Plymouth commissioners voted 6to join Plymouth Township in forming an airport board that would run the airport. Plymouth Commissioner Jerry Vorva cast the only dissenting vote. He is not a recall tar-

"Our recalling them is to make them realize we can't afford city commissioners who disregard the residents of the city," said Bill McAnnich, Plymouth Concerned Citizens member.

A recall petition was not filed against Commissioner Mary Childs, because she has led a "long and distinguished career in the city of Plymouth," McAnnich said. "She is retiring and we didn't want to blemish her career with a recall at this

THERE WAS confusion earlier this week about whether the group wanted to recall Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen, who said he received a copy of the petition in the mail Saturday. A petition for his recall had been filed with the Wayne County Clerk's office and was signed by Warren Dusbiber, according to a Wayne County Clerk's office employee. However, Dusbiber, a Plymouth Concerned Citizens member, denied filing a recall petition against Breen. "If there was one, it was done without my approval and it is being withdrawn," Dusbiber said. A county employee said if the peti-tion is to be withdrawn it must be done by writing.

Breen said he had been preparing rebuttal. "All that it (recall petition) asserts is that I made a vote." Breen said. "If Mr. Dusbiber did not file it, it sets up a situation to ask the county to investigate who did file it. If someone else filed and put his name on it I think that's criminal."

Mettetal controversy simmers Recall takes time

taff writer

Lawsuits, counter lawsuits, finger pointing and name calling have tak-en the forefront in a question of whether there should be public own-ership of Mettetal Airport.

And the common thread is that most of the parties agree the issue has been blown out of proportion.

It began when a group, mostly omposed of pilots, launched a campaign to save Mettetal. They asked Canton Supervisor Tom Yack to consider buying the airport, using mostly federal and state funds.

Meanwhile, petitions, from both sides, have been circulated with hundreds of signatures, gathered in all three communities. The most recent petition calls for a public vote of the city of Plymouth residents.

THE REASON Plymouth Township began looking at Mettetal, Breen said, is for the "preservation of an airport that has been a part of the Plymouth community for 50 years." Also, a proposed aviation school at Mettetal, Breen said, is a

"Unfortunately this whole thing involving Mettetal has evolved to what it has become," Yack said. 'The series of events was started by Plymouth Township and could end anytime by them simply withdrawing their attempts to make Mettetal airport a public airport.'

That doesn't seem likely. Breen said steps continue to be taken for a public purchase of the airport. Gov. John Engler must approve the joint board and a request is currently sitting on the governor's desk.

Meanwhile, Plymouth commissioner John Vos, III predicts that counter lawsuits, regarding the injunction and petitions, will be filed against the individuals who filed them. And he predicted, before the issue is settled, that more than six attorneys could get involved. Plymouth Township resident and developer, Robert DeMattia, has alluded to a possible lawsuit regarding statements, in the injunction and by Yack, about his connection with the airport. The inference is that DeMattia's developments would suffer from the competition at an industrial park that would be developed at the Joy Road and Lilley Road intersection where Mettetal is located.

"I'm actually thinking about a lawsuit, right now," DeMattia said adding that he has never had an interest in the airport.

He said he wasn't part of the campaign to save the airport, nor has he contributed to such a campaign. De-Mattia said, however, that he did make a statement at a public hearing supporting the airport.

'I was asked to give an opinion as a businessman. It's a drawing card for the community," DeMattia said. "That's why I'm flabergasted for people to say I was engaged in something to get the airport is insanity at its highest level."

DeMattia said the competition to his developments is "unlimited" in southeastern Michigan and all are doing well.

"I personally believe it's great to have an airport here, and I hope we have one," he said. "But it's not the end of the world if we don't or we do. It helps business out, but it won't kill

Local Green Beret recovering from accident on Saudi border

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

Sgt. Greg Proctor, who enlisted in the U.S. Army before graduating in 1979 from Plymouth Canton High School, is recuperating from an injury suffered in a jeep accident along the Kuwaiti-Saudi border with Operation Desert Storm last week.

Proctor, 31, a Sgt. First Class with the Green Berets, crushed three vertebrae after the jeep in which he was riding rolled.

"It went off the road and hit the sand," said his mother, Daisy Proctor of Plymouth Township. "Another man was driving when it rolled over and jammed Greg into the sand.

"He told us he was laying there and thought he'd bought it. He said the only thing he felt bad about is that he wasn't going to see his wife again, and he wasn't going to see his home again. "He has a broken neck, but at first couldn't get anything out of the Army." Proctor said she spoke to her son's Spanish and Arabic, became the youngest Army sergeant in the United States at age 26, his mother said. Proctor's family spent a tense week. "We found out Tuesday morning but couldn't get any information until Friday," said Proctor. "His wife is the one who finally found out. She went to his company headquarters (at Fort Campbell near the couple's home in Clarksville, Tenn.)"

The Proctors have spoken twice by phone with their son. "He's real up. It was like he didn't have a thing wrong. He thinks he'll be back in there in a month.

"He'll be convalescing at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington. He'll probably be wearing a halo for six to eight weeks to stabilize the head. It depends on how fast he

"I've been praying for him to come home - I guess this is the Lord's way of answering our prayers. I'm glad he's in Germany after hearing the news this morning" about the fighting on the Kuwaiti-Saudi border, she said.

Proctor, who celebrated his 31st birthday in the desert, plans to "make a career of life in the military," said his mom. "He's won all kinds of awards and medals through his 13 years being in the Army. It looks like he'll be a master sergeant before the summer."

Proctor says her son will "probably stay in the Green Berets, which is the most elite and most secret group in the Army. He couldn't go into something else and keep us calm."

County census shows decrease

Wayne County is shrinking, according to recently released U.S. Census Bureau figures, and decreases are not limited to Detroit.

County population shrunk by slightly less than 10 percent over the past decade from 2 327 891 in 1980.

past decade, from 2,337,891 in 1980 to 2,111,687 today.

Population in Detroit remained above the 1 million level, at 1,027,974, though the city lost 175,395 people since the 1980 census. Population also shrunk in most western Wayne County cities and townships.

Livonia, Redford and Garden City

all lost roughly 4,000 residents. (See chart for details.) Plymouth lost slightly more than 400 residents; Plymouth Township gained slightly more than 600.

Westland's population remained almost constant, growing by 121 - a mere one-tenth of one percent.

The only major population gainer among western Wayne communities was Canton, where population grew by more than 8,400.

Persian Gulf info day is set

An information day for those whose family members are stationed in the Persian Gulf is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 10, in the Ann Arbor Regent Hotel, on the grounds of Domino's Farms.

Family members can have their questions answered by representatives of numerous government, military and service agencies. Repre-sentatives of each agency will meet with family members from 11 a.m.

Family members can get tips on dealing with topics ranging from anxiety to government red tape. The event features a trade show format.

Groups scheduled to participate include the Michigan State Bar, Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, American Red Cross, Internal Revenue Service, Michigan Treasury Department and USO. Psychologists, family counselors and child counselors will also be on hand, as will representatives from Selfridge Air Force Base.

The event is sponsored by SOS (Support Our Soliders, Washtenaw County), the Ann Arbor Regent and U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth. Additional information is available by calling 769-9800.

Town meeting on war is set

Plymouth-Canton Schools enrollment, 14,931, is down by slightly more than 2,000 students since 1980.

"We're seeing housing growth but some of the homes being built are for people with upper level in-comes," said schools spokesman Richard Egli. "My feeling is that these are people either with grown children or no children."

Growth fanned out into other suburban areas, however, with Oakland and Macomb county communities posting the biggest gains.

"The suburbanization of people and jobs is continuing," said William Frey, research scientist with the Population Studies Center at the University of Michigan.
"A lot of the residential and employment base is moving to the suburbs, particularly west of Detroit," Frey said. "There are increasing disparities between growing areas and declining areas."

"The metro unit, not the central city, is becoming the economic unit," Frey said. "The kinds of jobs being created - high-tech, service, officetype jobs - can be located in the burbs just as well as downtown."

Macomb County grew 4.4 percent, led by Shelby Township's 25 percent jump. In a sign of creeping growth to the northwest, Livingston County shot up 15.3 percent. Washtenaw County, anchored by Ann Arbor, rose 6.9 percent.

S'craft disposal costs could rise

It's going to cost Schoolcraft College more to take out the trash.

The college waste hauler, Aaro Disposal, has asked college officials to increase payments under its 1990-1991 contract due to greater-than-expected disposal costs.

Aaro had been using the Water-ford Hills Sanitary Landfill in Oakland County. However, that landfill was closed after the Michigan Department of Natural Resources discovered it was contaminating nearby groundwater.

A new landfill cell at the site has not been allowed to open due to the ongoing controversy.

The company told college officials it was now paying more to dump in other landfills.

Aaro was the low bidder of three companies submitting bids on the 1990-91 contract. The company was to have received $13,281 for hauling Schoolcraft's trash. Waste Management of Michigan, $16,471 and Browning Ferris Industries, Inc., $17,163, were the other companies submitting bids.

College vice president for business services Adelard Raby said Schoolcraft would open negotia-tions with the other bidders if it couldn't come to an agreement with Aaro.

landfill space decreases.

The current contract represents an increase of almost 100 percent over what the college paid for trash disposal as recently as two years ago.

At the same time, the college has yet to implement a classroom paper recycling plan.

'We've looked at it, but found there was no practical way to do it because we're so spread out," Raby

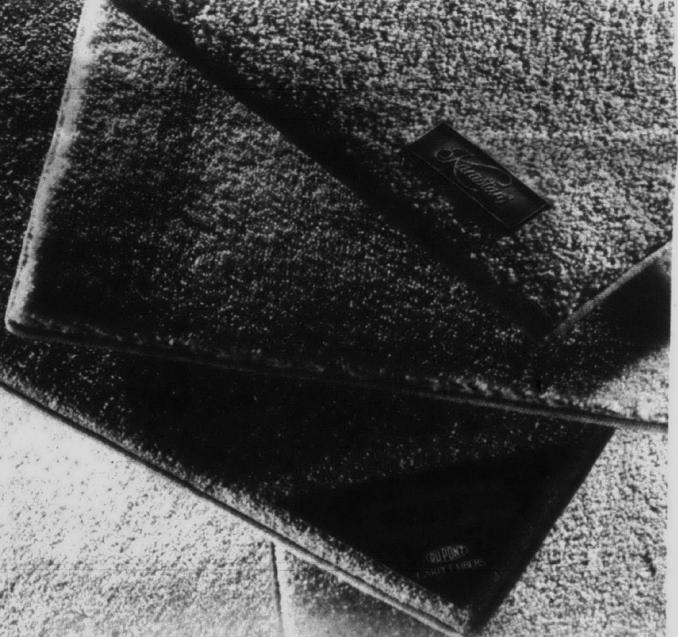

Schoolcraft includes the main campus, in Livonia, Schoolcraft College-Radcliff, in Garden City, and a series of small buildings along Haggerty Road, north of Six Mile. Operations in those buildings will eventually be consolidated into a new student services building.

The building, when built, will include a loading dock for materials to be recycled, Raby said.

But one college trustee said the college could at least consider beginning now.

'In Northville, it's done," said Trustee Michael Burley, a North-ville Schools employee. "The students take care of it.

It was the panel's first meeting of the new session. Absent was fresh-man Rep. Barbara Dobb, R-West Bloomfield, whose lakes district has been the scene of some of the state's loudest property tax protests.

REP. JAMES Kosteva, D-Canton, tossed the administration's argument back in his lap, saying the plan contained several special favors. "Why the assistance to seniors?"

Kosteva kept firing at Roberts' contention that Engler's plan was limited to an across-the-board property tax cut. "It's inherently a school finance proposal," said Kosteva. Mettetal

Drop the suit; stop the recall

Airport issue has sparked one of the biggest political battles in the Plymouth-Canton area in recent times. We're afraid both Canton and Plymouth will come out the losers. There has been and probably always will be some sniping along the border between Plymouth and Canton. Neighbors aren't always going to agree. But this is no ordinary

ELL, IT HAPPENED. The Mettetal

CANTON TOWNSHIP has joined a lawsuit aimed at stopping Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth from buying the airport. Most of the money for the purchase would come from federal and state grants.

And on top of the suit, a recall campaign has been mounted against several city of Plymouth commissioners.

We suspect that by the time the smoke from the legal guns clears, more will have been spent on those battles than it would have cost Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth to buy

We also suspect that the bad feelings coming out of the looming legal battle will take years to heal. And as with any battle, the price of victory is usually more costly than the object of the bat-

So far we have been lukewarm about the proposed purchase of Mettetal Airport. To us it would be a nice addition to the menu of activities available in the Canton and Plymouth communifies. However, it's not a mater of financial life and death for the area.

We'll continue to be lukewarm to the proposed purchase. But at the same time we're opposed to the recall drive in the city of Plymouth. We think recalls should be reserved for extreme cases. This isn't one of them. Politicians are elected by the public to make decisions. They often take heat for those decisions. And that's what our system of government is all about.

However, that all seems to go out of the window when there's an issue like Mettetal. A small cadre of Plymouth residents thinks they have been alienated from the political process.

WE HOPE THEY don't obtain enough signatures. A recall clouds a governmental unit. If it were for a worthwhile reason, we could go along with it. But when it involves Mettetal Airport, we

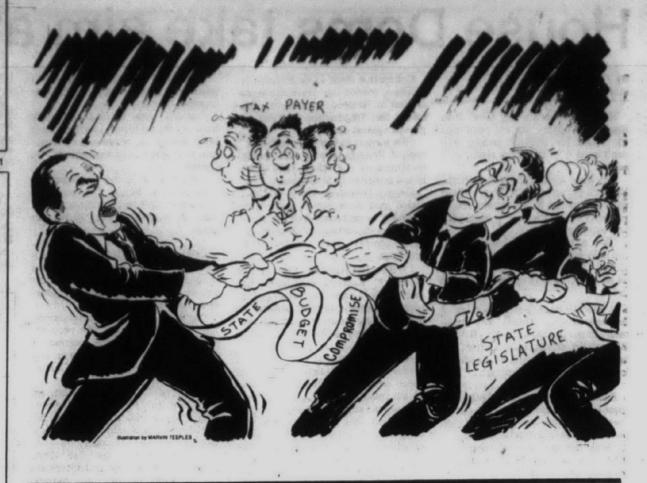

And as for Canton Township joining the lawsuit, we think it's a bad move. Now should be the time for Canton and Plymouth to be making peace, not getting into a border war.

The lawsuits and recall will also hurt the Plymouth community. They are coming just as the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township are looking to consolidate some police and fire ser-

We support such talks, and wish they would move forward. However, we suspect that they, along with other projects, will be placed on the back burner while the city and township take the initial hit from the recall and lawsuit.

It's too bad. Sharing services can save city and township residents money in the long run. And that's much more important than the Mettetal

Canton should back off from the suit and let the citizens' group go it alone. This is not a border war. It's a spat over a small airport. And as for the recall group, we hope they stay home. Mettetal just isn't worth it. It's not the issue they

'The public is made up

THE MICHIGAN Constitution requires a balanced budget: "The governor, with the approval of the appropriating committees of the House and Senate, shall reduce expenditures . . . whenever it appears that actual revenues . . . will fall below the revenue estimates."

This requirement is producing the first fight between the newly elected Republican governor, John Engler, and battered but still spirited Democrats in the House

Nearly everybody agrees the state faces a $1.1 billion deficit this fiscal year in a $7.4 billion general fund. But agreement on the cure will be tough to reach.

ENGLER WANTS to cut $537 million by eliminating general assistance welfare payments for roughly 100,000 able-bodied folks, dropping most state funding for the arts (including the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, both of which face closure) and cutting job training programs. Suburban programs facing the ax include a prison in Northville Townsed state police and a set of "outstate equity" Christmas tree items that in the past have concentrated on southeastern Michigan. The Engler plan would lay off 3,300 state employees and borrow $103 million from the $400 million budget stabilization fund.

The rhetoric is tough. "The public is made up of a lot of taxpayers," said budget director Patricia Woodworth. "The governor has laid before the Legislature a plan for chaos," says Democratic House Speaker Lewis N. Dodak.

Democrats have their own plan which would draw $300 million from

Dodak. the rainy day fund, make $330 million in budget cuts, and find $340 million from something called "short term strategies," which include sale of state assets (the Accident Fund), early retirement incentives and so forth.

that at least $500 million of the deficit is "structural" - that is, it reflects "trends and policy decisions made over a number of years that cause the statutory revenue structure to fall increasingly out of line with program spending requirements." In other words, we have been living beyond our means.

This fact has been disguised by a conspiracy between the governor and the Legislature: Take credit now for passing programs, to be paid for later by a series of supplemental appropriations.

One consequence: Money is spent higgledy-piggledy without concentrating enough resources in any one area to get the job done. State universities, which have been structure ally under-funded by $80 million a year for a decade, make up the gap by raising tuitions through the roof.

Former Gov. James Blanchard and his folks knew about the structural deficit. To their shame, they didn't straighten it out when they had the chance. Now Engler is doing something and getting credit for his tough-mindedness.

THE SECOND reality is that Engler wants to make fundamental changes in how state government spends money. But he is also committed to a 20 percent property tax cut that eventually will cost the

The rhetorical question: Is it right for Engler to pay for a big tax cut for rich property owners by slashing away the safety net that has kept many of the poor off the streets?

We deserve a discussion. Democrats owe their state a clear er and more focused critique of the Engler spending plan. And Engler owes us an explanation of what he truly intends - and why - in the next few years.

Phil Power is chairman of the company that owns this newspaper. His column will appear periodically

Budget time

Both sides must compromise

EFLECTIONS on Gov. John Engler's radically different view of state government as shown in his budget: • The House Appropriations Committee has rejected his $265 million in cuts and executive order changes. Michigan government runs like labor-management relations in the auto industry — much negotiating, much tedious give-and-take. Let it be brief.

• As the first genuinely conservative governor since World War II, Republican Engler has won three major concessions from Democrats in the House, his major source of opposition. First, he has insisted that education take almost no cuts; Democrats buy that. Second, he wants no tax increase; all but a handful of Democrats concede that point. Third, Democrats are openly talking about such "short-term strategies" as "sale of assets" - meaning the Accident Fund, an agency that they had argued for years belonged to the state, and the state liquor business. Engler should plan to give, too.

 The budget problem is not a matter of principle, like abortion or police searches. Engler wants to correct the $1 billion problem by dipping into the "rainy day" fund, 10 percent; spending cuts, 80 percent; and short-term strategies, 10 percent. House Speaker Lewis Dodak asks a one-third, one-third, one-third solution. Numbers are negotiable; no need for an impasse.

• There is $420 million in the "rainy day" fund, nickname for the budget stabilization fund. It is to be used during adversity. Engler wants to tap barely $100 million of it. Most economists, particularly at the University of Michigan, say the recession will be short and mild.

Democrats want to use $333 million of it. There is room for Engler to compromise.

 Despite this newspaper's strong coverage of fine arts, the case against Engler's slashing of state arts funding isn't clear. Arts patrons portray Engler as a Beal City bumpkin. Those of us living south of M-59 and east of US-23 have no idea how furious outstate Michigan is at the way southeastern Michigan - alias "Detroit" - gobbles up the lion's, tiger's and elephant's share of the nearly $50 million in "equity" grants.

There are two ways to compromise: Either give outstate (particularly Grand Rapids) more, or give "Detroit" less. Engler seized the second

Let's look harder at the biggest single state grant - for the Detroit Institute of Arts, $16 million-plus. That isn't really "arts" money. It goes to operate a department of Detroit city government, under Detroit political control. For more than a decade, Detroit's priorities have been elsewhere than a 1929 marble building dominated by EuroAmerican art; that's Detroit's right. We have a dilemma. We need to rethink which level of government should fund - and operate the DIA. Maybe it should be a tri-county

 Suburban groups — in fine arts, symphonic music and historical museum - may be in trouble as far as state money is concerned.

 State policy in the 1980s was to "de-institutionalize" mental patients. The result was to shove the responsibility onto community programs, and many fell through the cracks and became homeless.

· Candidate Engler last fall gave us the impression he didn't like programs of property tax concessions for business. It's clear big companies play one small town against another to get tax breaks. The net increase in jobs is nil. Engler is fond of saying that "the state shouldn't be in the business of picking winners and losers." State government needs to think about halting those programs.

 Engler accused his predecessor, James Blanchard, of using Commerce Department ad programs for political propaganda. Rather than de-politicizing them, however, Engler wants to rip them out. We suggest there is merit to state government promoting our industrial climate. The community growth alliances, in particular, had the effect of getting groups of governments and utilities to pull together.

 Much is said in Lansing about spending too much. It would be just as bad, however, to be too

Think again about arts cuts

LISTEN UP, JOHN.

Now may be the time to cut government spending, but not to sell out the arts. In your bid to do away with spending you don't feel contributes directly to bringing business to Michigan, you have ignored the growing draw of cultural activities.

In "Megatrends 2000: 10 New Directions for the 1990 s" authors John Naisbitt and Patricia Aburdene predict: "Sometime in the millennial 1990s, the arts will replace sports as society's dominant leisure activity." They cite these statistics:

• Since 1965 American museum attendance has increased from 200 million to 500 million annually.

 Membership in the leading chamber music association grew from 20 ensembles in 1979 to 578 in

• Since 1970, U.S. opera audience has nearly tripled.

Those trends are backed up in Oakland and western Wayne counties. Suburban communities covered by our newspapers have active symphony orchestras, cultural and arts councils, community theater and of the arts. On Jan. 13 nearly 1,000 youngsters watched a Michigan Opera Theater performance of the opera "Little Red Riding Hood" at Temple Beth El in Bloomfield Township.

On Jan. 18 more than 280 people were in the audience for the Michigan Opera Theater's current "road show." sponsored by the Livonia Arts Friday's Livonia Symphony Orchestra's "Music Internationale" concert drew more than 200 people.

All events, in order to keep ticket prices low enough to attract a broad audience, are dependent to some extent on public or private grants.

YOU, JOHN, apparently want to stem that trend. As part of your push toward less government, you have frozen current arts funding and proposed stripping the ability of the Michigan Council for the Arts to endow programs.

As a result, the Southfield Symphony Orchestra might not play out its season because it hasn't received the $9,900 arts council grant it was

And your freeze leaves Hedy Blatt, Troy Schools arts coordinator, wondering where she'll get $8,400 to cover costs of a dance troupe that visited the district last fall.

It may be possible for individuals and corporations to take up some of the slack of future state government arts funding cuts. But to stop funds already promised and to reduce the arts council to an advocacy group go too far.

Vos called arrogant

To the editor: Mr. Vos' remarks at the end of his ute filibuster during the Mettetal airport hearing at the Plymouth City Commission meeting on Jan. 21 were entirely uncalled

I am referring to his smug statement that those who object to the noise of Mettetal should not have moved here in the first place or should consider moving to another

Those remarks occurred about 15 minutes after he spent about 10 minutes saying he respected everybody's opinion along with apologies for "misconceptions" he uttered at the previous hearing. Such arrogance is nbecoming of a city commissioner. Mr. Vos would do well to talk less, refrain from cheap shots and realize that most Plymouthites are not Rotarians or members of the downtown club in any capacity.

Six members of the Plymouth City Commission voted on Jan. 21 to join with Plymouth Township in the acquisition, operation and maintenance of Mettetal Airport without knowing or divulging to its citizens:

1. The source of public funds to provide 5 percent of the purchase

Mettetal a land grab

I can't believe my eyes! Your arti-cle in the Dec. 17 issue indicates that the commissioners and trustees of Plymouth and Plymouth Township are attempting nothing less than a land grab by forming a Mettetal Airport Authority, the intent being to purchase Mettetal by using state and indexed metals. ederal grants.

Read that as "tax dollars" folks. If Mettetal can't operate profitably as a private airport, what makes your elected officials think it can make a profit as a government entity? A possible aviation school sponsored by Schoolcraft College?

To the best of my knowledge Schoolcraft has indicated only that they might be willing to explore that possibility. The word "might" is very flimsy justification for the expenditure of tax dollars already spread thin on other special interests. If Schoolcraft wanted to set up an aviation school, couldn't they set one upif Mettetal were in private hands?

Another question comes to mind. If our two communities to the north form an authority, does that also give them the right to raise taxes whenever Mettetal slips into the red ink column?

Better ask those folks whom you elected. Canton Township officials have already explored all of the various questions on this emotional issue. Why is it that the representatives of the two Plymouths are reluctant to look at the large body of evidence that has been gathered and already scrutinized?

There are far too many questions that have either not been asked, or asked questions that have not been adequately answered.

To the editor: What a sad day it is for the wonderful city of Plymouth and its resi-dents when a powerful airport lobby-ing effort which includes people from as far away as Bloomfield Township can influence our commis-sion to disregard the feelings of the majority of the residents our fair

What puzzles me is when so many intelligent, articulate constituents took the time to come before the commission and express their se-rious concerns and reservations about joining with the township in the Joint Operating Agreement; how could they be so totally disregarded (except for Commissioner Vorva) when the vote came?

It was as if their thoughts on the matter were inconsequential and not to be taken seriously; while the proairport faction was given total con-sideration. "Let's get on with this and let the tax-paying citizen be damned, because we know what's best for all!" seemed to be the motto

Yes, Commissioner Vos went to great lengths to say the commission was listening, but (except for Commissioner Vorva) their actions betrayed their words.

A reporter who observed the meeting later told me that in all of his years reporting he had never seen a board or commission so arrogantly disregard the wishes of its constituency.

People who attended are so totally enraged at the result of the vote that it has fired in them a new resolve and a determination to take an active interest in their local governing bodies as they never have before.

Vos responds to airport critics

special writer

An open letter to Mrs. Smith &

It is with some consternation that I respond to recent letters which have appeared in the press. To let the unsubstantiated accusations go by without response would tend to give them credence which is not due. Some of the comments I have read are salacious and unfounded.

BOTH OF THE recent articles carried the caption, alternatively, that elected officials either did not listen to you or ignored the feelings and requests of your group in arriv-ing at a decision regarding the pres-ervation or destruction of Mettetal Airport.

I assure you that, speaking on behalf of myself as well as my fellow commissioners, you have not been ignored and we do indeed listen to the arguments of your group in favor of putting the wrecking ball to Mettetal Airport. You must realize we listen to those on the other side of the issue who want to save and preserve this unique, special community airport as it is.

Rather than ignore you, both of your articles failed to reveal which I reminded you later - that you and I had a lengthy telephone conversation prior to even the first commission meeting when the Mettetal Airport issue was discussed. You and I have also spoken since. Other than sending letters and speaking at the meetings, Sandra Kosky has never spoken to me. Bill McAninch has never spoken to me. Except for meeting me briefly at a Kiwanis Club meeting last week, Warren Dusbiber has never spoken to me. Dwight Eckler spoke to me when I called him in an attempt to understand his concerns but told me, quite frankly, that he was in a hurry but he promised to drop off some materials (petitions) at my office to review. He never did so. Another member of your "fine group," one William Baumgartner I did speak to briefly after the city commission meeting when he was pushing and shoving me in front of several others and had to be sestrained. No, I have not filed assault charges.

I AM SORRY that when you voted for me in the last election you expected me to always vote the way you wanted me to. I wasn't elected to do that. I must listen to all of the arguments on both sides, listen to the recommendations of others, and then weigh what I feel is best for the community before voting. I wouldn't want you to vote for me if you thought you had my vote on every issue you became involved in. If this were the case, I would be neglecting my oath of office. But thanks for the vote anyway.

You also maligned our fine mayor somewhat prematurely by accusing him of violating the Open Meetings Act because of the fact that he had to place some time constraints on those that spoke. This was the prerogative of Mayor Bila and at the second meeting he even let those who had spoken before (including you), speak again. The only reason he limited discussion on the Mettetal issue during the "in-between" meeting was because it had been set up for January 21 and we had set aside almost the entire meeting for that one subject matter. You failed to clarify this in

THOSE THAT WERE being disruptive, interrupting, and in other ways being rude to their fellow members of the audience, I am sure were not pleased with my comments when I asked them to please give everyone an opportunity to speak without making snide remarks, loud comments, and in other ways being disruptive.

I was speaking against those both in favor of the airport as well as those against the airport who want. in favor of the airport as well as those against the airport who wanted to interrupt. Some didn't like being lectured to, but I felt that it had to be said. These are commission meetings and not open forums and town meetings. You criticized me for not saying the same thing at the town meeting which was held at the Cultural Center when you accuse the pro airport people of smarting off. smarting off.

YOU ALSO QUOTED me as saying that I would "do anything for a vote." This is totally untrue. Neither newspaper reporters who were in attendance, the city clerk who took notes and recorded the meeting can confirm that I said anything of the kind.

The city of Plymouth has enjoyed a very good reputation and image which has taken many years to build. Now, a few vocal individuals, either knowingly or unknowingly, are doing everything in their power to damage and ruin that fine image.

Frankly, Canton Township has' had a reputation of being embroiled in political battles over the years, and it sure hasn't helped their image. Now you and your group are doing a disservice to our fellow citizens by filing recall petitions against the city commissioners merely because of the way they voted on a single issue as well as starting a lawsuit, not only against the City Commissioners, but also against your fine city which seeks an award against us and the city and the township. Now it will cost city taxpayers, including yourself, local tax dollars to hire counsel to defend the lawsuit you are bringing against your city.

Schools of choice: Alike as apples, oranges?

By Wayne Pea staff writer

Choice implies diversity and, when it comes to schools of choice, diversity is rampant.

Ask any proponent — or opponent — to define what schools of choice means, and you're likely to come up with many, varied responses.

For some, choice means magnet schools for the gifted and talented on the order of Detroit's Cass Tech or New York's famous High School for the Performing Arts.

For others, choice means special programs for students who are barely scraping by.

Some see schools of choice as a way to bring urban and suburban students together, or, at the very least, help equalize education among rich and poor school public districts.

Others, however, fear choice will prompt segregation, not only by race but by economic background. Some also see choice as just another attempt for a voucher system, giving tax credits to parents who send their children to private schools.

If there's one thing supporters and detractors agree upon, however, it is that choice means nothing without

"THE QUESTION is what do you want to do?," said Mike Boulus of the I tiddle Cities Education Association. "If you're simply moving kids around, that's not choice."

Many local school districts have already been implementing innovative programs that would fit under the schools of choice banner.

Bloomfield Hills has recently implemented a model high school class-room, giving students freedom to help create their own study plan. Plymouth-Canton Schools is exdents greater input into education, Shelton said. Demand alone would determine which school programs were successful and which weren't.

At the same time, Shelton notes not without irony - that schools of choice is more enthusiastically promoted by parents, government offi-cials and business leaders than by educators themselves.

"The system is very defensive," he

A spokesman for the state's largest teachers union, however, said teachers aren't opposed to the concept, but they are cautious.

"At this point, we don't support cross-district programs (sending students from one public school district to special programs in another)," said Allan Short, director of governmental affairs for the Michigan Education Association. "We think it should be implemented within districts first.'

Equality, Short said, should be the watchword.

"ONE OF the things you have to have is fair treatment of all the parents." he said.

Who participates in schools of choice programs - and who doesn't is a major concern for even the staunchest supporters of the concept.

"Certainly, you can't have segre-gation," said Boulus, whose group in-cludes the Plymouth-Canton and Southfield districts, as well as near two dozen other suburban, urban and rural districts throughout the state.

how schools of choice would be ulti-mately implemented in Michigan. Programs in other states, however, offer some clues.

Minnesota's open enrollment plan, allowing students to attend any public school in the state, has already been widely discussed among Michigan government officials and educa-

The Minneseta plan allows school choice based upon available space, both within the district and school building. The plan prevents students from being accepted or rejected on the basis of behavior and grades but allows district to set individual

State aid of up to $3,600 transfers with each student.

At that, it's uncertain, whether theplan will prove effective. Less than one tenth of 1 percent of all students eligible to change schools actually did in 1987-88, the program's first year of operation.

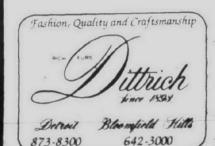

"One positive thing that has come out of the Minnesota plan is that school districts have become more attuned to the needs of their students and parents," Beardmore said. "But it's not all about quality education."

In Michigan, Beardmore said, state board of education members decide up to 100 property transfer cases a year — allowing children from one school district to attend school in a bordering district.

'Not once, in all those cases have I heard anything about academics,' she said. "It's about societal things - where mom or dad works, where the baby sitter lives and, in some cases, one school district having a pool while another one doesn't."

Other states, however, have implemented programs widely different from Minnesota's open enrollment model, according to information compiled by the Denver-based Education Committee of the States and by the New Jersey Department of Education.

State and regional schools for gifted have been established in several southern states, including North Carolina and Virginia. Boulas, at least, thinks something similar could happen here.

Students offer their views on war

staff writer

For students at East Middle School in Plymouth, the Vietnam War's something they've read about in books. The students haven't had to deal with the day-to-day realities of war - until now

"I think it's what we had to do," said Caroline Curtiss, 13, a Plymouth resident. "The situation needed to be taken control of by somebody. I don't think people should be allowed to walk all over other people like Saddam Hussein has."

Curtiss and five of her classmates at East recently gathered in the school library to offer their reactions to the outbreak of war. All are eighth graders in the Talented and Gifted (TAG) program, and none have family members in the Middle

"I think it's kind of tragic that all of this is happening," said Sara Sabo, 13, of Plymouth. She supports the actions of President George Bush.

"I guess that's what he felt he had the use of air attacks rather than ground fighting. 'I think it's unfortunate, but I think it was called for," Land said of the outbreak of war. He's been watching the TV news as much as possible to keep up with developments in the Persian Gulf.

Jason Danely, 13, of Canton has also been keeping up with the news from the Middle East.

"I think it was well-planned," he said of the allied assault. "I think the war's the only way we're going to get Saddam out of Kuwait."

Justin Palk, 13, of Canton would have preferred continued sanctions.

Did you know that Muslims have reverence for Abraham, Moses and Jesus Christ? Are you aware that Muslims hold sacred the city of Jerusalem, as do Christians and

"The three monotheistic faiths -Christianity, Judaism and Islam are joined under one God and message," said Imam Muhammad Karoub, 66, of Farmington Hills, a spiritual leader in the Islamic community Islam means "submission to God." Those who believe in Islam are Muslims, meaning, in Arabic, "one who has given himself to God.'

Islam is a multifaceted religion, rooted in Jewish and Christian theologies. Founded in 622 A.D. Arabia by the prophet Muhammad, Islam is based on an intense prayer life and acceding to the will of God - Allah.

THE KORAN, the holy book of Islam, contains divine revelations and rules for daily life.

Few non-Muslims understand Islam, said Rabbi Sherwin Wine of the Birmingham Temple in Farmington Hills.

"Most people in the United States the Koran and award scholarships. It know little about any religion except Christianity," said Wine, 62, of Bir-

Wine has made numerous trips to Islamic countries. When he speaks to groups about his travels, "I find that people are sometimes amazed. They aren't aware of certain realities. Islam claims 800 million adherents worldwide. Predominant in the Middle East, it also has followers in large portions of Africa, Malaysia, Pakistan and Bangladesh. Sizeable numbers of Muslims live in Turkey, the Balkan states and portions of the Soviet Union.

Around 4 million Muslims live in North America, said Nihad Hamed, of the Federation of Islamic Associations, based in Redford. The FIA is an umbrella group of some 40 Islamic organizations.

Approximately 160,000 Muslims live in metro Detroit.

"They come from all backgrounds and ethnic groups," said Hamed, 62, secretary-general of the FIA.

Islam is an accumulation of ideas drawn from Christianity, Judaism and Islam." Hamed said.

The Prophet Muhammad, at age 40, had a religious experience. The Archangel Gabriel appeared to him in a dream. The angel said Muhammad must preach the divine word of the one God. Revelations would come in a series of visions.

MUHAMMAD EXPERIENCED persecution in Mecca, where many people were pagans. He fled to Medina and formed an army. He eventually triumphed over his old adversaries in Mecca. Within 100 years, Islamic warriors and missionaries conquered much of the world.

Mecca and Medina are Islamic shrines. Jerusalem also is a holy city for Muslims. The Dome of the Rock, a shrine in Jerusalem, marks the place from which Muhammad ascended into heaven to receive instructions, according to tradition.

Muslims must follow the six Articles of Faith, outlined in the Koran. These include belief in God, the prophets, the scriptures and angels, all of whom have specific duties.

The Articles of Faith also decree a Judgment Day, when human deeds are weighed. And, finally, Muslims believe in predestination. Human life is decreed by Allah. However, since humans cannot know their destinies they must make their own choices for good and evil.

When things go badly, Muslims may say "It is the will of Allah.

The Five Pillars of Islam outline religious duties required. These are: Reciting the Creed, or Declaration, that there is no God but God, and Muhammad is his prophet; praying five times a day; giving alms to the poor; fasting from dawn to dusk during the Holy Month of Ramadan; and, if feasible, making one pilgrimage to the holy city of Mecca, where they must perform certain religious

"They all worship God, the one God of us all," said Karoub, who is also religious director of the Federa-tion of Islamic Associations. "The Koran unites us. The five daily prayers are adhered to by both. In the final analysis, Islam is the umbrella for all.'

Although some 80 percent of the world's Muslims belong to the Sunni sect, at least half of local Muslims are Shiite, due to heavy immigration from Lebanon.

The Sunnis elect their leaders, while the Shiites invest their leaders with an aura of spirituality. The Shiites also tend to be more "traditionalists," according to Karoub. For example, the late Ayatollah Khomeini

The split dates to political differ-ences over who would succeed the Prophet Muhammad, Karoub said. Those differences have continued.

"Ethnicity is pervasive," Karoub said. "People tend to worship with their own.

Each Friday, Muslims go to the mosque for congregational prayers. The mosque is characterized by its rounded dome and minaret, a slender tower from which the muzzein's piercing voice traditionally issued call to prayer.

Mosque means "place of kneel-g." Muslims remove their shoes before entering the mosque and wash before saying prayers. The imam leads the prayers, which always are spoken in Arabic. Muslims must pray facing Mecca.

MEN AND women pray in sepa-

Islamic law also has influenced Muslim lifestyle. Gambling, alcoholic beverages and eating pork are for-has visited Muslim countries and regions of the Middle East, Africa, Pakistan and Soviet Central Asia.

Wine enjoyed visiting with local eople on those trips. He usually communicated in English and "I was eager to learn about the lo-cal culture," he said.

WHILE SOME Muslim nations are prosperous, others are povertystricken. Muslim countries which never have experienced the industrial and scientific revolutions are "intensely conservative," with more regimented lifestyles, Wine said.

"It makes it more difficult to communicate religious differences, Wine said. And, in view of present world conditions, "it's dangerous not to have this information" about Islamic beliefs, he said.

Religious fundamentalism Christian, Jewish or Islamic - disturbs Wine. During a visit to Egypt, he witnessed demonstrations by fundamentalists who regarded the government as "too liberal." "It was frightening," Wine said. "People who are fundamentalists believe they have the entire truth."

Hamed and Karoub also are worried. Both voiced fears about the economic and human toll of a prolonged war in the Middle East.

Hamed spoke of the sanctity of the holy shrines in Mecca, Medina and Jerusalem, and the importance of the Month of Ramadan, which begins March 17.

"That touches a very deep nerve with all Muslims and all Arabic people, that those sacred cities not be

"I've been writing songs since I was 13," said Carson, a 1980 Plymouth Salem High School graduate. She came up with some new songs and asked Lightfoot to help her.

"Gail would write some songs and would put bass parts to them," Lightfoot said. He and Carson met Rick Zerndt through a network of Christian musicians

'When I came over and heard Gail's tape, I was pretty impressed with what she was doing so I joined on," Zerndt said.

'It is new to me. This wasn't my original intention. I wanted to play in a rock band originally," said Zerndt, who grew up in Garden City and graduated from West High School in 1974.

Zerndt recently earned a bachelor's degree in music performance from Madonna College in Livonia. He teaches music lessons at several area stores They've found that people have liked what they've heard on "Take a Little Step.

"The vehicle that you use to get God's message across isn't the most important thing," Lightfoot said. The message is what matters.

THEY'RE NOW concentrating on reaching out to churches and plan to perform throughout the area. Band members are scheduled to perform Sunday, Feb. 10, at a concert at Northville's Masonic Temple. (See related story.) "Our next step is the radio stations," she said. Musicians hope to have the tape played, particularly on Christian radio stations in the area.

They're also seeking a record contract and would like to tour with a big-name Christian band as the opening act, possibly for the summer of They're a little more than halfway through writing their second tape, but haven't started recording yet. Generally, Carson writes the lyrics and basic music.

She gives us a framework," Lightfoot said. Carson will sing a song and play the chords on a guitar or piano. The arrangement often changes and songs evolve during re-

Carson relies on the Bible for ideas on lyrics. She thinks about how she dealt with everyday problems. It's not uncommon for inspiration to come at 2 a.m. or thereabouts.

"I won't be able to sleep until I finish it," she said.

"Do the Right Thing," one of their songs, has more of a rock music sound, Zerndt said.

"Originally, all the songs we did had a folk sound." As they per-formed, the musicians realized they needed to take a different approach on some songs.

The musicians come from different denominations. Zerndt worships at St. Richard's Catholic Church in Westland. Carson worships and sings in the choir at Calvary Baptist Church in Canton.

We have a lot of open discussions about it," she said. They don't let denominational differences stand in the way of their message, however.

The performers wrote and recorded the "Take a Little Step" songs prior to the outbreak of war in the Middle East. Nevertheless, they're glad to be able to send an uplifting message to listeners.

"The message in the songs is timeless, really, whether we're at war or at peace," Zerndt said.

church bulletin

The church bulletin is published every Thursday in The Observer. Information must be received in the Livonia office by noon the Monday prior to publication.

SEDER The Livonia Jewish Congregation, 31840 W. Seven Mile, will celebrate the holiday of Tu B'Shevat with a special seder 7 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1. It will precede regular Shabbat services. For information, call 477-

The holiday commemorates the end of winter and beginning of spring in Israel. It is a festive holiday where singing and dancing take place. The Tu B'Shevat seder is similar in nature to the Passover seder.

The seder includes community participation in a prescribed order of worship. Different fruits and nuts are eaten. There is a discussion on what is being eaten and why.

E.J. Hartmann,

chairman of

Ziebart International, has presided over an expanding product line and a network of dealers

since acquiring controlling

interest in the company in 1970. Further growth is anticipated here

and abroad.

More products, outlets to chart Ziebart's future

By Doug Funke staff writer

Ziebart International can be seen as a classic example of a business that broadened its product line and distribution system rather than stagnate or shrivel when competition heated and the economy cooled.

Now, the privately owned company headquartered in Troy with a manufacturing/warehouse facility in Redford, is poised for explosive growth not only in the United States, but around the world.

"By having a broad range of services, we're not dependent on how well the car is made," said E.J. Hartmann, a Birmingham resident and Ziebart chairman. "We provide a service that adds value or more enjoyment to a car."

Ziebart used to be exclusively a rustproofer and probably still is perceived that way by most people, Hartmann said.

But in mid-1970s, Ziebart purchased Arndt Palmer and started offering paint and fabric protection treatment for vehicles. In the early 1980s, the company began selling accessories like sunroofs, running boards and grill guards.

ZIEBART BOUGHT a rustproof-ing competitor, Tuff-Kote Dinol, in 1988, and most recently purchased Tidy Car, whose franchises provide an elaborate interior and exterior cleaning service.

"We hope to communicate that Ziebart is more than a rustproofing company," Hartmann said. "We have a broader range of service we're offering, a cleaner image."

All Ziebart and Tidy Car franchises eventually will offer the services provided by the other, Hartmann said. Upwards of half of all dealers are expected to do so by the middle of this year. A successful test marketing was conducted last summer.

"We contemplated keeping them as two separate franchises, but as we looked at it, we saw more potential combined," he said. "Ziebart needed further diversification. Tidy Car needed diversification even more."

Convenience for customers, onestop shopping, is a drawing card.

BUYERS OF new cars most likely would use the rustproofing and decal/accessory part of the business. Professionals like lawyers, sales people and doctors are likely candidates for the car care line.

Randy Oliver converted Tuff-

ART EMANUELE/staff photographe

Kote Dinol franchises in Livonia and Wodhaven to Ziebart about a year and a half ago.

"I think it (car cleaning) is a good area for us to expand into," he said. "I think it complements the first part of the business (rustproofing), making the car last longer. When it lasts longer, it needs to be cleaned."

Hartmann, 61, acquired controlling interest in Ziebart from a group of owners in 1970. He had come aboard as a vice president in charge of administration the previous year and was impressed with growth potential.

"I found out after I was hired that the principal owner was interested in selling," Hartmann said. "I made presentations to interested parties. I found that if I wasn't successful, I would be out looking for a job again."

SO HE bought-the company.
There were 150 franchises in the United States when Hartmann acquired Ziebart. Now, there are some 380 franchises and 20 company-owned dealerships. Tidy Car had about 100 franchises in the United States and another 100 in Europe and Canada when acquired by Ziebart, he said.

The goal is another 400 combined Ziebart/Tidy Car franchises in the United States during the 1990s. The Southwest and Pacific Northwest will be especially tar-

Will diesel get another look?

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Diesel.

The word conjures images of sluggish, noisy and unreliable engines. But as far as today's diesel engines are concerned, nothing could be further from the truth.

In fact, if auto manufacturers are to succeed in meeting ever-restricting emission standards, brought on by the increased environmental awareness, the once-maligned diesel engine may be a best bet for the 1990s.

Maurice Wing, operations manager for diesel systems of Troy's Lucas Automotive Inc., said advances in the diesel engine and changes in the diesel industry and the world are so pronounced that the 1990s may well be the decade of the diesel.

Lucas Automotive, in addition to manufacturing conventional automotive parts, makes diesel fuel injection pumps.

Methanol, electricity, natural gas, solar powered, hydrogen and ethanol—cars powered by these alternative fuel sources have received the lion's share of attention even though there may be a better, proven alternative right under our very noses.

The diesel engine.

Although automotive research and development has focused almost exclusively on the gasoline engine for the last 100 years, the diesel engine has made great strides since the last energy crisis in the mid 1970s, Wing said.

ENGINE NOISE, sluggishness, reliability — all problems when automobile manufacturers first began touting the diesel engine — have been largely resolved, Wing said.

"I could put you inside a car with a diesel engine today and you wouldn't know it," Wing said.

Significant research on direct injection diesel engines — in which fuel is burned inside the cylinder instead of in a separate chamber — has significantly improved the performance of diesels, Wing said.

Two spring fuel injectors, which introduce fuel in two stages, and turbo-charged engines also offer hope for higher-performance diesel engines.

"You haven't heard about the major players doing a lot of research, but their European counterparts are," Wing said.

In the 1970s, he said, diesel engines were rushed onto the market before they were ready for widespread auto use. "Before the product, before the market, before the oil

"(And) that's unfortunate, because (the industry) is going to have to sell (the idea) of the diesel all over

JAMES BRITTON, director of services for the Association of Diesel Specialists, said that while diesel engines have several advantages over the conventional gasoline engine, the price of diesel fuel — which can range anywhere from 20 to 50 cents above the price of gasoline — will prevent its widespread use.

The initial purchase cost of a diesel engine — generally $2,000 to $4,000 more — is also an obstacle to wider use of the diesel.

"I'm a confirmed diesel addict myself, but (in light of these two points) even I'm hard pressed to purchase a diesel.

"There is growth in the North American diesel industry, but most of it's coming from offshore buyers," Britton added. Italy, France, Germany and England are all seeing an increase in the use of diesel engines in passenger cars.

But Lucas' Wing said other factors will force the automotive industry to take a second look at the industry. In addition to changes that have improved the reliability of the diesel engine, modern diesels are more efficient and burn cleaner than the gasoline engines.

Conventionally powered gasoline engine cars will have a difficult time meeting the corporate average fuel economy (CAFE) ratings currently under review by the government, he said. Under proposed (but not adopted) requirements, some cars would be required to exceed 50 miles per gallon.

Modern diesel engines are more fuel efficient, burning 25 to 30 percent less fuel than conventional engines, Wing said.

In the United States, where gasoline has been consistently cheaper than diesel fuel, this hasn't been as great a concern. But in Europe, where the two fuels are comparably priced (between $3.75 and $4 per gallon) that 25 to 30 percent is substantial. Wing said.

"We will be seeing, in the future, a significant penetration by diesel engines in the (passenger car) market — more in Europe at first, but the United States will follow," he said.

DIESEL-POWERED cars already comprise 25 percent of the automobile market in Europe, he said. In the United States market, the diesel engine has captured less than 1 per-

Another accelerating factor in the acceptance of the diesel engine is a growing consumer awareness of the environment brought on by acid rain, global warming and ozone depletion, Wing said.

Automobile manufacturers can expect increasingly strict auto emission standards — standards today's gasoline powered cars are already, hard pressed to meet, Wing said.

Similar standards designed to upgrade European air quality have also been enacted.

The diesel, Wings said, is inherently cleaner than its gasoline counterparts and does not require the expensive catalytic systems to remove pollutants.

Today's diesel engines, he added, would fare quite well against everrestrictive emission standards that conventional gasoline engines struggle to meet.

"What you have to remember is that it's not what you see that is necessarily harmful to the environment," Wing said.

CARBON DIOXIDE and carbon monoxide emissions from a diesel engine are 30 percent less than those of a similarly sized gasoline engine fitted with a catalytic converter, he said

Britton, of the association of diesel specialists, said emissions and minimum mileage requirement regulations may not be enough to spur a significant increase in the use of diesels.

Automobile manufacturers will resist stricter regulations — and in fact, several cars already exceed 50 miles per gallon — and technological advancements may help the dirtier gasoline engines.

There will continue to be a market for diesel trucks. Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all offer full-sized, diesel-powered trucks.

But to convince the mainstream public to take a real look at the diesels, fuel prices are going to have to come down, he said. Diesel fuel prices are typically higher because of federal taxes — which are higher than gasoline taxes — and higher refining costs.

MORTGAGE REFINANCING... A

BRILLANT DEDUCTION

Chances are you've heard consumer loan interest is no longer deductible. Well, with the Comerica Mortgage refinancing plans of your choice, it still could be.

Mortgage refinancing means you can use the equity in your home to pay off your consumer loans. And this means you can convert consumer loan interest to mortgage interest and deduct it from your income tax.

What's more, when you refinance your high interest, adjustable or fixed rate mortgage, you may end up with a shorter term mortgage — with a lower interest rate and a smaller payment — than you now have. You even may be able to finance your closing costs.

Refinancing to pay off high interest loans just may be the smartest move you could make. Especially now, when mortgage rates are at an all-time low.

To learn about our refinancing options, call your nearest Comerica office, shown below. As one of Michigan's leading mortgage lenders, we not only offer competitive rates and fees. We also make ourselves available to meet at a time and place most convenient for you. And we promise to ignite your interest in mortgage refinancing. Brilliantly, of course

Where the bottom line is you.

Lots of little auto changes can make future livable

Theoretically, the crisis in the Gulf is mainly of concern to the Japanese and Europeans, who in normal times get almost all of the oil exports from the Mideast. Meanwhile, we are, too literally, swimming in oil, despite the bombing, embargoes oil, despite the bombing, embargoes and damage to refineries.

Regardless, I still find myself taking up in the middle of the night ndering if all this is worth it. Whether, in fact, there is some way of maintaining our highly mobile lifestyle with some degree of energy

It's occurred to me that we've been caught up on this issue for several decades now, with lots of avenues explored, none very far. In the late 1970s, there were hundreds of proposals for so-called "alternate" fuels. engines or automobiles. Most worked, a few worked well, but none worked cheaply.

PARTICUALARLY, none worked as cheaply as a piston engine fueled by oil that dropped in price on the world market with every hiccup in OPEC. Remarkable progress was made in those days in increasing the basic efficiency of the engines, but all eventually ended, restrained by the physical law that decrees that it takes energy to accelerate mass.

Weight and size lured the Japanese and Europeans, with the result that imports - that portion of the fleet that used to represent an almost anacronistic approach to fuel economy - eventually converged with a steadily improving domestic

It should be obvious by now that the cost of fuel is never going to do much in the way of changing habits of energy consumption unless, of course, it jumps as horrendously in price as, say, car insurance or interest charges. There seems to be nothing on the immediate horizon that will revolutionize this industry. Rather, we seem to be facing a slow conversion of what had been everyman's dream of personal freedom to a strangled luxury item.

BUT THE curious thing is that we do have the capability to solve some of the problem, a little bit at a time. Some extremely promising technology has come into being in just the past few years. One is the potential of methanol fuel to replace gasoline some of the time. Methanol, refined from coal or natural gas, is more or less independent from the need to import foreign oil. Its production in large quan-titles would release substantial amounts of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere, but in many ways it is cleaner burning than gasoline.

One can, in fact, fuel cars using natural gas, ethanol (grain alcohol) or propane - all more or less available, although considerably more costly than a buck a gallon. That's before you consider the recent inter-est in electric cars as a means to use the energy of burning coal to get you

At the moment, none of these programs seems likely to succeed without some kind of favoritism or subsidy. Not surprisingly, none is palat-able to an auto industry struggling to sell cars that still burn the cheapest fuel of all.

Still, it seems to me that markets could be created, niches filled, and bit by bit we could develop at least some fleets that don't burn the stuff that now flows like blood in the Per-

More products in Ziebart's future

year, Hartmann said.
Six franchises had been operating in the Middle East — three in the United Arab Emirates, one each in Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, and Egypt but none has been heard from since the U.S. launched air attacks Jan. 16, Hartmann said.

ABOUT 50 percent of Ziebart International's business now is rustproofing, the other 50 percent car care, detailing and accessories.

The goal is one-third rustproofing, one-third accessories and one-third car care, Hartmann said.

"We feel that's a good blend of services that can be handled by dealers," Hartmann said. "As well as it is, you don't want to make it too complicated because training and quality control becomes too difficult. We may pick up some products and drop others." Radiator repair and installation of sliding windows on pick-up trucks were among the services implemented, then dropped by the company.

Decisions to diversify over the years weren't that difficult to make, Hartmann said, adding that more businesses than might immediately come to mind have done so.

'Markets continually change," he said. "McDonald's started out selling hamburgers. Now you can get chick-en, salads and sandwiches." Last year, Ziebart International reported dealer sales in the U.S. and Canada of more than $100 million, plus an additional $50 million in the rest of its foreign markets.

Edgar A. Guest III, Joe Lannen and Nancy Gurwin just completed their umpteenth revival of the Tom Jones/Harvey Schmidt musical "I Do! I Do!" at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield.

The play, produced by Birming-ham-based Janus Productions, chronicles the 50-year marriage of Michael and Agnes, a late 19th/early 20th century couple. The production is lively, light and funny. Songs are well sung and jokes well delivered.

HOWEVER, THE warmth, drama and complexity of the script and characters are ignored, resulting in a sort of junk food theater experirice — tasty but empty.

"I Do! I Do!" is one of those small, intimate musicals that tells a story, establishes characters and uses songs to punctuate moods of joy, ess, humor and bitterness

Here, however, it comes off as a song and dance revue with snippets of dialogue thrown in.

THE PROBLEM, I suspect, is that this production was intended to provide Nancy Gurwin with a star vehicle rather than render a serious interpretation of the play.

The playbill describes Gurwin as

"Detroit's first lady of the musical stage."

Gurwin is unarguably a talented performer. She can belt out a song with the best of them, and her comic timing is keen. At her best she is a combination of Ethel Merman and Carol Burnett, with a little Lucille Ball thrown in.

Here, however, these qualities simply overwhelm the material, leaving the audience wondering what the point was.

THE MUSIC of "I Do! I Do!" while pleasant is not powerful enough to stand on its own. Most of the songs are catchy, but few are memorable. The notable exceptions include

$19.95 makes you a Mort Crim clone

By Mike Michaelson special writer

If you've ever wondered how you'd look and perform behind a news-anchor desk, live out your fantasy at the Museum of Broadcast Communications in Chicago.

Thursday, January 31, 1991 O&E

You and your favorite co-host can slide into the anchor chairs at the MBC NewsCenter and read the news from the Teleprompter as the news-

You'll also introduce the weather man, superstation WGN's Tom Skilling, and read the sports scores, so you can make sure the Cubbies, or your favorite team, win.

You'll feel like a professional newscaster as a floor manager helps you on with a blue blazer bearing the MBC erest, clips on a tiny microphone and positions you on the set.

You get a copy of the script for a quick once-over and instructions about when to break and which camera to look into. Then it's, "Good evening from the MBC NewsCenter. I'm (your name) and these are the top news stories at this hour.'

The result is a 15-minute newscast, complete with opening music and credits introducing "Chicago's newest news team." There's corresponding footage of floods and fires, of Mayor Richard M. Daley and Mikhail Gorbachev.

WGN sports announcer Harry Caray yells his trademark "Holy Cow" as you voice-over footage of Ryne Sandberg smacking a home run into the bleachers at Wrigley Field. To close, there is the obligatory humor piece ("Finally, a story about a couple who met and were married at a roller rink."), with a spot for your own ad-libs. The finished product even has actual commercials plugged in.

After the taping, you can critique your TV debut on a screen in the technicians' booth. The helpful technicians are communications stu-

If your performance pleases, you can take home on videotape your 15 minutes of fame. Cost is $19.95, with no obligation to buy, although most would-be newscasters do.

Tapings begin at 10 a.m. and occur 20 minutes before each hour thereafter on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Reservations are accepted, and usually necessary.

Unquestionably, this museum of memories, with its displays of vintage radio and television sets and its special exhibits, is great fun. But there is a serious side.

I had spent that Friday evening with my friend Chuck Rogers of Northville, who was wintering in Venice, and got back to Boca Grande in time for the 11 o'clock news. The war was getting worse every minute and Eastern had stopped flying. The announcer said "American Airlines has agreed to honor Eastern tickets." As it turns out, most airlines are honoring Eastern tickets.

If you are going to be stranded, it is better to be stranded in Florida than in Tel Aviv, but I still had to report for work the following Monday morning. I started dialing air-

Environmentalists say growth of tourism threatens planet

(AP) — It's vacation time, 2091 A.D. Your great-grandchildren pack camping gear into their jet car and head for the woods. After skimming miles and miles of highway, they reach the forest.

They park, unpack and enter a sort of futuristic Noah's Ark - a glass-enclosed environment containing what's left of Earth's trees and wildlife.

It's not an unlikely scenario, according to environmentalists concerned about cumulative effects of acid rain, deterioration of the ozone layer and industrial exploitation of the forests.

Additionally, there's concern that current increases in tourism to remote and ecologically fragile areas essential to Earth's overall environment - areas such as the Antarctic, the Amazon and other rain forests, the Galapagos, Afri-

Ron Naveen, an author of "Wild (Smithsonian Institution Press, 1990, $29.95), a book about Antarctica, says the future might be brighter if travelers assume responsibility for preserving nature and the environment.

As founder of Oceanites, a Maryland-based, non-profit foundation dedicated to preservation of island and ocean environments, Naveen is an avid advocate of responsible tourism - or eco-tourism - as a means of countering deterioration of our planet's fragile ecosystems.

"The Antarctic and other unspoiled areas are so awe-inspiring they change people's outlook," Na-veen says. "It's natural to become a naturalist once you've witnessed the Antarctic's magnificence and looked a penguin in the eye.

"We want travelers to experience this, but they must respect and protect the areas and wildlife. Numbers of visitors should be limited. Tours must be run by environmentally-concerned companies, led by experienced guides. Otherwise these areas could be destroyed."

Case in point: an Argentine ship that carried 100 passengers on 11day Antarctic cruises sank in 1990. spilling about 250,000 gallons of fuel. No one was injured, but rookeries of some 20,000 penguins were seriously polluted with long-term consequences that cannot yet be as-

CRUISIN' THE CARIBBEAN

Worldwide Cruises, Inc. has added Dial-a-Cruise, a free information hot line that provides prospective cruand availability an any cruise ship, anywhere in the world.

In addition to individual bookings, World Wide Cruises features reunion cruises such as military, family, class or best friends cruises. Their in-house public relations division assists groups in finding classmates or military personnel. For more information and to book your cruise, call (800) 882-9000. Yankee Schooner Cruises, offers a casual sailing adventure aboard the tall ship "Schooner Roseway," cruis-ing winters in the Virgin Islands and

The Roseway was built in 1925 in Essex, Mass. Although she was originally built as a private yacht, the Roseway spent 32 years in the pilot seven-day Caribbean cruise from Ft.

service. She stood her station off Boston Harbor year-round through the worst of fall gales and winter storms, greeting incoming ships and harbor pilots aboard.

The Roseway offers special interest cruises such as "Artists Under Sail" for photographers and watercolor artists, and "Learning Celestial Navigation" for anyone interested in learning this sailor's skill.

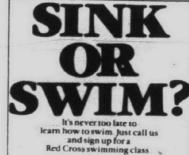

For more information, call Yankee Schooner Cruises, (800) 255-4449. They will send you a color brochure describing their trips. A six-day cruise through the American and British Virgin Islands costs $795 per person in a double and $745 in a quad. Arrangements can also be made for discount airfare.

Hartford Holidays has joined with Cunard to create a special program for diabetics and their families aboard Queen Elizabeth Two on her Lauderdale April 11.

The cruise will include calls on St. Thomas, Martinque, Barbados and St. Maarten. Between ports, diabetics will learn first-hand how to better cope with their disease.

Dr. Frank Lavernia, one of the founders of the North Broward Diabetes Center in Florida, and his staff will assist diabetics and conduct a variation of the outpatient education program regularly offered at the

Designed to review the skills needed to manage and live a healthy lifestyle, the program will cover self care, meal planning, exercise, glucose monitoring, medications and more. A highlight will be a sugarfree cocktail reception.

Special fares for the seven-day cruise begin as low as $1,487 per person, based on double occupancy. For more information call Hartford Holidays, (800) 828-4813.

Salem wins despite Canton comeback

Rocks weather 2nd-half 'storm'

staff writer

There was more at stake on the basketball court Tuesday night than first place in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The top teams in the WLAA are located in Centennial Educational Park, so campus pride was as much a motivating factor in the clash between league heavyweights.

Plymouth Salem, the first-place team, managed to retain the title belt but only after it withstood a relentless second-half counterattack by Plymouth Canton, 56-53.

The Rocks almost ran away with the game early, leading 31-21 at halftime, but Canton rallied to win the second half 32-27 and nearly the

They were two separate halves of basketball," Salem coach Bob Brodie said. "We told the guys at halftime This is a good basketball team, and they're going to make some great runs at you.' We say it all the time, but you have to weather the storm.

"CANTON IS the team to beat in this league. Playing in their gym and with the nice winning streak they had going, it took a great effort to win the game.

Salem, rated No. 6 in the state, is 6-0 in the WLAA and 11-1 overall. The Chiefs, who had a five-game win streak snapped, slipped to 6-1 and 8-

K.C. Kirkpatrick came off the bench in place of freshman starter James Head to score 18 points and lead the Rocks. Central Michigan recruit Jake Baker tossed in 16 points, which included 7-of-8 free throw shooting, with CMU coaches Charlie Coles and Bob Sippell looking on.

Sophomore Mike Stafford was the only Canton player in double figures with 15 points, which included three triples, but the Chiefs had good balance. Kevin Holmes added nine points, Derrick McDonald eight, Brett Howell seven, Jon Paupore six and Karl Wukie five.

A PAIR OF three-point baskets by Stafford and one by Paupore kept the Chiefs within a point or two down the stretch, 48-47, 52-50 and

Following the Paupore basket with 12 seconds to play, Kirkpatrick took a feed from Baker on the break for a slam dunk and a three-point margin. But he was given a technical foul for hanging on the rim. Stafford missed both free throws but still had chance to tie the game with a triple that rimmed the iron at the

'Nine times out of 10, he makes that last shot," Van Wagoner said. We had our best three-point shooter coming off a screen, and that one was half way down. The next one he's going to make.'

Canton outscored the Rocks 12-3 to begin the second half and closed to 34-33. The Chiefs never had the hall match games, and the Raiders led 12-5 in the last before host Salem began its comeback and eventually won 15-13.

Plymouth Salem rallied in the fifth and final game Monday to defeat North Farmington in a Western Lakes Activities Association vollev-

North won the first and third games 15-4 and 15-10, the Rocks the second and fourth games 15-13 and

Salem is 4-2 in the league, 2-2 in the Lakes Division and 6-6-3 overall. The Raiders are 3-3 and 2-2 in the WLAA and division.

"I really thought we were two evenly matched teams," Salem cocoach Allie Suffety said. "It could have gone either way."

"THIS WAS a tough loss, and the players felt it as they walked out," North coach Sandy Lubieniecki said. "It was not that we weren't going for it. They were playing very well, too. I have to compliment Salem, too."

The number of attacks each team had is an indication of how even the match was, Suffety said. Salem had

> The Rocks also recored 15 aces out of 94 serves. Krajewski put 95 percent of her serves into play, Sarah Krieger 94, Caryn Tatterton 90 and Welling 81. Julie Thomas was a perfect 8-of-8.

> Krajewski led the team with five aces. Carey had four, Thomas three, Tatterton and Welling two apiece.

We're trying to emphasize geting the ball in play and raising our number of good serves," Suffety said. 'We were trying to get aces for a while, and it brought our number of serves down. We want to get the transition game going instead of playing for points off serves." SALEM GRADED 95 percent on serve reception with Thomas (22-of-22), Welling (21-of-23) and Krajewski tomorrow Salem might have found another good defensive player, however. Jenny Emmett was injured before the game, and that forced Thomas into additional playing time. She was one who did well on attack receive, digging up 33 of 37 chances. She also had seven blocks. Welling was 33-of-34 on attack receive.

For the Raiders, Eve Claar served 15 points and 21 kills. Eleven kills came off spikes, another 10 on tips. Sarah Lungren also had 15 service

In pool play, the Rocks lost to Brighton (12-15, 11-15), defeated Dearborn Heights Crestwood (15-4, 15-9) and Ann Arbor Pioneer (20-18, 15-4) and lost to Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard (9-15, 5-15).

Salem advanced to medal play but lost a second time to Richard, 4-15, 15-17.

We had the opportunity to be in different situations, and we're learning more about the mental toughness aspect of the game," Suffety said. "We had lapses in intensity at times but, otherwise, played well all day."

Shamrocks tie Trenton

Redford Catholic Central's offensive pressure finally paid off with 40 seconds to go Saturday when Scott Johnson's goal from Bill Baaki and Paul Schloss enabled the host Shamrocks to earn a 3-3 tie with Trenton in a battle of state-ranked prep hockey teams at Redford Ice Arena.

The tie leaves CC at 3-2-1 in the West Division of the Michigan Metro circuit. The Shamrocks, rated No. 8 in Class A, are 8-4-1 overall.

"It was a total team effort, we really forechecked in the second and third periods," CC coach Jack Gumbleton said. "Every line seemed to want to outdo the other. The kids are really progressing. I'm pleased with the way we worked. If we keep it out of our end, we'll be even better.'

Trenton outshot CC 9-3 in the opening period, grabbing a 2-0 lead on goals by Paul Withee and Joe Chappelle.

Baaki broke the ice for CC at 8:50 of the second period, scoring from David Gallagher and Jesse Hubenschmidt.

Trenton's Tom Babcock then answered at 12:04 to increase the Trojans' lead to 3-2, but with just 41 seconds left in the period, CC's Pat Casey cut the deficit to one on a goal from Kevin Donnelly and Jeff Wollschlager.

Despite outshooting Trenton 20-8 over the final two periods, the Shamrocks could not score the equalizer until they pulled goalie Mike Brusseau (17 saves) for the extra attacker in the final minute, setting up Johnson's game-tying goal that beat Trenton netminder Dave Johns (23 saves). Trenton was ranked No. 3 in latest Class A state coaches poll.

Canton's Orris wins twice

Plymouth Canton swept the 100-yard breaststroke and Mike Orris won two individual events in a 101-84 loss at Novi in boys swimming Tuesday. Ron Trosin took first place in the breaststroke in 1:06.47 while teammate Shawn MacInnis was second in 1:08.14.

Orris won the 200 freestyle in 1:53.79 and the 500 freestyle in 5:10.32. He was also on the winning 200 freestyle relay team, which included Josh Blunt, Craig Steshetz and Mark Ealovega and had a 1:37.34 time.

Canton's second-place finishers were Nick Atwell in diving with 202.2 points, Ealovega in the butterfly (1:00.09) and Pat Lancaster in the 100 freestyle (54.3). The Chiefs will visit Livonia Churchill in a Western Lakes Activities Association dual meet at 7 p.m. Thursday.

BRIGHTON defeated host Plymouth Salem 95-91 Tuesday in a nonleague boys swim meet.

Pat McManaman won the diving for the Rocks with 220.9, and Brett Meik captured first place in the 500-yard freestyle, finishing in 5:17.07. Salem is 4-5 overall.

Brodie said. "You feel you have the upper hand. We were able to dictate what we wanted to do and what they had to do on defense because we were up. "On the one hand, I feel good about what we did in the second half," Van Wagoner said. "I'm a little disappointed we didn't play very well in the first half."

The Rocks went on a 21-5 run that gave them a 25-9 lead with 41/2 minutes left in the first half. Baker had six first-quarter points and 6-5 teammate Cliff Lee five as Salem went inside effectively.

CANTON, ON the other hand, had no inside game early and rarely got a second rebound. Stafford scored seven points in the last four minutes

We were real lucky to go in only 10 down at halftime," Van Wagoner said, adding it could easily have been a 20-point difference.

We just stood around. We weren't setting any screens or getting any movement. In the second half, we moved some people around and set some screens.

Lee added seven points for Salem, which visits Livonia Stevenson on Friday. The Chiefs have a key Western Division game with Farmington Hills Harrison at Canton.

Spartans avenge defeat

By Brad Emons

Like Wayne Fontes, Livonia Ste-venson basketball coach Jim McIntyre is modifying his run-and-shoot

The Spartans, once the area's answer to Loyola Marymount and the Denver Nuggets, proved they can still run, but also showed patience in Tuesday's 67-56 victory at Livonia Churchill

It was the Spartans' fifth win in their last six games. It also avenged a 62-47 home-court loss to their city rivals back on Dec. 14.

"It was one one of the better fourth-quarter games we've played except for about a three-minute stretch in the second quarter when we got into their (Churchill's) tem-McIntyre said. "We were a little hesitant to run-and-shoot against them because of the rebounding advantage."

The Spartans proved they could play a little half-court basketball, as well as running the break, pulling off some timely pick-and-roll and backdoor lob plays for layups.

In the fourth quarter they pulled the ball out and worked the clock to protect their lead.

'We've extended ourselves to try to make teams play longer on defense," said McIntyre, whose team is 6-5 overall. "They understand if we're patient enough, good things will happen.'

STEVENSON HAD five players score in double figures.

Junior guard Matt Grodzicki paced the winners with 18 points, while senior guard Phil Woods and senior forward Dan Gibbons each added 14. Junior forward Colin Stockton contributed 11, while 6foot-4 junior center Tony Stojov came off the bench to score 10.

"We're looking toward improving each game and we've been doing that," McIntyre said. "These kids work very hard in practice. I'm real proud of these kids. It's been a whale of an effort within our first 11 games. We're making inroads."

The loss left Churchill with an identical 6-5 overall record.

The Chargers were led by 6-7 senior center Randy Calcaterra, who paced all scorers with 23 points. Mike Thomas added 15, while Brian basketball

Cager excels despite crash

It was a night Livonia Churchill High basketball player Brian D. Johnson may never forget.

Trying to make his way into the school's parking lot at approximately 5:50 p.m. Tuesday, prior to the Churchill-Stevenson varsity game, Johnson was involved in a serious two-car accident.

"His car was practically destroyed, he was upside down and the firemen had to extract him from underneath the car," Churchill coach Fred Price said. "The whole (passenger) side was caved in. He could have come out much worse. It's a miracle."

Amazingly, the junior guard suffered no serious injuries and was able to start the game and finish with 13 points for the Chargers, who fell to their city rivals, 67-56.

"The fact that he came out and played a decent game is a something in itself," Price said. "Obviously, our kids were a little rattled. Their minds were preoccupied somewhere else."

Officials from the Livonia Police Department's Traffic Bureau were unavailable for comment late Tuesday about other possible damage and injuries.

Brad Emons

D. Johnson contributed 13. Only one other Churchill player scored. (Jeremiah Karolak contributed Churchill committed 24 turnovers and shot only 38.7 percent from the field (19 of 49). Stevenson, meanwhile, hit 50 percent from the field (25 of 50) and had 17 turnovers.

"IT WAS A tough night," Churchill coach Fred Price said. "They (Stevenson) were doing a good job with the transition game and getting people behind us. We had trouble getting back defensively I'll have to look at easy layups we gave up.

"If you take away their transition game, it's a different game. But that's part of it. We tried to get more people involved in the offense, but we turned it over more than we have the last couple of games."

The Spartans jumped out quickly, taking a 19-13 first-quarter advan-

They led by as many as 12 with 3:31 left in the half (on a basket by Woods), but Churchill cut the deficit to five at halftime thanks to a threepoint play by Thomas with 1:21 to play, 35-30.

The third quarter was all Steven-

Woods scored on a back-door play with a second remaining in the period to make it 53-39.

The Spartans then increased their lead to 56-39 on a three-point play by Stockton to start the final quarter.

CHURCHILL, however, pulled off a six-point play when Gibbons was hit by referee Dave Flammer for a technical foul. Calcaterra made four straight free throws and Johnson hit a short jumper to slice the lead to 11.

The Chargers then pulled within eight, 60-52, with 2:50 to go on another Johnson hoop, but the Spartans were able to milk the clock down the stretch and go to the free throw line, hitting nine of 11 foul shots in the final quarter.

"We're willing to back off and make teams come out," McIntyre said. "We press with the intent of wanting to do things up-tempo, not with the intent of to steal (the ball) and score. Last year we flew people at teams. This year we've changed and how we're applying it (the

The defending Western Lakes Activities Association playoff champs meet once-beaten Plymouth Salem Friday at home.

Churchill, meanwhile, will host Walled Lake Western.

"I'm disappointed with our rebounding, we should have dominated the boards," Price said. "I thought with our lineup, and with their lineup, we'd do a better job. They got a lot of loose balls off the fumble or "They (Stevenson) were able to

What a life, fishing for a living

ERRY LEE has the type of job most anglers dream about. He fishes for a living.

What started out as a hobby like it usually does - has evolved into a full-time occupation for the Livonia resident.

"I started salmon fishing about 15 years ago with a friend," explained Lee, who managed an auto body shop at the time. "I had a small boat and fished in a few tournaments and gradually grew into a bigger boat."

Through the years, Lee increased his knowledge on fishing and refined his techniques. His tournament suc-cess culminated in 1980 when he was the top money winner in the state of Michigan in steelhead tournaments.

"There were always people around that wanted to go fishing with me," Lee said. "It got to be a pretty expensive hobby so I decided to make it a business.

Ten years later, business is boom-

He charters salmon trips in Lake

Michigan out of St. Joseph; summer steelhead in northern Lake Michigan out of Luddington; walleye in Lake Erie out of Monroe; and offers guided trips for steelies during the winter months on the St. Joseph River.

"I like to move around where the fish are," Lee said. "I go to different ports at different times of the year." Lee is also a pro staffer for Lowrance and Eagle Electronics. In his spare times he travels around the state speaking at outdoor shows. LEE IS AMONG several notable speakers scheduled to appear at the 1991 Detroit Boat and Fishing Show

Feb. 2-10 at Cobo Center. Other speakers include Babe Winkelman, host of the television show "Good Fishing"; Al Lindner, president of the In-Fisherman Network and host of the "In-Fisherman" television series; Dave Richey, authe Detroit News; Mark Romanack, outdoor writer and walleye tournament fishing pro; George Richey, outdoor writer and fishing tackle producer; Larry Simpson, a veteran in the marine electronics industry; Carl Salling, outdoor guide; and Bruce DeShano, a front runner in the development of new downrigger tac-

LEE IS SCHEDULED to appear each day of the show. His topics will cover the use of chart recording graphs and fish locators and how to apply the information from these devices to the task of catching fish. He will also be on hand at the Lowrance and Eagle Electronics booth to greet the public and answer questions.

My main focus will be to help people understand the electronics on today's market," explained Lee. "The new systems on the market are pretty simple. They're user friendly. Most are menu driven just like a computer. People just need to understand what this equipment does and understand the secondary equipment and how to use it. The biggest thing is that many people don't understand the full potential of what they have.

ferent things. I just want to educate people on what they have and what's available to them."

LEE ADMITTS life as a profes-sional fisherman is not all glamour and games. The rigors of travel and the time spent away from home take their toll and the schedule never really allows for a season of rest. Still,

"Actually, it's a tough life," Lee said. "I'm gone from home a lot, but it pays the bills.

"If it wasn't for my love of fishing

I probably wouldn't be doing it."

Exercise programs may ease PMS time

Dear Myrna: Can you explain PMS? I've had problems with it the last few years. I am 31 years old and I exercise already. Does exercise help PMS or should I not exercise during my PMS time?

PMS - what a time! What a time!

The major PMS (premenstrual syndrome) time occurs during the last two weeks prior to the onset of menstrual bleeding. This 14-day period occurs after ovulation and rarely varies in length. PMS symptoms are absent during the two weeks after the start of menstruation and recur at least thre months in a row. That leaves two weeks on and two weeks off, if you are a heavy PMS person.

Nearly 90 percent of all women experience premenstrual syndrome at sometime or another and 40 percent claim it disturbs their lives. Yet, there is no definition, no cause, and no cure for PMS. We don't know whether it is psychological, hormonal, normal, abnormal or a vitamin deficiency. We do know that while you can't cure it, you can control or even eliminate some of the symptoms through diet and exercise. By planning ahead, your PMS times and adjusting a bit can improve PMS symptoms.

There have been furious battles between the American Psychiatric Association and feminist organizations. Psychiatrists claim that PMS should be categorized as a psychiatric disease suffered by nervous women. Feminists charge that PMS is too widespread, therefore, being something physical. For those lucky women out there who do not suffer from PMS, let me briefly touch on some of the symptoms (and men you just might recognize these symptoms also). They include: tension and sometimes migraine headaches; depression - crying spells for no reason; backache; a feeling of losing control and anxiety; weight gain; food cravings - salt and sweets; acne and allergies; and bloating and breast

You can ward off PMS blues by avoiding certain foods that contribute to water retention and bloating. Try a good low fat healthy diet, avoid caffeine, reduce salt, protein foods (animals), alcohol and sugar, increase carbohydrate intake, eat fruit and leafy green salads, never go hungry (eat several small meals rather than one or two big ones).

Another little helper might be Vitamin B6 to calm the PMS jitters.

Now my expertise - exercise. I know that because aerobic exercise stimulates the production of beta-endorphins, it can help reduce the anxiety and depression common to PMS sufferers. Of course, exercise at least three times weekly (five or six times being best). On those PMS times, make sure you push a little harder. Whatever you choose - speed walking, swimming, aerobic class, etc. - many doctors highly recommend an exercise program as an important part of

In my opinion, labeling PMS a psychiatric illness is dangerous and sexist. There have been no studies to prove this.

So what is a woman to do? First, recognize PMS for what it is. Don't consider yourself abnormal. Even use it when you are having a

State income tax checkoff benefits wildlife programs

At the beginning of each year we receive financial statements about our income from the previous year. We organize them in preparation for paying our taxes.

When you fill out your Michigan tax form consider making a contribution to the Nongame Wildlife Fund. There is a loon next to the space where you can indicate your contribution.

Since 1983 the Nongame Wildlife Fund has been using money received for many worthwhile projects throughout the state. These projects are monitored by the Wildlife Divi-sion of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Several grants are awarded each year to people or groups who are willing to help study, restore, im-prove, survey, or educate about wildlife and their habitats in Michigan. All these projects are aimed at non-game species, but just as game species management increases nongame species, so does non-game management often increase game species.

Non-game species account for far more species than game species, so monies are dispersed for a variety of needs. Peregrine falcons now nesting in Michigan's Upper Peninsula - for the first time in 30 years -, was accomplished with Nongame Wild-

Not all species helped by the fund are large with feather or fur. Bog habitat of the Mitchell's satyr, a brown butterfly originally discovered in Michigan in the 1880s is rapidly disappearing. A study was conducted to determine the extent of the existing population and to recommend habitat management plans.

Plants also are included in fund projects. Populations of dwarf lake iris, a beautiful blue iris that grows about four inches tall, were saved from destruction.

Wildlife officials realize that efforts to preserve a species will fall short if habitats suitable to the species are not preserved. Money from the fund also goes to restoring or managing habitats.

Introducing once native species to Michigan and preserving the natural heritage of the diverse flora and fauna of our states is an immense task.

Most of this year's contributions are put into a permanent trust fund, Populations of dwarf lake iris were saved from destruction with funds from the nongame wildlife checkoff program.

Nongame Wildlife checkoff will be removed from the tax form. So, the more contributions received, the greater the permanent trust fund will be after 1994.

Downtown series concludes

A DOWNTOWN is a lot like life. It slowly matures. Then it slowly But downtowns don't have to

In today's third installment of a three-part series tracing down-town historic architecture in Observerland, the spotlight is on downtown Garden City.

Over its 159-year-old history, Garden City, part of what once was Nankin Township, grew from forest, to farms to cityhood.

The downtown area sprang up in the 1920s around the country crossroads of Ford Road and Middlebelt, then served only by two stores, a city hall and a 14-room schoolho Developer Arnold Folker provided a key spur when he built The Folker Building in 1928, the year after the city of 2,500 people incorporated. That now-historic landmark, on the southeast corner of Ford and Middlebelt, housed the city hall un-

The central business district fell on hard times in the 1970s. But emergence of a downtown devel-opment authority (DDA) in 1981

Raising money through in-creased property values within the development district, the DDA has spent $1.5 million on streetscape provements. In 1987, it develed a commons area replete with azebo at the main intersection.

Meanwhile, the Kroger-anchored Town Center, opened last year, is a byproduct of the DDA's desire to inspire private invest-ment through public redevelopment through public redevelop-ment. The city's purchase of the old La Parisienne theater lot provided not only increased expo but also increased parking for the planned new center.

Garden City leaders call healthy downtown integral to the city's well being. The city has a tax base that's 86 percent residential, 12 percent commercial and 2 percent industrial.

"We hope to expand or, at the very least, maintain that commercial percentage so we can take those revenues and provide services to our residents without having to increase the residential tax burden," said Terry Carroll, community development director. Historic downtown architecture in Farmington was profiled Dec. 20 and in Plymouth Nov. 8.

Built in 1928, the Folker Building sports an architectural style called Classic Revival, architect Betty-lee Seydler-Sweatt said, "but it has been simplified. The way the building occu-

Garden City built on dreams of country living

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

RCHITECTURE MIRRORS the time period or era of a civilization, revealing beliefs, principles and dreams held and cherished by a society of people or its ruling government

The turn of the century brought a cry for relief from the industrial way of life. Forced to work hours upon hours in dark factories at repetitive jobs, the masses, in the beginning of the 20th century, sought a return to the land, where sunlight, fresh air, and green living things abounded.

Across the waters in 1898 England, Ebenezer Howard proposed the idea for the creation of a "Garden City." Located outside a metropolis, Howard sketched a cluster of homes and gardens, planned around a central

In the mid-1920s, Nankin Township farms, of which part was later incorporated in 1927 as the village of Garden City, were subdivided and plotted for sale as private "farmlets" by land speculators and real estate developers making Ebenezer Howard's dream a reality.

In October 1923, a roadside sign read "40 foot lots, $1 a week." An ad for The Folker Co., which called itself the "developers of Garden City," referred to Garden City as the "Sun Parlor" of Detroit. Arnold Folker offered buyers with the sale of a "square half acre of Garden City, the opportunity to live much better for less cash outlay.'

THE AMERICAN dream slowly began to evolve: to own a little house in the country with enough land for a garden. When World War I ended in 1918, the dream became reality. A revolution in transportation hastened the death of a day-to-day life of drudgery in the dismal and stifling industrial surroundings American cities and architecture would never be the same after the privately owned automobile became affordable.

Henry Ford I revolutionized the automobile industry and, in turn, American architecture with his invention of the assembly line. The technological discovery of the line, coupled with the creation of the standardized model of automobile, Ford's black Model T, brought prices of mass produced transportation within the range of the working man.

The automobile brought freedom, and that freedom brought the longing for space, wide open spaces," said architect Betty-lee Seydler-Sweatt.

Downtown HERITAGE

Seydler-Sweatt is an associate professor of architecture at Lawrence Technological Institute in Southfield, where she teaches two different courses in historic preservation. She also operates Preservation Planning Inc. in

The automobile connected large industialized cities with the space of the suburbs. Within these wide open spaces, soon filled with tracts of homes, came the need for downtown commercial architecture.

IN 1928, Arnold Folker built The Folker Building on the southeast corner of Ford Road and Middlebelt. "The architecture is in the style of Classic Revival, but it's been simplified," Seydler-Sweatt said. "It has renaissance detail (the clock) at the top.'

A parapet where the facade continues up, beyond the edge of the roof, marks the corner facade as does a single row of dentils above the main entrance. "The way the architecture occupies the corner identifies this as the center of the city," Seydler-Sweatt said. 'The architecture is talking this way.

This is the way, many banks were built in the 1920s," she added. The massive architecture of the Farmington State Savings Bank, built in 1922, occupies the corner of An ad for The Folker Co., which called itself the "developers of Garden City," referred to Garden City as the "Sun Parlor" of Detroit.

Joyce Pappas, whose father bought The Folker Building in 1964 to house a jewelry business, said her family has not changed the building in any way except to add a sign, which reads, Orin Jewelers. and awnings. They had the exterior stone cleaned.

"The building is a wood structure with a limestone face," said Joyce's brother, Orin Mazonni Jr. He along with his brother,

Sweatt said. Encasing the church's entrance is a tudor arch: a wide, low pointed arch, commonly used in the architecture of Tudor England. American religious architecture during the late 19th and early 20th century used an immense amount of revival styles, or as Seydler-Sweatt lightheartedly refers to them, "revivals of revivals."

'Most of our communities are vernacular structures," Seydler-Sweatt said,"with a lot of revival details.

THE EDSEL B. Ford mansion in Grosse Pointe is a blend of several medieval styles grafted onto an English Tudor. The congregation of Garden City Presbyterian Church grew at a quickening pace. Between 1923 and 1933, many small homes "were built on wood posts set into the ground and protruding a couple of feet above the surface.

Other Garden City residents built "garage homes on the backs of their lots" with the intention of building a "proper house" in front, at which time, the rear structure would revert to a garage.

In 1941, the Garden City Presbyterian Church began to build an addition to the church to accommodate its growing flock. Then the U.S. entered World War II. By 1943, the only portion completed was the "two-story manse" to house Pastor Robert Rives' family.

During the era between World War I and World War II, the idea of city planning became a reality, fired by the dream of Ebenezer Howard's ideal living environment: "Garden City.

American architect, planners and developers began patterning communities after Howard's "Garden City," from New York and New Jersey, to New Mexico.

By October 28, 1933, Garden City, Mich., was incorporated as "a home rule city." In October 1951, the first strip of concrete pavement was laid.

When Garden City became incorporated as a village in 1927, its population was estimated at

The Livonia Symphony Orchestra, under conductor Francesco DiBlasi, began the first of its Library Series concerts, "Music Internationale," with a well-rehearsed rendition of Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" Friday in the chamber-style auditorium at the Livonia Civic Center Library.

"The Library Series, because of the intimacy of the auditorium and reduced number of orchestra members (one-third of the Livonia Symphony), created music which was more sensitive," DiBlasi said.

Throughout the evening, DiBlasi spoke to the audience, creating the feeling that they were part of the performance.

For the second selection of the evening, DiBlasi directed five members of the brass section in Pezel's "Three Pieces for Brass."

The work of professional wildlife photographer Rick Denomee is on exhibit in the Livonia City Hall lobby through Feb. 19.

The Northville resident works with his wife, Connie, to produce pictures of birds and animals, which, he says, "are so important in our lives and the world around us."

A Michigan native, Denomee is self-taught. His home library of more than 100 photographic books enables him to develop his own style and technique.

The Denomees do all the processing, mounting and matting in their home lab.

Although the variety of wildlife makes southern Michigan their favorite place for wildlife photography, the Denomees travel across North America to photograph specific species of birds and animals: Alaska for grizzly bear, Maine for puf-firis, California for sea otter, Florida for eagles and Yellowstone for elk and bison.

Denomee has displayed and sold more than 250 images of his work in more than 30 Midwest arts and

ALL-SERENADE

Conductor Hugh Wolff returns to Detroit to lead the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in an all-serenade program at 8 p.m. Friday, 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 1-3 at Orchestra Hall. Call 833-3700 for tickets.

The Detroit Super Camera Show & Model Shoot will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3, at the Dearborn Inn-Marriot, 20301 Oakwood Blvd. Admission is $4.

Sixty dealers will display new and used photo equipment, including cameras and lenses and antique and collectable photographia. Most of the dealers will be prepared to buy, sell or trade Workshops will also be conducted by Allan Lowy, a well-known local fashion photographer. They will include models in studio settings, with special lighting and backdrops. The times of the workshops will be announced at the show. Admission to the workshops is free.

A free shutter check will be offered with admission by Mid-West Camera Repair. Photorama USA will operate a hot line to provide more information: 884-2243.

• FACULTY ARTISTS

To commemorate the bicentennial of Mozart's death, the Michigan Chamber Players of the University of Michigan School of Music will devote an entire program to his music.

This annual faculty artists concert will be at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3, in Rackham Auditorium, Ann Arbor. Admission is free. Call 764-2538.

GARDEN WALKS

The Matthaei Botanical Gardens Conservatory is open for docent-led tours at 1 and 2 p.m. each Saturday.

In February, the conservatory theme will be items of affection.

At 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 3, docents will lead a tour of what's out there besides trees and shrubs. Dress for the weather, including warm, waterproof footwear. No strollers are allowed. The tour will last 90 minutes.

The gardens are at 1800 N. Dixboro, Ann Arbor, a half mile south of Plymouth Road.

PIANO PARTY

The Steinway Society of Michigan will present "A Piano Party" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 6, at the Community Center of Farmington-Farmington Hills. The center is at 24705 Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile.

The recital will feature the works of Debussy, Brahms, Chopin and Liszt.

Performer Diane B. Clemente, pianist and teacher, has trained under Violet Toth and Julia Nevshehir. Flavio Varani provided coaching.

Clemente received a bachelor of arts degree in piano performance from Mercy College of Detroit. She plans to attend and perform at the International Chamber Music Institute in Munich. Germany, this summer.

Recital admission is $3 for society members, $5 for non-members. Wine and cheese will be served. For reservations, call Ann Andrew-King at 427-

Debugging your plant world

our plants live. Now it's time to address the problem of little critters that can quickly make owning houseplants a less than happy experience. Examine your houseplants very closely, for aphids, white flies, springtails, spider mites, mealybugs and scale and treat them now to bring them back to good health.

.If the plant growth is stunted or the foliage has begun to curl and become distorted, suspect aphids. These tiny plant lice, either green, red, pink, brown or black are sucking insects that secrete honeydew (a sticky product), which harbors a sooty black mold.

If the leaves have turned yellow and dropped, look for white flies. They look like tiny white moths and are also sucking insects, which fly when disturbed. The larvae, which hatch from eggs laid on the underside of leaves, do the most damage Springtails often "spring" up from the soil when it is watered. They usually feed on fungi and decayed vegetation. Sometimes they eat the plants. In this case, good hygiene around the base of the plants is essential.

IF THE leaves have a speckled, mottled appearance, spider mites may be the culprit. They spin fine webs on leaf undersides and multiply quickly in dry air.

Watch the cacti. If they become grayish looking, spider mites may be doing the dirty deed. If you see a cottony mass on leaves or stems, sucking insects known as mealybugs, tiny, crawling, pinkish pests may be present. They seem to prefer the "joint" areas. Dabbing them with an alcohol soaked cotton swab will destroy them. An irregular pattern of yellowish-green, brown or black spots or blisters on the underside of leaves is caused by scale, tiny oval-shaped insects. On ferns the scale are white.

Swabbing the scale with denatured alcohol will alcohol is recommended).

down to earth

control it if caught in time, otherwise the plants will yellow and die.

AND FINALLY, fungus gnat - these are soilbreeding insects that look like tiny black flies, while the larvae look like tiny worms. Look for them on the soil surface and in the top inch of soil. A gentle washing with warm, soapy water followed with a clear rinse will often take care of most of the problems (other than the cases where

The most conservative approach is always best. When you do need to use pesticides, follow the directions exactly, and use those recommended for the specific insects that you need to control.

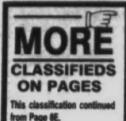

Our next subject will be diseases or "hurts" your plants may have.

A SPECIAL series of classes to provide an overview on starting and maintaining a plant nursery is being offered in response to numerous inquiries at the County Extension Offices.

The four-part series is scheduled for Feb. 12, 15, 19, and 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at a location near I-75 and US-23. Cost: $35 each, or $120 for the series. Lunch and refreshments are included. For further information, call 858-0887 (Pontiac) or 732-1474 (Flint). The series will be presented by Mary Wilson, Genesee horticulture agent and Greg Patchen, Oakland horticulture agent.

Johnson Controls Automotive Systems Group Technology Center in Plymouth features a double arch that accents the center's main entrance. The building was selected by the Construction Association of Michigan as one of 10 winning projects.

Construction industry struts local winners

Some insiders at the Constrction Association of Michigan refer o the process as their Academy Awads building projects annually seicted by the membership as premie examples of quality design and caftsmanship.

All but one of 10 winners this ear have a connection with Obserer & Eccentric communities.

"We wanted to give some reogni-tion to contractors, subcontrictors and suppliers who build projets," Brenda Zimmerman, assocition spokeswoman, said of the contes.

A nominated project must ave been built within the past four yars. Both the contractor and archiect must be based in Michigan.

Photographs, renderings and iodels of the winners will be displyed at the association's annual exposition Feb. 13-14 at the Pontiac Silver-

"We purposely have not set qualified or measureable criteria," said James Kostrava, chairman of CAM Expo '91. "It really is a subjective thing. Whatever their opinion is this is an excellent project in Michigan — is good enough for us.

"It's our top award. This is the one award given from the whole broad scope of the industry."

All of the association's more than 3,000 members, plus several hundred architects and engineers were asked to list three projects. Ballots were tabulated, winners announced. Descriptions of the buildings were provided by CAM. They include:

• BASF Corp., Coatings & Colorants Division, Southfield.

A total of $43 million was spent on 228,000 square feet of new research and development space, renovation of 45,000 square feet of existing space and a new 332-car parking

The exterior of the building re-flects the high-tech image of BASF through a sleek network of smooth, square bricks, ribbons of glass and punched windows. The entrance is accented by a blue-tinted glass curof the building.

• Philip A. Hart Middle School, Rochester Hills.

This project, 160,000 square feet costing $13 million, includes classrooms, media center, lecture hall, two gyms, cafetorium, special ed facilities and provisions for electronic dissemination of educational infor-

Outdoor facilities include a track and field complex, football, baseball, three softball fields and tennis

Photographs, renderings and jodels of the winners will be displyed at the association's annual exposition Feb. 13-14 at the Pontiac Silver-

"We purposely have not set qualified or measureable criteria," said James Kostrava, chairman of CAM Expo '91. "It really is a subjective thing. Whatever their opinion is this is an excellent project in Michigan - is good enough for us.

"It's our top award. This is the one award given from the whole broad scope of the industry."

All of the association's more than s several nundi architects and engineers were asked to list three projects. Ballots were tabulated, winners announced. Descriptions of the buildings were provided by CAM.

They include:

• BASF Corp., Coatings & Colorants Division, Southfield.

A total of $43 million was spent on 228,000 square feet of new research and development space, renovation of 45,000 square feet of existing space and a new 332-car parking structure.

The exterior of the building reflects the high-tech image of BASF through a sleek network of smooth, square bricks, ribbons of glass and punched windows. The entrance is accented by a blue-tinted glass curtain wall curving toward the of the building.

Carpet stairs with quiet (AP) - Stairs leading directly peting a stairway with a closed wall as if the landing were one deep step. Ideally, cover the landing and the from a living room or central hallway can look more attractive and inviting when carpeted.

And, a carpeted stairway will quiet your home by softening footsteps and absorbing sound waves. Carpeted stairs are safer, too, lessening your chances of slipping. Avoid utility-grade carpeting. Stairways get heavy wear, especially along the tread nosing. Choose an easy-to-clean variety with a dense pile. Carpet with attached cushion backing is cheaper and easier to put down, but isn't recommended for Since you want a long, narrow runner, you may be able to buy remnants of high-quality carpeting at much less than the going rate for a room-size piece. The runner need not be one length. Two or more sections can hide the seam under the tread nosing where it will be unnoticeable. Remember, the pile on each piece should always lie facing toward the bottom of the stairs. Both ascending and descending, the pressure of your foot is mostly toward the tread nosing, so unless the pile faces the same way, wear will be excessive. Feel pile direction by running your hand lightly across the carpet.

The most common method for caron one side and open balusters at the other is to roll both edges under, allowing about one inch from the wall with 1 % inches roll-under at the edges. If your carpeting won't unravel at a cut edge, you can butt it against the sidewall without roll-under.

DETERMINE the total length of the runner by measuring one tread and one riser, wrapping the tape measure around the nosing and holding it against the riser below the tread with your thumb. Add 1 inch to allow for the thickness of the padding under the carpet. Multiply this figure by the number of steps. Remember to allow extra carpeting if your runner is in two or more sections, since each section must join under a tread nosing.

To get width, measure from the wall to the base of the balusters, or whatever portion of the step you will be covering. Add 2½ inches for rolling the edges under — 1½ inches for each side. Since you will probably need to trim at least one edge along the runner's length, allow an additional inch for this. If your carpeting has irregular edges be sure your has irregular edges, be sure you have enough material to trim the full length of both sides straight.

A.J. Etkin Construction of Farmington Hills was the general contrac-tor, Roy G. French Associates the designer.

 Walsh College, Troy.
This $3.2-million project involved an addition of 32,400 square feet and renovation to 8,000 square feet.

The work touched on virtually every aspect of the building. Classrooms and a new entrance were added, while existing interior spaces received a facelift.

Louis G. Redstone Associates of Livonia designed the project.

Area firms were involved with other winning projects:

Harley, Ellington, Pierce, Yee Associates of Southfield was the designer, A.J. Etkin the contractor for a 305,000-square-foot office/prototype building for ITT Automotive in Auburn Hills.

Kenneth Neumann/Joel Smith & Associates of Southfield was a designer on Pointe Plaza, a $26-million mixed-use retail/office project in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Barton-Malow of Southfield was general contractor for a 380,000square-foot NBD Technology Center in Van Buren Township.

Isn't It A Shame?

You had no idea, did you, that a seemingly harmless piece of plastic could become an implement of death to an innocent sea creature? Yet it happens. unfortunately, on a grand scale.

Tons of plastic material are lost or dumped into the oceans each year, imperiling the lives of hundreds of thousands of aquatic animals.

Plastic bags; six-pack yokes, fishing nets and other materials can trap fish, mammals, turtles and birds, causing death by drowning or strangulation. Sometimes animals get sick or starve when they eat plastic that they mistake for food.

But plastics pollution is preventable.
