Church disputes sale of St. John seminary

By Tom Henderson staff writer

The Archdiocese of Detroit begs to differ with a Maryland firm, saying that the proposed purchase of the St. John Provincial Seminary at Sheldon and Five Mile in Plymouth Township is "far from a done deal."

John Erickson, president of Retirement and Health Services Corp., said Tuesday that all the details had been worked out in the purchase of the seminary, and that the church and his firm would close on the 35acre property in the spring after what are expected to be routine examinations of the buildings and the land.

Not so, said a church spokesman in response. "We've entered into a conditional contract for sale of the property," said Richard Laskos. "(But) all sorts of things could happen. I was told it's far from a done deal. It's certainly not a done deal."

Michael Erickson, director of marketing for Retirement and Health Services, said of Lasko's statement: "Their response on that sort of surprises me . . . tract is very specific and we're treating it that way," he said.

He said he hoped current communications with the church would resolve any problems regarding the proposed 1,000-unit retirement center, without the need for litigation.

THE CHURCH listed all 175 acres at the site, including a golf course, for $20 million in 1988. The seminary buildings and 35 acres, excluding the course, were listed at $7.5 million. When the church was unable to find a buyer for the entire property, it signed the purchase agreement earlier this year for the smaller parcel.

Since the purchase agreement was signed, about 1,000 acres of land kitty-corner to the seminary property were sold by Wayne County to developer Robert DeMattia for a golf course, office complex and residential community.

Speculation is that since that sale, the church may feel it can now more easily sell the entire 175 acres in a single deal.

When asked to comment that since the sale of the 1,000 acres north of Five Mile and west of Sheldon, the archdiocese may be reconsidering its tentative deal with his firm, Michael Erickson said: "I would be surprised if that happened. I've seen

Survey shows possible need for new elementary

Residential development in the area should result in about 1,954 new students, an increase of 13.1 percent, for the Plymouth-Canton schools from now through the 1994-95 school year, according to a survey by administrator Carl Taylor.

Taylor, the former principal at Pioneer Middle School who will retire in December after finishing several special assignments, made a study of current and planned building projects to determine their impact on the student population. His survey is an update of a survey first done in 1987 by consultant Raymond Spear.

Taylor reported that the increase in students can be absorbed by the two current high schools and the five middle schools, but that an additional elementary school likely will be needed. The district has 12 elementary schools.

The school system has what it refers to as a blue-ribbon committee studying school needs between now and the year 2010.

A subcommittee studying needs over the next five years has Taylor's report, according to Richard Egli, the district's community relations director.

TAYLOR CONCLUDED that the city of Plymouth and the townships of Salem and Superior will have minimal impact on student-population growth, and that residential growth in Northville Township will contribute only about 60 students to the district over the next five years.

The Rev. Michael Barna of St. Michael's Orthodox Church in Redford Township says it's not unusual to see 6,000 or 7,000 worshipers in church on a Sunday in the Soviet Union. Like his father and greatgrandfather before him, Rev. Michael is a Russian Orthodox priest.

Keeping faith

Orthodox clergy cautious of Soviet reforms

staff writer

Russian Orthodox clergy say that while believers here are overjoyed that their Soviet brethren are enjoying more religious freedom, the mood is one of cautious optimism

With its adoption last month of the law on "Freedom of Conscience and Religious Organizations," the Soviet legislature formally ended decades of religious repression.

"It's unpredictable, but we feel there will be more freedom for other churches to come into being," said the Rev. Michael Barna, pastor of St. Michael's Russian Orthodox Church in Redford Township. "But the Soviet people by getting their freedom will have to take responsibility too. Now it will fall to the people to support their churches.

"It leaves the door open for lots of pros and cons," said Barna, who has visited the Soviet Union numerous times, most recently in 1988 to celebrate 1,000 years of orthodoxy in

"We don't know how it's going to go. Their greatest fear is: will Mikhail Gorbachev last long enough to see the changes through? Under the czars, there was a lot of underhandedness going on all the time. People are very cautious."

THE REV. ROMAN STAR, pastor of St. Innocent Russian Orthodox Church in Redford Township, estimates there are more than 50 mil-

"I was in the Soviet Union in 1988 for the millennium. Of course things have changed considerably since then, but their churches were packed. At that time there was no problem," Star said.

Effects of the conscience law will be felt in various ways, he predicts.

Despite the introduction of perestroika and glasnost in 1988-89, there were certain areas of the Soviet Union where the local government still didn't accept tolerance of religion," Star said. "Maybe now with the law of conscience, which has some teeth, local government officials will accept the church and its practices and beliefs without interference.

BARNA AND Star credit the Soviet people, particularly the grandmothers, or "babas," with keeping faith alive during the Communist re-

"I told him, 'You know, we might get in trouble,' but he persuaded me.
"So we asked people in the muse-um if they could sing the liturgy, and they said yes.

'Father John started, and the people joined us and sang the whole service. Even though Communist guards were watching us, no one stopped us.

Afterwards, they called Father John and took him away behind the altar. We thought we wouldn't get

"In 1985, three new parishes were registered in the Orthodox church in the Soviet Union. In 1986, there were 10 new parishes. In 1987, there were 16; and in 1988, 809 new churches. In the first nine months of 1989, 2,185 parishes opened or were newly constructed. Now there are 9,734 churches in the Soviet Union, including 35 monasteries and convents."

WHILE THE number of churches has grown, the number of believers has been considerable for a long time. "The church basically grows and faith becomes stronger in times of persecution," said Star.

Barna says he's seen congregations in the Soviet Union of 6,000 to

'You see men in the armed services on their knees for an hour-anda-half-long liturgy; two-and-a-half to three hours if there's a bishop," said Barna, whose father and greatgrandfather also were Orthodox priests. "The whole congregation would sing the creed. You can't believe it's possible.

"If you ever fainted, you couldn't fall over, there are so many people. There are no pews, because they believe you don't sit in the presence of the Lord," said Barna's wife, Jane Barna, choir director at St. Mi-

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Among the Seventh Day Adventist congregation, there is joy, optimism and skepticism about the ending of religious repression in the Soviet

David Grams, pastor at Plymouth Seventh Day Adventist Church, attended the church's World Congress in Indianapolis last July:

"So much has changed in recent times it's unbelievable," said Grams. We had more than 50,000 people from all over the world; 190 countries including the Soviet Union."

On the agenda was the election of church leaders, the presentation of plans formulated by committees during the past five years, and organizing a division of the world church in Russia.

SEVENTH DAY Adventists numher more than 728 000 in the United States; about 35,000 in the Soviet Union and more than 6 million

Not only was the Soviet congregation allowed to take part, "the Soviets sent over their own state TV

"At one time, the concept of doing something outside the Soviet Union that would impact the country was repugnant. They wouldn't accept that until before the conference."

The "law of conscience" recently passed by the Soviet legislature will enable the church to become visible. he said

"It will allow the church to carry on what we consider the evangelistic arm of the church without having to hide and be brought in every five

"The biggest thrill to them is being able to meet together and repoice in the Lord without for of being taken on a free trip to Siberia," said Grams. "The thrill for them of meeting with their brothers and sisters to worship without fear of recrimination; it's hard to describe in this country. It's so beautiful to them, the meeting has to go on and on. In this country, everyone rushes out when the clock strikes 12. Over there they're just thrilled to be able to share these wonderful things and develop programs like education that could never be developed before.

The church is also at work exercising the new freedom to publish and build seminaries, Grams said.

WOLFHARD TOUCHARD, collection development librarian for Andrews University in Berrien Springs, is setting up a library at a newlyopened Seventh Day Adventist seminary 130 kilometers southeast of

He made his second trip to the Soviet Union last September.

"One-thousand seven-hundred people donated their time and help to build the seminary. They came from everywhere, including Siberia," said Touchard, an East German who has done similar work in Africa and the Middle East.

forget the experience."

The new Zaokski Seminary of the Seventh Day Adventists, which hosted Touchard as its first lecturer, accepted 30 seminarians the first year. "Thirty students are being added every year," he said.

Randy Skeete, head elder of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of Ypsilanti, said the church members here are "elated, because Adventists are taught and trained to take the gospel message to those who have not yet heard it. I expect that will happen.

But there are no guarantees the freedoms are going to last. The mood of the church in the Soviet Union is to do it while we have the time. Gorbachev is the personification of glasnost, perestroika and an open society. But many people have rebelled against him and against his liberal approach. If he goes, there is no telling what might happen.

Soviet-born Anna Kocherovsky, now a Canton resident, says that while "this has been a terrific year for change in the Soviet Union" she has no desire to return there.

As a Jew, "it is too dangerous," said Kocherovsky, who with her husband Eugene tried for nine years to leave the Soviet Union before finally receiving permission last year.

THE KOCHEROVSKYS and their son Roman, 10, came to Plymouth Township in February from New York when Eugene Kocherovsky was offered a job at Hertel Cutting Technologies in Plymouth Township.

Anna Kocherovsky's parents, brother and sister-in-law still live in Moldavia, which is struggling for independence from the Soviet Union. Compounding the danger confronted by Jews in Moldavia is political unrest, she said.

Both Kocherovsky's father and grandfather were imprisoned during world War II. "My dad was in prison in Siberia. It was awful. Only as an adult do I understand it. My family never talked about it.

In the Soviet Union, being Jewish goes far beyond religion, she said.

"Our passports say we are Jewish, not Russian. If you want to go abroad, you will have a terrible time. They try to keep you in the country, and nobody says why. We tried to get to America in 1980 and were refused. The government said something about the job of my husband."

Kocherovsky isn't sure why the family was allowed to leave.

when his parents moved from De-troit and bought 15 acres. In 1918, he was among the first students to attend Central Middle School which was built to replace the old school destroyed in a 1916 fire.

He smiled when talking about the city. "I wouldn't leave Plymouth," he said. He is a man that has adapted to change. A major one is the I-275 expressway running in what used to be part of the family farm. This construction reduced the property to 8 acres. Miller op-posed plans for the noise contention wall built along the expressway and his property. He said he fought its construction for years because of its ugliness. When it was built, he planted trees along it to hide it from view.

He said he is not bothered by the traffic. When he moved to Plymouth, Ann Arbor Trail was a sandy road, he said, and the only vehicle that would travel it was the mail delivery truck. But he said he has gotten used to the traffic and it does not affect him, "I couldn't even tell you when the cars go by,"

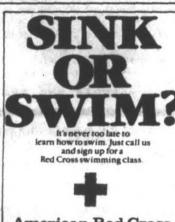

Miller graduated from the Plymuth schools and later from the University of Detroit. He studied

From 1941 to 1969, he had an office in downtown Plymouth named Peter R. Miller Co. He also had other jobs, such as press secretary to former Gov. Harry Kelly, governor from 1943 to 1946, and secretary of the racing and boxing commissions. The large family home on the farm later became home to Miller and his wife. Travel was their hobby. He said they started traveling to Mexico, which they visited 20 times. From there, they went on to see the world. "I've been in 23 flights across the Atlantic," he said, "and in 52 countries in all five continents." He said their favorite countries were England and Germany. In 1959 he went on a trip around the world, starting west and going through Asia.

Erickson said the purchase agreement includes an escape clause for the church that would allow it to back out of the deal only in the event that Retirement and Health Services' plans for the 35 acres would lower the value of the golf-course property.

"And there's no way what we're putting in there could could make the land worth less," said Erickson. "Our studies show that putting in a 1,000-unit retirement community makes it easier for the church to sell the golf course — for a shopping center or whatever."

MAURICE BREEN, Plymouth Township supervisor, confirmed that there was a purchase agreement between the church and Retirement and Health Services. "I saw (Cardinal Edmund) Szoka's name on the agreement. We (township officials) wanted to see that before we proceeded. There are some escape clauses in there, but whether they would allow the church to get out of it, I don't know."

The property would have to be rezoned. Current zoning allows singlefamily houses on one-acre plots.

on Medicare recipients but goes easier on those who earn more than $200,000 a year.

Economists: Tax hike, spending cuts needed

Representatives in local Congressional offices expected a budget compromise will take until Wednesday when the most recent budget ex-tension, signed by President George Bush Friday, expires.

Both current plans, if enacted right now, would have a negative impact on the economy, Tracy said.
"Both plans are probably going to speed us up in going into a recession, the House plan perhaps a little fast-er," he said.

TAX INCREASES on the wealthy won't really harm the economy. "Above $75,000 these people have more discretionary income. It's not going to affect it," Tracy said.

Most people know someone who snores. If you do, you know how snoring can ruin your sleep. But, did you know that snoring is interfering with the snorer's sleep, too? This leads to sleep deprivation which effects work, grades, concentration and many other activities in daily living. And, yes it is true, that snoring is the primary symptom of sleep apnea which can be fatal. So, stop hiding under your pillow. We can effectively treat snoring, including sleep apnea, and give you back the good night's sleep you deserve. Besides, you might be saving the life of the "loud" person sleeping next to you. ### Open letter to residents

Hello, my name is Ken, and I am a mident of Plymouth. I live at 303 Roe Street. I have lived here approxstely two weeks. I have some nds who live at the apartment ex with me.

We are in a wonderful program that was specially designed to help the recovering alcoholic and addict o re-enter the work force by helping to start small busi

This program has taken 3 years to pecome a reality. The founder of this program, Dr. Marcia Anderson, bean with a dream of helping recovering people many years ago as a registered nurse, after seeing the suffering that the alcoholic and ad-dict endure with their disease.

My friends and myself have fami-ties just as you do. Many of us have hildren, just as any of us have children, just as you do. I have two fronderful daughters that I love very nuch. We have mothers and fathers well as sisters and brothers. Some of us attend church on a regular basis and would like to worship with ou on Sundays.

You see, we are very much like you with the exception that we have a disease called addiction. You may have a friend, neighbor, or relative who has this disease. You may have this disease yourself.

The addiction may not be to alco-hol or drugs. It could be an addiction to eating, gambling, sex, work, shop-ping or any one of a number of other addictions that have 12 step programs modeled after the Alcoholics nonymous program.

My friends and myself would like very much to be accepted by the people of Plymouth. We are here to open small businesses in Plymouth well as the surrounding areas. We have been carefully screened prior to our acceptance into this program both by the staff of Personalized Nursing and the state of Michigan as well as the management of the apartment complex where we live.

This program is not a rehabilitation program. Every one of us has completed a rehabilitation program prior to our acceptance to this program, as this is one of the require-ments of acceptance. We are all ded-leated to remaining clean and sober.

That is our number one priority.

We all attend Alcoholics Anonyious and Narcotics Anonymous eetings in town, along with other sidents of Plymouth. It is a wellnown fact that addicts can best re-environment which is what we have developed through our working and living arrangement.

We understand your concerns, and we would appreciate your input on how to eliminate your fears. We be-lieve we can contribute to the city of Plymouth in many ways. We will be able to bring more revenue to the city and with your suggestions, we could possibly bring services that would help the community.

You see, my friends and myself only ask that you give us a chance. We have done nothing wrong and have no intention of doing so.

Please judge us on our actions, not pre-conceived idea of what an addict is. All we want to do is to get back into the work force, so when we leave this program, we can go back to our families or move into a neighborhood and live life and enjoy life as you do.

We invite you to stop by our office at 575 Main Street Monday through Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and talk with us, or call us at 451-7800.

I thank you for taking the time to read this letter and wish you a good life. May God bless you.

Roe Street residents made a choice

To the Honorable Mayor Bila:

Five years ago I moved to this area from Frankenmuth. My first year I rented a historical home in Ypsilanti. It didn't take but a few weeks to realize what a mistake I had made as I was living only a few houses away from two halfway hous-

For a small-town girl, who didn't have any prejudices, that year in Ypsilanti proved to be very educational. I found men and women hanging out at street corners and telephone booths, sitting on their porch steps tossing comments to people who walked by. Late night arguments were common, glass breaking, and approximately once every one to two weeks an ambulance would take away someone who had overdosed.

I honored my one-year lease and began looking for an area that would be more like my hometown, and I found Plymouth. Working two jobs I was able to buy a home (on Roe Street) about two years ago. I am still working two jobs in an attempt to update my little house and one of my goals was to try to win the Beautification Award as my neighbors

Now, ironically the atmosphere I left in Ypsilanti has all the potential to carry over to Plymouth. No more night walks, wandering through Kel-logg Park, unlocked doors.

Long ago I learned we all have choices in this life. Who of us hasn't had bad times, divorces, job loss, all kinds of skeletons in our closets, but our choice was to roll up our sleeves and work our way through.

The men and women in the program also had a choice but they turned to substance abuse and hid in it. Now we're asked to empathize with these people - and to a point I do, everyone needs a chance - but are we on Roe Street to suffer safety and property devaluation because droves of people are being housed at the end of our street because their choice was substance abuse?

Please consider the future. Our quaint Norman Rockwell town and all the pride we have in this wonderful community will be sacrificed, and for what? Our good will to a mass of people whose rehabilitation percentage is very low. They will be off doing who knows what, hopefully good but not according to past statis-

We are the ones left to wonder what the next group brings with them, pay taxes on property the value of which has decreased. These people have already left a trail of ourt and turmoil in the lives of their families and friends because of their choice to substance abuse - let it stop there.

Marcia Anderson can certainly find the proper dormitory facilities to house and attempt to rehabilitate these people in an area which would not negatively affect the surround-

Reporting on schools is subjective

Plymouth/Canton Schools of "Mind Control" is akin to accusing a bucket full of a slow leak in the roof dumped into the Rouge River of causing the flood.

Something strange happened along the way. As a former journal-ist and in attendance at the school board meetings you refer to in your "Hoben tries to control news" editorial, it appears to me that you are using the First Amendment as a shield of defense for subjective news

As you state, "when you control information, you control minds." With 30 to 40 people present at a board meeting, on the road in Pioneer Middle School, versus the countless thousands receiving your newspaper, who is trying to control minds?

I witnessed over 40 minutes of the two hour-plus meeting discussing the growing demographics and needs for expansion in the district, and the potential for educational use of the Mettetal Airport. Both very important positive items to discern to the public. You chose not to provide mention of this. Instead, an annual accounting of the school property becomes news as potential sale opportunities, at the same time the District is grappling with the student growth of the near future?

As you stand behind your new story as "100 correct," I agree, for 25 percent of the story. I never heard sales arrangements, or immediate financial needs from board members to sell any of the properties. You de-

You acuse the Board of wishing to "make their decisions in secret." Your reporter should have noted that 5 minutes before the board voted on the subject of "educational resources" the audience and board were presented with over 15 minutes of citizen input. The board is bringing the meetings closer to the public with the traveling site. (Again, no mention by your reporters). In final, I disagree with your accusation that the school board controls the news because you hold the cards, and I personally witnessed a "slight of hand" on your part.

If I were a teacher, I would grade you a "C" simply because of your ontime delivery of biodegradable material. That's average in the mind of the informed reader, and far below

Column was pretty sneaky

Recently I read your "Points of View" column regarding the animal rights debate. I must say, it was pretty sneaky of Jeff Counts to portray himself as a rather belligerent bumpkin in order to give anti-animal rights people a negative image. Admittedly, I was fooled at first, but continuing to read, soon resolved that a professional journalist would not employ such rhetoric unless slyly attempting to prove a point.

Regardless of one's stand on the issue, Jeff must be admired for his willingness to jeopardize his own journalistic credibility (to those who did not catch on) in order to further the cause of his true passion - the rights of animals. Commendable work, Jeff.

Al Smitley,

Animal rights a reality some day

We have received several copies of Jeff Counts' editorial slamming the goals of animal rights activists. If his opinions weren't so laughable they might be depressing (even frightening) to animal rights activ-

What's so absurd about the goals of animal rights "nuts?" Anyone who can empathize with individuals who have been oppressed and exploited would not fight the desire to extend compassion and respect to include other-than-human animals. They, too, have the capacity to feel emotions and suffer pain. Even chickens, cows, cats, and rats feel sadness, happiness, loneliness, and fear just like the baby seals and whales whom Mr. Counts deems worthy of his concern.

Animals don't have to vote, they don't need drive, and they have no desire to "clog the courts." But you can bet, if given the chance, they'd choose to be out of the laboratory cages, the meat grinders, the scope of hunters' rifles, the three-ring circus, and fur farm cages. With the efforts of people who are willing to make simple changes in their lifestyle habits and speak out for animals, one day animal rights will be a

Support for DARE urged

After attending the DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) parent information night at Isbister Elementary School last night, I came away impressed with the quality of the program and the way in which it is presented to the students.

My son thoroughly enjoys the meetings with Officer Jamie Senkbiel. He thinks Officer Jamie is "awesome." She has reinforced a positive attitude toward police as well as created a rapport with the students that encourages trust.

In these times with drug abuse such an overwhelming problem, it's great to see first hand how the school is helping to educate the students before drug and alcohol abuse becomes a problem in their lives.

The program is an intensive 17week program that deals with not only the harmful effects of drug abuse, but the skills to refuse temptation.

Isbister is really a quality school with dedicated leadership, so I was disheartened by the lack of parental interest in this program last night. Fewer than 20 students were represented by their parents out of over 100 fifth graders. Parents, it is imperative to not only support our school's efforts, but to show our children that learning about this program personally is worth our time.

The suburban Detroit area is luring an increasing number of Soviet ice skaters who have defected to the United States, despite massive politi-cal reforms in their homeland.

Aromatic the word for rice

Janes

It was inevitable: rice, the food that is relied upon as a dietary staple by more than half the world's population, is beginning to be appreciated in the United

There are more than 40,000 varieties of rice in the world but only a handful of them are changing the way Americans think about this simple grain.

Walk into any trendy restaurant in metropolitan Detroit and rest assured that rice will have some sort of premier presence on the menu. With the exception of Oriental eateries, plain old white rice took the last slow boat to China and, it is hoped, will never return. In its place, the new and coming rices to watch for will have exotic names like Basmati, Texmati, Wild Pecan, Arborio, Jasmine and Black Japonica.

Most common on the trendy rice circuit these days is the very aromatic Basmati, heralding from Pakistan and Northern India. This thin, long-grain, cream-colored rice fills the kitchen with an aluring aroma from the minute it begins to cook - an aroma which lingers all the way to the table and stays on the palate

NOT TO BE outdone, the Americans have since developed a strain similar to Basmati called Texmati. This domestic version, grown in Texas, smells much like corn and carries a typically nutty flavor at about half the price of the imported competition.

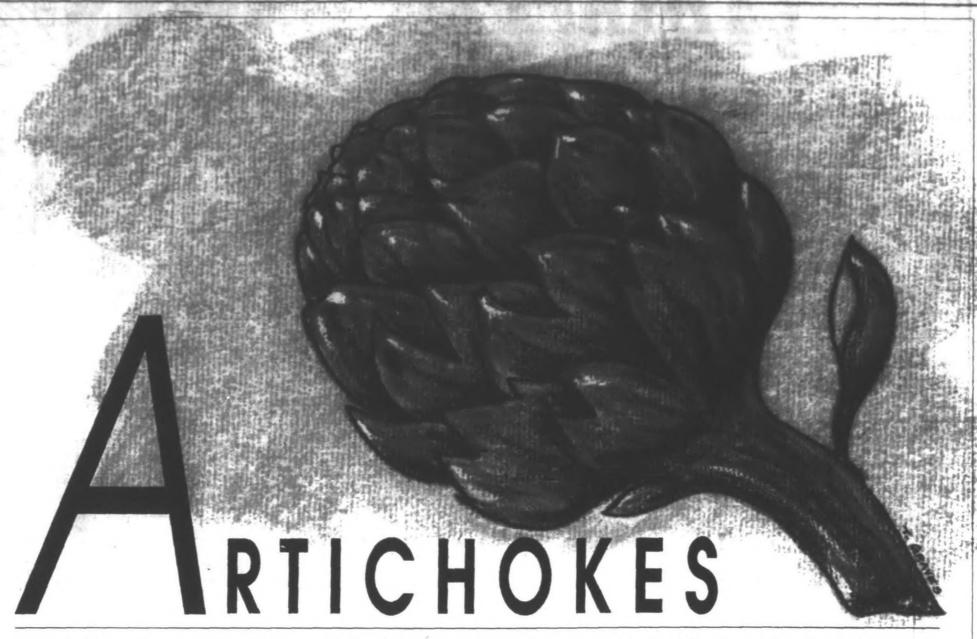

Arborio rice is a short-grained import hearlding from Italy. With nearly 80 percent of the rice eaten in America being a longgrained version, the short grains are gaining in popularity, mainly because they are softer, stickier and, if anything, more versatile in cooking. Their outer layer softens more readily and has a tendency to absorb the flavors in the cooking medium more than long grains. Arborio makes a great rice used in the preparation of risotto, a classic creamy rice dish flavored with chicken stock, butter and Parmesan cheese.

Here's a rice that's creeping up in popularity: Knoriko Wild Pecan. This aromatic rice grown in New Iberia, La., is neither wild nor tastes of pecans, but it smells nutty when cooked. Mike Davis, president of Conrad Rice Mill, the oldest operating rice mill in the USA, says they called it Wild Pecan because, "When we think of nuts, we think of pecans, and the best pecans are wild."

Already appearing on the bestdressed plates on the West Coast are telltale signs of Jasmine and Black Japonica rices. The Jasmine variety is a long-grain rice that cooks up like a short grain, soft and moist. And, yes, it does have a faint aroma of Jasmine, something that West Coasts chefs are sporting as the latest food trend.

The Black Japonica variety appearing from Japan has unusually tinted indigo-colored bran layers that leach out during the cooking process, turning the cooking water and rice purple. Unfortunately, this rice looks better than it tastes and can usually be found being mixed with other rices, mainly for the interesting color contrasts.

So if you thought that the only thing Momma could cook was something from an Uncle Ben's box, try one of the new aromatics and watch the family's taste buds say "Wow!"

T'S JUST ABOUT this time every year that I reminisce about Sunday dinners at my grandparents' home

On a typical Sunday all seven Familetti grandchildren would assemble to our assigned chairs awaiting a banquet-sized dinner. No matter what the season, pasta was always the first course, followed by a meat course of roasted veal, chicken or stuffed beef. As enjoyable as those first two courses were, I couldn't wait for my favorite, stuffed artichokes.

Now this was not a weekly standard on my grandmother's menu because she only prepared artichokes when they were in their prime during April and May or during the second artichoke season in late fall or early winter. So, having been brought up on these edible thistles, I was shocked to find out in my teenage years that many folks in't even know they were edibl

According to food authority Waverly Root, in his last culinary endeavor, "Food" (Simon & Schuster, 1980), artichokes were a rare and unknown luxury in the United States in the 1920s. Most reference books site that the artichoke was first introduced into Europe in the 15th century.

CHRONICLERS such as Jane Grigson give Catherine de Medici credit for popularizing artichokes. It's said that once, "She ate so many artichokes at a wedding feast in 1575 that she nearly burst." This was considered scandalous because young women in the 16th century were not supposed to eat in public any foods considered to be aphro-

It is certain that artichokes grew in the vicinity of Naples in the 15th century, and their popularity spread to other parts of Europe, especially France and Spain. Most food authorities agree the Spanish first brought artichokes to California where they are cultivated today. Nearly 50,000 tons of artichokes are harvested each year in Castroville, Calif., which claims to be the artichoke capital of the United States.

I have to admit that the artichoke may be one of the most artistically designed vegetables, but it also is the most time-consuming to prepare and eat. Once you have mastered the fine art of preparing them and the pleasure of eating them, the extra care and cooking time won't matter to you at all.

Shopping for this luxurious vegetable is as easy as selecting cucumbers, once you know what and what not to look for. When shopping, look for artichokes which are large, rounded and tightly packed. Loose, spreading leaves are a sign of over-maturity.

In the spring, the leaves should and will be a brighter se in the fall. To make sure the artichokes are fresh, squeeze the top of the vegetable with your fingers. Generally, if you hear a squeaky sound, they are fresh and moist. Store them wrapped in a perforated plastic bag in your refrigerator. They will last up to one week, before using them.

ONCE YOU ARE ready for cooking, you need to take a few precautions to prevent discoloration. I often wear thin disposable plastic gloves so that the artichoke's natural color doesn't stain my hands. Whether you prepare them whole to be served with a sauce or for stuffing, use only a stainless steel knife or scissors.

After rinsing the artichokes in cold water, pat dry. With a large knife, cut off the stem flush with the base. This is

Remove the loose or discolored leaves around the base. Trim the top by cutting off one inch evenly across, using a large knife. Once that is done, trim the prickly point of each leaf using a scissors.

Next step is to remove the feathery choke out of the center. This may require a little twisting and tugging. Lastly, carefully scoop out the tiny, sometimes pinching fibers which are attached to the artichoke bottom. Best method to accomplish this is to scrape them out by using the tip of a teaspoon. After that last, somewhat tedious job is completed, squeeze lemon juice into the cavity and on the freshly trimmed leaves to prevent discoloration.

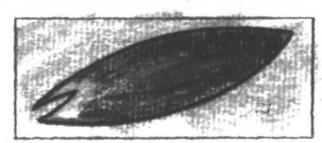

done so the artichoke will stand upright when steaming.

In almost all artichoke recipes, you need to boil or steam them in either acidulated water (with lemon juice) or water with olive oil. To prevent further discoloration or a bitter flavor it is pertinent that the artichokes are cooked only in a stainless-steel, enamel, cast-iron or tin-lined copper pot.

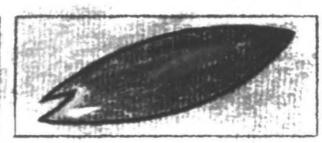

For medium-to-large-size artichokes, simmer liquid three-four inches deep, uncovered. Cooking them with the lid on the pot also will cause them to discolor. Once tender, they may be removed gently with a pair of tongs, draining off excess water. At this point they can be served with a garlic butter sauce or a mayonnaise-mustard

TO SERVE THEM with a stuffing, follow the procedure just described but parboil them only about 20 minutes, then drain and fill or stuff. When using traditional Italian cheese or bread stuffing, as my grandmother did, an additional 20-30 minutes of steaming is necessary after stuffing. The artichokes are cooked when the leaves pull out easily and

By Joan Boram special writer

Just don't call it a health food store.

Nature's Market owner Todd Guleich is affable, voluble and believable, but he does get upset when people confuse whole foods with "health" or "natural" foods.

"This business is a marriage between a dream and a commitment," he explains. "My original college major was in fisheries and wildlife: I switched to economics because there was potentially more money in business. When I graduated I went into banking.

"But last January I decided to quit chasing the dollar, follow my natural inclinations and become involved in environmental issues. I had always wanted to have my own business, and a natural foods store is the epitome of environmental responsibility, so here we

Nature's Market, "Where Foods Have Integrity," opened June 23. Business is doing well, though not as well as a former banker would hope. Business has only doubled, instead of tripled, as Guleich had projected. The word is out,

though, and business gets better

"Whole foods emphasize wholesomeness and purity, explains Guleich. "Whole foods are usually organically produced and will include some of the highest- quality natural foods available. You will find no refined sugars, bleached flours, stabilizers, dyes, etc., in whole foods.

"NATURAL FOODS, on the other hand, are made with all natural ingredients, but there's considerable use of synthetically derived chemicals as pesticides or enhancers in these products. Even foods with natural extracts from plants or animals change the natural chemical compostion of the

"Generally, health foods are more vitamin-supplement oriented. In fact, about 50 percent of the profits in most "health" food stores come from vitamin supple ment sales. Also, most health food stores are vegetarian oriented. Nature's Market has many vegetarian clients, but we do sell organically grown meat.

"It all boils down to the integrity of foods: Mother Nature got it right the first time. Whenever we add substances to foods to affect appearance, flavor, shelf-life or texture, we take something away from the food's original flavor and nutritional value.

"But even more important, research is beginning to expose the adverse health effects of the many foreign substances that we have been using in the production and processing of our foods.

the base or artichoke bottom (my favorite part) will be soft enough to pierce with a fork.

Once you have accomplished this technique and become "hooked" on artichokes, you undoubtedly will want to include them in your meal plans on a regular basis. This natural worked ral, cooked vegetable cup also becomes a great garnish or small serving accessory, for warm sauces to be served with a fillet of fish or an appropriate salad, as well as for stuffing with tossed mini-vegetables or a traditional shrimp salad.

To appropriately eat a cooked artichoke, remove one leaf at time, using your thumb and index finger. Then, gently scrape the tender inside of the leaf with your teeth. Discard the remainder of the leaf by setting on your dinner plate. The stuffing, artichoke heart and bottom can then he eaten with a fork.

Whole artichokes may be cooked in advance, refrigerated and then resteamed, either stuffed or hollow before serving.

Here are a few authentic regional Italian recipes for stuffing and another traditional sauce for dipping without stuffing. To serve without a stuffing, slice each whole artichoke in half from the tip to the stem after

Natural foods featured at Rochester Hills store

Whole foods are safer foods."

Many Nature's Market customers have zero tolerance for food additives of any kind, or are sensitive to common foods such as yeast, sugar, salt or corn syrup.

FOR THOSE WHO are sensitive to wheat, there are pastas made from spelt, tolf and quinon. These are names you will never find on a kitchen cannister set, but they are wholesome grains, organically grown, that allow spaghetti-lovers to indulge without discomfort — unless they eat too much.

Ten percent of our clients do all their shopping here," says Guleich.
"Most of those are people who just cannot tolerate food additives. Their ages range from 5 to 72 years old.

of their shopping here. Others come in for a specific item. One man comes in just for the baby dills made from organically grown cu-

What assurance does Guleich have that the vegetables are indeed organically grown? Isn't it possible that a farmer could sneak in a pesticide and nobody would know?

"Many of our vegetables come from California," Guleich explains. "California has a very rigid inspection and certification program that's very strict about claims of organically grown.

"Colorado provides a lot of our vegetables. There are fewer pests at high altitudes than you'll find in Michigan, for instance, so there's less need to revert to pesticides. people - many of them are highly educated and dropped out of the sys-tem to dedicate themselves to clean foods - and a cleaner world."

NATURE'S MARKET provides several services to its clients. The store takes special orders for almost any product, from a food supplement to 25 pounds of carrots. There's a grinder and a juicer available, and, starting Thursday, Nov. 1, there will be delivery service.

An educational program is in the works. The book selection is being expanded, and guest speakers and cooking lessons are in the offing.

Nature's Market is at 139 W. Auburn Road, Rochester Hills, phone 852-9327.

Use meat in a dish for flavor

AP - To trim the amount of fat you eat, use meat to add flavor, not as a main ingredient, recommends Martin Yan.

Yan, one of TV's most popular cooks, is a member of the Project Lean team of cooking professionals, who are encouraging Americans to lower their fat consumption. Yan's stir-fry recipes use small amounts of lean ground beef in a flavorful sauce, making a terrific new beanand-beefburger with just 25 percent of calories from fat.

nd lean ground beef I medium onion, chopped (% cup) One 8-ounce can red kidney beans One 8-ounce can tomato sauce

1 tablespoon brown sugar 1 tablespoon prepared mustard 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce Few dashes bottled hot pepper sauce

Dash pepper 4 French rolls or kaiser rolls, split and toasted 1 cup alfalfa sprouts or shredded lettuce (optional)

In a large skillet, cook beef and onion until brown. Drain. Wipe skillet with paper towels. Return mix-ture to skillet.

Stir undrained kidney beans, tomato sauce, brown sugar, mustard, Worcestershire sauce, hot pepper sauce and pepper into meat mixture.
Bring to boiling; reduce heat.
Simmer, covered, for 10 minutes.
Simmer, uncovered, 3 minutes or until desired consistency.

Spoon meat mixture into rolls. Top with alfalfa sprouts or shredded lettuce, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

monine well with food.

Cook what you want. It doesn't have to be Italian cuisine. Prepare meat and potatoes, meat loaf or hamburgers. Italian wines will make anything you prepare taste better.

You probably don't believe that French wines require coq au vin or veal cordon bleu, so you needn't insist on veal parmesan or fettucini with porcini mushrooms as matches with Italian wines.

The following are wine recom-mendations based on a recent tasting of two dozen Italian wines from a broad spectrum of Italian wine re-

THE WINE firm of Mastroberardino is south of Rome in the region known as Campania.

Lacryma Christi del Vesuvio, grown in the volcanic ash at the foot of Mount Vesuviuis, is a generous white wine. The 1989 version ($13) boasts fresh. juicy apple and pear aromas and flavors.

Lungarotti is a winery in Umbria, near the hill city of Perugia, the only land-locked province in Italy.

Here, Theresa Lungarotti has taken over the winemaking reins from her father, Giorgio, and is producing world-class wines. Among Lungarotti's superb red wines are the 1986 Rubesco ($13) and the 1980 Rubesco Riserva ($29).

Made from the same grapes as chianti, Rubesco is a versatile red that features good berry aromas and flavors — a wine to open and enjoy.

Lungarotti's Rubesco Riserva is a serious wine (with a serious price), released after eight years of aging in Lungarotti's cellar.

The red berry character is still there with added dimensions of leather, mushroom and spice. It's a big well-structured wine for the person who wants a real mouthful.

FROM PERSONAL visits with the Ceretto brothers in the Piedmont, we tion to producing quality, value-

One of the outstanding white wines from this region is the 1989 Cerette Arnels "Blange" ($20). It boasts fresh pear aromas and flavors with a freshness that is unbeat-able either as a refreshing sipper or

The 1986 Ceretto Barolo "Zonchera" ($21) is undoubtedly the best value among Barolos on the market. Barolos are big red wines that fre-quently cost $30 and more.

This wine has lots of flavor and is drinkable now. It has good structure in case you should want to age it for another year or two.

IN CHIANTI are seven sub-regions or zones. Most people think that Chianti Classico makes the best wine, but the word classico simply means the heart of the region. Capezzana, for instance, makes chianti n the Montalbano zone, northwest of

MUFFIN CHIPS

A new bakery product, Muffin Chips, has been introduced by Jacqui Ridley and Gail Jacob, owners of Ridley's "Baked in Good Taste."

When Ridley's muffins were first baked - in unreliable ovens - a few batches came out overbaked. Soon everyone in the bakery began fighting over the crispy morsels, Ridley and Jacob say, so they decided to bake the chips in earnest.

Muffin Chips come in eight varieties: Chocolate Chunk Madness, Nuts Over You, Dried Cherry Jubilee, Peanutiest Chocolate, Cranberry a la Orange, Zesty Lemon Poppyseed,

Area resident a finalist

(AP) — Ellen Knollenberg of Troy ras among five finalists in the re-ent McCall's California Avocado Cook-off. She submitted a recipe for Avocado Frittata.

Betty Shenberger of Beaverton,
Ore., was awarded a $5,000 grand prize as winner. Finalists were flown to New York for the cook-off in McCall's Park Avenue test kitchens.
The judges rated Shenberger's salad tops in appearance, texture and flavor. Slices of avocados and pears, and steamed asparagus and green beans, were arranged on a bed of lettuce.

The dressing was made with pureed avocados, safflower oil, sour cream and seasonings.

The contest was co-sponsored by McCall's magazine and the California Avocado Commission, a non-profit organization financed by 7,000 California avocado growers.

Here is Shenberger's winning re-

Canton wins with defense over Pats

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Dawn Warner's 1,000th career point came on a night she'd rather forget.

Warner, Livonia Franklin's junior guard, made 15-of-16 free throws but missed all 16 of her shots from the field in the Patriots' 46-40 loss Thursday to visiting Plymouth Canton.

The outcome gave Canton a 4-0 record in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association and assured the Chiefs of the regularseason division crown. The Patriots are 2-2 in the division and 12-2 overall. Canton is 9-5 overall.

Warner scored her 1,000th career point on a free throw with 2:41 left in the game. It was her only memorable moment of the night.

"I DIDN'T think we could do it," said Canton coach Bob Blohm, when told the Chiefs held Warner without a field goal. "She's too good a player to have that happen. But she made 15 free throws so obviously we were hacking her or bothering her on offense.

"I feel real good for our kids. We struggled the first 12, 13 games of the season and had some highs and lows, but the nice thing is they always work hard. To clinch the division outright, and get it against Livonia Franklin on their court, is a

Canton sophomore guard Christy Saffron deserves much of the credit for shutting down Warner, but so do teammates Mary Barna, Amy Westerhold, Britta Anderson and Kristin Ford. It was a team defensive effort for Canton, which girls basketball held Franklin to only three first-half field goals and limited the Patriots to 25 percent shooting (10-40) for the game.

WARNER LED Franklin with 15 points, and Julianne Stesiak contributed 13, but the next highest scorer was Jenny Mayle, with six.

Warner was averaging 18 points and shooting about 39 percent from the field before Thursday's game, according to Franklin coach Dan Freeman.

"All of our perimeter kids we had switching off on Warner and their other two guards (Julianne Stesiak and Patty Shea)," Blohm said. "We tried to keep someone in front of them all the time. We have good team quickness."

Said Saffron: "I just tried to stay on my feet and not let her (Warner) take the three's - make her go baseline so she can't cut toward the middle."

Four sophomores dot the Chiefs 12-player roster, including center Stephanie Gray, who poured in a game-high 19 points. Anderson, the team's only freshman, finished with 10 points and

Gray kept the Chiefs in the game early - scoring eight first-quarter points - and she had 12 by halftime when Canton led 20-19. Canton led 32-30 after three quarters and outscored Franklin, 9-2

Gray's two free throws with 1:56 left gave the Chiefs the lead for good, 39-38. A basket by Gray and a free throw by Barna gave the Chiefs a 42-38 lead with 51 seconds left. Franklin pulled to with-in two, 42-40, on Tracy Parenti's basket but the Chiefs made their last four free throws.

Canton made 18-27 free throws for the game.

"WE LOST TO A good team," Franklin coach Dan Freeman said. "You can't take anything away from Canton, they have young players who are playing well. Dawn Warner is a very heady player and she was working hard out there. Those are shots that normally go for her. They didn't drop tonight but I wouldn't hesitate to have her take those shots all day long.

"The real difference was our defense on Gray. She doesn't just stand down there in the box. She moves, flashes and cuts and we didn't do a good job of fronting her. That was our game plan - to

Stesiak had an impressive third quarter for Franklin, making all four of her shots, including one from three-point land, for nine of her 13

"We wanted to win (the division) this year," said Stesiak, one of three Franklin seniors. "I knew Dawn was having an off-night and we needed more scoring from but I didn't get the ball enough. I could have worked harder to get open, though. We're going to pull together and the Plymouth Salem game (Tuesday at Franklin) will

That's 5 in row for Chiefs

If anyone wants to talk about sports dynasties, the Plymouth Canton girls cross country team shouldn't be overlooked.

The Chiefs won the Western Division dual-meet championship in the Lakes Activities Association for the fifth straight year Thursday.

Amy Smith led Canton to a 20-35 victory over Northville, giving the Chiefs a 5-0 record in division duals. Canton is 6-0 overall.

"The way we look at it is that it's an accomplishment for the kids who are currently running," coach George Przygodski said, "and a continuation of a program that's going real well right now. You can't beat tradition."

Smith took first place with a 21:29 time at Cass Benton Park. Canton got the top three places with Lana cross country Boroditsch finishing second (21:51)

and Heather Meyer third (22:06).

Northville runners filled the next two spots. Marci Dart was fourth (22:16) and Kamal Bagga fifth (22:25), but the Chiefs put their people in two of the next three places to win the meet.

Canton's Kim Gudeth was sixth (22:34) and Anne Dibble seventh (22:36), completing the scoring for the Chiefs. Canton's top seven included Lara Antczak (23:35) and Alison Way (24:56).

Also scoring points for the Mustangs were Amy Goode, who was seventh at 22:36; Michelle McQuaid, ninth at 23:05; and Cheryl Mittman, 10th at 23:11.

Canton will be among the contenders for the WLAA championship when the league meet takes place at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Cass Benton. "The favored team is going to be venson," Przygodski said. "If Stevenson runs its best race, nobody can beat them. If Stevenson doesn't, then they can be beaten."

Farmington and Plymouth Salem

"If anyone has the opportunity to beat them, we match up real well," Przygodski said, "but it's all up to how Stevenson runs. They have their fate in their own hands.

"Seven people have to run together, and anything can happen. All we're doing is waiting for them to slip up a little and, if they do, we'll be waiting."

Plymouth Salem is becoming the perennial power in Lakes Division boys

The Rocks captured their second straight dual-meet championship Thursday when they finished an unbeaten division season (5-0) with a 15-49 rout of North Farmington.

"It's a nice honor, but it's just a start," Salem coach Geoff Baker said. "We still have the big three (meets) coming up. We're tuning up for the big ones." Salem will be among the contenders Wednesday in the Western Lakes Activities Association meet at Cass Benton Park. The boys race begins at

After that are the regional and state meets.

Salem runners claimed the top six places Thursday at Oakland Community College and seven of the top eight.

John Thomas led the Rocks with a winning time of 17:32. Steve Boudreau was second (18:07), Derek Cudini third (18:12), Andy Hellmers fourth (18:19), Mike Patterson fifth (18:20) and Jayson McDonald sixth (18:46). Teammate Matt Erickson was eighth (19:17).

North runners in the top 10 included Jon Szutarski, who was seventh at 19:06; Josh Chinitz, ninth at 19:33; and Spencer Turett, 10th at 19:34. Salem is 5-1 overall in dual meets, the Raiders 3-2 in the division.

Chiefs clobber North, 34-9

Everybody knows what Plymouth Canton's offense is capable of doing. The Chiefs demonstrated their proficiency again Friday night, rolling over visiting North Farmington 34-9 and running their season record

Almost overlooked is the defense, which has quietly done its job while operating in the shadow of an offense averaging 31 1/2 points a game.

But the defensive unit had a leading role in Canton's latest victory, helping get the Chiefs started with a 10-3 lead in the first quarter. The final tally had Canton holding North's first-team offense to zero yards rushing and 67 passing.

"It's the defense that wins games, and it's the offense that guarantees the win," said Canton linebacker Liam Rentz, who had a fumble recovery and an interception.

"THE DEFENSE is kinda underwork hard enough. But we've got good players who don't get down on emselves and keep hitting hard." Canton's defense, allowing just 11 football points per game, jumped on the Raiders (4-4) right away.

The Chiefs downed a punt at the North 5-yard line, and Canton end Mark Meszaros dropped North tailback Matt Mummert in the end zone for a safety on first down.

The Raiders forced another punt but fumbled, and Rentz recovered at the North 24. Karl Wukie ran 15 vards for the first of two rushing touchdowns, and he passed to Jason Riggs for the conversion and a 10-0

North went to the air, throwing on six straight plays and marching to the Canton 6. But the Chiefs stopped the drive there, and the Raiders settled for Mike Ober's 23-yard field

"Our defense did a good job," said rated. People say the defense doesn't ... Canton coach Bob Khoenle, who admits to being a perfectionist. "They're improving and getting bet-

"I guess I'm just a stickler for that. I'd like to see the kids play harder. I like to see them get better and better each week. Maybe I expect too much, but that's OK, too."

AFTER HOLDING the Raiders to a field goal - their only points until reserve back Jack Wilks ran 66 yards for a touchdown with 23 seconds left - Canton had a 14-play, 80-yard scoring drive that, all agreed, was pivotal in deciding the outcome.

Wukie ran 4 yards for his second TD at 7:38 in the second quarter, and the 17-3 lead held up through half-

The Chiefs came up with another defensive stand late in the half. Dave Rankin recovered a Canton fumble at the Canton 28, but the Chiefs held on fourth-and-11 at their 16.

"We had a great night," Canton's other linebacker, Josh Walaskay, said of the defense. "Liam was great. He was totally awesome. It helps to have the defensive line like we have, doing their jobs right.

"What really set the tone was Meszaros and the safety. He got in there and put the guy down - and got everybody going."

Rocks avenge loss to N'ville

By Neal Zipeer staff writer

Plymouth Salem's football team went to sleep Friday night with dreams of making the post-season playoffs while the Northville squad hoped Friday night's game was just a bad nightmare.

The real nightmare was Rock tailback Leon Hister, who rushed 26 times for 171 yards, leading Salem to a 27-13 victory at Northville. The Rocks improved to 6-2 overall and 5-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"The only thing we'll be thinking about this week is our next game (Plymouth Canton)," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. Salem finished 8-1 last year but was not chosen for the playoffs despite having a better record than Ann Arbor Pioneer (7-2).

"I'm not even worried about the playoffs," Moshimer said. "We will take whatever is given to us. I'm very proud of our kids. We graduated most of our starters from last season and we've made a lot of progress."

But the Mustangs, who also entered the game with visions of the playoffs, left the field with the vision of Hister's No. 39 freshly implanted in their heads.

HISTER TOOK control of the game in the third quarter, gaining 117 yards in 10 carries and keeping the potent Mustang offense off the

Northville saw its record fall to 5-3 overall and, with it, any playoff

"You have to credit to their offensive line," Mustang coach Darrell Schumacher said. "They dominated our defense in the second half. We knew they would run it and they have a good back in 'This game took the heart out of the team. It took their goal away, which was to make the playoffs. They worked very hard this year."

When Schumacher looks over the scorebook, he may even be more disappointed. His Mustangs outgained the Rocks in total offense 351-317, which included an outstanding performance by Ryan Huzjak. The junior quarterback completed 21 of 28 pass attempts for 256 yards.

The way the game started it looked like the Mustangs would be playing football in November. Northville took the opening kickoff and in nine plays drove to the Rock 26-yard line. But Kevin Craggs forced Huzjak to make a bad pitch, and the fumble was recovered by Jake Dempsey.

NORTHVILLE GOT the ball back and drove to midfield, but the Rocks' Allen August forced another errant Huzjak pitch. Scott Rodgers recovered this time.

Hister paces win for Salem

Salem took advantage of the second miscue and, seven runs and 3:13 later, scored the game's first points. On a fourth-and-1 at the Mustang 1, Rock senior quarter-back Chris Tebben kept the ball and sneaked in for the touchdown. K.C. Kirkpatrick's point after gave Salem a 7-0 lead.

Tebben completed four of six passes for 56 yards.

When Northville got the ball back, it looked like that lead would be short lived. After Huzjak hit Ryan Kilner for 15 yards, Huzjak scrambled for a 53-yard gain down to the Rock 5-yard line. But another bad pitch resulted in the third Mustang turnover.

The Mustang defense held Sa-lem, and after a short punt and a face-mask penalty, Northville found itself at the Rock 23-yard line. Four plays later, sophomore Rob Subotice ran untouched from 6 yards out, making the score 7-6 in favor of Salem.

Northville drove once more before the half ended behind four Huzjak completions, but the clock ran out before the Mustangs could attempt a field goal.

"We felt very lucky going into halftime with the lead. We got all the breaks," Moshimer said, whose team was outgained 234-103 yards.

"WE SAID AT halftime the three turnovers cost us the lead,"

The third quarter belonged to Hister. He ran eight straight times and drove the Rocks to the Mustang 13. Tebben hit John Flynn to give Salem a 14-6 lead.

Salem got the ball back and Hister ran up the middle for a 56yard touchdown, giving Salem a 20-6 lead and shocking the Mus-tangs. The shock was that Hister was supposed to have a pulled groin injury.

"I have played bette, ...d felt better," Hister said. "It was a big win for us tonight, but we have to win next week, also."

The Mustangs didn't roll over. Northville drove 57 yards in 10 plays. Senior Bill Kelley made a one-hand catch to haul in a Huzjak 6-yard touchdown pass and close the margin to 20-13.

game - and the clock - in the fourth quarter. Salem kept the ball for seven minutes and 16 plays, scoring on a Hister 5-yard touchdown run. Kirkpatrick's point after made it 27-13.

Northville drove the field one more time, but Pete Zantop picked off a Huzjak pass at the Rock 2-yard line, ending all Mustang comeback hopes.

Junior Dan Burke carried 10 times for 69 yards for the Rocks. Senior Mark Hilfinger was the leading Mustang receiver with five receptions for 83 yards.

"We did what we do best - run the football," Moshimer said. "We added a couple of wrinkles but ba-sically we did what we usually do."

Defense shines for Canton

The Chiefs finished off North by scoring on their first three possessions of the second half and building a 34-3 lead early in the fourth quar-

THE FIRST drive resulted in Jeff Nafe's 30-yard field goal. Later a good punt return by Mike Wougamon gave Canton the ball at the North 32, and Wougamon, after a lateral pass from Wukie, passed 20 yards to Brett Howell for a TD.

The Chiefs converted Rentz' interception into another score. A holding penalty nullified a 21-yard TD run by Chris James, but Wougamon ran 11 yards for the team's final score four plays later.

"We were concerned about North Farmington," Khoenle said. "They have a good team, and if you lose one it's hard to climb over that."

With the win, Canton continues its pursuit of a playoff berth. As was the case last year, the season finale be-tween the Chiefs and Plymouth Salem (6-2) will have a bearing on postseason play for both teams.

"It's going to come down to the last game like last year," Khoenle said. "It'll be a helluva game. It will be an emotional game as it is. Plus all the other stuff added to it is going to make it something else."

Wukie finished 8-of-15 passing for 63 yards. The Chiefs piled up 236 of their 319 yards on the ground. James rushed for 58 yards on 13 carries, Riggs 45 on 12 and Wukie 36 on six. Riggs and Howell caught three pass-

ALL OF NORTH'S plus-77 rushing yards came on its last series. Quarterback Mark Temple completed seven of 20 passes for 67 yards.

'We just didn't establish anything," North coach Jim O'Leary said. "Our kids didn't quit, but we just didn't play very good football.

"We couldn't dictate what we wanted to do. We were forced to throw the ball. They're a good football team; they're not as good as John Glenn, but they do things well and we didn't take advantage of what was there."

The Raiders close the season Friday at South Lyon.

"There's only been three teams in the history of North Farmington that had losing seasons," O'Leary said, "and I don't want to be one of them. Next week we'll find out if they know what Raider pride is all

There are some leagues where the scores are drastically down from last season. Without a doubt, there are far less bonor scores being reported.

Honor scores, consisting of 300 games and 700 series, were coming through in bunches last season. That has not been the case this year.

Ever since the short oil system was introduced in 1986, bowlers have had to adjust this new surface. Bowlers adjusted well, perhaps too well, as scores began to rise

While it takes a lot of skill to maintain a 200 average, the high numbers began to concern many in the bowling industry, including ABC.

One bowler told me: "I felt great about the 300 game I shot, until I saw three others on the same night."

NEXT SEASON, there are new ABC rules coming out regarding lane condi-tioning and the way a ball can be drilled to create a different effect.

This season, the various bowling cen ters seem to have made a few subtle changes in the way they oil the lanes.

Some bowling houses have gone to a urethane finish. This calls for a different method of oiling and they are just finding out about the best methods and types of oil for this situation.

There are newly developed plastic sheets which cover the lane surface. Some bowling centers have adopted this system and it takes time to find a good formula which will provide a good shot for players. In some establishments, they have switched to synthetic lanes, which in itself can be a challenge for bowlers. "Someday the industry will have to find a lane surface which needs no oil or conditions at all," professional bowler Brian Voss said. "They need to find a surface where the shot will be challenging, but consistent everywhere

MEANWHILE, IT is up to the individual bowler to adjust his or her game to meet the lane conditions. Sometimes, this can be a simple guessing game.

You begin to ask questions about stance, speed of the ball and polish on

To anyone who is having more trouble this season with their game, I say, don't give in, keep trying to bowl your best and learn to adjust to the lanes.

· Any team interested in a one-day tournament can enter the Fall Open Team Tournament at Westland Bowl. First prize is $1,200 guaranteed and entry fee is $100 per team.

The tournament will take place on Sunday, Nov. 4, and is open to any fiveperson team. Both men and women are invited to participate.

For further information call Westland Bowl at 722-7570.

FOR A $5 qualifying fee, you can come in and enter during open bowling ime even if you are in a regular league

To qualify, you must bowl your average or better. After qualifying, you advance to the house finals in November. The ones closest to their actual average go on to compete in the National Competition with all expenses paid. The National Competition takes place in Reno, Nev. In case of a tie, there will be a roll off to determine a house winner.

During the televised finals, a top prize of $1 million is awarded if you bowl your exact average.

Dropping scores due CEP rivals clash in district

Plymouth Salem begins its quest for a return trip to the Class A boys soccer final today, and traditional rival Plymouth Canton presents the first obstacle on that road.

The Rocks, who were runners-up to Troy Athens last year, play Canton at 7 p.m. at Centennial Educa-

Salem, the Western Lakes Activities Association champion and 15-1-1 overall, has beaten the Chiefs twice this season. While both games were shutouts, each was close in score.

The Rocks defeated Canton 2-0 in the championship game of the Plymouth Invitational in early September, and Salem edged the Chiefs 1-0 during a regular-season contest.

We have to do it again on the field," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "There's always that unknown aspect, the mystique of the Canton-Salem game. We can do it, but we have to play our decent, steady

CANTON FINISHED 7-4 in the WLAA and is 9-8 overall. The Chiefs know they have their work cut out for them, coach Don Smith said.

"They sorta dominated the games," he said. "The second one was much better than the first one. We got some action down around the goal, but we definitely have to get more if we're going to make a difference. We have to put a lot more pressure on their defense and, hopefully, they'll make mistakes."

Salem goalkeeper Derek Olson has 10 shutouts this season, and defenders Jake Baker, Chris Lajoy, Matt Lee and Ryan Fitzpatrick have been outstanding as expected.

their WLAA crossover game Wednesday night.

The Chiefs and Salem, as runners up in their respective divisions, met in the crossover last year and had to face each other again the next Monday in the district opener.

BUT THIS year the Rocks beat Stevenson for the first time in regular season play and, for the first time, enter district competition as Union's Kraft Field.

"I think it will give us a little confidence, because in the past we'd just been defeated by Stevenson," John-son said. "I think we're in a better position this year, because it's been a while since we last played (the

'Canton always gets fired up. This year I know they want to knock off the conference champ. We always get fired up when we're playing a No. 1 team or a team that hasn't been beaten."

SMITH HOPES a change to put more offense in the Canton lineup will help. The Chiefs are using three forwards instead of two when they last played Salem.

Hopefully, we can spread them out defensively a little more," he said. "With two forwards, they were ganging up on us, because our halfbacks weren't getting to the play fast enough."

The teams also will play each other for the first time on their new,

They're a good team at moving the ball around and spreading the field, too," Smith said. "So that may be more of an advantage for them. We'll see "

SALEM'S DEFENSE will be watching for Canton forward Mike Presley, Johnson said.

"He's a steady boy, quick and dan-gerous," he said. "He had a pretty good game every time I saw them. We'll have to mark him and hope the rest of the team doesn't play above themselves. We can't relax in other words."

The Canton-Salem winner will play either Churchill or Livonia Franklin in the second round Wednesday. The final is scheduled for 1 p.m. Saturday at Redford

'We're a contender (for the conference title), and we should be in the top four or five teams easy," Salem coach Mike Krafchak said. "We've got everybody healthy, so we should have a shot at it."

North's Jenny Weh captured first place in 21:44, but the Rocks filled six of the next seven places. Stacey Witthoff was second (21:57), Corey Gulkewicz third (22:00), Emily North. Mitchell ran 22:03 and Atto 23:27. Salem's Jill Czaplicki rounded out the top 10 with a 23:45 time.

North's scorers included Alicia Crossland, who was 11th overall (24:02), and Lisa Biederman, 13th at 25:06.

PREGNANCY & ARTHRITIS

Pregnancy remains among the best treatments for arthritis. The hormones of pregnancy act similarly to steroids but without the side effects; as pregnancy proceeds, joint inflammation subsides and movement

Moreover, because of the good effect of pregnancy on arthritis, anti-rheumatic nedications can be decreased or even stopped, thus eliminating a potential harm to the development of the baby.

One exception to the above is lupus arthritis. When that condition is associated with kidney disease, a possible problem arises because of the need for strong kidneys to handle the increased body fluid volume that is part of pregnancy. Women with lupus arthritis may develop the "lupus anticoagulant" antibody. This antibody causes clotting of the blood vessels that supply the placenta; if narrowing of the arteries goes far enough, the child may deliver prematurly.

The beneficial effects of pregnancy end 6 weeks after delivery; then arthritis returns, usually to the degree that existed before conception. Thus, it is important that the husband learns how to dress, feed, and participate in the child's daily care. He well may need to undertake this active role. Often his wife has the more difficult of adjusting physically and emotionally to the limitations that arthritis brings to Northville's Steve Coon was third (17:45), but Jim Carnes (17:54), Dave Yack (17:55), Jason Napolitano (18:14), Chris Nelson (18:44) and Shawn McNamara (18:50) grabbed the next five places for the Chiefs.

Kirk Stewart finished 10th and was Canton's top JV runner at 19:17. Ryan McClain ran 19:32 and Justin Sarrach 19:49 as the Chiefs won that Canton hopes to challenge Western in the WLAA meet at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday at Cass Benton.

"I certainly hope we race Walled Lake Western a little better than we did last week," Canton coach Jim Hayes said. The Chiefs lost that meet 18-45. "Western is certainly the team to beat.

hearing health care.

They suggest that a person suffering a hearing loss have a medical evaluation by a licensed physician and preferably by a physician who specializes in diseases of the ear. These doctors are often referred to as otolaryngologists, otologists or otorhinolaryngologists. These are physicians who specialize either in the ear or in the ear, nose and throat. The purpose of the medical evaluation is to make certain that any conditions that affect the hearing and can be medically treated are identified and treated prior to the purchase of a hearing aid. Following the medical evaluation, the physician will give you a written statement stating that the hearing loss has been medically evaluated and that the individual may be considered as a candidate for a hearing aid. The doctor will probably refer you to an audiologist or a hearing aid specialist for a hearing aid evaluation. They will then conduct a hearing aid evaluation, which will enable them to select and fit the proper hearing aid. Federal law now prohibits the sale of hearing aids without an evaluation from a licensed physician unless the patient waives his or her rights, declining a medical eval-uation, for religious or personal be-

If there is any question concerning the individual's ability to adapt to the use of a hearing aid, many hearing aid dispensers now offer a trialrental program. The hearing aid may be worn for a period of time. for a nominal fee, after which the decision to purchase can be made.

There are a variety of hearing aids and other mechanical devices to help people with hearing loss. It is important to remember however, that hearing aids may not work for everyone and they cannot restore function to normal.

The average cost of hearing aids may range from approximately $450 to $750 and in general, the larger the aid the more powerful it will be. There are five basic designs of hearing aids and patients should check them all out. There are body-type hearing aids worn on the body with a cord connecting to a receiver in the earmold; behind-the-ear hearing aids that are smaller, have no connecting cord and are connected usually by clear tubing to an earmold; hearing aids with the aid mounted to an eyeglass frame; all-in-the-ear hearing aids, which are earmolds containing hearing aids, with all of the mechanisms in a case that fits into the ear canal.

aw firms stress local ties at S'craft hearing

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Call It L.A. (Livonia area) law. Local ties were stressed Wednes-isy by three of the four firms that ed to be Schoolcraft Colage's legal representative.

Miller, Canfield, Paddock and tone, the college's current representative, stressed its long time ties o Schoolcraft.

Law, Hemming, Essad & Polyc-zyk, of Plymouth, stressed its ties to ng area governments.

Meanwhile, Livonia-based Brashear, Tangora and Spence stressed its ties to that city and near-

Madonna College.

While all brought their big guns, it may have been the fourth firm, Plunkett & Cooney of Detroit, that brought the biggest gun - a former U.S. Congressman. Former U.S. Rep. William Broad-head, head of the firm's governmental affairs division, was among five Plunkett & Cooney attorneys who appeared before the Schoolcraft board. It was the biggest contingent sent by any firm.

Each firm was granted a half-hour interview with trustees. Trustees are expected to announce their choice during the Wednesday, Oct. 24 board meeting.

While trustees were impressed with Broadhead's presence - and the firm's promise to make the Livonia-based community college a "prestige" client — they made no commitment to any firm.

"I'D SAY it's pretty open," board president Mary Breen said. "We haven't polled anybody yet, so it's hard to say how they feel."

Several trustees, however, expressed a lack of preference for Miller, Canfield, even though the firm has the most experience representing Michigan community colleges.

While the Detroit-based firm drew praise for its swift response to Schoolcraft legal questions, its' service charge, $160-190 a hour, was deemed the most expensive of the four firms considered.

"Their fees are high but they've given us good service," college President Richard McDowell told the board.

Schoolcraft paid Miller, Canfield $9,543 for legal services in its last fiscal year.

Referring to a three-year-old incident, trustee Jeanne Stempien questioned the firm about changing attorneys while Schoolcraft was negotiating to develop the Seven Mile Crossing office park. Attorneys for Miller, Canfield admitted the change was a mistake. Trustees also expressed concerns about a last-minute statement from Miller, Canfield that the project's 75-year lease was unworkable. We want someone who will show us how to do what we want," trustee Michael Burley said. "Not say it's impossible."

OTHER FIRMS fared somewhat better.

Law, Hemming stressed its ties to the Western Townships Utility Asssociation, an intergovernment group that includes Plymouth, Canton and Northville townships, three areas served by Schoolcraft.

No mention was made of the controversy surrounding the firm's bid.
Trustee Jack Kirksey had charged
Breen and attorney Robert Law with unfairly lobbying the board - a charge denied by Breen and the Law, Hemming was the initial choice of several board members for the job, though the board agreed to consider to interview other candidates after the controversy emerged.

Brashear, Tangora & Spence stressed its Livona ties - even tothe point of reminding trustees the firm helped draw up the city's charter and documents that helped create Schoolcraft itself.

Plunkett & Cooney told trustees it was willing to vary its fees to accommodate the college's needs.

Both Plunkett, Cooney and Miller-

Canfield are large firms, with hundreds of employees.

Law, Hemming and Brashear, Tangora & Spence are smaller.

"It's a question of whether we want to be a big fish in a small pond or a small fish in a bigger pond," Burley said.

If trees could talk, what would the giant canary palm in the Belle Isle Conservatory say? That 65-foot tree has spent most of its past 100 years in the huge greenhouse.

Lush, indeed. The conservatory walk takes you through the steamy tropics, past the desert and into a primeval fern forest. Here, you'll find the strange screw pine from Madagascar (now the Malagasy Republic), which grows in a winding corkscrew shape. And here are the representative trees from which we get lemons, bananas, coffee and, until synthetics, rubber.

'Avalon' excells as look at life

is an excellent film reminding viewers that America is still the land of opportunity. Writer/director Bar-ry Levinson tells an autobiographi-cal story of the simple complexity of family ties.

The immigrant Krichinsky elders and their first generation of American off-spring are superbly por-trayed by an international cast which includes Armin Mueller-Stahl, Joan Plowright, Aidan Quinn and Elizabeth Perkins. Their perfor-mances are so strong that it's impos-sible to single out any one over an-

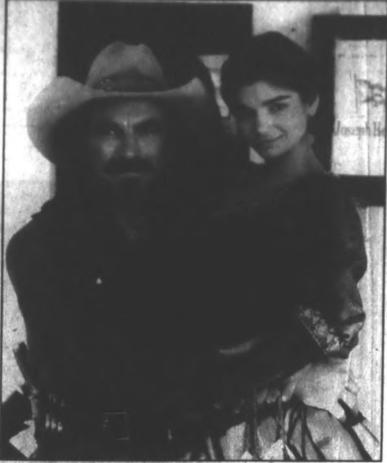

"Avalon's" only drawback - and it is a minor one — is that Levinson is not subtle in conveying his primary message about television, success, the suburbs and their pivotal role in breaking down even the closest of family bonds in modern society.

Eva and Sam Krichinsky

Eva and Sam Krichinsky (Plowright and Mueller-Stahl) are the lynchpins in a family whose love the lynchpins in a family whose love brings them to America and eventu-ally tears them apart. Jules Kaye (Quinn) and Izzy Kirk (Kevin Pol-lack) are cousins, American sons who feel the need to change their names in order to enjoy the fruits of success as television salesmen in the late '40s when the medium began to dominate American culture. Their move to the suburbs and that fasci-nation with television are the roots of destruction of their close-knit

Aside from that obvious quality in "Avalon" the film is nearly a perfect experience. Be prepared to leave the theater ready to celebrate both family and an America that probably never was and certainly never will be again. But are all so fortunate that someone thinks it was. Or at least that's how Pathe Entertainment envisioned "Quigley Down Under" (D, PG-13). Unfortunately the film, billed as a comedy-action-adventure, lacks humor and excitement. Most damaging, however, is its moral component.

Enticed by an ad seeking an expert sharpshooter, Matt Quigley travels from the American Wild West of the 1860s to Australia where he is appalled to discover that Australian rancher Marston Slater (Alan Rickman) has hired him to murder 'backward and primitive" Abori-

Disney has long thrived on the rerelease of their classic features, introducing them to a brand new generation every eight years or so. "Fantasia," currently celebrating its 50th anniversary in area theaters, has long been for me the high water-mark of studio animation.

"Fantasia" developed from a short vehicle for Mickey Mouse. Walt Disney collaborated with conductor Leopold Stokowski to combine animation with Paul Duka's "The Socerer's Apprentice," starring feature-length collection of sequences — a true fantasia.

Disney's top animators and scenarists sampled countless hours of classical music to find appropriate pieces to illustrate. What they came up with was a blend of comic, dramatic, narrative and abstract sequences presided over by the silver-haired silhouette of Stokowski, his back to the audience atop the conductor's podium.

For Los Lobos, there is no more "La Bamba." That makes them

Perhaps now the East L.A. fivesome can get down to the business of making music - their own mu-

While the soundtrack from the hit movie thrusted Los Lobos into the spotlight, the irony of it all was this was anything but a cover band.

In fact, Los Lobos' creative hybrid of Mexican folk with rock'n'roll sensibilities had a ground swell of followers on the college circuit. The band's first two albums - "How Will the Wolf Survive?" and "By the Light of Moon" - sold decently and were critically acclaimed.

Then came the film biography of 1950s Latino music sensation Ritchie Valens and the ensuing soundtrack. The LP sold more than 2 million copies and the title track remained No. 1 for three weeks on the charts.

Fickle followers of college radio went their way; newly-won fans clamored for "La Bamba."

"We had it (support from college radio)," said vocalist/guitarist David Hidalgo in a telephone interview. "It's funny, college radio. Once we were accepted by the masses . . . We weren't cool any-

Certainly, Los Lobos couldn't be accused of a sell-out. After all, the band followed the soundtrack with "La Pistola y El Corazon" - an alburn of Mexican folk songs sung in Spanish.

So, when other bands would be counting the profits, Los Lobos talks about starting from scratch.

"Neighborhood" (Warner/Slash) is the group's latest album. The LP is chockful of the hallmarks of what made critics rave about Los Lobos in the first place - Mexican folk rhythms and rock'n'roll along with new elements such as country member Cesar Rosas and blues great Willie Dixon co-wrote "I Can't Understand." John Hiatt and The Band's Levon Helm serve as guest musicians on the LP.

"We were happy with what happened (with "La Bamba")," Hidalgo said. "It got us in front of a lot of people.

"After 'La Pistola y El Corazon' we wanted to tour. We just wanted to make a good record."

A part of what makes "Neighborhood" a good record is the songwriting. Hardly prosaic, the lyrics have a directness and a sincerity few records possess in this day and age.

Drummer and multi-instrumentalist Louis Perez shares the songwriting with Hidalgo. Their songs about love can be optimistic without being maudlin.

Remembering the old neighborhood is one of few reminisces Hidalgo allows himself. He does ask about Joe's Star Lounge in Ann Arbor where the band performed several times.

But Los Lobos is very much in the present. Although the group has been together for more than seven years - coming out the L.A. club scene with bands such as X and the Blasters - music still very much about discovery.

"We never go too much one way. It's a combination of all this stuff we grew up with," Hidalgo said. 'That's what makes this a unique band, I guess."

ALL SHOOK DOWN

— The Replacements

This record says Replacements on it, but after hearing the varied texture of the songs and seeing the extensive list of "musicians who played on this recorded thing," you get the feeling that "All Shook Down" is a Paul Westerberg solo alburn that the other Replacements happened to play on.

The fact is, Westerberg's maturing, at least musically. It's been a gradual process from the early '80s thrashing punk of "The Replacements Stink" and "Sorry, Ma, Forgot to Take Out the Trash" to the bopping pop of last year's "Don't Tell a Soul" and finally to "All Shook Down," an LP of acoustically-based songs with the rough edges left on.

It's that roughness, the demo-like quality that brings an immediate appeal to "All Shook Down," -hich, incidentally, has one of the greatest album covers ever The music is pretty straightforward, kept in time by the omnipresent pulsing of Chris Mars' drums. For old-time 'Mats fans, Westerberg threw in the rave-ups "My Little Problem," a wailing duet with Concrete Blonde's Johnette Napolitano, and "Bent Out of Shape," a

he Replacements

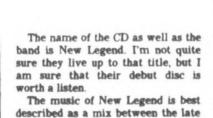

"Tim"-like tune featuring the staple siren of Slim Dunlap's guitar.

But Westerberg is at his best on songs like the title track, "When it Began," and "Someone Take the Wheel." Rock's potted poet laments in "Nobody," a great tune with a Beatlesque guitar hook, "You're still in love with nobody/And I used to be nobody.'

His hold-up-the-bar lyrics have a knack for hitting the heart without missing the guts: "Hush was the first word you were taught," he hisses with a mouth full of spit in the opener, "Merry Go Round."

Peter Bootsman has that raspy vocal quality that melts in well with the placid guitar style of guitarist Carl Carlton.

"I see a song as 50 percent music, 50 percent music lyrics," said Carlton. "A song, even a funny song is a little piece of art."

The band has a 19-year-old keyboardist, Pascal Kravetz, but for the most part he is seldom heard. The song "Mean Mistreater" breaks the blues mold and helps wind up the disc on a purely rock'n'roll note.

While this is the band's debut alburn they are not novices to the rock'n'roll biz, all but one of the members of the group used to play in Dutch rock bands through out the '80s. This seems to have broadened their spectrum a bit.

If you're in the market for a little something new in the R&B category, I think New Legend might fit the bill. Their compact disc comes complete with all the words to the songs. That's always nice.

RAGGED GLORY - Neil Young

Neil Young & Crazy Horse's new-est work, "Ragged Glory," isn't ragged or glorious.

Much like Young's career, this one has moments of greatness and mediocrity. Young, reunited with Billy Talbot, Ralph Molina of Crazy Horse fame, this time joined by guitarist Frank Sampedro, set out to achieve the elusive "garage band" sound that so many nostalgia-feeling aging rockers have been seeking. They found mixed results in a barn on Young's farm.

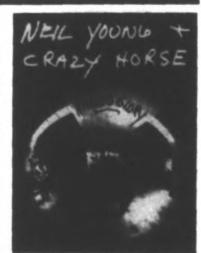

The sound is raw and lively, but muddied mixing sometimes ruins otherwise good tracks.

But when Young and Crazy Horse succeed, which is most of the time, this recording is worth a look.

"Country Home" reveals that Young still yearns for the simple life, and "Days That Used to Be" hints that perhaps the years are creeping up on him and he'd like to return to the days of his youth.

"Over and Over" is another wellintentioned love song of sorts nothing earth shattering, just a decent track.

In "Fo!#in' Up," an intentionally brazen tip of the hat to censors everywhere, Young dares the moral majority to slap a sticker on his album. In "White Line" a deceptively titled song about driving at night, succeeds in blending folk rocker Young's pas-sion with his electric guitar inclina-

Even the somewhat preachy "Mother Earth" (Natural Anthem) works well.

Unfortunately, Young also includes several "so what" tracks in which he falls back into one of his greatest failings - his refusal to end a song before the idea gets old -"Love to Burn" and "Love and Only Love," as well as the downright awful "Farmer John."

Endless guitar licks that do little more than highlight average musi-cianship really defeats the purpose behind the reason we buy these records in the first place — Young's caustic wit and angry no-longer young man views.

This will be confusing for and common sense supports, that if you are comfortable with your decision and confident discussing it, your daughter is more likely to share your

Many parents in your situation have had to tolerate periods of rejec-tion from their children. Most say that when previous relations had been good, this is a knee-jerk reac-tion which subsides after the initial resentment is acted out.

Your husband's concern for the daughter you share is a common one. Do you get angry at him because you are defensive and unsure of your choice? You have made a decision which, while best for you, is difficult for them. Further burdening with your anger would be divisive.

There are good books that deal with this subject and support groups to help you sort through your feel-ings. Parents-FLAG (Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays) at (313) 478-8408 is one. Affirmations at (313) 398-7105, a gay community center in Ferndale, is another.

Lawyers that I consulted on the legal issue say that any non-married unions can be used as a morality charge against the perpetrators. This is another of the harsh realities that you must accept.

back with Quigley to escape Marston. They befriend a tribe of Aborigines, run into a pack of dingoes and enjoy many late-night camp fires. Quigley becomes a hero for his valiant defense of the Aborigines attacked by Marston's posse and the plot is neatly tied together in an unbelievable and unsatisfying ending.

Acting and dialogue seem phony and out of place with Marston's distorted, painful smirk and Quigley's thick, unappealing, Old West accent. Plot elements will be recognized readily - they're borrowed from numerous other films.

Although one purpose of the film is to raise a moral question about the treatment of the Aborigines, the approach is weak. The fact than an American is depicted as a crusader for Aborigine rights and the Australians as mass murderers is paradoxical considering the genocide of native Americans in that period of American history.

Though "Quigley Down Under" had high hopes of delivering a message in an atmosphere of fun, in the end its poor acting, trite dialogue and overly familiar plot elements leave viewers unsatisfied. (Reviewed by Brian Dunn)

Brett Butler unofficially began her comedy career at the age of 8, much to the chagrin of her Georgia elementary school teachers.

But she waited another 16 years before officially beginning a career that has now spanned the past eight years on the comedy circuit.

"My mother encouraged me since I was 8," Butler said. "She was the only hip, liberal, middle-aged southern woman I knew, and she used to write down some of the funny things my sisters and I would say or do and send them into Reader's Digest."

Butler would take those anecdotes and combine them with material of George Carlin, her favorite comedian at the time, and use them to en-

"I'm really leaning into the politi-cal and societal quirks," Butler said. "And when I say societal quirks I mean things like our preoccupation with how we look."

She also has some things to say about being a southern woman who relocated to New York City, and said her material is definitely adult-oriented, although not profane.

"I can't make statements about politicians without having something funny to say," Butler said. "People are surprised by my liberalism. They see my name and they think, 'Oh a woman from the South,' and they automatically come to certain conclusions.

"BUT THE people at my shows usually take it (her liberalism) pretty well. I think nowadays the only people who can afford to buy tickets are Republicans and as long as I have a punch line at the end they seem to forgive me."

How to win at the numbers game.

The game is newspaper advertising — and the rules are changing. Rates are up in the Detroit News and Free Press. Suburban circulation is down. And all around town, advertisers are wondering what numbers to trustand where to place their media dollars. What should you do

Beware of smoke and mirrors.

Right now, the News and Free Press circulation is unstable at best. On the other hand, SPRING's network of 39 Detroit suburban newspapers delivers to more than 500,000 households and that's a real number.

> How do we know? All SPRING newspapers are audited. Every year, the circulation figures for each SPRING newspaper are verified by either CAC or ABC—two of the industry's most highly-respected independent auditors.

No slippery stuff here. SPRING's numbers are tested, tried, and true.

Place your bet on SPRING.

Once you've studied the numbers, we're sure you'll agree: SPRING is a sure winner.

SPRING's circulation is solid and stable. It's audited. And it represents more than one million readers who have the means to buy what vou sell.

No matter how you figure it - those are very good odds, indeed.

See what's behind the numbers.

OK - so dazzling numbers can be misleading. And, when it comes to newspaper circulation figures, you want more than quantity. You want quality:

We've got it. SPRING's one million readers are some of the most affluent consumers around. SPRING newspapers go to suburbs with the spending power to buy more cars, condos, boats, bikes, appliances, apparel, gizmos, and gadgets than most other Michigan communities combined.

Best of all, SPRING delivers this upscale suburban market at a lower cost per thousand than either the News or the Free Press.

Animals bring on new tune

Animals has performed only a handful of bar shows, preferring to con-centrate on their craft.

Baker said the band doesn't want to be pigeonholed as a bar band. In-stead, the group has come up with some viable alternatives to the smoky din of the nightclub when performing live.

One might surmise the band steering clear of the bar scene could have something to do with their Christian upbringing. Not so, according to Doughty, who quickly shoots down the label Thirsty Forest Animals are a "Christian rock band."

"We went to a Christian school." he said. "I feel there are better ways to show you are a Christian than through Christian rock. It has such a bad feeling to it."

back with Quigley to escape Marston. They befriend a tribe of Aborigines, run into a pack of dingoes and enjoy many late-night camp fires. Quigley becomes a hero for his valiant defense of the Aborigines attacked by Marston's posse and the plot is neatly tied together in an unbelievable and unsatisfying ending.

Acting and dialogue seem phony and out of place with Marston's distorted, painful smirk and Quigley's thick, unappealing, Old West accent. Plot elements will be recognized readily - they're borrowed from numerous other films.

Although one purpose of the film is to raise a moral question about the treatment of the Aborigines, the approach is weak. The fact than an American is depicted as a crusader for Aborigine rights and the Australians as mass murderers is paradoxical considering the genocide of native Americans in that period of American history.

Though "Quigley Down Under" had high hopes of delivering a message in an atmosphere of fun, in the end its poor acting, trite dialogue and overly familiar plot elements leave viewers unsatisfied. (Reviewed by Brian Dunn)

In 1968 George Romero got tired of filming commercials and lensed a black-and-white, low-budget horror epic, "Night of the Living Dead." It was funny in its own bizzare and slightly gruesome way. It quickly became a cult hit and spawned full-color sequels. The gag wore off, but the fascination with zombies and gore continues so be prepared for a gross tour de force in the 1990 remake of 'Night of the Living Dead" (R).

Brett Butler unofficially began her comedy career at the age of 8, much to the chagrin of her Georgia elementary school teachers.

But she waited another 16 years before officially beginning a career that has now spanned the past eight years on the comedy circuit.

"My mother encouraged me since I was 8," Butler said. "She was the only hip, liberal, middle-aged southern woman I knew, and she used to write down some of the funny things my sisters and I would say or do and send them into Reader's Digest."

Butler would take those anecdotes and combine them with material of George Carlin, her favorite comedian at the time, and use them to en-

She likes the East Coast mentality, and says she's finding her comedy voice amidst the intellectual stimu lation the New York atmosphere provides.

"I'm really leaning into the politi-cal and societal quirks," Butler said. And when I say societal quirks I mean things like our preoccupation with how we look."

She also has some things to say about being a southern woman who relocated to New York City, and said her material is definitely adult-oriented, although not profane.

"I can't make statements about politicians without having something funny to say," Butler said. "People are surprised by my liberalism. They see my name and they think, 'Oh a woman from the South,' and they automatically come to certain conclusions.

"BUT THE people at my shows usually take it (her liberalism) pretty well. I think nowadays the only people who can afford to buy tickets are Republicans and as long as I have a punch line at the end they

How to win at the numbers game.

The game is newspaper advertising — and the rules are changing. Rates are up in the Detroit News and Free Press. Suburban circulation is down. And all around town, advertisers are wondering what numbers to trustand where to place their media dollars. What should you do other hand, SPRING's network of 39 Detroit suburban newspapers delivers to more than 500,000 households and that's a real number.

How do we know? All SPRING newspapers are audited. Every year, the circulation figures for each SPRING newspaper are verified by either CAC or ABC—two of the industry's most highly-respected independent auditors.

No slippery stuff here. SPRING's numbers are tested, tried, and true.

Once you've studied the numbers, we're sure you'll agree: SPRING is a sure winner.

SPRING's circulation is solid and stable. It's audited. And it represents more than one million readers who have the means to buy what vou sell.

No matter how you figure it - those are very good odds, indeed.

the numbers.

OK - so dazzling numbers can be misleading. And, when it comes to newspaper circulation figures, you want more than quantity. You want quality.

We've got it. SPRING's one million readers are some of the most affluent consumers around. SPRING newspapers go to suburbs with the spending power to buy more cars, condos, boats, bikes, appliances, apparel, gizmos, and gadgets than most other Michigan communities combined.

Best of all, SPRING delivers this upscale suburban market at a lower cost per thousand than either the News or the Free Press.

proach is weak. The fact than an American is depicted as a crusader for Aborigine rights and the Australians as mass murderers is paradoxical considering the genocide of native Americans in that period of American history.

Though "Quigley Down Under" had high hopes of delivering a message in an atmosphere of fun, in the end its poor acting, trite dialogue and overly familiar plot elements leave viewers unsatisfied. (Reviewed by Brian Dunn)

Brett Butler unofficially began her comedy career at the age of 8, much to the chagrin of her Georgia elementary school teachers.

But she waited another 16 years before officially beginning a career that has now spanned the past eight years on the comedy circuit.

"My mother encouraged me since I was 8," Butler said. "She was the only hip, liberal, middle-aged southern woman I knew, and she used to write down some of the funny things my sisters and I would say or do and send them into Reader's Digest."

Butler would take those anecdotes and combine them with material of George Carlin, her favorite comedian at the time, and use them to en-

"I'm really leaning into the politi-cal and societal quirks," Butler said. "And when I say societal quirks I mean things like our preoccupation with how we look."

She also has some things to say about being a southern woman who relocated to New York City, and said her material is definitely adult-oriented, although not profane.

"I can't make statements about politicians without having something funny to say," Butler said. "People are surprised by my liberalism. They see my name and they think, 'Oh a woman from the South,' and they automatically come to certain conclusions.

"BUT THE people at my shows usually take it (her liberalism) pretty well. I think nowadays the only people who can afford to buy tickets are Republicans and as long as I have a punch line at the end they seem to forgive me."

How to win at the numbers game.

The game is newspaper advertising — and the rules ing. Rates are up in the Detroit News and Free Press. Suburban circulation is down. And all around town, advertisers are wondering what numbers to trustand where to place their media dollars. What should you do

Right now, the News and Free Press circulation is unstable at best. On the other hand, SPRING's network of 39 Detroit suburban newspapers delivers to more than 500,000 households and that's a real number.

How do we know? All SPRING newspapers are audited. Every year, the circulation figures for each SPRING newspaper are verified by either CAC or ABC - two of the industry's most highly-respected independent auditors.

No slippery stuff here. SPRING's numbers are tested, tried, and true.

Place your bet on SPRING.

Once you've studied the numbers, we're sure you'll agree: SPRING is a sure winner.

SPRING's circulation is solid and stable. It's audited. And it represents more than one million readers who have the means to buy what vou sell.

No matter how you figure it - those are very good odds, indeed.

See what's behind the numbers.

OK — so dazzling numbers can be misleading. And, when it comes to newspaper circulation figures, you want more than quantity. You want quality.

We've got it. SPRING's one million readers are some of the most affluent consumers around. SPRING newspapers go to suburbs with the spending power to buy more cars, condos, boats, bikes, appliances, apparel, gizmos, and gadgets than most other Michigan communities combined.

Best of all, SPRING delivers this upscale suburban market at a lower cost per thousand than either the News or the Free Press.

The inside of a Cinema 'n' Drafthouse reflects the philosophy of combining movie going with comfortable dining and drinking experience and is designed for young professionals, 21-35 years of age.

Eat, drink and . . . enjoy the movie

Just when you thought all the fun things in life were already invented, something new and fresh ap-

Enter the Wayside Cinema 'n' Drafthouse in the Ann Arbor/Ypsilanti area.

"It's a new entertainment concept for Michigan," said Garry Smyth, who along with Jon Kirn are managing partners of the new dining/drinking/movie watching emporium.

Take some friends and saunter into Wayside's art deco theater/ restaurant. Ease into comfortable, movable, swivel chairs at round cabaret-style tables. A waiter appears, takes your beverage - beer, wine or pop — order while you peruse the menu choices. The lights dim, but not too dark, and suddenly a popular movie begins, shown on a full-sized screen.

Michigan's first Wayside Cinema 'n' Drafthouse will open Nov. 1 in the old Wayside Cinema on Washtenaw Avenue. Its philosophy of combining movie going with com-fortable dining and drinking expe-rience is designed for young professionals, 21-35 years of age.

"I'm originally from Washington, D.C., and I've been going to the Cinema 'n' Drafthouse ever since I was able to drink," Kirn said. "It's inexpensive and a lot of fun. When I came to Michigan, I looked for something similar and found that it just didn't exist."

THE ORIGINAL Cinema 'n' Drafthouse opened in Orlando, Fla., in 1975. Its immediate success prompted a franchise start-up a few years later. Today, 19 Cinema 'n' Drafthouse establishments exist throughout the southeast and southern United States. Smyth and Kirn came together in 1989 as partners, due to their enthusiasm about Wayside and a shared belief that Michigan would welcome and enjoy such an activi-

"When I was first exposed to the Cinema 'n' Drafthouse in Orlando, I thought to myself, "This is the best way to see a movie that I've ever come across," Smyth said.

Movable tables and chairs allow friends and families to assemble themselves in any fashion and enjoy the experience of eating, drinking and movie as close together or as far apart as they desire.

"The theme is art deco," Smyth said. "A lot of glass block and neon in the lobby. Indirect lighting and Charlie Chaplin motif can be found inside the theater."

The movies are intermediate run, which means they are accessible to Wayside six to eight weeks after their first release.

Standard, state-of-the-art projection and sound equipment is used. The screen is the size of those found in theaters. The 13,000square-foot building houses two 200-seat theater/restaurants, with shared kitchen and lobby space.

THE CUSTOMER chooses one of two movies being shown at the Wayside. Each movie is shown twice each evening weekdays, with a midnight showing on weekends.

"On the weekends, between the late show and the midnight show, we offer a live, stand-up comedian in each theater," Smyth said. "They perform for 15 minutes each and then switch theaters and perform again."

And although the age minimum for the Drafthouse will be 21, there will be exceptions, Smyth said.

"We plan on running specials during the Christmas holidays, spring break and summers as well as special events for families, children and the elderly," he said.

Smyth and Kirn estimate that customers spend about $7.50 each at the Wayside. That includes the admission price - $2 Sunday-Thursday and $3 Friday-Saturday - with the balance food and beverage.

"It's an inexpensive night out," Smyth said.

The menu consists of sandwiches, salads and desserts, along with a variety of drinks.

You'll find party platters filled with such foods as baby back ribs, spicy chicken wings, potato skins and teriyaki chicken strips. There's also the usual nachos, totilla chips and salsa,, popcorn, veggie platters, hamburgers, clubs, subs and sandwiches, coney dogs and

FOR DESSERT, there's chocolate suicide cake, cheese cake, root beer float or hot fudge sundae.

Beer is served in chilled mugs or the pitcher. Wines, wine coolers and champagne can be ordered by the glass, carafe or bottle. Soft drinks come in regular and jumbo sizes, and there's also iced tea and Waiters and Watresses walk among the tables throughout the evening, taking orders, serving food and quietly removing dishes.

"The service is what you would find at a casual restaurant, such as a Bennigan's and TGIF," Smyth said. "You don't need any special skill to go to the Wayside. You don't need any special attire. You don't need to make reservations. You don't need to spend a lot of

It was April 23, 1919. The location was the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Woodward and Parsons, slated for demolition so a new concert hall could be erected on the Detroit church's foundation.

So great was the urgency to provide conductor Ossip Gabrilowitsch and the fledgling Detroit Symphony Orchestra with the concert hall demanded by the maestro, demolition of the church was begun while a wedding was in progress. As the bride and groom said their "I do's," part of the roof fell in.

The founding of the DSO was begun Jan. 8, 1914, by a group of so-cially prominent ladies. Led by Frances Sibley, each donated $100 to cover the costs of the rental of a hall, eight rehearsals and a concert conducted by Weston Gales.

PLAGUED BY a lack of public support and internal difficulties, the orchestra limped along until mid-season 1917-18, when Gales abandoned the project. For the remainder of the season, the orchestra imported guest conductors, among whom was a Russian-born pianist, Ossip Gabrilowitsch.

Gabrilowitsch was a great success and was engaged as conductor for the following season. He accepted the position with the provision that a suitable hall be built for the orchestra.

William H. Murphy, long a generous music patron, subscribed $100,000 for the project and that amount was matched by Horace E. Dodge. Other subscriptions followed. The Orchestra Hall building committee included noted Detroit architect Albert Kahn.

The designated architect was C. Howard Crane, a specialist in theatre design. Working with Gabrilowitsch, who had performed in most of Europe's major concert halls, Crane designed a dignified Renaissance building. And work ORCHESTRA HALL had to be ready for the 1919-20 season. Workers labored into the night, by lanterns, floodlights and torches. The hall was meant to be built on the square, but that was impossible because of the church foundation.

Often, Horace Dodge would arrive on the scene to find that an "insurmountable" problem had manifested itself. Dodge, a mechanical genius, would design a solution on the spot and say, "Here, make this part by tomorrow, and see if it doesn't work."

As construction proceeded, it was frequently necessary to modify design to meet existing conditions. The acoustics of the hall are a mystery. They were not the re-

Neeme Jarvi takes the podium to lead the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in the first of three consecutive weeks of concerts, his first as music director.

For his premiere as music director. Jarvi has chosen a program that includes Weber's "Overture to Oberon;" Hindmith's 'Symphonic Metamorphoses of Themes" by Carl Maria von Weber; Hanson's "Pastorale for Oboe and Strings," Donald

Baker, soloist; and Nielsen's "Symphony No. 4."
Performances are at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday, 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Orchestra Hall. For tickets, Jarvi began his tenure as 11th music director of the Detroit Symphony on Sept. 1, his first position with an American symony orchestra.

Born in Estonia in 1937, he graduated from the Tallinn Music School with degrees in percussion and choral conducting. He later completed his studies in opera and symphonic conducting at the Leningrad State Conservatory. In 1963, he became director of the Estonian Radio and Television Orchestra and began a 13-year tenure as chief conductor at the Tallinn Opera.

In 1971, Jarvi won first prize in the Conductors Competition in Rome. That led to invitations to conduct major orchestras worldwide. In the Soviet Union, he became chief conductor and artistic director of the Estonian State Symphony.

Clara Clemens Gabrilowitsch describes the event in her book, "My Husband, Gabrilowitsch:"

"In spite of great haste to meet an inflexible date, the magnificent architect, Mr. Robert Crane, ceived and built a concert hall that not only Detroit, but all Amera may be proud of . . .

"The size was exactly right, both tically and practically. It seated 2,300 people and the acoustics filled the requirements of musical sound. The soft decorations in blue-green shades gave esthetic plea-sure — in fact, one fell in love with Gabrilowitsch conducted the DSO for 16 triumphant seasons. Tragically, he died of cancer on Sept. 14, 1936. He was only 58. At the public funeral in Orchestra Hall, the orchestra played Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," as Gabrilowitsch had wished.

Gabrilowitsch had assisted in the foundation of the Palestine Orchestra. A grove of 1,100 trees was planted in his honor in Palestine. The Gabrilowitsch Grove stands today, in Upper Galilee.

IT WAS the depths of the Depres-sion and the orchestra was struggling for survival.

On July 17, 1939, the orchestra played its last concert at Orchestra Hall and moved to the new Mason-ic Auditorium. The magnificent hall, where Heifitz, Swarthout, Stravinsky, Rubenstin and George Gershwin had performed, became a first-run movie house, re-named the Town Theatre.

There was a brief golden period, 1943-52, when, as the Paradise Theatre, the hall featured jazz greats such as Count Basie and Duke Ellington.

From 1953-56, the grand old building served as the Church of Our Prayer. It then was abandoned to the elements and to vandals.

The DSO, under maestro Antol
Dorati, continued to record there, however, and groups such as the Cantata Society of Detroit rehearsed there, holding umbrellas to protect themselves from raindrops and from the pigeons who infested the crumbling interior.

IN 1971, David Dodge, an archi-tect, a music lover, and a grandson of Horace Dodge, flew back to the United States from Switzerland for the express purpose of saving Or-chestra Hall. His check for $30,000 saved the day. In 1971, Orchestra Hall was placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

A volunteer group, Save Orches-tra Hall, Inc., was formed to raise money to pay for restoration. Con-certs were offered to acquaint the citizens of Detroit with the acoustical marvel in their midst.

Paul Ganson recalls a concert given by planist James Tocco in June 1971, to show off the hall's coustics: "In the middle of a particularly delicate passage, Tocco was accompanied by the 'Coo, coo'

Learning to organize: a key to secure living

ONE OF my seminar students had a story I felt might be helpful, interesting and possibly create discussion on several aspects of organizing (names are fictitious):

"I've been reading your column with intense in-terest as you mention right-brained people organize in a different way than left-brained people. This is of particular interest to me. I'm an artist, very right-brained and have found it difficult to

"I've been working on my problem for about 10 years. When I began my business, I was highly motivated to organize my files, work and home in order to function more efficiently. The book "Messies Manual" (by Sandra Felton) helped me a great deal.

"My problem was that I made progress in this area, but I was ready to kill my daughter, Jane, who continued in her messy ways. Her room was so cluttered, one could not walk across the floor as there were clothes, books, garbage, etc. Trying out for the part of Mother of the Year and being a former school teacher, I decided to follow the advice of the experts and just 'close the door.'

"Once when I had just folded some of Jane's laundry, I decided to place it in her dresser drawer to avoid having to wait for her to do it. She was 17 years old then, I opened the drawer and wondered why there was a dirty sock sitting in there. Lo and behold, the sock contained a box of assorted pills. I called the poison control center to find out one was a tranquilizer and the others were diet pills. It was then I realized my daughter was using drugs.

"That was five years ago. She was put in a recovery program and now has been sober for four years. Although she has made great strides in many areas of her life, such as getting a 3.5 grade average in college (when she got D's in high school), working as a legal secretary etc., she still does not clean her room.

'I'm an artist, very right-brained and have found it difficult to organize.'

"I told her to clean her room or move, so she moved out to an apartment on campus. I know her messy ways have gotten her in trouble with her roommates. Since I've suffered much pain and embarrassment because of my problem, I wanted to save her from the same pain. I know now that's

I have five children; some of them are messy. some are not. My youngest daughter, Deanna, is messy. She is in the eighth grade. I have decided that she is living in my house and my house is going to stay neat and orderly, so I will not 'close

"Instead, every day I go into her room and help her pick it up. I don't allow her to pile things under her bed, behind her dresser, etc. I so wish I had done that with my older daughter. I feel so guilty for not teaching her to organize. But I really didn't know how to organize. At any rate, that's my story. I hope it helps others who are struggling to find peace, order and contentment in their

Carpet industry suffers

(AP) - The economically sensitive carpet and rug industry faces a slowing economy which could lead to hard times for the trade.

"The current outlook is a bit on the troubled side," said Frank C. Wilson, an international management consultant who follows the carpet and rug industry from Dalton,

The industry is an example of one being dragged into a recession. It is sensitive to general economic trends, particularly home construction starts, and is dependent on oil. Opinions differ as to the severity of the downturn ahead, but there is agreement that the outlook soon might be grim.

"I don't know that I would use the word 'recession' yet," Wilson said.

"But it's certainly in a downturn." W. Fred Davis Jr., president of Palmetto Spinning Corp., a Laurensbased company that spins yarn for carpet and rug makers, was more

"Our industry is in a recession right now.

Either way, troubles in the carpet and rug industry will be felt.

THE INDUSTRY is concentrated in and around Dalton, Ga. About 35,000 employees in Georgia plants produce about 66 percent of all carpet and rugs made in the United States, according to the Carpet and Rug Institute in Dalton

When people are feeling unsure about the economy, they delay expensive purchases, such as carpet.

"You can always walk on it another year or two," Wilson said. Said Davis: "It is a discretionary purchase that a consumer can put off for one year, two years, even three years. During recessionary times, people don't replace carpet. Carpet is not going to wear out. It just sort of 'uglies' out." Housing, another key indicator for carpet sales, also has been lagging.

"There's no question," Davis said. Housing starts have fallen to 1983

EACH HOUSE not built represents 100 square yards of carpet not sold. Wilson said. Also, the bankruptcy-ridden retail industry also has been a factor in slowing carpet and rug sales. The most spectacular example might be the bankruptcy filing involving the U.S. retail operations of Canada's Campeau Corp., which includes familiar retailers such as Rich's and Jordan Marsh.

"They were big buyers of carpet," said Jack Dings, vice president of the man-made fiber division for Wellman. "These department stores, like the Jordan Marsh chain and other chains, don't have the money to put inventory in."

Wilson estimated the industry's total 1990 shipments at 1.225 billion square yards, which would represent a decline of 4 percent from 1989.

Designers mix, match flooring treatments

By Doug Funke staff writer

Step into a new house today and you probably won't see one kind of floor treatment throughout.

You're more likely to find a mix - something like marble in the foyer, wood in the den and dining room, carpeting in bedrooms and the family room, vinyl in the kitchen and ceramic in the bathrooms.

Maybe not to that degree or exact configuration, but some kind of mix. And in some instances, you might find two different treatments - vinyl or marble squares set within wood, or carpeting surrounded by a wood border — in one room.

All to make a statement. "A lot of products now weren't readily available 10 years ago, even five years ago. Things like marble," said Pat Zatina, design director for Scott-Shuptrine in Novi.

There are now more options, and they're more readily available," she said. "Consumers are much more educated. They are demanding more."

"THE INDUSTRY has become more sophisticated," said Debra Osborne, a sales consultant for Virginia Tile of Southfield. "A lot of people will come into the showroom and have no idea what they can do. They get intrigued."

"There's a bigger variety of hard surfaces," said Vicki Bockart, owner of Harbor Floors and Interiors in Keego Harbor. "I think the average customer has two if not three surfaces in the house.

A quick look at what a couple of area builders did at the fall Homearama, a showcase of idea homes, illustrates the point.

Richard Koch, a Troy builder, showcases a foyer of Italian marble and Brazilian cherrywood and a kitchen with granite squares inlaid in cherry in his Dynasty Model.

Timothy McDonald, a Rochester builder, put marble in the foyer, wood in the den and carpeting in the dining room all within a few steps of each other in his Glengarry Model.

"People are looking for ways to make their home stand out," said Terrie Koch, project manager for her father's company. "It's hard for people to envision new ideas. When they see it, they want it."

COSTS VARY for different treatments and even within a category depending on quality.

Wood starts at about $5.25 per square foot installed, ceramic tile $9, marble $12 and granite $20, Bockart said. Vinyl tiles range from $1.30 to $3.30 per square foot.

Marble, wood and granite are natural products. Vinyl is a petroleumbased synthetic and ceramic is fired

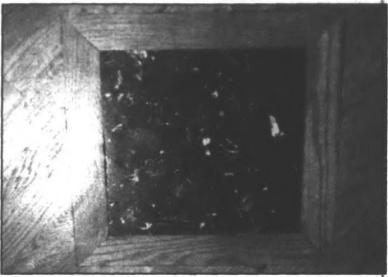

"The more labor involved, the more you're going to pay," said Jim Moody, owner of Paynter Floors of

"Every time you do something more creative it pushes costs up, said Bockart. But buyers could upgrade a bit and get more bang for their bucks by using two relatively inexpensive treatments in a single room, suggested Kerry Bentivolio, a Milford build-

"Maybe they will make part of the room an oakwood flooring and put a carpet inlay in the center," he said "That way, they'll spend $1,000 rather than $4,000."

ALL TREATMENTS aren't appropriate to every room and every family situation.

Multiple treatments like marble tiles set in oak wood can punch up the appearance of a simple floor design.

'There are now more options, and they're more readily available. Consumers are much more educated. They are demanding more.'

— Pat Zatina

Wood, which expands and contracts, would be a poor choice for a high-humidity bathroom with a lot of towels lying around, Moody said.

"Hard floors (wood, marble, ceramic) are not good where you want acoustic quality, like a media room," Zatina said. Carpeting would do bet-

"I wouldn't sell the best vinyl to a family with five kids and a dog," said Bockart.

Different treatments make different statements. Few things impress a first-time visitor to a home as a granite or marble in the foyer, esp cially if it flows to wood.

"Tiles say cleanliness and beauty in a powder room, carpets the same in a living room," Moody said. "Wood says warmth in kitchens, living rooms and dens."

Wood is a product that I think works pretty much for everyone and is in a price range for almost everyone," Bockart said. "Marble and vinyl tile are great in high-use areas," Zatina said. "The material itself cleans well. It's easy to maintain."

All kinds of people can have a hand in making decisions on floor

"A lot of times the architect determines what's going to be in the house," Zatina said. "Sometimes, builders are stubborn about the flooring and windows they want.

"In custom-built homes, builders would never make those decisions," she said." That's where designers working directly with buyers come into the picture with their expertise.

Board liable for upkeep of property

Our board refuses to increase the assessment to meet ur gently needed repairs to the common areas and to hire a lawyer. The board is afraid it will be ridicaled by members, some of whom are on fixed incomes. I am concerned about the propriety of their actions as I am on the board with no insurmee. Do I resign?

No. Even if you had insurance, which you should, you would still be vulnerable to being sued for mismanagement. Your board suffers from the malady of many boards - an unwillingness to raise and then spend adequate monies to properly run the association's affairs. This malady affects affluent as well as modest or low-income condominiu

The answer is educating the board members as to their liabilities and responsibilities to run the condominium like a siness, which requires proper maintenance of the project together with property management and legal assistance. A book full of legal cases where boards have been found liable for their misdeeds might be a therapeutic and mandatory reading session for the board encouraged by you. Don't quit. Stay on and fight for what you know is right and what is correct and in the best interests of all members of the associa-

condo queries

Robert M. Meisner

The railroad is tearing up and removing some track just outside the confines of your condominium. We want to use it for recreational vehicle storage. What can we do to get the property for the association?

Find out if the railroad is selling the right of way in individual parcels or whether it is being dedicated to a municipality or the like. Contact the railroad to express the association's interest in the right of way. If so, the association would obtain a warranty deed to the property. Watch out for any potential title problems plus access problems. Get a survey and a title insurance policy with the help of your association's lawyer. Also, get an environmental report on the property and make sure your association has the authority to "buy" the tract.

October 21 through October 27 SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Your romance sector seems a little off. Don't worry, this phase will soon pass. Use discretion when dealing with a loved one's quandaries.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) It is important for you to channel your creative energies in a productive and informative way. Don't gamble with your hard-earned finances.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Look at the facts and know that you are your own best judge of character. This is a good time to party, but be wary of the opposite sex.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Listening could quite possibly be the most important activity you participate in this week. Use others' ideas to make wise decisions.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Family members could bring havoc into your love life. Of course, they don't realize what they are doing, and it is important you let them know

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Work plans move ahead on a smooth course. Friends appreciate your social graces in a sticky situation. A chance to improve becomes evident

By C.C Clark TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

A friend's indecision could cause pain for others. Talk to this person and tell them what they are doing. They really don't understand.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take matters into your own hands concerning family situations. Don't shy away from confrontations. Get your facts straight and then go for it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't be overly critical of others. It seems easy to pick on those you love. but you must look at yourself to see where the real problems lie.

October 22-October 28 'WIOU' brings humor, wit

to dramatic newsroom setting

John Shea chooses first series with care

By Mary Ann Townsend WIOI marks a huge turning point in actor John Shea's career

His first venture into series tore a sion is set to debut Wednesday (161-24) on CBS, unless the World Series requires a seventh game

Throughout his acting sares the Yale Drama School graduals has garnered an impressive list of Broadway and feature film credits with Broadway's 14th production of Yentl and filmdom's 1982 Missing among

But a recent painful event the loss of a close relative prompted Shea to put work on hold for six munths to re-evaluate his life and the direction his career had taken. He realized he needed to make his name nuise well known but he did not want to say rifice his standards of quality in the process He's hoping, and with good teason. that WIOT will help him attain that "I wanted to do this now instead of later because when someone close to Evil, to name a few. Shea said he

you dies, you realize just how fragile the whole thing is It sort of hits you in a place that you never really knew before It sort of wakes you up and shakes you up and you start thinking very very seriously about how you're spending your time and what you want to accomplish," Shea explained

While his acting credits are impressive. Shea said he realized he had little name recognition, and that was hurting his chances to pursue his talents for

"I felt like I'd been orbiting I've been doing a lot of things that are offbeat these last few years, kind of off-Broadway things and art films, and things that weren't particularly commercial or successful or mainstream And I realized that it had come time in my career where I had to do something like that

Having been identified with heavy roles such as the title character in HBO's The Impossible Spy, a young American killed in the Chilean revolution in the feature film Missing, and a Nazi in NBC's Hitler's SS. Portrait in looked for a role that blended comeds with drama. After reading 30 scripts for this fall's new shows. Shea knew there was only one role that fit him that of new director Hank Zaret in 4/101

Zaret is troing to pull a fading big-city television station (at of the ratings cellar while coping with the egos and eccentricities of his staff. The storylines can to is on current social and political typics which appealed to Shea's serrous side while at the same time provide humorous moments

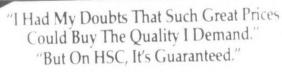

Asicing on the cake WICH boasts an impressive ast including Helen Shaver Maniette Hartley Phil Morns, Harris Yulin and Dick Van Patten

Shearesearched the role hyphserving the news staff at KC BS in Los Angeles He found some similarities between him and his character

"It's a delicate dilemma that my character gets into and will have to constantly walk this tightrope to make this station successful and make it first place without compromising the ethical standards, the journalistic standards that he was brought up with." Shea said

And that's a problem that I face " the actor continued, discussing putting his name into a mainstream project in which he could take pride

"I always thought I'd be the last person in the world to try shopping on TV But with these incredible bargains and Home Shopping Club's (e.Das Satisfaction (marantee, 1 d be a razy to go anywhere else

Cable Comments

By LARK L. SAMOUELIAN Executive Director, SW Oakland Cable Comm.

It all began at the Novi Chamber of Commerce luncheon when Steve Myers and I sat next to one another. We shared enthusiasm for each of our careers. Steve Myers and his wife Izumi Suzuki own a consulting firm dedicated to eliminating cultural barriers that could hinder business relations between small American and Japanese firms. This in itself I found fascinating, but more so the energy which Steve Myers radiated. I immediately shared with him the wonderful opportunity offered by Community Television. He was pleased because the experience could include his entire family.

As a result of his dedication and his family's enthusiasm, the Myers are a cable television family. Together they produce a cable television program entitled 'Junior Japanese' Son, Ken, who is ten years old, instructs the class Daughter, June, helps in the audience of children. Mother, Izumi, prepares the content while pappa Steve is in the Control-

"This all started out as a fatherson activity," says Steve, "but soon the whole family got involved." Producing 'Junior Japanese' enables the entire family the opportunity to work together before and after the show The entire experience reinforces their belief that language learning can be fun

In addition to the Metrovision viewing area, the following channels and stations have expressed an interest in showing 'Junior Japanese' GRTV in Grand Rapids, Booth Communications in Birmingham, Metro-Vision of Livonia, TV22 in Saline and Omnicom in Canton.

The production team included Bridget Dean, Amy Hamlin, Nancy Covert, Izumi Suzuki and Akiko Sakuma who worked on the course content. Keith Croket and Kathy Friedricks put together the video crew Amy Hamlin was an educational consultant All were sponsored by Lee Mamola Architects and World Book Childcraft

Junior Japanese' is delightful to watch Learning is easy When, as an adult, you watch children who are eager to learn and not afraid to make a mistake, it is hard not to pick up a pad and pencil and join in

Even Cable News Network found the curriculum and unique blend of student-teacher-family a pleasing human interest story. Ken teaches Japanese phrases, customs and vocabulary to his students as well as demonstrating Tae Kwan Do and origami, the Japanese art of paper

This program has been part of the Cranbrook P.M. program and Novi Community Education

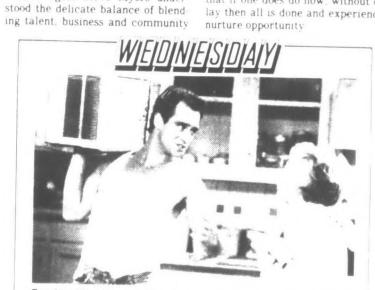

For a period of time the Myers family kept the control room humming as they also produced with other community residents an art and culture talk show called "Vladislav at Victor's" The program was taped at Victor's Restaurant in Novi. Concert pianist Vladislav Kovalsky and Virginia Dickerman. professional tap and jazz dance instructor co-hosted the series. They interviewed painters, sculptors, performing artists, and museum curators. The audience could sup at Victors while the program was being taped. Kovalsky is an artist-in-residence at Wayne State University and has given concerts throughout Europe and the U.S. Virginia Dickerman still owns her own Dance Studio and lectures on the power of positive thinking

Once again Steve Myers under stood the delicate balance of blend-in a non-commercial environment. Hard work and a lot of time are bottomline factors to every show Including family, friends and business contacts is also a challenging and rewarding benefit of the creative television involvement.

The Myers family are a perfect example of how to appreciate the opportunities surrounding us. How many times do we go by something and say "I should do that" and don't because we are too busy. What we find through such an active family is that if one does do now, without delay then all is done and experiences

Frankie (Christopher Meloni) helps his mama (Ann Guilbert) maintain her cool by lending a hand on The Fanelli Boys, airing Wednesdays on NBC.

Superstar Burt Reynolds makes a TV comedy comeback

Small-town story draws big-name talent

By AMY SCHMIDT

When ABC moved Burt Reynolds and "BL Stryker" from Monday nights to Saturdays, the death knell was struck Reynolds knew it and recalls a conversation he had with "Columbo's" Peter Falk "We had lunch and I said. Do you think we're on the wrong night. Peter?' And he said. 'People keep asking me when we're going to bring 'Columbo'

Revnolds decided to throw the towel into ABC's ring and try something else And when word got out that Burt Reynolds was interested in doing a half-hour comedy, he found no shortage of suitors

Nabbing Reynolds was no easy task says Evening Shade creator and executive producer Linda Bloodworth-Thomason (She is also the creative force behind CBS' hit show 'Designing Women'; 'He had an encampment in his front yard I mean. I had to wade through people almost in tents to get inside When I walked into Burt's house, he was inundated with gifts. He had a really nice leather jacket from Columbia Pictures, and he had received phone calls in the middle of the night from people named Peters and Gubers, or whatever their names are - and all kinds of movie deals and game shows Piles of them."

It wasn't Reynolds' most lucrative offer, but he liked Bloodworth-Thomason's work and the premise of the show "I wanted to play a man with a family because that's kind of the way I am now I can identify with it," says the actor, husband to actress Loni Anderson and father of their one son. Quinton Anderson Reynolds

Revnolds also remembers growing up in a small town in Florida. not unlike Evening Shade. Ark "I went to school barefooted every day until I was in the eighth grade I was a big rebel. I was constantly in trouble all the time. And then I found athletics." He later attended Florida State University on a football scholarship

On "Evening Shade," Reynolds plays a retired pro-football player who moves his family back to his hometown, where he coaches the local football team Evening Shade. Ark really does exist Located 240 miles northeast of Little Rock, it boasts a population of 360, and has one grocery store and three filling stations It doesn't really have a football team, but it does have a basketball team

Reynolds has been a big drawing card for the show Evening Marilu Henner, Shade's cast Elizabeth Ashley, Hal Holbrook, Charles Durning and Ossie Davis, to name a few - is impressive. Also, Bloodworth-Thomason hadn't written a script, but CBS signed the show anyway

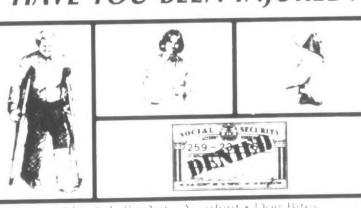

But why should a big-name star like Reynolds do a comedy series at all? Why not revamp his movie career" Reynolds is both candid and glib I had a wonderful movie career which I don't think I'll ever match again I can't go back and have that kind of success again. So, I would hope that I could have some success in this kind of medium

When people talk about the deadend of my career, and people certainly love to talk about it," he jokes, and they make analogies of me and Tom Selleck not having a hit movie I love Tom Selleck, and I think his acting style is wonderful It's mine," he kids No question about it Reynolds has a good instinct for comedy

The arts kept Billy Hufsey out of trouble

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: I would love to meet Emilio from Days of Our Lives 1 always watch him when he is on the show, he's so good looking. Could you please tell me more about him? -Alma Olivas, Big Spring, Texas

Dear Alma: Billy Hufsey (Emilio, Days of Our Lives) began his career on the popular prime-time series Fame. where he played Christopher Donlon The 26-year-old actor was happy to make the switch to daytime, and he really enjoys playing an adult role rather than a high school student

Born in Brookpark, Ohio, he spent his youth in a mixed ethnic neighborhood, fostering the self-reliance required to survive and flourish. The youngest child in a close-knit German/Irish family. Hufsey found the arts a means to express his inner turmoil and idealism, without getting into trouble

He is both strong and graceful, which has helped him become a No. 1 athlete and dancer. In fact, during high school he became an undefeated welterweight Golden Glove competitor and enjoyed honors as the school's "Outstanding Athlete of the Year "Then, in 1979, he won the United States Singles Dance Championship

After testing his wings in New York Hufsey decided to head for Hollywood According to the actor, he had only $100 in his pocket and a desire for acting His desire paid off when he landed the role on Fame.

"Christopher Donlon was the closest character to my real self," commented Hufsey "He had the same struggles that I have in my life But growing up I have known guys like Emilio and I understand who they are and how to play them

Apart from his abilities as an actor and dancer. Hufsey is also a gifted singer and musician who plays guitar drums, saxophone, trumpet and piano When not consumed with his acting obligations, he enjoys dating and practicing karate and judo

I want to hear from you! If you have a favorite soap scenario you would like to sound off about, or a question about the soaps, write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, TX 76102-0748.

Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn grow up

By Amy Schmidt

Mark Twain once remarked. "Someday it may seem worthwhile to take up the story of the young ones and see what they turned out to be." The Disney Channel does just that with two of Twain's most beloved characters in Back to Hannibal: The Return of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn, debuting Sunday, Oct 21

The one-hour world premiere sees Tom Sawyer, played by Raphael Sbarge, and Huckleberry Finn, portraved by actor Mitchell Anderson into adulthood. Tom is a fledgling lawyer in Chicago, and Huck is a struggling cub reporter in St. Louis. The two old friends are reunited after being summoned back to their hometown of Hannibal to investigate the murder of Becky Thatcher's (Megan Follows) husband. The prime suspect is the duo's old pal Jim, played by Paul Winfield

Faced with the entire town angrily intent on hanging Jim. Tom and Huck meet up with a young orphan boy (Zachary Bennett) whose daring and guile reminds them of themselves in their own youth. The trio must employ some quick thinking, fast talking and brazen cunning in order to find the real killer and save Jim's life. Also costarring in this story of adventure and intrigue are Ned Beatty who plays The Duke of Bridgewater, and William Windom as Judge Thatcher

Dennis Farina tries to break tough cop stereotype

By Polly Vonetes

O: What can you tell me about an actor named Dennis Farina? How old is he? What state does he live in? Has he done anything besides Crime Story? I have tried every source possible to obtain this information, only to come up empty. You may be my last hope, don't let me down. -Scott Corl, Salem,

A: Dennis Farina was born in Chicago, Ill. on Feb 29, 1944, and continues to make his home in Chicago. He is married and has two children. Before coming to Hollywood. he spent 18 years as a Chicago police detective. Following the demise of Crime Story and his character Mike Torello, Farina turned down a number of "tough cop" roles before accepting a small role as Jane Alexander's gambling-addicted husband in the TV movie Open Admissions because he explains, "I wanted a role as different from Torello as possible "His next role was in Midnight Run, then he starred in NBC-TV's Blood Brothers. The Hillside Stranglers. His most recent work was in the miniseries Blind

O: I would like the address of Bette Davis. She has been a favorite of mine since I was a little girl. Does she still send out autographed pictures of herself? - Donna Slover, Knoxville,

A: Somewhere along the line you must have missed the news that Bette Davis succumbed to cancer at the American Hospital in Paris on Oct. 6. 1989. She was 81 years old.

Q: I saw a movie on late night TV years ago, the name of which escapes me. It starred Doug McClure and Katharine Ross and was a WWII adventure about an American GI and an Army nurse who try to escape the Japanese with a busload of children in a jungle setting. I would love to know the title of this film and whether or not it is available for rental. I would guess it was made in the late '60s. -Carol Sanderson, DeRidder, La.

A: The movie you requested has two titles. Longest Hundred Miles and Escape from Bataan. The film also starred Ricardo Montalban. A 1967 NBC made-for-television movie, I do not have it listed as available on
