City may increase downtown district

By Doug Funke staff writer

Expanding Plymouth's Downtown Development District Authority could be a prelude to further improvements at the central parking deck and, perhaps, construction of another downtown parking deck.

A tax cut for all property owners in Plymouth also could result, said city manager Henry Graper.

The city commission established the local downtown development district in 1983 to finance the decking of Central Parking Lot, a city-owned parking lot. The district was then expanded in 1984.

Another expansion - about 20 lots including the site of The Meadows condominiums under construction on Deer, Farmer Jack supermarket on Main, and parcels owned by Robert W. Bake on Ann Arbor Trail and Jack Wilcox on Penniman - has

State law allows municipalities to identify specific downtown areas in need of renovations or improvements for special tax treatment.

Additional tax money resulting from an increase in value of existing properties, or any new development there, stays entirely within the district rather than being divided with the schools and county.

The money must be spent on general public improvements within the district," said Kenneth Way, city treasurer.

The downtown development district authority now generates about $106,000 in property tax revenue annually. That amount covers the yearly bond indebtedness for the Central Parking Lot improvements.

Expanding the district would bring in an additional $82,000 in 1988-89, Graper projected.

THAT WOULD cover an expected $33,000 annual payment over 15 years to bury utilities at the parking deck, pay off $16,600 in four annual installments for money lent the authority from the city's general fund nually for maintenance, operations and future projects.

Graper said all taxpayers could benefit with the reimbursements to the general fund ($16,600) and operational costs ($38,600) picked up by the district rather than by the gener-

Silent treatment eyed for open classrooms

By M.B. Dillon

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have discovered the hard way that open classrooms make for more noise and less learning.

Eliminating the noisy problem by enclosing classrooms at three elementary schools would cost $1 million per building - money the district doesn't have. Voters, in approving a $13 million bond issue last June, OK'd the expenditure of $75,000 for noise abatement at Field, Eriksson and Hulsing elementaries in

So the board of education is pursuing the next best thing - closing off the noisiest rooms, and hanging acoustical tiles.

TRUSTEES MONDAY night gave an architectural firm an $8,100 go-ahead to "prepare the design and documentation for potential acoustical modifications Dick Egli, district community relations director, said derie of sorts. It teaches respect for others in terms of need for sound being minimized at times. Egli emphasized that "kids aren't having problems. We look at test scores and the type of things being learned - it may be that teachers are having more walls, and are the biggest sources of noise.

"The concept works if the classrooms are sized and loaded according to the population that was planned for," said Morris. "That became the concern at these three schools.

They're designed for 20-25 and they're experiencing class loads of 34, 35, and in some places 36 students. "It's not so bad when dealing with 1st, 2nd and 3rd graders. But in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades they simply require more space. They are louder, and putting them into a space designed for 20-25 really taxes the acousti-

'We don't know how many of these modifications schools will be able to afford. Only a very modest amount was set aside," said Morris.

Open classrooms were thought up by educators and architects in keeping with a national trend, he added.

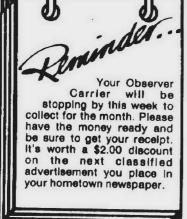

"We had gone through a period where class areas had been enclosed. Teachers were experimenting with educational concepts. They wanted to do some things with team teaching in an open area.' "Flow of space" was the aim of architects designing residences, office buildings and schools in the 1970s,

Organizers plan ice show changes

By Doug Funke staff writer

The Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular, coming off a successful 1987 run, may have a slightly different look next year, organizers say.

We'll probably have it only one week and one weekend, and we'll probably push it back farther in the month," said city manager Henry Graper, one of the event's co-chair-

"We're still getting input now," said Scott Lorenz, general manager of the Mayflower Hotel and the other co-chairman. "We really analyze this from top to bottom.

Professional chef/carvers had their competition last Salurday. Fifty-six from throughout the United States competed. Milos Cihelka, chef at the Golden

Suspended police cadet to stand trial

A suspended Dearborn Heights police cadet has been bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges stemming from an Aug. 27 rape and robbery at a Livonia gas station and a Sept. 10 holdup at a Livonia ice cream store.

Jeffrey Duncan, 22, is scheduled to be arraigned on the charges - two counts of armed robbery, one count of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and one count of larceny from a person - in circuit court on Feb. 3.

His bond - $400,000 cash or surety in both cases - was continued and he was returned to the Wayne County Jail, where he has been held in seclusion since his arrest by Westland police Dec. 19.

The pretrial hearing was held in a closed courtroom before Livonia District Judge Robert Brzezinski Tuesday afternoon.

Brzezinski agreed with a motion made by Tim Kenny, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, and supported by Duncan's attorneys, that there has been "exteremely prejudithe hearing be closed to the public.

Kenny told Brzezinski that a closed hearing "was their (the victims) preference and that the people

ROFESSIONAL ICE artisans traveled from up to 7,000 miles away to help make North America's largest ice festival another Plymouth success story.

Crowds, estimated at half-a-million, viewed sculptors at their craft. Carved from ice blocks were everything from swans to spider webs replete with their residents, and fowl

Some dentists even got into the act, chiseling away at an icy molar with a borrowed chainsaw and files.

In all, 56 chefs from throughout the United States and Sapporo, Japan, vied for prizes in professional competition. The student contest saw entrants from area high schools and community colleges, as well as culinary arts enthusiasts from Joliet Junior College in Illinois.

Ice festival organizers, while pleased with the event, are seeking suggestions from the public on how to improve the winter extravaganza.

Director maintains role

The early funeral directors were furniture dealers, he said.

"Quite often, dealers made their own furniture. You'd go see a cabinet maker to have him make a pine box. Naturally, because he had a wagon to deliver furniture, he'd be asked to bring it to the home.

"Once he was at the house, he'd be asked, 'Can you help us get Grampa into the box?' And 'Can you take him to the cemetery?"

That's how things operated in small towns. If there was a funeral, a sign in the furniture store window would say 'Mrs. Smith's funeral is today. Come back at 3 or 4 p.m.' "

DURING THE Depression, Fred Schrader had a decision to make. He sold his furniture - some of which graces the Mayflower Hotel lobby today, his grandson said.

Funeral directors of yesteryear also lent convalescent equipment and operated ambulance services.

"Years ago, convalescent periods weren't as long because medicine wasn't that progressive. Funeral directors would lend hospital beds illes an opportunity to meet funeral directors," said Schrader, an active member and officer of several community organizations.

"Ambulance service evolved the same way - by virtue of the fact the largest car in town was a hearse. They made combined hearse/ambulance models. A staff of men was hired to assist in funeral directing as well as being ambulance attendants," aided Schrader, who can remember riding in his dad's ambu-lance in the 1960s.

"Back then, houses were built with parlors, bay windows and large doorways to accommodate home funerals. Even the embalming was done at home.

"My grandfather conducted a large percentage of funerals out of the home. My dad has done them at home, and I'm willing to do them at home," said Schrader, an only child who began working in 1971 with his dad, Edwin Sr. ("Bud"), now semi-retired.

The careers of both Schraders were interrupted by war.

'My grandfather died in 1945 when my dad was in the South Pacif-om, and grandma operated the usiness 'til he could come back in 1946. He didn't see me 'til I was a year and a half."

Win Schrader became active in the family business after spending two years in Vietnam.

"I'm one of the few people to water ski in Cambodia," said the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, and Plymouth High School graduate.

Moehle called for a "separate study of environmental impact on the residential community by the commercial sector."

Supporting him was Ann Arbor Trail resident Denise Silveri, who requested more information on downtown development districts.

CITY MANAGER Henry Graper agreed to the study but said expanding the district "has nothing to do with rezoning. It has to do with property owners.

What's being proposed "would be no different than what we have today. Those properties eventually will be built on by owners. The reason for expansion is to capture revenue from a building," said Graper.

Goals of the downtown development authority include paying off annual debt, enhancing the beautification program, expanding foot patrol, and replacing sidewalks and planters, Graper said.

After the meeting, Moehle said he "took exception" to the commission's description of the properties as tenement houses.

"They have been single-family residences," Moehle said. "The homes along Ann Arbor Trail aren't all historically significant but they are typical of the Plymouth of years ago.

Hospital status in doubt

By Rebecce Haynes staff writer

Westland Medical Center could end up back in the control of Wayne County.

Results of an investigation into the operation of the center and its parent organization, Southwest Detroit Hospital, are expected at today's county commission meeting.

The investigation, launched by commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster, called for an examination of patient records, an inventory of the hospital's medical equipment and its condition, and a review of the lease agreement with the county.

The purpose of the investigation, Beard said, is to see whether the hospital has cared for the indigent or sent them elsewhere, as well as to be sure the organization has followed all of the provisions required by the lease agreement with the county.

"I'm very concerned about the need for proper health care for the indigent in this county," said Beard, whose district includes Westland and Garden City.

"Ever since the hospital changed hands, I've never been convinced that they have been and will continue to care for the indigent," she said.

A special meeting of the commission's health and human services committee was held Tuesday to discuss the county's options should the investigation show Southwest has not met its end of the lease agreement.

"It really was a chance for us to air our views on what we thought should be done," said commissioner Richard E. Manning, chairman of the committee.

"If we find they haven't met the lease provisions, we're recommending that the executive branch declare the lease to be in default and for the county to take over the premises"

Manning, D-Redford, said the commission has been concerned that the hospital has not properly cared for the indigent since it changed hands in August 1984.

Recent attempts on Southwest's part to turn management of the operation over to a consortium of hospitals has also left the commission worried that the level of services will be lowered will be lowered.

"We're firm in our position that we have to have a hospital out here that can attend to the needs of the community and offer trauma-level care," Manning said, adding Westland is the only acute care center between Detroit and Ann Arbor.

"The bottom line is we have to have absolute confirmation that health services for the indigent will be there (before the county approves the consortium's plan to operate the ospital)."

Reginald P. Ayala, president and chief executive officer of the Southwest Detroit Hospital Corp., which operates the Westland center, said he welcomes an objective investigation of his exerction tion of his operation.

"I don't think the county has any concerns about the needs of the people not being met," he said.

"Since we have taken over the operation of that facility the cost-effectiveness has greatly improved and the level of care we offer is equal to, if not surpassing, the level of care offered when the county operated Westland," he said.

Charges that the hospital has not cared for the indigent are unfounded, he said, adding that they have followed all of the terms set in the lease of the facilities from the country.

"What the county wants to accomplish and what we want to accomplish are one and the same," Ayala said.

"We have lived up to the letter of every single provision of the lease," he added.

Beard said she is concerned that Westland has not only been eliminated as a major trauma center, but may also be eliminated as an acutecare hospital.

Since Southwest took over the hospital's operation, the neonatal intensive care unit has been closed along with the pediatric unit. Labor and delivery were closed for a time but have since been reopened.

"The hospitals who would like to take it over want to make it a subacute hospital," she said, adding this type of facility is one for people who need 24-hour care, but not on an aggressive basis as given in an acutecare hospital.

Officials from the Southwest Detroit Hospital Corp. had been involved in negotiations with the Sisters of Mercy Health Corp., an organization then expected to take control of Westland.

However, Southwest recently announced its intention to develop a coalition with the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, Oakwood Hospital and Garden City Osteopathic Hospital to assume operation of the floundering medical center.

"Our board is confident that we made a decision in the best interest of the people," Ayala said.

"We're dealing here with major health care providers who have been around for a long, long time. The strength of these organizations combined will offer a system capable of addressing the needs of the community. I can't see it (the consortium) as being anything but a success."

The Sisters of Mercy, he said, withdrew its offer when a deal was not consummated by its Dec. 22 deadline.

"It would have been wonderful if the agreement had gone through with Sisters of Mercy," Beard said.
"I'm concerned at the fact that we

"I'm concerned at the fact that we no longer have a major trauma center so close to a major airport. Sisters of Mercy would have restored Westland to the capable trauma center and teaching hospital it once was. They have a mission to the poor and have an excellent history. It would have been an ideal situation," she said.

Although Ayala said he could not elaborate on plans for the facility should the consortium agreement go through, he said it definitely will not be turned into a nursing home.

"We have a certificate of need based on providing mental health services to the community," he said, adding these services would definitely be continued.

"The balance of the service programs must still be determined, but this will be done with the commitment for providing needed services and care for the indigent will be maintained throughout the development of the center."

Beard said Southwest is in default of a $1.7 million utility payment to the county. She questioned whether a sale or sublease of the Westland Center is possible under the current lease agreement until this debt is paid off.

The lease agreement also specified that Southwest was to keep Westland's level of care at the highest trauma level. Whether this has been done is also being questioned by the commission.

Ayala said this issue could easily be resolved.

"We have been slow in paying for some of the county services, but there's another side to that issue," he said.

"They owe us about $700,000 for the care of county prisoners. The moment they pay their bill we will be happy to pay ours."

Manning said the commission has not been made aware of any debt owed by the county to the hospital.

"If there's a dispute along these lines it hasn't been revealed to us," he said. "We've been operating on the basis solely of information we've received to date."

Although Westland still faces an operating deficit, Ayala said it is much less than those accrued when the county operated the facility.

"We're undergoing our most recent audit so the exact figures are not available, but it's not over $5 million," he said.

"The county lost about $15 million per year, so in the time we've operated the facility, we have in principle saved the county about $36 million worth of deficit."

And so it was - a most difficult time. The war that began here this crisp morning in April 1754 would soon rage on four continents. Eventually this struggle would engage most of the soldiers of the so-called "civilized" world.

What began as a small brush fire on the Allegheny would eventually engulf continents and kings, and change the face of the globe forever.

IN AMERICA this gigantic power play was known as the French and Indian War. In Europe it was called the Seven Year's War.

Before we return to George Washington and the flimsy little structure he called Fort Necessity, let's examine the root causes of the struggle and try to understand the philosophy and beliefs of the two antagonists.

How could France conceive of a victory in any contest with the British on the continent of North America? Look at the facts. By 1754 this country had about 89,000 French, of whom 55,000 were in Canada. The rest of them were strung out in various French forts and settlements from the fort at Detroit all the way down the Mississippi to New Orleans. Other thousands were vovageurs or courers de bois.

The British numbered about a million and a quarter. This did not include African slaves, of whom there were many thousands everywhere in the colonies, especially in the South. It would seem that the preponderant

The British colonists were more democratic. Their goals were to build their own colonies here in America. They were not working for a king but for themselves. Most of them had come to America to escape the domination of royal kings. Freedom and liberty held them here and promised a better future for all.

THE GOVERNOR of New France from his quasi-military stronghold in Montreal could order a thousand men in canoes to descend upon the British Fort at the forks.

The governor could blow a whistle and everyone better do as he directed. France could quickly place a thousand men armed to the teeth against George Washington's pitiful little army of about 159 somewhat reluctant "volunteers."

The state attorney general has ruled that an individual serving as a city treasurer or the dean of a community college cannot simultaneously serve as a county commissioner.

Attorney General Frank Kelley, in an opinion issued Jan. 13, said a city treasurer or the dean of a community college cannot hold both posts at once because the positions are "incompatible" and conflicts of interest are certain to arise.

The opinion was delivered in response to a request by Livonia city treasurer Elaine Tuttle.

Tuttle asked for the opinion following her defeat in primary elections last August as the Republican candidate from the 10th District for the Wayne County Commission.

Tuttle's campaign became embroiled in controversy when she announced that, if elected, she intended to serve simultaneously as city treasurer and county commissioner. At the time, Richard Gartner, assistant Michigan attorney general, said Tuttle could not fill both positions because the jobs were "legally incompatible.

According to Eugene Krasicky of the attorney general's office, a con-flict of interest between these two roles is unavoidable.

The opinion also said it is incompatible for the dean of a community college to serve simultaneously as a county commissioner because of conflicting roles regarding budgetary allocations and tax levies.

Since a portion of community college funding comes from county government, and because county commissioners decide when to impose tax levies, conflict in loyalties is unavoidable in a person serving in both capacities, Krasicky said.

One day after her defeat on Aug. 5, Tuttle wrote a letter to Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, requesting he seek an opinion from the state's attorney general.

Tuttle also requested an opinion be served on whether a college dean or city attorney could simultaneously serve as a commissioner.

for an opinion on Aug. 10.
"I wanted to know why I couldn't.

hold both positions, but Carter and Burton could," said Tuttle. "I can't see any difference.

Arthur Carter, who has been a commissioner for 13 years and was elected chairman of the board earlier this month, was dean of student services and career development at Wayne County Community College from Nov. 4, 1982 until Aug. 11,

The position was eliminated in August, according to college spokeswoman Linda Lyles Daniels, because of staff reorganization. She said Carter was then reassigned as a student counselor.

Carter said the new position is entirely different from that of dean. "It is not even remotely related. There has been a complete change in my salary, status and responsibility," he

His previous position as dean exempted him from union membership. As a counselor, he is now a member of the Wayne County Com-

Freddie Burton Jr., an attorney in private practice, has been a commisoner since January 1983.

While Burton was employed by the city of Detroit for 12 years, until January 1986, he was never employed as an attorney. He worked in sor's office and the water

The opinion holds a city attorney can simultaneously serve as a commissioner providing no contracts are negotiated or approved between the city and county during that term of service, and providing there are no legal conflicts.

Krasicky cited a law suit between a city and a county as a possible "le-gal conflict."

The opinion states it is "imcompatible" for a single person to serve simultaneously as a a city treasurer and a county commissioner because the city treasurer is in effect the county's agent in collecting taxes on city property.

Macomb to rejoin SEMCOG

By Tim Richard staff writer

Like the father of the biblical prodigal son, SEMCOG is opening its arms to Macomb County after a 14year absence

"We are delighted with their decision to rejoin," said John Amberger, executive director of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

SEMCOG is a seven-county agency which handles long-range planning for housing, transportation, land use, public safety, recreation, open space, economic development and the environment.

"This action strengthens Macomb County's role in the planning and future development of the entire region," Amberger said with a grin.

MEMBERSHIP in SEMCOG is voluntary — counties, cities, villages, townships, school districts, intermediate school districts and community colleges may join.

Some 135 of the region's 400-plus local governments are members. The largest units of government with the exception of Macomb County - have been members almost since the organization was formed 19 years ago this month.

The welcoming ceremony will take place at 2 p.m. Friday in the Novi Hilton Hotel on Haggerty north of Eight Mile when the SEMCOG Excutive Committee meets. Steenbergh, Macomb County commission chairman, will represent the returning member.

Macomb wasn't an original 1968 member, SEMCOG publicist Donn Shelton recalled, but joined thereafter. In a 1971 recession, many members quit the regional agency in order to save dues money. Leaders of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties put together a plan to un-derwrite SEMCOG's budget and give relief to the local units.

Then Macomb, the third largest county, quit.

HISTORICALLY, Macomb has had a reputation of being a blue-collar Democratic set of suburbs with no affection for Detroit, regional planning and public transportation.

Macomb's representatives on the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority were frequently at odds with the other members.

Many SEMCOG leaders - including Oakland Executive Daniel T. Murphy, during his SEMCOG chairmanship - wooed Macomb. Finally, last November, the county board voted to rejoin.

Even without the county's membership, 100 percent of the 4.5 million people who live in the southeast Michigan live in a unit of government represented in SEMCOG. The Macomb Intermediate School District is a member, though it isn't a general-purpose unit of government.

Macomb County's rejoining means that all seven county governments are members, Shelton said.

SEMCOG'S MEETINGS are open to the public under the state Open Meetings Act, although rarely do any but public officials and newspeople Delegates are officials in local units of government. Voters never choose SEMCOG delegates directly.

The Jan. 23 agenda includes three issues on which local leaders will express opinions to their congressional delegation - reauthorization of the Surface Transportation Act, reauthorization of the Clean Water Act and federal funding for domestic programs. Other items include the role of the private sector in mass transit services, air quality regulations and the HomeShare program.

Citizens panel proposes changes in property tax

AP - A state Senate citizens panel plans to ask for sweeping changes in the state property tax system, including a statewide assessment to help finance public schools.

The Senate Citizens Property Tax Commission approved the recommendations Friday. The suggestions will be worked into a final report by Senate staff members this week, and that report is expected to be released next week

"The present (property tax) system isn't working," said Kent Reynolds, a member of the commission's school financing subcommittee. "There is tax payment inequity and there is student inequity.'

THE PANEL suggested no specific amount for a statewide property tax, but said 17 or 18 mills was reasonable. The average local operating tax is 32 mills. It said communities, which could add to the basic state-

spending about $3,000 per student per year

"The basic concept is to create a floor for each community," said Robert Pobuda, chairman of the education subcommittee.

The commission also suggested that other taxes should be raised to offset the lower property tax.

The panel had no firm suggestion, but said a change in the state sales tax was the most frequently mentioned option.

A 2 PERCENTAGE point rise in the tax, from the current 4 percent to 6 percent, would create an additional $1.2 billion, the panel said.

But some of the panel's members were unsure about the wisdom of boosting the sales tax, saying the new federal tax code eliminates deductions for state sales taxes. That law retains the property tax deducnumber of years a community may offer a tax abatement to a business be trimmed from 12 years to seven. But the panel recommended that an exception could be made for major projects which would have significant effects on a community.

"A good deal of the development is going to occur anyway," said Thomas Barrow, chairman of the subcommittee on tax abatements, exemptions and personal property. What we're trying to stop is the willy-nilly handing out of these things as political plums."

But Mike Shapiro, whose law firm was retained by the Commerce Department to help lure Mazda Motor Corp. to establish a plant in Flat Rock south of Detroit, said without the abatement, the Japanese automaker would have built its plant in North Carolina.

How best to pay HIKNER for sidewalks

Emery Daniels editor/459-2700 Susan Roelek assistant managing editor

HE PLYMOUTH Township Board has been asked to approve the construction of sidewalks to provide a safer walk for students to and from elementary schools.

The request for construction of sidewalks certainly is valid. The study committee of two trustees and two residents is to be commended for the work it has done on recommending a plan for sidewalk construction.

One problem with last week's report to the township board, though, is its recommendation that sidewalks be financed out of the general fund.

That suggestion has two major flaws: first, that all taxpayers would pay while a much smaller number would benefit; second, that a benefit to be enjoyed over a number of years would be paid off with income collected in one year.

THE TOWNSHIP has not, in recent years, undergone any major sidewalk construction program. Most walks built in the township have been put in by developers, not the township.

So there is no recent precedent within the township itself. There is, however, a great deal of precedent set by other municipalties throughout the state. The general practice of cities, villages and townships throughout Michigan is to pay for sidewalk and road construction through special assessments.

A special assessment is a tax collected for a public improvement. Unlike millage, which everyone in the municipality pays equally, an assessment is lavied only against those property owners who benefit from the improve-

Thus, if you build a sidewalk on Broadwalk Avenue, then only those residents who live on Broadwalk are assessed. Unlike millage, which is payable each year, an assessment is payable over a number of years (usually 10). If the Broadwalk sidewalk costs $40,000 and there are 20 homeowners on the street, each is charged $2,000 payable in a lump sum or $200 a year for 10

The assessment becomes a lien on the property so if the home is sold, the improvement.

The advantage is that only those who cent. benefit pay for the improvement, and The financial solution is within reach, the burden of making payments can be and should be grasped.

spread over a period of years instead of being due at once. This also means that future residents, who also will benefit from the sidewalk or paved road, will share in the cost if money still is due.

THE IDEA OF future residents paying for a public improvement involves the concept of equity.

If future homeowners will benefit from a road or sidewalk, then it is not unfair to ask future property owners to share in the cost. The idea of equity supports an assessment being payable over 10 years and being a lien on prop-

The same principle of equity justifies cities and school districts selling bonds to finance buildings. In this way, the debt is spread over 20-30 years with payments made by levying a debt retirement millage against all taxpayers. Future taxpayers pay for the library or school building that they will benefit from. It would be unfair to charge only 1987 residents for the cost of building a library when the benefit will be enjoyed for many years.

The fact is that running a government is not the same as running a household. Government should not budget and spend money the same way a homeowner does. The concept of equity is a major reason why this is so. Future generations should be called upon to pay their share when it is clear they will benefit from an improvement made

Paying for sidewalks totally from the general fund is wrong. The only fair way to finance construction of sidewalks is through special assessment.

One could argue that maybe 25 percent of the proposed sidewalks be financed from the general fund and the balance through assessment. That's because these sidewalks run along major thoroughfares instead of through subdivisions. There is precedent for a sharing of public improvements by the public at-large and by special assessment. The present case may justify such sharing.

The Observer urges construction of the sidewalks proposed and urges the township board to use special assessments as the method of financing the improvement. If the general fund is to buyer assumes the balance owed for the be tapped, the contribution should be limited - to the extent of about 25 per-

Does the dream still live?

THE NIGHT before the Martin Luther King holiday, the television was full of programs about the charismatic civil rights leader. I watched with interest the events of 20 years ago and was amazed and appalled, once again, at the resistance the South had to allowing blacks to share in their society.

Twenty years ago, the civil rights movement seemed to happen in some shadowy far-away place. Watching the events repeated on TV brought it back

Seeing King again and again in old television footage, one is amazed at the power, the compelling presence of the man. His ability to fashion a philosophy of non-violent activism, to lead and inspire a movement of people, to effect change in a society opposed to equal opportunity or sharing makes one think that he was, in fact, called by God for the role that he played.

THAT HIS LIFE was snuffed out at such an early age seems a tragedy. The only solace is that the fact that he was killed while his candle burned brightest, instead of when he was on a decline, may be even more inspiring to those who followed him.

King's remarkable vision, his moving oratory probably reached their zenith in his "I Have a Dream" speech in Washington, D.C., in 1963.

What is sad today, 25 years later, is that while much of the South has opened up and accepted blacks into the mainBob Wisler stream of its activities, we still are, throughout much of the United States, a two-society nation.

The riots that caused such deep concern and alarm in the late '60s were viewed at the time as harbingers of things worse to come unless something was done to fully assimilate blacks into the main society.

THE KERNER Commission made a tudy of the cause of the riots and concluded that they came about because of the frustration of people living in a two-society country. The commission made a number of recommendations, some of them followed, others not.

The commission report is mostly a memory these days. But the division between the black society and the white society may be as strong, even stronger

The actuality is that while a significant portion of the black society has made gains economically and socially, the majority still lives in the core cities surrounded by the more affluent white suburbs and, for whatever reason, has

less economic opportunity than in the

The lack of opportunities and a concerted effort at creating opportunity still contributes strongly to our pressing social problems, for whites as well as blacks - welfare dependency, crime, drug use, etc.

UNFORTUNATELY, we are in an era in which our economy has and is changing from a manufacturing society to a service-oriented society. Other nations are taking over the manufacturing functions that we alone once provided. Ebbing away in this shift are meaningful jobs that pay an amount that enables people to live with dignity and pride in a costly society. The average real income of people is sliding down in the process.

Instead of being able to create new industry, we offer programs that retrain skilled workers displaced by shutdowns and closures. Instead of having a hope for long-term solutions, we offer short-term bromides, such as building more jails to handle the burgeoning criminal population in hopes that if we keep the unruly young in jail long enough they'll be too old to bother us when they get out.

We are a long way from achieving anything like the vision that Martin Luther King had two decades ago. We have not really moved far enough from the division that the Kerner Commission warned about two decades ago.

Second language: yes, unofficially

LANGUAGE USAGE in America is being buffeted by two currents.

One is the critical need for educated people in the business world to know foreign languages if our companies are to survive in international markets. Happily, Michigan education officials are putting the heat on schools and colleges to offer — even require — more foreign language instruction.

The other is the pressure by ethnic groups - most notably, the Spanishspeaking - to have ballots, schooling, governmental instruction pamphlets and everything imaginable in their lan-

California voters battered that trend in November by decreeing English as the official language. U.S. Rep. William Broomfield, an Oakland County Republican, is proposing an amendment to the U.S. Constitution to prohibit any official language other than English. Broomfield sees us "heading down the road to multilingualism if something isn't done

THE TWO TRENDS aren't necessarily opposed to each other. There's no reason why Americans can't become more proficient in other languages at the same time they make English the single official language.

For 20 years or so I've been following the sad experience of Canada on CBC radio. Although the English in 1763 whupped the French good and hard on the Plains of Abraham, Canada committed the blunder of adopting two official languages.

That policy's chief result was to encourage a Quebec separatist movement in the 1960s and '70s — a socialist-led separatist movement at that. Remember the ruckus the late Charles de-Gaulle, president of France, started with his rousing speech full of double entendres about "Quebec libre"?

Had the separatist movement succeeded, one dreads the thought of the toll games that could be played with shipping on the St. Lawrence Seaway. That's Michigan's outlet to the Atlantic, you know.

Read the newspapers of New Mexico and the rest of the American Southwest, and you get the impression the same kind of movement is germinating there.

IF OFFICIAL-multilingualism is so bad, why would any sensible American encourage it?

"We try and bend over backwards to serve the voters," said a Michigan elections official who works for Richard Austin, secretary of state.

U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, a Wayne County Democrat, calls the Broomfield proposal "a disservice to voters." Ford added that repeal of bilingual education would cost Michigan federal aid.

"Voters" is the key word. A typical politician sees his chief duty not as keeping us out of war or lowering taxes but getting himself re-elected, thus accumulating seniority and experience. In a state where elections are tight, every ethnic voting bloc counts - damn the lessons of Canadian history.

SOME EMPLOYERS cringe, a lot of men beef, women's rights groups argue, and union officials take cover in the wake of the fallout between male and female members.

All this is brought on by one simple phrase — maternity leave.

What once seemed like a simple and wonderful event on the American scene, childbirth, has turned into an ever-increasing debate that the U.S. Supreme Court tried to settle last week.

In a decision on a case out of California, the top magistrates ruled that states could pass laws that would require employers to provide pregnancy

The Wolverine state is without such a

A lot of folks would like to keep it that way. They fear it would discourage businesses from hiring women. Others fear it would foster stereotypes that too many times have held back women in the past. Many look upon it as a "woman's" issue.

Too bad. Because in reality it's a "family" issue.

MICHIGAN FAMILIES DESERVE a law that would bring them closer together. Unfortunately, today, just a mention of the word "family" brings all sorts of cantankerous notions to folks'

Family just isn't a very popular notion these days. Kind of un-chic. Sure we all have one, but caring is a whole other thing. Family denial is more the style.

Being an eternal kid is a real popular notion. So is being the supreme careerist. Frolic at night, climb that business ladder during the day. The hell with the Eating together, vacationing together, growing together, feeling together and understanding together in many cases are mere memories for families. That's too bad, also.

Mary Brown, a state representative, would like to see families become a little closer right from the beginning.

A piece of legislation the Kalamazoo Democrat will introduce this year will do just that. It would require that Michigan employers provide leave for a mother or father at the birth of a child.

She tried it last year, and her colleagues buried it in committee. A quietly steaming hot potato, this one.

You see, up until this Supreme Court ruling, a pregnant woman could lose her job so long as the employer fired men who were absent the same amount of

But the court says its recent ruling isn't in conflict with a federal civil rights statute. That statute mandates that employers treat pregnant workers the same as other employees who are temporarily out of work.

Let's face it folks, being pregnant is different than an illness. It should be treated differently.

AMERICAN BUSINESS NEEDS to recognize that. More and more companies are catching on. But to our economic detriment, we are light years behind industrialized European and Asian

Long ago, when Johnny went marching off to war, the American woman proved herself to be a competent and reliable worker.

Now we need to show we are a nation of competent and reliable families.

Republicans have edge in diamond encounter

"THE DEMOCRATS are scared to death," claimed U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell over a luncheon hamburger a few days ago as we discussed one of the least important and less worldly issues that awaits attention of the 100th Congress of the United States.

This alleged fear of which the sixthterm, 2nd District Republican from Plymouth was speaking stems entirely from arrival on the hallowed "Hill" in Washington of a newly elected representative from Fort Thomas, Ky., who is only a step away from our national pastime's equally hallowed "Hall." His name is Jim Bunning.

When Pursell, as manager of the Congressional GOP baseball team, walks to the plate with his lineup card in early summer before the start of the annual diamond showdown with the Democrats, he expects to have Bunning listed as starting pitcher.

This was a throwing arm that posted 2,855 major league strikeouts, 224 victories for for the Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Phillies, one no-hitter as well as one perfect game, 100 or more wins in each of the majors and a 17-year earned run average of 3.27.

MERE DEMOCRATS have every right to be quaking in their spikes.

It's a record which placed Bunning third in baseball's 1987 Hall of Fame voting as announced only a week ago. But while that was best of the alsorans, it didn't bring him a plaque in Cooperstown. Hopefully, that will come in '88.

I suggested to Carl that someday Bunning may be asked what manager he last pitched for before selection to the Hall of Fame. He'll answer with straight face, "Carl Pursell in a perfect, undefeated season."

"My God, that's right. I never thought of it," was Carl's awed reaction. "Jim tells me he's in pretty good shape after playing in a couple of old-timers games

through bifocals

with Al Kaline and that group. He's really a great guy and I told him he was my first draft choice."

Both men are 54. Bunning's sports background is well known. Pursell was a pretty fair athlete in his youth, but after he broke both ankles during student days at Eastern Michigan University, he maintained interest through coaching and as a spectator. He has been in politics since 1969.

It isn't as surprising as it might seem to find Bunning in the same arena. He served in the State Senate in Kentucky, but lost a Republican bid for the governorship. In November, came his election to Congress.

AS A BALLPLAYER with the Tigers, he was known in some quarters as a "clubhouse lawyer." Now he can present his arguments in the best forum our country can offer.

Pursell calls this baseball outing, which involves members both of the Senate and House of Representatives, "a release valve... a chance to let our hair down and have fun."

In 25 years, the GOP has an 18-7 edge in victories, but lost last year, 6-4. Over his 10-year stretch as Republican first baseman (where he was preceded by George Bush and Gerald Ford), Pursell is the leading Republican hitter with an average above .300. He even has a Most Valuable Player trophy as evidence.

Lest you start clucking tsk, tsk, tsk, let me assure you Pursell takes care to emphasize that this is just a momentary sideshow. Sure it's fun for middle aged guys to talk about having Jim Bunning as their pitcher, but the power of government is far removed from Alexandria, where this nine-inning hardball tiff takes place.

EXPLOITING the baseball angle of our conversation wasn't meant to slight Carl's vital membership on the House Appropriations Committee, or the dedication of any other member of Congress from either party.

Pursell's leadership in forming the Northeast-Midwest Coalition of GOP "Gypsy Moths" and his strong voice within the power structure as an artist of compromise fighting for a budget that is fair to all must be included in any box score of his accomplishments. He admits, "When I see the dome of the Capitol every morning, I feel I'm a part of history I never thought could happen."

Then he chuckles and adds, "A Hall of Famer pitching for our side? I never thought that could happen either."

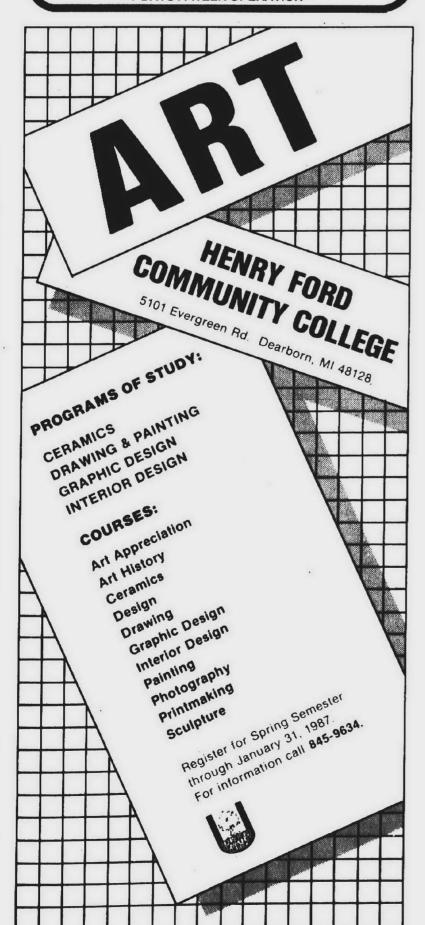

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, (left) admits the annual ballgame with Democrats in Washington is just a sideshow. But the game will take on an extra air of excitement this summer when U.S. Rep. Jim Bunning, R-Ky., (right) takes the mound for the Republicans as starting pitcher.

Michigan comes into the case of children. Kalter vs. Kalter as a friend of Judith Kalter in proceedings that denied her the increase in child payments she asked from Alan Kalter in the lower courts.

"We're asking the judges (of the high court) to set up some guidelines, some standards for the lower courts to follow and be led by when deciding on child support payments. In the case of Kalter vs. Kalter, the Appelate Court did not even follow what we have. The existing law just isn't clear enough. There are a lot of factors that have to be established."

The fault lies with no-fault

By Loraine McClish

HE NO-FAULT divorce laws were created in California in 1970 and adopted by other states in the belief that the new law was correcting an outdated code that was degrading and humiliating to both parties involved and often unfair to one party. No-fault divorce laws were intended to reduce accusation and acrimony. They were intended to remove marital misconduct as the necessary ground for divorce and to base monetary awards on need and ability to pay, rather than treating them as rewards for virtue or punishments for sin

But a study by National American Association of University Women distributed to its members in December says it is becoming increasingly evident that the impact of nofault divorce laws is not only financially detrimental to women and children, but a contributing factor to the rising statistics of women and children in poverty.

Divorce settlements are assuming older homemakers and women with young children will become self-sufficent as soon as possible," said Edith Pierce, legislative chairperson for AAUW's Farmington appointed advisory committee was Branch. "But it is cruelly naive to imagine that a woman who has been out of the work force for many years can become self-sufficent that quick-

"WHAT IS EVEN more troubling is a child support system that routinely awards pitifully inadequate amounts and then fails to enforce its own awards," Pierce said.

"Sixty to 80 percent of all fathers do not comply with court orders," she said, adding that 90 percent of all custodial parents are women.

"The law that was intended to move us toward equality between the sexes has in fact weakened marriage, worsened women's conditions while improving men's, and widened the gap between the sexes," Pierce

To remedy the situation, the National AAUW lists four factors:

• Child support awards based on income sharing to equalize the standards of living in the custodial and non-custodial households. More effective techniques to enforce those awards, including wage assignments, income tax intercepts, national collection services, property liens and bonds, and jail.

• For the long-married housewife, a grandmother clause that would insure older women an equal share of the fruits of the marital partnership.

• For the mother with minor children the continued use of the family home and a sufficient share of the family resources to maintain a standard of living equal to her exhusband's.

• For the woman in her 40s, capable of finding employment but not of recapturing the lost career opportunities of her 20s and 30s, there is a need for a more complex equity.

Taxpayers get the welfare bill

By Loraine McClish staff writer

ARIAN McCRACKEN has been in the forefront of battles fought by the feminist movement since the movement began and is now president of Michigan National Organization for Women.

"There has always been something to fight for," she said. "What we're doing now in the matter of getting (divorced) women a decent amount of child support is going to affect more women and children than anything we've done in memory.

"It will affect more than that. It will affect everybody who pays taxes because so many of those women slip below the poverty line and end up on ADC.

"Add to that the unknown number of non-custodial parents who disappear across a state line and are never heard from again. That puts more women and children on welfare. It was the federal government that started this whole issue because of its cost through our social services

The first step taken by the federal government was to pass the Child Support Enforcement Amendment of 1984. The amendment requires port guidelines for use by judges, hearing officers and others involved in setting child support. Deadline for those revisions was put at October of

The purpose was to provide some uniformity in the amount given and to ensure that the amount was sufficient to enable children to live at least above the poverty line.

About half of the states have these guidelines in effect.

On the heels of that, further steps were taken to lift the burden of support from the federal government when the IRS was given authority to take any child support owed by an out-of-state father from any tax refund he was due

It was only "by working behind the scenes, bombarding the judges some of us had campaigned for, holding press conferences," she said, that gave them a foot in the door.

When it was learned that there was a vacancy on the advisory committee, "We were able to get one of the members of Women's Lawyers Association appointed," she said.

Even so, the feminists, individuals as well as those who represented Michigan Women's Commission or Women's Assembly (a coalition of feminist-minded groups), bombed

Terry K. Adams, senior research associate in the Economic Behavior Program for Institute for Social Research in Ann Arbor, said, "Draft 3 will result in a definite increase in the number of children living in poverty in Michigan."

Adams based her statements on 1986 prices, applied statistically to an average household of divorce determined by a 5,000-family study conducted by the institute.

"Draft 3 was based solely on some methodology that tells you how many dollars and cents it takes to raise a kid. It does nothing about the kid who is living at a lower level than he ever did while his father is out buying a Porsche.

"We had no idea where we were going from here after Draft 3 passed until we heard the judge's decision on the Kalter vs. Kalter case. We lucked out on that one. It gave us a place to go," McCracken said.

This tooth sculpture has no plaque

By Julie Brown

Amid all of the icy creations of the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular, the tooth stood alone.

The tooth — a lower right first molar, to be specific — was created by Dr. T. Mark Healy and Dr. Tom Collins. The dentists, who have their practice in Lincoln Park, were among those hard at work Saturday.

The competition among professional chefs/carvers was held in downtown Plymouth Saturday. This is the third year Healy, a Northvillearea resident, and Collins, a Plymouth resident, have participated in the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

"We're definitely amateurs," Healy said with a chuckle.

The dentists had four hours to work on their creation, which was the only one of its kind.

"It was anatomically perfect," Healy said of the molar. "I guess the judges didn't take that into consideration."

Dental schools have students carve teeth from chalk and wax, he said.

"That's one way of testing dental students prior to letting them into school."

CARVING SUCH materials also helps dental students develop the manual dexterity they need, he said. "It's kind of an easy transition to

The icy molar measured some 22 inches high and some 11 inches wide, Healy said. The base added approximately 1 foot to the sculpture's height.

Although some teeth, such as bicuspids, are easier to carve they aren't as readily identifiable as other teeth are, Healy and Collins have found.

"We like to stick to molars."

The two haven't found any animosity on the part of the other contestants. Last year, the dentists were next to Milos Cihelka, chef at The Golden Mushroom in Southfield. The chef was this year's top winner.

Cihelka was a big help, Healy said.
"He was just tremendous. He was more than happy to lend us the use of his ice-carving tools."

This year, Collins and Healy were next to a hospital chef who was also helpful.

"We just get all kinds of help," Healy said.

THE TWO DENTISTS are planning on participating in next year's Ice Sculpture Spectacular. Healy was impressed with the organization of this year's event.

"I think we're going to keep it up.

It's so much fun doing it. We'll be there because we have such a good time."

Although the dental profession has a somewhat straight-laced image, the two dentists also believe in having a good time.

s good time. lore and more dentists are recognizing the need to treat the whole patient and not just his or her teeth. Healy said. Taking good care of the person attached to those teeth is also important.

"We just like to have a good time that way," he said of the ice-carving

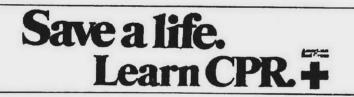

This is the third year the dentists have participated in the Plymouth ice Sculpture Spectacular.

We must be careful in whom we idolize

NEWS AND DISCUSSION of developments in the Iranian arms sales fiasco has become an everyday news item. We have heard that this testimony conflicts with that testimony and that statements made by certain underlings confirm what might have already been said by certain hirel-

Unless we listen carefully, we might think that it is all updated version of the Mexican bean trick. Under which shell will it appear in the next round?

Commentaries on the unfolding of events have focused on the seriousness of lawbreaking. Some editors have decried the deception. Others have been aghast at the apparent disregard for chain of command.

But this whole sad story is about something so much more basic than that. And that basic something will spawn another national embarrassment or even tragedy if we are content to simply hold a few investigations, slap a few hands and send one or two scapegoats off to prison.

The basic stuff of this whole story has to do with the nature of idolatry and the nature of violence. Idolatry is probably enough to focus on today, and we can look at the violence issue next time.

IDOLATRY, SIMPLY put, has to do with making a kind of god out of something that isn't. With a tendency to install human persons and human institutions on divine-like pedestals, idolatry is as appealing to society as it is individuals.

However, when we place persons or institutions, regardless of our need or their stature, in the role of gods, we open ourselves to inevitable shock, sadness and even outrage upon discovering that they are not what we thought they were.

The year 1986 was tough on us along these lines. We opened the year with one national disaster, and we closed it with another. When Challenger exploded, so did the myth that our technology is infallible.

When the dam broke over the Iranian scandal, we were shocked again leaders and our governmental struc- worshippers.

tures are no more impeccable today than in in the quickly forgotton days of Watergate.

THAT IS the way it is when people are willing to live in a kind of idolatry. Periodic shock becomes a way of life. Our first experience of that sort was with our parents.

In a sense, they entered our lives on a pedestal that could not possibly be maintained. And when we first discovered their humanness, we were shocked. The heros of childhood became real-life Humpty Dumptys.

But as we grew older, the process of creating gods continued. For some, doctors occupied the pedestal. For others, nuns or the clergy held the position. Still others appointed teachers to the role. Many more anointed the men and women in Government leaders have always been a natural for the position of gods among people. But not even presidents and kings can live up to the divine status often bestowed

THE BELIEF that those in office must know best is a dead giveaway that one has been bitten by the idolatry bug. At the same time there is an attraction to all of this.

Having gods that we can see on television offers a sort of security, false though it may be. But then mirages have always appeared to those who thirst. That is the way it is in the

Goal of unity still elusive, some say

become thoroughly institutionalized, a part of the organizational machinery of virtually every major church

This week, The Livonia Ministerial Association has celebrated the 1987 Week of Prayer for Christianity Unity with prayer meetings at vari-

But as Christian Unity concludes Sunday, when Christians around the world pray, as Jesus did, "that they may all be one . . . so that the world may believe," the goal is seen as still elusive and perhaps fading.

Some say the effort has sagged at a critical impasse.

HIS COMMENTS, and those of a wide variety of others, came in the January issue of Ecumenical Trends, published by Catholicism's Graymoor Ecumenical Institute, of Garrison. N.Y.

It coordinates the week of prayers for unity together with the doctrinal commission of the Protestant-Orthodox World Council of Churches. "Reconciled to God in Christ," is the theme for the week taken from Second Corinthians 5:17-20, to be used in thousands of church services, many of them on an ecumenical ba-

Working for Christian unity has thodox denominations, and by the come thoroughly institutionalized, U.S. Roman Catholic bishops' conference.

A joint pastoral letter by officers body and of liaison units among of the two organizations says: "Reconciliation is central to God's redeeming plan."

YET "WE remain seriously unreconciled under judgment of the word we proclaim . . . It is clear that God wills a visible, growing unity for the church." This doesn't mean uniformity, they said, but "God does expect a true unity in our diversity." In the compendium of comments, Lutheran theologian Martin Marty of the University of Chicago says churches are bound to remain "rich in diversity" that won't be blended into sameness.

But he adds they must also "remain in the process of convergence, always moving toward each other. and union in Christ," demonstrating: their "mutual acceptance, shared" ministries and witness."

He says Christianity's "real divisions are within and across" denominational lines, not so much between them. As a step toward reconciliation, he, like Outler, says the most urgent need is for shared Holy Communion, "licit and encouraged."

MOST PROTESTANT denominations allow inter-Communion, but not Roman Catholicism in ordinary circumstances, although Catholic-Lutheran and Catholic-Anglican (Episcopal) dialogue teams have reached doctrinal accords about it.

The most far-reaching theological consensus, the 1982 "Baptism, Eucharist (Communion) and Ministry" document by Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox scholars, is now under consideration by worldwide Christianity.

Responses from all its major branches still were accumulating at World Council of Churches headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, with the start of 1987 set as the deadline for denominational reac-

Lowest home mortgage interest rates in eight years!

It's a great time to buy a house.

At Standard Federal, we're offering 15-year and 30-year fixed rate loans at very attractive interest

The interest rates shown on the chart are based on the payment of a 2% loan discount fee. You can obtain an even lower rate by paying a higher loan discount fee.

By acting now, you can take advantage of our competitive inter-

You can apply for a new mortgage loan at any of our conveniently located branch offices. Loan approvals usually take only 3-4 weeks.

Stop by and talk to one of our mortgage counselors about a new mortgage that will be just right for

Or it's a great time to refinance your present mortgage.

Even if you already own a home, you can take advantage of our low mortgage interest rates by refinancing your current loan. Chances are that we can save you thousands of dollars in interest and lower your monthly payment!

Here's an example of how much someone who obtained a 30-year loan for $50,000.00 at 12% (12.41% APR) interest in September of 1985 could save by refinancing that loan with a new 15-year loan at Standard Federal today.

The homeowners in this example had monthly principal and interest payments of $514.31. If they continue to pay on that loan until it matures, they will pay an additional $127,169.18 in interest. However, by obtaining a 15-year fixed rate loan now at 9.25% (9.76% APR) they will save $84,751.84 in interest. What's more, they will be able to pay off

Interest yet to be paid	$127,169.18	$42,417.34

"All of the annual percentage rates in the above example are estimated based on a $50,000.00 loan with a down payment of at least 20%. The term of the loan and all of the normal prepaid finance charges (including a 2% loan discount fee) were taken into consideration in calculating these annual percentage rates.

Gerald (right) and Michael LeVan, a fatherson investment team from E.F. Hutton will introduce "faith investing" at a seminar next

Portfolios based on conscience

By Janice Brunson staff writer

A father-son financial investment team with E.F. Hutton & Co. is somewhat unusual, but no more so than the investment concept Gerald LeVan, 47, and his son, Michael, 23, are introducing to area investors.

Gerald, vice president of the Birmingham E.F. Hutton office, and Michael, a consulting associate with the firm, are coordinating a seminar on ethical investments, something they have dubbed "faith investing."

Simply put, the concept permits investors to invest money with corporations whose records are consistent with moral and ethical values of the investor. Issues for consideration, Gerald LeVan said, range from tobacco and alcohol to armaments. pornography, birth control, equal rights and others.

The concept is not new. As early as the 1960s, Unitarian Universalists were withdrawing investments from corporations supplying the Vietnam conflict. The Presbyterian Church recently banished 22 of the country's most profitable corporations from its investment portfolio. But for possibly the first time, area investors will have the opportunity to examine what faith investing means.

THE LeVANS are inviting representatives of 3,000 religious organ-hospitals to the seminar where E.F. Hutton brokers, former Episcopal priest Douglas Smith and former evangelical Christian minister William Carey will address the audience. The seminar is open to the public free, but advanced registration is required. It is scheduled at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 29, at the Michigan Inn in Southfield. To register, call 540-3200.

Faith investing is not endorsed by E.F. Hutton, Gerald LeVan said, but Smith and Carey were given a corporate nod last May and have been introducing the concept to audiences in the Midwest since. The upcoming seminar is their fourth and the largest to date.

Gerald LeVan also said moral and ethical issues under consideration by investors are neither underwritten nor necessarily subscribed to by E.F. Hutton financial advisers.

"We do not determine morality whether something, say birth control pills, are right or wrong, good or bad." His job, he said, is to provide advice and guidance to clients.

Michael LeVan sums up the role in a similar way. "We provide services and avenues to those who are interested." Neither LeVan will make nor manage investments.

Seed capital

State helping firms find money

By Tim Richard staff writer

It might have happened anyway. But now the state is formalizing the spread of "seed capital," contributing money and publicizing it through the Michigan Strategic Fund.

"This is more systematic and provides more resources," said Thomas D. Demery, who last week was awarded a $2 million state loan to provide formation capital and advice to entrepreneurs who think they have a good business

For the last 11 years, Demery has been known as a vice president and financial officer of Awrey Bakeries in Livonia. Now the Franklin resident also will do business as Demery Seed Capital Fund.

"I was going to do this anyway," said Demery. "But the Michigan Strategic Fund deserves a tremendous amount of credit for structuring to make the funds available." To qualify for a $2 million loan, he had to show his firm could raise $1 million in matching capital.

TWO COMPANIES headquartered in Oakland County and two in Ann Arbor were awarded a total of $8 million in 9 percent, 10-year loans from the strategic fund. The other three are:

Onset Seed Fund, whose principal is Dwight Carlson, founder of Perceptron Inc. in Farmington Hills. Onset has an office run by Matt Schomer at 478-6404. He couldn't be reached by deadline time for comment.

• Enterprise Management Inc., Ann Arbor, whose partners are Hayden Harris and Thomas Porter. Its number is 663-3213. Its strong interest is high technology and providing managerial help, said Philip H. Power, a member of its advisory committee and founder of Suburban Communications Corp.

• Diamond Venture Associates, Ann Arbor, headed by Howard Diamond, an experienced venture cap-

POWER POINTED to a pattern in the state loans — "a geographic are from Ann Arbor to Rochester. That's where there's engineering talent. That's where there's marketing talent."

"At either end you'll find the Unversity of Michigan and Oakland University. In between, there are people who have dreamed up a business idea.'

At least three of the seed capital firms are expected to operate on a statewide basis, said Steve Rohde, who heads the tiny staff that runs MSF's seed capital program in Lansing.

Power predicted three general locations would attract seed capital from these and other firms. The Ann Arbor-Rochester arc already is famed as Michigan's high-tech corridor. A second is the molecular biology field around Lansing and East Lansing. A third is the mining industry around Houghton.

HISTORICALLY, said Power, a maturing industry generates wealth to build new industry.

As Michigan's lumber boom petered out at the turn of the century, those made wealthy from it found an outlet for their capital in Henry Ford and other auto

"Most (of the new seed capitalists) made their money directly or indirectly from the auto industry," Power said. "Some have been entrepreneurs."

Demery, who spent 25 years with the accounting firm of Plante & Moran, agreed. "I have a strong conviction that what is making money today will lead you to bankruptcy tomorrow unless you re-place," he said.

DEMERY'S ADVICE: Companies should take one month's profit a year and put it into a different activity - a different product, a different location, perhaps.

While he has diverse contacts in the business world, Demery expects to emphasize food processing, an industry that Gov. James Blanchard and former Gov. William Milliken both identified as a key prospect for the state.

Wouldn't it be nice to have another Kellogg's?" asked Demery, recalling the cereal giant founded by a young doctor running a Battle Creek health clinic.

Demery already has one success story to tell: Vixen Motor Homes, a Pontiac firm, which makes garage-able recreational vehicles. about the seed capital firms from newspapers, bankers, accountants

you replace.'

and business contacts. Power said the Ann Arbor area has a 250member forum, which hears proposals from entrepreneurs. Demery will do a lot of interviewing, consulting and reference-checking.

IN RECENT decades, seed capital has been hard to find in Michigan, Power went on. "Banks typically have no interest in that. Banks are irrelevant to new companies, to the Joe Joneses working out of their basements."

The seed capital program is one of three main programs of the Michigan Strategic Fund. Others are a $5 million capital access program, allowing banks to make loans to small- and medium-sized businesses, and BIDCO, a state licensed Business and Industrial Development Corporation to handle

"middle-risk" financing.
The Strategic Fund was passed after a year of legislative controversy in which state Senate Republicans voiced fears that politicians would reward their business friends.

"I'd like to think there was none Entrepreneurs usually find out of that," said Demery, who found the board reviewing the proposals did its work competently.

Know your demographics

In order to best satisfy customers on a re ... ar basis (at a profit to the business), the owner or manager needs to understand as much as possible about the customers the business serves or would like to serve in the future.

By understanding what makes your customers "tick" in terms of general attitude, buying habits, lifestyle trends and demographic characteristics (such as age, sex, marital status and household income), management has a systematic means of gathering reliable customer data that can be used in decision making.

It isn't enough to depend on outward appearances as an indication of customer characteristics; in fact, stereotyping customers based on the way they dress, speak or act can be quite misleading.

ACCORDING TO Marvin Nesbit, demographic data allows the user to director of the Small Business Development Center at Florida International University, ". . retailers have long depended on their ability to size up their customers when they walk in the door . . . but closeness to the customer does not guarantee that you understand our market."

Gathering demographic data by zip code is one method' the entrepreneur can use to obtain reliable statistics identifying the nature and composition of current or proposed resident customer markets.

Seniors: go slowly switching to stocks

By Thomas E. O'Hara special writer

I am 78 and have never dealt in stocks. I now have a government security that pays a little over 9 percent interest. I also have 50 some thousand in Government Money Market Trust at about 5 percent interest. I was thinking of putting 49 thousand - 10 thousand in each of four different stocks.

Can I buy them myself, if so where would you suggest? Do I have to buy them through a broker? And who would you suggest?

Before you think of changing your present investment and buying stock, ask the question as to how important the income from your present investments is in helping you meet your everyday living costs. If you have a pension and a Social Security check that are adequate to meet your expenses, and the income from your investments is just an added plus, then it's all right to consider some stock.

Otherwise, I'd stay with your present investments. It would be hard to find more income with as much safety as you now have.

IF YOU would really like to try your hand at owning stock, why not start with $10,000 instead of $40,000?

The stocks you suggest are not a bad selection - Mobil Oil, Diversified Energies, Chesebrough-Pond's and Perry Drug stores. As you may have read, Chesebrough-Pond's has been bought by Unilever, and you can no longer buy its stock.

In its place, I would suggest New Plan Realty or First Union Realty. These stocks will give you just about as much in dividends as the interest you are now receiving on the 5 percent funds. They will give you an opportunity to get increased dividends and possibly some market price appreciation as well. I'd put $2,500 in

MOBIL IS a good steady company. It may be a year or two before the oil industry instability is worked out, but then I would expect Mobil to perform very well. Diversified Energies' dividend is yielding 6 percent. It has one part of its business in the utility industry, which should produce moderate growth, and another part in the production of a new automated radiooperated way of reading utility me-

The two real estate companies have long records of steady growth. They have increased their earnings and their dividends for years and as a consequence the price of their stock has also tended upwards. You could pick either one.

PERRY DRUG Stores pays a much smaller dividend than the others, but is the fastest-growing company of the group. Its stock is also likely to be the most volatile.

You will find brokers in your area listed in the classified section of the telephone book. If you bought your present securities from your bank, you may find they could also make these purchases for you.

You can choose from 4 types of universal life

Universal life is a generic name for four tax-advantaged products that have become especially attractive under the new tax law

Universal life insurance

Universal life (UL) insurance was introduced around 1979 in response to the severe criticism against the low interest payments by whole life policies. In UL, you start off buying a specified amount of insurance coverage.

However, the excess premium earns high rates of interest, which gives you flexibility in your premi-um payments. As long as you have accumulated enough cash value to cover insurance costs, in lean years you can reduce or even skip pay-

Likewise, if you have excess cash which needs to be positioned, you can increase premium payments. You can also borrow cash value at low interest rates.

One of the major attractions of universal life insurance is that interest builds up tax-deferred in this type of policy. You only pay tax on the interest if the policy is surrendered or lansed.

A variant of universal life insurance is GULP, an acronym for group universal life policy. A GULP gives you especially low-cost term life inurance plus a savings account with

Now that the new tax law has tripped the shelter from so many other investments, a GULP becomes more attractive.

Basically, a GULP costs less, because you buy it through your employer at a group rate, and there is no imputed tax. And it's flexible, so you can buy more coverage as your earnings rise or reduce payments if you need to do so.

Your GULP also includes an optional "accumulation account," in which interest compounds without any immediate tax. While this accumulates as your long-term savings you can withdraw it easily without penalty

Single premium deferred annuity

As its name implies, under SPDA you make a single lump sum premium payment. Your investment grows at a competitive market rate. and the interest is completely tax-

However, if you withdraw the money before 59 1/2, the IRS slaps on a heafty excise tax (unless you die or are disabled). The tax deferral has two advantages.

First, since you pay no taxes during the entire term, more money accumulates in your account. Second, since you are likely to withdraw the money after retirement, you will more than likely be in a lower marginal tax bracket when you receive the money from the SPDA.

When the SPDA matures, you can take payment in a lump sum or in installments. Receiving installment payments softens the tax blow, since installments include a tax-free repayment of your principal.

Single premium whole life (SPWL)

In a SPWL the company declares an interest rate for your savings, usually changing it once a year, but often giving three-to-five-year guarantees as well. When you save through SPWL, all the earnings on your money are tax-deferred. If you hold the policy until death, no income taxes will ever be due.

You can withdraw your money any time by borrowing against the accumulated interest, and it is com-

A beginning skier takes to the slopes

If I can eat snake soup in Hong Kong, I can ski in northern Michigan. That is what I said to myself as I lurched awkwardly toward my first downhill ski lesson, at Nubs Nob in Harbor Springs.

As I ciumped along, I could hear the voice of my friend and fellow travel writer, Doris Scharfenberg of Farmington Hills: "I consider it a form of insanity to strap little wooden boards on my feet and slide down a steep hill."

If you are one of those graceful people with a matching ski wardrobe, the kind who glides downhill and does a curving snowplough to an elegant stop, turn to the sports page.

I wore stiff new ski gloves and borrowed ski clothes (thank heaven for friends and neighbors), and I had already done a day's work renting and fitting ski boots, skis, poles etc. before I walked like a stuffed penguin to the so-called nursery slope. "So-called" because as far as I could see, all the preschool kids were on those high dangerous looking slopes was informative, specific and firm. Skis must point across the slope, so that you don't slide downhill backwards when he isn't looking. You must learn to do a firm "wedge" to slow yourself down, ben't from the waist to put weight on one ski for a turn, and curve the rigit ski so that you can stop instead of hitting the side of the ski shop built foolishly at lodge watching the rest of the world ski. The hotdoggers are here in every conceivable color, in red and blue and bright aqua, in hats and bands and goggles, waiting to go up the yellow and green and black chair lifts to the 19 slopes. All the little yard rats that should have been beside me on the nursery slope are sliding off the lifts and leaping downhill like

The rest of the beginners are still on the bunny slope, my photogra-pher-husband Micky Jones, included, bravely tow-roping up and snowploughing down, usually, but not always, ending up on their feet at

Our group is staying at Boyne Highlands, which has 17 slopes and seven chair lifts on one side of Highway C-81, otherwise known as Pleasantview Road. This morning we ski Nubs Nob, which has 19 slopes on the other side of the highway. This afternoon we'll ski the Highlands and tomorrow, Boyne

My new friends from the Midwest Ski Writers Association, the ones who look like they were born on skis, assure me that these three ski resorts offer the best skiing in the lower peninsula. I'll have to take their word for it. I'll never get off the nursery slope.

What I can tell you from personal observation is that Nubs Nob has the world's biggest snowmaking machine, developed by General Manager Jim Dilworth; if it's cold enough, the big gun can make three acres of snow a foot deep in 24 hours. Dilworth learned this technology while working for 14 years as area manager for Boyne Highlands, where he and ski resort pioneer Everett Kircher developed the Boyne snowmaking gun sold worldwide by Snow Machines Inc. of Midland.

WHAT I CAN also tell you from personal observation is that when the skiing is over for the day, Nubs Nobbers join the Highland skiers at The Zoo, a wild and wonderful bar at Boyne Highlands.

They come in off the slopes, drink and dance into a frenzy, start peeling off their ski clothes as the room warms up and are thrown out by the management at 7 p.m. while they can still walk. Fortunately they can't ski because the slopes are closed.

Well folks, I've done my duty for the day. I have joined greenhorns all over the country who learned how to ski. Tomorrow I take my first cross country ski lesson. Heaven help me.

If you want to follow in my ski steps, you can call the state snowline toll-free at (800) 292-5404. They will give you ski conditions statewide, but I can assure you that there is enough snow on Boyne County slopes thanks to the snow machines. They've had a good year; their only ongoing problem is convincing downstaters that you can ski up north even when there is no snow down

NUBS NOB has only a few rooms. Boyne Highlands can accommodate 4,000 if they fill every bed in the lodge and condo complex. The setting is comfortable, slightly more rustic that Boyne Mountain, a few miles south of Boyne Falls. The Highlands has had a $3 million face lift, and has recently added Heather The kids get a skling lesson on nursery hill at Nubs Nob.

The fur traders had been and gone. There were missions on the Straits of Mackinac. The British and French had fought for supremacy in North America, and the Northwest Territories (that's us) had fought the British in the War of 1812.

Changes are being made in the way long distance users in your area place some operator-handled calls.

This is an informational message about your phone service from Marcia Buhl, your Michigan Bell Corporate Affairs Manager.

"These telephone service changes concern only operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area. They apply to collect, credit card, person-to-person calls, calls billed to a third number, and requests for assistance. Some customers will need to contact their long distance companies for new instructions on how to place such calls. To find out if and how the service changes may affect your service, we ask you to read the following explanation."

An explanation of the changes in your operator-assistance service for calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area (interLATA calls).

How operator assisted calls were placed before. If you wanted operator assistance to place a long distance call, you dialed "O," or "O" plus the area code (if required), and the phone number you wanted and an operator put the call through for you.

How these calls are placed now. If the long distance service on the phone you are using is provided by a company that offers operator services and you want operator assistance to place a call, you dial "O," plus the area code (if required), and the phone number and an operator will assist you. To reach the long distance operator for additional assistance, you must dial "OO." (Important: If you dial "O" without the phone number, you will get a Michigan Bell operator who can place calls within your Michigan Bell area only.)

If the long distance service on the phone you're using is provided by a long distance company that does not offer operator services, you must contact that long distance company to get instructions on how to place operatorassisted long distance calls.

Please note: If you dial "O," plus the area code, and the number, you may get a recording or no response. Further, if you dial "O" without the number, you will get a Michigan Bell operator who will refer you to your long distance company for further instructions.

If you are calling from a pay phone, continue to use the instructions posted on the phone.

Again, you should contact your long distance company for new instructions on how to place operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell calling area. If you have any other questions about the changes, please call Michigan Bell's Let's Talk Center. The toll-free number is 1 800 555-5000.

Please watch your Michigan Bell bill inserts for further information.

Ted Hanosh (No. 12) played hero for Salem Tuesday night. He scored the game-winning basket with two seconds left against

Rocks spoil upset bid

It just didn't seem right for Ted

Hanosh to end the game so calmly. The game was a major struggle. For 31 minutes and 58 seconds Farmington Harrison and host Plymouth Salem matched basket for basket, foul for foul, turnover for turnover.

With the game tied, six seconds left, Salem coach Bob Brodie called time out.

"Just get a good shot. We can't lose. At worst, we're looking at OT," he said.

No sweat, said Ted Hanosh. The senior guard took the ball, dribbled inside the lane and banked home a six-footer with two seconds left to give Salem a 59-57 Western Lakes

Nothing to it, right. Wrong.

Harrison, coming off a disheartening loss at Plymouth Canton Friday, gave Salem fits with its pressure defense and dead-eye shooting. On the night, the Hawks made 22 of 38 shots from the floor and 13 of 17 free

"They were filling it up; inside, outside, all over," said Brodie. "They were just on fire. It was a real struggle for us.

Especially since Salem's marksmen were off target most of the night. The Rocks could hit on just 24 of 61 shots from the floor and 11 of

Canton escapes North; Eagles fly past Toledo

After erasing an early deficit, Harrison built a 27-24 lead at halftime. It was 43-38 after three quarters, and the Hawks were sniffing an

"We started pressing and trapping in the fourth quarter and that seemed to help," Brodie said. "We began to create some turnovers."

Salem outscored Harrison 21-14 in the final quarter. The Hawks did manage to get off a shot in the final two seconds, however. Gary Schwedt threw a perfect three-quarter court pass to 6-8 center Brad Ridgeway. Ridgeway caught the ball at the top of the key and got off an 18-footer. It

"We really dodged a bullet," Brodie said.

Bryan Kearis and Mike Hale led the Rocks with 12 points each. Scott Bissell was on fire for Harrison. He led all scorers with 18 points. Chad Burgess added 12 for the Hawks, 10 in the first half.

The win keeps the Rocks unbeaten (7-0) in Western Lakes play. They are 8-1 overall. Harrison dips to 3-4 in the Western Lakes, 4-5 overall.

CANTON 57, N. FARMINGTON 55: Bet North Farmington coach Tom Negoshian has his players spending extra practice time working on free throw shooting. The Raiders stepped to the line 29 times Tuesday night and came away with just 19 points - in other words, two short of what they needed. North had rallied from a 32-27 halftime deficit to draw even, 41-41, after three quarters. North held a slim lead with less than three minutes to play. But visiting Canton tightened its defense and Roger Trice took care of the offense. The junior hit three of four free throws down the stretch:

one to tie and two to win. Trice (13 points) and Tyrone Reeves (14) led the Canton scoring.

Chuck Howard had a big night for North. He scored 19 points. Frontcourt mate Rick Karcher add-

Showdown in Lakes Division: John Glenn vs. Salem Friday

It's time to separate the men from the boys in the rugged Lakes Division of the Western Lakes boys basketball conference

Mighty Westland John Glenn, undefeated and virtually unchallenged in nine games, will face Plymouth Salem at 7:30 Friday night at Salem. Both teams are 7-0 in It's showdown time.

"We've thinking about this one ever since the season began," said Salem coach Bob Brodie. "We even thought about it at the end of last year. We knew Glenn was going to be tough this year. We knew they were getting those kids from Inkster Cherry Hill.

"We tried not to look ahead. I kept telling the kids not to think about it until we came to it. But after Tuesday (a narrow win over Harrison) I said, 'Let's forget about this last one. Now is the time to look ahead.

IT SHOULD be an intriguing match. Salem - with Mike Hale, Rick Taylor, Dave Collins and Jeff Justice have a serious size advantage. Glenn — with Steve Hawley, Marcus Lowe, Greg Bates and Anson Stroman have a serious advantage in speed and backcourt punch. And the Rockets' inside player, 6-5 Andy Grazulis, is certainly no slouch.

"They are definitely bigger," said Glenn coach Gordy Davis. "We will have trouble matching up inside. But we're the quicker team. We will have to utilize that as

Said Brodie: "It'll be our inside game vs. their quickness and pressure. They will come at us in waves and push up the tempo. We like to play a half-court game and pound it in to death."

Key players? Mike Hale and Bryan Kearis will have to shoulder a big load for the Rocks. Grazulis and Hawley have to play well for Glenn.

Intangibles? Both teams have strong benches, but Glenn may have more offensive firepower in its sixth, seventh and eighth men. Kevin Wilson is the main gun off Glenn's bench.

Prediction? No way.

CHURCHILL 59, FARMINGTON 34: Visiting Livonia Churchill wasted no time taking the game away from Farmington Tuesday. The Chargers jumped ahead 14-4 fter a quarter, then 30-10 at the half Brad Wylie led Churchill with 17. Ron Jones paced Farmington with nine points.

Churchill is 3-4 in the Western Lakes, 3-7 overall. Farmington is 1-6 in the league and 1-9 overall.

PLYMOUTH CHRISTIAN 73, TO-LEDO CHRISTIAN 61: The Eagles got a solid team effort Tuesday and raised their record to 8-1.

Andy Stephens scored 24 points and grabbed 12 rebounds. Pat McCarthy tossed in 14 points and dished out 10 assists. Steve Windle and Mike Warmbier each tossed in

NCAA presidents play numbers game

been confirmed. A mere two years ago, people looked at collegiate sports, declared it a disaster, and begged - BEGGED! - college presidents to get involved.

Take charge of your athletic programs, the public pleaded. Wrestle control away from the jocks, who have made a shambles of things. Intercollegiate sports have become a mockery, people said. Payoffs to players, academic improprieties, drugs - it has to stop, they cried. So in stepped the presidents to straighten things out. Now the question is, what course have they plotted?

THE ROUTE is a circuitous one. Espionage writer Robert Ludlum couldn't have created a more intricate scenario.

But the picture's starting to crystalize. The fog is lifting; slowly, the presidents' plan is taking shape.

The key element is numbers. Presidents, you see, have been guided by figures for years. Most of their decisions are based on numerals: cost of tuition, student enrollment, number of buildings and facilities and, most important, the budget.

So, you see, presidents rely heavily on numbers. Which means when they were given the task of reforming college athletics, the first thing they did was examine numbers. UNDERSTAND, THE PRESI-DENTS firmly believe that for their ultimate goal to be realized, they must keep the naysayers dis-tracted. Keep them busy looking one way, then the other, but don't let them guess that each of the reforms is intertwined.

But they made a miscalculation, one that a devious mind like mine could decipher. The changes they've initiated have had a common denominator - numbers.

Think about it. First, there's Proposition 48 (I'm still not sure what the 48 refers to, but a title with a number in it is interesting, don't you think?). The numbers it deals with are those recruits must achieve: 2.0 high school grade point, 700 on the SAT or 15 on the ACT tests.

Next, the presidents instructed their athletic directors to spice up college basketball a bit by changing the scoring. Hence, we have a three-point field goal from less than 20 feet, well within the range of any decent high-school shooter. Suddenly, size doesn't matter so much. The little gunner increases

THINK THOSE two developments are unrelated? Not so. There are a lot more 6-foot guards who

UR WORST FEARS have can drill three-pointers than there are 7-foot giants. With the two now closer in value, it means there will be more competition for scholar-

The big men will still be in demand, but coaches will think twice before stockpiling them if a goodshooting guard is also available. With competition for scholarships on the rise, the emphasis on good grades will be even greater.

That's one way to put the scholar back in scholarship athlete.

But the presidents didn't stop there. At the NCAA meetings a few weeks ago, their ADs decided to trim the number of scholarships available in basketball and foot-

What makes this latest development more intriguing is an upcoming decision on freshmen eligibility. If the presidents vote to ban freshmen from playing, Division I basketball will be crippled. With only 13 scholarships (instead of the current 15) and freshmen unable to contribute, every team will have to have at least a few split scholarships and walk-ons just to compete.

BORDERLINE PLAYERS guys like Eastern Michigan's Paul Grazulis (from Westland John Glenn) and Stan Heath (Redford Catholic Central) - could be greatly affected.

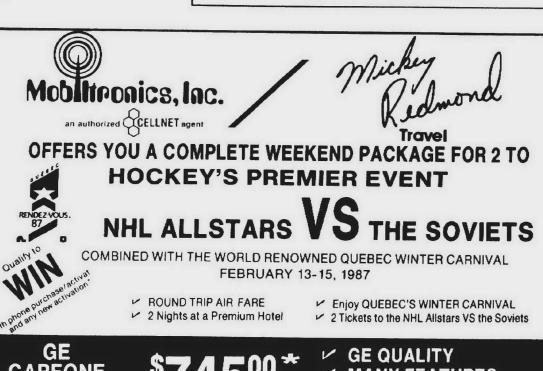

The object of all this is money, of course. As I stated, college presidents are numbers people, and the numbers they like dealing with most have dollar signs in front of

And how will these clever plans affect Division II programs, like Oakland University basketball? Initially, it should be a bonanza. Certainly better players will be available because of the decrease in Division I scholarships.

But further down the road, well, who can tell? Division II ADs just adopted Proposition 48 at the recent meetings if the trickle-down trend holds up, they may decide to trim scholarships from the current 12 to 10 and ratify a freshmen ineligibility amendment of their

Of course, this is just conjecture. And I have no proof that the Division I college presidents actually planned any money-motivated

But the pattern is there. Like connecting the dots, just follow the numbers. When you're finished, the figure you've drawn will probably be a dollar sign. In this day of dwindling education funds, money talks a language college presidents understand well.

Compuware hears footsteps as league chase gets tighter

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Those who thought the North American Junior Hockey League race was over better look again.

Compuware, who led the threeteam league by as many as 16 points less than a month ago, suddenly finds itself clinging to a one-point

After 17 games Compuware had a 15-0-2 record. The Fraser-based Falcons (7-6-2) and the Plymouth-based Hennessey Engineers (7-8-1) were lagging way behind.

Here's the story going into this weekend: Compuware is 18-5-4 with 40 points. The Falcons, after 30 games, are 17-8-5 with 39 points. The Engineers are 15-10-5 with 35 points after 30 games.

The Engineers, who blasted a team of Junior B all-stars 10-2 last Friday, will host Compuware beginning at 8:20 p.m. Friday at the Plymouth Cultural Center. On Sunday, the Engineers will travel to Oak Park to take on Compuware at 1:15 p.m.

"This is a huge weekend for us, no question," said Engineers coach A.J. Baker. "It's big for two reasons. It's important for us in our chase to catch the first-place team as well as trying to gain a hold on second place. Getting the home ice advantage in the first round of the playoffs is of supreme importance to us.'

The first-place team earns a bye in the first round of the NAJHL playoffs and an automatic berth in the U.S. National Tournament which will be played at the Oak Park Arena in March. The second-place team gets home ice advantage in the league tournament. The top two teams in the NAJHL will compete at nationals.

COMPUWARE'S SKID began at the prestigious Henry Carr Junior Hockey Tournament Dec. 7. Playing against stronger Canadian teams. Compuware came home battered, bruised and beaten.

'That tournament really took its toll on us," said Compuware coach Andy Weidenback. "We came home with just 14 players."

Injured during the tournament were two of the league's leading scorers - Mike Boback (two weeks with a thumb injury) and Dave Szymanski (five weeks with a leg injury) - as well as winger Chris Stevens (six weeks with a broken wrist).

"Those were key people and it really hurt our goal production. In fact, it actually cut our goal scoring in half," Weidenback said. "I know it sounds like I'm making excuses. I'm really not. Injuries are a part of junior hockey and we all accept that. Both the Falcons and Engineers have improved themselves over the course of the season. I don't want to take anything away from them. It's just that, from a coaching standpoint, this has been somewhat of a nightmare."

Compuware has won only three games since the tournament. The Engineers haven't lost to Compuware in four tries. The Falcons have won three straight from the league and the Engineers is of vital concern to both teams.

"I think we may finally be at full strength this weekend," Weidenback said "We're hoping to get our situation turned around Friday night in Plymouth. It'll be the first time we've skated with a full roster since Boback returned to the team two weeks ago but he still isn't at full strength. In fact, he has yet to score a goal since the injury. Szymanski, on the other hand, has been lighting it up since his return. He scored three goals in his first game back and had a goal and three assists in his second game.

The Engineers will come into the weekend series apparently at the top of their game. They simply overpowered the Junior B All-Stars Friday. Leif Gustafson scored four goals, J. Jewett and Chris Belhart scored twice, Eric Kapelanski and Larry Pilut each contributed three

"I think the guys are excited," said Baker. "I can hear it in their voices and I saw in the way they've practiced. In as much as it is their responsibility to keep that intensity up, it's our job as coaches to keep instilling it in them. We can't afford to let down now.

There is less than a month left in the NAJHL regular season. For all intents and purposes, it's crunch

LOCAL CONNECTION: Several Observerland products play for Compuware, including Brian Baldrica (Plymouth), Mike Jorgenson (Livonia), Dave Burke (Redford) and Mike Gilmore (Farmington Hills).

RED HOT FALCONS: The Falcons, undeniably, have been the hottest team in the league since the holiday break. Ken Knight's team is 8-1-3 since Nov. 27.

"We played three ties right off the bat (after the break) and that seemed to set the pace," Knight said. When you come back off a break like that you look for something positive. We got three points, three short of our goal, but we didn't have any losses. We seemed to get some lucky bounces and things started to roll our way after that.'

This past weekend, the Falcons beat the Miami of Ohio team twice (8-4 and 12-4) and Compuware (5-3).

The Falcons have the league's leading scorer in Don Stone. He, along with Denny Felsner, Don Barton and Chris Hathaway, have been the most productive offensive players for the Falcons. Plymouth resident Steve Dawson, the team captain, and Mike Bachusz have been the mainstays on defense. Goalies Bill Pye (Canton) and Brandon Reed have also turned in a credible job.

Don Pentzien brings no-name athletes into focus

By Marty Budner

So you've got an athletic son or daughter at home whom you know is scholarship material. They've been sports fanatics since they were kids and now they're highly skilled athletes - in your estimation. This is their senior season and now's a perfect time to search for some type of athletic scholarship, not to mention the fact you could use some financial assistance to send your teenager through college.

But your problem is two-fold.

• First, how do you go about seeking a college athletic scholarhsip?

 Second, for a variety of reasons — their coach hasn't played them, their coach hasn't promoted their talents, a slight injury hampered their performances - they haven't gained the necessary exposure to attract the college scouts.

What do you do? Well, meet Don Pentzien.

Pentzien, who was born in Richmond, Mich., and participated in prep athletics at Richmond High School, is a 35-year-old West Bloomfield resident. He attended St. Clair Community College, ran the Richmond Recreation Department and has spent most of his life in the sports-crazy Detroit metropolitan area.

PENTZIEN WORKS as the Michigan agent for Scouting Report - a national service that provides exposure for prep athletes to more than 650 colleges.

Scouting Report, founded in 1982 by Bob Rigney from Birmingham, Ala., bills itself as the "largest high school recruiting agency in the country." Scouting Report's executive director, Gary Lane, works out of the national headquarters in Dallas.

Although Scouting Report has agents in only 29 states, Penztien says the service is growing. He adds the service not only has been very well received by both the prep athletes and the col-

people in sports

lege coaches, but also has a high success rate

Eighty-five percent of the kids on our program as seniors have obtained some type of financial aid," said Pentzien. "And if they've signed up earlier (in high school), 95 percent have gotten some type of aid.

"To me that shows we're putting right kids into a program," he said. "It shows that we have credibility - that's the key."

Pentzian's job is simply to find a worthy ath-lete and "sell" his or her talents to college coaches and recruiters.

It works something like this.

Pentzien locates a prospect and thoroughly studies that person's background. He'll not only meet with the student and his family, but with officials from his school as well.

THE IDEA IS to learn whether the prospect can handle the college environment, including both athletics and academics.

If through this detailed evaluation process Pentzien believes the prospect is worthy of an athletic scholarship, he proceeds to the next step. If unworthy, he informs the prospect to look elsewhere for help.

There is still no cost up until this point. The heavy-duty portion of the service begins once the candidate has passed this initial informational stage. Now the service is divided into two phases.

Athletes and their families must decide whether to use the "Total Exposure" program ($350) or the "Total Exposure with Video" ($550) pro-

Each program consists of a personal interview from which a profile is written and distributed to colleges and universities nationwide. The athlete's weekly game information also is relayed to those schools along with a monthly update and post-season summary.

The video program is just what it suggests. Scouting Report will tape the games and produce 40 videos highlighting the athlete's talents. Scouting Report then sends 10 of the videos to schools of the family's choice and the remaining 30 to colleges where the service thinks the athlete can play.

OUR OBJECTIVE is to keep the profile at a high level of accuracy so the onus is really on the athlete himself," said Pentzien. "He (the athlete) can start the service as a sophomore and the $350 is good up until you graduate. We've learned college recruiters like to see the early information.

The real plus with the videos is the recruiters get to see the athlete in action. Plus it's guaranteed all schools are going to get to see him. It's just a form of additional exposure.

'If the athlete's a two-sport player we'll write that in the personal profile so the college recruiter is getting two profiles in one at the same price," he said. "We try to give colleges as much information on the athlete as we can.

Pentzien says the bottom line is to give exposure to all athletes - male or female.

The blue-chip athlete will automatically get the exposure," said Pentzien. "We really go for the next level down. That's what we're all about offering exposure to those kids the college recruiters don't know about.

"It's rewarding seeing a student-athlete get a scholarship and seeing him play. That's the intangibles — making that athlete a better person and a student. The main objective is education that through athletics you'll get your education paid for in the form of a full or partial

'You couldn't do what I do and not love it." he said. "There's a lot of time and effort that goes

CC wins its mat tourney

staff writer

Thanks to a late flurry, Redford Catholic Central's wrestling team won a meet that's eluded them for some 13 years.

The Shamrocks, who have captured several state Class A titles over the past two decades, finally finished first in their own invitational Saturday, breaking the six-year reign of Temperance-Bedford.

Earlier in the day it looked like we'd finish second," said CC coach Mike Rodriguez. "But the consolation rounds helped us a lot, and we had some people pick us up.'

CC, led by individual champions Toby Heaton (heavyweight), Bob Yeager (198) and Mitch Quint (138) - all winning on pins in the finals scored 176 points to outdistance second place Lansing Sexton (159 1/2).

Rounding out the top five in a meet, which attracted nine of the state's top ranked teams in Class A, were: Davison (141), Grandville (137) and Lansing Eastern (131). Bedford was sixth with 1261/2. Two area schools, Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Salem, took eighth and ninth with 801/2 and 791/2, respectively. (See statistical summary).

THE PARTISAN CC crowd came alive for the finals Saturday night as Heaton, a junior, scored a pin against Sexton's Alfonso Martin with just five seconds left in the match. In the semifinals, the 6-foot-6, 240-pound Heaton rallied to edge Bedford's Scott Warnke, 5-4.

It was Heaton's pin in the final that set the tone for the rest of the ing Eastern in the finals. Clemens, a student body is getting more excited," Rodriguez said. "It's a lot easier to wrestle when you get that kind of backing. They (the student body) really respect our kids and that's good

Quint, who has been one of CC's most consistent wrestlers this year, took Davison's Myron Madrigal out in the semifinals before beating Jeff Schmidt of Grandville in the finals, scoring a pin in 5:47.

The lanky Yeager, who was bumped up from 185 to 198 for the tourney, was the biggest surprise of the day, pinning Grandville's Scott Lubbers in the final in 3:05.

"HE'S GAINING confidence each time out," Rodriguez said. "He's like an octopus with long tentacles he's hard to cope with when he gets his legs locked in there. He has that

Other CC wrestlers in the top four included Mike Gentile, who took a third at 105; Chris Lemanski, third at 155; and Brendan Rock, fourth at

The 132-pound division was one of the toughest, with Churchill's Mike Krause making an impressive showing. He pinned Salem's Tim Ott in the final in 1:37, raising his season record to 20-1. Ott reached the final by upsetting Rock in the previous round, scoring a pin in overtime.

Churchill also made a strong showing at 167 as senior Brian Clemens pinned Dan Price of Bedford in the semifinals followed by a 7-4 victory over Steve Korb of Lanssenior, is 20-2 overall.

Salem's Tim Ott (bottom) survived his semifinal match with CC's Brendan Rock Saturday, pinning him in overtime. Ott, a 132-pounder, lost to Churchill's Mike Krause in the finals.

Churchill coach Mike Abdo was elated with his team's eighth place showing. His 185-pounder, Dave Zenas, finished third, while his 98pounder Casey Krause, took fifth.

'We're not powerful team-wise, but we've got some good kids," said the Churchill coach. "Mike and Brian are the type of kids who stay after practice and work out when everybody else is gone.

"BRIAN DIDN'T WIN any matches as a freshman, but he's selfmotivated. Mike's a lot more aggressive than he ever was. I've drilled into these guys that they have to have the desire to win. I expect them to be state champions."

It wasn't a banner day for Salem, which could get only one wrestler into the finals (Ott). The Rocks also finished second behind Churchill, considered a lesser all-around team.

The long anticipated match at 126 between Salem's Dennis Dameron and Holt's Mark Smith wasn't decided until overtime. After the two battled to a 5-5 draw after three periods, Smith turned on the juice in overtime, completely dominating his foe. The Holt standout went on to win the final, decisioning Conn Allison of Grand Ledge, 9-1.

"I THINK YOU SAW that there are a lot of powerful people around the state that nobody has seen be-fore," Rodriguez said. "That made things awful tough. We still have a couple of more meets to go and we still have a lot of work to do. I don't think we're anywhere near where we

But the Shamrocks accomplished something they haven't done, even during state championship years. They won their own tournament.

Athens prevails; North edged out

When the guest list was being made up, Athens gymnastics coach Frank DiVito wanted to make sure he included the best teams in the state to compete against his topranked Red Hawks.

Saturday, DiVito got more than he bargained for as three teams finished within .6 of each other for the top spot at the inaugural Athens Invitational. Fortunately for DiVito, it was his Red Hawks who claimed the top spot, scoring 136.95 points to squeeze past runner-up Freeland with 136.80 points and North Farmington with 136.35. North Farmington entered the tournament as the defending champions by winning the final Dearborn Invitational last

"I didn't think we would win it to tell you the truth," said DiVito. "We knew they (Freeland) were the team to beat when we watched them warming up. We were just lucky that everything went perfect for us to

The remaining order of finish included Holland (135.10), Ann Arbor Pioneer (126.45), Fraser (125.70), Dearborn (125.45), Grosse Pointe North (124.90), Troy (121.80), Canton (121.00), Adams (119.15), Adrian (118.45), Kimball (111.35) and Andover (43.10).

GROSSE POINTE NORTH'S Jennifer Dube enjoyed the best afternoon, winning the all-around competition with a 37.55 total, but it was the consistency of the Red Hawks as a team that proved the difference.

"We didn't have anyone who was totally outstanding, we just had a lot of consistent scores," explained DiVito. "After each event I didn't think we scored that high. We didn't have a lot nines, but we were consistent with a lot of high eights.

Athens' Janice Greff finished seventh on vault with a 9.0.

North Farmington freshman Kim Heller finished second to Dube in allaround, scoring a 35.75. Her per-formance included third-place showings on vault (9.3) and beam (9.1) and fifth on floor (9.05).

Teammate Lucine Toroyan finished fifth in all-around with a 35.30. Her best effort was a fourth-place finish on bars (9.05).

Freeland's Jamie Nieman rounded out the top five in all-around with a 35.65.

On vault, Dube paced all competitors with a 9.7, Nieman followed with a 9.6, Freeland's Diane Langhorne was fourth with a 9.25 and Holland's Andrea Veurink fifth

Langhorne was tops on the bars (9.3), Dube followed with a 9.1 and Renee Bieniek of Freeland fifth with Dube and teammate Jill Boardman shared first place on beam, each recording a 9.3, Veurink was fourth at 9.0 and Fraser's Luanne Kluzik and Holland's Kara DeYoung tied for fifth at 8.7.

basketball Thin ice, warm weather slow anglers

By Bill Parker staff writer

CE FISHERMEN are having fair to good success on lakes with sufficient ice cover, but the unusually warm temperatures we've been experiencing over the past couple of weeks have made things a bit difficult.

Many lakes in the southern section of the state still have open water while others are covered with only a thin layer of ice.

"There are a lot of unsafe ice conditions in the area," said Ron Spitler, DNR fisheries biologist at the Ponti-âc district office. "People venturing out onto the ice should use extreme caution and be aware of thin ice. The recent warm weather and all the snow we've had lately make for slow icing on the lakes. People should try to stay near the tracks where other people have already traveled."

Anglers are having good success with perch and bluegill on Belleville Lake. In fact, the lake could produce some record fish this winter.

"They're catching some near-record bluegill over there," said in the lake and they've experienced good growth. One-pound fish are not uncommon this year."

IN OAKLAND County, Kent, Cass and Maceday lakes have yielded good catches of crappie and perch. Anglers fishing on Kent, Pontiac and Orion lakes have had success using tip-ups for northern pike.

"There just haven't been any redhot spots yet," said Spitler. "We're experiencing the typical mid-winter doldrums. Usually the best fishing comes in the early and late part of the ice fishing season."

Perch fishing in Saginaw Bay is picking up with average catches of 6- to 10-inch fish. Fishermen in Eastnear Berrien Springs, Pentwater, Travers City and on the Manistee Lake on the western side of the state.

DNR officials also want to remind anglers that a maximum of two lines may be used and they must be under Cottontail rabbit season continues through March 1. With the recent snow accumulations providing excel-lent tracking conditions, success rates should improve. Prior to the recent snowstorm conditions were favorable on the highlands near Ortonville and Holly.

SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN'S late Canadian goose season, which began Jan. 1, will continue through Feb. 15. The DNR implemented the late hunt to help control the locally reared Canadian geese.

The area open to the late hunt covers parts of 24 counties including Oakland and Wayne. Exact boundries of the hunt area are shown in the 1986-87 waterfowl hunting guide, available at most license dealers and from the DNR Information Services, (517) 373-1220.

It's estimated that there are 50,000 Canadian geese in southern Michigan with up to 25,000 located in the hunt area.

The DNR is asking for hunter co-operation in collecting biological samples to identify the proportion of locally reared geese harvested. Interested hunters should contact the wildlife biologist at the DNR Dis-trict offices in Pontiac, Jackson and Plainwell

FEB. 1 IS the deadline for turkey hunters to submit applications for the 1987 spring turkey hunt. There are 17,640 licenses available this

The first 39 hunting periods will begin April 20, while the last 20 will end May 20. More than 12,000 square miles of land is open to the hunt.

Officials are expecting another excellent year with the potential of breaking last year's record harvest of 2,361 birds. An increase in hunting periods (39), an expansion of hunting areas (18) and a substantial increase in the turkey population are the cause of this optomistic prediction.

Here's the latest on vinyl scene

ALLING ALL vinyl junkies
— here's what's happening down at the local record store in 1987.

Look for the first bona-fide Beatles compact discs, digital tape, and a stack of new releases by big-name

That's the word from Lloyd Welch of the 21-store Harmony House chain. Welch is marketing director for the Troy-based firm with several stores located throughout western Wayne and southeastern Oakland

While the trend for growing sales of CDs and blank tape is expected to continue, Welch says digital audio tape, already popular in Japan, will likely be introduced in the United States by year's end.

So far, U.S. manufacturers have resisted bringing digital tape here.

"The reason is they don't think it's going to fly," says Welch. "The compact disc is still in its infancy stage. It's just beginning to grow."

LIKE THE digitally mastered CD, digital tape can capture frequencies that conventional analog LPs or tape can't - and without tape hiss.

"I heard a Sony set-up at a trade show, listening on headphones" says Welch. "You can virtually take any analog album and make it sound twice as good. It's just phenomenal.

The digital cassette is slightly smaller than a cassette now but a little thicker," Welch explains. The tape passes over a rotary head similar to those used in beta video recor-

Welch offers another reason why manufacturers are hesitant to bring digital tape here: "It promotes home taping. But there's no holding them back," he adds.

The first digital tape players "should come in at around $1,500."

Record companies are currently in the courts seeking royalties from conventional blank tape profits. The premise is that those sales cut into pre-recorded tape and record sales.

SHOULD THE record companies win that battle — Welch hesitates to predict when and if this would happen - consumers could pay a penny more per minute for blank tapes.

CDs, which currently account for 18 percent of Harmony House sales, will rise to 25 percent by year's end, Welch predicts.

Prices, he says, "are still going to be the same." While some have predicted CD prices will drop, Welch says this won't happen until manufacturing capability increases. "There's just not enough plants to keep up with the demands.

According to surveys, CD sales in the Detroit area lag behind the rest of the country, where CDs already account for 25 percent of total sales of recordings. But Welch says that figure may be inflated. "There's quite a lot of hype in this business."

He agrees with industry observers who say CDs will totally replace LP albums in about 10 years. Yet, "That's all in the hands of the manu-

Kiddie video is a drag for adults

After the immediate supply of games, books and puzzles becomes exhausted, parents of children who are housebound through bad weather or illness may begin to consider renting a videotape.

Although the thought of a videotape just for them can please a youngster and assorted neighborhood friends, it can result in an excruciatingly boring hour for the adult who must also watches it

Here's a look at kid video through adult eyes. Of course, most young children love all this stuff. For the adult, it can lead to an intense desire to flee the room or at least crawl the walls

This is especially true if you rent the "My Little Pony Movie." Don't be seduced by the fact that it features Danny DeVito, Tony Randall and Rhea Perlman. They must have been lured by the prospect of making a comparatively easy buck.

SURE, THE PONIES are so cute. The plot is oh-so-simple. So much so that children over 6 years old will probably be almost as bored as the adult. What makes this film a must to avoid is that it adheres to one of the tenets of advertising - push the theater, most of the tykes leaving the show were trying to talk their parents into buying them My Little Pony mansions or winged ponies called Flutter Ponies It's a fulllength feature commercial for the toys, which are stuffed and molded plastic versions of the main charac-

While we're discussing the insipid, let's pause briefly to consider the Strawberry Shortcake tape series. There are several. All the plots are interchangeable.

Strawberry Shortcake and her cohorts battle the bad pieman while speaking "berry talk." It's berry, berry annoying to adult ears. The younger children get a kick out of Strawberry, but adults are advised to read a magazine or book instead.

'The Care Bears Movie" isn't as bad to watch. This one tells how the Care Bears help a young orphan boy who is intent on eradicating caring from the world. He uses magic, but the bears save the day with their Care Bear Stare, which zaps goodness into people.

Please be aware that the Care Bears, marketed as colorful stuffed bears, are joined on toy store shelves by their Care Bear Cousins, who are introduced in this movie. It seems children's movies in this decade are relegated to roles as marketing de-

'Sesame Street Presents: Follow That Bird" is easier for adults to watch. There are enough cameo appearances and sight gags to keep the over-21 group happy. Watch for the scene, evocative of Hitchcock's "North by Northwest," in which Big Bird is chased on the ground by a plane piloted by Grover.

What there is of the actual cartoons remains amusing to this generation of kids, too. Adults may be the only ones in the room to catch references to old television series and once-popular film stars. Be aware that the characters do get bopped in the head a bit more than they do in some of the current cartoons. You may just want to save this one for yourself.

If you really want to save your sanity, a closing word to the wise: steer the children toward a good oldfashioned Disney cartoon. They still keep adults interested. Rumor has it that later this year, Disney will release "Snow White" and "Lady and the Tramp" on cassette.

Irene Walt, chair of Art in the Stations Commission, knew from the first that Pewabic Pottery would play a major role in the art projects. Here she talks about the two walls of Pewabic tile in the Times Square Station designed by Tom Phardel. At right is part of Joyce Kozloff's design for the Financial Station. The animals form a D for Detroit, the bears and bulls are symbolic of the financial district and the circles represent pistons.

Caterpillar turning into butterfly

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

Detroit's often maligned metal caterpillar may soon become a butterfly. Once the 15 major works of art are installed in the 13 People Mover stations next July, as many passengers may be riding to see the art as to actually go somewhere.

Art in the Stations commission chairman Irene Walt is in the process of pulling off her second fine arts miracle, the first being the outstanding collection at Detroit Receiving Hospital/University Health Center.

Just as before, she is accomplishing her mission with a disarming soft smile, a pleasant voice with a hint of a southern accent, a clean plan of organization and a steely determination.

She recalled that when she met a SEMTA official in 1984 and asked, "What are they going to do with art in the People Mover stations?" the exasperated reply was, "Oh, there you go with your nonsense again."

The gauntlet had been dropped. She planned her strategy.

WHEN SEMTA approved a small budget, she put together a commission of art people, community leaders and representatives of Michigan and Detroit councils for the arts.

The first thing they did was to make a day trip to Buffalo to see the People Mover and the art in the stations there, meet with the architect and the art chairman

Walt clearly remembers one piece of advice, "Look in Detroit for something particularly Detroit."

She said she knew right away what that was, "I immediately got hold of Pewabic Pottery."

From the beginning commission members were interested in ceramics and materials that could be mounted right on or in the walls—clean easily and be almost impervious to graffiti. They looked at hundreds of slides from artists.

"We had to work very quickly. We argued. We bickered," Walt said, still smiling. "We looked for Detroiters, for women, for minorities, for Michiganders and several nationally known artists.

"We wanted it to last 50 years, be terribly colerful as attractive."

The project was put on hold for six months while control shifted from SEMTA to the Detroit Transportation Commission, DTC.

WHEN THAT was completed, Art in the Stations offices were set in the DTC Building at 150 Michigan Ave., Detroit. Walt called her friend, design consultant Larry Ebel for help in setting up a gallery to display the models, next to her office.

"He and his associate, Linda Scarlett, did everything here, they got everything donated," she said standing in the middle of the room where models and samples of the stations and the art are displayed. It is carpeted and painted in a soft gray with track lighting. Samples of the art are mounted behind the scale models of each station.

The DTC promised $500,000 provided an equal amount could be raised from other sources.

"Michigan Council for the Arts gave the first $25,000 grant, Detroit Council for the Arts gave us $10,000 and that started us off. Al Taubman gave $50,000 and wrote a marvelous letter to all the corporate leaders of the city. We have $900,000 pledged so far."

Walt, who heads the fund drive, said help has come from many directions, "Hawkins Ferry (commission member who recently retired as president of the Friends of Modern Art the Detroit Institute of Art) has been absolutely our mainstay."

Joyce LaBan of Bloomfield Hills, commission member, nodded in agreement, "He's been so devoted."

AFTER WALT told Peter Stroh of Stroh Brewery about the project, he offered her a precious c che of Pewabic tiles his grandfather had commissioned Mary Chase Stratton, founder of Fewabic Pottery, to make for the brewery, but had never used.

Diana Kulisek of Pewabic Pottery has designed a series of beautiful arches for the Cadillac Station combining 26,000 given by Peter Stroh with some newly designed Pewabic tiles and 12 outstanding molded tiles of Detroit workers that Mrs. Stratton made in the 1920s. Also at the station will be a bronze of Madame Cadillac, on long-term loan from Detroit Institute of Arts.

Tom Phardel, ceramic artist and instructor at Pewabic, has designed two walls for the Times Square Station. Detroit painter Allie McGhee went to Pewabic on an MCA grant to learn how to move from canvas to tile and has become so enamored of the medium that he continues to use it with great success.

"It's opened up a whole world for him," LaBan said.

In the Michigan Avenue Station, with McGhee's work, will be bronze relief sculptures of commuters running to reach the train by Kirk Newman of Kalamazoo.

CRANBROOK ACADEMY of Art is represented by Glen Michaels, who is doing installations of baked enamel panels for the Fort/Beaubien Stations, and Farley Tobin whose geometric patterned ceramic tiles will be on two walls in the Fort/Cass Station.

Acclaimed architectural installation artist Joyce Kozloff has created an exciting montage of Detroit symbols for the Financial Station. Bulls, bears and other animals border a design of circles symbolizing pistons. The striking Whistler peacocks from the Freer home on Boston Boulevard and a design from the Fisher Building ceiling give the work a medieval look.

Kozloff is at Kohler in Cheboygan, Wis., where the work will be fabricated. She received a special grant from Kohlerto go there to do the intricate hand painting on the tiles and a $25,000 National Endowment for the Arts grant for the piece.

Jun Kaneko, former head of ceramics at Cranbrook Academy of Art, too, has already completed the tiles for his dazzling abstract design covering 380 square feet of wall in the Broadway Station. In the same station will be a major work by well-known Detroit artist Charles McGee, outdoor paint on Alucobond from his Noah's Ark Series.

Another Detroit artist, Al Loving, Guggenheim Fellow, has done the designs for two ceramic walls at the Millender Station to be executed by the Pewabic Pottery. One, "Detroit New Morning," will be clearly visible from many vantage points of Jefferson.

THE ART for the Grand Circus Station and the Greektown Station will be completely different.

Multicolored designs in neon by Stephen Antonakos will brighten the underside of the overpass to the Greektown Station, rim the edges of the station windows and form exciting designs on the walls.

A life-size bronze Tiger ball player, looking as natural as every other passenger, will be in a 10-foot cul-de-sac in the Grand Circus Station. The artist, Seward Johnson, is widely recognized.

Large hexagon-shaped tiles by Goerge Woodman, silk-screened in Italy, will brighten the Renaissance Station.

Charles McGee's colorful painting using outdoor paint on Alucobond, "BlueNile" from the Noah's Ark series, will be 17 by 11 feet. It will be in the Broadway station along with 380-square-foot design of tiles by Jun Kaneko.

Uncovering Michigan

Project spotlights unknown designers

By Marie McGee staff writer

ITTLE 'OL Plymouth — population around 10,000 — leads the state in the number of events held marking Michigan's 150th birthday.

It's already hosted two such events and the celebration is less than a month along.

One, of course, was the ice festival that concluded last weekend with record crowds viewing the ice carvings in picturesque Kellogg Park and lining many of the streets in downtown Plymouth.

The 10-day ice festival was the first major statewide event to kick off the 150th birthday celebration. The other event took place just down the road apiece at the Hillside Inn—no slouch in terms of history.

Much of the charm of the popular 50-year-old Plymouth landmark is the early American decor used in its several restaurants and private dining rooms. Antiques throughout the multi-lev el building complement that setting.

AS PART OF the sesquicentennial's Discover Michigan project, Hillside owners last week kicked off what they hope will be an ongoing sesquicentennial event that will spotlight unknown Michigan design-

The first one was homegrown, so to speak.

She is Sallie Weimer who spent her high school career at Plymouth Salem High School and is now a student in fashion design and marketing at Eastern Michigan University.

On display — and on sale — were hand-painted floral sweat shirts featuring a scalloped neckline. Weimer also creates fashion accessories, like belts, from old handkerchiefs and jewelry from old-style odds and ends. Many of her things are trimmed with old lace to achieve what she termed a "femininely romantic eclectic look." Satin is also one of her favorite materials.

But the key word is "old."

"IN MANY OF my things, I use lace, but it's got to be old lace. The store-bought lace of today looks too stiff—too processed," she said.

"There is not enough clothing on the market that gives women a good feeling about themselves," she said.

"Satin and lace do that. They're soft, sexy and feminine."

Many of her designs are one of a kind. And in the case of the sweat shirts, she accepts personal orders. For more information on Weimer's line of original designs, call 485-3831.

And if you know of an unknown designer who would like some exposure, urge them to call Hillside's PR director Dorothy DiTommaso, 453-

Improving your winter portfolio

Now that the promised snow has finally arrived - in abundance - don't let it keep you and your camera indoors

Winter scenes are beautiful and have a mood all their own. The minor discomfort you might encounter in the cold air is well worth the exciting pictures that can be yours.

Here are some tips to help you capture those dramatic winter scenes on film:

· Keep your camera and film as warm as possible by keeping them under your jacket until it's time to shoot.

• Use a slow, steady motion to advance the film from one exposure to the next. This will reduce the strain on cold film and eliminate the possibility of static electric marks on the film.

• Wear thin gloves under your regular, heavier ones. When you're about to take a shot, remove the outer gloves leaving the inner pair for temporary protection while you focus and snap.

· Pay attention to lighting. Back or side lighting will enable you to capture the sparkle and textures of snow not obtainable with overhead lighting.

 Sun and bright snow will increase the chance of lens flare, so be sure to use your lens shade. However, intentional lens flare can add drama and mood to your winter scenes, so experiment

• With color film, use your polarizer filter on a blue sky day. The resulting deep blue sky in your finished shot will look extra-dramatic against the · Many winter scenes are monochromatic, so now is a good time to experiment with some black and white film. Those of you who have never shot in black and white, will be pleasantly surprised at your results.

Be aware that snow can fool your camera's meter. Winter scenes often don't contain the average proportions of lightness and darkness that all meters are calibrated to read.

Try taking a meter reading from your hand or a "gray" card or use an incident light meter if you have one. A general rule to follow in winter scenes with lots of snow is to "open-up" one to two f-stops from what the meter indicates.

Be on the lookout for closeup and unusual picture possibilities. Frost patterns on a window, sunlight shimmering through an icicle and snow delicately etching a tree branch will all add exciting pictures to your winter portfolio.

º 1987, Monte Nagler

The unusual composition gives this winter scene high impact. Monte Nagler opened up two f-stops from the meter reading to keep the snow nice and white.

Birthday observance brings price break

In honor of Michigan's Sesquicentennial, Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village is offering a one-day history-making

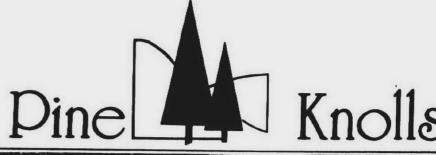

Monday, Jan. 26, the 150th anniversary of the state's entry into the union, admission will be $1.50, free for children under 5, rather than the usual $8.50 for adults and $4.50 for children

In addition to 12 acres of world-famous collections, museum visitors Jan. 26 will be able to see the exhibit "Streamlining America," which examines the design concept that became a symbol of modernity in the 1920s to 1950s.

THEY WILL ALSO be able to stroll through the picturesque grounds of Greenfield Village at no extra cost. The interiors of village buildings are not accessible during this season — sleigh or carriage rides will be available at a nominal fee.

Also, a special feature that day will be a 3 p.m. presentation to the museum of a 1951 Buick LeSabre, one of two General Motors experimental automobiles that will be part of the museum's new exhibit, "The Automobile in American Life." The $6 million exhibit, scheduled to open to the public Nov. 7, is a Michigan Sesquicentennial project.

The museum and village are open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.. For more information, call 271-1620.
