Plant marks 25th anniversary

For 25 years now the Ford Sheldon Road plant has been helping drivers stay cool behind the wheel. The plant, which makes air conditioners and is the largest employer in Plymouth Township, held ceremonies Saturday to commemorate the anniversary.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The Ford Motor Co. plant on Sheldon Road celebrated its 25th anniversary Saturday with a carnival.

Singing groups, a magician and ventriloquist performed on three stage areas set up inside the plant from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Kids were treated to face painting, vintage cars were displayed along with future prototype cars, and information was provided about the plant.

In property taxes alone on the plant, the Ford Motor Co. pays $631,893 annually, making Ford Plymouth Township's biggest taxpayer.

The plant, which is just north of M-14, is also the township's biggest employer.

"We have been collecting a lot of data on the history of the plant," said Dave Landon, a Ford communications employee.

Jenny Teehey, plant newsletter editor, researched the plant history by going through old issues of the Plymouth Observer and by studying records of the Michigan Department of Transportation.

"They (Ford) bought the property from a Mr. Rossow (in 1967)," she said. Rossow, now 95 and living in Livonia, had a farm on the land.

A house on the parcel had been used as rental property since 1934, she added.

"When they built the plant they brought about 1,000 people over from the Rawsonville plant," Teehey said.

"It was originally opened to meet the needs of growing air conditioner market for North American vehicles," Landon said. In 1966, just 20 percent of all cars had air conditioners, and Ford executives predicted that percentage would surge.

"We built this plant to meet that need," Landon said, adding the plant also began building car heating unit cores.

The plant's peak employment, in the '80s, was 2,700. Ford now employs just under 2,000 employees at the plant.

Today, the 800,000 square-foot plant — expanded from the original 642,000 square feet — produces 13,000 air conditioners and 7,500 car heaters each month.

Also each month, 250 rail car loads are shipped out of the plant.

Since the plant's founding on Feb. 5, 1967, the plant has gone on to produce climate control systems, injection molding and plastic housings for the air conditioner units.

Starting in 1987, air conditioner units for Mazdas built in Flat Rock have been built at the Ford Sheldon plant.

What a week: Greg Park last week fended off a squirrel attack, then four days later chased and cornered a naked man spotted peeping in his neighborhood.

Vicious squirrel, naked man bewilder construction worker

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

If you think you've had a strange week, consider what's happened to Greg Park lately.

First, there was the incident with the squirrel.

It happened a week ago, Sunday, Sept. 12.

Park, 25, who works in construction, was walking along Roe Street just east of downtown, with his girlfriend, Jennifer Herter.

That was when the squirrel attacked.

"It tried to go after my girlfriend, I couldn't believe it," he said.

After sending her away, the squirrel came after him.

"It just ran out from behind a tree," he said.

"It climbed up my pant leg and I tried to shake it off, and it bit me twice on the left hand."

Because the skin was broken "in four or five places," Park went to get a tetanus shot from the doctor, and antibiotics.

Some of Park's Roe Street neighbors also report problems with the squirrel. Longtime resident Ernie Archer reported that the squirrel chased a second-grader who lives on the street. When the squirrel returned to the girl's house the next day, "her mother threw a shoe at it," Park said.

The squirrel stands out, Park said, because, "He's the biggest one out of them all."

Then there was the incident early Thursday.

"I was just walking home, at about a quarter to 2 (a.m.)," Park said, along Roe Street.

That's when he spotted an unusual sight. "I saw him coming out of a backyard — He was naked," Park said.

Because Park noticed the man was peeping into a neighbor's window, he called for him to stop. Instead, the naked man — Park said he was about 30 and 6 feet tall, started running.

The naked man ran through a backyard and hopped the fence, and continued on, Park said.

During the chase which continued through three backyards, they passed by Park's apartment. Park called out to his girlfriend to call the police, and she did.

Finally, "I cornered him in a backyard," Park said, adding the naked man was also holding the clothes of a female child in his hand.

Plymouth police arrested the naked man and charged him with indecent exposure.

After two uncommon experiences within four days of each other, was Park wondering what might happen next?

"I think I'm going to stay inside," he said.

Supports Keen-McCarthy

Charles McIlhargey, who lost the township supervisor's race to Kathleen Keen-McCarthy by 17 votes, is urging his supporters to support Keen-McCarthy.

She had beaten McIlhargey, Plymouth Township building director, by 21 votes, by the vote tally after the Aug. 4 Republican primary election. The recount sought by McIlhargey upheld Keen-McCarthy's victory, by four fewer votes.

"Your efforts on my behalf were instrumental in effectively disseminating our positive and issue oriented campaign to the citizens of Plymouth Township," McIlhargey said to supporters. "I hope you will join me in supporting Kathleen Keen-McCarthy."

She faces a challenge in November from independent candidate Ron Edwards.

Meanwhile, McCarthy is holding a $100 fund rais-

It's more than patriotic, it's supporting the home team. And that's what McDonald's restaurant in Canton is doing.

The fast food establishment, which features sports memorabilia from the Pistons, Lions, Tigers, Red Wings and college sports teams, is painting the outside of its building red, white and blue in support of the Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high school sport teams.

The restaurant, at 44900 Ford Rd., is owned by Al and Rosie Fellhauer.

Extra miler named

Bird Elementary School teacher Carol Breed was named an "Extra Miler" at the Sept. 14 board of education meeting.

A first-grade teacher, Breed has worked with Plymouth-Canton schools for 16 years. Breed has received much credit for the Earth Day activities she plans for her classroom and her ability to find new and fun approaches to learning.

In accepting the award from board member David Artley, Breed said, "all my best speeches are made up for first-graders." Breed thanked the board and her students and fellow teachers for the honor.

Breed received a certificate, a cloisonne pin of the Flag of Learning and dinner for two at the Mayflower Hotel.

Schools fight lawsuit

A Circuit Court case that cuts to the core of one local family remains unresolved after a hearing Friday seeking a resolution from Judge Samuel A. Turner.

Attorneys representing Plymouth-Canton Community Schools filed a motion to dismiss the case involving the 1990 death of 8-year-old Stephen Nalepa of Canton Township.

Nalepa was found March 24 hanging from his bunk bed with a noose made of belts around his neck. His parents, Deborah and Lawrence, blame their son's death on the schools because the day before his death, his second-grade class viewed a film called "Nobody's Useless."

The movie shows a handicapped boy trying to commit suicide in a similar manner, but that boy is stopped by his brother. The movie was made for students in grades 4 to 6, according to an accompanying instruction guide.

The Nalepas filed a lawsuit shortly after their son's death against the school district, as well as Encyclopedia Britannica and the makers of the film.

Attorneys for Encyclopedia Britannica asked that the firm be dropped from the suit and the judge ruled in their favor, saying the company's distribution of the film was protected by the First Amendment.

The Nalepas, represented by Barry Waldman and Mary Katherine Norton, asked the court to reconsider.

"Now the judge has to respond to two motions," said John W. Crimando, attorney for the school district.

The judge took Friday's motion under advisement and allowed Crimando an additional 10 days to present his argument. His decision could take weeks, Crimando said, and the case could eventually end up in the Court of Appeals.

"Nobody wants the judge to rush his decision," Crimando said. "No one wants to try the case with these questions still unanswered."

The case is riddled with complicated legal issues concerning the First Amendment and a school district's responsibility to censor materials more critically. It has gained a great deal of attention.

"It's a high-profile case so it is better that we take our time," Crimando said. "Nobody wants to see this family hurt anymore than they already have been."

Heavy rains make for muddy, messy harvest

BY BARBARA WILSON
STAFF WRITER

Several days of rain have seemed to cap off an already strange growing season that has kept area growers off guard all summer long. Getting to the crops was the biggest problem faced by farmers last week. With tomato crops finally ripening and sweet corn reaching its peak, farmers were blocked from their fields by heavy mud. "We've had bulldozers out to get to the corn," said an employee of Duane Bordine of Canton Township.

Farm equipment often can't make into the fields when they are rain-soaked and muddy, so the bulldozers are sent in first.

Ross Hauk, of Canton, is facing the same problem with his crops.

"We're having trouble getting the vegetables out of the field," Hauk said. "We're just hoping things will dry up and stay warm awhile longer."

If the fields don't dry up soon, allowing harvesting equipment in, farmers may lose field corn and soy crops. Tomato, pumpkin and other squash crops may also be smaller than hoped if the wet weather continues.

"It's really been hard on the tomatoes," Hauk said. "They're later than usual and if they sit in the water they will develop blight and rot."

The same fate may be in store for the pumpkin and squash crops unless things clear up soon.

Cooler summer temperatures and many cloudy days already have wreaked havoc on the summer melon crop, according to Greg Patchen, horticulturist for the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service. Many other crops have been smaller than usual and not as tasty.

Salad and root crops, on the other hand, have been thriving, Patchen said. Cabbages, lettuce, carrots, beets, spinach and other similar plants do well in the type of summer weather experienced this year.

In general, Patchen said, the growing season is two weeks behind schedule, and that could mean lost revenues for local farmers. If the region is hit with an early freeze, there will be some major losses in the fields, Hauk said.

"We just have to hope things hold out for awhile," Hauk said.

Experts suggest, however, that not all is lost. Autumn is expected to bring one of the best apple crops in years.

DNR hears wetlands concerns

BY BARBARA WILSON
STAFF WRITER

Residents of two Canton Township subdivisions will have to wait a little longer for an answer from the Department of Natural Resources regarding development of neighboring wetlands.

They were hoping for answers Wednesday when they attended a public hearing staged by the DNR, but they were only given time to express their concerns to a DNR representative with a tape recorder.

The construction of a new 100-lot subdivision called Parkview Estates, just east of Sheldon and south of Applewood near the north bank of the Rouge River, may disturb some wetlands in the area and residents want the DNR to study the development more closely.

Parkview, a project of the M.V. Building Co. of West Bloomfield, would be built surrounding the wetlands area, but approval must first be obtained from the DNR.

'We also asked for a study of other developments M.V. has done to see how neighbors think the wetlands issue was handled in their cases.'

Rodger Rahhal
resident

"I think the meeting went really well," said Rodger Rahhal, a resident who has questioned the development from the start. "We didn't get answers, but people presented their concerns."

About 35 people attended the 45-minute meeting at township hall including a representative of the developer and the DNR representative.

Some individuals expressed concerns about the runoff from fertilizers affecting the ecological balance of the area as well as the entire Rouge River basin, and they wanted to know what problems sump pumps would cause to the wetland area.

Several people asked for an environmental impact study and an additional 30 days to express concerns on the matter to the DNR.

"We also asked for a study of other developments M.V. has done to see how neighbors think the wetlands issue was handled in their cases," Rahhal said.

"I was worried that people would become too emotional, but everyone had very constructive comments to make," Rahhal said.

No decisions, promises or comments were made by the DNR representative Wednesday.

Comments will be compiled in a report and any decision will be announced at a later date.

Fund drive putters along

Fund-raising for the Canton Township veteran's memorial is moving along a little slower than planners had hoped.

About $12,000 of the $55,800 needed has been collected to date, according to township finance director and project coordinator John Spencer.

"We made a deposit on the granite last week and we're trying to get donations together for the bricks," Spencer said.

Collection canisters placed in local businesses weren't resulting in many donations, Spencer said, so they were removed.

"I think we'll make another effort to contact local businesses for support," he said.

Donors providing $100 or more can have their names engraved in bricks that will be placed in a walkway around the monument itself.

The monument was originally set to go next to the township administration building, but Spencer said the project architect is considering another site in Heritage Park that might make it more visible to the general public.

The monument will be dedicated to all local veterans — from the War of 1812 to Operation Desert Storm. Whether serving during peacetime or wartime, all veterans will be remembered, Spencer said.

"Although those serving in the military during the Cold War didn't see battle, they did serve their country and they should be recognized."

Spencer is a former commander of the Canton Veterans of Foreign Wars post. He is coordinating the project with Jim LaGrow of the Plymouth VFW.

"Jim called and said the Plymouth memorial was done and it's time to work on one for Canton," Spencer said.

Information about donations to the monument project may be directed to Spencer, 397-5421 or 397-8975, or to LaGrow, 981-2848.

Pilgrims take to the sky

BY DIANE GALE
STAFF WRITER

If climbing into the cockpit of, say, a World War II-era fighter plane, taking the controls and soaring into the clouds has been a lifelong dream of yours, you're in luck.

There's a club in town that can help you experience the thrill of flying — and you don't even have to leave the ground.

Members of the Flying Pilgrims RC Model Club get together at a site on Lilley Road north of Van Born in Canton to fly remote control model planes.

"They fly like the real ones," says club member Bert Brian.

But you can judge for yourself. The skies above the field will be filled with model planes from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sept. 26 and Sept. 27 during the "Fall Fly for Fun Phase Out."

Spectators are invited to attend. A $2 parking fee is optional and food concessions will be available.

If it doesn't rain, organizers expect between 2,000 and 2,500 spectators to see remote control biplanes, monoplanes and sail planes that will be among the aircraft flown.

The 85 members of the Flying Pilgrims include a 14-year-old girl and a 76-year-old man from Plymouth, and others from Canton, Livonia, Romulus, Westland, Bloomfield Township, Monroe and Ontario.

Flying Pilgrims president Richard Vukmirovich, of Detroit, was at the field last week with his P-47 Thunderbolt flight aircraft, a scale of a World War II fighter used in Germany and in the Pacific.

Building the plane himself, he constructed the framework in about two weeks and spent another two months on finishing touches.

Members of the Flying Pilgrims joke that Vukmirovich owns the Airforce, referring to his 12 model planes.

"Last year there were 60 pilots and 70 airplanes at the show," Vukmirovich said. "This year they'll be bigger and better. All the pilots just come out for a fun time."

Spectators are known to do the same.

Low blood supply prompts Red Cross to call on donors

BY DIANE GALE
STAFF WRITER

While the nation is rallying to help Hurricane Andrew victims, local health administrators are asking for help in Michigan.

The Southeastern Michigan Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross said the area desperately needs donors. Everytime someone donates blood it's processed into three components, red blood cells, plasma and platelets, which allows hospitals to give patients the needed component.

Inventories were depleted by a series of medical emergencies that began last week requiring large amounts of platelets, which are most often used by Leukemia and cancer patients.

"At the time we were already quite low with inventory of platelets and Wednesday we had to rush imports of platelets from around the country, according to Mark Cornillie, a Red Cross spokesman.

"We tend to have blood shortages just about every summer, but it is unusual that we become urgent on platelets first."

While all the emergency needs were met last week, there could be a problem if there are additional emergencies requiring large amounts of platelets, according to Dr. A. William Shafer, principal officer for the Red Cross Blood Program in Southeastern Michigan.

"A sudden demand could wipe out our safety net," he said.

The Red Cross is asking donors to call 1-800-582-4383 and schedule an appointment.

"We're trying to open various centers and extend hours and make things as convenient as possible for them to donate," Cornillie said. "We prefer people to call so we can schedule them."

Several of the centers will be open on Sunday in response to the shortage.

Meanwhile, mobil gas dealers are trying to meet the needs of disabled children. Some 150 dealers in the Detroit, Lansing and Grand Rapids area will be participating in a program to help children in need of physical rehabilitation at Beaumont Hospital's Pediatric Rehabilitation Center.

Between September 17 and October 3 participating dealers will donate two cents per gallon for all Super Unleaded Gasoline sold between Sept. 17 and Oct. 3. They hope to raise $40,000.

Beaumont's rehabilitation center provides specialized treatment for infants, children and teenagers who suffer from a wide variety of physical injuries, illnesses and birth defects, including cerebral palsy, spinal cord injuries, amputations, muscular dystrophy, sports injuries, and arthritis.

"We know that Mobil cares about kids, Vera Stojanovic, Children's Miracle Network director said.

"They are being strong for our children by giving back a loving heart, a helping hand and most importantly a chance for life."

Open: While local governments won't be buying and operating Mettetal Airport, Dan Malone's Emerald Aviation and the Canton airport are open for business.

Rumors of Mettetal's death exaggerated, businessman says

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The government effort to buy Mettetal Airport may be over, but the airport is still open, businessman Dan Malone stresses.

Malone owns Emerald Aviation, the airport's largest employer with 10 employees.

He was concerned with a recent news story detailing the end of the Plymouth Township-Canton effort to seek a federal grant to buy the airport.

The headline read, "Mettetal Goes Down in Flames."

"I've got a few hundred thousand invested out there, it affects the private businessman when people see these things," Malone said.

Malone said he doesn't claim to speak for the Klocko family, which owns Mettetal Airport, just south of Joy Road in Canton.

"But Steve Klocko has told me he's never intended to close the airport," Malone said.

Both Steve and Tom Klocko, partners in Desert Sand Inc. which owns Mettetal, have declined comment on the airport's future, after the failed attempt of local governments to buy Mettetal.

■ 'But Steve Klocko has told me he's never intended to close the airport.'

Malone speculated that some other government entity could still seek to buy the airport, as has happened in other areas.

He said the federal government has awarded grants "to a non-profit institution — they will give it to a college," he said, citing an Ohio college-owned airport as an example.

"It could be county-owned, it could be state-owned, there's possibilities of other public avenues," he said.

But while the future of the airport gets sorted out, Malone continues to operate Emerald Aviation, which operates a flight school and an aircraft maintenance and fuel service.

He employs mechanics, flight instructors and a flight school manager. At this point, "It's barely a break-even relationship," Malone said.

"I think that when times get better it could be a comfortably profitable business," he said.

Malone, an automotive design engineer and former developer said, "I've had an attraction to aviation most of my life."

He said that to a point, he understood the opposition of some to public ownership of the airport. "People are fearful of taxes and the government — People don't believe the government."

Malone maintains that some opposition to the airport was based on a fear of flying. "Some people don't understand why an aircraft stays in the air," he said.

Malone stresses that the public is welcome to visit the airport.

Until the airport's fate is decided, "I'm not here to close. I'll be here until they throw me out," he said.

"I really believe they're going to resolve the ownership of this airport. I have a lot of faith in the owners."

Clock maker takes bare bones approach

BY HELEN NIEMIEC
STAFF WRITER

From tiny screws to gears to the pendulum, Connie Bouchard's skeleton clocks are made from scratch.

It's a labor of love, with each creation taking more than 600 hours to complete. He's got five made already and is working on a sixth.

Skeleton clocks were a popular furnishing in England during the 1800s. The clocks are "bare," without any casing to hide the inner workings of the machinery.

Bouchard is drawn to the simplicity. "It shows the work of a clock master," he said.

The retired General Motors engineer turned his garage into a workshop more than 20 years ago. He was looking for a hobby that complemented his career as an engineer. He began his career at General Motors in the late 1930s designing aircraft as the nation talking about the impending war.

The retiree, who is in his early 80s, set up his workshop with great care, having both tools and paraphernalia that reflects both his interests and his sense of humor.

First, it served as a restoration site for old Rolls Royces. For the last eight years it has been a clock shop.

"It got hard to work on cars," Bouchard said. "So I wrote to a man in England eight years ago. He's an old clock maker. He sent me drawings of skeleton clocks from the early 1800s."

And, that sparked his passion.

Bouchard is making clocks for each of his two children and four grandchildren. Wife Helen also wants one.

"He's in his workshop from about 9 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon," she said. "He doesn't let too much interfere with his clock work."

The completed clocks adorn the couple's Birmingham living room and will not be distributed until after Bouchard dies.

"I wouldn't ever think of selling these," he said. "The gears, the screws, everything — I make. I do buy springs. But this is a job of patience. It all starts with a single sheet of brass."

A brass sheet these days runs approximately $300.

Each of the four clocks Bouchard has made is of a different design.

A ball clock relies on a metal ball winding its way through a side to side path that trips timing mechanisms every 30 seconds.

A scissors clock has numerous parts that resemble shears, including the pendulum. "The two pendulums are timed to cross each other, like scissors snipping," he said.

The last one completed was a lyre clock, with the frame shaped like the Greek harp-like instrument.

The newest project is a crystal clock that will have plexiglas looking like cut crystal on the pendulums and face. "It's going to be lovely," said Bouchard, as he scanned the unassembled parts on his work bench.

Each clock piece must first be made, though producing gears isn't an easy task. Some of the larger gears have 100 teeth to them, all must be precisely even and there is no pattern or form to follow. It's basically trial and error.

From there, Bouchard must fit all the pieces together. The least bit of inaccuracy results in a clock that won't run.

Once everything fits well, the clock is taken apart and Bouchard begins the arduous task of polishing each brass piece until it shines. Each piece is sanded with five different grades of sandpaper, then brass polish is applied and the finishing touch is lacquer.

"The worst part is the finishing and the polishing," Bouchard said. "It's tedious."

The work benches cross the entire back wall of the three car garage, where three of Bouchard's eight restored Rolls Royces share the space. Five of the cars were sold.

The benches hold everything from small drill bits to lathes. Chisels and other shaping tools are neatly arranged and vises are found at the end of each table.

"It's precision work and you have to be steady. I just hope I can keep this up," Bouchard said.

Volunteer marks birthday at Opportunity House

Opportunity House in Plymouth would have a tough time getting along without loyal friend Alice Wright.

Wright marked her 75th birthday last weekend with her friends at Opportunity House, a home for mentally retarded adults.

Wright has worked at Opportunity House for 15 years performing many different tasks including mending clothes, running errands, driving residents around town, shopping and training. Her work, however, goes beyond the physical.

"God has indeed blessed us," said director Mary Brennan. "One of our greatest gifts in all our history has been Alice Wright."

Wright is credited as being the glue that has held Opportunity House together for so many years. She has worked in the community to develop a better understanding of group homes like Opportunity House. She has organized events and activities that help residents improve their self-image and makes them feel useful.

Residents of Opportunity House are sometimes called upon to help non-profit groups with their functions, and Wright has always helped coordinate these efforts and has searched out new jobs for the residents to do. During the Plymouth Fall Festival, she helped to package the chicken box dinners.

At dances, Wright encourages even the shyest of all residents to get up and dance.

"She has made things better for all of us," Brennan said.

Stuffed animals gathered for Andrew's young victims

A furry friend to curl up with at night.

That is the need local residents are working to meet for the youngest victims of Hurricane Andrew.

Stuffed animals were collected from local children and school workers in the Plymouth-Canton district.

Mary Ann Walsh is packing up four more boxes now to send to her sister in Florida.

"I don't go through the Red Cross because my sister can see that the children get the toys right away," Walsh said.

Walsh's sister was evacuated from her home in Ponoma Beach just before Andrew hit land. The evacuation center she went to — a hotel — lost the top two floors. Her home was undamaged.

Mary Ann Walsh's sister was evacuated from her home in Ponoma Beach just before Andrew hit land. The evacuation center she went to — a hotel — lost the top two floors. Her home was undamaged. When she returned to her home two days later, she began volunteering with the Red Cross near Homestead — one of the hardest hit communities.

When she returned to her home two days later, she began volunteering with the Red Cross near Homestead — one of the hardest hit communities, Walsh said.

When Walsh heard of the need for children's toys, she began a collection.

"I'm not sure if I'm going to send any more out, but I'll wait and see what my sister suggests I do," Walsh said.

Walsh's son also lives in Florida, but he also escaped the devastation.

Friends and co-workers have chipped in to help Walsh pay for shipping the toys to the children of Homestead.

Does Oakland County profit by Detroit divorce?

By RALPH R. ECHINAW
STAFF WRITER

The federal government has given five Detroit-area counties, including Oakland, a chance to disassociate themselves from Wayne County and the Motor City, at least in a statistical sense.

It goes like this: There are these things called primary metropolitan statistical areas, also known as PMSAs, that are used in commercial atlases and retail guides to give businesses some idea of how likely they'd be to succeed in a given area.

PMSAs are also used by the feds as a guide to how much federal tax money will be spent in a given area.

The Detroit PMSA is the 5th largest market in the nation and made up of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Livingston, Lapeer, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The feds are offering Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Lapeer and St. Clair counties the chance to form a new PMSA that wouldn't include Wayne and Monroe counties.

That means that the new Detroit PMSA would probably comprise only Wayne and Monroe counties. The pro argument is that businesses looking for places to put stores would find cities in the Oakland metropolitan area more attractive because the negative aspects of Detroit (like crime, unemployment and poverty) would not be included in the statistics.

Reaction sought

The con argument is that economic development in Wayne and Monroe counties would suffer because, without Oakland County boosting up the positives, the Detroit PMSA would rate only 16th nationally. It's also possible that Oakland County wouldn't do as well either because its PMSA would rate 17th in the nation.

The federal office of management and budget issued a letter Sept. 2 asking the U.S. congressmen who represent the Detroit PMSA to solicit opinion about this potential change. The OMB wants an answer before Oct. 17.

But the congressmen seem to be taking their time. Aides to representatives William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, and William Ford, D-Taylor, said those two congressmen aren't doing anything about this issue yet. As of last Friday, Broomfield hadn't even received the OMB letter, his aide said.

Oakland County Executive Dan Murphy opposes the change, as he did in 1983 when a similar offer was made. "I didn't see any value in doing it 10 years ago," he said. "I still don't see how it's going to do anything for us to go our own way."

Nevertheless, the Oakland County statistical information officer, Dave Hay, said he's going to study the pros and cons of breaking away from the Detroit metropolitan area as soon as he sees a copy of the OMB proposal.

You know what's more addictive than food?

The feeling of success.

Weight Watchers showed me how to eat right and feel great!

Food was always on my mind. All morning I'd think about lunch. Before bed, I'd want just one more snack. I tried controlling it on my own, but nothing worked.

Then I joined Weight Watchers.

Every step of the way, they gave me the support and encouragement I needed to succeed. But best of all, they gave me a plan I could live with. Now I know how to survive stressful days, eating out, and parties, all without giving up my favorite foods.

I've learned how to eat right, and I feel really great. Since joining Weight Watchers, this is the best I've ever looked. The only thing I crave now is more success.

Stalking bills likely to reach governor before election day

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Four anti-stalking bills are likely to reach Gov. John Engler's desk in time to benefit both sides of the political aisle on election day.

Stalking is defined as "malicious harassment which causes substantial mental suffering or distress." It most often occurs in a husband-wife breakup.

The state House of Representatives last week adopted two bills by Rep. Dianne Byrum, a Democrat from Ingham County. She's in a tough re-election battle against the father of Engler's press secretary.

On the House floor, the bills were pushed by House Judiciary chair Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, who is in a tough campaign for district judge.

House Bill 4532 creates the crime of stalking and provides for a one-year jail term and fine of $1,000. HB 6038 would allow a warrantless arrest of someone violating an anti-stalking court order. They sailed through the House Thursday on 103-0 votes.

But the House held up action on Senate Bill 619, by Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, creating the crime of "aggravated stalking," a five-year felony.

The bill sat in Bullard's committee since the Senate passed it in May and was reported out only last week. Geake is in a tough battle for Congress.

Geake was unperturbed that the House failed to vote on his bill. "They want the bills to come out together," he said.

Meanwhile, the Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the fourth bill in the package — Geake's SB 1095 would allow civil lawsuits for damages caused by stalking and allow victims to obtain court orders against the stalker.

"This creates the new tort of stalking. It allows exemplary damages, court costs and reasonable attorney fees," Geake told the panel.

"Victims of domestic violence are a big percentage of the victims of stalking," said Kathy Hagenian of Safe House in Ann Arbor. "They have no remedy until the stalker takes action."

"There are 27,000 domestic crimes a year," said Kate Young of the state Department of Social Services. "They often occur when a victim has fled for safety. We think in the long run this bill will save lives."

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the bills to the Senate floor on a 3-0 vote. They are likely to be voted on this week.

Voting yes were Republicans William Van Regenmorter of Jenison, Dan DeGrow of Port Huron and Jon Cisky of Saginaw. Missing the vote were Democrats Virgil Smith of Detroit and John Kelly of Grosse Pointe.

"TOMORROW I WILL BE BETTER"

These are admirable words, however they carry a double meaning. Arthritis is unpredictable in its effect. You may face a flare that seemingly never ends despite all your efforts. At such times believing that in the near future you will move again without impairment helps you through the present stress.

An optimistic view helps because often our drugs do not. Treatments for arthritis are uncertain in their actions, their efficacy, and their hazards. If you add a quantum of optimism to the medication we give, then you will bring out the best in our prescriptions.

Yet saying that tomorrow will be better can deceive others and betray your own best interests. If you tell yourself such a tale to avoid seeking help, then you are only bringing increasing misery both to yourself and to those with whom you share your life.

In most instances you sense when you should be patient with your present ache and suffering. The same understanding knows when you should hesitate no longer and arrange an immediate doctor's appointment. Usually the intensity of the pain, the number of joints involved or impaired, or the continued presence of pain, gives you the basis to look for medical assistance.

Having hope is important, but of equal weight is knowing when continued expectation is just delay.

More Detroit suburban shoppers

When you want to reach Detroit's affluent suburban shoppers, you want to advertise in SPRING.

Because SPRING's audited circulation of 728,609 more than doubles the suburban daily circulation of either The Detroit News (288,960) or Free Press (358,553).

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

- ▶ 152,700 more suburban buyers of women's fashions than the daily News (78,600 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 145,700 more suburban buyers of men's fashions than The News (64,500 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 115,900 (and 63,600) more suburban buyers of children's clothing.
- ▶ 177,100 (and 80,000) more suburban shoppers at malls.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more. Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more? To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

SPRING is the network of 50 Detroit suburban newspapers published by the Macomb/Royal Oak, Associated, Heritage, HomeTown, and Observer & Eccentric groups. Call (313) 445-8200.

More Detroit suburban shoppers

When you want to reach Detroit's affluent suburban shoppers, you want to advertise in SPRING.

Because SPRING's audited circulation of 728,609 more than doubles the suburban daily circulation of either The Detroit News (288,960) or Free Press (358,553).

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

- ▶ 152,700 more suburban buyers of women's fashions than the daily News (78,600 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 145,700 more suburban buyers of men's fashions than The News (64,500 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 115,900 (and 63,600) more suburban buyers of children's clothing.
- ▶ 177,100 (and 80,000) more suburban shoppers at malls.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more. Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more? To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

CUSM delights in its brattiness

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine — the name only hints at the brattiness Jim Bob and Fruitbat are capable of.

"It's not a deliberate thing, but we do like to stir up a little trouble now and then," said co-conspirator Jim Bob in a trans-Atlantic telephone interview. "Like putting up a poster of Jimmy Carter with Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine name underneath it in New York (on last year's tour with EMF). His office called up and was quite upset about it.

"Anything that winds people up is a bit fun."

Even if it means attracting litigation as CUSM has regarding the use of lyrics from the Rolling Stones classic "Ruby Tuesday." The courts are still trying to sort that one out.

If attention is the sole desire, the London-based band's skittering, breakneck syncopated cross between pop and shards of punk aptly speaks volumes.

A roiling tenor of cynicism underscores a fair amount CUSM tracks on "1992 — The Love Album," the band's sardonic attempt to herald in the year of a united Europe. Songs, "Is Wrestling Fixed?" and "Suppose You Gave a Funeral and Nobody Came" enshrine moments of melancholy in a mayonnaise jar for public viewing.

But Carter is not all bile. By contrast, "England" speaks to an overall restlessness that pervades amid the stagnation of day-to-day life in the economically strapped land of Churchill.

"Look Mum, No Hands" is a poignant — albeit a rather knee jerk — examination of the insanity of paramilitary violence engulfing Northern Ireland. ("He flies through the air with the greatest of ease/That daring young man in the blue dungarees/Struck down by the G-force of a Semtex surprise/He bucks like a sea horse, keels over and dies.")

"I suppose I should have written it years ago," said Jim Bob. "I decided to write it right before we recorded the album with the latest spate of bombings going on in London — that and what was going on in Yugoslavia at the time.

"It's sad. We haven't gotten anywhere in the last god knows how many years . . . It was sort of a gut reaction to innocent people being killed accidentally through the bombing."

Much of what CUSM performs is an immediate reaction, unedited for profanity and rambling emotion.

Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine performs Thursday, Sept. 24, at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. Doors open at 9 p.m. For information, call 961-MELT.

Troublemakers: With names like Jim Bob and Fruitbat, it's no wonder Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine is associated with stints of brattiness.

Change yourself, not your mother

BARBARA SCHIFF

Dear Barbara,
My mother wants to plan my wedding for me. I am 28 and getting married for the first time. My fiancé and I both want a small and elegant wedding. We do not want a lot of people we don't know and like. We both think this is the most important day in our lives and we feel we should have the last word on how things are done.

My mother says that is impossible. We have a large family and many close friends whose special gatherings we have attended for years. She says we must return these invitations.

I don't want my wedding to be a pay back party. I don't want to use this most important day of my life to fulfill social obligations. How can I make my mother understand this. I feel so frustrated that she doesn't.

Jennifer

Dear Jennifer,
It is unlikely your mother will change her mind. She is entitled to her point of view although she frustrates you.

You didn't tell me who is paying for your wedding. That is an important detail. If you are paying for it, you can invite or not invite anyone you want. If she is paying for it then she can plan it her way.

It is understandable that in family situations advice like this often seems harsh. When we are infants we control and manipulate our mothers and that is as it should be; otherwise we could not survive. As we grow and mature we come to understand that we can't always get what we want and that we need to be able to respect the rights of others especially if one of the others is paying for the wedding.

Your question says you want to change your mother. It is inappropriate to change others at any age. It is more mature to change yourself and grow yourself.

May I add a word of advice that you haven't asked for? In all likelihood, differences of opinion between you and your husband will surface during the marriage. Are you going to ask how to manipulate him so you can get what you want or are you going to mature and consider his rights?

In a good marriage, many such problems can be resolved with open communication.

However, there are such things as true dilemmas and some problems are not solvable. Those times will put to a severe test the maturity and wisdom of the spouses. Love is not enough; creative problem solving is also needed.

Logical switch: As Simon Bonney sees it, going from fronting the avant garde Crime and the City Solution to country music is a natural progression.

Bonney swaps punk for country

To hear Simon Bonney, one would think he's from Texas. But not so for this punker turned country wailer. He's from the Land Down Under and he's putting a '90s spin on the traditionally U.S. musical genre.

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

The mammoth jump from punk to country is one even Bob Beamon wouldn't contemplate. For Simon Bonney, the leap wasn't as daunting as one would perceive.

In fact, the soft-spoken singer/songwriter will tell you in a reflective moment that it's the most natural path for him to have ventured.

The native Australian fronted the European avant garde conglomerate Crime and the City Solution, which earned its spurs at the height of music's most nihilistic and rudimentary phase. A host of members filtered in and out while the band released five critically acclaimed albums in the early to mid-'80s.

One of the knocks on Bonney at the time was his lyrics were a tad too serious for a genre largely beset by irreverence. His direness and willingness to explore the inner-depths of pain and sorrow would later become his biggest attribute in his country solo album "Forever."

"That's one of the things I've really come to like about country. It's music written by older people, people like Merle Haggard who can take pain and express it simply in lyrics," said Bonney, who listened to American country music as a kid working on the farm in Australia. "He's using the music to liberate himself from the pain.

"The tradition of music in America is to use it to talk about experience and pain in your life . . . In England, that doesn't seem to be the case."

So upon leaving England and relocating in Los Angeles, Bonney found a home in country music and it shows on "Forever."

Bonney's sings in a timeless, plaintive tone, sounding more like he's from Mesquite, Texas, than Melbourne, Australia. His own interpretation of American country comes through in an echoey, desolate landscape created through diverse instrumentation.

This is achieved partly through a looming, atmospheric guitar sound that resonates throughout the release.

Highly regarded guitarist J.D. Foster performs on "Forever" as does a host of equally lauded musicians that includes Jon-Dee Graham, who performs on pedal steel and dobro, and violinist Bronwyn Adams.

"Originally, all through Crime and the City Solution I'd listen to Hank Williams and Patsy Cline," he said. "But I also listened to the instrumentation of Johnny Cash and people like Ry Cooder. They used it an atmospheric way."

Bonney also credits people like Foster, who has worked with Dwight Yoakam and Lucinda Williams and who has a keen interest in musical history. He said working with him has been particularly refreshing, especially compared to his punk compatriots who largely vilified the past.

Lyricaly, Bonney has maintained the ability to express woe while disconnecting himself from it for heartfelt analysis.

In the transformation, though, Bonney has connected with rich tradition and has put a '90s spin on it. How much of his musical past — mainly the seemingly European effect of big droning guitars — filters into the fray is debatable.

"I don't know if it's intentional," he said. "I'm not well versed what is correct or what is incorrect in country. I just go for the feel."

Simon Bonney will perform as part of the Second Annual La Casa Music Festival 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, 651 N. Woodward, at Lone Pine. Also performing will be Mark Germino, David Rodriguez and Greg Trooper. Tickets are $15. For information, call 646-4950.

'School Ties' packs punch and avoids being preachy

TICKETS PLEASE

JOHN MONAGHAN

When he's asked to play football for a New England prep school in 1955, David Greene doesn't know what he's getting into. The Scranton-born teenager quickly realizes that he must hide his Jewish background from his rabidly anti-semitic classmates.

From all indications, "School Ties" should have degenerated into a preach fest of social correctness. Thanks to meticulous direction and casting, the movie not only packs a punch; it's also fun to watch.

Light years ahead of his starring role in "Encino Man," Brendan Fraser plays the martyred David with the proper blend of toughness and sensitivity. He immediately fits in with the guys and proves his mettle on the gridiron.

David's success doesn't wear well with Dillon (Matt Damon), an insecure rich kid from a Kennedy-like family who loses his quarterback position and girlfriend (Amy Locane) to the charismatic teenager. Dillon uses newfound information about David's true identity in the nastiest way possible.

Little-known actors give the movie an added realism while Freddie Francia's cinematography focuses on both the beauty and stale tradition of St. Matthew's. The action on the football field is especially well-executed, as is a fight against the stark white tile and steam of the boys' shower.

Director Robert Mandel ("F/X") and screenwriters Dick Wolf and Darryl Ponicsan fortunately don't bore us with sermonizing. "School Ties" works on another level when David, like any kid Jewish or not, is thrust into the world of the rich and privileged.

In "Bob Roberts," playing exclusively at the Maple, a popular folk singer vies for a Pennsylvania senate seat. Adopting and altering the appeal and even album covers of Bob Dylan, he woos right wing voters with his platform as a "rebel conservative."

Tim Robbins, who wowed audiences in Altman's "The Player" earlier this year, stars as Roberts. He also directs the film in a mock-documentary style where the candidate is seen solely through the lens of a British filmmaker.

What starts as a simple profile of Roberts' well-machined campaign soon develops into a stinging look at his overall insincerity. He is seen as shallow and money-grubbing, traits which appeal to his constantly growing stable of fans.

"Bob Roberts" doesn't pick on one political party.

Cases of animal cruelty are multiplying in state

Just last week, this newspaper editorialized on state legislation which, if approved, would make mistreatment of animals a felony. Yes, it would provide for punishment, but more importantly, it would provide for psychiatric help so that the reasons for the mistreatment could be understood and not repeated.

It was coincidence that in the same issue the Westland Observer published a story about a dog, Cleo Bo Jackson, who had died from rat poison. It had taken a week for Patricia Cope-Byrne and her fiancé, James Hanson, to recover enough to report the incident to the Observer & Eccentric and offer a $100 reward for information leading to whomever poisoned the dog.

"It's the first time I could talk about it without breaking down," she said.

Anyone who has ever lost a pet can understand the sense of emptiness. Certainly I do. Thursday, I lost my 12-plus-year-old cat, Acorn, to advanced stages of kidney failure. It's still something I can't talk about, despite the support of my co-workers. At least I have the consolation of knowing that his death was a biological process. But for Cleo, death brought senseless days of misery for him and his owners from a cruel act.

While our story was a coincidence, mistreatment of animals is anything but, according to Gary Tiscornia, executive director of the Michigan Humane Society. There were 7,000 rescue runs involving about 10,000 animals handled last year. "It's a very big problem," he said.

While Oakland County does a "very credible" job of handling strays, it's more difficult in Detroit, which sells strays for research, he said. The Humane Society's rescue unit runs from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. 365 days a year, and would like to run 24 hours a day when possible.

Nine out of 10 treed cats come down the first day, but the Humane Society will come out when they're up in a tree for longer periods, Tiscornia said.

Cases of poisoning, cruelty and lack of food, shelter or water totaled about 4,000 last year. And in August, despite the cool summer, the society recorded its first animal who died from heat stroke — a Doberman with an internal temperature of 107 degrees.

There are all manners of abuse, from use of battery chargers to having pets placed in barbecue grills. Yes, that's a very gruesome thing to have to think about. But it may motivate you to write to your legislator to urge passage of Senate Bill 1092.

Cruelty is a "non-stop thing," said Sherry Silk, director of operations for the Michigan Humane Society. The numbers are going up each year, and since "judges pay more attention to felonies," there is added impetus to getting the legislation passed.

There are other cases of abuse. She recounted the case of a 5-month-old Great Dane found shivering in a mud puddle at the end of a chain. The Humane Society got a search warrant and had the animal removed.

Sometimes it's a matter of just educating people, Silk said. Other times people are themselves homeless and abandon their animals; unfortunately, some are abandoned while chained to a fence and unable to search for food. Also confounding her is why neighbors don't call discreetly to report the abuse.

"I'm not making this stuff up," Silk said.

Packs of dogs now roam Pontiac, and a recent immunization clinic there drew about 1,000 animals.

The Michigan Humane Society has tried to help out with free food barrels at each of its shelters in Detroit, Westland and Rochester. Information is requested so there is no "scam" involved.

"Don't be cruel to a heart that's true," wrote our cartoonist, Arkie Hudkins, reminding us of an Elvis Presley tune last week. In no way does that trivialize the importance of animal life. At issue here is whether an animal is nothing more than a piece of property, to be disposed of at will, or whether he/she is a loving, giving entity expecting only, in the words of Silk, protection and food.

That's why it's so hard for Cleo's family to understand why he was poisoned a short time ago.

For those of us who have lost our pets, for whatever reason, there will be new friends to come along. But no one, and no thing, can take away our memories. We do insist, however, that the Legislature bring justice to those memories.

Westland police ask anyone with information on Cleo to call the detective bureau at 721-6311.

Going private continues to be a political issue

My first taste of "privatization," the latest Republican code word, was a bitter one.

It came in the 1960s with President Lyndon Johnson's Great Society. A Job Corps camp was near the town where I worked, and one Saturday there was an incident downtown that some folks termed a "riot."

A brother reporter tried to get some information out of the Job Corps information officer and was told to bag it. A private company based in Silver Spring, Md., was operating the camp under contract to Sargent Shriver and the Beltway gang. They didn't have to give the public any information and wouldn't.

In the 1980s, under Democratic Gov. James J. Blanchard, the state payroll fell, because work was being farmed out to private contractors. The AFL-CIO didn't like losing union jobs.

The theory of privatization is simple enough: A governmental service needn't be performed by government employees. The governing body can take competitive bids and award the contract to the lowest bidder. A contractor who performs poorly is out next year.

The 1992 Republican national platform places privatization on a virtual throne.

"Privatization is an important alternative to higher taxes and reduced services. . . This is especially true of properties now decaying under government control, such as public housing. . . airport operation and management" (pages 74-75).

The national Democratic platform skips privatization, but the Michigan Democratic platform bashes it hard.

"Privatization has become a Republican cure-all. Michigan Democrats don't believe all government services are better handled by private companies. Public employees are accountable to elected leaders and public taxpayers. We believe the people of Michigan deserve public control over programs and services that serve the public interest. We also believe that privatization risks the growth of private monopolies of service provision and huge private for profit public service" (page 5).

(Note: "Profit" is still a dirty word in The Union's party.)

We're going to hear much about privating government services in Michigan in the next few years, especially if Gov. John Engler's "Cut & Cap" property tax plan passes and the state has to reimburse local school districts $1.3 billion a year with no tax hikes.

Let me suggest a few broad guidelines when the privatization alternative is discussed:

- Contracting out road maintenance, street sweeping, patching, trash collecting and building maintenance has been done for years. No problem.

- State parks, a public natural resource, shouldn't be privatized. A business has to generate cash flow to earn a profit. State parks are no place for hordes of vending machines, video games and chlorinated pools.

- We need to be extremely careful awarding contracts for social services because those contractors become a strident lobby for more social services. I saw it when Agnes Mansour was running Blanchard's Department of Social Services.

- Education is ripe for all kinds of experimenting through privatization. Public education is absorbing a lot of tax money. Many private and church-related schools would like a cut of it. A jaundiced attitude is in order.

- Where private contractors perform essential services, their records need to be subject to the Freedom of Information Act, just like government records.

- The more privatization we have, the more we will need to require elected officials to list their private assets, business interests and receipt of gifts. Witness the shattering of public confidence in the Western Townships Utilities Authority, where contracts for pals were the order of the day.

Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events.

Are you a Compulsive Overeater?

	Yes	No
1. Do you eat when you're not hungry?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2. Do you go on eating binges for no apparent reason?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3. Do you have feelings of guilt and remorse after overeating?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4. Do you give too much time and thought to food?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5. Is your weight affecting the way you live your life?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
6. Do you use fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting or laxatives to control your weight?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
7. Have you tried to diet for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

If you answer "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may be a compulsive overeater. You are not alone. Millions of Americans suffer from this disease.

Compulsive overeating is a painful, relentless illness that interferes with every aspect of life. It is a disease that gets progressively worse if left untreated.

Weight gain often accompanies this illness. But not always. Many compulsive overeaters maintain normal body weight by strict diets, fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting, or excessive laxative use. These methods are ineffective and medically dangerous.

Weight is not the problem, and dieting is not the solution. The problem is the disease of compulsive overeating, and the solution is a program of treatment and recovery.

The Eating Disorders Recovery Center (EDRC) of St. Mary Hospital offers an outpatient treatment program that leads to lasting recovery. Our approach is comprehensive. We help our patients make lifestyle changes that give them renewed confidence in themselves and more control over their lives. Gradually, the chronic binge/diet cycle is replaced by a healthy, more satisfying, and more productive way of life. With food in its proper place, weight normalizes.

At EDRC, we work as a team — psychologist, psychiatrist, physician, nutritionist, and specially trained therapists — to diagnose and treat eating disorders. This experienced staff provides treatment with understanding and sensitivity.

If compulsive overeating is a problem for you, or someone you love, take the first step toward recovery. Call us today at 591-2936, WE CAN HELP.

DAYS OF Wine

Napa, Sonoma Valleys pick up for grape harvest

BY TESSA DECARLO
NEW YORK TIMES SYNDICATE

The end of summer is bittersweet in many parts of the world, but in California's wine country it's the most exciting time of the year.

The grape harvest, which gets under way in August, hits full tilt by September, with wineries shaking off their summer torpor and rushing to capture the flavor of the new vintage.

There's no better place to observe these annual rites than the Napa and Sonoma valleys, which lie next to one another about an hour north of San Francisco.

While Napa Valley can claim more wineries, more famous names and more glamour, Sonoma Valley has more rural charm, more history and equally wonderful wines.

Sonoma Valley, also known as the Valley of the Moon, includes the historic town of Sonoma, whose beautiful tree-shaded plaza was the site of both the last of old California's Franciscan missions and the 1846 Bear Flag Revolt, which marked the beginning of California's independence from Mexico.

To the north along Highway 12 are the even smaller towns of Kenwood and Glen Ellen.

On the other side of the Mayacmas mountain range the city of Napa is home to the majority of Napa Valley's people, but the vineyards and wineries are farther north, in and between Yountville, Oakville, Rutherford, St. Helena and Calistoga.

Since both places are popular destinations during harvest time, reservations are essential, particularly on weekends.

Events

The Valley of the Moon Vintage Festival, P.O. Box 652, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-996-2109), takes place the weekend of Sept. 26 and 27 in the Sonoma Plaza.

The festival begins with the blessing of the new grapes and includes a parade, wine-tasting and food booths, music, marionettes and other entertainment, and a water fight between rival fire-fighting units. This year a special musical pageant (tickets, $8) will dramatize the town's history.

The Sonoma Valley Shakespeare Festival at Gundlach Bundschu Winery, 2000 Denmark St., Sonoma, includes a performance of "Pericles" (Sept. 26). Tickets cost $15 and performances begin at 6:30 p.m. The winery encourages audience members to bring a picnic dinner and also sells wine and picnic items. For tickets and more information contact Odyssey Theater, P.O. Box 727, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-996-2145).

Another winery, Buena Vista, 18000 Old Winery Road, will be the setting for the Sonoma Vintage Theater's production of "The Taming of the Shrew" Sept. 27. Tickets, $10, and picnic-table seating in the winery's pretty courtyard encourages alfresco wining and dining before the play begins at 6 p.m.

The gate opens at 5 p.m. and tickets are available at the gate, or they may be ordered from Sonoma Vintage Theater, P.O. Box 312, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-939-1369).

Sightseeing

Most wineries welcome visitors, although some smaller ones require an appointment, and many offer tours. Tastings are usually free on the Sonoma side of the mountains, while Napa wineries often charge a fee of $2 to $5.

A good general introduction to how wine is made is offered by the 45-minute tour at the Robert Mondavi Winery, 7801 St. Helena Highway, Oakville, (707-963-9611). The tour, including wine-tasting, is free, but it's wise to make an appointment.

The Sonoma Plaza would be worth a visit even if there were no wine in the vicinity. Picture-book pretty and surrounded by interesting shops and restaurants, it is central to the historic district and includes a monument marking the spot where the Bear Flag Revolt began. Across the street is a series of charming restorations that make up Sonoma State Historic Park, (707-938-1519).

The Mission San Francisco Solano de Sonoma at the north end of the plaza on the corner of First Street East and East Spain Street was built in 1824, the only California mission established under Mexican rather than Spanish rule. Alongside are the pueblo's barracks, which now house a small museum about Sonoma life in the mission era.

Also on Spain Street are the restored Toscano Hotel and, a short walk from the plaza, the elegant house and grounds of Gen. Mariano Vallejo, the town's Mexican commander. The sites are open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and the admission fee of $2 covers them all.

See Europe by car - your own

BY EVERETT POTTER
SPECIAL WRITER

Some travelers go abroad to buy a new European-made automobile. They may choose to buy a Volvo or Mercedes-Benz in Europe, drive it while on a vacation and then have it shipped back to the United States. This can be a cost-effective move.

"The biggest savings the consumer will realize is the elimination of the cost of a rental car for their vacation," says Nancy Nelle, manager of Volvo's overseas Delivery Program.

Anyone who has recently rented a car in Europe knows it's common to be charged $400 a week or more for a mid-size car. That price may not even include a country's value-added tax.

In France, for example, the value-added tax on car rentals is 18.6 percent. The rental price is usually higher if the driver requires an automatic transmission.

Secondly, European-made cars are cheaper in Europe. The discounts aren't as big as those of 10 or 15 years ago, when the dollar was strong. But there is an immediate savings.

It can amount to between 10 percent and 15 percent off the U.S. list price for the same automobile.

But buyers who used to go to Munich to purchase a BMW model that was only available in Europe will now find that BMW and most other automakers no longer make different models for each side of the Atlantic.

Still, the idea of buying a car overseas appeals to many drivers, who have romantic images of speeding down the autobahn or crossing the Alps.

Volvo's Overseas Delivery Program is now 30 years old. In 1991, under the plan, 500 cars were sold at discounts of 12 percent to 16 percent off U.S. prices. Those sales are expected to climb in 1992, as the U.S. economy slowly improves.

Here's how Volvo's program works. A buyer goes to a local Volvo dealer to actually purchase a car, such as the popular 240 Wagon with an automatic transmission.

The base price is $22,528 in the United States and $19,070 in Sweden, which means a savings of $3,458. (Californians must add $125 for the car to meet the state's emission-control standards.)

That price includes free shipment to the United States from Gothenburg, Sweden, U.S. Customs Duty, home shipment and port-clearance fees.

For further information contact Volvo Cars of North America, Overseas Delivery Program, P.O. Box 913, Rockleigh, N.J. 07647 or call (800) 631-1667.

BMW's European Delivery Program is similar to Volvo's, but the buyer pays duty on the car when it is brought back.

"The best reason to buy a BMW in Munich is to be able to drive your own car under European driving conditions," says Tom McGurn, a spokesman for BMW.

Prices are also lower: The 1992 BMW 318i sedan, the least-expensive model, is $22,900 in the United States and $20,400 in Germany. Local BMW dealers handle the sales.

For further information contact BMW of North America, 300 Chestnut Ridge Road, Woodcliff Lake, N.J. 07675 or call (800) 932-0831.

Mercedes-Benz's European Delivery Program is the most extensive of any European automaker.

For further information contact the Mercedes-Benz European Delivery Program, P.O. Box 751017, Memphis, Tenn. 38175 or call (800) 245-7001.

Parole reform bill passes by large margin in Senate

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

The sponsor was state Sen. Michael Bouchard, but the parole board reform bill could have been named after serial killer Leslie Williams.

"We accomplished what we wanted with this bill," said Patrick Urban, father of Michelle and Melissa Urban, two of Williams' victims in Livingston County. "We wanted more people on the parole board, and we wanted to inject more accountability, and we've achieved that."

The Senate last week gave 32-4 approval of a joint House-Senate conference report that goes back to the House for approval.

It expands the parole board from seven members to 10; removes them from civil service and makes them appointees of the corrections director effective Oct. 1; sets tougher standards for parole; and requires convicts serving life terms to serve lengthy minimum sentences before being eligible for parole.

"A first step," said Bouchard, R-

Birmingham, a former police officer. The first-term senator is preparing a separate bill to make the parole board follow the Open Meetings Act. The Legislature in 1987 allowed it to hold closed meetings.

How they voted

Supporting the measure were Sens. Bouchard, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Deerborn, and David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield.

Missing the vote was William Faust, D-Westland.

Opposed were Jackie Vaughn III and David Holmes, both Detroit Democrats. "It cost more to incarcerate a person than to send them to Harvard, but now we are increasing that, we are keeping them longer," said Vaughn, pleading for senators to show "humanity."

Replied Bouchard: "It is actually more expensive to recycle those career criminals back (into society) than if they were kept there." Pointing to the balcony to the Urbans and survivors of Cynthia Jones and Kami Villaneuva, Bouchard said, "It says crime doesn't pay. Victims do."

Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit, supported the bill but said Williams "was a white man, and that's why he was released time and time and time again."

"I don't care whether they are African-American or white or green," replied Bouchard. "If they have committed a violent crime and there's a propensity for them to do that again, they should not get out."

Bouchard cited the cases of Tyrone Green, "who was paroled for a violent offense and on the same day committed two murders of two African-Americans and fled the state. Or Darine Page, who was paroled for armed robbery and while in the (Wayne) county jail murdered Sergeant Dickinson."

True Facts About Invisible Bifocals Available only in Canada:

Near sighted? Are you constantly taking off your glasses to see up close? Visions of Canada can help you with our educated staff headed by our President, Paul Boyko Jr.. Mr. Boyko graduated from Ryerson College in 1978 (Toronto), with his optician's license.

Over the past 8 years, Mr. Boyko has perfected manufacturing the thinnest, clearest invisible bifocal in North America. These lenses have a better than 95% acceptance rate that includes people who have failed with other bifocals. The Rodenstock Progressive R lenses which are 45% thinner than conventional plastic lenses go from distance to reading vision in five power stages. These progressive lenses give a continuous, clear vision without interruption or lines. Other benefits include better night vision due to the anti-glare coating. Also, the swimming and distorted movements experienced by plastic lens wearers are dramatically reduced with the higher quality glass material.

These lenses are so easily adaptable that our customers walk out the door wearing their new glasses.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Try new techniques, simplify your cooking

I have been cooking for many more years than I like to contemplate. One thing that sets me apart from other cooks is that cooking is my form of expression.

It is not something I have to do, but instead is something I enjoy doing.

A few weeks back, guests were invited over for dinner and the comment was made that "I must have been cooking all day" to put out such a feast. Hardly.

As a matter of fact, I actually didn't know what I would prepare until I went to the grocery store at two in the afternoon knowing darn well that dinner had to be on the table no later than six.

Find shortcuts

It never fails to amaze me that people fret over what and how they cook. I am completely at ease trying new techniques, new recipes and new ideas. I am always looking for shortcuts and ways to simplify recipes. If I can get by using one pot, one spoon, one dish and just a fork, all the better.

I am pretty much bored, also, with the word gourmet. At the moment, "gourmet" is a very in word. In itself, the word translates to using every pot, every inch of counterspace and in my estimation, at least two dishwasher loads to describe.

Yesterday, I made salsa with the abundance of tomatoes ripening from my garden. If I would have followed Diana Kennedy's "The Art of Mexican Cooking," I would have chopped, measured, diced, minced, stirred and whirled myself into a culinary frenzy.

Even Jeff Smith, the Frugal Gourmet, would also have had me blanching, seeding, roasting, peeling and using every bowl and pan amongst my kitchen repertoire.

Instead I chose to use their recipes as an outline, only to make sure I used the correct balance of ingredients.

I wasn't about to measure out two pounds of tomatoes. Nor was I even interested in roasting the peppers to remove what was purportedly a bitter skin.

Yes, I made salsa and I made it using only one knife, one cutting board and one Pyrex bowl.

Don't get me wrong here folks, there is a place and a time for spending hours in the kitchen making a mushroom demi glace or homemade phyllo dough but why, I ask does it entail knowing the correct humidity of how the moon is in relation to the planetary system.

I have made what I could call gourmet French toast using a $4 non-stick skillet and Wonder Bread. Yes, I could have used a sourdough baguette, brown eggs at room temperature and a precise mixture of butter and olive oil, but there comes a time when simplicity is the best healer.

Easier methods

When I choose to eat, I want to eat — now! No additional amount of precise dicing and skimming will satiate my hunger any more.

I have, on many occasions, stirred in many a tiny can of mushroom sauce into a homemade gravy made with institutional soup base for a simply delicious pot of mashed potatoes and gravy.

I have ventured to the fish market for a perfect tiny rainbow trout only to dust it with a minor sprinkling of flour, a bit of melted Weight Watcher's margarine in a skillet and a splash of bottled lemon juice.

Good cooks have to know that there are often easier ways to do things than the traditional methods of haute cuisine.

Time savers

I can't afford haute cuisine simply because, as I am sure you will agree, much of the time I simply don't have the time.

Point in fact; yesterday I visited my local produce store. The stock by was unloading a fresh case of Michigan sweet corn and I just couldn't resist.

Knowing that the corn would have enjoyed being shucked and plopped into lightly salted boiling water, I opted instead to break off the rigid stem and simply remove about 10 of the outer leaves.

I threw the corn into the microwave and pressed a few buttons and within minutes, thoroughly enjoyed an afternoon respite of fresh steamed corn on the cob. It was so good it didn't need butter.

So what follows, dear readers, are only the recipes I have tested and found worthy. If you follow directions and possess a grain of common sense, you too will enjoy them.

If, on the other hand, you are jaded with the likes of Fanny, Irma, Betty and Larousse, you might choose to spend the afternoon toiling over a hot stove.

Food nourishes, strengthens family

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Juggling business and family responsibilities is never easy, but early in their marriage, Lina and John Del Signore of Livonia, set priorities — family, friends and business.

Every Tuesday and Sunday, the family which has grown from six to 10 with the marriages of three of their four children, and arrival of grandson Giovanni, gets together for dinner. No business is discussed at the table even though the family works side by side in many businesses.

"We listen to our children and respect their opinions," said Lina Del Signore. "Food brings the family together."

The Del Signore operate Fonte D'Amore, a restaurant in Livonia, Tavern on the Green, a restaurant at the Fox Creek Golf Course in Livonia, Laurel Manor, a banquet hall, Giovanni Espresso Bar at Laurel Manor in Livonia, Laurel Chapel Center, a one-stop bridal shop in Livonia, and Lina's Brid-

Two local Italian families, the Del Signore of Fonte D'Amore restaurant in Livonia, and Tonons of Cafe Cortina in Farmington Hills keep their heritage alive through food. They say Italians have a romance with food, for them cooking is an art.

al in Plymouth.

They've been married for 25 years. Their first venture, Fonte D'Amore opened in 1962, is named after a small city near Rome where they met.

Cooking is very much a part of the family's history. "My grandfather used to cook for our village," said John Del Signore. "Whenever they needed a cook for a wedding or other occasion, they called him. Lina's father cooked, too."

"Our first love is good food," said Lina Del Signore. "I get excited every time I talk about cooking. I started collecting recipes when I was eight years old, and still have them. Whenever I tasted something I liked, I would ask my relative for the recipe."

The Del Signore aren't the only local family to keep their Italian heritage alive through food. Rina and Adriano Tonon at Cafe Cortina in Farmington Hills have a lot in common with them.

Cafe Cortina Cucina Rustica — the rustic kitchen, is named after the town in Italy where Adriano was born. Adriano was a baker in Italy and Rina's family had an Italian restaurant in Detroit while she was growing up.

Maintaining ties to Italy is important to both families who still have close relatives living there. On the day of the interview for this story, John and Lina Del Signore were packing for a trip to Italy to visit their relatives. Their children have accompanied them on previous trips.

Adriano Tonon just returned from Italy with his son, Giancarlo, 8. Another son, Adrian, 20 who attends Michigan State University, has also visited Italy to meet his relatives.

"We send our children to Italy to keep up the language and ties to the family," said Rina.

Both restaurants serve dishes that were passed on to them by their parents and grandparents. Fonte D'Amore recently changed their menu to include more dishes from the Abruzzo region where John and Rina were born.

At Cafe Cortina, the new menu features dishes from northern Italy, where Adriano is from, with a touch of south where Rina's family is from.

"They say the Italians have a romance with food, and cooking is our art," said Rina Tonon.

In Italy, as in the U.S. more women are working, and there is less time to cook. Both Lina and Rina said Italians today are eating less meat, and more vegetables and pasta.

But it wasn't always that way. Rina, said she remembers huge Sunday dinners with lots of courses, at least two meats, to be shared with aunts, uncles and cousins. "There were always 18 or 20 of us," she said.

"On Sundays we'd wake up to the smell of garlic and onions frying in olive oil because the family was getting together for the afternoon. We would start eating at noon, and finish at 4 p.m. Then as now, we would eat our salad last."

Like the Del Signore, the Tonons say they treasure the time they gather with their family, and while the feasts might not be as lavish, they're always made with the freshest ingredients and cooked with love.

Innovative Tuscan wines challenge tradition

French varietals or redesigned blends of classic Italian grapes. Consequently, Tuscany is considered by many to be Italy's most innovative wine region, attracting international attention to its designer vino da tavolas known as Super Tuscans.

Super Tuscans are usually aged in small French barrels. The reds are produced either from a 100 percent Italian varietal of heritage, or blended with cabernet sauvignon, cabernet franc or merlot. The white wines generally include a majority of the non-traditional varietals such as chardonnay and sauvignon blanc.

At the La Selva Estate, in the Tuscan region of Montepulciano, Avignonesi grows non-traditional varieties including chardonnay, sauvignon blanc, riesling, merlot, cabernet sauvignon and pinot noir.

"It is our intention to follow tradition as long as we can produce interesting, well-priced wines that can be showcased in the great restaurants of the world," said Avignonesi's manager, Alberto Falvo.

"We have departed with tradition because it offered us a challenge. Tuscany is not renowned for white wines, so it is important for us to demonstrate that we can grow grapes prized in other regions and make world-class wines."

While this is true, it remains a fact that the Super Tuscans are very pricey. The better buys (if you can say this about anything Italian these days) are the traditional wines. From Tuscany, you should sample more than chianti.

We're giving prices as a guideline, but do investigate because some shops have good deals currently. From Avignonesi at just under $20, we recommend the 1988 Vino Nobile de Montepulciano and 1990 Rosso de Montepulciano ($14). The latter is the younger sibling of the Vino Nobile, produced from younger vines.

Bottle aging will not however transform it into a Vino Nobile. It's delicious now and ready to drink.

At around $9, Castello Banfi's 1989 Centine Rosso di Montalcino, commonly referred to as a "Baby Brunello" is atop the best buy list. In the $8 price category, Bolla wines are consistently boell made and flavorful.

Italy's Piedmont region remains fairly traditional. Here the great Barolos and Barbarescos produced from the nebbiolo grape are expensive, but generally excellent. Still available from the exceptional 1985 vintage is B.D. Vaira Barolo, Bricco delle Viole Vineyard ($34) with ex-plusive, powerful palate fruit and rich finish.

Spanna and Gattinara, also produced from the nebbiolo grape, are better priced.

The good news from the Piedmont is that mainstay wines like Dolcetto and Barbera have been highly stylized by individual producers and provide interesting taste comparisons. To illustrate, we suggest pairing the 1991 Cordero di Montezemolo Dolcetto d'Alba ($13.50) and the 1991 Pio Cesare Dolcetto d'Alba ($18). The Montezemolo has a soft palate impression with the imprint of blackcherry flavors while the Pio Cesare showcases intense berry fruit with palate richness and is a much bigger wine overall.

Two Barberas provide contrast potential. The 1987 B.D. Vaira Barbera d'Alba Riserva ($28) sports intense, generous blackcherry, chocolate, coffee and spice flavors with broad but straightforward palate softness. On the other hand, the 1989 (an excellent vintage) Pio Cesare Barbera d'Alba ($17) is rich and robust with palate heft and intense blackcherry fruit lasting through a generous, complex finish. It's great now, but is a wine with cellaring potential from five to eight years.

To make the best food harmonies with Italian wines, there's one element to remember. Lighter red wines are knocked out by rich tomato sauces. Match styles with heftier palate impressions and rich tomato sauces or red meat dishes. To illustrate this, pair the 1990 Ruffino

Aziano (a single-vineyard chianti classic) with veal, roast chicken, lightly spiced pastas and medium to rich cheeses then graciously accept the applause of those around your dinner table.

Gourmet dishes simply delicious

See Larry Janes column on Taste front.

SIMPLE SALSA

- 4 large tomatoes, chopped
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 can chopped green chiles
- 2 Tablespoons Jalapeno pepper, chopped
- a healthy jolt of powdered cumin (about 1 Tablespoon)
- a little olive oil (about 2 Tablespoons)
- salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients in a glass or non-reactive bowl. Mix well. Always better the next day.

GOURMET GRAVY

- 2 Tablespoons beef soup base
- 1 cup warm water
- 1 cup dry red wine
- 3 Tablespoons flour
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 small can mushroom sauce
- pepper to taste

Dissolve the soup base in the warm water and wine. Heat until just about boiling. Stir flour into milk. Whisk into simmering broth, stirring constantly until thickened.

Handy tips save time in kitchen

Here's a couple of handy tips. To keep fruits and vegetables fresher longer in your refrigerator, line the vegetable bin with paper towels or dry sponges to absorb excess moisture.

Cooking cauliflower with a little milk can help them keep their bright white color.

When seasoning ground beef or turkey for loaves or burgers, lightly mix in the seasonings with two forks and gently shape. Too much handling toughens the meat.

Let roasted meats and poultry rest at room temperature for 15 minutes before carving to allow the meat to firm up and re-absorb it's juices.

To make sweeter onion rings, soak freshly sliced onion in milk before battering and frying.

When making meringue, make sure the eggs are room temperature and add a pinch of baking powder before beating.

Make a rich vegetable stock from carrots, celery, onions, parsnips, zucchini, tomatoes and seasonings. Freeze for delicious autumn soups.

SHRIMPS PROVENCAL

- 1 pound shrimp, cleaned and deveined
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 Tablespoons butter or mar-

- garine
- 1 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 1 cup dry white wine

Dust the shrimps with the flour. Heat butter or margarine in skillet until bubbly. Add garlic and shrimps. Toss, over medium heat, until shrimps are opaque and cooked. Add wine, stirring until sauce thickens. Serve with pasta or rice.

This recipe is equally as good with chicken strips and scallops. Also, institutional soup bases are the latest "in" ingredient for busy cooks. Available at most upscale grocery stores and gourmet shops. They make fast gravies, sauces and bastes.

See related wine story. Make the salad the day before the picnic and chill it thoroughly overnight.

RICE SALAD

- Zest of one lemon, finely chopped
- Juice of one lemon
- 2 cups diced raw fennel or celery
- 1 3-ounce jar non-pareil capers

 - 1 8-ounce jar roasted red and yellow peppers, sliced
 - 5 cups cooked rice (well cooled)

New chili champ to represent state

KEELY WYGONIK

Thirty-nine cooks competed in the 14th annual Michigan State Chili Cookoff on Sept. 13 at the Lark Restaurant in West Bloomfield.

Last year's winner, Paul Huyck of Farmington Hills, came in second. The winner was Joe Janes of Wyandotte. He will represent Michigan in the 26th World Cookoff to be held Nov. 8 at Rawhide, the 1880s western town in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Event proceeds were used to award ten $1,000 scholarships to culinary arts students in Michigan.

Also participating in the cookoff were Jim Admaski, Redford, 1979 Michigan State Winner, Shawn Booth, Garden City, 1990 Saline Regional Winner; Kathleen Cummins, Charlie Robertson, Nick Roncone and Mike Maiman, Birmingham; Mike Ford and Ed Pitt, Farmington Hill; Marilyn Fredrick, Redford, 1991 Saline Regional Winner, 1990 Ontario Winner, Ken Horn and Walt Hunter, Plymouth; Robert T. Jones, Westland; Bud Pickett, West Bloomfield; and Gary Ray, Livonia.

Here's the winning recipe.

JOE JANES CHAMPIONSHIP CHILI

3 pounds flank steak cut into cubes

- 1 pound ground round, fat free, ground once
- 1 pound lean pork, fat free, ground once
- 1 28-ounce can crushed tomatoes
- 1 28-ounce can tomato sauce
- 1 8-ounce can rotel - (blender)
- 2 4-ounce cans green chilis - (blender)
- 1 16-ounce can chicken broth
- 1 teaspoon hot chili powder
- 1 bulb garlic
- 1 green pepper (blender)
- 4 onions, Spanish
- 8 teaspoons chili powder, level
- 5 teaspoons cumin, level
- salt and pepper
- garlic, granular

Marinate steak in chili powder, cumin, salt, pepper, and granular garlic.

Marinate ground round and pork as above.

Cut onions and garlic (crush). Put some oil in pan add garlic, blended items, tomatoes, tomato sauce, onions, rest of spices. Bring to high boil then take pan off stove.

In fry pan, add a little chicken broth and cook part of meat until broth is gone, continue until meat is finished. Add meat to other pan. Put pan on stove with all ingredients bring to a boil. Then reduce heat and simmer 2 1/2 hours. Adjust seasonings to taste.

Southwest dinner features pork chops

AP — No time to broil pork? Cooking pork by direct heat in a pan takes about half the time it takes to broil the same piece of meat. Just be sure to choose steaks and chops that are not much more than 1-inch thick.

Place the meat in a heavy skillet. If the meat is extremely lean, brush the pan with a little oil to prevent sticking. Cook over medium-high heat, turning occasionally and removing any fat from the pan as it accumulates during cooking. Frequent turning is recommended for even doneness and browning.

PUERCO ADOBO

- One 12-ounce jar jalapeno peppers, undrained
- 4 teaspoons oregano
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 teaspoons ground cumin
- 4 tablespoons cider vinegar
- 4 boneless pork loin chops (4 ounces each), about 1-inch thick
- 1/2 teaspoon oil

For marinade, combine peppers, oregano, garlic, cumin and vinegar in a blender container. Puree. Marinate chops in this mixture for 4 to 24 hours. Heat oil in large skillet; panbroil chops 5 minutes on each side. Test for doneness. Makes 4 servings.

To test for doneness: Gentle pressure with a fingertip on the surface of the meat can reflect the degree of doneness: soft-to-the-touch meat is rare, some resistance indicates medium and firm-to-the-touch is well done.

Nutrition information per serving: 186 cal., 269 mg sodium, 26 g pro., 66 mg chol., 8 g fat.

SOUTHWESTERN MUFFINS

- 1 cup flour
- 1 cup cornmeal
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon cumin
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 4 tablespoons vegetable oil
- One 8-ounce can corn kernels with red pepper, drained

Stir together the flour, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder, cumin and salt. Blend the eggs with the milk, vegetable oil and corn kernels. Combine flour mixture with the egg mixture, stirring just until moistened. Spoon batter into greased muffin pans, filling two-thirds full. Bake in a preheated 425-degree F oven for 12 to 14 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

PEPPERED CARROT SALAD

- 4 large carrots
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 tablespoons white-wine vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon cracked black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- Salt to taste

Peel the carrots, cut into thin slices. Boil in 1 quart water about 2 minutes, until crisp-tender. Toss carrot sticks gently with 1 tablespoon olive oil, white-wine vinegar, cracked black pepper, nutmeg and salt. Cover and refrigerate overnight, if desired. Serve cool or at room temperature. Makes 4 servings.

Rocks get 1st victory

Plymouth Salem was close to beating some of the state's best girls basketball teams in four non-league games to begin the season.

So it was not surprising the Rocks — despite their 0-4 mark and Livonia Churchill's 3-0 record — rolled over the Chargers 65-30 Thursday in the Western Lakes Activities Association opener.

Salem, always an Observerland power and the defending WLAA champion, took a 24-6 lead in the first quarter and coasted from there, leading 39-14 at halftime and 49-23 after three periods.

The Rocks, playing a man defense, held Churchill star Chrissy Daly to four points in the first quarter, though she finished with a game-high 21.

Seniors Cyndi Platter, who scored 10 points in the opening quarter to fuel Salem's fast start, and Leslie Gotts had 15 apiece to lead Salem. Christy Parimucha hit two three-point shots in the first period, too.

Eagles have win streak

Plymouth Christian Academy won its third straight game in girls basketball Friday, defeating Bloomfield Hills Sacred Heart 54-36 at Lowell Middle School.

The Eagles (3-2) got 15 points and 10 rebounds from sophomore center Lauren Horton. Sophomore guard Karin Reed and senior guard Lyndsey Horton added 13 and 12 points, respectively. Horton's total included four three-pointers.

Jessica Wolf finished with 14 points for Sacred Heart (2-4). PCA led 28-16 at halftime and 46-28 entering the final quarter.

Canton swimmers coast

The Plymouth Canton girls won their second dual meet in as many tries Thursday, dominating Western Lakes Activities Association division opponent Farmington Hills Harrison 128-58.

Sara Larson was first in two individual events, and Susan Pritchard won one race and helped the Chiefs win two relays in their pool.

Pritchard anchored the 200-yard freestyle relay, which included Beth Berger, Susan Daoust and Danielle Yockey. The Canton time was 1:50.82. Yockey and Pritchard were joined by Katie McWhirter and Jill Mellis in the 400 freestyle, which the Chiefs won in 3:56.92.

Larson swam the individual medley in 2:25.63 and the breast stroke in 1:14.95. Pritchard's time in the 200 freestyle was 2:08.03.

Pam Pritchard won the backstroke (1:08.91) and Jill Barnes the butterfly (1:09.57), and both were on the winning medley relay, which included Selena Bastine and Daoust and had a 2:03.02 finish.

Also winning for Canton were McWhirter in the 100 freestyle (58.57) and Brooke Larson in diving with 196.4 points.

"We got to swim some of our depth kids, and that was good," Canton coach Hooker Wellman said, citing the Larsons, Barnes and Susan Pritchard for outstanding efforts.

Bastine and divers Adrienne Brenner and Brie Wall also performed well, and Jenny Warnke is progressing rapidly and doing a good job, Wellman said.

"We need to get some more meets, so (the swimmers) can figure out how to race," he said. "They're looking good and training hard. They just need to focus more on what they're doing."

The annual Western Lakes Activities Association Relays will take place Thursday in the Plymouth Salem pool. The diving preliminaries and swimming finals begin at 5 p.m. Admission is $2.

Ocelots thwart comeback

Some former Schoolcraft College volleyballers had it in for the old school Thursday.

After spotting the Ocelots a two-games-to-none lead, the University of Michigan-Dearborn came storming back. The Wolves won the next two games, but then their rally stalled as SC was able to pull out a victory, 15-1, 15-12, 15-17, 10-15, 15-10 at SC.

"We got off the mark and they slid right in," said SC assistant coach Alisha Love, who filled in most of the match for Tom Teeters, who was ill. "It was an uprising of former Schoolcraft players."

That uprising was led by Kari Domanski and Angie Lankford. But it wasn't strong enough, as Love noted. "After their adrenalin wore off, our talent took over."

SC, now 5-1 for the season, got nine kills and 17 digs from Julie Wood, six kills and 13 assists-to-kills from Nancy Ehler; three service aces and eight assists from Tracia Clendenen; and, according to Love, an outstanding defensive showing from Jennifer Damphousse, who had 52 digs.

Zavagnin leads UNC team

It's not an easy arena to make a name for oneself in soccer, but Kerry Zavagnin of Canton isn't doing too badly.

The former Redford Catholic Central graduate has started his freshman year at the University of North Carolina strongly, even if his team hasn't.

The Tar Heels were 1-3-1 through their first five matches, but Zavagnin has sparked with three goals and two assists (eight points).

Area seniors eye World Series title

Canton Softball Center will be the site of the Senior Softball World Series this week. The National Trails team, dominated by Observerland men, is among the contenders in the 50-and-over age division after finishing fourth last year.

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Bob Kaump recalled the time he and his age-50-plus teammates took the field for a softball game against younger men in a 35-and-over league.

"There was some chuckling as we walked up," he said. "But the chuckling changed to 'Hey, these guys can play some ball' by the time we got to the middle innings."

"We like playing against younger competition — and if we lose that's OK — because it gets us ready for our own age bracket. But we don't take it any less seriously."

National Trails, which includes Kaump and many other Observerland players, is one of 103 teams competing this week in the Senior Softball World Series at Canton Softball Center.

Teams from the United States and Canada will play for championships in six age groups: over-50, 55, 60, 65, 70 and (for the first time) 75.

The opening ceremonies take place Wednesday morning, and the games begin at 10 a.m. The finals are scheduled for 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. Each team plays four games to determine seeding for the double-elimination tournament. Admission is free.

Ken Maas of Clinton Township, who helped organize the SSWS four years ago, has seen the event grow from 63 teams the first year in Greensboro, N.C., and the quality of competition get better as more players take up the game.

"What we're seeing are members of these ballclubs who are former minor leaguers and some who played in the Major Leagues," he said. "We have smart players and many have kept themselves in good playing condition."

"The caliber of ball will be surprising to those who haven't seen it. I know of one fella (Mel Trebble) who's 83 and plays a heckuva shortstop."

The Kids N Cubs from Florida, a team of octogenarians who have been the subject of features on national television, are entered in the 75-over bracket.

The team uniform of long white pants, white shirts and black bow ties distinguishes its members. One of its players, former Michigan resident George (Buck) Bakewell, is the oldest in the World Series at 100.

Al Moran of Farmington Hills, the second baseman for National Trails and assistant baseball coach at Redford Catholic Central, is one of the many former pros. He was the starting shortstop for the New York Mets in the early 1960s.

"If we don't get hurt, we should do pretty well," Moran said, adding the team has had a lot of recent injuries. "Our chance of winning is just as good as six or seven others. We could play a possible 12 games in four or five days, and that's a lot of games for 50-and-over players."

National Trails is one of two Michigan teams in that age group, the other being Nothdruff Tool from Mount Clemens. They finished fourth and third, respectively, last year in West Palm Beach behind the hometown Florida Legends and Premiere Cruise Lines.

In its preliminary games, National Trails plays Vancouver at 5:30 p.m. and the Legends at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. It plays the California Classics at 5 p.m. and the Rhode Island Colts at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

"Some people scoff at this, but those who come out will see pretty good softball because there are very few bad teams in this," said Kaump, a Redford resident who teaches in Farmington.

Other area players on the Trails roster are Bob Delfgauw of Redford; Vaughn Covert, Don Dombey, Chuck Hebestreit and Ken Johnson of Livonia; Milo Karhu of Farmington Hills; Joe Martin, John Fawcett, Paul (Pete) Woodard and Gerry Ratkewicz of Plymouth-Canton; Jim Newman and Don Phillippi of Northville.

David Storvis and John Sprys are former Redford residents. Other players are Joe Gamrat, Dave Puez and Jon Raniszewski. Plymouth's Terry Lockey is the manager and Redford's Bill Hannan a coach.

Hebestreit is the former girls basketball and softball coach at Livonia Stevenson, Johnson is the superintendent of Redford Union Schools and Karhu is a former assistant high school principal at RU. Martin and Fawcett played baseball in the Detroit and Kansas City farm systems.

Phillippi, a former high school and college basketball official, is the pitcher. The starting lineup has Martin (.546) at catcher, Raniszewski (.521) first base, Moran (.445) second, Karhu (.608) shortstop, Woodard (.650) third and Kaump (.627), Delfgauw (.559), Hebestreit (.549) and Covert (.448) in the outfield. Johnson (.539) is the extra batter. Averages reflect 65-game totals.

Raiders no match for Chiefs

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

If Thursday's Western Lakes Activities Association game against visiting Plymouth Canton was a test for the young North Farmington girls basketball team, the Raiders won't be ready for the final exam for awhile.

Though the upstart North couldn't pull the upset against the No. 2 Class A team in the state, the Raiders believe their 77-34 loss is a sign of progress for their program.

North, which fell to 4-2, was no match for the Chiefs, who improved to 6-0.

The Raiders, who have no seniors on their squad, will take the loss and use it as a goal of where they want their program to go, according to coach Lance Davis.

"I felt this game would give us a good idea where we are as a team," he said. "We were 4-1 and had some tests — and were successful with those tests — but this was a challenge. Canton has a great program."

"I feel this will ultimately benefit us. We will learn from it. Like they say 'You can only get better by playing the best.' (Canton coach Bob) Blohm does an excellent job there and one day we will be like them. Maybe next year."

The game featured a match-up of two of the area's top post players — senior Stephanie Gray of Canton and junior Carey Perkins of North.

Salem gridders rebound with 35-14 win

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Salem's football team demonstrated why the triple-option attack can be a nightmare for opposing defenses Friday night.

Quarterback Rob Kenney and fullback Andy Szydlowski teamed up to lead the Rocks in their 35-14 victory over visiting Walled Lake Central.

Kenney scored twice on option keepers resulting in runs of 74 and 42 yards and threw a 42-yard touchdown pass to Szydlowski, who also ran 18 yards for another Salem TD.

Kenney rushed for 146 yards on five carries, Szydlowski 103 on 13 attempts, as Salem outgained the Vikings 361-51 on the ground. Central got most of its 257 yards through the air in the second half.

"Our fullback started off having a good night, and they were taking the pitch away," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "We knew Kenney could run. All he needed was a little experience and some confidence, and I think he got that tonight."

"He threw the ball fairly well, and I thought he ran the offense extremely well."

The Rocks (2-1) did a reverse of the previous week when they trailed Farmington Hills Harrison 22-0 at halftime and built a big lead themselves against the Vikings, 21-0.

Salem didn't have a turnover, either — a complete turnaround from the previous game when they committed seven — and the field conditions (wet and muddy) were much worse.

"We got a couple big plays early, and it gave us some momentum," Moshimer said.

Salem scored the first time it had the ball. A 31-yard run by Brandon Walton and a face-mask penalty set up Szydlowski's TD run early in the first quarter.

Kenney's 17-yard pass to Scott Helmstadter on fourth-and-8 from the Central 21 led to Walton's 4-yard TD run midway in the second.

The Rocks scored again with a minute left in the half, driving 75 yards in five plays. Kenney threw a screen pass to Szydlowski in the right flat, and the stocky fullback turned up the right sideline, sidestepping a tackler at the 20.

The Vikings (1-2), forced to throw in the second half, had some success passing. Mike Gluski was 13-of-26 with two interceptions for 160 yards, Ken Shiller 2-of-3 for 46 yards.

"The field conditions hurt us psychologically, because our kids know we do better on a dry track," Central coach Darrell Harper said.

"We never got going offensively. They were more physical than us. They deserved to win. They outthrew us."

Gluski passed 12 yards to David Johnston for a TD on Central's first possession of the second half. But the Rocks needed five plays to score again and make the score 29-6.

Kenney kept the ball on the option, stepped inside of the defensive back on the slippery field and sprinted 74 yards for the score. He also ran for the two-point conversion.

"The fact we came back and scored right away was a real key, not because it put the game out of reach but it made it difficult for them to come back," Moshimer said. "I didn't feel safe, not with them throwing the ball around, until Kenney scored the last one."

On first down from the 42, Kenney dashed off another TD run, giving Salem a 35-6 lead with 7:12 remaining in the game.

"We work on (the quarterback keeper) all week; they just run it very well," Harper said. "We tell our players 'They're going to run the fullback and run the fullback' — and as soon as you cheat and come in they go with the quarterback."

Shiller passed 21 yards to Chris Kourtakis for Central's second TD late in the game. Roger Wilson gained 33 of 51 rushing yards for the Vikings. Kenney was 3-of-5 passing for 65 yards.

Warriors win 3rd at Canton expense

BY BILL PARKER
STAFF WRITER

They ran, they passed, they kicked. They hit, they blocked, they intercepted.

Walled Lake Western's football team used every aspect of a balanced attack Friday to earn a 38-0 victory over visiting Plymouth Canton in the Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division opener for both teams.

After years of mediocrity, the Warriors are off to a 3-0 start and have themselves and their opponents believing they are for real.

"It's a great feeling," said senior quarterback Dave Watkins, who passed for three touchdowns and ran for another. "In the past everyone had kind of put us down, but this year we can show everybody we're a good football team."

Canton coach Bob Khoenle was also impressed with the Warriors.

"This is the best team I've seen at Western and I've been here (Canton head coach) for 16 years," he said. "They have good size. They come off the ball. They have good speed. They play good defense. They have a good shot this year. They have been building this team for a few years. They've taken their knocks, now it's their turn." Friday it was the Chiefs taking the knocks as three Canton miscues led to an early 21-0 lead for the Warriors.

The Chiefs, who slipped to 0-3 for the first time in eight years, turned the ball over on a fumble on the opening drive of the game and Western's Zack Budden recovered at the Canton 40-yard-line. Six plays later Warrior Arnie Gillert (61 yards on nine carries) found the end zone with a 21-yard scamper, but the TD was nullified by a clipping penalty. Watkins (4-of-7 for 99 yards) hooked up with wide receiver Rob Budd on a 31-yard TD on the next play to put the Warriors on the board. Travis Ilacqua nailed the first of five extra points as Western took a quick 7-0 lead.

Gillert set up Western's second touchdown when he picked off a Kevin Shankie pass at the 30 and returned it to the Chiefs' 15-yard-line. Gillert capped a five-play drive when he took a pitch from Watkins on the option and scored from eight yard out with 1:41 remaining in the first.

Dwayne Lucas came up with the big defensive play on Canton's next possession. Facing fourth down at their own 42, Canton set up to punt. But the snap was high enabling Lucas to fight off a block at the line, burst into the backfield and block the punt. Matt Loebig recovered for Western at the Canton 25.

Watkins & Company went back to work and it didn't take them long to find paydirt. The senior signal caller hooked up with Budd on a 25-yard scoring pass on the first play of the ensuing drive.

"At the start of the game we made three mistakes, a fumble, an interception and a bad snap, and it all hurt us," Khoenle said. "I'm not saying it would have turned the game around, but we sure helped them. But that's been the story for us so far this year. We've had 10 turnovers in three games."

Western jumped ahead 28-0 late in the second quarter when Watkins and Budd hooked up once more, this time on a 25-yard TD pass.

"We practice by ourselves a lot on long patterns and timing," said Watkins of his three TD passes to Budd. "It kind of paid off tonight. But I have to give credit to the linemen. They blocked great. We wouldn't be able to do any of it without them."

Western's defense, led by Budden (11 first hits and six assists) Lindsay (seven first hits and four assists) and Neil Potter (four first hits four assists), bottled the Chiefs up on the opening drive of the second half and forced the Chiefs to punt into a stiff wind from their own 18-yard-line.

Western took over at the Chiefs' 34 and Watkins scored on the option on the first play of the drive. Ilacqua added a 25-yard field goal late in the third for the final margin of victory.

"The nice part is that we have so many different weapons," said Western coach Chuck Apap. "If they try to take away our running game we have receivers who can catch and run with the ball and a quarterback who can throw. We can run power. We can run option. We're very balanced. We've been working very hard on that. Balance is a big thing and you need going into a game with a team like Farmington Harrison."

The Warriors travel to Harrison Saturday for a key WLAA battle with the Hawks.

Anderson leads North

North Farmington's Todd Anderson ran wild Friday, but the Raiders had to hold off host Livonia Stevenson in a Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division football encounter, 17-14.

Anderson, who racked up 273 yards in 30 carries, scored on the game's opening play, a 70-yard touchdown run. The senior added a 30-yard TD run in the second quarter.

"We couldn't contain him," said Stevenson coach Jack Reardon, whose team is 0-3 overall. "He's the best running back we've played against. He's a good football player."

Stevenson trailed 17-7 at halftime.

The Spartans tied it early in the second quarter on a 3-yard TD run by Mike Redington.

Mitch Bender, in for injured place kicker Scott Lord (two-for-two on extra points), added a 21-yard field goal for North (2-1) just before the half.

Stevenson cut the deficit to 17-14 in the fourth quarter when Micah Lietzau caught a 4-yard pass from backup quarterback Kevin Saczembara, who was filling in for the injured J.J. Rarog (139 total yards).

Brad Morgan was Stevenson's leading receiver with four catches for 81 yards. Cliff Mickelson also picked off a pass.

Northville blanks Chaggers

On Friday, Kevin Shaw ran for two TDs as host Northville (2-1) gradually wore down Livonia Churchill (0-3) in the WLAA Western Division opener, 31-0.

The Mustangs led 14-0 at halftime and put it away with 17 second-half points.

National Trails is 47-18 and advanced to the SWS by finishing second in a Mount Clemens qualifying tournament and subsequently won a London (Ontario) qualifier.

The team is 16-5 and second in a 50-over league in Oak Park but is tied for first place in a Redford 35-over league with a 10-3 record.

"We compete quite well in our (35-plus) league," Kaump said, adding National Trails hasn't played many 50-and-over teams. "It gives us an edge. That's why we're in it."

"A lot of base hits that are taken away from us in the 35-and-over league fall in against the 50-and-over teams."

Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara's office is responsible for bringing the SWS to this area, and Little Caesars and Northwest Airlines are major sponsors. Little Caesars owner Mike Ilitch will host a welcoming party for all involved Tuesday at the Fox Theatre, and Henry Ford Museum will be the site of another SWS party Saturday night.

The event is expected to bring 4,000 visitors to the area and add $4 million to the local economy.

"This is going to be the most outstanding event Canton has seen in many years," township supervisor Tom Yack said. "(CSC) has been a very big part of our city's image, and it deserves this kind of recognition."

Games will be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 8 a.m.

until the late evening. Canton Softball Center, located on Michigan Avenue west of I-275.

As more men who quit playing softball in their 30s return to the sport, Maas sees the SWS becoming a bigger event in future years.

"We're going to have more teams than we know what to do with," he said. "I see so much growth in the near future we'll have to design a new qualifying system. (There are nine regionals in the U.S. and two in Canada.)"

"If the numbers get much bigger, the question is 'Where do we hold it?' We're fortunate here in Canton Township we have a 12-diamond facility, but there aren't many of them around the U.S."

The Last Swing Tournament will be a one-day event Sunday, Oct. 4, at CSC. All teams are welcome and guaranteed three games. The entry fee is $85 plus a $3-per-game umpire fee.

For information or to enter either tournament call 483-5600, ext. 102.

■ HAWKS WIN TITLE

The Michigan Hawks, an under-16 girls soccer team, beat Livonia Youth Soccer Club United, 2-1, to win its division recently at the Troy Classic VII Tournament.

The Hawks, coached by Paul Scicluna and Ken Hamman, also defeated the Troy Chargers in a semifinal match, 3-1. They added wins against the BSFC Blazers of Birmingham, the Rochester Hills Rockers and the Guelph, Ontario Royals in pool play.

Members of the Hawks include: Aimee Cousino, Michelle Fatute, Laura Fedrigo, Amy Marcoe, Angie Siggia and Elizabeth Szkrybalo, all of Livonia; Jenny Bazzarelli and Mari Hoff, both of Canton; Kelly Lukasiak, Plymouth; Kari Westveer, Troy; Kathryn Sobrero, West Bloomfield; Heather Huizing, Jessica Jones and Katie Hohl, all of Northville; Kelly Hamann, Milford; Muthoni Muiruri, Okemos; and Charlene Ramsey, Belleville.

Plymouth Canton rebounded from its loss to Livonia Franklin earlier in the week by beating Livonia Churchill 1-0 Wednesday.

The Chiefs, ranked seventh in the state in the last coaches poll, knocked off the No. 10 Chargers when Alan Samouelian scored the only goal with 47 seconds left in the game.

"That was cutting it sort of close," Canton coach Don Smith said. "We were in front of each other's goal several times but couldn't get good shots."

Jeff Fliss assisted on the goal, which resulted from a loose-ball scramble in front of the Churchill net.

Senior goalkeeper Ryan Henkel made 10 saves for the Chiefs, who are 2-1 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association and 5-2-2 overall. Churchill is 2-1-1 and 3-2-2.

■ SALEM 4, FRANKLIN 1:The No. 2-ranked Rocks have overcome a rash of injuries to defenders and remained unbeaten at 8-0-1 overall.

Salem planned to play a defensive game because of the injury situation but got two goals from Ryan Phipps to take an early lead. Mark MacInnis assisted on both.

That allowed coach Ken Johnson to move all-stater Tom Baker (one assist) back to the midfield from sweeper, and the Rocks led 3-0 at halftime after a goal by Brian Wright.

Doug Harriman scored a second-half goal. David Steinert scored for the Patriots (6-2-1) off a restart late in the game.

"The difference was Salem was ready for the game," Franklin coach Frantz Lamarre said. "We came out and watched in the first half."

The Rocks lost Jeff Kley for six weeks after he tore ankle ligaments in the Livonia Stevenson game, and Brian Spuck for two weeks when he twisted an ankle against Farmington Harrison.

Their replacements from the JV team, Trevor Pruett (arm) and Phil Shipley (ankle), were injured Wednesday.

Kevin Little, who replaced the injured Jason Oberhelman (knee), moved to defense at that point. Baker started at sweeper Wednesday, and Joe Perron came off the forward line to take his place in the midfield, giving the Salem lineup a stronger defensive base.

■ S'FIELD CHRIST. 3, PCA 1:

Southfield Christian rallied in the second half Thursday to defeat Plymouth Christian Academy, which led 1-0 at halftime.

Freshman Shawn Walker scored five minutes into the game for the Eagles (4-6). PCA goalkeeper Jamie Neil made 17 saves.

Gray won the battle by scoring 16 points and grabbing seven rebounds in 2 1/4 quarters of play. Perkins had 15 points and five rebounds.

"I like playing against good players," Gray said. "(Perkins) posts-up so big it's hard to get around her."

North did lead 4-2 nearly four minutes into the game, but it was all downhill from there. The Chiefs used a swarming man-to-man, full-court press and forced the Raiders into countless turnovers — 33 for the game.

"We handled their pressure early but they are 10 deep solid and I think it eventually wore us down," Davis said.

The Chiefs ended the first quarter on an 11-3 run and held North scoreless for the first four minutes of the second quarter to expand their lead to 19-7. Canton led 33-16 at halftime.

What hurt North the most, aside from its turnovers, was Canton's domination of the offensive boards. The Chiefs outrebounded North 33-21 for the game but held an incredible 18-3 advantage on the offensive

■ 'If you said we were going to score 77 points, I would have said no way . . . But I thought we shot the ball well tonight, played good defense and ran the floor well.'

Canton basketball coach*

glass. "We have some good kids who can get to the glass and get the ball," Blohm said. "I thought we could win this game, and I thought we could win the offensive boards. With our pressure, I wanted them to have to work the ball up the court and not let them get the ball to Carey so she could post-up."

"The turnovers and the offensive rebounds hurt us," Davis said. "With Canton being taller, you have to go above and beyond just boxing them out. We weren't doing that and they were outjumping us."

The Chiefs were also able to take more than twice as many shots as North. Canton made 35 of 82 field goal attempts (43 percent) compared to North's 38-percent shooting (12-of-32).

"If you said we were going to score 77 points, I would have said no way," Blohm said. "I saw North play (Tuesday) against Pontiac Central and they have a nice team. But I thought we shot the ball well tonight, played good defense and ran the floor well."

"Lance is a great coach and I didn't expect it to be this easy," Gray said. "I thought we played good defense and did well on the boards. We are playing more together each game. We are rebounding better and rotating on defense better."

Senior forward Kelly Holmes came off the bench to score 10 points for Canton. Junior forwards Erica Anderson and Lisa Nicastrri had nine points each, while Robyn Vachow added eight fourth-quarter points.

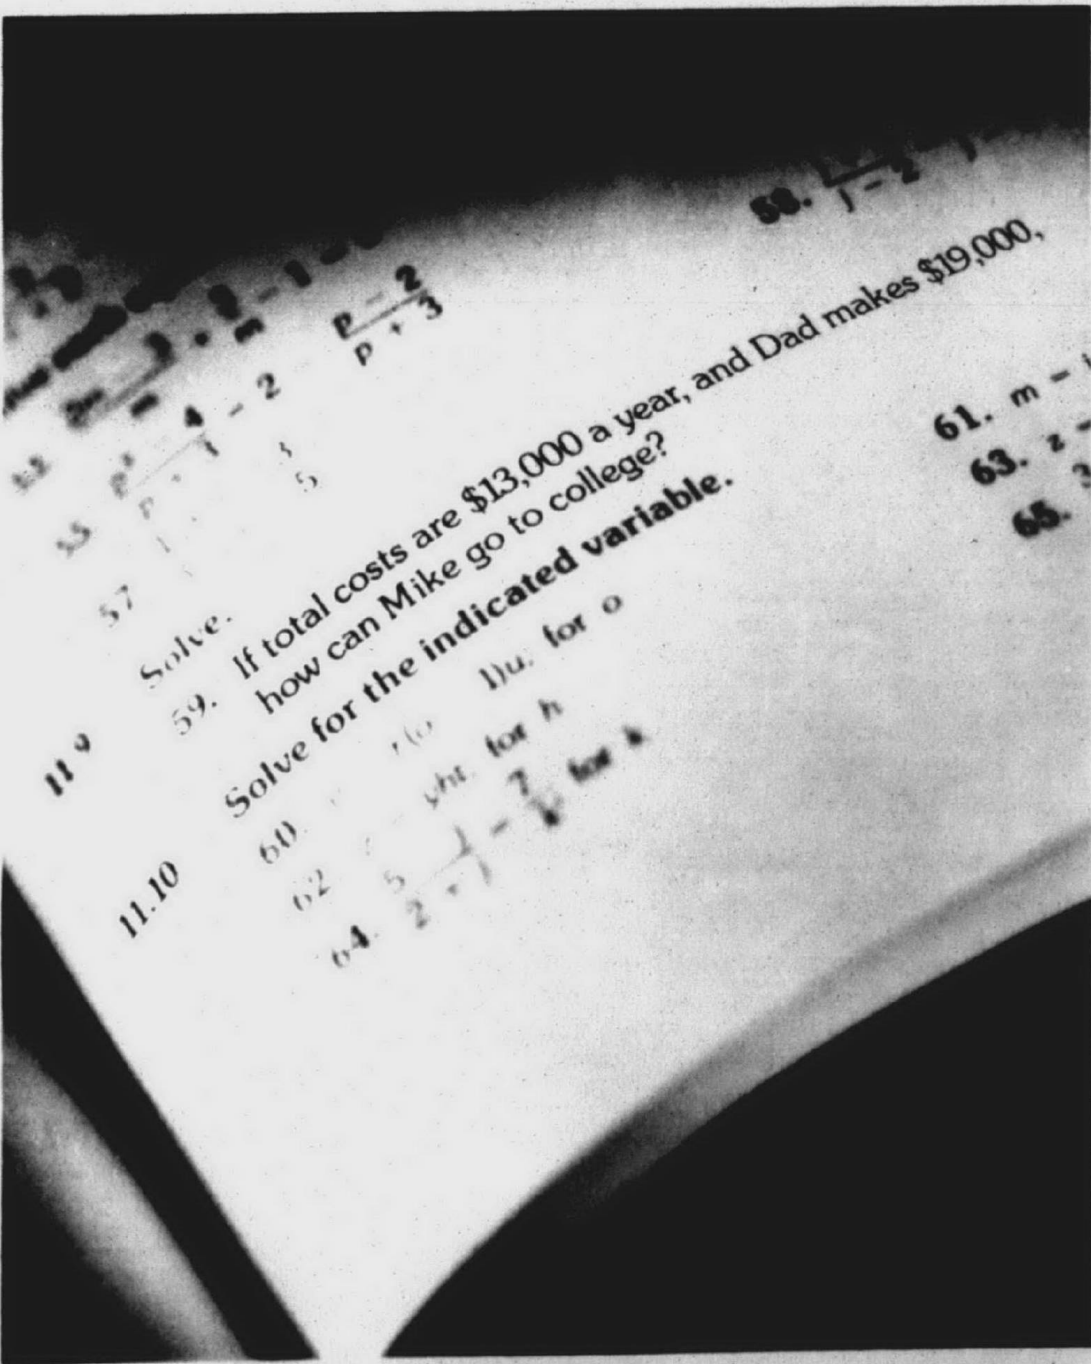

Mental illness has warning signs, too.

Excessive anger. Withdrawal from social activities. These could be the first warning signs of a mental illness. Unfortunately, most of us don't recognize the signs. Which is tragic. Because mental illness can be treated. In fact, 2 out of 3 people who get help, get better.

HOROSCOPES

By C.C. Clark

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)

You've been under a great deal of pressure and have experienced big changes recently. This could be a turning point.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Good opportunities are ahead, but you must tread carefully. There could be problems in the work or school environment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)

Obstacles will soon be removed and you will see things in a new light. As things begin to change in your life, don't dwell on yesterday.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)

You could be wasting talents and skills. Be sure to check all information before moving ahead with new ventures. You may meet an old friend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)

You will succeed in a new enterprise as long as you keep your feet on the ground. If you're under pressure, get away for a while and relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You may be bored with your present situation and need a change. Take your time in any upcoming agreement, be sure all is in your best interest.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)

There is a possibility you could lose something important, but everything will work out in the end. Learn to be more independent.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

Be careful; you may be tempted to do wrong. It is important to find a sense of balance in your life and begin building financial security.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

You may receive opposition and it could cause a major delay of plans. Petty quarrels could lead to serious disagreements.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

Don't let others take advantage of you or your situation. You have done well and satisfaction and peace are on the way.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

You may feel locked into a difficult set of circumstances and it is best just to sit back and wait. Nothing will come from trying to force the issues.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)

A young man with a great deal of strength may help you get through some tough times ahead. Things may not happen the way you expect.

Youthful energy charges CMA Awards

CMA Awards founder Hall of Fame nominee

By Dan Rice

Country music is more popular than it's ever been, as is evident from runaway record sales and growing concert attendance. Younger performers and audiences have brought a higher energy level into the industry, and the Country Music Association shows its gratitude when The 26th Annual CMA Awards airs Wednesday, Sept. 30, on CBS.

The two-hour event, which originates from the Grand Ole Opry House in Nashville, Tenn., pairs returning host Reba McEntire with first-timer Vince Gill at the podium. Both are "Entertainer of the Year" nominees. Among the artists slated to perform at the ceremony are Mary-Chapin Carpenter, Alan Jackson and Trisha Yearwood.

The executive producer for the event, Irving Waugh, has been at the helm of the CMA Awards since its inception in 1967. With music publisher Jack Stapp, Waugh persuaded NBC's Kraft Music Hall to televise the ceremony for the first time in 1968. Waugh, a visionary who was instrumental in the development of the Opryland entertainment complex and Nashville's first television station (WSM-TV), credits the burgeoning of country music to its increasing appeal to younger listeners.

"The Garth Brooks, for example, are bringing much younger audiences to country music," Waugh says. "I attended a Garth Brooks concert in Dallas, and I was amazed at the large percentage of teenagers."

Waugh also believes technological progress has widened the country-music audience. "This world of ours is not urban and rural anymore because of communications, because of television. We're closer to being one as far as taste."

Waugh calls on his showbiz savvy when asked to name some of the hottest contenders in this year's awards show. "Travis Tritt (tied with Vince Gill for the lead in nominations with five each) has a tremendous youth appeal. Mary-Chapin Carpenter is a totally different artist but very attractive and writes some interesting material.

"A phenomenon, of course, is the Billy Ray Cyrus thing," Waugh continues. "Many people think he's just a flash in the pan, but many people thought Elvis (Presley) was a flash in the pan or that the Beatles wouldn't last. So I'd be slow to say that Billy Ray wouldn't be here next year."

Cyrus' megahit, "Achy Breaky Heart," which was composed by Don Von Tress, is nominated for three awards: Single of the Year, Music Video of the Year and Song of the Year. Though the song is a popular dance tune in country-music nightclubs, it is up against some tough competition in the last category, including Mary-Chapin Carpenter's "Down at the Twist & Shout," Travis Tritt's "Here's a Quarter (Call Someone Who Cares)" and "Don't Rock the Jukebox," penned by Alan Jackson, Roger Murrah and Keith Stegall.

Every third year of the Awards, the CMA Hall of Fame inducts a non-entertainer into its ranks. In 1992, Waugh is one of the five nominees for the honor. With a blend of modesty and pragmatism, Waugh, who is the namesake of the annual Irving Waugh Award of Excellence, observes that "There's one gal (BMI's Frances Preston) against four old men, so my guess is the gal will get the award, which is fine."

Waugh, a man who mentions his wartime interview of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as one of the high points of his long and illustrious career, has a matter-of-fact attitude about his many achievements. "If you live long enough," Waugh says, "you have some highlights in your life."

Sci-Fi comes to cable TV

By Dan Rice

May the Force be with them. Thursday, Sept. 24, marks the launch of the USA network's Sci-Fi Channel. Beginning with its presentation of Star Wars, the 24-hour channel will air science-fiction and fantasy films and TV series, including Lost in Space, Dark Shadows, Battlestar Galactica and Dr. Who. The Sci-Fi Channel also offers cartoons of the genre and original programming such as NASA Watch.

One of the most divisive issues in contemporary culture is that of abortion. The debate continues Monday, Sept. 21, on TBS with a trio of specials. Contraception: The Stalled Revolution with host Linda Ellerbee examines the lack of contraceptive research and development in the United States. Then Cybill Shepherd narrates Science Held Hostage: RU-486 and the Politics of Abortion, about how the abortion pill RU-486 remains banned in the United States because of the current political climate. Sarah Weddington, the attorney who won the landmark Roe v. Wade decision, is host of Whose Choice?, an exploration of religious support for abortion rights and other dimensions of the pro-choice pro-life controversy.

Avon calling. Spend some time with the Royal Shakespeare Company of England on Tuesday, Sept. 22, when A&E Stage presents Living Shakespeare: A Year With the RSC, illuminated by former members Ben Kingsley and Jeremy Irons.

Tuesday on PBS, The American Experience examines the larger-than-life figure known as LBJ.

FAMILY FAIR

'News for Kids' a head start in issue-sorting

By Chris Carpenter

They know how to trick the baby sitter into letting them stay up until midnight, and they even know about the birds and bees long before mom and dad get around to spilling the facts. But further from home, the world is much more difficult to conquer.

News for Kids, TBS' latest endeavor to help children understand the big picture, begins in syndication on Saturday, Sept. 26, then debuts on the cable superchannel the following day.

Pre-adolescents, who may have a faint grasp of worldwide headlines and indeed may not care, can enjoy cartoons for a few more years—but the News for Kids intended audience of 7- to 13-year-olds, the "tween crowd," should take note. Though News for Kids borrows footage from sister channel CNN, executive producer Jerry Krieg says the show is tailored entirely for kids, and in some cases, by kids. Young students from around the country have been commissioned into action as bureau chiefs and correspondents.

Perhaps the program's biggest coup is the addition of Action for Children's Television (ACT) founder Peggy Charren to its advisory board. Her crusade against the rampant commercialization of children's television is firmly established, and News for Kids seems a perfect showcase for presenting a positive alternative.

Oscar winner Mercedes Ruehl discusses her latest film on Wednesday's Entertainment Tonight.

Hearts Afire

Washington, D.C. Ritter is a divorced father of two whose ex-wife has shackled up with her female therapist, while Post is a globe-trotting journalist who frequently mixes business with pleasure. She's also an outspoken feminist, but Bloodworth-Thomason's sympathies are such that she can find no better way to represent her character's irritating side than to make her a chain smoker, and irritating she certainly is. Down on her luck, Post begs Ritter, a top aide to an aged, out-of-fashion Southern senator (if you guess Strom Thurmond, you've got the picture), to hire her as a press assistant. Somehow, she and the elderly black woman (Beah Richards) who raised her end up living with him, too.

Love and War

Also starring are Billy Bob Thornton as Ritter's good ol' boy best friend and co-worker and Beth Broderick as the senator's mistress, a bimbo with something to say for herself.

Though Bloodworth-Thomason calls Post and Ritter "the sexiest couple on television" and is eager to hurry their relationship along, there is a sleaziness to this nascent affair that makes the viewer something of a voyeur. But that's a quality that will hardly stand in the way of Hearts Afire becoming a hit.

Love and War (CBS) - ★★★★★

Among the dozens of scenes of romantic seduction in this season's pilots, only one involves a discussion of safe sex. Susan Dey (L.A. Law, The Partridge Family) and Jay Thomas (Murphy, Murphy, Murphy) play those cautious lovers in Love and War, a new Monday-night comedy from Murphy, Brown creator Diane English.

A nimble comedian, Dey plays a just-divorced New York restaurateur who stumbles out of the courthouse and into a seedy bar that is a favorite of the city's journalists, including opinion columnist Thomas. Borrowing a stage device, English allows each to turn away from the action and tell the audience what they're thinking. By degrees, we see Dey and Thomas become attracted to one another - and consider the consequences. Future meetings are assured when Dey impulsively buys the bar, then hires the former owner (John Hancock) to manage it.

With superlative writing and a well-chosen cast, English makes falling in love the second time look much the best of all.

Tuesday

Class of '96 (Fox) - ★★★

Fox intends to become a seven-night a-week network with the introduction of two light dramas, Class of '96 and Key West, in late October.

Among this fall's pretty-faced ensemble shows, Class of '96 stands out for its attempts to put substance in its characters' lives. Jason Gedrick (Iron Eagle, Backdraft) stars as David Morrissey, a kid from a working-class family whose love of ideas has led him to Ivy League Havenhurst College. His fellow freshmen include Brandon Douglas (Ferris Bueller), Lisa Dean Ryan (Doogie Howser, M.D.), Perry Moore (For Richer, For Poorer) and Gale Hansen, a 33-year-old former student of acting coach Sanford Meisner. To its discredit, fictional Havenhurst has only good-looking, non-geeky students, few blacks, and no Asians or Hispanics.

Class of '96 strives to have the writing of thirtysomething, but it has one of the stars instead. Series consultant Peter Horton is co-star and director of the pilot, which has more the feel of an intellectual journey than a mating dance - but only just barely. Producer Leonard Goldberg (Family) wants to show that "it's good to learn and it's okay to be smart," and, to a greater extent than most, he succeeds. His task now is to improve on that beginning.

LET'S TALK

Hercules no kin to Superman; looking for a moving Van?

By Taylor Michaels

Q: Could you please tell me if Christopher Reeves (sic), who plays Superman in all the movies, is any kin to George Reeves, who played Superman in the television series The Adventures of Superman? —Michelle Strickland, Benton, Ark.

Christopher Reeve

A: Superman is quite a topic of interest among the readers of this column, including Shirley Baldasaro of Claremont, N.H., and Ginger Lowe of Oakley, Idaho, and I will attempt to answer all your questions.

The most recent Superman movies starred Christopher Reeve, therefore making his relation to George Reeves not only unlikely, but untrue. A few readers have even wondered if the modern Man of Steel is related to Steve Reeves, who many also mistakenly believe played Superman. Steve Reeves is an actor best known for his portrayal of another strongman, Hercules.

George Reeves did star in The Adventures of Superman, which made him a big star and perhaps at the same time, hopelessly typecast him to the point that no one would accept him in any other role. Though he had appeared in great films like Gone With the Wind, Rancho Notorious and From Here to Eternity, the trauma of being forever identified with a cartoon character supposedly led to his suicide in 1959. Singer-songwriter Don McLean ("American Pie") has begun a personal vigil in an attempt to prove Reeves did not kill himself and may have been murdered. He's also written a song on the subject.

Q: I really like the voice of the Crypt-Keeper on Tales From the Crypt. Can you tell me his name and address so I can write him a letter? —Rachel Boyer, Condon, Ore.

A: Designed by ghoulish guru Kevin Yagher, the caustic Crypt-Keeper, who opens each segment of the popular HBO anthology series, is voiced by John Kassir. You may write to Kassir in care of The Gersh Agency, 232 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90210.

Q: I am a great fan of all Westerns and have on videotape over 500 movies, but only four of my favorite Western actor, Clint Walker. I know he made more than those four movies, and that is why I am asking how I can write to Mr. Walker and ask him what other movies he made. —Tony Gaik, Sedona, Ariz.

A: Walker is best known for his title role in the TV Western series Cheyenne, a part he reprised in the 1991 miniseries The Gambler Returns: The Luck of the Draw. A list of his film credits includes Fort Dobbs (1958), Yellowstone Kelly (1959), The Night of the Grizzly (1960), The Dirty Dozen (1967), Yuma (1970), The Bounty Man (1972), Pancho Villa (1972), Snowbeast (1973) and White Buffalo (1977). I'm sure you'll still want to write Walker, and you may do so in care of First Artists Agency, 10000 Riverside Dr., Ste. 6, Torrance, Calif., 90502.

Q: Can you please tell me the name of a movie with Van Johnson and Jane Wyman (I think)? He goes off to war and dies holding a medallion that she gave him. He comes back (from the dead) to see her, but no one believes her until they see she has the medallion in her hand. —Brandy Rice, Carthage, Texas.

A: The picture of which you write is 1956's Miracle in the Rain. Incidentally, bridging the hereafter must have been a favorite theme of Johnson's. He played in the similarly moving films The End of the Affair and A Guy Named Joe, the latter of which was remade in 1989 as Always.

SOAP TALK

'Santa Barbara' under dark cloud

By Candace Havens

He's back and none too soon: Stephen Nichols, who played Patch Johnson on Days of Our Lives, can now be seen as Dr. Skyler Gates on Santa Barbara. For almost two years, fans have written in to find out when Nichols was returning to Days. Many were also disappointed when Mary Beth Evans was let go from the show, as it seemed they might never see Patch and Kayla again.

Evans is pregnant with her third child (due in March), so it is doubtful we will see her working with Nichols any time soon. Consequently, the rumors that they might turn up as General Hospital's newest super couple were exactly that—rumors.

In what could be its final days, SB has pulled out all the stops. The show now boasts two of daytime's most popular stars, Nichols and Jack Wagner (ex-Erico Jones, GH) as Warren. The writing on the show, at present, is some of the most creative and innovative in daytime history.

Unfortunately, things really don't look promising for the show, as the audience continues to diminish. Susan Lee, NBC's daytime vice president, says the network is waging a battle to save the soap, but NBC affiliates continue to drop it from their lineups. At press time, the decision as to whether the show will go or stay had not yet been made.

There are some other faces from the past turning up on daytime. Margaret Klenck, who played Edwina Lewis on One Life to Live, is now portraying Kitty Fielding on As the World Turns. Her favorite bad boy from the past, Gerald Anthony, who was Marco Dane on OH, has taken the character to Port Charles for a short-term role on GH. Marco, Edwina and Karen (Judith Light) were a popular trio on OH in the early '80s.

If Connor McCabe on SB looks familiar, it's because Charles Grant, best known for his roles as John Emerson on The Edge of Night and Evan Bates on Another World, is playing the role. Grant's latest character is a far cry from the sleazy guy he played in the past, and he equates the new role with a Clint Eastwood-type of character.

It was an interesting summer on daytime, and things are shaping up to make the fall season stimulating.
