After Joseph Ryan received probation for leaving the scene of an injury accident that killed a Canton teen, the girl's mother had to be restrained from attacking Ryan's wife, Mary.

As Debbie Chisholm was leaving the courtroom Friday, she passed Mary Ryan, pointed her finger and told her she couldn't say "those things" about her daughter.

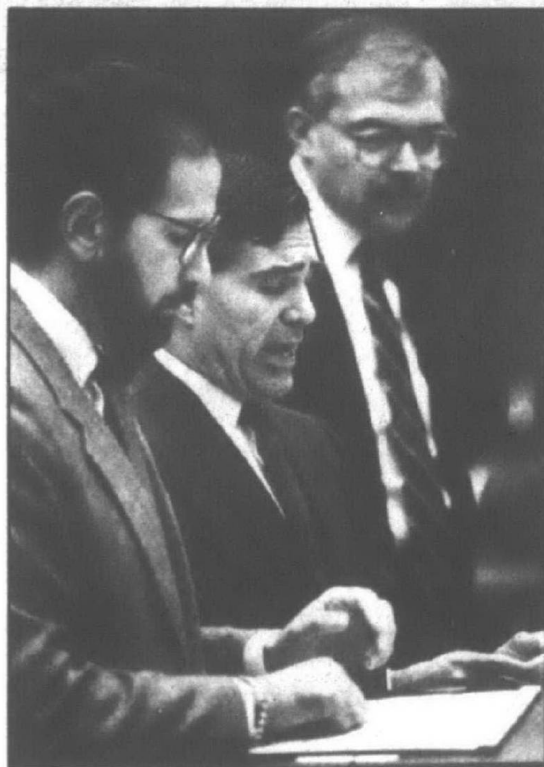

She referred to comments Mary Ryan made to police about Melissa being "cocky" and having an attitude that people should automatically get out of her way.

Debbie Chisholm was hysterical when she tried to re-enter the courtroom to continue her conversation with Mary Ryan. Chisholm's husband and brother restrained her.

THE RYAN AND Chisholm families had been neighbors before the Ryans moved from Canton to Plymouth Township.

Mary Ryan said she had no comment as she left the courtroom with her daughter, who is one of four Ryan children.

Clerk expects an average voter turnout

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Some challengers are slamming city commission incumbents, and the airport issue is going before the people.

Still, the election Tuesday should draw only an average voter turnout, says Plymouth's city clerk.

"For this type of election, the returns on the absentee ballots are normal," said city clerk Linda Langmesser, on one indicator of voter interest.

On another indicator, "I don't think the candidates are real controversial," Langmesser said. Neither the candidates nor the charter amendment have generated many calls or visitors with questions to city hall.

"I'M PREDICTING a 20 percent turnout. I hope it will be higher," Langmesser said. There are more than 7,200 registered voters in the city.

Through Wednesday, 683 absentee ballots had been sent out and 452 returned.

Voters can pick up absentee ballots today. If they do, "We ask that they vote here at city hall, but they can return the ballots up until the close of polls Tuesday at 8 p.m.," Langmesser said.

Polls open at 7 a.m. Election results will likely be tabulated 45 minutes to one hour after the polls close.

Voters will be asked to choose four of seven candidates for the city commission.

The candidates are incumbents Robert Jones and Ron Loiselle, and challengers William McAninch, Douglas Miller, Dennis Shrewsbury, Rosita Smith and Ken Way.

The three highest vote getters get four-year terms, the fourth-highest gets a two-year term.

Voters in precincts 1, 4 and 5 cast votes at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. Precinct 2 voters vote at Starkweather Elementary School, 550 N. Holbrook.

Precinct 3 voters cast ballots at Central Middle School, 650 Church.

Mayor bows out of city's politics

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Mayor Jack Kenyon, who moved to Plymouth as a boy in the late 1920s, oversees his last commission meeting tonight.

Kenyon, 66, decided not to seek re-election. "I didn't want to be on the commission when I'm 68 or 70 years old," he explained.

He served nine years on the commission, and was named mayor when Dennis Bila resigned his commission seat last spring.

"I WANTED TO restore the commission as a team after Dennis resigned," Kenyon said. "Things have calmed down."

After living briefly in the city, Kenyon's family moved in 1933 to a 10-acre farm on Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth Township. While his older brothers milked cows, "My specialty was cleaning out the manure," he said.

In the '30s and '40s, Plymouth "was a very traditional small town."

Commissioner ends long career

After serving 14 years on the Plymouth City Commission, Mary Childs will take her seat for the last time at the Monday commission meeting.

"I've enjoyed doing what I did, and hopefully added to the community," said Childs, who attended her 50th high school class reunion last week.

City law prevents her and others who serve two consecutive commission terms from seeking a third consecutive term. But that doesn't mean she can't run again.

Will she? "I don't know — You'd have to wait two years (for the next election) and see how things go," she said.

SO FOR AT least two years, res-

Army airman rests in peace after 47 years

By Bill Sliger
special writer

At 3:20 p.m. July 10, 1944, an American Army Air Corps B-26 Marauder medium bomber is flying in formation enroute to its target, a railroad bridge in northern Italy.

The aircraft sustains a direct hit at 10,700 feet. The left wing is torn off just outside the engine. The plane slips into a 60-degree right bank, levels off, loses altitude and dives into a densely wooded mountainous area, crashes and explodes with its full bomb load.

No parachutes emerged from the aircraft. On board the plane was Staff Sgt. Wesley B. Hoffman, the son of Clarence and Flossy Hoffman of Livonia.

At 10 a.m. July 9, 1991, in Northville Township, Mich., a mortuary program specialist from the United States Department of the Army explains to Bill and Lois McAllister of Northville, Warren Hoffman of Menominee and C.A. Hoffman of Plymouth that their brother, Staff Sgt. Wesley B. Hoffman, can now be given a proper burial.

Sergeant Hoffman, a gunner-radio operator on the Marauder, was flying his 51st mission of a 50-mission duty assignment.

THE HOFFMANS — with the exception of Lois — attended his funeral at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in 1949.

"I was pregnant and had rheumatic fever and couldn't get out of bed," said Lois McAllister, who, along with her husband, Bill, owns and operates McAllister Brothers Market on Northville Road in Plymouth Township.

It was Douglas L. Howard, a specialist whose job it is to notify next of kin and arrange for proper burial, who first contacted Lois McAllister in Northville Township last summer.

Howard, a mortuary program specialist at the Casualty and Memorial Affairs Operations Center in Alexandria, Va., told her that remains of her brother, Wesley, had been found.

Lois McAllister said her first thought was what kind of hoax is this? She called U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell's office. Staff members checked it out and said Howard was for real. How could the young airman, declared missing-in-action 47 years ago, twice buried in Italy and re-buried with his crewmen in their home base, suddenly be rediscovered?

Credit the determination of Bruno Bartolotti and Sauro Becchi. The latter witnessed the crash in 1944 as a boy in his native village near the site.

Sgt. Wesley Hoffman

Immediately following the crash Germans kept the curious away. They had buried remains of crew members in three graves. In 1947 the graves were discovered. American specialists determined that the remains were mixed and specific identifications would not be made. A group burial took place at the U.S. Military Cemetery in Castelfiorentino, Italy.

IN 1949 the remains were transferred to the crew's home base at Jefferson Barracks.

But in 1990 Bartolotti and Becchi set out to explore the rugged area again. They remembered that two years after the plane crashed, two more bombs exploded at the site. They expected to find parts of weapons.

Instead they discovered human bones and an identification tag: Murray B. Wiginton, O-687724, the pilot of the B-26.

The find was reported to American officials and a search and recovery team was dispatched from the Frankfurt Mortuary to the remote site near Bologna.

Guided by the Italian explorers, the team arrived at the site described in the report as "on Monte Giovine, San Marzabato in a heavily wooded area of sappings with approximately a 60-degree incline on the mountain side."

The specialists inventoried and photographed each discovery at the site, including the ID tag, a medal bearing the inscription "Woolridge Sunnyvale, Calif.," and numerous body parts. The inventory lists more than that two dozen parts.

The detailed report included color photographs of the area.

The newly discovered material was forwarded to the United States Central Identification Laboratory in Hawaii, where experts made positive identification. Dental molars found at the site belonged to Hoffman.

On July 9, one day short of the 47th anniversary of the fatal crash, the remaining family members sat down to determine the final resting place for Staff Sgt. Wesley B. Hoffman.

WESLEY HOFFMAN was the oldest of the four children of Clarence and Flossy Hoffman of Livonia. The Hoffmans, a proud, close-knit, Midwestern family, were all athletically inclined.

Clarence Hoffman owned Livonia Lanes on Plymouth Road. While the family lived in Livonia the children attended Plymouth schools. The Hoffman kids were excellent bowlers. Lois bowled for a professional team. Upon graduation from Plymouth High School in 1940, Wesley worked for his dad. But he was quick to sign up when the war broke out the next year.

"We were all so proud of Wes. My parents never said a word about the fact that he was killed flying his 51st mission, when he was only supposed to fly 50. But it always bothered me. I loved him very much."

The senior Hoffmans died more than a decade ago.

In their family meeting with Howard, the family was given a choice of where to bury their brother's remains. They chose Arlington National Cemetery. On Oct. 1, a full military service was held.

In addition to the immediate family and their spouses were the McAllister's daughter and son-in law, Karen and John Romeri and their children Angela and John; Wesley Hoffman and Jill Hoffman Schick, Warren's children; and Congressman Carl Pursell and his executive secretary Diane Williams. C.A.'s daughter, Patty, a teacher in Anchorage, Alaska, was unable to attend.

Family members were given flags flown over the capitol in honor of Hoffman and a book containing all the details of the crash and the events leading to the latest discovery.

Howard explained that the search for missing U.S. service personnel is a continuing effort. He said there are groups of volunteers who regularly explore battle areas, particularly in the South Pacific.

In his day-to-day routine Howard said the discovery of the remains of Hoffman and his fellow crew members was not unusual.

The event was unusual for the surviving family members, however. It brought the past rushing back. Lois still has all the belongings that her brother left behind in his foot locker. Even Howard thought that was unusual. And he has written letters of thanks to Bartolotti and Becchi.

"You can't believe the patience and professionalism of Spec. Howard, and the help of Congressman Pursell and his staff. Everyone was so considerate."

And this time she didn't miss her brother's funeral.

Bill Sliger, former owner of the Northville Record Newspaper, is a longtime friend of the McAllister family.

International relations classes at Canton High School re-enacted the Middle East peace conference taking place in Madrid, Spain.

Students barter for Mideast peace

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

The negotiator from the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip told Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Arens "If we agree to be demilitarized, we will pose no threat to you at all. We want the settlement to stop, and we want to establish our own Arab constitution."

"You must be insane," replied Arens. "You are trying to erase in one day thousands of years of hate and fear between us. There is no way the more extreme Israeli and Arab groups will ever be able to live together."

THE EXCHANGE didn't take place at last week's Middle East Peace Conference in Madrid — though it very well could have.

Before taking on the roles of Egyptian, Israeli, Jordanian, Lebanese, Palestinian, Syrian, Soviet and American leaders, international relations students at Plymouth Canton High School studied the history of the Middle East.

As the peace conference began, tension thickened and tempers of mortal enemies flared. Teachers Audrey Etienne and Arlene Paquette did their best to keep a lid on things, and students skipped their lunches and other classes (with permission) to continue the debate.

"THE STUDENTS are trying to keep it as realistic as possible and yet see if they have the power to go further than they are in the real world," said Etienne, who's publishing "The Middle East Times" each day to keep delegates abreast of developments.

"Syria is going after the Golan Heights, and that's a higher priority to them than a Palestinian state," she said during a five-minute caucus called by Soviet Defense Minister Yevgeny Shaposhnikov (Salem senior Kristin Randall).

"Lebanon is trying to get Israel to withdraw from a 15-mile security zone they have. Jordan is trying to get a Palestinian state. Egypt is trying to exercise leadership of the Arab world."

"THE PLO is in a hotel room in Madrid because Israel won't let them in. They're having a hard time keeping Arab unity. I think that's true in the real world, too," added Etienne.

During a momentary absence from her students' simulation, Paquette said, "Right now, King Fahd is losing his mind he's so angry. There are some problems between Israel and Syria, but I understand Syria is being pressured by the United States to compromise with Israel."

You might think these students are Jim Morrison and Stu Levenbach. But during Canton High School's simulated peace conference, they were Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir and Defense Minister Moshe Arens.

As the talks resumed, Jordan asked Israel, "don't you realize it (the violence) is a result of Israel invading our homes and treating us badly?"

Answered Arens, "You have created your own problems. Israel is agreeing to release people who are victims of your own problems."

ISRAEL PUT FOUR requests on the table. The Israelis asked that:

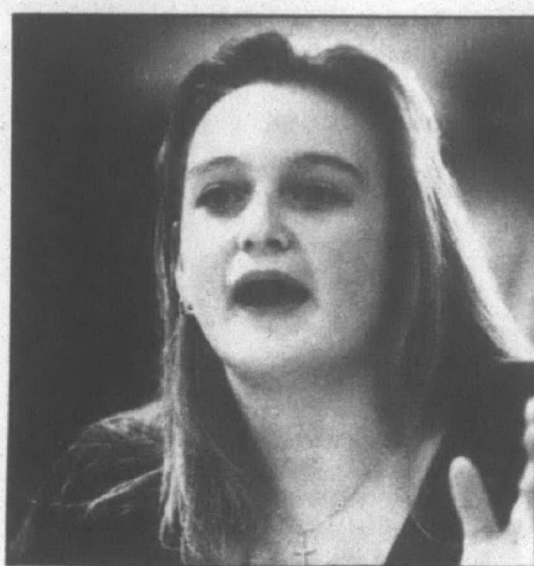

- Israeli territory be expanded,
- Any Palestinian state be demilitarized,
- There be Jews and Palestinians in the Palestinian state, and
- They be allowed to keep the Golan Heights for defense purposes.

Lebanese President Elias Hrawi (Todd Kearney) moved for another conference to continue the talks.

Soviet Defense Minister Yevgeny Shaposhnikov (Kristin Randall), seemed to sum up the thoughts of most students, calling the conference "really great. I didn't really know much about the peace conference, but now we have done this simulation and learned so much we can actually keep up with what's going on and have an opinion."

IS THERE a reasonable hope that 43 years of war among these ancient adversaries can end?

"I couldn't even tell you, because there has been so much conflict. I don't think it's impossible," the defense minister said. "It's possible, but there is just so much, so many issues. If it happens like this class, they're going to get mad at the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. for having an opinion about things because they're not an Arab country."

"You keep building up your military," Jordanian delegate Jeanine Ciantar told Israeli representatives at the peace conference. "How are we going to negotiate with someone who is so worried?"

Teen's mom hysterical after driver sentenced

Ryan, 39, was sentenced Friday morning by Recorder's Judge Michael Sapala to four years' probation, a $2,000 fine, court costs and 250 hours in community service. The judge placed no restrictions on his license.

Ryan applied to work with a criminal justice ministry sponsored by the Archdiocese of Detroit, defense attorney Howard Wallach said.

Ryan read an emotional statement to Sapala before sentencing: "I fled. And I realize I made a horrible mistake."

"I'm sorry it took me so long to come forward," Ryan said. "During this time my family has suffered a financial setback and emotional trauma. But our pain is small compared to the Chisholms' because they lost Melissa."

"Words, especially from me, fall far short of consoling. I have to say that I'm sorry. From the beginning of this to today and days to come, you have my prayers and God grant you peace."

DEBBIE CHISHOLM occasionally broke down and sobbed as she questioned Ryan's sincerity and pleaded with Sapala to give him the maximum penalty, which would have been five years' probation and community service as agreed upon through a plea bargain with the Wayne County prosecutor's office.

Before the plea bargain the charge carried up to five years in prison and/or a $5,000 fine.

The charge was leaving the scene of an injury accident.

Because Melissa, 14, had crossed against the light, Ryan was not charged with manslaughter, police said. It's unlikely that Ryan would have been charged at all had he stopped the night of the accident, police said.

Debbie Chisholm, however, blamed Ryan for tormenting her family by not coming forward until 15 months after the accident and only because an anonymous caller had tipped police.

"I believe to this day that Mr. Ryan would continue on with his life as he had done prior to that," Debbie Chisholm said. "He was only remorseful because he had been caught. All he had to do was stop."

"It makes me feel that it was not an accident. Knowing his driving record, I think he was doing something beforehand and had no control of the car. If it were truly an accident he would have come forward."

"I do not feel that Joe Ryan should be on the road driving and he should have training. His record shows that he is not a good driver and has many points."

"This has to have an effect on his life. He can't just turn around and act like nothing happened. Joe Ryan has to somehow pay for his poor judgment that night and his poor judgment for the last 15 months."

THE ACCIDENT happened at 10 p.m. May 14, 1990. Witnesses said Melissa and her sister, Amy, were crossing Ford Road on a red light when Melissa was struck.

Debbie Chisholm was accompanied in court by her husband, Joseph, who suffered his third major heart attack last month, a few days after Ryan was arraigned in Recorder's Court.

Debbie Chisholm said she believed that Mary and Joseph Ryan were only concerned with their own well being and "not with ours" and that explains why they didn't come forward sooner.

While explaining Ryan's sentence, Sapala said there was no evidence of Ryan drinking or having used drugs the night of the accident.

"There is not one scintilla of evidence that the defendant was legally or morally responsible for the death of this child," Sapala said.

HE ADDED, however, that since Ryan didn't come forward until long after the accident, it put the Chisholms through a lot of unnecessary and additional torment.

Meanwhile, Ryan's daughter sat next to her mother and cried during much of the proceedings. Friends were there for support, too.

Norman McClellan said he became acquainted with Ryan through the Christian Businessman's Committee.

"We sat many mornings crying and praying with him," McClellan said, adding that the group also has been praying for the Chisholm family.

"We've been praying that the remorse and anger that she feels could be put away. That in and of itself could deepen the tragedy in her life."

Debbie Chisholm's brother, Eric Johnson, and his wife, Hildy Corbett, flanked the Chisholms in court.

Corbett noted that the Chisholms have attended support groups to help them deal with their grief; however, they can't afford counseling, "unlike, Joe Ryan, who's an executive with General Motors," she said.

Johnson said he believed the court system failed. "They were in a hurry to get this off the docket."

Johnson added that his sister is fighting to deal with the ordeal.

"She's very strong, and we're very proud of her."

United Way drive behind pace

There's less than a month to go, and the 1991 Plymouth Community United Way fund drive is just a bit behind the projected pace.

"We're probably fairly close to target," said campaign chairman James Connelly.

This year's campaign goal — the drive ends Nov. 30 — is $510,000. "We're at the 60 percent mark," Connelly said, as organizers have so far collected "a little over $300,000."

"We've done a little better with Ford, Unisys, Michigan Bell and Detroit Edison, with good support from the Plymouth Canton schools," he said.

"We could use a boost from the merchants, the professionals, the residents and government. We need them with us," Connelly added.

THE BIGGEST obstacle to fundraising this year is the perception that the economy is down. "It's a very tough year for them, we realize they're strapped. But there's a lot of need out there."

Money raised supports 16 local agencies, and through the United Way of Michigan, an additional 21 state-national agencies that help local people.

"When the economy's down, these organizations need a boost. Those of us who are working have a little more ability to give," Connelly said.

Will they reach the goal? "We're hopeful, we're praying," he said.

Adistra Corp. is set to be the campaign closer. "They'll hopefully help out by putting us over the top," Connelly said.

Kenyon bows out of Plymouth's politics

Downtown had the rich variety of grocery stores, meat markets and hardware stores, things you would like to have back, but they probably won't because they would be back if they wanted."

While there wasn't the number of special events there is now in Kellogg Park, he recalls ceremonies for Memorial Day. "There would be speeches and probably a band. We used to climb around on the cannon," he said, which has since been moved to Old Village.

"Old Village was an active commercial area with grocery stores, meat markets and there was a bank," he recalled.

Kenyon retired three years ago from his job as an engineer with Ford Motor Co. Before starting at Ford, he got his first experience in local government serving as assistant city manager-engineer for Clawson. He had earned a graduate degree in public administration.

But after a year and a half, "I found that municipal work at that time didn't pay like I thought it should," he said.

WHILE LIVING BRIEFLY in Pennsylvania, Kenyon renewed his interest in government by serving as sewer authority chairman for Upper Dublin. Why the interest in municipal government?

"I'm compelled to participate to repay to the community some for the benefits that I have derived from the community. People have an obligation to participate, to contribute and not be part of the problem."

"Government in general should do things for people they can't do for themselves, public safety is one of the big things," he said, and maintaining streets and sewers. "These are the basic necessities."

"Government should, if the resources are available and if the populace wants to do it, should go into other things like the ice fest."

On serving as Mayor, "It's a nice ego trip," he said, smiling. "I like the idea of if not implementing, at least promoting my ideas of what city government should do."

While Kenyon served as mayor during the latter stages of the Mettetal Airport controversy, he'll also be remembered for presenting plenty of proclamations, with a certain flair.

While mayors most often use a standard text for proclamations, Kenyon would write his own, full of mayoral puffery and even a touch of eloquence.

"Never say something in one sentence when you can say it in two," he explained.

RECIPIENTS RANGED from a handicapped boy who secured several donations for the Brandy Pet Walk, to citizens who challenge the commission with questions at each meeting.

"I think there are a lot of under-appreciated people and activities, and this was a chance to appreciate them," he said.

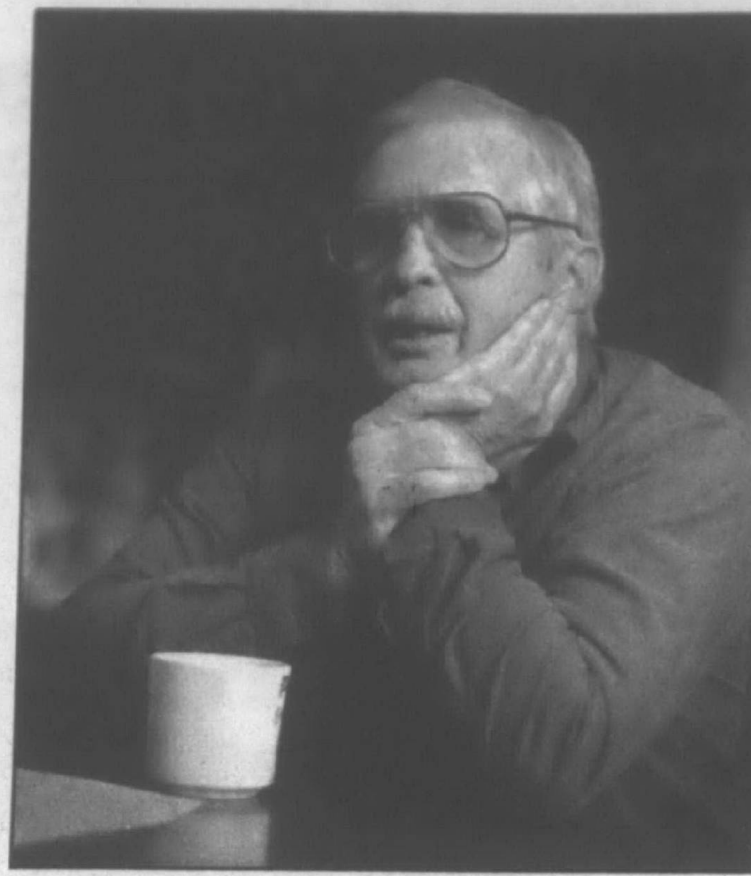

On positives during his tenure as mayor, Kenyon said, "We finally resolved this sticky problem with (Henry) Graper, settled the Talbot controversy and settled the airport problem. We also got a new city manager."

Of things that could have been done better, "I thought we had the deficit pretty well behind us, but that came back. Of course, there was Farmer Jack and the post office."

On the latter issue, "When there are two levels of government, you just have no control. When you're working with the feds, they're a hard bunch to work with. Nobody will say, 'I'm in charge, it's my decision.'"

Kenyon offered advice to new commissioners. "Do your homework, study your packets, study your charter, ask questions of the city manager and the other commissioners. Utilize the Michigan Municipal League — they're there to help you."

Upon leaving the commission, Kenyon said he expects to volunteer for the historical society and museum, adding he and wife Jackie like to attend lectures in Ann Arbor.

Smokers rights bill heads to Senate

By Tim Richard
staff writer

To some it's a civil rights issue. To others it's heresy. A "smokers rights" bill is on its way to a stormy debate in the Michigan Senate after being winning 4-1 approval in the Labor Committee.

"We've reached the point where a line has to be drawn. It's becoming absurd. People who smoke off the job should not be penalized for smoking, which is a legal act," said sponsor Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, a cigarette smoker.

Dillingham's bill — already much amended and destined for more — would prohibit employers from discriminating against tobacco users in hiring, promotion and firing.

"A STEP backwards," said Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, the lone no vote. "It's terrible public policy. It sends the wrong message. In my 18 years in the Legislature, we have moved to discourage smoking.

You're requiring employers to take in someone who will raise their (insurance) costs."

"It's progress," countered Sen. George Z. Hart, D-Deerborn, who voted yes. "This separates work (where employers can prohibit smoking) from home." Hart is a non-smoker who prohibits smoking in his car.

"We allow free people to take risks in the privacy of their homes or outside the workplace, however foolish," added panel chair David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, another non-smoker who voted yes. Without the bill, he said, employers could police people's personal lives.

"When my mother comes over," Honigman added, "I make her go out in the garage (to smoke), even when it's cold out."

ANTI-SMOKERS lodged a vigorous last-minute battle before the Labor Committee recently. "It's an unwarranted governmental intrusion into the employer's rights," said Albert Zack, Farmington Hills resident and retired Livonia Franklin High principal, representing the American Cancer Society.

"Employers have a legitimate interest in not hiring smokers at all," Zack said, arguing every smoker costs the employer $5,000 a year more in health benefits, disability and early retirement. Asked Honigman: "Should you be able to fire someone for smoking in their own home?"

"I don't think that's what the bill does," answered Zack.

But Honigman said that was indeed the issue — whether an employer could fire, refuse to hire or fail to promote a person who smokes outside the workplace.

The bill allows employers to charge tobacco users for part company-paid life and health insurance.

Dean Tritoby, director of the Jackson County Health Department, admitted discriminating against smokers in hiring. "It's hypocritical to promote health and have employees who smoke," he said.

DILLINGHAM said he pushed the issue after learning of a couple of cases of firing and seeing help-wanted ads that specified non-smokers. He said many smokers called him with their stories because they were afraid to testify publicly.

Much of the debate concerned the definition of "workplace." Should it include outdoor areas? What about smoking in cars from the workplace to a business meeting? What about a work-related luncheon?

As amended, the bill defines workplace as "an area owned or operated by an employer or serving as a place of work for employees."

Dillingham said that broad definition could include a person who does company work at home.

Dillingham argued the glut of amendments amounted to "simple attempts to kill the bill."

Postmasters urge residents to mail early

It may not be Thanksgiving time yet, but it's time for people sending Christmas packages or letters overseas to start planning.

Early as it may seem, Wayne, Westland and Canton postmaster Lloyd Wesley Jr. said deadlines are fast approaching for sending the holiday items by surface mail if they are to arrive before the holidays. Surface mail is cheaper but takes more time than air mail.

"The sooner customers give us their mail for international destinations, the quicker we can arrange for its transportation abroad," Wesley said, in a statement.

SURFACE MAIL TO Alaska, the Middle East and Southeast Asia should be sent by Nov. 1, for example.

International mailing deadlines have also been announced for air mail. Air mail packages and letters to Europe, Australia and the Far East should leave by Dec. 2, Army and Air Force Post Office packages should be mailed even earlier. Packages and letters to the Middle East should be posted by Nov. 15 and Nov. 25, respectively.

More information about specific deadlines are available at your local post office.

On Tuesday Four are best for commission

PLYMOUTH residents get their chance Tuesday to either move Plymouth into the future, or halt change and allow other communities to pass us by.

For that reason, we urge voters to cast ballots for Douglas Miller, Ronald Loiselle, Robert Jones and Dennis Shrewsbury. These candidates for city commission grasp the issues facing the city and are prepared to look forward to help shape a vital Plymouth.

Seven are vying for four spots on the commission. The top three vote-getters get four-year terms, the fourth-highest vote-getter gets a two-year term.

We hope Miller, Loiselle and Jones are the top three finishers, the most deserving of the longer terms.

MILLER, AS evidenced by his work on the planning commission and historic district commission, has shown an ability to direct his energies toward activities that really help residents and their city. He has energy and a knack for getting things done.

Loiselle and Jones, as incumbents, bring experience in commission government and have demonstrated attention to fiscal matters. This is important as the city seeks to keep taxes down while maintaining services. Shrewsbury is qualified for the job and shows an enthusiasm to do right by residents.

We also urge voters to cast a "no" vote on the charter amendment. A "no" vote will reject the notion that a public vote should be scheduled to allow the city to become involved in the public ownership of an airport — specifically Mettetal Airport.

It's the job of commissioners elected by resi-

Prosecution of pornography is applauded

To the editor:
This is in response to your editorial (Oct. 17) entitled, "Hands Off! Prosecutor wrong on obscenity." I strongly disagree and say, "Hooray" for the Wayne County Prosecutor!

The massive raid in Livonia on perhaps the largest warehouse of obscene materials in the Midwest was long overdue. They found that more than $68 million worth of pornographic materials are housed in that particular building. This warehouse has been supplying video outlets throughout Michigan and 10 other states for a number of years. It is as if there were no law against the dissemination of hardcore, illegal pornography.

You stated: "Despite the huge amount of material involved and the large number of police officers who participated in the raid, the owners of General Video have been charged only with misdemeanors."

"That's a good tip that the scales between what the prosecutor believes is his right to judge obscene and the number of officers involved just don't balance."

I believe it is not only the prosecutor's right but his duty to do what he did. Doesn't it bother you that prosecutors can't effectively prosecute the disseminators of pornography in our state? Doesn't it bother you that Michigan is considered the second largest haven for pornographers in America? Doesn't it bother you that county prosecutors can't effectively prosecute Deja Vu outlets because of ineffective tools?

If it does bother you then during the next couple of days, call or write your state representatives and senators asking them to vigorously support strengthened obscenity legislation such as House Bill 5148.

Without this legislation, it is going to continue to be difficult for prosecutors to bring charges against pornographers.

Barbara Schmid,
Canton

Gays want picket fence lifestyle

To the editor:
There are several points that should be cleared up in response to your article on gays and lesbians.

First, President Bush's comments on AIDS that gays should stop doing what they are doing is sound advice if no protection against AIDS is followed. Unfortunately, tens of thousands were infected years ago when the Reagan administration expressed mild indifference to the disease.

Second, much verbal and physical abuse directed against lesbians and gays is carried out on the assumption that a victim is gay or lesbian. This is indeed not always the case. If a civil rights amendment were passed and enforced there would be many heterosexuals protected against discrimination based on a wrongful assumption.

Additionally, you ask who will discriminate unless lesbians and gays make an issue of their orientation. Why should gays have to refrain from displays of affection in public when heterosexuals are often admired for it?

Third, you don't understand the lesbian or gay mind or you wouldn't devote the majority of your column to non-issues for us. In all my years working for gay rights I have never heard the demand or the suggestion that quotas be imposed. All we want is the right to protection of that which we hold dear; non-discrimination. No quotas, no scholarships.

Finally, why shouldn't lesbians and gays be allowed to marry? Groups that espouse "family values" should eagerly support seeing gays and lesbians become monogamous. We want the white picket fence, pets, and the American dream, too. Conservatives are hypocrites on "family values" when they deny us that right.

One other point on Social Security. You forget gays and lesbians pay Social Security taxes and income taxes like anyone else. If we can't enjoy the same liberties and programs afforded heterosexuals, then please cut our taxes.

Twenty years ago, I spent a year of my life proudly flying 210 missions in Southeast Asia as a fighter pilot. Back then I lived in dread of having my sexual orientation exposed. And you say we "have all the rights the rest of you have" — for shame.

When there is a rainout it is pretty rough filling out that space, so I can really appreciate Jeff Counts' editorials.

That man can really fill up space without saying anything.

VOTE "YES" Tuesday, November 5th Solid Waste Bond Proposal

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE OAKLAND COUNTY SOLID WASTE BOND PROPOSAL.....

- FACT Nearly 4,000 tons of household waste are produced every day in Oakland County, and we will run out of current landfill space in less than 18 months.
- FACT Without passage of the proposal, 6-10 new landfills will have to be built in Oakland County. Passage of the proposal means that no new landfills will have to be sited for at least 20 years!
- FACT THIS IS NOT A TAX INCREASE, but a bond issue. This proposal is similar to other bond issues that have funded drains and sewers throughout the county.
- FACT The whole program will be paid for with revenues from the sale of electricity and recyclable products and from "tipping fees" at the various facilities, and not with county property taxes. The entire program will cost less than the cost of continued landfills.
- FACT Your property taxes will not go up one penny because of this bond issue. The county has never raised taxes because of a project built by money from a bond issue.
- FACT The comprehensive program supported by the bond issue includes reduction, recycling, composting and conversion of waste-to-energy that will also reduce our dependency on foreign oil.
- FACT Passage of the program will mean county-wide recycling that will reduce solid waste by 30% by the year 1995 and by 50% by 2005, as well as composting of leaves and grass.
- FACT The waste-to-energy facility meets or better the most stringent guidelines of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Commission member ends her long career idents who attend twice-a-month commission meetings won't be hearing her upbeat reports on goings-on about town.

During those reports, she'd typically commend residents for holiday-related decorations, urge folks to buy U.S. flags and fly them during appropriate holidays, or point out something positive youths were doing.

But she's also been known to challenge other commissioners with a terse comment, and to strongly defend commission decisions when challenged.

Because she's such an upbeat promoter of Plymouth, it was surprising when Childs, a Hamilton, Ohio, native, said she wasn't impressed with her first look at the city 29 years ago.

"All I saw coming in here were all these signs on Ann Arbor Road, there were no trees," she recalled.

Childs got involved trying to beautify the area and was eventually asked to serve on the city planning commission.

"I said 'I'm not a planner, I'm a teacher,'" Childs recalled. But she served on the planning commission and recalls the day former Mayor Harold Gunther urged her to run for city commission.

"That was on a Sunday, and I had to have petitions Monday by 4 o'clock," she said, adding she turned in a sufficient number.

"My first term was a two-year term, then I went four years and stayed off two years." She said the city law preventing more than two consecutive terms "is a marvelous thing to do. That way you have new people coming in, they have new ideas."

OF GOOD THINGS the commission participated in during her tenure — Childs has also served as mayor — she cites the building of Tonquish Manor and the McCauley and Henry Ford health centers, the cultural center, expanded cemetery, DPW garage and recycling, and founding the city beautification committee, among others.

Saying several of those projects benefitted the city, she said, "It's all under Hank Graper," adding the turmoil following his resignation "needn't have happened that way."

"He got things done and he made some mistakes, but who should cast the first stone?" she asked. Instead of commissioners going to the state with concerns over Graper's expenses, commissioners should have sat down with the former city manager and spelled out concerns, she said.

The commission, she said, is "a group of people working together. I might not agree with you, but it's not fair to go off to the state telling them this — that was the biggest mistake."

"For this commission, I think the sorriest thing that happened was this airport business." Childs said it's wrong to amend the city charter to require a public vote for the city to get involved running an airport. "Who knows what will happen in the future?" she asked.

She urges more cooperation between the city, Plymouth Township and Canton. "The thing is the schools draw us together. I think there are many things we can do together. Government is getting so expensive to run," she said.

AS A 35TH District Court magistrate, Childs has performed more than 800 marriages, including a Hindu marriage. She'll continue to perform them.

"It's a real happy occasion. You see the grandmas and all the relatives. The guests that come to a wedding are in a real happy mood."

WHAT IS MYOPATHY?

When you experience aching muscles, you likely have suffered a strain or are beginning a cold. However, if aching continues, you may be developing myositis, a condition in which the muscle fibers are in a continual state of inflammation. Often, the cause is an infection, usually viral. By taking a sample of muscle, and looking at the specimen under a microscope, a physician can find the virus and prove it is the source of irritation.

If you have a 'myopathy' you have a chemical reason for your muscle difficulty. Muscles contract and repair because of a series of coordinated chemical reactions. If any of these reactions stop or slow down, you may develop weakness, stiffness, or pain, particularly after activity.

This biochemical change can occur at any age. For example, one myopathy, involving glucose, often appears after age 50.

Physicians make the diagnosis by taking a sample of muscle and subjecting it to a series of chemical stains; each stain reveals the presence of a different chemical reaction. If a reaction is missing or substantially diminished in magnitude, the specimen will fail to stain.

Knowing you have a myopathy is important. Then you can schedule activities to minimize muscle pain and limit the weakness that accompanies effort.

Salem right at home against Chiefs, 43-6

SHERRIE BUZBY/staff photographer

Leon Hister of Salem (39) caught a pass near the Canton goal line late in the first half, but it was nullified by an interference penalty.

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

An established trend in the Salem-Canton football rivalry has the home team winning and then waiting for news about a possible playoff berth.

That was the situation again Friday night as the host Rocks ripped visiting Canton 43-6 and turned their attention to the final tally of computer points in Class AA Region II.

The home team has won the last five Salem-Canton games, and the last three winners have entertained the possibility of post-season play.

It was a deja vu experience Friday for Salem, which just missed making the playoffs two years ago after beating the Chiefs 25-6 and finishing 8-1.

The Rocks were on the bubble again Friday night and waited to learn their fate. It was first thought Brighton's 24-21 upset of 7-1 Clarkston would prevent them from getting in the playoffs.

But Salem was not disappointed this time, holding fourth place in its region. The Rocks (7-2) travel to play Adrian at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Canton ends the season 3-6.

"We hope justice is served and we can go to the playoffs, because they were gyped two years ago," Salem senior quarterback Pete Zantop said. "We've won six in a row, and we feel we're going into the playoffs with a lot of momentum."

"I do and the whole team feels, as long as we have Leon Hister, we have a chance in any game. It's a team game but I'm proud to be on the same team with him, because I think he's one of the best backs I've ever seen."

Hister, who was held to 13 yards on eight carries last year, reaped havoc on the Canton defense as a sen-

football

'They controlled everything on us. They kept the ball and drove the field, and that probably hurt us psychologically.'

— Bob Khoenle
Canton coach

ior. He rushed for 175 yards on 37 attempts and scored four touchdowns. Hister, who had a pair of 1-yard TD runs and also scored from 2 and 10, has season totals of 1,431 yards and 19 touchdowns.

"We had to come back strong this year," Hister said. "I was just going to come out and play my hardest."

The Rocks also avenged a 34-0 loss to Canton last year. The Chiefs subsequently made the playoffs, edging Battle Creek Central for the fourth spot.

SALEM PLAYERS had the score of that game taped to the front of their helmets, with the number 34 in Canton red.

"It was a reminder, a motivating factor for our kids," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "The fact we got soundly thumped a year ago helped (to motivate). Our kids wanted to do the same."

"That was our rallying cry this week," Zantop said. "We felt humiliated last year, and we just wanted to get back at them. We wanted to redeem ourselves."

Salem used its grind-it-out, ball-control running game to punch out three first-half TD drives and lead 22-0 at halftime.

Hister carried 35 times for 161 yards in the first half and scored all three TDs. After punting on their first possession, the Rocks scored on their next three, driving 51, 74 and 57 yards in 10, 14 and 15 plays.

"We've been able to do that against everybody all year," Zantop said. "Nobody has been able to stop us. We felt we lost two games because we turned the ball over."

"ONE THING we did was stop the big play," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "We knew what they were going to do. We just couldn't stop them."

"They controlled everything on us. They kept the ball and drove the field, and that probably hurt us psychologically. They have a helluva team, and I hope they do well in the playoffs."

Salem's defense dominated the Chiefs in the first half, holding Canton to 14 total yards and no first downs. The Rocks ran 49 plays in the first half to Canton's 14, which included three punts. Salem had 231 of its 270 yards in the first half.

"I felt sorry for (the Salem defensive players)," Moshimer said. "We didn't give them much playing time. I told them 'The offense owes you. You've been giving us the ball in good field position and giving us a chance to put points on the board.'"

The Rocks capitalized on three Canton fumbles early in the third quarter to turn the game into a rout.

Canton fumbled on second down following the second-half kick, and Salem took three plays to score from the 25, Hister running the final 10 yards.

THE CHIEFS fumbled the next two kickoffs, and the Rocks scored each time. Ed Gundry picked up the

Eagles dethrone CC gridders, 16-15

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Charles Winters can throw a 90 mph fastball, but on Sunday night his foot speed bothered Redford Catholic Central's football team the most.

Winters, a pro pitching prospect, gained 165 yards on 21 carries and scored on an 83-yard fourth-quarter touchdown run as Detroit St. Martin De Porres beat CC, 16-15, for the Catholic League championship at the Pontiac Silverdome.

With CC ahead, 15-8, Winters took a hand-off from quarterback Maurice King, headed right, then reversed his field and outran CC's secondary for a score with 5:22 remaining. Winters' two-point conversion gave the Eagles the winning margin and revenge after losing to CC in last year's Catholic League championship.

"It was a 5-36 power run and I was trying to get outside," said Winters, who actually had to run about 100 yards on his winning TD. "I got past the first guy, but then I cut back and all there was green (turf) to the inside. It's a big thrill."

The loss ended CC's 16-game winning streak and left the Shamrocks at 8-1 overall. CC, No. 1 in the final Class AA Region III computer ratings, will meet Dearborn Fordson (7-1 overall) in a first-round playoff game at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

CC beat DePorres, 21-6, earlier this year on grass but coach Tom Mach dismissed the thought that the Eagles' speed would benefit on the Silverdome artificial turf.

"We didn't tackle very well, they ran well and that run (by Winters) could have happened anywhere, on grass or turf," Mach said. "This is a hard defeat, but we played for the championship and played nine hard games so it's not the end of the world. We just have to re-focus and try to accomplish our goals in the playoffs."

CC trailed 8-0 at halftime but scored on its first two possessions of the second half to lead for the first time. Senior wide receiver Frank Yoakam sparked the rally, getting the Shamrocks on the scoreboard with a 53-yard TD pass from junior quarterback Chris Barbara with 9:57 remaining in the third quarter.

Brett Walter's two-point conversion tied the score, 8-8.

CC recovered a De Porres fumble at the Eagle 31 with 8:31 remaining and the Shamrocks scored eight plays later on fullback Dan Gusoff's three-yard run. Kerry Zavagnin's extra point made it 15-8.

Zavagnin later lined up for a 31-yard field goal attempt but he never got a chance to kick it after a high snap from center.

De Porres coach Ron Thompson gave CC much more respect than the Shamrocks received from a group of Farmington Hills Harrison football players afterward in the corner of the end zone. Several Harrison players, wearing their varsity jackets or jerseys, were seen taunting the CC players as they exited through the Silverdome tunnel.

"When you give all you have and win by only one point, you know you've beaten a hell of a team," Thompson said. "We can't stop 84 (Yoakam). He's the only ballplayer we've faced in the last four years that we can't stop."

Meath goal lifts SC

By C.J. Riesak
staff writer

The future of Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team was clouded by doubt two weeks ago, when both Nikki Johnson and Carol Pietila went down with knee injuries in the same game.

It was uncertain whether either would be able to return to play in the NJCAA Tournament Nov. 21-24 in Trenton, N.J. Indeed, it was uncertain if the Lady Ocelots would get that far; they had to beat Central College (from McPherson, Kansas) in a district playoff to qualify.

That playoff was Saturday at SC and, although the Ocelots managed to post a last-minute 1-0 victory, their future remains uncertain.

They can go to the NJCAA Tournament — if they have a full team. Johnson's and Pietila's injuries have improved, and the prognosis now is they should be ready. The final decision must be made by Wednesday.

The win over Central would not normally seem impressive. After all, the Tigers' program is only in its second year, and when the two teams met earlier this season SC prevailed easily, 4-1.

BUT THE injuries left SC with only nine players, against Central's full complement of 11. In addition, several other Ocelots were nursing injuries and illness.

SC coach Nick O'Shea knew it would be a difficult playoff. His expectations were realized, as much by his own team's ineffectiveness as Central's advantage in numbers: For 89 minutes, frustrations mounted for the Ocelots.

Then, in the last minute of regulation, with at least 30 minutes of overtime — in weather better suited to penguins — seemingly a certainty, SC finally cashed in. Lori Place eluded two Central defenders in the right corner and punched the ball into the box.

The Tigers couldn't clear and Shannon Meath reached it at the left side. Her shot from close in got past the diving Tiger keeper and put SC's destiny in its own hands.

IN THE END, the game proved more a test of wills than abilities. O'Shea could sense this early on; he could also see his team was not up to the challenge.

"We're done," he said as the Ocelots struggled early in the second half. "It's over. They're playing stupidly."

At that point, O'Shea went over to the bench and sat next to his injured players. But a few moments later he was back up at the sideline, shouting instructions to his beleaguered troops.

"I got up and got on their cases," he said. "I kept telling them it was one of those games that was not going to be pretty. Just get to the ball and keep it in (Central's) end."

The Tigers were playing into a strong wind, and that helped turn the tide in SC's favor. The Ocelots dominated the final 20 minutes; Central rarely crossed midfield.

"The wind and cold kind of negated things for us," said Tigers' coach David Ferrell. "I thought we played with them until the last 20 minutes. Then (SC) carried the play."

Western winners Chiefs top Franklin for division title

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Amy Westerhold didn't start, but she was sure around for the finish in Plymouth Canton's 50-40 girls basketball victory Thursday over visiting Livonia Franklin.

Westerhold, a 5-foot-5 junior guard, was the spark, tallying 11 of her season-high 15 points in the decisive fourth quarter to give Canton its seventh straight Western Division crown. The win also cemented the Chiefs' second seeding in the upcoming Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs.

The Chiefs, who host Westland John Glenn in the first round of the playoffs on Wednesday, are 14-3 overall.

Franklin, now 13-4 overall, missed a chance to gain the third seed. The Patriots settled for the fifth seed in the eight-team playoffs. They travel Friday to fourth seed Northville, hoping to avenge a one-point loss.

"It was nice to win the division outright instead of tying it three ways (with Franklin and Northville)," said Canton coach Bob Blohm, whose team finished 5-0 on the Western side. "I thought we handled the ball better down the stretch and I liked the way we finished things."

WESTERHOLD drove down the middle and banked home a shot with 1:58 to go, sealing the victory for Canton. She was also fouled on the play and made the free throw, giving girls basketball

the Chiefs a safe 44-38 advantage.

Franklin then turned the ball over and Westerhold scored again with 1:32 remaining, putting it out of reach.

"I started every game except the last two," Westerhold explained. "I kind of had a bad attitude, but I've changed it now."

"I just noticed the middle was open and they fouled me."

Westerhold's presence on the defensive end was felt much earlier in the game.

Franklin guard Dawn Warner, one of the leading candidates for Miss Basketball, played a brilliant first-quarter, scoring 14 points as the Patriots led 16-10.

Warner, who finished with a game-high 30 points, made all five of her shots from floor, including three 3-pointers and a three-point play.

On came Westerhold, who had the task of trying to cool down the hot-shooting 5-8 guard.

"Dawn is not easy to guard," Blohm said. "I thought Amy's foot speed could match up, even though she's smaller."

With the Chiefs' defensive intensity picking up, Warner and her teammates cooled down.

FRANKLIN SHOT only three of 24 from the field in the second and third quarters as Canton forged ahead, 29-25. (The Chiefs held a 23-21 lead intermission.)

"Canton played great defense, they took things away from us," Franklin coach Dan Freeman said. "They know our players' moves as well as us."

"They put pressure on Dawn and they stayed with her, but they shut everyone else down."

Warner made nine of 22 from the field, while the rest of the Franklin contingent shot five for 30 on the night.

Only four Patriots scored with junior center Karen Potempa the next best with six.

Canton, meanwhile, had a more balanced scoring attack with junior center Stephanie Gray, showing nice touch inside, scoring 18.

Westerhold added 15 and point-guard Alyson Nounne contributed nine.

"Alyson did a nice job of stabilizing the team," Blohm said. "And Amy has played two great games in a row. She needed to become a little more consistent, and when she comes off the bench, she's got her engines running. She also went 7-for-7 at the free throw line, which helps. Tonight she played 21 minutes, and it was a hard 21 minutes."

Rocks in playoffs

Plymouth Salem will be in the Class AA football playoffs after all.

The Rocks qualified for the second time in the 17-year history of the playoffs, finishing fourth in AA-Region II. Salem will play at top-seeded Adrian at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The Maples were first in the region with an average of 91.67 points followed by Ann Arbor Pioneer (88.57), Brighton (87.78) and Salem (85.89). All four are 7-2.

Brighton, which upset Clarkston last week and knocked the Wolves out of the playoffs, will play at Pioneer 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Battle Creek Central was No. 1 last week and considered a lock by many, but the Bearcats surprisingly failed to qualify again after losing their last game to Battle Creek Lakeview. Plymouth Canton edged Central for the No. 4 spot last year.

Westland John Glenn was fifth in the region (82.444) and the Bearcats sixth (81.778). Both finished 7-2.

Salem's only previous playoff appearance was in 1977 when it lost a first-round game to Battle Creek Central.

Redford Catholic Central will play Dearborn Fordson at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Pontiac Wisner Stadium.

Rocks are top squad in playoffs

Junior guard Leslie Gotts scored 19 points to lead Plymouth Salem in its 59-21 victory over Farmington in girls basketball Thursday.

The Rocks, defending Western Lakes Activities Association champs, will be the top seed in the playoffs, which start this week. The Rocks finished 11-0 in the WLAA and are 13-4 overall.

The Western Division teams will the host schools in the first round of the playoffs, and Salem will have to play at Walled Lake Western despite being the first-place team.

Senior center Darcie Miller scored 12 points and junior forward Cyndi Platter 10 for Salem. Tammy Allen's 15 points made her the high scorer for Farmington, 2-9 and 3-14.

Gotts scored 12 points in the first quarter and the Rocks led 16-10. Salem was ahead 29-16 at halftime and 49-21 after three periods.

Humane Society benefits from bowling fund-raiser

BOWLERS HAVE OFTEN supported many charity fund raising events. I can remember several, just off-hand, such as the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, the Cancer Fund, the Heart Fund, the currently-running "Make A Wish" annual event, Bowlers Charities Week and so many others.

Bowling is an ideal medium for a fund-raiser. It is easy to figure out and pay on a basis of so much per pin. Now along comes something different: Woodland Lanes in Livonia is holding its second-annual "Tail Waggers Bowl," Saturday, Nov. 9 from 1-5:30 p.m.

This is a fund-raising event which will benefit the Michigan Humane Society Cruelty Investigation/Rescue Division. The theme is "Help Strike Out Cruelty."

Special guests will be Catherine Leahan, newscaster on WJBK TV-2 in Detroit, and Michael J. Fox, disc jockey at radio station WHYI, FM 96.

It will consist of three games of no-tap format bowling. In this format, knocking down nine pins on the first ball constitutes a strike.

Entry fee is $10 per bowler and each entry receives a free "Tail Waggers" T-shirt.

This will be a real fun-filled day, all for a most worthy cause.

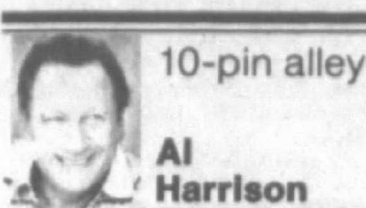

Entry forms are available at Woodland Lanes on Plymouth Road, just west of Farmington Road, or call 552-4515.

Observational bowlers fared very well at the Team USA event which took place at Satellite Bowl. Although first place money ($500) went to Erv Jones from Lake Orion, David Wollshlager of Livonia came in second ($250), Herman Morinsky of Westland took third ($125) and Frank Slayton of Westland was in fourth ($100).

It was a fund-raiser for the Team USA, which will compete internationally for our country. In an exhibition game that followed, the men's and women's teams from the Detroit All-Stars took on their counterparts from Team USA. There was some very close and exciting competition using the Baker System, in which different bowlers appear in each frame, almost like a batting order in baseball.

Bob Chamberlain of Auburn Hills got the final strike that won for the locals, while the hometown ladies took their match.

Team USA was the overall winner due to their victory margin in the doubles match. As usual, hosts Mark and Diane Voight ran an excellent program.

Ocelots trounce Windsor

The season has been a roller coaster ride for Schoolcraft College's volleyball team — starting high, dipping as injuries to the team's two setters hit, and now, hopefully, climbing once again as the post-season approaches.

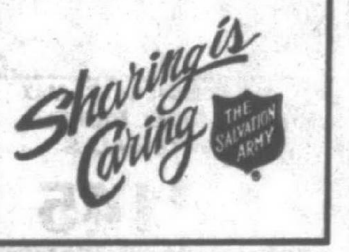

Coach Tom Teeters noted marked improvement Thursday as the Lady Ocelots thwarted the University of Windsor 15-1, 15-9, 15-9 in Windsor. The win upped SC's overall record to 31-9.

The regular season draws to a close Tuesday. SC will host Henry Ford CC in a re-scheduled match (it was previously canceled after a water main burst) at 5:30 p.m., then plays Tiffin University at 7:30 p.m.

In the win over Windsor, Stephanie Jandasek recorded 10 kills to lead the Ocelots. Renea Bonser added nine, Kari Van Deusen had six, Keli Haeger had six and Nancy Ehler collected five.

Haeger and Ehler were the two setters both sidelined with injuries. Both have recovered well; Haeger contributed 22 assists-to-kills against Windsor, and Ehler had 10.

The NJCAA Regional Tournament starts Thursday. The tourney draw will be today.

Stevenson wins again in OT

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

If the Livonia Stevenson boys soccer players felt a little numb Saturday afternoon it wasn't just because of the frigid weather.

The Spartans won another suspense-filled playoff encounter, beating Okemos, 2-1, in sudden death overtime to capture the Class A regional final at Plymouth's Central Educational Park.

This was the second-straight playoff game won by the Spartans in sudden death so they're getting used to such nail-biters. Todd Krzysnik's goal, assisted by Bill Lanspeary, at 8:31 of sudden death gave the Spartans the win and prompted the Stevenson bench to swarm the field.

Stevenson (18-0-3 overall), No. 1 ranked in Class A, will play in Wednesday's Class A semifinal against Holland at Okemos High School. Holland beat Portage Central, 4-1, in the Grandville regional final. (Game time is 3 p.m.)

"WE'D RATHER win in 80 minutes, but it's always good to put them away if it does take overtime," said Stevenson goalkeeper Matt Stabile, who showed his gratitude to his defense by giving defender Scott Wiggins a victory ride on his shoulder afterward. "My hands are numb and my feet aren't much better."

Stevenson coach Wally Barrett said he didn't pay much attention to the playing conditions, which were more suited for a day in January than to one on Nov. 2.

"Personally, as a coach, I didn't feel cold because there were 10 different things going through my head at once," Barrett said. "The team is really ecstatic. I think we've come to realize at this point, sudden deaths and penalty kicks are all a part of it. We tried to avoid OT but Okemos played good and hard."

"Being favored doesn't matter. We just want to get through these games and make it to the 'Show.'"

Krzysnik got the overtime goal but Barrett gave Lanspeary just as much credit for getting Krzysnik the ball in scoring position. Barrett let Lanspeary carry the Regional trophy with him off the field in appreciation of his effort.

"He sent in a beautiful ball and Krzysnik finished it," Barrett said. "Bill played his heart off, like everyone else, but I'm glad to see him carry the trophy off. He's a small man who played a big part."

THE LOSS ENDED Okemos' season at 16-2-4 overall. Okemos beat its three post-season opponents by a combined score of 13-1 so this was the first real test it faced.

"I thought we're as good a team and we had our opportunities," Okemos coach Dr. John Picone said. "I don't care if they're ranked No. 1. My team was not threatened and my team played well and physical. It was a great game, a great spectator game."

Okemos took a 1-0 halftime lead, scoring on a goal by Scott Merritt.

Barrett sent Travis Roy up-front to add more scoring punch in the second half and the move paid off. The Spartans appeared to have tied the score, 1-1, on Adam Pichler's goal with 19:46 left, but the score was nullified because of offsides.

"I was not at an angle to make a judgment on the call but I was extremely disappointed because I thought it was too close to call," Barrett said.

The Spartans didn't let up, however, scoring less than two minutes later on a goal by Roy, assisted by Nick Spano. The goal was Roy's 17th of the season, but Barrett again wanted to give credit to another little guy, Spano.

"He's another small man who played a big part," said Barrett, who also put in a word for Stabile. "You can't let anything in, in a game like this. Stabile played excellent."

first one and returned it 18 yards for a TD. Zantop's conversion pass to Rob Shepley made it 36-0.

Agron Ujkaj recovered the next fumbled kick at the Canton 27. Shepley capped a seven-play drive with a 1-yard run, and the Rocks led 43-0 with 6:34 still to play in the third quarter.

Canton averted a shutout when senior tailback Steve Hohl gained 71 of his 83 yards on a touchdown run at 10:37 in the fourth quarter.

Zantop and Rob Kenney completed two passes each for 25 and 19 yards. The Chiefs had 178 total yards. Sophomore quarterback Kevin Shankie was 6-of-11 passing for 68 yards, and senior end Eric Cunningham caught five passes for 55.

"We'll be the home team next year," Khoenle said.

Chiefs face formidable foes

swimming

Plymouth Canton will put its unbeaten record in girls swimming on the line this week in dual meets against a pair of formidable foes.

The Chiefs, who defeated Walled Lake Western 119-67 Thursday to improve their season record to 9-0, are at No. 2-ranked Ann Arbor Huron Tuesday and Northville Thursday.

The latter will decide the Western Division championship in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Mustangs have a five-lane pool, and the winner in each race will have an advantage since the scoring will be 4-2-1 in individual events and 5-3-1 in relays. There will be four entries per individual event.

LAURA SCHILLING won the 100-yard backstroke (1:13.31) and assisted in two relay victories for Canton in its duel with the Warriors.

Alisa Barlage, Kelly Larsen, Heather Anderson and Schilling won the 400 freestyle relay (4:20.41), and Schilling, Lybra Lindke, Sara Atwell and Jenny Ahern comprised the winning medley relay team (2:15.90).

Atwell won the breaststroke (1:24.28), Sarah Larson the individual medley (2:34.48) and Laura Popejoy the butterfly (1:15.83). Amy Kodrik was the best diver with 245.80 points.

Canton had nine second places. In individual swimming events, they came from Barlage in the 200 freestyle (2:23.92); Becky Johnson, 50 freestyle (29.51); Atwell, individual medley (2:47.37); Nicole Theisen, 100 freestyle (1:05.91); Danielle Yockey, 500 freestyle (6:10.03); Jennifer Barnes, backstroke (1:14.53); and Jenny Streike, breaststroke.

Adrienne Brenner was second in diving with 167.45 points, and the Chiefs were runners-up in the 200 freestyle relay — Jackie Theisen, Jenny Barnes, Laura Lebbon and Nicole Theisen finishing in 2:05.28.

Autumn swim classic attracts 450

Julie Kern and Kristin Derwich, both competing in the Girls 9-10 age category, were two of the top performers recently for the host Livonia-Novi Spartan Aquatic Club in the Autumn Classic.

The meet attracted nearly 450 swimmers from 27 age-group swim teams.

Kern placed first in the 100- and 200-yard freestyles; second, 50 and 100 butterfly, 50 and 100 breaststroke, and 100 backstroke.

Derwich garnered second in the 200 freestyle; third, 100 and 200 individual medley, 100 backstroke; fourth, 100 freestyle; sixth, 50 and 100 butterfly.

Anne Aristeo, competing in the Girls 11-12 division, won the 100 butterfly and 200 freestyle. She was also second in the 100 butterfly and 100 IM; third, 100 freestyle; fourth, 50 backstroke; fifth, 50 breaststroke.

Boys 10 and under: Derek Zerber — fifth place, 200-yard freestyle and 100 backstroke.

Girls 10 and under: Mari McKenzie — sixth, 50 breaststroke.

Stevenson swimmers defeat North

Livonia Stevenson's Holly Palmeri and Mandi Falk won two events each Thursday to lead the Spartans in their 111-75 win over North Farmington in a WLAA Lakes Division meet.

Stevenson is 4-0 in the Lakes Division and 7-1 overall. North is 3-5 overall.

Palmeri won the 200 freestyle (2:06.02) and the 100 freestyle (58.74), and she also swam on the winning 200 freestyle relay (1:49.29). Falk, meanwhile, won the 50 freestyle (26.36) and the breast stroke (1:09.83), and she also swam the first leg of the 200 freestyle relay.

The other individual winner for Stevenson was Jill Knapp, who won the individual medley (2:22.32). Knapp swam the first leg of the winning 400 freestyle relay (3:56.13).

North had four individual winners and also captured the 200 medley relay. North winners included Mandi Terrell, diving (217.50 points); Karrie Kranz, butterfly (1:03.25); Sherri Richardson, 500 freestyle (5:31.31); and Shannon O'Brien, 100 backstroke (1:08.30).

DePorres rebounds to beat Blazers

The quick start Livonia Ladywood got off to Thursday at Detroit DePorres wasn't enough. Not by a long shot.

The Blazers outscored their hosts 11-4 in the opening quarter of their Catholic League girls basketball playoff game, but DePorres took control from there, outpacing their foes 23-11 in the second quarter and 37-24 over the last two to post a 64-47 triumph.

Angel White led the Eagles' uprising, notching 10 of her game-high 21 points in the second quarter. Stacey Lovelace added 15 points for the winners, who stayed perfect at 17-0.

"They put a three-quarter court press on us, and we didn't handle it very well," said Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh, whose team slipped to 9-8. "They've got some great athletes on that team."

Ladywood got 14 points from both Janet Davis and Mary Jo Kelly.

STEVENSON 74, GLENN 45: The outcome was never in doubt Thursday at Livonia Stevenson.

The Spartans got rolling fast, outscoring their visitors from Westland John Glenn 19-8 in the first quarter and 20-10 in each of the next two. The victory improved Stevenson's record to 12-4 overall, 8-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association. Glenn slipped to 7-8 overall, 5-6 in the WLAA.

Stevenson got a career-best performance from Lori Shingledecker, who scored 21 points. Teresa Sarno led the Spartans with 25 points and 13 rebounds. Mo Drabicki added 11 points and Karen Groulx scored nine, all in the second quarter.

The Rockets were paced by Carrie Rachwal's 14 points. Kristi Zimmer chipped in with nine.

MERCY 56, FOLEY 23: The Marlins held Madison Heights Bishop Foley to 13 points through three quarters Thursday and coasted in their first-round Catholic League playoff game.

Mercy (11-6) will play Harper Woods Regina at 6 p.m. Thursday in the semifinals at Caihnan Hall on the University of Detroit-Mercy campus. Detroit DePorres and Birmingham Marian play at 7:30 p.m. in the other game.

Senior center Laure DeMattia paced the Marlins in their win over Foley with 20 points and nine rebounds.

Senior guard Kathleen Berrigan scored nine points and passed for nine assists, and senior forward Mary Bieniewicz chipped in 10 points. Joy Nagy had eight points to lead the Ventures (7-9).

Mercy led 29-10 at halftime, and DeMattia scored 12 of 18 points in the third quarter as the Marlins increased their lead to 47-13.

Alternative metal? Call it Blaspheinous

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Women in tight jeans who look like they could crush a cueball in their hands are playing pool. The dank smell of leather and beer permeate the air and to top it off, some guy is on stage sticking needles through his mouth and arm.

A visit to heavy metal hell? Well, no Kids on the Block are on the bill. It may only seem that way with a band named Blaspheinous scheduled to perform. A rather intriguing outfit, born out of hardcore inspiration and who have turned their sound into an indelible brand of metal/thrash that begs description.

"It's kind of alternative metal," said Rick Beard, singer and lead guitarist. "I think it's kind of Jane's Addiction meet Metallica. We're very influenced by rock and blues. Everything we do is derived from a blues riff."

Beard said this, hardly lifting his head while tuning his guitar. End of story? Ah, but if there that simple. Something sets Blaspheinous apart from other crashing metal bands, who invite all the Spinal Tap cliches or who resemble Woodstock revisited.

The band's debut release, "Grooving With the Mutants," is a 12-song effort, featuring a breadth of musical styles and themes.

THROUGH THE metal dirge, Blaspheinous lures a listener in with a tentacle of grooves, with undertones of jazz, blues and funk. Then they assault the senses with an unrelenting metal guitar and Rick's screeching vocals. Their songs offer no utopias or alternatives, just a state of mind at the time they were written. Current event themes are tackled with vengeance such as the crack epidemic, money grabbing churches and passing drug tests.

Songs of love gone awry are at a minimum, quaintly summed up in one number "Love F---d Me Up."

The spewing anger from the disillusionment of suburban life or simply bored? In Blaspheinous' case it's probably a little of both.

"You've got your Rembrandts and you have your Picassos," said Kurt "Krome" Sagan, the band's bass player after explaining how his jaw got broke in fight at a shopping mall. "Everybody paints it in their own way."

Blaspheinous formed in 1987 as a three-piece with Beard, Krome and drummer Bob Champe. Bill Sanko, the other guitarist, joined the band two years ago.

They honed their craft at hardcore haunts such as Blondies and the Falcon before moving to other palatable venues such as The Token, Harpo's and The Ritz. Initially, they were inspired by bands such as the Dead Kennedys and G.B.H.

"WE WERE into the thrash type bands," Krome said. "That's who we used to go see all the time. We got put in with all kinds of bands. We got put in with heavy metal acts and we did all right. We got put in with thrash acts and we did all right."

The band deviated from the hardcore scene later, according to Krome, because "We got our high school diplomas."

Those hardcore days served Blaspheinous well, especially when it comes to performing live. There's an element of anything-goes, lets-have-fun that sustains this outfit. Krome, aptly named for the chrome helmet on his head, performed a Devil's Night show wrapped in toilet paper.

In a short, 30-minute set the band burned through several songs from the debut release. A technical glitz left the outfit with guitars for one number, but a self-inflicted dire saw them through.

"Our attitude three years ago was pretty immature," Champe said. "In the last few years, the ideas have skyrocketed."

Blaspheinous will perform Friday, Nov. 8, at Harpo's, Chalmers Avenue, off of I-94, Detroit. For information, call 824-1700.

Die Warzau: Doing it all live — maybe

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Is it live or Die Warzau? Band member Van Christie says it's both.

The Chicago-based techno band will seek a rather dubious achievement in sampling circles. The band's going to actually attempt to play all its music live on stage. Die Warzau performs with Foetus Saturday, Nov. 9, at St. Andrew's Hall.

CEOs at Memorex may cry by the window at night with Van Christie and Jim Marcus are carting along percussionists Chris Vrenaa and Chris Bolt. But enough is enough, according to Christie.

"All I did when I was a kid was go to concerts," said Christie, 28, in a telephone interview from his home in Chicago. "Even if the bands absolutely (stunk), they gave it their all and walked out of there exhausted." Keeping machinery to a minimum is only one deviation for Die Warzau. The duo of Christie and Marcus have always sought to meld an enlightened world view on a discordant platform of aural disintegration.

Peace seeking, Bible-belt bashing and deploring material goods are common themes in Die Warzau's techno-stirred stew, no doubt making them prime candidates for a subscription to Mother Jones.

Those topics are dealt in techno surgery on the band's second release "Big Metal Bass Face" on Fiction/Atlantic. Should they be frisked for ACLU cards or have P.C. tattooed on their foreheads?

"Politically correct is what you believe in... we're just politically aware," Christie said.

FOR CHRISTIE, his political hipness stems to childhood. Both parents were "heavy liberals," leading their kid to such covert un-Republican activities as plastering "George McGovern for President" stickers along corridors.

Christie promptly grumbles about all U.S. presidents of his generation, except for Jimmy Carter, and bemoans the nomination of Clarence Thomas to the Supreme Court. He contends Die Warzau doesn't have an agenda, though.

"You can't translate it to music, at least not directly," he said. "I don't think people listen to music for education. They listen to it for a variety of other reasons, escapism is one of them."

"We just want people to be more aware of what's going on around them. We're definitely not a preachy band or anything."

Chicago-based techno band Die Warzau — Van Christie, Jim Marcus, Chris Vrenaa and Chris Bolt — is savoring its second release out, "Big Metal Bass Face" on Fiction/Atlantic.

"Big Metal Bass Face" is a little less darker and nastier than its predecessor "Disco Rigido," which was released in 1989 on Fiction/Polygram. After all, these are kinder, gentler times.

THE LATEST 14-song effort was self-produced by the pair, who met at Smart Bar in Chicago and went back to Christie's place to write three songs at 3 a.m. and thus formed Die Warzau Synfony in 1988. They sought cohesion on "Big Metal Bass Force," mixing punk, funk and metal into a copious flow.

"We listened to a lot of records from the '70s," Christie said. "They weren't just a collection of singles. They always had a beginning and an end."

Initially, their recordings didn't nearly attract the attention their stage antics did. Die Warzau would perform, using welding torches and dynamite to provide a visual punch to their virulent music.

Performance art took an extreme one night when a band member stepped on a shard of metal and badly cut his foot in a show at the Lighthouse in Chicago. Things have been toned down since, including the band's more than rose-colored view of things.

"You don't have to have a dark vision with all the nastiness around you," Christie said.

Die Warzau will perform with Foetus Saturday, Nov. 9, at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. Tickets are $9.50 in advance. For information, call 961-MELT.

The lineup at St. Andrew's Hall Thursday, Nov. 7, will include recording artists Carnival Art, along with The Buzzcocks and Poster Children.

'Hope' reaffirms his independence

Writer/director John Sayles continues by choice to work outside of mainstream Hollywood. Supposedly, this affords him the opportunity to create unique films from the heart, even if they lack certain production values.

It's surprising then that "City of Hope," currently on screen at the Maple Theatre in Bloomfield, has little more bite than a better-than-average television drama.

In the first 10 minutes, we are introduced to a dizzying number of residents from Hudson City, N.J., a microcosm of contemporary urban ills.

Nick, played by Vincent Spano, has a cushy construction job kept secure by his powerful contractor father. Dad (Tony LoBlanco), meanwhile, is being pressured by friends in the mayor's office to have an apartment building torched so that a high-rise shopping center can be built on the site.

The lives of several people intertwine shortly before and after the apartment building is set ablaze.

In another part of town, police brutality against a pair of young blacks results in the boys' random beating of a white college professor.

In another part of town, police brutality against a pair of young blacks results in the boys' random beating of a white college professor. The boys contend that they were only defending themselves against the man, who propositioned them for sex. The media jumps on the story, and now the victim becomes the accused.

SAYLES HAS written himself another choice part as an arsonist who fronts a downtown garage. He was once the best friend of Nick's brother, even took the rap for him in a drunk driving accident. Now limping with an artificial leg, he provides the film's most cynical view of rampant city corruption.

The filmmaking Sayles has a different view indeed.

In "City of Hope," as in his earlier "Matewan," Sayles has set himself up as a friend of the working man. He makes movies like Bruce Springsteen writes songs, firmly in touch with the blue collar pulse.

He presents his urban dwellers as realistically as possible, lit beneath harsh streetlamps or crammed in claustrophobic apartments and patrol cars. He firmly roots you in a big city that could be Detroit just as easily as Hudson.

"City of Hope" is not a bad movie. It's ambitious, complex, and yes heartfelt. Most admirably, it doesn't offer pat answers.

While friends sitting next to me wallowed in its bleakness and futility, I found the film's last reel brimming with hope, or at least some form of justice.

Any film that can provoke conversation more than 10 minutes after its screening is well worth a look.

Niall Byrne walks a thin line between fantasy and reality in the Irish import, "The Miracle," playing at the Star John R Theatre in Madison heights.

'Metropolitan:' Upperly crusty film

It occurred to me after watching the video of "Metropolitan" why this film wouldn't find a wide audience. The same reason Jane Austen doesn't make the New York Times best seller list. This is a tale of manners and society. This is a film about New York upper crust kids, a couple of whom discuss Jane Austen despite one not having read her work.

Set in Manhattan during a Christmas vacation "not so long ago," "Metropolitan" focuses on a small group of these well dressed preppies as they attend "deb" parties and regroup at someone's apartment to spend the balance of the night talking, dancing or playing a few hands of strip poker.

A new acquaintance of the group, who opposes the formal attire of deb parties on principle, is rather politely shanghaied into attending a party. He continues his protestations for awhile but eventually becomes part of the group.

It becomes clear after awhile that the newcomer, played by Edward Clements, has acquired some of his principles in response to his parents' divorce and his move into a cramped westside apartment with his mother. He looks longingly at the fashionable high-rise where his father and his new wife are living.

TAYLOR NICHOLS plays the thoughtful, philosophical member of the little group talking incessantly about God or fears about downward mobility. Another major concern for him is his conviction that preppies like himself and his friends are doomed to failure in life.

There's a rather funny scene in a bar when Clements and Nichols meet a middle-aged preppie, who matter of factly describes himself as a failure. The worst part about being in Manhattan, he tells the young pair, is running into more successful contemporaries.

But he does disagree about the pre-destination argument. "You have to accept that you are not doomed to failure, you just do it," he says knowingly.

The rather bookish and boyish Carolyn Farina develops a crush on the newcomer, who naturally doesn't notice her adoring glances. Likewise she doesn't notice the attentions of another young man.

Farina seems only slightly surprised when, after a lively discussion about Jane Austen's work, Clements cheerily confesses never having read the book. "You don't have to read a book to have an opinion about it," he says.

THE FILM takes an easygoing look at these characters, whose lives consist of going to parties in formal clothes, shopping or just hanging out. Director/writer Whit Stillman doesn't present the group in a critical or harsh way. As several characters comment about each, they really are basically good people — just not very bright or motivated or caring or deep. I could go on.

With the exception of Clement, Nichols and Farina, you don't get the idea these characters will improve with age. Youth and experience will help these three develop their potential.

Other than Clements' divorced mother, parents aren't seen in the film and from the conversation don't have a lot of contact with these young adults.

The acting by most of the actors is good and you eventually get interested in and like some of the characters, but there is no strong draw. It's just that there isn't a lot most people can identify with in the film.

SCREEN SCENE

DETROIT FILM THEATRE, Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call 832-2730 for more information. ($5)

"Camp de Thiaroye" (Senegal/Tunisia — 1988), 7 p.m. Nov. 8. In this African epic, a band of Senegalese soldiers return from heroic fighting alongside the French during World War II. From Ousmane Sembene, sometimes called the dean of African cinema.

"Faces" (USA — 1968), 3 and 6 p.m. Nov. 10. Continuing a five-film tribute to the late John Cassavetes, this story of a marriage on the rocks was a breakthrough for the maverick director, both with the critics and at the box office. John Marley and Gena Rowlands star.

HENRY FORD CENTENNIAL LIBRARY, 13671 Michigan Ave., Dearborn. Call 943-2330 for more information. (Free)

"The Senator Was Indiscreet" (USA — 1947), 7 p.m. Nov. 4. Political satire about an aging, ambitious senator (William Powell) whose valuable "diary" keeps party members in line. With Ella Raines.

MAGIC BAG THEATRE CAFE, 22918 Woodward, Ferndale. Call 544-3030 for information. ($4)

"Brazil" (USA — 1985), 8 p.m. Nov. 5. Terry Gilliam ("The Fisher King") directed this occasionally brilliant, often exasperating science fiction epic about a young bureaucrat in the future (Jonathan Pryce) who tries to break free of totalitarian society. Robert DeNiro co-stars.

MAIN THEATRE, 118 N. Main, Royal Oak. Call 542-0180 for show times. ($6)

"My Own Private Idaho" (USA — 1991). The latest from Gus van Sant, the director of "Drugstore Cowboy." Here, Keanu Reeves and River Phoenix play a pair of street hustlers who make their way from Washington state to Idaho on their way to Rome, where they hope to come to grips with their past. Slow-paced and inventive, though it bogs down when the director decides to borrow from Shakespeare's "Henry IV."

MAPLE THEATRE, 4135 W. Maple, Bloomfield. Call 855-9090 for show times. ($6; $3.50 twilight)

"Homicide" (USA — 1991). A multi-layered cop drama about an inner-city police officer whose long-suppressed ethnic background lures him into the darker side streets of loyalty and crime. Another collaboration between writer/director David Mamet and actor Joe Mantegna.

"City of Hope" (USA — 1991). From independent director John Sayles, a complex story about life in a fictional New Jersey city. Vincent Spano plays a contractor's son who tries to break free of the oppressive power structure.

STAR JOHN R, 32289 John R (at 14 Mile Road), Madison Heights. Call 585-2070 for show times. ($6; $3.50 before 6 p.m.)

"The Miracle" (Ireland — 1991). When a beautiful blond American (Beverly D'Angelo) arrives in an Irish seaside town, a teenager's fascination with her grows into an obsession. This very personal film from Neil Jordan ("Mona Lisa") walks a thin line between fantasy and reality. Just don't take its melodramatic storyline too seriously.

How interested are you in selling your home?

Interested enough to spend a few moments and discover the best place to advertise the fact that your home is for sale?

Good. We knew you were intelligent. In fact, more than 40% of our readers have college degrees or better.

And if knowledge is power, let's look at a few powerful facts: this newspaper, the one you're reading right now, reaches some of the most affluent households in Wayne and Oakland counties:

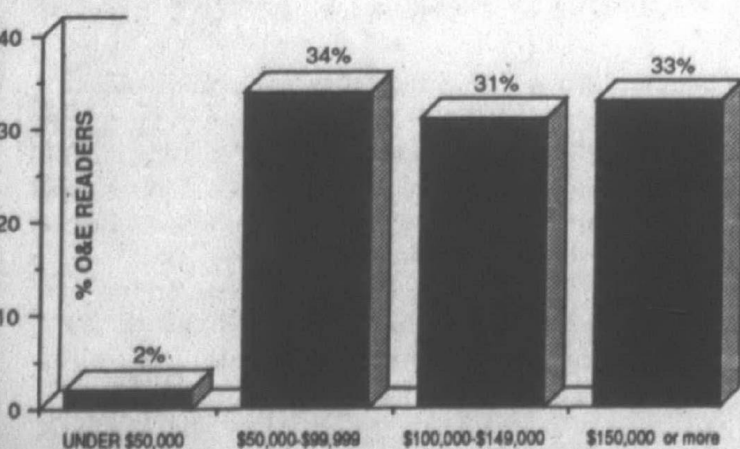

That's a median household income of more than $50,000—$10,000 more than the income of the people who don't read our newspapers. So when you advertise in your Observer & Eccentric newspapers, you not only reach thousands of smart people, you reach people with substantial incomes.

Now, that's something to smile about.

Our circulation area has 90% home ownership and look at the value of our reader's homes:

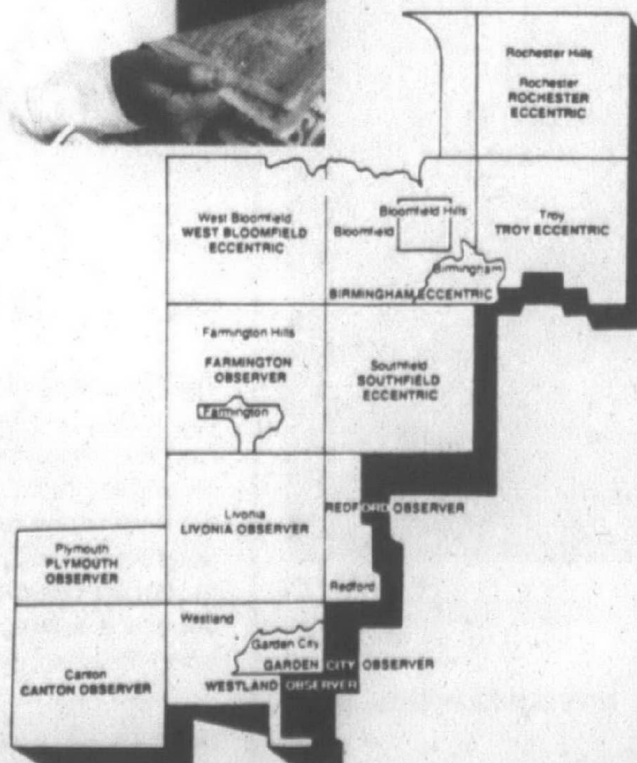

FACT: When you advertise with us you will reach 9 out of 10 adults in the Observer & Eccentric market area who have read weekly classified advertising.*

FACT: 91% of the adults in our market area who had read classified advertising in the past seven days had read it in the Observer & Eccentric*.

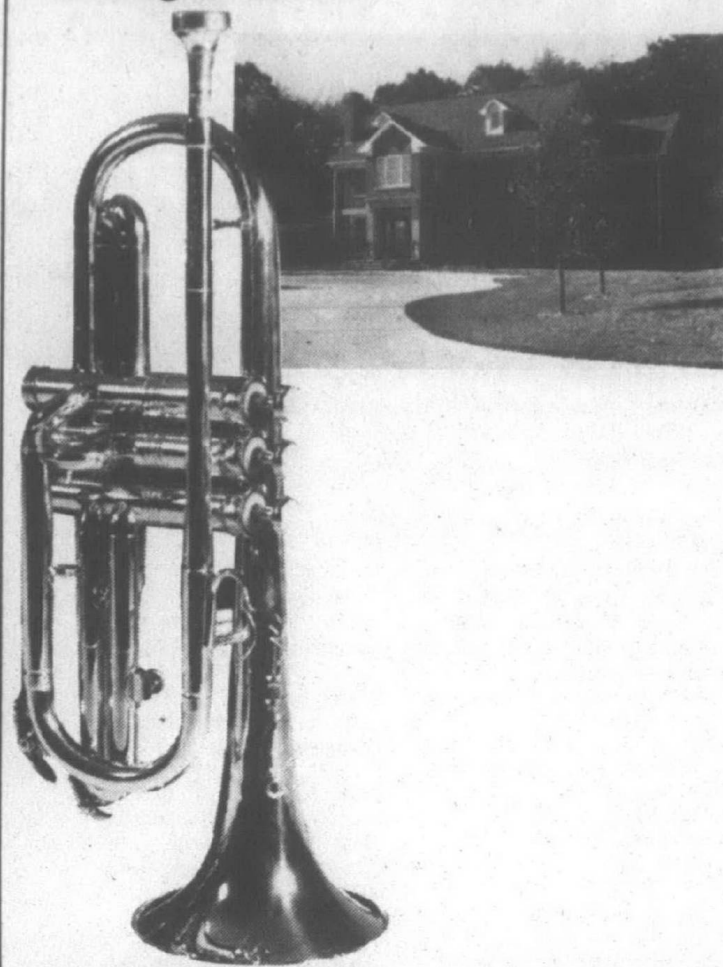

So, we can offer you one quarter of a million adult readers and a very rich market, what else do we have for you? How about an award-winning newspaper— a newspaper that people trust and look forward to reading? One that reaches 25 communities with important local news that's not available anywhere else.

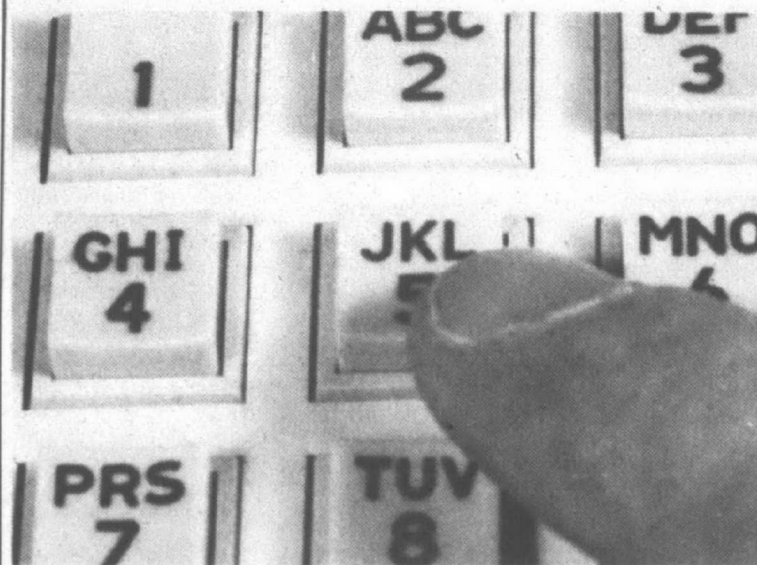

That's us.

By the way, did you know that all those little ads in the back of this newspaper—the ones placed by people like you—are published in all 12 newspapers? Therefore, when you advertise anything from a horn to a home, you will automatically reach this huge, interested reading audience.

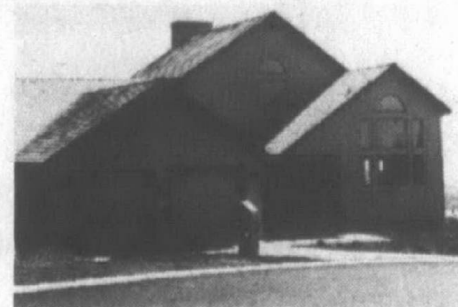

What else can we say? We've had years of experience in publishing newspapers and are proud of our record for successfully putting home buyers in touch with home sellers.

In fact, we've just introduced HOMELINE,* a great new way to find out about open houses simply by using your touchtone telephone.

Be sure to mention it to your Realtor® so that when it comes time to show your home, it will be described on HOMELINE.

Saffron precious as gold

Good King Midas would have loved saffron: Everything this spice touches turns to gold. Rusty-hued when dried, saffron pours fourth brilliant yellow dye when mixed with liquids and sauces. The tint-color of the saffron bud is so intense that one cup of the magical buds could vividly color 10,000 gallons of water.

SAFFRON IS neither an herb nor a spice, but a hybrid "herb-spice" which comes from the stamen or stigma of the Crocus sativus, cultivated principally in Spain. The spice (if I may so blatantly call it) has a distinctive and elusive flavor.

It is filling that saffron imparts such a dramatic color of gold, since the spice is almost as precious as the glittering metal. In the U.S., pure saffron threads sell for about $1,800 a pound. Not willing to cash in the family jewels just yet, I guess I should be pleased that anyone can buy the pungent spice for about $4 to $5 a gram. That's per GRAM, about enough to flavor and color four main courses. (At that price, I will keep my experimentation to a minimum.)

WHY THE Tiffany price you ask? To get at the tiny strands, workers must harvest the Crocus by hand, plucking an astounding 75,000 blossoms to produce a single pound of dried saffron filaments.

There are substitutes: tumeric, for example, but beware as Middle Age spice merchants who "extended" their saffron with Marigold petals paid for the deception with their lives. There is no substitute.

The coloring properties of saffron have long been appreciated by many. Hindu monks used the seasoning to dye their robes and wealthy Romans crumbled it into their baths for what began the tanning process to healthier looking skin.

But color is only half of the saffron story.

The spice has a somewhat bittersweet flavor, and an incisive aroma that makes it an exciting addition to cooked foods. Saffron lends personality to rice without overpowering it. It is used widely around the world.

THE FRENCH use it in their Bouillabaisse, the cooks of Spain make an unbelievable paella. India's curry devotees add a tiny amount to their curry powder to intertwine all the delicate flavors.

Swedes use the spice to mark Santa Lucia's Day with their remarkable saffron buns. The Portuguese use it frequently with their fish dishes.

Mama of Wyandotte used it to make a flavorful chicken and rice casserole found in many Mexican kitchens called Arroz Con Pollo.

The very best saffron hails from Spain; however, you might find some domestic saffron threads at a much more deflated price here or there. Buyers, beware.

There is no substitute for the authentic Spanish variety. When buying, buy only the strands of Saffron. The powdered variety might have been on the shelf too long and lost a great deal of its potency.

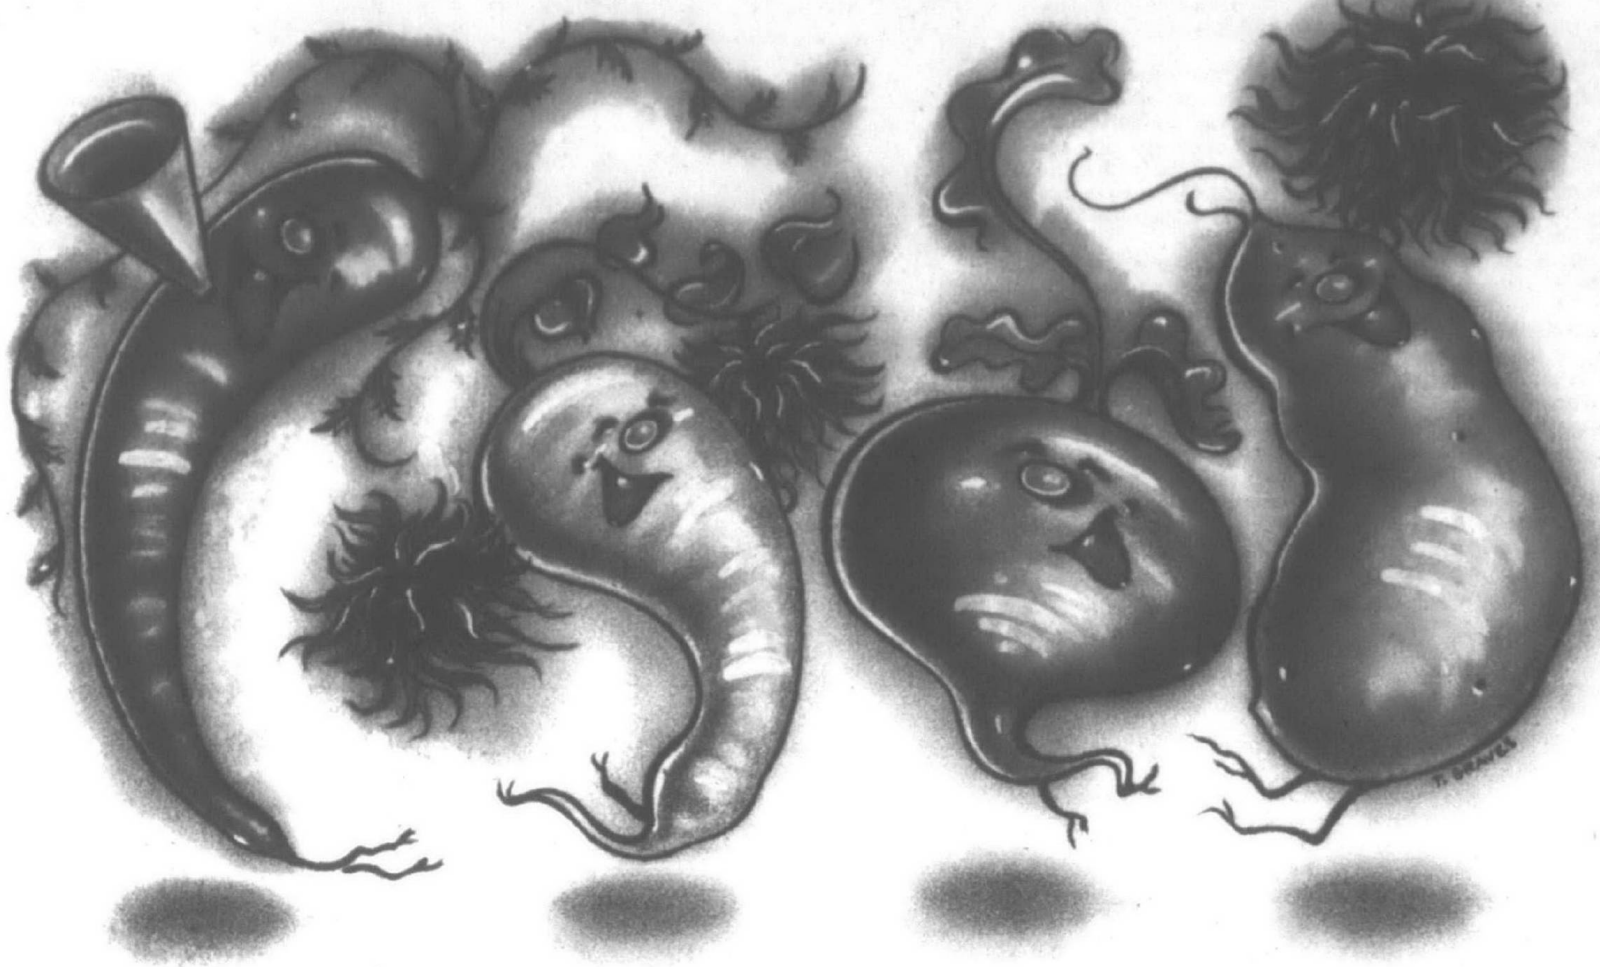

Saffron is available locally at gourmet and natural food stores.

If you are thinking of waiting until the first day of spring and the opportunity to harvest a crocus stigma yourself, forget it.

The peculiar combination of sun, soil and climate gives saffron from Spain its unique pungency that can never be copied here.

Need a holiday gift for a friend who enjoys gourmet cooking? Purchase a gram of saffron and clip your favorite saffron recipe with a few of the harder to find ingredients. Who knows, maybe you'll be invited over for the taste treat.

YOU DON'T have to dig too deep to find a good source of vitamin A. Give three cheers for the A team — beet greens, carrots, sweet potatoes, and turnip greens — they're vegetables certainly worth rooting for.

"Studies have shown that food containing vitamin A may lower the risk of cancers of the larynx, esophagus, lung and bladder," said Monalee Prange, director of public education for American Cancer Society, Wayne County.

MOM WAS right. Carrots are good for your eyes. They're an excellent source of vitamin A, which aids in the ability to see, especially in dim light.

"Vitamin A also promotes tooth and bone development and assists in the formation and maintenance of healthy skin, hair and builds resistance to respiratory infections," said Linda Millard, a registered dietitian at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

"The vegetables highest in vitamin A are the darkest green or darkest yellow — like carrots, sweet potatoes, spinach and broccoli," said Lois Thieleke, home economist for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, Oakland County. "They contain beta-carotene, a compound that converts to vitamin A in the body."

A carrot a day will give you all the vitamin A your body needs, said Millard. One whole fresh carrot contains 2,025 RE (retinol equivalent, a measure of vitamin A activity; the amount of retinol that vitamin A will yield after conversion in the body.) One medium carrot contains 31 to 40 calories. The Recommended Dietary Allowance is 1,000 RE for adult men and 800 RE for adult women.

When selecting carrots, look for those that are firm and clean, with a smooth texture and good color. Deep orange carrots contain more vitamin A than paler ones. If they become wilted, they can be crisped in cold water.

tough. Avoid heavy stems and yellowed leaves.

WRAP THE greens in damp towels, then a plastic bag and keep in the vegetable crisper or bottom of the refrigerator. Or freeze them by blanching a few minutes in boiling water. Cool well in ice water, drain, then chop and pack into freezer containers. Freeze for about six months. Turnip greens are low in calories, with only 30 per cup, cooked. Besides vitamin A, one cup cooked contains 792 RE. Turnip greens are a very good source of vitamin C and contribute small amounts of calcium, iron and riboflavin.

PASS THE sweet potatoes on Thanksgiving. Sweet potatoes and white potatoes contain 120 to 140 calories per four-ounce serving.

One baked sweet potato contains 2,488 RE of vitamin A, more than a carrot. When shopping for sweet potatoes, look for ones that are thick, chunky and tapered toward the ends. Do not refrigerate.

When it comes to greens most people cut off the top, throw away the greens and pickle or cook beets and turnips.

"The greens are the good part," said Thieleke. "They are very high in nutritional value."

Turnip greens can be found in markets year round, with peak availability from November through March. They perish quickly, so don't buy them unless they'll be cooked in a few days.

Look for relatively small, tender leaves that are moist and well cooled; if kept in a warm place, the greens dry out and get bitter and Treat harder to find beet greens gently. They too are high in vitamins A and C. One cup cooked contains about 734 RE vitamin A. Beet greens contain about 25 calories per one cup serving.

Dinner perfect for busy schedules family tested winner dinner

While watching the news last week I was practically prostrated by an acute anxiety attack when the announcer mentioned there were only 75 shopping days left before Christmas.

As each day passes, the number is, of course, reduced, and like it or not, and ready or not, the lights, festivities and pressure of the season are about to be turned on.

NOW, BEFORE you start to hyperventilate, read on as this week's Winner Dinner Winner, Lisa Fiesselmann Gleeson, is co-chairing an event that will help you get a head start on your holiday shopping.

The 21st annual Kingswood Giftorama will take place Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 9-10 at Kingswood School Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills.

Featuring over 40 retail merchants from around the country, you will be able to find something for everyone on your shopping list. The proceeds from this popular event that takes a full year to plan, and the help of over 300 volunteers, go toward tuition assistance, restoration and renovation projects, and faculty enrichment.

This the third, and last year that Gleeson will be chairing this event, put on annually by the Kingswood Alumnae Association of which she is past president.

GLEESON AND her husband Kevin are the happy and doting parents of their newly adopted son, Brendan. Upon the welcomed arrival of a new baby, Gleeson quit her job as vice president of a sales and marketing for a small computer company and is now enjoying being home.

She recently submitted a menu for a dinner that is a family favorite, and one that she often makes ahead and freezes, pulling it out on nights that she doesn't have time to cook.

Featuring recipes for Provincial Beef Stew served on a bed of egg noodles, a tossed green salad, served with your choice of dressing, crusty French bread or rolls, and Strawberry Orange Ice, this is a delicious meal that will save you on those upcoming days when you've been everywhere except the kitchen. Thank you, Lisa Gleeson, for sharing your recipes with us, and congratulations on being selected this week's Winner Dinner Winner.

If you have a favorite low-cal, low fat, or ethnic meal, I encourage you to please send recipes my way.

Submit your recipes to be considered for publication in this column or elsewhere, to: Winner Dinner Winner, P.O. Box 3503 Birmingham, MI 48012.

PROVINCIAL BEEF STEW

Tasty, filling and easy to put together, this meal is great for those busy days we all have.

A tossed green salad, served with your choice of dressing, crusty French bread or rolls, and Strawberry-Orange Ice completes this Winner Dinner.

Provincial Beef Stew can also be made ahead, and frozen for a future dinner when you don't have time to cook. This recipe serves 6.

- 2 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil
- 1 1/2 pounds lean beef (flank steak), cut into 1/2 inch by 3 inch strips
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 2 teaspoons wine vinegar
- 3/4 cup dry red wine
- 3/4 cup regular-strength beef broth
- 1 large onion
- 1 1/2 pounds fresh mushrooms, diced
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 bag egg noodles

Heat 1 tablespoon of oil in a frying pan. Add the beef and cook over medium high heat, stirring until the juices evaporate. Add the sugar and vinegar and cook until the meat is well browned.

Transfer the beef to a 2-quart casserole. In the drippings left in the frying pan, add the wine, broth, salt and pepper.

Bring to a boil, scraping up the drippings mixture and pour into a casserole.

Add the remaining oil to the frying pan and saute the onion until it is translucent. Stir the onions into the casserole and bake, covered, at 375 degrees for 50 minutes.

Saute the mushrooms in butter, stirring until the juices evaporate. Blend the water with the cornstarch. Stir it into the casserole along with the mushrooms. Bake 20 minutes longer covered and serve over egg noodles.

STRAWBERRY ORANGE ICE

This recipe makes 10 cups or enough for 20 servings.

Be sure to double check before you pour the mixture into a baking dish that it will fit into your freezer. This recipe can also be cut in half.

- 1 3/4 cups orange juice (if desired, you may substitute 1/4 cup orange-flavored liqueur for 1/4 cup of the orange juice)
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 3 pints strawberries, frozen (fresh, hulled strawberries can also be used)
- 1 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

In a covered blender or food processor at high speed, blend all ingredients until smooth, blending about half at a time.

Pour the mixture into a 13-inch by 9-inch baking pan and mix well. Cover the pan with foil or plastic wrap and freeze until partially frozen (frozen firm to 1 inch from the edge of the pan), about 4 hours, stirring occasionally.

Spoon the mixture into a chilled large bowl and, with mixer at medium speed, beat until smooth but still frozen. Return the mixture to baking pan. Cover with foil or plastic wrap and freeze until firm, about 3 hours.

To serve, remove the baking dish from the freezer and let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes for easier scooping.

Draw a large spoon across the surface to form ribbons. Slip a spoonful of the mixture into a dessert glass bowl, tilting slightly and overlapping the ribbons for a pretty effect.

Pampered Chef helps food bank

By Sue Mason
staff writer

When does $1 buy $153 in food? When does a little pampering help the hungry?

The mathematics may sound a tad skewed, and the pampering a tad elitist, but no matter — Gleaners Community Food Bank is stocking its shelves with food provided, in part, by The Pampered Chef's and its "Round Up from the Heart."

THE ILLINOIS-BASED company that sells kitchen and food preparation items at in-home shows is donating $1 to Second Harvest, a national nonprofit food bank network, for every sales presentation between now and Dec. 31.

Customers are also being asked to "round up" their orders to the nearest dollar amount, with all money raised going to the purchase and distribution of food to the hungry through Second Harvest.

Each $1 buys $153 in food from Second Harvest and Pampered Chef representatives in the area have selected Gleaners as the recipient of that food. The program began Sept. 1 and Pampered Chef sales representatives have generated $14,841 in food for the food bank.

Expectations are to triple that during October and November, said sales representative Barbara Knopsnider of Livonia.

IN ADDITION, Pampered Chef is offering a limited edition clay cookie mold — a heart decorated with stars and stripes — available for $6 to people who participate in "Round Up from the Heart." The mold will be broken after Dec. 31, Knopsnider said.

IT SEEMS logical that a company with its foot firmly planted in the kitchen would be involved in a benefit for the nation's hungry. Pampered Chef, started by Doris Christopher in 1980, bills itself as "the kitchen store that comes to your home."

Well-known in Illinois, Pampered Chef is relatively new to Michigan. There are 20-30 sales representatives like Knopsnider in the state who market Pampered Chef's kitchen gadgets and baking items through home parties.

Prices range from as low as 75 cents for a citrus peeler to as high as $148 for a cookware set. But its most popular item is its baking stones, Knopsnider.

Party givers purchase the food for the party with the sales representative preparing it while demonstrating Pampered Chef wares.

"It's not a full meal," Knopsnider said. "Generally, it's pizza, dessert,

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

hors d'oeuvres.

Apparently, word of mouth had helped spur interest in Pampered Chef. Knopsnider was introduced to the business by her sister and after having a party of her own, signed up as a sales representative.

"The first one I did I did in my home and got eight bookings for shows," she said. "The stuff is really quality products that can be used in everyday kitchen life."

OPERATING under the motto of "Turning Surplus into a Plus for the Hungry," Gleaners serves as a central food warehouse for charitable food pantries, soup kitchens and other agencies that deal with the poor. It takes its name from the word glean — the gathering of grain left in the fields by the reapers.

In its 12 years of operation, Gleaners has distributed more than 62 million pounds of food to the poor through 360 non-profit agencies in more than 60 communities in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

Among the local organizations taking advantage of the food Gleaners gets through donations and purchases are the Ladies of Charity in Farmington Hills, Jewish Association of Retired Citizens in Southfield, Bethel Missionary Assembly of God in Livonia and Newburgh Baptist Church in Westland to name a few.

Readers share sourdough starters, tips

Thank you readers for the sourdough starter recipes. I received over 15 calls, and gave the information to Marleen Allen of Redford who requested it.

Becky MacIntyre of Troy passed along these sourdough tips. Use your starter often. Don't tuck it away in the refrigerator and forget about it. Sourdough that is allowed to sit unused for a month or two will spoil and have to be discarded.

A freshly fed starter can be frozen for 1 1/2 to 2 months. The fermenting action is considerably slowed during freezing, so you'll need to let the starter thaw at room temperature, then put in a warm place for about 24 hours, or until bubbly.

Rita Purdue of Livonia sent this recipe for sourdough starter, and friendship cake. Pass it along to your friends.

SOURDOUGH STARTER

- (fast & easy)
1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
1 tsp. sugar
2 cups buttermilk
2 cups flour
2 cups sugar

In a small cup stir yeast into warm water with sugar. Let stand 5 minutes or until bubbly. In a large bowl beat remaining ingredients together with an electric mixer, medium speed, until smooth. Beat in yeast mixture.

Pour into an 8-cup glass or plastic (not metal) container with loosely fitting lid. Set loosely covered container in large bowl in case the starter overflows. Overflow can be returned to original starter. Within four hours, first bubbling activity is apparent & mixture should then be stirred down every hour for next 4 hours. Starter may be used after 8 hours. Replace with 1 cup each flour, water & sugar which equals 1 cup starter after standing an hour. Allow tidbits

starter to stand 24 hours before using once replacement has been added to it.

FRIENDSHIP CAKE

- 1 cup starter
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
3 large eggs beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup buttermilk
1/4-pound butter, melted
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon orange extract
1 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup sugar
2 cups flour
Dash orange Sweet Orange Marmalade
Thin Vanilla Icing (recipe below)

As listed, combine ingredients beating well with each addition, using electric mixer, medium speed and large mixing bowl. Beat 6 minutes with last addition. Divide batter between two 9" greased foil cake pans, placed on cookie sheet, positioned on center rack of oven.

Bake at 350F for 30 to 35 minutes or until nicely browned. Pierce each cake with toothpick in 20 or 30 places and drizzle at once with thinned vanilla icing, spreading each then with thin layer of Sweet Orange Marmalade, which is slightly warmed in small pan to a pouring consistency.

Over top of this, if you wish, sprinkle on 1 cup flaked coconut & place a thin slice of fresh orange in center of each cake for garnish. Wrap in foil. Take one to a friend along with a cup of starter & the recipe for it. Keep one cake for yourself. They freeze well to be thawed & served within a 6 month period. Makes two 9-inch cakes.

THIN VANILLA ICING

- 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
10 tablespoon firmly packed powdered sugar

Using wire whisk & small bowl beat together ingredients until smooth. Use as directed

CHEF'S HINTS:

Try adding a pinch of saffron to your next pound cake recipe to give it a subtle flavor and a golden color!

When making plain rice, dissolve a pinch of saffron in some dry white wine or chicken broth and add to the rice while cooking for a great color and flavor!

Winegrower learns by experimenting

Dale Goode grows grapes in a northern Sonoma County growing region known as Alexander Valley. He grew up in California's central valley near Bakersfield, a very warm area for growing premium wine grapes, but a great climate for table grapes. The Bakersfield area climate aggravated Goode's severe allergies. Occasionally, he took trips to the coast to get relief.

focus on wine
Eleanor and Ray Heald

ON ONE such trip, Goode met Russell Green and his career in winegrowing had its start. Green was a summer resident of Healdsburg, Calif., in the heart of Sonoma wine country. He and friend Harry Wetzel had purchased orchards in the Alexander Valley from the descendants of Cyrus Alexander with the intention of converting them to vineyards. Green and Wetzel needed someone to guide their grape-growing efforts. Dale Goode was their man.

In the fall of 1965, Goode began to plant Green's and Wetzel's properties, now known as Alexander Valley Vineyards and Hoot Owl Creek, to wine grape varieties such as chardonnay, gewurztraminer, riesling, merlot, chenin blanc and cabernet sauvignon.

"We were the first growers in Alexander Valley to train vines on wire trellises," explains Goode. "The old timers here, who were growing zinfandel like small bushes, said grapes wouldn't grow when trained on wires. Today, that's the accepted method."

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

1990 Murphy-Goode Chardonnay, Alexander Valley ($15). Sweet, spicy oak aromas blend with melon and tropical fruit. A buttery character on the palate ends crisp and clean with lingering fruit.

1990 Murphy-Goode Fume Blanc, Alexander Valley ($11). One of the best fume blancs produced in California. It features grapefruit and crisp citrus flavors with an extended finish.

1990 Murphy-Goode Reserve Fume Blanc, Alexander Valley ($15) is a barrel-fermented sauvignon blanc that shows an earthy rather than fruity character. It is the perfect complement to a dish of angel hair pasta with seafood sauce.

1988 Murphy-Goode Cabernet Sauvignon, Alexander Valley ($19) showcases blackberry jam aromas and flavors spiced with French oak and a hint of tobacco. The hearty mouthfeel calls for good old American beef-steak.

"VITICULTURE (GRAPE growing) is a constant experiment. We made guesses about the best locations for each variety. At first, we planted the white varieties on the hillsides and the red varieties on the valley floor. Now, this is all reversed."

"We are still learning how to grow grapes to make great wine. It takes a lifetime of experimentation in one location to eventually get it right. New trellis systems, farm equipment, buried irrigation and organic growing techniques are the hot topics in farming these days. It will probably take another 20 to 25 years before we have fine tuned our understanding of what grows best on each specific site."

Speaking of organic farming, Goode explained that organically grown table grapes, fertilized with manure, have a better flavor and hold up better in cold storage. He still has to find out if this is true with wine grapes.

In 1979, Goode embarked on a joint venture, Murphy-Goode Vineyard, with friend and fellow Alexander Valley winegrower Tim Murphy. They developed 150 acres of well-drained, gravelly soil, on the Russian River in Alexander Valley and planted it to chardonnay, sauvignon blanc and pinot blanc.

MURPHY AND Goode are justifiably proud of their vineyard location which boasts neighbors like Jordan Vineyards, Robert Young Vineyards and Clos du Bois.

In 1985, Murphy, Goode and wine marketer Dave Ready established Murphy-Goode Estate Winery to make and market wine. The first Murphy-Goode wines were the 1985 Fume Blanc and Chardonnay. In 1986, Murphy-Goode bought red grapes to produce the first cabernet sauvignon and merlot. In 1987, a winery was constructed with the capacity to produce 25,000 cases annually.

The goal of Murphy-Goode is to produce wines that showcase the unique flavors of the vineyard's particular soil structure and exposure. They aim at producing a fruity sauvignon blanc with a long finish accenting the ripe pear and melon flavors characteristic of the vineyard. For chardonnay, barrel fermentation, partial malolactic fermentation, and sur lie aging create a creamy texture and toasty finish. They prefer a chardonnay style that lets the fruit show through accompanied by oak, but not overwhelmed by it.

SWEET POTATOES AND APPLES

6 medium-sized sweet potatoes
Boiling salted water
2 tablespoons molasses
1/2 cup butter
4 medium-sized red apples, cored and cut into 1/2-inch-thick slices
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 teaspoon salt

Scrub the sweet potatoes, cover with the boiling salted water, cover, and simmer for 30 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender.

Meanwhile, heat 1 tablespoon molasses with 1/4 cup of the butter in a skillet. Add the apple slices and turn to coat with the mixture. Simmer very gently until barely tender, about 10 minutes, turning twice during the cooking.

Drain the potatoes, peel and mash or puree them. Add the remaining butter, remaining molasses, the orange juice, orange rind and salt.

Beat until light and fluffy.

Mound the mixture on top of the apple rings and serve immediately.

Yield: About 10 servings.

ZUCCHINI-CARROT MUFFINS
(Makes 24)

1 1/2 cups whole wheat flour
1/2 cup unbleached white flour
4 tablespoons powdered milk
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon sea salt
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 eggs
1/4 cup safflower oil
1/2 cup mild honey
4 heaping tablespoons orange or ginger marmalade
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup milk
1 cup grated carrot
1 cup grated zucchini
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Butter muffin tins.

Sift together flours, powdered milk, baking powder, salt and spices.

Beat together eggs, oil, honey, marmalade, vanilla and milk. Stir in grated carrot and zucchini.

Quickly stir wet ingredients into dry, and fold in walnuts. Spoon into muffin tins, filling 3/4 full and bake in preheated oven 20 minutes. Cool on a rack, or serve warm.

BOILED GREENS

2 pounds collards, turnip greens, or mustard greens, prepared for cooking
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
pinch pepper
2 tablespoons bacon drippings or melted margarine

Wash greens well in cool water to remove grit. Discard tough stems and leaf midribs; cut large leaves into bite-size pieces.

Place in a large pot, add water and salt, cover and simmer until tender (10-15 minutes for turnip or mustard greens; 15-20 minutes for collards; very young leaves may cook in 5-7 minutes).

Drain, add pepper and drippings, toss to mix.

For low-calorie greens, use white wine vinegar in place of bacon drippings.

'My Son Johnny' explores violence between brothers

Nemec excels as tortured sibling

By Steven Alan McGaw

In 1989, audiences were riveted to the fact-based miniseries "I Know My First Name Is Steven," starring young actor Corin Nemec. Top-notch writing and direction certainly contributed to the excellence of the project, but it was Nemec's painful, restrained portrayal that gave "Steven" its emotional center.

Now, Nemec does it again in "My Son Johnny," airing Sunday, Nov. 10, on CBS. Michele Lee and Rick Schroder co-star in this modern Cain-and-Abel tale directed by Peter Levin, and if the film as a whole is not television at its best, the performances by Nemec, Lee and Rip Torn, as a compassionate attorney, still make it worth watching.

Based on a true story, the movie focuses on Italian-American widow Marianne Cortino (Lee), who struggles to keep the family antique store going after the death of her husband. Still at home is her younger son, Anthony (Nemec), a quiet, gentle boy whose greatest pleasure is playing his saxophone. Flashbacks introduce us to the elder Cortino boy, Johnny, played by Schroder. Johnny's youth was apparently a long and painful trail of disobedience, delinquency and drugs, culminating in his arrest and brief incarceration. Upon his release, his newly widowed mother banished him from the house and Johnny moved to California.

A few years later, Johnny calls and asks to come home, just to visit. Marianne's initial reluctance is overcome by her desire to gather her splintered family together.

Anthony, however, vividly recalls the emotional and physical abuse suffered at the hands of his mean-spirited sibling. His fears are confirmed almost immediately, for when Johnny arrives, the torrents of kicking, beating and humiliation begin once more.

When Anthony tries to tell his mother about the abuse, he hears again the dismissive litany that came so often from his father's lips: "You're just boys roughhousing, it's normal," his mother says. "It's in the blood."

This time, however, something is stirring in Anthony's blood. When his drunken brother beats and humiliates the gentle boy in front of his girlfriend, something snaps. Zombielike, Anthony fetches their father's pistol from an upstairs closet and shoots Johnny twice in the chest.

Arrested immediately, Anthony at first doesn't remember the shooting; he only recalls their preceding confrontation. But in conference with defense attorney Brian Stansbury (Torn), the anguished youth finally remembers the murder, and much, much more. Stansbury is appalled to hear of the torture Anthony endured at the hands of his troubled sibling and knows what he must do in court — unveil the horror the boys' parents dismissed and clarify Anthony's act of simple self-defense. Vital to that, of course, is Marianne Cortino's acknowledgement of the situation and acceptance of her culpability. To save one son, she must see the other realistically, for the first time.

The problems with "My Son Johnny" are in the script. Cliches abound and crucial information is strangely absent. Missing, for instance, is more insight into the Cortino patriarch and his belief that violence between brothers was "normal." The natural feeling of resentment between Marianne and Anthony is never fully explored, nor is the enormity of Anthony's feeling of guilt for what he has done. (In real life, the surviving brother eventually committed suicide.) The roots of Johnny's meanness are never examined.

This story is clearly too big to be told in two hours; one wonders why CBS chose not to expand it into a miniseries, a move that also would have allowed space to explore the more mythic resonances of brother killing brother.

Despite its shortcomings, the film is an entertaining and provocative work, mostly thanks to the actors. Lee does a fine job, searching for richer emotional terrain than the dialogue gives her. Torn's portrayal of defense attorney Stansbury is excellent, swinging between the courtroom professional and a man clearly shocked at what he discovers. Schroder is regrettably weak in the pivotal role of Johnny, relying far too often on threadbare tough-guy mannerisms and a ludicrous accent to give what could have been a memorable glimpse at real evil.

Ultimately, the film rests on Nemec's young shoulders and he rises to the occasion admirably, showing in his face all the pain and resentment the script fails to voice. Nemec's performance is thoughtful and mature. Also a gifted comedic performer (as seen on Fox's zany "Parker Lewis Can't Lose"), audiences have much to look forward to in Nemec's promising career.

"My Son Johnny" is a laudable effort and an important one, addressing a serious problem that is often ignored. Following the film, CBS will air a telephone number offering help for those suffering from, or engaging in, sibling violence.

HBO salutes Groucho Marx

By Dan Rice

"Hello, I must be going." Groucho Marx, the keeper of the "secret word" and the world's funniest man for almost seven decades, is the subject of an HBO special premiering Monday, Nov. 4. Here He Is...the One, the Only. Groucho pays tribute to the multimedia success of the lightning wit and reveals his private nature as an insecure perfectionist. Narrated by comedian David Steinberg, this fond remembrance features clips of Marx Brothers movie madness from Duck Soup to Animal Crackers.

Whether sitting tall in the saddle or dodging the hooves of a bucking bronc, the life of a rodeo cowboy carries its own brand of excitement. Saturday, Nov. 9, on The Learning Channel, the award-winning documentary Moon of the Desperados profiles the riders and ropers whose grace and determination ennoble this all-American sport.

You'd think they'd be more careful when they make things to destroy the world. Building Bombs, due Saturday on The Discovery Channel, chronicles the controversial mismanagement of production of U.S. nuclear weapons, particularly at the Savannah River Plant in Aiken, S.C.

Energy Department officials and former plant physicists tell of management apathy, cover-ups and the daily danger posed to workers and local residents. The program airs as part of the network's Discovery Journal series.

Another trio of celebrities checks in for The Barbara Walters Special, Tuesday on ABC.

STAR NOTES

Life's toughened up feisty Lorraine Bracco

By Lisa Otoupal

In Someone to Watch Over Me, she slugs on-screen husband Tom Berenger for sleeping with the woman he is protecting. When movie-hubby Ray Liotta takes a mistress in Goodfellas, she pulls a gun on him and tells him, "I'm a fighter." Actress Lorraine Bracco is nothing if not tough.

Raised in New York by an Italian father and a British mother, Bracco began modeling at 16. At her parents' insistence, she moved to Paris, where, by age 19, she was gracing the covers of Elle and Mare Claire.

After French actress Catherine Deneuve told her she should be an actress, Bracco enrolled in a class taught by John Strasberg, son of acting coach Lee Strasberg, hoping it would give her the confidence and skills she needed.

What ultimately gave her the needed boost was the end of her three-year marriage to a French salon owner. The divorce left her with a 3-year-old daughter and the will to survive.

Before long, Bracco met actor Harvey Keitel. Within a year, they married and moved back to the United States. She started accompanying Keitel to the Actors' Studio, and after months of watching said, "I can do that." She subsequently won a part in Goose and Tom Tom, a Lincoln Center production with Sean Penn and Madonna.

Bracco's latest film, Radio Flyer, is due out next year.

LET'S TALK

Reader wants to contact Enterprise crew member

By Taylor Michaels

Q: I don't know if this would be of general interest, but it is important to me. I want to send a letter to Marina Sirtis, the woman who plays Deanna Troi on Star Trek: The Next Generation. Could you publish an address for her? —Thomas and Malinda LeBlanc, Claremont, N.H.

A: You can write Sirtis, c/o Paramount Domestic Television, 5855 Melrose Ave., Los Angeles, Calif. 90038.

Q: I recently read in your column where someone was upset about the line "I'll cut your heart out and eat it" in a television show. Television shows are beginning to go down the drain.

I have a 5-year-old stepson, who, like most children his age, loves to watch cartoons. Last week we were watching some of the new cartoons for this season. At the end of the new Back to the Future cartoon, the character Biff was talking directly to the viewers and called them "buttheads." I was outraged.

In the movie, Biff said "butthead" quite a bit. For a PG movie, that's fine. But for a children's cartoon, it's not right. In movies and television it's easier to explain to a child that it's not right to do or say as the characters do. We've stopped him before for saying the word "butt," and when he hears it emphasized on a cartoon, he asks questions.

I'm not against cartoons, I just think because children are the majority of viewers, the cartoons ought to be more suitable towards children. —S. Meaux, Carthage, Texas.

A: First of all, I think it's great you're taking the time to screen the shows your stepson is watching. Secondly, I agree with you. Cartoons are mainly for children (even though I know some adults who love them as well), and since they don't contain warnings like movies, their content should be harmless.

Q: I was watching Love Connection and I saw a girl I went to school with many years ago. I have often thought of her over the years. Her date's name was Emmanuel. It would mean everything to me if you could contact the show and get her address or give her my address. —Nick Alexander, Vivian, La.

A: I hope you're on the level. I'm doing this in the interest of true love.

The best thing for you to do is call the station on which you saw the show and ask them what episode number was shown on that date. Then write to Warner Bros., the studio that distributes the show, and explain it all to them. The show is in syndication, so that particular episode could be a couple of years old. The address for Warner Bros. Domestic Television Distribution is 4000 Warner Blvd., Burbank, Calif. 91522. Good luck, and let me know if you ever find her.

Q: Could you tell me if the Arizona police have any clues as to who murdered Bob Crane, who starred in Hogan's Heroes? A few years ago I heard they were close to solving the crime. —James Wells, Osceola, Ariz.

A: The last thing I heard was that the police had uncovered some new evidence, but they didn't say what it was. They didn't go so far as to say they were close to solving the crime.

Q: Where can I write to the producers of Northern Exposure? —Elsie Crane, Chanute, Kan.

A: Write to Joshua Brand and John Falsey, producers of the CBS Monday-night hit, c/o Pipeline Productions, 3000 Olympic Ave., Suite 2575, Santa Monica, Calif. 90404.

Send your questions about the world of entertainment to Let's Talk, c/o Features Dept., P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas, 76161-1009. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest can be answered.

PBS recently presented a lengthy documentary on explorer Christopher Columbus. Now the network is allowing equal time and funding for Surviving Columbus. The story is told in the voices and seen through the eyes of the Pueblo people, from their first encounter with the conquistadors to the Indians' revolt in 1680 and their subsequent domination by Mexico and the United States. Surviving Columbus is slated to air in the fall of 1992.

Michael Sabatino's good at being bad

By Candace Havens

When it comes to evildoers on soaps, good ol' Lawrence Alamain on Days of Our Lives is one of the first to come to mind. This guy is suave, sophisticated, handsome — and so very good at being bad.

Just look at the history of the character. He was responsible for killing Patch, raping Jennifer, almost killing Bo, Shane, Kayla and a few other Salemmites. Lawrence did get put in jail for the crime of rape, but after only a few months, he was released.

This isn't the first time Michael Sabatino, aka Lawrence Alamain, has portrayed a bad guy. You may remember him as Chip Roberts (Knots Landing), the man who killed Ciji (Lisa Hartman). Sabatino is quick to point out that even though he often plays an evildoer, it doesn't mean he is one in real life. "When I meet people, they are surprised when I respond to them normally. They are thinking, 'This guy is what I see him doing on TV.' — and I'm not."

Actually, Sabatino's off-screen persona couldn't be more different. "By the time I get home from work I'm too tired to be mean," he says.

For the most part the actor tries to take care of himself. Along with working out and doing aerobics, he enjoys hiking, mountain biking and stair stepping.

Sabatino may be healthy, but he is also human. When asked what he would die for in the way of food, he reveals, "The other day I was in the market and I could not resist these Hagen-Dazs ice-cream bars with almonds. They were amazingly good."

As to what the actor looks for in a relationship, "Earlier in the year I went through a separation, and I'm in kind of in a transitional period right now. I am seeing someone, an actress on the show, Crystal Chappel, who plays Carly. With what my situation is now, I keep reflecting on that great part in When Harry Met Sally, when (Billy Crystal) was talking about low-maintenance and high-maintenance relationships. I am interested in the low-maintenance relationships, and I'm very comfortable in ours," he says.

I want to hear from you! Write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas, 76161-1009.

'Granpa' takes kids on a loving adventure

By Chris Carpenter

The comfort and wonder of childhood unfold like a warm flannel blanket in Granpa, an animated short feature airing on Showtime in November. It is a product of the same animation group responsible for The Snowman, When the Wind Blows and The Yellow Submarine, all seemingly whimsical adventure stories with definite adult overtones.

In Granpa, an English lass and her grandfather share one fantasy adventure after another during her visits to his house. He is her hero, protector and mentor, and he lives to entertain her.

PBS allows Pueblo Indians equal post-Columbus time

"I think in most cases an attack is a case of mistaken identity," says shark expert Al Giddings, whose latest film project, Shark Chronicles, led off the new season for ABC's World of Discovery. Using himself as bait, Giddings demonstrated how aggressive behavior tends off the predators. "A surfer paddling with legs extended, as viewed from the bottom, looks like a sea lion laying on the surface," says Giddings. "If there's no radical response that puts them off, they'll start to feed."

Giddings has directed underwater photography scenes in several major Hollywood films, including two James Bond movies, For Your Eyes Only and Never Say Never Again.

The Supreme Court refused to hear Las Vegas entertainer Wayne Newton's appeal of a $5.2 million libel suit filed against NBC News. The original complaint was based on reports presented on NBC Nightly News in 1985 and 1981 in which reporters investigated organized-crime figures and raised questions about their relationship with Newton.

NBC News President Michael Gartner said the move represented "a sound victory for investigative journalism. It's unfortunate that it took the time and resources of 10 years of litigation," said Gartner.

Friday on Entertainment Tonight, Robert Stack discusses playing Eliot Ness one more time.

Stephen Baldwin plays the young William Cody in The Young Riders, Saturdays on ABC.

NFC East may pass by Eagles, Giants

By Steve Paschal

Two teams that were expected to contend for the NFC East championship will instead be battling just to make the playoffs this week when the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles clash on ABC's NFL Monday Night Football.

The Giants and Eagles were expected to be the cream of the crop in what is arguably the toughest division in the NFL, but both find themselves in jeopardy of watching the playoffs on television. The Washington Redskins are almost sure bets to win the division after their best start in 50 years, and the resurgent Dallas Cowboys are making a serious bid for second place.

The defending Super Bowl champion Giants have been embroiled in a quarterback controversy all season involving last year's starter Phil Simms and his former back-up, Jeff Hostetler. Hostetler led the Giants to their third NFL Championship last year after Simms suffered a season-ending injury, but the Giants have struggled during the first half of this year and Simms is anxious to retake his old job.

Philadelphia, on the other hand, would just be happy to have one healthy, reliable quarterback. The Eagles lost both All-Pro quarterback Randall Cunningham and back-up Jim McMahon early in the season.

If either team does make the playoffs, it will be on the strength of its defense.

Tom Selleck discusses his latest film, Mr. Baseball, on Monday's Entertainment Tonight.

Mary Page Keller (center) plays a single mother on ABC's Friday comedy Baby Talk. Scott Baio (top) plays the superintendent of her apartment building. Ryan Jessup also stars.
