars, in only their second year of varsity soccer, finished the season with a fine 13-2-0 mark.

The Irish, which did all their scoring in opening half, got started on a goal by Mike Puchalski. Paul Pummill brought the Cougars even when he netted his 29th goal of the year with assists going to Andy Muglia and Ramon Escobar. That's when Bergtold took over.

STEVENSON 9, ANDOVER 0: It was a field day for the Spartans as they rolled to the next round behind three goals from Dan Divens. Not to be outdone, teammates Eric Pence, Rob Costanza and John Gelmisi each added two goals each. Terry Harshfield had an easy night in the nets as he registered his eighth

In the new shuter of the year. On Wednesday, Stevenson upped their record to 15-2-1 as they blanked Farmington Harrison, 5-0. Pence had another big day with three goals while teammate John Gelmisi added two giving him 24 on the year.

Hawk goalie Kelly Burningham was herioc in defeat, stopping 45 Stevenson shots.

Salem defense puts the clamps on Chargers

The scoreboard read 6-0 after one quarter.

A あまたで ちょうううえる

Wrong.

The Salem girls basketball team is showing the rest of the Western Lakes Athletic Association what good defense is all about.

The Chargers, scoreless after one quarter Thursday night, could net just seven baskets and two free throws the entire game. The final score: Salem 31, Churchill 16.

"Our defense was really, really good tonight," said Rock coach Fred Thomann, whose team allowed just 25 points against Farmington Tuesday night.

"We played them really hard. We took away their pattern and forced them into taking long shots. And we didn't allow them any second shots," he said.

A team will win a lot of ballgames that way.

Salem (11-3 overall, 8-3 in the WLAA) didn't exactly overwhelm Churchill offensively. But, that's of no concern to Thomann.

"YOU CAN'T worry about how many points you score. It's how the game flows. Obviously, we had just as hard a time scoring as they did. We got most of our scoring off the perimeter. But, neither team scored from the (free throw) line. They were two of 10 and we were one of nine - you won't score many points doing that," Thomann said.

Fran Whittaker led all scorers with 11 points. Pam McBride had six and Dawn Johnson and Kelly Bemis each had four.

Churchill's top scorers - Patty Smith and Tracy Greenwald - each had four points.

Salem has an important WLAA contest Tuesday as it plays host to Livonia Bentley. Bentley, 10-1 in league play, defeated the Rocks earlier this season.

"We're are playing well," Thomann said. "We will be in the game. I don't know if we are going to win it or not, but when it comes down, we'll be there. And that's all that matters."

BENTLEY 51, CANTON 29: Canton played a strong first half against the talent-rich Bulldogs, but a 17-6 third-quarter spurt salted the game away for Bentley.

Amy Weber triggered the third-quarter Bentley rally. With the Bulldogs leading 20-15 entering the second half, Weber made three quick steals off the press and converted them into easy layup baskets. Weber finished with 11 points. Bentley's Laurie Day scored 15 to lead all scorers. Day also pulled down 10 rebounds.

Tami Budlong and Laura Darby each scored 10 points to lead the Chiefs.

"We didn't really have much trouble ahead slowly, then put them away with tonight," said Bentley coach Tom Lang. a good third quarter." We shot poorly in the first half. We got

Canton, who had come off two impressive wins against Churchill and Northville, saw its record fall to 5-6 in the WLAA, 5-8 overall.

Chief gridders' rally falls just short

Dan Gilmartin threw three touchdown passes, two of them to his favorite receiver Rick Rozman, as Livonia Stevenson held on Friday night to beat Plymouth Canton 27-21 in a Western Lakes football game.

Trailing 27-0 at the half, the Chiefs rallied for a pair of fourth quarter TDs, but simply ran out of time.

Canton's final score, a 15-yard run by wingback Matt Flower, came with just 54 seconds remaining in the contest.

Canton remains winless on the year while Stevenson is 5-2 overall and 3-2 in Western Lakes Activities Association play.

The Canton faithful had very little to was up by 14. cheer about in the early going as Stevenson took command early.

Next, Gilmartin decided to change receivers, teaming up with Rozman for an 18-yard TD play. Peter Huddy's PAT gave 21-0.

> Finally, Gilmartin brought in the heavy artillery as he connected again with Rozman for a field covering 75yard score, but Huddy missed the PAT as Stevenson enjoyed a 27-0 advantage at intermission.

> Canton finally came to life in the second half as Aiken found Jim Kaske with 30-yard pass for a TD.

THE CHIEFS, who rolled up 293 yards worth of total offense, began mixing their attack effectively against the Stevenson backups.

Early in the fourth, junior Rod Boyd, who ran 101 yards on 22 carries, ran in from 10 yards out for a TD.

Canton then made things even more interesting when Aiken scored on the two-point conversion, which made the score 27-15. But Stevenson refused to break despite the late TD by Flowers. In all, the two teams combined for 547 yards total offense.

Rock women runners capture crown

The Plymouth Salem cross country teams went to Oakland Community College Thursday in quest of two Western Lakes Athletic Association Lakes Divison titles.

They brought home one.

The Salem girls completed their perfect 4-0 league dual-meet season by smoking winless Farmington 21-38. Shelly Simons won individual honors with her time of 21:19. That ousted second-place Falcon runner Laura DeAngelis by five seconds.

Trish Donnelly (21:38) and Heidi Du-Pret (22:19) ran third and fourth. Amy Miyazaki (23:06), Paru Bhavsar (23:07, her best time ever), and Michelle Donnelly (23:59), placed sixth, seventh and eighth to round out the Rocks' field.

Salem has its sights set on the WLAA league meet Tuesday. Coach Tom Williams said his team, Livonia Churchill and Livonia Stevenson will be the crossed the line together in 17:19. teams to beat.

CANTON, however, was about to be range artillery, hitting senior Tom York with a 30-yard TD pass. Huddy Stevenson a 7-0 lead.

THE SALEM BOYS were defeated in their bid for a Lakes title, 20-35, despite a fine performance by Scott Steiner.

"Steiney ran a super race," Williams said. "He was behind after about a mile, mile and a half, and he came on. He's just got a lot of guts." Steiner's 16:56 gave him first place, but the next five runners to cross the finish line wore the Farmington blue and white.

"We just couldn't break up their pack," Williams said.

Those five Falcon runners finished six seconds apart, three of them

Salem's Eric Pedersen (17:35), Bill Morely (17:55), Phil Madis (18:03) and John Keros (18:04) finished in places 7, 8, 9 and 10.

"I'm real happy with the way the season went," said Williams, whose Rocks ended up 7-3 in dual meets. "We lost four seniors from last year and I really had no idea we could even be this close. Next year, I'm looking to have almost everybody back."

Salem will try to pull some upsets at the WLAA league meet on Tuesday.

THE PLYMOUTH CANTON BOYS

cross country finished its season on a winning note, ousting Farmington Harrison, 24-35, Thursday.

The Chiefs' Mark Crotty finished second' just three seconds behind Harrison's Mike Esker. Crotty ran a 17:10.

Tim Collins came in third with a 17:29. Brian Tellier (17:41), Ken Rosal (17:57) and Ken Biddinger (18:23) placed fifth, sixth and eighth for the Chiefs.

THE CANTON GIRLS lost their finale to a tough Harrison squad, 23-34. After surrendering the first two places to the Hawks, Kelly Murphy (21:49) and Ida Williams (22:17) took third and fourth. Jan Alvarado (22:28) placed sixth for the Chiefs.

Menard dropped back to pass. He was rushed heavily, but, as he did all night long, he eluded the tacklers. He then threw a pass low to Chwalibog. The Rock coaches and players screamed it was a trap, but the referee's signaled the pass complete. Central had a first down at the 24 with 2:21 remaining.

On the next play, a long run by Menard was nullified by a clipping call. That made it first-and-16 from the 30 with 1:32 left.

That's when all the smiles turned to tears on the Rock bench. That's when Menard threw a beautifully disguised screen pass to Adams who broke two tackles in the Rock secondary to score the game-winning TD.

"WE HAD THEM," said Moshimer. "We gave it our best shot but we came up short."

Moshimer praised the efforts of plays. That's what really hurt us. Big plays. Take away the punt return, and the two long runs in the first half and we have a different ballgame. When you score 25 points against this team, you expect to win," he said.

The win gave Central first place in the Western Lakes Athletic Association Lakes Division. They will have a rematch with Farmington Harrison, the champions of the Western Division, Friday night at Walled Lake to determine the WLAA champion.

Salem will host the Western Division's second-place Northville team Friday night.

"I told the kids we got two more left to play. We are 6-1. We can still have one heckuva season if we win. We've just got to pick up our heads and go at them," Moshimer said.

The Plymouth Canton swim team clinched at least a tie for the Western Lakes Athletic Conference Western Division swim title Thursday night by dunking Farmington Harrison 96-76.

"Both (Harrison coach) Mark Holdrige and myself had figured beforehand that it would be about a two-point meet either way," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman. "No way did I think we'd beat them by 20 points. Our depth made the difference.'

The Chiefs won nine of 11 events and captured key points with second, third and fourth place finishes.

Ginny Johnson and Lynn Massey each won two events for the Chiefs. Johnson won the 200-yard individual medley (2:23.72) and the 100-butterfly (1:04.75), while Massey won the 50-freestyle (26.9) and the 100-freestyle (58.36).

THE CHIEFS' 200-medley relay team of Kelly Kirk, Joann Brennan, Johnson and Kim Elliott, swam a Sherwood, who was ill, Shawn Neville 2:04.48 to take first.

Harrison won the other relay, the 400-freestyle, with Melissa Joy, Kathleen Tucker, Robin Nelson and Diana Raddatz swimming a 4:03.76.

Joy and Tucker swam one-two in the 500-freestyle. Joy swam a 5:41.02 and Tucker a 5:43.28.

The big surprise for the Chiefs came in the diving competition. Without the services of their No. 1 diver, Cindy won first with 170.05, and freshman Megan McGow came through with 162.62 to take second.

McGow's performance eclipsed a freshman diving record set by - of all people - Neville.

OTHER FIRST-PLACE winners for the Chiefs were: Margaret Gilligan in the 200-freestyle (2:07.40), Kirk in the 100-backstroke (1:10.60), and Elliott in the 100-breaststroke (1:17.28).

Joanna Cassidy and Nick Nolte find romance and danger as American journalists caught up in Nicaragua's civil war in "Under Fire."

Involved audience responds vocally at 'Under Fire'

This is not a movie that leaves one neutral. At the end of the screening, the audience was very loud and very positive in its approval. Shouts of "liberty" rose above the applause. The movie that prompted this reaction is "Under Fire" (R), a tension-filled, political thriller.

The time is 1979. The place is Nicaragua. The event is the overthrow of the dictatorship of Anastasio Somoza by the Sandinista revolutionaries.

Journalists, like predatory animals on the track of prey, have poured into the country in anticipation of the carnage.

Nick Nolte, Joanna Cassidy and Gene Hackman are three Americans covering the civil war. Nolte is Russell Price, a photographer. His cameras hang from his neck like appendanges and go with him wherever he goes. And whatever the situation - while being shot at, while at a party, even right after making love - he keeps up a rapid-firing sequence with his camera. Hackman (Alex) and Cassidy (Claire) are reporters.

THE THREE HAVE come to Nicaragua from Chad, where they were neutral onlookers of another war. They got their stories, sent back their photos and found time for romance.

Alex and Claire were lovers, but when they left Chad, they split. He wanted to unpack, settle down and take on an anchorman's spot with a television station in New York. She wanted to keep moving. He leaves and Russell moves in.

However, as Russell and Claire cover this war, things happen that change them. They begin losing their objectivity and detach-ment. Instead of just photograhing and reporting events, they let their sympathies for the rebels lead them to involve themselves.

"I don't take sides. I just take pictures," Russell says when he arrives in Nicaragua. By the time he leaves, he's doing both. He's making the news and reporting it.

If Russell is moved, so is the movie audience. The movie is very effective in conveying the horror of war for the civilian population, whether in cities or villages. From one street to another, one vegetable patch to another, there is chaos. No one knows who is in control, who is firing shots, what places are safe, what roads are drivable.

"UNDER FIRE" WAS filmed in Mexico and has a very authentic look to it. It's fast-moving and superbly edited and photographed. It captures the immediacy of the news photographer on the scene of dramatic action.

Noite is the single most effective and dominating character in the movie. Cassidy is an attractive and moderately credible sidekick. Hackman, unfortunately, doesn't develop any depth to his role. He seems less a real character and more a mere device for setting up the movie's climactic ending.

Ed Harris distinguishes himself as a mercenary who scarcely knows what side he's fighting for. At one time, in Chad, he actually gets mixed up and joins the wrong troops.

People might find fault with the movie's portrayal of the good guys (Sandinistas) vs. the bad guys (Somoza's forces). But whatever has transpired since the Sandinistas took power, in 1979 they were the good guys. I have yet to hear anyone find anything good to say about Somoza.
