HEALTHY OFFER: Visitors to the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular are welcome to come in out of the cold (hopefully) for hot cider and folk music from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 10, 11, at Arbor Health Building, 990 Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey.

Musicians Chris and Bill Barton of Ann Arbor will provide Irish and American traditional and contemporary folk music on a variety of instruments, including a hammered dulcimer, banjo, fiddle, recorder, lap dulcimer and guitar. The Bartons have performed numerous times at The Ark. Bill is a member of Footloose and Chris is one of the Song Sisters. This month marks the second anniversary of the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth. The ice spectacular runs from Jan. 8-18.

RESOLVING: If you ate too much over the holidays and included weight loss among your New Year's Resolutions, you may be interested in one (or all) of a variety of Weight Watchers activities being offered in this Vicki Spisak, exercise coordinator for WWers, will be speaking at the Plymouth Cultural Center beginning at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 20. Spisak, who earned a BS in physical education, health, and dance from Kent State University, has had four years experience as physical education director of the Jewish Community Center of Metropolitan Detroit as well as positions as a health club instructor and a weight control assistant.

Linda Valmassoi, a member of WWer's chef staff after losing 30 pounds, will be preparing southern recipes and/or low-cal sweet treats beginning at 6:30 Cultural Center. Also, an exercise demonstration will be held beginning at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 13, in the Cultural Center which is at 525 Farmer at Theodore in Plymouth.

SCHOLARIZED: Ted Hanosh, a student at Plymouth Salem High School, was awarded a competitive scholarship to attend Siena Heights College in Adrian. Hanosh, who won second place in the competition in November 1986, will receive $3,400 in scholarship money over a four-year period to attend Siena Heights.

Ice sculptors showcase talents

By Doug Funke

The Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular, an extravaganza showcasing more than 200 works of art, begins an 11-day run in downtown Plymouth Thursday and continues through Jan. 18.

The fifth anniversary show - free to all - features competition among professional chefs from throughout the United States as well as student chefs from the metropolitan area.

Ice statues will fill Kellogg Park and line sidewalks along Main Street, Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman Avenue

Six Japanese chef/sculptors have been flown here by Northwest Airlines to again carve many of the figures. They have been working for nearly a week.

A SPECIAL exhibit - "Symphony on Ice," carvings of musicians on stage accentuated by color lighting and taped music - will be displayed in Kellogg Park.

That exhibit is partially funded by a state grant to help commemorate Michigan's 150th anniversary of statehood.

Organizers expect upwards of 500,000 people to visit the show. The spectacular has been listed as a must-see event by travel associa-

"It's free, it's unique," said Scott Lorenz, co-chairman of the spectacular and general manager of the Mayflower Hotel.

"Let's face it — cabin fever is beginning to set in. It's a good excuse to get out.

'It's good for all ages - adults, children, senior citizens and everyone in between," Lorenz said.

Sculptures will be displayed by Thursday. Cranes and forklifts will be used to hoist the 400-pound blocks into position.

THE BEST time to watch carvers in action, organizers say, is 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Jan. 17 as sculpture competition among professionals takes place in The Gathering adjacent to Kellogg Park. More than 100 statues are expected to be created with chain saws and chisels during that Carvers also will be at work and available to answer questions 11 a.m. to dusk Jan. 18, the last formal date of the show.

On the first weekend, the student competition will be 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Jan. 10 at The Gathering.

Several other events will be wrapped around the ice spectacular. The Plymouth Winter Antique Show will be held 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Jan. 8-9 at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. Admission is $1.50.

"Ice Caper" - a dance The featuring a cash bar and music to '50s band Benny and the Jets - has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Jan. 9-10 and 16-17 at the Mayflower Meeting House.

Admission is $5. Because a cash bar will be available, partygoers there must be at least 21 years of

New labor pact for firefighters isn't

By Doug Funke staff writer

A tentative labor agreement between the Plymouth Township firefighters union and the administration has fallen apart and a union leader blames Supervisor Maurice Breen.

'We had a tentative agreement. Time passed and the supervisor, on his own authority I guess, made changes," said Mark Wendel, outgoing president of the Plymouth Township Firefighters Association.

Breen was out of town last week and unavailable for comment.

Firefighters had ratified the agreement prior to receiving that draft. The pact expired March 31, represented by the union are frustrated, especially considering that they agreed to a wage freeze in 1985 to help promote a tax increase for police and fire services.

'We gave in on a lot of things," Wendel said. "It was basically a township contract."

If a feisty Ol' Man Winter decides to pelt Plymouth Township tomorrow with a severe snowstorm, it probably won't immobilize the community for long. But more serious emergencies present a question in the township, where a disaster plan has been collecting dust since April. That's when the township staffer who had been working on the federally mandated plan took another job.

Township trustees at their Jan. 13 meeting will be asked to get in or get out of the disaster program, said Charles VanVleck, formerly deputy director of the township's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

"I shudder to try and use this plan now, it's so out of date," said VanVleck, now township ordinance enforcement officer.

"It's like having to stop a machine that's just getting up to speed and then trying to start it up again."

Until last year, VanVleck was a township firefighter. In that job he had time to assist Fire Chief Larry Groth in updating the plan - a hefty document explaining how to react in emergencies ranging from floods to accidents at Edison's Fermi II nuclear plant.

'I'd be tickled to death someday to retire, never having opened it during a disaster," said VanVleck.

But the program is something we need, need to expand and keep planning. I know with the flight patterns of Willow Run and Metropolitan airit's only a matter of time.

"If John Q. Public had any idea how much hazardous material is being shipped through this town by road and rail each day, he'd be

Local, state and federal laws direct communities to write emergency plans. State aid is available to disaster-stricken municipalities whose plans are deemed "current and adequate" by state police. The state accredited Plymouth Township's plan some time ago

"If local officials are not prepared to act quickly and decisively or do not have up-to-date emergency management plans, both lives and property may be unnecessarily lost," said Hostutler, who with VanVleck and Groth briefly addressed the township board at its last meeting.

Fire Chief Groth is the township's emergency preparedness coordinator. But given his workload, he says he has little time to wear his second

"Plymouth Township has prepared for fire by providing our citizens with a fire department. We have prepared for criminals and protecting our citizens by establishing a police department. In turn, we should also provide for that emergency which could or has turned into a disaster." Groth said.

Plymouth in 1916: 'Michigan's biggest little town'

(Part I)

"It is the object of this little review to put forward a few things that has helped to make Plymouth what it is today, the biggest little town in Michigan

That's from the front page of the Plymouth Mail on March 3, 1916, the year Woodrow Wilson was re-elected president of the United States. The 34-page special issue, called "Plymouth of Today and the Interests That Make It," was intended to give readers "a little better acquaintance with the people and business interests of and to review the important facts of our grand prosperi-

A subhead indicated that it was a "Booster Edition." Editor Lawrence Samsen had no way of knowing that a young author from Sauk Center, Minn., named Sinclair Lewis would make "booster" a term of derision only six years later when he published his satiric and sarcastic novel.

LAWRENCE SAMSEN had been editing the Mail since 1915, the year he took over from his father, F W

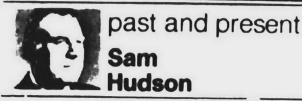

The elder Samsen had come here from Saginaw to buy the paper in 1899 The Samsens were to own the Mail until the tailend of 1930 when they sold it to Elton Eaton

When the Booster Edition appeared in the spring of 1916, Britain and its allies had been fighting World War I for the preceding two years America was not to declare war on Germany until the spring of

Plymouth had a population of only 2.500 in 1916, but the presence in the community of the Daisy and the Markham air rifle factories, the Hamilton 22-calibre rifle factory, and the Alter Motor Car plant - and the number of advertisements placed in the issue by local merchants, including real estate firms indicates that the village was a bustling place, belying its size in

A few weeks after the special edition of the Mail appeared, Plymouth High School was destroyed by fire, putting a dent in the pocketbooks of local taxpayers. And in the following year, many youths of the village would be drafted for combat in foreign lands, some never to return. At the time the special issue appeared, however, everything seemed rosy.

AS THE MAIL pointed out, "the preceding ten years had marked the greatest growth and prosperity in the history of the village.

Plymouth was connected with Detroit, Pontiac, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor and Northville by electric railway the Detroit United line. That trolley provided hourly service. In addition, transportation was available through use of the Saginaw, Grand Rapids and Toledo divisions of the Pere Marquette Railroad.

Ten passenger trains a day stopped at the Plymouth station, making the village readily accessible from Detroit, and offering "attractive advantages and inducements as a suburban home for Detroiters who are beginning to realize that they can have their business in the city and reside in Plymouth."

The Plymouth Telephone Co. had been established 16 years earlier. The village-owned electric light plant, that had brightened things up since 1903 was giving over to Detroit Edison which, in 1916, was given the right to transmit and distribute electricity in the village. And the village was "blessed with one of the finest water works systems in the coun-

Main Street had been paved with brick from Ann Arbor Trail to Mill Street and S. Main paved with concrete from Ann Arbor Trail to the village limits on the south. The town had a well-organized volunteer fire department consisiting of three hose companies, one chemical company and one hook and ladder company.

ANOTHER INDICATION of the town's growth and prosperity was demonstrated in post office reciepts.

For the year closing in July they were more than $10,000. Under postal regulations that achievement entitled Plymouth to free mail delivery. The matter had been taken up with postal authorities. Houses had been numbered and street signs augmented to comply with governmet regu-lations. There was little doubt that Plymouth would see free delivery of mail in the near future

In addition to the bricking of Main Street, Penniman Avenue had been paved with concrete from Main to Harvey, and the same had been done to Liberty Street from Starkweather Avenue to Mill Street. Steps were being taken to pave Union and Depot Streets at the urging of the Daisy Manufacturing Co.

Steps were also to being taken to open Forest Avenue to the south off Ann Arbor Trail (then called Street). And William Sutherland was beginning work on his big subdivision which was to run from Ann Arbor Road on the south to a point just south of Linden Street on the North.

To all these signs of what most people called progress but Mark Twain called "all the modern inconveniences," add the impact of the automobile on Plymouth during the first two decades of the 20th century. Sixteen years earlier all of the hard-surfaced roads in the entire nation would not have connected Boston to New York

By 1916, however, roads and the production of cars had reached a stage where the automotive industry was showing phenomenal gains. Output increased by 3,500 percent from 1900 to 1910.

The first automobile owner in Plymouth was Clarence Hamilton, the watch-repairman who invented the Daisy Air Rifle. Hamilton bought a Haynes-Apperson in 1902. The second car here, a Stanley White Steamer, was owned by Will Allen. Ed Hough had bought a Maxwell in 1904. And Charley Rauch also had a White Steamer, or "tea-kettle" as the wags called it.

Survival is a sojourn south

By Tom Henderson staff writer

How do I cope with the winter? By spending as much of it as possible as far south as possible. Seven or eight times, I've gotten as far as Jamaica. Otherwise, Key West will

One Saturday afternoon in February of 1966, I dropped a piece of luggage out a second-floor window while my buddy kept my mother occupied downstairs. We were seniors in high school.

Just after dark, we boarded the Sunshine Express at the Greyhound station downtown and were off to Miami for two weeks. That got me booted out of honors English for the year and my acceptance to college was rescinded when they found out I flunked the class, but there was never any question the trip was worth it.

It was hot in the winter down there. Imagine that.

Nearly every year since, I've managed to make it to the heat for at least a couple of weeks.

I've driven my car and gone in friends' cars. I've driven cars down for rich people I never got to meet. I've hitchhiked.

And once, in the days of the 70 m.p.h. speed limits (75 in Tennesmade it from East Detroit to Key West in 23 hours.

During my 20s, I worked a regular job and could only make it south for brief vacations. During year, you make concessions, and my 30s. I've worked as a free-lance writer and could indulge my taste for warmth and sun. Life is too short to spend 50 weeks a year working, for one thing. For another, it's just too cold and too dark and too salty-dreary here to want to make it through an entire win-

Since 1981 I've spent at least 10 weeks of every winter south. That year, a friend and I left Detroit with $275 between us. I ended up in Key West and was gone for three months. He signed on with a scallop boat and was gone for six.

I've spent the winter sleeping in a field just off the ocean, with a tree root for a pillow. I've spent it in a tent in a fishing camp, catching my meals from a bridge. I've spent it in the back of a van. I spent a couple of them in motel rooms covering baseball's spring training.

I spent one in a tent pitched 10 feet from the edge of a short cliff on the west end of Jamaica. After I watched the sun rise out of the ocean, I could dive off the cliff for my morning swim; for breakfast, I traded old T-shirts for fresh eggs and veggies I cooked over a hardwood fire.

Occasionally, up here, I wonder about my lifestyle. Is it excessively see), I rented a big Plymouth and self-indulgent? Shouldn't I be accomplishing a little more, like maybe putting some money in the bank? Or getting health insurance? (When you work nine months a insurance is one of them. It's a luxury; a southern winter no longer is.) But once I'm south a few days, it all starts making sense, seems so clear and reasonable.

I get lean and hard (well, leaner and harder, anyway) from running, and calloused by sun and wind and ocean. I eat cheap, which means eating right - mostly vegetables, fruit, and seafood just hauled out of the water.

I have time for things like histories of the 14th century and all of Elmore Leonard's old cowboy books. I go to bed early and get up with the sun.

When I'm running at noon on an 80-degree day in February through. Old Town in Key West; or I'm eating a broiled steak cut from a shark I caught 30 minutes ago; or I'm paddling my rubber boat through Florida Bay while porpoises jump near the bow; or I'm reading in the Miami Herald about the 10-below temperatures in Michigan; or I'm drinking a cold beer over a plate of ice-cold oysters on a second-floor open deck and some exotic tree is blooming these crazy looking flowers a few feet away; or I'm hanging around Lakeland watching the Tigers work out - at those and many other times I can't figure out why we all aren't down there.

Why live any other way? So, Jan. 25 I'm out of here. April 7 or so I'm back. You'd have to be crazy to miss spring and summer in Michigan.

So you're one of the troopers who chooses to tough it out at home from November clear through to Opening Day. Congratulations. That kind of gladiator's gumption is to be com-

What's more, you probably relish the months that end in 'r.' You've no doubt discovered, like many robust Michiganders, there's fun to be had

This year, winter is special in Michigan.

Jan. 26 marks Statehood Admission Day, and winter will be peppered with sesquicentennial happenings. "Family reunion" is the theme the Michigan Travel Bureau has selected for the season. It's asking residents to invite their families 'back to Michigan for the state's grand 150th birthday celebration."

(Michigan hosts can have the governor send a signed letter of invitation and an information package to out-of-state relatives. Just call 1-(800)-MICH 150.)

There's no way coming up with something to do should pose a problem for anyone in our state this win-

"Michigan offers more winter attractions than any other Midwestern state," said Al Sandner of the Michigan Travel Bureau.

Michigan boasts the most ski areas in the Midwest, ranking second in the nation after New York. As a state famous for tall timber, miles and miles of forested cross country and snowmobile trails welcome all.'

The Great Lakes State boasts "over 40 ski areas along with about 5,000 miles of groomed snowmobile trails, and endless miles of marked cross trails. A new 200-mile snowmobile trail linking Traverse City and Tawas City is opening this winter," adds Sandner.

Leisure activities make Michigan a mecca for Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana dwellers. If skiing, skating, ice golfing and polar bear swims aren't up the vacationer's alley,maybe warm, weekend getaways are.

Cozy bed and breakfast homes await visitors, as do Michigan's world class resorts and big city hotels - many of which feature winter discounts.

There you can bask in the lap of luxury, munching brunch, browsing in boutiques, and whiling away happy hours in a hot tub. If you're a dancer or music fan, evenings can be entertainment-filled adventures.

EVEN THE pursuit of physical fitness can be fun, according to Dan Loiselle, manager of Jerry's Bicycles in Plymouth.

"A lot of people are buying exercise equipment as a way of coping with the winter," said Loiselle.

"It helps keep them in a balanced, aerobic program that they can do inside their own home. It helps to break up the cabin fever."

Biking Loiselle-style isn't boring, either.

"By hooking up a video, you can be riding along the beaches of Maui, going off into dreamland," he said.

A hit with fitness buffs this winter is Schwinn's Airdyne, a computerized bike, treadmill and rowing machine all in one. "It even measures the actual calories you burn," says

DETROIT-AREA DIVERSIONS beckon the Michigan tourist, too.

The oldest aquarium in North America is on Belle Isle, as is a nature center and zoo. Nearby is Detroit's Eastern Market, which stays open year round, and the Detroit Science Center. You can check out currency from 40 centuries at the National Bank of Detroit's Money Museum downtown.

And Motown is a professional sports fan's paradise.

Head out Rochester way and explore kennels, clinics, and grounds at Leader Dogs for the Blind. Also open to the public is Wright & Fillipis Inc. You're welcome to visit prosthetic laboratories, biomedical and rehabilitation departments, as well as a home-care display area with powerdriven wheelchairs and lifts.

You can mingle with the military while lunching at the Officer's Club at Selfridge Air National Guard Base in Mt. Clemens. And if you make it to Holly, don't miss the Battle Alley Arcade. It houses 12 specialty shops in a 100-year-old Victorian building. Next door is the 1891vintage Holly Hotel, featuring award-winning cuisine.

A short drive away is Dundee's Fink Winery, and Ann Arbor's Antique and Classic Bicycle Museum of America, Kelsey Museum of Archeology, and Kerrytown Plaza (specialty shops and restaurants in re-stored 19th century buildings).

As long as you're in Ann Arbor, sample summer at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Conservatory. Pretend you're Gilligan, stranded in a three-story tropical rain forest. Or treat your senses to the delights of temperate and desert flora.

Venture a little further and discover Jackson's Michigan Space Center, or Kalamazoo's Potter Park Zoo and Penguinarium.

In Holland, watch Dutch craftsmen fashioning wooden shoes, and decorating world-famous Delftware in this country's only Delft factory. Or try folk dancing under the windmills at Dutch Village.

On the way home, tour the Chelsea Milling Company (home of Jiffy Mixes) or Ypsilanti's historic Depot Town. It's a blast from the past replete with antique shops, a renovated freight house and off-the-wall

"The Florida market is still real competitive among all the airlines," says Nancy Everhart of Redford Windward Travel in Livonia.

'Families going to Florida usually take a condo set-up, because it's less expensive with a kitchen. Daytona Beach is really popular with teenagers. "With college kids, Ft. Lauderdale is popular. Orlando and Tampa are big, too," she said.

"Mexico also is popular. With the peso so devalued, it's still a bar-

Trend-setting Yuppies tend to go to off-the-wall places, added

"If they go to Mexico, they don't go to Acapulco or Puerto Vallarta. They go to Manzanillo or Zihuatanejo. They also like Club Meds

"They want to be the first to do everything.

Senior citizens are partial to Phoenix and Tucson, southern California and Florida.

'They tend not to go overseas. A lot of them enjoy having their own condominiums," said Everhart, who says she's noticed no decrease in travel attributable to air disasters or "Most people that want to travel still want to fly. It's still the best way to get some place. One of the "best bargains going" is

Florida: still No. 1

Even though in winter it tends to be chillier, it's still very popular. It's one of the least expensive markets. And the less it costs, the more willing they are to go."

The easily-bored, never-pressedfor-cash traveler can be well-accommodated at Cruises Only in Livonia.

Its Sea Goddess cruise off Australia during the America's Cup races goes for just $25,000 per person. The Cunard ship departs Jan. 30, taking sailing buffs from Perth around islands in the Indian Ocean to watch world-class captains compete.

For the less extravagant, there's a $1,250, seven-day cruise through the Caribbean.

'We sell fantasy escapes to high school-aged kids right through to senior citizens," said June McMann, Cruises Only manager

"It's a very easy vacation for people because there are no unknown factors. They know everything's taken care of and that they're going to be treated well.

"The meals are a fantasy in themselves, and people enjoy visiting and shopping in the ports of call.

"People statistically who are firsttime cruisers will be back within six months to book their next cruise," she said.

AND THEN there's the self-styled traveler.

Dale and Denise Hawkes of Westland have forsaken Florida and ski areas for little-known beaches in

"It's great. Sunshine and 85-degree weather, a constant breeze blowing in off the bay. You could go to Florida and get 50-degree weather and rain, but here the weather is a constant. That's the attraction. Attire is another. Hawkes says

'Nobody wears a tie. In fact they have a saying down there that the only time you wear a sports coat and tie is if you're getting married or buried. There's no place I can't go in

RUDY FEDUS of Livonia would "recommend to everybody" his South American itinerary

"I read about the Trans-Andes Railroad built many years ago by the English and an American ex-patriot, and about how you can see llamas and goat herds and travel through 48 or so tunnels.

"It fascinated me. That's what encouraged me (to go)," said Fedus, who's made the trip about seven times, touring Bolivia, Ecuador, Colombia and Peru

"There's nothing to equal it." Sam Hudson of Plymouth has his own answer to Ol' Man Winter.

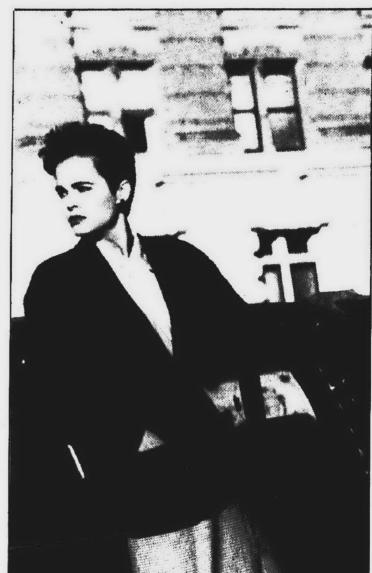

"In past winters, we've gone to the south of France and spent three months there. The temperature is 55-65 degrees, which is fine for us (Hudson travels with his wife, Jessie) because we like to do a lot of walking and exploring."

Once, the Hudsons reveled on the Riviera for a whole year, renting a house and studying French at the University of Aix-Marseille.

This year, the couple is heading to southern California, where they plan to visit'relatives, and Sam intends to research a book. But for Michigan's grey skies, the Hudsons might travel less. "The way I view winter is that if we had nice clear days, I would stay. The snow doesn't bother me, but the depressing cloud effect you get from the lakes here does," he said

Church move will take 7 years

By Tom Henderson staff writer

Though it has been a year since Temple Baptist Church bought land for a new site in Northville Township, the 8,000-member church will remain in Redford Township for at least seven years, said its pastor, Rev. Truman Dollar.

Dollar said that although 64 acres of land has been purchased for more than $2 million, an architect hasn't been hired and there is no timetable for moving to a new facility.

Dollar said a new church was so early in the planning stages that it hasn't even been decided if it will retain the columns that have become a trademark of the church, at the former site on Grand River in Detroit and the current site on West Chicago, just east of Telegraph.

"It will be seven or eight years before we move, and that's the soonest," said Dollar last week.

THE CHURCH'S land-search committee studied three locations before deciding to buy land adjacent to the site of the new Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church at Six Mile and Haggerty, according to Dollar.

Ward, with 4,500 members, is currently located at Six Mile and Farmington in Livonia. Groundbreaking for the new Ward church is expected to take place late this year on a $20 million sanctuary, classroom building and conference center.

Temple Baptist considered buying land at Eight Mile and Novi in Novi Township and at Newburgh and Seven Mile in Livonia before selecting the Northville property.

"It was the best buy and was more strategically located," said Dollar. The current property is too small for our needs. And our people have moved. We did a demographic survey and it showed that our members had moved west and north of us."

Dollar said that the church also will be able to consolidate with its 475-member parochial school, with grades K through 12, which is now in

WARD LEADERS have drawn up a master plan that places their proposed senior citizen complex next to Temple Baptist's property, so that if Temple also builds a seniors' complex, the two could share support fa-

Dollar said the churches have held preliminary discussions with Ward officials but that Temple has no concrete plans to build a seniors' center. "I don't know that it will even be possible, considering the marketplace," said Dollar, whose previous church in Kansas City had built more than 350 units for the elderly.

"I have great respect for those people and for our relationship," said Dollar of the Ward congrega-

Q. How can I get enough calcium in my diet without taking calcium supplements? Most calcium-rich foods are also high in calories.

A. For a lot of calorie-conscious Americans, it's not easy to get enough calcium in the daily diet and still maintain a diet. Recommended daily allowances suggest eating three dairy foods or two dairy foods plus a serving from a non-dairy, calcium-rich source, such as broccou or salmon.

'Platoon' shows grim reality of Vietnam War

Politicians, diplomats, generals, olonels and anyone else contemplating military action ought to watch "Platoon" (R). The film should convince everyone to search for alternatives to the horrors of combat.

Scripted and directed by Oliver Stone - billed as the only man in Hollywood with a Purple Heart and an Oscar (script for "Midnight Express"), "Platoon" is based on his Vietnam War experience.

It's a grim, unpleasant but realistic look at our Vietnam tragedy, a film that deals with the daily existence of an infantry rifle platoon in late '67-early '68 combat. It's the tale of men mired in gruesome jungle warfare and forgotten by their own world.

The men in this film's platoon are led by Sergeants Barnes (Tom Berenger) and Elias (Willem DaFoe). Pfc. Chris Taylor (Charlie Sheen) is assigned to their command. He's a college boy who volunteered for combat, something that the black soldiers can't fathom. They have no choice - but a smart honky who could have stayed in college?

An effective drama lets the story make its point while avoiding annoying, overzealous preaching. So often, scenarists with "something to say" write terribly dull scripts.

we were fighting ourselves . . . not

SINCE OUR MEDIA contain so much violence, "Platoon" should not offend. But if you prefer your violence as entertainment, "The Morning After" (R) is a pretty slick, wellpaced murder mystery with Jane Fonda as an alcoholic actress on the downside of her career. She awakes in a drunken stupor one morning in bed with the corpse of a well-known L.A. pornographer.

Raul Julia, who shared William Hurt's cell in "The Kiss of the Spider Woman," is the husband from whom she's long been separated. Jeff Bridges is a bigoted ex-cop who befriends Jane in her time of troubles.

What's appealing about this film? It's well-written, nicely designed and convincingly acted. Each time you get it all figured out, there's a new twist to keep things moving.

There's a tremendous amount of humor and very effective film production behind that simple storyline. It's not the story as much as the clever way in which Michael Ritchie directs it and the polish in every department. The special effects alone are worth the price of admission, as Lucasfilm's Industrial Light and Magic once more demonstrates its

BUT WHAT really makes "The Golden Child" work so well is Eddie Murphy's ability to mix his personality with Chandler's character so that neither intrudes on the other. Both are extremely entertaining.

At the other end of the spectrum, there can be only one nomination for Idiotic-Movie-of-the-Year: "Wisdom" (R), a film that has none. It is so improbable and inconsistent that everyone's credulity should snap before the film is half done. It certainly is half-baked.

Never have so many suffered so much stupidity for no reason as John Wisdom (Emillio Estevez) and his gal Friday, Karen Simmons (Demi Moore), go on a criminal rampage for the good of mankind. No kidding, honest, that's the story. Avoid it! Don't waste two hours on this insanity. It'll drive you nuts.

Italian Saurage With Peppers And Onions

- 2 large (about 1 pound) red peppers
- medium (about 8 ounces) Spanish onion
- 2 tablespoons olive oil 1 clove garlic, minced
- 3.4 teaspoon dried thyme leaves
- 6 fresh Italian sausage links (about 1-1/2 pounds)
- 12 cup water
- 1/2 cup dry white wine

Cut peppers in twelve wedges. Cut onion into 1 2-inch slices: separate into rings. Cook peppers in olive oil in large frying pan over medium heat 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Add onion, garlic and thyme and continue cooking 18 minutes, stirring frequently. Meanwhile place Italian sausage and water in another frying pan. Cover tightly and cook over medium heat 10 to 12 minutes, turning once. Remove cover and continue cooking 15 to 18 minutes or until cooked through and browned, turning occasionally. Remove sausage from frying pan. Pour off drippings. Increase heat to medium-high; add wine to deglaze pan, scraping up brown pieces. Add vegetables and return sausage to frying pan, stirring to coat with sauce. Continue cooking 2 to 3 minutes or until sauce is slightly reduced and thickened. Makes 6 servings.

Note: One and one-half pounds continuous link Italian sausage may be cut into 6 pieces and substituted for the Italian sausage links.

Party Saurage Tray

- 1-1 2 pounds assorted sliced deli meats (bologna, cotto salami, old fashioned loaf, smoked ham, mortadella, hard salami)
 - 6 ounces thinly sliced Swiss cheese 6 ounces thinly sliced colby cheese
 - 3 tomatoes, thinly sliced
 - 1 medium red onion, cut into 1 8-inch slices Assorted breads, sliced

Arrange sliced deli meats, sliced cheeses, tomatoes and onion on large serving platter. Serve with assorted breads. Makes 8 servings.

Marinated Bean Salad

- 3-1/3 cups drained, cooked great northern beans, navy or small white beans*
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 green onions, thinly sliced 1/3 cup olive oil
- 2 tablespoons each white wine vinegar
- and lemon juice clove garlie, minced
- 1.2 teaspoon salt
- 14 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- Dash bottled hot pepper sauce 2 tablespoons minced parsley

Combine beans, green pepper and onion; set aside. Combine oil, Vinegar, lemon juice, garlic, salt, pepper and hot pepper sauce; blend well. Pour over bean mixture. Marinate at least I hour or overnight. Serve at room temperature if made ahead and chilled. Add parsley just before serving. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*Two cans (about 16 ounces each) great northern, navy or small white beans may be substituted.

Grape And Pear Crisp

- 3 cups grapes, halved and seeded if necessary 1 can (29 ounces) pear slices, drained
- tablespoons flour
- tablespoon packed brown sugar
- tablespoon lemon juice
- teaspoon grated lemon peel Oatmeal Streusel Topping Sweetened whipped cream

Toss grapes, pears, flour, brown sugar, lemon juice and peel until fruit is well coated, spoon mixture into 6 (6 ounces each) individual souffle or custard cups. Top with Oatmeal Streusel Topping. Bake at 375° F. 20 minutes or until topping browns. Serve with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Oatmeal Streusel Topping. Combine 3.4 cup uncooked oldfashioned oats, 1.3 cup each flour and packed brown sugar, 3.4 teaspoon ground cinnamon and 1.8 teaspoon salt; mix well. Cut 1/3 cup butter or margarine into oatmeal mixture: 8tir in 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Makes about 2-1-2 cups.

WINNING MENUS

Cold winter weekends are meant for inviting a crew of friends over to watch a football bowl game or trying out the latest board game. Here are two menus that score winning points for easy. hearty entertaining.

ITALIAN SAUSAGE WITH PEPPERS AND ONIONS MARINATED BEAN SALAD GRAPE AND PEAR CRISP

Savory Italian sausage adds international flavor to this classic combination of bright red peppers and sliced onion. Equally at home on a crusty French roll or served with eggs for Sunday brunch. it adds Italian pizazz to American fun.

Continue the Italian theme with a marinated bean salad. Beans are fast becoming a premier choice for flavor, economy and health. Choose canned beans for super easy preparation or start with dry beans. See below for soaking and cooking directions.

And give a prize to whoever guesses the secret ingredient in crunchy, satisfying Grape and Pear Crisp, still warm from the oven. Grapes bake into sweet, juicy morsels that have a tang and texture all their own.

Keep this menu on the sidelines for those last minute decisions to have friends over after work. Whether you watch sports or a favorite classic movie on the VCR, you won't have to miss a minute with this almost instant meal.

PARTY SAUSAGE TRAY BARBECUED BEAN CASSEROLE CHOICE OF BREADS CONDIMENTS: MUSTARD, MAYONNAISE, OLIVES. PICKLES FRESH GRAPES

What could be simpler than an attractive plate of cold cuts? Stop at a deli or supermarket on the way home and choose from the wide variety available: bologna, salami, ham, pepper loaf, ham and cheese loaf, beerwurst and mortadella. Put out a few interesting mustards, olives and a selection of pickles for guests to sample as they assemble their own sandwiches.

Keeping cans of cooked beans in the pantry guarantees speedy meal preparation. Pinto or kidnev beans bake for 1-12 hours with a quickly assembled spicy sweet-sour sauce that complements the menu.

Finish with a bowl of some of the eight varieties of ripe California grapes available. They make great grape-by-grape snacking, and satisfy the inevitable case of the "munchies" and the thirst of play-by-play excitement.

How To Cook Dry Beans

Soaking Tips

Preferred Method: Wash one pound dry beans. Add 10 cups hot water: boil 2 minutes. Remove from heat: cover and soak 4 to 12 hours or overnight.* Drain, rinse and cook.

Quick Method: Wash one pound dry beans. Add 10 cups hot water; boil 2 to 3 minutes. Cover and set aside 1 to 4 hours. Drain, rinse and cook

Cooking Tips

Drain and rinse soaked beans; put into large kettle. For each pound of beans add 6 cups hot water. I to 2 tablespoons shortening or vegetable oil and 2 teaspoons salt. Boil gently with lid tilted until tender.

*Beans are more digestible when soaked for a longer period

Nutritious ideas to cure brown bag boredom

Lunch in a brown bag can certainly lose its appeal when it consists of a dry sandwich, bruised apple and crumbly cookies day after day.

The packed lunch is subject to some limitations, but it can be creative, interesting and nutritious as well as safe. It is estimated that 80 million Americans carry a lunch daily, so if you're having problems being creative, you're not alone.

Why the surge in brown bag lunches? The reasons are many: time, money, convenience and an increased interest in health and good nutrition. Lunches are packed for dieters, fitness fans who exercise at noon, picky kids and adults as well as hard-eating hard hats. Brown bag lunches can be hearty or low-cal, special diet or special taste, simple or fancy.

different sandwich spread. Sandwiches can be made from many perishable foods, such as sliced chicken, turkey and leftover meat, and frozen ahead. Remove from the freezer in the morning and they will thaw in time for lunch.

Some items that don't freeze well Even when refrigeration is not are mayonnaise, egg salad, jelly, toavailable, many sandwich fillings matoes and lettuce. Substitute salad dressing for mayonnaise if you are the morning. Nonperishable sand- freezing the sandwich. If you start with frozen bread, it will keep the fully cooked meats such as bologna filling cool and be thawed by noon and safe to eat. If you are packing sandwiches in plastic bags, be sure to gently press out all the air before wiches - try pickle, cucumber or closing. This helps sandwiches stay

The key to a good sandwich that isn't soggy is to spread bread slices with softened margarine to "seal" them. Cream cheese, processed cheese spreads and peanut butter are other spreads that seal bread. Spread evenly and all the way to the

Another way to introduce variety into the brown bag lunch is to vary the types of bread used. Two slices of white bread becomes boring - so try one slice of white and one of whole grain or oatmeal, pumpernickel, rye or pocket (pita) bread. Instead of a bread sandwich, include a bagel or English muffin, hamburger bun or use a hot dog bun to make a reuben sandwich.

Make an "unsandwich" by packing a container of sandwich filling and add some crackers. Cheese and crackers, graham crackers spread with peanut butter, or nut or fruit add variety to lunches.

Encourage children to eat their sandwich at noon instead of waiting until the bus ride home. This will ensure a safer lunch. If they want to save something for the afternoon, suggest it be the fruit or vegetable.

Fruits and vegetables are easy to include in a brown bag lunch. Raw vegetables such as carrots, green pepper, broccoli, cauliflower, celery and radishes can add texture and color. A litle container of sour cream with onion soup or a creamy salad dressing or yogurt can be included as a dip for the veggies. A tossed salad can be packed into a plastic contain-

Try slicing an apple, spread each slice with peanut butter or cheese and rebuild the apple in original shape, wrap in foil. If you are putting an orange into a lunch bag, peel it for a child. Most children do not like to "waste" time on that task.

Freeze fruit juice, cider, orange juice, lemonade, etc., into plastic containers to drink, especially if milk is not available. Keeping these in the box or bag will also help keep the other foods cool. Don't send

Many of the individually wrapped "treats" become very expensive to include if you are making lots of lunches. Homemade cookies are generally more nutritious than the kind you purchase. Instead of potato chips, make a toasted mix with cereal, a few pretzels, peanuts and dried fruits. Freeze yogurt, it will be thawed by noon, but still cool.

If you are dieting and carrying a brown bag lunch, lunch needn't be

Soup season

Hot and sour recipe brings taste of the Far East to your kitchen

When temperatures outdoors start to tumble "soup season" can't be far behind. So take out your favorite soup tureen and ladle and get ready to sample a steaming bowl of your favorite soup.

Soup cookery methods are the same the world around, but the seasonings and ingredients may vary. Use a moist heat method - cooking in liquid - and try a taste from the Far East by preparing Oriental-Style Hot and Sour Soup.

Start with an economical meat cut like beef chuck arm pot roast. Choose a boneless portion of meat. You'll find you have less waste and the job of cutting the meat into strips will be much easier. This less tender meat cut becomes tender as it simmers slowly in liquid. Soup making is a very convenient process today. To hasten cooking time eliminate several of the meat browning steps. All you do is put the beef, seasonings and liquid in a large cooking utensil. Cover the utensil and simmer slowly until the meat is

Making the new year a healthy one

By Julie Brown staff writer

Good health is a common topic for discussion this time of year.

The arrival of a new year presents an opportunity to examine everyday habits that contribute to personal health. Whether it's exercising more often, eating more nutritious foods or quitting smoking, many of us resolve to do better for ourselves this time of year.

Losing weight and quitting smoking are the two major resolutions that Cheryl Hodges-Selden, a Plymouth resident, sees people make at this time of year. Hodges-Selden is a registered nurse in ambulatory care at the Catherine McAuley Health Center in Ann Ar-

"Unfortunately, it's easier said than done," she said of people's good intentions at the beginning of the year.

People often resolve to improve their health habits after the holidays, Hodges-Selden said. They feel guilty about overindulging during the holidays and are determined to mend their ways.

For smokers, a variety of structured stop-smoking programs are available, Hodges-Selden said. Physicians can also prescribe nicotine gum, designed to help smokers gradually kick the habit.

SHE RECOMMENDS that those trying to improve their health habits treat themselves kindly, working gradually to change their ways. Any cutting back is helpful. Try to gradually cut back on it." Gradually changing one's ways gives better long-term results, she said. Setting attainable goals each week allows people to monitor "I find that the patients do better with that. They get positive reinforcement. Those who smoking or eating too much shouldn't berate themselves, Hodges-Selden said. 'Be gentle on yourself." It's best after such an overindulgence to get back on the right track.

'Don't quit if you have a binge If it happens, don't panic.'

Those trying to lose weight can also take advantage of structured weight loss programs. The reinforcement provided by a group of fellow dieters will help, the registered nurse said.

Those looking for a weight loss program should be sure it's based on sound nutritional principles, she

It's important to avoid fad diets and to concentrate instead on establishing sensible eating habits. A good die should include all food groups in sensible proportions.

DIETERS ALSO shouldn't try to lose too much weight right from the start, Hodges-Selden said. It's best to lose a small amount each week rather than trying to lose all excess weight at once.

"That kind of unrealistic goal makes people cheat, too.'

Exercise is also an important component in losing weight.

"It doesn't have to be marathon sessions," Hodges-Selden said. Vigorous exercise three times a week for a half hour each time will help people lose weight.

Plymouth Township resident Ann Tai agrees. Tai, an occupational therapist, teaches health enhancement classes through the Plymouth Community Family

Three weekly exercise sessions of sufficient intensity and duration to work up a sweat are best, she said. It's preferable to alternate days, rather than making fitness activities a weekend happening.

They just overdo it and then Monday they're in pain."

It's best to concentrate on aerobic activity that contributes to improved cardiovascular health, she said. Brisk walking, jogging, swimming and aerobic dancing are some of the exercise options.

"Just so they'll work up a

SOME ACTIVITIES, such as weightlifting, help strengthen muscles, but don't contribute to overall health in the way that continuous aerobic activity does. Tai said.

An exercise class can provide the kind of structure to keep a person on the right track, she said. Participants in such a class can encourage each other and can share ideas about what works best. Weekend sports activities can also be a part of an exercise plan, Tai said. Increased walking and stair climbing can also be incorporated into daily life with a bit of advance planning. Parking the car an increased distance from your destination or using the stairs at work can help contribute to improved fitness

ually; a doctor's approval is a good idea, particularly for mid-

Keeping those feet moving during an exercise session is important. Those starting exercise programs should begin graduled to begin this month, Tai said. The YMCA will also offer a lowlevel exercise class ideal for beginning exercisers, in addition to a variety of other fitness classes. (For additional information, call the YMCA, 453-2904.)

By setting realistic goals ing weight gradually, it's more likely those excess pounds will stay off, Tai said. Establishing a regular aerobic exercise program is a gift that keeps on giving. "Your metabolism changes so that you burn a lot more calories.

Both women agree that it can be difficult to change bad health habits that have been years in the making.

Tai has resolved to lose the extra

"I'm 36 this year, so it's harder to lose it."

Hodges-Selden sees the difficulty people have in keeping their good health resolutions throughout the

"It's always difficult to keep those resolutions," she said. Making lifestyle changes is difficult.

'It is difficult, but it can be done and we see the success stories all the time.'
