Polls open tomorrow for commission race

Election polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday as Plymouth residents decide who will fill four seats on the city commission.

Also on the ballot is an uncontested race for six seats on the library board of directors. The unopposed candidates are: Catherine Doetsch, Margaret Dunning, Frances Loisel, Raymond Masters, Mary Ann Prehlik, and Nancy Sharp.

ALTHOUGH SEVEN NAMES are listed in the city commission race, two candidates — Norman Tritten and Jerry Vorva — unofficially have withdrawn.

From the remaining field of five, voters will be asked to elect commission candidates for three four-year terms and one two-year term.

The five candidates are incumbents Ronald Loisel and Eldon Martin, and challengers Mary Childs, Gregory Green, and Mary Ellen McKercher.

LOISELLE, a self-employed owner of a business consulting service, has been a member of the commission from 1979 to present. He has served on the planning commission and library board; attended the Michigan Conference on Small Business as a delegate; and worked on the Plymouth Community Fund.

Loiselle is a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club, Plymouth Council on Aging, and Friends of the Plymouth Library. He has a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Wayne State University.

MARTIN, a Ford Motor Company employee, has been a member of the commission from 1979 to present — serving as mayor and mayor pro tem.

He also has served on the planning commission, fall festival board, and was a past president of the PTA. He is a member of the Plymouth Lions, Disabled American Veterans, and Plymouth Historical Society.

Martin is a regional chairman of the Michigan Municipal League.

CHILDS was a member of the city commission from 1975 to 1981, and served as mayor from 1979 to 1981.

She also served on the planning commission, Board of Appeals, a school committee, Friends of the Library, chamber of commerce, Plymouth Community Fund, fall festival board, Plymouth Women's Club, and other city committees.

She has a bachelor of science degree in education from Miami University in Ohio.

MCKERCHER, who moved to the city in 1976, has served on a blue ribbon committee to study the needs of senior citizens in the city, planning commission, and Plymouth Community Council on Aging.

She was a vice president of the League of Women Voters and has a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University.

GREEN, a seven-year city resident, is a planning commission member and chairman of the Citizens Advisory Council for Federal Block Grants.

Besides Martin's and Loisel's chairs, two seats are being vacated by commissioners Mark Wehmeyer and Karl Gansler II.

Wehmeyer has served two consecutive terms and must wait two years before seeking re-election under city charter rules.

Gansler, although eligible for re-election, is stepping down without running for a second term.

Salem crowns this year's queen

Schools to cut heating bills

Five Plymouth-Canton school buildings will become more energy efficient in the coming months thanks to state and federal conservation grants.

The school district received word last week that some $37,000 has been approved for funding energy conservation projects at East Middle School, Starkweather Elementary, Galimore Elementary, Miller Elementary and Pioneer Middle School.

"We had high hopes for more than what came in," said Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

"We're really disappointed, but at the same time, every little bit helps," he said.

The state and federal grants — through the Department of Energy (DOE) — will bear the major portion of the total project costs. The district will pay some $11,500, while receiving credit for some $34,700 already paid for energy audits.

Most of the money will be used to install nighttime climate control devices to save utility costs, as well as replacing roof-top heating units at Pioneer.

Hoedel said the district applied for grants to do the work at 10 schools, however only received money for five.

At the time the grant application was filed, Hoedel said projects with short-term paybacks had the highest likelihood of receiving funding.

Since the district's targeted work had an estimated payback period of one to three years, Hoedel said they anticipated receiving funding for all schools.

THE GRANTS WERE announced last Monday by DOE Chicago Operations Officer as part of a national program in which federal funds are being matched by non-federal sources.

The objective of the program is to improve energy efficiency in schools, hospitals and other eligible institutional buildings by providing technical assistance in identifying opportunities for energy conservation and, where appropriate, helping fund the installation of conservation measures.

This grant cycle is part of a multi-year program authorized by the National Energy Conservation Policy Act of 1978.

The Plymouth-Canton Community School District was one of six grantees approved in Michigan.

Oh rats: rodents roost in resident's backyard deck

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Donna Parkinson was sick to her stomach when she learned rats were nesting under her wooden backyard deck. Husband Barry was so upset he couldn't sleep.

The Parkinsons took action immediately, contacting the Wayne County Health Department for advice. The couple has succeeded in trapping and killing about 10 rats.

Now, working through the subdivision association, they are alerting their neighbors to the presence of rodents in the McIntyre Gardens subdivision south of Ford and west of Lilley.

The neat, attractive subdivision is surrounded by fields and open areas. The Parkinsons moved into their present home about four years ago.

"IT THOROUGHLY upset me when I caught that big, nine-inch one (rat)," Donna Parkinson said. "I'm shocked this could happen in Canton. I never expected it here."

Parkinson and two of her neighbors were a little reluctant to go public, but decided the issue needed to be publicized so people could take remedial action.

"It isn't widespread yet," said Jeanne Wren. "This is a nice neighborhood. This (presence of rats) can happen anywhere."

Beverly Eskie, another neighbor, sits on the board of directors of McIntyre Gardens homeowners' group and edits the association's newsletter. Block captains have been informed of the problem, and information pamphlets are being circulated.

"The main thing is this can be stopped (through awareness)," Eskie said. "We want to get the word out to the people."

IN THE past week, since Parkinson first became aware of the rats, she has been conducting some informal research.

Parkinson believes rats traveled to the subdivision through nearby drainage ditches. Finding a source of food, the rodents built nests.

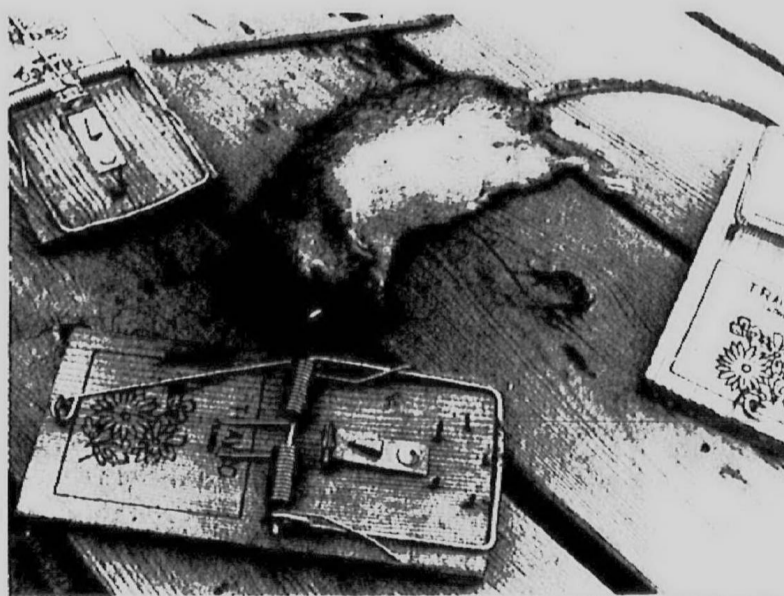

She thinks the rats were attracted by the proliferation of barbecue grills, tipping over the drip cans to get at grease and food. In addition, Parkinson used to leave food for birds. Rats got into those crumbs and the leftover vegetables from gardens.

Firewood piled flush with the ground provides shelter under which the rats can burrow and build nests.

"The health department said the main thing is to stop the food supply," Parkinson said.

BARRY PARKINSON and a couple neighbors ran a hose from their lawn mower into the rat nest under the deck. When the rats fled from the poisonous carbon monoxide fumes, the men clubbed them with shovels.

Other rodents have been caught with traps baited with peanut butter.

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

Canton residents have been sickened by the recent discovery of rats nesting in their McIntyre Gardens south of Ford and west of Lilley Roads.

Parkinson and her neighbors are concerned about the rodents carrying disease and fleas to household pets and children playing outdoors. They also fear rat bites.

During informal discussions with neighbors, reaction has been "total disbelief," Wren said.

"I'm sure rats could be controlled if everyone would look around and take measures," she added.

"The health department said there have been problems in other areas — Wayne, Westland and the Grosse Pointes," Wren continued. "Nobody wants to believe it could be in their neighborhood. But everyone seemed willing to do something about it."

Food sources draw the problem pests

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

"Rodent control doesn't depend on one individual — it depends on the entire community," said Clyde Mehr, a district supervisor for the Wayne County Health Department.

Donna Parkinson of the McIntyre Gardens subdivision, south of Ford and west of Lilley, last week called on Mehr for advice in fighting a rat problem in the area.

Mehr provided informational pamphlets to be distributed among the neighborhood and gave tips on eliminating rodents. Since rat control affects an entire area, Mehr suggested that Parkinson work through the local homeowners group.

ACCORDING TO Mehr, rats are predatory creatures whose natural environment is fields and drainage ditches. But rats migrate as they seek out food, water and shelter.

Although many people think rats are strictly an urban problem, several communities — Wayne, Westland and others — have grappled with rodent problems in recent years.

The key to ridding an area of rodents is to remove sources of food and shelter, Mehr said.

Rodents will live under floors or wood piles, or burrow under decks and platforms. They often live in abandoned appliances or furniture.

They feed on garbage, food particles,

Couple bound over on raid charges

A Canton couple has been bound over to circuit court for trial on charges resulting from a raid on their home in September.

Judge James Garber of the 35th District Court Thursday bound over Homer Thomas Johnson, 41, and his girlfriend, Sherrill Fay Rates, 38, on various charges following a preliminary examination.

Johnson and Rates, who live on Derby, remain free on personal bond. Arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court will be Dec. 2.

Johnson was bound over on one count of possession of marijuana, according to Sgt. David Gentry of the Michigan State Police criminal investigation unit.

Judge Garber dismissed three counts of receiving and concealing stolen goods over $100, citing insufficient evidence against Johnson, Gentry said.

Rates was bound over on one count of possession of marijuana, two counts of receiving and concealing stolen goods over $100 and one count of using a stolen credit card.

One receiving-and-concealing charge against Rates also was dismissed on a technicality, Gentry said.

THE CASE began in late September, when Michigan State Police troopers raided the Derby home, located near Warren Road and Sheldon.

The raid followed a two-month investigation. An estimated $20,000 worth of guns, knives, two pounds of marijuana and a large quantity of assorted items were confiscated during the raid. State police investigators believe some of the items were bartered for drugs. All the charges are felonies.

Suburban housing recovery a 'flicker'

The decline has ended for residential construction in southeastern Michigan. But only a "flicker of recovery" has arrived, and little of it was apparent in western Wayne County.

Local governments in the seven-county region issued 3,805 residential permits in the first six months of 1983 — a hefty 223 percent increase over 1982.

But that was still a fraction of the peak of 13,560 permit issued in the first half of 1978, according to a compilation by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

and Waterford Township was in the 10th slot with 110.

In Wayne County, Canton Township issued a net of 72 housing unit permits; Garden City, six; Livonia, 97; Northville Township, 40; city of Plymouth, minus eight; Plymouth Township, 42; Redford Township, minus one; and Westland, 10.

Detroit issued permits for 11 new housing units but lost 2,547 units through demolitions, a net decrease in its housing stock of 2,536.

Detroit's heavy loss meant all of Wayne County suffered a net loss of more than 2,000 units.

"THE INCREASE in residential building permit issuance during the first six months of 1983 reflects the first flicker of recovery in the economy of southeast Michigan," said the SEMCOG report.

Oakland County saw a net gain of 1,558 housing units; Macomb, 935; Washtenaw, 144; Livingston, 123; Monroe, 935; and St. Clair, 95.

NO WESTERN Wayne County community was among the 10 leaders in housing for the first half of '83, although the cities of Livonia and Westland and the townships of Canton, Plymouth and Northville had been consistently high prior to the recession.

Seven of the top 10 communities were in Oakland County. Avon Township topped the list with 277 permits,

Toffler foresees breakup of world industrial system

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Alvin Toffler has a visionary view of a "third wave" of civilization, and an audience of 1,300 at Schoolcraft College clearly liked it.

"The de-massification of society is occurring," said the one-time factory worker turned magazine writer, author and social philosopher, and those who fail to adapt "condemn themselves to the past."

Toffler was the headline attraction Friday evening at the community college's "Say Yes to the Future" exposition last week.

HIS LISTENERS:

● Raised their hands en masse when he asked how many made purchases in the last year by telephone or mail. "The supermarket is obsolete," said Toffler, explaining that market segmentation is making possible "made to order" manufacturing.

● Laughed aloud after he described the work place of the future. More jobs will be done at home, and many people will work partly at home and partly in the office. He quipped, "You may work in the office three weeks, and then take work home — to get it done" — and the audience cracked up at his allusion to madhouse conditions in offices and factories.

● Applauded when he said, "Some education will transfer to the home. In the second wave (industrial society), many well-educated parents turned over their precious children to teachers who are less well-educated."

His 75-minute lecture was a condensation of his 1980 book, "The Third Wave." In it, Toffler detected three "waves" in history: 1) the agricultural revolution starting 10,000 years ago, 2) the industrial revolution with its mass production, mass distribution, mass education and mass media, beginning 300 years ago, and 3) the "de-massification" movement, beginning sometime between 1955 and 1960.

THE FIRST exposition of its kind, at least in metropolitan Detroit, "Say Yes to the Future" featured 30 exhibits on jobs, education and robotic gadgets; discussions of outer space; a rescue helicopter demonstration; and examinations of the society of the future.

It attracted a broad stream of schoolchildren, teen-agers, collegians and older residents, many asking questions about technology, others about public policy, virtually all curious.

Toffler tied together news events of the stock market, inventions and military action, not with predictions of the 21st century but an analysis of "inter-related forces" that will be at work. "We're restructuring not just our

industry in space

economy but our political and social lives," said the former editor at Fortune Magazine. "The basic industries will never be basic again. We are witnessing the breakup of the world industrial system of which capitalism and communism are both a part."

HE TRACED the birth of the "third wave" to such anti-conformity books of the late '50s as "The Man in the Grey Flannel Suit" and "The Organization Man."

"The new wave is diverse," Toffler said.

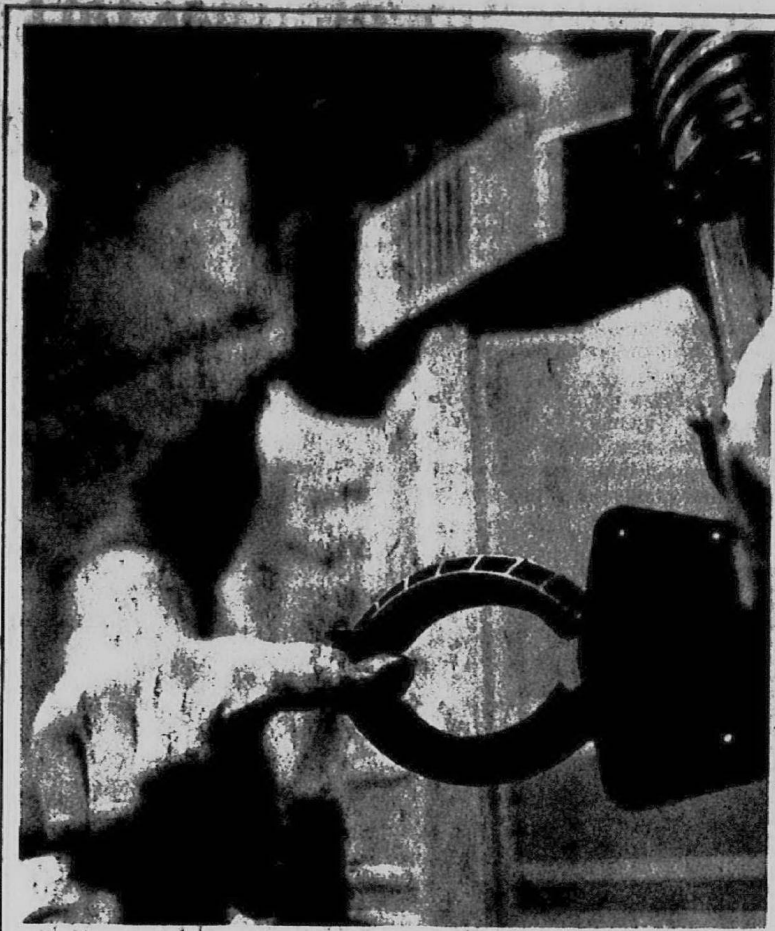

"My wife and I visit factories all over the world. We visit factories while others visit cathedrals. Factories today are turning out not billions of this and 200,000 of that but 38 of this, 13 of that. . . . Because of computer controls, there is a shift to customization."

U.S. ASTRONAUT Robert C. Springer, who expects to fly in one of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's space shuttle missions, painted a glowing picture of pharmaceuticals being manufactured in space labs with "unbelievable degrees of purity."

The reason for such quality, Lt. Col. Springer said in a news conference, is that in the micro-gravity of space, materials can be separated by electric charges and won't be re-mixed by the force of gravity.

"An orbiting space station is an exploitation of space. The Mercury and Apollo missions were exploration. It's like a new industrial age," said the former naval combat pilot.

How far away is a space station? "As far off as the budget," he replied. "We have the technology. It's a shame we lack the budget to go with it."

Gerry Hermann feels the gentle touch of Hero 1, a robot built at home and displayed at Schoolcraft's futurès exposition by Franklin High School of Livonia.

DEAN DEAN/staff photographer

Alvin Toffler said "the third wave" of civilization began with the 1950s revolt against conformity and standardization and is made possible by the computer.

David Groat, 14, of Canton manipulated the Schoolcraft College Electronics Club's HERO (Heath Educational Robot) along the floor of the college gym. Thirty colleges, universities, computer sales firms and industries and social agencies set up exhibits at the "Say Yes to the Future" exposition.

Low enrollment areas targeted

Area colleges to avoid offering duplicate courses

Look for even more cooperation in course offerings between neighboring Oakland Community College and Schoolcraft College in the years ahead.

It's a sign of the times. Colleges are increasingly concerned about avoiding duplication of programs with low enrollments.

"Each teaches the course the other can't offer," explained OCC President Robert F. Roelofs as the OCC board Thursday granted him broad authority to negotiate cross-registration arrangements with neighboring colleges.

A day earlier, the Schoolcraft board studied a similar policy and is expected to adopt it next month.

IT STARTED, Roelofs said, when OCC last year offered a medical records technology (MRT) program in its Southeast Campus System.

"We didn't have enough students to make it viable, so we discontinued it," Roelofs said.

But what to do with the 30 students who had enrolled in good faith?

Roelofs said OCC approached both Henry Ford Community College and Schoolcraft in Livonia about taking the MRT students. As it turned out, Schoolcraft, which has a popular MRT program, accepted most of them, charging in-district tuition rates.

The MRT students will take their elective and cognate courses at OCC, traveling to Schoolcraft only to take the specialized MRT courses.

"It led us to an agreement faster," Roelofs said of the incident. He predicted more such arrangements would be made with Schoolcraft and other colleges by fall of 1984.

Roelofs noted both OCC and Schoolcraft are planning to offer cardiovascular technology programs. He cited OCC's advanced chemistry and physics as examples of courses that other colleges wouldn't want to duplicate.

THE POLICY change under consideration at Schoolcraft recognizes the need for "regional planning of curricula and services and expand(ed) course and program offerings to the students."

It would encourage the administration to enter into cross-registration agreements with other community colleges. Students at other colleges could register at Schoolcraft at in-district rates if:

"1. Their college has entered into a cooperative cross-registration agreement with Schoolcraft College.

"2. They are sponsored by their college to enroll in Schoolcraft courses or programs because these courses and programs are not available at their institution.

"3. If space is available in the courses or programs taught."

Ridding rodents from residences pet food and animal droppings. Garden vegetables also tempt rats, Mehr said. Rats can chew through a plastic garbage bag "in nothing," Mehr said.

Poison should not be used inside the house unless rats and mice are numerous, according to the health department. Traps, baited with peanut butter or fish, and commercial rat control products can be used.

The health department used to distribute poison bait blocks, but that practice was discontinued due to cost and liability, Mehr said.

Caution should be used and directions followed whenever using poisonous materials, Mehr said.

More information about rodent control can be obtained by calling the Wayne County Department of Health at 326-4900.

Labels mean dollars for Children's Hospital

People are being asked to save Heinz Baby Food labels to help patients at Children's Hospital of Michigan.

For each front portion of a label from Heinz baby foods, juices and cereals, the H.J. Heinz Co. will donate three cents to Children's Hospital or to the Ticker Club Inc., a hospital-affiliated group that raises money to support the hospital cardiology department. In the last year, more than 30,000 labels for Children's Hospital and 21,000 for the Ticker Club were collected.

THE CLIPPED LABELS should be banded together with a note indicating the number of labels per band, and mailed, or delivered, before Dec. 31 to the Development Office, Children's Hospital of Michigan, 3901 Beaubien Blvd., Detroit 48201.

Address labels to the hospital also are available at area food stores for convenience in returning the Heinz labels to the hospital.

Requests for the items along with questions can be directed to Hawkins, the Development Office, 494-5373.

Plymouth's Old Village area has had many names

Part I

The neighborhood through which Starkweather, North Mill, Spring and Liberty Streets run has gone by many names since the 1820s when the first settlers arrived.

Today it is being referred to as "Old Village," but over the years it has been known as Plymouthville, Holbrookville, North End, North Village, North Side and "Lower Town."

An 1840 map shows it as Plymouthville during the days when the neighborhood surrounding Kellogg Park was called Plymouth Corners. Later, the name Plymouth was applied to the entire area and the section called Plymouthville became known as North End or North Village.

The name "Holbrookville" may have been applied to the north end at one time, if I interpret properly something that Fred Carlisle wrote in 1890. He said that Henry Holbrook, who platted the village of Plymouth, and built what was later to be called the Wilcox Mill, induced twenty German families to locate near him and named the section Holbrookville.

I don't know when people first called the north end "Lower Town." It could have been after the railroads came to Plymouth in 1871. Perhaps because the north end was "the other side of the railroad tracks," people who lived in the Kellogg Park area dubbed it Lower Town as a term of derogation.

THE AREA NEAR Kellogg Park was the Hough subdivision or Beacon Hill of its day.

In the early days, the town bankers, the leading merchants, and other people of means lived on both sides of Main Street from Starkweather to Pennington, and along both sides of Pennington, which was then called Sutton. The Bennetts, Houghs, Bakers, Schraders, and Leach's lived on Main. The Pennimans, Allens, Conners, Hustons, Dibbles, Voorhies, Pattersons and Sherwoods lived on Sutton.

Whether or not Lower Town began as a disparaging term, some of the people who lived there began to resent it. On Oct. 28, 1926, the editor of a short-lived newspaper published on the north side took issue with the term. The tabloid paper, called The Plymouth Pilgrim, styled itself as an "exponent of North Side Interests."

past and present

"The appellation Lower Town, when in reference to that portion of Plymouth which lies tributary to Starkweather Avenue and Mill Street, is distinctly a misnomer," wrote the editor. "It appears to have originated with a small group of residents who had always lived in the larger, and apparently more important, part of town, and who, incidentally, had also regarded 'North Village' in a kind of mild or veiled contempt."

He went on to say that he preferred the term "North Side" to the older terms, North End and North Village.

The paper pointed with pride to one of the North Side's major attractions: Henry Ford's village industry plant that had opened on the site of the old Wilcox Flour Mill in 1923. The editor described the plant as "a fit place for the most fastidious American workman."

WHAT LITTLE business existed in the north side, prior to 1870, got a boost that year when George Anson Starkweather decided to build the brick building that still stands at the corner of Starkweather and Liberty Streets.

The first settler's child to be born in what is now Plymouth Township, Starkweather was a lawyer, politician, and owner of a general store in the Kellogg Park area.

Knowing that the railroads would cross at Plymouth in 1871, and that the depot would be built only one block north of his Liberty Street location, Starkweather expected that part of town to become the new business center of Plymouth. After he moved his general store there, several others opened shops in the same block. The north side business section did grow, but it never rivaled the one in the Kellogg Park area.

One of those who opened on Liberty Street, next to George Starkweather, in 1870, was a German immigrant named Peter Gayde. He remained in business there for over 30 years. When he died, in 1904, his sons, Albert and Edward, continued the business under the name of Gayde Brothers. Another Gayde brother, William, owned a butcher shop in Liberty Street from 1895 to 1946.

Other north side entrepreneurs of German descent included Fred Dohmstreich, John Streng, George Springer, Carl Heide, Reinhold Reuhr, Otto Beyer and Jacob Streng.

Dohmstreich operated a brewery on his farm, just east of Wilcox Pond, during the late 1850s and early 1860s. From 1862 to 1876, the brewery building was the home of Wildey's Cheese factory.

John Streng ran the Hotel Victor, a railroad man's hotel on Mill Street near the railroad tracks, from 1890 to 1896. Before Streng's time, it was called the Commercial Hotel and in later years it was to undergo several other name changes. Among them were the Hotel Anderine, the Hotel Nelson, and, until it burned recently, "The Old Village Inn."

Another railroad hotel that existed in the north end was The Exchange, located just north of the tracks and south of Pearl Street. (To be continued)

Helping a college-bound young man choose a good career

It was plain to be seen that the young man sitting across the table was perplexed. The usual smile was missing and he looked like one who is in trouble.

What's on your mind? The Stroller asked, hoping that he could be helpful. "I am preparing to enroll in college," he answered, "and I just don't know what courses to take. So I came over to you for help."

As he anxiously awaited for an answer he explained his problem a bit further.

"Most everything I had in mind as a career is now being done by robots and some kind of electrical power," he said rather ruefully. "Why there is even a plant down on Plymouth Road that builds robots to wash automobiles. There is not a man around the washer and the car comes out glistening."

Asked if he ever had given any thought to any particular career, he thought a moment then answered, "I had given some thought to police work or something in the financial field."

"But with the way things are going in the world today the law enforcement program doesn't look too safe. I would hate to get tangled in it."

"AND WHEN I think of the financial world I see the banks now have 24 hour service just by stepping out of your car and pushing a few buttons. There's not a clerk or teller anywhere. So I really don't know what to do."

As the young lad spoke, The Stroller recalled one of the days of his youth. And down through the years came the memory of one morning when his Mother, a good Pennsylvania Dutch cook, had his sisters in the kitchen giving them their first lesson in preparing food.

As The Stroller passed the door Mother called, "You better come here, too. Learning to cook won't do you any harm."

Little did he think that morning that the day would come when Mother's words would be appreciated. At the time the family had a small lunch counter and Mother prepared most of the food at home. But there always was need for a short order cook, too. So the lessons he learned came in handy when Father passed away and he had to spend time serving the short order customers.

With that in mind he looked across the table to the perplexed young man and asked "Have you given any thought to being a chef as a career?"

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

THE YOUNG fellow smiled a wry smile and confided that being a chef was the last thing on his mind. The Stroller then pointed out that most of the larger hotels and fancy restaurants had male chefs. What's more they commanded large salaries.

In some areas so much is thought of teaching food preparation that schools have special classes in this category. What's more, there is always a demand for a good chef.

Hotel owners and restaurant executives confide that first class chefs are hard to find.

With that the perplexed young lad got up to leave and smiled as he walked out. But The Stroller gave him one parting thought, "Remember folks have to eat to live so there always is a market for those who know how to prepare food to please the human taste."

Now, as the days go by, The Stroller wonders if there is a new student in the culinary class

Michigan National Corporation Banks Reach Record Highs

The Michigan National Corporation banks have reached record highs at September 30, 1983 in terms of assets, deposits, and loans. Depositor Protection Accounts for that period also reached $477 million which is 7% of total assets. This is an increase of $9.2 million since year end 1982. Depositor Protection Accounts are made up of the sum of equity, debt capital, and reserves which are all subordinate to depositors' claims. During its 10 year history Michigan National Corporation has grown into one of Michigan's major statewide banking groups with 362 approved banking offices serving 2.6 million customers, and has built one of the USA's largest automated teller machine (ATM) networks with over 800 ATM's statewide.

Energy Efficient

YOU GET WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

With all gas furnaces, part of the energy you pay for goes to heat your house, naturally. But part of it is also wasted out the vent pipe in your roof. In many cases, up to one-third of your energy dollars are wasted in this way. But with the new Whirlpool Tightfist® II gas furnace*, up to 96% of the energy you pay for is actually used to heat your home! Only 4% is wasted. That's real efficiency. And it can make a substantial difference in your fuel bill, too. So why pay for energy you're not getting the use of? Call today and let us help you lower your fuel bill!

Are you 'in sync' with your work place?

Employees who are "in sync" with their organizations are likely in a job that fits their personality.

But those who are "out of sync" could benefit from asking: "Is my job right for me?" And "What can I do to improve it?"

"Organizational Sync: Making Your Job Work for You" is the answer that a University of Michigan-Dearborn psychologist has provided to help employees analyze their work situations and help their supervisors.

EACH ORGANIZATION has a "valued personality type," says Dr. Barbara Forisha-Kovach.

She observes that "when organizations and individuals are mismatched, energy that could be used for productivity is absorbed by frustration and bewilderment."

Dr. Forisha-Kovach explains through real-life examples that individuals and organizations well matched in personality benefit from "organizational synchrony." These people make the most use of their capabilities, she says.

Her book was written with her husband and partner, Randy Kovach, and associate Glenn Morris and published by Prentice Hall.

It includes self-assessment exercises to help readers examine their skills, interests and expectations and then decide how closely they match those reflected by their organization.

A PROFESSOR of psychology and consultant who has tested this concept of organizational synchrony in training sessions for corporate managers, the author describes the structure of organizations in two ways:

• Pyramids — traditional hierarchies relying on power.

• "Circles" — for shared decision-making.

All structures, she points out, are hierarchical or flat, or somewhere in between.

In hierarchical structures, says Forisha-Kovach, "expectations focus on getting things done" while communication flows up and down between those who are higher and lower in status and power.

Flat structures, on the other hand, are "created to share information and generate new ideas." Members in these structures are equal in status and communication flows freely among all.

A sense of self-worth comes from accomplishing tasks in pyramids. But these structures, according to the author, "are not suited for creating a sense of belonging among individual members, nor for highlighting their value as total human beings."

tion, however, combines structures that are both pyramids and circles "so that individuals experience themselves as competent and valued for their contributions."

The task of most corporations in this time of scarce resources, adds Forisha-Kovach, is to increase the number of circles within their pyramidal shape.

Three kinds of workers fit within the author's categories of personality: producers, processors and integrators.

Producers are most comfortable with the doing phase and with handling details, but distressed by the lack of rules and regulations in circular structures.

Processors feel restricted by rules and spend much of their energy thinking about their difficulties.

And integrators, who she says must learn to create a team and inspire others, "perform best when allowed to manage units within a pyramid."

In her view, a manager is "an orchestrator of human resources, highlighting individual talents as people work together." She also points out the employee's responsibility to "grow into" a job that fits individual expectations.

Local businessman killed

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Funeral services were held yesterday for Paul Trabulsky, a 1979 North Farmington graduate, who was killed early Sunday morning in a parking lot near the Virgo bar on West Eight Mile, Detroit.

The 22-year-old manager of family-operated furniture stores in Plymouth and Southgate died in the emergency room of Grace Hospital.

He had been shot in the chest about 1:30 a.m., according to police.

"He was a brave kid, and he didn't back down from anyone," said Trabulsky's father, Joseph. "He told his friend to duck because he didn't want him to get hurt."

With Trabulsky at the time of the shooting was Glen Wahrman, 22, also of Farmington Hills. He was unharmed.

Former North Farmington football coach Ron Holland, for whom Trabulsky played, remembered Trabulsky as a popular student.

"I think his teammates and coaches thought of Paul as a young man who involved himself with all of us," said Holland, now the district's athletic director.

"HE WAS a highly spirited, motivated young man. We found him fun to be around, because he was always up to something or doing something a different way."

Holland recalls Trabulsky picking up his date for the senior prom in a rented antique car and wearing a "different kind of tuxedo."

Barry Mussatto, Trabulsky's high school counselor, said, "He was a kid that everybody liked, and he was very visible."

The shooting took place after Trabulsky and Wahrman had pulled into a parking lot to wait for friends, according to Wahrman.

Wahrman was in the driver's seat of Trabulsky's Cadillac Eldorado when the incident happened.

Two men came up to the passenger's window, identified themselves as police officers and asked them to get out of the car, said Wahrman.

"Paul asked for identification, and they said they didn't have any."

"Paul asked if they wanted money, the car or what, and then they started shooting," said Wahrman. "Paul was shot in the center of the chest."

WAHRMAN DUCKED down, started the car and sped away. He called for an ambulance at the Virgo bar.

Wahrman said the assailants came up to the car on foot and that he never saw them in a car. Witnesses described one man as being around 24 years old and the other about 30.

Investigators found a .45-caliber pistol belonging to Trabulsky in the car. He was carrying about $1,000, most of it in $100 bills, police said.

Trabulsky's pistol hadn't been fired.

Trabulsky and Wahrman, friends since junior high school, were at the bar "celebrating because a friend was leaving for Chicago the next day," said Wahrman.

Trabulsky survived by his father, Joseph; mother, Lily; and sisters Teresa and Dona.

Funeral services were at the McCabe Funeral Home. Burial was at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

For buildings

UM-Dearborn renovates, drops plans

Instead of going ahead with two new buildings, University of Michigan-Dearborn plans to renovate four older ones.

To get the project under way, the university will ask the state of Michigan for $3.9 million in capital outlay expenditures in 1984-85. It received no capital funds last year.

In a separate request to the state Legislature, U-M-Dearborn will also ask for a nearly $2.9 million increase in operating funds. Last year the college received $10.3 million for operations.

Both requests were approved Oct. 20 by the U-M Board of Regents in Ann Arbor.

PRESENTING the request to regents, U-M-Dearborn Chancellor William A. Jenkins noted that original plans to develop two new buildings will not be pursued. A classroom-laboratory-office building and an administration building had been planned.

Instead, the chancellor said, "The campus will ask the state to provide funds for renovating four existing campus structures. This alternative approach to campus improvements more realistically complements the financial times in Michigan and the current needs of the campus."

If approved, the capital funds would include $2.8 million to begin an intermediate-range facilities development plan which calls for renovating existing buildings.

Also included will be $341,000 in planning monies for a Plant Services Building and $714,000 for replacing heating and ventilating equipment in existing buildings.

Original plans for new buildings would cost the state about $38.2 million, while the revised plan to renovate current structures is estimated at $8.4 million.

THE $2.8 MILLION request would fund the first step in the renovation project.

It would include conversion of the vacant Student Activities Building into instructional and faculty office space. Other portions of the building would be converted into classrooms and a central administrative center for offices now in several other campus buildings.

The operating funds request includes $703,800 for restoration of base reductions; a 5 percent inflationary adjustment amounting to $973,000; $308,975 for mandatory expenditures including utilities, increased staff benefit costs and financial aid; and $875,000 for program revisions to support state economic growth.

UM-DEARBORN states in its request for restoration of its base operating budget that this restoration is "crucial to the ability of the campus to recover from the privations of 1980-83."

Jenkins said the additional funds will enable the campus to address such problems as deferred maintenance, library automation and acquisition of materials, affirmative action hiring and preparing for accreditation of the School of Management.

In stating the campus' position, Jenkins stressed the need to recognize and compensate "loyal and superior faculty whose salary position has eroded to ninth place out of the 10 IIA institutions in Michigan."

In fields such as engineering and computer science, he added, "a variety of adjustments are mandatory" to meet special and changing market conditions.

The campus' $450,000 request for "technological program enhancement to participate in state economic recovery" includes $150,000 for U-M-Dearborn's program in manufacturing engineering.

"Funding this request will enable the university to expand and modernize its course offerings, and thus partially meet the demand by serving at least 80 students in computer integrated manufacturing each year.

"It is also an opportunity for the state to (match) the Ford Motor Co. grant, awarded three years ago, in support of manufacturing engineering at U-M-Dearborn."

GOLD THERAPY IN RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

The use of gold to treat disease may sound like a holdover from the days of alchemy. In fact this therapy for rheumatoid arthritis was discovered only forty years ago.

The way gold works to halt the progression of rheumatoid arthritis is unknown. But repeated medical studies have confirmed its effectiveness. Approximately 80% of people who complete this therapy are improved.

Gold is given as a solution by injection into muscle one time a week for 20 weeks. If this course of therapy is successful, then the interval between injections is increased gradually.

Gold has potentially serious side effects, and places a heavy responsibility on the patient because of the large number of office visits involved. Therefore it is a consideration only after more basic therapy has failed. On the other hand, in the vast majority of patients who are so treated, the beneficial results far outweigh these hazards and the inconvenience.

Finally, keep in mind that gold therapy is useful only for rheumatoid arthritis; its use has not yet been proven effective in any other form of arthritis.

Easy, Light... Just Right Meals! for year 'round dining indoors and out Casual entertaining has long been associated with patio and poolside parties. Foods served at such gatherings, however, have become so popular you're apt to find almost identical menus being served indoors these days.

Whatever the location, such meals must be hearty enough to satisfy yet light enough to fit the lower calorie trend in mealtime planning. And, above all, they must be easy to prepare. Canned gravy and rice work well into such planning.

The gravies range in calories from 10 to 50 per serving. Nicely seasoned and ready to use, canned gravy is the answer to the kinds of foods consumers request these days . . . products that taste fresh and don't take a lot of time to prepare.

Rice, too, is low in calories...only 82 in each half cup. Rice also is low in fat and sodium...therefore ideal for today's lifestyles.

There's no end to the number of recipes using these two staples. A meat, poultry or seafood nicely sauced with a canned gravy and served over rice will highlight any occasion. The following recipes show how...for inside or outside eating pleasure.

Calcutta Chicken and Rice

(Photo)

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 3 tablespoons ketchup |
| 8 choice broiler-fryer pieces | 3 tablespoons orange marmalade |
| 1 medium onion, sliced | 1 to 1-1/2 tablespoons curry powder |
| 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) Chicken Gravy | 3 cups hot cooked rice |

1. In 10-inch skillet over medium heat in hot butter brown chicken on all sides; remove from skillet. Spoon fat from drippings remaining in skillet.
2. Add onions to drippings in skillet; cook over low heat until tender. Stir in gravy, ketchup, marmalade and curry, scraping any bits from bottom of pan. Bring to a boil.
3. Add chicken. Reduce heat to low, cover, and simmer 30 minutes or until chicken is fork-tender.
4. Serve chicken with rice; spoon gravy over chicken. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Beef and Fruit Kabobs

(Photo)

- | | |
|--|--|
| 2 cans (10-1/4 ounces each) Beef Gravy | 1-1/2 pounds boneless sirloin steak, cut in 1-inch cubes |
| 1/4 cup brown sugar | 1 can (about 16 ounces) chunk pineapple, drained |
| 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves | 3 cups hot cooked rice |
| 12 carrot pieces, each 1-1/2 inches long | |
| 12 green pepper pieces, each 2 inches square | |

1. To make sauce: In 1-quart saucepan over medium heat, heat gravy, sugar and cloves to boiling, stirring occasionally.
2. Meanwhile, in 2-quart saucepan over medium heat in 1-inch boiling water, heat carrots to boiling. Reduce heat to low. Cover; simmer 5 minutes. Add green pepper; simmer 3 minutes more or until tender-crisp. Drain.
3. On six 18-inch skewers thread meat alternately with pineapple, green pepper and carrots.
4. Broil kabobs 10 minutes or until done, turning and basting frequently with sauce.
5. Heat remaining sauce; serve with kabobs and rice. Makes 6 servings.

Dilled Yogurt Pork Chops

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| 4 pork chops (about 1-1/2 pounds) | 1/4 cup chopped green onions, including tops |
| Pepper, paprika | 1/4 teaspoon dill weed, crushed |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 1/2 cup plain lowfat yogurt or sour cream |
| 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) Chicken Gravy | 1 cup peach slices |
| 1 cup diagonally sliced celery | 2 cups hot cooked rice |

1. Season chops with pepper and paprika. In 10-inch skillet over medium heat in hot oil slowly brown pork chops on both sides (about 15 minutes). Spoon off fat. Add gravy, celery, onions and dill.
2. Reduce heat to low. Cover; simmer 25 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend a small amount of gravy into yogurt; stir into skillet. Add peaches; heat through.
3. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

Beef Antonio with Rice

- | | |
|--|-------------------------------|
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce |
| 1-1/2 pounds beef for stew, cut into 3/4-inch chunks | 1/4 cup dry red wine |
| 1 medium clove garlic, minced | 1/2 cup cubed Cheddar cheese |
| 1 can (10-1/4 ounces) Beef Gravy | 3 cups hot cooked rice |

1. In 4- to 6-quart Dutch oven over medium heat in hot oil cook beef with garlic until well browned. Spoon off fat. Stir in gravy, tomato sauce and wine.
2. Reduce heat to low. Cover; simmer 35 minutes or until meat is fork-tender. Add cheese, stirring constantly until cheese is melted.
3. Serve beef with rice; spoon gravy over beef. Makes 6 servings.

Ham with Spiced Bananas

- | | |
|--|---|
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1/3 cup dry white wine |
| 4 medium bananas, peeled and cut in half crosswise | 8 slices (1 to 1-1/2 ounces each) fully-cooked ham* |
| Ground cinnamon | 2 cups hot cooked rice |
| 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) Chicken Gravy | *Use slices 6 x 4 inches. |

1. In 10-inch skillet over medium heat in hot butter heat bananas through, turning to coat evenly. Remove bananas from skillet and sprinkle lightly with cinnamon.
2. Stir gravy and wine into same skillet. Remove from heat.
3. Meanwhile, to assemble ham roll, place banana at narrow end of ham. Roll up jelly-roll fashion. Place seam side down in skillet. Repeat with remaining ham and bananas.
4. Cover; bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes or until ham rolls are heated through. Serve over rice. Makes 4 servings.

Meatballs Siciliano

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1 can (10-1/2 ounces) Mushroom Gravy, divided | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 pound ground beef | 2 tablespoons salad oil |
| 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs | 3 cups sliced zucchini |
| 1 egg, slightly beaten | 1/8 teaspoon basil leaves, crushed* |
| 1/8 teaspoon salt | 2 medium tomatoes, cut in wedges |
| | 2 cups hot cooked rice |

*Or use 1/2 to 1 teaspoon Italian seasoning

1. In large bowl mix well 1/4 cup gravy, beef, bread crumbs, egg, salt and pepper. Shape mixture firmly into 24 meatballs.
2. In 10-inch skillet over medium heat in hot oil cook meatballs, a few at a time, until well browned on all sides. Remove meatballs to a large bowl as they brown. Spoon off fat from skillet.
3. Stir remaining gravy, zucchini and basil into skillet; add meatballs. Reduce heat to low; cover. Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.
4. Add tomatoes; heat through. Serve over rice. Makes 4 servings.

This walnut torte is easily prepared from a cake mix and this recipe offers four sauces from which to choose — giving you four cakes for the "price" of one.

Walnuts and sour cream make this torte truly tops

Tortes are usually very special cakes — oftentimes made in layers with little flour and ground nuts as part of the batter. In this tasty recipe version, we've put the walnuts into a sour cream base that's both a filling-layer and a topping.

Our Walnut Torte is a multi-layered dessert of color, taste and texture that goes together quite easily with the aid of packaged mixes. The cake mix is baked in two layers according to package directions and then each is cut crosswise to make four layers. Next, the cake layers are alternated with a walnut-sour cream layer and a filling of your choice — lemon orange, butterscotch-coffee, apricot-vanilla or chocolate-rum. You'll want to make this torte four times just to try each of the tempting flavor combinations.

If you have a microwave oven, you'll find that cooking most of the fillings is even easier since you do not need to watch as carefully for scorching. (Only the lemon flavor is not recommended.) Just follow the package directions for microwaving, cook and stir until a full rolling boil is reached. To hasten the cooling, set the container of hot pudding in a cold water bath until the pudding is lukewarm, then remove from the bath and refrigerate until thickened.

To get the walnuts very finely chopped, use a small grater, food processor or blender. (Chop 1/4 cup at a time and turn blender switch on and off.)

- WALNUT TORTE
- 2 cups walnuts
 - 1 2-layer size pkg. yellow cake mix
 - Lemon-Orange filling
 - 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
 - 1/4 cup powdered sugar
 - 1 tsp. vanilla
 - Dash salt
 - Walnut halves for decorating

Grate, process or very finely chop the walnuts and set aside. Prepare cake mix as package directs and pour into two 9-inch layer cake pans. Bake and cook as directed. Prepare Lemon-Orange Filling. Mix together the sour cream, powdered sugar, vanilla, salt and walnuts. Carefully split cake by cutting each layer crosswise into halves. Place one half, top crust down on serving plate; spread with half of the Lemon-Orange Filling. Place another half-layer on filling and spread with half of the walnut-sour cream mixture. Repeat layers. (Use all of the filling and walnut-sour cream should be the top layer.) Refrigerate until serving time. Decorate torte with additional walnut halves. Makes 12 servings.

Lemon-Orange Filling: In a saucepan, combine 1 4-serving size package lemon pudding and pie filling (not instant), 1/4 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup each water and orange juice and 1 egg, slightly beaten. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly until mixture reaches a full boil. Cover, cool and chill until thickened.

Apricot-Vanilla Filling: In a saucepan, combine 1 4-serving size package apricot-flavored gelatin and 1 4-serving size package vanilla pudding and pie filling (not instant). Stir in 1 cup each water and

Try scallops with mushrooms

I'll never forget the scallops I swooned over at a Chinese restaurant. They were served in brown sauce, slightly on the hot side. The restaurant is still operating, but the dish no longer is on the menu.

Mushrooms once were my weakness. During one stretch, I tried to work them into just about every dish I prepared. My favorite is mushrooms and veal smothered in wine sauce. But man does not live by mushrooms alone.

So it was inevitable that scallops and mushrooms meet in the same dish.

I noticed in a newspaper ad that scallops were on sale. My fingers were crossed that I wouldn't be disappointed like the last time, when the scallops couldn't be found in the supermarket display case.

"They never sent them," the man in charge had told me, thumbing through a list. "Why, they're not even on here."

"But they're advertised," I said. "They just didn't send them," he repeated.

This time, "they" did. The bay scallops were vacuum sealed in a see-through plastic package, not frozen and a bargain at $4.99 a pound.

The mushrooms were on sale, too. Two for two isn't bad.

The dish was a snap to prepare. Blending in the flour proved a little sticky, but a constant stirring motion overcomes this.

SCALLOPS WITH MUSHROOMS

- 1 1/2 lbs. bay scallops, rinsed and drained
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/2 lb. mushrooms, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/4 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pinch of black pepper
- Pinch of cayenne pepper
- 2 whole pimientos, chopped
- 1/4 cup sherry

Place scallops in large skillet, add water to cover, bring to boiling, reduce heat to medium high, simmer uncovered 2 to 4 minutes, drain in colander and set aside. Melt butter in same skillet, cook mushrooms and green pepper on medium heat 5 minutes, occasionally stirring, and remove from heat. Blend in flour, stir in milk and seasonings, bring to boiling, stirring, and remove from heat. Gently stir in pimientos, sherry and scallops, reheat on low and serve over toast. Serves 4-5.

WHEN THE U.S. Marines landed on Grenada, Chloe and Earl West were reminded of a letter from their daughter, Mary Jane. The letter was written Sept. 30, 1982 after Mary Jane West-Eberhard, who is associated with the Smithsonian Institution, had returned from a meeting in Spain. The Eberhards live in Costa Rica and her flight to Madrid involved stops in the Caribbean area. Her thoughts were most interesting: "The first observations had to do not with Spain, but with Cuba and Nicaragua. The Iberia flight to Madrid stops for one to two hours in La Habana airport, revealing and depressing experience. Not only is it a messy small place without room for everyone to sit down, but it brings home the reality of what is going on politically in this part of the world in a way that doesn't quite sink in enough when you read the papers. "While we sat there, a huge Cuban airliner loaded up with probably 300 young Cubans with their official passports on their way to Moscow, while a huge crowd of friends and relatives watched and waved — a group of students in their 20s 'fellowships' to study in Russia, all of them by their demeanor and dress of very humble origins. "ALL OF THE TRUCKS, buses and plane-servicing equipment in that airport are Russian. It looks chunky and old compared to that of other airports. "On the return trip (Madrid-La Habana-Managua-San Jose), the link with Russia was even more dramatic. Then, in the Cuban airport, a similar group of students was on its way to Managua on our plane, to board there a Russian Aeroflot to Moscow. And a Russian plane-load of Russians arrived (Aeroflot). "One man I had been watching since Madrid, because he seemed to be the leader among the Cuban/Nicaragua contingent (easily identified by their dress, class and age compared to the other passengers) was allowed to pass freely by guards in all parts of the Habana airport. Then, he didn't stay in Cuba, but went on to Nicaragua! "I find all this really disturbing. If in just two stops in those airports I can see so much communication among these three countries, an awful lot is going on among them. "The Russian communists are really organized to gain control of this part of the world, much more organized than are representatives of an American-style open society. "OBVIOUSLY, people who before have not had opportunities are eagerly taking advantage of the chance to study abroad and become new leaders, the new educated. "I don't much like hysterical anti-communism and don't like meddling in the affairs of other countries. But then look what happens if you are passive and tolerant — an aggressive system you don't like takes over. The minute the Sandinistas won the revolution in Nicaragua, the Cubans had school teachers in there armed with communist textbooks. "And you can be sure they are working to take advantage of the poor economic situation here. There are many activists in the unions and severe violent strikes already have started up. It's difficult to know what to do. "It isn't capitalism that makes it inevitable for communism to dominate. It is the communist policy of active aggressive infiltration as opposed to the more passive and tolerant attitude of people and politicians who favor other ways of life." Somehow, Mary Jane's letter makes the situation in the Caribbean more ominous and less remote. "SALLY SCHRADER and Donna Perchard, neighbors and friends out in Lake Pointe Village, have returned from their jaunt to Florida. Among their ports of call was Stuart, Fla., where they visited Sally's sister, Joyce Lipman. Sally's car stopped one night on a dark, two-lane highway. It was 9:30 p.m. and there wasn't a telephone in sight. They saw a trailer court nearby and Sally could see someone out walking in the dark. She approached the stroller, explained

Colonial Kiwanians plan a pilgrimage

The Pilgrims didn't give it so good. They had to sneak through the forest primeval and try to shoot the elusive turkey.

This year, the Colonial Kiwanis Club of Plymouth is inviting everyone to make a Pilgrimage to Plymouth for their Thanksgiving turkey. It will be dressed, ready for the stuffing and then the oven. It will even have a little button that will pop up when it is cooked to perfection.

Turkeys must be ordered in advance. They may be picked up Sunday, Nov. 20 in Kellogg Park along with an official certificate, suitable for framing. The certificate certifies that (your name) participated in the First Annual Pilgrimage to Plymouth and procured an official Plymouth Turkey. Said turkey was appointed and driven by Plymouth Rock in a refrigerated truck at noon on November 20, 1983.

As an added gift, each pilgrim will receive an authentic Pilgrimage to Plymouth wishbone dryer and, a Thanksgiving drink at the Mayflower Hotel.

TURKEYS MAY be picked up between noon and 5 p.m. in Kellogg Park. The Colonial Kiwanians will be dressed as Indians and Pilgrims for the occasion. Cider and doughnuts will be available and there will be some live turkeys in attendance. Thanksgiving music will provide a background for the festivities. And for those who did not pre-order their birds, the Kiwanians promise to have a few extras on hand.

Turkeys will weigh 13, 15, 17 or 19 pounds. The cost will be $2 more than their weight — a 15-pound turkey will cost $17.

Some of the merchants will open their shops for the afternoon. After the family pilgrimage to the park, the pilgrims may stroll through the downtown area of Plymouth — namesake of the site of the first Thanksgiving.

For more information about the Pilgrimage to Plymouth, call 459-5750. The Colonial Kiwanians believe the whole thing will be a hoot — or a gobble.

Authentic "PILGRIMAGE TO PLYMOUTH" Wishbone Dryer

Attach one end to apex of wishbone (after removing from turkey), opposite end to kitchen cabinet door. Allow five days for drying —

Theatre guild opener has a happy ending

"Forty Carats," a love story with a happy ending, will be presented by the Plymouth Theater Guild Friday and Saturday evenings in Central Middle School auditorium. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in the school, Main and Church streets, Plymouth.

The Jay Allen comedy/love story is directed by Al LaCroix of Plymouth. He has been involved in community theater for 20 years and directed "Same Time Next Year" last season for PTG. He is an automotive engineer for Chrysler and uses his carpentering skills on his 144-year-old home. Robin Galick, guild president, is producing the show that opened last weekend.

Marie-Louise Capote of Northville plays Ann Stanley, the female lead in the play. Named after her great aunt, Louise, a Shakespearean actress and educational teacher, she carries on the theatrical tradition in the family. This is her first show with the guild, but she has been on stage for the Schoolcraft dinner-theater and for Henry Ford Community College productions. She is a substitute teacher and enjoys yoga, playing the piano and sailing.

DAVID IDE plays Peter Latham, the young man who falls in love with Ann Stanley. Ide was involved in theater during his high school years and is an active PTG member, working both on-stage and behind the scenes. A resident of Canton Township, he also is fashion model.

After a year off to explore the world of playing keyboards and singing in the rock band, Asgard, Tobin Hissong has returned to community theater. He is no stranger to the stage and said the first show he ever worked on was "Forty Carats" for the Wayne-Westland Civic Theater. Hissong works for the Hydra-Matic Division of general Motors and lives in Canton. He plays Ann's ex-husband, Billy Boylan.

Rod Morey is back on stage with the guild as Pat, a young, good-looking golfer. He works as a cosmetologist in West Bloomfield and is a part-time fashion model. He lives in Canton.

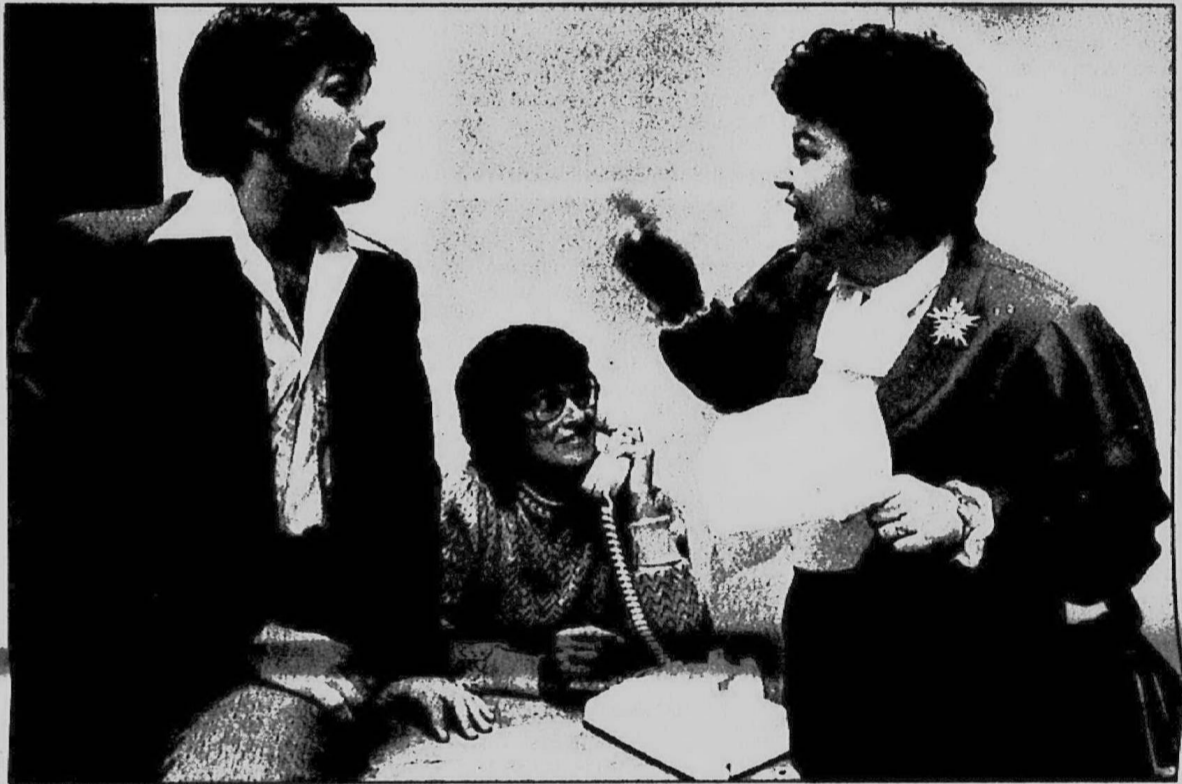

Gail Measner, another Canton resident has the role of Maud Hayes, the young grandmother. This is her second performance with the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

LAUREL Twichell, 18, plays Trina Stanley, 17. She has done several PTG shows and attends Wayne State University where she is majoring in theater. Twitchell lives in Redford Township.

Donna Belzer and husband, Wayne Belzer, of Canton are in the show. It will be Donna's first time on stage when she appears as Mrs. Adams, the well-dressed lady in search of an apartment. She has designed costumes for the guild and other community theater groups in the state. Wayne plays Eddy Edwards in the comedy.

Donna Barnes has the part of Mrs. Margolin, office secretary. A lifelong Plymouth resident, she always has wanted to try acting, but never dreamed she would get a part. She is married and has two children. Karen Wendt returns to the PTG stage as Mrs. Latham. Bob Myrtle plays the trim and youthful Mr. Latham.

Admission to the show is $4 for adults or $3 for students and senior citizens. They may be purchased at the door or by calling 455-5263.

Morris-McKenzie

Julie McKenzie and Robert Morris, residents of Bradenton, Fla., exchanged marriage vows Aug. 27 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, New Boston, Mich. The Rev. Carl F. Trosien officiated at the evening ceremony. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McKenzie of Hammill Street, Plymouth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Morris of Huron River Drive, Romulus.

The bride's white chiffon gown had long full sleeves and a tiered skirt. It had a lace-trimmed illusion bodice and a high lace collar. Her full-length veil was secured by a coronet of fresh pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and stephanotis. Her bouquet had the same flowers with pink and white miniature carnations and fern. Becky Blackmore of Plymouth was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Anne Scheans, Jennifer Scheans and Marguerite McKenzie. Jennifer Jarrett was flower girl. They wore dusty rose crepe de chine dresses with sheer flowered capes. They carried colonial bouquets with the same miniature flowers tucked in their hair.

Paul Morris was best man and groomsmen were David Niemann, Rick Schonscheck and Ralph McInnis. Shawn Muneio was ring bearer.

Two hundred wedding guests attended the reception in the Plymouth Veterans of Foreign Wars post home. They honeymooned in the Blue Ridge and Smoky mountains and are living in Bradenton.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School. She is employed at J. Byrons in Sarasota, Fla. Her husband graduated from Romulus High School in 1976 and from Detroit Engineering Institute in 1978. He is employed by Meisel's Custom Cabinets in Sarasota.

Harris-Raby

Rebecca S. Raby and Kevin J. Harris exchanged marriage vows Sept. 17 in First Baptist Church of Jackson. The Rev. Alvin Elliott officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Raby of Grass Lake. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harris of Farmbrook Drive, Plymouth.

The bride's chapel train gown of ivory matt taffeta appliqued with silk venise lace had a full A-line skirt edged with scalloped matching lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Sharon McGarvey. Bridesmaids were Karen Miller, Amy Pollard and Laura Baumeister. Jennifer Dornbos and Lia Scully were flower girls. They wore identical peach gowns with lace bateau necklines. They carried oval bouquets of peach roses, off-white carnations and baby's breath with ivory streamers.

The wedding reception was in the Sheraton Inn, Jackson before the couple went on a cruise to the Bahamas. They are living in East Lansing. The bride graduated from Napoleon High School in 1978. She attended Spring Arbor College and Lansing Community College. She is employed as a registered dental assistant by Dr. David Heeke in East Lansing. Her husband graduated from Plymouth Canton High School in 1977. He is a graduate of Michigan State University and is in his third year in the College of Veterinary Medicine at MSU.

Flowers for shut-ins

Betty Norman went trick-or-treating to the West Trail Nursing Home. But with her, it was all treat and no tricks. She took bouquets of marigolds and petunias from her garden, a nosegay for each of the residents. A member of the Plymouth branch, Women's National Farm & Garden Association, she shares the flowers from her gardens during the summer and fall months. She said she had been covering them every night to protect them from frost.

her problem, and asked if she could use his telephone to call a tow truck and her husband in Michigan. He seemed to hesitate and asked, "Where are calling in Michigan?" When Sally said "Plymouth," he responded, "I'm from Plymouth, too, used to live on Joy Road." His name was Larry Ingles, and he invited them in while they used the phone and waited for the tow truck — a hometown Good Samaritan down in Stuart, Fla.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills...

and I'll tell you how some people saved as much as 20%* with Ameri-Therm®

THE PROBLEM
You have a hole in your roof. The hole? Your furnace vent. Every time your furnace turns off, the warm air in your home is quickly lost up in the furnace vent, and on goes the furnace again, heating the air and running up your gas bill. When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air in your home is quickly lost up the furnace vent. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it. People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper.

THE SOLUTION
Close the hole in your roof with an Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper. The heat of your furnace opens the Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper. When the furnace turns off, the Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper closes your furnace vent and the warm air you paid for stays where it belongs, inside your home.

The Ameri-Therm® Vent Damper is...
SIMPLE
• Easy to install
• Requires no electrical hookup
SAFE
• Proven in millions of locations worldwide
• Five-Year limited warranty
SAVES MONEY
• Eligible for 15% tax credit
• Based on a study of 400 homesites done by the East Ohio Gas Company, some people saved as much as 20% on their gas heating bills. This study showed an average savings of 12%. Your individual savings may be higher or lower depending on climate, living conditions, and home insulation.
Available for gas furnaces, gas boilers and gas water heaters.

Occupational health program offered

An Occupational Health Management System (OHMS), which has been implemented for several departments at Oakwood Hospital, is now being offered by the hospital to employers in western Wayne County.

The thrust of the program, formerly known as SHARE-OHP, is to improve an employer's productivity. It is geared toward producing employee downtime by assisting employers to promote health, safety, a prompt return to work, and health care cost containment within the working place.

With an emphasis on flexibility to satisfy employers' needs, the occupational health manager, also a registered nurse, provides a variety of services.

THEY INCLUDE assessing an employer's needs relating to health and safety, conducting health screening for employees, initiating safety education, providing emergency treatment, investigating accidents, monitoring and following up on downtime injuries and illnesses, and providing first-aid training.

As a result, the program will help reduce overall labor costs, improve productivity, reduce absenteeism, decrease accidents, and result in fewer workmen's compensation claims, said Patricia McKee, a certified occupational health registered nurse who is managing the program.

"The program has benefits for any employers with more than 50 employees," she said.

"Manufactures have been able to see its value. Service-related organizations such as hotels, school districts, and municipalities also realize its value."

At the same time, McKee said some business leaders have found this program to be a morale booster.

"Layoffs and plant closings have caused a real decline in morale which leads to increased stress and decreased productivity among remaining employees. The program is viewed by many employers as the sign of a caring management," she said.

Costs for the OHMS program are calculated based on this size of an organization's work force and on the anticipated number of hours per week the occupational manager would need to visit the site.

McKee said she welcomes the opportunity to address groups on any aspect of occupational health. For further information on the program, call McKee at 593-7205.

ELF could heal or hurt humans

Human tissue can be affected for better or worse by continued exposure to low level electromagnetic frequencies, an Oakland University physicist has learned.

That effect can be beneficial and stimulate healing of human bone fractures.

But some recent studies also suggest an increased risk of fatal leukemia, said Abraham R. Liboff of Birmingham.

LIBOFF HAS just returned from two years with the Navy Medical Research Center in Bethesda, Md.

There he studied the electromagnetic stimulation of bone healing and the possible biological implications of ELF, the proposed Navy submarine communication system causing controversy in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Liboff has long been interested in the electromagnetic interaction with human tissue and in the early 1970s assisted in a New York operation where a boy's congenital bone defect had resisted all methods of healing.

Electrodes were inserted in the limb and a small electric current passed through. The limb knit. Since that time, approximately 20,000 such cases have been treated electrically, Liboff says.

This is now an accepted operating technique although how the process works is still a mystery, the researcher says.

Liboff's Navy work consisted in part of breaking down and studying the wave forms used in these surgeries. He found that no specific wave form was crucial for the healing effect to take place, contrary to the claims of some firms who have patented devices for use in these operations.

EVEN THOUGH these non-union surgeries are about 80 percent successful, they should be undertaken in a careful, conservative manner and only when a patient may be threatened with the loss of a limb, not just to speed the healing of a simple fracture, Liboff warns.

Several papers in the last couple of years suggest that low level electromagnetic fields may have a tendency to enhance the occurrence of fatal leukemia, he says.

The researcher stresses that he is not a physician but a physicist who is fascinated with the mechanics of the problem. What he has found is that low level frequencies do indeed markedly affect bone growth and repair.

But the long-term implications for human tissue will have to be studied carefully, he says.

HIS SECOND project was to assist the Navy in looking at the biological implications of ELF.

To test the electromagnetic influence on cell tissue culture, he set up two large incubators, one experimental, one for control.

He used large coils to generate electromagnetic fields directly into the cells and looked at the uptake of nucleic acid in the experimental incubator.

In approximately 250 separate experiments using mostly human fibroblast cells and mouse lymphocyte cells, Liboff found that there was consistent increased DNA synthesis in the cells subjected to the electromagnetic waves. DNA is the master molecule needed for the cell to function. The effect of these low level waves over the long term need careful study, Liboff claims.

The levels used in the experiment were from approximately 15 Hertz to 4 Kilohertz, within the range normally encountered by ELF (the normal wall electric outlet is in the range of 60 Hertz).

Liboff found that the threshold level for interaction between the electromagnetic waves and tissue was astonishingly small. He also found that this interaction did not appear to increase as the signal dosage increased.

LIBOFF REPORTED to the Navy that ELF would emit signals strong enough to have an impact in human tissue but that other electromagnetic signals already in the proposed construction area were strong enough to have the same impact.

As there appears to be no increased interaction with human tissue with increased dosage, adding ELF to the area would not add to the human burden, Liboff feels.

The physicist says the nature of the interaction between magnetic fields and human tissue may stem from a fundamental law of science (Faraday's Law) in which changing magnetic fields induce eddy currents in a conductor (in this case, human tissue).

He found that these eddy currents affect the way the cell receptors behave and may bring about change deep within the cell, perhaps even in the nucleus.

Liboff is continuing his research in the OU Kettering Magnetics Lab to explore the threshold for these effects. He will examine how cells react to vanishingly small magnetic fields.

OU asks $3 million in capital funds

Oakland University will ask the state for $3.14 million to begin new facilities or remodel existing ones.

The capital outlay request is in addition to a $42.7 million operating budget request — a $3 million increase over 1983-84.

University officials said the additional funds are needed for inflation, wage and salary adjustments, utility increases and necessary scientific and other equipment purchases.

THE 1984-5 operating revenues would come from the state appropriation of $26.3 million, up $4.5 million for OU's fiscal year; nearly $15 million in tuition and fees; $575,000 in direct cost recovery; $700,000 in miscellaneous income; and a $172,000 balance carried from the 1983-84 fiscal year.

OU's number one capital priority is $225,000 for continued work on a modified library addition. The university has received $65,000 in state funds to date for planning and architectural work. Total cost of a new library building would be $7,810,000.

OU would also like $1,500,000 for an addition to Dodge Hall of Engineering for laboratories in robotics, molecular biology and computer sciences.

A THIRD OU priority is an energy management plan costing $234,000 to modify a Honeywell Control system in the Central Heating Plant for campus-wide monitoring of building activities.

Other university priorities include:

- $132,000 for placement of the chemical exhaust system in Hannah Hall of Science.
- $148,500 to replace an absorption chilling unit in Kreege Library.
- $175,000 for programming and planning a proposed $10.5 million science building.

- $75,000 to modify existing elevators.
- $170,000 for roof modification and replacement in North Foundation Hall.
- $147,000 to install a chilled water loop between Kreege Library and Dodge and Hannah Halls for air conditioning.
- $325,000 for air conditioning of Hannah Hall.

Rocks' 2nd half flurry burries Redford Union

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

The Rocks may have saved their best for last.

After a sloppily played, scoreless first half, the Plymouth Salem football team went wild in the second half and routed Redford Union 32-0 in what will most likely be their final game of the season.

"Redford Union played tough, tough defense in that first half," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "They can really make you look bad with the way they bring their ends and tackles down hard."

The Panthers' defense had a hand in stopping the Rocks in the first half, especially the play of senior safety Bob Macek, but more often than not the Rocks stopped themselves.

SALEM TURNED THE ball over four times in the first half, three on fumbles and one on an interception. A Rock clipping penalty also washed out a tremendous 80-yard touchdown run by Scott Jurek.

RU didn't fare much better. They coughed up the ball twice on fumbles and once on an interception.

"All those turnovers, you just can't do that. We were lucky, even though we had the ball down close twice, we were lucky to come off 0-0," Moshimer said.

Salem got as close as RU's 9-yard line, but with time running out in the half, quarterback Mark Tindall's pass was picked off in the end zone by Tony Vorias.

The second half belonged exclusively to the Rocks.

The Rocks broke the scoreless barrier at 5:05 of the third quarter when Tindall rambled 19 yards for the score. The touchdown was set up by a 40-yard dash by Kevin Riley. Mark Dixon added the extra point.

SALEM GOT THE ball back with 2:06 left in the quarter and promptly went 64 yards in four plays scoring on a 51-yard pass from Tindall to Craig

"If somebody would have told me at the beginning of the season we would be 8-1, I would have laughed at them."

—Tom Moshimer
Salem football coach

Morton. The point after was blocked. "They made some adjustments in the second half," said RU coach Harvey Heitman. "And we didn't cover it well. They got those two quick scores and it was 'Katie-bar-the-door.'"

If Salem's second touchdown let the wind out of RU's sails, the third touchdown put nails in the coffin.

After Jeff Arnold recovered an RU fumble at the Panther 21, Jurek ran for nine yards to the 12 and Arnold took the next handoff the rest of the way. After the Rocks' two-point try failed, they led 19-0.

In their next possession, Jurek took three handoffs, gained 54 yards and scored from 13 yards out. Dixon added the PAT.

Salem finished the scoring with 52 seconds left, Chris Raymond scored on a 34-yard run.

"WE DIDN'T MAKE any real major adjustments," Moshimer said. "We just ran our offense. We tried to take advantage of what their defense gave us. If you have faith in the offense and you work at it, it'll work for you."

Did it ever work. The Salem offense rolled up 366 yards in total offense. The Rocks gained 272 yards on the ground, 94 in the air. Jurek carried 10 times for 83 yards. Arnold had 72 in just six tries.

"Give Salem credit," said Heitman. "They have the best offensive system in the state. I don't care what anybody says about Farmington Harrison or anybody. Tom Moshimer coaches the best offense in the state." The Panthers gained 141 total yards, 128 on the ground. Don Angel gained 66 yards.

SALEM ENTERED the game with a very slight hope for a playoff berth. They needed losses from East Lansing, Brighton and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Moshimer had tears in his eyes afterwards as he assessed the Rocks season.

"This has been the most fun I've had coaching in 25 years as a high school coach. This ranks as one of the most enjoyable seasons I've had. These kids are super. We've had no discipline problems, they really took to the coaching — this is one solid football team."

"If somebody would have told me at the beginning of the season we would be 8-1, I would have laughed at them," he added.

The Redford Union loss was its first in four games. The Panthers finished at 4-5.

Let's talk defense. Fred Thomann's Rocks have transformed their last few ballgames into clinics on the subject. Above, guards Kelly Bemiss (44) and Mary Beth Weast (14) apply the pressure to Churchill's backcourt.

Rocks handle Chargers Chiefs, Eagles lose close ones

Right on schedule. Plymouth Salem's machine-like girls' basketball team has steadily improved this season, just as coach Fred Thomann programmed it, marching behind a strong defense toward a hoped-for second straight Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) championship.

The Rocks began their quest with a 39-22 conquering of Livonia Churchill Thursday at Churchill. They now must face Walled Lake Western Tuesday at Western, one of the three teams to beat Salem (14-3) this season.

"Our defense over the last month has been very good," said Thomann. "We were forcing them to take shots they didn't want to take. We did not give up any easy buckets, we played good perimeter defense and our block-out and rebounding situation was good."

In other words, a typical Salem game: not a lot of running but a good deal of defense.

The Rocks led from the start, going up 13-5 after one quarter and 21-11 at the half. Churchill, behind Patti Schmidt and Tracy Greenwald, closed to within eight after three quarters before Salem pulled away.

Pam McBride and Dawn Johnson each pumped in 10 points and Mary Beth Weast contributed eight. Schmidt scored 10 for Churchill and Greenwald added seven.

W.L. CENTRAL 47, CANTON 43: Close. Always so close.

It makes Plymouth Canton coach Phyllis Mulroy tired to keep repeating it.

"I'd like to quit saying 'almost,'" she said after the Chiefs were eliminated from the Western Lakes Activities Association title chase by Walled Lake Central Thursday at Canton. "But we're getting there."

Wherever the Chiefs are headed, they didn't arrive in time against the Vikings. Central climbed to an 11-point edge with 5 1/2 minutes left to play after trailing by one at the half.

Mulroy put her Chiefs into a pressure defense that started forcing Central mistakes. But there just wasn't enough time.

"We were one minute short," the Canton coach said. "We broke it down to four points but couldn't come closer."

"This is the nicest team game we've played. We still need more offensive spark."

What offensive spark Canton had was provided by Laura Darby, who scored 14 points, and Tami Budlong, who netted 10. Aimes Frey popped in 15 to lead Central. Shauna Anderson had 12 and Patti Fitzgerald 10.

Canton hosts Livonia Churchill Tuesday.

BETHESDA 44, PLY. CHRISTIAN 42 (OT): Everything was going fine for Plymouth Christian until the fourth quarter rolled around.

Detroit Bethesda, trailing by six going into the final period, surged back to tie the game in the final seconds of regulation and went on to defeat the Eagles Friday.

Plymouth Christian had its chances. With three seconds left in overtime, the Eagles had the ball out of bounds. They inbounded the ball to their best offensive threat, Debbie Van Hoose, but her shot at the buzzer rimmed the basket and fell out.

"We couldn't hold them off," said Christian coach Jeff Cook. "We made a lot of turnovers (in the last quarter)."

And missed some key free throws. Van Hoose, who led the Eagles with 14 points, failed on four straight shots from the foul line down the stretch.

Christian broke away from a 19-19 halftime tie with a 10-4 scoring surge in the third quarter. Kim Allen, who scored the Eagles' only two points of the overtime following a steal, finished with 12. Sue Higgins poured in 18 for Bethesda before fouling out in the fourth quarter.

The loss dropped Christian to 7-9 overall and 4-6 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

Late TD burns Canton

The Armstrong brothers strong-armed Plymouth Canton Friday, combining to score all three touchdowns as Belleville battled back to burn the Chiefs, 21-16, at Belleville.

The loss ended a dismal season for Canton, dropping the Chiefs to a final record of 1-8. Belleville finished at 4-5.

Trailing 14-7 at the half, Canton stormed back to take the lead. Jodie Spitz's 23-yard dash and Jim Kaska's placement tied it at 14-all in the third quarter.

The Chiefs then blocked a Tiger punt in the fourth quarter, with the ball rolling through the end zone for a safety and a 16-14 lead with 8:16 to play.

But Belleville mounted another scoring drive with Leonard Armstrong providing the spark, busting loose on a 40-yard scoring jaunt for the winning points with 5:08 remaining.

THE ARMSTRONGS plagued Canton throughout the contest. The Chiefs jumped to an early lead in the opening quarter on Matt Flower's one-yard dive. Kaska's PAT made it 7-0, Canton.

Leonard Armstrong plunged two yards for a second-quarter score and Ken Krug booted the extra point to tie it at 7-all. Belleville then took the lead when Bill Armstrong sprung loose on a 30-yard TD run with 1:43 left in the half. Krug's extra point made it 14-7.

The contest was strictly ground warfare. Belleville completed two of 10 passes for just eight yards. Canton's air attack was non-existent: 0-for-3.

The Chiefs had a wide edge in rushing yards, outgaining Belleville 224-146. Rod Boyd lugged the ball 17 times for 110 yards to top Canton. Leonard Armstrong's 91 yards on 19 tries was high for Belleville.

Willette picked for parks and rec post

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Tom Willette, a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, has been named recreation supervisor of the Plymouth Department of Parks and Recreation, according to Chuck Skene, parks and rec director.

Willette will replace Paul Sincok, assistant director of parks and recreation. Sincok has taken a job within Plymouth City Hall. He will coordinate grants and special events within the city manager's office. Sincok will be given the title of federal programs coordinator.

"We are getting somebody (in Willette) with a very strong background in sports and recreation," Skene said. "We feel his knowledge of the community will be a benefit to the program."

"But, we are also losing somebody (in Sincok) that will be very difficult to replace."

WILLETTE WAS AN All-State pitcher on the 1975 state champion Salem baseball team. He was drafted by the San Diego Padres in 1975 but elected to accept a full-ride scholarship to attend North Carolina State University. He played four years for the Wolfpack despite incurring an arm injury.

He graduated from N.C. State with a degree in history and has been a substitute teacher in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District. He also served as an assistant baseball coach at Salem under Brian Gilles.

"Tom has been working part time for me now for about five years. It's always best to promote from within," Skene said.

Sincok, a classmate of Willette's at Salem, began working for the department of recreation in 1975. He graduated from Central Michigan University and became assistant rec director in 1979.

Mighty Stevenson dunks Rocks

Salem's Renee Rudin garnered some much-needed points in the 500-yard freestyle Thursday against Stevenson. She placed third.

Salem's best wasn't near good enough in swim loss

The Rocks swam well. But that wasn't enough against Livonia Stevenson. Thursday the Plymouth Salem swim team was defeated by the talent-rich Spartans, 102-70.

Salem's 200-yard medley relay team got the Rocks off to a fast start winning in a time of 2:01.8. Amy Dunn, Cheryl Truskowski, Laura Shaffer and Kristal Taylor were the team.

Truskowski also took a first in the 500-yard freestyle in 27.5 and Taylor won the 100-yard freestyle in 57.9.

Those were Salem's only firsts.

STEVENSON'S Mary Schoenle established a record in the 100-breaststroke with a superb 1:07.4.

"I was really impressed by that and our medley relay," said Rocks coach Chuck Olson. "I thought Taylor and Shaffer swam well, in fact we swam pretty well as a team. I'm not at all that disappointed."

Cory Silver (diving) and Shaffer (100-butterfly) took seconds for the Rocks. Erin Boughton (200-free), B.J. Bing (200-individual medley), Renee Rudin (500-free), Lindsay Olson (100-backstroke) and Cindy Elliott (100-breaststroke) all added third place points for Salem.

The loss leaves the Rocks 5-3 in the Western Lakes Athletic Association, 8-6 overall. The Rocks swim at Farmington Harrison Thursday.

STEELERS WINNERS

The three Plymouth-Canton Steelers junior league football teams combined to play 24 games this season. Of those they won 17, lost four and tied three.

The Steelers ended the season in grand style last Sunday winning two of three from the Ann Arbor Packers.

The varsity Steelers finished a perfect 8-0 season with a 26-6 victory. It was the second perfect season in a row for the varsity.

Tyrone Reeves scored two touchdowns and passed for another. He scored on runs of 25 and 4 yards and threw a halfback option pass to quarterback Chris Johnston for a 27-yard score. Lee Krueger scored a TD on a 2-yard plunge and kicked a two-point conversion.

The junior varsity Steelers suffered their only loss of the season, 38-19, despite a fine performance from Ed Bardelli. Bardelli scored twice on runs of 53 and two yards, and he threw a TD pass of 25 yards to Scott Swartzweiler. Bardelli also added a point after.

The freshman Steelers finished the year at 2-3-3 by pasting the Packers 32-0. Rudy Cervantes scored twice on runs of 10 and one yard and he added an extra point. Roger Eaton ran the second half kickoff back 58 yards for a TD. Eric Galarid scored on a 55-yard run, and Jamie Bryant scored on a 34-yard run. Liam Rentz added an extra point.

LIONS SWEEP

The Plymouth-Canton Lions ended their season on a winning note sweeping three from the Westland North Stars.

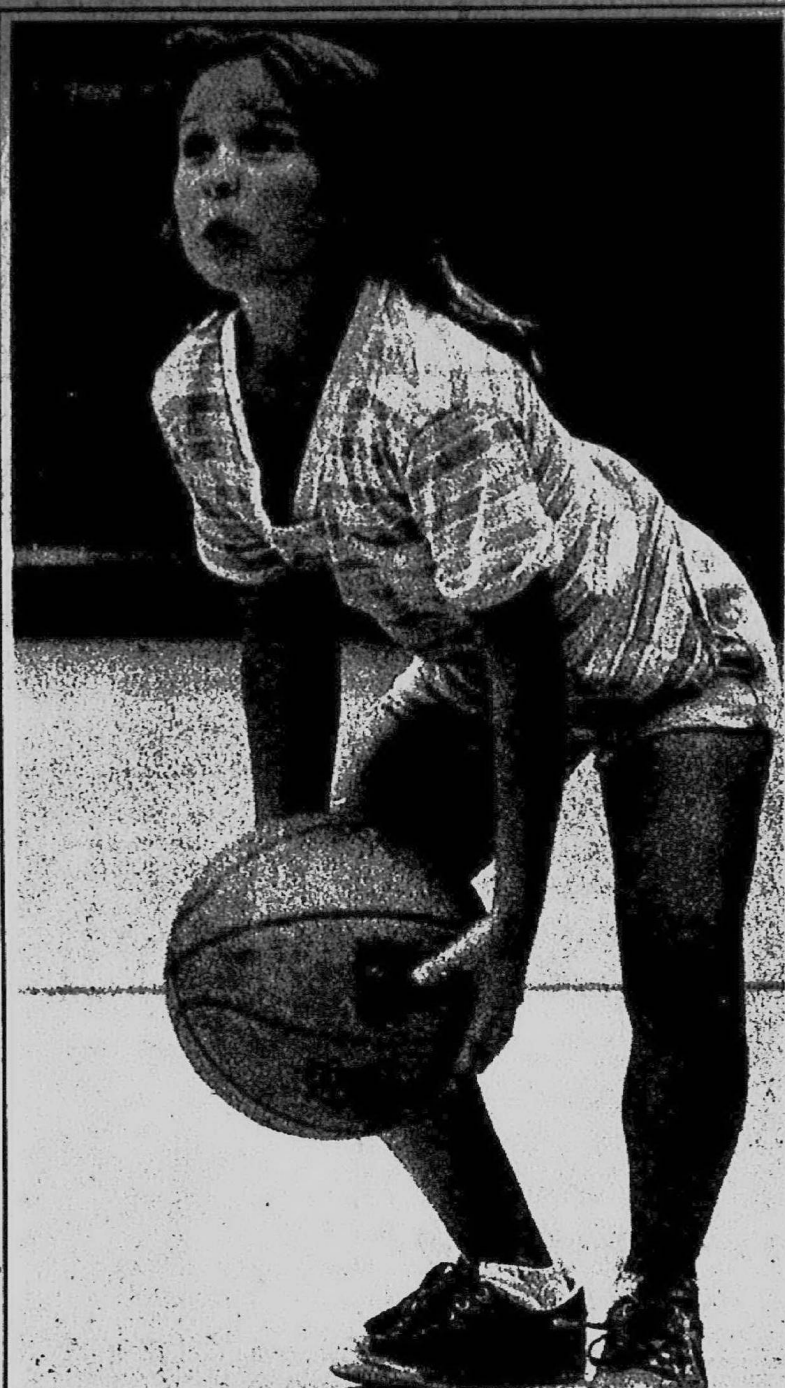

The freshman team pulled out a 6-0 win, thanks to a 25-yard run by Eric Reeves.

The junior varsity Lions prevailed 21-6 on touchdowns by Joe Roney (30-yard run), Jim Griffen (25-yard pass from Greg Martin), and Joe Pepko (20-yard run). Dave Makara, Derek Knapp and Derek Brust all scored extra points.

The varsity Lions won 25-6 to remain unbeaten. Joel Riggs scored twice on a 75-yard kickoff return and a 70-yard reverse. Shawn Kotalis caught a 20-yard TD pass from Dave Harmon for the third score. Harmon and Doug Prater each kick a pair of extra points and Rick Genrich added another. The Lions also netted a safety.

Rudy Cervantes (29) scored two touchdowns and added an extra point point to hoist the freshman Plymouth-Canton Steelers to a 32-0 route over the Ann Arbor Packers Oct. 30.

Young JoAnna Wiklund shows her underhanded free throw form in last year's Hoop Shoot contest. The Elks Club is sponsoring the affair for the 11th straight year.

Hoop Shoot set

Plymouth Elks Lodge 1790 will sponsor its 11th annual Hoop Shoot Free Throw contest beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 3, at the Plymouth Salem High School gymnasium.

Boys and girls ages 8-13 are eligible to compete. Contestants will be divided into three age groups: 8-9, 10-11, and 12-13.

Contestants can register at their respective elementary or junior high schools by Nov. 30. Registration will also be held from 8-9 a.m. the day of the contest.

A boy and a girl winner will be selected from each age group. The winners will advance to the District Hoop Shoot in Dearborn, Jan. 21.

All contestants must be accompanied by a parent and must present a birth certificate.

There is no admission to the contest. For more information, call Elks Chairman Ralph Deetz at 453-1780.

ALL-MAC RUNNER

Paul Welch, a North Farmington graduate, earned All-Mid-American Conference honors in cross country by finishing 11th at the league championship meet Oct. 29 in Muncie, Ind.

Welch, a senior, covered the 10,000-meter course in 31:18.7. As a junior he placed 15th in the league finals.

GREAT SPIKES

Leigh Feenstra, a Livonia Churchill and Schoolcraft College graduate, was chosen as Great Lakes Intercollegiate Conference (GLIAC) volleyball Player of the Week for Ferris State.

During the week Ferris won nine games in a row, improving its GLIAC match record to 7-0 and its overall mark to 22-6. The Bulldogs are ranked eighth in the nation in the NCAA Division II.

Feenstra, a team co-captain, was responsible for 57 kills, three aces and 19 blocks during the surge.

Royals beat Paddock

The Redford Royals erased a 1-0 deficit with three goals each in the second and third periods to beat the Paddock Pool Saints, 6-3, in a Great Lakes Junior A hockey game played Thursday night before 150 fans at the Redford Arena.

Gary Andrews scored twice for the winners, now 5-2-4 in league play. Other Royal goal scorers included Craig Stedman, Kevin Miller, Larry DePalma and Paul Rossi.

Craig Mooney, who made 30 saves, was the winning goaltender.

Earlier in the week, Redford and the St. Clair Shores Falcons battled to a 3-3 tie.

Bizarre violence dominates action in confusing film

Dan Greenberg, guest critic for this week's movie review, is a film instructor at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

Osterman's weekend spoiled mine. But I shouldn't complain too much. My only problem with "The Osterman Weekend" (R), starring Burt Lancaster, Rutger Hauer and John Hurt, was figuring out who was doing what to whom, and maybe why. On the other hand, Osterman (Craig T. Nelson) and all his friends spent the weekend getting battered, beaten and blown to bits by assorted CIA characters. That fate should have been reserved for scenarist Alan Sharp and Ian Masters, who adapted this film from the exciting Robert Ludlum novel. Ludlum writes excellent, thrilling espionage stories with considerable understanding of World War II's legacy. His books convey so well the texture and atmosphere of the war. It was particularly disappointing, then, to see what Sharp and Masters did with his novel. Of course, to compound their sins, director Sam Peckinpah assumes that large amounts of violence will carry any story. Not so in this case. The film is confusing because it is confused. Or is it the other way around?

THE ONLY CLEAR POINT to "The Osterman Weekend" is that people can be shot with laser-guided sniper scopes; blown up with bombs; incinerated in gasoline-laden swimming pools; killed with regular guns, and murdered with good, old-fashioned arrows or with modern needles inserted in their noses. That's where the film begins, as a pretty blonde is done in by two black-suited operatives (needle in hand) while her husband, superspy Lawrence Fassett (John Hurt), showers and CIA head Maxwell Danforth (Burt Lancaster) watches on closed-circuit television. Fassett, it turns out, is employed by Danforth in a complex plot to turn three Berkeley graduates/Russian spies into double agents. The three are Bernard Osterman, Richard Tremayne (Dennis Hopper) and Joseph Cardone (Chris Sarandon). Since their college graduation some 15 years ago, they have become, respectively, a writer-media person of sorts; a bad doctor with a cocaine-addicted wife, Virginia (Helen Shaver), and a sleazy financier whose wife, Betty (Cassie Yates), has to be told to remove her chewing gum when they make love. These three, CIA head Danforth explains, are involved in a terrible Russian plot, Omega. With his trusted assistant Stennings (Sandy McPeak) trying to put respectable brakes on the project, Danforth charges ahead using TV investigative reporter John Tanner (Rutger Hauer) as the bait.

TANNER WILL DO anything to get Danforth on his show. Little do any of them realize that superspy Fassett is out to avenge his wife's death, which he blames on Danforth. All these characters come together for a weekend at Tanner's who, conveniently, is one of the old Berkeley crowd. This delightful foursome, plus three wives, has shared weekends for years, weekends called "Osterman's." Now with all those ingredients, you can follow the various assassinations as Fassett pretends to operate the weekend scam to turn the Omega Project spies into double agents via state-of-the-art interactive television that speaks to our hero, Tanner, through his microwave. Guilt via microwave, the latest in psychotherapeutic espionage.

But hold everything. The three friends from Omega aren't really spies, just minor financial crooks. The real plot is Danforth's attempt to become president by exposing a communist plot he created for expose's sake. Danforth is foiled by Fassett's revenge and Mrs. Tanner (Meg Foster), who takes to the woods with crossbow to protect her son, Steve (Christopher Starr). Her arrows make a real nice thunk while impaling CIA operatives trying to murder her husband and Bernie Osterman swimming in the aforementioned, gasoline-laden swimming pool. Oh, boy. Surprisingly, the actors achieve credible results with incredible material. There was even one exciting chase sequence when Mrs. Tanner and son were kidnapped. However, that was not enough to save this film. Save your time and money. Don't spoil your weekend.

Burt Lancaster is Maxwell Danforth, head of the CIA, who plots to turn three Russian spies into double agents.

Artist heads group

Jean Gloria Newell, professional of the dance arts in Livonia, has been elected president of the Cecchetti Council of America for the 1984-85 season. The CAA is an organization dedicated to maintaining the method of ballet training established by Cav. Enrico Cecchetti. The CAA uses his teaching and writings in a sequence of grades and provides a system of accredited examinations to test the student's proficiency within those grades. Newell also is a permanent examiner for the CAA. She has been a performing artist since age 10 and has done radio broadcasts and numerous Broadway shows. Locally she has choreographed many musicals for Stevenson High School and the Dearborn Players Guild. Her school of the dance arts is on Seven Mile in Livonia and is the home of the Livonia Civic Ballet Company, of which she is founder and artistic director.

what's at the movies

ALL THE RIGHT MOVES (R). Tom Cruise plays high school senior who hopes to get away from steeltown through a football scholarship.

BIG CHILL (R). William Hurt, Kevin Kline and Glenn Close in drama about a group of college friends from the 1960s who are reunited by the death of a close friend.

DEAL OF THE CENTURY (R). Chevy Chase is a munitions company president arranging a big deal between a Central American country and a defense contractor.

FANNY AND ALEXANDER (PG). Ingmar Bergman's lengthy chronicle of a family through stages of humanism, religious zeal and mysticism.

THE FINAL TERROR (R). John Friedrich and Rachael Ward star in film where innocent actions awaken an incredible force.

LOCAL HERO (PG). Cliches go flying in this wry film about a Texas oil company that wants to buy out a quaint, Scottish fishing village. Directed by Bill Forsyth ("Gregory's Girl") and with Burt Lancaster.

LONELY HEARTS (R). Norman Kaye plays man who joins lonely hearts club, after death of his mother.

NEVER SAY NEVER AGAIN (PG). Sean Connery as James Bond fights the forces of Spectre, which has instigated an act of nuclear terrorism against the world.

OSTERMAN WEEKEND. Mystery-suspense tale based on Robert Ludlum's best-selling book. Cast includes Burt Lancaster, John Hurt, Meg Foster, Dennis Hopper and Rutger Hauer.

POSSESSION (R). Woman is caught in a web of passion and evil.

RETURN OF THE JEDI (PG). Third chapter in the middle section of George Lucas' "Star Wars" trilogy. With Luke Skywalker, Hans Solo, Princess Leia and other characters from the previous films as the Rebel Alliance battles Darth Vader and the forces of the Empire.

THE RIGHT STUFF (PG). Airborne stories of test pilot Chuck Yeager and the Mercury Astronauts are told in movie based on Tom Wolfe's best-seller.

UNDER FIRE (R). Photojournalist in Nicaragua becomes a participant rather than an observer. Nick Nolte, Gene Hackman and Joanna Cassidy star.

ZELIG (PG). Woody Allen and Mia Farrow in Allen's fresh, exciting comedy about a man whose severe identity crisis makes him take on the personality and characteristics of whomever he associates with.

A grandfather's love as only Rockwell could portray it.

Second in the Rockwell's Light Campaign series from Edwin M. Knowles and the Rockwell Society

The cache of lost Rockwell art which was recently discovered by Rockwell Society researchers has yielded up yet another treasure, "Grandpa's Treasure Chest," Norman Rockwell's moving study of the abiding love between grandparent and grandchild. The Edwin M. Knowles China Company offers this historic Rockwell on a collector's plate issued in an edition limited to one hundred fifty firing days.
