Pay-as-you-throw trash Community likes bag-tag pickup

By Kevin Brown staff writer

The bag-tag garbage pickup program in Mount Pleasant is a keeper, say those who have observed the 15month-old program.

That's good news for Plymouth, as the city bag-tag program — likely to start in November - is modeled on Mount Pleasant's.

As in Plymouth, "We started it because the cost of refuse disposal was getting out of hand," said Duane Ellis, Mount Pleasant department of public works director.

Plymouth officials have also cited rising dumping fees - by October they'll be nearly double the September 1989 rate — as the main reason for charging residents directly for trash they produce.

Plymouth residents will pay $1 for every bag of trash they set out at the curb. To be collected, the trash must be in bags printed with the city seal,

HE DESCRIBED the bag-tag program as a program in which you pay only for the trash you produce. "The new system gives people an understanding of what the cost is, at the same time we greatly encourage recycling," Ellis said.

'They've just increased the prices (from 60 to 95 cents per tag or bag) and there's been some griping," said Fred Strohl, editor of the Mount Pleasant Morning Sun newspaper.

"I don't think it's (the bag-tag pro-

EPA: Asbestos removal was unnecessary

staff writer

Plymouth-Canton taxpayers need-lessly spent more than $613,000 on government-mandated asbestos removal the Environmental Protection Agency now says was unnecessary. The money came from the district's general fund and from a bond issue approved by voters in 1986.

In a statement accompanying the release of a new guide book, "Managing Asbestos in Place," EPA administrator William Reilly said, "Many millions of dollars have been wasted on the unnecessary asbestos removal. This guide will help people understand that in-place asbestos management can protect public health, reduce costs and against liability."

THE GUIDE is designed to "dispel the myth that all asbestos in buildings must be removed."

Plymouth-Canton schools spent on removal and inspections $272,000 at Central Middle School; $73,984 at Allen and Smith elementaries and East Middle School; $36,995 at Farrand Elementary and Starkweather Center; and $20,000 at West Middle

Additional inspections cost

Another $180,000 was spent on compliance with the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act, which entailed "top to bottom inspections in every building in the district and the drafting of a five-year manage-ment plan for every building. Booklets of up to 300 "very thorough and ultimately useless" pages of infor-mation were compiled and placed in

Gas smell traced to possible leak

Gasoline tanks left underground at the site of a former Mobil service station in Plymouth Township could be leaking, said Larry Groth township fire chief.

"I don't see any health hazard, and there is no fire danger," Groth said referring to the possible leak.

Employees of a business near the former gas station at 40600 Ann Arbor Trail, now occupied by Plymouth Auto Service, told township police on Wednesday they smelled gas.

Groth said investigators from the state fire marshal's office investigated the site. "They could not locate a tank," Groth said, but added the investigators can't probe asphalt

The fire chief said the state fire marshal's report will be turned over to the Department of Natural Resources next week. Groth said it's undetermined as to when the DNR of the site.

Groth said the Ann Arbor Trail site was closed as a Mobil gas station in the 1960s.

Should the gasoline smell indeed be caused by leaking underground tanks, it would be the second such leak reported in the Plymouth area.

Underground tanks at the former Amoco service station at Ann Arbor Trail and Main in Plymouth were removed this summer, after it was determined that fuel oil had leaked underground at the site.

Plymouth's skyline apparently won't be changing this year.

Construction of two five-story luxury apartment buildings on Jack Wilcox's property in downtown Plymouth won't begin until spring,

Once construction on the apartments begins, Wilcox said comple-tion should take about 18 months.

By suggestion from city planning commissioners which Wilcox agreed to, the apartments' design will echo that of the house.

Wilcox said he'd like to restore a fountain and statues once set to the east of the house.

The EPA now says asbestos removal may have actually worsened conditions in buildings.

Bill DeLiefde, spokesman for the Michigan Department of Public Health, criticized the EPA "for not publicly stating from the start a reble reaction to the problem." About 80 percent of Michigan

Typewriter reported missing

A Royal typewriter valued at more than $100 was discovered to be missing from an apartment storage bin on Wednesday, its owner told Plymouth Township police. The owner, 22, said the typewriter was last seen Sept. 5. The report did not say if the storage bin, in the apartment's basement, was locked. BULLET FOUND: A .351 caliber rifle cartridge was found at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday by a student near the east playground fence at Ferrand

Elementary School in Plymouth

Township, according to a report filed with township police. The report contained no further information on the incident.

LARCENY: On his first day on the job at the Mill Street Total gas station, a 20-year-old Ypsilanti man said an unknown person emptied the cash drawer of $657 shortly after 1 a.m. Wednesday. The employee said he left the station open and unattended for a few moments when he went to the bathroom, which is outside.

He said that as he was returning to the station, he noticed a light blue small vehicle leaving the station and heading northbound on Mill. He said crime watch he couldn't see how many people were in the car.

The register drawer was open, and all the money was gone. The man said he didn't make any drops in the safe because he couldn't get the money to fit.

STATION OPERATION: The manager of Station 885 reported that the restaurant accepted $768 in bad checks from a 22-year-old Westland man between March 17 and July 31. The checks were returned several times marked "account closed." Atempts to reach the suspect by certified mail were unsuccessful.

RESCUE RUN: Plymouth police received a call from Oakwood Life Line about 8:30 p.m. Thursday saying that an elderly Byron Street resident had set off her monitor and wasn't answering her phone.

Two officers beat on the door with no response. Neighbors of the woman said she was 85 years old and had used a walker since breaking her hip several years ago.

Neighbors wanted police to break the door in, but the police were trying to pick the lock. They eventually forced the door open and found the woman on the bedroom floor with a possible broken hip. When the building owner arrived, he was mad at police for damaging the door. The lady was transported by ambulance to a nearby hospital. Damage to the door was estimated

BUS BULLSEYE: A school bus driver had trouble navigating a turn at Ann Arbor Trail and Harvey about 4 p.m. Thursday and did $500 damage to a traffic signal.

Dr. Thomas McKenzie, described as a "special person who cares deeply for students and gets the job done," is expected to be formally named as the new principal of Plymouth-Canton High School at tonight's school board meeting.

Currently principal of Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins, Colo., McKenzie plans to assume his new post Oct. 1.

BEFORE MOVING to Colorado in 1985, McKenzie served in positions with school systems in Grand Haven, Ann Arbor, Portage, Jackson and Ypsilanti. He also has taught undergraduate and graduate courses at Eastern Michigan University and Colorado State University.

Three receive promotions

Three promotions have been announced by the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and its parent company, Suburban Communications Corporation.

SCC president Richard Aginian recently announced that Richard Brady, director of advertising and promotion for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, has been appointed vice president of sales and marketing for Suburban Communications Corp., parent company of the O&E newspapers.

Mark Lewis, Wayne County regional advertising manager for the O&E, will replace Brady as advertising director, according to Richard Isham, O&E general manager.

Carol McCloud has been appointed promotion manager/research assistant for the 13 O&E newspapers, said Isham.

A native and lifetime resident of metropolitan Detroit, Brady has also been assistant to the publisher of Shamie Publishing Co. and a former account executive for the Detroit Free Press and Yaffe, Stone & August. He attended Wayne State University.

Lewis will be responsible for day-to-day advertising department operations. He is a 13-year O&E employee. A Plymouth resident, Lewis attended Garden City West High School, Schoolcraft College and the University of Michigan. McCloud, a 10-year O&E employee, will be responsible for all company promotions. The Oakland University graduate was formerly executive secretary to the director of advertising and promotion.

SCC also includes HomeTown Newspapers, formerly Sliger/Livingston Publications, Community Newspapers of Lansing, Community Newspapers, Cincinnati, Farmers Advance News and Advertising

The O&E newspapers include the Birmingham-Bloomfield Eccentric, West Bloomfield Eccentric, Southfield Eccentric, Troy Eccentric, Rochester Eccentric, Lakes Eccentric, Farmington Observer, Livonia Observer, Plymouth Observer, Canton Observer, Redford Observer, Westland Observer and Garden City Observer.

County campaigning hard for airport bonds

staff writer

Scott Veldhuis plans to vote for the Metro Airport expansion bond issue Nov. 6. His wife Shirley plans to vote against it.

Veldhuis, economic development director for Westland, said a modern airport is essential for continued economic welfare in Michigan.

His wife agrees. But tolerating increased jet noise is beyond her comprehension. Noise levels in their home are already intolerable, the couple said. They live directly in the path of a much-used flight pattern and she feels incapable of coping with more noise.

The Veldhuis' reflect typical reaction to the bond issue, said Wayne County administrative assistant Patricia Kukula, who is charged with convincing voters that approval is in their own best interest.

She is clearly worried about the People living near Metro are fed up with noise levels and many oppose passage because they fear it means increased noise pollution.

Kukula said the two issues, though intertwined, are not related.

METRO EXPANSION means continuation of current jobs, more jobs in the future and continued economic development here, Kukula said. A modern, convenient facility is a must, she added.

changes in flight patterns by the Federal Aviation Administration, a situation likely to be corrected by next summer, especially since the recent formation of a special com-mittee consisting of federal, county and airline officials.

As proposed, the project is in four phases and includes upgrading existing facilities and constructing new east-west and north-south runways, access roads and a terminal at a total cost of $1.2 billion.

The expansion is expected to ease present on-ground congestion. Flights are projected to increase only 10 percent over the next 15 years and will have a negligible affect on noise, Kukula said. (Between 1984 and 1988, flight activity doubled. Noise became a serious issue only after Nov. 16, when new flight patterns were initiated.)

Phase one of the project includes replacing parking structures, expanding storm water ponds and renovating and relocating roadways and road berms

"IF THE BOND is defeated," Kukula said, "future expansion and modernization will be jeopardized.

Approval of the bond provides money for the project at no cost to taxpayers. It will not raise or create new taxes, Kukula said. The FAA has pledged matching funds of $186 million for additional projects. Presently, Metro provides jobs for 821 residents of Westland, 299 in Livonia and 375 in Canton.

CORRECTION

The Livonia Symphony Orchestra supplement which appeared in the September 13th editions of the Observer listed the "Come to the Cabaret" concert at Madonna College for July 13, 1991. The correct date for this event is April 13, 1991.

Rep. William Keith will try this week to get his bills permitting business tax base sharing among schools on track after they were derailed suddenly last week.

The black caucus and Democrats from the Saginaw-Flint belt fell short in an effort to send Keith's bills to the Appropriations Committee. But their 41 votes showed enough strength to scare the nine-term veteran who chairs the Education Committe. The bills were temporarily set

"We're working desperately to re-duce the inequities between school districts," said Keith, D-Garden City. He told the House that sharing business tax growth countywide would help close the gap between local districts which spend $2,500 to $8,000

THE STICKING point, however, wasn't tax base sharing but how Keith proposed to soften the blow for areas which would surrender their commercial and industrial growth with poor districts.

Keith would reimburse the growth areas out of the $72 million which the state "recaptures" by withholding their categorical aid for tran portation and pensions.

"We're talking about $72 million!" said Rep. Joe Young Jr., D-Detroit, who didn't want to give back part of the recapture money

"It comes out of the school aid fund," said Rep. Ted Wallace, D-De-

And one of Keith's usual allies, Rep. James O'Neill, D-Saginaw, said, "(Growth) districts could gain more by tax sharing than they would lose through recapture."

IN THE KEY roll call, 41 voted to send Keith's bills to the Appropria-tions Committee, and 58 were op-

Dominic Jacobetti. Voting no were Keith, Justine Barns, D-Westland, Jan Dolan, R-Farmigton Hills, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, James Kosteva, D-Canton, Judith Miller, R-

EARLY ORTHOPEDIC REFERRAL

Do not conclude that your doctor is giving up on your care, if after seeing you once or twice, he recommends orthopedic

You need such consultation early in your arthritis for several reasons. One is so that you can learn the range of possibilities for treatment. Only a surgeon can tell you what operation can achieve and what are the risks.

Another reason is because orthopedic surgeons are busy. It may take weeks or months to arrange an appointment with the orthopedist, and you may need two or three appointments before defining whether surgery can help. In addition, you may want to speak with different orthopedists because your insurance policy requires it, or you desire a choice, it could take a year or more to complete these arrangements.

What you want to avoid is to find yourself one morning in great pain, feeling desperate, and willing to accept the recommendation of anyone who can see you on short notice.

What you want to achieve is a relationship with the surgeon so that when you feel operation is in order, you can call the doctor's office and arrange a hospital admission

Starting early on this quest will give you piece of mind, a greater understanding of your present medical program, and control over its future course.

agrees. One district could kill the plan at any time.

· Existing commercial and industrial property would be unaffected. The sharing plan could not apply to residential, farming or mining

 Agreement could be by vote of the school board or vote of the people. The agreement would last five

 Out-of-formula districts would have an incentive to join. Instead of losing categorical aid of $72 million a year currently, they could continue to receive that aid. Keith was co-author of this year's law to increase the categorical aid "recapture."

· A district receiving state aid could not lose any aid by joining a property tax base sharing plan.

That old bromide has become one of the great lies of the century. Too frequently what appears to be a great bargain can be a great rip off. It's true with many things including clothes that fall apart after one washing.

Like clothes, not all kitchen and bath cabinets are created equal. That's why you should visit our KSI Showrooms. We will start by demonstrating the solid oak double-dowelled frame in Merillat Cabinets. Simply put, that feature produces precision alignment for perfect squareness and long-lasting durability to resist twisting and sagging.

Can stomp new dance

When You and I Were Young, Maggie," little did we visualize how different our lives would be when we entered our 70s.

Remember how we participated in any unusual phases of entertainment for relaxation and pleasure; among them, we danced the Jitter Bug, Charleston and Bunny Hop? We even attended an occasional burlesque show and "Can-Can" review.

Today the "in thing" is recycle. Of course, we shall participate and per-form our environmental obligation. With our physical afflictions, it won't Picture us removing labels, tops and bottoms of cans. Migawd, Gypsy Rose Lee with her talent couldn't 'peel" off some of the labels. I tried for hours to take "Skippy" off his peanut butter jar, but he is an obstinate critter and refused to leave his happy domain. And how does one remove the bottom of a sardine can?

Must we wear Army boots when we try to flatten tin cans so we won't rupture our varicose veins?

Definitely, Maggie, the silver threads among the gold tell us we are growing old. Can we withstand all the inconvenience of recycling? If we must recycle, let's have fun.

To the tune of "The Stripper," we could "peel" off labels, maybe. "Beat Me Daddy Eight to the Bar" would enliven the can flattening process; "Balling the Jack" would create a happy atmosphere as we pitch empty bottles into their respective receptacles and to "The Twist" we could unscrew bottle caps.

If we must recycle, Maggie, let's do it with style and grace. Shall we dance? Save the "Can-Can" for me. Fasten your seat belt, darling, as we may have a bumpy ride if we don't recycle properly. Stay tuned.

Obviously, no perfect program for the prevention of chemical dependence exists. DARE is one of several attempts that evolved over two decades of sociological research in response our population's growing chemical dependence problem.

Some of these programs, particularly when applied in suburban areas, have achieved reasonable short and long term successes, as evidenced by reduced cigarette smoking among high school seniors.

Dr. McClendon correctly points out that licensed teachers should be present in the classroom during the DARE program, and that this program needs ongoing evaluation and research — as should all of the instructional materials presented to

However, I believe that his concern that the "no-alcohol, no smoking" message by DARE officers may cause conflict in the home because they "differ from values held by their parents" sends the wrong message to the chemically dependent

It has long been recognized that adolescent substance use is closely associated with parental use; the fact that parents use cigarettes and alcohol doesn't make it right.

Adolescence is a time of tremendous change and sometimes turmoil in our young people. Along with the physiologic changes come psychological ones; among these, the acquisition of cognitive abilities.

"Do as I say, not as I do" no longer works for parents of adolescents. Peer group acceptance becomes more important than parental approval. Adolescents mistakenly believe that they are "invulnerable" to the adverse effects of cigarette and alcohol use and they are often incapable of relating to the long term health and social consequences.

Social scientists have long recognized nicotine (cigarettes) as the 'gateway' drug to other forms of chemical dependence (alcohol, marijuana, cocaine, opioids).

I hope that Dr. McClendon is aware of the overwhelming medical evidence that cigarette and alcohol consumption present major health risks to these students and their parents. The Surgeon General's warning labels on cigarette packs and now on alcoholic beverages really do mean something.

Finally, I lend my support to the Prevention Services Unit of the Michigan State Police for appropriately targeting our adolescents for this attempt (DARE) at the prevention of chemical dependence. It is a worthwhile effort. Our community leaders need to take a long, hard look at their own feelings about chemical dependence (particularly cigarettes and alcohol). Young people need a clear and consistent message supporting their efforts to resist use of these substances.

Taxes would go to airport

To the editor:

I have read with concern the statements from Plymouth Township about the purchase of Mettetal Airport. This purchase would indeed be paid for by the local taxpayers. Whether the money is federal, state or township, the taxpayers are the

The funding is not by "user fees" it by taxes (the F.A.A.'s own words) of 8 percent on airline tickets, 14 cents per gallon on jet fuel and 12 cents per gallon on aviation fuel. Certainly the $4 to $6 million dollars which would be spent on this small airport could be better spent (if it must be spent) on improving conditions at the public transportation airports and not on a recreational airport for the benefit of a handful.

Aircraft noise is intolerable

I am a Livonia resident located near Five Mile and Farmington Roads. In the last several months I have become increasingly disturbed (along with my neighbors) over the substantial increase in aircraft noise in our community.

I realize that flight patterns at Metro Airport were altered to help alleviate the possibility of air traffic collision, however, I object to the FAA's, Metro Airport's, and Northwest Airlines' clearly lax attitude in providing a compromise between Metro Airport and residential areas over the noise pollution problem. I understand that the FAA has lowered the minimum altitude that planes can accelerate their engines from 10,000 feet to 3,000 feet. Also, Metro Airport permits the use of Stage 2 aircraft which are larger and noisier than Stage 3 aircraft.

The expansion of a single terminal at Metro Airport from 85 gates to 160 gates is intolerable. Something must be done to let Metro Airport and all involved know that we citizens are tired of being raped by busi-nesses for the so-called sake of improving the local economy. We cannot stand by and watch our quality of life deteriorate as big business line their pockets with larger profits and continue to sidestep the issues of noise pollution, air pollution, and air traffic congestion. We, as citizens, do our share in providing a pleasant and habitable place to work and live, I think that Metro Airport and Northwest Airlines should do the

I urge citizens to voice their objection to the unbearable rise in aircraft noise to our elected officials. Remember, it's an election year and Mr. Blanchard, Mr. Levin, and Mr. Riegle will be looking for our votes. Patricia Pietka,

'Highway Hostage' speaks out

Some time ago I wrote a letter to George Bush about the lack of law enforcement on our highways and streets. In my letter I stated to President Bush that 95 percent of our motorists are breaking the law everyday.

My letter was sent to the Highway
Department in Washington, D.C., and they said that the vast majority of motorists obey the law. In the letters to me from William Faust and William Ford they said the same thing. These people need to get out of those helicopters and jet planes and drive on I-275 and I-696.

If you try to drive the speed limit you'll get run off the road. This disregard for the law started out a long time ago. I'm sick of slogans from police that say, go with the flow. It means break the law and shame on you if you get killed. I'm doing my thing. It means, to hell with you. I'm sick of hearing about their studies - that means go to hell and don't bother me. I'll remember that at election time.

How can we fight drugs when our police can't even enforce the law? If had a chance to vote for the military or the police to guard our high-ways, I would pick the military. If I had to think up an award for law enforcement, it would be a half a toilet

Richard Nadeau,

Cover not for public display

Referring to your editorial, "Album cover," you once more side with those who have contempt for society and insist on yelling censorship whenever their lack of morality is criticized.

Censorship is certainly one of the most overused and misunderstood words today. No one refused the artist of the album cover the right to draw it, or even publish it. No one is even being refused the right to buy

The only issue here is whether it is suitable for public display. Obviously, some thought not, since your own article states, referring to the police, who judged the poster pornographic under local standards.'

Your editorial stated this poster is no more or less obscene than anything hanging in area art galleries or museums. You're missing the point; art galleries and museums do not have young, impressionable children viewing their art without parental or adult supervision.

Any conscientious business that has a public display has in mind the wide-ranging ages of the viewer. Like it or not, displays need to be sensitive to the most sensitive, in most cases children. There is a need for public decency. There is a need to protect the youngster on the street from even the mildly pornographic.

This album cover is a small issue, but there is a huge potentially destructive battle for society behind it.

Do those freedoms of the individual to say what he wants and do what he wants include insulting community standards and supercede the responsibility one has to the community one lives in? I believe not.

What a person reads and views in private, generally speaking, is his business. When he puts it in the window for all to view it should be within the bounds of community standards and with regard to all who may view it, including children. To lose this respect for others is to thumb your nose at society and declare self more important than the community

Once more I am disgusted with your editorialists' disregard for community and their attempt to redefine long-existing standards of suitable public behavior.

Please help save animals

As a volunteer of the Wayne County Humane Society I wish to express the dire need that most of us have come to ignore or take for granted. Please contemplate and take action if you are a caregiver of animals.

• If you must give up a family pet, let the Humane Society be your last choice. Find a loving home your pet does not want to be confined in an unfamiliar cage with little human contact and an abundance of barking and noise.

• Have your pet neutered. A lot of the overflow are "unwanted litters" or "too many animals." Because of limited space, funds, and staff, these pets are often put to · Take one-two hours one morning or afternoon, any day of the week and share your love with the dogs and cats that need attention. It involves walking the dogs, cleaning cages, and watering and feeding. It's not easy, but extremely important. They depend on us to care and can't speak for themselves. They have no choice . . . but we do.

Call the Westland Clinic at 721-7300 or Detroit or Auburn Hills. Be persistent - we are understaffed and it's not always easy to answer the phone. Or stop in and spend some time. The animals will love you for

'Low voltage' contractor bill sparks Senate panel debate

By Tim Richard staff writer

A state Senate panel has stripped bill licensing electricians of provisions requiring low-voltage equippent installars to be licensed jour-

Low-voltage equipment includes sound systems, burglar alarms, data processing equipment and closedcircuit TV.

"The low-voltage issue needs to be done with a separate bill," said Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, chair of the Senate Human Resources Committee.

HOUSE BILL 5168, as it came to the Senate, was vehemently opposed by home builders, hospitals, the burglar and fire alarm installers and the newly formed Michigan Association of Life Safety Equipment Contractors. Some still oppose it.

They saw the bill, as offered by Rep. Joe Young Jr., D-Detroit, and passed by the House, as featherbedding by Local 58 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the National Electrical Contractors Association.

And Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, still thinks it hasn't been fixed enough. "I felt the bill was a blatant attempt on the part of the electricians' union to take business away from burglar alarm and sound companies by requiring that they conform to the licensing requirements," said Geake.

"The bill has been modified in an attempt to appease them, but it still requires unreasonable ratios of journeymen electricians to apprentices," said Geake, who was on the short side of a 3-1 vote Thursday.

DILLINGHAM said he would start work on a separate bill to cover lowvoltage technicians, currently unli-

"What we have to do is look at the licensing qualifications for low-voltage people," Dillingham said. "The electricians agree to that."

He likened electricians and low-

He likened electricians and lowvoltage technicians to "oil and water, which don't mix." He called the House bill "a disservice" by packing in too many topics.

The Senate substitute requires a 1:1 ratio of journeymen electricians to apprentices on a job site.

to apprentices on a job site.

Mike Crawford of the National Electrical Contractors Association, bargaining agent for 400 contractors with 3,000 workers, said a 1974 court decision had upset the intent of current law. He favors the new bill.

"The apprentice rules are enforced on a shopwide basis (instead of a) site basis." Crawford said. So while a contractor in Kalamazoo may have only one journeyman for four apprentices, he can tell a state inspector, "I have a 15:1 ratio in Marquette,"

Crawford said that "so-called apprentices do electrical work without supervision at all. Apprentices are being hurt and killed on sites."

LYN EGBRT, of the 8,000-member Michigan Association of Home Builders, said the ratio of journeymen to apprentices should be governed by collective bargaining, not "The electrical contractors have the lowest workers comp premiums of all the construction trades," said Egbert. "Safety is not a tremendously great issue."

He said wiring of new houses soon will be done by unrolling a 2½-inch rubber strip. When Dillingham asked how many workers it takes to wire a house, Egbert said, "One. I don't think a person, to wire a house, has to be a journeyman or an apprentice."

or an apprentice."

Dillingham noted federal law requires a 3:1 ratio of journeymen to apprentices in federally financed projects.

Reno Regary, a St. Clair Shores contractor with one union and one non-union shop, said he favors the bill but would prefer a 3:1 ratio.

Itty-bitty bite size or main course massive, muffins are marvelously munchable. One of the latest food trends to hit our area is the muffin phenomenon. At one time, muffins were a Saturday or Sunday brunch staple. Nowadays, muffins are garnering more and more shelf space at local doughnut shops, breakfast buffets and even at McDonald's.

And why not? Muffins are diverse. They're suitable for serving as a brunch bread, a succulent side dish, a delicious dessert or a scrumptious snack. They can even be transformed into a powerful nutritional punch while at the same time pleasing the palate.

Muffins started out as a simple quick bread that was baked daily. Nearly every culture had its own form, the first being the Welsh Pice Ar Y Man, small pancakelike cakes flavored with cinnamon and nutmeg and bursting with raisins and currants, according to "The Joy of Muffins." The first real muffins were English crumpets - light, circular spongecakes developed in the early 1700s. This was a yeast bread product, while just about every other type is cousin to that original quickbread.

THE MODERN-DAY American muffin appeared in the 1840s after the development of baking powder, which hastened the rising process, so the dough remained quick but became more toothsome. Muffins soon moved from the realm of breakfast and English teatime to become snacks and fare for every meal. Although the standard-bearer to some may be the original blueberry muffin (with the corn muffin a competitor), there isn't much that cannot be added to muffins. Among the most popular nowadays are the vegetable and fruit group comprised of the zucchini, apple, banana and pumpkin.

But watch out, because muffins are experiencing a resurgence and can be seen on the best tables featuring the likes of cheese, sour cream, rhubarb and even

Making muffins never has been a great mystery or challenge, but the key to making a better batter is in the mixing. Liquid ingredients should be blended into the dry ingredients at the last possible moment before baking, and then stirred by hand just until the dry ingredients are moistened. Stirring too long will produce tougher muffins. The longer the unbaked batter sits, the longer the gluten (levening agent) has to break down. Believe it or not, it's okay if the batter is

If your muffins are as hard as baseballs, there probably was too much flour added and not enough liquid. Stirring too long and hard also will produce rock-alikes with the professionals saying that a 10-15 second stir is really all that's needed.

MUFFINS THAT ARE flat and spread out all over the top of tins are usually filled too full. Experts recommend filling muffin tins and cups only % full for optimum results. Also, too much liquid and not enough dry ingredients will make a flatter product.

On occasion, even I produce muffins that pop out of the oven as tall as the Ren Cen only to fall as flat as a soggy pancake. Again, too little flour can be the culprit. And lastly, if your muffins are not browning evenly, make sure that they are placed on the center rack while baking, Muffins too high get too brown, while muffins too low get burnt bottoms. Great muffins make excellent lunch-box fillers for everyone from kindergarteners to office brown-baggers. Why not whip up a batch of homemade goodness today?

Candy apple making is a sticky business

By Larry Janes special writer

Candy apples and caramel apples are in prominence at all the local cider mills and farmer's markets.

At one time, I thought the only good thing you could do to an apple was dip it in hot melted caramels but the first time Momma made candy apples certainly will go down in history, along with my first apple pie and my first chocolate chip cookie.

There is little art to making a good caramel apple. Just start with a couple of big, juicy Delicious apples and a few old Popsicle sticks and a bag of Kraft caramels. I belong to the eat-one-throw-one-in-thepot school of caramel apple making. By the time I have unwrapped a twopound bag, I'm on such a sugar buzz that I can never wait for the hot caramel to cool enough. Just give me more.

But there is an art to the creation of a candy apple. First off, you can have all the apples, sugar, corn syrup and red food coloring in town but if Mother Nature doesn't want you to make candy apples, it isn't worth the hassle.

Reading between the lines, this means that the best days to make candy apples are cool, dry days, not these dog days of 90 percent humidity and air conditioners. Forget rainy days, too. I think I was asleep in cooking school the day the chef told why, but it has something to do with the fact that when there's moisture in the air, the boiling sugar and corn syrup hardens funny or something like that. Next time I talk to Dr. Science, I'll ask him why

FINALLY, I FIND one thing that you absolutely cannot make in a microwave. In order to enjoy a good candy apple, one must be able to appreciate all the time and effort that goes into the making. You need a heavy saucepan. Forget the ones you bought at the state fair for $12.95. When you want to boil sugar and syrup to almost 300 degrees, you need a heavy saucepan that will retain and distribute the heat evenly.

If you're actually thinking about going through with this, and you want to read on, be prepared to buy, beg, borrow or steal a candy thermometer. This, however, is not necessary if you have a babushka-wearing Momma standing by your side with a little dish of cold water, who takes the tip of a spoon and dribbles a little in the cold water and then tests with calloused fingers just how hard the syrup has gotten.

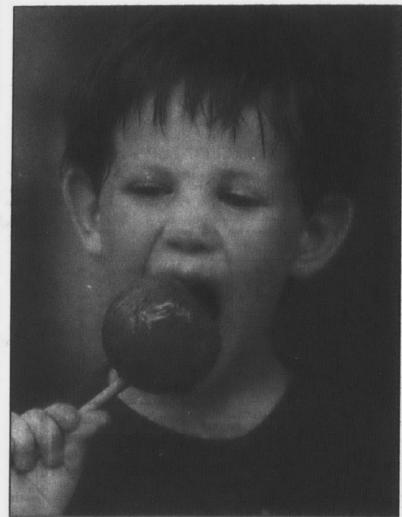

Although babushka-wearing mommas are more fun, $5 candy thermometers are more practical because the latter will not make you feel guilty about having a dusty refrigerator top or, god forbid, fingerprinted sugar canisters.

Equipment and assistants taken care of, all that's needed is a cinnamon stick and some red food coloring. Get a bag of apples and a few leftover Popsicle sticks and the time has arrived.

If you happen to be making these with Momma, now is the time to get the cleanser out and wash your hands. Just scrub until it hurts because as far as mommas are concerned, they will never be clean enough. Cleanser aside, wash the apples and then dry them completely. Using the old ice cream sticks or, better yet, if you happen to be friendly with the meatman behind the counter, ask him for some heavy city-chicken skewers. They work just as well. Plunge the sticks into the stem end of the apple and set aside.

AT THIS POINT, it is recommended you check the first-aid box for burn spray, salves and Band-Aids, and make sure the freezer is full of ice. Whenever I make hard NEXT IN LINE for Michigan favorite is the Paula Reds. The apple was named after an orchard owner's wife, Pauline, and, again, this is a great all-purpose apple with a more tart flavor than Jonathans and a more blush-colored flesh.

There's no secret why Michigan apple lovers enjoy the third most popular variety, dubbed the McIn-tosh. This apple has a snappy flavor coupled with an unmatched orchardfresh aroma. All the benefits of the MacIntosh were nearly lost to history. Seems that in the early 1800s, Ontario farmer John McIntosh found some interesting apple trees on his land and transplanted them to his garden. Only one of the trees sur-

All the millions of McIntosh trees planted since then owe their heritage to that one lonely survivor. Also considered an all-purpose apple, it's loaded with juice, and the aroma makes for the best-tasting and bestsmelling apple pies around

Coming around the corner a little later this fall will be Michigan's growing crop of Ida Reds. This cross between Jonathan and Wagener varieties was developed at the Idaho Experiment Station and introduced commercially in 1942. The Ida Reds are late-ripeners, usually not coming into the Michigan picture till mid-

October. Again, an all-purpose apple, it is firm, crisp and juicy and makes for a popular lunch-box snack because it keeps well under refrigera-tion and tends to resist browning.

ANOTHER POPULAR late-variety Michigan apple is the Empire. This apple was developed by Dr. Roger Way at the Geneva Agricultural Experiment Station at Cornell University. The Empire is a cross between McIntosh and Delicious and was developed for excellent storage under controlled conditions, in addition to being mild, medium-sized and a very attractive nearly red/solid red color. Best for eating fresh, it also can be used for baking and cooking because its firmer flesh tends to hold up well during cooking.

Michigan is considered a forerunner in innovative technologies and improved cultivation techniques, which aid in the development of new varieties. Gaining in popularity among Michigan favorites are the Winesap, one of the oldest known varieties in America, brought here from Washington State and New York, and the Mutsu-Crispin, a Japanese variety that is light green to yellow in color, with a delicate spicy taste, having the barest hint of anise.

I thought of this saying - which is applicable to all ages and arenas of - when I received a letter from Josie Tajer who submitted a Winner Dinner in response to my request last spring for meals children could prepare themselves.

The mother of two grown children, Tajer submitted a family favorite recipe her kids had been making since they were 10 years old. She wrote that in order for them to feel at home in the kitchen they were given the privilege of cooking a complete dinner once a month. As her children were involved in Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and trying to earn their cooking badges, they were excited about this opportunity.

She admitted she had to endure some interesting dishes, such as microwaved lettuce, and chicken with a few feathers still on, but palatable or not, the meals were eaten, and it was wonderful for her children to learn

For the first two years, Tajer would be around to gently supervise, but as her children became more experienced and proficient, they were able to, by and large, take over the kitchen. Today, her older son is married and has turned into quite an adventurous cook. Her daughter is completing her last year of college and also can prepare many delicious meals, including this week's Winner Dinner, which she can make and serve in less than one hour.

NOW THAT her children are grown, Tajer has more time to devote to freelance writing, and she does articles that have been published in various women's magazines and area newspapers. Having started writing on a regular basis since she was in fifth grade, Tajer took a Writer's Digest correspondence course in the early '80s and, to date, has written several books for chil-

Small yet special production from Burgundy

Burgundy is not France's largest wine region, but it is its most fabled. The legendary aspects may cloud our view of the region's relatively small wine production.

The region's premium acreage, the Cote d'Or, is 30 miles long. Annual wine production is about one-tenth that of Bordeaux.

Burgundy's major white wine is produced from chardonnay, while the reds are made from pinot noir.

Just over 200 years ago, the French Revolution wrought the single most important transfiguration on Burgundy's vineyards. The vineyards were confiscated from church and monastery ownership and put to piecemeal auction. Today, the system of small ownership prevails. The great vineyards remain intact as appellations, but they are divided among multiple proprietors.

Cote d'Or wines are classified as grand cru, premier cru and village wines. The quantity of grand cru Burgundy wines cannot possibly satisfy world demand for the wines from this region. In recent years, prices of Burgundy wines have escalated in double-digit percentages

Burgundy's system of labeling the region's wines is dependent on geography. If you are not familiar with this geography, the easiest way to select good wines is by the name of the producer of the producer of the producer. the producer or the shipper. Below, we discuss several reputable producers and recommend a wine from Maison Louis Jadot was founded in 1859 by the man whose name it bears. Two succeeding generations of Jadots built the company reputa-tion. In 1962, when Louis Auguste Jadot died, survived only by his wife, she appointed Andre Gagey as managing director.

The winery is in the heart of Beaune, where technical director Jacques Lardiere oversees three cellars, one of which dates back to 1477. In contrast, the most recent cellar, completed in 1986, is ultra high-tech.

In 1880, Joseph Drouhin bought the business rights of a wine firm founded in 1756 and bestowed his name on the enterprise. Today, Robert Drouhin, third-generation family member, leads the Burgundy house standing at the center of the old part of Beaune within the inner circle of the ancient Roman fortifications.

John Mongeard represents the eighth generation of his family to produce wines at Domaine Mongeard-Mugneret in the Cote de Nuits. He is a distinguished proprietor, producing barely 10,000 cases annually of outstanding wines from a host of appellations in which his family owns small vineyard parcels.

"When a proprietor works his own land, there is a conscientiousness that cannot be achieved by hiring people as the large negotiants are forced to do," Mongeard said. "I'm not saying that all small producers in Burgundy make top wines. Hard work and dedication are complementary to the knowledge of the vineyards and how to make the bourg, where 100 percent new-barrel toasty oak enriches the fruit components of the wine. "This wine is always powerful and round," Mongeard said. "The fruit can support the tannin of young wood. The terroir is the difference in quality for Richebourg."

At Domaine Louis Trapet, Jean Trapet is the fifth generation to direct this prestigious estate whose beginning dates to 1680 in the village of Chambolle-Musigny.

Until the end of the 1940s, Louis Trapet sold his harvest in barrels to the local Burgundy trade. In the early 1950s, the Domaine began bottling small quantities. For the last decade and a half, the entire production of 7,500 cases has been Domaine bottled and 50 percent is exported. The portion remaining in France is coWINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK mid-17th century. The family castle in Serrigny is the site of wine production today by the seventh-generation Prince de Merode.

Wines from an average of 28-yearold vines, with a total production less than 4,000 cases annually, have been estate bottled since 1959.

"To make quality Burgundy wines, the proprietor must know the terroir," claims Prince de Merode. This is the distinct advantage of ownership and wine production for a few manageable vineyard parcels.

The next step is to bring the sugar, corn syrup, water and cinnamon stick to a boil. This is easy. Boil for four minutes. This is easy too.

Using a candy thermometer, in-sert the tip into the bubbling sugar mixture. This is usually where the first burn will occur, especially if it's boiling too hard.

No matter what happens, you are not allowed to stir the mixture once it begins to boil. Again, this is some cardinal sin contrived by chefs who didn't want to dirty another spoon. Supposedly, stirring will make the syrup grainy.

Keep inserting the candy thermometer until the temperature reaches 280 degrees. It is at this point that the boiling sugar mixture will increase temperature at dramatic levels. Don't even think of burning yourself now, for you have crossed a point of no return.

Once the thermometer reads 290 degrees (also called "hard crack" stage) you can remove the pot and place it over another pot with a little hot water in it. This will hold the

2 kinds of squash paired

The following recipe is from the article "Straightening Out Squash" in the September issue of Gourmet magazine.

This dish has a satisfyingly creamy center and crusty finish.

CRISP SQUASH GRATIN I small garlic clove, minced 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon all-purose flour

1/2 teaspoon dried summer savory, sage, or marjoram, crumbled 1 teaspoon coarse kosher salt 2 % pounds Calabaza or Butternut squash, halved, the seeds and strings chunks, peeled, and cut into 34-inch dice (about 6 cups) 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil

In a small bowl combine well the garlic, the flour, the summer savory, the salt and pepper to taste. In a well-oiled, 2-quart shallow baking dish toss the squash with the flour mixture, coating it evenly, drizzle the squash mixture with 1 tablespoon of the oil, and toss it well. Drizzle the remaining tablespoon oil over the mixture, cover the dish tightly with foil, and cut 3 slits in the foil for steam vents. Bake the squash mixture in the upper third of a preheated 325 degree oven for 40 minutes, remove the foil, and toss the mixture gently. Increase the heat to 400 degrees and bake the squash mixture, uncovered, for 40 minutes more, or until it is browned lightly.

Brushing canola oil prevents foods from sticking on grill

fruit tastes better when it's cooked on the grill. To prevent these foods from sticking, brush canola oil on the grill's surface before cooking.

Shrimp should always be grilled in their shells for two to three minutes to retain moisture. For clams, oysters and mussels, spread them out on the grill and cover, leaving the top and bottom vents half open. Their shells will pop when done, about five to 15 minutes

To ensure your shellfish are fresh, check that the shells are tightly closed before cooking. For added flavor, marinate shrimp in a Cajun or light barbecue marinade.

Other suggestions: • For a mild flavor, marinate poultry and meats for 30 minutes prior to cooking. Use extra marinade to baste food while grilling. This will keep the meats from drying out. For

Yogurt cheese a neat snack

Ruete saves Salem; Chiefs at their best

Sarah Ruete is considered the "go-to" player when the Plymouth Salem girls basketball team needs a big play.

The senior wing came through Wednesday night, making two free throws with seven seconds remaining, as the Rocks averted an upset at Northville, 34-32.

The Mustangs got a pair of three-point baskets from Karen Pump and then Kate Holstein in the last minute to force a tie.

Yolanda Jackson, who led Salem with 14 points, missed two free throws, but Ruete grabbed the rebound on the second shot, also was fouled and sank both attempts.

"Northville is playing very well right now," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "They played us very, very tough."

Ruete finished with nine points for the Rocks, 2-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 6-2 overall. Holstein had a game-high 15 points.

Thomann had praise for the play of Christy Parmucha, who took over at point guard when Betsy McAlister suffered a hyper-ex-tended knee at the start of the second half.

"(Parmucha) made four free throws in the fourth quarter that put us in command of the game, and she did a nice job of leading our team," Thomann said.

Parmucha's play showed what depth the Rocks have. McAlister was a replacement at point guard when returning starter Kelly Austin was injured earlier in the season.

"When McAlister went down, we had just gone three buckets on them, and we were on a nice little roll," Thomann said. "But she went down, and we had to adjust again. "That's been the story of our season. We get somebody healthy again and we lose somebody else. We're not playing real well right now, but we managed to find a way to win at the end - and that was nice."

PLYMOUTH CANTON started fast and maintained the pace Thursday for an impressive, 55-40 victory over visiting Walled Lake Central in girls basketball.

The Chiefs, 2-0 in the WLAA and 4-3 overall, got in front 18-6 after one quarter and were ahead 30-21 and 44-33 at the end of the next two.

Canton allowed only six first-half field goals - three in each quarter - but sent the Vikings to the line in the second quarter where they made nine free throws.

"We were hacking a little bit in the second quarter, and that's one of the things we have to cut down on," said Canton coach Bob Blohm, who was pleased by an otherwise solid showing by his team.

"We were more focused and got more help on the ball than we have all year," he said. "We didn't turn the ball over, and we got good shots. That was real positive."

Sophomore center Stephanie Gray scored 16 points to lead the Chiefs. Julie Nicastri had 12, Mary Barna 10 and Kelly Holmes nine. Nicastri and Holmes also did a great job on the boards, according to Blohm.

Cindy Muha led the Vikings with 13 points, and Jenny Czach had 10. But Karyn Kozlowski, who was shadowed by Barna, was held to six points.

Blohm also had praise for the play of guard Kris Ford, who gave the Chiefs a lot of good minutes off the bench, he said.

"They're a pressure team and like to utilize their quickness," Blohm said, "and Kris Ford helped to stabilize and negate that part of their game."

Canton made 11 of 14 free throws in the game. Central was 12-of-23.

The win evened the Hawks' record at 3-3 overall; they are 2-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference's Red Division. Plymouth Christian is 6-2 overall, 1-1 in the Red Division.

Huron Valley trailed 34-30 with 20 seconds left when Mayworm got loose on a breakaway. On the Eagles' next possession, Mayworm stole the ball and was fouled. She hit two free throws to knot the score.

A traveling call against Plymouth Christian gave the ball back to Huron Valley, and with two seconds left Mayworm sank a 10footer for the win. She finished with 13 points and nine rebounds. Sandi Dengel had nine points.

Canton grinds out 26-0 win over Patriots By Dan O'Meara

On a night suitable only for the football basics, Plymouth Canton stayed on the ground Friday and churned out a 26-0 victory over Livonia Franklin.

Playing in the rain and mud at Centennial Educational Park, the Chiefs outrushed Franklin 209-93 and scored the first two times they had the ball to establish a game-long advantage.

Canton is 3-1 overall and 1-1 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. The Patriots are 0-4 and 0-2.

"The conditions were in their favor," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said, referring to the heavy rush applied by Franklin's big linemen. "But we thought we had things we could do that would hurt them — and it did."

Canton's offensive options included the triple-threat attack employing Karl Wukie, Chris James and Jason Riggs.

RIGGS SCORED the first two TDs on a 6-yard run and 20-yard pass from Wukie, who attempted only eight passes and completed three for 66 yards. Riggs was the leading rusher with 73 yards on 11 carries.

James was the workhorse in the first half, hitting the middle of the line for 54 yards and finishing the game with 10 carries and 68 yards. Wukie added

"They were up there jamming us with nine people on the line," Khoenle said, "and we thought we could do some things on the outside.

"We kept them honest with James inside, and we had Wukie going outside, running or throwing. In the second half, we just went to someone else when they shut down Chris. We have the option of going to Wukie or Riggs, and the triple option is hard to stop.'

The Chiefs went 58 yards in nine plays on their first possession, and Riggs scooted the last 6 at 5:21 in the first period.

The Patriots had a drive stall at the Canton 28-yard line, and the Chiefs needed 10 plays to reach the end zone again with 7:59 left in the half. Riggs

Hister carries Salem past Falcons, 29-2

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Leon Hister made things happen Saturday afternoon at a time when the Plymouth Salem football team needed an energy source.

The junior tailback responded with 209 yards rushing and three second-half touchdowns to pull the Rocks out of the offensive doldrums and overcome a stubborn Farmington defense, 29-2.

Salem is 1-1 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association and 2-2 overall. The Falcons are 0-2 and 0-4. The second-half heroics by Hister belie the difficulty the Rocks had offensively until late in the game. Salem was held to 9 yards and had no first downs in the first quarter while Farmington grabbed a 2-0

"I don't think we came to play in the first half," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "The defense did a pretty good job, but the offense went down hill. We just stumbled around and wallowed around.

"I'M NOT real happy with our performance today. I think the Farmington kids came to play, and I think they're doing a great job with those kids."

Hister reversed that in the second half, however, when he rushed for 131 yards. He sprinted for TDs twice on first down, going 22 yards with 2:05 left in the third quarter and 37 yards at 7:38 in the finale.

In between, he had a 1-yard scoring run early in the fourth period as the Farmington defense appeared to wear down.

"We went back to what has been good for us," Moshimer said. "We went back to more triple option in the second half, and we did a much better job of executing.

'We're a two-platoon football team, and that's why we have good second halves against people. I wish we'd come out and play a first half once in a while."

Farmington scored a first-quarter safety after Todd Wight's 72-yard punt pinned Salem at its 1-yard line.

BUT THE Rocks held Farmington and came back with a 64-yard drive that featured five carries by Hister and concluded with Tebben's 9-yard end run for a 6-2 half-

The Falcons, who were outrushed 287-131 and outgained 315-187, drove to the Salem 19 on their next series, but Wight's halfback pass was intercepted - one of four thrown by three Farmington players - in the end zone by Ed Gundry.

Farmington coach Bernie Call blamed himself for calling that play.

"I told myself, walking out on the field, 'Don't do it again,' " he said. "I did the same thing last week (against Livonia Stevenson), and a kid intercepted it and went 93 yards for a touchdown.

Trailing only 6-2, the Falcons made a great goal-line stand in the third quarter, forcing Tebben to throw an incomplete pass on fourth down at the Farmington 4.

BUT THE Falcons failed to get a first down, and Salem got the ball at the Farmington 22 following the punt. Hister ran for his first TD on first down, and the game was never the same after that.

Cosenza paces Rocks, 6-1

Andy Cosenza had been helping others do the scoring for Plymouth Salem's soccer team until Wednesday.

The senior forward, who has 10 assists, also became the team's leading scorer with a three-goal performance in helping the Rocks shoot down Walled Lake Cen-

Cosenza, who raised his season total to seven goals, scored all three in the second half to assure No. 6-rated Salem of the victory

The Rocks are 2-0 in the Lakes Division and 8-1 overall. The Vikings are 2-2 and 3-2. Salem led 2-0 at halftime on goals by Ryan Fitzpatrick and Ryan Kramer Fitzpatrick, who scored the only goal in Salem's 1-0 win over Plymouth Canton on Monday, got his goal the same way he did two nights earlier. Chris Lajoy made a long throw, which was headed by Cosenza. The rebound went to Fitzpatrick, who drilled the shot while the ball was in the air. Matt Cook scored the Rocks' other second-half goal off a direct kick. The Vikings scored with three minutes left in the game before Cosenza added an unassisted Brad Fisch had two assists for Salem and Fitzpatrick one. Joe Nunez is next in line after Cosenza in scoring with five goals and four assists followed by Fisch with five and two, respectively. Salem goalkeeper Derek Olson was unscored on Wednesday and, based on his 630 minutes played, has seven-plus shutouts this year. He has allowed one goal in nine games. Salem coach Ken Johnson announced the Rocks will compete in the Redford Union district tournament next month with the Panthers, Dearborn, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Garden City, Livonia Churchill, Livonia Franklin and Canton

PLYMOUTH CANTON came to life late in Wednesday's soccer game with Walled Lake Western and defeated the Warriors 4-1.

The Chiefs scored three goals in the last seven minutes to break a 1-1 tie and finish with a strong perform-

Canton is 2-1 in the Western Division and 5-4 overall. The game was scoreless at halftime, but Michael Presley gave the Chiefs the lead with a successful penalty kick in the second half. Western tied the score with nine minutes remaining, and that's when Canton picked up the pace.

"After they scored, I think (the Canton players) really got scared," Canton coach Don Smith said. "I think they thought 'Oh, gosh, we're going to let a team beat us that shouldn't do that.

"They turned it up about two notches. They didn't let anything get out, and they kept peppering their goal. They really turned it up. I hope they know what they did, and I hope they carry it into the big games.'

Canton's pressure following the Western goal resulted in consecutive goals by Chris Hayes, and Mike Wdowiak accounted for the final goal. Ray Rogissart, Geoff Eisenlord and Craig Miller assisted on one goal each for the Chiefs. Smith compared the game to Monday's 1-0 loss to Salem, which the Rocks dominated but without the goals to show for it and, therefore, allowed Canton to

'We had a lot of shots and couldn't put anything in," Smith said. "(The Warriors) kept hanging around and hanging around."

DLS maintains hold on CC

Redford Catholic Central's brand new soccer uniforms didn't look so new Friday, after the Shamrocks' 3-1 loss to Warren DeLaSalle.

Playing in the rain and mud at Bell Creek Park, CC brought out its new attire, but couldn't shake an old nemesis: DeLaSalle, which has now won three of the last four meetings between the two schools.

'We play a ball-oriented offense and it was terrible trying to get the ball on the ground today," CC jun-ior Kerry Zavagnin said. "I love these new uniforms, but it's going to take a lot to get these clean."

He's right on both accounts. DeLaSalle scored once in the first half and took a 3-0 lead midway through the second half en route to winning its seventh game against one loss. The Pilots, who beat CC last year in the Catholic League Final, are 3-0 in the Cen-

THE SHAMROCKS, meanwhile, slipped to 4-2-2 overall, and 2-1 in the Central Division. CC coach

John Boots already is looking forward to the next meeting between the two teams, Oct. 9 at DeLaSalle, when he hopes to see sunny skies and a dry playing field.

Besides losing the game, the Shamrocks also lost defender Matt McIntosh, who injured his nose in a second-half collision with a De-LaSalle player.

"It's like everyone has got skis on," said Boots, commenting on Friday's conditions. "It's pitiful. We like to pass and keep the ball on the ground. We look for exact passing, and it's almost impossible to do in this weather.

This was not to our advantage. (But) honestly, I'm not worried at all. We just try to get better each game and do something positive."

Three different players scored for the Pilots, who might not have been bothered as much by the playing conditions. Playing CC was weather, according to coach Terry 'We've always had pretty good luck against CC, even in the days of Andy Rama (a former CC player in the mid-1980s)," Mukhtar said. "Our team gets so fired up for them. Of course, before the game, I make CC sound like a college team.

"FOR US TO win we had to stop their big guns - and we did that until the last 10 minutes - and we had to force their defense to make mistakes. Both teams are extremely well-coached. When I play against Boots, it's like a chess match. He makes a move and I counter-move.

CC's first mistake came in the first half when DeLaSalle's Tim Hardy caught up to a long pass from Marcus Cudnik and punched the ball past CC goalkeeper Tim Bobar for a 1-0 lead. The Pilots took a 2-0 lead midway through the second half on a goal by senior Brian Maisonneuve, his 11th of the year.

staff writer

No big adjustments were needed. No major

Instead, Schoolcraft College men's soccer coach Van Dimitriou gave some very simple, very basic advice to his team after a scoreless first half in Saturday's showdown against visiting Macomb Community College.

"All I said was concentrate on keeping the ball on the ground," said Dimitriou. "Their backs were much bigger than we were, and with the wind, I thought that would be to our advantage."

Indeed it would. In fact, such an adjustment seemed obvious. "That's the nature of the beast." said Dimitriou. "It can be difficult to tell an entire team something like that while play is going on."

SC did reorganize at the break, though. It showed in the first few seconds of the second half. The Ocelots took the kickoff and put together a half-dozen passes - seemingly more than they completed in the entire first half - in a streak that ended with Chris Crawford punching the ball into the net for the game's first score.

SC ADDED a goal in the closing minutes to post a 2-0 victory, putting the Ocelots one up in the annual home-and-home series that always decides hard shot by Justin Nevarez.

who will represent Region 12 at the National Junior College Athletic Association Inter-regional

This pivotal win can be chalked up to experience. For the most part, it was the sophomores who made the difference for SC. Two in particular came to the forefront: sweeper Dave Dinglie and forward Khaled Zeidan.

Dinglie was, in a word, unbeatable. He was the glue of the Ocelot defense and - in a first half that could have been disastrous for SC - he was the difference.

Macomb had the better of the play during the opening 45 minutes. But Dinglie filled his role as the last line of defense in front of the keeper by defusing almost every Monarch offensive thrust before it reached the dangerous stage.

Those Dinglie didn't ruin, it should be noted, freshman keeper Scott Hauman was equal to. Hauman made a diving save on a direct free kick in the early stages of the match and another on a tempt bounced to Edson Zapata, but Zapata's put-back — Macomb's best chance to tie the match —

With time slipping away, Monarch coach Mick Lakatos knew more offensive pressure was going to be needed. Which, of course, meant more gaps in Macomb's defense — and considering the prob-lems Zeidan had been causing (he and Bob Hayes assisted on Crawford's goal), such a move would

But Zeidan had been misfiring. SC's best scor-ing chance in the first half ended with the Livonia Churchill grad whiffing on a point-blank shot. With less than 20 minutes remaining in the match, another Zeidan shot was deflected wide.

There were seven minutes left when Zeidan got loose down the left side and was tripped just outside the penalty area. Jeff VanDemergel took the indirect free kick, tipping the ball to Zeidan — who looped it over Macomb's defensive wall for the goal.

The victory improved SC's record to 5-1-1 overall, 3-0 in the region — a game ahead of Macomb (2-1). Which is just where Dimitriou wanted to be in the driver's seat.

Maisonneuve, one of the state's top seniors, scored the goal when he headed a pass from Dale Baginski into the CC net, shortly after a goal kick by CC. Boots, upset by the Shamrocks inability to clear the ball out of their zone, gave some of the credit to his players for the goal.

"We had an assist on that goal," he said. "We don't think sometimes."

Brian Fulton finished DeLaSalle's scoring later in the second half, giving the Pilots a commanding, 3-0 lead. CC's only goal came with about 10 min-utes left when Brendan Sullivan re-directed a corner kick by Zavagnin into DeLaSalle's net.

The goal was one of the few bright spots for the Shamrocks, who used three strikers - Sullivan, Rich Walosz and Dana Orsucci - instead of one to try to generate more offense in the mud.

BOOTS THOUGHT the ploy worked — but not for long.

"I thought we completely dominated the first 20 minutes, then they scored the cheap goal and we lost concentration," he said. "Sullivan is normally my sweeper back but I'm pretty creative and I was trying to generate something. You have only so much space and you try to fill it the best way you

For a team with a strong tradition in NCAA Division I-AA football, Holy Cross College got off to a slow start - 0-1-1. But with performances like the one turned in by junior cornerback Chris Kovath (Redford Catholic Central) in a 24-7 loss to Army Sept. 15, that's bound to change.

Kovath had a career-best 19 tackles and forced a fumble. For the season, Kovath has 22 tackles . . .

Mazzoni hit 21-of-29 passes for 251 yards and two touchdowns against Heidelberg. For the season, he is 26-of-48 (54.2 percent) for 366 yards, with three TDs and two interceptions. Adrian improved to 2-0 by edging Defiance College 7-6, with Mazzoni firing a 66-yard scoring strike to Richard Benson.

Injuries part of bowling, too

· This week's Ten Pin Personality is Ken Lauterbach. To a lot of bowling people, Lauterbach is known as "Mr. Bruns wick." He started out as a "Floor boy" in a bowling center back in Lincoln, Neb., and worked his way up to the manager.

Lauterbach was on the University of Nebraska bowling team for four years and has worked for Brunswick for 15 years as an area sales manager. A talent-ed bowler, Lauterbach averaged 195 last season in the Sunnybrook Business and Industrial League. No company can prosper without good representation and Lauterbach has been instrumental in the successs of Brunswick's bowling division.

He also is this year's honorary chairman of the "Make a Wish" Charity Bowling Tournament and auction on Sept. 30 and Oct. 7 at Astro Lanes (14 Mile Road and Dequindre). This is to benefit terminally ill children. Lauterbach also has helped handicapped bowlers, encouraged and instructed many to get involved in bowling.

"Bowling has always been very special to me, so I've always tried to give some thing back," he said. Lauterbach would like to see more "Learn to Bowl" instructional programs, to teach people the basic fundamentals, and help more bowlers improve their game.

Q. I am 89 years old and my wife is 87. We live in Detroit. We would like to be able to go to a senior center for meals and companionship but we have no way of getting to the center. Do any of them offer trans-portation? We are in good health, but I can no longer drive.

A. Many Detroit senior centers will provide transportation to and from the center sites. Most centers offer hot meals, usually at noon time, and a variety of activities for older adults. Some senior centers also offer transportation for shopping, medical visits and even some special senior entertainment trips. Fees, if any, for the transportation are determined by the individual sites. Meals are usually offered on a donation basis but no one is refused a meal. There is usually a small charge for social trips. For the names of the centers closest to your home, call the Detroit Health Department at 876-4559 Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Q. My husband will soon be released from the hospital. I cannot care for him alone at home and my family lives in other states. I will need help before he comes home and I don't know how to go about arranging for assistance.

A. Most hospitals offer discharge planning which assists patients and families prepare for health and

Q. I will soon be able to apply for Medicare and am interested in purchasing a supplemental insurance policy that will cover the medical services and expenses that Medicare does not. Where can I get unbiased information to learn about the best protection I can buy for my money?

A. Since everyone's needs and economics are different, the first thing be your future needs before buying a supplemental health care policy. Your local Social Security office has an informative free publication entitled "Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare." This pamphlet explains supplemental insurance and how to go about investigating the available policies. In addition, the booklet contains the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the Michigan State Insurance De-partment and the Office of Services to the Aging. These agencies will provide you with additional information that will help you make your decision about buying additional medical insurance protection. You should make certain, however, that the policy you are considering purchasing does not duplicate the protection you will receive from Medicare. Duplicate protection is not only unnecessary but costly.

Only one other environment is as well suited for the development of a healthy child.

The womb is a unique and nearly perfect environment. Designed specifically by Mother Nature for a developing child's needs. And dedicated solely to that child's well-being.

To those in the health care field, however, it presents a most difficult act to follow:

But on September 25th, the University of Michigan will open the doors of what may be the most complete and innovative health care environment outside a mother's womb. The Maternal and Child Health Center.

Here, four nationally known hospitals have been integrated under one roof: C.S. Mott Children's Hospital; Women's Hospital; James and Lynelle Holden Perinatal Hospital, and the Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Hospital.

All their combined skills will work to meet the specific needs of each individual patient. Pregnant women and new mothers. Infants, children and teenagers

Antiques and lace: A B&B experience

By John Monaghan special writer

Monday, September 24, 1990 O&E

Time was, you had to drive three or four hours to reach a favorite bed-and-breakfast destination. Now, as three inns in Detroit, Northville and Milford have proven the B&B experience is getting closer to your own backvard.

Located off Jefferson Avenue near Belle Isle, The Blanche House Inn counts Coleman Young and other prominent Detroiters among its neighbors. The eightroom inn has experienced great success, especially with business travellers.

"A lot of them look for a way to break from the impersonal chain hotel," said innkeeper Mary Jean Shannon."They come here for the personality. We remember their names, often become good friends, and provide all the amenities of a hotel — and more."

Mary Jean and her son Sean both had nine-to-five jobs before purchasing the 1905 Blanche House and the 1898 "castle" next door. She was an interior decorator for properties on Mackinac Island. He was a budget analyst at Chrysler.

The renovation has been a labor of love for the Shannons, who appreciate Detroit's historic architecture.

"We basically did all the work on The Blanche House ourselves," Sean said. "On the castle renovation, I'm more of a general contractor."

THE EXTERIOR and landscaping have been low priorities, so you may be disappointed when approaching the tatty lawn and peeling paint of The Blanche House's colonial revival facade. Walking inside, however, you will find an exquisitely decorated inn.

Paintings, prints, and fresh flowers accent the antique-filled guest rooms, many named for Detroit historical figures. The Stanton Canal River Room, after original owner Marvin Stanton, is one of two rooms affording a riverside view. The Snuggery, the third-floor suite, offers pastel-colored, hand-painted murals, a house-warming gift executed by a Kentucky cousin of the Shannons. This is the priciest room at $105 per night. All rooms include full breakfast with fresh fruit, juice, baked goods and an entree, perhaps quiche, French toast or cheese strata. Restoration is in full force at the castle, which architect Louis Kamper patterned after a castle in Ireland. The Shannons hope to have guest rooms open by fall. On the weekends, scaffolding and paint brushes are set quets on its first floor. Both homes were once part of the Detroit University School, which counted G. Mennen Williams and members of the Ford family among its pupils. The building served for many years as dentists' offices and apartments. Multiple residential zoning made things a lot easier when the Shannons purchased the home as a prospective inn in 1988.

INNKEEPERS SUSAN Lapine and Don Mroz came up with the initial five-step plan for Northville's Atchison House on the back of a restaurant napkin. Exactly one year later, in July 1988, they opened to guests.

"In between, I spent three months doing research into zoning, feasability, everything," said Lapine. "The city at the time had no idea how to address a bed and breakfast, but they were very helpful in pushing it

She was concerned about the reaction of the neighbors, many of whom opposed the project because of increased traffic downtown.

'We did cold calls," she explained. "We introduced ourselves, said we would soon be neighbors, and told them about our plans."

Today, The Atchison House blends perfectly with the beautifully preserved small town of Northville. The talents of several local designers and architects have

MOVING PICTURES

The "GoodFella" include Ray Liotta as Henry way, Paul Sorvino as Paul Cicero and Joe Pesci Hill (from left), Robert DeNiro as Jimmy Con- as Tommy De Vito.

'GoodFellas' is a good look at mobs and mob violence

Much has been written, and filmed, about family problems these days so here's one about three "GoodFellas" (B+, R, 145 minutes) who live, love and bash people around for their "family," a New York mob.

The title characters - James Conway (Robert DeNiro), Tommy DeVito (Joe Pesci) and Henry Hill (Ray Liotta) - moonlight outside the family as well and perpetrate vi-olence on their own with manic glee. Nice to see guys enjoying their work.

The film centers on Henry Hill, the least despicable of these "Good-Fellas," whose childhood ambition to be a mobster and not wait in line like all the other schnooks in the world is fulfilled when he is accepted into the Cicero family. As announced in the opening credits, "GoodFellas" is pased on a true story including a multi-million dollar heist at Kennedy Airport several years ago.

The Cicero Family, of course, is not organized by conventional familial standards even though it does care for its members, have strong bonds severed only by death and is headed by a patriarch, Paul Cicero (Paul Sorvino).

Sorvino's godfather is a gentleman of great reserve and dignity who, for the most part, speaks only through intermediaries. Often his slow, stately appearance is sufficient to establish authority. So strong are his commitments to family and so well does Sorvino project those commitments that viewers are warmed by the paternal/filial relationships that

But wait a minute.

These guys are murderers and thieves who delight in enforcing their wishes with great and graphically depicted brutality. While it is difficult to fault director Martin Scorsese for telling it like it is presumably - "GoodFellas" is a credible view of mobs and violence characteristic of 20th century urban America. It is possible to question the pleasure he seems to take in presenting gangsters as heroic figures.

"GoodFellas" is what used to be termed a "male movie" - fast and intense action, fighting, brutality and continual gratification of adolescent male desires. Hill takes what he wants and is well-regarded for it. Women are highly traditional figures, sexist stereotypes bearing children, cooking food and providing sexual pleasure.

But the acting, directing, camerawork, music and other production techniques are innovative and so well done that the film is intense and compelling. "GoodFellas" has an attitude which glorifies evil by effectively mixing Runyonesque humor with Auschwitz brutality. While fans of such gangster movies will come away thinking they've gotten their money's worth, they've been sold a bill of shabby goods.

It is indeed indicative of contemporary culture that such goods are well received. The bad guys have become heroic while violence and brutality are lauded as teheniques for achieving success

Mobsters also figure in "Narrow Margin" (B, R, 95 minutes), but from a much more traditional perspective. Gene Hackman's latest film is successful and entertaining - a conventional good D.A. versus the mob vorcee Carol Hunnicut (Anne Archer) accidentally witnesses a underworld execution conducted by Mr. Big, Leo Watts (Harris Yulin). She successfully disappears from Los Angeles and hides out in a cabin in the Canadian Rockies.

Assistant District Attorney Robert Caufield (Hackman) tracks her down to convince her that her only chance for survival is testifying against Watts. During that conversation, the mob attacks led by a pretty slick and stylish hitman, Nelson (James B. Sikking).

One of "Narrow Margin's" shortcomings is the overly obvious fact that only two men - Chief Assistant District Attorney Martin Larner (J.A. Preston) and another Assistant D.A., James Dahlbeck (Kevin McNulty) - knew where Caulfield and Sergeant Dominick Benti (M. Emmet Walsh) were headed. That does take the edge off the

One thing and another, Caulfield and Hunnicut escape Nelson's trap and board the train for Vancouver. But so do the bad guys and much of the film is an exciting cat-andmouse game of hiding on the train as it travels through "breathtaking vis-

'Dreams:' An interpretation

special writer

Japanese director Akira Kurosawa is no stranger to the hypnotic poser of dreams. Several of the films he's made over the past five decades have had the effect of existing in another world — a dream state.

In his latest project, "Dreams," the director depicts seven dreams he's had at various stages in his life. While full of memorable moments, it should be viewed more out of respect for the venerable director than for its merits as great entertain-confronted by life-sized visions of his sisters' dolls. They perform a strange dance, full of color and raining flower petals, that pays homage to the orchard that once thrived IN "THE Blizzard," mountainmen must wrestle with a beautiful vision of death, whose long black hair swirls in the wind. The later episodes - in which a counters bizarre situations - stress environmental concerns and the futility of war. Dream characters comment time and again that "people are so stupid." Not since the '60s has a major director worn his causes so openly on his sleeve.

As in the highly personal "Dersu Uzala" in 1974, the vignettes here lack the power Kurosawa can display with a strong narrative. This isn't to say that there aren't moments here that rank visually among Kurosawa's best work.

When Jesus Jones begins its first tour of the United States, band member Mike Andrews will be content just to skate by.

Not on stage, that is, but rather on the street. Along with Jesus Jones' keyboard player Barry D, the techno-beat Brit is quite the avid skateboarder.

"Your architecture, your streets . they scream to be skateboarded on," said Andrews, whose band performs Friday, Sept. 28, at Saint Andrew's Hall in Detroit. "I'm packing my board right now in

What the Beach Boys are to surfing, Jesus Jones' street boys could be to house music - big. The fiveman outfit has a sound encompassing heavy metal, dance and punk music — all through sampling.

The band's debut LP "Liquidizer" (SBK) has been lauded for merging many musical elements - most notably hip-hop and metal while retaining some melodic quality.

And, unlike other groups that snarl at comparisons to other bands, Jesus Jones loves them.

"The more, the better," Andrews said. "We've been compared to some ludicrous people . . . Freddie and the Dreamers, Duran Duran. It makes me feel good because we're getting such wild ones we must be doing something right."

TO REFER to Jesus Jones as retrospective is a misnomer; to call the outfit futuristic doesn't appeal to members either.

Jesus Jones — Barry D, Gen, Mike Edwards, Jerry De Borg and Al Jaworski — has a sound encompassing heavy metal, dance and punk music.

Andrews said the latter conjures up images of the 1950s where artist conceptions produced some ridiculous artifacts — such as cars that drive themselves and Jetsonesque city models.

JJ's music is very much in the present, Andrews contends, in-spired by the house music phenomenon gripping English cities such as Manchester. So comparisons to Pop Will Eat Itself or Wonder Stuff might be more in line.

Everything starts with a beat with Jesus Jones. Then Edwards pulls out the guitar and begins providing some type of structure or pop hook. Lyrics go on the top.

Strip those things from the core and you have dance music, he said.

"It's really a fun band," said Mon-

Jesus Jones has found it has been worth the wait. The group formed in October 1988 and signed with British Indie Food Records two months later.

The group's first single, "Info Freako," reached No. 42 on the BBC charts. Jesus Jones went on to release two other Top 50 singles, 'Never Enough" and "Bring it on

FACELESS WORLD - U.D.O.

Fasten your seatbelt, this one rocks. The latest CD from the German heavy metal group U.D.O. is called "Faceless World," and it's energy packed.

The opening song "Heart of Gold" is probably the best of the 12 on the album, and it sets the pace for the rest of the package. The singer Udo Dirkschneider's raspy vocal quality sounds almost like an imitation of Ronnie James Dio. Fans of U.D.O. might remember him from his former band Accept. Some of the other songs like "Blitz of Lightning" and "System of Life" sound a lot like early Judas Priest. There happens to be much more variety here as compared to the band's other two releases. Guitarists Mathias Dieth and Wolla Bohm rip out some electrifying Van Halen style guitar riffs in "Stranger," then tone it down nicely in "Unspoken Words." Much of the remaining cuts on the disc sounds like some vintage AC/ DC. This one has a little something to offer the veteran headbanger as well as the novice.

U.D.O. is a band born in Wuppertal, West Germany, and has developed its sound throughout the years from music influences in the U.S. as well as Europe. Their sound is very typical of the heavy metal scene today, but it is the diversity of this CD that is quite refreshing.

OK, so this band rips off Van Halen a little here, and Rainbow a little there. But lets be honest, nowadays bands do that all the time. The key is to incorporate other artists qualities and nurture your own at the same time. I think U.D.O. is doing just that. They seem to have put their own trademark into this package, enough to make it interesting.

Faceless World is clearly a step in the right direction for this band, it has bite to it. Also, you might like to know the lyrics to all the songs are included.

All you heavy rockers will want to give this one a try.

RITUAL DE LO HABITUAL — Jane's Addiction

Yes, this is that album, the one that was causing so much trouble for the owners of Off the Record. The point of contention was the album cover which shows three people who aren't wearing very many clothes.

Apparently, Perry Farrell, singer and creative leader of the band, anticipated sort of a backlash to the cover (or he remembers the uproar over "Nothing's Shocking") because inside the album, there is a little pamphlet in which he writes, in part, 'I used to wish sometimes that I was a woman. A woman is the most attractive creature nature has to offer a man. Why then is it a shame to see her unclothed? I feel more shame as a man watching a quick-mark being

But on to the music. "Ritual" is a toned-down and more melodic effort. Roughly, side one is the "fast" side and side two the "slow." Oddly, the slower side is the more interesting because it gives us Jane's Addiction trying out some new styles, instead of their usual loud 'n fast vari-

"Then She Did" finds Farrell and the gang sounding quite a bit like Yes. It's a long, meandering song with plenty of '70s "art rock" flour-ishes. Farrell's high-pitched voice adds to the general Yesness of the

"Of Course" is even more experimental. It's sound is vaguely Middle Eastern and is set to an uncommon waltz-like tempo - one, two, three, One, two . . . pumped-up guitars and apocalyptic vocals. Unfortunately (or fortunately, depending on your point of view), the band sounds disconcertingly like Rush on several of the songs.

Still, the album is a step forward for the band. The album was familiar-sounding stuff for old fans but also shows the band trying out some new styles, sounds and song structures. With "Ritual De Lo Habitual," Jane's Addiction proves that they still have a few tricks up their sleeves.

GRAFFITI BRIDGE — Prince

Critics are hailing this latest Prince project as a return to the good ole' days of "1999" and "Purple Rain" and, you know what, they might just be right this time. "Graffiti Bridge" lacks most of the flowerchild psychedelia that bogged down records like "Around the World in a Day" and reminds us of why we all liked Prince in the first place - because he can make some killer dance music.

"Graffiti Bridge" is sort of a hoedown of funk music. For this effort, His Purpleness brings in some old friends like the infamous Morris Day and the Time, throws a few women into the mix like Tevin Campbell and Mavis Staples and even has the king of the funkmeisters himself, George Clinton, on the song "We Can Funk."

His reunion with the Time is one of the best parts of this album. The songs featuring the Time are heavily laced with references to their past hits. Remember Grace? Or Morris Day's crazed cackle? Well, you'll get plenty of reminders throughout this album, especially on "The Latest Fashion." (For those of you who aren't as hip as Prince, the latest fashion is, of course, passion.) "The Latest Fashion" is a sort of medley of old Time tunes like "The Bird" and "Jungle Love" all set to a new Prince chorus

This is funk at its funkiest and most of the rest of the album is just as good. Often Prince's albums seem to be made in a musical vacuum because they usually don't reflect what is currently going on on other funk horizons but on "Graffiti Bridge," he seems to have finally noticed what his peers are up to. The album has several Technotronic-type tunes and even a bit of rap here and there.

Two songs — "Still Would Stand All Time" and "Graffiti Bridge" are lesser efforts because they fall back into Prince's old preachy/religious pattern. But that doesn't matter because they're at the end of the album. So just ignore them and enjoy the rest.

Hey, Prince, welcome back.

"Narrow Margin" has too many long shots of the train traveling through the terrific scenery. What that does, along with a number of slow fades to black, is reduce the intensity of the chase and continually draw the audience back and away from the action. Since there's little mystery and no romance, the action needs constant emphasis.

As well the film concludes with a little too much hokum but nonetheless is entertaining and worth an evening's trip to the movies.

Dear Peter, I don't know what your problem is with women. As a generalization, men who love their mothers protect and support their wives. The picture that you present is hardly one of love. I have a slew of questions which I could ask in a clinical setting, but not in a column.

Often, people who are unaware of their emotions on a moment-tomoment basis store up anger. The more it is buried, the greater the subsequent eruption. What might have been a minor annoyance builds to a major outbreak. The fear of rejection then experienced is called love and stimulates clinging, placating behavior. This is an effort to hang on to the offended parent, partner or friend. It is not love.

Nearly a month has past since Greg St. James' "The Cutting Edge" debuted on CIMX-FM. So far, reports from listeners have been quite favorable.

When we tuned Carolyne Striho in briefly the first week, we kept hearing cuts by late '70s and early '80 pop icons, such as Blondie and Nick Lowe, along with the obligatory number by U2 hardly cutting edge.

Lately, though, we did hear the Sugarcubes' "Birthday" and REM's "Fall on Me" back-to-back, not to mention an excellent tune by local outfit Lost Patrol.

A couple of shows last included an interview with World Party's Karl Wallinger and with Rhythm Corps.

While "The Cutting Edge" provides a welcomed reprieve from the constant onslaught of Phil Collins, Led Zeppelin and Lynard Skynard, it also chronicles commercial radio's greatest failure in the 1980s.

Considering songs recorded in the early to mid-80s by REM, DePeche Mode, the Smiths and the Cure are only now seeing the light of day only thanks to "The Cutting Edge," virtually a whole decade of music has

Penn plus Teller equals magic?

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

He was ripped off, Penn Jillette says in bitter rancor.

The childhood incident, though, undoubtedly would later shape Penn & Teller into one of the most astonishing and entertaining acts on stage today. Also, it's part of the reason why magician is a dirty word to him.

Those are people, in Penn's words. who conjure up images of "greasy guys in tuxedos pushing women around." He wouldn't include Houdini in that crowd.

A magician also happened to be the one who swindled him.

As a child, Penn recalls watching television with his mother when a magician was selling an ESP testing set through the mail. Penn had his parents order the kit.

"I couldn't believe this adult was lying to a 12-year-old boy and was wasting this boy's time with his mother just because he was out to make a buck and because he had no talent," said Penn in a huff. "I felt so betrayed and ripped off, I never got over it.'

One fly-by night magician was so upset, in fact, he took a swing at Penn. There is a method to their madness, however.

"Magic tricks done on stage should be an intellectual endeavor strangely enough," said Penn, who stands 6-foot-6. "You should question this. You should have a chip on your

"David (Letterman) is quite squeamish without which he needs no help from us," said Teller, who is perceived as the quiet one. "We are aware, however, we can exploit that.'

A knife through the hand illusion sent Penn's blood squirting on Letterman, who was shocked and amazed enough to invite the duo back on. It. several appearances since, late n.ght's funnyman has been treated to a cockroach convention on his desk, rodent roulette and leeches going up Teller's sleeve. Teller lets go with one anecdote of how he was "accidentally" sawed in half on stage.

"Penn went too deep," said Teller, with a fiendish laugh. "We had a heart that dropped on stage."

Teller assures that there is little danger involved in such stunts. For their stage show, tricks are developed with audience safety in mind. For example, a bit involving 100,000 bees will be forsaken during the their live show. Again, it all stems to Penn & Teller's undying respect for their audience.

"I BELIEVE if were doing something dangerous, watching us would be an amoral act," Penn said. "It's like a roller coaster ride. There is part of you on the roller coaster that is scared. The more important part is that you know you are safe."

Of course, a lot of planning goes into their work. Teller describes their Manhattan office as an apartment building "heavily populated by hookers." One wall is gray, one is orange and both are decorated by some paintings. With five computers at their disposal, Penn and Teller sit down with white board in hand and talk through the stunt. Teller has the vast knowledge of magic, or as Penn puts it: "Teller brings the trick to the Contrary to their stage persona, it's at these times Teller talks and Penn listens.

"We're very, very different in terms of our personalities," Penn said. "Philosophically and artistically, there isn't anything we don't overlap on."

Stop motion animator Dave Hettmer, 27, of Ann Arbor works on the special effects for a movie in which the lead character dreams that spiders have crawled along his optic nerve and popped up in his brain.

Creating monsters and other FX things

By Greg Kowalski staff writer

Jeff Ginyard is a monster maker.

The 29-year-old hobby shop salesman has a dual career as an expert in movie special effects - FX, as its called in the trade.

Ginyard specializes in model making - often models of creatures that like to eat people's brains. Yuck! Ginyard was responsible for building the killer robots in the locally produced film "Moontrap." He also animated mini astronauts and built space ships and various contraptions that appeared so lifelike in the film.

"Moontrap," which starred Walter Koenig, known as Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" TV show and movies, opened last year. The film didn't exactly set kind of setting was difficult. box office records. In fact, after its premiere in Ann Arbor, it went straight to video stores. But rentals have been brisk.

"It's really done well," said Mark Schaffer, manager of a Block Buster Video store in West Bloomfield. "A lot of local people knew about the film and were excited to see it.'

And while critics found a few holes in the plot and some painful acting, it's difficult to knock the film's special effects

THESE DAYS, film special effects are at the forefront of movie technology. And for a movie made in a warehouse on Rochester Road in Troy, "Moontrap" holds up quite well.

If you haven't seen the film, here is a brief synopsis: Astronauts on the moon discover a race of robots that are half organic and half machine. The grisly creatures incorporate human bones and muscles into their metallic skeletons. Their goal is to come to the Earth and take

In the process, astronaut Koenig finds a beautiful alien who helps him destroy the robots' invading ship.

"Moontrap" was a challenge to the 12-member FX crew. Working on a budget of about $1.5 million pocket change in Hollywood — the film's producers had to create a movie that would compete with the likes of "RoboCop," "Batman" and "The Abyss," at least in the area of special effects.

There they succeeded. The effects in "Moontrap" are first rate. The film's presentation of the lunar surface closely matches what the Apollo astronauts saw. That was no accident.

"Everyone knows what the moon looks like," said Gary Jones, owner of Acme Special Effects in Mt.

JONES WAS technical director for the movie's special effects. His crew was responsible for creating the killer robots, disembodied heads (one of which became a studio mascot) and other assorted horrors.

Perhaps the greatest problem faced by the FX crew was making the sets look lunar-like. B.K. Taylor, the film's art director, used sand and cement dust to recreate the lunar surface. But making special effects in that "The moonscape is in shades of black and white," Jones said. "You can't hide anything."

Contrast that with interior scenes where aerosol oil can be used to give a misty, glowing atmosphere, almost like a barroom haze. That can't be done on the lunar surface where there is no air to keep a mist airborne,

The huge robots that pop up from the lunar dust also had to stand on their own. Either they looked real or they didn't. They did.

Making scenes look authentic took an enormous amount of effort, said Ginyard.

Working with a tight budget and even tighter deadlines, the FX crew kept a seemingly impossible sched-

"The designers can come up with an idea and expect us to make it in a day . . . Well, sometimes, it takes longer than that for the fiberglass to set," Ginyard ex-

MOST MODELS are made of clay that is coated with fiberglass and baked. Additional pieces, such as for a detailed space ship, come from plastic model kits and can be added to make the final product look real.

Miniature maker Jeff Ginyard, 29, of Detroit stands in an earthquake fissure he created for a dream sequence of a film in the making.

Farmington, 7845 Wyoming, Dearborn, and 17900 E. 10 alien friend approach the giant robot ship where they Mile Road, East Detroit.

"I knew what pieces were available from kits and how we could use them," Ginyard said.

The finished models were equipped with motors and "squibbs" as needed. The motors gave the models limited movement, although a nudge from Ginyard's foot was needed to get a temperamental moon rover roving Squibbs are small explosive charges that are electronically detonated to simulate bullets, or in the case of "Moontrap," blasts from space guns. In any case, the effect is loud, burning and effective.

The film minimized the use of stop-action photograhy, which is used to give models movement, because doing that is expensive.

However, the robots were given a amazingly lifelike movement by filming them at a slow speed. When projected at normal speed, the robots move with a realistically fluid motion.

EVEN THE simplest appearing scenes involved detailed work. Near the end of the film, Koenig and his find a lunar lander attached to its hull.

Two lunar module models were used for the scene. One, about 1.5 feet high, was used for the distant shot, the closeup was done with a more detailed model about 3.5 feet tall.

Both Ginyard and Jones are film veterans, of a sort. They have worked on other locally produced films and commercials.

And they're ready for more.

Jones has a project in the offing called "Skeeters," which is about giant mosquitoes. The script, which he co-wrote and hopes to direct, is complete. And he has definite ideas on how to make a respected feature, comparable, he hopes, to the 1953 classic "Them," which is

There's no guarantee "Skeeters" will be produced or that it will be a box office smash. So are Ginyard and Jones ready to take on the grueling challenge of more seven-day-a-week work schedules with no guarantee of Ginyard's answer: "In a heartbeat."

Artist donates painting for benefit

By Corinne Abatt staff writer

AINTER DAVID McCall Johnston would fit nicely into one of his paintings. Not only is there a touch of the country philosopher about him in looks and speech, but he has a keen interest in and appreciation for history.

But he lives in this century and continues to be one of the most successful artist/illustrators living and working in Michigan, possibly in the coun-

For the first time in his career, he will donate an original painting for a benefit. It will be for auction at the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation's Evening of Brilliance on Friday, Oct. 19, at the Ritz Carlton of Dearborn.

The painting is being reproduced on the front of the ad book and the invitations. It's a cause that he and his wife/business manager, Ruth, feel very strongly about. She is on the Evening of Brilliance committee and both have a strong commitment to this area and this state.

His painting alone should increase the proceeds from the auction significantly, even when compared to some of the other exotic items, such as the use of a yacht in the Barrier Reef, cosmetic surgery and a year-round playhouse designed by Betty Lee Sidler-Sweatt of Franklin.

FOR THE curious, the would-if-I-coulds and actual Johnston collectors, a special exhibition of his paintings will open Tuesday and continue through Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Ritz Carlton.

In all it will contain about 25 paintings, some that Ruth has managed to borrow back from collections for the occasions and some for sale. And

He recently did four paintings of dragons for Simon and Schuster (publishers) and has illustrated books for Magnum Classics, Harper and Row, Bantam, the New American Library, MacMillian, the Green Willow Press and the Franklin Library.

THE JOHNSTONS share a love of collecting. Their Farmington Hills house, the fifth he has restored (this one is the Gravlin farmhouse, moved to a new location), is filled with outstanding examples of early American furniture and decorative arts - primitives, Shaker and New England, Amish and other quilts. Ruth has a fine collection of button and glove hooks.

Irritants bane for each of us

organizing

Lehmkuhl

Q: Several years ago, when you were speaking at a meeting I was attending, you referred to things that need doing that you see over and over again but don't get done. What did you call that and can you refresh my memory about it, please?

A: The term you are referring to is "irritant." An irritant is something, as you say, which needs doing, that you see repeatedly, but which isn't getting done.

Almost everyone has a few of these around - things like medical forms that need to be filled out, pictures or slides that need to be stored away properly or filing that needs to be done.

It's typical as you run across the "To Do" once again, to mentally snap your fingers and remind yourself, "I've got to get that done." However, you are too busy at that moment and promised yourself you'll do it "later."

Ironically, most of these irritants are left out where we can see them as reminders so we won't "forget" to do them - even though, if we were honest with ourselves, we'd admit we have no intention of doing them any time soon.

"Later," of course, then turns into days, months or even years, as the dreaded article gathers dust.

IF YOU see one of the irritants once a day, you have had one reminder of something to do. If, however, you see the same irritant five times a day, you have had five reminders of something to do.

Even though you know logically it's the same reminder over and over, your subconscious can't sort out that fact. All it knows is it's getting "hit" again and again with reminders of things that need to be

Now, let's suppose you have five irritants that you see five timnes a day each. By multiplying, you relize you've had 25 reminders of things to do - none of which you have any intention of doing today!

The ironic thing is that many of these irritants are just small little nettles that may take only five or 10 minutes to do, yet we put them off and put them off.

Not only do irritants multiply, they also inhibit productivity. One person desperately needed new carpeting, but didn't want to carpet until she painted. She didn't want to paint, however, until she puttied the

And since she didn't know who to get to putty her windows, she lived with the irritant of old ugly carpeting for a long time. I will discuss how to get rid of irritants next week at my "Organizing for Success" classes in Birmingham.

Correction: The telephone number of the Birmingham Community House was listed incorrectly in last week's column. It is 644-5832. You can also still enroll in my Schoolcraft College classes by calling 462-4448.

The Crossings At Canton.

Apartment living just got better. We're making The Crossings a better place to live and a better value. You'll feel it in the new hallways and newly refurbished clubhouse. You'll see it in the plush landscaping when you enter the grounds. And that's just the beginning. It's the new look and feel of The Crossings at Canton—and it's for you. The Crossings at Canton offers 19 different floorplans with 1 to 4 bedrooms. And whether you choose a 2-level townhome or a luxury apartment, the renewed beauty of this charming rental community shines through in every one - the result of our recent, "Capital Improvements & Upgrading" program. These apartments and townhomes are the largest in the area, yet are still incredibly affordable.

Condo's best interests overlooked

I am a board member on a fiveperson board. There are four women and one man. He wishes to inflict his will not only on the board but upon the advisors that we have including the managing agent and the attorney. It seems that if the attorney says something is black, he says that it is white. He is continuously undermining the attorney and the managing agent in connection with their deliberations. How can we deal with this man who apparently has his share of problems?

I have observed over the years the tendency on the part of certain persons who assume leadership roles on the board to get carried away with their new found control and power sometimes to the detriment of not only their fellow board members but of the persons who are providing services to the association.

In the case of the managing agent or the attorney, they are presumably providing their best advice with the condo queries Robert M.

expectation and hope that the association will follow their advice. That is why they are being utilized.

In the last analysis, the decisions have to be made by the board with the benefit of the advice and consent of the managing agent, the attorney. the accountant and other persons. The board has to evaluate their recommendations and make an independent analysis.

If members of the board allow their egos or personal problems to interfere with their ability to make reasoned decisions or to follow the reasoned opinions of their consultants, you have a serious problem that could result in the undermining of the board's ability to effectively carry out its responsibilities and in some cases to commit malfeasance. It would appear timely in your situation to have a meeting with the board member in question, expressing your concerns and asking for his understanding and cooperation so that he might temper his "control problem" in the best interest of the association.

Our board is interested in finding out whether a co-owner who is seriously delinquent in her assessments can place a lien against a unit. The co-owner may also be in jeopardy of foreclosure by her mortgage company. It is not our intent as a board to intimidate the resident, but we wish to protect the common interests of the association as a whole, preserving the association's assets at this

The condominium statute and presumably your condominium bylaws provide the association with a right to place a lien on the unit of a coowner for the non-payment of assessments. This lien is secondary, to the right of the first mortgagee to assert its lien for non-payment of mortgage payments. Accordingly, if the first mortgagee forecloses, the priority of the association in regard to using the lien as a security may be wiped out, depending upon the circumstances. Nonetheless, the association should perfect its lien and begin foreclosure proceedings on its own, to the extent that the circumstances so provide. The association may also pursue a claim for money damages against the co-owner, which is unsecured by the unit. This action may be com-

The association should be prepared to pursue the delinquent coowner aggressively and consistently. Keep in mind, of course, that the condominium statute provides that the association's reasonable attorney fees and costs are chargeable to the delinquent co-owner.

I am not a board member but want to examine various bids that were obtained on a job, one of which was tendered by an affiliate of the managing agent. The board refuses to provide me with a copy of the bid. They have already given a copy of that bid to another co-owner who is not on the board. What can I do?

The board sounds as though it is playing games. Whatever basis the board may have had to withhold that information from you was obviously waived when it provided that information to a co-owner who is not on the board, or did not have any fiduciary responsibility in behalf of the association.

That, of course, assumes that there was any basis in the first instance for the board depriving you of that bid since it presumably would be a part of the records of the association to which you are entitled. This would be so stated not only under the condominium documents of your condominium, but under the condominium statute that mandates your right to inspect the books and records of the association. If the board continues to refuse after reasonable attempts by you, I would contact a lawyer and begin legal proceedings against the board for intentional malfeasance and perhaps a host of other potential abuses

Piece of history adds atmosphere to newest houses

(AP) - Not everyone can live in an architectural landmark, but installing a piece of history such as an old mantel or door, a sink or wood paneling is a growing option.

Once considered fair game for the wrecker's ball, buildings parts are now salvaged and sold at retail through a network of architectural antiques dealers.

Although most items are anonymous relics, some have impeccable pedigrees.

THE CURRENT mail-order catalog of New York-based Irreplaceable Artifacts, for instance, lists cast-iron railings from Louis Sullivan's Chicago Stock Exchange Building; a bar from the Normandie, a French ocean liner; and a marble sink from the apartment of Marjorie Merriweather Post. "Demand for architectural antiques has increased at least tenfold in the last 10 years, and the best usually sell first," said Herman Cole, owner of Ramase in Woodbury, Old building lumber such as floor boards is three times as expensive as items to dress up a home. But Marreproductions.

THOSE SEARCHING for a special piece are willing to cast a wide net, said Peter Hill of American Architectural Antiques in New Haven, fixtures and lighting from a late 19th beams, cornice moldings and posts, century Stamford, Conn., estate to as well as wood sheathing, paneling, two far-flung restaurants and a New York antiques dealer. The most impressive pieces are, of in Hill's showroom were, for $5,500, the entryway to the Stamford house once owned by Sir Douglas Alexanin and der, a president of Singer Sewing home. Machine Co.; its chestnut staircase, for $15,000; and a bathtub, for furnishings she has collected.

$1,200. Not all old parts are pricey. Old handmade door latches, for example, ing parts for an existing house, said cost about $35 to $45, about the same as new handmade ones, Cole said. There are still plenty of antique building parts to go around.

"Demand runs in fads," he said. 'For a while we couldn't turn up enough barn siding. Now I can't sell it, but demand for flooring and beams for country kitchens hasn't cooled.'

THOUGH A few dealers specialize in parts for a particular type of building, such as 17th and 18th century houses, most carry parts in many styles.

They typically stock doors, fireplaces, window glass, wood paneling and sheathing, old beams, early 20th century sinks and tubs, columns, old lighting fixtures, hardware and iron in the unusual. fencing stock parts, said David Dunton, a tan, he discovered there once had dealer in Woodbury. These tend to be been a private basement entrance choice bits that are bought as art ob- into the neighboring 21 Club restaujects rather than as building parts.

Exterior light fixtures and lamps run the gamut in style. Long gone are the days of a simple wood or metal pole and a round globe.

MOST PEOPLE buy only a few garet and Charles Gure of Westborough, Mass., assembled an entire house from old building parts they found and bought from many places.

Their new colonial saltbox looks as if it has been standing in place for 250 years. Among the salvaged parts He recently sold paneling, bath are its wooden staircase, ceiling wainscoting and flooring. "It took us eight years to find all the parts for our 18th century saltcourse, the most expensive. Recently box, but it was absolutely worth it," said Margaret Gure, an antiques dealer. "Knowledgeable people walk in and are amazed that this is a new

The effect is enhanced by antique

IT'S MORE practical than a novice might imagine to buy used but Evan Blum, owner of Architectural Artifacts in New York City.

It is simple to install an old fireplace or a door - the two architectural antiques are most popular with homeowners - he said.

When shopping for an old fireplace mantel, you have to know the exact dimensions of the firebox and the wall surrounding it. You can change the size of the firebox opening by having it rebricked, but it is easier to make it smaller than larger.

Paneled rooms present a more complex problem, especially if the room you buy needs to be cut down.

ALTHOUGH THE anonymous building parts are the bread and butter of the trade, Blum said the fun is

Let there be (outdoor) light

By Doug Funke staff writer

Ken Kraemer, a retailer of outdoor lighting systems, believes that one look can be worth more than a lengthy explanation or pictorial summary

To that end, he and partner Jerry Waligora have relocated and upgraded their business - Night-- from Livonia to a 3,500square-foot showroom in Farmington Hills.

This is the first store of this kind in the world we know of," Kraemer said. "Most light companies sell a mixture of interior and exterior lighting products. We carry only exterior.

The physical orientation of the showroom also sets the business apart.

"We wanted to demonstrate outdoor lighting products in a somewhat natural environment."

SO, THE partners installed black ceiling tiles. They decorated a rear wall to simulate the back of a house. They built a deck, bridge, gazebo and patio. They put in a fountain, rock gardens, trees, plants and flowers.

Now they can demonstrate different kinds of fixtures and lights in an indoor setting that more realistically reflects the outdoor experience.

Dozens of electric lights, including decorative yard lamps, illuminated patio stones, outdoor table and floor lamps, porch lights, architectural area lighting and low-voltage lights line the showroom.

"Builders, once they see what we can do, will be excited by it,"

Kraemer said. "Typically, builders don't do a lot with outdoor lighting."

ARCHITECTURAL AREA lighting differs from traditional street lighting in several respects.

The fixtures, much more decorative but not as tall as wooden or metal poles, generally are grouped farther apart than streetlights.

"The ideal way to use it is close to curbs," Kraemer said. "It's more subdued lighting. It adds illumination, but not to (the point of) bright-

More developers seem to be investigating decorative lighting applications in an effort to stand out from one another, said Mike L. Hermann, a new business development supervisor for Detroit Edison.

Frankly, our lighting is very utilitarian," Hermann said.

If nothing else, developers and builders are becoming conscientious about lighting their subdivision entrances, Kraemer said.

"It's almost a reaction to the marketplace," said Leon Zolkower, vice president of land development for Biltmore Properties of Troy. "People's tastes are more sophisticated today, so they look for these things."

KRAEMER SAID he offers onestop lighting service.

"I offer design, installation, main-tenance and financing options. As far as a package, I'm able to make it easier so he doesn't have to deal with a lot of entities."

Individuals account for a majority of fixtures sold at Nightlighters, while dollar volume is evenly divided between individual sales and architectural area projects, Kraemer
