Hilltop to get new clubhouse

Plymouth Township has reached an agreement with the operator of Hilltop Golf Course to put up a clubhouse that won't cost taxpayers a thing. The course is owned by the township, which has been negotiating with the operator for a new building.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

A new Hilltop Golf Course clubhouse should be ready to open June 1, and it won't cost taxpayers anything this year, according to a tentative agreement between the course operator and the township board.

At a special meeting of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees on Wednesday, the board voted to accept a proposal from Hilltop operator John Jawor to build a clubhouse to replace the current one, condemned last month by the township as it has fallen into disrepair.

"We made a proposal to them; we're in the process of putting together plans," said Ronald Burke, attorney for Jawor.

"Basically it's going to be the same size as this one, 2,600 square feet," Burke said.

Plans call for it to be built on the site of the present clubhouse, near Ann Arbor Trail and Beck Road.

"We are going to pay all the cost of installing the new building, and the demolition of the present facility," Burke said. He anticipated the cost at $125,000, for either a modular unit or some other type.

A special meeting of township trustees is scheduled for April 12. Jawor is expected to bring to the board a new contract which would extend his current contract to operate the course for two years, to November 1995.

Other provisions call for Jawor to pick up costs to build the clubhouse, and for the township or new lessee to pay 50 percent of those costs after two years — if Jawor is not selected among bidders to operate the course upon expiration of that two-year contract.

Third candidate in school board race

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Steve Kilijanczyk of Canton Township is the third person to announce his candidacy for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Kilijanczyk's name will appear on the June 14 ballot along with those of incumbent David Artley and the Rev. William Myers. Voters will fill one four-year term.

"I've considered this for a couple of years, and I'm in a more appropriate position to run now," said Kilijanczyk. "I don't have a problem with the school district; I have a problem with making good decisions. I don't believe the way we are making decisions and implementing them is working out."

Kilijanczyk

A 14-year Canton resident who works as a systems analyst for Hospice of Southeastern Michigan, Kilijanczyk and his wife, Gwen, who's employed at Comerica, have five children.

Their daughter Bridgette is a freshman at Plymouth Canton High School. Kristle, 9; Stephen, 8; Alyse, 7; and Eric, 5, attend Allen Elementary School.

An Ohio native, Kilijanczyk earned a bachelor's degree in math from John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio, and his master's in finance from the University of Chicago.

He's also worked for Burroughs and IBM.

Kilijanczyk, who would like to serve as school board treasurer, is not in favor of the 4-mill, two-year increase scheduled to appear on the ballot in June.

"As far as school finance, I'm leery. Given the amount of growth there's been (in housing in the district), it should add up to a couple of million dollars extra.

"I don't believe the millage is needed. I don't believe the numbers are accurate. I think they're soft."

Many residents agree with him, said Kilijanczyk. "In a growing community like we have, I can't believe we can't bite the bullet for a couple years, knowing that right around the corner is potential self-sufficiency. I don't think the board realizes how much (anti-millage) sentiment is out there. I don't think they understand the groundswell of opinion."

Kilijanczyk, treasurer of the Pickwick Village Homeowners' Association, also questioned the advisability of granting teachers a 3-percent raise. "We've been told we don't have any money. So explain to me how we can pay 3 percent? We have to live within our means."

Walters: Tax shift won't end DDA plan

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

If Michigan voters approve the plan to raise the sales tax, Plymouth's downtown street-sidewalk renovation project can still happen.

That's what city manager Steve Walters said Thursday, on the eve of today's scheduled city commission vote on a bond sale to pay for the project.

Coupled with that proposed sales tax hike, from 4 to 6 percent, is a school tax rate cut. It is this aspect of the issue going before voters in June that could trim the downtown development authority's annual budget — and its ability each year to pay back street-sidewalk improvement bonds.

"That's the revenue source planned for the debt retirement," Walters said.

He estimates that the DDA's annual budget, about $440,000, would be cut by $140,000.

The DDA raises money from taxes paid by businesses in the downtown development district. The authority siphons off some taxes which would otherwise go to the schools, the city and the county.

Therefore, a cut in the local school tax rate would cut the DDA's share of property taxes.

At the city commission meeting at 7 p.m. today at city hall, a DDA streetscape design committee is scheduled to present what elements of the architect's plan its members favor.

City commissioners will also be asked to vote on authorizing a bond issue to pay for the $1.8-million project.

Walters said that while passage of the plan being touted in Lansing won't hurt the city's chance to start the DDA project, it could hurt other DDA promotions.

Specifically, funding for a downtown promotion project started last year could be eliminated.

Once tagged at $5 million, the streetscape project was put on hold in 1991 during a spirited political year.

Plans call for new sidewalks and curbs, brick accents, tree guards, new underground wiring, refurbished lighting, a boulevard between Penniman and Ann Arbor Trail, and moving the clock on the west edge of Kellogg Park to the boulevard, a la Northville — among other design features.

Fellows Creek residents seek a safety fence

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

No one drowned in Fellows Creek at Sheldon Road a week ago, when several little girls said they saw a boy fall in and never come up. But the possibility of danger is enough for some nearby residents to demand a fence.

Residents, however, just don't know how they are going to get that fence.

"I'm thinking of getting a petition going," said Lisa Reeves, a resident of the Fellows Creek Villa Apartments, where the boy who apparently fell into the creek — and climbed out unseen — lives.

Reeves said she talked to a representative of the Farmington Hills-based Fourmidable Group, which operates the low- and moderate-income apartment complex. The answer she got was "no."

Instead, the representative told Reeves that parents should be more responsible and prevent their children from playing near the creek that passes behind the complex on Sheldon Road, just south of Ford Road.

Fourmidable Group representatives did not respond to the Observer's inquiries.

"Bigger kids know better," Reeves said, about playing at the creek. "The little ones don't."

Reeves and several other residents who gathered while emergency personnel searched for the reported drowning victim in the early evening Sunday, March 28, complained about the lack of a fence, as well as the lack of school crossing guards in the area on school days.

Children at the apartments attend Hoben Elementary School on Saltz Road. Children often cut through nearby single-family homes to reach the school. The creek is one of the obstacles to that path. Crossing guards are posted at the Saltz and Sheldon roads intersection, as well as in front of the school on Saltz.

"There's no safety all along here," said Mark Hackett, who lives near the apartments. "Kids fall in there all the time."

'I would think they (the apartment owners) could put up a fence if they want to . . . It's a business decision. We can't force them . . .'

township supervisor

But Reeves doesn't know whom to ask for a fence. She called Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack.

"I would think they could put up a fence if they want to," Yack said, referring to apartment owners. "It's a business decision. We can't force them."

"I think you would be hard-pressed to say we (the township) should put up a fence, because it's private property," Yack continued.

Wayne County might also have a say in putting up a fence the length of the creek behind the apartments. Single-family homeowners on the other side of the creek have put up their own fences.

"Our own experience with water is that our risk managers say you are less liable when you don't put up a fence. It becomes an attractive nuisance," Yack said.

Reeves said she doesn't understand that. "That really doesn't make much sense," she said. Reeves is convinced a fence with a sign warning people not to climb it or pass it would help.

Perhaps the older children would try to climb a fence, Reeves said. But residents are concerned about younger children who tend to wander off when parents' backs are turned. The complex has no back yard where children can play.

"How much government do you want in your life?" Yack asked. "When accidents occur, everyone is always looking for ways to protect themselves. But some people might say this is a function of parental responsibility."

Extended Day registration begins soon

Children who are enrolled in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District's Extended Day Program can register for the 1993-94 school year from April 12 to 23.

New families to the program will have an opportunity to register for the 1993-94 school year from 4:40 to 6 p.m. on the following day listed for each school:

5: Miller, May 6; Fiegel, May 10; Bird, May 11; Farrand, May 12; Field, May 13; Smith, May 17; Isbister, May 18; Gallimore, May 19; Hulsing, May 20; and Allen, May 24.

Staff will be available on these dates to accept applications and answer questions. Enrollment is limited and families will be enrolled on a first-come, first-served basis.

There will be no increase in fees for the 1993-94 school year. Families using the service on a fixed schedule will pay $4 for morning care and $5 for afternoon care per day. Families who require a flexible schedule will pay $5 for morning care and $6 for afternoon care per day. The maximum day care schedule (morning and afternoon care for five days a week) will cost $8.50 per day.

Parents should register their children for care at the school the child currently attends. If the proposed elementary school boundaries go into effect next fall, children will be guaranteed care at their new school.

For more information, call the Extended Day Office at 420-5360.

Farmers, officials to discuss assessment hikes

Farmers in western Canton Township, who have been hit with triple-digit property tax assessment increases, are invited to meet with township trustees at 6 tonight in the Cherry Hill Schoolhouse, at Ridge and Cherry Hill roads.

Farmers will meet with Tom Yack, township supervisor; Elaine Kirchgatter, township treasurer; and Loren Bennett, township clerk. "The meeting is to try to tell them what we're doing to help them," said Ken Voyles, Yack's administrative assistant.

More than 10 farmers complained to township trustees more than a week ago about their assessment increases. Farmers said that their agricultural land had been reclassified as residential for tax purposes.

Township assessor John McLenaghan of Wayne County Appraising Co. said farming is not the issue. The land was assessed based on market value.

More than 10 farmers complained to township trustees more than a week ago about their assessment increases.

But some farmers say the assessment increases will force them off their land. Many of the farmers have appealed their assessment increases to the board of review and are awaiting results.

"We do want to keep this meeting between us and the farmers," Voyles said. Though the meeting is public, township officials are hoping only the farmers who are affected by the assessment increases — and not the general public — attend.

"The master plan now reasonably reflects what is expected to happen there, and it's residential," McLenaghan said.

Meeting to examine concerns with bus stop

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Residents plan to meet with the owner of the West Point Manor Mobile Home Park Wednesday to ensure that the bus stop for their elementary school children will remain at the clubhouse in the park's center.

"We want to find out why we couldn't get it moved immediately," said resident Nancy Murdock.

The residents' demands followed suspicious incidents with children at the park March 19 and March 24. The turning point for residents came after an incident March 24, when a man reportedly grabbed the shoulders of one of several 8-year-old girls waiting for their school bus at the park's entrance.

At issue is the bus stop location at the park's entrance, not far from Michigan Ave. and the I-275 on-ramp. Parents believe that location puts their children at risk.

Park managers J.P. and Martha Giles had refused to move the bus stop to the clubhouse, where it was until three years ago. The Gileses said that children damaged the clubhouse and landscaping when they caught the bus at the park's center.

At 2:45 p.m. Friday, March 26 — two days after the incident — parents reached an attorney who represented the park owners. At 3 p.m., the bus stop had been moved to the center of the park, in front of the clubhouse. "They (the owners) were absolutely wonderful," Murdock said.

"We do not issue press statements," said attorney David Levine, declining to comment on the upcoming meeting or moving of the bus stop. Levine represents at least one of the park's owners.

"We haven't talked to the owner yet," said parent Therese Pitts, whose 8-year-old daughter, Cali, was one of the girls who ran screaming from the bus stop when an unidentified man stepped out from behind trees at the bus stop at the park's entrance.

"As far as I'm concerned, he didn't know anything about it," Pitts said of one of the owners, who apparently instructed attorneys to have the stop moved from the park entrance to the clubhouse.

Residents also met with Canton police last Thursday to start a Neighborhood Watch program in the mobile home park. Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro encouraged the program as a means for police to communicate with park residents, as well as for residents to watch out for each other.

"We are definitely going to do this," Murdock said.

Police continue to investigate the reported incidents. "We are deeming one as an innocent, unrelated incident," said Tammie Colling, Canton police community relations officer.

That incident occurred when four girls walked from the park entrance bus stop and a man drove by, stuck out his tongue, and said, "I'll be back later."

"We've identified the vehicle and the suspect. He was a 15-year-old kid," Colling said.

Much to residents' surprise, a Wayne County crew fixed a trampled fence near the park's entrance overlooking Michigan Ave. and the I-275 on-ramp. "They fixed it Monday (March 29)," Murdock said. "That's pretty decent. They told us we would have to go to the state to get a brick wall."

The trampled fence allowed children waiting for the school bus at the park entrance to play in a landscaped area by Michigan Ave. and I-275. It is the area where children played when the unidentified man reportedly tried to grab at least one of the girls waiting for the bus March 24.

Students' green thumbs earn honors at flower show

Students from Plymouth-Canton Educational Park were award winners at the recent Ann Arbor Flower and Garden Show at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds.

Kelli Stickney, Wesan Ali, Bill Bozell and Karen Springsteen were among the students of life-science teacher Sally De Roo who received a Green Thumb Award.

Proceeds from the show, called "A Walk on the Wild Side," benefited the University of Michigan Mathaei Botanical Gardens.

De Roo credited the Plymouth Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association for their help over the past several years.

The club purchased for the students a grow lab, in which they planted seedlings and got their plants established.

Diane Adams, president of the garden club, said the organization also plans to provide De Roo's students with funds for fertilizer and other materials.

"She does a wonderful job with those kids. She and the students are really interested in their plants, and she has all kinds of good ideas," said Adams.

The garden club first got involved with students "when they were putting plants in an upstairs open, sunny area in the high school. We gave them funds for benches and plants, and it became a nice, cheerful area."

If the garden club gets its wish, future high school students also will bring blue ribbons home from flower and garden shows. A club scholarship last year made it possible for West Middle School science teacher Mary Griffard to attend a weeklong seminar at Higgins Lake Environmental School. Griffard integrated what she learned into her lesson plans and shared her knowledge with the garden club.

"We're very interested in continuing to support the program. We hope to find another teacher this year," Adams said.

De Roo can't say enough about the club. "We wouldn't have a grow lab if it weren't for those ladies," she said.

De Roo added that the Gurney Seed Company also deserves a pat on the back. "We just got 1,000 packages of seedlings from them that our kids will distribute to little kids." The life science high school students plan to "mentor" younger students in the district, De Roo said.

Burke said he hopes to open the new clubhouse June 1 to accommodate leagues, outings and the public. But the course will open for business as soon as the weather breaks, he added.

While township supervisor Kathleen Keen-McCarthy had sought to seek bids from prospective course operators this November, after Jawor's current contract expires, the board opted for the two-year extension when the condemnation of the current clubhouse raised the possibility of a legal battle between the township and Jawor.

"It's a situation where if it's not open it hurts the lessee and the township," McCarthy said. "You have to have some sort of facility open."

The township splits proceeds of the golf course with Jawor 50-50. The township's 1992 revenue from golf course operations was $258,000.

an implementation problem, he said.

"There needs to be some review of implementation. I'm not sure whether teachers all got the material, or whether they're on the same length, but I see differences in my own children. If you're disorganized, you're not going to get the results."

More time and funds should be spent on the fundamentals, Kilijaneczyk said. "I don't think the quality level is there anymore. You can be good and feel good, but if you're not teaching them how to do good academically, you have a problem."

Kilijaneczyk said he also has concerns about high technology in the schools. "Putting wires in the building is no big deal. Teaching teachers to use it; that's a concern."

The district should re-examine whether it should continue to provide non-essential services and equipment, he added.

Kilijaneczyk, a member of St. John Neumann Catholic Church, says the fact he lives in Canton is a plus, given the number of Plymouth residents currently on the board. "We are under-represented in Canton. I think that is going to change. It's a growing area."

Another plus, he said, is the fact that unlike most of the current board members, Kilijaneczyk has children in school.

Kilijaneczyk doesn't necessarily see the retirement of Superintendent John Hoben as an issue.

"I don't know that there is a great necessity for change. He has a lot of valuable experience," he said.

New system tracks stolen cars

BY BILL COUTANT
STAFF WRITER

The Metro Detroit Ford Dealers have an idea that could not only save you money, but maybe also your car.

The dealers are offering a 24-hour vehicle tracking system and portable cellular phone package worth more than $1,000 through the Pactel Teletrac Co. of Farmington Hills. The unusual offer runs through the end of March and could become an option in the future.

Unlike other alarm systems that make a noise, Teletrac is a device that registers on a computer at the Teletrac alarm center indicating the exact location of the vehicle. The system is monitored 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Once the company sees the signal, police are contacted and perhaps can capture the thief without tipping their hand.

"You can't tell it's in the car," said Lou Csordas, general manager of the Farmington Hills office. "You don't want him (the thief) to be in a hurry. There's no high-speed chase and no guess work."

Teletrac, Farmington Hills*

But is it effective? "We've gotten 100 percent of our cars back," Csordas said.

When someone breaks into a car with the Teletrac system, a signal and printout with the exact location of the vehicle comes into the Hills alarm center. An operator can track the vehicle and give police the exact location. Better yet, the Michigan State Police in Northville have one of the systems at their station.

The signal now extends as far west as Chelsea, south into Ohio, and north to Holly, Oxford, Leonard and Richmond.

"It's becoming more and more popular," said Tony Elder, general sales manager at Troy Ford. "We often suggest getting it, especially for our sports cars."

The service alone, without a cellular telephone, costs from $500 to $700 with a monthly monitoring fee of $15. The system can be moved from car to car, and Teletrac will pay the deductible for damage from the theft, such as a broken steering column, ignition or door lock.

Csordas said new cars and their drivers' aren't the only ones at risk.

"Older cars are often stolen and then used to commit another crime."

Teletrac, based in California, employs 40 people at the Farmington Hills center, which serves the entire Detroit area.

At least two people staff the center, which includes 26 computers, at all times, said Ed Branhams, Teletrac's systems engineer. With a special battery system and generator to back it up, the system is "uninterruptable."

"People here have a love affair with the car. Detroit was the third city to open a center. It was for a reason."

WHY YOU FEEL WEAK
WHEN YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS

Because activity brings on pain, your arthritis may not permit you to undertake strenuous exercise; as a result, you lose muscle. You may feel that this loss is what makes you weak; if you could rebuild muscle, you would regain your strength.

Such is not the case; your weakness is not so much from diminution of muscles as from loss of leverage.

The problem begins with your hands and grip. You cannot hold books, packages, weights, or a steering wheel because the arthritis makes your joints slip. Strong grip depends as much on solid joint stability as it does on the brute force your hand can exert.

Arthritis of the forearms and shoulders compromises the freely guiding motions that allow you to raise your arm or turn your forearm in an arc. In turn, you lose this capability of the arm to act as efficient fulcrum.

The same is true for your legs. You become tired walking because your leg muscles splint your heel-toe gait to minimize knee and foot pain rather than acting as efficient flexors for your stride.

As long as the joints that leverage muscles remain impaired, you will continue to feel weak. If your joints return to reasonable function, then with no special exercises, you will regain your strength.

Medical liability legislation seeks to toughen regulations

STAFF WRITER

Tougher regulations for fewer lawsuits against health care professionals.

That's the deal shaping up between the House and Senate in an effort to curb the outflow of doctors from Michigan.

"We're streamlining the process of licensing and discipline for licensed health care workers," said Rep. John Jamian, R-Bloomfield Township.

Jamian and Rep. David Gubow, D-Oak Park, co-chair of the House Public Health Committee. They produced eight license and discipline bills which the House passed last week by votes ranging from 99-0 to 103-0.

Jamian sponsored the bill to create the "impaired provider" program into which professionals with drug, alcohol or mental problems can be steered for treatment.

Tort bill hit

Meanwhile, the Senate has passed SB 270 to reform medical liability laws. But a snag developed when the House Judiciary Committee last week amended that bill to allow costlier lawsuits.

Spencer Johnson, spokesman for the Michigan Hospital Association, called the House version of the liability bill "grossly inadequate" because it:

■ Fails to limit noneconomic ("pain and suffering") awards by allowing "overly broad" exceptions to those limits.

■ Inserts a sliding scale for attorney fees that rewards plaintiffs' attorneys for pushing litigation rather than settling.

The hospital association is joined by the Farm Bureau, Michigan Chamber of Commerce and physicians in seeking the tort reform bill.

"I feel it's been watered down," agreed Jamian, who said he would seek floor amendments to SB 270 to bring it closer to the Senate version.

"They go hand in hand," Jamian said.

Faster procedures

The process of limiting the license of a bad doctor will be speeded up to one year from the current two or three years, Jamian said.

"There's a requirement that courts must report convictions of licensed health care professionals to the Department of Commerce (which handles licensing)," he added.

"What's really nice is that there will be more public membership on discipline boards. So the discipline process is a public process, not one behind closed doors."

Two of the bills exempt part of the discipline process from the Open Meetings and Freedom of Information Act. But Jamian said those exceptions apply to the early stages of the complaint process, when regulators are deciding whether to send a case to the discipline or the revocation process.

The bills cover medical doctors, chiropractors, nurses, optometrists, osteopaths, pharmacists, physical therapists, podiatrists, counselors, psychologists, occupational therapists, sanitarians and veterinarians.

The measures are House Bills 4076 through 80, HB 4289, 4290, 4292 and 4295.

One bill allows complaints against foreign doctors with accents so thick that patients can't understand them. "There's a mechanism to let the patient go directly to the medical board so the board can ask the doctor to go to an accent reduction program," Jamian said.

Amann touted for state ticket

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Mr. Amann goes to Lansing? Wayne County Commissioner Bryan Amann is being talked about locally as a running mate for state Sen. Debbie Stabenow, D-Lansing, when she runs for governor next year.

Former county commissioner William Joyner, who now runs the Canton Community Foundation, said "you can put money on it" that Amann will be Stabenow's choice for lieutenant governor. "Bryan Amann will be on the statewide ticket in '94," he said.

"Absolutely." (Joyner also picked, but didn't support, Bill Clinton for president in 1989.)

"The Democratic party would be making a big mistake if it doesn't recognize that Bryan Amann is an issue-oriented leader who works best with building coalitions with both parties and all people," Joyner said.

Amann, who also represents Canton Township, said he learned of the rumor when he read about it in "Confluence," a newsletter published by Plymouth city commissioner Dennis Shrewsbury. "I'm flattered and surprised," he said. "What the future holds, Lord knows. I never say never to anything. But this is all very premature and I'm just trying to be a good county commissioner."

■ 'I'm flattered and surprised . . . I never say never to anything. But this is all very premature and I'm just trying to be a good county commissioner.'

Bryan Amann

Although Shrewsbury was first to put the rumor in print, he isn't as confident as Joyner that Amann will be Stabenow's running mate. "(Amann's) name has come up a couple of times," he said. "(But) I'm not willing to go out on the limb on that just yet."

Stabenow did not return the Observer's phone calls by press time.

Amann's fellow county commissioner Kay Beard, D-Westland, doubts the rumor has merit.

"I doubt if (Stabenow) would pick Bryan Amann," she said. "Why should she pick someone from a commission seat who has been so controversial? She needs someone solid." Beard, who also represents Garden City, added that Amann "will do anything to get his name in the paper."

Wayne County Deputy Executive Michael Duggan said Stabenow/Amann would be a "great ticket. (Amann) is bright. He's hard working. He's honest, and he's as good a campaigner as you'd ever want to see."

Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, said, "I would be sorry to see (Amann) leave, but I'd welcome the opportunity to elect another western Wayne County Republican (to the commission)."

Presidential primary bill clears state Senate

STAFF WRITER

Michigan voters could see a two-tiered 1996 presidential primary under a bipartisan bill that has cleared the state Senate.

"This will insure that no one will have to declare their party preference in order to vote in the presidential primary," said the sponsor, Sen. Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

Bouchard's SB 168 was born as a bill to create a totally "open" presidential primary in which voters wouldn't have to declare a preference at all. Michigan's last "open" primary occurred in 1976.

But Democrats complained that total openness violated national party rules limiting participation only to declared party members. Federal courts say national party rules take precedence over state law in selecting party convention delegates.

Bouchard cut a deal with Sens. John Kelley, D-Grosse Pointe, and Debbie Stabenow, D-Lansing, allowing:

- An open primary to vote for presidential candidates.
- A closed primary for Democrats to vote for national convention delegates.

"Voter turnout numbers in recent years indicate that citizens were turned off by the party preference requirement," said Bouchard. In 1992 the state used a closed system. In the 1980s, Democrats used a caucus system.

The primary system would be available only to the three parties which received more than 5 percent of the 1992 vote — Democratic, Republican and Ross Perot's United We Stand.

"This is a compromise," said Stabenow. "It is an effort to address a multitude of concerns."

Bouchard said it would give voters a choice while not barring them from voting if they didn't want to pick a party.

Senators gave the bill 32 to 0 approval and sent it to the House. All area senators voted yes.

Sen. Chris Dingell, D-Trenton, complained that the statewide primary would cost $5 million — "awfully expensive for a beauty contest."

Chris Thomas, state elections director, said the two-tiered election could be handled by state and local elections officials.

ART ON THE EDGE

STAFF PHOTOS BY SHARON LEMIEUX

Out of necessity: The first abstract mirror Sheri Nudell made was out of a need for one in her bedroom. Now she makes and sells them at design studios.

Glass colors artist's work

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

Sheri Nudell fuses sheets of glass into platters and bowls that deal with painterly issues. Combining geometric and organic shapes, she orchestrates a kaleidoscope of color to form imagery influenced by nature.

"In glass, I have found excitement, challenge and endless possibilities that no other medium could offer me," said the Center for Creative Studies glass student in an interview at her Farmington Hills home. "I like how the iridescent glasses give off a shine, how the light passes through. I like watching the progression, the different stages."

"I like cutting the glass. I like watching the image evolve. It's always a surprise when I open the kiln."

Glass first piqued Nudell's interest two years ago while attending Michigan State University in East Lansing as a pharmacology student. She tells the story of passing a stained-glass shop one day, stopping in to find out what it was all about — and after producing her first piece of jewelry, becoming hooked on glass.

Since then, Nudell has advanced to fusing the glass platters and bowls based on nature. Chin-strap penguin, panda bear, zebra and open-mouthed shark snap to life in her glass work.

"Being outdoors in an open field or forest always gives me a magical feeling. By combining the two, glass and nature, I try to convey that feeling in my work," she said. Nudell's abstract shark platter will soon proliferate into a signed and numbered series of 10.

"Sheri uses the format of the platter as a form of painterly expression. In her work, she's chosen to deal with painterly issues as opposed to just decorative art," said Herb Babcock, chairman of the glass and crafts departments at Center for Creative Studies in Detroit.

The element of surprise when working with hot glass necessitates that Nudell keep a technical diary, listing kiln temperatures, colors of glass, designs, and kiln shelf arrangement and spacing for each of the pieces she produces.

"I see each of my pieces as a little experiment. It's a step up the ladder to more architectural glass, to larger work, to sculptural furniture pieces, and it all started from the little jewelry pieces."

Ideas for future glass works come to Nudell at all hours of the day and night. She visits the library often to trigger her imagination.

"I get ideas from everywhere. I started carrying a little notebook with me to record them. A lot of the animal ideas come from picture books at the library."

The idea for her abstract mirrors sprang from necessity. She needed a mirror for her bedroom, so she made one for herself. When a friend came over and saw it, she wanted one. Before long she was producing several a week and selling them in design studios around town. It wasn't long after that, that she came up with the idea for a matching perfume tray.

Two half-spheres of black, white and mauve glasses compose the abstract wall sculpture that hangs in the hallway outside her studio door. Its lyrical line keeps the viewer's eye moving around the work.

"It's all fused together like a giant puzzle." Nudell's come a long way from that first stained-glass class in East Lansing. After gradu-

Hannibals want album, will travel

■ It sounds more like a vacation plan than what it takes to produce an album. The Hannibals started in Detroit, moved to Canton, then headed for Lancaster, Pa. A lot of miles but well worth the end result, "This Midwestern."

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Sit in on a recording/mixing session with The Hannibals and you'll learn quickly that it wasn't an easy job finishing their new album "This Midwestern."

Drummer Matt Aljian is trying to spice up the song "Shine It Does" with shaker noises from a glass jar filled with popcorn kernels.

After failing numerous times to get the seeds to fall exactly right with the beat, the quartet and producer Matt King sigh and drop the idea. It looks frustrating but Aljian, formerly of Birmingham, has another word.

He's fallen victim to "shaker shock."

Aside from their minds, recording "This Midwestern" also took its toll on the quartet's vehicles. The East Lansing-based group recorded at the White Room studios in Detroit, finished recording and mixing in Pearl Sound in Canton Township, and then mastered it in Lancaster, Pa.

STREET BEATS

The recording was the end product of a three-part testing process. To prepare for the studio, the band performed all of the new songs during recent shows. Outside of gigs, The Hannibals practiced in their basements to "make sure all the part were working well," said singer Chris Johnston. Afterward, they rehearsed upstairs with acoustic guitars to polish the harmonies.

"You play them live and everything sounds good," said Johnston. "But until you get them stripped down and you can hear what everyone is doing, you want to make sure that (a) the notes are working with each other and (b) you're not singing the same thing."

"We always try to sing harmonies as opposed to just doubling voices."

Third album

"This Midwestern" follows on the heels of two critically acclaimed albums, "Monkey Suit" and "From Can to Can't," and an EP "Hereafter." (A song from the EP, "Harbor in the Shine," appears on the soon-to-be released AIDS benefit CD "Naked Rhythm" on Steam Records.) Johnston said the group didn't feel pressured in making the follow-up.

"There wasn't any hesitation of, 'Well, will this be better than 'Monkey Suit'?' If it wasn't going to be better than 'Monkey Suit' we wouldn't have even started. We wanted to do something better," said Johnston, a former Birmingham resident.

To diversify its sound, the group hired, for the first time, outside musicians to play pedal steel guitar, flute and Hammond organ. The Hannibals feel it paid off.

"It gives the album more texture," Johnston said.

The name, "This Midwestern," gives more insight into the album's sound as well, he added.

"We wanted it to sound true to what we are and what we do. That is a Midwestern, in particular a Michigan band. We wanted to sound natural and true to what we've grown up listening to and what kind of music you'd expect to come out of the four of us."

Guitarist Chris Geherin said the album is softer yet fuller than the last efforts.

"We've taken the quieter side and let it go a little more to that end. We've done one song completely acoustic which we've done in the past but not as seriously. There's another quiet song with some different instrumentation," Geherin said.

The Hannibals' caring about instrumentation has apparently paid off throughout their career. In March, the group participated in the South by Southwest music conference in Austin, Texas. Last year the group played in the College Music Journal Music Marathon.

Full-time job

The band is a full-time job to most of the members of the band, which also includes bassist Scott Owens. Johnston takes care of the booking, Aljian takes care of distribution, and Geherin handles managerial and legal matters. Geherin also writes most of the lyrics.

None of that garners much money for members of The Hannibals.

"We're extremely poor; the amount of hours that we work (compared to) what we get paid is miniscule. But it's been good. You learn to live on not much money. Your priorities get straightened out a bit," Johnston said.

But, he added, he's hoping others appreciate the time and effort put into The Hannibals and "This Midwestern."

"After four years of playing out, we've developed a pretty good name for ourselves other than Detroit, East Lansing, Ann Arbor." There are a lot of people waiting for the album — at least we think," Johnston said.

The Hannibals will celebrate the release of "This Midwestern" at Industry, 15 S. Saginaw, in Pontiac, on Thursday, April 8, with a party and mainstage performance. For more information, call 334-1999. To order a copy of the AIDS benefit CD "Naked Rhythm" call Steam Records at 1-800-795-8403.

Stereo MC's connect with 'Connected'

STAFF WRITER

"Elevate your mind and your body will follow."

That spin on the Parliament/Funkadelic song title could be the new motto for the dance band Stereo MC's. Keeping its free-spirited yet socially conscious lyrics, the London, England, group evolved musically for its third album to connect further with its audience.

Brit sound:

Stereo MC's include Andrea, Owen and Verona (top row, from left) Rob B., Nick a.k.a. "The Head" and Cath Coffey (bottom row, from left).

"With 'Connected,' we had a lot of musical ideas. We ended up trying to take them a great deal further," rapper Rob B. explained about his group's latest album.

DJ and remixer The Head agreed.

"This album has still got all those influences — from reggae to dance to rap to soul to funk to whatever — but because we are using live musicians instead of samples and made up the parts instead of taking the parts of records, it's really developed into something more of a representation of what we are about," he said.

"Connected" is the follow-up release to 1990's "Supernatural" which spawned the Top 40 hit "Elevate My Mind," the first UK rap single to place high on Billboard charts. During the single's reign, Rob B. explained, the press misunderstood the group's mission.

"We don't see ourselves as a rap group," he said. "We see ourselves as a group. We pay all our respects to the people who started rap, funk, reggae, and soul music.

"We have total respect for rap music in America. We know we got nothing to do with the American rap scene. We're doing our music and anybody who wants to check it out is welcome to check it out."

That's part of the group's mission — to bring people together, he said.

"We try to get as many people as we can on the same train of thought. I don't think we're saying anything different. I think it can get through to a lot of people. uplift people and give people strength."

Stereo MC's opens for Jesus Jones at the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward, Detroit, Friday, April 16. Tickets are $17.50 in advance; $20 at the door. Showtime is 8 p.m. Tickets for the show scheduled at The Palace of Auburn Hills are good for main floor general admission at the State. Refunds for The Palace show will be available until April 11 only. Call 961-5451 or 645-6666 for more information.

Strange chemistry works for Malone and Nootcheez

Yuke, yuke:
For more than 20 years, Dennis "D.C." Malone and Hampton Nootcheez have proven that their brand of musical mayhem and strange chemistry works.

BY BOB SADLER
SPECIAL WRITER

Burns and Allen, Abbott and Costello, Laurel and Hardy, Hope and Crosby, Rowan and Martin, The Smothers Brothers.

History is full of great comedy duos. However, with the advent of one-mike comedy and countless cable stand-up shows, the comedy duo has become something of a vanishing breed.

Enter Malone and Nootcheez. At the risk of sounding overly cliched, these guys are just plain funny. They've been in the comedy biz for more than 20 years, and their brand of musical mayhem and strange chemistry works.

To give you an idea of this strange chemistry, take a picture of this. In this corner Dennis "D.C." Malone is 6 feet, 5 inches tall and weighs in at 250 pounds. He looks like a cross between Metallica and the World Wrestling Federation. In fact, his original nickname was a play on the whole wrestling thing — "Pacyclone" Malone. Now entering the ring, Hampton Nootcheez (surprisingly not his real name), who comes in and is immediately dwarfed by his much larger partner. His name was conceived in a bar after a few Bloody Marys and a couple rounds of breadsticks immersed in a unique cheese dip — so fresh it was dubbed "new cheese." The Hampton part was inspired by jazz luminary Lionel Hampton.

Malone and Nootcheez were not originally a comedy duo. They actually started out as part of a group of street musicians in Toronto.

"We played Frank Zappa songs and wrote songs that sounded like Frank Zappa songs," said Malone of the early days.

Later, after the group was pared down to a mere two people, the seemingly mismatched duo made its way to Detroit, where they met a guy named Mark Ridley.

"Ridley had this great idea: He started this club, but he had no comedians," Malone recalled. "He decided to polish up some people. We were still doing our songs. He told us to throw out all the stuff that wasn't funny and do everything else. He was a genius."

This changeover in the act led to a weekly slot in Ridley's comedy lineup, along with the others who have since gone on to comic stardom (Tim Allen, Dave Coulier, etc.).

"They used to open for us; now they won't take our calls," Malone said, laughing.

Music still plays an integral part in the humor of Malone and Nootcheez. Dialogue ricochets back and forth and laughs come quickly.

"It's been called a Smothers Brothers routine at warp speed," Nootcheez said. "We like to start an actual song, intending to do it. We try to make it look natural like we're just goofing around."

"People have asked what kind of music we play," Malone added. "Basically, it boils down to folk alop, be-bop, rock, pop and jazz."

It's been a long time coming, but the duo makes a homecoming of sorts this week. Malone, in particular, is happy to be back.

"We're returning to our roots and origins in Detroit at Mark Ridley's," he said.

Malone and Nootcheez appear Tuesday through Sunday, April 6-10, at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle, 269 E. Fourth, Royal Oak. Call 542-9900 for reservations.

at the mike...

>Welcome Back Cotten... You may have seen him hosting Fox's "Comic Strip Live." Wayne Cotten, no relation to the Gabriel Kaplan character still alive in television syndication (besides that's Kotten with a K), plays the MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor April 8-10. Call 996-9080 for reservations.

King of the Dust-mites... He's weird. He's wacky. He's local. Birmingham native Heywood Banks, now a resident of Howell, does another engagement at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle in Royal Oak April 13-17. Call 542-9900 for reservations.

The Cure for Your Tax Time Blues... Here's a guy who makes a living out of just plain being annoying or is that just his voice? You've seen him as a host of USA Network's "Up All Night" and in a number of movie appearances, most recently in "Aladdin" as a bird with an annoying voice. Gilbert Gottfried stops by MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor for a one-nighter on April 15. Call 996-9080 for reservations.

She's back again, pigs!... Capping off an impressive April lineup, Judy Tenuta - definitely an acquired taste - appears at MainStreet in Ann Arbor on April 28-29. That number again is 996-9080.

'Falling' without political correctness

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

In 1968, Burt Lancaster starred in "The Swimmer." He played a disillusioned ad exec who decides it's time to walk home even though his home and family no longer exist. He stops for dips in various private and public pools along the way, all with their own memories.

Michael Douglas' character in "Falling Down," en route to his daughter's birthday party through a labyrinth of urban obstacles, is a "Swimmer" for the '90s. While the ethnic stereotypes he encounters and questionable politics he espouses have many critics up in arms, you'll be hard pressed to find a bolder statement coming from Hollywood this year.

It begins with Michael Douglas as a white-shirted Everyman stuck in a steamy L.A. traffic jam. It's bad enough that his air conditioning and window handle don't work. He also has to look at suction cup-footed Garfields, inane bumper stickers and cellular phone callers through his dirty windshield.

Mad as hell and unable to take it anymore, he ditches his car and begins walking. When someone asks where he's going, he simply replies, "I'm going home."

Armed only with a suitcase and the pens poking up from his pocket protector, the man (known only by his personalized license plate D-FENS) enters a small Korean-run grocery to get change for the phone. In a spontaneous act of vigilantism, D-FENS objects to the store owner's refusal to make change and the inflated price of a can of Classic Coke by smashing up the place with a baseball bat.

This early scene, which has offended many Korean-Americans, just begins a list of the nation's perceived ills that D-FENS encounters and often violently solves. The homeless, savings and loans, fastfood, street gangs, needless government spending, neo-Nazis, plastic surgery and private golf courses all meet with D-FENS' wrath.

And agree with him or not, this is what makes "Falling Down" so utterly fascinating. If 20 years from now you had to research a movie that sums up rabid white urban paranoia in post-Rodney King L.A., look no further.

I originally steered clear of this movie (which opened almost a month ago) because of Michael Douglas, who I've long considered a pale shadow of his great actor/father Kirk. Here, ticking away beneath the nerdy engineer's facade, he comes as close as he ever will to matching the old man's intensity. At times he's simply astounding.

The movie is full of talented people, both in front of and behind the camera. Barbara Hershey plays D-FENS' frightened ex-wife, who realizes that she is at the end of his cross-town trek. Frederic Forrest supplies a bizarre, Dennis Hopper-style rendering of a neo-Nazi army surplus store owner.

Robert Duvall, as the policeman Prendergast on his last day on the force, and Tuesday Weld, as his nagging wife, seem almost superfluous, but provide a breather from D-FENS' intense odyssey. It becomes a matter of pride that Prendergast crack this final case.

If you have a comment for John Monaghan, call him at 953-2047, mailbox number 1866, on a touch tone phone, or write him care of Street Scene, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Who says? D-FENS (Michael Douglas) is confronted by two gang members in a scene from "Falling Down."

MUSIC NOTES

"My name is Prince and I am funky."

That's how Prince opened his show Thursday at the Fox Theatre in Detroit. It's not like the 5,000 screaming fans didn't already know that.

From then on, the show, which included a loose plot about a king's daughter falling for Prince, turned into a three-hour dance fest. Prince and his pistol-shaped microphone backed by a 16-piece band/entourage covered much of his 15-year career. From "Sexy MF" to "7" to "Let's Go Crazy," Prince and his 10 costume changes kept the sold-out vogue audience on its feet.

Prince's overtly sexual demeanor sometimes weighed heavily on the show but that didn't seem to bother his fans.

Rhythm and blues band the Sun Messengers gathered three nominations to lead the list of 1993 Motor City Music Award Nominees announced recently.

The awards, hosted by WLLZ's Ken Calvert, will be presented on Thursday, April 8, at the State Theatre in Detroit. Tickets are on sale at TicketMaster outlets.

Other bands receiving multiple nominations were Damn Yankees, DC Drive, The Goldenstones, Tramaine, The Charm Farm, George Beddard, Red C, Me Phi Me, Straight Ahead, Gangster Fun, Goober & The Peas, Marcus Belgrave, Roy Brooks, The Winans and War on Sin.

The recording studios, The White Room and The Tempermill, received two nominations each.

The second annual awards ceremony will also feature performances by Brotherhood Recipee, former Southfield resident Keith Washington, Ted Nugent, Alexander Zonjic, The Chisel Bros., The Clark Sisters and country star Dennis Robbins, formerly of the Rockets. For more information call 961-5451 or 932-2510.

MsX — "The Ladies Came To Rock!"

The ladies came to rock and that they did.

The first release from Detroit's latest garage-rock band is surprising not because it was independently recorded and released, or that there are only six cuts on this release. No, the big catch is the quality of the music.

Starting with the leading brash track "The Ladies Came to Rock'n'roll" to the ending blues cut "Shirt & Tie," the tracks carry out a solid balance of strong electric guitar and bass combined with full vocals that compliment one another. The song topics are primarily rock-love anthems with elementary verses which weigh the music down.

Overall, these ladies are ready to rock and should not be ignored.

Best Kissers in the World — "Puddin'"

For the hundredth time, no we don't know if they live up to their name. The music, however, will make you pucker. The sweet, blazing guitars, clever lyrics, and intense stage presence is what kept the audience moshing during their opening stint with School of Fish recently at St. Andrew's Hall in Detroit. It'll keep you going through the entire length of the five-song EP, too, which includes the first single "Pickin' Flowers For."

Double feature — "Ship of Fools" (USA — 1965) and "Strike up the Band" (USA — 1940), starting at 7 p.m. April 9-10. Stanley Kramer produced and directed "Ship," adapted from the Katherine Anne Porter novel and featuring an all-star cast. Vivien Leigh, Jose Ferrer, Lee Marvin, and Oskar Werner in this soap opera set before World War II. "Band" stars Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland competing on Paul Whiteman's radio show. Directed by Busby Berkeley.

■ DETROIT FILM THEATRE
Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call 833-2323 for information. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"Danzon" (Mexico — 1991), 7 and 9:30 p.m. April 9-10, 4 and 7 p.m. April 11. A 40-something single mother juggles her job as a telephone operator with her love of a traditional Caribbean dance called the danzon.

■ MAPLE THEATER

"Strictly Ballroom" (Australia — 1992). A rebel dance champion is being stifled by the "strictly ballroom" rules imposed at a local dance competition. Not surprisingly, he falls in love with his dance partner in this colorful and music-filled Aussie hit.

"Mac" (USA — 1993). John Turturro makes his directorial debut in this moving story of three Italian brothers who try to cash in on the residential construction boom in the 1950s. A heartfelt tribute to Turturro's father handled with charm and insight.

■ STAR JOHN R
32289 John R. (at 14 Mile), Madison Heights. Call 585-2070 for show times. ($6 evenings; $3.75 twilight)

"Let's Kill all the Lawyers" (USA — 1993). Local filmmaker Ron Senkowski takes on the legal profession in this one-joke comedy filmed on location in Detroit and Ann Arbor. Talented stage actors James Vezina and Rick Frederick play a shameless shyster and his apprentice who watch their colleagues bite the dust. Occasionally clever but mostly a trial.

POINTS OF VIEW

An open mind helps preserve our democracy

My father was born in Scotland, and I proudly fly his beautiful golden flag with its royal red Scottish lion in my front yard. But it waves there in the wind beneath the Stars and Stripes, because I'm a Scot second and an American first.

I am also a former teacher and coach of champion track teams in Detroit's inner city. Scores of my students became top professionals in many fields due in part to my efforts to secure college scholarships for them.

When ultimately I moved into administration, I was soon promoted a second time — mid-year — to an inner-city high school department chairmanship from my junior high school department head job in that same neighborhood. The junior high's white principal had recently been ousted by a turbulent community, so I had to be summoned back to the the junior high the following week to reassure a student multitude camped out in front of the new black principal's office that I had indeed been promoted, rather than fired because I was white.

When Detroit's affirmative action promotion policies finally spurred me to leave Detroit in 1969 to accept a suburban high school assistant principalship, Free Press sportswriter Hal Schram mourned my departure under the headline, "Inner city loses the good doctor." My former athletes asserted in print that I had "brought out the best" in them.

Several times during the following decades, I tried to return — the last time as a candidate for Detroit's superintendency. Later, as Rochester Schools' assistant superintendent, I recruited black administrators despite the raucous protests of community bigots.

One of those superb administrators — assistant principal Gene Seaborn of

JOHN TELFORD

99 percent white Hart Middle School — would come in to school at 6:30 a.m. to shoot baskets with a troubled eighth-grader he was trying to help.

When I retired from Rochester Schools in 1991, hundreds of my inner-city Detroit athletes attended the retirement dinner, including a Baltimore doctor who flew in to speak.

Now comes Kwame Kenyatta, a new Detroit School Board member who voted against pledging allegiance to the flag at board meetings. This is the same flag that Martin Luther King revered. Which flag would Kenyatta then salute — the red, black and green of African nationalism? The Stars and Bars the Old South raised in defense of slavery?

Our Stars and Stripes symbolize that very same American democracy which guards Kenyatta's freedom and upholds his right to express his views.

Kenyatta also is urging Detroit parents to boycott an academy to be opened next fall by Jesuit priests to teach black males. He claims that whites aren't qualified to teach black students. Perhaps he doesn't think that blacks should be teaching white students, either.

Gene Seaborn and I are living, breathing evidence disproving such ethnocentric thinking, which brings escalating evil to this troubled land, including institutional racism and recent rioting and a devastating terrorist bombing.

We must unite to counter the views of Kwame Kenyatta and others like him, such as David Duke and Louis Farrakhan and Nidal Ayyad, one of the accused World Trade Center bombers.

Whatever our cultural origins, all citizens of our multicultural country are going to have to start regarding ourselves — and each other — as Americans first.

John Telford, a Rochester Hills resident, most recently was assistant superintendent in the Rochester district. He previously was executive director for secondary education in the Plymouth-Canton Schools. To leave a message for Telford from a Touch-Tone phone, dial 953-2047, mailbox 1879.

Teachers fed up with boss' obscure language

For a long time I thought it was just me. Being a seventh generation redneck, I don't tend to believe much in philosophers, other than Hank Williams Jr., or look for more inspiration than you can receive while fly fishing or spending an evening with Jack Daniels.

But it's not just me. In a recent column, I tossed a few barbs at the intellectual mush mouthed by educational philosophers and lamented that for the money we're paying these guys to educate our kids, they can at the very least speak English instead of education-alese.

My own poor kid who attends Livonia schools cringed when he saw the column. He figured it would be another bad week with his teachers because of the column. Usually his bad weeks are brought on by nobody but himself.

I figured I'd receive a few hate letters from teachers and others, publish them and put the thing to rest. I don't like to cover the same turf more than once.

Newspaper columns can be boring enough, this one included, without covering the same landscape two weeks in a row.

But I had to do it. It was the teachers who called and persuaded me. And their calls weren't nasty. They all liked the column.

Here's a sampling.

■ From George Zeff of Southfield, a former educator. "I admire your educational philosophy."

David Juhnke of Plymouth Township, a former educator who is now in industry, called to say he's glad the Observer is taking on the bureaucracy.

JEFF COUNTS

"I was about to give up on the Observer with its liberal views."

I also received the following letter from Bob Kroeger:

Your article on our educational philosophers was wonderful. I really can't thank you enough for exposing them and their claptrap. Everyone here at Plymouth Salem High School I have talked to agrees with you 100 percent.

Please understand that the overwhelming majority of us teachers do not buy what is being pushed on us. It is the grandiose idea of a few who think they have infinite wisdom. It is sad, no tragic, that educational decisions are made most of all of the time by people who have never taught or have not been in the classroom in 20 or more years.

One teacher in the Plymouth Canton schools, who didn't want to be named, called to say that the problem with some school administrators is that they are really wannabe college professors. The caller said: "I've had the same feeling in meetings that you have. I don't know what these guys are talking about and neither do a lot of other teachers."

MY TURN: Hopefully parents and teachers can join forces and press the school administrators in their communities to speak English and make their ideas clear to the public.

What are the chances? Not too good. Colleges of education seem to be pumping out these muzzed mouthed clones on an assembly line basis. Being an educational philosopher has got to be a good job. The task is to predict what schools should be like in 10 to 20 years. The only trouble is most of these guys will be retired by the time anybody gets to test their predictions.

Marshmallow drop set Friday at Nankin Mills

Wayne County Parks will hold the annual marshmallow drop on Good Friday, April 9.

Some 20,000 marshmallows will be dropped from a helicopter and youngsters are invited to pick up as many as they can and turn them in for a prize-filled Easter egg.

Youngsters will be divided up into age groups to give the littlest ones a better chance to collect their share.

The event will be held twice on Good Friday, at 9 a.m. at Elizabeth Park in Trenton and at 11 a.m. at Nankin Mills in Westland.

If the event has to be canceled due to bad weather, it will be held April 10.

'Antarctica' at Science Center

The OMNIMAX film "Antarctica" will be shown at the Detroit Science Center through June 18.

The giant screen is 67.5 feet in diameter, tilted and domed to provide audiences with a sense of actually being there.

The science center is open 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 12-5 p.m. weekends.

The movie is shown every half hour. Admission is $6.50 for human beings 13 and older, and $4.50 for human beings 12 and under.

Group rates are available. Call 577-8400.

Kay Beard to meet with D.C. officials

Wayne County Commission Vice Chair Kay Beard, a Democrat representing Westland and Garden City, travels to Washington D.C. next week for a conference on employment and education.

Beard was invited by U.S. Secretary of Labor Robert Reich and Secretary of Education Richard Riley because she chairs the employment steering committee of the National Association of Counties.

The idea of the conference is to promote President Bill Clinton's program to begin "strengthening the connection between summer jobs and education" for teenagers. The conference will occur April 13 and 14.

Beard said she is "very excited to have the opportunity to have this involvement on the national level."

Vision for state economy

Speakers say it's time to lead, gain control for future

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER
They aren't calling it the power of positive thinking, but that's what it is.

Michigan Future, Inc. prefers to refer to it as "vision," but the idea is a lot like what the Lost Boys recommended to Peter Pan so he could fly. "Think happy thoughts."

That was the message last week as Michigan Supreme Court Justice James Brickley and Michigan Future project director Louis Glazer had a long talk with about 90 officials from cities, school districts, churches and businesses at an Oakland Community College seminar, encouraging them to think positive thoughts about the state economy.

The premise is that our economy is in flux, and the low-skill, high-wage, assembly-line jobs are giving way to high-skill, high-wage jobs that require workers to have a lot more decision-making authority than they've had in the past.

The problem is that Michigan residents don't have a good idea of where they're headed in the future. The answer is to get a "vision" of what we want society and the economy to look like, then work really hard to get there.

Michigan, Glazer said, can either get with the program and be a "leader" as these changes occur, or be left behind floundering with everyone else who doesn't know or care what's happening.

"There's something going on out there and it isn't just the fact that autos aren't selling this year," said Glazer.

(Glazer was filling in for Michigan Future director and founder Doug Ross, who has taken a leave of absence to become the assistant secretary for employment and training under U.S. Secretary of Labor Robert Reich.)

Justice Brickley, who is on the Michigan Future board, said it's "far better that we be prepared for something that's inevitable, but also that we play a leadership role (and) have a vision of what it is that we're shooting for. We want to control our future and not be a victim of it."

Brickley and Glazer admit to being short on specifics regarding how everything should change, but they figure that "people's ingenuities are wonderful in figuring out how to get there," said Glazer, adding that the Michigan Future plan "is a work in progress."

Audience members seemed impressed with the Michigan Future idea.

Sister Regina Marie Doelker, the principal of Mercy High School in Farmington Hills, said "it's good to hear people looking at something in a positive way."

J. Cristy Osborn, a candidate for Southfield mayor, said she came to the seminar completely ignorant of what Michigan Future is, but left the auditorium calling the plan "an excellent program. This (presentation) has restored my faith in mankind." Having a good vision, she said, is "90 percent of the battle."

Osborn's campaign manager, Sally Tilley, is a gym teacher in Allen Park schools. The students there, she said, "don't have any vision. You see it every day. They don't think they're going to be around for a very long time."

Like nothing you've ever seen before.

More money than ever before!

Bonus Lotto starts with a guaranteed $4 million jackpot - and rolls over by $4 million every time!

More chances to win!

Players win the Grand Prize by matching the 6 numbers drawn from 47. BUT, if you don't match all six, there are still more chances to win. Because a 7th ball is then drawn - called the Bonus Ball. The Bonus Ball gives players even more chances to win more cash prizes. Here's how:

Match all 6 numbers drawn and you win the Jackpot!

Match 5 of the 6 numbers drawn plus the bonus ball and you win $50,000!

Match 4 of the 6 numbers drawn plus the bonus ball and you win $1,000!

Match 3 of the 6 numbers drawn plus the bonus ball and you win $100!

Match 2 of the 6 numbers drawn plus the bonus ball and you win $4.

$2 is all it takes!

Each Bonus Lotto wager costs $2.00 and is valid for the next Lotto drawing unless multiple drawings are selected. If multiple draws are played, a player can play up to 20 consecutive draws.

One drawing, once a week!

Bonus Lotto drawings are now held just once a week - every Saturday at 7:30 p.m. on the Megabucks television show. Check your local television listings for the television station in your area.

Deputies fear feud between exec, sheriff

STAFF WRITER

Whose deputies are they anyway?

While county Executive Edward McNamara and Sheriff Robert Ficano joust about who controls the 95 deputies at Metro Airport, the deputies themselves are getting nervous.

Sgt. Bob Sheldon, president of Local 3317 representing the department's sergeants and lieutenants, said his men are "afraid" and "don't want to be in the middle. There's a lot of apprehension right now."

Ficano has spoken to all the deputies, Sheldon said, "putting more fear into our members. We don't care who we work for as long as we have our jobs. We don't want to be in the middle."

Ficano blames longtime foe McNamara: "Apparently, the vendetta continues," he said. "It's too bad that government has to be run by confrontation. He just wants to control (the airport deputies)."

The conflict stems from Metro Airport Director Robert Braun's consideration of a separate police force for the airport, currently patrolled by 95 sheriff's deputies.

Braun says Ficano hinders airport security by countermanning orders to deputies and otherwise not cooperating with what airport management wants.

Ficano says that's not true and that McNamara ordered the creation of a separate airport police force just to strip Ficano of some of his cops. (Last year McNamara tried to unseat Ficano by heavily financing Redford resident Kevin Kelley in the Democratic primary for sheriff.)

'It's too bad that government has to be run by confrontation. He just wants to control (the airport deputies).'

Robert Ficano
sheriff

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara is a player in the conflict which stems from the consideration of a separate police force for the airport.

ent, he said, if Ficano said all Catholic officers would be stripped of their police powers.

"There's no reason to threaten (deputies) like that," Cox said. "He's causing a lot of apprehension within our rank and file."

Although the officers patrolling Metro are sheriff's department personnel, the airport budget covers the $8 million annual expense of keeping them there, Braun said. That money could be used to form a separate airport police force, Braun said, using the same men and women who are already there.

But Ficano, Braun said, has lately taken to claiming his authority over the deputies working at Metro and "countermanded certain of our orders. We have some fundamental disagreements."

The last straw, according to Braun, came when Ficano spoke to the Metro detail, calling himself "the 800-pound gorilla" in a threatening way and asserting his authority over them.

Ficano says, "I don't recall making that remark," but union president Sheldon said he did.

Cox also believes Ficano made the statement. "A lot of my rank and file said that the statement was said," he said.

However, Cox and Sheldon both stressed they aren't taking sides in the argument. "We lose if we choose a side and oppose one or the other," Cox said.

"We take a chance of being harmed. We're professional police officers and we'll do our jobs regardless of the bosses." (Both unions supported Kevin Kelley in the Democratic primary for sheriff last year.)

State and federal law gives airport directors authority over law enforcement at the airport, and state law gives those directors the right to form airport police forces.

Conversely, Ficano points to the Michigan Constitution, which says county sheriffs are in charge of all deputies.

However, an airport operating agreement Ficano and McNamara signed last year says, "The Airport Sheriff Division, through the Sheriff, will be controlled and directed by the (airport) Director."

Both sides agree the airport deputies are doing a good job and say their main concern is public safety and that the other side is jeopardizing it.

"The bigger issue is obviously public safety," Ficano said. "To play politics with this would be disastrous."

But Ficano has told deputies that any of them who transfer to an airport police force will be stripped of their police powers if they return to the sheriff's department, making them virtually useless as cops.

Deputy Don Cox, the president of Local 502 representing all sheriff's deputies, said the union will take Ficano to court if he tries that. It wouldn't be much differ-

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

For cleaning, cooking, the answer is a lemon

Pucker up, sweetie! They say that spring has finally arrived. Although I've yet to put away the old snow blower, I firmly believe that winter has pretty much passed us by. Now is the time to begin enjoying the fruits of spring and summer, especially fresh lemons.

In all honesty, I enjoy using lemons year-round. I douse sauteed flank steak with lemon juice when creating a Janes family favorite — fajitas, and even marinate chicken in it for Chinese stir-fry. I relish the smell of freshly grated lemon rind, and use it to perk up cheesecakes and Caesar salad.

I wouldn't think of not inserting a few slices of lemon when pan-frying fish, and I relish the lemony aroma that fills the kitchen after I shove a lemon down the garbage disposal.

Juicy history

Lemons were grown in Italy as early as the first century. We know this because lemons are depicted in certain Roman artworks of that period. After barbarians invaded Italy in the fourth century wide destruction of lemon orchards virtually stopped all lemon agriculture. They popped up again in Spain around the start of the 11th century.

Christopher Columbus brought lemons to Haiti in 1493, and Spanish explorers, including Ponce DeLeon, brought them to Florida in 1512.

Medicinal value

By 1600, some of the naval physicians of the major world powers were aware that daily rations of lemon juice prevented outbreaks of scurvy among sailors of long sea voyages. Lemons were used because they stayed fresh for up to six months whereas oranges usually spoiled within three weeks.

The California lemon industry began shortly after the Gold Rush of 1849. Miners also ate lemons to prevent scurvy caused by the lack of fresh fruits and vegetables.

By the time railroads were put into place in the 1860s, transportation to populated East Coast cities made California the world's leading lemon producer.

Rivalled by the Italian lemon industry, California still leads the nation, and even beats out Florida, for the best lemons produced anywhere.

With more than half the North American lemon crop being processed into lemon juice and frozen concentrates, you can visit any market and see an abundance of fresh lemons in the middle of a cold winter as well as on a hot summer's eve. Store lemons in the refrigerator in a plastic bag for up to two weeks.

The peel, pulp and seeds are sold throughout North America and used to make lemon oil, lemon wax, fragrances, bioflavonoids (vitamin substances) and cattle feed ingredients.

Cleaning up

Yours truly likes to make real lemonade, (see recipe inside) and frequently uses lemon juice in place of vinegar when making salad dressings.

With the industry leaning away from wood cutting boards toward the newer, and harder to clean, Polyethylene, I've taken to rubbing a cut lemon over my chopping board at least once a week.

Not trying to sound like helpful Heloise, I don't have a fan in my bathroom, and the wallpaper was getting a little moldy in the corners. I didn't want to use bleach for cleaning because it would have whitened the paper. I took some bottled lemon juice, poured it onto an old rag, and wiped the mildew away. Not only did it not bleach the wallpaper, but the old bathroom smelled great! Caution, test a small unnoticeable area before trying to do this at home.

Here's another tip from the Old Farmer's Almanac "Hearth & Home Companion, 1993" — to remove cloudy mineral deposits from drinking glasses, put one tablespoon of lemon juice in each glass and fill with hot water. Let stand for several hours, then wash.

One of the neatest tricks I ever saw using a lemon was when Guiliano Bugialli, the famed Italian chef, was conducting a class at Kitchen Glamour. He needed about ¼ cup of fresh lemon rind, and placed a sheet of kitchen parchment paper over the fine grating edge of a hand grater.

The rind was easily removed from the paper and the grater never needed a wash as the parchment was never cut, but acted as a grating surface.

With spring knocking at our doors, now would be a great time to pick up a few lemons and create something that reeks of warm weather. Bon Appetit!

Celebrate Easter

FOCUS ON WINE

ELEANOR & RAY HEALD

(W.W. Norton & Co., New York) got us thinking with their subtitle, "Wine, Pasta, Olive Oil, and a Long Healthy Life." Late last year, "The French Paradox and Beyond" by Perdue, Marton, and Shoemaker, (Renaissance Publishing, Calif.) triggered the same reaction with the subtitle "Live Longer with Wine & the Mediterranean Lifestyle." There's probably no better time than Easter to take a broad look at a classic Mediterranean diet. The specific Mediterranean focus is Greek food and wine for an authentic Easter menu. There may be no better authority on the subject of Greek feasting than Diane Kochilas who has authored "The Food and Wine of Greece" (St. Martin's Press, New York, 1990).

Kochilas grew up in the United States, but now lives in Athens. She was in the United States earlier this year for the 1993 International Conference on the Diets of the Mediterranean at the Harvard School of Public Health.

The optimal, traditional Mediterranean diet consists of the following foods in decreasing quantities consumed daily — breads and grains, including pasta, rice, couscous, polenta and bulgur, fruits, vegetables, beans (or other legumes and nuts), cheese, yogurt and other dairy products, olive oil and olives.

Following the Mediterranean tradition, one to two glasses per day of wine can be enjoyed primarily with meals. Again in decreasing amounts — fish, poultry and eggs and sweets are eaten a few times per week. Lean red meats are consumed a few times per month.

GREEK style

Greeks invented the Olympic Games and their Mediterranean diet is lean and healthy. There's no better time than Easter to discover some classic Greek dishes.

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

For Greek wines of quality the nod goes to J. Boutari & Son for three wines all priced at $7: 1991 Boutari Kretikos, a deliciously crisp white wine; 1990 Boutari Naoussa, a very dry, flavorful red that will harmonize with lamb; and 1990 Boutari Nemea that is full and robust, but with soft tannins to pair it well with spinach pie.

A traditional Greek Easter meal would include fresh lettuce salad, classic spinach pie filled with fresh spring herbs, colored eggs, roast leg of lamb or spit-roasted lamb or goat, roasted potatoes, Easter bread, and for dessert, Kaltsounia Cretis (sweet cheese pastries from Crete) or Melitina Santorinis (sweet cheese tarts from Santorini).

In Greece, the preparation of Easter foods begins on Holy (Maundy) Thursday. Coloring eggs is part of the tradition. "In fact," says Kochilas, "the day is sometimes called Kokkinopefti, or the day on which the red falls." Greek Easter eggs are dyed the color of blood, deep red, a practice that began in Byzantium. Once colored, they are polished with a cloth dipped in olive oil.

The color symbolizes the blood of Jesus Christ, but the egg itself is symbolic of life, rebirth and spring. The eggs are eaten to break the Lenten fast, after the midnight Mass on Holy Saturday.

They are also used to decorate the Tsoureki or Lambropsomo, traditional Greek Easter bread which is made from three long dough ropes, symbolizing the Holy Trinity. The dough is braided and sometimes sprinkled with sesame seeds or almond slivers or decorated with dough designs.

Arni/Katsikaki Souvlas (spit-roasted whole baby lamb or goat) is synonymous with the classic Greek Easter meal. "It's more common on the mainland than on the islands," Kochilas said. "In the Aegean, generally, the classic Easter lamb or goat dish is stuffed whole with rice and herbs, and baked slowly, usually in the village wood-burning bread oven."

"Wine is a custom during meals in some Mediterranean countries," Dr. Dimitrios Trichopoulos, chairman of Epidemiology, Harvard School of Public Health said. "Drunk in moderation with meals, it reduces risk of coronary disease about as much as the regular taking of aspirin." Asked if the Mediterranean diet might be just as healthy if wine

Jewish community cookbooks feature Passover

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

If you're looking for something new to serve during Passover, and throughout the year, the National Council of Jewish Women and Sisterhood of Shaarey Zedek can help. Both groups recently published cookbooks filled with recipes for traditional favorites, and lots of new low-fat ones too.

Passover is an eight-day celebration of the liberation of ancient Hebrews from slavery in Egypt some 3,000 years ago. Tonight, the first day of Passover, Jewish families will celebrate with a feast called a seder. It is a ceremonial dinner marked by the retelling of the story of exodus from Egypt through prayers, songs and ceremonial foods.

No leavened bread is eaten during Passover. Other foods containing yeast or leavening agents are forbidden by Jewish law to be eaten during Passover. This is to remind Jews that they were forced to leave Egypt in a hurry, and couldn't wait for their bread dough to rise.

Although there are dietary restrictions, Passover is a happy time spent with family and friends reflecting on what it means to be free, and to practice your religion without fear.

DAN DEAN/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Passover foods: The Seder plate (left) contains matzo, hard-cooked egg, bitter herbs and roasted lamb shankbone, foods which recall the Jews' lives as slaves and escape to freedom. Crispy Potato Chicken, is one of the entrees featured in "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen."

"When I make the holiday dinner, I put so much love and attention into it that it's the richest, and most satisfying meal," said Dorie Shwedel, who contributed to "From Generation to Generation," a 400-page, hard-cover cookbook of more 700 kitchen-tested kosher recipes by members of the Sisterhood of Congregation Shaarey Zedek in Southfield.

The book is available by mail for $20, plus $3 postage and handling — Congregation Shaarey Zedek Sisterhood, 27375 Bell Road, Southfield

KEELY WYGONIK

Her customers at Grecian Tower Restaurant in Livonia call Sylvia Kaplantzes "the doctor." Whenever they get a cold, she prescribes bowls of lemony chicken soup that soothe and comfort their sniffling.

To her grandchildren she is "Ya Ya," grandma. "They love my Easter bread," she said. The braided sweet bread, decorated with a hard-cooked egg dyed red, is a work of art.

Sylvia made the bread to illustrate the Greek Easter story our wine columnists Ray and Eleanor Heald wrote. Always the perfectionist when it comes to cooking, Sylvia made an early Easter season trip to Greek town in Detroit to buy the special red dye to color the eggs.

A member of Nativity of the Virgin Mary Greek Orthodox Church in Plymouth Township Kaplantzes and her family celebrate Easter on April 18, a week later than the Western Christian churches, according to the Greek Orthodox rite.

Easter is a special time at the Kaplantzes. On Holy Saturday, Easter eve, the family attends midnight Mass. The Book of Acts is read at a simulated grave of Our Lord. Family members eat hard-cooked eggs after mass to break the Lenten fast. Cracking egg shells by hitting your egg against a family member's egg is part of the fun.

"Everytime we crack the eggs we say 'Christ is Risen,'" said Kaplantzes.

Sylvia and her husband Steven recently celebrated their 33rd wedding anniversary. They opened Grecian Tower Restaurant, 522-2807, at 31116 Five Mile Road, Livonia, 20 years ago.

If you don't have time to bake your own Greek Easter bread, visit Hellenic Market and Bakery at 33308 Seven Mile, 476-2080, just east of Farmington Road in Livonia.

They have Greek Easter bread, and a variety of other specialty Greek items including wines, and the dye to color Easter eggs were removed Trichopoulos said, "I don't think so."

Special thanks also to Wendy Wagenheim and Laurel Portner, co-chairwomen of the "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen," cookbook committee, for preparing the beautiful seder plate and crispy potato chicken that Dan Dean photographed for the Passover story.

With this positive intro, let's look at some Greek wines to accompany Kochilas' menu suggestions. Because Southeast Michigan has a significant Greek population and a number of fine Greek restaurants, it also has one of the largest selections of Greek wines.

More than half of Greece's vineyards are in the Peloponnese area producing more than a third of the country's wine. By far, the best wines here are red and from the Nemea region. The principal Nemea producer is a cooperative using the name Hercules.

The Naoussa region (west of Thessaloniki) in northern Greece has the best red wines and those produced by J. Boutari and Son top the list. Boutari is an established producer making wine in modern facilities in several appellations throughout Greece.

chairwoman Marilyn Karbal. "There's a kids chapter, which you hardly ever see in a cookbook, and the history of our synagogue. There are traditional, and modern recipes."

One of the unusual recipes is Israeli Charoset. This apple-nut-wine mixture symbolizes the mortar made to hold together the bricks the Jews produced while slaves in Egypt. (See recipe inside).

"Passover becomes a family reunion," said Wendy Wagenheim, who co-chaired the cookbook committee for "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen," with Laurel Portner. Recently published by the National Council of Jewish Women, Greater Detroit Section, the hardcover, spiral-bound cookbook is a collection of 400 kitchen-tested, recipes that are sensitive to the kosher cook.

"Still Fiddling in the Kitchen," is $15, plus $3 postage and handling, and available by mail from — NCJW-Greater Detroit Section, 30233 Southfield Road, Southfield 48076. It's also available at Borders Book Shop, Vic's Market, and Kitchen Glamor stores.

For a modern twist on an old favorite, Wagenheim and Portner suggest — Crispy Potato Chicken, one of the recipes in the book, as a main course. It's healthy, and very easy to make.

You don't have to be Jewish to enjoy these two new exciting community cookbooks. Both contain lots of healthy salad, chicken and fish recipes, and tips that novice and seasoned cooks will appreciate.

Proceeds from the sale of "From Generation to Generation" will go toward worthy Sisterhood of Congregation Shaarey Zedek projects. Proceeds from "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen," will help support the many projects and programs of the National Council of Jewish Women, Greater Detroit Section.

Top fresh fruit with yogurt sauce

AP — Fresh fruit tastes extra-tasteful when topped with a creamy sauce. The good news is that you can enjoy that rich smoothness and still cut back on fat. Just stir up this nonfat yogurt and light cream cheese combo. Fresh fruit has never tasted so heavenly.

Toasted nuts or coconut (optional)

In a small mixer bowl combine cream cheese, brown sugar and vanilla. Beat with an electric mixer on medium speed until fluffy. Add yogurt; beat until smooth. Spoon sauce over fresh fruit. If desired, top with nuts or coconut. Store any leftover sauce in the refrigerator for up to a week. Makes 8 servings.

Cooks share Passover recipes in community cookbooks

See related story on Taste front. If you're looking for something different to serve during Passover, here are some ideas from "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen," and "From Generation to Generation."

CRISPY POTATO CHICKEN

1 large potato, peeled
3-4 tablespoons Dijon mustard (during Passover substitute Passover French dressing for Dijon mustard)
1 large garlic clove, minced
2 whole chicken breasts, skinned and split
½-1 teaspoon olive oil or Italian dressing
Ground black pepper
Fresh parsley, rosemary or chives for garnish

Shred potato with grater or food processor. Transfer potato to bowl of ice water, let stand for 5 minutes. Meanwhile in a small bowl, combine mustard (French dressing) and garlic, mix well. Rinse chicken and pat dry. Brush mustard (French dressing) mixture evenly on meaty side of chicken. Place chicken, bone side down, on foil lined baking sheet. Drain potatoes and dry thoroughly with paper towel. Place in a medium bowl and toss with oil or dressing to coat. Top each piece of chicken with ¼ cup potato mixture in even layer to form skin. Sprinkle lightly with pepper. Bake in a 425 degree oven for 30-40 minutes or until chicken is no longer pink and potato shreds are golden. If potatoes are not browning, transfer pan to broiler and watch carefully. Garnish with fresh herbs. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

Recipe submitted by Karol Moxley in "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen."

SPINACH AND STRAWBERRY SALAD WITH LEMON DRESSING

1 (10-ounce) package fresh spinach, washed, drained and coarsely torn 1 pound fresh strawberries

Dressing:
¼ cup sugar
Juice of 1 large lemon
1 egg yolk
6 tablespoons vegetable oil

Chill washed and torn spinach. Arrange strawberries on top and chill. To make dressing, place sugar in mixing bowl. Add lemon juice and whisk. Add yolk, whisk. Add oil and continue to whisk until dressing is thick and creamy. Cover the dressing and refrigerate. Before serving, whisk dressing if necessary. Serve cold. Serves 6-8.
Recipe submitted by Ann Zouamer in "Still Fiddling in the Kitchen."

ISRAELI CHAROSSET
1 apple peeled and cored
3 sliced bananas
10 pitted dates
½ cup nuts
Juice and rind of ½ lemon
Juice and rind of ½ orange
½ cup dry red wine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
matzo meal

Combine first six ingredients in food processor and process until finely chopped. Place in bowl and add wine and cinnamon. The mixture will be rather loose. Add enough matzo meal to achieve desired consistency. Serves 10-12.

tion Shaarey Zedek.

APRICOT PASTRY-PASSOVER

Pastry:
½ pound softened sweet butter or unsalted parve margarine
2 egg yolks pinch salt
1 cup sugar
2 cups sifted cake meal
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon vanilla

Filling:
One 12-ounce or 16-ounce jar apricot preserves
¼ to ½ cup lemon juice

½ cup chopped nuts
Combine all ingredients for pastry. Spread ¼ of dough on the bottom of a greased 9 by 13-inch pan and up the sides 1 inch. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 minutes. Refrigerate remaining dough until needed. Remove the crust from the oven and while still hot spread preserves mixed with lemon juice. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Crumble remaining dough on top and bake an additional 30 to 35 minutes. Serves 18.

Try risotto for breakfast

AP — Use cooked brown rice, chopped walnuts and Gjetost cheese for a delicious Breakfast Risotto. Serve with sliced green and red apples, strawberries, or other fruit.

BREAKFAST RISOTTO

4 cups cooked brown rice
½ cup chopped walnuts or pecans
½ cup raisins
Scant teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup low-fat milk
2 cups (8 ounces) shredded Gjetost cheese

In a saucepan over medium heat, gently stir all ingredients together until hot and cheese is melted. Or stir gently in a microwave-safe pie plate; cook on 100 percent power (high) for 2½ minutes; stir and cook for 1 additional minute, if necessary. Serve with apple or strawberries, or other fruit.

Note: Leftovers may be reheated: stir to loosen and cook in a microwave-safe dish on high for 1 minute; stir and cook longer, if necessary. Or heat in a saucepan over medium-low heat, stirring until softened. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MAROULOSALATA

Green salad
2 heads crisp romaine lettuce, shredded
5 to 6 scallions, peeled and chopped
½ cup finely chopped fresh dill
½ cup finely chopped fresh fennel
3 to 4 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoon strong red wine vinegar, or more, to taste
Salt to taste

Shred, wash and drain lettuce well. In a large bowl, mix lettuce, scallions, dill and fennel together. Toss with oil and vinegar and season with salt. Serve cold or at room temperature. Serves 4.

SPINACH PIE

One box phyllo dough oil for greasing pan
1½ pounds fresh spinach
¼ cup plus 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
½ pound scallions (white part as well as 2 to 3 inches of green), finely chopped (about 1 cup)
1 large leek (white part as well as 2 to 3 inches of green), coarsely chopped
2 large bunches fresh dill, chopped, or 1 bunch fresh fennel and 1 bunch dill

1 large bunch parsley, chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
¼ pound feta cheese, crumbled or chopped
2 tablespoons grated kefalotyri or Parmesan cheese
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cumin
Salt and freshly ground pepper
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk

Remove phyllo dough from refrigerator. Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. Lightly oil a 10½-inch pie plate. Wash and chop spinach and squeeze dry thoroughly, then drain very well. Heat 2 tablespoons of the olive oil in a heavy skillet. Saute scallions and leek for 5 to 7 minutes over medium to low heat, until the green part of the leek is bright and softened and scallions are almost translucent. Add the spinach and stir until wilted, 5 to 7 minutes. The spinach will exude liquid. Remove spinach together with scallions and leeks to colander, and let drain completely. Set aside and cool.

In a large bowl, combine spinach, dill, parsley, scallions and leek. Add egg, ¼ cup olive oil, feta, kefalotyri (Parmesan cheese), spices, salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly, preferably with a wooden spoon. Divide phyllo dough in half. On a lightly floured surface, cut dough to a circle about 12 inches in diameter. Carefully place in oiled pie plate. Brush with remaining 1 tablespoon olive oil. Spread spinach filling evenly over dough. Cut remaining dough to a 12-inch circle. Carefully place over filling. Gently press top and bottom pastries together and cut away excess, leaving about ¼ inch hanging over rim of pie plate.

Roll top and bottom pastries together toward inner edge of rim to form a border crust. Make four small incisions in center of pie with a sharp knife. Lightly beat egg yolk and milk and brush pie crust with the mixture. Bake for about 40 minutes, or until crust is golden brown. Serve warm or cold. Serves 6 to 8.

KALTSOUNIA CRETIS

Sweet cheese pastries from Crete

Dough:
2 to 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter
¼ cup vegetable shortening
2 eggs, at room temperature
2 teaspoons orange-blossom water (available at Greek or Middle Eastern markets)
1 to 2 tablespoons milk or water at room temperature

Filling:
2 cups farmer's cheese
1 egg
½ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons honey
½ to 1 teaspoon cinnamon

½ teaspoon dried mint
Confectioners' sugar
To prepare dough: In a medium-sized bowl, sift together 2 cups flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Cut in butter and shortening and work them in with a pastry blender or your fingers until the mixture is mealy. Add eggs and stir with a fork until a dough mass begins to form. Add orange-blossom water, then milk or water, but only enough to make a soft, elastic dough. Knead on a lightly floured surface until smooth and malleable, about 10 minutes, and set aside for 10 minutes or so, while you prepare the filling.

To prepare filling: In a medium-sized bowl, combine cheese, egg, sugar, honey, cinnamon, and mint and mix until all ingredients are well blended.

Lightly butter a large baking sheet. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Break off a little piece of dough about the size of an unshelled walnut and roll it into a 4-inch circle or square. Fill the center of the dough with a rounded teaspoon of cheese filling. Fold over to form a package, folding each side in toward the center, but leaving the middle exposed. Repeat with remaining dough and filling. Bake for 20 to 25 minutes, until lightly browned. Remove and cool in pan. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar, if desired. Store, covered in refrigerator. Yield — 2 to 2½ dozen Here's an Easter bread recipe from Toula Patsalis of Kitchen Glamor.

AUTHENTIC GREEK EASTER BREAD

1 cup milk (heated to about 110 degrees F)
1 stick butter (½ cup)
2 packages dry active yeast
½ cup sugar
3 large eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange zest
2½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups high gluten flour
½ teaspoon Mahelti (available at Greek and Middle Eastern grocery stores, optional)
4 hard-cooked, cooled, red colored eggs

Glaze:
1 egg, beaten
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon sesame seed

Making the sponge: In a large bowl pour warm milk, 1½ cups all-purpose flour, sugar and yeast. Mix and allow to stand covered until it begins to bubble, about 20 minutes. Using a heavy duty mixer, pour sponge into the bowl and start machine. Add three large eggs slowly and mix until well incorporated. Add another cup of all-purpose flour and salt and beat until well mixed. Add orange rind, orange juice and vanilla. Mix until well incorporated.

Begin adding high gluten flour, ¼ cup at a time, and mix until almost all the flour has been incorporated. Dough should be firm yet sticky enough to barely stick to your hand.

Do not make it too dry or stiff. Add butter, a little at a time until well mixed. Knead the dough by machine for three to four minutes or by hand for 10 minutes. Add Mahelti, if desired, mix well.

Making the bread: Place the dough into a large glass or ceramic bowl that has been oiled or buttered. Lay the dough into the bowl, slide it around, then turn upside down. This will completely grease the top and sides of the dough. Cover the dough with a warm, damp towel and allow it to sit undisturbed for one hour.

Punch the dough down, releasing all the air, and divide into three equal parts. Roll each part into a long rope about 24 inches long. Braid the rope together. Pinch the ends so they are sealed. Lay on a long cookie sheet covered with baking parchment paper, cover and allow to set until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Gently lay the four red eggs in the braided bread, heavy side down, points up. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes. Then brush with glaze.

To make glaze: Mix egg with water and sugar. Mix well. Brush over entire surface of bread and around the sides. Sprinkle with sesame seed. Place bread back in the 375 degree oven for 10 minutes. Place a sheet of foil over bread. Continue baking 15 minutes then remove.

If you plan to bake bread with the colored eggs. Make sure they are cooked, and cooled before inserting them in the bread to be baked.

Enjoy taste of fresh lemons

See Larry Janes' column on Taste front.

HOMEMADE LEMONADE

Makes a little less than 2 quarts
2 cups sugar
½ cup freshly squeezed lemon juice
1 quart water
Boil sugar in water for 5 minutes. Cool. Stir in lemon juice. Serve over ice.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

1½ tablespoons shortening
8 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups water
2 egg yolks, beaten
The juice of 1 big lemon
Grated rind of ½ lemon
1 plain baked 9-inch pie crust
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
2 egg whites, beaten stiff
Melt shortening. Add flour, sugar, salt water and yolks. Mix well.

Cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add lemon juice and rind and mix well. Pour into prepared pie shell.

Cover top with a meringue by beating powdered sugar into beaten egg whites. Bake at 325 degrees until light golden, about 15 minutes. This filling can be used for lemon tarts as well.

SIMPLE LEMON PUDDING

2 cups milk
3 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons cornstarch
2 eggs, well beaten
4 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon fresh grated lemon rind
Heat 1½ cups milk and honey in a saucepan over low heat. Mix remaining milk and cornstarch and stir into hot milk mixture. Stir constantly over medium heat until thickened and starting to boil, about 3 minutes. Stir about ½ cup of the mixture into the beaten eggs, slowly. Dribble the egg mixture into the pan over low heat and cook slowly for 1 minute. Remove from heat, stir in lemon juice and rind. Serve warm or chilled.

LEMON MUFFINS

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs, separated
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Cream butter and sugar together until smooth. Add egg yolks; beat until light. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add alternately with lemon juice, mixing thoroughly after each addition.

Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and the grated lemon peel. Fill buttered muffin pans ¾ full. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Muffins are great with tea and they freeze well.

Prof explores alternative medicines

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

According to a New England Journal of Medicine report, one in three Americans uses alternative medicine.

That intrigues Dr. Philip Singer, who has done his own investigation of the subject.

The medical anthropologist and Oakland University professor has even put together a cable series, "Complementary Health Therapies" that is currently seen in several suburban communities.

The series covers a wide variety of alternative medicines, including spiritual healing, acupuncture and homeopathy. Singer filmed the project at National Service Hospitals in England, where some of these unorthodox methods are practiced.

Singer interviews doctors, therapists and patients. The documentary is neither pro nor con.

"My view as a medical anthropologist is describing, as accurately as possible, things as they are," said Singer, who teaches in OU's School of Health Science. "So I'm not coming out on one side or the other. I'm just describing what is taking place."

"Complementary Health Therapies" is a timely topic.

Americans made 425 million visits to unconventional medical practitioners, according to the New England Journal study. That compares to 388 million trips made to primary care physicians.

Many of the people using such methods fall into the 25-49 age range, Singer said.

Also, the National Institutes of Health recently opened an office dealing with the research of alternative medicine.

Singer's series coincides with the PBS series "Healing and the Mind," dealing with the same subject.

Unlike his work, though, Singer said the program hosted by Bill Moyers takes a positive view of alternative medicine. Also, Singer notes that he paid $10,000 out of his own pocket to produce his documentary.

"From watching the PBS series they will draw the conclusion: Indeed, if you're not satisfied with your primary care physician — and many people are not — you can go to one of these unconventional doctors," Singer said.

With his show, "you will know there are things going on that are interesting . . . and need to be looked at," he said.

"If they're shown to be worthless, we should not support them."

Last year, Singer went to Devon, England, to videotape the project. He received a fellowship after writing to the University of Exeter, which offers master's and doctorate degrees in complementary medicine.

Singer noticed a cultural difference in how it's practiced.

For example, the British used spiritual therapies in a low-key manner, he said, whereas in the U.S. such methods take "MTV look" of televangelism.

The programs vary in length from 20 minutes to nearly an hour and half. Six are edited. More are on the way.

Todd Whitman of the Farmington Hills-based Southwest Oakland Cable Commission co-produced the series. He said response so far has been positive.

"People are very concerned with health issues in general," Whitman said. "Some people feel, 'I don't care if I got to stand in a bucket of guacamole; if it cures cancer then thank you.'"

Singer credits Whitman and MetroVision for taking his work beyond classroom material stage. He offered the program to Channel 2, he said, but they wanted to edit it into a two-minute segment.

Singer's a big promoter of public access. "Really, community access is the technological town hall of the 21st century."

FEW TAX TIPS THAT COULD AFFECT YOUR BOTTOM LINE.

Here, courtesy of the IRS, are some ways to increase your tax refund, or decrease your tax bill, on your 1992 return:

Earned Income Credit. You may be entitled to a credit of up to $2,211 if your adjusted gross income is less than $22,370 and you have a qualifying child.

Selling Your Home. You may be able to postpone the tax on part or all of your gain, or maybe even get greater breaks if you're 55 or older.

Casualty Losses. Losses suffered from events such as fires, tornadoes, hurricanes, floods and car accidents may be deductible.

Elderly or Disabled. You may be able to claim this credit if you're 65 or older, or if you are retired on disability and were permanently and totally disabled when you retired.

Electronic Filing. This won't save you money, but will get you a refund faster, usually about three weeks after we receive the return.

There are many more credits and deductions you should know about. Call us toll-free at 1-800-TAX-1040 for answers to any tax question. See your tax package for details on any of the money-saving tips above.

Last year one person gave us everything she owned.

Without your donation we couldn't have accepted.

Please read the handwritten note on this page.

It's from a homeless woman. It was left at our door in the middle of the night along with two dogs, Two Face and Magic, pets this woman loved but could not care for. And could not keep.

Fortunately, we could care for Two Face and Magic. We took them in, gave them food and a warm place to sleep, and found them homes with the two families you see pictured above. This story had a happy ending.

But we get more and more cases like this each year. It's sad. And it gets worse. Some people don't care about animals as much as the woman who left this note.

Some people don't feed their pets. Some maliciously abuse animals in other ways.

Which is why we need your help.

Happy endings for animals like Two Face and Magic only begin with your donation.

Please send us your check today. All we can ask is what a homeless person asked of us: help.

All-State volleyball

The Michigan Interscholastic Volleyball Coaches Association recently announced its All-State teams.

First-team Class A features Livonia Stevenson's Patty Diamond and Julie Martin, both seniors. Diamond is headed for Florida State, while Martin will attend Madonna University.

Livonia Ladywood's Liz Gunn, bound for Western Michigan, earned second-team honors.

Plymouth Salem's Caryn Tatterton, Redford Union's Kelly McCausland, and Stevenson's Kristen Drabicki received honorable mention. All four are seniors. McCausland is also headed for Madonna.

Redford Thurston senior Daune Koester, who has signed with Maryland, was voted first-team All-State in Class B.

Mercy soccer victory

Erin Porth scored a pair of goals Wednesday as Farmington Hills Mercy defeated Birmingham Marian 3-1 in an early-season soccer showdown between Catholic League rivals.

Porth scored the first two goals, giving the Marlins a 1-0 halftime lead, with assists from Margaret Wirth and Heather Richards, who later scored the insurance goal.

Amy Watroba was in goal for Mercy (1-0-1) and made nine saves. The Marlins attempted 11 shots.

Mercy began the season last Monday with a scoreless tie against Woodhaven, though the Marlins outshot the Warriors 20-3.

"An exchange student from Denmark was their goalkeeper," Mercy coach Deepak Shivraman said. "She's on the all-Danish handball team. It was 11 against one. We must have hit every part of the goalie. She played an excellent game."

Payne loses pro bout

Livonia heavyweight Craig Payne dropped to 7-3-1 as a professional as Los Angeles native Lionel Butler scored a seventh-round TKO during the feature bout March 26 at LaVal's Country Club in Reseda, Calif. The scheduled 10-rounder was televised via Prime Network.

The 6-foot-2 Payne, who weighed in at a hefty 297 pounds, could not answer the bell for the eighth round.

The bout was stopped by Dr. Barry Schwartz after the 31-year-old Payne injured his eye late in the seventh round, apparently taking an elbow from Butler.

The 5-foot-11, 232-pound Butler, ranked No. 14 by the World Boxing Council (title held by Lennox Lewis), ran his record to 16-10. It was the 10th straight victory, all by knockout, for the 25-year-old ex-convict.

Area officials honored

Eight Observerland officials will be honored by the Michigan High School Athletic Association Saturday, April 17 at the Holiday Inn-South Covention Center in Lansing.

The 14th annual Officials' Awards and Alumni Banquet, beginning at 7 p.m., will recognize Plymouth's Bruce Campbell and James Muneio with 30-yard plaques.

Twenty-year plaques will go Arthur Link and James Valliere, both of Farmington Hills; Steven Boyak and John Dunn, both of Livonia; David Mattingly, Redford; and William Hawley, Wayne.

Guest speaker for this year's banquet is John Erickson, assistant commissioner and director of basketball operations for the Big Eight Conference.

Racquettime Health Club, 36600 Plymouth Road, Livonia, is celebrating its 25th anniversary with a series of month-long activities in April.

From 10 a.m. to noon Saturday, April 10, Racquettime will hold a children's racquetball clinic followed by an Easter Egg Hunt and party. There is no charge for either event. Advance registration is necessary.

An adult racquetball clinic, also free, will be geared for beginner and intermediate players from 10 a.m. until noon Saturday, April 17. Advance registration is necessary.

Special rates for teenagers (ages 13-19), offering racquetball, wallyball and basketball, will be on the week of April 12-16. For more information call 591-1212.

Shamrock cage camps

Coach Bernie Holowicki of Redford Catholic Central will offer four different basketball camps this summer for boys and girls.

First and second sessions for boys, 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. (cost $90), will be June 15-19 and June 21-25. The girls session will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. July 5-9 (cost $90).

Shooting camp for boys and girls (grades 7-9) will be 9 a.m. to noon July 12-16 (cost $55).

Canton strong suit: distance crew

The Plymouth Canton boys track team is loaded with quality distance runners, but the Chiefs have a balance of good athletes to make them competitive in nearly every event.

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Coach Bob Richardson believes his Plymouth Canton boys track team will be as good as the last one. He just hopes the record reflects it this year.

The Chiefs were 1-4 in Western Division dual meets and 3-4 overall. Canton finished fifth among the 12 Western Lakes Activities Association teams.

"Last year we happened to have the finest set of Western Division teams the league has ever had," Richardson said. "The top five at the conference meet were Western Division teams. We were a real good 1-4 team.

"I see us doing better in our division, and I think we'll be higher than fifth place in the league meet. Other teams lost some people, so I think it's going to be a little more wide open."

The strength of the Canton team is its abundance of distance runners. The Chiefs had a fine cross country season last fall under coach Mike (), and many of those runners are on the track team, too.

Senior Dave Yack and junior Jeff Keith were sixth in the 3,200- and 1,600-meter runs at the WLAA meet, respectively. Yack was a state qualifier in cross country.

cludes sophomore Casey Moothart, junior Todd Smith, seniors Justin McClain and Shawn McNamara and freshman Ian Bedford.

"They bailed us out last year, and they're probably going to bail us out again," Richardson said. "We have some depth in those events, and we'll be able to flip-flop people."

The Chiefs lost standout sprinter Craig Miller to graduation, but they return seniors Damon Collier, Neil Haremaki and Leon Black, juniors Rob Lemasters and Mike Erickson and sophomores Mike Gurchak, Andy Ingersoll and Ben Greanya. Freshman Will Manning could help, too.

The versatile Collier is a four-year team member and the most experienced. He has been the mainstay of the sprint relays and can do as many as eight events, depending on where he is needed.

"All had experience running a lot of heats, but they didn't do a lot of scoring," Richardson said. "Others teams had at least one good sprinter, and we had Miller; so there weren't a lot of opportunities to score."

"We're hoping we can pick up the slack and score more points than we got last year. It will be an area we concentrate on and try to get some improvement."

Canton is deep with hurdlers and can use some of them to run sprints and relays if necessary, he added.

Injuries concern to Rocks

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

The Plymouth Salem boys track team begins the season at least one step behind its Western Lakes Activities Association competition.

First, the Rocks again will start nine points down in just about every meet because they don't pole vault. Second, and more importantly, Salem has already been bitten by the injury bug.

"I hoped for an injury-free year but we already have several injuries," Salem coach Geoff Baker said.

Sprinter Andy Coburn suffered a knee injury, and runner Sam Miller broke his arm playing indoor soccer.

The biggest loss might be senior Jamie Miller, whose return is uncertain. The hurdler/sprinter suffered an ankle injury during the basketball season.

"If we can make it through these injuries and stay healthy, I think we'll have a good season and be very competitive in the league," Baker said.

Staying healthy will be a key if Baker's sophomore season is to be an improvement over his first in which the Rocks finished 4-2 in dual meets and eighth in the WLAA.

"Last year was a learning experience," Baker said. "The paperwork, the uniforms and other things went unnoticed when I was under (former coach) Gary Balconi. You have to be well rounded to be a coach, both in track and field events. That's what I've been working on."

Gone from last year's squad are Jason McDonald (middle distance), Steve Boudreau (distance) and Justin Fisher (sprinter).

CC, Glenn have talented squads again

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Of the galaxy of existing Observerland baseball teams, it's inevitable that Westland John Glenn and Redford Catholic Central will collide like two meteors.

Both teams soared to great heights last season. CC held the state's No. 1 ranking until Glenn bumped the Shamrocks out in the semifinals of the Class A regional tournament, 6-5, at Temperance-Bedford.

The Rockets (17-8) then soared into the state semifinals before losing to Lapeer East, while CC (25-4) settled for a semi-early exit.

The previous season, Glenn won 23 of 25 games before being intercepted by eventual state champion Plymouth Salem.

Coach Norm Hoenes, now in his 27th season at Glenn, appears to have another talented club returning, as does John Salter at CC.

Graduation cost standout outfielder John Ward and pitcher Chris Kirkey, but Hoenes has a bulked up lineup that includes first-team All-Area pitcher Aaron Scheffer, who struck out 88 batters in 64 1/3 innings; junior twins Bryan and Derek Besco; 6-foot-4, 235-pound first baseman Mike Bint, along with left-handed hurler Greg Nesbitt.

Despite the recent snow, Hoenes can't hide his optimism for launching the season.

"We've got some power," he said. "If the juniors step up and do the job, we'll be strong."

CC riding high

Salter, meanwhile, lost several key players from a year ago, including do-it-all pitcher/fielder Scott Kapla, a hard-throwing right-hander now at Eastern Michigan University.

Kapla, who came on in relief last week to beat Michigan, will be missed along with first-team All-Area pick Dan Gusoff and second-teamer Paul Kuhn.

Pitching is a question mark, but 6-5 senior right-hander Brian Paluk could emerge as the ace of the staff along with Dave Susalla.

The two combined for an 8-1 record last season.

"We have some good arms, we just lack experience," said Salter, who has one state title to his credit.

CC will have its power sticks in the lineup too with EMU signee Brian Hicks, the catcher, returning after clubbing nine homers a year ago. Aaron Babicz, an All-State football lineman, also provides power at first base.

Livonia outlook

Who can challenge Glenn and CC? Livonia schools Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson, simply put, are looking for improvement.

Churchill (8-7), defending city champs, returns pitcher/infielder Mark Rutherford, another EMU signee. The second-team All-Area selection is one of six senior returnees entering their third varsity season with the Chargers.

Franklin (9-12) is going with youth. The Patriots are also scrambling to find a replacement for second-team All-Area catcher Jeff Schaffer.

The heir apparent, junior Delano Voletti, transferred to Dearborn Divine Child.

sandlot coach in the Livonia Collegiate League. He led Walter's Appliance to the brink of prestigious All-American Amateur Baseball last summer before losing to New Orleans in the title game in Johnstown, Pa.

Stevenson's top returnee is senior Matt Cogswell, a smooth fielding first baseman who will also pitch.

Zebras could contend

Wayne Memorial (13-8), one game out of first last year in the Wolverine A League, could challenge once again if things fall into place.

Eric Bates, a first-team All-Area infielder, will be missed along with pitcher Jason Wetmore, but senior speedster Jeff Tapp returns as does 6-5 junior first baseman Jason Overton.

In the Metro Conference, Lutheran High Westland joins Livonia Clarenceville in the West Division.

The Warriors (14-8) lost standout catcher Jason Zielinski, but return four starters.

Clarenceville (9-7) coach Mark McDonald is also excited about the season, even though second-team All-Area infielder Tony Malinowski is gone.

Senior shortstop Carl Holston, who hit .320 a year ago, is a plus for the Trojans along with junior pitcher Mark Juncas and junior outfielder Mark Skrelja (transfer from Ferndale).

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (15-4) remains in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference with four starters returning including senior pitcher/shortstop Doug Hartley, the league MVP who hit .512 with three homers.

The team fee is $190, which includes a $40 refundable forfeit deposit. Players fees are $10 for residents, $15 for non-residents. For information call 349-0203.

Northville also is organizing a spring volleyball league for men's and women's competitive teams, coed competitive and coed intermediate. Matches will be played at the Northville Community Center.

Team fees are $158. A $28 forfeit fee will be refunded if there are no forfeits. There is an additional $7 fee per match for referees, $15 for non-residents. Call 349-0203 for information.

RACE FOR THE CURE

The Michigan Cancer Foundation's Race for the Cure will be Saturday, April 17, at the Detroit Zoo.

Proceeds will support breast cancer research, education and follow-up diagnostic tests for low-income women and educational and screening activities in the worksite.

Registration for the 5K race/walk/racewalk and one-mile fun walk begins at 7:30 a.m. The race begins at 9 a.m.

MEN'S GOLF LEAGUE

Registration for the Canton Parks and Recreation men's golf league begins today at 1150 S. Canton Center Road. The season starts Wednesday, April 14, at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

The fee is $386 (half due upon registration and the remainder after five weeks). The fee covers all league green fees, prize money, final golf outing and awards.

The league is limited to 35 golfers and Canton residents (unless the league fails to fill by March 29). Tee times are 5-6 p.m. Players will be paired as two-man teams for league play.

SOFTBALL NEWS

Canton Parks and Recreation Services has a limited number of adult softball league openings for men and women. For information call 397-5110.

There will be a pre-season men's softball tournament April 23-25 at Claude Allison Park in Redford. The fee is $150 plus a ball for each game. There is a three-game guarantee. Rain dates are May 1-2. For information call Bob Kaump at 534-6787.

Canton Softball Center will begin its 1993 first season Sunday, April 18. The 14-game spring season entry fee is $495 per team, with no game fees this year.

Johnson, who competes in the long jump, high hurdles and sprint relays, finished second in the 110 hurdles at the WLAA meet (15.12).

"He's coming off a good year and this year he is more focused and in better shape," Baker said. "And it's not just my expectation he'll do better; it's also his expectation."

Cudini, who will run the 800 and 1,600, finished second in the 1,600 at the WLAA meet (4:32.51) and is coming off a strong cross country season. Forbes will run the sprint relay events and compete in the high jump.

"Todd is a great stick man in the relays," Baker said. "You can put him in any relay and he's really good with the baton. It helps the younger runners when you have someone you can put in the middle of the relay."

Forbes' participation in the high jump may be critical to the Rocks, who forfeit nine points in the pole vault. Forbes didn't attempt the high jump last season because of shin splints.

"It's important we don't get swept in the high jump and be 18 points down," Baker said. "If we do, then we have to chicken scratch for points the rest of the meet."

Junior thrower Jeff Schumacher will pace the Rocks in the field events. Schumacher, who finished third in the WLAA in shot put (44-7), is concentrating this season more on technique, according to Baker. Sophomore Rockland Veteran trackman: Don Johnson returns to run the hurdles and sprint relays for the Salem track team.

Johnson also competes in the throwing events.

Juniors Adam Bakowski, Jay Casey and Marcus Zevalkink will run in the relays. Sophomore Steve Schumacher and senior Norm Alexander hope to improve the Rocks in the sprint events, while senior Brian Beauchene and juniors Brian Herc and Dan Miller hope to outrun the WLAA competition in the hurdles.

"We're improved from last year," Baker said. "We competed in the Huron Relays last weekend and, even though we didn't score or place, we did well. There wasn't any big surprises, but there were no disappointments either."

"We're weak in the high jump but, other than that, we have a well-rounded team. With the good group of juniors we have, we hope to build for a more senior-oriented team next year."

Swimmers at nationals

Steve Reinke (Redford Catholic Central High) and Mandi Falk (Livonia Stevenson) will represent the Oakland Live Yers Swim Club at the YMCA National Championships, today through Friday in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The meet will attract 1,800 swimmers from 600 different club teams.

Reinke, of Livonia, will swim the 100 and 200 butterfly, along with the 400 individual medley. He was a state champ in the 200 butterfly.

Falk, state high-point winner recently for girls 15-18, will compete in the 400 IM, 200 butterfly and 200 breaststroke.

eighth in the WLAA in the 300 hurdles, can do either. Senior Eric Tomei was eighth in the 110 hurdles, and junior Justin Semion also returns.

"We're five deep in the hurdles," Richardson said. "It's the best group we've had since the mid '80s."

"Our hurdles crew is real eager to change a few records on the board. I know they're going after the shuttle hurdle relay. They've already led coach (Jay Michaelson, a former Canton hurdler now assisting Richardson) know that record is going down this year."

Senior Tom Raven is the top thrower, having finished third in the discus and sixth in the shot put at the WLAA.

Sophomore Jon Gallinger got a lot of experience last year, Semion returns in the weight events and senior Mark Koziol is competing again after a two-year hiatus. The Chiefs also have added junior Sam Stafford and freshmen Brandt Blair and Tim Coshatt.

The long jump should be a good event since Canton returns four of its top five. Collier, Black, Haremski, Semion are back, and Greenay and Manning could offer additional help.

Canton lost high jumpers Mike Brennan and Mike Corp, so that event will fall to Koziol and Manning primarily. Collier can high jump but probably won't because of other duties. Freshmen Joe Bunting, Ben Nelson and Brandon Hartke provide depth.

"If the young kids come through and Koziol returns to nice form, we might surprise some people," Richardson said.

The Chiefs are scheduled to begin the season Wednesday with a dual meet at Westland John Glenn.

Plymouth Canton seniors Kim Rennolds and Jenny Tedesco and Plymouth Salem senior Courtney Gonyea made the first-team honor roll all four years during their high school careers.

Salem senior Kim Miller was on the team three times and most certainly would have made it four straight, also, had she competed in high school gymnastics last year.

All 10 first-team gymnasts have been all-area performers in the past, and all but Miller are repeat selections from a year ago.

Salem junior Alysia Sofios made the team for a third consecutive year, and two-time honorees include Salem junior Sarah Makins, Salem sophomore Melissa Hopson, Canton junior Kim Lewke, North Farmington junior Michelle Tsai and Westland John Glenn senior Marissa Maybouer. All are Division I gymnasts except for Tedesco and Lewke.

Salem's Johanna Anderson, who was an all-area selection from Canton two years ago, was named coach of the year after guiding the Rocks to the Class A title in her first year as a head coach.

ALL-AREA FIRST TEAM

Courtney Gonyea, senior, Salem: Gonyea placed in three state events — fourth on vault, fifth on balance beam and third on floor exercise. She was 11th on bars and just missed earning a medal. Gonyea finished fourth in the all-around at state.

Gonyea was the WLAA champion on vault and floor. She was fourth on bars and beam at the league meet, and she was second in the all-around. Gonyea was regional champion on vault and shared first place with teammate Kim Miller in the all-around. In that meet, she also finished second on beam and floor.

She had the best area score of 9.6 on floor and was second on vault (9.25), and beam (9.45) and all-around (37.05). Her best bars score was 9.2.

"This was definitely her best year," coach Johanna Anderson said. "She was our most consistent performer. She had a perfect year on beam — no falls — which is her best event. She's a very graceful, consistent performer, and that's what makes her such a good gymnast."

Kim Miller, senior, Salem: Miller placed in every event at state. She was 10th on vault, fifth on bars, eighth on beam and fifth on floor, and she was third in the all-around.

Miller was the WLAA all-around champion and won individual titles on bars and beam. She was fifth on vault, fourth on floor. Miller also was the regional champion on bars and in all-around. She was second on vault, fourth on beam in that meet.

Miller had the highest all-around score (37.2) in the area, as well as the best scores on vault (9.3), bars (9.7) and beam (9.65). Her best on floor was 9.45.

"She had the most difficulty in her routines," Anderson said. "What makes her stand out is that she's such a strong competitor. She's physically strong, and that is displayed in her bars and beam routines."

Kim Rennolds, senior, Canton: Rennolds was named Gymnast of the Year by the Michigan High School Gymnastics Coaches and Judges Association.

At the state meet, she was seventh on floor and 11th on beam. In the league, Rennolds finished sixth on bars, seventh on vault and second on floor. She was seventh among all-arounders.

Rennolds was the regional champion on floor and, in other events, placed fourth (vault), sixth (bars) and third (beam). She was third behind Gonyea and Miller in the all-around.

Her high scores were 8.95 (vault), 9.05 (bars), 9.3 (beam), 9.55 (floor) and 36.6 (all-around). She ranked second in the area on floor, and her score is a Canton record.

"Kim has been Canton's premier gymnast for four years, and she still stepped her performances up several notches with new tricks and difficulties to highlight her senior year," Canton coach John Cunningham said.

Jenny Tedesco, senior, Canton: Tedesco placed fourth on beam in Division II at the state meet. She was among the top 25 in every other event, and she was 11th in the all-around.

In the regional, Tedesco was 13th (vault), seventh (bars), second (beam), 10th (floor) and fifth (all). Her best league events were bars (ninth) and floor (sixth), and she was 11th in the all-around.

Tedesco's best scores were 8.95 (vault), 9.2 (bars), 9.0 (beam), 9.1 (floor) and 36.0 (all).

"Jenny's improved performance — her 36 all-around for example — higher level tricks and fourth-place finish in the state on beam were especially gratifying," Cunningham said. "No Canton gymnast has ever finished higher in state competition."

Marissa Maybouer, senior, Glenn: Maybouer qualified for state on bars and floor and finished 25th and 29th, respectively. In the WLAA meet, she was ninth (vault), eighth (floor) and 13th (all-around).

In the regional, Maybouer placed eighth (vault), seventh (bars), ninth (beam) and seventh (floor). She was eighth in the all-around. Her 8.95 on bars, 8.85 on beam and 34.6 in all-around were among the top area scores. Maybouer is an All-American on bars and floor.

Becoming an All-American "was her main goal," Glenn coach Debbie Tomasko said. "Score-wise she did better last year, but this year she did her giants on bars and full twists on floor. She's a hard worker. When she sets her mind to something she does it."

Alysia Sofios, junior, Salem: Sofios earned a medal by finishing eighth on bars at state, and she just missed on floor and vault in which she was 11th and 12th, respectively. She was 15th in the all-around.

Sofios had an excellent regional meet, finishing seventh (vault), second (bars), fifth (beam), third (floor) and fifth (all).

In the WLAA meet, she was 10th (vault), second (bars), eighth (beam), fourth (floor) and fourth (all). Her best scores were 9.05 (vault and beam), 9.5 (bars and floor) and 36.5 (all).

"Alysia is a very dynamic competitor, she has a lot of showmanship in her performances," Anderson said. "That's what sets her apart. She lights up the floor when she's out there."

Sarah Makins, junior, Salem: Makins competed at state for the Rocks and was among the top 25 in each event. Her best was bars in which she was 12th in qualifying order and missed going to the finals by one 10th of a point. She still had a fine 34.95 and was 19th in the all-around.

Makins, sometimes the unsung member of the Salem quintet but a consistent performer, was fifth (vault), fourth (bars), seventh (beam) and sixth (floor) at the regional. She also was sixth in the all-around and earned a medal.

She had a good league meet, too. She was tied for 10th (vault), fifth (bars, beam and all-around) and sixth (floor). Her high scores were 8.9, 9.25, 9.05, 9.4 and 35.6, respectively.

"Sarah was our most improved gymnast," Anderson said. "She came into the season determined to add difficulty to her routines. She added a lot of difficulty on beam and bars, and it really paid off this year. She's the one who is not always in the spotlight but always deserves to be."

Melissa Hopson, sophomore, Salem: Hopson placed fourth on beam and sixth on vault at the state meet. She also scored well enough (36.45) in the all-around to finish eighth and receive a medal.

She was the regional champion on beam, and she also fared well in the other events with a pair of thirds (vault and bars) and fourths (floor and all).

Hopson was third among all-arounders in the WLAA, finishing sixth (vault), third (bars), fifth (beam) and eighth (floor). Her best scores were 9.1, 9.3, 9.3 and 9.25, respectively. Her high all-around total was 36.6.

"Her grace and strength are what make her a good performer," Anderson said. "She has tremendous line. Everything is always straight — her legs, her body. Her best event is beam because her line adds so much to her routine. She looks beautiful up on beam. She's very technically precise."

Kim Lewke, junior, Canton: Lewke competed as an all-arounder for the Chiefs at state. She was 10th on vault and missed going to the Division II finals by five 100ths of a point.

Lewke was the regional champion on beam and also placed sixth (vault), 11th (bars) and seventh (all). In the league meet, she was second on vault and beam and placed sixth overall. Her scores of 9.1 (vault), 9.2 (beam) and 35.3 (all) ranked among the best in the area.

"Kim was our most consistent performer on vault and beam," Cunningham said. "She won division medals and a regional crown, and she was a major factor in Canton's team success."

Michelle Tsai, junior, N. Farmington: Tsai was North Farmington's most valuable gymnast. She was 10th on vault in the WLAA meet, seventh on bars and eighth in the all-around.

Tsai had season bests of 8.7 (vault), 9.05 (bars), 9.15 (beam) and 9.25 (floor). Her top all-around score was 35.4. She also placed third (floor), fourth (bars) and fifth (bars, all-around) at the Canton Invitational.

LINDA BACHRACK

Furry friends for fussy folks

Remember when you whispered all of your secrets into the well-rubbed ear of your best-loved friend? I'm referring to the lovable, furry friend of your childhood — the floppy-eared bunny or the cuddly bear. That friend, a constant companion, was chosen for his special personality, one that only you could imagine.

Phebe Phillips of Dallas still cherishes her favorite stuffed friend, "Bunny," and it was he who inspired her to create and design a line of plush toys for other young-at-hearts. Phillips was in Jacobson's stores recently to present her hand-hewn keepsakes.

The animals, all with distinct personalities, are unusual in that they sport soft pink Ultrasuede noses, individually designed collars and a trademark suede foot that Phillips signs with her name and the animal's name. There's also room for a dedication to the lucky recipient of this timeless gift.

Phillips' love of literature and poetry is obvious in the creative names she gives to each of the 50-plus animals in the collection. "Rumpus Bear — Rumpus ste too many honey waffles," thus his pudgy tummy and sweet, round face. "Tucker's Tarry, the nine-life fairy" is the white kitty with eyes of different colors, the good luck cat. "Ra-Bunzel Rebbunny" is the glamorous long-eared white rabbit on whose foot Phillips once inscribed, "Will you marry me?" for an imaginative customer.

Doctors' choice

The angelic little "Bunn Bunny" would nestle perfectly in an Easter basket or make a delightful newborn gift. Some thoughtful OB-Gyn offices are ordering Bunn Bunnys to deliver to new mothers in the hospital. The doctor signs the suede foot with the date and baby's name.

Though 80 percent of her customers are adults, "kids animate the animals for me," says Phillips. Ashley Mirch, a second-grader at Walnut Lake Elementary School in West Bloomfield, was fascinated by the whimsical furry friends casually draped on tables and chairs at Jacobson's Birmingham store. Her favorite? "Butter Bear Harry, the heart-warming fairy. I love his color and his wings," she said. "You wouldn't want to spill pop on him, he's too special," she added, already sounding as if he was a part of her family.

Rebecca Zorn of Marlette, Mich., was thinking ahead when she fell in love with, and bought, "Forest Bear" for her granddaughter, Bronte Stewart. His foot was signed, "Christmas 1993." The "hunter in the woods" is one of the most popular bears with his shaggy brown fur and collar of autumn leaves. "My daughter collects dolls. Maybe this will be the first of a bear collection," Zorn said.

Before she could leave the enchanting assemblage of creatures, Zorn added "Bunn Ole Coot Laurence" to her purchase. Laurence is the "thinker of the wisest thoughts" and Zorn thought him appropriate for her sister's 50th birthday. She dedicated him "to the child within."

Capturing childhood

"Everyone wants to capture something in childhood. These animals create a warmth," says Phillips. And judging by the reaction one late afternoon at Jacobson's, those sentiments are shared by many. This collection is exclusive to Jacobson's in the Detroit area. A catalog will be available in the store and every animal can be personalized. Prices range from $60-$120.

Speaking of bunnies, let's not ignore the granddaddy of storybook hares, Beatrix Potter's Peter Rabbit, who celebrates his 100th birthday this year. Peter's personality, so exquisitely illustrated in Potter's stories, is captured in porcelain figurines by Royal Albert for Royal Doulton.

The most recent introductions to the collection include "Miss Dormouse," "Pigling Eats Porridge" and "Christmas Stocking." See these pieces along with Peter, his siblings Flopsy, Mopsy and Cottontail, and their forest of friends at Hudson's stores in the fine china department. Most are priced at $29.50.

Stylish hats top off spring fashion

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

There was a time when the well-dressed woman would not leave home without a chic hat and matching gloves; 1940 to 1960 to be exact.

Now, here in 1993, designers are suggesting a return to that look. The well-stocked fashion accessory aisles of every department store prove it.

"We've got a bigger and better selection of hats than we ever had before," said Heidi King of Rochester Hills, a department manager at J.C. Penney. "This spring we're featuring hats with polka dots, nautical-looking hats in navy and white, roller hats, and the vintage wide brims, trimmed in florals. The baseball cap look is very strong in casuals.

"Gloves are coming back too. They really complete an outfit. We've got all lengths and many different colors. We sell a lot of gloves for special occasions, proms and weddings."

Penney's hats are priced between $25 and $45, depending on the style and designer.

New York chapeau designer B. Michael was in town last week to promote his toppers at Jacobson's.

"All the designers are showing them," he said, describing the growing national figures in millinery sales. "Hats are a new accessory for a new generation. Thirty-something young people are discovering hats can be an exciting addition to their wardrobe. And for the woman for whom fashion is a law, the woman who takes that extra minute to put the hat on, the selection has never been greater."

Fewer hatmakers

B. Michael bemoaned the fact that the number of hatmaking companies in the United States has dropped from more than 100 to a dozen through the years. A graduate of the Fashion Institute of Technology, he designs for the Aldo Hat Corp., previously designing for Adolfo II, Mr. John and Canadian Hat in Montreal.

"I'm more taken with silhouette than trim, drawing on everything in the world, including building contours, for my inspiration for hat designs," he said.

B. Michael said hat materials are standard with designers bringing new executions to old favorites. He said anyone can wear a hat. The trick is to find the appropriate hat for an outfit.

"To keep a hat on, use a hat pin and make sure it's the proper size," he said.

B. Michael said hat shopping should be fun. He urged the trial of many different styles to find the one that works.

Season's color gears shift into neutral

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Uh oh. Something's un-Vogue-ably wrong this season.

Spring fashions are usually about color as winter-weary greens and browns get pushed to the back of the closet.

But not this year. Neutrals, defined in Webster's Dictionary as having little or no decided color are here. In fact, they're everywhere along our malls and main streets.

Haute couture designers call it "muted tones of oatmeal." To everyone else it's ivory, cream, butter, banana, eggshell or just plain beige.

"Well at least most everyone can wear it," said Peg Treacy, president of Churchill Associates, an imaging consulting firm in Birmingham. "Neutrals are classics, although very cream of wheat as my dad used to say. That meant you can't get too excited or emotional about it."

Beige is good fashion news to Judith Saunders of Plymouth, who loves to shop along that town's Main Street.

"I've always loved the color," she said. "It's so rich looking. I like to wear beige, but I've found that as I get older it makes me look washed out."

Buyer of beige

Donald Foreman, who does most of his shopping at the Livonia Mall, likes beige, too.

"I'm no fashion authority," he said. "But I know I buy a lot of beige shirts and jackets and I wear 'em."

Treacy has been researching the psychology of color for the past 20 years.

Tel-Twelve mall celebrates 25th anniversary

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

Play ball. Slide into savings. Sure, the Tigers won the World Series in 1968. But two other events mark that year for Detroiters as well.

In 1968, two major shopping centers opened for business: the Oakland Mall in Troy and the Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield.

Tel-Twelve is celebrating its 25 years in business. Oakland Mall is not.

In fact, it's the '68 Tigers who will appear at Tel-Twelve Mall in a month-long salute to major league baseball.

"We're very excited about our anniversary plans," said Tel-Twelve marketing director Janet VanMaldeghem. "Beginning Thursday, April 8, through April 10, a fun-filled hands-on baseball exhibit will go up in the mall's center court."

The Great American Pastime will recreate a baseball park complete with games of skill and sports memorabilia. Fans can test their pitching skill and throw three strikes to win a prize in the big league bullpen hosted by an animatronic replica of legendary announcer Mel Allen.

Co-sponsored by Joe Panian Chevrolet in Southfield, the exhibit also provides the chance for shoppers to be photographed in their favorite teams' uniforms and have a special stat-card made.

And they have the chance to win a drawing for a Chevy Camaro Z28.

"Stores shouldn't buy a piece here, a piece there," he said. "They need a decent representation of a designer's line so the designer can establish a following. If a woman wants a navy hat, she needs to see 10 different navy hats within a given price range — never have a dozen of the same hat on the floor or it doesn't look special."

Mertize Higgins has been making hats for Detroit-area women for 40 years. She and her daughter, Audrey Hawkins, continue the tradition from their factory showroom on Woodward between Canfield and Willis.

Not just for church

"Church ladies have always been our customers, especially through the '60s and '70s when hats weren't so popular," said Hawkins. "I noticed our business picking up about three years ago. Now things are really hopping."

Hawkins said all Mertize hats are made by hand, fashioned by a small group of milliners who charge between $45 to $250 per hat. Most hats sell for $65-$75.

"We make Detroit councilwoman Maryann Mahaffey's hats, and we made the St. Patrick's Day hat councilman Jack Kelley is wearing," she said. They also teach classes in hatmaking at Marygrove College and sell hatmakers' supplies. The women welcome inquiries at 831-1660. Their leather hats may soon be seen at boutiques in Royal Oak and Trapper's Alley.

Fashion expert Jane Proctor writes in "Clothes Sense" that a hat's brim should never be wider than the wearer's shoulders.

"Pay attention to the proportions of a hat," she writes. "Shape outweighs decoration. The crown should fit accurately so it's the brim or trim that balances your body. If you are big and want a small hat, choose one with veiling or decoration to add width. If you are small, don't attempt too big a brim or you'll look swamped."

More Proctor hat tips:
 ■ When buying a hat, get the silhouette right first. Next, worry about trim or lack of it.

■ Avoid straw hats with green brims. The straw filters light and its color is reflected on the face.

■ Practice wearing a hat. Get used to its movements. Discover its best angle, reaction to wind and jostle. Then wear it with total confidence.

■ Rub dry bread or fine sandpaper over a felt hat to lift marks.

■ Always view a hat in a full-length mirror to gauge total silhouette. Hats should balance neckline, waistline and hem.

"Studies have shown that if left alone, without any influence from the fashion world, people instinctively pick as their favorite colors, the colors that look best on them," she said. "After all, each of us is given a color package at birth. That's the color of our eyes, hair and skin."

Color expert Tracy said the colors we wear provoke a reaction in others. The warm colors — reds, oranges and yellows — cause blood pressure, heartbeat and rate of respiration to rise. Cool colors like blues, greens and violets, have a calming effect.

Color and culture

"There are also cultural and ethnic differences in color," she said. "In some cultures males wear purple as a symbol of power and authority. In others, men avoid wearing purple. Throughout history important figures always wore commanding colors. The executioner wore black. Kings wore purple and red. Emperors wore gold."

Tracy said there are even color schemes that appeal to people in different economic backgrounds.

"Studies have shown that the upper 3 percent of our society prefer forest green and the gray-burgundy-mauve combination," she said. "That's why so many banks like gray and mauve in their trust departments."

The fashion industry is finally listening to the people, said Joyce Knudsen, of Bloomfield Hills, president of The ImageMaker Inc. New York is making clothes in color tones that appeal to a diversified community.

Color analysts agree that the colors we wear indicate mood and character. In The Color Rainbow by fashion writer Jane Proctor, colors can be a key to personality:
 ■ Red: Related to dominance and energy. Reveals impulsiveness and desire to succeed in love and life.

■ Brown: Indicates a nature that seeks emotional security.
 ■ Blue: Tranquil and reserved character.

■ Green: Suggests nature that is egotistical and proud. Wants to impress but is afraid to give way for fear of losing control.

■ Yellow: Generally optimistic and sympathetic, without too many hang-ups.

■ Black: A stubborn character, likely to fly in the face of fate. One often out of step with others. Feels misunderstood.

■ Grey: Prefers the sidelines. Remains emotionally uncommitted.
 ■ Beige: Suggests credibility. Preference for order, simplicity. Very approachable.

World War II anniversary events planned

The Livonia-based Trailblazers Association and the 70th Division (Training) are hosting a series of events during the weekend of July 17-18 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of World War II.

Included in these events are ceremonies and military displays scheduled for Saturday, July 17, at Ford Athletic Park and a dinner dance that evening at Burton Manor.

The 70th Division (Training) is an Army Reserve Command consisting of 3,000 men and women serving in Livonia and at other Army Reserve Centers in Michigan and Indiana.

The division's predecessor, the 70th Infantry Division, was formed during World War II and fought in Europe.

Celebrate Earth Day, every day!

day, April 18, we will have a mall-wide display looking at ads and pictures from our stores in 1968 to the present," VanMaldeghem said. "Old photos will show the city and center as it was in 1968, with lots of surrounding farmland."

Part of that display features life-size portraits of the 1968 Tigers complete with their stats. At 6 a.m. Wednesday, WCSX will broadcast their morning show live from the mall with guests Gates Brown and Willie Horton. At 11 a.m., Eli Zaret and Denny McLain will tape their sports talk show from the mall. They'll interview Willie Horton and Mickey Lolich.

What would a salute to baseball be without a baseball card show?

Traders and collectors will have their fill at a supershow from April 15 to 18 throughout the mall. Highlights of the show include autograph sessions with pinch-hitter Gates Brown 4-6 p.m. on April 15, Jim Northrup 2-4 p.m. and Willie Horton 5-7 p.m. on April 16, Al Kaline 1-3 p.m. and Mickey Lolich 4-6 p.m. on April 17, Mickey Stanley noon to 2 p.m. and Denny McClain 2:30-4:30 p.m. on April 18.

Shoppers can break for a piece of anniversary cake at 2 p.m. on April 18.

Latest additions to the mall include a Ruby Tuesday Restaurant, opening in May, a renovated Montgomery Ward store, MC Sporting Goods, a Winkelman's Superstore, a Marianne's and Marianne's Plus under one roof, and Rave for junior fashions.

The food court recently added the Birmingham Deli and Arthur Treacher's to its lineup.

For more information about anniversary events, call Tel-Twelve Mall at 353-4111.

GIVE TO "FURNITURE FOR FAMILIES" APRIL 1 THROUGH APRIL 19.

BECAUSE TO THOSE IN NEED, YOUR OLD FURNITURE IS NEVER OUT OF STYLE.

From April 1-19, The Salvation Army and Workbench Furniture are co-sponsoring "Furniture For Families" - a special three-week drive to collect used furniture for needy families.

To make a donation, call The Salvation Army at (313)965-7760 in metropolitan Detroit, and for Grand Rapids and surrounding areas, call (616)452-3133, to arrange for a pick up.

All items are tax deductible, and can be picked up from your home or business by The Salvation Army.

By participating in "Furniture For Families", you can earn a discount at any Michigan Workbench Furniture store. Call 1-800-486-5930 for details.

ATTORNEYS ARE POSITIVE ABOUT FRANKLIN BANK.

"The personnel at Franklin Bank all know me...and they keep track of my accounts. At my former bank I felt like just another person in line."

You know the names of your clients, so why shouldn't your bank know yours. It's a small thing, we know. But at Franklin Bank we make a point to do just that.

Of course, there's more behind our friendly approach to banking than you'd think. There's the personalized relationship that grows as we learn all about your small business needs. We offer other important services too, many that save you money. Like the lowest fees for commercial checking in Metropolitan Detroit.

We know that small businesses and practices deserve as much attention as the big guys. So call or come in. Let us show you what personalized banking really means.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something goes wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...

"If You Don't Know Used Cars, Know Your Dealer."

War's terrible toll on 'The Class of '61'

ABC film joins impressive roster

By Steven Alan McGaw

The land is scarred, ravaged. Homes and churches are destroyed, shops are looted and burned. Works of art are lost forever to senseless violence, and cemeteries are glutted with the newly turned graves of those lucky enough to receive proper burial.

Sadly, these are the familiar consequences of war. But war's highest toll is always its human cost and it is from a nation's young population that the greatest number of lives are always lost. It's an old idea - and a bitter truth - that old men send young ones to fight the wars they wish to wage.

And like an individual, a nation's darkest hour comes when it is at war with itself. Such a time came for the United States in the years 1861 to 1865, the period of conflict and horror known as the Civil War. Slavery was not the only issue - some historians say states' rights was bigger - but the moral weight of that subject overshadowed everything else.

On Monday, April 12, ABC presents Class of '61, adding another title to the distinguished list of films about the Civil War that includes Gone With The Wind, The Red Badge of Courage, Friendly Persuasion, and Glory. Produced by Steven Spielberg's Amblin Entertainment, the powerful made-for-television movie focuses on the early days of the war and how it affected the young men in the 1861 graduating class at West Point.

Tensions were already high at the prestigious military academy by the spring of 1861. The seceded Southern states had announced the formation of the Confederacy on Feb. 8, the Union stood firm in its positions, and both sides were readying troops for the inevitable conflict.

Still, the sons of Northern senators and abolitionists sat side by side with the sons of Southern planters in the classrooms of West Point. Some of them, like young Shelby Peyton (Dan Futterman) of Virginia, felt deeply torn between staying the final two months until graduation, or leaving immediately to assume a place in the Confederate army.

Then comes April 12 and the attack on Fort Sumter. The war had begun and student and teacher alike left the safety and civility of the classroom for the rage and carnage of the battlefield.

Futterman offers a fine portrayal as Shelby, whose showy loyalty to the Confederacy seems at odds with the warmth he privately shares with his father's slaves, Lucius and Lavinia, powerfully played by Andre Braugher and Penny Johnson. Clive Owen is dashing as battle-hungry Irishman Devin O'Neil and Joshua Lucas is winning in his portrayal as the young George Custer. Len Cariou, Dana Ivey and Christien Anholt all lend able support.

Class of '61 features a fine script by Emmy and Peabody Award winner Jonas McCord and skillful direction by eight-time Emmy recipient Gregory Hoblit. Noted historian Shelby Foote served as a consultant.

SURVEY RESULTS

Several weeks ago we ran a survey requesting reader opinions about Cable/TV Weekly. We want to thank everyone that took the time to tell us what they think.

Readers were given the choice of responding on our voice mail system or by mail. We found that it was a 50-50 split on how people responded. Younger people used our voice mail and older folks used the U.S. Mail. There were only a handful of negative comments about the information we provide on a weekly basis.

1. Is Cable/TV Weekly a useful product? - 97% yes
2. How many times a week do you refer to Cable/TV Weekly? - Daily 94%
3. Do listings need to match the cable dial? - yes 88%
4. Are listings reasonably accurate? - yes 96%
5. Would you continue taking this newspaper without Cable/TV Weekly? - yes 50%

We received the greatest number of responses from the Farmington/Farmington Hills/Novi area. Sixty percent of the responses were from females and ninety percent from people age 34 and older.

We also gave people a chance to tell us what they would like to see changed in Cable/TV Weekly, the two comments that we heard most often were:

- Don't change a thing
- Publish AM listings 7 days a week

At this time we don't intend to change a thing because AM listings take additional space that we can't afford to produce. Another question that was asked referred to VCR codes that are available in some guides. We cannot use VCR plus in Cable/TV Weekly because the company signed an exclusive arrangement with the Detroit Newspaper Agency that prohibits any area newspaper from using the same service.

Thanks to everyone that took the time to respond.

Vice President/General Manager

HOROSCOPE

By C.C. Clark

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)

You may feel uncomfortable around others because of a confusing situation. You should go ahead with your plans concerning financial matters.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)

If things don't seem to be going your way right now, don't worry. In the end a sudden change in plans will turn out to be a blessing.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)

A friend or loved one has news that will bring you great happiness. Worries about money will decrease, but there are still some things to work out.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)

There is no need for anxiety concerning a visitor. There is a possibility of a job opportunity in an unusual field. Remain fixed to your commitments.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)

There is a possibility of a new business opportunity or relationship for you. You may have a problem getting your ideas across in some situations.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22)

You are beginning to feel like a juggler between all your commitments. Take a look at your priorities and decide what is most important to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

You may be analyzing a certain relationship too closely. It may be best to just let things be. Your ideas concerning a project will meet with success.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21)

You may be disappointed with the results of a certain situation. Don't dwell on the negative. Set your sights on a new goal and go after it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)

A long-term situation will suddenly change. There may be a new person in your life who will make you think of love in a different way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)

You must focus on your strengths and know you can deal with the hand that has been dealt to you. There is a good possibility of travel.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Your spirituality may be challenged, and you will need to rely on your inner self. There will be a partial solution to a nagging problem.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Family and work situations may become more complicated. You may need to take the first step in resolving differences with those around you.

STAR NOTES

Grammy winner Tritt salutes real heroes

By Steven Alan McGaw

Since the release of Country Club in 1989, the raucous country sounds of Travis Tritt have seldom left the airwaves - or the sales charts. A winner of the Country Music Association's Horizon Award in 1991, Tritt's most recent accolade came with his shared Grammy win with buddy Marty Stuart for their rowdy "The Whiskey Ain't Workin'."

Now Tritt puts his talent where his heart is in an hourlong special airing Monday, April 5, on TNN. The show's title is Travis Tritt: A Celebration, but the program really salutes the unflagging spirit of the disabled American veteran. The concert was filmed in Snowmass, Colo., during the annual Disabled American Veterans National Winter Sports Clinic. During the week-long event, veterans from around the country gather to participate in a variety of athletic and social activities. Besides performing, Tritt took time to talk and even compete with the courageous men and women around him. "Every day," he says, "I was amazed at what I saw."

Tritt first became interested in the veterans' inspiring stories when he played a wheelchair-bound vet in the video for his song "Anymore." Shot in a Veterans Administration hospital in Tennessee, the experience gave Tritt a little insight into the lives these people bravely lead.

Banned 'Follies' surfaces on PBS; HBO tags Rourke as psycho-outlaw

PBS viewers have the opportunity on Tuesday, April 6, to see the national television debut of a film made in 1966. Why the wait? Frederick Wiseman's Tinicut Follies, a documentary exposing the deplorable conditions at the Bridgewater State Hospital for the Criminally Insane, was banned from public screenings for 24 years by the commonwealth of Massachusetts.

The state's attorneys maintained that the film violated the inmates' privacy. Wiseman contends the depiction of the inhumane treatment of patients, many kept naked, others improperly incarcerated, was the real reason behind the injunction.

Mickey Rourke has been cast in his first Western, HBO's The Last, which will soon begin production. Rourke (Angel Heart, The Year of the Dragon) will play a borderline-psychotic outlaw whose band of ex-Confederates are taken over by his former right-hand man. The tale of mind games and revenge will be directed by Geoff Murphy (Young Guns II).

Country singer Barbara Mandrell makes her comedy series debut in an episode of NBC's Empty Nest to air in May. The Grammy winner plays a Mississippi woman whom Laverne (Park Overall) sets up as a blind date for Harry (Richard Mulligan).

Lorraine Toussaint plays Marie, an insightful, no-nonsense mom in Where I Live, Fridays on ABC.

Frederick Wiseman

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting is urging Congress to fund demonstration projects on distance learning, the interactive linking of a teacher with students in separate geographic locations through communications technologies. According to the CPB report, Lifelines of Learning, rural schools "on the brink - geographically isolated, underfunded and suffering from teacher shortages and a bare-bones curriculum" could reap many benefits from distance learning. Besides the obvious educational equity and technology to be gained, the networking could forestall consolidation with larger schools. Demonstrations would help determine the specific needs of these rural schools.

Tish Hinojosa performs her country-tinged folk music on Saturday's edition of PBS' Austin City Limits.

SOAP TALK

Readers have casting ideas for 'GL'

By Candace Havens
Dear Candace: I read your article about Guiding Light trying to find a new Alexandra Spaulding.

I would think that Barbara Rush, who played Nola Orsini on All My Children, would make a great Alexandra. She is a perfect match for the role. —Lynn Trexal, North Huntington, Pa.

Dear Reader: You are not the only one who thinks Rush would be great as Alexandra. Several viewers have written in with the same comments. Guiding Light producers are keeping their choice a secret until the last possible moment, so it will be interesting to see who they choose.

Dear Candace: I read about the death of actor David Oliver. The article stated he was once Perry on Another World.

I have watched AW for several years, but I cannot remember the character named Perry. Can you tell me about Perry to help jog my memory? —Joyce Anderson, Cookville, Texas.

Dear Reader: Oliver portrayed the character Perry Hutchins from 1983-85 on AW. He joined the show about the time when the Love family was introduced. He was Donna Love's spoiled stepson and caused a great deal of trouble in the Love family. Donna often fought with family members because they criticized the way she let Perry get away with everything.

Dear Candace: I am about to stop watching The Bold and the Beautiful. How many obstacles are the writers going to put in the path of Macy and Thorne getting back together? They were so good together.

How long are they going to let Sheila continue to ruin people's lives? They ruined the show when she came on. I don't understand why Stephanie thinks she is such a good mother. She and Brooke both use their children to get what they want. —Vivian Boyer, Muscatine, Iowa.

Dear Reader: It doesn't look like things are going to get much easier for Thorne and Macy. As you know, Macy has given up on ever having a relationship with Thorne. Sly and Keith want to make sure she stays away from Thorne. Lauren will soon find a way to get back at Sheila.

Send your comments to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 961009, Fort Worth, Texas, 76161-1009.
