Wider cable TV service at issue

Canton and Plymouth want to persuade Omnicom Cable to offer service to more homes in the two communities. The move comes as negotiations between the communities and the cable television firm are starting to get serious.

BY KEVIN BROWN

Cable TV service for Plymouth-Canton residents in remote areas is shaping up to be a major point of contention in upcoming negotiations between Omnicom and local communities.

To wield a bigger stick in negotiating with Omnicom, four of the communities served by the cable TV company have formed a consortium and hired a consultant to help them get the best deal possible.

The four are Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton, and the City of Northville.

Each community has its own franchise agreement with Omnicom. The agreements expire within months of each other, more than a year from now.

The Intergovernmental Cable TV Committee in a joint agreement is seeking to extend service "to all areas with a minimum density of eight houses per mile," wrote Plymouth City Manager Steve Walters in a report to the city commission.

Walters presented the report to the commission Tuesday. Its reading at the meeting served as the first reading of a proposed ordinance, expected to be approved by the city commission.

Earlier this month, Canton trustees approved a similar measure. Plymouth Township trustees are expected to approve a similar ordinance in the next few weeks.

The issue of some residents of a community wanting cable but not being able to get it does not affect City of Plymouth residents. But Christine Haas, aide to the Plymouth Township supervisor, said all communities belonging to the cable TV

Operation helps girl grow

Kristen Harshman has a head start in her fifth-grade class that's studying bones. The 11-year-old Canton girl recently underwent a leg lengthening operation that has given her firsthand information that most students only get out of a textbook.

But her knowledge didn't come easily.

Born three months early at 2 pounds, 1 ounce, Kristen wasn't expected to live. She surprised everyone when she grew stronger and beat the odds.

Disappointment followed, however, when a few days after she was born an infection settled in her right hip and destroyed the joint. Another side effect of the infection was that it killed the growth center in her right leg, which was eventually three inches shorter than her left leg.

Last August, doctors broke Kristen's thigh bone in an elaborate four-hour operation called "ilizarov" at Children's Hospital in Detroit.

A computer pulled the leg apart in minute increments. As the bone healed, the space was replaced by Charles Le Duc, 13, loved hockey. He played pee-wee hockey with the Navajos, a Southfield-based team. A good bowler, Charles was well-liked and had many friends, said his mother, Patricia Wettlauser of Plymouth.

Charles died Feb. 23 of Reye's syndrome at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

director, Wayne County Health Department

He is the first child to contract and die from Reye's this year in out-Wayne County, said Cynthia Tauog, director of the Wayne County Health Department. Only one case was reported in 1991 and one in 1992, she said.

Charles Le Duc outbreak of the flu, such as has been the case in the Plymouth Canton schools.

The case has been reported to the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, which has reported an increase in the incidence of Reye's.

"The one thing to remember is not to give children aspirin when they have the flu," Tauog said. "Tylenol should be used in such cases."

Le Duc was a seventh-grader at Central Middle School. He was buried after a funeral service at Our Lady of Loretto in Redford Township Saturday. The Rev. Joseph Esper officiated. A scripture service and visitation were held at Charles R. Step Funeral Home in Redford.

In addition to his mother, Charles is survived by his grandfather, Paul LeDuc; four aunts, two uncles, and many cousins.

The cause of Reye's syndrome is unknown. It's been reported in adults, but it attacks primarily healthy children aged 18 and under. It attacks the liver and brain, and sometimes other organs, causing convulsions and swelling of brain tissue.

Oratorical contests

The Plymouth Optimist Club recently presented awards to three area girls who competed in its 25th annual Oratorical Contest.

The girls' contest was Feb. 15 at the Mayflower Hotel. The boys' contest is scheduled for the Mayflower on March 15.

The subject for both contests is "I Can Make A Difference." All contestants delivered a four-minute oration. Girls' winners were: gold — Holly Hamerink of Our Lady of Good Counsel School; silver — Valerie Lonigro of Pioneer Middle School; and bronze — Danielle Orlewicz, Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

Contest judges were John Stewart, Tom Healy and Marc Sullivan.

First-place winners in both girls' and boys' divi-

In Plymouth Township, Haas said, there are residents who've called the township offices saying they'd like to get cable TV service, but can't.

new bone that her body created. The result was to lengthen her right leg three inches in three months.

"I believe she's been given life, and even though it's been real hard for her down the road, I see where positive things have come out of the struggle," her mother, Gayle Harshman, said.

"I think she really has a purpose, even though she might not know what that is right now," she said. "She's survived everything that has been dealt to her. She's a special little girl."

Kristen's physical and mental pain has added to her personal growth.

The worst part of growing up with a shorter leg and fused hip that didn't bend, Kristen said, was that she couldn't play soccer or football and she couldn't ski or go ice skating like other children.

She did, however, master roller-skating with the aid of a shoe lift, swimming and riding her bicycle.

A lot of her future depends on the success of the operation. Kristen's leg pins were expected to be removed Feb. 19, and she'll continue physical therapy to strengthen her leg that has been immobilized for so long.

Therapy is nothing new to Kristen, though. She started rehabilitation for her hip when she was only 3 years old in a Plymouth-Canton schools program.

The schools have supported her all along. After the operation, Kristen began a homebound schooling program.

She returned to Eriksson Elementary School in January in her wheelchair, which keeps her leg elevated. Her classmates' first reaction was that it "was neat," Kristen said. But they also thought the pins in her leg were scary, because it looked like it hurt. And during the long process before the brace was off it did hurt — especially during therapy and pin cleanings, Kristen said.

The pain was among the many elements Gayle and Curt Harshman had to consider when thinking about the elective surgery for their daughter.

"A possible problem was pin infections and stiffness of the knee," Gayle Harshman said.

They decided the benefits outweighed the risks.

Throughout her childhood, Kristen wore one-and-a-half-inch lifts on her right shoe. The large shoe often drew stares from strangers and was heavy for the young girl to carry along.

Gayle Harshman said Kristen compensated for the difference in her legs by walking on her tiptoes or bending her body.

One of the biggest benefits about the operation is Kristen won't have to wear shoe lifts anymore.

"We have always focused on the positive and the things that she can do," Gayle Harshman said. "And there's nothing she can't do."

JUDGING IF THERAPY SUCCEEDS

If you are under treatment for arthritis, what can you expect that regimen to achieve? It is unlikely that medication will completely resolve your joint pain. Therefore you and your physician need to define success with lesser goals in mind.

From experience, doctors accept that therapy is appropriate if it accomplishes the following:

1. Permits you to work
2. Limits your morning stiffness
3. Changes your pattern of fatigue to an intermittent occurrence &
4. Reduces joint swelling to a minimum.

None of these criteria are specific. For example, the degree of joint capacity required for work is far more if you are in construction than if you are employed in an office.

Doctors consider morning stiffness controlled if you can resolve it within a half hour of arising and fatigue overcome if you are able to arrive home after a day's work and not feel exhausted. Joint swelling to a minimal degree and of a tolerable extent is a judgement you make.

Success therapy is not determined by reaching goals. Rather you assess where you were when you started treatment, and judge if you are now where you can reasonably remain.

Canton cool to running local airport

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Canton officials say they want no part in running Mettetal Airport, but they'll listen to what the state proposes in its plan to buy it.

Meanwhile, supporters of the effort for government to buy and run the airport, located in Canton, are gearing up to get their pro-airport message out, as anti-airport folks have had their say since the issue surfaced again in recent weeks.

"Canton has not taken a position on the state proposal," said township supervisor Thomas Yack.

Since meeting with representatives of the state Bureau of Aeronautics on Tuesday, township officials have been reviewing the proposal for short-term and long-term effects on the community. Yack said officials are also working with legal counsel to review information.

But Yack said he and other board members are unified on one point: They don't want to own Mettetal.

"You would own liability," he said. "Why would anybody want to own that airport?"

Yack said he doubts that Canton trustees will try to challenge the state over buying the airport. "They do have a legal right," he said.

Once the state buys the airport, just south of Joy Road at the Plymouth Township-Canton border, it could seek to turn it over to Wayne County to operate it if Canton and other local communities don't want to, state officials say.

On Tuesday, state aeronautics officials told Canton trustees that the aeronautics commission agreed to the plan in November to seek a federal grant to pay for 90 percent of the airport cost, with the state paying the rest.

State officials told Canton trustees that the Michigan Department of Transportation is considering buying property north of Joy Road and south of the airport, to ensure clear flying zones.

Plans include shifting the current runway 300-400 feet south without increasing the runway length, state officials say.

William Gehman, director of the bureau of aeronautics, said the state is seeking appraisals for the airport property and plans to agree on a sale price with the current airport owners, the Klochko family, in 90 days.

Richard Jackson, deputy assistant director of the bureau of aeronautics, said in meeting last week with local government officials, "We explained why it would benefit southeast Michigan."

State Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth, has been seeking a public hearing on the airport issue, partly to let airport opponents have their say.

"We are not opposed to having a meeting," Jackson said, adding no date has been set for such a gathering.

Some backers of the effort to sell Mettetal Airport to a government sponsor plan a presentation at 8 p.m. today at the airport.

Serious flu outbreak keeping students at home

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Jane Nichols, a fourth-grade teacher at Plymouth's Bird Elementary, will commemorate Black History Month — February — in March. That's because so many of her students are out with the flu.

Rita Ringer, supervisor of attendance for Plymouth Canton and Salem high schools, has been in the district 16 years. She says this is one of the most serious flu seasons she can remember.

Seven of Bird's 22 teachers were out sick Thursday, Nichols said. During the last couple of weeks, about 40 students per day — Bird's enrollment is 635 — were absent due to illness.

Higher than normal absence rates have been noted throughout the district.

At Field Elementary in Canton, attendance in many classes has been cut in half due to influenza.

Flu sufferers are reporting symptoms including an elevated fever and stomach cramps.

The high schools have been hard-hit as well by both the flu and mononucleosis.

"I've been in the attendance office four years, and we've had more mono this year than the whole four years I've been here," said Jeanne Buikema of Canton High School. "We've had very, very high absenteeism. It's averaged around seven-and-a-half percent. Usually, it's only about 3-5 percent."

"The Tuesday before last, we took 180 calls in one day, just at Canton," she said.

School spokesperson Lorraine Burnett said that districtwide, absences due to sickness are up among teachers, who total 758. "I know the substitute desk has been experiencing a big load of illness," said Burnett, adding that last year, illnesses hit the district earlier.

Figures aren't yet in for February absences. But in January, teachers took a total of 544 sick days. In January 1992, sick days totaled 406. Teachers were absent due to illness 618 days in October '91 and 665 days last October. In November 1991, teachers were sick a total of 621 days and 615 days in November 1992. In December 1991, teachers took a total of 605 sick days. Absences due to illness in December 1992 totaled 458.

Absenteeism has been up around 10 percent the past three weeks, 4 or 5 percent higher than normal, said Ringer. "We have almost 4,500 students, so that is a significant number. We've been receiving lots of phone calls and excusing kids because of this illness. And for a lot of kids, it's running not a day or two, but for three, four or five days. Whatever it is seems to be stubbornly hanging on. They identify it as a flu-like illness."

A parent in the district who works for the Center for Disease Control has identified the bug plaguing Plymouth-Canton as the Texas flu, said Ringer.

"This week is definitely improved over the past two, she said Thursday.

"It's beginning to run its course. We'll be off for a week (on winter break) and hopefully we'll quit infecting each other. Our hope is that by the end of winter break, this will be history for us."

Father steams over girl's railroad trespassing penalty

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

A fine and community service for a teen arrested by railroad police for trespassing doesn't fit the offense, the teen's father maintains.

And while Robert Yockey acknowledges that it was wrong for his daughter, 17, to trespass, he said rough treatment from the police and the courts wasn't necessary.

But authorities say such penalties are warranted, adding teens and others should know that trespassing on Plymouth and Canton's ample railroad property is unlawful.

"Their motives may be innocent, but there have been instances of vandalism; people can get injured," said 35th District Judge John MacDonald.

"They're obviously in a place they shouldn't be."

"Sometimes these laws are for their own good," MacDonald added.

Yockey, of Plymouth Township, said his daughter was ticketed in October for trespassing on a CSX Railroad underpass at I-275 between Warren and Joy roads in Canton.

She and a girlfriend went to look at some graffiti scrawled on the underpass at I-275 when a railroad officer pulled a gun, he said.

"That was a little much, we felt. He used extremely abusive language. He said, 'Get the f--- down here; you're all under arrest,'" Yockey said.

While a local spokesman for CSX Transportation could not be reached for comment on allegations concerning the railroad officer's conduct, another at the company's Jacksonville, Fla. headquarters said CSX wants to get the word out that trespassing on railroad property is unlawful. "This guy accused them of having beer. He said, 'Where's the drugs?' My daughter is on the honor roll," Yockey said.

Yockey said that last month his

Yockey was critical of the prosecutor of the case and Judge James Garber, who sentenced his daughter, saying her punishment was greater than they were led to expect. Garber was unavailable

Funeral home establishes bereavement collection

McCabe Funeral Home established a bereavement collection at the Canton Public Library by presenting Library Director Jean Tabor with a check for $500.

"As we prepare to open our new facility in Canton, we wanted to show our commitment to the community," said L. David McCabe, chairman of McCabe Funeral Home. "Establishing the bereavement collection was just one way that we can serve Canton residents."

The 35-book collection purchased from the donation addresses many aspects of the mourning process. Some of the titles deal with specific bereavement situations such as the death of a spouse, sibling or child; and suicide. It also includes books that are written specifically for children and young adults.

"The McCabes' generous gift will allow us to add several titles to our bereavement collection for both children and adults," said Canton Public Library Director Jean Tabor. "When people experience loss in their lives, these books become important tools to help them cope with their grief.

On behalf of the library and the community, I would like to thank the McCabes for their generosity."

In the spring of 1993, McCabe Funeral Home will open McCabe Funeral Home Canton Chapel, on Canton Center Road between Saltz and Cherry Hill roads.

"We look forward to providing Canton Township with the same quality of service and community commitment that has been a McCabe tradition in southeastern Michigan for 100 years," said Kevin McCabe, chief executive officer of McCabe Funeral Home.

Since 1893, four successive generations of McCabes have served families at their former northwest Detroit locations and at their current facility in Farmington Hills.

Michelle, 5, learns to cope with double disabilities

BY MARY LOU SONG
STAFF WRITER

When she is awake, Michelle Elswood is as rambunctious as any other 5-year-old.

She is infamous for leaving the TV set on while running from room to room. She loves swimming, biking and playing in the park during the summer; sledding and bowling during the winter.

She also likes eating at McDonald's and Little Caesar's. And having her fingernails painted bright pink by her mom.

Once you meet her and look into those gleaming brown eyes, it's easy to forget that she has disabilities.

"Nothing bothers her," said Connie Elswood, Michelle's mother. "She always wakes up in a good mood. Even when she's running races, it doesn't bother her that she comes in last. She thinks she won."

At six months, Michelle was diagnosed with both cerebral palsy and epilepsy. She has been in therapy since she was 9 months old. On a sleepy afternoon last week, Elswood talked about her daughter. Michelle snoozed, not so quietly, in her mother's arms.

Michelle is a special child, said her mother, but coping with the disabilities has still been challenging for the family.

"You go through stages," Elswood said. "You think you're coping with it and everything's OK. She turns 3 and you think, 'OK, she's getting over it.' But then she turns 5 and you realize it's always going to be a battle. You realize she's always going to be a little behind."

Michelle attends school at Roosevelt-McGrath Elementary in the Wayne-Westland school district. Three days a week, she attends regular kindergarten classes. The other two, she attends special education classes with other special-needs children.

Elswood would like for Michelle to be mainstreamed in school when she is ready.

"It's so hard," Elswood said. "I don't want her to fall behind just because she's mainstreamed."

Like many others, Michelle gets help from the Easter Seal Society of Michigan. She attends speech therapy sessions. Last summer she learned how to swim and went on a boating trip.

"I like the programs," her mother said. "For the amount of time that they had, they did an excellent job. All the work that they put into it and all the feedback we got was great."

Elswood said that even at programs with area hospitals, most therapists do not offer feedback to parents.

But Liza Greene, special events coordinator, said that programs and services are aimed at everyone — not only for people like Michelle, but any person who might have a disability at any point in their life.

"Any one may need help from Easter Seal at some point," Greene said. "You don't have to have a disability that is unchanging throughout your life. You could go skiing and break a leg."

The Easter Seal Society will soon launch its annual telethon fund-raiser. The telethon will run Saturday and Sunday, March 6-7. Last year the telethon in Michigan raised about $1 million. The goal in 1993 is to surpass that figure.

Greene said that money raised from pledges in each region of Michigan will be used on programs and services in that region. She also said that 94 percent of the group's funds go directly to client care.

The Easter Seal Society offers many programs besides the ones in which Michelle Elswood participated. The Loan Closet is one. Individuals who need wheelchairs or crutches, for example, may borrow the items from the Loan Closet for a small fee.

The group, founded in 1919, was originally known as the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. But Greene said the name changed along with attitudes.

"We prefer 'people with disabilities,'" Greene said. "They're people first, no matter what their disability. They are searching for independence."

The Easter Seal Telethon will be broadcast on WDIV-TV (Channel 4). News anchor Mort Crim and weather forecaster Chuck Gaidica will host the Michigan event.

Camp fair offers one-stop shopping for parents

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Occupying the kids for a few weeks this summer is easier than it used to be.

The fourth annual Detroit-area camp fair, put on by Wayne State University's Merrill-Palmer Institute, metroParent Magazine and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, will present parents with 70 options for sending children off to some idyllic wonderland for a week or two — or more — of wholesome activities.

The fair will occur from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 28, at the Bloomfield Hills Middle School on Quarton in Bloomfield Hills. Admission is free.

Growing in popularity, the camp fair will host 70 camp operators this year as opposed to 51 in 1992. Eight other camps couldn't be accommodated this year and are on a waiting list for next year's fair.

Camps available include nearby ones like the Willoway Day Camp in Novi and distant bucolic enclaves such as the Sail Caribbean Camp in Northport, N.Y. The vast majority of the camps, however, are from Michigan and accept children between the ages of 3 and 18.

Non-camps, too

Some non-camp summer programs will also be available at the fair. They include West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation, Cranbrook Summer Programs and the Farmington Gymnastics Center.

Even if you're not buying, the camp fair can provide a fair dose of entertainment on a dreary February weekend. Merrill-Palmer spokeswoman Sandy Schwartz said many of the camp operators bring games, activities and/or animals to amuse and entice the young 'uns in your midst. And free pizza will be provided by Little Caesar's, drinks by McDonald's.

"It's just like a great big happening," Schwartz said.

Good exposure

Lorraine Fisher, owner of Willoway Day Camp, is returning to the fair this year after a fruitful outing last year. "It's a very nice fair," she said, "lots of interested people. It gives (your camp) exposure to people who wouldn't know about you in any other way."

Willoway serves kids from 5 to 14 with activities like swimming, boating, fishing, gymnastics, dramatics and arts and crafts. Fisher said she hopes to have a brace of bunnies at her fair booth to amuse the tots.

Harvey Finkelberg, the executive director of seven Tamarack Camps in Michigan and Ontario, said attendance at the Bloomfield Hills fair is de rigueur for conscientious camp operators. "Any camp that's worth anything comes to this camp fair," he said.

Tamarack camps include just about any activity a person could name, Finkelberg said, and 75 percent of their business is repeat customers.

Lawrence Cohn, director of Camp Maplehurst just north of Traverse City, said he attends five camp fairs around the Midwest every year, but the Bloomfield Hills fair is where he gets the most bang for his buck. "The Detroit fair has always been real professional," he said.

Maplehurst offers outdoor activities like horseback riding, scuba diving and water skiing in intervals of two, four or eight weeks for kids 7-17.

"We've got a lot of kids who would just as soon live up there all year long and go home for eight weeks," he said.

But kids alone do not a summer camp make, and operators are seeking counselors, cooks, specialty instructors, directors and nurses, too, Schwartz said.

Fair or fowl? Some of the 70 summer camp operators due to be present at the camp fair at Bloomfield Hills Middle School are expected to bring along a few barnyard critters like this chicken that turned up at last year's fair.

Local reps say Clinton's plan gets mixed reviews

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

President Bill Clinton's economic plan has drawn praise, mixed reactions and unequivocal criticism in Observer & Eccentric communities, depending on which U.S. congressman you talk to.

Clinton laid out his plan last Wednesday in a speech before a joint session of Congress. The president proposed a combination of spending cuts and tax increases designed to reduce the government's annual overspending from more than $300 billion this year to less than $200 billion in the 1997 budget. (The plan will not, however, reduce the government's total accumulated debt of $4 trillion, which will continue to grow as long as the annual overspending continues.)

Of the four congressmen in the O&E area (three Democrats and one Republican), only Joe Knollenberg, R-Bloomfield Township, reported a vast majority of constituent phone calls critical of Clinton's plan. Knollenberg also represents Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield, Beverly Hills, Bingham Farms, Franklin, Farmington, Farmington Hills, most of Southfield, Redford Township and part of Livonia.)

"The calls began to come in yesterday (last Wednesday) and literally they came in droves," he said. "Ninety-nine to one were not in favor of the anticipated Clinton tax increase. The mood was pretty sour."

Conversely, Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, who also represents Rochester and Rochester Hills, reported that "the reaction of the public has been very positive."

On the other hand, Rep. Sander Levin, D-Southfield, said constituent calls before Clinton's speech were "very much in opposition, (but) more evenly split" the next day, yet still more opposed than in favor. (Levin also represents Troy.)

As for the representatives themselves, the Democrats are very much behind their president, while Knollenberg applauds only Clinton's proposed spending cuts, not the tax increases.

"I can commend (Clinton) for wanting to reduce staff and freeze (the pay of) federal workers," he said. "(But) he was very timid about spending cuts, (and) raising taxes does not create jobs. The plan . . . is a recipe for economic disaster that will only make the deficit worse."

As for the Democrats: Kildee said Clinton's plan "will be very helpful" to the people in his district and will "certainly help the automobile industry."

Levin, who sits on the House Ways and Means committee, which will first take up Clinton's plan, said "a lot of it is going to be difficult" to get through Congress, but "we can't sit around and do nothing. We can't keep pretending there's no problem. This plan isn't perfect, but at least it kicks the ball in the right direction."

No one, however, was predicting fast action on the plan, at least not by real-world standards. "We'll put it on a fast track," Kildee said. "But the nature of this system is that we don't work all that fast."

Said Knollenberg: "It's going to take a while to get anything through, let alone this whole package."

Also, Kildee and Levin agreed that the plan should be voted on as a whole and not in parts. "It has to be absolutely tied together," Levin said. "We have no intention of voting on a bill that increases taxes unless there's a massive spending cut."

Rep. William Ford, D-Ypsilanti Township, did not return the Observer & Eccentric's phone calls, but issued a statement:

"It is very important that we stay together and take this package as a whole so we can get out of this fiscal mess. As the president said, we should seize the moment and fix our problems now rather than pass them on to our grandchildren."

Tell us what you think

President Bill Clinton's plan to reduce the deficit and rebuild the economy will require sacrifice of everyone. Are you ready? Tell us what you think of the President's proposal. Call 953-2032.

Ernie Harwell's voice means spring to the area

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

The resonant voice: So powerful, yet soothing. Ernie Harwell's bellow, reassuring cadence beckons spring on a cold February afternoon.

He describes his play-by-play style, but it says more about himself.

"I think simplicity is the best thing," said Harwell, 75, sitting on the couch in his Farmington Hills living room. "The more I do it, I find simplicity is the best."

An old man in his stocking feet recalling grand and humorous moments from a boy's game. A black cat named Velvet prowls under feet as the sun sneaks through the blinds.

A Bible, a portable radio and a tape recorder sit on a table nearby — his tools to preserve a serene outlook.

Ernie's back!

Harwell returns this season as a Detroit Tigers radio announcer. He'll do play-by-play of the middle innings, culminating in what is a happy ending to a controversy that thrust a self-effacing gentleman awkwardly into the center of attention.

Memories of Tom Monaghan, Ed Schembechler and Harwell's controversial firing have melted away like a gray fog pitted against a morning sunrise.

He's back. To legions of radio listeners, that's all that matters.

"I've been surprised people cared that much about a guy just losing his job," Harwell said. "At

Announcer offers nuggets of thought

Ernie Harwell fields some questions about baseball and some of the personalities he's worked with through the years.

Why he doesn't criticize high-salaried ball players:

"What I'm concerned about is what happens on the field. I'm doing play by play. The money is something that is out of my control and out of my picture. As far as not being critical of the players, I think baseball is the kind of game where you don't have to beat a dead horse, so to speak.

"If a shortstop makes four or five errors a game everybody knows he's not playing well. You can just say that's his fifth error. I don't try to hide anything. I don't want to say, 'How can a guy be that bad?' Everybody has a bad day, including me."

Tiger Stadium:

"I think Mr. Ilitch has the right idea. He's looking at all of his options. He's putting money into Tiger Stadium and seeing what kind of reaction he'll get from the fans, whether or not they want to keep it. Or, he can look at the option of building another stadium."

Best field manager:

"Sparky's probably as good a manager as I've seen. Leo Durocher, when he was with the Giants, he did an excellent job. Leo was expressive and he had a hot temper and had strong opinions about everything. He didn't mind fighting. He was a personable kind of guy. I liked Leo."

Marge Schott:

"It's a shame that thing happened. I guess she had to be punished. It just points out that baseball is a microcosm of the outside world. There's prejudice everywhere. She just made the mistake of expressing it, and it cost her."

Red Barber:

"Red was a real pioneer in our business. We all owe a great debt to him. He was a perfectionist and if you worked for him he demanded you do your very best. If you didn't, he'd be a little short with you. But it was probably good for us that he was that way."

"I missed being in spring training. That's a lot of fun. It's always the nicest time of year. Everyone is optimistic. Everybody is going to win the pennant. The pitchers are going to win 20 games; the hitters are going to hit .300, and the announcers are not going to make any mistakes . . . All of those fairy tales."

Ernie Harwell

A week after Monaghan sold the team to Mike Ilitch, contact was made to bring Harwell back.

He'll broadcast this year and then move into a yet-to-be-defined public relations role.

"They'll have me doing something to keep me off the streets," he said.

Last season, Harwell did the Saturday game of the week for CBS Radio. He also broadcast 14 California Angels games.

Harwell said he kept tabs on the Tigers, the team he'd broadcast and traveled with since 1960.

Though support was overwhelming, some criticized Harwell on how he handled the announcement of the firing. He doesn't bear any malice.

"It didn't hurt me," he said. "I understand people have different opinions. They only way I could do it is handle it the best way I thought I could . . . I had no control over what happened after that."

the time, I didn't think I'd ever be back. I had no inkling they would have a change in ownership. I just thought it was over."

Simplicity, perhaps, but Harwell also speaks to perspective.

After more than 50 years of broadcasting baseball, he can put the game and life into proper view.

His narrative holds the game timeless in the living room setting. Stories range from recalling a memorable interview with Connie Mack, calling the "shot heard 'round the world" in '51 (the Bobby Thomson home run) to the calamity of Disco Demolition Night in '79.

Game will endure

Such reminiscences belie today's news of multi-million-dollar salaries and inflated egos. Fret not, Harwell reassures, baseball will endure.

"I had a quote I saw the other day. The person said, 'Baseball players aren't what they used to be. They don't get out and hustle like they used to and they don't play when they are injured.'"

" . . . It was from 1901."

The unassuming Harwell won't tell you he's written two books, "Tuned to Baseball" and "Diamond Gems," which has been released in paperback. Or that he co-authored a song in 1972, "Move Over Babe (Here Comes Henry)" with then-Detroit Tiger pitcher Bill Slayback.

Or that he's in six halls of fame, including the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Lulu Harwell will, though.

The two have been married for 51 years. And it shows.

She walks in and casually flips her husband the newspaper across the room. Ernie makes a deft left-handed grab Willie Mays would put his signature on.

"I told them you were at the beauty parlor," Ernie says, introducing Lulu to the guests. "C'mon dear, let's see what they did to you. You escaped without any damage, did you?"

"Just monetarily," she replies.

Longtime Hills residents

The Harwells have lived in Farmington Hills more than 10 years. Their home borders the scenic splendor of Heritage Park.

POINTS OF VIEW

Clinton's tax hike makes Hines geese look good

The verdict is in and more people would rather see the Canada geese that roam and slime Hines Park cooked than saved.

That's the result of calls received after a column last week suggesting that if people were hungry enough, there wouldn't be a problem with too many ducks and geese roaming the parks and golf courses.

But the other side made its point, too. The geese and ducks were here first; it's we who are tromping through their turf, not them through ours.

However, when it comes to cooking our collective geese, we should invite Bill Clinton over for a session in the kitchen as we do a slow burn over his tax increases.

Those tax hikes could have some positive effects. People may start looking at the geese as dinner. That would solve the problem for Livonia and other communities looking for ways to cut down on their numbers.

On the subject of birds, Clinton and fellow southerner Al Gore are feathering their own nest south of the Mason-Dixon line with the energy tax that has the wildlife loving Sierra Club members throwing their trail mix in the air in delight.

A tax on BTUs will hit the north harder. There is more industry in the north, and our climate demands we keep the furnace going full blast, while in many areas of the south folks don't even own one.

Then again northern liberals tend to believe in global warming. Maybe they're not complaining; they just figure we'll eventually have Arkansas' climate in Michigan.

Liberals who believe in global warming and non-violent means of dealing with the goose and duck problem don't realize that if Michigan ends up as warm as Arkansas, the wildfowl that migrate south for the winter will stick around during the winter.

And we may need them, if the liberal birds in the White House have their way. Perhaps having the geese stick around is the Democratic version of the Republicans' chicken in every pot.

If it is, folks are ready. Kathleen Knott, of Livonia, came up with a fine recipe for roast wild goose.

The key she said is to roast the bird uncovered for about 20 to 25 minutes per pound. That's after letting an onion sit inside the goose overnight. Salt and pepper are a must, as is rolling it in flour and placing it in a pan. The global warming factor should be 325 degrees. The bird can be stuffed or not.

Edward Denko of Livonia has a recipe for a spicy goose that includes sage, parsley and garlic. The global warming factor is higher (a liberal perhaps), 350 degrees, cooking it for 18 to 20 minutes per pound. The onion inside the carcass overnight seems to be a bipartisan idea.

However, Tom Bolduc of Livonia would rather the geese be fed. He contends government looks silly when it tries to pass a law prohibiting people from feeding geese.

Applying the same logic, it seems pretty silly for Clinton to be imposing a tax that will keep people from feeding themselves while at the same time the federal government gorges itself. Chances are all our geese will be cooked.

Jeff Counts is the editor of the Plymouth and Canton Observer Newspapers and will be hunting for more than geese, if Clinton's tax hikes take effect. He can be reached at 459-2700 or faxed at 459-4224.

Democracies transcend culture and war interests

What do some people in Birmingham, Bloomington and Detroit have in common? One of my more vociferous voice-mail critics — a Birmingham woman — deplores my support of multiculturalism. She claims I'm a "cultural relativist," but she's wrong. She doesn't grasp the concept of "cultures."

Cultures are traditional lifestyles whose heirs wage war with one another when they can find no common ground. Opposite cultures are forced into war because many values can't be imposed without war, and they often can't be prescribed through reason, either.

Human beings — especially fiercely democratic, rebel American human beings — can't always just blindly accept what their "culture" gives them, if they hope to be truly democratized. A cultural relativist is, therefore, an undemocratic, un-American non-rebel.

This lady is accusing me falsely of being what she herself is, because cultural relativists care for their cultures more than they do for democracy, and if pressed, they'll support their cultures even while knowing that aspects of it are undemocratic.

Democratic American rebels' egalitarian values always take uncompromising precedence over their cultures (and anyone else's, too, a stand which can potentially pit them against just about everyone on one issue or another). This is why I've been the target of raucous ethnocentrists throughout my educational career.

The function of educational leadership in any American community isn't to support the status quo uncritically or to accede to the "tyranny of the majority." Neither should this be the function of governmental leadership, as our gutty, new President has beautifully begun to demonstrate.

Democracy is the only system which can truly transcend any singular culture. Thus, as Bill Clinton noted (though I said it first), the reason genuine democracies don't fight each other is because they recognize that the same inalienable rights are applicable everywhere and to everyone, regardless of culture.

The conflict that occurs over democratic issues between or within democracies is engendered by those who, like my voice-mail critic, don't understand that cherishing the contributions and contributors from all cultures is essential to the survival of democracy itself.

Detroit school board member Kwane Kenyatta and his four colleagues who don't want the stars and stripes saluted at board meetings don't grasp this democratically-inclusive concept of multiculturalism which our flag represents. The self-styled "patriotic Americans" who practice racial and religious prejudice don't grasp it, either.

Neither does the Bloomington Board of Education, which is appealing a judicial ruling that a portrait of Jesus in a school hallway is unconstitutional. Neither do the male chauvinists who try to keep women in professional, social and physical subjugation. The bosses who don't want older workers don't grasp it. The Birmingham homophobes who oppose educating about gay and lesbian lifestyles, and Bill Clinton's homophobic antagonists who want to bar gays from the military don't grasp it.

But Bill Clinton does. And this democratic son of the South has caught the often-kicked multicultural football and is righteously running it full speed to the assorted bigots' dismay.

Let's all get downfield and block for him. He's going to need good blockers as long as there are narrow-minded non-rebels out there like Kenyatta and the Bloomington board and the Birmingham homophobes and my voice-mail critic, who can't even see themselves when they look in the mirror.

Property tax cut, school reform plans explained

Following is a summary of the five major property tax cut and/or school finance reform proposals being discussed by state leaders and school officials.

Engler, 'Son of C'

GOAL: Cut school property taxes 20 percent. Make Michigan business cost-competitive. Reduce burden of rising assessments.

SPONSOR: Gov. John Engler, supported by Michigan Chamber of Commerce, many Republicans.

FEATURES: Cuts tax bills by reducing assessments from the current 50 percent of market value to 40 percent over three years. Also:

- Delays impact of reassessments for one year so owners may appeal — in effect, a one-year freeze on reassessments.
- Caps assessment growth.
- Cuts only school operating taxes — not school bonds, city, township, county, community college or parks.

IMPACT: School taxes are about two-thirds of all property taxes; overall reduction is about 13 percent. Third-year impact: $1.3 billion.

Taxpayers getting an income-tax rebate for their high property taxes will see their rebates shrink as their property taxes are cut, hence may get a zero net cut.

In-formula school districts (those receiving state aid) will see their aid rise as local taxes shrink. Districts barely out of formula may go back in formula.

Out-of-formula districts will have lost revenue restored only if lawmakers keep a promise to restore it. That promise, added in the Senate, has no money behind it.

OPPOSITION: Wealthy school districts fear they won't be reimbursed, say solution is to "raise the floor" under poor districts, not "lower the ceiling" on them; may have to ask for increased millages.

Democrats say relief should go to homes only because business assessments haven't risen the way homes have. Western Wayne County districts oppose this plan.

STATUS: Senate Bill 146 passed the Senate with only Republican support. Now in House Education Committee.

Team 14

GOAL: Fairness in resources ($4,700 in first year) behind each school child. Reduce unfair property taxes, raise fair taxes.

SPONSORS: 14 state representatives from both parties. Drafted by Glenn Oxender, R-Sturgis, and Michael Nye, R-Litchfield. Supported by Barbara Dobb, R-Union Lake, William Keith, D-Garden City, and David Gubow, D-Huntington Woods.

FEATURES:

- Cuts school operating taxes on homes and farms 50 percent on average. Current statewide average is 34 mills; rate would be cut to 17 mills. Property taxes on homes and farms would be collected by a statewide authority — tax-base sharing.
- Raises personal income tax from current 4.6 percent to 6 percent, effective April 1. Makes tax somewhat progressive by raising personal exemptions from $2,100 to $3,000. Can be done by Legislature.
- Allows renters to calculate 20 percent of income (instead of 17 percent) as imputed property taxes in calculating homestead property tax credit.
- Places proposal on 1994 ballot to increase sales tax from current 4 percent to 6 percent, rolling back income tax to 4.6 percent. Requires two-thirds vote of Legislature to place on ballot, majority vote of people to amend state constitution.

■ The O/K plan requires the state to find money in its budget to pay 50 percent of school costs plus Lottery. Money would come from growth in state revenue. It 'holds harmless' out-of-formula districts. It guarantees categorical aid will be frozen at current levels.

- Gives every school district $4,700 per pupil in 1992-3, rises to $4,850 in 1993-4.
- Allows local districts, after two years, to levy additional income taxes (administered by state). Voters must approve; maximum 10 years; renewable. Total local revenue would be limited to twice the basic grant or $9,400 per pupil.
- Ends all "categorical" state aid except special and bi-lingual education.
- Continues state payment of retirement for all school employees.

UNAFECTED: Business property taxes, which continue to be collected locally.

School bonds, TIFA bonds, city, township, county, community college and parks millages.

OPPOSITION: Gives big break to non-residents who own summer homes but don't pay Michigan income tax.

Fails to help Michigan business become more competitive. The state Chamber of Commerce opposes the plan.

Punishes southeastern Michigan, where school and construction costs are 22 percent higher than outstate; tri-county area would need to levy income taxes to restore their schools.

STATUS: A dozen bills and resolutions in House Taxation Committee. Co-chairs: Reps. Willis Bullard, R-Milford, Lyn Jon-dahl, D-Okemos.

O/K plan

GOALS: Require state to shoulder 50 percent of cost of local schools. Reduce schools' reliance on property tax.

SPONSORS: David Olmstead, former Detroit school board member, and C Philip Kearney, professor of education at the University of Michigan. Endorsed by many school boards including Livonia, Garden City and Redford Union.

FEATURES:

- Requires state to find money in its budget to pay 50 percent of school costs plus Lottery. Funds would come from growth in state revenue.
- Not linked to voter-approved tax increase.
- Gradual paring of school tax rates to 30 mills. Assessments capped at rate of inflation, no state reimbursement.
- "Holds harmless" out-of-formula districts. Guarantees categorical aid will be frozen at current levels.

OPPOSITION: It would soak up every new dollar of state revenue for schools; naively assumes other interests (mental health, environment, law enforcement, courts, etc.) will roll over and play dead.

STATUS: Petition drive being conducted by school officials. Not in bill form in the Legislature, where pundits consider it dead on arrival. Once 205,166 signatures are collected, the Legislature will have 40 days to adopt it or it automatically gets a place on the state ballot.

Sweet 16

GOALS: Cut school property taxes. Allow replacement of lost revenue by sales tax increase, but still offers net tax cut.

SPONSORS: Public sector — Michigan Municipal League, Townships Association, Association of School Boards, Association of Counties, Federation of Teachers, Middle Cities Education Association, Out-of-Formula Districts Association, City of Detroit.

Private sector — National Federation of Independent Business, Michigan Manufacturers Association, Association of Home Builders, Bankers Association, Operating Engineers Local 547, Farm Bureau, Chamber of Commerce.

FEATURES:

- Cut valuations for school property taxes from current 50 percent to 45 percent.
- State reimbursement of lost school taxes.
- Place 1-cent increase in sales tax on August ballot.

If sales tax hike is approved:

- Valuations would be reduced to 35 percent by 1996.
- Proceeds would be dedicated to schools and distributed equally on a per-pupil basis.
- Retirement costs would be paid by state and not reduced below 1992-3 level.
- Current general fund school aid could not be reduced — no "shell game" with existing money.

IMPACT: Net tax cut of $654 million by 1996 (of current total school taxes of $5 billion). State would need to make up that amount to schools beyond sales tax revenue.

OPPOSITION: Elements of this plan were floated in Senate discussion of Engler's plan. Many Republicans said no because they favor a simple tax cut. Democrats said no property tax cut until the sales tax increase is in place.

STATUS: Not in bill form. Some pundits believe something like this may yet evolve from the legislative process.

MEA plan

GOALS: Reduce school property taxes slightly. Give equity to school funding. Reduce number of small school districts for operating efficiency. Use schools to provide such state services as mental health, social services, legal assistance.

SPONSOR: Michigan Education Association, 125,000-member union of teachers, administrators and other school personnel.

FEATURES:

- Reduce number of school districts from 562 to 14 "financial districts." Oakland, Livingston, Lapeere and Genesee counties would be one district. Wayne and Monroe counties would be another.
- Cap school operating property taxes at 30 mills. (Current statewide average is 34.) Financial districts could ask voters for additional millage or income taxes.
- Require state to dedicate resources for equitable amount per child.

OPPOSITION: Too few, too large, districts would impair local control. Voters would be unlikely to vote taxes for such large districts. But many legislators favor eliminating small districts, and Gov. Engler likes idea of "one stop shopping" at schools for other state services.

STATUS: A written report with few details. No known legislative bills or petitions.

How Good Is CARE CHOICES HMO?

"Since I Switched, It's Like Life Got Easier."

- Kathleen Klim, Twin Lake

"Care Choices has always been really good for me. Whenever I've had any questions about anything, all I've had to do is contact our local Care Choices office. They take care of everything right then and there. From emergency calls to routine doctor visits, it's all handled. It's like I give them the problem and I never have to worry about it again. And that's been great."

How good is Care Choices HMO? Just ask anybody from this side of the state to the other. For an introduction to the plan here in Southeast Michigan, call Member Services at 1-800-852-9780.

Local participating hospitals are Catherine McAuley Health System, including St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Saline Community Hospital, and McPherson Hospital; Chelsea Community Hospital and Brighton Hospital.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Make friends, bread with sourdough starter

It bubbles contentedly in the refrigerator, needs a steady diet of sugar or flour and an occasional stir. It is often called by name. No, it's not the furry mold growing on top of the holiday leftovers hiding in back of the fridge. It's sourdough bread starter. Just a cup of it often starts a great chain of great friends and great breads.

Sourdough starter is dough in which free yeast has begun to grow. Wild yeast spores flourish in the air around us, and if given a comfortable medium in which to live — warm water, flour, sugar, potato flakes — they will multiply and produce a distinctive sour, winy taste faster than 2-week-old tuna.

Then if the starter is placed in the refrigerator for three to 10 days, it will develop an even better flavor.

Why this trouble when yeast comes readily available in everything from a small package to hermetically sealed jars?

Once starter is used for baking bread and cakes, the user usually gets hooked on pleasantly sharp tastes and rich textures never enjoyed before.

And because starters must be fed and used, the "owner" routinely has to bake bread and share it or measure out a cupful and pass it along to someone.

American tradition

Let's face it, giving food has long been a cherished American tradition.

Bread starter is one of those quirky food lots that will never be seen a grocery store shelf. The only place in town that I know that carries starter is someone who has starter — you either use it or lose it.

Replenishing starter with added stock is always acceptable, but it gets to the point very quickly that as the starter grows, so will its holding vessel. Since only about one cup is needed per recipe, weekly additions grow fast. It would be nothing to end up with 18 cups of starter after just a few weeks.

By the way, there are starter mixes available, but as anyone who has starter knows, it's much cheaper to start the starter yourself than to buy prepackaged mixes that will end up taking the same amount of time.

Basic recipes

There are a wide and varied selection of basic starter recipes from which to choose. Probably the most well known is the classic sourdough starter that can turn a basic white bread into a San Francisco treat.

A second close favorite is a recipe called Herman starter that is slightly sweeter than the traditional sourdough starter.

Then there's the version of a gourmet Herman starter that with a few additions, makes the basics for a friendship cake starter whose tradition calls for passing along a jar of starter with the cake.

For the uninitiated, cultivating a batch of starter requires little skill, but ardent timing.

Secret tips

One of the secrets that I have discovered when making starter is to use a crock or glass Mason-type jar rather than metallic or plastic bowls.

Wooden spoons are a must as the starter just hates being touched by any kind of metal. Starter enthusiasts boast that a good starter is white and has a sharp yeasty smell and is filled with tiny bubbles.

If the starter is grayish or yellowish, the flour was too soft and pros recommend the use of a harder flour, something like a good durum wheat.

Yours truly thinks starter has a yeasty odor but some rookie baker might think the smell is closer to rotten. Forget the smell as it all bakes out during the baking process.

Starter is best when made five to 10 days in advance. It does freeze well although in all honesty, half the fun is making it and watching it grow. If you have kids, make a science lesson out of it and delegate the authority to make additions and for stirring daily.

If the starter is not stirred, a yeast type mold may form on the top after 48 hours.

If you do intend to start a starter and find yourself with too much, raw starter has been known to keep a septic tank working properly when flushed down a toilet on a monthly basis.

But trust me on this one folks, once you taste the sharpness in your basic bread and cakes, you won't want to stop using it. Bon Appetit!

Anne Meek

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Saying goodbye to fatty friends — ice cream, bacon and eggs, potato chips, butter, fast foods, candy bars, and juicy steaks is difficult. They comfort us when we're feeling blue, satisfy hunger when we don't have time to eat — and taste good too.

Choosing low-fat foods over fatty ones isn't easy, unless you've got a pretty good reason.

Dick Perry of Birmingham began changing his eating habits after he had open-heart surgery in 1990. Turning 40 motivated Karen Konkel of Beverly Hills to lose 40 pounds. Anne Meek of Southfield was very overweight, 184 pounds, a tight size 18, when she started making the weighty decisions that changed her life.

"For me it was sheer vanity," said Meek, who does fitness testing and screening at the Birmingham YMCA, and lost 60 pounds. "I wanted to get a guy, and I knew I never would because I was 20 and very overweight. I started to cut back on fats. It's easy — you know you shouldn't eat french fries. Then I started exercising."

Her efforts worked. Today, Meek is a size 8, slim and trim, someone people look up to for inspiration. She is married, and the mother of a 9-year-old son. In addition to her screening duties at the Y, she teaches "Easy Does It," a fitness class for seniors.

Meek also helps people skim the fat from their favorite recipes with the help of an IBM compatible computer software program called "Health and Pro Diet," by Digital Systems Research, Inc. She uses the computer to analyze diets to help people cut calories.

The software is being revised, and isn't currently available on the market. There is a similar program, "Diet Pro" by Lifestyle Software Group. It's available for $39.99 at Egghead Software which has stores in Livonia, Southfield and Troy.

If you want, Meek will analyze your recipes and diet at the Birmingham YMCA, 400 E. Lincoln, Birmingham. The cost for Birmingham YMCA members is $4 per recipe, $15 for diet analysis; non-members $5 per recipe, and $20 for diet analysis. For information, call Meek at the Y, 644-9036, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Meek can help you reduce the amount of fat in your diet, but she says there's really no secret to losing weight — it takes motivation, and discipline. Dick Perry, and his wife Winnie will be married 48 years in August. They were in pretty good shape before Dick had open heart surgery. Dick, retired from a career in financial planning, coached collegiate fencing for 50 years at the University of Detroit. He teaches economics part time.

We've come a long way from frozen fish sticks as heightened interest in eating "light" has resulted in increased sales and improved selection at fish markets.

Yet many people hesitate to prepare fish at home, fearing that it won't turn out right. It is, in fact, one of the simplest and quickest meals to make. Take the plunge this week; shake off those midwinter blues and go fishing.

Nick Tringali of Westland is no fish out of water. He's manager of Jack's Seafood Market, 33224 W. 12 Mile, Farmington Hills.

Tringali has been in food service for over 10 years, and said he learned different things from each of his jobs. He credits his love of cooking to his mother, Janice Tringali, a master baker and graduate of the culinary arts school on the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

It is no surprise that preparing seafood is his specialty. Nothing brings him more pleasure than cooking for friends who drop in for dinner.

In his spare time, Tringali lifts weights, loves to downhill ski, scuba dive, listen to jazz, and spend time with his friends. His plans include returning to college to earn a degree in

Cut fat in stroganoff, tuna casserole

See related story on Taste front.

Substitute mock sour cream for sour cream, and add more veggies, to cut the calories in beef stroganoff from 775 per serving to 503.

STROGANOFF PRIMAVERA

- 1 1/2 cup green beans
- 1 1/2 cup yellow beans
- 3 carrots, peeled
- 18 ounces top round steak, cut into 2-inch strips
- 1 1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
- 3/4 cup sliced onion
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 1/2 cups beef stock or bouillon
- 3 tablespoons tomato paste
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 1/2 cup Mock Sour Cream (recipe follows) or "Lean Cream" by Land O'Lakes
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 12 ounces broad cholesterol-free egg noodles, cooked, drained

Cut green beans, yellow beans and carrots into 2-inch julienne pieces. Steam vegetables until tender-crisp, about 5 minutes. Coat a frying pan with non-stick spray.

Over medium heat, brown top round steak. Remove to a plate. In the same pan, sautee mushrooms, onion, garlic in 1 tablespoon olive oil just until edges brown. Cover and reduce heat to low. Cook 5 minutes. In a small bowl, combine beef stock or bouillon, tomato paste and cornstarch. Stir this into mushroom mixture and heat until sauce thickens slightly.

In a cup, combine Mock Sour Cream or "Lean Cream" and flour. Remove frying pan from heat. Stir in sour cream mixture. Stir in warm cooked beans and carrots and beef so all ingredients are combined. Serve over noodles. Makes 6 servings, one cup each.

Recipe from "Lose Weight Naturally Cookbook," Rodale Press, 1992.

MOCK SOUR CREAM

- 1 cup low-fat cottage cheese
- 2 tablespoons skim milk
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Using food processor or blender, process all ingredients until smooth. Can be added slowly to hot food, if called for. Makes 20 servings, 1 tablespoon each.

POLY WHIPPED TOPPING

- 1/4 cup dried, nonfat milk
- 1 envelope dry unflavored-gelatin or 1 teaspoon dry unflavored-gelatin
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- water
- 3 tablespoons safflower oil

Chill a small mixing bowl. Soften gelatin with 2 teaspoons cold water, then add 3 tablespoons boiling water, stirring until gelatin is completely dissolved. Cool until tepid. Place 1/2 cup ice water and nonfat dry milk in the chilled mixing bowl. Beat at high speed until the mixture forms stiff peaks. Add the sugar, still beating, then the oil and the gelatin mixture. Place in freezer for about 15 minutes, then transfer to the refrigerator until ready for use.

Stir before using to retain a creamy texture.

Recipe from the American Heart Association Cookbook.

Substitute tuna packed in spring water for tuna packed in oil, and Parmesan cheese for cheddar to cut tuna casserole from 425 calories per serving to 266.29.

TUNA CASSEROLE

- 12 ounces cholesterol-free egg noodles, cooked, drained
- 1 can cream of broccoli soup
- 1 cup broccoli, cooked and drained
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 cup white table wine
- 1 can light tuna in spring water
- 1/2 cup nonfat skim milk

Combine all ingredients and pour into greased casserole dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Recipe from Anne Meek.

overeat. We didn't have McDonalds or a lot of cakes."

When her three sons were growing up, she always had a platter of raw vegetables waiting for them to snack on before dinner.

Winnie and her husband have a healthy lifestyle. They exercise regularly, and since his surgery, Dick doesn't skip meals, and has become more conscious of what he eats. For breakfast Dick and Winnie will have a glass of grapefruit or orange juice, a bowl of Raisin or All Bran cereal with skim milk. They eat lots of salads, and Winnie uses extra light margarine. When she cooks chicken or turkey, she always takes the skin off. Instead of steak, she'll cook strips of beef. When she makes spaghetti sauce or soup, she lets it chill overnight, and skims the fat off the next day.

Making the change to a low-fat diet was harder for Karen Konkel, who describes her husband as a "meat and potatoes man." She serves red meat no more than once a week, and has added more chicken and fish to her family's diet. Halibut and orange roughly are their favorites. She bakes the fish, and puts it under the broiler briefly to finish it off.

To lose the weight, which she's kept off now for seven months, Konkel said, she started measuring portions and kept a daily log of what she ate. "You tend not to put a candy bar into your mouth when you have to write it down," she said.

"My motivation was turning 40. I didn't want to look or feel like I did," said Konkel, who has a teenage daughter, and three part-time jobs.

To lose weight, she started exercising regularly, cut back on fats, and started eating three or four servings of fruits and vegetables a day. She switched from white to whole-grain bread, ate less meat, and filled up on fruits and vegetables instead.

"When you go so long not eating fat, that Whopper that used to taste so good, doesn't anymore," she said.

Here are some suggestions for cutting the fat in your diet. Instead of ice cream, choose lowfat frozen yogurt. Angelfood cake is low in calories too.

Konkel pours off as much oil as she can from salad dressings. Pat Lundy, senior program coordinator at the Birmingham YMCA, doesn't put any oil in her salad dressings. She uses flavored vinegar instead. It works really well with coleslaw — just toss before serving. For lettuce salads, Lundy suggests putting the vinegar on just before serving.

Stir-fry meat and vegetables in chicken broth diluted with a little water. Keep boneless, skinless chicken breasts in the freezer for quick meals. Use apple juice or orange juice concentrate for sweeteners.

Cool soup properly

"Winter winds and whirling snowflakes may inspire you to cook a large pot of homemade soup," said Sylvia Treitman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service. "But improper cooling can be a potential source of food poisoning."

An old wives' tale that has been passed on from one generation to another, has many people believing that it is not a good idea to put hot food in the refrigerator until it is thoroughly cooled for fear of it turning "sour."

This myth is confusing and dangerous. Leaving food out longer than 2 hours is a real no-no. For questions to answers about food safety, call the food and nutrition hotline Monday through Friday at 858-0904.

Here are some easy and quick ways to cool foods safely.

Take large pot off burner when food is cooked. Stir entire contents with a large utensil frequently during first 10 minutes of cooling.

Set large pot of cooked food in a sink or large pan of ice water to hasten cooling.

Divide contents of pot into several smaller containers no deeper than about 2 inches.

Refrigerate the smaller containers quickly allowing plenty of space in the refrigerator for air circulation. If food is to be frozen divide into freezer containers and allow ample space in the freezer. Foods should be refrigerated promptly.

Do not leave cooked food out until it cools completely by itself. It may take many hours for a large pot of soup to cool and by this time it may have grown bacteria to cause food poisoning.

See Larry Janes' column on Taste front.

SOURDOUGH STARTER

1 package dry yeast or 2½ teaspoons
2 cups water (110 to 115 degrees)
2 cups flour
1 tablespoon sugar or honey

Dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Too hot water will kill the yeast so be careful. Mix in flour and sugar or honey. Beat until smooth. Never use a metal container or spoon. Put in a warm place overnight. In the morning, place half the starter in a scalded jar with a tight cover. Store in a cool place. Stir 2-3 times a day or for 5-10 days or until bubbly.

To store: transfer to a jar, cover and refrigerate.

To use: Bring desired amount to room temperature before using.

To replenish: Reserve 1 cup of starter. Stir in ¼ cup flour, ¼ cup water and 1 teaspoon sugar or honey. Cover and let stand 1 day at room temperature or until bubbly, then refrigerate.

If not used within 10 days, stir in 1 teaspoon sugar or honey, repeat every 10 days until used.

HERMAN STARTER

1 cup sugar

½ cup warm water (110-115 degrees)

2 tablespoons or 2 packages active dry yeast

2 cups milk

2 cups all purpose white flour

Sprinkle 1 tablespoon sugar over water. Sprinkle yeast over that and set in warm place to double for 10 minutes.

In a scaled glass or crockery container, mix milk, remainder of sugar, flour and yeast mixture. Stir with a wooden spoon.

Cover loosely and allow to rest overnight at room temperature.

Next day, refrigerate loosely covered. Stir daily. On the fifth day, remove 1 cup of starter for baking.

Take another cup out for a friend, then feed the remaining Herman — one cup flour, 1 cup milk, ½ cup sugar. Stir well.

Keep refrigerated in the same container. Feed Herman every fifth, 10th, 15th, 20th, 25th and 30th day of the month. If you're not using Herman for baking, only give him 1 tablespoon of sugar every fifth day.

FRIENDSHIP CAKE

Herman starter. Place in a large bowl as Herman will grow, and on the first and fifth days, add 1 cup flour, 1 cup sugar and 1 cup milk. Stir daily. On the 10th day, take out 3 cups. Keep 1 cup for yourself to make Friendship cake, and give 1 cup Herman Starter to 2 friends (with recipes)

Cake:

1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons vanilla
3 eggs
¾ cup vegetable oil
1 cup Herman starter
1 cup assorted fruits — apples, bananas, nuts, raisins, crushed pineapple, etc.)

Mix all ingredients except Herman and fruits until smooth. Fold into Herman, then add the fruits. Pour into a well greased and floured 13 by 9 inch pan or tube pan and bake at 350 degrees for 55 minutes.

FROSTING

½ cup soft butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon flour

Mix and spread over the cake. Place under the broiler for five minutes to melt and bubble. Cool and remove from the pan.

Mediterranean flavors star in great-tasting, healthy dinners

Great-tasting, healthful and convenient are the watchwords for right-for-today dinners. Nutrition-, taste-, and time-conscious cooks want easy-to-fix foods with fabulous flavors that fit the lighter, healthier way most of us are now trying to eat.

Two new recipes from home economists at Uncle Ben's were created with today's savvy cooks in mind. Each recipe teams bold Mediterranean flavors with new Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes Rice Dishes for delicious, low-fat dinners that can be brought to the table in about half an hour.

When prepared, the new rice dishes have all the great taste and wholesome country goodness of Uncle Ben's previous recipes, but they now have only ½ the fat.

Mediterranean Fish Fillets with Broccoli & White Cheddar Rice features the cook's choice of fish fillets topped with basil and Parmesan cheese. The fish bakes briefly while the Broccoli & White Cheddar Rice simmers to perfection in just 20 minutes.

Plum tomatoes and green onions, added just before serving, add bright color and flavor contrast to the rice, and lemon wedges add tangy-fresh taste to the fish.

Basil-Pepper Beef with Broccoli Rice Au Gratin begins with beef tenderloin slices coated with garlic, basil and pepper and quickly cooked in a skillet as the Broccoli Rice Au Gratin simmers. The beef is topped with bell peppers seasoned with a splash of balsamic vinegar, and chopped tomato brightens the creamy broccoli and 3-cheese rice dish. Ready to serve in short order, the satisfying dinner "weighs in" at only 272 calories per serving.

MEDITERRANEAN FISH FILLETS WITH BROCCOLI AND WHITE CHEDDAR RICE

1 package (4.9 ounces) Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes — Broccoli & White Cheddar Rice
4 (4-ounce) orange roughy or red snapper fillets or other favorite fish fillets

½ to ¾ teaspoon dried basil leaves, crushed, as desired
4 teaspoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 plum tomatoes or 1 small tomato, diced
2 tablespoons thinly sliced green onion with top
Lemon wedges

Cook rice according to package directions. While rice simmers, preheat oven to 450°F. Place fish in 11 by 7-inch baking dish. Sprinkle evenly with basil and cheese. Bake fish 10 minutes per inch of thickness or until cooked through. Stir tomato and green onion into hot, cooked rice; serve alongside fish with lemon wedges. Makes 4 serv-

BASIL-PEPPER BEEF WITH BROCCOLI RICE AU GRATIN

1 package (4.5 ounces) Uncle Ben's Country Inn Recipes — Broccoli Rice Au Gratin
4 (3-ounce) slices trimmed beef tenderloin, about ½-inch thick
2 cloves garlic, minced
1½ teaspoons dried basil, crushed
½ teaspoon freshly cracked black pepper
Vegetable oil cooking spray
1 cup short, thin red and green bell pepper strips
¼ cup beef broth
2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar

1 small tomato or 2 plum tomatoes, chopped

Cook rice according to package directions. While rice simmers, press garlic, basil and pepper into both sides of meat. Spray skillet with cooking spray; heat over medium heat. Add meat and cook about 3 minutes per side for medium-rare.

Remove meat from skillet and keep warm. Add peppers, broth and vinegar to skillet; cook and stir 4 minutes or until peppers are tender and most of liquid has evaporated, adding any accumulated meat juices during the last minute of cooking. Spoon pepper mixture over meat. Stir tomato into rice; serve alongside meat. Makes 4 servings, 272 calories per serving.

Trim the fat in beef stew with lean round steak

AP — Mom's beef stew was something I could always count on. It would be simmering away on the stove when I walked in from school, making it easy to forget about the chilly air just outside.

Unfortunately, as I later learned, Mom's delicious stew was also pretty high in fat. But rather than put aside a family favorite, I've found ways to slim down her stew for my own family.

Lean round steak (and less of it) replaces the fattier beef stew meat Mom used. And, to keep the meat low in fat, I brown it in cooking spray instead of the fat drippings. We don't mind eating less meat because my stew is full of chunky vegetables. Sometimes I even toss in a turnip or parsnip for a little different flavor.

OLD-FASHIONED BEEF STEW
3½ pound boneless beef

- round steak
- Nonstick spray coating
- 1 1/2-ounce can beef broth
- 2 bay leaves
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Dash ground cloves
- 3 cups potatoes cut into 1-inch pieces

- 1 1/2 cup carrots cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 medium onion, cut into 8 wedges
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch

Trim as much fat as possible from steak. Cut into 1-inch cubes. Spray a cold Dutch oven with non-stick coating. Preheat over medium heat. Add the beef to the hot Dutch oven; cook until brown. Stir in broth, bay leaves, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, paprika, pepper and cloves. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Cover and simmer for 1 to 1 1/4 hours or until meat is almost tender, stirring occasionally. Remove bay leaves. Stir in potatoes, carrots and onion. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Cover; simmer about 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender.

Drain meat and vegetables, reserving liquid. Set meat and vegetables aside. Skim fat from reserved liquid. Add enough water to liquid to equal 1 1/4 cups; return to the Dutch oven. Stir together the cold water and cornstarch; stir into the liquid in the Dutch oven. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Stir in beef and vegetables. Heat through. Makes 4 (1-cup) servings.

Even if you're not a goat, you'll be more than inclined to taste-test everything Mr. B's Farm has to offer from its very versatile and extensive menu. This combination watering hole/restaurant on Novi Road in Novi is situated on what was once a goat farm. However, the place has more to offer than the usual "barnyard fare."

Large wooden tables, booths, Beatle's photos, neon beer signs and clippings from the Boston Post make up the restaurant's decor. And in spite of the casual, hoot and hollerin'-type atmosphere (whispering not allowed or heard), The Farm's menu offerings are quite impressive. This is a place where you can order anything from a B's Bermuda Blossom, a "special-seasoned" deep-fried Bermuda onion arranged to look like a flower blossom (and it really does) to what one metro magazine claims to be the "Best Burger and Fries."

When the waitstaff brings a pile of extra napkins along with your "Slopburger," you realize it's a given that you'll need them. Also offered on the menu are barbecued beef ribs, steaks, fish, Mexican entrees, sandwiches, interesting appetizers and pizza toppings to inspire even the most creative individual.

If you've eaten too much, which is kind of hard to avoid because everything tastes great and the portions are pretty large, specialty coffees including cappuccino and the "B-52" are guaranteed to keep you going long enough to enjoy the nightly live entertainment.

Rotated on a monthly basis, the bands are pretty versatile, performing everything from Van Morrison to Garth Brooks, and they make a point to encourage audience participation. Don't be surprised to find yourself standing next to a bowl of chili on top of your table lip-synching into a leftover cheese stick to "Wild Thing." It's just that fun!

The Farm is a great place to relax, kick back, enjoy some great food at inexpensive prices, hoot, holler, sing out loud, jump up and down and raise...uh...goats!

"Relax and Enjoy" is the motto at the Java Coffeehouse on Main street in downtown Rochester and that's exactly what the clientele here does. Even on a Sunday night, patrons can be found pushing tables together to play cards, do homework, share desserts or simply "shoot the breeze."

The coffeehouse, opened in April 1992, features a long list of beverages including cappuccino, cafe au lait, assorted gourmet coffees, Bigelow teas and some very creative hot-flavored milks. A beverage condiment table is against one of the brick walls, and because of the casual atmosphere, you won't feel intimidated about borrowing the honey, cinnamon or various other beverage "additives" when other tables happen to be using them.

Also, you won't have to worry about saving room for dessert; the coffeehouse's menu is made up primarily of "goodies" only. For those with a penchant for sweets, generous slices of deep dish apple pie, chocolate forrest cake, scones, cannolis and walnut fudge brownies are just a few of the desserts offered at the pastry counter. Desserts are rotated on a weekly basis, but favorites are always kept on hand.

Paintings by local artists are also a big highlight here, and if you're interested enough, Arthur (one of the coffeehouse's owners), will be more than happy to assist you in purchasing something.

Arthur, by the way, in keeping with the relax and enjoy motto is quite the host. He makes it a point to chat with his clientele. He's more than willing to take time out to talk about things like how French Press coffee is made and how long you should steep your tea to get the best flavor.

Back by popular demand are the poetry reading nights and performances by local musicians, featured on random evenings throughout the week. Anyone possessing those particular talents is encouraged to take part.

Whether you happen to be an early bird or a night owl, the Java Coffeehouse is a refreshing place to check out.

Noc Barrage: Techno 'warning'

Are they techno? Are they industrial? Hard to say. All Noc Barrage will say is that its music defies categories even though the band won the Detroit Music Awards' "Best Techno/Industrial Band" honors in 1992.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Noc Barrage would like to issue a warning to those who may buy its new CD, "Anhedonia." Techno music lovers stay away.

"That is, techno people who listen to nothing else. Don't buy it because I don't want to see it in the 'used' (CD/tape) bin," said lead singer John Cross of Centerline. "If they want to buy it, fine. We'll get the money, but they're not gonna find what they're looking for."

The group mentions this just in case people get the wrong idea about the band after seeing Noc Barrage win the "Best Industrial/Techno Band" in the 1992 Detroit Music Awards.

"I'm glad we won the award because I don't think it fit," said

Cross.

Actually, Noc Barrage doesn't claim to be purely industrial either. It does seem to have an identity crisis.

"We kind of defy categories," drummer Matt Cross said.

"What we are is industrial metal," John added.

The identity crisis even extends to record labels interested in Noc Barrage.

STREET BEATS

"A lot of times record companies say, 'It's really good but we don't know how to market you.' I can understand," Matt said. "Sometimes I listen to us and I think the stuff we're doing is pretty tripped out.

But I think it's tripped out for Detroit and the Midwest — not for the East and West coast which is where (the sound) is coming from."

That sound is aptly shown on "Anhedonia," released only a few weeks ago. It sounds slightly different than the live version of the songs. The music on the CD was enhanced with computers whereas in concert everything is played live — with the exception of an eight-measure part in one song, keyboardist Scott Walasek added.

"It's important for us to have a live show," said Matt. "Personally, I've always felt cheated if I go see a band and I hear tapes. Although I understand exactly why they do it."

One song on the CD, "Sotto Voice," was done completely with computers. Agreeing with Matt's theory, the group won't play it live.

"You present it to the audience the way you did it, which is load up a machine and let it play. The machine plays it. You don't. Why try to stand up there and act like you're doing any work?" John said.

"I think by not playing the song we've been true to our performance," Matt added.

To some members of Noc Barrage — which also includes Sean Haezebrouck and Tony Hamera — performing has little to do with pleasing fans.

"Personally, I don't care what they (the audience) get out of our music," Matt Cross said. "For me, this (playing live) is the greatest high I've ever achieved. I can't imagine anything feeling better than this. That goes for any physical or mental feeling you get from anything."

Noc Barrage will have a record release party and performance at the Shelter below St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit, on Wednesday, Feb. 24. Call 961-MELT for more information. The group will also perform during an Amnesty International benefit Friday, Feb. 26, at Alvin's, 5756 Cass, Detroit. Call 832-2355 for more information.

Mind finds success in the classifieds

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

The alternative band The Mind is proof that advertising for musicians can pay off.

When former Birmingham resident Jay Yarbrough decided it was time to start his own band, he didn't mess around with networking to try to find talented musicians. He spelled out exactly what he wanted in a classified ad.

"I just took the ad out and these boneheads answered," said Yarbrough, lead singer/guitarist, with a laugh. Among those who answered were Daryl Ropp of Madison Heights and later Kevin Mrak of Warren.

"I can't believe how lucky I am; I got really lucky," Yarbrough said.

The Mind hopes to get even luckier soon. They are planning on sending demo tapes to independent labels in hopes of landing a record deal.

"We're takin' our time with it; the first blow has to be solid. We're getting ourselves ready," said Yarbrough who now lives in Macomb Township.

To prepare itself, The Mind has promoted itself with high-exposure projects. It opened for Rhythm Corps in Ann Arbor along with playing a number of headlining gigs around town. Radio station CIMX also showed support by playing "Believe In It," a song from The Mind's demo tape, during the "Homeboy Show."

Yarbrough believes that the overt honesty in the band's music and lyrics has attracted the attention.

"What I write and what Daryl writes and what Kevin plays is pretty much right from the heart," he said.

"We're not trying to be anything that we're not. It really does come across... People respond to it and we have a good time. It's definitely a cycle. I'm not sure where it begins though."

Although he hopes to educate his fans about his feelings, Yarbrough admits sometimes he can be "too educational." That comes from years of soul searching.

"I sometimes do have the tendency to be a bit educational perhaps," he said. "I went through a long period of self-searching. I feel I am very much in tune with who I am."

"People have been responding dramatically (to The Mind's music). The sincerity, I believe, is the key ingredient to The Mind."

The Mind performs Thursday, March 11, at the Shelter below St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. Call 961-MELT for more information. For other upcoming shows, call The Mind at 228-5767.

Raimi leads 'Army of Darkness'

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

Twelve years old. You might think Sam Raimi is about that age when you watch some of his films. Look deeper, however, because the intentionally dopey plot lines linked with complex visuals are exactly what make the former Detroit's pictures so beguiling. "Army of Darkness," the third installment in his "Evil Dead" series, delivers everything Raimi fans adore: loads of nonstop action, gory details and dark, dark humor. With the current barrage of publicity and decent word of mouth, this could well become his first bona-fide hit. Raimi's "Darkman" and "Evil Dead" movies earned him a minor cult following among sci-fi/horror buffs. Europeans, meanwhile, consider him nothing short of a genius, while more than one major Hollywood director has "borrowed" from his hyperkinetic camera style. It wasn't all that long ago that Raimi and producer Robert Tapert, founders of Renaissance Pictures, were working out of offices in Ferndale!

His movies blend slapstick with modern horror. The effect worked best in "Evil Dead II," in which the protagonist, Ash (Bruce Campbell, also from Detroit) battled an evil force in the confines of a secluded cabin. In one inspired bit, he was challenged by his own skittering, dismembered hand.

"Army of Darkness" picks up where "Dead II" left off, with Ash falling from the sky into the Dark Ages, armed with a chainsaw, a shotgun and a beat-up old gas guzzler. He embarks on a quest to retrieve the Necronomicon, the magic book that will rid the kingdom of an encroaching evil and also send Ash back to his own time.

Ash enters a cemetery and finds not one, but three, books atop a gravestone. When opened, the first book sucks Ash headfirst into it. Another bites his nose and then flies off. The final book can only be removed when he recites the proper words, "Klaatu Barada Nikto" (remember that line from "The Day the Earth Stood Still"?)

Of course, Ash botches up, unleashing an entire army of skeletal figures, led by his evil and decaying alter ego.

Raimi keeps the action extremely tongue in cheek, or rather finger firmly in eye. Each of his films has paid tribute to the Three Stooges in one way or another, and this one finds Ash dinked in the eye repeatedly by skeletal fingers that rise from their graves. The sound of rattling bones brings a nifty chill to the scene.

I usually can't fathom where all the money goes for a movie's inflated budget, but I can see every penny in "Army of Darkness." Epic frugality has apparently followed Raimi from his days scrapping together film projects in Detroit. He makes the most of his special effects team. Occasional cheesy costumes and visible matte lines only add to the fun.

Likewise music. Though Detroit Joe Lo Duca takes composer credit, Danny Elfman ("Batman" and "Darkman") was commissioned to write the rousing "March of the Dead" theme that dominates the score.

Raimi has become a master of choreographing action scenes and in the climax gives a nod to old Errol Flynn swashbucklers. The director has reportedly been keeping company with Hong Kong action filmmaker John Woo, so you'll also see plenty of martial arts moves tossed in.

Dialogue in "Army of Darkness" is not a strong point. Raimi co-wrote the film with his doctor/brother Ivan, and it's full of supposedly witty asides by Ash, some funny ("I get the book for you... then I'm history.") to predictably stupid ("Come here, baby, and give me some sugar.") He makes the Terminator look like Tennyson.

Arrested adolescent development? Perhaps. But Raimi does something fresh and exciting here. More than any other filmmaker in Hollywood today, he's able to tap into the psyche of teenage fantasy fans who should get a major kick out of this harmless and occasionally inspired dose of horror and silliness.

Change is path out of dysfunctional life

BARBARA SCHIFF

Dear Barbara, I have a friend — my best friend — who is having a miserable time of it with her family — her mother, father and sisters. This is the oddest family I have ever seen.

They are not happy unless they are fighting, and generally, the victim is my friend, who's the most vulnerable to their attacks because of low self-esteem.

I'll try to explain the situation without writing a novel. This fight has been going on for at least six months and got started about the time my friend's daughter ran away from home for a month. (She was under age and madly in love with a man in his twenties.) During that turmoil, my friend's daughter-in-law took it upon herself to prattle to the other family members things that my friend's daughter allegedly told her about her sexual exploits.

At the time, my friend had not had contact with her daughter-in-law for at least five months. She decided my friend could not see her 2-year-old grandson. Her reason was that it upset her husband, my friend's son, who chose to disassociate from the family five years ago. The end of visitation rights happened after my friend declined to do daily baby sitting for her grandson.

One thing lead to another, and before long, my friend's mother was lecturing her on what she should do to see her grandson. My friend, who hates to fight with her mother, decided not to call her mother until things settled down. That decision prompted several scathing letters from her mother and sister. There were orders for my friend to grow up, disbelief that she would give up her "family" for her husband and wishes that he drop dead — physically, not literally. Her husband is no saint, but honestly, Barbara, he is truly innocent in this case. The clincher came the day before her birthday. Her mother sent her a card — a sorry card. Inside she wrote how she was sorry my friend isn't the woman she raised her to be, sorry that she would give up her family for her husband, sorry she won't grow up, sorry she won't see her grandsons (there's a new one) and a multitude more. After all those nasties, she closed by saying that she and her father still loved her.

I hesitate to say my friend was devastated by the card, but the hurt it was meant to cause was quite obvious. I myself was angry; I saw a mother do something similar to her son and saw the hurt it inflicted. I suggested my friend return the card, now slightly crumpled, with a note that it's only right her mother is sorry since, by her behavior, she's a sorry excuse for a mother.

How can some mothers act this way and still say they love their children? That's not love; that's mental and emotional abuse. I've had enough schooling to know this is a dysfunctional family. Is there anything my friend can do or say to let these people know she won't be a part of their hateful games?

S.M.,
Westland

Dear S.M., My response to your question is that it takes two to tango. If your friend were not accepting this treatment, then the family would not be able to dump on her.

The problem of being a member of a dysfunctional family revolves around the ability of the victim to go for treatment to change her character. If she is successful in her treatment, she will be able to disentangle herself and live a normal, healthy life among normal, healthy people.

On the march: Sam Raimi will keep his army of "Evil Dead" fans happy with his third installment, "Army of Darkness."

"The Devils" (Britain — 1971), 9 p.m. Feb. 22-23. Director Ken Russell went off the religious deep end with this depraved story of a lurchbacked mother superior (Vajessa Redgrave) who becomes obsessed with a charismatic priest (Oliver Reed) and sees to it that he's burned at the stake. This is only one of the horrifying images in this still controversial film.

"The Last Temptation of Christ" (USA — 1988), Feb. 25-28 (call for show times). Martin Scorsese's banned adaptation of the life of Christ stars William Dafoe as the reluctant savior who accepts his divine nature and begins to perform miracles. The final 20 minutes, in which Christ on the cross considers what a human life would have been like, is incredibly powerful while the rest of the film isn't that far removed from the religious epics that came before it.

"Reservoir Dogs" (USA — 1992), Feb. 25-28 (call for show times). The stylish new film about a heist that goes way wrong boasts knockout performances from Steve Buscemi, Lawrence Tierney and Harvey Keitel.

■ MAPLE THEATRE

4135 W. Maple Road, Bloomfield Hills. Call 855-9090 for show times. ($5.75 evenings; $2.95 twilight)

"The Crying Game" (Ireland — 1992) Love, loyalty, murder and seduction are the themes of this stylized new thriller from Neil Jordan. Giving away the plot would be doing an injustice, so suffice it to say that the Irish director of "Mona Lisa" and "The Miracle" provides more twists and turns than a ride on the Tilt-a-Whirl. Stephen Rea, Miranda Richardson, Forest Whitaker and Adrian Dunbar star.

"Rain Without Thunder" (USA — 1992). In the year 2042, a daughter and her mother are the first to be prosecuted for "fetal murder," an abortion-related crime of the future. Jeff Daniels, Betty Buckley, Linda Hunt and Frederic Forrest star.

■ MICHIGAN THEATRE

603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Call 668-8397 for information. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"The Crying Game" (Ireland — 1992), through Feb. 28 (call for show times). See item above.

■ "The Hairdresser's Husband"

(France — 1992), through Feb. 25 (call for show times). When a 12-year-old boy spies the half-exposed breast of a hairdresser, he becomes obsessed. He grows up to eventually marry a young hairdresser and the two slowly shut out the world in this new French comedy from Patrice Laconte.

"Koyaanisqatsi" (USA — 1983), 7:30 p.m., midnight Feb. 26. Godfrey Reggio's fascinating documentary has neither story or narration. The collage of images — some beautiful, some frightening — is set to music by Philip Glass.

■ STAR JOHN R

32289 John R (at 14 Mile), Madison Heights. Call 585-2070 for information. ($6; $3.75 before 6 p.m.)

"Passion Fish" (USA — 1993). Mary McDonnell and Alfre Woodard play women who are uprooted from their city lives by sudden events and then transplanted in rural Louisiana. From independent writer/director John Sayles, who could use a thoughtful, insightful character study to help us forget his last couple of efforts.

LINDA BACHRACK

Hats off to new topper trends

Sarah McGregor is a hat lover. She is one of those women that you admire on the street, secure in the way she wears her favorite accessory with a simple grace. I eavesdropped on Sarah and her daughter, Judy, both of Redford, as they giddily modeled hats at Jacobson's in Birmingham.

"I just adore hats," said Sarah, discarding a too-large straw number. "I bought hats when money was short, when the kids were in college. I'd just put a hat on layaway."

Perhaps the economy explains the sudden resurgence in the popularity of the hat. Historically, when Wall Street boomed, skirt lengths rose and when the stock market faltered, skirts plummeted. The longer skirts of the '30s were accompanied by a wide variety of hats, as was the Christian Dior "New Look" of 1947. However, by the mid-1960s, skirts were thigh-high and hats were shoved to the backs of closets, considered fashion relics.

Today, we're seeing a millinery comeback, with styles ranging from street-inspired caps to elegant picture hats and jaunty berets.

Remembering her favorite hat, a small silk flower-covered cloche, Sarah prodded her daughter for a favorite family hat story. Judy laughed, recalling how she was often embarrassed by Mom's hat wardrobe.

Bring back the memories

"I'll never forget one Easter when I dressed up in a navy straw boater with a flat bow. My brother thought it was a pilgrim's hat from a costume shop," she reminisced as she tried on a new shape, also in navy.

Sarah McGregor is glad to see women donning hats again, but still longs for the formality that accompanied hat- and glove-wearing. "We're too casual," she laments. But today's hats can be worn with everything. They are true accessories that allow the opportunity for personal expression.

Jacobson's features an impressive selection of hats by leading milliners Debbie Cohen and Maeve Carr. The soft bowler we picture is an unstarched natural straw embellished with shells and netting ($109). The shell motif is new for spring and can be seen in a variety of designs. I thought this one was a particular standout.

Neiman Marcus at the Somerset Collection in Troy also has a David Cohen black straw with an intricate gold-braided brim ($125), a sophisticated Spanish look. "The hat makes the look," explained Katz of her love for the chapeau. "It makes me feel beautiful."

If you're a serious hat buyer, you must see the selection at Barney's New York also in the Somerset Collection. Delicate starched crochet shapes from Paris ($225-$265), artful straw trimmed with embroidered ribbons by Sarah Beresford, and black and white '70s-inspired linens and classic bowlers by Deborah Harper ($255) are a few of the most eye-catching.

Hats for a song

For hats that are less expensive but equally long on style, visit Kleck at Applegate Square, 29681 Northwestern Highway, in Southfield. Here, you'll find romantic straw bowlers embellished with wide black ribbons and tiny rosebuds ($65), unstructured "floppies" ($125), admirals' caps in velvet with flowers, pearls and authentic gold braid ($68-$85), and Gatsby-look lace-trimmed straw picture hats for garden parties or Easter-egg hunts ($65-$115).

My favorite — the adorable sun hat we picture. This natural woven wide-brimmed straw sports a dark green sash and a bright yellow sunflower ($65).

Perfect for the beach.

Manhattan milliner Patricia Underwood has a few tips for your special hat purchase. She insists that comfort is primary, so look for hats that are soft and malleable. A sheer pale pink horsehair brim throws a pretty tint on a woman's face, the shape of a top hat is one that most people look good in and schoolgirl toppers with upturned brims draw the eye to the eyebrows and cheeks.

Happy hat shopping!

Video takes the lid off trunk show

It's not a Hollywood movie premiere, but close. Have you been to a trunk show lately?

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

The trunk is gone from the trunk show.

This very traditional and vital part of fashion retailing is changing.

In years past, designers' representatives would travel throughout the country with completed fashion lines carefully folded in trunks from which special orders were taken from haute couture customers on the second floor salons of better dress shops.

The idea is still the same, but Federal Express, working women and the video age have given the old game a new twist.

At Saks Fifth Avenue in the Fairlane Town Center, Dearborn, a mom and daughter who missed the show watch the spring St. John collection on video. At Neiman Marcus in the Somerset Collection, Troy, two friends review Calvin Klein's CK line during a quick Saturday morning fashion show.

At the Liz Claiborne store at the Somerset Collection, every first Friday from noon to 1 p.m. about 75 working women enjoy a complimentary light lunch followed by 20 minutes packed with Liz's latest.

"Trunk shows are still an important part of retailing," said Janice Hayes of Jacobson's. "We're just making some adjustments to make them more accessible to today's busy women."

Hudson's spokeswoman Chris Morrisroe agreed.

"Very definitely," she said. "Trunk shows are very important to the customer who likes a particular designer or wants ideas on how to put a wardrobe together."

Hayes explained the advantages of shopping during trunk shows.

"You get to preview an entire line not just the special pieces a buyer gets for a store," she said. "You get to see the breadth and depth of a collection. You get to immediately discuss any concerns with the representative, or in some cases, the designer himself. There's an element of exclusiveness. You get to be first."

Marilyn Conner of Neiman Marcus said trunk shows continue to be "a driving force" at Neiman's.

"Our customers are well-traveled, well-schooled," she said. "They know what they like. They may follow one designer exclusively. We have customer files so that we can notify a client by invitation when their designer holds a trunk show."

Conner said Neiman's fashion calendar is dotted with trunk shows. Some are simple, in and out. Others require months of planning.

"For the Calvin Klein CK trunk show on Feb. 13, we had to set up specially supplied black chairs for the audience, a small stage, the CK logo behind the platform, and have our makeup and hair stylists copy the look of Calvin's New York models from photographs he supplied. We set up and played the video from the New York show throughout the day, following the modeling," she said.

After the noon to 4 p.m. event, the merchandise was collected and Federal Express to Chicago for the next show on Michigan Avenue.

"Trunk shows mean a lot more than sales to a designer," Jacobson's Hayes said. "It's their chance to meet directly with their customers. A chance to see how their clothing fits, hear what their clients need and like."

Merchants reach out to preferred customers

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Who shops downtown Plymouth and what can be done to build that business?

That's the question local merchants put to their new Downtown Development Authority director Steve Guile last fall.

His answer was to develop a Preferred Customer Program and more than 4,000 people responded.

"During the holidays, we asked shoppers to fill out and return a postage-paid card from which we would develop a mailing list to inform them of special events, discounts and sales throughout the year," he said. "The cards revealed that 40 percent of our shoppers come from Plymouth ZIP codes. About 50 percent said they shop Plymouth on a regular basis. Their birthdates reflect shoppers 35 years and older. We established a solid database for mailing."

Part of the promotion included creating a new image for downtown Plymouth with an easily recognizable logo and advertising on radio and television.

Preferred customer programs are not new to retailing. Most department stores give their charge card customers this distinction, mailing them notices of sales and special events.

What is new, however, is the inclusion of discount coupons for preferred shoppers and unusual gifts for those who attend scheduled promotions.

"Giveaways bring people into the shopping center," said Kim Froman, marketing director of Wonderland Mall in Livonia. "At our winter sidewalk sales last month, I gave away snow shovels at the rate of 250 in 30 minutes every day of the sale."

At Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield, on the first Tuesday of each month, shoppers can pick up special cards entitling them to discounts and special offers at participating stores.

"Retailers have learned that target marketing is more cost effective than shotgun marketing where you throw your message out and hope someone hears and responds," Guile said. "Through preferred customer programs, you can reach the shoppers most likely to come out for an event."

Rocks roast Spartans

There wasn't any such thing as a slow start for the Plymouth Salem boys basketball team Thursday night.

In the first quarter at Livonia Stevenson, the Rocks scored almost as many points as they did in three periods Tuesday against Plymouth Canton en route to a 70-39 victory.

Salem established a 25-4 lead in the first eight minutes and led 41-12 at halftime. Both teams hit the skids in the third quarters as the Rocks increased their lead by only one to 49-19.

The Rocks trailed cross-campus rival Canton 39-27 after three quarters but rallied to claim victory in overtime, 67-61.

Mike Slone scored 23 points to lead Salem and made five of his six three-point baskets in the first quarter. Brandon Slone added 19 points, and Brad Morgan had 11 to lead the Spartans.

The Rocks finished at 9-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and earned the No. 2 seed in the league playoffs, which start Friday. Salem (15-2) will play host to North Farmington.

Stevenson ended 2-9, failed to make the cut and dropped to 5-11 overall.

Chiefs win volleyball dual

It was a volleyball match Plymouth Canton should have won, and the Chiefs did just that Wednesday as they avoided a letdown and beat last-place North Farmington (15-7, 16-14, 15-9) at home.

The top offensive players for Canton were Erin Olenech with nine kills, Karrie Drinkhahn (seven) and Tina Schafer (five).

Angela Fountain set up most of the spike attempts with 29 assists. Ndu Okwumabua led the Chiefs with five solo blocks.

Laura Ciantar excelled in the back row with a team-leading 13 digs, but Drinkhahn (nine) and Schafer (five) also played well around the floor.

Canton improved to 5-5 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 20-11-6 overall.

Churchill floors Salem

Plymouth Salem had no comeback magic to save it from defeat on the volleyball court Thursday when it lost to Livonia Churchill, which rebounded from a loss Monday to Livonia Franklin.

After being whipped 15-1 in the first game, the Rocks recovered to win the second 15-6, but Churchill prevailed in the next two, 15-7 and 16-14.

"We played from behind most of the night, and right now we're not a very good come-from-behind team," Salem co-coach Allie Suffety said.

The Chargers played well on defense and were able to dig nearly everything Salem hit at them, Suffety said. The Rocks had 77 spikes and 25 kills, but many were on tips.

Caryn Tatterton had nine tip kills to lead Salem, and leading hitter Cyndi Platter had 24 attacks and seven kills (two tips).

"Some of her best attacks were being dug up by the Churchill people," Suffety said.

"They played a good match and rose to the occasion. We had some lapses of concentration and got frustrated."

Suffety had praise for Tatterton, who also does the setting and had 17 digs Thursday.

"Caryn Tatterton is playing some incredible volleyball all around and not just as a setter," he said. "Some of her digs were the over-the-shoulder type."

Salem is 8-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association and 28-10-4 overall.

Ladywood A.D. resigns

Livonia Ladywood High principal Sister Mary Ann Smith has assumed athletic director duties after the resignation last month of Joe Peruski.

"I'm not going to be hiring or interviewing anybody for the position until spring sports have already started," Smith said. "I'm acting athletic director, but I've been able to get help with the parents and coaches pitching in. I'm managing right now."

Peruski, who served three years as Ladywood's head track coach, was hired last summer as A.D. to replace Kim Linenger, who resigned to take a similar administrative job with the Catholic Youth Organization.

"My wife is in the banking field, and she's accepted a job offer in Marquette," Peruski said. "My wife's folks are from Marquette, and I'll be able to substitute teach in that district."

The principal also announced Monday that former Livonia Bentley High standout Lisa Parsons has been hired to replace Linenger as the school's softball coach.

RU spiker to Madonna

Redford Union's Kelly McCausland plans to sign a letter of intent to play volleyball at Madonna University.

The 5-foot-10 middle hitter becomes coach Jerry Abraham's second recruit, joining Livonia Stevenson's Julie Martin.

The RU spiker averages nine kills and four blocks per match.

"Kelly is just starting to come into her own," Abraham said. "She gives us another threat at the net as an attacker and a blocker. She has a very good work ethic and plays with a lot of enthusiasm."

Chiefs hold line against Hawks

Plymouth Canton held its ground in the fourth quarter Friday and denied Farmington Hills Harrison another comeback victory in boys basketball. The Chiefs went home winners in their WLAА finale, 70-62.

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Canton interim basketball coach Charlie Paye was well aware of the dramatic comebacks staged by Farmington Hills Harrison this season.

He was also aware of the heart-breaking fourth-quarter collapses his squad has had this season.

But the Chiefs held on to defeat the visiting Hawks 70-62 Friday and gain some valuable momentum heading into the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs.

"(The Harrison comebacks and Canton collapses) was something we discussed going into the game and at the start of the fourth quarter," Paye said. "We kept the team thinking about it, and tonight I think we played smarter toward the end of the game."

The victory also gave Canton the league's Western Division title. Harrison will get a shot at revenge Friday when it hosts the Chiefs in the first round of the WLAА playoffs.

Canton finished 4-1 in the division and 6-5 in the league, Harrison 3-2 and 8-3. The Chiefs improved to 7-10 overall; the Hawks are 8-9.

Coming off close losses to Northville (62-60) and Plymouth Salem (67-61) in overtime — both due to late collapses — the Chiefs found themselves fighting off the comeback kids from Harrison throughout the fourth quarter.

"It was a big win for us after two tough losses," Paye said. "We beat a very good team tonight — a team that will finish third in the conference. This will help the team's confidence."

"People will be aware of us now, but no one will expect us to win the league playoffs. Walled Lake Central, Salem and Harrison are the favorites, but we have a chance if we play like we are capable of playing."

Senior center Owen Crosby led the Chiefs with 20 points. Brad Paskievitch and Ted Docks scored 15 and 12 points, respectively, for Canton.

"It's a very big win for us, considering the year we've had and the adversity we've gone through," Crosby said. "I think this win will show other teams we can play and they'll look out for us."

Senior Ryan Cahill, who kept the Hawks within striking range late in the game with two three-pointers and a pair of free throws, paced the Hawks with 21 points. Keye Smith added 16 while Aaron Weiss came off the bench to net 13.

Harrison coach Mike Teachman wasn't the officials' top fan after the game. One questionable call in particular will stay on the minds of many Harrison fans.

With 3:08 remaining and Canton clinging to a 60-51 lead, Harrison's Calvin Pruitt was called for charging as he barreled over Crosby. As Pruitt leaned over to help Crosby get up, the referee whistled Pruitt for a technical foul.

"(The referee) said that (Pruitt) kicked him," Teachman said. "He became a mind reader. He didn't kick him; he was helping him up. It was horrible officiating both ways the entire game."

With the two fouls, Pruitt fouled out of the game and Canton expanded its lead to 11 behind two free throws by Docks.

Spartans down Rocks in showdown

Livonia Stevenson won the long-awaited dual meet between Observerland and state-ranked boys swim powers Thursday over Plymouth Salem, 109-77.

The No. 9-ranked Spartans also claimed the Lakes Division championship with a 4-0 record and improved to 9-3 overall. The No. 7 Rocks, who had won their last seven meets, are 3-1 and 7-2.

"I still think, with their depth, they're the team to beat at the league meet," Stevenson coach Doug Buckler said of Salem, adding the Rocks were minus several key swimmers because of illness.

The Western Lakes Activities Association meet begins Wednesday with the preliminaries, continues

Thursday with the diving prelims and ends Friday with the finals.

Salem will be the host school all three days. Stevenson is the defending WLAА champion.

"We graduated 13 seniors and we're starting to fill the holes now," Buckler said.

"We feel we're going to finish well at the state meet, but you need depth to do well in the league and we're real concerned about that. I don't think, because we won a dual meet, that makes us the team to beat."

The Spartans won 10 of the 12 events Thursday. Alex Goecke, who had two of those victories in individual races and was on two winning relay teams, set a Bentley Center pool record with a time of 59.30 in the breaststroke.

Goecke also won the 50 freestyle with a 22.60 finish and helped Stevenson take first in the medley (1:40.7) and 200 freestyle (1:32.19) relays.

Stevenson teammates Gordy Gatewood and Ryan Freeborn had two wins apiece and participated in two relay victories, too.

Gatewood won the 200 and 100 freestyles in 1:51.51 and 50.15, Freeborn the individual medley (2:04.88) and backstroke (56.85).

Freeborn, Goecke, Mike Gravina and Jeff Buckler comprised the medley relay team. The 400 freestyle team (3:28.69) consisted of Gatewood, Freeborn, Gravina and Chris Peters. Buckler, Goecke, Eric Peterson and Gatewood won the 200.

Gravina took first place in the butterfly (56.97). The Salem winners were Justin Richardson in diving with 235.3 points and Aaron Berlin in the 500 freestyle (5:07.83).

The Spartans got seconds from Peterson, 200 freestyle (1:53.07) and breaststroke (1:06.2); Buckler, 100 freestyle (51.37); Peters, 500 freestyle (5:14.75).

Salem swimmers who were second included Alex Beard, IM (2:10.5); Fred Locke, 50 freestyle (22.76); Woody Thomas, diving (225.8); Matt Erickson, butterfly (57.65); and Scott Helmstadter, backstroke (59.82).

Blazers repeat as league champions

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Dearborn Divine Child's 6-foot-3 senior Jessica Toth is a fine basketball player and an outstanding volleyball player.

Livonia Ladywood found out the latter Thursday night when it challenged DC for the Catholic League A-B Division championship before a sell-out crowd at Madonna University.

Toth played an incredible first game before Ladywood adjusted and rallied to beat the Falcons in three games (9-15, 15-5, 15-10) for its second straight A-B Division championship.

Toth slammed seven straight kills and the Falcons scored the first 10 points en route to the easy win in Game 1.

Ladywood coach Tom Teeters countered by sending his tallest player, 6-3 junior Anne Poglits, into the game. Poglits didn't dominate but helped neutralize Toth the rest of the way.

Poglits had three blocks, four digs and was an obstacle for Toth to think about when she tried to kill the ball. Hitters Liz Gunn and Mary Jo Kelly also benefited in Games 2 and 3, finishing with nine and 11 kills, respectively.

Ladywood will play for the Operation Friendship championship against the Detroit Public School League champion 5:30 p.m. today at Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

"Anne did a great job," Teeters said. "Her three blocks were very effective, but on top of that she changed their hitting overall. Toth became human the next two games instead of supernatural."

DC was trying to become the first team from the AA Division in recent memory to not only advance to the final but win an A-B championship. The Class B Falcons are 21-10-6.

"It was a Cinderella story — almost," DC coach Dave Sekerak said. "This was a major accomplishment."

"Toth (16 kills) was the key in terms of hitting, and the rest of the team was key in playing defense and keeping the ball alive to get the ball to her. They're great kids and they play with a lot of heart."

Junior Kristy Walker and senior Val Adzima gave the Blazers a boost serving with seven and three aces, respectively.

Ladywood took a 9-5 lead in Game 2 and scored the last six points, four coming on DC errors. The Blazers led only 10-9 in Game 3 before scoring five of the last six points.

Teeters said winning the Catholic League "never gets old."

"The Catholic League is probably the best in the state and the playoffs is a culmination of it," Teeters said. "The Catholic League puts on such a good show and Madonna did a great job hosting it."

"The competitiveness of the league makes it more worthwhile as a coach to win it. Coach Sekerak has done a great job for DC."

3 teams win district wrestling titles

Three area schools have advanced to the Class A team regional wrestling tournament. Livonia Stevenson, Westland John Glenn and Redford Catholic Central all won district titles last week Wednesday.

Stevenson, coached by Don Berg, ran its overall record to 9-2 and captured its first district title in the school's history. The young Spartans swept host Redford Union (39-30) in the championship final and Livonia Franklin (43-27) in the semifinals.

"I extremely pleased with my sophomores, they wrestled hard," Berg said. Freshman Dave Popenay (119) gave Stevenson a lift when his pinned RU's Ryan Ghedotte in 5:10.

"He's been wrestling JV for us, but he came through and gave us a big lift," Berg said. The Spartans advanced to Wednesday's four-team regional at South Lyon.

Stevenson will face Western Lakes Activities Association champ Northville in one semifinal, while Ypsilanti takes on host South Lyon, ranked No. 5 in Class A (coaches poll) in the other semifinal. Both matches start at 5:30 p.m. with the final immediately following.

Glenn, meanwhile, needed a victory from Jim Locke (189 pounds) and a pin from Shawn Arbogast (heavyweight) to hold off Romulus, 38-27, to win the District No. 132 title at Garden City.

The Rockets (7-3 overall) also defeated Wayne Memorial in the semifinals, 58-8.

Ypsi eliminates Salem

Plymouth Salem didn't catch a break Wednesday in the Class A district wrestling tournament at Ypsilanti High School and was quickly eliminated.

The Rocks failed to draw a bye and had to wrestle the host Braves and eventual winners in the first round, which ended in a 36-28 loss for Salem.

Salem won just one of the first three matches but might have upset Ypsilanti, according to coach Ron Krueger, if the Rocks had won all three. Salem didn't match up well in the higher weights and was without a wrestler at 189.

"We caught the rat tail and had to wrestle right away," Krueger said. "Our little kids ate (after being weighed) and 15 minutes later they were on the mats wrestling. The others weighed in and waited a couple hours watching us beat our brains out."

The Salem winners were Scott Hughes (103), Mark Burley

(125), Phil Mitchell (130), Aaron Lapinski (145) and Wade Langdon (171).

"Langdon has been coming on well for us," Krueger said. "He's been working hard, and winning the league was not a fluke. He's been getting better and better."

"Lapinski probably wrestled his best match of the year. He only weighs 137 but goes up to 145. He gives it his all, but he's really outweighted and outmuscled at his weight."

"The Ypsi kid was pretty tough, but Aaron hit him with a headlock, put him on his back and jumped out to a 9-1 lead in the first period."

The Rocks finished 5-5 in dual meets, but Krueger was pleased with the progress of individuals during the season.

"We were little puppies at the beginning of the year and grew up a lot," he said. Plymouth Canton lost its only district tournament match to Belleville, 68-0.

Redford Catholic Central sophomore guard Damien Baskerville failed to score in the third quarter Sunday but so did Dearborn Divine Child star guard Dan Geoghegan.

CC used that standoff to its advantage, pulling away in the third quarter en route to a 61-49 win in the first round of the Catholic League playoffs at the University of Detroit-Mercy's Calihan Hall.

Geoghegan didn't score in the second half until 6:08 remained in the fourth quarter and CC ahead 47-35. Geoghegan, who finished with 17 points, missed all five of his shots in the third quarter and was 2-for-9 after halftime with Baskerville guarding him.

CC lost to DC on a last-second shot in last year's first round playoff game.

"(Geoghegan) couldn't dribble with his left, he was all right handed," said Baskerville, who scored nine points. "I just forced him to his left."

CC, 10-7 overall, advances to the second round to play undefeated Southgate Aquinas at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Schoolcraft College.

Geoghegan had 11 points in the first half as DC, 10-7 overall, managed to be behind only 25-21 at intermission.

"We had to get Damien on him," CC coach Bernie Holowicki said. "He's quick, smart and very athletic. We knew Geoghegan was their 'go-to' guy and 42 (Dave Teraki) was their rugged rebounder. They're well coached and make you play the ball six to seven passes (per possession)."

CC led by as many as 15 points and shot 12-for-21 from the field in the second half, 23 of 44 for the game (55 percent). Divine Child shot 17 of 45 from the field (38 percent) for the game.

Senior forward Brian Paluk, wearing No. 41 because his No. 22 jersey was left at the school, led CC with 21 points. Junior guard Andy Kummer might have played his best game, scoring all 13 of his points in the second half on 5-of-7 shooting.

Kummer scored nine in the third quarter when CC outscored DC 18-11 for a 43-32 lead. Kummer also had all five of his rebounds in the second half.

Eight CC players scored, including 6-foot-6½ sophomore center Joe Daly, who had four points on tip-ins in the first quarter and a pair of blocks.

This year's team is beginning to remind Holowicki of the one he had in 1989 that overachieved and won the Catholic League.

"CC is a good team, Paluk is a good player and you know the guy (Holowicki) can coach," DC coach Joe Charney said.

Borgess loses 1st round playoff versus DePorres

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It was a short stint Sunday for Redford Bishop Borgess in the Catholic League boys basketball playoffs.

Detroit DePorres, a 59-54 loser to Borgess earlier this season, turned the tables at the University of Detroit Mercy's Calihan Hall with a 60-55 triumph over the Spartans.

DePorres, 13-4 overall, advances to Thursday's 6 p.m. A-B Division semifinals at Schoolcraft College against University of Detroit Jesuit.

Marcus Hughes, a 6-foot-10 senior center who signed with Notre Dame, led the Eagles with 16 points, but more importantly came up with a pair of key blocked shots during the final minute of play to seal the victory.

Hughes broke his previous season game high of 14. He scored 10 consecutive points during the second period to give DePorres a 30-25 halftime lead.

"He (Hughes) showed why he has the potential to play at Notre Dame," DePorres first-year coach Derrick Owens said. "Potentially he has all the talent even though people say he's soft and all that other stuff. I challenged him. I told him school's out and he had something to prove to all the doubters. He's only 17 years old and his best basketball is still ahead of him."

Borgess, 11-6 overall, struggled throughout the game, but somehow managed to be in position to win down the stretch.

The Spartans led 14-12 late in the first quarter, but couldn't regain the lead the rest of the way, despite the efforts of Randy Whitfield.

The 6-8 senior, who led all scorers with 22 points, including four tip-in slam dunks, scored a basket with 3:13 remaining to knot the game at 55.

But DePorres answered with five straight points on a pair of free throws by Linsy Bennett, another free throw by Robert Hooper and a breakaway layup from Christopher Singletary (12 points) with only 44 seconds left.

Borgess, meanwhile, ruined any chances to get back by turning the ball over twice during the final 23 seconds of play.

"They (DePorres) got all the loose balls and they outbounded us," Borgess coach Glen Donahue said. "They knocked a lot of rebounds away when we had the ball. When push came to shove, they outplayed us."

Charles Smith, a 6-3 junior forward, was the only other Borgess player to score in double figures with 15. Perry Robinson, a 6-5 junior, was held to eight on three of eight shooting from the floor.

S'craft women win, await tourney date

It may have looked more like a Gus Macker Tournament game at the end, but the Schoolcraft Community College women's basketball team will happily accept its 70-50 romp over Henry Ford last Wednesday.

The win, the Lady Ocelots' third in the last four games, most likely earned them a spot in the state tournament for the eighth time in nine years. Unless Mott upset Highland Park Saturday, Schoolcraft will open the tournament at Highland Park tonight (either 5:30 or 7:30 p.m.).

"This was a game of attrition," said Coach Jack Grenan.

To say the least, Henry Ford brought just six players to Schoolcraft and three of them fouled out. Schoolcraft started with seven and lost two to fouls. It was 5-on-3 for the final seven minutes.

Sophomore Dana Hudson scored 20 points to lead the Lady Ocelots. She now averages 18.9 points per game. Alisa Rechter scored 14 points and grabbed 16 rebounds before fouling out with seven minutes left.

The Lady Ocelots (4-9 in the Eastern Conference, 11-12 overall) finished the regular season Saturday at home against Delta. Henry Ford fell to 1-12, 2-14.

S'craft men fall
Schoolcraft couldn't figure out how to defuse Chris Ireland Wednesday and he went off for 36 points, leading host Henry Ford to a 99-84 victory.

Ireland's effort overshadowed a 24-point, eight-rebound performance from Schoolcraft's Jarvis Murray. Mo Abdrabboh scored 19, Lamonte Fondren added 15 and Steve Whitlow 10.

Schoolcraft (2-13 in the Eastern Conference and out of the state playoffs, 6-20 overall) closed out the regular season Saturday at Delta.

The Ocelots' will begin Region 12 tournament play Tuesday, March 2 at Macomb Community College. They will play the Michigan state champ or Owens Tech (Ohio) at 1:15 p.m.

Academy aims to help bowlers improve game

10-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

Good news for bowlers who wish to improve their games. The Dick Ritger Bowling Academy visits our area Feb. 26 through March 1 at New Emerald Lanes in Troy.

The highly regarded academy is good for all levels of ability. The four-day seminar will deal with an individual player's analysis, common faults and corrections, scientific spare system, how to read lanes and advanced tips and techniques.

Dick Ritger, who has won 20 Professional Bowling Association titles, will be on hand. For more details, call Laura Zain at 261-3077.

The Nottingham Bowling League, which has existed for more than 20 years, recently had its first 300 game.

Norm Guznack threw the perfect game in the Saturday league at Merri Bowl in Livonia. His 735 series put him 154 pins over average.

Be sure to sign those petitions and help get bowling into the 1996 Olympic games in Atlanta.

The Hawks played without two starters. Forward Don Bryant missed his second game with a sprained ankle, and guard Jeremy Teachman missed his first game due to an ankle injury suffered in the previous game.

Bryant's status is questionable for Friday, and it's feared Teachman might have suffered torn ligaments.

"We were out basically three starters," Teachman said. "Calvin was getting sick before the game. We needed the game to be called correctly for us to win tonight."

"I don't like to see this type of thing happen. When refs become part of a game . . . but you still have to give Canton credit. They deserved to win. Canton is a physical team and, in some respects, we didn't handle it well."

Harrison trailed early 16-5 and came back to knot the score at 16-16 early in the second quarter, but the Chiefs still led 33-30 at half-time.

A 14-5 run to start the third quarter gave Canton a comfortable 47-35 advantage. The Chiefs led by 10 heading into the fourth quarter after Docks tipped in his own miss at the horn to end the third.

The Hawks, who converted 23 of 28 foul shots (81 percent), closed the margin to 63-58 with 5:52 left, but Canton, which made 16 of 18 free throws (90 percent), held on for the win.

Madonna gets RU spiker

Redford Union's Kelly McCausland, a 5-foot-10 middle-hitter from Redford Union, plans to sign a letter of intent to play volleyball at Madonna University.

McCausland, who carries a 3.2 grade-point average, becomes coach Jerry Abraham's second recruit for the 1993 season. She joins Livonia Stevenson's Julie Martin.

The RU spiker averages nine kills and four blocks per match.

"Kelly is just starting to come into her own," Abraham said. "She gives us another threat at the net as an attacker and a blocker. She has a very good work ethic and plays with a lot of enthusiasm."

"We really like to get local kids, and we feel Kelly and Julie are two of the best in the area."

Metro Flyers district hockey champs

The Metro Flyers Bantam A hockey team has won the District 4 championship.

The Flyers, defending state champs, defeated Livonia 9-3, the Michigan Nationals 4-0 and Lakeland 4-0 in the district playoffs.

In the final, the Flyers faced Lakeland again and defeated their rival by a 6-1 score.

The victory boosted the team record to 23-4. The Flyers, who also earned first place in Division I league play (18-2-2), advance to the state finals March 12-14 in Calumet.

Playing for the Flyers are Jeff Berger, Kevin Beaudoin, Geoff Bernhardt, Matt Capaldi, Charles Dyke, Ryan Fiorini, John Fritz, Matt Giordano, Dave Higham, Mike Keough, Chris Kiehler, Ed Kruschka, Jason Lawmaster, Adam Raynish, Tony Spezia and Jason Wesley.

Russ Flynn in the head coach; the assistants are Derek Higham and Pete Kiehler. Also helping with team matters are Eric Lawmaster and co-managers Jim and Lynn Berger.

Rogers turns mean in 'Rio Diablo'

Singers Tritt, Judd co-star in Western

By Dan Rice

Attempts to transform country-music stars into Western-movie heroes usually don't pan out. Willie Nelson succeeded in 1982's Barbarosa, but fired blanks when teamed with outlaw buddies Waylon Jennings, Johnny Cash and Kris Kristofferson in the 1986 TV remake of Stagecoach.

Fortunately, Rio Diablo, starring Kenny Rogers, Travis Tritt and Naomi Judd, transcends a familiar story line to become a watchable Western that would stand on its own even if its principle players had never found fame for their singing. The CBS movie airs Sunday, Feb. 28.

Rogers, who saddled up for four tele-films as his mild-mannered

Gambler character, says his Rio Diablo role as the cold-blooded bounty hunter Quinton Leech is another kind of hombre altogether.

"The difference between this character and Brady Hawks is that this character can hit first," he says.

In the story, Benjamin Tabor's (Tritt) wedding day is interrupted when a gang of bank robbers takes his beautiful bride (Laura Harring) hostage. Leech, on the kidnappers' trail for the bounty, reluctantly takes Tabor along. The younger man, who believes his wife is dead, has revenge on his mind.

The trail takes them to a bawdy house run by Flora Mae Pepper (Judd), an old friend of Leech's who knows the tragedy in his past that motivates his life. One other character they must reckon with is Kansas (Stacy Keach), a ruthless rival bounty hunter.

Rio Diablo makes the acting debuts of both Tritt, winner of the Country Music Association's Horizon Award in 1991, and Judd, whose chronic hepatitis led to her retirement from her highly successful act with daughter Wynonna. Judd, now busy writing her autobiography, admits that acting was a challenge for her.

"I'm so used to being Naomi Judd," she says, "that it was real hard...to come out of all the beliefs and value systems and personality that you've been for a long time and be somebody else."

Judd gives a believable performance despite what she describes as Rogers' unwillingness to rehearse.

"I think that's what made it so much fun," Rogers says. "I love to see people under the pressure. Because people...do much better if you put them under pressure."

Now a veteran movie actor, Rogers was apparently unsympathetic to the jitters of the first-time actress.

The result of their efforts is far better than Rogers' last Gambler adventure, which dredged up a herd of old TV-Western stars for ridiculous cameos. Rio Diablo gets high marks for its scenic locations in Texas' Big Bend Ranch Natural Area, engaging pace and Rogers' pleasing turn in a less-than-likable role, but the film's noble intentions bite the dust with an ending that is pure country corn.

Rashad goes 'Off the Court' with NBA stars

By Michael Scogin

Ahmad Rashad takes an inside look at the lives of past and present basketball stars once the lights are turned off and the game is over on NBA Off the Court, premiering Sunday, Feb. 27, on Black Entertainment Television.

The show provides a new perspective on some of basketball's greatest players. Interviews, profiles and visits to their homes and offices allow viewers to see how some of their favorite stars have made the transition to life after basketball, and what some present players do with their free time.

"It's hard to relate to these performers on the court," says Rashad, "but when you see them trying to achieve success in some of the same areas we all compete in, it gives you a better understanding of what they're about."

Upcoming shows feature in-depth interviews with Michael Jordan and Karl Malone and a look at such past superstars as Nate "Tiny" Archibald, Connie Hawkins and "Pistol" Pete Maravich.

"[NBA stars] are opening up and giving everybody a chance to see what it's like on the other side," says Rashad.

A&E goes in like Flynn to 'Frankie's House'

By Dan Rice

Sex, drugs and rock 'n' roll in the middle of the Vietnam War set the tone for Frankie's House, a two-part drama airing Sunday, Feb. 21, and Tuesday, Feb. 23, on A&E. Iain Glen and Kevin Dillon star in the true story of photojournalists residing in the Saigon bar and brothel called Frankie's House who endure the horrors of war and the frustration of media censorship to capture their frames of truth.

Bravo spotlights America's first black classical dance company with a Saturday, Feb. 21, performance of The Dance Theatre of Harlem: Three Pieces. In the special, the group stages its popular works Troy Game, Beloved and John Henry.

The illegal poaching of elephants is examined when A&E's Investigative Reports goes On the Track of the Elephants. Airing Friday, Feb. 26, the documentary, which was two years in the making, presents a natural history of the African elephant while revealing the biggest threat to its survival.

The advent of "talkies" brought about the rise of vaudeville comedy teams to film stardom, among them The Three Stooges, the Marx Brothers and Abbott and Costello. On Sunday, The Disney Channel's Legends of Comedy Part 2 continues the series' historical overview with profiles of the above and Mae West, Edgar Bergen, Victor Borge, Spike Jones, Danny Kaye and Jimmy Durante.

Jennifer Tilly plays Savannah in Key West, Tuesdays on Fox. The comedy series also stars Fisher Stevens

Fans of actress Deidre Hall (Days of Our Lives) get a double treat from NBC on Friday, with back-to-back airings of the Days of Our Lives prime-time special and The Soap Opera Digest Awards, with co-host Paul Reiser.

Hall shines at night in 'Days,' soap awards

'Days' special precedes 'Soap Opera Digest Awards'

By Candace Havens

Imagine you've been in a coma for a couple of years, you awaken and find yourself on a remote island. You make your way home only to see your husband is in love with another woman. Or at least the man you thought was your husband. Actually, he is an imposter with amnesia, and your real husband has been imprisoned on the same island you were.

You locate your husband and children, and everything is going well until you realize you still have feelings for the imposter you thought was your husband. So are the Days of Our Lives for the popular character Marlena (Deidre Hall).

Everything comes to a head on Friday, Feb. 26, when Days makes the jump to prime time in a special to be shown before the ninth-annual Soap Opera Digest Awards on NBC.

"As fate would have it," says Hall, "Roman (Marlena's husband, played by Wayne Northrop) is out chasing the bad guys, and John (the imposter, played by Drake Hogestyn) and I are accidentally locked in a time vault. After weeks of trying to stay apart, suddenly we are thrown in this situation and well, you'll just have to watch to see what happens. We have had a great time doing all this, and it is a great story."

Hall is hoping the show will do as well in the ratings as it did last year.

"I'm not sure why the show did so well [in 1992], but I hope it happens again," says Hall.

Following the prime-time special, Hall will serve for a second year as co-host of The Soap Opera Digest Awards, this time with comedian/actor Paul Reiser.

"I'm looking forward to working with Paul," says Hall. "I've watched his new show [NBC's Mad About You] with Helen Hunt, and he's a very funny guy."

The Soap Opera Digest Awards are a little different from other awards shows in that the fans pick the winners. It doesn't matter what show is No. 1 in the ratings or what an actor's "TVQ" [a measure of recognizability] is. Here, the fans rule, and quite often the results are surprising. Almost as surprising as Marlena's love life.

LET'S TALK

Hexum died from gun mishap;
Lila lots but no Alice

By Taylor Michaels

Q: I need some information about actor Jon-Erik Hexum, who appeared in the television series Voyagers. I read several years ago that he had died. Could you tell me how he died and what other series he starred in?

—Shawn Harrison, Haworth, Okla.

A: Hexum's only other television series was a dramatic adventure titled Cover Up, wherein he played a male model who was also a secret agent. Tragically, soon after the filming of Cover Up began, Hexum placed a gun loaded with blanks to his head and fired, believing it a harmless joke. However, the blast shattered his skull, and he died soon after, at the age of 26.

Q: Anna Lee, who plays Lila Quartermaine on General Hospital, starred, I believe, in an old version of Alice in Wonderland as Alice. Other characters were played by Cary Grant and W.C. Fields. When was this movie made, and is it available on video cassette?

—Sabina Bolbot, Oaklawn, Ill.

A: That version of Alice in Wonderland was made in 1933 and starred many of Paramount's top stars of that era, including Grant, Fields, Gary Cooper and Edward Everett Horton. However, it was Charlotte Henry, not Anna Lee, who played Alice in the film, which is not on video according to my sources. Look for Lee in Bedlam (1946), How Green Was My Valley (1941) and King Solomon's Mines (1937).

Q: Lloyd Nolan and Jeanne Crain starred in a movie made in Southern France during 1961 or 1962. The working title was We Joined the Navy. A shipmate of mine had a small role in this movie, but I have been told that the title was changed. Can you tell me the name under which the film can be found?

—C.R. Bartholomew, Miles City, Mont.

A: Look for that 1962 British-made film under the title We Are in the Navy Now. As you scan the background in search of your old Navy buddy, you'll also notice it was Joan O'Brien, not Jeanne Crain, who co-starred with Nolan.

Q: Years ago, I saw a movie titled Jonathan Livingston Seagull. Was the music by Neil Diamond? If so, is the soundtrack available? Is the movie on video?

—R. Byrd, High Point, N.C.

A: The answer is yes, on all three counts.

Send questions to Let's Talk, Features Dept., P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas, 76161-1009. Please send no return envelopes; questions will only be answered within this column.

Jon-Erik Hexum

A: I don't want to give away the ending to other readers, so I'll simply suggest you watch it again. According to Lifetime Television's advance March schedule, the movie will run in two two-hour segments the night of Saturday, March 13.

Q: I'm in search of a movie made during the 1940s that starred Margaret O'Brien and, I believe, Roddy McDowall. I recall that they were playmates who discovered a secret garden behind a locked gate and began to replant it. I believe it was originally planted for a man's wife, who died at an early age. What's the name of this movie, and is it available on tape?

—Lynn Beauchamp, Plymouth, Ind.

A: The name of the 1949 movie is, appropriately enough, The Secret Garden. The male juvenile actor you remember was not Roddy McDowall, but a pre-Quantum Leap Dean Stockwell. Margaret O'Brien's uncle, whose garden it was, was played by Herbert Marshall. The movie is available on video.

Q: Years ago, I saw a movie titled Jonathan Livingston Seagull. Was the music by Neil Diamond? If so, is the soundtrack available? Is the movie on video?

—R. Byrd, High Point, N.C.

A: The answer is yes, on all three counts.

BITS AND PIECES

Another Rose blooms for Midler; HBO tells UFO tale

Everything's coming up roses for Bette Midler, who will star in a three-hour telefilm version of the Broadway musical Gypsy. Scheduled to debut on CBS during the 1993-94 season, the film will be directed by Emile Ardolino (Sister Act). Tony, Emmy and Golden Globe winner Midler will re-create the role of Mama Rose, the ambitious stage mother of actress June Havoc and burlesque queen Gypsy Rose Lee.

Bette Midler

It's no fluke. The Discovery Channel's 1992 special In the Company of Whales was such a hit with viewers that the cable network has now sold an amazing 40,000 copies of Whales for VCR viewing.

"Great music to wake up to" is how Today executive producer Jeff Zucker describes Ray Ellis' Today theme music, which has been reinstated after a seven-year hiatus. The theme by jazz composer and arranger Ellis, who has worked with talents including Billie Holiday and Barbra Streisand, was previously used on Today from 1981 to 1986, when it was replaced by John Williams' "Scherzo for Today." The new arrangement calls for both themes to be used.

HBO Pictures is about to begin production on The Roswell Incident, a docudrama of the 1947 crash landing of an unidentified aircraft in the New Mexican desert and its alleged government cover-up. The occurrence gave rise to speculation about extraterrestrial visitation and inspired the book UFO Crash at Roswell, on which the film is based.

It's a beautiful day in the Melrose Place neighborhood. Fox has just ordered eight additional episodes of the ensemble drama. That brings the season total to 30 episodes, a sure sign property values have risen.

Friday on PBS, actor/director Clint Eastwood finds himself ... Talking With David Frost.

Blues great B.B. King proves the thrill is not gone in Saturday's edition of Austin City Limits on PBS.

FAMILY FAIRIE

ABC heads north for Junior Iditarod

By Chris Carpenter

Each winter, one dogsledder and his team traverse the Iditarod Trail, a 1,000-mile-plus route from Anchorage to Nome, Ala., more swiftly than the rest, though many may try. Retracing the fabled route a brave few Alaskans forged with serums needed to combat a diphtheria epidemic in 1925, the Iditarod has since become synonymous with endurance and fortitude.

The Great Alaska Sled Dog Race, airing Saturday, Feb. 27, on ABC, is a closer look at the Junior Iditarod, a downsized version of the historic event for those who are too young — under 18 years — to mush the full trail. David Kiviat, who produced the show for ABC Sports, says the junior race prepares the young mushers in many ways.

"They go by the same rules, there's mandatory gear they have to carry and they have to spend at least one night on the trail," Kiviat says. "The purpose of the show is not only to present the Junior Iditarod, but to explain what Alaska is, what sled dogs are, how to care for sled dogs and so on. I feel, as producer of the show, there are aspects you need to hit on to explain what viewers are about to see."

Youngsters are sure to enjoy this vivid visual handshake from their neighbors to the north — kids who count Iditarod champions like Joe Rynn and Susan Butcher in the same company with Michael Jordan.

Timothy Dalton plays agent James Bond in Licence to Kill, Wednesday on Fox. Carey Lowell also stars.
