War triggers tears, anger in Plymouth

By Kevin Brown staff writer

The Middle East is half a world away. But when war broke out about p.m. yesterday, local reactions were varied but strong. "I love it. F --- those bastards, kill " said John M. Austhe sons of b----tin of Plymouth Township. Two of his sons served in Vietnam.

'I can't believe we're doing it. I don't understand why we're doing it." said Plymouth-Salem High teacher Barbara Murphy Her son Paul, a 29-year-old Marine, is a career military man serving in Saudi Arabia.

"I'VE LISTENED to everything I can; I still can't come up with a reason." she said.

Murphy and the rest of the early evening dinner crowd at Plymouth's Box Bar let their conversations fall to silence as the TV news reported that U.S. plans and missiles were striking Iraq.

Like others filling the bar just off Kellogg Park, where the annual ice festival was in progress, Robert Weir of Plymouth, a sales representative, watched and listened to TV news reports.

"I wish we could find a way for peace, but I think we have to go to war with him (Iraqi President Saddam Hussein) sometime or another 'I think it's despicable for people to compare it to Vietnam; I'm all for it," Weir said. Area Arab-Americans were especially dismayed by the war's start.

Developer protests location of proposed mosque

By Kevin Brown staff writer

Plans to build a Moslem temple, school and retirement home in Plymouth Township have drawn objections from a developer of nearby estate-type houses.

The Islamic Center of America said in October it planned in several years to build the temple and other facilities on an 89-acre parcel bordered by Napige Road on the west and Powell Road on the south.

The proposed development "cannot be consistent with the long-range planning goals of Plymouth Township as endorsed and adopted by our client," wrote attorney David Snyder, representing Plymouth Land Development Co., in a letter to the township board of trustees

We therefore vigorously protest that proposal," he continued

"Captain" Bob Carney, a native of Key West, stopped in Plymouth during his 16,000-mile trip around the United States. Carney is raising pledges for multiple sclerosis research.

On a roll to help others

Man bikes miles to raise money for M.S. victims

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Bob Carney hasn't slept in his own bed since Sept. 23, 1989.

In fact, he's hardly slept in the same place twice since leaving Lantana, Fla. nearly 16 months ago on a 16,000-mile quest to find a cure for multiple sclerosis

M.S. is the most common handicapping disease of the central nervous system afflicting young adults in the United States.

The wiry, 65-year-old Carney has ridden his 18-speed Diamond Back mountain bike, with a 300-pound trailer attached, from Rhode Island ("where my mother's kin are from)," south through the Atlantic states, across the southern United States. north along the West Coast, and is now eastbound through the northern states. He expects to reach Rhode Island sometime between St. Paddy's Day and Memorial Day.

The unexpected visitor turned up at the Plymouth police station about midnight Tuesday. The Salvation Army was contacted, and Carney was given a bed for the night at the Red Roof Inn.

He was welcomed at the Plymouth Fire Station Tuesday morning by Fire Chief Al Matthews, who offered Carney a cup of coffee and a place to relax for a few hours. Matthews even offered to wash and wax his bike and trailer if he could hang around a while.

A custom cabinetmaker. Carney entered the state near Michigan City, riding to Benton Harbor en route to Kalamazoo.

"I took a wrong turn and ended up in Niles," said the Key West-born Carney. "From Niles I went to South Bend, from there to Elkhart, Three Rivers and Battle Creek. I made it to Kalamazoo, Lansing, Jackson and Ann Arbor.

His impressions of Michigan? "It's nice; it's just too cold," said Carney, who's lost 20 pounds since beginning his trip.

"But I really don't care about the weather; it's still not as tough as these people have it. I'm still hoping for a cure; that's all that counts."

Carney is encouraging people to donate to the Rhode Island Chapter National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 535 Centerville Road, Warwick, RI 02886. He estimates he's raised thousands of dollars so far.

When Carrey set out, he had six friends with M.S.

Now he has dozens. In Dallas, a met a 6-year-old girl with M.S. who needs two canes to walk. "The kids teased her in school. Kids can be so mean; she didn't want to go to school. I got permission to talk to the student body," said Carney. "Afterwards the kids had a better understanding of M.S."

Carney - who's financing his trip on $360 monthly social security checks and loans from his brotherin-law totalling $1,600 at the moment - made a stop in north Florida at the home of a woman he knows.

When I got to her house, she was out shopping for dinner. When she got home, she looked at me and said, God must have sent you today. A friend of mine just got diagnosed with M.S. today. Her doctor told her he didn't know much about the disease.

"I told her forget dinner, let's take some information about M.S. down to her

'We visited with her about two hours, and she told me I was more relief to her than her doctor was."

Carney said some friends living in Tucson who have M.S. are writing a book about him and his cross-country mission Carney's bike was stolen in Dallas. and he can't remember how many blow outs he's had. When they happen, it doesn't really upset him. The trailer hauling Carney's 300 pounds of camping gear, clothing and canned food is intended for "a 50-75pound kid."

Wearing an 18-year-old hat he bought in Burma and a "Yak to Pak and Bak" T-shirt from a 150-mile bike ride in Washington state, Carney said scenery there and in Oregon was spectacular Sisters, Oregon, and Eugene were real nice towns. Real pretty.

Carney has yet to be involved in any sort of accident.

'So many people ride just a few miles and get hurt. I haven't been, so you know someone is looking out for me.

Carney was headed Tuesday to Southfield bound for Toledo, Ohio: Erie, Pennsylvania; Buffalo and Albany, N.Y.; Vermont; New Hampshire; Maine and Rhode Island. What then?

'I'm going to have my daughter bring my boat up from Florida and I'm going to sit in it for about two months," he said with a smile. "It's a 48-foot sailboat in fine shape I bought at a sheriff's auction for $8,500. It's one of them boats with no paint; all stains and varnishes on teak and mahogany." Holiday celebration

EMU plans Martin Luther King Day events

By M.B. Dillor staff writer

4A(P)

Eastern Michigan University is celebrating Martin Luther King Day in a big way.

Activities will be highlighted at noon Monday, Jan. 21, with an address by noted economist and writer Julianne Malveaux at the annual President's Luncheon.

The address will be broadcast live on WEMU-FM 89.1 beginning at 1 p.m.

Hosted by EMU president William Shelton, the event will take place at the Radisson Resort/EMU Corporate Education Center in Ypsilanti Township

MALVEAUX, WHO will speak on the struggle for economic equality, is an associate professor at the University of California at Berkeley. She specializes in labor economics, particularly as it applies to minorities and women.

Malveaux received her doctorate in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and her bachelor's degree from Boston College

She is a contributing editor to Essence magazine, and her weekly column, "Malveaux at Large," appears in the San Francisco Sun Reporter Snell said and other publications.

She has contributed to a number of books, including "Slipping Between the Cracks: The Status of Black Women," which she co-edited.

Tickets are $20 for the general public and $5 for students. For reservations, call 487-3045.

At 7 p.m., Malveaux will speak on King's advocacy for economic justice in the Sponberg Theatre. Malveaux will be EMU's first King/ Chavez/Parks visiting lecturer of 1991. The address is free and open to the public. A reception will follow.

THE IRONY INHERENT in the United Nations setting Jan. 15, Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, as the deadline in the Persian Gulf crisis wasn't lost on students.

We're having a silent protest and are dressed in black today (Tuesday)," said EMU freshman Kim Snell of Detroit. "It's in recognition of the fact that war is being called on Dr. King's birthday."

The silent protest was organized by Students' Call Against the War and the Student Organization for African-American Unity. EMU students also are distributing yellow ribbons, asking people to wear them until American troops return home,

A gospel music tribute will kick off EMU's King holiday celebration at 4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 20, in Roosevelt Hall Auditorium. Tickets for the concert, sponsored by the sorority Sigma Gamma Rho, are $4 in advance and $5 at the door.

Friday-Friday, Jan. 18-25, EMU's Goodison Hall Multicultural Center, University Library and McKenny Union will focus on the role young people played in the civil rights movement with a pictorial essay.

AT 8:30 A.M. Jan. 21, "The Meeting" will be shown. The video features a fictitious debate between King and Malcolm X on the effectiveness of non-violence in bringing about social change.

An open house at the Multicultural Center will host an open house 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., featuring a film festival and a display of books and artifacts.

At 9:30 a.m. in Roosevelt Auditorium, an EMU student panel will debate social change issues. A simulated public meeting will follow at 10:15 a.m.

The annual community march, sponsored by the Ypsilanti/Ann Arbor Minsterial Alliance, will begin at 11 a.m. at Michigan Avenue and Hamilton in Ypsilanti, proceeding to the Metropolitan Baptist Church on Hawkins Street.

A "multi-cultural potluck" is planned by students and faculty for noon in the King Hall Lounge. At 12:30 p.m., campus bells will sound and there will be a moment of silence in honor of King.

A TEACH-IN will begin at 1:30 p.m. Professors will lead discussions on issues including race-exclusive scholarships, freedom of expression, racism in the classroom and minorities in academe. For more information on the teach-in, call 487-0393.

A campus march will be at 3:15 p.m., ending at the EMU Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Plaza with a brief program honoring King. A candlelight march will begin at 8 p.m. at Hill Hall, proceeding to Sponberg Theatre and on to the EMU King Plaza. A reception featuring a film on African-American issues will follow.

Lastly, on Wednesday, Jan. 23, the minority affairs committee of EMU Student Government will sponsor a teach-in with workshops for African-American student leaders 3-10 p.m. All activities are sponsored by the Offices of Campus Life and Equity Programs. For more information, call Campus I ife at 487-3045.

Many warm hearts give blankets to homeless

By Bill Caspe staff writer

A mother-daughter team helped make the Christmas season a little warmer for a lot of homeless people.

But Paulette Carter, who gained some of her support from fellow bowlers at a Garden City bowling alley, and daughter Jill needed a lot of help from many generous folks who answered the Carters' plea for donations of blankets.

'We want to thank the people for their donations," said Paulette Carter of Redford Township. "The response was really great and the people who participated made this a success.'

THE CARTERS asked for donations of new or used blankets. About 30 to 40 blankets were donated from family, friends and other people during about a 1¹/₂-month period, Jill Carter said

A request for donations of blankets was announced where Paulette Carter works at a Kmart store in Southfield, the younger Carter said. Some people bought new blankets there and gave them to her mother, she said

Other people gave blankets after an announcement for donations was made where her mother bowls in Garden City and in response to a notice posted by Jill Carter in a Redford Township laundromat, she said.

BUT THE donations did not begin to multiply until Jill Carter telephoned The Observer in November to get help in calling attention to the request for donations, she said.

We had been asking for blankets for over a month but we didn't get a lot of response until the (Dec. 3) Observer article about what we were doing." Paulette Carter said.

The Carters ended up with about 140 blankets, most of which were given to the Harbor Light shelter for the homeless in downtown Detroit. About 40 blankets were given to the Salvation Army in Farmington Hills, they said.

'We filled the back of a pickup truck with about 30 garbage bags full of blankets," Paulette Carter said. "The people at Harbor Light couldn't believe we had so many blankets.

"About half of the blankets were new, still in the store packages. One lady made 10 blankets that she donated. There were even a couple of little girls' coats donated."

the Carters said they are going seek blanket donations again next year.

Reasons for war divide students

By Wayne Peal staff writer

War was a mere 31 hours away, but food and studies were more pressing concerns for Tuesday's lunch crowd at Schoolcraft College.

Students huddled over books or hamburgers inside the Livonia community college's student lounge, while a disc jockey pumped out upbeat dance music over a large stereo system.

Still, Middle Eastern events weren't being ignored.

"I think about it all the time," said Scott Cunningham of Livonia, who said he supported a hard line against Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein. "I know it's part over oil, but we just can't let him walk in and take whatever he wants."

His friend, Matt Hodgins of Northville, agreed: "He's (Hussein) pulling a Hitler on us.

Both young men said they believed the war would be quick

"I think this is going to be over long before we'd get called up." Cunningham said.

Other students appeared resigned to the fact that they or their classmates might soon find themselves in combat.

"THERE'S NOTHING you can do about it now," said Colleen Brennan of Garden City. "The best you can hope for is that it will be quick."

"I understand why we're over there," added her friend, Ann Stinabarger of Westland. "But it seems like a waste

The relative calm at Schoolcraft where no activities were scheduled. stood in contrast to other nearby campuses

A few miles away, at roughly the same time, approximately 75 students and faculty members were attending a mid-day mass at Madonna College.

They listened as Rev. Francis Grispino told them the peace of the Lord is "not only the absence of conflict or turmoil but the inner peace the Lord bestows on us the peace of an eternal kind the peace that prompts us to forgive our enemies."

Grispino is an instructor in religious studies and a member of the campus ministry at Madonna

Attending the mass was Madonna student and Army reserve t lima Wejuli of Taylor. Wejuli, who said she attended Tuesday's service to pray for those already in the Persian Gulf, is an operating room specialist She has been told to be ready for active duty by the end of February.

College officials say four Madonna students are currently serving in the Persian Gulf.

Livonia resident Dan Gilmartin hugged his daughter Suzanne Gilmartin Flood as they walked from the chapel and said peace now is "in the hands of the Lord."

Gilmartin Flood, who is an assistant in the public relations department at the college, looked at her father and said: "It's ironic that the

GM, UAW bring school to work to aid job skills

By Marie Chestney staff writer

Local union and salaried workers at General Motor Corp.'s Delco Products plant in Livonia will take a stand this month against critics who say America can't compete in today's world market.

On Jan. 29, the doors to the Excel skills center open to Delco workers.

The center is the first one to open in Michigan under a partnership negotiated in the 1990 contract between GM and the United Auto Workers.

Under the partnership, both GM and the UAW agreed to help pay the costs to set up training centers in GM plants to upgrade workers' skills.

Other centers are slated to open soon in GM plants in Flint and Saginaw.

"What's unique is that this is the first time GM offered this type of training during work hours," said David Crooks, one of three technical training coordinators for the UAW.

Arnie Werstine, a technical training coordinator for GM's management team, called the center a "joint act" between GM and the UAW.

"The UAW and Delco Products conceived and worked on this together for the auto industry to survive," Werstine said. "We have to improve and upgrade the force to compete in today's industry. There's a benefit for both GM and the individual."

THE WORKERS will be paid their regular salary while taking a fourhour work-related class twice a week in the center.

The UAW-GM partnership also relies on several auxiliary partners. One is the Livonia school district which will provide the teachers to teach such subjects as math, English, communications and technical skills.

Another partner is Central Michigan University, which used a federal grant and a pilot project to help set up Delco's center.

The Delco plant on Eckles Road has 1,800 hourly and 300 salaried workers. So far, 300 workers have signed up for classes. Of that number, 80 percent are hourly workers.

"These are union workers who are taking the challenge to learn, rather than workers who need to learn," said Ed Kazmierczak, a UAW coordinator for technical training.

The center eventually will include classes that, while not designed specifically to build job-related skills, will help meet the personal educational goals of Delco employees. class is evaluated to see if his skill level matches the level of skills needed for the job he does.

The learning that takes place in the job-related class is the difference between the two.

"From a union point of view, we have to look at the number of people being laid off," said Gary Trosin, a UAW training coordinator. "We're losing market share and we have to deal with new technology and issues of quality."

A CLASSROOM in the massive Delco plant, complete with workbooks, computers and a library, is proof positive that times have changed for the auto industry.

"Back in the '50s and '60s, GM hired warmed bodies," said Gerald Sickles, union spokesman for Local 262. "They needed people to do manual labor.

"But technology has changed drastically. Now, workers read blueprints and figure decimals and tolerances. They didn't need these skills before. And even if they had learned them in high school, they haven't used them in 20 years. We needed something to refresh and enhance their skills."

Joan Lippens, an adult education teacher for the Livonia schools' Bentley Center, said teaching the Delco workers will be different from teaching adults who take classes at Bentley.

At Bentley, she gives the same instruction to all students in each classroom. At the Excel center, she will vary her teaching from student to student.

"There'll be more individualized instruction here. Here, each student will be at a different level of learning. That's why the assessment given each worker is important."

THREE BENTLEY teachers, Lippens, Judy Sternberg and Kathy Furmaga, will set goals for each of their students and work to achieve those goals in the eight weeks each class runs.

"We have to establish goals that can be met in eight weeks," Sternberg said.

It is hoped that the learning that takes places at the center, Crooks said, will filter down to other members of the worker's family.

"We eventually hope it will become a family learning process. We want to open some of these centers to spouses and dependents. This possibility is contained in the 1990 contract."

Involved in the classes at Delco are: Joan Lippens (left), a teacher at Livonia Public Schools' Bentley Center; David Crooks, UAW technical ART EMANUELE/staff photographe training coordinator; Arnie Werstine, GM technical training coordinator; and (sitting) Gerald Sickles, UAW representative for Local 262.

Workers taking these classes, offered three days a week in the center, will do so on their own time.

PERSONAL GOALS could range from learning specific computer software programs to learning more about algebra.

It is expected more salaried workers will opt for these classes once they begin.

The difference between a job-related class and a personal goals class lies in the difference between an employee who needs to understand decimals to do his job and an employee who wants to learn algebra but doesn't need to know it specifically for his job.

"That's what unique about this training — it's very job-specific," Crooks said.

Prayers for peace

A full house jammed St. Mary Orthodox Church of Livonia Monday night to pray for peace in the Middle East. Their hopes and prayers were dashed Wednesday night as U.S. troops and others in the multi-national alliance against Iraq launched an air strike on Baghdad as part of its campaign to drive Iraqi troops from Kuwait. In right photo: Among the clergymen joining the overflow non-denominational prayer service were the Rev. Roland Troike (left) of Timothy Lutheran Church in Livonia and the Rev. R.J. MacCulley of St. Aidan Catholic Church in Livonia. In left photo: Annette Ross of Livonia is shown joining others in the service in a final song for peace. Before and after the service anti-war leaflets were passed out by the Committee for a Peaceful Resolution to the Gulf Crisis, an adjunct group to Michigan SANE Freeze of Ann Arbor.

Team armed to ease pain of war

By Marie Chestney staff writer

The Redford Union School District is ready for war.

The district has an 11-member crisis team ready to help teachers, students and parents cope with the deaths caused by the war that started Wednesday.

The crisis team was set up to help the district deal with a tragedy that happened to the family of a Redford Union student.

BUT REDFORD UNION and the Wayne County organizations which helped set up Redford's team see a new crisis and have swung into action to deal with the loss of a loved ones killed in battle, or a community disruption caused by the act of a terrorist.

"God forbid if there is a loss of a loved one, or if there is tension or stress caused by a loss of services. We need to be able to offer help," said Ken Johnson, Redford Union's director of curriculum.

The crisis team chairmen will meet today to see if and how the district's 11-page crisis plan should be modified to cover war or a terrorist situation.

All 11 team members will mee again Monday to learn about possible changes to the plan and how the changes will affect their individual roles.

The crisis team consists of counselors, psychologists, administrators and teachers.

It was formed with help from two Wayne County agencies that helped put crisis management plans in twothirds of Wayne County's school districts

They are the Wayne County Regional Education Services Agency (formerly the Intermediate School District) and the Neighborhood Services Agency.

LATER THIS month, these groups will sponsor a seminar for the Wayne County school crisis teams, Johnson said, to show the teams how their crisis plans can be changed to meet the needs of the war crisis. A date has not been set vet.

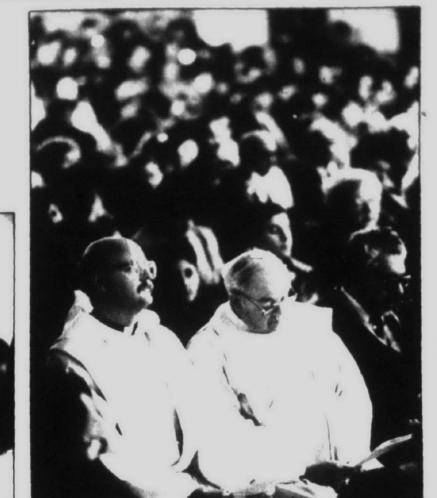

At a meeting this week of the district's curriculum council, Johnson said one teacher said five of her students knew someone now in the Middle East. This also holds true for faculty members, Johnson said.

alive when the civil rights leader was slain in 1966, "King's teachings weren't lost on organizers of an antiwar march and rally from Henry Ford Community College to the University of Michigan-Dearborn. There, they were welcomed by chancellor Blenda Wilson.

"Most of the time when we talk about the concepts of peace and justice as though they were abstract concepts," Wilson told the crowd. "This is not one of those times."

More than 300 students attended the event - many carrying signs denouncing the prospect of a Middle Eastern war. "Read our lips: No war," read one poster. Another sounded the Vietnam-era theme: "Make love, not war."

In some ways, the event was a throwback to anti-Vietnam War protests.

The Rev. Thomas Gumbleton was among the speakers relating his 1960s experiences. Gumbleton was shouted down, at one point, by Don Loebsinger - a Detroit resident who, in 1968, organized a protest of Dr. King's appearance in Grosse Pointe.

But hard line Vietnam-era attitudes were ancient history for many of those in attendance.

"If we go to war, I'll support our troops," said Colleen O'Connor, a student at Mercy High School, Farmington Hills. "But I don't think we should go to war. We should give sanctions more time."

At the same time, student organizers searched through the crowd seeking to prevent anyone from urning a U.S. flag. Such an incident

"It's amazing that such a large number of people would be here at such a critical moment in America's history, said Gerald Cox during Monday's hearing.

At both hearings, however, area residents let county commissioners know they were also taking airport ings on Metro Airport noise this An overflow crowd packed the issues very seriously. "This is a battle to protect our homes, our quality of life," said Da-vid Esper, the Dearborn attorney who heads Citizens Against Airport

Though Dearborn residents raised the most, and loudest complaints, homeowners in Garden City, Redford, Livonia and Westland also raised protests.

"I tried to sleep this morning but Northwest (jets) wouldn't let me," said James Johnson of Westland.

His wasn't the only complaint of its kind.

"I'm a working person and I can't work on only five to six hours of sleep," said Gary Brackett of Garden City.

His father, W.E. Brackett, also of Garden City, said flights often pass his house as often as every 20-25 seconds during peak travel periods.

"The quality of my life has changed. I'm irritable — ask my husband," said a woman who identified herself as Mrs. V. Davis of Redford.

Others complained flight noise prevented them from using their backyards on warm summer evenings

'I can ask my neighbor to turn his radio down, but I can't ask metro to turn jet nijise down," a Dearborn woman said.

Among residents' recommendations: banning all night flights, build-ing "hush houses" for mechanics to test jet engines, routing all cargo flights through Willow Run Airport.

Airport noise became an issue last November, when the Federal Aviation Administration changed flight patterns at Metro as a safety measure.

THE INITIAL change still hadn't been fully explained for Livonia resident Ed Bacon.

"My question is why were they changed in the first place? We weren't getting any accidents." County officials said the flight patterns were changed to avoid potential collisions between passenger jets, cargo planes and small, private aircraft.

A new five-point anti-noise plan unveiled by the county executive's office was a fine start, Esper said, but he urged commissioners to investigate other noise-reducing measures.

"We understand they chose five things from a list of 22," Esper said. "We'd like to find out what those other options were.'

The county plan includes spreading takeoffs over a wider number of county communities, reducing flights over heavily populated northern suburbs, limiting late night flights, eliminating noisy two-stage take offs and establishing a county noise monitoring office. An ad hoc county commission committee, headed by Susan Hubbard, D-Dearborn, is holding the arings

While Hubbard praised the county executive's plan, she said the com-mittee would make its own report, most probably in late April.

This week's hearings were de-This week's hearings were de-signed for western Wayne residents. Additional hearings are scheduled for downriver residents Thursday, Jan. 24 at Taylor City Hall and for Detroit residents Monday, Jan. 28, at the Wayne County Building, Detroit. Petition drive Vorva off base on Graper issue

City Commissioner Jerry Vorva to keep the pot boiling at city hall.

Vorva's questioning tactics give things that come before the commission a good public airing. We support that. But this time Vorva has gone too far.

He is asking citizens to support his effort to investigate expenses claimed by former city manager Henry Graper during Graper's sevenyear tenure. Vorva is starting a petition drive.

Give us a break, Jerry.

The Graper situation has been dealt with by the city commission to its satisfaction and to ours.

Basically, Graper overspent his expense account, and the commission determined that Graper owed the city about $6,000 for the financial year 1988-89. Graper has paid back more forget. It's time to move on.

CAN ALWAYS rely on Plymouth than $3,000 in expenses that state investigators and city commissioners determined was owed to the city.

Vorva would have us believe that Graper is in the same league as an Ivan Boesky. From all evidence available, Graper did nothing worse than have the city pick up the tab for entertaining. That hardly makes him a dangerous criminal worthy of prosecution.

WHEN VORVA RAN for city commission, we endorsed him. But we had reservations at the time because of his long-standing feud with Graper over Vorva's firing from the city police department. Vorva said Graper fired him because he spoke out, claiming there were ticket quotas for the police department.

We think it's time for Vorva to forgive and War clouds Gloomy forecast for ice fest

USUALLY WORRY that warm weather will make for a gloomy ice festival in Plymouth. But this year it's the winds of war in the Middle East, not the warm breezes from the southwest that concern us.

It's hard to get excited about an event that's basically commercial when we may have to deal with the deaths of thousands.

That's not to say we think the ice festival should be canceled. However, organizers should acknowledge the situation in the Middle East. It's just not business as usual.

And it's too bad. We'd all like to live in a world to worrying about weather, not war.

where things like an ice festival are the most important events in the year.

When we take a look at the ice sculptures in Kellogg Park and on the surrounding streets, we'll be thinking about the service men and women sitting in the sand in Saudi Arabia. And when we watch the laser light show, we'll be thinking about what the troops will be looking at in the sky in the Middle East.

Such thoughts certainly take the luster off the sparkle of the ice sculptures. But that's just the way it is this year.

We can only hope that next year we'll be back

American dream slips due to professionals

MOST PEOPLE in Michigan are entering the '90s worse off than they were 20 years ago. Excepting the top 20 percent (whose income is up significantly), the last time most Michigan families could show real improvements in family income was the early '70s.

NO WONT

GIO

Since then, for Michiganians the American Dream has turned into a nightmare. This is another in a series of examinations of how and why.

The American Dream is made up not only of rising incomes. It presumes a rising level of living in solid, middle-class style.

Central to this style are three things: college, health care and keeping out of legal and financial trouble for which prices have gone out of sight in the past 20 years, putting pressure on falling incomes to keep

COLLEGE TUITIONS have gone through the roof in the past 10 years. At the University of Michigan, instate tuition has gone from $1,475 per year to $3,502 for the 1990 year. Michigan colleges have followed suit. If the budget cuts now being talked about by Gov. John Engler come to pass, we may be sure the universities will pass on most of their shortfall in income to their students - and parents.

HEALTH CARE is another necessity for middle-class living.

True, most health care costs are covered by employer-paid health insurance. But in a competitive world, the costs of health insurance translate to lower wages

In 1960, our national health care costs were about 5 percent of total personal income. That went to 13 percent by 1989 - or more than 11 percent of our total gross national product.

The number of doctors rose from 279,000 in 1970 to 554,000 in 1988, an increase from 137 to 225 per 100,000 Americans. The incomes of those doctors rose by one-fourth during the past decade, to nearly $150,000 a year, while other middle-class in-

The number of lawyers has nearly tripled in 30 years; the number per 100,000 Americans has gone from 145 to 301.

Take lobbyists. In 1960 the U.S. Senate registered 3,656 paid lobbyists; as of last July, 33,704 - 337 per senator.

You tell me: What boost to the living standards of the middle class do these people produce?

HAVING ANTAGONIZED most professionals who read this column. will end by diverting your notice to those friendly folks on Wall Street who assisted the demise of our living standards by:

• Destroying the stock market by repeated and brazen insider trading.

• Destroying the bond market by creating junk bonds which polluted solid corporate debt instruments.

 Milked outrageous fees from corporate raiders and beleaguered managements alike while using junk bonds as weapons in the corporate takeover game, thereby ruining scores of magnificent American corporations.

Guard your civil liberties

THE START SEEMS reasonable enough: the FBI nosing around for some tips on potential Arab terrorism in our suburban neighborhoods where large populations congregate. But it's the end that has Arab-Americans and all others who value their civil rights scared.

Those with a memory of history - World War II history - are scared most. Some are still left with scars from the experience.

'We don't want to have happen to us what happened to Japanese Americans," said Westland businessman Sid Shaheen.

He was referring to the progressive denial of civil rights to Japanese Americans, many of them born in the U.S., following the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Soon Japanese Americans were denied access to certain areas along the west coast and eventually herded into barbed wire enclosed detainment camps.

IT IS IMPORTANT that individuals and community groups continue to speak on the record for protection of civil liberties. Our liberty is diminished each time our brothers and sisters are considered suspect.

negative impact on the greater community's perception of Arab Americans," said Paul D. Borman, president of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit.

Also commenting was the American Arabic and Jewish Friends organization, which drew attention to a concern that the probe would bring more anti-Arab feeling.

The FBI itself is responsible largely for the specter of repression. According to a recent professional journalism magazine, the FBI has one of the worst reputations in federal government for freedom of information requests. They are denied, or simply ignored. Indeed our questions to the bureau last week went unanswered. We have little confidence in an agency which is stingy with public information.

Unlike the shimmering line of a boundary in "While we fully support the need to maintain Saudi Arabia, there is a finer line which we're

Enact handgun training

HE MICHIGAN Legislature in 1990 correctly passed a uniform law regulating handguns.

But in ending the patchwork of local handgun ordinances, the state eliminated those requiring training for new handgun buyers. Lawmakers should remedy the flaw this year by requiring appropriate training.

Michigan already requires training in the use of potentially dangerous equipment:

• People born after Jan. 1, 1966 must have a hunter education certificate to buy their first hunting licenses. Some 1,700 volunteer instructors teach the eight-lesson course. (The law was amended in 1988 gradually to require safety instruction for all first-time hunters.)

· People aged 12 to 16 must take state prescribed courses to operate pleasure boats with more than six-horsepower engines, snowmobiles and off-road vehicles.

Sheriff's departments, Coast Guard auxiliaries and other agencies teach the course in many locations. Thousands of volunteers help.

Michigan, a state that relishes outdoor recreation and tourism, has put a premium on training for safety. No one need have qualms about requiring training for handling a pistol safely.

The uniform pistol law was the good idea of the National Rifle Association. But NRA was off base in opposing mandatory training.

NRA argues that private gun ownership is constitutionally protected: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed." NRA sees mandatory training as a bogeyman infringing on that right.

Not so. The right to vote is constitutionally protected. Although no one has to take a literacy test before registering to vote, Michigan requires school attendance to age 16, which is much the same thing.

State-mandated pistol training should be readily available, frequently offered and cheap. Detroit's training ordinance was flawed because classes were allegedly infrequent and expensive.

Michigan has a good record in providing hunter, boater and snowmobile safety training. We trust it could do the same for pistol training.

Our precious constitutional right to bear arms will get a bad name if untrained people keep hurting themselves and others. State-mandated training for new pistol owners will help us preserve the right.

At elite private colleges like Harvard, tuition from 1977 to 1989 has more than tripled while the consumer price index has doubled.

As any family with kids in college knows all too well, dollars to pay tuition, room, board, books, clothes and fun are after-tax dollars. A family making $80,000 a year sounds well off, but after taxes that works out to around $50,000. And if you take $9,000 a year for two children in college, that's a big, big bite out of a family budget.

Judging by the usual indicators -Michigan ranks worst among the states in mortality from major disease and 10th worst in infant mortality. What we as a society put into health care is less than what we get out of it.

ANOTHER FACTOR in the slide of middle-class lifestyles is the growing infestation of our society by so-called professionals who do little to add value to our economy and who in practice have merely raised our costs and added to our aggravation. Take lawyers. According to the London Economist, in 1960 America had 260,000 lawyers; by 1970,

355,000; in 1980, 541,000; and in

·For these people, nothing is too awful. I delight in the recession now ravaging Wall Street.

Wall Streeters, lawyers, doctors and college administrators have had a hand in the decline of the American Dream. They ran up their prices and took our money without much of it going to boost our living standards.

Officials ignore public on Mettetal

To the editor:

Mr. Nastoff says it like it is. From listening to Mayor Bila tell us at one commission meeting that all who attended, even outsiders, should be heard because Plymouth has a policy of "open meetings," to another meeting where we are told that the commission will not hear anything on the Mettetal issue regardless of what anyone wanted to say (during the citizen comments portions of the meeting).

There were only one or two citizens who wanted to ask questions of our elected officials on the airport issue. It wasn't like there would be so much time used up, especially when there was time for another lecture by Mayor Bila on how he was not intimidated by recall talk and he had lawyers in the family. Was that more appropriate than Mettetal being brought up? I certainly didn't come there to intimidate anyone, but

I sure didn't get the opportunity to ask my questions after taking the time to attend for that purpose. Is this why so many people refuse to get involved in our political system?

It's no wonder. Who wants to take the time to come and be scolded or told that what they have to say is not going to be discussed because the commissioners don't want to hear about the subject? However, I do hope that people show up for the meeting of the 21st of this month to see how the commission votes on the Airport Joint Operating Agreement.

Many Plymouth voters are wondering what these elected officials thought we put them in office for. But Commissoner Vos informed us that we elected him to make decisions for us, apparently regardless of how we citizens feel. Don't think I couldn't kick myself for voting for him along with encouraging others to do so when he was elected. Commissioner Vos at the last meeting mentioned he would do anything for a vote. Well give us our referendum on the airport issue. That's not too much to ask, is it?

Also more than a few people made comments about Commissioner Vos that he wouldn't have been pleased to hear as we left the meeting on the night Mr. Nastoff referred to. People wondered why he didn't scold the night of the Cultural Center meeting when the "pro-airport" faction near the microphone kept smarting off to the citizens who came to talk against the airport. But all decided that the man who said, "We didn't come here to be scolded!" said it all.

Commissioner Vorva seems to be the only member who has any questions about the airport. Yet he was scolded for bringing them up at the commission meeting. I thought this was the purpose of commission meetings. It was refreshing to hear someone else is checking into this thoroughly and has unanswered questions.

No we don't ask to vote on every issue that comes before the commission. However, when we feel as strongly about something that affects us all, then we want to be heard and not have someone else decide what they think is best for us. I am willing to go along with what the majority wants in this community. Why aren't our elected officials?

Sheltered suburbs must face up to war

DAUGHTER JENNIFER and her husband used to turn on "Cheers" reruns over supper in their Boston apartment: Now they're glued to the so clock news 6 o'clock news.

Her younger sister tuned into TV movies in moments away from her studies at the University of Michigan. Now she's watching CNN.

This protected, suburban generation just pushing into adulthood now knows it has a major stake in the or-der of the world. On the frontlines.

Sheltered? Oh my, yes. They may have had the run of the suburbs once they had access to wheels. But without regular access to a city, they have no street smarts.

Their knowledge of history and ge-

West Bloomfield resident Ann Megalizzi reports that her mother who lives in a Southfield retirement home is beside herself - as are her fellow residents.

You know, Megalizzi said, "They have all the time in the world and they're really focussed in on this. Some of them say - 'I had to worry about my husband in World War II, (my son during Vietnam) and now my grandchildren. When does it stop?

MANY OF US believed it had stopped based on last year's perestroika with the Soviet Union; the rush of the Eastern block nations to get out from under the yoke of Comunism; a united Germany.

We thought all of that spelled out a new world order - where war might be obsolete. And even the nag-ging threat of unrest in the Middle East or the failure of the young Chi-

Union are endangered by what is happening in Lithuania. As suburban journalists, we, too, are sheltered. We have spent our days covering communities in which the pressing questions are the envi-ronment, development, schools and taxes.

Yes; we also cover drugs and crime, but these are the suburbs, and reality is, though both definitely exist, they are not our bread and butter.

So, as the world goes to war, covering that city hall meeting seems less significant, just as your work nese to gain the freedoms they sought would not blur our vision. Now we are at war with Iraq. And our relations with the Soviet Union are endangered by what is happening in Lithuania. does to you. our communities, describing how the court gave a developer the go-ahead in Rochester Hills; reporting the progress of school millage cam-paigns in Farmington Hills and West Bloomfield; or giving details of the Livonia Mayor's Ball?

Yes. Some sense of normalcy is what keeps us going. But we must add to that how war is changing our daily as well as our national life.

So far, our suburbs have not had large numbers of servicemen and women sent to serve in the Middle East or many reserves called up. In-stead, we have Arab Americans who are caught in a crunch of loyalties, as well as Jewish Americans who worry for both the United States and for Israel.

Mainly we all have our own divided loyalties centering on - is this worth the blood of our kids? Those kids whom we took to the store for baseball cards and to the diamond for ball practice. Those kids whom we nursed through the chicken pox and their first broken love affair.

Hurt? Dead? We dread having to write that local story.

Judith Doner Berne is assistant managing editor for the Oakland County editions of the Observer & Eccentric.

War should scare us all

IT'S HARD NOT to write about it, when the only thing that everyone is talking about is "the war."

It's harder still when you're writing on Monday night, the war 'deadline" is midnight Tuesday, but this won't appear in print until Thursday. Who knows what will have happened by then.

But sitting at home mulling the possibility of war is not nearly as hard as sitting in a tent in the desert sands of Saudi Arabia waiting . . . and waiting . . . and wait-

Still, it's hard to sit at home waiting, too, wondering what the next 24 hours will bring. That, I suppose, is the reason so much claptrap is being spoken and written by those with war on their minds and time on their hands.

Now if the reasoning were pragmatic ("We have to have a draft to keep our troops up to full strength.") and if that were true, I would agree, albeit reluctantly.

THE ARGUMENT runs something like this: With an all-volunteer military, the "privileged class" tended not to enlist, so the ones who did sign up were the underprivileged poor and minorities.

When everything was calm around

But that's not the way it goes.

For example: The draft. Every time I pick up a newspaper, some columnist is bleating that if war does break out in the Middle East, it's time to reinstate the draft.

Jack Gladden the world, that was fine, but now that the threat of war exists, they're likely to get killed in disproportionate numbers. So it's time to start drafting the rich and the middle class kids so that the killing will be spread around equally. Give me a break. In peacetime, the military is not a bad deal. The salary isn't great, but with all the fringe benefits, it can be a pretty good life. And yes, it does appeal to kids who can't afford to go to college or can't get a good paying ci-vilian job. The catch, of course, lies with the phrase "in peacetime." If war breaks out, all bets are off. That's the chance you take when you sign up. And it has nothing to do with racial or class discrimination.

ELSEWHERE ON the home front, a communication professor at Purdue University says war might be damaging to children.

He's not talking about the ones who could get blown away by bombs and rockets. He's talking about the ones who sit in their American living rooms watching the news reports on television.

The professor, who specializes in studying the emotional reactions of children to mass media, says if war does break out, parents should keep an eye on how their children react to what they see on the news. He says kids around 6 or 7 are old enough to distinguish fantasy from reality but may not be able to deal with the reality of death and violence

He says that such youngsters, after watching TV reports, might experience fear that bombs are going to be dropping in their own neighborhoods or guns going off where they live. Parents should observe their reactions and talk to them about how they feel.

He's worried that there may be greater exposure to battle images today than there was during Vietnam because the news media are more pervasive now.

Well, son of a gun. I was around 6 or 7 at the peak of World War II, when Hitler was smashing his way through Europe and Japan was shooting up the Pacific. We didn't have television and the news media weren't exactly "pervasive." And I felt just the way the prof describes it. So did my parents and all the other adults I knew. It was war. It was real. You'd have to be an idiot not to be scared.

I was scared during Korea, I was scared during Vietnam and I'm scared today. And I don't think that's unhealthy. It's accepting war for what it is. And it's scary.

5-year degrees increase

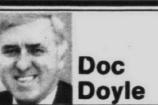

QUESTION: At a social gathering, I heard parents talking about how it took their children five years to get through a supposedly four-year col-lege program. We have a son going to college next fall and have budgeted for a four-year degree program. What can we do to avoid getting stuck with paying for a fifth year?

ANSWER: I know one family which put three of its children through a major state university and all three had to go a fifth year to get a four-year degree. None of the three changed a major or took a second major, which should be the only legitimate reason for a fifth year.

We're not talking about the campus social butterfly who is not ready to face the real world. We're talking about a system that seems to be structuring itself to hold students for five years.

I asked my four children and their friends, all of whom graduated from college, what percentage of college students do they estimate took five years to get a four-year degree. They estimated at least 40 percent of the students entering a four-year program needed a fifth year.

Why? One reason I believe is that some of the larger universities, either out of benevolence of their heart or for money, are enrolling more students than they can handle.

OFTEN JUNIORS and seniors get locked out of courses required for graduation in their major area. Why? There are not enough course sections offered for certain required courses to handle all the students.

In some colleges the schedule is a problem. Some required courses are only offered every other year. If the course is not offered in the senior year, and the student doesn't find out until the junior year, it's too late.

Sometimes summer school offers the course; sometimes it doesn't.

Another major reason, I believe, is that many college departments over the years have increased the number of class requirements or the number of credit hours for a course.

At the same time many institutions have not decreased the number of cognate courses (courses to make student a well-rounded individual).

Few suburban programs face Engler's budget ax

By Tim Richard staff writer

A state program that doesn't help economic competitiveness faces a cut.

Gov. John Engler's revised state budget will dismantle many of the Commerce Department programs of the Milliken and Blanchard years, slashing aid to the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, state promotional pro-grams, the Neighborhood Corps and the Youth Corps.

Suburban programs facing the ax are one prison in western Wayne County, two proposed metro area State Police posts and a social services program for Arab Chaldean families

"I don't think the average Michigan resident will notice the difference," said Patricia Woodworth, budget director. "The effect will be positive compared to the alternative - a 2.2 percent income tax increase to 6.6 percent.

'We think the public is made up of a lot of taxpayers," she said. The Engler philosophy is that Michigan's position in a world economy is served by holding down expenses and cutting taxes rather than state spending on promotions. "These are permanent cuts. We believe we have permanent problem."

Woodworth said Engler's revisions will result in layoffs of only 3,300 state workers compared to 8,000 who would be laid off if across-theboard cuts were made.

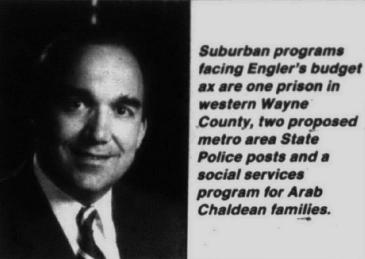

WE'VE CLEARLY exempted education," Woodworth told a news conference Monday.

State aid to local schools won't be cut, but treasurer Douglas B. Roberts wants to stretch out payments. For example, the final payment of the year would arrive Sept. 15, instead of Aug. 1, under Roberts' schedule.

"Computers in the classroom is gone," said Woodworth, referring to a highly publicized program of ex-Gov. James Blanchard. A Woodworth aide said many teachers took the computers home and used them as personal computers.

The program stirred much controversy in the 1990 campaign when Engler and Republicans accused Democrat Blanchard of staging classroom computer presentations as campaign "media events."

Sen. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, had criticized Blanchard's Commerce budget as being padded with contractual goodies for political friends.

Five Mile road in Northville Township. Phoenix prison in Northville Township would be converted to a women's prison to relieve overcrowding at the Huron Valley prison in Ypsilanti, Woodworth's budget text said.

Camp Pontiac, a 62-bed women's prison, would be closed and inmates transferred to Phoenix, saving 21 positions and $450,000.

Opening of a Mound Road prison in Detroit would be delayed until the end of 1991.

On balance, the Corrections Department would get a 5 percent budget increase - to $809 million.

THE SOCIAL Services budget also will rise - from $2.36 billion to $2.44 billion - because the administration said many programs were underfunded.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) will be increased from $543 million to $583 million under Engler's revisions. But General Assistance - a program aiding nonworking people without children will be cut by more than half: from $215 million to $97 million, to the applause of Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

Woodworth said 90,000 able-bodied people would be eliminated from the GA rolls. Handicapped people would be kept on.

"Federal programs (AFDC) protect the most needy. They will be protected," she said. "But state programs (GA) take in the next level (of need). Those programs have really skyrocketed TAKING ONE of the hardest hits of all will be the "equity" program in the Commerce Department - a 64 percent cut from $49.7 million to $13.2 million. The equity program is a series of grants, mainly to Detroit, to aid in arts programs.

metro area State Police posts and a social services program for Arab Chaldean families. Woodworth's lump-sum figures didn't reveal how much of the $17 million going to the Detroit Institute of Arts would be cut. DIA is operated by the city of Detroit but has been almost 100 percent funded by the Under Blanchard, the state also stepped in to help the Detroit Sym-phony Orchestra when the city eliminated aid from its budget.

Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, for years has been protective of arts funding.

Aid to regional multi-county plan-ning will be cut from $296,000 to zero.

THE LEGISLATURE last year assed a $7.8 billion budget for fiscal 1991, which began last Oct 1.

But Engler now calls the budget picture "grave." He says the pecession is cutting revenues, and expenditures were underestimated, throwing the entire picture $1.1 billion out of kilter.

In December the Legislature made $560 million in across-theboard cuts in every area except education. Now Engler has (1) revised the cuts, slashing Commerce in particular, and increasing other areas, and (2) made executive cuts.

The Constitution requires: "The governor, with the approval of the appropriating committees of the House and Senate, shall reduce expenditures . . . whenever it appears that actual revenues . . . will fall below the revenue estimates .

Engler's executive order Wednesday went to the two appropriations committees. The committees have five working days to act. The House panel, controlled by Democrats, is likely to give Engler more flak than the Republican-controlled Senate Engler also unveiled his 20 percent local property tax proposal. Its impact on the 1991 budget will be minimal, treasurer Roberts said.

Engler unveils 3-year plan to provide property tax relief

School operating taxes would be reduced 10 percent this year under a plan unveiled Tuesday by state Treasurer Douglas B. Roberts. In 1992 taxes would be reduced by 15 percent of current levels and 20 percent of current levels thereafter.

"Gov. John Engler has followed through with his campaign promise to immediately reduce the state's property taxes," Roberts told a news conference

"Additionally, assessments will be frozen in 1992 and every evennumbered year thereafter, and we will seek to amend the Michigan Constitution to limit property tax increases because of property value inflation in order to assure Michigan taxpayers that these tax cuts will not be eroded by inflation," Roberts said.

Engler's plan - subject to approval by the state Legislature outlined five major cuts to assure all property taxpayers of relief:

 Cut school operating taxes by 20 percent by 1993.

Exempt nearly all senior citizens from school taxes by 1993.

 Freeze property assessments in 1992 and every even-numbered year by assessing property every two years rather than annually.

Amend the Constitution to limit property tax increases for each class of property to inflation, or 5 percent, whichever is less.

IN 1991, total statewide property tax relief would be $776 million.

That cut will grow to $1.658 billion in 1992 and to more than $2.2 billion in 1994.

"For a typical Michigan family with a $70,000 home, the plan will reduce their property tax bill by $119 in 1991 and nearly $400 in 1994," Roberts said.

House Democrats are preparing an alternative plan to provide for graduated relief - more for lower income people that high income.

Mental health faces 3 percent cut

Mental health spending takes only a 3 percent cut under Gov. John Engler's proposed 1991 budget revisions.

The department would get $885 million under Engler's plan compared to the $915 million appropriatd by the Legislature last fall.

In December the Legislature made across-the-board cuts, reducing mental health to $868 million. Engler's budget is actually an increase over the December level because he made target cuts. Engler actually increased many line items he said were underfunded. Some examples of programs of local interest • Clinton Valley Center in Pontiac was increased nearly $300,000 to $21.8 million.

 Northville Psychiatric Hospital was kept whole at $44.8 million.

• Hawthorn Center in Northville is funded at $11.2 million, the same as the Legislature authorized in December and 5 percent below the · Community mental health would receive $336,000, less than $1,000 below the December revision and $31,000 below the original budg-

· Community inpatient/residential was increased $3 million to $24.3 million.

Stars shine at show

By Julie Brown staff writer

ERFORMING BEFORE an audience can be nervewracking for entertainers, but students at Centennial Educational Park are up to the challenge.

Tryouts for the annual "Variety Is" show were held last week in the band room at CEP. A number of students auditioned, performing for the panel of student judges after school Thursday and Friday.

"It's hard for the kids, I know," said Heidi Naasko, 17, a senior at Plymouth Canton High School. She's been involved in the show each year since the ninth grade and is show coordinator this year.

"I just find that it's really fun to see the kids excel in whatever they do," said Naasko, a Canton resident who's in the Symphony Band and Marching Band at CEP. "We've seen some really good ones. They look really good. We've got quite a diverse range.

STUDENT JUDGES look for performers who will entertain the crowd. Judges also want the students to have fun while they're on stage.

"We want to have something that's fun and exciting for everybody," she said. "We look for originality, some variety."

This year's variety show will include an 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 24, performance for senior citizens. Organizers most likely won't include hard rock bands in that evening's lineup, Naasko said.

Regular performances will be held 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Jan. 25-26. All performances will be in the auditorium of Plymouth Salem High School, on Joy west of Canton Center in Canton.

Students in ninth through 12th grades from Canton and Salem high schools will perform. The variety show will include a performance by the national championship Marching Band, said Jim Griffith, director of bands at CEP. Other featured groups will include Jazz Band I, the Concert Band and the Symphony Band. Reserved seat tickets are priced at $5 and general admission tickets are $3. (For reserved seat tickets, call 455-6953 and leave a message for Melanie Notestine.)

ALL BAND students have general admission tickets. Tickets will be sold at the door Friday and Saturday, but early arrival is recommended as previous shows have been sellouts, Griffith said.

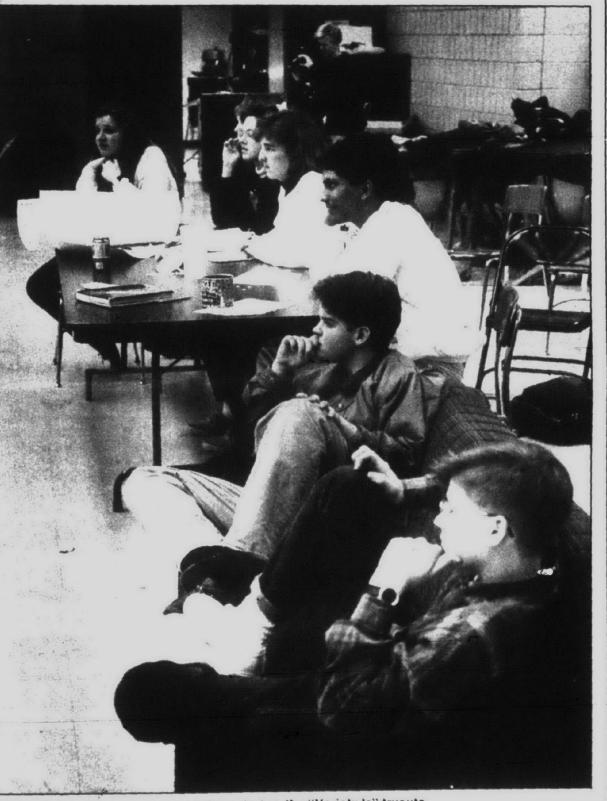

The variety show's been held for more than 25 years, said Griffith, who's been involved since the beginning. A number of years ago, it was difficult to get crowds out for band concerts at the high school. Organizers held a "glorified band concert" that also included some va-isn't easy. Many Plymouth-Canton Commo Many Plymouth-Canton Commo nity Education students come back to finish high school and improve their job skills. Often, they're single parents who must juggle the de-mands of job, family and school.

"Many of the students in our program are women. We can give them the skills they need to find a job," said Mary Kay Frey, adult education coordinator at the Starkweather Center in Plymouth.

It's more difficult for staffers to enhance students' self-esteem and help them become more self-reliant.

"We were looking for some assistance along those lines," said Frey, a Plymouth resident. "That was a side we felt we needed some help in."

That group included a small number of students and met for eight weeks.

"At the end of the eight weeks, they were disappointed that it was ending," said Simms, a Plymouth Township resident. Some of the women met on their own after the program ended for the semester.

"I think there's such a great need among these women," she said. They often have low self-esteem and don't know what resources are available in the community to help them. Their finances are often strained and transportation is a problem for many.

"It was a really wonderful expe-rience to work with them. They did a lot of growing," Simms said. Several of the women students have started coming to Plymouth Family Service for individual therapy. Many of the women have chil-

Low self-esteem a problem for teenage girls, survey finds

Confidence

By Julie Brown staff writer

As girls move into their teen years, their self-esteem often drops more than it does for boys of the same age. Girls may not have much confidence in their abilities or high expectations from life.

Those were among findings of a recent study commissioned by the American Association of University Women. Results of the survey, which included 3,000 students in grades four through 10 from throughout the United States, were made public last week.

Local educators weren't involved in the survey, but have seen some evidence to support its conclusions.

What I find is that girls speak out less in class," said Barbara Church, curriculum coordinator for science, math and computer education for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

WHEN CHURCH was teaching, she found that many girls were reluctant to answer questions in class. She would sometimes call on a girl who hadn't volunteered to answer and find that that student knew the correct respont

The boys are willing to take chances more than the girls are," said Church, a Plymouth resident and member of the Plymouth branch, American Association of University Women. She found that was true even among middle school students in the Talented and Gifted program.

Early adolescence is a difficult time for boys and girls, but she's found that boys are generally more assertive, and girls are more likely to stay in the background. 'Obviously as a result, they don't get the attention," she said. Church's colleague, Mary McGrath, teaches chemistry at Plymouth Canton High School. She's found some girls become frustrated when they have difficulty handling the material covered in math and science classes.

McGrath and Harry Greanya have begun teaching a new course, Chemistry in the Community, for 11th and 12th graders. The course, which began this past fall, is for the college-bound student who doesn't plan to major in a scientific field.

"It deals a lot with issues," said McGrath, a Plymouth resident.

STUDENTS RECENTLY finished a unit on petroleum, exploring such issues as where petroleum comes from, the political realities of importing oil, what alternative fuels are available and how fuel can be conserved.

She's found girls are often more comfortable with such an approach, which includes more discussion and less emphasis on math. The new class has more female students than regular chemistry classes do, McGrath said.

"I think the girls are meeting with a lot of success in that course." Many boys also benefit from learning about chemistry in real-life situations. McGrath said.

She and Church have some practical advice for parents who want to encourage their daughters and sons to do well.

classes, teachers, assignments and what goes on at school each day

'Support them in any way you can," she said. Students need time to finish their homework. A tutor can be a help in some cases, but parents shouldn't rely too heavily on a

Being involved in sports, clubs and other activities helps students, McGrath said.

That's another way to build up their self-confidence. They aren't just sitting home watching television.

SHE REMEMBERS that when she was in school most women worked as nurses, teachers or secretaries. It's also important for students to see women who work in non-traditional fields Young women need good role models. Show them all the different avenues that are available for their future. Show them that there are these opportunities." McGrath said.

It's important for parents to avoid making assumptions about career choices on the basis of gender, Church said

'They just need to get the idea across to girls that they can do anything." Building on such strengths is important for parents of sons and of daughters There's going to be a shortage of people to work in math and science and technology and engineering. We need to encourage more girls," Church said.

Encouraging girls to consider non-traditional careers McGrath said. It's beneficial for parents to ask about is among the goals of a Saturday, March 16, workshop for middle school girls in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and area private schools.

The workshop will also include sessions for parents of participants, said Gail Conte, president of the Plymouth AAUW, which is providing funding and other help for the program.

PARENTS WILL learn about ways to help daughters 'counteract some of the pressures they feel at school," said Conte, a Plymouth Township resident who works in corporate training at Henry Ford Community College

Her job includes working with displaced homemakers women who have worked in the home for years and now need help upgrading their job skills and finding employment.

'It's definitely there." Those women often have low self-esteem, although that's not necessarily gender-related. Conte said. They've frequently made choices early in life that have limited their options later on.

Gender equity in education has been a concern of the American Association of University Women for many years, she said. Often, people aren't aware that such inequity exists.

"I think there's a great need." There's a need to educate the public, she said, and to find solutions that can be incorporated into curriculum and teaching methods.

dren in the Plymouth-Canton Com-munity Schools. Their children may have problems in school and at home.

"They certainly are motivated to be good moms," Simms said. The women often need help with parenting skills.

THIS SEMESTER'S support group for women will begin meeting 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, at Starkweather Center, 550 N. Holbrook in Plymouth. Subsequent sessions will be held Mondays at Starkweather for 15 weeks, according to the school district calendar. Sessions won't be held during school breaks.

Price is $40 for those who aren't Community Education students. Students may sign up for the non-credit offering free of charge. To register, call 451-6555. (Non-students will be able to pay the fee the first day. Starkweather has a child care center for students.)

Meetings of the women's support group will be facilitated by Ann Bradley, a Family Service clinical social worker, and Sally Davis, a graduate student in social work at Wayne State University.

Many single parents live in the Plymouth-Canton community, said David Breeden, Plymouth Family Service director.

violence, substance abuse and parenting skills are among possible areas to be covered, said Bradley, a Plymouth resident. The specifics will depend on who signs up for the group and what their interests are. "There's a great need," Bradley said. Single parents with limited resources do live in the Plymouth-Canton community and surrounding area.

"The income levels can be so varied." Bradley's found some people are surprised that such needs exist in a suburban community.

SHE, DAVIS and Simms all returned to college while in their 30s, so they can identify with the struggles of other adult students.

Women in the adult education program may have no female support systems, Simms said, and may view other women as competitors for male attention. The women rely on men for their sense of identity and self-esteem.

"I think this was a refreshing change for them," Simms said.

The group, for women age 18 and older, will be limited to 12 participants.

"We might try to start another group if we have enough interest," said David Breeden, Plymouth Family Service director. Organizers are considering establishing a women's support group that would meet at a Canton site.

"There are a lot of single parents. This particular population has a real issue with isolation," said Breeden, a Ypsilanti resident. Holding meetings close to where women live makes it easier for them to participate.

OPING WITH DEATH is never easy. Trying to understand a tragedy such as the Dell'Orco family fire can cause Christians to question their faith. "I think it's very difficult to really understand. The Lord's ways are not our ways," said Sister Mary Wivell, pastoral minister at St. Thomas A Becket Catholic Church in Canton. "We believe, but we can't always understand."

Seven members of the Dell'Orco family died in a Dec. 22 fire at their Canton Township home. Funeral services were at St. Thomas A Becket with the Rev. Ernest Porcari, pastor of the church, officiating. "I think death is always difficult to deal with because it's your loss. It's a separation," Sister Wivell said. For Christians, the belief in life after death is a source of comfort and strength.

"But then we have to deal with the loss within ourselves." The stages of coping with death can even include anger directed at the deceased, wrote Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, in her books on death and dying.

We all go through those stages until we can accept it."

UNDERSTANDING SUCH a tragedy is difficult, said the Rev. Tom Keilman, Canton Department of Public Safety chaplain. Keilman and Wayne Byrum, Canton's other police chaplain, have worked with the Dell'Orco family and their neighbors. "It's very difficult to understand," said Keilman, who is also a police officer in West Bloomfield Township. Keilman had to tell Debbie Dell'Orco that her husband and six of the couple's children had died in the fire. There are no clear-cut answers in the Scriptures. We're unaware of what the real situation is."

It is theologically incorrect to say God causes such tragedies as a form of retribution, he said.

"His arms are open wide. He's there waiting for people to come."

"It is very difficult because that's what people's lives are built around. their family," he said. "There are no words that are adequate to comfort somebody like that."

Simply being with people who are grieving can do a great deal to ease their pain, said Keilman and Sister Wivell. That's true not only right after a death, she said, but also later when phone calls and visits decrease.

"Many times, that person is still grieving, but they still need your support. It's very important that you're with them."

THERE'S AN inclination to step in and do everything for someone who's grieving, but it's important to allow the person to think through and do things, Keilman said. Continuing to function will help that person deal with his or her grief.

The Rev. Kenneth Gruebel, pastor at Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton, agreed that a "ministry of presence" comforts those who are grieving. "Just to be there, to be a listening ear, to lend a shoulder" helps, as does listening to a survivor's stories about the loved one's life and death.

Gruebel doesn't view evil or suffering as something God inflicts to punish people. Natural causes, bad people, or simply being in the wrong place at the wrong time can lead to tragedy. "I think God created us to be free." People are born into a universe that has causes and effects, and they can get caught in those through no fault of their own, Gruebel said.

He remembered what a wellknown minister, the Rev. William Sloane Coffin, said after his own son's tragic death. Coffin said God's heart was the first of all hearts to break when that happened. Christianity has introduced the concept of God's suffering and of the suffering of his son, Jesus, Gruebel said

Gruebel officiates at some 30 to 40 funerals each year. He has found the ministry of the word helps many Christians cope with their grief.

HE INCLUDES Scripture passages on death and hope, emphasizing that death isn't the end and that something greater is in

"There are a wide variety of . different ways of praying," Gruebel said. "Some of us pray with our words, and some of us pray with our actions. We pray in the way God has given us gifts.

Friends and neighbors can help by preparing meals and doing household chores. A congregational care committee at Gruebel's church provides transportation, meals and short-term child care for families in need

For some people, grief therapy groups are a source of help, he said. Such groups are often affiliated with churches, civic organizations or funeral homes.

Clergy men and women agree it's important to be particularly careful when talking with children about death.

'It's much more difficult for a child to understand that," Keilman said. "It doesn't sink in the minute you tell them." In some cases, children deal with death better than adults do, but some may need professional counseling.

"We've got to be very careful with children," Gruebel said. Parents shouldn't use such euphemisms as 'Grandpa's asleep.

"We use a lot of euphemisms to cover up the reality, which is death," he said. Explanations of death will vary depending on the child's age. Some books and films are available to help children cope with death.

It's best to avoid such phrases as "God wanted Daddy in heaven." That tends to make children believe they're in some way responsible for the death. "It also implies God is a very mean person," Gruebel said.

When helping bereaved people of all ages, it's important not to rush in with hope while ignoring their grief. People have the right to mourn, he said

Keilman, Gruebel and others have been pleased with the reaction of those who have helped the Dell'Orco family. Donations of money, food, clothing and other items have been plentiful

"It has been extraordinary. Literally thousands of people in this community have been supportive of the family," Keilman said. "It's nice to see we have so many caring people in our community.

Dealing with such tragedies isn't easy, but doing so can help Christians grow in their faith, he said.

"Obviously there are some uestions. I think as you work through the experience it makes you stronger. You begin to see God is quite evident in all of it."

Dealing with Death

Faith a source of comfort to many who are grieving

Dealing with Death

Faith a source of comfort to many who are grieving

By Julie Brown staff writer

OPING WITH DEATH is never easy. Trying to understand a tragedy such as the Dell'Orco family fire can cause Christians to question their faith.

"I think it's very difficult to really understand. The Lord's ways are not our ways," said Sister Mary Wivell, pastoral minister at St. Thomas A Becket Catholic Church in Canton. "We believe, but we can't always understand."

Seven members of the Dell'Orco family died in a Dec. 22 fire at their Canton Township home. Funeral services were at St. Thomas A Becket with the Rev. Ernest Porcari, pastor of the church, officiating.

"I think death is always difficult to deal with because it's your loss. It's a separation," Sister Wivell said. For Christians, the belief in life after death is a source of comfort and strength.

"But then we have to deal with the loss within ourselves." The stages of coping with death can even include anger directed at the deceased, wrote Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, in her books on death and dying.

"We all go through those stages until we can accept it."

UNDERSTANDING SUCH a

tragedy is difficult, said the Rev. Tom Keilman, Canton Department of Public Safety chaplain. Keilman and Wayne Byrum, Canton's other police chaplain, have worked with the Dell'Orco family and their neighbors.

"It's very difficult to understand." said Keilman, who is also a police officer in West Bloomfield Township. Keilman had to tell Debbie Dell'Orco that her husband and six of the couple's children had died in the fire.

"There are no clear-cut answers in the Scriptures. We're unaware of what the real situation is.'

It is theologically incorrect to say God causes such tragedies as a form of retribution, he said. 'His arms are open wide. He's there waiting for people to come." "It is very difficult because that's what people's lives are built around, their family," he said. "There are no words that are adequate to comfort somebody like that.

Simply being with people who are grieving can do a great deal to ease their pain, said Keilman and Sister Wivell. That's true not only right after a death, she said, but also later when phone calls and visits decrease.

"Many times, that person is still grieving, but they still need your support. It's very important that you're with them.'

THERE'S AN inclination to step in and do everything for someone who's grieving, but it's important to allow the person to think through and do things, Keilman said. Continuing to function will help that person deal with his or her grief.

The Rev. Kenneth Gruebel, pastor at Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton, agreed that a "ministry of presence" comforts those who are grieving. "Just to be there, to be a listening ear, to lend a shoulder' helps, as does listening to a survivor's stories about the loved one's life and death.

Gruebel doesn't view evil or suffering as something God inflicts to punish people. Natural causes, bad people, or simply being in the wrong place at the wrong time can lead to tragedy. "I think God created us to be free." People are born into a universe that has causes and effects, and they can get caught in those through no fault of their own, Gruebel said.

He remembered what a wellknown minister, the Rev. William Sloane Coffin, said after his own son's tragic death. Coffin said God's heart was the first of all hearts to break when that happened. Christianity has introduced the concept of God's suffering and of the suffering of his son, Jesus, Gruebel said.

Gruebel officiates at some 30 to 40 funerals each year. He has found the ministry of the word helps many Christians cope with their grief.

HE INCLUDES Scripture passages on death and hope, emphasizing that death isn't the end and that something greater is in store

"There are a wide variety of different ways of praying," Gruebel said. "Some of us pray with our words, and some of us pray with our actions. We pray in the way God has given us gifts." Friends and neighbors can help by preparing meals and doing household chores. A congregational care committee at Gruebel's church provides transportation, meals and short-term child care for families in need.

For some people, grief therapy groups are a source of help, he said. Such groups are often affiliated with churches, civic organizations or funeral homes

Clergy men and women agree it's important to be particularly careful when talking with children about death.

"It's much more difficult for a child to understand that," Keilman said. "It doesn't sink in the minute you tell them." In some cases, children deal with death better than adults do, but some may need professional counseling.

We've got to be very careful with children," Gruebel said. Parents shouldn't use such euphemisms as "Grandpa's asleep."

"We use a lot of euphemisms to cover up the reality, which is death," he said. Explanations of death will vary depending on the child's age. Some books and films are available to help children cope with death.

It's best to avoid such phrases as 'God wanted Daddy in heaven." That tends to make children believe they're in some way responsible for the death.

"It also implies God is a very mean person," Gruebel said.

When helping bereaved people of all ages, it's important not to rush in with hope while ignoring their grief. People have the right to mourn, he said

Keilman, Gruebel and others have been pleased with the reaction of those who have helped the Dell'Orco family. Donations of money, food, clothing and other items have been plentiful.

'It has been extraordinary. Literally thousands of people in this community have been supportive of the family," Keilman said. "It's nice to see we have so many caring people in our community."

Dealing with such tragedies isn't easy, but doing so can help Christians grow in their faith, he said

"Obviously there are some questions. I think as you work through the experience it makes you stronger. You begin to see God is quite evident in all of it.'

Death skews financial plan

By Dan Boyce and Alan Ferrara special writers

Local financial planning experts reviewed the data of the family profiled here and made general recommendations based on the participants' resources and goals. Proper financial planning can set the foundation for a secure financial future. This fundamental premise of financial planning has often been repeated in this column. Unfortunately, even well-made plans may go awry. Our financial profile this month illustrates a situation that requires rethinking of strategies. Joe and Alice Berman of Livonia were

Joe and Alice Berman of Livonia were heading toward a comfortable retirement for 1993 when Joe turned 65. He spent his career as a "gray-collar" worker at General Motors and at retirement would have received approximately $1,600 per month in a pension, plus Social Security benefits of $900 per month.

Alice, 60, would be 62 at the time of his retirement and would be eligible for additional Social Security benefits of approximately $400 per month. Thus, they had enough income to support their projected income needs of $3,000 per month at retirement without using significant investment income or principal.

The financial picture was dramatically altered when Joe died eight months ago. Alice's income is now reduced to a surviving spouse's pension of $780 per month and Social Security widow's benefits of $570 per month. This is less than half the income they expected when Joe retired. Never having been employed, she is now looking to supplement her income with interest and dividends from investments.

PRIOR TO JOE'S death, their primary assets were a few stocks they had accumulated and Joe's 401(K) retirement plan at GM. When he died, Alice rolled over the 401(K) plan into an IRA in her name and used approximately $30,000 of the $116,000 in life insurance proceeds to pay off all of their debts, including the small remaining house mortgage.

"I simply felt more comfortable being debt free," she said.

Alice has some real strengths in her financial picture. Her investments are diversified, which is a method to reduce the risk she faces in uncertain economic times. All the necessary insurance coverages are in place — auto, ho owner's, medical, long-term care. estate plan is solidly in place, com of a will and a revocable living tru of the assets except for her IRAs a tled in the name of the trust.

"What suggestions do you have en income taxes for me or my ben aries when money is withdrawn fr IRAs?" she asked.

Alice should realize that any me paid out of an IRA is subject to ind tax. It would be taxed to her if with drawn during her lifetime or taxes beneficiaries if paid out upon her

Coalition frames policy issues

By Geraid Frawley staff writer

No person or group can solve all

Ewing said each of MAC's five core issues of southeastern Michigan's problems.

But cooperation, regional thinking, and the proper allocation of existing resources — ideals promoted by the Metropolitan Affairs Corporation, a coalition of business, labor, government and civic leaders — can go a long way to improving the economic vitality and quality of life in Greater Detroit.

Although MAC maintains a low profile and acts in subtle ways, many of its issues — because of the influence of its members — become cornerstones of public policy in the near future.

Education reform, the need for regional cooperation, and hazardous waste facility siting have all been issues on the MAC agenda — all have resulted in legislation in recent years.

For 1991, MAC's public policy agenda focuses on continuing education reform — including schools of choice and local empowerment reducing chronic joblessness, creating affordable child care, improving ethnic and race relations, and encouraging joint ventures.

Stephen Ewing, president of Michigan Consolidated Gas and a Birmingham resident, is the new Metropolitan Affairs Corporation chairman.

ourselves is as a causer of good deeds, not a doer of good deeds," Ewing said. "We are not an arm twisting or a lobbying organization."

AN EXAMPLE illustrating how MAC works, he said, would be the formation of the Conference of Western Wayne, a joint venture between 17 communities — including the cities of Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth, Wayne and Westland, and the townships of Canton, Plymouth and Redford — that combined in a cooperative purchasing arrangement.

First, the need is identified. Independently, each western Wayne County community had its own purchasing department for office supplies, but as small buyers, each community paid a premium for the supplies.

Next, MAC researches possible solutions and then musters available resources, he said. In this case, the answer was obvious to the business

The Metropolitan Affairs Corp., has been around in one form of another since 1958, according to vice president B. David Sanders. It began as a coalition of business and labor leaders who set out to improve the southeastern Michigan by applying private sector resources and leadership.

The business and labor leaders notables like Henry Ford II, the auto magnate, Walter Reuther, the union leader, Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne State University — were quick to realize that in order to effect change, they would need to enlist the aid of government leaders and brought them into the fold.

While it is not uncommon for government leaders to seek the help of business when attempting to resolve issues of public policy, MAC is unique because it began as a group of business luminaries who sought to involve and educate government members.

Although MAC members spend a great deal of personal time on the group's initiatives, chairman Stephen Ewing is quick to say that MAC is not a philanthropic organization, but a practical organization.

"These things we're proposing are pragmatic - it's a type of communal self-interest," Ewing said. Unless people work to solve these problems, the quality of life - and therefore the businesses environment - will collapse.

For the most part, MAC is — and has always been — a low-profile group — surprisingly, because MAC's membership includes the some of the most influential business, political, labor and civic leaders in area, according to Sanders.

Ewing, president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.; Joseph L. Hudson, chairman of Hudson-Webber Foundation; Robert Larson, vice chairman of the Taubman Co. Inc and chairman of Taubman Realty Group; Edward McNamara, Wayne County executive; Edward Scribner, president of Metropolitan Detroit AFL/ CIO; Charles Muer, president of C.A. Muer Corp. — these are just a few of the notables among the current roster of MAC members.

DURING THE 1970s, MAC's agenda was focused around a movement for regional government — a focus that was strongly opposed by many southeastern communities.

While MAC no longer believes regional government is a necessary component to solving the region's problems, it still maintains regional cooperation is an essential element, Sanders said.

MAC has continued to evolve during its history. After the 1970s, MAC board members re-evaluated the way it accomplished its goals and determined it was spending too much administrating the organization and was getting away from its primary goal of affecting public policy.

After further consideration, MAC fired its full-time administrative staff and contracted with the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments to do its busy work, so it could concentrate on formulating public policy initiatives and research and development.

To look at her income needs and her asset base, her position at first blush looks quite good. She needs to generate approximately $22,000 in investment income to supplement her GM pension and Social Security. Her $336,000 invested at 8 percent will generate almost $27,000 of income, which seems to indicate a comfortable cushion.

But there are two factors that make the picture a little less rosy. First, some of her assets are producing very little income. Secondly, as inflation pushes the cost of living higher, she will find herself in the classic retiree's squeeze. Because her income is fixed, she would inevitably be forced into reducing her standard of living or to begin dipping into principal. Thus, some reordering of her portfolio is in order.

leaders who make up MAC - too many purchasing departments doing a job that could be handled by one. After studying similar groups throughout the country, MAC showed the individual community's decision makers how they would benefit from a cooperative purchasing arrange-ment, he said.

Now, as a cooperative unit, the communities can take advantage of large purchase discounts and economies of scale, Ewing said. "In most cases," Ewing added,

"the necessary resources needed to accomplish a task already exist, but they are allocated poorly

Ewing said each of MAC's five core issues for 1991 can be realized without substantial public spending.

REVITALIZING public school education is foremost on many people's minds, Ewing said, and the business leaders that make up the MAC board of directors are no exception.

With many of its members coming from the business community, MAC was one of the first groups to realize the need for substantial reform, Ewing said. Better education improves an area's work force, attracts business and appeals to outsiders looking to relocate.

Schools of choice and local empowerment are keys to education reform, Ewing said. Schools of choice will improve schools by forcing them to compete for students (and therefore funding in a voucher system) and empowerment will improve efficency by allowing school administrators to make decisions without having to deal with the bureaucracy of traditional school system decision making.

Perhaps nearest to Ewing's heart of all of MAC's goals is improving child care delivery in Greater Detroit. Ewing was co-chair of a committee that published a MAC report on child care delivery in southeastern Michigan

MAC's Child Care delivery report cites eight initiatives, including the distribution of a child care resource guide that will aid area employers seeking to offer some element of child care as an employee benefit. Providing quality child care makes good sense for parents, pro-yiders, labor and government, but it particularly makes good sense for

But the stocks were accumulated at a time when she and her husband did not expect to need much supplemental invest-ment income. Many of the stock holdings, including some of those in the IRA, have a very low dividend payout. We believe these low-yielding stocks should be replaced with stocks that have a steady, significant dividend. replacements In these next few years, she should target a 2-4 percent growth rate in of inflation. This could be done ei-ther through growth in the value of assets, such as increasing stock pric-es or through reinvestment of investment income. She should review her net worth at least yearly to be sure she is on track toward meeting this goal. If not, she can make minor adjustments in her standard of living now to avoid making major adjustments later.

Even though Alice's life has changed dramatically over the past year, she need not abandon all of her aspirations for the future. It is just as true now as it was before: Planning for her financial future will business because it can increase productivity, enhances the ability to attract and retain quality employees, increases morale, and helps the business maintain its leadership role, Ewing said.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE facing metropolitan Detroit is confronting and reducing chronic joblessness, Ewing said. As long as a significant portion of the population is jobless and must be supported, the economic prosperity of southeastern Michigan will suffer substance dependence, poor educa-tion, inadequate transportation — not all jobless people are deadbeats on the public dole, he said. Again, MAC doesn't pretend it can solve all the problems of the chroni-cally jobless. But it has developed two initiatives.

The first is a job brokers' association that will provide an efficient pipeline to get people in jobs. Essen-tially, a job brokers' association would create a larger pool upon which employers could draw.

An employer with a position to fill could contact an association member who could then review an extensive data base of potential appli-cants, he said. "There are jobs out there, but getting the right person to fill the jobs has proven to be a problem," Ewing said.

A job brokers' association would also improve networking among members, establish professional standards among job brokers and give the group clout to influence public policy. MAC is also working on a job training and substance abuse pilot project in the Warren/Conner area of Detroit, Ewing said.

ANOTHER ISSUE that lies at the heart of many of metropolitan Detroit's problems is race and ethnic relations. "Racism is a reality and it's become a divisive issue of political polarity." The only way to improve race and ethnic relations is through education, Ewing said, which is why MAC advocates requiring high school and col-lege courses on ethnic diversity.

"Our young people need to learn that there are differences (between oles) - and thank God there are differences that help create a th broader-based society," he his or her new-year predictions. That, unfortunately, gives the fes-tivities something of the atmosphere of the ballroom on the Titanic, as the glitz and glitter becomes a kind of bravado at best, at worst a symbol of conspicuous consumption in the face of pending sacrifice.

But even without the sobering sense of brinkmanship brought on by the Mideast crisis, this would have been one of those years ripe with a sense of premonition. For one thing, it's the start of a new decade. For another, the softening economy and onslaught of worldwide competition gives this year the feel of change in the air.

There isn't a lot of new hardware this year in any case, particularly coming from the Big Three. The significant new cars on the show floor are somewhat subdued - led by the new Chrysler minivan, which is changed only slightly, and Ford's new full-size sedans, which are modernized and repowered but not startling

To achieve a sense of newness, GM introduces several 1992 models early, notably a new Seville that takes Cadillac, finally, out of the doldrums of styling.

But mainly, there is a promise of the future in a handful of extremely well-worked out "concept cars" that this time are much more than silly reaches of styling excess.

Chrysler outrages and amazes with a nostalgic version of a 10-cylinder touring coupe. It shares the stage with one of the most significant small car designs seen in decades - a slope-nosed, four-door economy car powered with a tiny two-stroke engine.

The latter marks one of the few significant changes in engine engi-neering in decades, a promise of future efficiency, power and economy wrapped in an appealing, stylish and presumably low-cost envelope.

In fact, Chrysler would have stolen the show were it not for a sin-gular new Pontiac concept car that manages to combine convoluted sculpture, high technology and out-rageous excess with a subtle harmo-

Curiously, both cars are credited to extremely young designers now working in Detroit. Two, it turns out, come from the Cleveland Art Institute - an institution apparently recovering its former glory.

Then Ford steps in with yet another swoopy glass bubble that pushes its now-famous aero theme to the outer reaches. And it is powered by a straight eight-cylinder engine, of all

Is all this hope for the future of an industry that has been relocating it-self, in the process becoming so self-involved it began to lose a good deal of the charisma it used to overflow with?

Probably, at least if things return to normal. In the background, it seems as if the drum roll has start-methods of selling a business but it beils down to being familiar with

Owner needs lots of good advice when selling his business

Sooner or later, every small busi-ness changes hands. And for business owners who have been through the process, negotiating a mutually satisfying sales agreement is a key aspect of any successful transaction.

Both sellers and buyers can jeop-ardize the negotiations of a sale when neither party is aware of the different methods of selling a business and the resulting financial returns and tax consequences, said Dan Nemes, partner at the Birmingham CPA firm of Nemes, Allen & Co.

"The tendency is to zero in on price as the most important element of the deal," Nemes said. "But it's the nature of the sales agreement that makes or breaks it."

He added that no business owner should attempt negotiating a business sale without involving the help of a qualified attorney and CPA. "Trying to do so is like skiing down the highest mountain blindfolded since your chances of success are slim to none."

Offering a business along with real estate may best be handled as two separate transactions.

"The price of the two combined can be overwhelming to buyers, and for many sellers, maintaining ownership of real estate is wise from an investment or tax point of view,"

DiPaolo Nemes said. This also allows negotiations and tax alternatives to be clearer and more straight forward when real estate is not included in the sale of the business.

Sellers who are asked to enter into special arrangements such as covenants not to compete, employment contracts or consulting agreements should also be aware of the resulting tax consequences. From the seller's perspective, money received as part of such agreements is recognized as ordinary income and may be taxed at the maximum rate of 31 percent. This is less desirable than income received in the form of capital gains that is taxed at a maximum rate of 28 percent.

The buyer always has the incentive to pay that portion that would be ordinary income to the seller versus capital gain proceeds since he cannot deduct the amount picked up in capital gain by the seller until he sells the business," Nemes said. "And if he's paying you ordinary income as part of some arrangement. the seller will potentially pay that 3percent penalty for the buyer's being further ahead."

Nemes believes there are many

Coincidence led to his success

By Dan Greenberg special writer

OBERT CICCHINI is now appearing on 1,820 screens nationwide as Lou Pennino "a small but significant role," he said - in Francis Ford Coppola's "The Godfather Part III."

The former Redford Township resident assessed his career by declaring, "I recognized the insecurity of it, having to audition continually, but I had always been interested in acting, ever since I was a little kid."

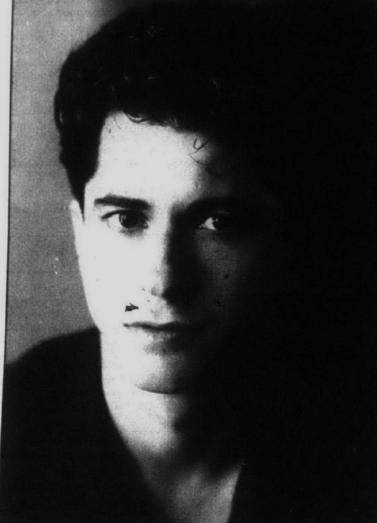

His success in being cast in "The Godfather" (as lieutenant to mobster Vincent Mancini, played by Andy Garcia) represents more than a decade of determination, hard work and careful preparation, to say nothing of luck and coincidence.

There's also talent, intelligence and education. "The right agent is important, too," Cicchini said, describing the arduous years that transformed this all-sport high school athlete into a stage and film actor.

"FOOTBALL, BASEBALL, basketball, track and field - I competed in all these sports at Bishop Borgess High School, where I graduated in 1976," he said. Cicchini went on to Central-Michigan University. "I suppose if I had been able to compete in one of those sports on a college level I would have, but I wasn't big enough or good enough," he said.

'Acting was a natural progression, If the university environment is supposed to be a place where the world is opened up to young people, well it certainly was for me.

After considerable acting experience at Central, he left school to travel in Europe, where he had the opportunity to meet his parents' relatives. His mother is French and his father, Italian. The senior Cicchini watching television." In 1984 Cicchini married Jeanine, whom he describes as incredibly supportive of his acting career despite the fact that "it was tough living in New York without money."

When I got out of school it immediately got a lot tougher because," he said with a with a wry grin, "I didn't become a star right away. I didn't even get a job."

During the next two-year period, he "waited tables, juggled my schedule and appeared in a string of lowbudget, no-pay, off-off-off Broadway shows." Then he started getting paying work in regional theater, appearing for the 1988 season at the prestigious Cleveland Playhouse and later at the Guthrie Theater in Minneapocoincidence. He said, "It was a very fortunate set of circumstances which all fell in place."

Although no one knew the title, it was clear that noted producer/casting director Fred Roos was working on a major production. His casting assistant in New York, Alida Chappel, wasn't available so "Fred hired someone else, Rosalie Josephs, who shares offices with Brian Chivon, who had cast me in two plays in New York and Brian liked my work.

"Rosalie asked him about young actors and he recommended me. He didn't know my agent so he gave her my home phone.

Cicchini received the call and was auditioned by Roos. Of course, it was exciting to learn the scope of the production. Even a small role in a film like "The Godfather" can "open doors to meet agents, the kind of agents that can get me auditions, agents who would be powerful enough to get me seen by the people I need to see and who would be impressed by the fact that I had gotten this role, that it wasn't a fluke or some kid just out of school." Many nervous months passed after that audition. First Cicchini was tions, the possibility of a television told he had the role, be prepared to work. And it happened because of a travel. Then the project was on hold, then Coppola was reworking the part. The delays ran from November 1989 through January 1990.

> "I GOT SICK and depressed. I was devastated." Cicchini said. "Finally I started auditioning again and got a role in New York in March of '90. Then the calls started, 'Be ready to travel' - tomorrow, next week and so on.

Finally, in March, as Cicchini started rehearsing for his New York stage role, he was told, "Be on a plane to Rome tomorrow.'

He spent two months on location in Sicily and a month in New York. Working with Al Pacino, Andy Garcia, Diane Keaton, George Hamilton and the rest of the galaxy that appears in "The Godfather" is a tremendous boost to any young actor.

Since then Cicchini has done a small appearance in Spike Lee's "Jungle Fever" and worked with Paul Sorvino and Rita Moreno in "Life in the Food Chain" films, which will appear soon. He has a new agent, a manager in Los Angeles and all the trappings of success. This month he expects more audipilot and another film.

It was an incredibly eerie moment. Having settled into my seat shortly after Congress had voted to give the president war powers (effectively in three days, one of the first lines I hear from "When The Wind Blows" is that war may break out in three days. and that people should prepare to survive a nuclear bomb attack.

Theater may be suspended reality, but at times it gives one pause. And that is the point of the Trinity House Theatre presentation of "When The Wind Blows." Director Sarah Heeden has fashioned a show that not only presents challenging concepts but delivers, for the most part, stellar performances and high production values.

The play is by British writerillustrator Raymond Briggs. It was originally written as a cartoon book. On stage, it takes the form of a satire, anti-nuclear arms, dark comedy. Perhaps, anti-faith in "the powers that be" might be more to the point.

"When The Wind Blows" is about a middle-aged British couple (Jim and Hilda Bloggs) and their preparations for the big bang. Jeffrey Heeden and Beth Temple perfectly Performances of "When the types. They don't know much about missiles with atomic warheads.

> THE BLOGGS, nevertheless, are determined to follow every instruction in the government manual no matter how absurd. It is this blind faith that survival is possible - if they do the correct thing - that is so funny in act one, and which becomes ever less so in act two after the bomb blast.

> Superb sound effects heighten the impending disaster. In act one, as Mr. Bloggs builds his "inner core refuge," we hear increasingly intense rumblings as if nuclear shock waves are approaching. In act two, it changes to after-shock winds that blow through their shattered home to a furious crescendo as radiation fallout begins to take effect.

The set is finely detailed and the props are outstanding. One has the sense of a genuine English country cottage.

Faults are few and far between. The opening seems a bit slow, and noisy scene changes break the mood at times. Heeden and Temple certainly are not middle-aged - a .fact accentuated by an intimate theater. It hardly matters, however, because the play's ideals are so powerful, and both performers understand that satire reveals the truth most effectively when it flows from characters and situations, not artificial funny business.

A group discussion follows each performance.

Jones Consider what you like for satisfying vacation

Marie Miller of Milford liked the views but found the long hours of sitting on a train "boring." Ingrid Tomey of West Bloomfield, who wrote our Snow Train story this week, wasn't bored at all but she was cold.

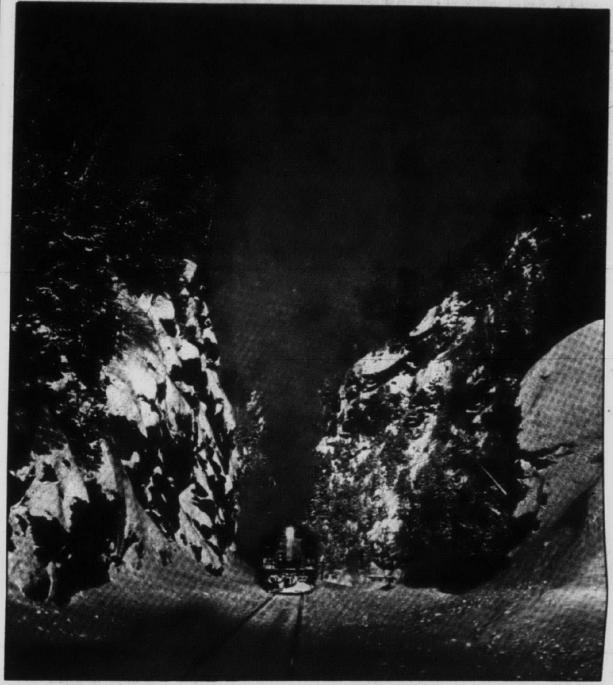

Bill McColeman of Seniors Unlimited has sent hundreds of busloads to the Agawa Canyon train in all seasons, and he's done the trip himself many times. He thinks its nice in winter if there's snow on the ground, but he really loves the canyon best in autumn, surrounded by glorious color.

These conversations reconfirmed what I have always believed about travel. You get the best travel experiences if you know what pleases you. Some people like travel best when they can run from one museum to the next. Some like simple pleasures, especially if there is great scenery within view. Some prefer to stretch out full length on a beach.

The Agawa Canyon train, which rumbles north from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, just across the bridge from the Michigan Sault, has been one of our most popular travel destinations for most of this century.

When I read Ingrid Tomey's account of a heatless rail car and a burst water pipe, I wondered how often those things happen. She had enjoyed the train in warm weather, and she's a great travany exp she enjoyed it even in the cold. Many of us wouldn't. I called the Algoma Railway and assistant manager Chris By ron knew immediately which train I was talking about. "There's not much you can do about a mechanical failure like that when you're in the wilderness," he said. "If it happens before you leave you can fix it or change cars.

Three area couples recently took a train ride in through the snow-infested regions of Dudley an unheated car on the Algoma Snow Train in Doright's land. While they didn't hit any bear or

The bartender at Blossoms Bistro in the Canadian Sault, told us to take a book. "After while," he said, "all those snow-covered trees start to look the same."

Six of us, Pat and Sharon Knecht of Farmington Hills, Bob and Carol Lyons and my husband Paul and I of West Bloomfield were booked for the famous Algoma Snow Train on its opening winter weekend winter in northern Ontario, Canada.

Not only did we not read our books, we didn't even take a snooze the entire trip. We were too cold. For eight hours, four hours into the Canadian wilderness and four hours back, our car was without heat.

As cold crept in under the picture windows and into our fingers and toes, the term Snow Train took on a whole new meaning. We learned that the steam car was way up the line, furthest away from us and the refrigerator car was the one we were riding in.

The dining car was where we kept going for hot chocolate and coffee. And car number six was where adolescent boys were sliding up and down the aisles on three inches of water from a broken pipe. But it was warm water. Lest you think all was a disaster on the Snow Train, read Having spent the weekend in Harbor Springs, we were only a twohour drive from the Sault so the timing was right. We arrived the night before and stayed at the Quality Inn across from the depot.

By 8:30 the next morning we were chuffing past the waterfront and the smoking, sprawling St. Mary's Paper Company. Past a few steel mills, a few junkyards and civilization was behind us. Within minutes, we were pressed to the window, drinking in the snow-filled ravines and the steep cliffs, snow hanging like cotton batting from them.

Alongside the train ran the tracks of animals and snowmobiles. We saw few of either. This was genuine wil-white landscape. Mile markers on either side of the train marked our progress toward Agawa Canyon. A tour hostess spoke over a public address system, pointing out breathtaking views of frozen lakes and colored rocks peeking through the snow.

She said these rock formations came into being more than 21/2 billion years ago and that Agawa Canyon, where we were headed, was formed by a fault 11/2 billion years

In half an hour we were passing over a long trestle that seemed suspended over the tree-filled valley 100 feet below us. Soon, our hostess pointed out a large, open area to our right with ski trails and lifts tracing up the steep slopes.

This was Searchmont Resort which draws skiers from all over the country. The hostess told us her husband takes the Snow Train to Searchmont Village almost every weekend to fish and hunt moose.

Every now and then we passed a small lake dotted with a few cabins, some with smoking chimneys. We wondered what kind of hearty souls would venture into this vast, frozen country without the comfort of tele-phones, electricity and running wa-

At little Achigan Lake and again at Lake Ogidaki the train stopped and unloaded passengers bound for similar little cabins. We stared after them as they plodded off on snow shoes, supplies loaded on their backs. Children sledding outside a blue cabin with huge blue antlers over the door waved to us and we waved back.

"We have those failures occasionally, more often an air-conditioning problem in the summer, but this was an isolated incident. I've been here 15 years and I don't remember it happening before.

Bill McColeman of Seniors Unlimited agrees. "We've sent hundreds of busloads of senior citizens. They love trains. And I've never heard any complaints."

Is it boring?

That depends on the traveler. Ingrid is glad she went once, but she's not sure she'll go again in winter. Bill has gone many times, thinks its a great experience, but prefers fall. Marie Miller found the whole experience a little boring for her tastes.

"It was a boring bus trip up to the Sault," she said. "We stayed overnight there. Once you've gone five miles into the canyon on the train, you've seen all you need to see. You sit for four hours and then they switch engines and pull you back, so you don't even turn your seat around.

"I wasn't cold in the train. It was very picturesque to see the train plowing through the snow and to watch the snowmobilers get off at the five or six stops. One guy went off into the snow with a toboggan and four cases of beer!'

So should you take the train through Agawa Canyon? What kind of a traveler are you? The one-day trip goes halfway through the canyon and comes back. The two-day trip includes an overnight stop in a small lumbering town up the line.

I'd probably like it, at least once. But then I know what pleases me.

Winter blahs Ski them away on state slopes

The new year often marks the beginning of winter blahs, or worse, cabin fever. Before you decide to burrow in and wait for spring, there are many activities and events to enjoy in our own backyard.

Downhill skiers in Michigan can enjoy some of the best skiing in the Midwest at 42 winter resorts with hills ranging from 100 to more than 600 feet. For those who have never skied, don't forget "Learn to Downhill Ski Free Day" on Jan. 18 at participating ski areas.

Skiers aged 55 and over can ski for free and take advantage of special rates at participating resorts, Jan. 28-Feb. 1. Free lift tickets or trail passes will be provided upon proof of age at ticket windows. Restrictions may apply.

Snowboarding, a combination of downhill skiing, surfing and skateboarding can now be enjoyed at more than 30 Michigan ski facilities. Many offer equipment rental and lessons. Facilities with dedicated snowboarding runs include Crystal Mountain, Sugar Loaf, Blackjack and Mt. Brighton.

More than 1,500 kilometers of cross-country ski trails lace Michigan's millions of forested acres. They range, from groomed, wellplotted trails at luxury resorts to trails that pass bed-and-breakfast inns to some of the best wilderness pathways in the Midwest. Many properties offer cross-country skiing instructions.

Snowmobiling is also very popular in Michigan with 4,000 miles of groomed snowmobile trails throughout the state. The eastern Upper Peninsula snowmobile trail system includes such attractions as the 36 wooded Les Cheneaux Islands, Tahquamenon Falls and Drummond Island.

The Keweenaw Trail at the northernmost point in Michigan includes Brockway Mountain Drive, the highest drive between the Rockies and the Alleghenies.

In the Lower Peninsula, the Miss-Kal Trail just north of Cadillac is the hub of a system that can take snowmobilers from Traverse City on Lake Michigan to Alpena on Lake Huron.

The five-mile Straits of Mack nac that separate Michigan's two halves are no barrier because for $1 the Mackinac Bridge Authority will transport a machine and driver from one peninsula to the other.

Snowshoeing has become a popular way to see the beauty of Michigan's 94 state parks and recreation areas that are open during the winter season. Ski resorts that offer snowshoeing include Ski Brulein Iron River and Nubs Nob in Harbor Springs from car nine to a warmer car. "We can find a place for you up front," senior hostess Kathy McFadden said. "They have lots of heat up there behind the steam car.

But fortified with hot chocolate and plenty of gray wool blankets which McFadden and the conductor brought back for us, we hung on, hoping the constant clanking of the pipes meant warmth was on the way

And like children ready for bed, we settled under our blankets, sipped our chocolate and listened to McFadden's stories of her 20 years on the Algoma Central Railroad. There was the farmer who lost his herd of goats on the tracks once ("That was the end of them," McFadden said.) and the man who spit his teeth into the toilet. They backed up the train and recovered them, only slightly soiled.

For respite we went to the dining car where they were serving huge bacon, egg and hotcake breakfasts. A few hours later we had thick submarine sandwiches with steaming bowls of chili.

Around us, people were downing a variety of soups, sandwiches and en-trees that looked every bit as tasty as ours. The train food prices were reasonable, too, especially consider-ing the Candian dollar is worth about 15 percent less than its U.S. counterpart

It was on one of these dining car trips that we discovered the broken pipe in car six. There, the tour hostess and the passengers were cheerfully wielding mops and putting down layers of paper towels. For the kids, though, the aisles were as good as a skating rink. "Mind you don't slip," they all warned us as we passed through.

By the time we reached Agawa Canyon, the turnaround point, there were only 10 of us left in car nine: The Lyons, the Knechts, my husband and I, a couple from Minnesota and, amazingly, another couple we en-countered from our subdivision in West Bloomfield, Mike and Sharon Medwid and two-year-old Sammy, who kept warm inside his mother's sleeping bag. None of the rest of us had thought to bring one.

Inspired by the stalwart souls outside our windows and bound together by a survivor mentality, we fetched more coffee and hot chocolate for each other and listened to more of McFadden's tales

She told about delivering babies on the train and the time the train hit a skunk. "That was really hard on everyone," she said. "Smelly, you know?" The train, which runs in the summer and fall as well, hits a number of moose every year and, once in a while, a black bear. "They just come out on the tracks and there's nothing you can do, you know?" McFadden said.

1-900-WEATHER

Travelers interested in up-to-date information on weather conditions in their destination area can call 1-900-WEATHER. This telephone service from American Express provides hourly-updated reports on current weather conditions and three-day forecasts for more than 600 domestic and international cities.

Seasonal information such as coastal beach and boating reports, ski reports including snow and slope conditions for ski areas, and highway conditions in the contiguous 48 states can also be obtained.

The number is a 24-hour service and can be accessed from touch-tone phones anywhere in the U.S. (Some businesses, hotels and all pay phones currently block 900-number calls.) Callers are charged 75 cents per minute, billed directly to their home phone by local telephone companies.

For free information, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to 1-900-WEATHER, 261 Central Ave., Farmingdale, NY 11735. MOMENT'S NOTICE

The Grand Traverse Convention and Visitors Bureau invites vacationers to take advantage of the many special winter events and activities planned for 1991. Nordic racers skate and glide in such races as the White Pine Stampede Feb. 2 and the internationally-known North American VASA cross-country race rising 500 feet around us. Here and there, long draperies of frozen water hung like crystal waterfalls against the canyon walls.

Then we watched while three outhbound engines, a steam car and several passenger cars coming from Hearst, 180 miles north of us, were ooked up to the back of our train. The engines that had been pulling us now went to Hearst along with a few passenger cars. We were ready to go back the way we had come, pulled by a different engine. "You'll get heat now," McFadden promised. "You're much closer to the steam car.

No such luck. Two or three times the pipes rattled like old bones and coughed out a little warmth but then died once and for all.

We rode back under our blankets, sitting on our feet, drinking cup after cup of hot chocolate, feeling we had somehow penetrated deeper into the awesome, frozen Canadian wilderness than those passengers in the forward cars, sitting in their shirt sleeves, thumbing through "Time."

On the return trip the shadows were longer, the sun not quite so brilliant, but the scenery was still breathtaking. The snow-covered cliffs and deep white valleys passed like Christmas cards.

'Come back again,' McFadden and the conductor said cheerfully. And in another winter, in a warmer car, we might do it.

It was nearly five when we once again saw the steel mills below us and the smoke rising from St. Mary's Paper Company against the graying

"Come back again," McFadden and the conductor said cheerfully. And in another winter, in

POLAR ICE CAP GOLF

Dedicated golfers waiting for warm spring weather can get their clubs out early and participate in the 21st annual Polar Ice Cap Golf tournament 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 19 on the frozen waters of Spring Lake near Grand Haven, Mich.

The course consists of a "Penguin 9" for the hesitant and the "Frostbite 18" for the truly brave. Official winter USGA rules will be in effect for the tournament. Players tee up anywhere on the course and are allowed to use a five, seven and nine iron and a putter. Fluorescent golf balls should be used.

Participants may enter the tour-nament as an individuals or teams. Pre-registration is available by contacting the Chamber of Commerce or Visitors Bureau Office, One South Harbor, Grand Haven, MI 49417, or by calling (616) 842-4910 or (616) 842-4499. Registration is also available on the day of the event at tournament headquarters, Spring Lake Country Club, on Fruitport Road, north of M-104 in Spring Lake. Registration fees: Children 12 and under, $2 per person; Penguin 9, $5 per person or $16 per team of four; Frostbite 18, $7 per person or $24 per team of four. In case of sunny, warm weather, the tournament may be canceled and all participants will be notified.

ST. PAUL WINTER CARNIVAL

Minnesota's capital city turns into a winter wonderland Jan. 23-Feb. 3 when the St. Paul Winter Carnival makes its annual return. A Minnesota tradition for more than 100 years, the carnival is the nation's oldest city festival. Seventy different events take place during the 12-day carnival including parades, balls, mini festivals, ice-carving contests, treasure hunts, sporting tournaments and a more.. While your cooking was supposed to help you win someone's heart, it may also help you destroy it.

Because a diet that's too high in fat may increase the risk of heart disease as well as certain kinds of cancer. Fortunately, you can help reduce your risk simply by eating a low-fat diet containing lots of fruits and vegetables, whole grain foods, lean meats, fish, poultry and low-fat dairy products. For a free booklet on how to reduce the fat in your diet, call 1-800-EAT- LEAN.

News.

IC(P,C

Bad news.

The good news? More and more people, businesses and industries are finding ways to recycle.

It takes more than 6,000 tons of newsprint each year to print The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers plus a number of other publications, so we're doing a number of things to help the solid waste situation:

1. For years we've sold our waste newsprint to a recycling firm.

2.25% of the newsprint we print on is recycled and we're increasing this amount by another 25% this year.

3. Our employees have begun to routinely put officer paper (memos, computer paper, waste copy paper) in recycle bins instead of waste baskets.

Of course, we still deliver thousands of newspapers twice each week. It's our business to bring you news of your local government, schools, sports scene and community events; the news you need to know.

And when you're finished reading your hometown newspaper there are places that will recycle them.

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

We don't cover world news, but we care about the world.

We've listed a few for you on this page because we think recycling is Good News.

Salem, Chiefs 1-2 in gymnastic invite

By Jim Toth staff writer

If Saturday's Troy Athens Gymnastics Invitational is any indication, Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton are seated right where they belong - at the top of the state rankings.

Salem, currently holding down the state's top ranking, and Canton, resting in the No. 2 spot, finished one-two, respectively, in the 14-team tourney. The Rocks finished with 142.25 points while the Chiefs tallied 135.15.

"I really enjoyed the meet," Canton coach John Cunningham said. "It turned out to be a Canton-Salem meet."

Rochester Adams finished third with 131.15, Fraser was fourth with 129.7 and Rochester was fifth with 129.45. North Farmington (129), Birmingham Seaholm (128.35), Freeland (128.2), Troy (127.3) and the host Red Hawks (124.95) rounded out the top 10.

"These girls are young but real steady," beamed Salem coach Kathi Kinsella, who last season guided the Rocks to the Western Lakes Activities Association championship. "Sometimes you see a trick or routine that's so good you get goose bumps, and I saw that a couple times that day."

"IT ALSO makes you wary, too," continued Kinsella. "They were fired up and eager to compete. You don't want them to stop training, but you don't want them to beat up their bodies, too. Kids gets stressed, too, probably more than adults. But I'm pretty pleased. I'm really happy."

Salem's Kim Miller paced her team's attack by placing first in three of the four events, enabling her to capture the all-around title with a 36.75 total. Miller scored a 9.4 to win the floor exercise, a 9.2 to take the balance beam and 9.1 to claim victory on the uneven parallel bars.

Courtney Gonyea added to the Rocks totals by finishing third all-around with 35.10. Her best finish was a 9.25 runner-up showing on floor. Alysia Sofios chipped in with third-place showings on floor (8.95), beam (8.9) and bars (8.9).

"It (the score) says a lot about the amount of concentration they can muster up," Kinsella said. "Some were not as prepared as they wanted to be, and some were prepared but not as confident. This will give them confidence, and I believe they will use it to their advantage and score even higher."

Canton's Johanna Anderson recorded the Chiefs[®] best finish when she scored a 9.35 to place third on vault — .05 behind co-champions Heather Kahn of North Farmington and Dana Kamlenovich of Fraser.

"WE HAD what I call a mediocre meet," Cunningham said. "We were good on vault and mediocre on everything else. For us to come up with a 135 and be that far ahead of the other teams, I was real pleased. Unfortunately, we have a long ways to go to catch Salem."

Cunningham said he expected the Chiefs to begin slowly, largely because of injuries, and the team is where he thought it would be at this early stage. But he added the Canton gymnasts are close to making big strides.

Plymouth Canton boys basketball coach Dave Van Wagoner proved that when you're competing for a league title there are no days off, not even weekends.

The Chiefs held a rare, three-hour practice Sunday to polish up their defense before Tuesday's game with Westland John Glenn.

Evidently, the worked paid off as Canton rolled to a 59-36 win over the ning the floor," Bennett said. "We didn't execute our game plan. We appeared to be timid running to the basket."

THE CHIEFS picked up where they left off in the second half, outscoring the Rockets 14-11 in the third quarter and 21-11 in the final period.

It was a total team effort," Van Wagoner said. "We did a good job of executing and it paid off."

Canton, Rocks win with resilient efforts

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Come-from-behind volleyball victories were in vogue Monday night, and none was more impressive than Plymouth Canton's five-game win over host Livonia Franklin.

After losing the first two games 6-15 and 4-15, the Chiefs rallied to win the next three and the match, 15-6, 15-10, 15-0.

-Plymouth Salem also regrouped from an early setback to defeat visiting Farmington. The Falcons won the first game 15-12, but the Rocks swept the following three, 15-2, 15-10, 15-4.

"After the second game, we basically told them they weren't playing well and not playing as a team," Canton coach Jacqueline Getz said. "All of them know their responsibilities and if each one does her job everything will fall into place."

The Chiefs, 1-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and overall, became more aggressive and reversed the lethargic trend that marked their play in the first two games, becoming the dominant team, according to Getz.

"THEY STARTED digging the ball and getting underneath their passes, which made our sets a lot better," she said. "All of a sudden, we really jelled as a team, which made all the difference in the world.

"I knew the girls could play better, but I didn't expect such a drastic change. They just started playing at their level."

Canton sophomore Stephanie Gray was a key player in determining the outcome. She had half of the team's 42 total attacks and registered 11 kills.

Gray also had two solo blocks and four assisted blocks. She stood out on the service line, too, with a string of nine consecutive points in the decisive fifth game.

Kari Drinkhan was one of the leading servers, and it was effective serving that turned the game around, according to Getz.

"In the third game, we only got through three rotations," she said. "Our serving really came on the last three games. The serves had more on them so they was harder for Franklin to return, and we got more aggressive at the net."

IN ADDITION to Gray, Jori Welchans had five kills out of 12 attacks. Jenny Davis added two kills.

Lorena Sanford and Drinkhan excelled on defense with 12 and eight digs, respectively. Allison Phillips provided good sets to the hitters, Getz said.

"I told the girls they might have made a mistake, because now I know the level they should be playing at," she said. "It's nice to know they don't give up and will fight hard to the end."

Salem is 2-0 to start the season after rallying against the Falcons, who are 0-1 in the WLAA and 3-5 overall.

"In the first game, I thought we were kinda standing around," Salem co-coach Brian Gilles said. "We just seemed to turn it up a little bit.

"The only thing we were concerned about is that we have to come out and start playing harder right away. Other than that, we were really pleased with the way we played."

GILLES WAS impressed by the play of a number of Salem players, especially hitter Amy Krajewski, who led the Rocks with 11 kills.

"She was just crushing the ball," Gilles said. "She really had some nice, nice kills."

Andrea Welling contributed seven kills for Salem and Martha Bol five.

"We hit some stuff at them that nobody was going to dig up," Gilles said, adding Shelby Carey made the finest volleyball play he's seen at Salem in some time.

"Shelby Carey was flying around on defense, and went way off the court to make a save," he said. "She made a nice pass to the setter, and Amy just crushed it to win the third game."

Salem helped its cause with sound defense, including excellent attack reception. Carey was 18-for-18 digging the ball, Jenny Emmett and Julie Thomas 11-for-11 and Welling 8-for-8. Caryn Tatterton had nine digs.

"We're playing great defense, and that's what we thought we could do at the start of the year," Gilles said. "That really seems to be one of our strengths. You get good athletes back there and it starts paying off."

BOL ALSO recorded 10 blocks. Tatterton served six aces, Carey and Welling three apiece. Bol, Sarah Krygier and Tatterton did an outstanding job of getting the ball to the hitters, Gilles said.

Farmington's Debbie Schroeder had good spikes on 26 of her 27 chances and Patti Hansen was 12-of-14. Kim Owczarzak was 73-of-75 setting the ball, and Sue Gibson had good passes on 23 of 26 serve receptions. visiting Rockets.

The Chiefs improved to 5-4 overall and 3-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Glenn fell to 2-5 and 1-2.

"Usually, we only practice for an hour and a half on Sunday," Canton guard Karl Wukie said. "This week we were there for three hours, and all we worked on was our defense."

Van Wagoner said his team had specific defensive goals going into the game.

"We said before the game that we wanted to limit Glenn to 45 points," Van Wagoner said. "Needless to say, I was happy with what we did defenworked hard on the boards tonight." Junior guard Derrick McDonald led all scorers with 14 points and had a game-high eight boards to lead Canton.

"One of our downfalls was in the fact we didn't get rebounds," Glenn coach Patrick Bennett said. "We knew they had a size advantage, but we looked intimidated out there."

The Chiefs set the tone early, jumping to a 20-4 lead midway through the second quarter. Glenn managed to narrow the halftime margin to 24-14 thanks to a 7-2 run late in the second quarter.

'We had all sorts of trouble runuted 10 points for Canton, while Wukie dished off a game-high six assists.

"Wukie played well for us," Van Wagoner said. "He was solid both offensively and defensively."

Senior guard Kraig Sexton tallied nine points for Glenn. Senior guard Donta Collins chipped in eight off the bench, all of which came in the fourth quarter.

"When Donta came into the game, I think he was real upset about what was going on," Bennett said. "He showed us something out there. He definitely moved up on the depth chart."

Gasparovic quits at Ladywood

By Brad Emona staff writer

Livonia Ladywood athletic director Kim Linenger revealed Monday that she is looking for a new basketball coach after the resignation of Toni Gasparovic.

Gasparovic, who served two years as varsity coach for the Blazers, said she stepped down shortly after her team was eliminated in the districts (Nov. 12 by host Northville) "because of hical differences between myself and the athletic director."

"She (Toni) is having a baby (due in March), it was personal reasons on her part," Linenger said. "It was her choice and we appreciated her dedica-tion and work with the kids the last two years."

Gasparovic, who recently accepted a head coaching/teaching position at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, a Class D school, offered a slightly different version than Linenger's for her resignation.

"My departing has nothing to do with personal reasons," Gasparovic said. "It has nothing to do with either the girls or the Ladywood administration.'

IT WAS A rocky two-year stint for Gasparovic, who admitted the team was riddled by dissension. The Blazers posted a 12-8 record in 1989 and finished 5-14 in 1990, failing to get out of the first round in both the Catholic League A-B Division playoffs and Class A districts.

She took over the highly successful Ladywood program from Ken Bechard, who quit in his only season (1988) as coach. Bechard succe eded the school's all-time winningest coach, Ed Kavanaugh, who was 245-42 overall and won a pair of state Class B crowns (1983 and '85) and two runner-up finishes ('80 and '84).

"I played the best players on the team, no matter what grade they were in," said Gasparovic, who was starting three sophomores by the end of the season. "That didn't go over well with the athletic director (Linenger). It (starting three sophomores) became a big problem, but I believed in that even though the parents and athletic director didn't like it. I'll stick to that philosophy until the day I stop coaching."

LINENGER SAID she would like to hire a new coach by next month.

"They definitely have to have high school experience," said Linenger, who also coaches the Ladywood softball team. "It hasn't been publicized (the opening), but we already have four or five respectable people in the area who have been around basketball for years.

'We're looking to bring it (the program) back to where it used to be and it won't be difficult with Ladywood's reputation."

Several names have come up as possible replacements.

Among those mentioned are former Walled Lake Western coach Bill St. John, who quit after the 1989 season, and Kavanaugh, whose daughter is involved in the Ladywood program.

"There have been some alumni and ex-Lady-wood players who've expressed interest," the Ladywood A.D. said. "I heard that name (Kavanaugh) come up, but I have not talked to him myself.

West Bloomfield's successful young coach, Ron-na Greenberg, a former Ladywood All-Stater, is another name that has come up, but it is doubtful she would show interest. The varsity coaching job at Ladywood reportedly pays less than $1,000.

THE LADYWOOD A.D. also revealed Monday that fund-raising efforts are well under way to build a new gymnasium, along with outdoor athletic facilities Linenger said Ladywood principal Sister Mary Alexander " is coordinating the whole project.

"I was waiting for the principal's OK to publicize it (the coaching vacancy)," Linenger said. "Our ultimate goal is to break ground (on the new gym) sometime in March. I didn't publicize it (Gasparovic's resignation) because I've been so busy doing other things. It's been hectic around here.

Meanwhile, Gasparovic, a former player at Oakland University and assistant coach at Birmingham Marian under Mary Lillie-Ciccerone, said "It was time to go to a different school."

"Our Lady of the Lakes is very supportive of the way I run a program," she said. "But at Ladywood I never got some of the support from the parents or the athletic director I thought I should have gotten.'

Mulder paces Salem victory

Mike Mulder scored a career-high 28 points Saturday to lead P outh Salem in its 77-58 basketball victory over host Northville. The game was postponed from Friday night because of inclusion

weath

Mulder, a senior guard, sank six three-point baskets and accomplished his scoring total without playing in the fourth quarter. The Rocks, playing their second game of 1991 after losing a week earlier to state-ranked Ypsilanti, improved to 2-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 7-1 overall.

"It was nice, coming off the loss to Ypsilanti," Salem coach Bob Bro-die said. "We had to wait a long time, sitting on that loss.

"WE'VE STILL got some work to do defensively, but we've got another week to work on it before the (Walled Lake) Central game (Friday). But I can't fault the kids when they play as hard as they did in this game.

Salem jumped in front 18-9 in the first quarter in which Mulder scored 12 points. The Rocks led 39-24 at halftime.

'Early in the game, Mulder shot the heck out of the ball," Brodie said. Northville sat in a zone, and (the outside shooting) opened up the inside. All of a sudden, Jake (Baker) and K.C. (Kirkpatrick) were scoring inside.

"They packed in their zone early, and we took advantage of the opportunities to shoot from outside. With our size, if you're guarding us on the perimeter, that opens up the middle.'

Mulder tallied four triples in the third quarter as Salem outscored the Mustangs 26-20 to build a 65-44 lead entering the finale.

Baker finished with 13 points and nine rebounds but was the only other Salem player to score in double figures since Brodie rotated his players regularly and nine scored.

Cliff Lee added eight points, Chris Tebben and Kirkpatrick six apiece. Opposing guard Bill Kelley also made six triples and scored 23 points for Northville

The Rocks, who were idle Tuesday night, shot 75 percent (9-12) from three-point distance and 59 percent overall.

Spartans take 'ugly' win from RU

By Neal Zipser staff writer

Those who say basketball is an art might have received a strong argument after Livonia Stevenson's 58-48 victory over visiting Redford Union Tuesday.

There was nothing beautiful nor graceful about the Spartans' nonleague victory, but they weren't complaining.

"The uglier the game is, the better chance we have of winning it," said Stevenson assistant coach Tim Newman, whose team shot a dismal 37 percent. "That's all we're looking for. We lost a 6-foot-7 and a 6-8 player from last year's team and have to play scrappier.'

The Spartans (3-4) dominated the boards, 44-30, and ripped down 24 offensive rebounds.

"It always hurts when another team gets two and three shots to score,' RU coach Tip Smathers said. "Absolutely, it was a key to the game.

"IT MAY have been a wider spread if we had made our second and third shots," Newman said.

Because Stevenson was missing its second, third, and sometimes fourth shots, the Panthers (3-5) jumped out to a 9-4 lead. Senior Dan Gibbons came off the Spartan bench to hit consecutive short jumpers to give Stevenson a 10-9 lead. Despite taking 11 fewer shots, RU still led 17-14 at the end of the first quarter. Senior Reeve McNitt scored eight points for the Panthers on four free throws and two driving layups. The guard finished with a team-high 13 points but injured his wrist late in the game after running into the wall. The extent of the injury was uncertain.

an 82-62 Wolverine A League basketball win Tuesday over visiting Southgate Anderson.

Williams, who led the winners with 23 points, tallied 14 first-quarter points, including three shots from three-point range, to give the Zebras a commanding 26-10 halftime lead.

He went on to score nine more points after drawing a box-and-one defense from the Titans.

Greg Hartman added 22 points for Wayne, now 6-3 overall and 5-1 in the league. Rick Barnes added 11 points and 12 rebounds.

Mike Murphy tallied a team-high 18 points for Southgate, which slips to 4-4 overall 1-5 in the Wolverine A.

FRANKLIN 71, W.L. WESTERN 42: A 25-9 scoring outburst in the final quarter Tuesday carried visiting Livonia Franklin to the non-WLAA victory over Walled Lake Western.

Franklin is now 6-2 overall, while Western slips to 4-4.

Junior guard Keith Roberts paced the victors with 18 points, four rebounds, three assists and three steals. He hit seven of nine free throws. As a team, the Patriots shot 72 percent (18 of 25).

Senior guard Dave Roman contributed 14 points and three assists, while junior forward Russ Keberly added nine points and 10 rebounds

Keberly and Joe Jarvis, both juniors, were singled out by coach Rod Hanna for their defensive efforts, combining to limit Western's top scorer Jeff Kubit to 17 points

The Patriots' senior center Steve McCool also chipped in with eight points, seven rebounds and three assists.

"We tightened up our defense in the fourth quarter with more pressure," Hanna said. "Because of the pressure, good things happen. HAMTRAMCK 75, CLARENCEVILLE 52: Livonia Clarenceville was no match Tuesday for the visiting Cosmos in its Metro Conference opener. Senior guard Kendrick Harrington tallied 21 points as the Trojans slipped to 3-4 overall. Senior guard Frank Juncaj added 17. Claud Finley, senior forward, paced Hamtramck (7-2, 2-0) with 19 points. Clarenceville stayed close for a half, trailing 30-26, but Hamtramck wer basketbal us," Smathers said. "We mishandled the ball before we were able to shoot and the players just didn't adjust well to the different defense. It must have been a good 3-2. Stevenson did a good job."

"RU DID a good job running the entire game," Newman said. "But our players did a good job switching tonight."

"At halftime we set up a different look and it was our defense in the second half which was the key," Grodzicki said. "We got them to turn the ball over and capitalized on them."

It took 6:43 for the Panthers to record their first field goal of the second half - a layup by junior Paul Nowak. And that was their only basket of the quarter (1-of-8 field goal shooting and 1-for-4 from the free throw line).

Meanwhile, Grodzicki's hot hand led the Spartans into the final quarter with a 32-25 lead. He scored nine points in the third quarter.

"MATT HAS played better since Christmas," Newman said. "He came directly from playing soccer and was physically drained.'

S'craft men cagers What Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team needed to beat Henry Ford CC Saturday was consistency and control. It got neither.

Henry Ford edges

What the Ocelots did get was a homecourt 80-77 loss.

"We didn't play well at times," admitted SC coach Dave Bogataj. (Henry Ford CC) is a good basketball team. They did a good job and we did some silly things.'

Perhaps the biggest SC goof came in the final seconds. Trailing by a point with less than 10 seconds remaining, Mitch Fyke lost the ball and then fouled Henry Ford's Eric Volbert with :06 left. Volbert hit both foul shots, increasing the Hawks' lead to 80-77.

The Ocelots did get off a final three-point shot, a 22-footer by Kwesi McGill at the buzzer, but it missed.

NOTHING REALLY went right for SC in the second half. The two teams were tied at 47 at the half, meaning the Ocelots scored just 30 second-half points.

"In the second half, we played Henry Ford basketball," said Bogataj. "We didn't run, and we ended up using up the shot clock. They played zone defense for the last 15 minutes and it raised cane with us. We didn't get the right kind of shot.

It showed at the free throw line, too. SC took just four in the second half, making them all; Henry Ford went to the line 15 times in the last 20" minutes, making 12.

Randy Watters and Fyke led SC with 23 points each, but Watters got 21 of his in the first half. McGill had 19 points. The rest of the Ocelots scored just 12 points combined. Barry Quayle had 11 rebounds.

Jeff Darwish and Chris Nazelli (from Livonia Stevenson) topped the Hawks with 16 points apiece. Dwayne Lowry netted 14 and Chad Shilliboards continued in the second quarter, but junior guard Bill Malecki ignited a 6-0 run to give RU a 25-18 lead. Malecki finished with 10 points all coming in the first half.

JUNIOR MATT Grodzicki nailed a jumper as the first half horn sounded to cut the Panthers' lead to 32-29. The guard finished with a game-high 15 points and his jumper was a sign of what was to come in

In the first half, the Spartans shot only 32 percent from the field, compared to 56 percent for RU, but Stevenson was helped by 11 Panther turnovers.

Stevenson changed its defense to a 3-2 zone. Both coaches realized the switch proved to be a major turning point in the second half, in which Stevenson outscored RU, 29-16.

"They changed from their 1-3-1 zone and for some reason it bothered

The fourth quarter was a nightmare for the Panthers as well; they converted only three-of-13 shots. For the game, RU shot 38 percent from the field and 67 percent from the free throw line. Stevenson didn't shoot much better but successfully used a stall offense to quell any Panther comeback attempts.

Gibbons and senior guard Phil Woods each poured in 12 points for the Spartans, while senior Paul Rockwood led the rebounding with day scored 12.

The loss left SC at 9-7 overall, 2-3 in the Eastern Conference. Henry Ford improved to 9-10 overall, 2-3 in the conference.

SC WOMEN: The slide continued for Schoolcraft College's women's team. The Lady Ocelots lost their third-straight Eastern Conference game 63-56 Saturday at Henry Ford CC.

The loss saddled SC with a 1-4 conference record and left it at 8-6 overall.

SC trailed 31-27 at the half and was unable to overtake the Lady Hawks. Julie Sawicki's 17 points paced the Lady Ocelots; Nicole Dapprich contributed 12 points and eight rebounds

Jenny Hopp had 11 points for Henry Ford. Julie Parmenter finished with 10

CC has wrestling invite

The 27th Annual Redford Catholic Central Wrestling Invitational will take place Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a.m., with the finals scheduled for 7 p.m.

Admission for the tournament which includes five ranked teams is $3. No. 1-ranked Temperence Bedford and No. 2 Holt are among 16 teams invited.

Bedford is the defending champion and has won the CC Invitational 11 times. CC has won its own invite eight times and 13 past CC Invitational champions have gone on to win the state team championship.

"Historically, this is always the top one," said Terry Cwik, one of the tourney's organizers. "With the fact we have five of the top 10 teams and the Nos. 1 and 2, the team that wins this tournament most likely has a chance to win the state again. It should be a powerhouse tourney."

Top-10 teams scheduled to compete include No. 4 Warren Lincoln, No. 5 Howell and No. 10 Mount Pleasant. Other entrees include: Birmingham Brother Rice, CC, Davison, Dearborn, East Detroit, Milford Lakeland, Mount Clemens, Harper Woods Notre Dame, Romulus, Wayne Memorial, and Westland John Glenn.

Three wrestlers ranked No. 1 in the state in their respective classes will compete. One of the top wrestlers in the field figures to be John Glenn's Mike Reeves, currently No. 4 ranked in the 152-pound weight class.

CC WON A triangular meet Saturday in convincing style. The Shamrocks beat Holly and Woodhaven by identical 47-27 scores and outlasted Swartz Creek, 60-15.

Winning three times were: Mario Scicluna (112) and Dan Kelly (171). Double winners included: Rusty Fowler (119); Steve Borke (130); Jason Krueger (160); Adam Giantassio (103); Dan Rieple (145); Dan Suhajda (189) and Rob Sylvester (heavyweight). Winning once were Steve Sucher (135), Paul Viola (140), Barry Lingelbach (145), Jim Wahil (152) and Nick Ivezic (160).

Salem places 6 wrestlers in tourney

Six wrestlers from Plymouth Salem did well enough to place Saturday in the Lincoln Park Invitational, but the Rocks didn't do quite as well as hoped Receiving low seeds at a number of weights despite respectable records, Salem wrestlers were forced to meet tough competition early in the tournament and consequently didn't place very high.

While some wrestlers took good records into the meet, opposing wrestlers had slightly better, if not undefeated, records and had an edge on the Rocks for the higher seeds, according to Salem coach Ron Krueger.

The Rocks also are struggling to overcome injuries and other ailments. Salem was minus five wrestlers, including Charlie Apigian (171) and heavyweight Ken Coker. "It's getting a little discouraging," Krueger said. "We're down to the last two weeks of the season, and we can't field a team.

"It seems every time we get one back, we lose two. Injuries definitely have been a factor this year. We'll Scott Martin did the best, winning the consolation title at 112 pounds. Dan Bonnett (119) and Jeff Shumate (135) were fourth, Chad Wilson (125) fifth, Wade Langdon (189) and John Moran (103) sixth.

The Rocks finished seventh in the tournament, which was won by Grosse Ile, the top-ranked team in Class B.

Plymouth Salem, minus a pair of all-state gymnasts, still had enough talent and strong enough scoring base Monday to easily defeat visiting Northville

The Rocks, 2-0 in dual meets with Western Lakes Activities Association opponents, achieved a 133.15 to-tal while Northville registered a 125.8.

The team's top performers, sopho-mores Kim Miller and Courtney Gonyea, and senior captain Sue Farmer missed the meet because of illness.

In their absence, freshman Alysia Sofios carried the day for Salem, winning the all-around title with a 35.40 score. She was first in three events - uneven bars (8.6), balance beam (9.1) and floor exercise (8.8) and fourth in the other, vault (8.9).

"Her beam was beautiful," Salem coach Kathi Kinsella said. "I was glad she finally broke 9, because I think she's truly a 9 gymnast."

SALEM JUNIOR Autumn Bunch was first on vault with a 9.25 score, tying her with Northville's Sara Kolb. Bunch, who didn't compete on bars, also was second on floor (8.45).

Stefanie Angiulo placed third on beam (7.9), fourth on bars (7.95) and fifth on floor (7.85) for Salem, and teammate Sarah Makins was second on bars (8.25) and fourth on beam (7.85). Angiulo was third in the allaround at 31.8.

A pair of fifth-place finishes were achieved by Jenny Wong on vault (8.6) and Aimee Wong on bars (7.9).

"I was impressed with Sarah Makins' performance," Kinsella said. "She's coming off an ankle injury. I wanted her to vault and do floor, so she could have an all-around score, but she wanted to wait for Saturday

CEP teams finish 1-2

We have room for improvement in terms of simple execution," Cunningham said. "We have to get rid of the falls and faults we have in our routines. Once we get them polished up, we can go ahead and start improving on the routines we have. We don't have to change that much."

Kahn added to her co-championship on vault by placing second on beam (9.15) and fourth on bars (8.8). Her efforts gained her a secondplace all-around finish (36.00)

Dana Logan paced the Highlanders total by recording a second-place 8.95 showing on bars and fourth-place 8.75 finish on floor

Rochester's Heather Ciccero scored a 9.3 to place fourth on vault and Athens' Stacey Kamar recorded an 8.8 to finish fourth on beam.

"I'm happy with our team score," Athens coach Kathy Pfau said. "We have a very young team and they put on a good showing. "I'm proud of these girls," Pfau added. "They are working real hard. Some girls did better than usual, so it was fun to see. This should lead us to better things."

(and the Midland Invitational). That would have been a lot of pounding on her feet.

"Stefanie looked good. That was her first chance to do all-around and she got qualifying scores in all four events to go to regional."

All but two of Salem's individual scores qualified for the regional meet later this year. Northville's Mia Dehart was second in the all-around at 33.45. She was second on beam (8.3), third on vault (9.05) and bars (8.1), fourth on floor (8.0). Tracy Surdu placed third on floor (8.15) and Kolb fifth on beam (7.75).

TWO WINS by Johanna Anderson sparked Plymouth Canton to its second dual-meet victory in as many tries Tuesday at Westland John Glenn. The Chiefs scored 133.05 and the Rockets 122.05.

Anderson finished first on the vault (9.35) and floor exercise (8.8). She was also fourth on the uneven parallel bars (7.75) and fifth in the balance beam (7.7).

Still, Anderson was not the best in the all-around competition. That honor went to Glenn's Chris Prough, who finished first in the beam (8.85). second in the floor exercise (8.7), tied for fourth in the vault (8.6) and sixth in the bars (7.5). Prough totalled 33.65, just edging Anderson (33.60).

The only other all-arounder to compete was Canton's Adrienne Brenner, who scored 28.85. Glenn's Tina Morgan was out, and Marissa Maybouer is just returning from foot surgery and competed in the vault (third with 8.7), bars (fifth, 7.6) and beam (second, 8.55).

Anderson competed as an allarounder, because gymnasts must score as such in all dual meets to earn the all-division medal.

'She had the best score in the first dual meet," Canton coach John Cunningham said, "and Kim Ren-nolds has not been able to work allaround so that means she's not going to have an all-around (to compete for division honors)."

(P,C)3D

CANTON CAPTURED the top four places in the bars, with Jenny Tedesco and Rennolds tying for top honors (8.5). Laura Anderson was third (7.9), with Johanna Anderson fourth. Rennolds was also second in the vault (9.10) and Tedesco took fourth in the beam (7.95).

The Chiefs ruled the floor exercise, too, collecting four of the first five spots. Behind Johanna Anderson and Glenn's Prough was Dan-ielle Mirto (8.4), Heather Murphy (7.95) and Brenner (7.6).

"It was a very surprising team score," Cunningham said. "(Glenn coach) Pam (Yockey) was without two all-arounders, so I took most of my top gymnasts out. In most events, we had no more than three, and we still had a good score.

"I ran a bunch of new kids on the vault, and we had seven regional qualifying scores. Only two were in the top six, so that shows the depth we have.

Glenn's best event was the beam, with Prough and Maybouer placing one-two. But Canton got the next three spots, with Dawn Clifford third (8.45), Tedesco fourth and Johanna Anderson fifth.

It was much the same for the Rockets (0-2) in the vault. Finishing behind Canton's Johanna Anderson and Rennolds were Maybouer, with Prough and Kara Shilling tied for fourth (8.6).

Chiefs, Monroe tie

In a rare Saturday dual meet, Plymouth Canton's boys swimming competition with visiting Monroe ended in a rare tie, 93-93.

The Trojans, who trailed for most of the meet, needed first and third places in the 400-yard freestyle to force a tie and got what it needed, warely

Monroe edged the Chiefs for first place, 3:36.7 to 3:37.2, and third lace, 3:46.5 to 3:46.8.

That situation would have been prevented and was unnecessary in ght of a judge's mistake in the previous event, the breaststroke.

Canton swimmer Shawn MacInnis finished third, a half second ahead t the next swimmer from Monroe, but the judge didn't see it and ruled b had finished fourth

THERE WAS no electronic scoring because the Canton equipment is bing repaired. Times were recorded on hand-held watches.

Monroe didn't have its entire team and probably would have won the met if it had, according to Canton coach Hooker Wellman.

'But they didn't, we had a good meet and our times were better," he sai

The Chiefs won two events, the 200 medley relay and the backstroke. Dog Nevi won the latter in 1:01.59 and swam the first leg of the relay. New MacInnis, Mark Ealovega and Josh Blunt combined for a 1:49.4 time

Caton's depth helped in many other events. The Chiefs finished 2-3-4 in the 50 freestyle, individual medley, butterfly and 100 freestyle; 2-3-5 in dring and the 500 freestyle; 2-4-5 in the breaststroke and 2-3 in the 200 feestyle.

Mie Orris and Craig Steshetz were second in two events each, Orris in the 20 freestyle (1:54.2) and 500 freestyle (5:15.2) and Steshetz in the 50 freestle (23.8) and 100 freestyle (54.0).

ORUS AND Steshetz also were on two runner-up relays. They teamed with Live Nevi and Jeff Clark in the 200 freestyle, Doug Nevi and Pat ancaser in the 400 freestyle. Cante's Matt Tertel was second in the IM (2:19.0), Nick Atwell in diving with 203 points, Ealovega in the butterfly (1:00.5) and Ron Trosin

It was a record-breaking Saturday afternoon for Bloomfield Hills Andover at the Spartan Invitational boys swim meet.

The Barons, No. 1 ranked in Class A by the State Swim Coaches Association, set six Livonia Stevenson pool records en route to a first place finish.

Andover scored a team-high 230 points to lead a six-school field. Host Stevenson finished second with 164, while Plymouth Salem was a distant third with 125. (See page 5C for statistical summary.)

"Andover has a fabulous swim team," Stevenson coach Doug Buc-kler said. "But it was a great meet for us, too. A lot of our performances were under state (qualifying) cuts."

The format for scoring was unique.

There were four heats run in each of the 12 events. Each heat was scored separately. Each of the six schools could enter only one swimmer per-heat.

"There will defintely be another meet like this next year," Buckler said. "I think every coach enjoyed the format. It was a lot of fun for the swimmers because we were able to use our best swimmers against one another, and then our fourth best swimmers against their fourth best kid.'

ANDOVER'S Raffi Karapetian, despite swimming in Heat B, the second fastest heat, went 21.9 to win the 50 freestyle, setting a Stevenson pool record in the process. In the 100 freestyle's fast heat (A), he also posted the top time and broke another pool mark with a time of 48.9.

Elk hunt ends successfully

JOHN CHARBARNEAU has hunted most of his life, but the Redford resident experienced a first-time thrill recently when he was selected to participate in Michigan's 1990 fall elk hunt.

"I was born in Wisconson and started hunting when I was 10-yearsold," said Charbarneau. "I'm 60 now and this was the first time I even hunted elk."

On Dec. 28, the day before the hunt ended, Charbarneau bagged a 315-pound cow at 8:45 a.m. on the Canada Creek Ranch near Atlanta.

"It was on a ridge with about 35 other elk," he said. "I'd never hunted them before and didn't know what to expect. It was quite an experience."

BASS BUSTERS WANTED

Bass anglers from throughout southeast Michigan are invited to join the newly formed Romeo B.A.S.S. Busters. The club is affiliated with the

B.A.S.S. Anglers Sportsman Society and the Michigan B.A.S.S. Federation.

The Romeo B.A.S.S. Busters meet the first Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center, 361 Morton Street. Call president Robert Morgan for more information at 752-2932

NATIONAL SURVEY BEGINS

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Department will begin the 1991 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting and Wildlife-associated Recreation thismonth.

Upwards of 130,000 Americans will be asked to participate in the survey, conducted every five years by the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The survey updates information about fish and wildlife associated recreational activities in each of the 50 states.

The national survey is financed by hunters, anglers and boaters through payment of excise taxes on sporting arms, ammunition, fishing equipment and motorboat fuels. The survey data is used by individual state fish and game agencies to estimate demands for wildlife recreation and to spot trends in participation and expenditures.

Last conducted in 1985, the survey revealed approximately 140 million Americans, or 77 percent of the total population 16 years of age or older, enjoyed some form of wildlife-related recreation. This group included 46.4 million anglers, 16.7 million hunters and 134.7 million who participated in other wildlife related recreation such as photography, birdwatching and feeding wildlife.

WADE RE-ELECTED

Ted Wade, of Bloomfield Beach and Boat in West Bloomfield was recently re-elected secretary/treasurer of the Michigan Boating Industries Association (MBIA) for the upcoming 1991 term.

The MBIA serves as the primary voice for the recreational boating community in Michigan as it represents more than 380 marine dealers, marine operators and other marine related businesses.

In "Detroit III," Patricia Groenenboom, who teaches art in Detroit, graphically illustrates a down-and-out resident of the Delray area standing in front of a burned-out church, once a historic architectural treasure. The print, matted but unframed, sells for $33.

"Cat's Meow," by Norma McQueen, is rendered with a whitecolored pencil on a black ground. It won the People's Choice

THE GALLERY handles 14 artists working in a variety of media, including acrylic, watercolor, oil, pen and ink, colored pencil and sculpture. "As far as the type of art we handle, it's more traditional," McQueen said, "some impressionistic, some abstract, but, in general, it's of the realistic

Patricia Groenenboom's series of graphite prints capture the realism of living in Detroit's inner city with their emotionally

"Patricia's pieces seem depressing when only viewing the deteriorating buildings, but when people look up into her clouds, they see an eye with wings, the eye of the angel," McQueen said. "But then again, the eye could also be seen as evil.'

Her watercolor, "Autumn Leaves," won second place and the People's Choice Award last December at the Sheridan Square holiday juried show.

Her watercolor, "Favorite Season," depicts autumn by using a flurry of leaves in ochre, sepia and orange. "I like watercolor, but it's difficult to control." McQueen said.

"Exhibiting at a gallery is a way to make a community aware of our God-given talents," Gosney said: "It is very important for artists to display their work. The Garden City gallery gives us an opportunity to get into the market world.

McQueen concurs. "The gallery gives a lot of artists exposure. Otherwise they'd be hanging in their basements or hidden in closets or whatever.

"Favorite Season" is the title of this watercolor painting by Norma McQueen. The impressionistic work depicts autumn, using a flurry of leaves painted in ochre, sepia and orange.

McQueen said Richard Cromwell's arylics sell "extremely well" at the gallery. Cromwell, of Dearborn Heights, paints landscapes of lighthouses and ships. In his "Henderson Lines Tug," shades of dark flue dominate the piece, making the scene eerie and moody

The Art Gallery has a guardian angel in the human form of Robert Sheridan, owner of Sheridan Square, where the gallery is located.

According to McQueen, when a store vacated the square in 1989, Sheridan alerted the Garden City Fine Arts Association. "Through his generosity, the gallery has been McQueen at 261-0379.

How to hone your art skills; vacation exhibit a winner

ARTSY ENCOUNTERS:

• If you like art but are short on self-confidence, check out VAAL.

Visual Art Association of Livonia winter classes and workshops start Monday, Jan. 28.

VAAL's mission? To promote skill building through studio work and twice-yearly exhibits. All sessions are open to the public, although VAAL members receive reduced tuition and exhibit fees

Classes span the arts spectrum: watercolor, monotypes, oil portraits, drawing and sketching, even independent study.

Workshops include working in the medium of your choice, learning how to use principles of design, mastering color, and watercolor painting.

Amateurs they're not. The faculty boasts local art pros Edee Joppich, Jerrine Habsburg, Marjorie Chellstorp, Lily Dudgeon, Audrey Di-Marco and Lin Baum.

Students are there to learn, not pass the time, says Joppich, a faculty member for 10 years. This term, the nationally honored watercolorist is teaching a watercolor class and a mastering-color workshop.

"They're serious students," Joppich said. "Many of them have been painting for years. And I've seen them improve and advance in a remarkable way."

'Many of them," the Farmington Hills resident said, "are entering juried competition in and out of state. They continue to study. That shows the serious direction of their work.

'For the most part, they're not just taking classes for something to do, but rather they recognize they have a sp 1 g ft and are serious abor' deve Ing IL

Joppich especially likes learning from her students. "They certainly keep me challenged."

Students, who come from throughout Observerland, meet at the Jefferson Center in Livonia. To register, call VAAL's class and workshop coordinator, Marge Masek, 464-6772.

A dedicated, respected community group, VAAL draws financial support from the Livonia Arts Commission, the city of Livonia and the Livonia Cultural League.

• It's a fascinating exhibit on that American icon, the vacation. And it's at the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

From steamer trunks to souvenirs, a 19th-century stagecoach to a 1950s family station wagon, and vintage sports equipment to vintage travel clothes, the $275,000 exhibit explores 150 years of change in how Americans have planned, packed for, traveled to, enjoyed and remembered their vacations

It's funded by AAA-Michigan and the National Endowment for the Humanities

Henry Ford Museum's first traveling exhibit, "Americans On Vacation" is based on a chapter in the 1988 book, "Leisure and Entertainment in America," by staff curator Donna R. Braden.

• A cobblestone building that once was a 19th-century blacksmith shop for reshoeing horses and repairing farm implements still stands at 14 Mile and Middlebelt in Farming-

The building, today used for storage, is part of the Ward Eagle Office Village, former dairy farm of a Farmington Township supervisor and justice of the peace.

The farmhouse also has been preserved by West Bloomfield developers Stan Finsilver and David Friedman, who strove to retain historical vestiges of the site, first settled in 1826 by Samuel Bryan.

'It's fun to do something with historic buildings. You have a property that nobody else has. You have something with a little flavor." Finsilver said.

The Greek Revival farmhouse dates back to 1841. Ward Eagle (1891-1967) was a prominent member of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, organized in 1916.

"He traveled around the state persuading farmers to become members for cooperative marketing and grading of milk," Ruth Roth Moehlman's 1980 history book, "If Walls Could Talk, Heritage Homes of Farmington," tells us.

For tickets to any DSO performance, call 833-3700.

AT MADONNA

"Introduction to Hammer Dulcimer" will be offered. 7-9 p.m. Thursdays, Jan. 24 to April 11, at Madonna College, Livonia. Traditional music, from folk to Baroque to modern, will be featured.

Charlene Berry, a scholar-performer and musician, will teach performance practice, repertory and uses of the hammer dulcimer in concert, church, classroom and social settings. Participants may take class for continuing education credits. The fee is $75. Call Berry, 591-5017.

Advanced oil painting will be offered 10 a.m. to noon Tuesdays, Jan. 15 to March 26, in Room 177. The class will focus on more comniques in oil painting. The fee is $60. Call Sister Angeline, 591-5187.

Monte Nagler, award-winning photographer, will display his work in the Exhibit Gallery, Library Wing. Nagler, a world traveler who once studied with Ansel Adams, says "cameras don't make photographs, people do!"

Though all his images show meticulous care technically and are printed and mounted to archival standards, Nagler believes that technique is second to content, and that it is a photographer's greatest gift to share sights and feelings. His work is found in collections coast to coast, including the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Booklyn Museum

He recently received the Artist-In-Residence award from the Farmington Area Arts Commission and was honored by the state House and Senate for his contributions to fine art photography in the state.

"I REDUCED MY MONTHLY MORTGAGE PAYMENTS BY $437, THANKS TO CHASE."

If you took out a fixed or adjustable rate mortgage several years ago, now may be the right time to refinance with a mortgage from Chase That's because interest rates are currently very favorable. And Chase has a variety of flexible financing options that help you take advantage of these rates.

Switch to a Chase Financing Program now. On a $500,000 fixed rate mortgage, you could reduce your monthly mortgage payments by as much as $437 a month by changing to a Chase mortgage at competitive rates. Since Chase doesn't require a tax or insurance escrow account, you'll also save on upfront costs. And with our low dosing costs you might save even more

You also have the option to refinance your mortgage for more than your present loan balance. This option lets you borrow your closing costs, so you pay no out-of-pocket expenses. The equity you've built up in your home can also be used to fund your child's education, make home improvements, finance a vacation home and

As an example, assume a $00,000 fixed rate loan with a 30 year term at an interest rate of 11.2% and two points (APR 11.510) and a monthly payment of $4,856. Refinancing this fixed rate loan after two years to a fixed rate loan at an interest rate of 10.00% and one point (APR 10.118) with 360 equal monthly payments of $4,499 would result in a $437 reduction in your monthly payment. This interest rate may or may not be in effect at the time your loan is approved. 4235

Classic concern Artistic quest's quality questioned

The last round of this season's Quest for Excellence took place at the Fisher Theatre Jan. 8. Sixteen finalists competed for $5,000 and $2,000 awards in each of three categories: pop, jazz and classical.

This event has become a tradition here in recent years, attracting many impressive and talented artists from Michigan and surrounding areas.

It was sponsored by WJR radio with Mike Whorf as emcee. He has been instrumental in promoting this series in past seasons.

When writing about an event of this nature, I find myself invariably facing some dilemmas. To begin, it doesn't seem appropriate to emphasize flaws of individual performers, especially those who failed to win a prize.

It may be equally inappropriate to publicly criticize the determination of the judges, who have a difficult task, which doesn't lend itself to scientific criteria. In the past, the impressive talent of the participants made it easier accentuate the positive.

THIS TIME, however, I find myself unable to conceal my gross disappointment. While classical music was once the sole category for the finals at Orchestra Hall, it was nearly extinct this time. Not only was classical music diluted among two other categories, but it was done so on unequal terms.

Among the 16 contestants, there were eight in the pop category and only four in the jazz and classical. Moreover, two of the classical selections were hardly distinguishable from the other categories. I wouldn't have guessed their "classical" designation on my own.

It can be argued, of course, that other forms of music are as legitimate as classical or even more so. Admittedly, there is no good reply to such an argument.

I can't even provide scientific proof that the music of Bach is superior to that of Madonna or Michael Jackson or the elusively immortal Elvis Pressley. I am concerned, however, that classical music, to which I am very partial, is an endangered species.

WHILE THERE may be many other indicators of the shrinking appeal of this priceless cultural legacy, few symptoms are statistically as devastating as this "Quest for Excellence" so clearly illus-trated. Most of the music on this occasion was of lesser quality than one can find in a typical neighborhood bar, without even the benefit of a drink

There were two rays of light in terms of talent and good taste. Joseph Patrick, who played the Toccata and Fantasy in E Flat Minor by Raymond Helble on the marimba, gave a most unusual performance. With two sticks in each hand, he created the effect of a four-part fugue on an instrument that, in most instances, is expected to pro-duce single notes.

David Dorsey, baritone, performed the aria " Rivolgetti Lui Lo Squadro" from Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte." Mozart was the only genuinely classical composer on this program.

Patrick and Dorsey won first and second prize, respectively, in the classical category. Other winners were Beth Barley and Matthew Parmenter in the pop category, Ronald Oswanski and Greg Fishman in jazz.

THIS ISN'T a personal condemnation of any individual contestant. All of the participants are doubtless sincere and I truly hope that they succeed in their endeavors.

The promoters of this event, however, should live up to their professional goal of "Quest for Excellence." It is true that non-classical art appeals to a larger segment of the masses and emphasizing this is the easier and, probably, more profitable path.

But if mass appeal is to be the primary consideration, then the name of the series should be changed to Quest for Mediocrity.

What's forecast for automotive colors

PP&G Industries maintains an au-motive technical center in Troy that includes a color studio for staging its advanced color capabilities to motive manufacturers.

It is here I recently talked to Dennis Kotyk, senior designer, and Marilyn White, manager of ad-vanced styling for automotive coatings and resins, as they were prepar-ing to leave for Japan with "Enviro-nomics," a fully coordinated presentation of automotive paints and coatings for the 1994 model year.

Q: Tell us about Environomics. Is there any special significance in the ame?

Kotyk: We created the name from two base words: "environment" and economics," which we feel represent key issues of our times, especially as we move toward 1994 and PP&G is not only moving diligently to meet EPA's more stringent standards that have to be achieved by year 2000, but it is also encouraging its own customers to be more environmentally sensitive. Here at PP&G, we're working very hard to manufacture economically viable products that also live up to our customers' styling expecta-

White: Our show is especially different from all previous presenta-tions because it includes four other major automotive suppliers: Mas-land for carpeting, Chatham for textiles, Seaton for leather and Motor Wheels for the exterior wheels.

By including key design elements that make up an automobile interior, as well as exterior, we're able to more effectively demonstrate a fully coordinated concept within each of the 13 color groupings that contain a total of 300 colors.

That means much less guesswork on the part of automotive designers estimating what a color will look like in the final production model, when colors are presented in such a thorough way. We've been getting accolades from the local industry for our efforts, and expect to be well received in Japan as well as Geneva later this year.

Q: How do you determine what will be acceptable colors in 1994?

Kotyk: We pride ourselves on pooling our many resources from the USA and around the world.

For example, in order to keep up with the high fashion trends, PP&G maintains a permanent staff of five in Europe that feeds us advance information. Regularly, we monitor statistics on our domestic paint products

Both Marilyn and I attend many trade shows and are active members in professional color groups, which help in sharpening our judgment.

White: Yes, all of this, and a lot of firsthand exposure through travel helps contribute to sorting out the trends

We also recognize that we, as Americans, have as much influence on European and Japanese color as they have on our color market. We rely on the fact that by 1994 the consumer will become more comfortable with the colors we are now seeing emerge in the international marketplace.

Q: As I survey an impressive array of colors, could you focus on what you feel will be the most important color, or color family for 1994?

White: Undoubtedly the violet influence on reds and browns stands out. "Tundra," a blue, or violet-cast brown is one such example. It is especially elegant and sophisticated in its tonality. So is "Garnet," a violetcast, deep and rich red.

Further, you can see this blue, or violet influence on the entire red family, which is a very important color to the automotive industry. Violets, both in pale and deeper ver-sions, constitute one of the 13 color families and, as a matter of fact, initiate the sequence of color families that make up the environomic presentation.

Q: What about the neon brights? Where do they fit into the overall automotive color trend picture?

White: They're yet another option for our customers and represent a counterpoint to the otherwise elegant range of rich and lustrous colors. These ultra brights are often used on small cars and for other special applications.

International cellist will perform at Fair Lane

The Fair Lane Music Guild will present Regina Mushabac, a cellist, for the third concert of the 1990-91 ason 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 20.

The Concert Artists Guild Award and acclaimed performances at Carnegie Hall, Carnegie Recital Hall, the Knoxville World's Fair and the Kennedy Center demonstrate Regina

Mushabac's prowess as a cellist.

She has received awards from the Ohio Arts Council and the Young Artist Development Fund and first prizes from the North Carolina Symphony Competition and the Charleston Symphony Competition.

She concertizes actively as a recitalist and as a soloist with orchestras. A solo concert tour in Wales and the International Brazilian Bienal as well as appearances in Geneva, London and the Aspen and Grand Teton music festivals have enhanced her international reputation.

Mushabac is a founding member of the Elysian Trio (14 years) and the Coryton Trio (five years). Her background includes the Harvard Chamber Players, the Klemperer Trio and the Concord Trio. She was professor at the University of Kentucky and a guest artist and visiting professor at the University of Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Beginning music at age 4, Mushabac was trained by some of the most distinguished cellists of this era. She studied for six years with Leonard

Rose at Juilliard and continued with Bernard Greenhouse. She later worked with Janos Starker at Indiana University for four years and became his teaching assistant.

Mushabac is professor of cello and head of the string department at the Baldwin-Wallace College Conservatory of Music.

Sunday's performance will take place in The Pool at the Henry Ford Estate on the campus of the University of Michigan-Dearborn, off Evergreen Road, between Michigan Avenue and Ford Road.

Instill impact in people pictures

Recently I was in Mexico and made some photographs of some of the local people. I realized as I was shooting that a certain thought pattern and method of photographic preparation had gone through my mind that helped me to capture natural, strong images on film. I thought I would share these with you today in my column with hones

I thought I would share these with you today in my column with hopes that you will bring home some impact-filled people pictures on your wext photo venture.

To begin, I'd recommend using 400 speed films in either color or black and white. Higher ASA films will enable you to hand-hold at a safer, faster shutter speed and use a smialler aperture to increase depthof-field.

A medium telephoto lens such as 135mm (or telephoto zoom) will allow you to move in close and fill the frame while keeping at a comfortable, non-intimidating shooting distance.

If taking candids of people, try to attract a minimum amount of attention to yourself.

SELL-OUT PERFORMANCES

Thursday, January 17, 1991 O&E

"Compared to last year, both ticket sales and revenues for our Christmas Festival concerts have skyrocketed," said Tom Gulick, DSOH's marketing vice president.

"86,600 people attended concerts this year between Dec. 6-31, compared to 68,800 last year. This is almost 18,000 more people, representing an increase of 19 percent. Ticket revenues were up from $1.2 million to $1.6 million, an increase of over 33 percent."

Sixteen performances sold out. Nearly 65,000 people attended 15 performances of The Nutcracker at the Fox Theatre.

Entrepreneurs display architectural acumen

By Dale Northup special writer

The roots of commercial architecture can be traced back to the industrial revolution and tall office buildings of the late 19th century. The offices, as vertical symbols of civic and business pride, facilitated transactions of supply and demand. Then came Henry Ford who changed the architectural profile of business and industry with the assembly line, the automobile and consequent spread of commercial enterprise across the countryside in a horizontal fashion. Our mobility enhanced a competitive market and an architecture that was designed to capture the eye of passing motorists.

Architect Robert Venturi, in his book, "Complexity and Contradiction in Architecture," defends the architectural diversity of Main Street and the highway as reflective of a mass-consuming society satiated by visual delectables. Venturi further explains in his book an architecture that has become a visual reflection of our laissez faire ideals.

On some of the commercial corridors in Oakland and Wayne counties are buildings that reflect the needs of aggressive, yet visually sensitive, entrepreneurs who have sought a commercial image that satisfies their individual tastes while, at the same time, serving the concerns of business productivity.

John Milanowski, owner of J&M Reproduction in Troy, planned his building by taking into consideration the interior specifications that would best serve a productive climate for his growing business and 60 employees. Solving these requirements, he presented them to Troy architects Straub Associates who designed and engineered the building.

The 35,000-square-foot structure has an office appearance that belies its mechanical assembly function. Two sides of the building are clad in dark tinted glass, held in place with black metal mullions that together lend visual continuity to the facade. One of the sides has three baylike projections that step out, from the front to the back, culminating at the entrance. The transition between these three areas is softened by concave and convex glass.

THIS SUBTLE exterior wall curvature is amplified in the office area inside with a curved corridor that dramatically wraps itself around the production area. Serving to reinforce pioneer architect Louis Sulivan's statement, "form follows function," the exterior form of J&M Reproduction was determined after the interior function had been created. A halfsize basketball court is another interjor feature that serves to satisfy the off-hours physical activity of Milanowski and his employees. White, fluted concrete block covers the other two sides of the building.

On Helm Street in Plymouth Township is an office/industrial building built by Lee Jasinski for his business, Jasman Construction, Jasinski collaborated with Plymouth architect Joe Philips on the 24,000square-foot building. The architectural prototype was Frank Lloyd Wright's Winslow house of 1893 - a relatively simple block-like dwelling with a shallow hip roof - that helped usher in that 20th century masterpiece known as the Prairie House

But Jasinski also wanted the dramatic horizontal lines of Domino's Pizza headquarters in Ann Arbor Township, which, when completed, will be a Prairie house a half-mile long. Philips designed, on a much afar. Another impressive feature, more modest scale, a two-block compatible with the Prairie House. structure that overlaps on the corners. Offices face the street with a loft space in the rear used for storing construction equipment.

When seen from a distance, the building projects a marked similarity to the Prairie House, which is reinforced by the tall grass of an adjacent wetlands basin. Bands of windows, complemented by stucco belt courses, together emphasize the horizontal flow of the one-story structure under a shallow hip roof that is minus the ridge, not noticeable from motif, is a chimney-like brick mass that serves as a visual transition between the metal roof and storage, area at the back of the building.

At East Lake Drive and 14 Mile Road in Walled Lake is a planned restaurant for a group of local business investors. The 10,000-squarefoot building, which will overlook Walled Lake, is the design of Birmingham architect Victor Saroki & Associates. Responding to a somewhat compressed 112-foot lot line

Accessibility laws toughened

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Ramps on building entrances, elevators instead of escalators, extra wide stalls in public restrooms - handicapper accessibility is as important as ever

At a recent seminar sponsored by the Building Owners and Managers Association in Troy, attorney Jeffrey Supowit, of the Detroit firm Mager, Monahan, Donaldson & Alber, told builders and architects they must be more careful than ever when it comes to handicapper accessibility with the federal Fair Housing Amendments Act that goes into effect March 13.

Under the law, certain multiple-family dwellings first occupied after March 13 will be subject to radically new requirements, he said.

The act requires all ground floor units be handicap accessible in buildings of four or more units. In buildings with elevators, all units must be handicap accessible

There are several common misconceptions about the new laws, he said, including the belief it applies to only subsidized housing, or that it applies only to apartments

"It applies to condominiums, too," he said.

"Accessible," Supowit said, "is not the same as barrier-free, which the building industry is already familiar with.'

THE NEW LAW is much more encompassing, he said. Under it, all public use and common areas must be accessible to handicapped persons

"You have to be careful - that includes clubhouses as well."

Other requirements include doors that allow access by people in wheelchairs, accessible routes into and through dwellings, differently placed switches, electric outlets, thermostats and environmental controls, reinforced bathroom walls that allow later installation of grab bars, and kitchens and bathrooms allowing wheelchair maneuverability.

These are only general requirements, Supowit said. No architect could design a building and be assured he is within the requirements of the act.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development is working on specific guidelines that are expected soon, he said. Preliminary guidelines were released in January 1990 and are currently under review but have not been adopted.

Until they are, the legislation provides that buildings that meet the American National Standards Institute specifications - extremely strict requirements will be deemed as meeting the requirements of the act.

"It provides builders with a safe harbor

There are a few exceptions to the new regulations, he said, most notably, townhouses. "Some have referred to this as the townhouse creation act.

Townhouses are exempt because the unit is not on one floor, he said, although townhouses within elevator buildings are covered and must have an individual elevator within units

HUD ALSO has not determined whether ranches with basements will be covered under the new law, he said.

Buildings on some sites may also be exempt from the site because of site impracticality, Supowit said. "But the developer has the burden of proof when it comes to site impracticality.

As a general rule, buildings that would have a grade of 10 percent between parking areas to the buildings entrance would be exempt. Other site characteristics, such as wetlands or flood plains may also exempt

The Fair Housing Amendment also affects existing buildings, he said. Reasonable modifications to existing structures must be made if such accommodations are necessary to afford handicapped individuals full use of premises.

But modifications would be at the expense of the handicapped person. Building owners can require an escrow account to ensure that modifications are removed when the tenancy is over.

Kim Beasley, director of design disability for the Paralyzed Veterans of America, said the building industry has been active in the promulgation of the Fair Housing Amendment guidelines.

"They rushed to get the Fair Housing Amendment Act through and it shows," Beasley said.

Contrary to what one might suppose, the Paralyzed Veterans of America was not completely in agreement with the act - one large consideration being the costs of the act.

"This is not be a law about housing accessibility, it's not a law about disability - it's a law about providing housing for people with a disability," Beasley said.

The act is necessary, he said. In 1989, there were 400,000 multiple family units built - 89 percent were walk-ups that would be covered under the new act.

WHEN IT COMES to handicap accessibility, the two most abused areas are kitchens and the baths, he said. HUD's proposed guidelines generally require the addition of space to these areas, but that's not always the solution.

A task force consisting of representatives from the National Association of Home Builders, the Paralyzed Veterans of America, the American Institute of Architects and other industry groups commented extensively on the proposed guidelines on ways to provide accessibility without requiring as much size.

For example, the standard apartment bathroom is 37.5 square feet. The task forces proposed bathroom would be 43 square feet. The original guidelines proposed by Housing and Urban Development would require a minimum size of 56 square feet

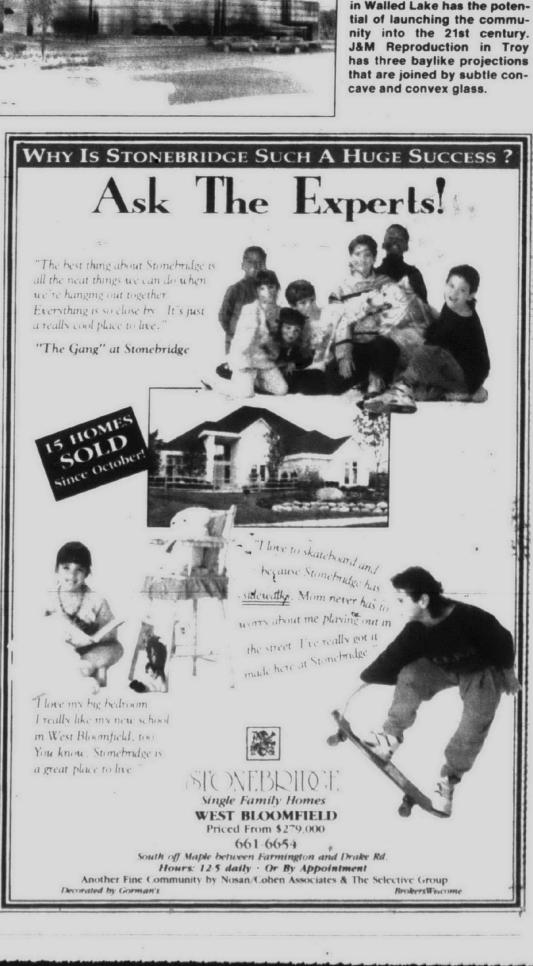

Beasley said since the goal of the Fair Housing Amendment should be to provide housing opportunities, regulators must be careful to make requirements fair. "Builders are in business to make a profit; if they can't make a profit, they won't build."

Beasley said it's too early to guess how much of an impact the task force's recommendations will make on the Housing of Urban Development's guidelines.

'It's basically wait and see."

Christine Milner, a staff person with the Michigan Department of labor bureau of construction codes barrier free design division, said Michigan is rewriting its codes to coincide with the Fair Housing Amendment Act.

"That way, (builders) will only have to worry about one set of regulations," Milner said. "If you follow the (Michigan) construction codes, you won't have to worry about the federal regulation."

THE BUILDING has an aquaticnautical motif. The canopied entrance is circular with a dorsal finlike projection above punctuated by a series of circular porthole openings. The two-story dining area, with a second-level balcony, is surrounded by three walls of glass lending a view of the lake. One of the walls, on the lake side, is faceted and canted up to the roof edge emphasizing the asymmetry of the facade. The configuration of the building might help to serve as a ritual launching and perhaps mark a turnaround for the tainted image of Walled Lake due to poor zoning and unchecked development.

The canopied entrance is circular with a dorsal fin-like projection above punctuated by a series of circular porthole openings.

Within the oftentimes banal architectural landscape of our mass-con-suming society, once based on planned obsolescence, good honest commercial design will last a very long time. As in one of the rules of retailing. "let the buyer beware," so too, "let the seller beware."

Window shopping?

(AP) - Here's a quick lesson in what to ask about when you shop for new windows:

The R-value measures the insulating ability of the window. The higher the R-value, the more it will keep warm air in your home.

U-values measure the overall heat transfer through the window. The lower the U-value, the lower the heat transfer rate.

Low-E glass: When sunlight strikes ordinary glass, most of the short wave energy passes through and is absorbed by the rugs, walls and furniture. This can cause fading of fabrics. Low-E glass is coated with metal oxide and restricts the passage of heat energy in and out of a window.

Air filtration: the lower the AF number, the more efficient the window is at preventing air infiltra-tiop. The National Wood Window and Door Association notes three classes of windows: Class 20, 40 and 60. Class 60 has the lower AF numbers.

SPACE HEATERS can make a chilly room toasty. They can also make you curse if you stub your toe on one percent, and in Nassau-Suffolk, N.Y., 4.6 percent.

YOU CAN SEE the pattern, of course: All are in a relatively small area of the Northeast. True, prices fell in some other areas. New Orleans prices fell 5.5 percent, Los Anles prices 4.7 percent, Dallas prices.4.2 percent.

But throughout most of the coun-try prices continued to rise; they climbed more than 5 percent in 35 metropolitan areas. Some of the increases were enormous: Honolulu, 36.4 percent; Seattle-Tacoma, 24.9 percent; Sacramento, 24.4 percent. Even those Northeast areas where

suffered as badly as portrayed. If you compared prices to the year be-fore, the declines looked big. If you matched 1980 prices with those of 1990, the gains were huge. Presented with such evidence, it might seem reasonable to suggest that when the Northeast is pinched, its squeal is so loud it sounds like an entire nation is writhing in pain. But that doesn't quite explain the mystery

For reasons securities researchers might understand, they have contributed to the myth of a price collapse by viewing the houses in which people live as an investment that must return a profit or be considered a failure.

BUT HOUSES, Seiders points out,

Interest on escrow account

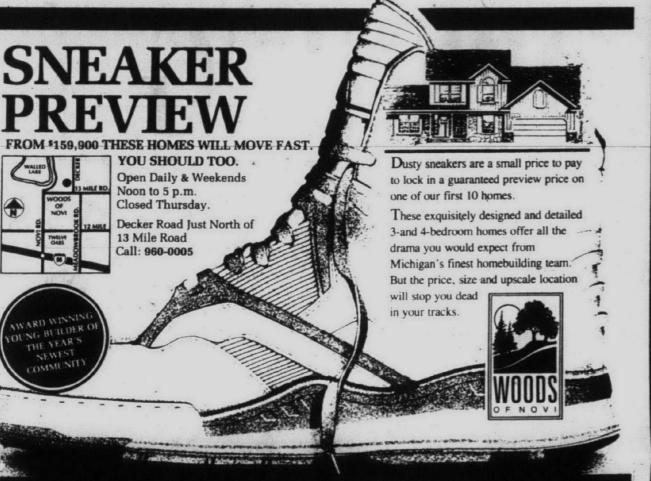

Firstar Corp., the Wisconsin's largest bank company, is paying 5.25 percent interest on escrow accounts for conventional home mortgages taken out since Jan. 1 at its First Wisconsin outlets.

The new policy reflects that interest on escrow accounts has become increasingly important to mortgage customers, said Michael Schmitz, executive vice president at Firstar Corp.

"It isn't a lot of money. But people are interested in it," he said. "The perception of this has been elevatare not paper securities but roots over the heads of families. "They are not like financial assets that get shifted around in portfolios of inves-tors in response to short-term price movements."

The vision of people dumping their homes and shifting to stocks, bonds and commodities is unrealistic, he says. They do not, he suggests, assess their homes on the basis of annual return. They stay put.

Because of this tendency to stay put, he says, local markets seldom fall below the levels that prevailed 'before some unsustainable pressure drove them upward." That unsustainable pressure no longer exists in the Northeast.
