CBE ready to oppose school tax hike

staff writer

Plymouth-Canton school officials likely will face opposition from a citizens' group when they ask voters to approve a millage increase June 12.

At tonight's meeting, the school board is expected to approve placing on the ballot an 8-mill renewal and an additional 4 mills for two years.

Approval of the 4-mill proposal would increase the property taxes of a house valued at $100,000 by $200

"I'm not ready to say what stand we're going to take, but the people I've talked with so far are opposed to any renewal along with any added money," said Diane Daskalakis, chairwoman of Citizens for Better Education, a group of Christian conservatives with 2,500 members in "The reaction is, 'Absolutely not. You've got to be kidding," she said. Daskalakis has two children who have graduated from Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

'Within the next two weeks we'll take a vote after we get our facts and figures straight," she said.

CBE MEMBERS are against a millage increase for several reasons, Daskalakis said.

"I've heard it all. They feel they're paying too much already. When they (school officials) made budget cuts, they didn't do it justly. They haven't met any of the policies that we want changed, either."

CBE has objected to the showing of R-rated films in classrooms, and to the use of certain films and books dealing with sex education, divorce and the occult.

Like last week, he interviewed prospective jurors for a trial.

He asked several questions of candidates in an effort to uncover hidden biases and impanel as impartial a jury as possible.

When asked if anyone had ever served on a jury before, a woman raised her hand and said she been on a jury about seven years ago before the very same Judge Garber.

To which the judge quipped, Well, that was cruel and inhumane punishment."

Garber also drew a laugh by promising to stay awake when a would-be juror related that a different judge had fallen asleep during a previous trial in which he was involved.

The perky Garber kept his word, too.

Students in the Plymouth-Canton community with a penchant for art are invited to participate in the annual bookmark design contest sponsored by Friends of the Dunning-Hough Library.

Entries must measure 21/2-by-81/4 inches and should be done in black pen. Contestants may submit more than one design Entry forms, available at the library, 223 S. Main, must be completed and returned with designs to the library by Thursday, March 23. There is no entry fee. Public and private school students may enter.

This year's theme "Give us books, give us wings" may be incorporated in bookmark designs, but its use isn't mandatory.

Judging categories are grades 1-2, 3-4, 5-6 and 7-9. There will be three winners in each grade division. The 12 winning entries will be printed and distributed with each book checked out of the library.

An awards reception for winners and their guests has been planned for Tuesday, April

The Plymouth City Commission will take a look at revisions to the city sign ordinance during a study session 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall, 201 S. Main.

The goal — a simplified, tighter law to reduce clutter in the city.

The issue was put on hold last week to give administrators and policy makers more time to digest proposals submitted at the 11th hour.

"It seems the closer we get, the more people keep coming through the door," said Mayor Karl Gansler II.

"We'll go over every suggestion that has come in. There have been a lot," he said.

The commission expects to enact a new ordi-nance at its Monday, Feb. 20, regular meeting.

GANSLER WORKED with city engineer Ken West and city manager Henry Graper to reduce to three pages changes to the sign ordinance that the city planning commission took 14 pages to recom"The modifications keep coming," Gansler said.
"No sign ordinance I know of is ever written perfectly. We can't make everybody happy."

The city commission already has passed a first reading of a new sign ordinance. Two readings are required before changes in local law take ef-

A area of 32 square feet would be allowed if a sign were set back at least 25 feet from the property line, but that isn't possible for most businesses within the city limits.

Now signs can be up to 120 square feet and 20 feet high.

Gansler, West and Graper proposed a maximum area for commercial signs of 25 square feet not to exceed 4 feet in height.

The planning commission's proposal, already on the table, and that of Gansler and the city administration differ on two other major points.

Gansler's proposal wouldn't require compliance until Jan. 1, 1997. The planning commission's calls for compliance within five years after new requirements have been adopted.

Robert Bake, a Realtor, has urged that the city have different standards for different streets like Penniman, primarily a pedestrian route, and Ann Arbor Road, a major traffic thoroughfare.

Bake also urged against temporary signs, banners, balloons, flags and pennants.

HE ADVOCATED that the size of flag poles be addressed to keep their height in scale with surroundings and advocated a city Design Review

"I think there's a tendency to paint all schools with the worst brush," said Hoben. "It may be true (that students can't identify the United States on a map) in some areas, but I think there's some evidence that a lot of good education is going on in school districts. They're swept into that same category.

"I can't criticize any of them (proposals), but I wonder about funding," said Hoben. "The things the President and Gov. Blanchard are talking about will require some type of commitment on the part of federal and state governments in order to achieve them.'

In a State of the State message last week, Blanchard also called for excellence in education.

"What we haven't seen is a road map put forth to get us to these ends," said Hoben. "We're in the front end, not adequately funded due to constitutional amendments.

"The ends in themselves are great. I would hope we would concentrate on reaching that," he said. Excellence should be rewarded, and we should be striving for excellence at every level.

"I'M ASSUMING the greatest malady is the problem in the large urban districts. I have a strong feeling available monies will be going to the Detroits, the L.A.s the cities where there is a 60 percent dropout rate. It's going to be a horrendous chore trying to turn that around."

"Who is going to provide the transportation? If a Plymouth par-ent chooses to send his child to a Garden City school, is transportation the responsibility of the parent? What guarantee do you have that your child can go to the neighborhood school?"

In Minnesota, where such a system is in place, "they're finding there isn't that much movement between districts," the superintendent said. "Minnesota has one of the finest quality programs in the nation. But it was there before they went to this."

Spending per student ranges from $2,000 to $7,000 a year in districts throughout Michigan. But Hoben isn't convinced that reallocating dollars will enhance the overall quality of education.

"I DON'T think money is necessarily the answer to quality, either," said Hoben.

"I think it's rooted in expectations and organization. I'm a proponent of outcome-based education and mastery learning. When students prove they've mastered something, it's time to move them

Too often, social promotion comes into play. "A kid gets too big for his chair, and he's moved along. It's unfortunate," he said.

Plymouth-Canton schools receive about $1 million in federal aid - money spent primarily on special education and related programs, transportation and lunch subsidies. The total is about 2 percent of the school district's $55 million budget.

"Blanchard wants quality before funding," said Hoben. "I question what his quality issues are. Reduced class size is not necessarily HEIR NAMES may not be in lights just yet, but it's clear Plymouth-Canton middle school students have talent to spare.

Students in sixth through ninth grade competed for the Damaris Student Fine Arts Awards. The annual program is sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

"It's really remarkable," said Margaret Smith, co-chairwoman for the competition. The students "have developed their talents. We're certainly going to hear from a lot of them in the future."

The competition includes pianists and other instrumental music performers. Voice, drama, dance, painting, sculpture, photography, poetry and creative writing are other categories.

TUESDAY AND Wednesday, performing arts students competed at the Plymouth Canton High School Little Theater. Dancers, vocalists and instrumental musicians performed Tuesday, with Wednesday afternoon used for piano competition.

"The competition is particularly tough for the pianists," said Smith, a Plymouth Township resident. Some 34 pianists participated in the Damaris competition.

Creative writing, poetry, photography and art work were judged prior to last week's competition. The program is designed to encourage students to continue their studies in art.

Middle school students are at an age "where you need a little encouragement to stay with it," Smith said. "It's hard work to learn these skills."

About 90 students competed for a total of $2,000 in prize money. Students use the money to further their studies, with some attending music camps, Smith said.

The competition, named for local artist Damaris (Dee) Schulte, is open to students in Plymouth-Canton public and private schools.

"We've had a lot of parents thanking us for recognizing the arts in the middle schools," said Peggy Blaisdell, co-chairwoman for the competition with Smith and Jackie Binder.

"So they are very thankful." Many students are honored for sports and academic achievements; the Damaris program provides recognition for students in the arts, said Blaisdell, a Plymouth Township resident.

THE TOUGH task of picking student winners goes to a panel of judges. Some come from the University of Michigan or Eastern Michigan University, Smith said. Many are local people with backgrounds in the arts.

"We've never had a problem getting judges." Those organising the competition make sure teasures of student competitors aren't doing the judging.

Organizing the annual program takes time and effort, but is rewarding for arts council volunteers. They're impressed with the talent found among the students.

"They do very well, very well," Smith said. "A lot of poise and confi-

At least that's what Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano and Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara believe.

Both men enthusiastically greeted Blanchard's offer to work with counties to build and maintain jails, though Blanchard offered no specifics in Tuesday's annual State of the State address.

Even though Wayne County is already in the process of building a new jail, county officials said they would welcome state help.

"IT'S NO secret that even with the new jail, we still won't be able to house everybody," Ficano said. "I don't know the specifics of the governor's proposal. But if something is offered, we're obviously not going to'

comments on jails during the State of the State address "caught his

"He didn't say much, but it ap-pears they're going to help counties with jails and that's good news," McNamara said.

THE GOVERNOR said more about the jail proposal and other crime issues during an appearance Wednesday at Michigan State Police headquarters in Livonia.

There, Blanchard told an audience of law enforcement professionals and county prosecutors he plans to use state money to finance county jail construction.

"They (counties) need the help and also we can't afford them sending people to the state prison system people that would normally be in jail for a short period of time," Blanchard said. "It would save us money."

Last year, Wayne County voters approved a new 1-mill jail construction tax. How much, or whether, the county would stand to benefit from the governor's financial aid proposal isn't certain.

EVEN IF Wayne County received no state financial assistance, another of the governor's proposals could create more prisoner space at the county jail.

Blanchard said he also seeks uniform sentencing, as a way to free up space in state prisons and county

"We need sentencing guidelines so you don't have a situation where, in a county where there's very little crime, they take something you and I would consider a minor crime and send them off to the state prison to take the place of someone down here which we would consider a major criminal," the governor said.

This would "speed prisoners" out of heavily crowded county jails, including Wayne County's, the goverThe Livonia appearance, Blanchard said, was to "reinforce the message I tried to make last night on the fact that we really all are partners."

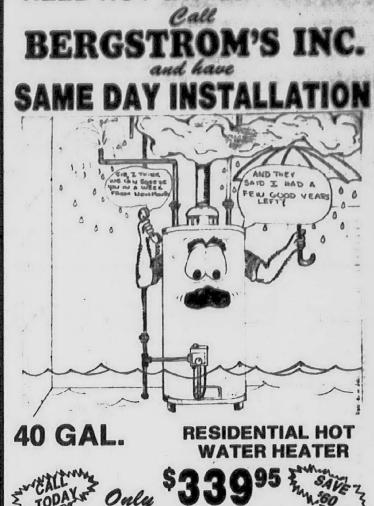

DEMOCRATS LIKE McNamara and Ficano weren't the only ones ready to accept Blanchard's pledge of new state/local anti-crime cooperation.

The issue transcended party politics. Oakland County prosecutor Richard Thompson said.

"I appreciate what he's trying to do," said Thompson, a Republican. "He's proven that he's a friend of law enforcement."

The governor spoke to law enforcement officers at the Livonia Criminal Investigative Division (CID). Law enforcement professionals were there attending an FBIsponsored teleconference on DNA profiling. The system is considered the most modern and accurate method of identifying crime suspects.

State should aid schools

To the editor:

During the 1960s approximately 22 percent of the total state budget went to K-12 education. Today only 7.4 percent of the total state budget goes to education. Presently the state uses a figure of $3,200 to determine whether or not a local district gets state aid. Wisconsin bases state aid upon a figure of $4,500. Is it any wonder that local school districts are constantly forced to ask for more and more millage?

The last time the state legislature addressed financial reform, the Lottery resulted. The Lottery has been a political masterpiece but an educational disaster. For every dollar raised by the Lottery the state de-ducts one dollar out of the general fund imoney for education. The net result has been NO new money for

In the last 10 years Michigan has dropped from 16th nationally in state funding for education to 34th. This trend cannot continue. Major financial restructuring is needed for education. I urge everyone to write his legislator and Governor Blanchard demanding that the GOP plan calling for 11 percent of the state budget being afforted for education be passed, Our children are our future. We can no longer afford to play politics with their education.

Improvements needed in area

To the editor:

This is in regards to the increasing traffic problems on Ann Arbor and Ford Roads. Making these roads from five to seven lanes and extra turn signals will not solve the prob-

I realize when I-275 was planned, the area was not as developed. Now, just look around Plymouth and Canton areas. Even in the last two years construction is everywhere.

What's it going to be like five years from now? I don't know if this could be done, but extra inter-changes, one at Plymouth Road and one at the area between Ann Arbor and Ford roads around Koppernick (linked directly to Haggerty), would be a big help. Haggerty, Lilley, Sheldon and possibly Canton Center roads should go to five lanes. Something must be done and quickly!

Jeff Kochan, Plymouth.

Schools need to educate

Regarding the article, "Schools may try again," dated Thursday, Feb. 2.

That old song is what I would like to see - more reading and writing and arithmetic, more education and less recreation. Both my sons graduated from Canton schools not as tennis or football stars, just graduates. Intelligence is what I am interested in . . . for them to cope with after graduation.

Plymouth Canton schools are wanting to end the Headlee Amendment to collect more property taxes. What they're telling us is, just sign your check and they will fill it in every year. Just like our government, billions in the hole, but yet they give a 50 percent raise to Congress and other officials. The same work happens in our schools.

Coming attractions . . .: sewer and water increases and rubbish, our fire and police got theirs last year, and the pushing for a civic center will also be on the way. We have lost our sales tax deductions; people that pay their own hospital insurance have been on the incline.

Everything is going up all around us; when do we decide to bail out? One day we hope to retire. Will we have enough not to worry when the pay check stops?

You have to be able to help yourself; no one else will. From now on we must learn to say NO, enough is enough. When your kids are out of school, you continue to pay until you're dead.

Frank Essa.

Column was irresponsible

Rich Perlberg's column raises some interesting points. They deserve a reply.

His contention that "we so fear random crime that we arm our suburban police officers with semi-automatic killing machines," aside from its crudely sensational phrasing, is accurate. Mr. Perlherg never specu-lated, however, on why this is true.

An obvious reason is that many vicious criminals see the court system as a joke - and not without some justification. If a criminal knows that little additional penalty will be assessed for his attempt to kill a police officer, his incentive to accept capture peacefully is small indeed.

As for the writer's gratuitous assault on former Attorney General Edwin Meese, it confirms a pattern found elsewhere in the column. Any attempt by police or the courts to enhance their effectiveness appears to be a target of Mr. Perlberg's scorn.

Mr. Perlberg takes a large leap from inanity to gross irresponsibility when he states that "the color of your skin can determine whether you feel fear or irritation" when pulled over, and "there have always been times when the semi-automatic killing machines were the ones wearing the badge." I am appalled that one in Mr. Perlberg's position would expound such views, and surprised that the Observer & Eccentric provides a forum for them.

If Mr. Perlberg doesn't like the police, that's his business. It is my sincere hope, however, that his wish for a truly impotent criminal justice system is never realized. It may surprise him to learn that many people actually want our police officers to possess the right to defend themselves, and our courts the ability to properly administer justice.

Greg S. Renaud Livonia

Column was confused

To the editor:

I'm writing this letter in response to a column written by Rich Perlberg entitled, "Police stop isn't always friendly driving reminder." It was the worst piece of editorial work your newspaper has ever printed. It's quite obvious Mr. Perlberg was using his editorial clout to vent his anger over receiving a traffic citation (in the city of Southfield) for which he admitted he was 'flat out guilty''.

If Mr. Perlberg responded to the officer's questions in the same sarcastic, humorous manner in which he did in his article - it's no won der he got the ticket. What I can't understand is why he tried to compare his experience with the murder of three civil rights activists in Mississippi in 1964, or why he accused our suburban police officers of being "semi-automatic kill-ing machines."

WHERE'S THE connection? Uncalled-for statements like the latter only show how unprofessional and confused the writer really is. (And you call this guy the assistant managing editor?)

It's people like him who put the "fear" (as he refers to it) in others and give police officers a bad image. Police officers are out there to help, protect and serve others even if that means enforcing traffic laws.

I wonder how Mr. Perlberg would have felt if he were involved in a fatal accident as a result of his illegal turn. Or better yet, how would he have felt if one of his family members were killed by another driver who was making a prohibited turn? You can bet he would demand that police action be taken against that driver then.

THE ONLY thing I got out of his article was:

1. Mr. Perlberg thinks he's above the law and doesn't like getting

2. He didn't like the movie "Mississippi Burning," based on the murder of three civil rights activ-

3. He does not like our new president or his predecessor.

4. He does not approve of our police officers carrying semi-automatic weapons (despite the increase in automatic fire power by criminals).

5. And most of all, Mr. Perlberg does not like police officers.

I RESENT the fact he accuses our police officers of being racist killers, and I think a disgruntled editor should keep his personal opinions (and cheap shots) out of the newspaper. Why insult your readers with such incoherent gibberish?

The only positive thing I can say about this article is - it made a great liner for the bottom of my bird cage.

Tim Larion.

Dancing brown eyes see hope

SHE LAY in bed, dressed in a white ruffled blouse, talking about life with her family in Farmington Hills, and a new life in a suburban nursing home.

At age 50, she feels somewhat helpless, but not hopeless. Multiple sclerosis has left her partially paralyzed, in some pain, and she is quickly losing her vision. She has lived here since last June, leaving a house mechanically equipped to handle her, and her condition. Now her doctor prefers she get 24hour care.

But her situation hasn't dulled those dancing, brown eyes.

She lives in a community of the aging and the elderly - a young woman by their standards.

"Things around here aren't that terrific," she says, "even though you're not alone. You ring the bell and hope someone comes."

The home appears to be short-staffed, she said, and has its own problems - apparently not uncommon in the nursing home industry.

'Me and my big mouth - telling you all," she adds.

LYING IN bed all day gives this slim fireball of a woman a chance to think about the past and dream about the future.

She hopes for an electric bed, which would allow her to be more independent and mobile. And she talks about how much she loves cookies - a plastic-covered can with treats is within easy reach, as are the telephone for easy dialing and the radio, which rests on her pillow. Her days are filled with radio talk shows and soap operas, and visits from her family.

Like all of us, this woman has a story to tell, but asked that her name not be used. The story of her life is as interesting as anyone's, even though she is not happy with the hand that life most recently dealt

1. The science of relating computer systems to business applications.

2. The ability to interface information with the user.

* The Information Age

American business today is totally dependent on computers. The role of Information Systems is to address the accounting, production, marketing, sales and automated functions within the business. This requires a team of skilled professionals to make the automation smooth and user friendly.

That's what the Computer Information Systems (CIS) degree program at Walsh College is all about. Its taking the needs of the business environment into account while developing a computerized plan.

* Careers

Walsh College students and graduates of the CIS program are recruited by companies in the Detroit-metro area.

During the sessions, officers learned how and when to negotiate with hostages, as well as how and when to apply armed force.

Lover plans a meal

A venture into any mall will still find a few diminishing boxes of holiday giftwrap and assorted Christmas paraphernalia, all at more than 50 percent off. And here it is, February already, and I'm getting ready to celebrate Valentine's

Winter is half over and Easter is just a scad more than 45 days away. With Valentine's Day beckoning, I find it only apropos to concoct an aphrodisiac's delight for my loved one

Before beginning this amorous journey, we must purge our minds of the horror stories about what we thought aphrodistacs were. From this day forward, erase from your mind the thought of those "South-of-the-Border" insects and those European "ticklers." The locker room conversations of what we could do with these exceeded our realm of possibilities - even though I was only 16. (Oh, those were the days!)

Rather than invite the likes of Masters and Johnson into the small confines of my kitchen, I will begin with the ageold realization of the powers of the almighty seafood. Now we're not talking just about oysters here, buddy. Crusta-ceans brimming with iodine, namely shrimps, lobsters and crab, have long been praised for their suitability to the titillating pleasures of a candelight dinner.

MY SOURCES also continue to elaborate on the sexual prowess gained from the great truffle. It is written that eating truffles "makes women more tender and men more apt to love." However, the imported variety goes for a little more than $300 per pound. (And we thought those cute little pigs who sniff them out of

As if that weren't enough, it is written that bamboo shoots, bird's nest soup, ducks feet, ginger, ginseng and water chestnuts absolutely drive some people wild. (And you thought Hong Kong was crowded?) Not being one to place all the blame on the Chinese, did you know that Parmesan cheese, garlic, olive oil and veal are the main ingredients in what gives those wily Italians their zest for life?

I have a research assistant from the local university helping me on this, and she insists that olive oil must have been for the old folks because Crisco oil is the "thing" nowadays. (If only Loretta Lynn knew what it really does!)

As if those foods which give us a "passion" (excuse the pun) for life only help the Chinese and Italians, I know of not one ancestral group who would dare claim fame to the likes of raw beef, brandy, cardamom, dandelions, dates, raw eggs, fennel, frogs, gelatin, leeks, liver, nutmeg, pimentoes, pis-tachios, snakemeat, tomatoes (did you know they were once called "love apples?"), turtles, vanilla and yes, Mama, even watermelon. I told you not to swallow those seeds!

WITH SAUCEPAN and skillet in hand, I venture into the realm of seduction. My lover's dinner would consist of an appetizer of Steak Tartare followed by six oysters on the half shell. If, by that time, the magical pices still had not performed their randy magic, I would then proceed to a salad made with fresh truffles, leeks, pimentoes and tomatoes in a garlic/brandy sweet

If that didn't start the undressing, I would prepare my Veal Parmesan and water chestnuts sauteed in pure virgin olive oil. (Take note, Loretta Lynn.) What's that, my dear? Some Chocolate Genoise

Coeur a la Creme is a classic Valentine's Day dessert that can be prepared in a mold made expecially for this purpose, or in an inexpensive heart-shaped cake pan. The rich, triple-cream-cheese dessert may be adorned with strawberries and assorted fresh fruit.

Sweets for your sweetie

By Larry Janes

OK folks, this is your conscience talking. I know how good you've been, what with staying on that ridi-culously silly Oprah diet — those Calvins are just another 15 pounds away but stop right here.

You deserve a break today. After all, it's Valentine's Day. Love. Amore. Don't you think it's time you indulged just once? Wouldn't it be fun again to lick the beaters off the mixer? Remember the days your fingers were turned into bulldozers as you made sure every last scrap was removed from the bottom of the frosting bowl?

Every now and then, it's necessary to just get crazy and make something totally outrageous and sinful. What better time of the year to blame it on than Valentine's Day?

Still not quite convinced that you should indulge? Let's make a deal. You make something decadent and laden with calories, enjoy a bit of it with your lover, then send all the rest to the neighbor, to school or to the office. No, you can't have a doggie bag because I'm already allowing you to lick the beaters and bowl. What better way to say "I love you" than something from the kitchen. Cards, flowers and perfumes are all alternate and approved gifts, but something from home always shows you care just a little bit more. Probably because you made the time and effort to do it yourself.

ANYONE CAN DRIVE to the florist and get roses. Ditto for a trip to the mall for some trendy perfume. But an afternoon or evening in the kitchen, just you and your bowls - maybe a little soft music in the background. Aw, what the heck, maybe even a glass of wine.

You just can't beat something

So what makes Valentine's Day desserts so special? If Cupid's Day evokes visions of roses and perfume, calorie laden and succulent desserts are the exclamation point. This is the day for heavy cream, sugar, real vanilla and chocolate.

If you're looking for something small, a tiny box of homemade truffles delivered right after lunch in a satiny box can say more than most four-pound cheesecakes. Remember, if you're sending to the office, it should be intimate — just enough for

New gourmet menus are heart-healthy, too

By Mary Rodrique staff writer

If you want to do something nice for your valentine, skip the chocolates and head for a healthy gourmet meal at one of metro Detroit's premiere restaurants.

Wait, isn't that a contradiction in terms? Healthy and gourmet mix like oil and water, right?

Not if you skip the butter, whipping cream, egg yolks and cheese. So what's left? Well, there's still wine, sauces based in chicken or beef stock, fruits and vegetables and broiled fish, poultry and lean cuts of meat. And don't forget dessert.

Doug Grech, better known as Chef Duglass, proprietor of Bras-serie Duglass in Southfield, has whipped up a special menu for February that patrons can eat guilt-free.

And if you think healthful foods mean boring meals, think again. Entrees include filet of sole stuffed with broccoli mousse on black bean gravy, blanquette de veau in squash, and grilled turkey steak with raspberry sauce and potato dumpling.

THERE'S A low-salt, low-cholesterol Caesar salad, and pears and grapefruit with hot orange dressing. Desserts include lemonade crepes, rice pudding and apri-cots, and chocolate souffle with bananas foster.

"Instead of a heart of chocolate, give her a heart that will last forever," said Grech, who is anxious for feedback from his heart-

"I've always dealt with upscale food. It was hard to adapt without the basic culinary ingredients like butter, whipping cream and egg yolks," he said.

Grech's gourmet training at the prestigious Ecole Hotelier de Paris in France didn't exactly stress an awareness of cholesterol, fats and sodium.

As executive chef at the Pontchartrain Hotel and Great Dane restaurant before opening Restaurant Duglass more than a decade ago, he admits that some of his recipes have clogged arteries. For a time he thought adaptation to more healthful cooking would be improved to be impossible. "Removing butter, whipping cream and egg yolks from the repertoire totally, how do I thicken the sauce?" he said. "But it can be done. Painting my Picassos, I put myself in front of the stove and bring everything from inside me."

GRETCH IS convinced healthier eating is the wave of the future.

"In California they are producing chickens without cholesterol in the eggs. In Montana they are producing pork with lower fat than beef. This is the future of tomorrow. It hasn't hit Michigan yet but Grech's health-conscious-raising has a lot to do with his longtime friend, Marge Devine, a Birmingham nurse with an unwavering interest in good nutrition.

"My father died of a heart attack at age 52," she said."I guess that always made me more conscious of good nutrition."

As a production intern on WTVS-TV, Channel 56's "Late Night America with Dennis Wholey" program, Devine produced a segment highlighting a prominent Arizona cardiologist.

A fan of good food but wary of the fat and cholesterol associated with gournet meals, she tried to arrange a collaboration between her friend Duglass and the doctor. But the logistics of the Michigan the recipient. Those two-pound as-sorted boxes from the kindergarten. fund-raiser you bought from the neighbor last fall are fine to pass around, but this is not the case here.

Intimacy must prevail.

The classic valentine's dessert,
Coeur a la Creme, is a simple treat to prepare that consumes more time than talent. Sure, you can go out and purchase a $25 Coeur a la Creme mold made exclusively for this rich treat, but equal results can be had by purchasing a $3 heart-shaped cake pan and drilling holes in the bottom.

LINE THE PAN with double layers of cheesecloth and add the ingredients, consisting of a blend of cottage cheese, whipping cream, cream cheese, sugar and vanilla. The pan is then set on a rack in the refrigerator to all the control of the contro the cheeses to drain, leaving a triple-cream-cheese dessert that melts in your mouth, especially when sur-rounded by strawberries and assorted fresh fruit.

Another famed but seldom-seen valentine's treat is those wonderful round and crunchy Amaretti cookies. These are really Italian macaroons (and who knows more about amore than the Italians) that can be pur-chased in the neatest of cannisters at most Italian groceries. I like to just dip the Amaretti in melted chocolate and chill them, but I've also made Amaretti crumbs and used them for eesecake crust and in the recipe to follow — an Amaretti Torte.

Chocolate has been known for ages as the "edible affection confection." Pastry and dessert chefs are con-cocting wild creations with tempered chocolate, everything from pianos and chocolate boxes to from pianos and chocolate boxes to obscene, X-rated edible treats that say even more than "I love you."

Major hotels in New York and Los Angeles place small chocolate envelopes, with messages for a restful night, on bed pillows. The secret to working with chocolate is to use only the tempered (previously heated and melted to just the right temperature)

This month's issue of Gourmet magazine has an advertisement for a dozen long stemmed chocolate roses in your choice of dark red or white, for $39.95 a dozen.

MOST MAJOR malls sport assorted chocolate shops where just about anything can be had in chocolate. If you're really into designer chocolate, however, search out a source for chocolate by Kron. You will pay dearly for it, but everyone who's anyone and supposedly knows all there is to know about chocolate will surely appreciate something from this true chocolate comoisseur.

Last but not least, your conscience does appreciate the fact that you work in excess of 60 hours per week and still find time to get to Vic Tanny's. Consciences are known for their ability to understand that some folks must resort to a simple pur-chase of a decadent valentine's treat. If that is the case, ask friends and associates for references on the many fancy pastry shops and dessert studios that open almost weekly in Flourless tortes (the flour being made from finely ground nuts) calorie laden with creams, chocolates and fruits abound, many in dualserving sizes. Of course, when dealing with these retailers, plenty of advance notice must be given to ensure the best choice and quality.

And, for the dieter and/or sugarconscious lover in your life, check out the wide assortment of low-calorie products being offered by such trendy eateries like TCBY yogurts (its yogurt and fresh fruit pies are to die for) and the American bulk food warehouses that have "slimmery" ice creams and sugarless treats, all at very reasonable prices.

So c'mon, no one ever believes the old wives' tale of "a moment on the lips, forever on the hips" anyway. That's why they invented Lean Cuisine and aerobics.

the butter. Dust with flour, shaking

Cream butter with sugar until very fluffy and almost white in color. Beat in yolks, one at a time, blending well after each addition. Using a mixer set at lowest speed, gradually add Amaretti crumbs and flour. Fold in chocolate chips.

Beat egg whites in a separate bowl until stiff peaks form. Stir 4 of the whites into the batter to loosen. Gently fold in remaining whites.

Pour into prepared pan and bake at 350 degrees for 35-45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool on a rack for 30 minutes. To serve, invert onto a flat platter and dust generously with powdered sugar.

to Arizona connection became cumbersome. So the friends, who grew up in the same northwest Detroit neighborhood, turned their focus back to Michigan.

"I WENT TO the Michigan State University food science department and they were very encouraging," said Devine. Food production for the airline and hotel industry is one long-term objective the duo is ex-

Looking for a way to implement a healthy gourmet menu at Brasserie Duglass, Devine contacted Dr. Mel-vyn Rubenfire, chief of cardiovascular medicine at Sinai Hospital in Detroit. A receptive Rubenfire offered his staff to analyze the menus.

The effort was sometimes tire-

"It was a nightmare," Devine recalled. "I followed Doug around the kitchen. He'd make 10 gallons of soup — the recipe would have to be deciphered for one person. I'd go home and type up the recipes to submit to a dietitian."

Some of the menu samplings will be offered permanently, like the meatless lentil chili, oat bran mufonion bread.

The results, tastewise, according to Devine, are entrees that "could fool 75 percent of the people, except for a person who wants something dripping in cheese."

THE RECIPES analyzed by Sinai's Center for Cardiovascular Health actually improve on the American Heart Association standards, according to Dr. Rubenfire.

'We have a center for cardiovascular health to promote wellness, preventive cardiology," he said. "The average patient is middle class to upper-middle class in a business environment with health on their minds. They can't go out to eat because there's no place to go. I talked to a lot of people. Why not get restaurants to change? When restaurateurs and food distributors begin to change, people will begin to change

Aware of some fast-food chains that do offer diet menus, Rubenfire said most of that translates to "Egg-Beater-type omelettes and turkey sandwiches - boring. This (gourmet dining) makes it more palatable."

Rubenfire says wine is a positive dinner and a modest amount, one or two glasses, has a positive effect on cholesterol." Other healthful tips for diners - broiled foods are good; a wok is a good way to heat foods; deep coldwater fish like salmon, pickerel and mackerel are healthy choices, and meat portions should be about four ounces.

'Ask what's in the sauce," he said. "And cakes and pies with eggs are

WHILE CHOCOLATE is usually bad, Duglass has created a special chocolate for his souffle.

Said Duglass: "The work and results have been rewarding, with the realization that we can meet the dietary requirements and still have food that tastes wonderful.'

CHEF'S SEMINAR.

Schoolcraft College's first Chef's Seminar, which it plans to make an annual event, will be held Monday, March 6, on campus in Livonia. Schoolcraft is nationally known for its Culinary Arts School.

The seminar is designed to appeal to the sophisticated cook as well as the aspiring chef. Eight separate sessions will be offered at the daylong event. Sessions offer an opportunity to watch professional chefs share cooking secrets and expertise.

Heading the workshops are executive chef Duglass (Brasserie Duglass in Southfield), certified master chef Michael D. Russell (the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills), certified master chef Milos Cihelka (the Golden Mushroom in Southfield), executive chef Ed Janos (Chez Raphael in Novi) and executive chef Bryan with a warm cardamon vanilla sauce? (Excuse me while I wipe away the sweat from my brow.)

"How do you feel, my little cabbage?" I inquired as the perspiration began to ruin what was left of the Musk I applied three hours earlier.

"Fine" she replied as she delicate-ly wiped the last of the vanilla cream sauce from her moist lips.

The trip to the living room (is that why they call it living?) was filled with plenty of ooh-la-las and amo-rate nibbles on my left earlobe. We romanced to the couch. She gazed into my steamy brown eyes, and just then I remembered the General Foods International coffees.

I politely excused myself, stoking the fire in the fireplace and pressing the remote control exactly when the crescendo of the Ravel's "Bolero" came over me. By the time I boiled the water and returned with the watermelon, I found her in a state of anesthesia from the last five hours of sampling my cuisine. I guess this is what happens after 12 years of marriage and two kids.

Chilled fresh fish and smoked varieties were always considered an aphrodisiac in Ancient Roman times. Emperor Augustus ordered his female attendants to eat fish at least twice daily to give "strong physical support" to the troops.

CHILLED TROUT WITH SPICY DIPPING SAUCE 2 whole trout, steamed and deboned

¼ cup soup cream 2 tablespoons horseradish 4 drops Tabasco 1/2 teaspoon Worchestershire 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard 1/2 teaspoon salt

Place trout decoratively on platter. Chill in refrigerator. Combine remaining ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Use as a dip for fish. Excellent with other varities of fish, Combine all ingredients and mix well. Salt can be added if desired. Cover and chill and serve with veggies and corn chips.

This special soup is made for lovers only - only because you'll have to be madly in love with someone to want to kiss them after trying it.

CREAM OF GARLIC SOUP 2 cups chicken broth

2 large heads garlic, peeled, minced 1 tablespoon butter 1 tablespoon flour

2 cups heavy cream, scalded 2 large egg yolks, beaten

In a large saucepan, combine chicken and beef broths and garlic. Bring to a boil and boil for 5 minutes. Strain into another saucepan through sieve. Press garlic with back of spoon to extract juices. Discard garlic and return broth to a boil. In a small dish, mix butter and flour together to make a paste; beat into boiling broth, using a wire whisk. Continue whisking until broth is slightly thickened. Stir in hot scalded cream. Whisk 1/2 cup hot soup into egg yolks, return egg yolk mixture to soup pot, whisking till thick but do not boil. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 1 1/2 quarts.

We start with homemade linquine, fettucine and tortellini. All created from full-bodied semolina flour and farm fresh eggs. And served with fresh parmesan and romano cheese grated tableside.

But we don't stop there. We like to tantalize you just a bit with our succulent sauces accented with a sprinkle of the extraordinary Muer imagination...delicate aromas swirling above each dish.

Teleflora:

A SAMPLING OF OUR MENU:

Lobster Fettucine - Tender, fresh Maine lobster generously folded into a fresh tomato herb and cream sauce. Served over a bed of homemade fettucine.

Sarimp and Artichokes - A medley of tender delicately flavored shrimp and artichoke hearts. Tossed in a sauce of fresh tomatoes and fragrant wine and herbs. Served over homemade linguine.

Baked Lasagna — Thinly rolled ribbons of pasta layered atop our mildly spicy homemade meat sauce and topped with fresh melted parmesan and mozzarella cheese.

Mars, Jupiter, Saturn star in February sky

Only three planets are easily visi-ble in February. Mars and Jupiter are in the evening sky while Saturn is in the pre-dawn sky.

Both Mercury and Venus are officially in the morning sky, but both are close to the horizon and difficult

The amount of sunlight we receive in this month increases by one hour and 11 minutes.

Sunrise on Feb, 1 was 7:45 a.m., and sunset was at 5:46 p.m., for a possible 10 hours and one minute of sunshine. By Feb. 28, the sun rises at 7:09 a.m. and sets at 6:21 p.m., for a possible 11 hours and 12 minutes of

FEBRUARY IS the shortest month of the year, containing only

People often wonder why one month should be so short when all the other months are 30 or 31 days long. February could have had 30 days if one day had been taken from January and another from March, resulting in three consecutive months of 30 days.

The reason can be blamed on politics in Roman times.

The ancient Roman calendar originally began with the month of March and ended with February. It was an imperfect calendar and, over the course of many centuries, was no longer in synchronization with the seasons. Calendar reform was badly

skywatch Raymond E. Bullock

The calendar would have been much easier to deal with if our year (the time it takes the earth to complete one orbit around the sun) were exactly 360 days long. There could be 12 months, each having 30 days.

Unfortunately, the earth takes 365.26 days to complete its orbit and those extra 5.26 days complicated

JULIUS CAESAR brought the calendar back into step with the seasons, decreeing that the months would alternate in length, having either 31 or 30 days.

March, the traditional first month of the year, was given 31 days. April followed with 30 days, May had 31 and so on.

By the time February, the last month of the year, rolled around, there needed to be only 29 days to add up to a total of 365. February. would have its full 30 days only once every four years to allow for leap

Being very pleased with the results, Julius Caesar named one of the months "July" to honor himself.

HIS SUCCESSOR was his nephew Augustus, who felt that he was entitled to have a month named for him as well — hence the month August.

But because August followed a month of 31 days, it had only 30 days of its own. Believing he was every bit as good as Julius, Augustus decided that his month should have just as many days as July, so he took one day from February and added it to August.

That left February with only 28 days, or 29 on leap years. At least that gets us one day closer to spring!

Area chefs demonstrate their specialty at S'craft

Many of the metropolitan area's most prominent chefs will appear during Schoolcraft College's first annual Chef's Seminar for Sophisticated Cooks, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, March 6.

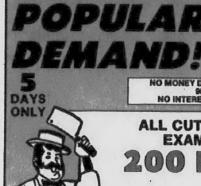

Douglas Grech, owner and executive chef of Brasserie Duglass; Milos Cihelka, executive chef of the Golden Mushroom; Ed Janos, executive chef of Chez Raphael; Bryan Gawlas, executive chef at Jacques; and Ron Fetch, owner and executive pastry chef at Sweet Endings Patries will share recipies, techniques and tips. The fee is $150.

Each chef will conduct a session in their specialty. Sessions include wild game cooking, current trends in entrees, healthy food and dessert.

Other food specialists will also be featured. They include: Susan Rousseau, manager of William-Sonoma, a store recognized for its sophisticated kitchenware; Michael Russell, executive chef at the Kingsley Inn, who will discuss cookbooks; Frank Stulock of Don Lee Distributors, who will discuss wine;s and Tom MacKinnon, owner and executive chef of MacKinnon's, who will describe how to start a restaurant.

Salem pins Farmington, wins district

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

At the current rate, Plymouth Salem will have a monopoly on district wrestling championships before

In the second year of the team tournament, the Rocks captured their second such title Wednesday by pinning host Northville (49-16) and Farmington (57-16) in the final.

Salem, 23-1 in dual meets, faces defending Class A champion Redford Catholic Central in the regional semifinals Wednesday at CC.

"They ended our season last year, and I don't see them as being any weaker," Salem coach Ron Krueger

"They seem to be getting better and seem to have fewer holes in their lineup every time I see them. They have some good young kids and lot of superstars.

In the championship match, the Western Lakes Activities Association champion Rocks jumped in front 30-0 after five weight classes. Farmington won three straight, but Salem cleaned up with 27 points in the last five weights.

DAN BONNETT (103), Julian Sell (125) and Mike Shumate (130) pinned their opponents, and Craig Richardson (112) and Ken Stopa (119) won by void. Bonnett scored a fall in 1:55 over Matt Smith, Sell in 5:00 over Brian Link and Shumate in 3:43 over Mike Pallo.

The Falcons trimmed Salem's lead to 30-16 with victories by Dave Monge (135), Chris Kresl (140) and Todd Jacobs (145).

Monge pinned Jeff Coleman in 1:30, Kresl evened his record at 16-16-1 when he upset Ed Barlage with a fall (3:30) and Jacobs defeated Charlie Apigian 12-0.

Pete Israel (152) started Salem's second surge with a 6-4 decision over Steve Walter. Farmington didn't contest Steve Burlison (160) and Brian Burlison (171), both league champions who won on voids Wednesday. as well as Anthony Perkins (189). Ken Coker pinned Jody Lockman late in the heavyweight contest (5:30).

Under the previous tournament format, the team and individual tournaments were combined. The districts covered a broader area, and wrestlers also scored points for the Mike Vrooman, out most of the season with a broken ankle, was able to carry Scott Kosikowski off the court Thursday following Livonia Stevenson's thrilling 71-69 win over visiting Plymouth Salem.

Kosikowski deserved the victory ride and Vrooman, Stevenson's huge center, was too excited to feel any Kosikowski's 19-foot turnaround jump shot with three seconds left gave the Spartans the two-point win over the Lakes Division champs.

"It was exciting, but that last shot was all luck because I wasn't on at all tonight," said Kosikowski. "It was the worst game of my career, though it was a great ending. I missed everything I shot in the first half except for one.

Tim Noonan's desperation, 25-foot shot attempt at the buzzer bounced around the rim a couple times for Salem before falling away. It ended a gallant comeback by the Rocks, who trailed 63-53 with about five minutes left in the game.

SALEM, WHICH clinched the regular-season Lakes Division title earlier this month, slipped to 9-1 in the division, 15-2 overall. Stevenson finished division play in third place at 6-4 and is 11-5 overall.

Salem coach Bob Brodie didn't want to enter the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs this Friday on a losing note

"You don't like to lose any time," Brodie said. "But the playoffs are a new season. We came out of Christmas with a loss to Plymouth Canton (and rebounded), so who knows? Any team in this league is capable of knocking off any other. It's hard to win a lot of games in a row."

If this was the worst game of Ko-place tie with Livonia Franklin at 6-4. The Chiefs are 10-7 overall.

Canton outscored Churchill 19-11 in the third quarter to turn a 29-24 halftime deficit into a 43-40 lead after three quarters. Junior guard Geoff Allen had 13 points for Canton off the bench. Brian

Paupore, the Chiefs leading scorer who broke his nose Feb. 3, played with a face guard and finished with eight points. Senior center Fernando Johnson scored four points but had a team-high nine rebounds. Mike Juodawlkis led Churchill with 22 points and teammate Mike Picha contributed 15. The loss eliminated the Chargers (3-7, 5-10) from WLAA playoff consikowski's high school basketball career, then his four years at Stevenson have been good to him. Kosikowski finished with only seven points, but they all were crucial. Kosikowski's two free throws with 1:49 left gave Stevenson a brief 67-65 lead, and he was a steadying influence on the court in the last quarter with Vrooman unable to play and point-guard Eric Schwedt having fouled out.

"KOSIKOWSKI IS A clutch free throw shooter and when you need a shot at the end of the game he believes he's going to make it," Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre said.

"He hit one like that earlier this year against North Farmington, and we said 'Let's do it again.' Kosikowski had a choice to go to the three (point shot) or try to get it inside to (Chris) Nazelli.

For a while it looked like the Spartans wouldn't need any late-game heroics. Stevenson led only 54-51 after three quarters, but the Spartans outscored the Rocks 9-2 at the start of the fourth quarter to take a comfortable 63-53 lead.

Nazelli, who led Stevenson with 17 points and 11 rebounds, and Bob Sonie, who had 13 points, paced the surge. All the while, Salem's top scorer Jeff Elliott, struggled to reach 15 points, missing a lot more shots than he made.

Starting guard Craig Marshall

fouled out with 4:56 left, and only sophomore center Jake Baker, who had a game-high 24 points and 12 rebounds, was enjoying a great outing.

The Spartans self-destructed, however, turning the ball over nine times in the final five minutes, when Salem roared back. The Rocks outscored Stevenson 16-8 in the rally and took their last lead, 69-67, on a steal and layup by Ryan Johnson with 1:14 remaining.

STEVENSON TIED it at 69 on a steal and layup by Ron Baran, and Salem's Jeff Gold (eight points); missed a 1-and-1 free throw attempt before Stevenson set up for Kosikowski's winning shot.

Stevenson's balanced scoring attack also had Schwedt and Rick Laven in double figures with 12 points each. Baran added 10.

Stevenson plays Livonia Franklin in a crossover game Tuesday before opening the WLAA playoffs Friday. McIntyre is excited about his team's improvement during February, and he believes the Spartans are working hard to shed their pretty-boy image.

"The 'Sparkle Valley Blue' team turned a little gritty tonight and that's nice," he said. "I thought the kids came with a mission tonight toplay a good game and did exactly what they wanted to do. We have definitely come around the last half of the league play.

"We've either played above the opposition or have matched their level of play in every game. We've played with intensity, and the kids'. are having fun."

All-arounder Anderson paces Chief win

By Dan O'Meare staff writer

With three quality all-around gymnasts on one team, Plymouth Canton is virtually guaranteed a superb performance in every Johanna Anderson was the team leader Wednesday night as the Chiefs defeated rival Plymouth Salem. Canton scored 129.35, the Rocks 117.40.

In the process of accumulating a meet-high 33.05 points for the top all-around score, Anderson won the balance beam and floor exercise events and placed fifth in the

"That's two out of the last three she's had a good meet," Cunningham said. "She had a good meet against John Glenn (Feb. 1), she had a decent day in the (Plymouth) invitational (Feb. 4) and this was truly an excellent meet for her.

"Any time my kids hit 33 or higher that means they're doing really well," he added.

ANDERSON SCORED a personal-best 8.7 on beam and won the floor exercise with an 8.65 for Canton, 5-1. Those totals helped her to overcome a 7.6 on bars, and she tied with teammate Dawn Clifford on the vault, scor-

Heather Murphy was second in the all-around at 32.65, and Clifford was edged out for third place by Salem's Dana Holda, who won the vault (8.5) and achieved a 31.5 total. Clifford, the bars winner with an 8.15 score, had 31.35 all-around points.

The Rocks, who are 2-4 and winless against league opponents, competed without one of their top gymnasts, freshman Autumn gymnastics

Bunch, who is sidelined by a foot stress frac-"We were going to lose with her or without her," Salem coach Kathi Kinsella said. "(Cunningham has) those three all-arounders who get over 31 every meet.

"They have too many good girls with good scores for us to think about winning. We're just trying to get more qualifying scores and as many people to the regional as possible. "When you're not winning, you concen-trate on other things," she added. Salem's personnel was further depleted

when junior Jenny Krieger le't the team

Wednesday, Bunch was able to participate in Thursday's workout, but Kinsella was not sure when she'll be able to compete again.

"I'M NOT GOING to push her on the vault, even though we need the score," she said. "We definitely need her on bars. If she's OK and the trainer says she's OK, she's more than welcome to do it.

Despite Canton's comfortable margin of victory, the Chiefs didn't have the kind of intensity and sharp individual performances expected of them, according to Cunningham.

One reason might have been the fact that Wednesday was Parents Night, and Cunning-ham tried to get as many athletes involved as possible, he added. "I ran-12 kids on the vault, so all the parents could see what their kids could do and had learned," Cunningham said. "So it was a hard meet to keep your concentration." Usually, a maximum of six girls are allowed two attempts per event in a dual

"Dawn and Heather didn't have as good a meet as they should have," Cunningham said. "I'm glad it wasn't close. If it was a close meet, I would have been concerned, because the concentration wasn't there.

"BUT I CAN'T complain. Those three are carrying the team, and we have a lot of others coming in with thirds and fourths. If someone has a bad meet, we have someone "With every meet, I'm real happy with more and more people," he added. "In every meet, we have someone come to the fore-front."

Rocks get assist from substitute setter

North Farmington and Plymouth Salem were the combatants in a classic volleyball confrontation Wednesday.

In each of three games, no more than three points separated the teams as the vis-iting Raiders rallied from a first-game dis-aster to beat Salem in the Lakes Division rematch, 15-17, 15-13, 15-12.

The opener set the tone, according to North coach Sandy Lubieniecki, as the Raid-ers blew a 12-5 lead.

"We had a series of passing errors and let them back in the game," she said. "And, be-fore we knew it, they had the game."

The same thing nearly happened again in the second game, Lubieniecki said. North had an 11-4 lead only to see the Rocks come from behind once more. The Raiders managed to hold on this time, however, sending the match to a decisive third game.

SALEM OWNED a 7-5 edge when North's Patti Gooding served three straight aces, and the Raiders, who swept the series, held the lead after that.

"They had been serving so tough on us," Lubieniecki said, "and that gave us the mo-

"(The aces) came at the right time. I could feel the game turn a little bit even though both teams fought hard to finish it out."

Gooding also had 10 defensive digs as division-leading North stayed unbeaten with a 7-0 record. The Raiders are 9-0 against Western Lakes Activities Association opponents and 19-3 overall.

Salem, 4-3 in the Lakes and 13-8 overall, got much-needed help from Jo Wiklund, who filled in as the team's setter when Candy Woitas was called away on family business.

"That's every coach's nightmare when you run a 5-1 offense," Salem coach Betty Smith said. "I called the team together to Smith so liked Wiklund's hustle she is seriously considering a move to make her the permanent setter, though Woitas is still the best setter in terms of ability and accuracy.

"Jo is smaller (5-foot-3) and quicker and can get to the ball easier," she said. "The kids knew Jo was going to get to the ball,

"I kept her (on the team) because she's so good at defense, and I'd be kicking myself if I hadn't. She wouldn't win any prize for ac-curacy, but she got to every ball and put it

"She's such a sparkplug that she keeps the rest of the team up and going," Smith added.
Courtney Knapp was 32-of-38 spiking with 14 kills for North, and Eve Claar was a perfect 26-for-26 with 10 kills. Vikki Seamons had five blocks, and her net play was exceptional, according to Lubieniecki.

WENDY WOLF was the team's top server, putting 16 of 18 chances into play. She served 12 points, including three aces. Debbie Weintraub played her usually steady game as director of the offense, recording

"She continues to give us great court lead-court leadership and passing really hold the team together.

Asaka Motoyama and Maria Wordhouse had 12 kills aplece for the Rocks. Motoyama spiked 27 of 30 attempts, and Wordhouse, who also was Salem's leading server with 12 aces, was 34-of-37 hitting. Motoyama, who added 12 digs on defense, played the best game of her career, according to Smith. Aimee Rutan added eight spikes out of as many attempts.

"Nobody hates to lose more than me," Smith said. "But when we got done I said: 'I don't like to lose, but you guys played great. If we work hard, we can still do things with the time left in the season.'

The Rocks play host to defending WLAA champion and undefeated Livonia Churchill today, while the Raiders entertain North-

Plymouth Canton's swimmers might be exhausted after dual meets, but they've been successful nonetheless.

Before the team's latest meet, coach Hooker Wellman has his swimmers log more than 6,000 yards each, and it paid off. Canton swamped visiting Livonia Franklin, 110-62 Thursday to stay un-defeated in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association at 4-0. The Chiefs are 7-3 overall.

"We swam 6,000 yards before the meet, because I like them to swim tired during the dual-meet seasons," Wellman said. "So when they taper off they

"Overall, I thought the team swam pretty well for having a tough workout before the meet. The kids are looking forward to the taper coming up." Canton won eight of the 11 events, including both relays.

Jim Hartnett, Kevin Beach, Bryce Anderson and Mitch Timberlake com-bined to take the 200-yard medley relay, clocking 1:46.62. Timberlake, Hartnett, Jeff Homan and Mike Helmstadter were members of the winning 400 freestyle relay (3:30.27).

The Chiefs' six individual titles were won by six different swimmers. Hartnett won the individual medley (2:13.24), Timberlake took the 50 free-style (23.68), the 100 butterfly belonged to Anderson (55.83), Helmstadter claimed the 100 freestyle crown (52.90), Swartzwelter won the backstroke (1:01.51 and Beach took first in the breaststroke (1:06.81).

Franklin's titles came from Paul Hokett, who won the 200 freestyle (1:54.63); Dennis DiLorenzo, a winner in diving (236.70); and Dennis Favor, who took first in the 500 freestyle (5:29.19).

"I don't think anybody's been feeling too great," coach Chuck Olson said. "I hope to get through this week and start feeling a little better. Fortunately, we've been able to keep practicing at a decent level.

Salem won all but two of the 11 events, including the relays. Salem's 200-yard medley relay team of Chris Butzlaff, Rick Steshetz, Ron Orris and Mike Hill placed first at 1:47.03. The Rocks also prevailed in the 400 freestyle relay as Hill, Orris, Eric Bunch and Craig Wilsher finished the course in 3:31.80.

"Wilsher's been working real hard and working pretty well in the freestyle," Olson said. "He's one of the healthier ones, so we let him swim a little more tonight,"

The seven individual titles belonged to seven different swimmers.

Seidelman began the individual portion of the events with a win in the ZUU Ireestyle (1:53.82) Other winners included Hill in the 50 freestyle (22.87); McManaman,

"IN THE OLD days, you had to beat 19 teams to win the tournament, and one of them was usually (Temperance) Bedford or CC. Now you get four or five teams and call that a district.

"When we won two districts the old way, it was really something," he added. "Now, I guess the worth would be to win the regional. That would be comparable to winning the old district."

In the semifinal, the Rocks built up a 19-0 lead before Northville could break the losing cycle.

To start the match, Bonnett (103) pinned Chad Bosscher in 1:55, and Richardson (112) pinned Matt Maliszewski in 3:46.

Stopa and Sell followed with a pair of decisions, Stopa (119) blanking Mila Mathes 4-0 and Sell (125) whipping Mike Huff 17-7.

The Mustangs, who defeated Plymouth Canton in the first round, posted back-to-back victories by Andy Frey and John Kochanek. Frey (130) outpointed Shumate 16-7, and Kochanek (135) won a 9-4 decision from Coleman.

BARLAGE (140) scored a 22-second pin over Kevin Delaney to give Salem a 25-7 lead, and the Rocks won at four of the last six weights with everybody wrestling. In successive pins, Israel (152) ended his match with Curt Cureton in 55 seconds. Steve Burlison (160) to stop Be Brian Burlison (171) needed only 57 seconds to defeat Darren Kehoe. Northville picked up six more points on Mike Hale's pin (1:31) of Perkins at 189 before Coker, with his wrestling first of two pins, stopped Derek Forbing at 1:57 of the finale.

Despite losing to the Rocks, Farmington considered the district tourney somewhat of a success as it avenged a regular-season loss to North Farmington, 44-23.

"It was a real boost, especially with the young team we have,' Farmington coach Al Beyar said.

"We gave some younger kids the chance to win some matches. We have everybody back next year, and that's the bright spot."

NORTH HAD finished fourth in the WLAA tournament while the Falcons were 10th. The Raiders were minus WLAA champion Jack Beall (125) and Matt Thompson (140), neither of whom was able to make weight. Consequently, North had to forfeit at both weights.

Farmington, 5-13, opened with four straight wins and led 24-0. Smith (103) won by technical fall over Jeremy Moy, 15-0. The Falcons sandwiched forfeit victories by Craig Dillon (112) and Link (125) around a pin by Phillips (119) over Scott Bockzeiger in 4:25.

The Raiders picked up back-toback decisions but merely dented Farmington's lead, 24-7. Lucian Van Cleave (130) beat Pallo 14-1, and Adam Forman (135) edged Monge

But the Falcons picked up three more voids at 140, 152 and 160 from Kresl, Walter and Matt Siskosky, respectively. With Jacobs' 5-0 decision over V.J. Matul, Farmington built an insurmountable, 45-7 lead with three weights left.

North finished with Jeff Jacobs (171) defeating over Pete Frauenheim 15-4, Jeff Alekman (189) winning on a walkover and heavyweight Zaim Cunmulaj pinning Lockman in

Self-improvement starts at any age

Dear Myrna: I am a 52-year-old businessman I do perobles. I have always wanted to improve my shoulder, chest and back area. If I lift weights, can I still accomplish any change in my body at my age? Is is safe? Should I start with strength and tone class first?

Good for you - self-improvement should never end.

You say you already do aerobics. Assuming a healthy diet and exercise three to four times a week — let's say you are in fairly good shape. If instructed properly, don't be afraid to lift weights.

When presented with the idea of weight lifting, people think of images of body builders, athletes and health club advertising personalities. This image is really a small percentage of people that do weight lifting. Weight lifting programs are often regarded as programs reserved for the young. Not true.

If you already attend aerobic classes, see if the club or studio offers a class format in strength and toning muscles. Yes, this would be a good place to start. With proper instruction you should learn to be in touch with your body.

In a class format using light hand weights and tension bands to strengthen muscles and increase muscle tone, you will have a good start. This type of program does not add bulk by working the muscles of the body where you perform lower repetitions and increasingly heavy weights.

Rather, it aims to build a lean, firm appearance by performing specific weight lifting exercises in high numbers of repetition using small hand and ankle weights ranging from one to five pounds and tension bands. This type of program can be practiced by all age

All the other statistics - rebounds, turnovers, fouls - play a part, but none of it much matters if the ball doesn't go through the hoop. On Saturday at Oakland Community College, the Lady Raiders were on target. Schoolcraft College wasn't. The result: 85-50, in OCC's favor.

While it was a disappointing loss for SC, making an already bad week worse (on Wednesday, the Lady Ocelots lost to Highland Park CC), it was pure joy for the Lady Raiders. A year ago, it was they who ranked 13th nationally — until they lost cen-

SC beat them in their next game, OCC's first loss in 19 game

This time it was the Lady Ocelots who were ranked seventh nationally, with 21 wins in 23 games - before Saturday. Now, OCC, SC and High-land Park are all tied for the Eastern Conference lead at 10-3, each with one game left. A three-way tie for the title is imminent.

A BIG REASON for that tie is Woodard, the 6-footer from Bloomfield Hills Lahser who has rehabilitated her knee (she had torn ligaments) to 98 percent of its former strength. Woodard proved it against SC, scoring 19 of her game-high 27 points in the first half.

"I think she's better than she was last year," said OCC coach Larry now 19-4 overall. "She's stronger going to the basket, and she's playing smarter this year.

Woodard was the key to OCC's win. Although SC was struggling to score, it was getting enough free throw attempts to stay close to OCC in the first half. When Lisa De-Planche - SC's only offense with 25 points in the game - scored backto-back baskets, the Lady Ocelots were within 29-24 with 3:49 left in

But Woodard scored on a threepoint play and, after a Jenn Fritts field goal, got two more free throws and a bucket to put OCC back up by 14. The Lady Ocelots pulled to within 40-31 at the break, but they disintegrated in the second half.

shoot. They had just one basket in the first eight minutes of the second half. For the game, they totaled 14

"Our big people got into foul trou-ble and their big people didn't," said SC-coach Jack Grenan. Indeed, four Lady Ocelots fouled out and two others had four fouls.

Still, OCC's incentive after last year's disappointment was evident. "We were hyped for this game," said Hojna. "(SC) likes to go inside to (Mi-chelle) Dyksinski and (Barb) Krug. We took that away from them. We wanted them to shoot outside."

SC did - and missed. OCC, meanwhile, got 12 points from Fritts and 10 each from Colleen Jacobsen and Alice Williams.

Ladywood coach resigns

Livonia Ladywood is seeking a new basketball coach after the unexpected resignation of Ken Bechard.

The 26-year-old Bechard, who led the Blazers to a 17-7 record and Class A district title in his only season as coach, stepped down to devote more time to his business obligations.

Bechard, who announced his decision two weeks ago, was recently promoted to sales manager for Image Masters Printing Co.
"There's some traveling involved in my new job," said Bechard. "I'd still do it (coach), but I don't have the time you need to spend for a program such as Ladywood's.

"I tell myself every night that this is the best for the kids. The most important thing is the program and you've got to give the kids the proper time. There's just too much to do as far as recruiting the kids and going to summer basketball camps. It was a tough decision. I wish I didn't have to Bechard succeeded Ed Kavanaugh, who left to become the athletic director at Schoolcraft College. Kavanaugh won two state Class B titles and posted a 245-42 record during his stint.

LADYWOOD ATHLETIC DIRECTOR Kim Linenger said she hopes to fill the position by mid-March.

"I hope to get it done before all our freshman admissions are closed," said the Ladywood AD. "I knew Ken had been thinking about it (leaving) for some time, but my first priority was to get a new track coach. We already have a couple of people interested.

Linenger also said she hopes to fill the position with a woman.

Garden City teenager shows plenty of spark

The young lady is Lona Palise, winner of the Youth Scholarship Tournament Girls Division, held Feb. 5 at Westland Bowl. Lona, who carries a 183 average, shot a 700 series (on games of 287, 205 and 208), taking home $1,000 in scholarship funds. With a handican added to her score Palise finished. added to her score Palise finished with a 751 series.

Palise is a student at Garden City High rause is a student at Garden City High School, where she also competes on the varsity volleyball and softball teams. She hopes to begin a career in art, but with her athletic talent and fine 3.8 grade av-erage, the sky's the limit for this star bowler.

Second place, and a $500 scholarship went to Christina Berns, who finished with a 702 (including handicap). Christina was the defending champion. Brad Joslin won the Boys Division, with a 654 series (750 with handicap), while Nelson Kluska came in second with a 639 (717 handicap). All four winning bowlers are members of the Western Wayne Youth Travelling Classic League. These boys and girls bowl in a different house each Sunday morning at 10-a.m. While I was talking to Palise's mother, Kathy, at Westland Bowl last week, I noticed a string of seven strikes in the background. This was Pam Bateman's opening game in the Battle of the Sexes League. She rolled seven perfect frames, before leaving a wiggling five-pin in the in the eighth frame, She struck out again in the ninth and 10th frames for a 268

Spare the rod, spoil the drapery.

Spring Crest does so much for draperies. The effect is distinctly impressive. With Spring Crest rods, you get soft, symmetrical folds. There's no bunching, gathering or sagging as with old-fashioned pinch pleats. The secret? A pre-shaped spring that automatically shapes the fabric into classic, uniform pleats.

The result is a stunningly flawless look. One that keeps on looking good. With Spring Crest, you get the best. It's the original spring pleat traverse rod, made with only the finest

The cockpit of a DC-9 is very familiar to Sydney Hale of Farmington Hills. She's rated to fly it and is a first officer, or copilot, on one for Northwest Airlines.

Julie Marshall is a flight instructor at Olsen Flight Service, based at Detroit City Airport.

Opportunity knocks, but only a few wing it

Pioneers like Amelia Earhart and Beryl Markham paved the airways for female aviators, but fewer women may now be entering aviation than 10 years ago in spite of soaring

"If a woman is qualified, she's hired in a minute; she has it made. But unfortunately, women don't perceive aviation as their world," said Julie Marshall, a licensed pilot who manages Oakland Community College's aviation program.

The first female in nine years will graduate from the twoyear program next fall, a woman in her early 40s whom Marshall is recruiting for the aviation staff at OCC. Of 20 employees now in the program, only three, including Marshall, are female.

"I get calls all the time from companies who want women pilots," she said. "For whatever reasons, they feel a woman is best suited to the job. I'm asked to recommend somebody for the right seat (co-pilot). I can't.

'There simply aren't any qualified women who are available. It's a real sad thing.'

OPPORTUNITIES FOR all qualified pilots are expected to surge the next 10 years as thousands of new positions are created by a booming civil aviation industry the has employers scrambling for adept new recruits.

"Employers are beating the brush for women," said Nancy Walters, president of the state's Aviation Association, a group of approximately 90 pilots who promote the industry in Michigan. Half of the membership is female.

The emphasis on hiring females as flight instructors and in other pilot positions is "probably reverse discrimination," Walters quipped.

"But women are finally getting jobs that were closed to them for a long time, providing they are qualified," she said. "And believe me, there are qualified women out there."

JUST HOW many, however, is a source of concern to Janet Olsen, founder and operator of one of the larger flight schools and air charter services in the metropolitan area.

As a teen in the 1950s, Olsen, now 49, was infatuated by flying and entered aviation at a time when few women were involved. Over the next two decades, she watched their numbers soar, a situation that is once again changing.

"More women were flying for fun and pleasure 10 years ago than today," she said.

Ottawa: Capital sheds image as 'sub-arctic lumber village'

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

(Last of a two-part series)

Q: A group of us are planning a four-day trip together during late winter or early spring. We hope to go to Europe someday, but in the meantime we've narrowed it down to two Canadian cities, Toronto and Ottawa. That's as much of a "foreign country" as we can afford.

M.S., Birmingham

A: I answered the first half of this question last week when we talked about Toronto. Now I would like to answer the second half.

Ottawa is a "downtown city," too, but it has a different ambiance than Toronto. Like Washington, D.C., it is a national capital where everyone seems to work for the government. Like Washington, the legislative buildings are on The Hill. There the

There is no mistaking the Ottawa skyline. Government buildings that look like French chateaus rise in high walls of stone, topped by steep copper roofs that have gone green with age. At first you see only those roof tops, but if you lower your line of vision you will notice a lot of very active people around: joggers run-ning on the path along the river, housewives haggling at a colorful outdoor market, cyclists crossing the river to the new glass grandeur of the National Gallery of Canada or going on past the new Museum of Civilization that opens on the Quebec side of the river this spring. 'Cousins': great entertainment

Several readers have written regarding my review of "Torch Song Trilogy," My apologies if anyone took offense although none was intended. Careful review of that column in no way indicates any question about my support for everyone's political, legal, social and cultural rights provided only that they do not harm others.

The current cycle of American remakes of French films provides another winner in "Cousins" (A-) (PG-13) 115 minutes. This son of the 1975 'Cousin, Cousine" which won Best Foreign Film Oscar is sort of an outdoorsy "Moonstruck" although "Cousins" doesn't have quite the eth-nic family intensity, coherence and impact that "Moonstruck" did.

Larry Kozinski (Ted Danson) and his wife Tish (Sean Young) live with his teenage son, Mitch (Keith Coogan). Mitch's mother was Larry's first wife. At a family wedding, Larry meets — and becomes enamored of — a cousin, Maria Hardy (Isabella Rossellini), while her husband, Tom (William Petersen) is slipping off in the bushes with Larry's wife, Tish. Those are only the main points of this happy, jumbled, multifaceted ethnic conglomerate, the Kozinskis and Costellos.

While there are characters everywhere, they are delightful, easy to keep track of and fun to watch. Characterizations are very welldone ranging from Maria's mom, Edi Costello (Norma Aleandro), and Larry's father, Vince (Lloyd Bridges), to Aunt Sofia (Gina DeAngelis) and a host of charming little chil-

The photography by Ralf Bode ("Distant Thunder" and "The Accused") is excellent and Angelo Badalamenti's musical score is superb. Despite his fine performance, however, Ted Danson never quite makes it as an ethnic. Aside from that, "Cousins" is great entertain-

VIDEO VIEWING

Videos open door to foreign 'world'

By Dan Greenberg special writer

Foreign films on videocassette offer easy access to a world of images not readily available at the suburban mall or neighborhood four-waller.

Cruising the shelves at the local video shop turns up recent, as well as classic, older examples. Of course, the major problem with for-eign films is translation into English. Neither subtitles nor dubbing is comletely satisfying, but it beats the alternative - not seeing the tremendous range of films around the Foreign films dubbed on cassette have an advantage that dubbing doesn't get in the theater. Because the screen is small the annoyance of lips moving in one language, while someone is speaking another, is not so pronounced.

Subtitles, however, remain the most widely used translation technique and, no matter how well done, they interrupt the film's visual continuity. Then, too, there are all kinds of subtitles, and it is hard to read white letters superimposed over a white table cloth.

Two recent VCR releases alleviate the problem with yellow letters outlined faintly in black. They are easily read, but even if they weren't, these 1987 PG French films — "Jean de Florette" (122 minutes) and "Manon of the Spring" (113 minutes) — are so good that you ought to rush right out. Both get an A ± in this cor-

Based on Marcel Pagnol's two-part novel, "Water of the Hills," these lyric films should be seen in one sitting, if at all possible. They are a perfect double bill. Despite that unity, each film stands on its own and can be enjoyed separately.

SET NORTH of Marseilles in the '20s, Jean de Florette (Gerard Depredieu) is a postal clerk who, with his wife, Aimee (Depredieu's real-life wife Elizabeth), a former opera singer, and their daughter, Manon (Ernestine Mazurowna as a child and Emmanuelle Beart in part two) decide to return to the land. The farm that they have inherited is coveted by Cesasr Soubeyran

(Yves Montand) for his nephew Ugo- lin (Daniel Auteuil). Cesar is somewhat of the grand old man of the town, but has no heirs except this - ... nephew who needs de Florette's and farm and spring to raise carnations.

This tale of rustic greed and rural vengeance is so well told by director · Claude Berri that it rises above any specific place and time and becomes a tale of human passion for all times and for all places. Greed, avarice, murder, deceit, passion, indifference, love, tenderness - they are all there, along with the stunning photography of Bruno Nuytten. It's performed by one of the best acting ensembles imaginable.

Yves Montand is irascible, greedy, cynical yet tender and loving. While ... all those emotions seem incompatible, Montand manages an effortless portrayal of this complex character, Soubeyran. He and Daniel Auteuil's weak-witted nephew are a fine pair - villains and tragic heroes at one and the same time.

In order to take over Jean de Florette's farm, Cesar and Ugolin block the spring that waters it. Gerard Depredieu, one of France's finest actors, poignantly communicates the strength of character and love of family of the idealistic, sensitive, hunchback postal clerk who returns to the land to farm scientifical-

THE FILM itself is so densely packed with rich images of southern France and a broad palette of rude as well as fine characters that it is difficult to describe the story briefly without disclosing key elements. The film is so well-done that it tells it ...

The two actresses who play Manon are exquisite, and Beart who plays the mature Manon, was seen here recently as an angel who fell to earth and stirred local souls with her beauty. In the second film, through her strength of character as much as her beauty, she achieves some of her father's goals. If you can't find four hours to watch these two tapes in one sitting, squeeze them into a weekend or something, but see them. Your life will be richer for the experience.

Scanning the radio dial midday, the DJ's voice pierces the ear.

"Here's Erica Smith, who definitely has a hit on her hands with 'Temptation Eyes," says the man on the radio.

False promises made in the glare of the afternoon sun? Hardly.

Erica Smith's stock is rising faster than mercury on the tip of a boiling tea kettle. She has done the unheard of, what is thought to be the unattainable.

Smith, 19, has made it on Top 40 radio, cracked it like the short-order cook who specializes in making omelets. She's in the Top 20 at WHYT-FM and her rendition of the Grass Roots' hit has been the No. 1 requested song at WCZY-FM.

And get this, she's from Detroit. "When I heard it, I looked at the radio," said Smith, sitting in the control room of Seller Studio in Sterling Heights where "Temptation Eyes" was recorded. "It was great. Actually, I was driving down I-94 on my way here. I was looking into everyone else's car thinking, 'Are they listening to it?""

They are. More than that, apparently, so are major record labels. Gary Spaniola, who produced the maxi-single, said he expects Smith to sign a deal "hopefully in the next two to three weeks."

THINGS COULDN'T be better, if Smith mapped out the whole scenario out herself. Actually, she did.

As a high school student in West Virginia, Smith kept a daily journal. In it, she would plot how she would return to Detroit and launch her own solo singing career.

Smith followed through on her written word. When she graduated from high school, she coaxed her stepfather to drive her to her birthplace of Detroit. Then she started on her quest.

Smith eventually hooked up last year with Gary Spaniola, a wellknown name in Detroit music circles, and things just took off. So fast, in fact, it even makes her 19-yearold head spin.

"It's not as planned as I had thought," she said. "It's a lot differ-

Somehow, Smith appears to be a person who can handle it. At times, she appears awe-struck by her sudden notoriety.

But listening to her three-song single finds a mature woman whose powerful voice can crystallize the words she sings.

Spaniola has worked with a slew of Detroit artists. Some of note include Ready for the World, Toby Redd and Rhythm Corps.

He thinks she's for real.

"HER VOICE has feeling," said Spaniola, who performed with the popular Detroit rock outfit Bitter Sweet Alley. "There's a lot of people who can sing well, but it means noth-

The collaboration between Smith and Spaniola is a productive one, not to mention a creative one.

ready, they have 13 to 14 tunes ready for an album.

If it weren't for Spaniola, Smith would have sought success elsewhere. She performed in a Top 40 band that performed on the hotel-

"It was lonely," she said. "At first it was fun and exciting, but that wore off very quickly. You're singing someone else's songs. You're not expressing yourself. You're just there."

Like many frustrated artists in the area, Smith was planning a move to while he supplies the structure. Al- New York. Then Smith read an article in Detroit Monthly magazine, citing Spaniola as one of the bosses of the 1990s. The rest is history. Her successful foray into Top 40 music is almost an unprecedented one for a local artist. Some avoid it for fear of the sell-out label.

"I don't consider it a pitfall," Spaniola said. "You're up against Michael Jackson and Whitney Houston. It's the hardest market to crack.

"Everyone says, 'Oh it's too commercial. We don't want to go for that.' I guarantee you that if you get those artists behind a closed door, they would want to be on Top 40."

NONETHELESS, there are other traps to avoid. For one, there's the banality of dance pop.

Then, there's the image versus substance issue. Smith's dark looks certainly make her attractive along with being a talented songwriter and performer. She wants to find a balance between the two.

"I don't want to be dubbed, 'Oh she's trying to be another Madonna," she said. "But I think it's important to have an image."

COWBOY JUNKIES

— Blind Pig Ann Arbor

The questions came fast and furious. Why are the Cowboy Junkies playing at the Blind Pig? Why wasn't I told that the 10 p.m. show was sold out? Why didn't I get tickets for the extra show quick enough?

With the fabulous Connells only drawing only 40 people when they played the Blind Pig, when did the Cowboy Junkies get so popular? How would their moody, melancholy songs translate to a live setting?

Would they smile? Would it be the most depressing gig ever? But most importantly . . . how was I going to get a ticket? Thankfully, nobody had taken this assignment, so happy

First impressions of the crowd were kind of scary. I don't think I've seen such an older audience. Maybe they all meant to go to The Ark, but got lost. Good Lord, beards and sweaters were everywhere. Is the musical tastes of the under-23 crowd that limited?

REVIEWS

THE LEAVING TIME

— Michael Shrieve and Steve Roach

Are there any new cop/detective shows out there in need of a musical If the answer is yes, then we may have the album for you. These guys sound like they apprenticed under Jan Hammer or something. Michael Shrieve is a noted rock/ jazz drummer most famous for his work with Santana. Steve Roach is some synthesizer wizard who even gives credit to a Macintosh computer for a few of the sounds produced on this album of instrumentals. What they have put together here is an album of totally harmless music that has tinges of New Age (is The Wave interested?), soft jazz and an occasional rock-influenced guitar solo by David Thorn. But the listener gets the eerie feel-ing that Sonny Crockett, some Wise-guy, or The Equalizer is about to cross his path. Here's an album that actually needs video to survive - the music is hardly strong enough to stand on its own. The titles of many of the tracks even sound like they're straight off some action cop show —

"March of Honor," "Big Sky," "Edge

Runner," etc. . . You get the picture?

I think these guys have got the whole thing backwards. Usually, the show comes first. But who knows? This music may inspire some producer or screenwriter to begin work

If Michael Mann or Steven Bocho won't sign these guys, maybe I will. - Bob Sadler

CALM ANIMALS — The Fixx

Here's a band that's been going nowhere for about six years.

Since this British quintet recorded its best efforts, "Shuttered Room" and "Reach the Beach," earlier in the decade, the band has broken no new musical ground whatsoever.

Their ensuing efforts have sounded like a valiant attempt to dig up a single with the energy of "One Thing Leads to Another" or "Saved by Zero" (both off "Reach the Beach"). Given that, it means little to say that "Calm Animals" might be better than its most recent predecessor, 1984's "Phantoms" or 1986's "Wal-The music all starts to sound the same after a while. The guitar-laced edge the band had on its best work.

has been lost in a sea of various synthesized keyboards. A few tracks may generate some air play, but certainly not excite-ment. "Driven Out," the first single, has made some AOR play lists and could cross over to the Top 40 side soon enough

The ballad "Precious Stone" is a bit of a Fixx departure and worth a listen or two. The title track gives vocalist/lyricist Cy Curnin a chance to duplicate his provocative gem "Red Skies" off of "Shuttered Room." But what results is a cliched commentary to yet another uninspired arrangement. The rest of the album doesn't even excite enough to merit mention.

If there's even a chance for a case to be made that an album's cover may be better than the vinyl within, "Calm Animals" is a formidable candidate for that list.

Where's the sex life after 'I do'?

Dear Barbara,

I just finished Ann Landers' column (I'm kind of a self-help junky) about sex after marriage. Eightyone percent of those responding said that their sex life had gotten worse. Is there anything I can do about it? Needing some excitement

Dear Needing some excitement,

I read that survey, too, and then saw Ann Landers on the Donahue Show discussing it. I'm with you in finding people and their reactions interesting.

The conclusion that Ann and the Donahue audience came to was that sex worsens after marriage because of poor communication and a lack of affection, both physical and emotional, between partners. In other words, the problem is not sexual, but psychological. I agree that it is true, but the problem is even more complicatWhat a lot of people call "good sex" before marriage is often psuedo-excitement. The stereotype used to be of the woman wild in bed before marriage, but disinterested afterwards.

Since the feminist revolution, I've had many women tell me that their husbands behaved this way. In these situations, it was the excitement of "bagging your prey" that the part-ners probably felt, not the sexual in-

ANOTHER variable not mentioned by the Donahue audience and Landers was that marriage for many can mean a loss of freedom. These feelings can trigger resentment and anger, which would fight natural feelings of sexual excitement. Resentment in a marriage can be stimulated in many ways and is almost always a deterrent to exciting sex.

So is there anything you can do?

Barbara Schiff

Yes, you can work on yourself to become an interesting, exciting person and then someone else who is this way could relate to you. First, if anything I said about feeling resentful applies to you, you must find the reasons and the solution. Being a. person who can find solutions will make you more exciting all by itself.

Now you will be free to use your imagination to heighten your sexual responses. There are lots of self-help books on this subject that will tell you how other people have height. ened their sexual response.

If you are able to do these things for yourself, then you can find excitement within yourself. If you can't, you may want to find a qualified sex therapist or a personal therapist who can help you. Good Luck.

Sincerely,

If you have a question for Barbara, write her at Street Sense, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Soaring opportunity has few takers

Twenty percent of the market in 1978 was female, she estimated. Since then, the female market has declined by half, "dropping down to about 10 percent today," she said.

Olsen is bothered by the phenomenon. She also can't explain it.

"Maybe yuppies are more con-servative than we know," she said. "Maybe we're going back to the helpless female image. Flying is physically draining, so women don't find the work appealing. It's tough to generate interest."

TERROR MOTIVATED Ann Esposito of West Bloomfield to begin flying in 1980.

Married to a commercial airline pilot, Esposito was "terrified of flying" and thought flying lessons might help dispel the fear, she said.

Instead, they offered "freedom of spirit" she likened to "an addiction I lived and breathed.

"One license became another license. One rating became another

Esposito spent an estimated $30,000 in six years, earning an airline transport pilot rating and logging 3,000 hours of flight time. Although she "never dreamed of a career in aviation," she is now employed as a corporate pilot.

SYDNEY HALE of Farmington Hills set her sights on a flight career as a child, when she was turned on to flying by her father who was "an airport bum," she said.

By the time Hale graduated from high school in 1970, she had already earned a private license at a cost of $800. The same license today costs approximately $3,000. In 1978, Hale was hired as a first officer with North Central Airlines (later Republic and now Northwest). By then, she had logged slightly more than 2,000 hours, including substantial time in jets. She now flies right seat in a DC-9.

HALE IS among the vanguard of female pilots hired by commercial airlines in the mid and late 1970s, a small trickle of women whose numbers have yet to increase measurably.

"Carriers would love to hire more women; they're just not out there to hire," said Molly Smith of the Atlanta-based Future Aviation Professionals of America.

The organization tracks the number of female pilots hired annually by major U.S. carriers.

Of the 6,683 pilots hired by the 12 major carriers last year, a mere 247, or 3.7 percent, were women, according to FAPA figures. In 1985, the first year such figures were maintained, 235, or 3.9 percent, of the 7,840 who were hired were women. In 1986, the figure dipped to 184, or 2.9 percent. It increased to 3.3 percent in 1987.

WOMEN ASPIRING to aviation need "role models and encouragement," said Dorothy Vallee, a DC-9 first officer with Northwest Airlines. Vallee is one of 21 female commercial pilots who founded the International Society of Women Airline Pilots in 1978.

The organization now has 250 members who, among other things, comb newspapers, magazines and other sources for names of females entering aviation.

Once identified, "we call her up and encourage her," Vallee said.
"It's tough finding girls going all out (for such careers)," she said.

COMMITMENT IS one reason

"It takes a lot of money and it takes a lot of time to become a pilot," Vallee said.

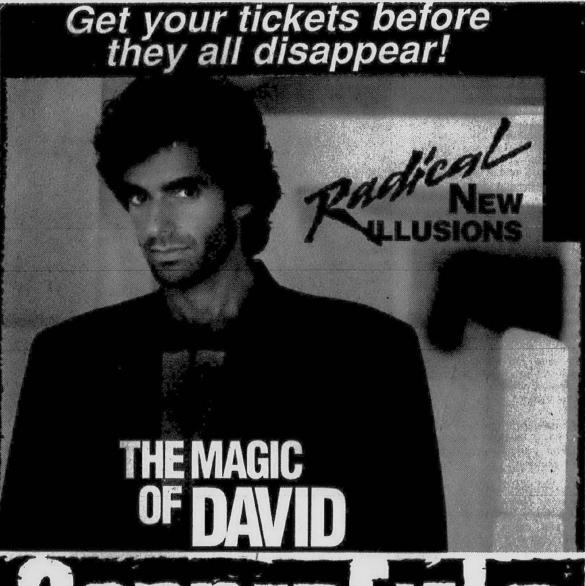

Once hired by a commercial car-rier, female pilots also face challenges special to them because employment is designed for men. Vallee, hired in 1978 by Republic Airlines, took maternity leave two times of up to one year each. Republic has since been bought by North-

"Thank God I don't need maternity leave now," Vallee said. "You get six weeks. Period. Anyone knows that isn't long enough for bonding Luck.

A lot has been written about Rita Rudner being such a nice, straitlaced person, because she earns her keep in the sometimes nasty, often bizarre world of stand-up comedy.

If you listen to her for five minutes, you can't help realizing that all those writers are right on the mark. If two things will reach out and grab you during that time, they are her sincerity and just plain pleasant demeanor. This woman radiates 'nice."

She is also very funny.

The more relaxed, cerebral brand of comedy that Rudner displays has put her in a class by herself among comedians. Her mastery of dead air (silence), precise timing and sharp wit is a far cry from the more vigorous, crashing gong mentality shown by most of her counterparts. Given her style, it's no surprise that Rudner admires comedic lumi-naries like Woody Allen (her style has been likened to that of a combination of two Allens - Woody and Gracie), the late Jack Benny (the ultimate master of dead air) and Bob Newhart. From them, she learned that you don't have to be overbearing and aggressive to be successful.

COMEDY WAS not Rudner's original career path. Growing up in Miami, she longed to be a dancer on Broadway and left home at 15 to pursue that goal. She landed some roles, most notably in a national touring company of "Zorba" and a Broadway stint in "Annie."

She also did quite a few commercials to keep food on the table.
"I used to admit to the world that I had dandruff and had breath," she

In 1980, after approximately 10 years of seeking the Broadway limelight and finding it to some extent, Rudner began to get disillusioned with that intensely competitive

"All I had ever wanted to do was dance," she said, "and then one day I started noticing that I was going to open auditions where they needed three dancers and 500 girls would show up. Comedy was wide open at the time, so I went there."

That move must have been considered risky to her dance friends, who probably never really noticed that she was funny.

"I used to concentrate so much on dancing that I hardly opened my mouth much," she said.

A few breaks came her way - an appearance on "Late Night with David Letterman" and a cable telecast of an alumni gathering at New York's Catch A Rising Star (in which Rudner was the only new comic fea-tured). Suddenly the former chorus liner was center stage.

RUDNER HAS gone on to frequent appearances on the big and small screen. She's a regular and has starred in numerous cable specials.

"Cable likes comedy because comedians are cheap television," she said. "We write all the material ourselves and then go out and perform

Rita Rudner displays a more relaxed, cerebral brand of comedy.

She has also appeared in the fea-

"That's Adequate" and, most recent-ly, "Gleaming the Cube" ("Do we have to talk about it? It's not doing very well," she said).

STAND-UP COMEDY still takes up a significant portion of Rudner's time these days, but probably not as much as her new husband, producer Martin Bergman. They met in Scotland in 1984 on the set of a British comedy special. They began dating two years later and were married in lane of last week. June of last year.

Is the Palace truly a palace?

By Amy Rosa staff writer

We've been oohing and aahing over the new Auburn Hills' designer arena since its debut last August. But does The Palace of Auburn Hills really measure up to all the hype?

To find out if the talk about being the most luxurious arena in town - maybe even in the country - was just talk, a co-worker and myself took a recent trip to see a concert at the Palace.

In recapping impressions from start to finish, it must be said that the Palace was quite easy to find on Lapeer Road just off Opdyke. The many helpful signs along the way were appreciated, since neither of us had ventured there be-

Parking went smoothly, and we were careful to remember our car was parked in the space closest to the road (an easy way to pick it out later, we thought,). The sign in our part of the lot said "North 2." We were prepared.

Our first big obstacle was reaching the proper ticket window, which we found by simple deduction after going up to every other entrance while circling the arena in the blistering cold air. That was my fault; I didn't get better instructions.

ONCE INSIDE, and mercifully glad to be there, we made our way to the elevators which would take us up to the third-floor press box. Security was good. Not just anybody could get on the elevator; only those folks with proper ticket stubs, most of whom had rented one of the Palace's 180

Upon arriving at the press box, we immediately realized it was not of the same quality as the suites probably were. Really, we know we shouldn't have expected much, but it would have been nice to be able to see the stage from a sitting position.

Now neither I, nor my co-worker are short people, so we believe it is fair to say that it was just bad planning to design the press box with a high vertical lip, protruding from the end of the writing table. It was humanly impossible to see any of the goings-on from our respective chairs. The same goes for the other 25 people who eventually crammed into the box to watch the concert with us. We all either stood or sat on top of the writing tables for two hours. Perhaps, if we had been provided with stools we wouldn't have ended up with twisted necks and aching backs, but then if we had wanted to write, the table would have been too low. Oh well, one demerit.

Anyway, hearing that the Pal-ace didn't have any "bad seats in the house," (the ones for the press being the exceptions, we guessed) we set out to test that theory.

WE FOUND a young couple sitting in the very highest row, exactly to the left of the stage.

Chuck Mascari, 20 of Bloomfield Hills, and Nancy Ciosek, 22, of Southfield, were just happy to get seats. They took a chance by coming to the Palace without tickets, hoping to get them from scalpers, which they did for $10 more than the original price. "These were better seats than I thought they'd be," his girlfriend said. "I saw Bruce Springsteen in the Silverdome last year, and the screen above us wasn't working. It really wasn't that good."

Actually, from a ticket buyer's perspective, we decided there really wasn't a bad seat in the house. We guessed the minimal amount of leg room between rows was no more or less than others offer. We also thought the large screens showing close-ups of the action that surrounded the stage were great. Practically all arena's have screens nowadays for the benefit of those looking down at the stage at a bizarre angle, Mascari is a Joe Louis Arena regular because his family has box seats. Although that arena's seating and concession stand arrangements are similar, the Palace got a higher vote from him because "it's beautiful here. Just look around, everything is so

YES, I started thinking, the mauve, purple and grey decor throughout did look very nice, and everything did look brand-spanking new. Even the seats were cushioned. (Yes, I know, evervone has cushioned seats, but these were purple.)

I couldn't argue that the Palace really did look nice.

Wondering what kind of eats they offered, I ventured down to the middle level. The variety was impressive. Interspersed with the regular hot dog concession stands, were booths selling different kinds of food.

Anything from pizza, bratwurst, deli and kosher food could be had for a price that wasn't that outrageous. A cheeseburger and a small beer sells for $2.50 each, a small soda is $1, and a kielbasa sandwich is $2.75.

I opted for the colossal hot dog - partially because it was cheaper and the lines to get the real good food were much too long for

The only thing I didn't like about the food setup, was that the condiments were community-oriented. I may be fussy, but I just don't like sharing a tub of mustard and an open jar of relish with 21,499 other people. Another

By this time the show was starting. The audio was great, and it was also interesting to see close-ups via the screens.

SIGNIFYING the end of the first half of the show was the inevitible 15-minute instrumental/drum solo. I thought this would be an excellent opportunity to check out the facilities, and when I did, I said a silent prayer that I didn't have to use them, not because they were dirty, because they weren't.

Apparently, all spectators suddenly "feel the urge," so to speak, at such intermissions. The lines for all the ladies' rooms - and there was no lack of them were 25 women deep. I don't have to explain why the men's lines weren't as long, do I?

Anyway, taking this as a cue, my partner and I decided to duck out early, having heard the horror stories about the exit parking. Our only problem was finding the place where we had parked, even though we remembered what our little, and I emphasize little, sign

What threw us off was that my gray Tempo was not in the spot closest to the road anymore, because they had subsequently parked three cars in front of it. We did manage to find it and got out of there in a jiffy, joking that it really wasn't necessary to experience parking hell to report about it.

X-COUNTRY

Lightweight way to ski

special writer

Light is the buzzword for those thinking about getting into cross country skiing. Lightweight equipment, light on the pocketbook and a pounds-lighter participant, are just some of the inherent qualities of the sport.

A traditional sport, enjoying a popularity boom for all ages, cross country skiing is the sport in which you can experience solitude, beauty, grace, control and exercise in the outdoors without spending too much money or

In fact, with snow on the ground, you can enjoy skiing in the nearest park. And the skiing 21/2 to three hours up I-75 is some of the best in

There are many ways to enjoy the sport, but there's two major schools of thought on technique and equipment - ski touring and ski racing. The most popular in this area is ski touring, either a trail groomed for skiing or offtrail skiing in parks, woods and fields - just about anywhere snow grows.

Cross country skiing (also called Nordic skiing) begins with some basic equipment boots, poles, skis and light, layered winter

Those familiar with downhill skiing are often amazed at how weightless they feel once donned appropriately for Nordic skiing.

Instead of feeling like your feet are in cement, cross country ski boots are sometimes lighter than a pair of athletic shoes and every bit as flexible. They have a toe clip arrangement that fastens to a small binding with no heel lock, so the boot stays down while the heel moves up and down off the ski.

THE SKIS are also incredibly light, averaging around 1,000 grams, and are much narrower than downhill skis.

The final delicate touch is the poles. Longer than downhill poles, these are made to feel at one with the skier's arms as each is swung freely back and forth.

One of the most costly mistakes novice skiers make is to overdress. A down-filled jacket or large parka and similar downhill garb is much too warm for this more aerobic sport. Polypropulene and other featherweight long underwear, socks and gloves are important to wick perspiration away from the body. It is because of locked-in moisture that people feel chilled. In extreme conditions, that could result in hypothermia. Cotton is one of the worst fabrics for this purpose because it retains its

On top of the under layers, a lightweight non-cotton type of pant that has the capacity for movement is advised. A non-bulky synthetic sweater is appropriate also. Over this, the most that is needed in temperatures to 10 degrees is a pullover of some type - something that can block the wind yet has several places to vent excess heat.

Cross country skiers rarely feel cold toes and fingers after skiing the first 10 minutes in most conditions. With the thin liner and thicker outer layer of both socks and gloves, most skiers find themselves surprisingly warm even though they feel so light.

As with any other sport in the cooler weather, a hat or a headband is a must. Eighty to 90 percent of body heat is lost from an uncovered head. And again, a lightweight, comfortable hat will do.

THE DRESSING takes practice. Obviously, skiers don't perspire the same and are not in the same physical shape. The best rule to fol-low is bring several light layers — you can always take them off as you go.

The cost of the basic ski package - boots, skis and poles - can go from $70 on up. Most ski shops will sell packages in order to cut the cost of the investment - and this one-time expense can last a lifetime. The average price range for a beginning adult ski package this year is between $70 and $175.

The fact that the equipment today is streamlined and yet durable means one package could be all you ever need.

The cost of Nordic clothes are like those of any other sport - depending on how state-ofthe-art or high-tech you'd like to go, you can spend a little or a lot. Many people start out skiing in things that they pull out of the closet old knickers, turtlenecks, sweaters and windbreakers.

Cross country skiers tend to vary in their taste for looks. Many traditionalists love to look just that — like a skier in a picture postcard from Vermont. Others love the hightech, bright, color-coordinated outfits built for

But the interesting thing is that most cross country skiers could care less about what anyone else has on or how they ski. It is understood that everyone is out there enjoying winter and in some way or another, that's what counts.

Savings on the trail passes are also a welcome change from gravity skier lift tickets. Trail passes cost anywhere from $1 to $8 per day and rarely higher unless an actual lift is

SO WHAT do cross country skiers do with all the money they save? The lifestyle of a cross country skier when on a weekend jaunt is far from shabby. The theory is that because they've saved so much getting into the sport, they can better afford all the amenities of first-class living.

A case in point is the plush northwoods getaway, Garland Resort, near Lewiston. It's packed all winter, with a waiting list. It caters solely to cross country skiers until the snow leaves the golf course.

If you can swing your arms and legs back and forth, you have the basic movements for Nordic skiing.

The main rule in feeling effortless while learning cross country skiing is to take lessons from someone trained to teach cross country skiing. Many first timers become only timers because they don't learn correct technique and overwork themselves.

One lesson by a trained expert can help you learn the basics and experience how unde-manding the sport can really be.

I still felt the sport was too much work and was ready to cash in the skis when I decided I'd give a certified instructor a last try. After one lesson, I felt the most carefree on my skis I'd ever experienced. And to complete the story, in a year, I raced in my first 24K race. I placed sixth in my age group.

We don't all have to be racers, but we all want to enjoy. If you're thinking of getting into the sport, try renting a ski package and instructor for one hour and see how you do.

Many skiers start out on waxless skis. Waxless skis have fish scale patterns on the bot-toms designed to help the skier propel forward without losing anything with a backward slide.

cause she was tired of hearing the haggling between Toronto, Kingston and Montreal as to which should have the honor, it was a bawdy trading post for lumber-jacks and fur traders.

An author of the time described it as a "sub-arctic lumber village converted by royal mandate into a political cockpit." Another called it Westminster of the Wilderness."

THOSE doubters should see it now, with its gardens, its 70 parks, its grand buildings and its Rideau Canal, built to divert British ships away from potential attack by American warships on the St. Law-rence River and known now as the "longest skating rink the world." There are more than six miles of bicycle paths along the canal.

Take a city tour, preferably on a red double-decker bus. Most visi-tors make their first walking tours along Wellington Street, where they can tour the parliament buildings, watch the changing of the guard and wander in spring through the thousands of tulips given to the city by Queen Juliana of the Netherlands. The queen lived in Ottawa as an honored citizen while bombs were falling in Europe during World War II.

The second thing on the itinerary is to visit the incredible new museums that were opened recently by the National Museums of Canada. The National Museum of Science and Technology opened a new National Aviation Museum in the sum-mer of 1988. The National Gallery of Art moved into a new home in September, and it now rises in glory above the Ottawa River.

The most exciting new museum in North America will debut when the Canadian Museum of Civiliza-tion opens on the Quebec side of the river this summer. The five-story Grand Hall leads you through a Pacific coast Indian village, totem poles set against a window that shows the parliament buildings as backdrop. In the History Hall, you can travel back to New France or watch a buffalo hunt.

THE CHILDREN'S Museum, for kids 3 to 93, will be a taste, touch, smell experience. There are IMAX and OMNIMAX showings in The Cinema and a technological win-dow into the museum collections in an area called "Mediatheque."

an area called "Mediatheque."
There is an old joke in Ottawa: "I live in Ottawa during the week and go to Hull on Sunday." That stems from the days when Ontario had very conservative Sunday laws and Quebec did not. All of the good restaurants and night places were built in Hull because they could stay open late and serve liquor on Sunday.

Ontario's liquor laws have changed since those days, so you changed since those days, so you will now find good eating and dancing places in Ottawa. A typical evening would start in one of the restaurants in Byward Market and end up across the river in Hull, where music and dancing places still stay open later than they do in Ottawa. condo queries Robert M. Meisner

Q: Can real estate brokers be held liable for torts of their agents. I am a real estate broker who is increasingly concerned with this potential problem. Do you have any an-

A: Yes. A recent Michigan Court of appeals decision has cleared the way for plaintiffs to hold real estate brokers liable for torts of their agents. The decision held that as a matter of law, real estate agents are their broker's employees and not independent contractors. This case may well prevent real estate brokers from insulating themselves against their agent's activities while at the same time reaping the profits from those activities. Brokers will obviously have to be much more careful in controlling their agents. In the Court of Appeals case, a salesman was involved in an auto accident and the court held that the real estate broker was vicariously liable for the acts of the salesperson. This may have a revolutionary effect on real estate broker liability.

Q: I own a unit in a condominium where there are approximately 40 units. Seven have been sold and the rest are being sold at an auction. A number of the co-owners in the condominium are extremely upset at this because of the fact that they think it will deflate the market value of the project. What can we do about it?

A: Presumably the developer has reserved the right to sell the units in any fashion that it chooses including the form of an auction. The fact that the properties are being auctioned off does not necessarily mean that the market value will decrease. Sometimes, depending upon the turn out at the auction, the purchase price of the units may be substantially similar to that which is being asked by the developer.

Many times, the developer may inflate the purchase price in order to give the impression that people buying at the auction are actually getting a bargain. To the extent that the developer violates any of the terms and conditions of the master deed and/or the disclosure statement through the auction process, the co-owners at the condominium may have standing to pursue the developer. You are well advised to consult with legal counsel concerning your rights.

A little light on subject of mildew

Q: Help! I live in a small cottage in a marshy area with wood paneled closets. Mold, mildew or a sour smell descends on my clothes in my closets if they aren't in zippered plastic bags. Egads, what can I do?

A: Mildew spores need three elements to prosper: Darkness, high humidity and stagnant air. Dry moving air and light constitute the antithesis to your problem.

Other things can also help. First, remove everything from your closet, don rubber gloves and wash down all surfaces, including the ceiling, with a strong chlorine bleach, TSP and water solution. Watch the fumes. The bleach will kill the existing spores (but won't retard its regrowth) and the detergent will remove them. If the wood is porous, seal it with a mildewcide

If there is no light in your closet, install one and leave it burning all the time. (Check to make sure nothing is close enough to overheat and cause a fire). Not only will this eliminate the darkness, but the heat of the bulb will also dry out the air more than you might expect.

It sounds as if a dehumidifier would also be a nice addition to your cottage. Placed close to your closet, it should dry out the air noticeably. Louvered closet doors will allow air circulation, so your clothes won't feel so damp and cold when you put them on.

Finally, silica gels or calcium chloride gran-ules are quite effective in retarding mold and mildew growth. Found in hardware and other stores under various brand names, they have an amazing ability to rid the air of that mildewy smell. Use them in basements in damp spring weather when furnaces no longer dry out the air

To be continued next week.

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two-bedroom ranch). With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And fuxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing."
