Board ends senior meal funding

Plymouth Township said no to continuing funding for a senior citizen meal program. The reason: No money. Officials say they can't justify the spending when facing the layoff of workers. The Meals on Wheels program serves 23 township residents.

BY DIANE GALE
STAFF WRITER

Financing for senior citizen programs, including one that delivered meals to homebound senior citizens, was turned down by Plymouth Township trustees pointing to budget problems.

Trustees voted last week against paying $6,200 to the Plymouth Community Council on Aging. Most of the money is spent on Meals on Wheels for homebound seniors and publishing and mailing the "Senior Sentinel," a senior newsletter.

A request for $1,182 by the Senior Alliance was also turned down by trustees who argued that tight finances have forced them to consider layoffs and closing fire station three.

"I'm reluctant to pass this when we're asking people to be laid off," Trustee Ron Griffith said.

Twenty-three Plymouth Township residents and 12 city residents receive the home-delivered meals. Most of the funding would have gone to pay transportation costs, according to Harry Mast, Plymouth Community Council on Aging board of directors member.

Trustee Charles Curmi suggested that donations made by recipients of the meals should be increased.

Trustees suggested the Senior Alliance and the Council on Aging should ask for help from service clubs like the Plymouth Rotary, Lions Club and United Way.

The Area Agency on Aging has started the process setting up meetings with area service groups asking for support, Mast said.

The Senior Alliance is an agency representing 34 communities from western and southern Wayne County. It receives federal and state grants and asks communities to match those contributions.

The agency's programs include cleaning homes, information referral, a long-term ombudsman's programs, minor home care, personal care assistance, relief for caregivers, telephone reassurance programs, helping people adapt to new restrictions like blindness, and a holiday meal program.

"This is the first time Plymouth Township has not paid their match to us," according to Nel Thompson, Senior Alliance executive director.

"We'll come up with it some way," Thompson said. "I understand the budget cuts. On the other hand, the population is aging and we're all going to have to understand that and all work together and try to meet the needs of these folks."

What makes it all worthwhile

BILL BRESLER/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Setting priorities: What better place to go on a beautiful spring day, than the park? Nature was at its best last week, showing off spring flowers, trees in full bloom and winds just strong enough to keep those outdoors refreshed from the sun. The fountain in Kellogg Park hadn't been turned on yet, but the park benches, cobblestone walks and winding pathways were the perfect storybook setting last week for those who took advantage of Plymouth at its best.

Auction aims to make wishes come true

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI

If you want to help children and teens who are seriously or terminally ill, the Golden Gate shopping center is where you want to be Saturday and Sunday, May 22-23.

"It's something I want to keep doing and something I want to make better each year," said Bob Coleman of Bob's of Canton, about the silent auction he has planned with other store owners in the shopping center, 8500 Lilley Road.

All proceeds from the silent auction and other events at the shopping center will be donated to the Make-A-Wish Foundation, with which Coleman has been associated for about four years.

Adding to the weekend festivities at the center on Lilley, just south of Joy, are appearances by former Detroit Lions Charlie Sanders, who will be demonstrating his Grid Iron barbecue sauce and donating the proceeds, and Ken Fantetti; as well as current players Rodney Peete, Willie Greene and Jeff Campbell. The athletes will sign autographs for $2.

"Other players will stop by periodically throughout the event," Coleman said.

Also on tap are the Canton Fire Department's Fire Safety House and Canton police with child fingerprinting.

Golden Gate stores will have a sidewalk sale, primarily on Saturday. Companies also will offer taste testing with breads, muffins and sausages. The Pepsi Cola Co. will offer a putting green for $1 and prizes for a hole in one. Pop, hot dogs and chips from Pepsi, Oven Fresh, Kowalski and Frito-Lay will be offered for $1.

The goal is to raise money for the Make-A-Wish Foundation, which grants wishes such as trips to Disney World, for terminally or seriously ill children 17 years and younger. Coleman's weekend goal is to raise $20,000-$25,000.

"With Make-A-Wish, between 88-92 percent of all the money raised goes for the kids," Coleman said.

The silent auction will run noon to 5 p.m., both Saturday and Sunday. When you arrive at Golden Gate during those hours, sign up at the Make-A-Wish office there. After you pay $5 to bid, you will be given a number and a bid sheet. A tent filled with the donated items will be available for bidding, as well as items inside the stores at Golden Gate.

The idea is to bid on items that catch your fancy. When the auction closes at 5 p.m. Sunday, you'll find out if your bid was the highest and whether you get to take the items home.

"You'll be able to see the previous bids on the items with the sheet," Coleman said.

Some of the items on the auction block include TVs, VCRs, golf equipment, BMX bicycles, a decorative mirror, jewelry, sports watches and sports paraphernalia. A lot of sports memorabilia will be auctioned. The Golden Gate stores also have donated items. And trips, such as to Toronto, also will be auctioned.

Anyone who wants more information about the auction or wishes to donate items for it may call Coleman at 454-0111.

Car seat safety

Detroit area Midas shops are launching a program this month to decrease the number of automobile crashes involving children.

All Midas Muffler and Brake Shops, including the Plymouth store, will offer Century car seats to customers at wholesale cost, in addition to providing a comprehensive car seat education program.

Also, customers who buy their car seats at Midas shops can return the seats after they're no longer needed to receive free Midas services equal to the amount paid for the seat. Midas will donate the used car seat to a needy family or hospital loaner program.

PLYMOUTH PIPELINE

Barbecue benefit

Kristin and Jack Trabue, owners of Porterhouse Meats & Word of Mouth Foods, are sponsoring the second annual benefit barbecue Saturday, May 22, for SCAMP, a summer camp for handicapped youths.

The Trabues expect hundreds of people to crowd the parking lot of their store, 1058 S. Main, four blocks north of Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for a free barbecue.

"Come bring the family and eat as much as you'd like for free," Jack Trabue said. "There's a donation box, and people can contribute whatever they feel comfortable with."

SCAMP is a six-week camp for handicapped children with special needs. The Trabues' oldest daughter, Lindsay, has Down syndrome and attends SCAMP. It's funded entirely by tuition and donations. "The community supports our family and this benefit barbecue for SCAMP is one way that we can say, 'Thanks,'" Kristin Trabue said.

Tours offer glimpses of local industry

BY DIANE GALE

Area businesses are opening their doors to give the curious a look around.

Five industrial and technological firms are offering 15 minute tours to residents and business people May 18-20 during a Plymouth Chamber of Commerce program celebrating Michigan Week.

"When people get to know what a company is like, it becomes a part of the community," according to Fran Toney, chamber executive director.

"It's amazing what the businesses right here in Plymouth do," Toney said.

The tours are as follows:

■ 9-11 a.m. Tuesday, May 18 at R.A. DeMattia Co., headquarters of the design, building, construction and development company, 45501 Helm, west of Sheldon, and Weldcraft Inc., industrial fabrication, 39660 Schoolcraft, west of Eckles.

■ 9-11 a.m. Wednesday, May 19 at Adistra Corp., comprehensive marketing support services, 101 Union.

■ 9-11 a.m. Thursday, May 20 at Vico Products Co., fastener manufacturer, 41555 E. Ann Arbor Road, one-quarter mile east of Lillev; and Skyway Precision Inc., flywheel manufacturer, 41225 Plymouth Road, at Haggerty.

If you want an escort to any of the tours, groups will leave at 9 a.m. each morning from the chamber office on Main Street. No reservations are necessary.

Each of the tours has something different to offer.

"Visitors can visit R.A. DeMattia headquarters and see how they market Plymouth and Michigan worldwide," Toney said.

Guides at Adistra will point out where Daisy rifles were manufactured. These tours may last more than 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, Vico representatives will talk about the history of 50 years of business operated by three generations.

Plymouth, Plymouth Township and chamber officials will meet at 9 a.m. Thursday on the front porch of the Wilcox house at Ann Arbor Trail and Union, to begin a walking tour of new Plymouth downtown businesses before going on to Vico and Skyway.

"I'd like to see this become an annual event, where people make plans and look forward to going," Toney said.

This is the second year of the tours. For more information, call the chamber at 453-1540.

All in the family: David, Eric and Ed Buzenberg relive the successes of the 60-year-old business.

Family-run store marks 60 years

Ed Buzenberg really did have an uncle in the furniture business.

Fred Walker was a furniture buyer at Crowley's when he decided to branch out on his own and open Walker Furniture at Kirby and Grand River. Sixty years later his relatives are carrying on the family tradition.

"I started working for my uncle 53 years ago, dusting and making deliveries," Ed Buzenberg said, sitting on a sofa in his plush showroom on Main Street in downtown Plymouth. A mammoth banner on the window advertises a 60th anniversary sale.

"We grew up with it and we liked it," Ed Buzenberg said. "If you like something you do a better job."

94 freeway, they moved the business down the road. Ed Buzenberg, Ed's dad, his sister, Eleanor, and two cousins continued the business.

Eleanor (Buzenberg) Neynaber, who runs the office, said: "We were just kids when my uncle had the business. It was in the family and we came down to help him."

The business moved again when lightning struck the building.

"It was a complete loss — there wasn't enough insurance to cover it," Ed Buzenberg said, adding that they decided to set up shop on Seven Mile near Evergreen.

Declining business forced them to move again, and they relocated to Main Street in Plymouth 15 years ago. The warehouse is in Canton. Apparently, Walker-Buzenberg will stay put awhile. Four years ago the Buzenbergs expanded their business, adding onto the building, doubling the merchandise and hiring more employees.

Though economic times are poor, the future looks better. "This is a very competitive business," Ed Buzenberg said. "But we show signs of good business ahead. A lot of businesses come and go in Plymouth, but we're still here, which talks of something."

And the tradition continues. Ed Buzenberg's sons, David and Eric, came into the business and today they share ownership.

"We wouldn't be 60 without our loyal customers," Ed Buzenberg said. "Quality savings, and personal service, is our goal to our customers and has been for three generations."

Physicians appreciate that anger is in order when you are in pain and our treatment fails to give you relief.
However, at such times it is unfair to charge the doctor with not doing his best to understand your distress or respond to your need.
The problem for a physician is not the result of a callous personality. What we are faced with is the limits of medical science, professional art, and state-of-the-art technology as applied to joint pain and inflammation.
No analgesic medication can stop the hurt of a sore joint. No technique available allows us to aspirate an inflamed joint without that needle itself temporarily causing it's own pain. No medication or form of medication exists that we can rely upon to give you sustained freedom from distress.
Doctors are not indifferent to your arthritic pain. However, narcotics bring grave hazards to your equilibrium and coordination. Falls with subsequent fracture become too great a risk to make such analgesia an option for joint care. Anti-inflammatory drugs take time to work-no increase in amount or intravenous introduction will hurry their efficacy.

Teachers take top honors in adult spelling bee

Plymouth-Canton teachers showed that they practice what they preach and took first place during the Community Spelling Bee last week.

Lois Moyer, Janie Clemons and Madelyn Deedler called themselves the "Spell Chicks."

Their sponsor was the Plymouth-Canton district community education project. They beat out 19 other teams representing local companies and organizations.

Their formidable runners-up were "Greek to Us," made up of area ministers Bryan Smith, Bill Myers and John Landis.

The competition is sponsored by the Canton Rotary Literacy

Committee and benefits the fight against illiteracy in surrounding communities.

The Community Literacy Council is a community based non profit organization of volunteers who work one-to-one with adults wanting to improve their reading skills and with adults and children learning English as a second language.

There are currently about 110 active tutors and 135 students.

Jack Demmer Ford sponsored the event last Thursday. The judges were Plymouth Mayor Robert Jones, Canton Supervisor Thomas Yack, and former State Rep. James Kosteva.

School election forums set

Voters interested in learning more about Plymouth-Canton school board candidates may want to attend a candidates night to be hosted from 8-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 26, at Plymouth Salem High School library.

Audience members will be able to question the five candidates, said Pat Wright, voter service chairman for the sponsoring League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton.

Preceding the candidates' forum, from 7-8 p.m. in the Salem library, will be an informational session on Proposal A, Gov. John Engler's school finance reform plan. A non-advocacy representative from the state, or a local legislator, will explain the proposal, said Canton Supervisor Tom Yack, organizer of the forum. The impact of Proposal A on millages levied by local governments will be discussed.

Running for school board are David Artley, Robert Burger, Terry Chuhnan, Steve Kilijanczyk and William Myers.

Each candidate will have two minutes to state in opening remarks why they are running, Wright said.

"Written questions from the audience may be directed to one person or directed to all five. Each one will get a minute to answer."

Candidates also will field questions from local news reporters.

The league will present a meeting with Schoolcraft College on the pros and cons of Proposal A as well.

Speaking in favor of the proposal will be a representative from the governor's School and Taxpayer Agenda for Reform. Speaking against the proposal will be a representative from the Wayne County Taxpayers Association.

That forum is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 20, at the Waterman Center at Schoolcraft College. For more information, call Sandra Florek in Schoolcraft's public information office at 462-4463.

The league is non-partisan.

Indian-South African eatery on menu

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Jeff Nadasen is bringing the culinary traditions of his Indian-South African roots to Canton.

"Three to four generations ago, a group of Indians were moved (against their will) to South Africa. They were racially segregated. An Indian community developed," Nadasen said.

The South African Indian community developed its own traditions, style of Indian food, culture and art. And that's the type of culinary delight Nadasen will serve customers when his Himalaya Restaurant opens in the North Canton Shopping Plaza on Warren Road.

Lovers of Indian cuisine will find the food at Himalaya somewhat different than that to which they are accustomed. "The food will be much meatier," Nadasen said. "And the (imported) spices go much better with meat."

After more than a two-month wait, Nadasen cleared a major hurdle toward opening his 2,400-square-foot restaurant. Canton township trustees approved Nadasen's request for class C liquor license Tuesday.

"I was surprised. But I was elated," Nadasen said. "I truly appreciate the board taking the extra time and effort."

When the board first considered Nadasen's liquor license request, Loren Bennett, township clerk, recommended denial. The request was tabled when Nadasen's attorney, Terry Conlin, questioned why township officials don't give larger businesses a state resort license and save the quota licenses, based on the township's population, to smaller businesses.

Nadasen and Conlin said the license was necessary because about 25 percent of the gross business would be from the sale of beer, wine and liquor.

At the time Bennett questioned whether the township's allocated licenses should be given to smaller businesses when only 12 more are available through the year 2001.

Nadasen's request was delayed until township officials spoke with Michigan Liquor Control Commission representative Elwood Webb about resort licenses, which apparently cannot be given unless a municipality has no more quota licenses.

This time around, Bennett recommended approval of Nadasen's request. "I know one of the concerns, part of the criticism during the process, was that we were willing to give liquor licenses to large users and not as willing to give them to small users," Bennett said.

Referring to Conlin's comments about small businesses, Bennett said the only three large users in Canton are Outback Steakhouse, Olive Garden and township-owned Fellows Creek Golf Course.

"All of the rest go to small users," Bennett added.

He told his colleagues that with only 12 available licenses through the end of the decade, licenses should be issued cautiously.

As far as Nadasen, Bennett was supportive. "I believe the current petitioner is bringing something unique to the community."

The approval of Nadasen's request also marked a change in township supervisor Tom Yack's decision. On a report regarding the license request, Yack recommended denial even though Bennett had changed his mind. "I had to make up my mind fairly early on," he said, adding he then spoke with Bennett, who apparently informed him that now more scrutiny will be involved in license issuance.

Nadasen, meanwhile, is now waiting for state approval of his license, which he was told could take three or four months. Construction for the restaurant will take about two months. Nadasen plans to hire 15-20 employees. And his parents probably will help him, too.

"There isn't any restaurant like this here," Nadasen said. "I've never tasted food like this."

Schools to hold workshop

Parents interested in the developmental approach being used in Plymouth Canton elementary schools may want to attend the school board's next workshop.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. tonight (May 17) in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium. The high school is on Joy Road just west of Canton Center.

On the agenda is developmental education. The workshop was requested by parents concerned about the effectiveness of the developmental approach, which attempts to help students learn at their own individual rates.

transfer. Unable to settle on terms of "an amicable separation" with the district, Gale's attorney is suing the Plymouth-Canton school board and Farrand Principal Ann Kuhn for harassment and the intentional infliction of emotional distress.

Gale's immediate concern is returning to his students. "That is my desire. I think that it's the moral obligation of the school community that I return," Gale said. "I was not proved guilty of anything."

Gale said taxpayers in the community "will be very enlightened about what is going on in this community and this school district by some of the litigation that is going to follow. Maybe in litigation the wisdom of this reappointment decision will be fully explored."

Gale also questioned why a permanent, full-time person was placed in his position.

No decision

Errol Goldman, the district's executive director of employee relations, said no decision has been made about where Gale will be assigned.

"We are still in discussion with him about that; we haven't made a decision. We still have not received all the documents from him regarding his ability to return to work," he said.

"There is a permanent, full-time contracted teacher in that position, so there is no vacancy there," Goldman said the October incident "isn't involved. It's a sick leave, and that is what we are working with. We are looking at all the factors: the students, the teacher, and what would help the educational process the best."

Until the district places Gale, "we won't know whether the grievance will be withdrawn or proceeded with," Goldman said. "We don't have all the information we need. We were just notified that he intends to return. We are taking a look at the options and making sure all the obligations of employees, including the current employees, as well as those of Mr. Gale, are met."

Chuck Portelli, president of the teachers' union, said the union will proceed with the grievance if Gale isn't returned to his Farrand classroom.

"He is a certified teacher and has been cleared of any wrongdoing. He should have the assignment he had at the end of the year at Farrand," he said.

Settlement sought

Jeff Sherman, Gale's attorney, said he first wrote to the district's legal counsel in March regarding Gale's return to work.

He received no response until contacting Goldman directly May 6, saying Gale would be ready to work May 20. Sherman said Goldman "went over Gale's proposal for an amicable separation, and he asked me to give him a bottom line figure for him to take to the executive committee to settle the pending lawsuit."

Sherman did so, and said the district's executive committee rejected the proposal. Sherman said his next step is to file in Wayne County Circuit Court. Circuit court handles claims of $10,000 or more.

"The moral of the story is: We made the school board a very reasonable offer to resolve all of these issues, and they have seen fit to simply reject them," said Sherman. "As a result, they've just purchased themselves grievances and a lawsuit, and I think that is basically foolish on their part."

"Mr. Gale has been a teacher in this district for 24 years. Prior to 1990-91 school year, Mr. Gale's work record was exemplary. In July of 1990, Ann Kuhn started her employment at Farrand. After arrival, she engaged in a pattern of practice of harassment against Mr. Gale. For example, during the 1991-92 school year, Ann Kuhn attempted to institute an out-of-cycle evaluation against him. It resulted in an unsatisfactory rating, of course, and for 1991-92, Mr. Gale was placed on a program of assistance."

An arbitrator found after a grievance was filed that Kuhn's evaluation was "done in a procedurally deficient manner," Kuhn declined comment on the issue.

Board discussion

Litigation was filed after Kuhn said she intended to do a second out-of-cycle evaluation of Gale and the school board refused to intervene.

Gale has been critical of the developmental approach being used in Plymouth-Canton elementary grades. Kuhn is a proponent of the controversial method, to be discussed in a school board workshop tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Canton High School.

Saying goodbye

SHERRIE BUZBY/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

With appreciation: Jim DeKiere, Eriksson Elementary teacher, presents a plaque to Canton police officer Ron Schemanske, whose rotation with the Plymouth-Canton D.A.R.E. program is completed. Elementary students surprised the officer at a picnic.

900 S'craft graduates get diplomas in ceremony

The education they got at Schoolcraft College will enable graduates to adapt better to changes in the future, said Robert E. Schiller, state superintendent of public instruction in his commencement address to graduates last week at Schoolcraft.

Schiller told the graduates that the past is the precursor of the future, and the fact that the graduates got degrees at Schoolcraft probably means they'll continue to educate themselves and be prepared for societal and economic changes down the road.

Schiller, a graduate of Upsala College in New Jersey, also holds a master's in English literature from the University of Mississippi, a master's in curriculum and instruction from the University of Pennsylvania and a doctorate in education from Penn.

In other commencement activities, the college awarded honorary degrees to state Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, a former Schoolcraft board member.

As state senator, Geake represents the communities of Canton, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Redford. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he received a bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees.

He was chairman of Schoolcraft's board of trustees in 1971 and 1972.

Schoolcraft also paid tribute to two "distinguished alums." — James Key and Raymond Dreyfus.

Key graduated from Schoolcraft in 1979 with degrees in applied science and culinary arts. Last year he got Schoolcraft degrees in marketing and applied management.

Currently an account manager for Digital Equipment of Novi, Key has also worked for the Digital Services Group, Rupp and Bowman Co. and Airborne Graphics.

Dreyfus graduated from Schoolcraft in 1969 and is now a media executive for Chrysler Corp. He has held a number of marketing and advertising positions with Chrysler over the last nine years, including a three-year stint as marketing manager in California. Dreyfus started his career in the advertising industry and later became vice president of media at the J. Walter Thompson Agency, a Ford division.

Dreyfus has a master's in business administration from the advanced management program at Michigan State University.

Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell conferred degrees or certificates on the following graduates and candidates.

Schools to hold workshop

Parents interested in the developmental approach being used in Plymouth-Canton elementary schools may want to attend the school board's next workshop.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. tonight (May 17) in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium. The high school is on Joy Road just west of Canton Center.

On the agenda is developmental education. The workshop was requested by parents concerned about the effectiveness of the developmental approach, which attempts to help students learn at their own individual rates.

For more information, call the schools' community-relations office at 451-3188.

transfer. Unable to settle on terms of "an amicable separation" with the district, Gale's attorney is suing the Plymouth-Canton school board and Farrand Principal Ann Kuhn for harassment and the intentional infliction of emotional distress.

Gale's immediate concern is returning to his students. "That is my desire. I think that it's the moral obligation of the school community that I return," Gale said. "I was not proved guilty of anything."

Gale said taxpayers in the community "will be very enlightened about what is going on in this community and this school district by some of the litigation that is going to follow. Maybe in litigation the wisdom of this reappointment decision will be fully explored."

Gale also questioned why a permanent, full-time person was placed in his position.

No decision
Errol Goldman, the district's executive director of employee relations, said no decision has been made about where Gale will be assigned.

"We are still in discussion with him about that; we haven't made a decision. We still have not received all the documents from him regarding his ability to return to work," he said.

"There is a permanent, full-time contracted teacher in that position, so there is no vacancy there," Goldman said the October incident "isn't involved. It's a sick leave, and that is what we are working with. We are looking at all the factors: the students, the teacher, and what would help the educational process the best."

Until the district places Gale, "we won't know whether the grievance will be withdrawn or proceeded with," Goldman said. "We don't have all the information we need. We were just notified that he intends to return. We are taking a look at the options and making sure all the obligations of employees, including the current employees, as well as those of Mr. Gale, are met."

Chuck Portelli, president of the teachers' union, said the union will proceed with the grievance if Gale isn't returned to his Farrand classroom.

"He is a certified teacher and has been cleared of any wrongdoing. He should have the assignment he had at the end of the year at Farrand," he said.

Settlement sought

Jeff Sherman, Gale's attorney, said he first wrote to the district's legal counsel in March regarding Gale's return to work.

He received no response until contacting Goldman directly May 6, saying Gale would be ready to work May 20. Sherman said Goldman "went over Gale's proposal for an amicable separation, and he asked me to give him a bottom line figure for him to take to the executive committee to settle the pending lawsuit."

Sherman did so, and said the district's executive committee rejected the proposal. Sherman said his next step is to file in Wayne County Circuit Court. Circuit court handles claims of $10,000 or more.

"The moral of the story is: We made the school board a very reasonable offer to resolve all of these issues, and they have seen fit to simply reject them," said Sherman. "As a result, they've just purchased themselves grievances and a lawsuit, and I think that is basically foolish on their part."

"Mr. Gale has been a teacher in this district for 24 years. Prior to 1990-91 school year, Mr. Gale's work record was exemplary. In July of 1990, Ann Kuhn started her employment at Farrand. After arrival, she engaged in a pattern of practice of harassment against Mr. Gale. For example, during the 1991-92 school year, Ann Kuhn attempted to institute an out-of-cycle evaluation against him. It resulted in an unsatisfactory rating, of course, and for 1991-92, Mr. Gale was placed on a program of assistance."

An arbitrator found after a grievance was filed that Kuhn's evaluation was "done in a procedurally deficient manner," Kuhn declined comment on the issue.

Board discussion

Litigation was filed after Kuhn said she intended to do a second out-of-cycle evaluation of Gale and the school board refused to intervene.

Gale has been critical of the developmental approach being used in Plymouth-Canton elementary grades. Kuhn is a proponent of the controversial method, to be discussed in a school board workshop tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Canton High School.

900 S'craft graduates get diplomas in ceremony

The education they got at Schoolcraft College will enable graduates to adapt better to changes in the future, said Robert E. Schiller, state superintendent of public instruction in his commencement address to graduates last week at Schoolcraft.

Schiller told the graduates that the past is the precursor of the future, and the fact that the graduates got degrees at Schoolcraft probably means they'll continue to educate themselves and be prepared for societal and economic changes down the road.

Schiller, a graduate of Upsala College in New Jersey, also holds a master's in English literature from the University of Mississippi, a master's in curriculum and instruction from the University of Pennsylvania and a doctorate in education from Penn.

In other commencement activities, the college awarded honorary degrees to state Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, a former Schoolcraft board member.

As state senator, Geake represents the communities of Canton, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Redford. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where he received a bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees.

He was chairman of Schoolcraft's board of trustees in 1971 and 1972.

Schoolcraft also paid tribute to two "distinguished alums," — James Key and Raymond Dreyfus.

Key graduated from Schoolcraft in 1979 with degrees in applied science and culinary arts. Last year he got Schoolcraft degrees in marketing and applied management.

Currently an account manager for Digital Equipment of Novi, Key has also worked for the Digital Services Group, Rupp and Bowman Co. and Airborne Graphics.

Dreyfus graduated from Schoolcraft in 1969 and is now a media executive for Chrysler Corp. He has held a number of marketing and advertising positions with Chrysler over the last nine years, including a three-year stint as marketing manager in California. Dreyfus started his career in the advertising industry and later became vice president of media at the J. Walter Thompson Agency, a Ford division.

Dreyfus has a master's in business administration from the advanced management program at Michigan State University.

Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell conferred degrees or certificates on the following graduates and candidates.

Schools offer summer photo class

Summer photography classes will be offered for students in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools through the Talented and Gifted Art Program.

Offered for students from ages 9 to 15, the classes will cover black and white and color photography. The various types of photographs students take include still life, pets, natural framing and portraits. Students will take photos at Gray's Greenhouse in Plymouth and photograph some of the city's landmarks.

Classes will be held at Pioneer Middle School. The two-week sessions will be held 9:30-11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. The first session runs June 21 to July 2 and session two runs from July 5 to 16. On July 16 and 17, students will display their works during an exhibit at the Canton Public Library.

The fee for the class is $22. Students must bring a 35mm camera to class and will also need to pay for film and development costs. Registration forms are available in each elementary and middle school office. Forms also are available in the TAG office, located at the Tanger Center, 40260

Five Mile Road in Plymouth Township.

Special field trips will include the darkroom of the Observer office in Plymouth, the Gaffield Studio in Plymouth and the photo lab at Quicksilver Photo in Plymouth.

For more information, please call Mary Mack at 459-9355 or Harriet Kofta at 420-5357.

Students to perform at nursing home

Students from Central Middle School have joined together to help brighten the lives of residents of the West Trail Nursing Home in Plymouth.

Once a month since March, students have visited the nursing home to sing, dance, play musical instruments, read poetry and perform skits for the 47 residents of West Trail. Students from Margo Panko and Joan Davis' English classes have visited the nursing home after school.

"This project supports Central Middle School's school improvement goal of helping others through community service," Panko said.

The residents of West Trail enjoy the visits by Central students, according to Sheryl Borton, West Trail's activity director.

"By performing for our residents, the students provide them with added excitement in their lives," Borton said. "The students are energetic and enjoy talking to the residents."

Central students will visit West Trail Nursing Home once again 3:30-4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25.

Nearby vocational center plans open house

The William Ford Vocational/Technical Center will hold its annual spring open house Thursday night to show off its programs and equipment.

The open house, scheduled for 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the center on Marquette between Wayne Road and Newburgh, will include tours of all 24 programs, technical demonstrations, student film previews, introduction of staff members and enrollment information.

Free refreshments and blood pressure tests will be available.

The school, owned and operated by the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, has programs in accounting/computing, film animation techniques, automated manufacturing/machining, auto body repair, auto technology, building maintenance services, building trades, child care, computer aided design/drafting, cosmetology, culinary arts, data processing, graphic design, health occupations, heating/air conditioning/refrigeration, industrial electronics, landscaping technologies/greenhouse management, media production, medical assisting, office/word processing, printing technology, typesetting/electronic typesetting, and welding.

The center has been accredited by the North Central Association.

Economists say Prop A would boost state economy

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Proposal A, if adopted by voters Wednesday, June 2, would help Michigan's investment climate, two economists told a State Capitol seminar.

But by cutting property taxes and raising the sales tax, Proposal A would make Michigan's tax structure more regressive, hitting lower incomes harder percentage-wise than high incomes.

"To the extent that taxes fall on capital, capital will move. Capital is pretty mobile," said Paul N. Courant, professor of economics and public policy at the University of Michigan.

"Capital is more mobile locally. Taxes have some effect on location," Courant said at a seminar for legislators and the staff members.

Proposal A would cut school operating property taxes on all property, industrial, commercial, home and farm. The sales tax would fall entirely on consumers.

"Capital clearly is mobile," agreed state treasurer Douglas Roberts, a former economics professor himself and Gov.

John Engler's economics guru.

Roberts argued that for 25 years — in good times and bad — Michigan's unemployment rate has exceeded the national average. Roberts blames high property taxes.

'A' regressive

Edward M. Gramlich, director of U-M's Institute of Public Policy Studies, said Michigan's overall tax structure is regressive, but less so than those of other states.

The reason is the current combination of local property taxes and the personal income tax, which give rebates to elderly people and people in high property tax areas.

Proposal A, by cutting $1.7 billion in school operating property taxes and replacing much of it with a 2 cents increase in the sales tax, "will make Michigan as regressive as other states," Gramlich said.

Currently, Gramlich said, the lowest one-fifth of Michigan taxpayers pay a total of 7.7 percent of their incomes in property and income taxes; the second fifth pay 7.9; the third fifth pay 7.7 percent; the fourth, 8.0 percent; and the top 1 percent, 6.4 percent.

Economists generally favor income taxes, which also are deductible from income for federal tax purposes. But the U-M pair recognized that "income tax" has been a dirty word in Michigan since 1983 when voters recalled two state senators and tried to recall then-Gov. James Blanchard.

"Michigan is unique in its heavy reliance on local taxes," Gramlich said. Spending on public schools is closely related to the wealth of local people, he said. "But there's a great puzzle: It's hard to equate (academic) performance to education spending.

"Proposal A will benefit (school) spending in two-thirds of the state," Gramlich said. It would provide a constitutionally guaranteed "foundation" grant of $4,800 per pupil in every district.

Courant said Michigan's single business tax (SBT) is widely but incorrectly believed to fall entirely on business. Actually, SBT, largely a payroll tax, has a depressing effect on the wages of labor, he said.

On this point he was challenged by treasurer Roberts. "You go out and sell to the business community the idea that the SBT is paid by others," said Roberts, who was Engler's chief spokesman last year on failed Proposal C.

The seminar was arranged by Sen. John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, chairman of the Senate Higher Education Appropriations Subcommittee, and touted by Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor.

Said Schwarz: "God knows we need it."

Counties back 'A'

The Michigan Association of Counties added its endorsement to Proposal A after getting a key commitment from Engler.

Engler withdrew his support for a bill to freeze 1993 property assessments after first-supporting it.

"Counties maintained from the start that the 'freeze' contained in Senate Bill 146 was unnecessary," said James N. Callahan, executive director of the Michigan Association of Counties. "There would be no gain, just pain, to counties caused by the delay of a major loss of revenue."

SB 146 has been on the Senate calendar for more than a month. The assessment freeze measure was viewed as a companion to Proposal A, the constitutional amendment on the ballot. SB 146 would freeze assessments this year; 'A' will cap assessment increases in future years at 5 percent or the rate of consumer price inflation, whichever is less.

Senate Democrats have failed in an attempt to force a vote on SB 146.

Opponents form

One group has formed to fight Proposal A.

Frank Lessa of East Lansing filed a statement of organization for Citizens League Opposed to Unfair Taxes. Mailing address is PO Box 4685, East Lansing, MI 48826.

Metro Detroit: the surprising market story

Detroit is a "city of suburbs."

As the graph shows, suburbanites comprise more than 72% of Detroit's metro population.

Suburban population as a percentage of overall metro population:

City	Percentage
New York	37
Los Angeles	52
Chicago	52
Philadelphia	65
Detroit	72

Even more surprising: 85% of metro Detroit's Effective Buying Income (EBI) is suburban.

All of which explains why the best newspaper buy for many advertisers is not The Detroit News, is not the Detroit Free Press—it's the SPRING network of suburban newspapers.

(707,214) is more than double that of the daily News (274,510) or Free Press (348,698). And SPRING's suburban CPMs are lower.

Why? Because the suburbs are actually dozens of separate communities. And, try as they might, one or two newspapers simply can't cover the important news in all those communities as well as their own local suburban newspapers can.

Pretty porches take planning

Summertime, and the livin' is easy... off decks, garden rooms, patios and porches. The best decorating style for these seasonal living rooms creates a relaxed, comfortable, yet cheerful environment. It's all about ease, and the perfect setting can be enhanced with splashes of color and small accessories.

Choose a theme. Do you envision your sunroom filled with white wicker, pink ticking stripes and pastel floral planters and dinnerware? Or will your porch pulsate with bright color? Perhaps you prefer vividly striped place mats and fruit motif bowls, trays and baskets. How would this multi-color wooden toucan look on your patio table? He's one of a family of three from Pier I Imports ($29.99). Let's pull together a couple of enticing sun spaces with merchandise from area Pier I Imports and Hudson's stores, and ideas from local shoppers.

Victorian stylings

For a soft, romantic summer look choose from Pier I's rattan or white metal furniture collections. A variety of striped and floral patterned cushions enliven the seats. To enhance the airy, outdoors feeling, you may want to select a large wicker decorative bird cage ($37.48) or a white hammock to hang in a corner ($79.98).

Connie Schnell of Rochester Hills chose a ceramic wall planter festooned with lavender and pink flowers for a pretty sunroom look ($14.99) and she admired the wicker planters on green metal stands at Pier I.

"I like a greenhouse look," she said, while admitting that she would have a hard time adding another thing to any of her over-accessorized rooms.

Other pleasing knick-knacks for our soft-toned room include pastel wooden fish to scatter on a coffee table ($19.98), antique-look brass and tin watering cans ($19.99) and, from Hudson's Marketplace Summer Place collection, seashell or flower patterned acrylic dinnerware in pretty pale hues.

For a more vibrant look, the hot motifs for warm months include whimsical fruit and fish patterns. Hudson's newest summer collection features drinkware, trays, pitchers and salad bowls splashed with riot of bright, sunny fruits ($11.99-$17.99). Don't forget to string the fruit-shaped party lights across the deck for an authentic tropical fiesta ($15.99).

Colleen Cornell of Birmingham opted for watermelon-patterned glassware from Pier I ($2.49) to accent a secret pal's summer table. Her gift included coordinating napkins and a paper-mache watermelon wedge ($3.49) to brighten a centerpiece or add sass to a baker's rack.

How about an apple or watermelon-shaped wicker picnic basket from Hudson's Marketplace? Great for storage in the garden room.

Continuing in the summer fruit motif, Lisa Zaleski of Redford was spotted amid the strawberries at Pier I. She chose a bright red and green strawberry bowl and planned to fill it with the real thing, perhaps chocolate dipped. Lisa found all of the vivid ceramics, "fun for summer."

Splish splash

Long for the seashore? Add an aquatic look to your room with the hand-dyed papier mache fish pictured from Pier I ($34.99). In royal blue, yellow and kelly green spattered with hot pink dots, this enchanting creature would make a great wall hanging or a tray for those tall, cool drinks. Look for matching glassware at Pier I and a line of perfectly coordinating dinnerware, platters ($10.99) and candles ($6.99) at Hudson's.

No matter how you personalize your outdoor or enclosed summer retreat, make it a wonderful place to get away from it all. While porches and sunrooms and patios serve as ideal venues for entertaining, they can also be perfect private sanctuaries. A comfortable chair, a good book, the sweet scent of a flowering tree and a little spot of sun may be all you need to provide the setting for a blissful summer afternoon.

(Main street Pier I locations are: 33029 Grand River in Farmington, 555 Forest Ave. in Plymouth, 139 South Main St. in Rochester.)

Where is Crowley's headed?

Shoppers know best. They know where the values are. They know where the service is. They have some advice for Crowley's, an old friend in trouble.

By SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

In its 85th year, the venerable Crowley-Milner Co. finds itself sailing through choppy retail waters in a quest to reach a profit island.

Over the last few years, the company reported losses of $5 million. Last year Crowley sales topped $100 million, but this was still down from the previous year.

In November, Crowley's named a new president, Dennis Callahan, formerly of Hess's Dept. Stores.

Two weeks ago, Crowley's sold its long-troubled Wildwood store in Westland to the Schottenstein Stores Corp. of Columbus, Ohio. Schottenstein is in the midst of a liquidation sale at Wildwood, estimated to run through June.

Crowley's also announced that it had lined up an $8 million loan with a $2 million cash advance that would be used to pay off debts. Crowley's will not confirm the source of the loan, but retail insiders hint it may have also come from the Schottenstein Corp.

"There is nothing but good from the sale of the Wildwood store," said Stan Siwula, a spokesman for Crowley's. "We've secured new financing, got rid of a non-profitable store, set off in a new direction. It's never business-as-usual in the retail market."

Yet it's Crowley's business-as-usual approach to retailing that has disappointed some shoppers.

Welcome to '90s

"We'd like to welcome Crowley's into the '90s," said Mark Tisdell of Rochester Hills. "Their stores look like something out of the '50s. They have decent merchandise, but the interiors need major refurbishing."

"I always think of Crowley's as the place my grandmother and mother shopped," said Corey Baker of West Bloomfield. "Over the years their merchandise selection has been poor. On several occasions I came out to their advertised shoe sales and they were not what I expected."

But other shoppers said Crowley's moderate-to-upper moderately priced lines are great bargains, especially during the annual Anniversary and Crowley Days Sales.

"If Crowley's wants to compete with Jacobson's or Hudson's, they will have to bring in more upscale merchandise at higher prices, and then they wouldn't be Crowley's anymore," said Linda DePietro of Bloomfield Township. "I shop at Crowley's during their sales because I shop for value."

Fashion show has student designs

By SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Followers of fashion won't want to miss the dress made from bottle caps, the suit of magazine covers or the outfit created from filmstrip when design students strut their stuff Sunday at Twelve Oaks Mall.

The 1 p.m. fashion show will move down the Lord & Taylor escalator, dramatically revealing winners of the Fashion Group of Detroit's scholarship program.

"This is the first year Twelve Oaks has hosted the Fashion Group's annual scholarship event," said Elaine Kah, mall spokeswoman. "We are delighted to be a part of the program. Twelve Oaks will award a scholarship to the Best of Show winner. The public is invited to attend this unique fashion show and see which student designs could be the next big thing."

Sharon Rees, scholarship chairwoman of the Fashion Group of Detroit, said $8,000 in student scholarships will be presented in the eighth annual contest.

"Our applicants come from all over the world, but to qualify for our scholarships they must either be a Michigan resident or a student at a Michigan school," she explained. "We have two award categories, fashion merchandising and fashion design. Sixty-two students have submitted either their design projects or a fashion promotion plan, and 31 have been selected for Sunday's contest."

Each fall the Fashion Group of Detroit hosts Stylemakers, a fund-raiser whose profits are spread over three programs; the maintenance of a fashion library in the Detroit Historical Museum, the scholarship program and AIDS research. This year $30,000 will be shared between the programs.

The Fashion Group of Detroit is part of an international organization with the aim of promoting excellence and professionalism in all aspects of the fashion world — from design to manufacturing to retailing. According to Rees, members of the Fashion Group must work three years in a professional position in the fashion field before being accepted into the group.

Crowley's return policy is what keeps Nira Eev of Southfield coming back.

"I go to Israel quite often and take clothing from Crowley's there," she reported. "If things I buy don't fit my relatives or aren't wanted, Crowley's always takes them back — even six months after I've bought them. And the salespeople are always so nice and helpful."

Siwula said Crowley's is aware of shortcomings and plans to use its new capital to "further business by buying new lines, strengthening brand-name awareness, and scouting new locations."

Frederick Marx of Marx/Layne, a public relations firm specializing in retail accounts, argued that Crowley's will make it through tough times if its management can identify what Crowley's is all about to their customers, and then deliver what they do best on a dependable basis.

"There's plenty of room for a moderate-priced retailer, a brand-name secondary, junior department store in this market," Marx said. "Crowley's also has wonderful, convenient, easy-in, easy-out locations. But you don't get a clear message of what they're all about from their management or advertising campaigns. They play more defense than offense."

Marx concluded that Crowley's needs to "bring their whole picture together" and sell it to shoppers. He said Crowley's has inadvertently trained its customers to wait for the sales, which has hurt business on a day-to-day basis.

Stores span area

From its headquarters on West Lafayette in downtown Detroit, Crowley's operates 10 stores with 1,200 employees. The stores are located in Livonia Mall, downtown Birmingham, Lakeside Mall in Sterling Heights, Universal Mall in Warren, Macomb Mall in Roseville, Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield, Westborn Mall in Dearborn, Farmington Hills at 12 Mile, the New Center Area adjacent to General Motors World Headquarters, and the Courtland Center in Flint.

For the past 15 months, Crowley's has been belt-tightening with lay-offs. But most of the Wildwood store employees will be transferred to other Crowley locations.

Siwula said women's sportswear is Crowley's strong suit, with intimate apparel sales a close second.

"Plus-size and petites are real-growth areas for us," he said. "We pride ourselves on being priced right, having clean stores in good locations, and excellent customer service. Our sales are meaningful, believable."

Crowley-Milner was founded as a family department store on July 13, 1908, by Joseph J. Crowley and William L. Milner on Farmer and Monroe in Detroit. It was the third point of a retail triangle that included J.L. Hudson's and Kern's.

Dick Keys is a descendent of the founder. He and his brother Joseph, and cousin Judy, still retain positions on the board of directors. They are also buyers for the company. Keys shared a little Crowley's history.

"We went public in the early 1920s," he said. "Closed the downtown store in 1976. Looking ahead, I think it will be positive. We're all working together to turn this company around with the new direction we're taking. It's not going to be easy, but it will be done."

Through the years, Crowley's has "edited down" their lines of furniture, carpeting, appliances, bedding and housewares according to Siwula.

More than a year ago Crowley's started "The Frequent Buyer Plan" to reward loyal customers with discounts toward new purchases based on previous receipts. Siwula said customers appreciate the savings program, and it will be continued.

Two months ago Crowley's began offering customers an exclusive Crowley's charge card. Application forms are available at the cashier's counters.

Speedy European train to visit Wayne County

Local travelers one day may speed from Detroit to Chicago at more than 135 mph on a European-style X-2000 train.

State transportation director Patrick Nowak said the European "Tilt Train" will come to Michigan June 22-24 to operate in display service along the Detroit-Chicago corridor.

The train is expected to be on public exhibition, where it can be touched and toured, at locations to be announced within the next two weeks, Nowak's office said. Public rides will not be available because of limited seating.

The train will run tracks from western to eastern Michigan carrying government and industry representatives this summer but will be limited to the standard 80 mph speed. In Europe the train travels at speeds in excess 150 mph which cannot be handled by local signaling devices.

"This train represents state-of-the-art high-speed rail technology specifically designed to operate at increased speeds along conventional railway lines," the former Oakland County deputy executive said.

"This type of train will offer travelers more options when going between Detroit and Chicago. I commend Congressmen (Fred) Upton, R-St. Joseph, and (John) Dingell, D-Trenton, for their efforts with me to obtain the high-speed rail designation."

"This new and effective service will be good for travelers and good for Michigan because it means added investment and jobs for our state," said Gov. John Engler.

The X-2000 is on loan to Amtrak from the Swedish State Railways where it has been operating for about two years. Since arrival in the U.S., the X-2000 has been operating in test and demonstration service between Washington, D.C., New York City and Boston for the last six months.

AmTrack has been testing the X-2000 and other trains to develop specifications for a new nationally consistent train fleet, according to the Scott Hercik, acting director of the Michigan Department of Transportation inter-city passenger program.

"AmTrack will learn from this and develop its own train. . . . What we may see is something very similar to this in the future, but it won't be the same train," he said.

Madonna hosts teachers' workshop

For the third year, Madonna University has received an Eisenhower Higher Education grant to provide pre-service and in-service training for teachers working in kindergarten through the sixth grade.

This summer the university will offer a series of workshops titled "Problem Solving with Mathematical Models and Manipulatives."

The series is divided by grade level to provide exercises appropriate to various classrooms.

Activities will focus on teachers in kindergarten through second grade June 21-25, teachers of grades three through sixth June 28-July 2, and all teachers July 12-16.

"We believe in the scholarship program as a way to demonstrate that there are many opportunities and jobs available in the fashion business," she explained. "There is work in retail, promotion, merchandising, display, design and buying. We hope to encourage true professionalism in these fields."

This year's design finalists are studying at Michigan State, Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities. There are also finalists from Adrian, Delta and Grand Valley colleges, Macomb Community College and Oakland Vocational Institute. There are no age limits for students because the fashion group believes career opportunities are lifelong.

Shoppers are invited to see the design creations of the finalists from 12:30-1:30 p.m. Sunday at Lord & Taylor in the Twelve Oaks Mall, 12 Mile and Novi Roads in Novi.

Dems call for controls on privatizing services

It was, to use Yogi Berra's simile, "like deja vu all over again." Democratic state legislators sounded like free market economists last week as they denounced the Engler Administration's work in deinstitutionalizing mental patients and placing them in privately-operated group homes.

The occasion was an investigative series in The Detroit News by Sheila Gruber and John Wark on abuse and financial exploitation by adult care home operators. It seems many operators underfed and mistreated their charges while treating themselves to foreign luxury cars.

Wark, as many know, is a cohort of mine on the Michigan Freedom of Information Committee.

A month earlier, I chaired a panel discussion before a Women In Communications Inc. convention in Troy. Our topic was "Privatization: Impact on Public Access." A Wark colleague observed that when government awards contracts to private business to do governmental work, contractors hide what they're doing as if it were, well, private.

Then came the guru of privatization in Michigan — economist Charles Van Eaton of Hillsdale College. Van Eaton writes tracts for the Mackinac Center about how Detroit would be better off peddling Cobo Center because it's such a drain on the municipal coffers.

"You folks need to really birddog these guys," Van Eaton told us media types. "Don't let them get away with (claims the business) is private. It's always public."

Van Eaton's advice: ■ Proposed contracts should be studied carefully by the public and media before they are awarded.

■ Government must have excellent staffers monitoring contractors' performance. That was the whole point of the Gruber-Wark series.

And so liberal Democratic senators sounded exactly like the free market guru last week as they denounced group home operators and Engler. "There's no accountability," said

TIM RICHARD

'You folks need to really birddog these guys,' economist Charles Van Eaton told us media types. 'Don't let them get away with (claims the business) is private. It's always public.'

Sen. Jim Berryman, D-Adrian. "We need a program of proper licensing and monitoring."
"Deinstitutionalization has its place. It's how the program has been implemented," added Senate minority floor leader John Cherry, D-Clio.

Though hopelessly outnumbered 22 to 16, Senate minority leader Art Miller, D-Warren, established a Democratic task force on mental health, chaired by Berryman, "to bring accountability, responsibility and decency into mental health service delivery in the community."

Rep. Pat Gagliardi, D-Drummond Island, said the House Oversight and Ethics Committee would hold hearings "on the appalling treatment of mentally ill and developmentally disabled citizens in the mental health system," adding, "This is a textbook example of privatization gone awry."

Even Republican Sen. Robert Geake of Northville repeated the lesson: "We need to put more time and effort into monitoring contracts."

There was a double irony. Democrats not only were talking like Van Eaton, but were praising a newspaper that for years had editorially blistered their progovernment propensities.

Democrats talked as if Gov. John Engler invented privatization of mental care. In truth, the movement started in the late 1970s with Gov. William Milliken, a moderate Republican, and was cheerfully, although quietly, continued in the '80s by Gov. James Blanchard, a moderate Democrat. Engler's contribution was to make an ideological point of it.

I take dim views of both socialism (government in business) and privatization (business in government). There's room for government to contract with businesses to pave roads and perform maintenance functions. But conducting elections, supervising prisons, caring for the mentally ill, protecting natural resources and administering justice are governmental jobs.

And the doors and books should be open.

Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events. His office phone is (313) 349-1700.

Ultimate male role models were the three Stooges

If there's one issue that divides men and women, it's the Stooges as in Larry, Moe and Curly. Women who claim they don't understand men would be better off renting a Stooges video than watching Phil Donahue. The reason is the Stooges define male behavior.

I've done a serious study of this and will some day ask for a government arts grant to delve deeper into the subject. Hey, if Richard Malathorpe could get one for his photos, I could sure get one. It's certainly more interesting to look at how heterosexual males relate to each other.

As part of my study, I quizzed a clerk at a party store in Livonia. The store offers those seltzer bottles, filled, that the Stooges used to squirt each other. There's a waiting list for them. My wife dissuaded me from the purchase, but I still lust after one.

It's one of those items that would look great and be useful when the world got too serious. A squirt in the face would likely reduce a domestic spat from tragedy to the comic, which is the area in which it should dwell.

It's just too bad women don't see things the same way. The reason is that they think too much, and the Stooges are not for the thinking person. The Stooges are a fall. When men see somebody fall, their first reaction is to laugh. Meanwhile, the women folk have the hospital bill calculated to the penny.

When I was a kid in Detroit in the 1950s, the Stooges were on before school. All the boys in the neighborhood watched, and we re-enacted each scene as we walked to school and later in class. Our timing was perfect; nobody lost an eye to the two-finger Stooge eye gouge.

The trouble was, though, that we continued our antics in the classroom, much to the dismay of the girls and the mostly female teaching staff.

Such behavior and the female reaction to it doesn't stop upon graduation from grade school. To this day the females I work with scowl when I do my imitation of Curley's chuckle.

JEFF COUNTS

As part of my study, I quizzed a clerk at a party store in Livonia. The store offers those seltzer bottles, filled, that the Stooges used to squirt each other. There's a waiting list for them.

A woman I know tells of dating a man who insisted on doing the Three Stooges imitation when out to dinner, while a bachelor I knew would flee the promise of a romantic evening to make it home by 3 a.m. to watch the Stooges.

One female I know views the antics of football players as an extension of Stooge behavior. "You've got all those guys jumping in a pile and hitting each other." I couldn't argue.

The trouble is women can't see the intellectual side of the boys. Don't laugh. It's there. The Stooges knew that men see things differently than women. They displayed this side in my favorite Stooge episode, which centers on the misunderstanding of the word saloon.

The boys want to go into business, so they stop by a real estate office and buy a beauty of a saloon. Of course the boys are thinking seltzer water and scotch not pin curlers and hair dryers, which they end up with.

Men, being direct creatures who don't sweat the details as women do, wouldn't think to ask any more about the business. A saloon is a saloon, and it's a good place to be.

But there's the Stooge affect on fashion. One man I know contends the Stooges' hairstyles define those of all men. There's Curly's bald look, Larry's frizzy neo-Afro style, Moe's pre-Beatles mop and Shep's slicked back, but falling down on the sides style that is now in vogue.

The Stooges' films were training manuals for male behavior. But don't tell the feminists. Chances are they would want to ban them.

Jeff Counts is the editor of the Plymouth and Canton Observer Newspapers who looks like Curley but has a Larry-style hair cut. He can be called at 459-2700.

Ribbon-cutting governor to christen business expo

Gov. John Engler will appear Tuesday at the annual EXPO 275, the west suburban product and services exposition in Livonia.

Engler will christen the show with an official ribbon cutting at 6 p.m. on site at Burton Manor, 27777 Schoolcraft west of Inkster Road in Livonia.

What began in 1987 as the Greater Livonia Expo has grown to service a larger region, including other area chambers of commerce and communities along the I-275 corridor, from which the show has taken the name EXPO 275.

The exposition opens from 6-9 p.m. Tuesday with a show preview party featuring 20 area restaurants. Tickets for the Show Preview Reception are $20 a person. More than 1,500 persons are expected to attend the preview. For preview reception tickets call the chamber at 427-2122.

More than 130 business participate in the show. EXPO 275 runs noon to 8 p.m. on Wednesday and noon to 6 p.m. Thursday. The exposition is open to the public and admission is free. More than 5,000 people visit EXPO 275 each year.

EXPO 275 will sponsor a Business Resource Center available to show goers from 1-5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday at Burton Manor.

The Business Resource Center will feature counselors and representatives from government-sponsored business assistance agencies, including the Michigan State Department of Commerce and the Service Corps of Retired Executives (S.C.O.R.E.).

Agency representatives will answer questions about issues business people encounter free of charge: exporting, loan application requirements, taxes and regulations, franchising.

The Business Resource Center schedule is: 1-3 p.m. Wednesday, Office of Waste Reduction of the Michigan Department of Commerce, Michigan Business Ombudsman, Schoolcraft College, SCORE business counseling; 4-5 p.m. Wednesday, Office of Waste Reduction and SCORE; 1-3 p.m. Thursday, Business Ombudsman; 2-4 p.m. Thursday, Schoolcraft College.

From 1-5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday city, county and state elected officials will be at the expo for discussion with visitors.

Government officials available on Wednesday are: from 1-2 p.m. include state Sen. Robert Geake and/or aide, and Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett, and U.S. Sen. Carl Levin and/or aide; from 2-3 p.m., Geake, Bennett, Levin; from 3-4 p.m. Livonia treasurer Robert Bishop, Wayne County commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, Geake, Levin, Bennett; from 4-5 p.m. Geake, Bishop, McCotter, and from 5-6 p.m. Geake, Bishop and McCotter.

More more than 130 business participate in EXPO 275.

SMART adds 58 new buses

The Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation recently introduced 58 new buses to its lineup.

The new buses replace another 58 which had reached or passed their retirement age of 12 years. SMART officials say this is another sign that southeastern Michigan's largest public transit company is turning things around.

"Right now, SMART is probably running more smoothly and efficiently than ever," said SMART interim general manager Michael Duggan. "The only thing we have left to do is get people to realize that and increase our ridership."

The announcement comes on the heels of ones made earlier this week that SMART has become the first bus company in America to offer a 100 percent money back guarantee on its service and plans to provide tax-free vouchers to commuters to encourage ridership. Other recent announcements include a new $1.50 anywhere fare, and the launching of SMART's first-ever TV advertising campaign.

One year ago, SMART faced the possibility of shutting down due to a projected $12 million deficit.

After streamlining costs, SMART has trimmed the deficit to approximately $3.2 million.

"We're running leaner, but at the same time better," said Duggan. "If you take a ride in one of these new buses and compare it to anything D-DOT is running, you'll see how far we've come. If you talk with one of our employees, you will see friendliness is important to us."

The new buses cost $179,000 each plus additional spare parts, bringing the total contract to $10.9 million. The new buses will make SMART's fleet 100 percent wheelchair accessible. Other features include air conditioning, internal and external PA systems and visual stop request signs for sight- and hearing-impaired riders.

"Every change we are making now has multiple benefits," said SMART chairman of the board Matthew Wirgau. "Not only will these new buses be better for our customers by improving service, but they will result in lower maintenance costs, higher fuel efficiency and improved reliability for SMART."

Lunar eclipse won't be much to see from here

Illusive Mercury will be in superior conjunction on Sunday. It is located behind the sun, as seen from the earth, and is not visible. It will become an evening object by the end of the month, although it will be better placed for observing in June.

The waning (fading) crescent moon will be four degrees above

Venus on the morning of the 17th. This will not only make for a pretty display, it will help you locate Venus in the daylight. Find the moon after sunrise and look eight full-moon diameters (four degrees) below the moon. If cloud cover is a problem (never!), try on the morning of the 18th; the moon will be eight degrees to the left of

Venus.

RAYMOND E. BULLOCK

New moon will be at 10:06 a.m. on May 21. The moon will be located between the earth and the sun and will not be visible. Its silhouette, however, will put in an appearance as the moon eclipses (covers) the sun. How much of the sun is covered depends on your location on the earth.

In the metro Detroit area a whopping 2.4 percent of the sun will be eclipsed at 9 a.m. In other words: yawn! People living farther west will see a greater percent eclipsed. We're not talking about farther west as in Ann Arbor or Lansing; try Seattle (whose weather rivals our own) where 40 percent of the sun will be eclipsed. (CAUTION: NEVER STARE DIRECTLY AT THE SUN!)

It could be possible to spot Mercury in the evening sky on the 22nd, albeit with some difficulty;

it will be only two degrees above the west northwest horizon. The one-day old waxing (growing) crescent moon will be eight degrees above and to the left of Mercury. Try looking for Mercury around 9:30 p.m. but don't get frustrated if you can't find it; the situation will improve with time.

On the evening of the 24th, the crescent moon will be in Gemini. The star located 12 degrees above the moon will be Pollux (PAWL lux), one of the heads of the twins. The head of his twin brother, marked by the star Castor, will be just to the right of Pollux. On the following night the moon will be 12 degrees to the left of Pollux.

The distance from Jupiter to Eta Vir (we can use a more casual name for our old friend Eta now) will be down to one-tenth of one degree on the evening of the 26th. Most people will not be able to see both objects with the naked-eye; Jupiter will be 300 times brighter than Eta Vir, and that contrast will all but make the star invisible, unless a telescope or binoculars are used.

Both objects will be visible with optical aid; in fact, Jupiter's four brightest moons will be spotted too! You will be able to distinguish between the moons and Eta Vir by intensity; the star will be brighter than the moons.

Notice the moon on the evening of the 27th. It will be located six degrees below Regulus (REG you lus), the "heart" of Leo the lion. Mars will be 13 degrees below and to the right of Regulus, forming a triangle with that star and the moon. Still moving eastward about one-half of a degree per day, Mars will pass Regulus in 26 days.

First quarter moon will be at 2:21 p.m. on May 28. The moon will have completed the first quarter of its orbit around the earth. It will be found in the south at sunset, and will set after midnight.

May 29 is THE evening; Jupiter and Eta Vir have their rendezvous! The two objects will be less than one-tenth of a degree apart. While you may think this is about as exciting as May's solar eclipse, it is not often that a bright planet appears so close to a reasonably bright star, and that makes it worthy of attention. Alas, the moon will be 11 degrees to the left of Jupiter, and its scattered light will add to Jupiter's own. (Remember to use binoculars to spot Eta Vir.)

On the evening of the 30th the moon will be six degrees below Jupiter, and on the 31st the moon will be two degrees below Spica.

The evening of the 31st is also an excellent time to look for Mercury in the west northwest. It will be six degrees (12 full-moon diameters) above the horizon, looking like a star in the glow of evening twilight. Mercury will be favorably placed for spotting well into June!

Truck safety campaign begins Tuesday

The Michigan Truck Safety Commission will launch a statewide highway safety campaign Tuesday, May 18. The commission will kick off the campaign with a news conference at 10:30 a.m. at the Sheraton Hotel in Lansing.

The commission's "Let's Share the Road" campaign is aimed at educating motorists and truckers about sharing our state highways more cooperatively. The news conference will address the need for drivers of both cars and trucks to have a better understanding of each other, offer tips for both drivers on how to cooperatively share the road, and demonstrate how "sharing the road" will make highways, roads and streets safer.

Officials attending the news conference include Colonel Michael Robinson of the Michigan State Police Department, Secretary of State Richard Austin, and Walter Bay, president of the Michigan Trucking Association. These individuals will be available during the news conference to answer questions from the audience.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Keep your kitchen cool, cook turkey on the grill

Thanksgiving is still six months away, but this rash of great weather we've been experiencing has prompted me to fire up the grill far earlier than in years past.

Usually I begin with the traditional burgers, but I couldn't resist an offer from my local turkey farm when I noticed they were selling birds at half off. I thanked myself for putting the grill away clean last fall, a definite change from prior years when I had to spend a good part of the day scrubbing off all of last summer's build-up.

For the uninitiated, all you need is a covered grill to roast a bird. The main difference from a traditional Thanksgiving turkey is that when grilling a bird, it's best left unstuffed.

Grilling turkey

A 12 to 14 pound turkey is best for grilling. Simply remove the giblets and neck, rinse and pat dry. Since the stuffing is best left out, you can fill the cavity of the bird with garlic, herbs and aromatic vegetables — like onions and celery.

If you are a turkey purist, you will probably want to make a stock for the turkey gravy while the bird is roasting by placing the neck, chopped, of course, in a saucepan with the giblets and then covered with water.

To the stock I like to add a small chopped onion, carrots and a few ribs of chopped celery and then cover with about five cups of cold water. Bring to a boil, then reduce the heat to a simmer for about three hours, just enough time to roast the bird.

Preparing coals

The most important aspect of grilling a turkey is heat control. As in other methods of cooking turkey, moderate heat makes for the best results. For my standard Weber grill, I started with about five pounds of coals and let them burn down until they were uniformly covered with white ash.

A little trick you might choose to remember for grilling is that when you can hold your open palm over the coals at cooking height for two seconds, the fire is too hot, but when you can tolerate four seconds, the heat is moderate. Anything more than six seconds and the fire is at low temperature.

Indirect heating is best for whole turkeys. After the coals have reached the moderate stage, I push them aside and center a flameproof drip pan, disposable aluminum or heavy foil molded into the shape of a drip pan, on the lower rack. The white ash covered briquettes are then arranged around the sides of the drip pan to prevent flare-ups.

Basting bird

Since this year's turkey was of the non-self basting varieties, I made up a little baste with melted butter, some turkey stock from the simmering giblets, and a generous douse of white wine. The only problem encountered here was the fact that every 20 minutes or so I had to lift the lid to slather on the baste. This allowed much needed heat to escape and I found myself adding a few more coals while the bird cooked.

It's always better to add a few coals occasionally than allow the fire to burn out.

If I had purchased one of those Butterballs, I would have started the bird breast side down and allowed that to cook for at least 1½ hours before turning the bird right side up for the remaining time.

If you're cooking on a gas grill, it's best simply to turn off one side of the grill completely and cook your turkey on the unlighted side.

In the event your gas grill does not have dual controls, cover one side with heavy foil and proceed as directed.

Completely thawed turkeys or similar birds should be cooked at the rate of 10-15 minutes per pound on charcoal and gas grills.

Judging from this and past experience, especially since I was lifting the lid every 20 minutes or so to baste, I would suggest the longer of cooking times. Although, to be perfectly honest, I wouldn't even think of doing a whole bird or roast without the use of a trusty instant read meat thermometer, available locally at kitchen shops for about $12.

There's nothing worse than carving into a pink bird when the potatoes and vegetables are already on the table. Internal temperatures taken at the thickest part of the bird (the breast right over the leg) should be at least 170 degrees. For optimum slicing results, allow the bird to stand 15 minutes before carving.

From start to finish, my 12-pound-plus bird cooked on the covered grill for a little under four hours.

MACHUS CELEBRATES 60th ANNIVERSARY

For 60 years, Machus has stood for consistently fine products and excellent customer service. Robert Machus is carrying on the family tradition.

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Quality merchandise, consistency and going the extra mile for the customer — this is the Machus Enterprises

Inc. recipe for success, said president Robert Machus.

"We're proud of our 60-year history of fine pastries and dining in the south Oakland County area."

From push-cart beginnings in the early years of the Depression when Hans Machus baked his own pastries and sold them along the streets of Birmingham, the company has grown to include six restaurants, three pastry shops and management of the Palace of Auburn Hills Grille. Their story is one of faith in the face of tragedy.

Like his son, Robert, who took over the family business in 1987 after practicing law for 20 years, Harris didn't plan his career in the family business.

It was smaller then. Hans had an assistant, and Kathleen, his wife, was the sales force with one helper, usually a student.

"I wanted to be a banker," Harris said. "But it was during the Depression and there were no jobs. I went to work for Standard Brands in Battle Creek as sales manager of grocery products."

There, he met Bill Knapp, who would later open a chain of restaurants.

World War II changed Harris'

plans. His father died a month before the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Then he was drafted.

Shortly after arriving in Birmingham to help her mother-in-law Kathleen in the bakery, Elaine, Harris' wife, discovered none of Hans' formulas for delicious pastries had been written down. She undertook the task.

"Bill Knapp was transferred to the Detroit office of Standard Brands, and was a real help," Elaine said. "He used to say, 'Harris is fighting for us, and you and I are going to fight for him.' I stayed with it. He'd help out two or three days a week."

Then Harris was reported missing in action for 11 months. "I was wounded in the desert in North Africa," Harris said. "In all defense of the Germans, they saved my life."

Harris escaped and was recaptured. Elaine was never notified.

"I learned to love Birmingham," Elaine said. "The people were wonderful to me. I wanted to stay."

Elaine says she'll never forget the day she found out Harris was coming home after four years of service.

"When the operator got a telegram saying Harris was coming home, she waved it in the air and ran down the street yelling, 'Harris Machus is coming home.' By the time she got to the bakery on Maple, there were so many people behind her that it looked like a parade."

When Harris came home, he said, people were starting to move to the suburbs, and he saw a need for a place where shoppers could get some light food. In 1951, a 22-stand lunch counter was built onto the rear of the bakery. Its success led to the addition of the 80-seat Pink Tea Dining Room to serve shoppers, most of them women.

Discover elegant wines from Alsace region

FOCUS ON WINE

the world. Half-timbered houses are decorated with flowers and mountain castles overlook the vineyards below. People with Germanic sounding names speak French (they are French) and make delicious white wines that are refreshing and crisp when young, yet may age better than many more-famous red wines from Burgundy and Bordeaux.

Creation of Alsace wines is a finely tuned craft. The wines are not blends; they stand alone as single grape varieties with the multitude of Alsace soil types determining the character of individual wines, so clearly distinguished in the taste.

Soil differences among vineyards growing the same grape offer an exceptional variety of tastes within the same varietal.

Alsace producers recognized the importance of vineyard location and soil types properly matched to grape varieties in 1935, but the ravages of two world wars left them without a legally organized system of appellations until 1975.

An Alsace Grand Cru vineyard is located on an exceptional site where soil, climate and exposure unite to produce the best possible resources for the vine. The only grape varieties that may be grown in Alsace Grand Cru vineyards are riesling, gewurztraminer, tokay pinot gris and muscat.

WINE SELECTIONS

"If you regularly read the Wine Selections, you know that we seldom get very excited about chardonnay. In a recent blind tasting we discovered a few that made us sit up and take notice. 1991 Fisher Vineyards Coach Insignia Chardonnay ($16) is the best wine made by Michigan-native Fred Fisher at his Sonoma County winery.

Other chardonnays to note are: 1991 Edna Valley Vineyard ($16) and 1991 Beringer Private Reserve ($20).

Some exceptional cabernet sauvignons are: 1989 Mazzocco ($15); 1990 Joseph Phelps ($19); 1988 Shafer Hillside Select-dynamite flavors ($35). Two Fetzer Vineyards winners: 1990 Barrel Select Zinfandel ($10) and 1990 Fetzer Petite Sirah Reserve ($13).

All Alsace wines are 100 percent varietal. This means they made from the one grape variety listed on the label. In contrast, California wines must contain 75 percent of the varietal named on the label.

At Domaine Zind Humbrecht, wine production is predicated on Grand Cru place names, allowing the wines, their origins and terroir to speak through the wines.

"The best classification systems indicate the specific origins of the wine," said Olivier, the 13th generation of Humbrecht winemakers. "That is true in Burgundy. In Alsace, we have a history of

Restaurateurs share recipes from past decades

See story on Taste front, "Machus Celebrates 60th Anniversary."

In celebration of their 60th anniversary, the Machus family shared some favorite recipes from the 1940s, 1950s, 1960s and a 1990s one from Executive Chef Martin Singer.

This is a Machus recipe from the 1940s.

STUFFED CABBAGE WITH TOMATO SAUCE

- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup onion, finely chopped
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 pound hamburger, raw
- ¾ cup rice, cooked
- 6 cabbage leaves, large
- 1 cup sauerkraut
- ½ cup water

Mix all ingredients together. Divide ingredients among 6 cabbage leaves. Roll in cabbage leaves. Spread 1 cup sauerkraut over bottom of baking pan. Lay cabbage rolls, seam side down, on sauerkraut. Add 1 cup water. Cover and bake in 325 degree oven for 1 to 1½ hours. Serve with tomato sauce.

Here are two Machus recipes from the 1950s.

CHICKEN A LA KING

- ½ cup margarine
  - ½ cup flour
  - 2 cups milk
  - 1 cup turkey broth
  - ¼ cup pimento
  - 1 cup mushrooms, sliced
  - 2½ cups diced turkey or chicken
  - 5 tablespoons sherry
- Melt and blend margarine and flour. Add milk and turkey broth. Cook until thick. Add pimento and mushrooms to the above mixture. Add diced turkey or chicken to hot mixture. Add sherry. Serve very hot over cooked rice or puff pastry shell.

SOUR CREAM CHOCOLATE CHIP COFFEE CAKE

- ½ cup sour cream

- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup shortening
- ¼ cup cake flour
- 1½ teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- 2 eggs
- 2 ounces chocolate chips

Combine all ingredients except eggs and chocolate chips. Mix well. Add 1 egg and mix. Add the other egg and mix slowly for 5 minutes. Pour ½ of batter into greased 8- by 2-inch round pan. Spread evenly. Sprinkle ¼ chocolate chips on batter. Add remaining batter. Spread evenly. Add remaining chocolate chips. Bake at 350 degrees in upper half of oven for 40-45 minutes. Remove from oven. Cool. Dust with powdered sugar.

Here's a Machus recipe from the 1960s.

QUICHE LORRAINE

- ¼ pound bacon, (cut into ¼-inch pieces)
- ¾ cup onion, (chopped)

- 4 ounces Gruyere cheese or Swiss cheese (shredded)
- 4 eggs (slightly beaten)
- 1½ cup half and half
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Dash nutmeg
- 1 pie shell (9-inch unbaked)

Cook bacon in heavy skillet until half done; add onions and saute until onions are soft and yellow. Remove from heat and drain. Cool. Combine eggs, half and half, salt and pepper.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Bake pie shell (weighted down with another pie pan on top) for 10 minutes. Remove from oven and cool. Spread bacon and onion mixture over bottom of baked pie shell.

Top with shredded cheese. Pour custard mix over all. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Reduce oven heat to 350 degrees and bake for 30-35 minutes until custard is set and puffed and crust is golden.

Let cool at least 10 minutes before cutting.

POACHED ATLANTIC SALMON WITH ROSE PETALS AND MINT BALSAMIC VINAIGRETTE

- To poach salmon
- Four 4-ounce skinned and deboned fresh salmon filets
- ¼ cup raspberry vinaigrette
- ¼ cup clam juice
- ¼ cup white Zinfandel
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1½ teaspoons chopped garlic

Place the 4 pieces of salmon in a large stainless steel pan. Pour all the liquid ingredients over the fish. Then add salt and pepper, slowly bring up the heat until the poaching liquid is just at the boiling point. Do not let it boil. Continue to poach for about 8 minutes or until done. Then allow to cool in the liquid slightly. Carefully remove to paper towel.

MINT BALSAMIC VINAIGRETTE

- Juice of 1 orange
- Juice of 1 lemon
- Juice of ½ lime
- ¼ cup chopped mint
- 1 tablespoon chopped shallots

- 1 teaspoon chopped garlic
- 1½ tablespoon honey
- ¼ cup White Zinfandel
- 1 teaspoon tarragon
- ½ cup Balsamic vinegar
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 cup olive oil

Combine all ingredients except the olive oil. Slowly drizzle in olive oil while whipping with wire whisk. The dressing should emulsify. Salt and pepper to taste.

SALAD

- 8 ounces of assorted fresh greens — arugula, water cress, radicchio, romaine, red oak
- Peeled and sliced oranges
- Strawberries
- Fresh cut Rose Hip petals
- Fresh mint

To assemble salad, divide the mix greens between chilled plates. Decorate with oranges, strawberries, rose petals and mint. Place the slightly cooled salmon fillet over the greens and dress with the balsamic mint vinaigrette. Serves 4.

Unlike Bill Knapp, who was a lifelong friend, Harris Machus, after opening a restaurant in the Lansing area, which was later sold, decided not to expand far beyond Birmingham.

"It took too much time supervising people," he said. "Birmingham was growing and we didn't have to move all over. I felt that if we grew and gave the staff possibilities for advancement, that was enough. I was a hands-on operator. I visited every store and restaurant. Everyone knew the boss."

That tradition continues and the Machus family has been fortunate to draw some outstanding chefs, including certified master chef Leopold Schaeli, now an instructor at Schoolcraft College in Livonia, Richard Mack, executive chef of the Palace of Auburn Hills Grille, and Martin Singer, executive chef of Machus Sly Fox and Red Fox.

Robert Machus said the family has no plans to open any new restaurants, but there have been some changes. An outdoor dining deck was added to Machus Sly Fox last summer, and a new menu includes more heart-healthy entrees. Chef Singer recently planted a small garden at Sly Fox that includes herbs and flowers. Pansies and nasturtiums are growing in pots that hang outside on the deck.

Although Chef Singer can't grow enough in the small space to keep up with the demand, the freshly picked flowers and herbs make beautiful garnishes. It's a small touch, but it's important. Little touches, and attention to detail, are what have made Machus special for all these years.

Turkey's a summer treat as well as a fall feast

See Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

Although the Butterball turkey hotline (1-800-323-4848) is closed until November, the U.S. Department of Agriculture offers a turkey and poultry hotline that runs year round during normal business hours. The phone number is 1-800-535-4555. Your county extension service can also answer questions about grilling poultry and meats.

CLASSIC TURKEY PAN GRAVY

4 tablespoons unsalted butter or margarine

 1/4 cup all purpose flour
 3 1/2 cups turkey stock (made from neck and giblets)
 Chopped giblets and neck meat, if desired
 Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste

Melt the butter in a large saucepan. Sprinkle on flour and whisk in and cook, whisking constantly until the mixture is beige in color, about 2 minutes over medium heat. Whisk in stock and bring to a boil.

Add giblets and neck meat and simmer gently, whisking occasionally for another 3 minutes. Season with salt and pepper to taste.

CHEF LARRY'S GRILLED TURKEY

1 turkey (about 12 pounds)
 2 whole lemons
 Garlic salt to taste
 Pepper to taste
 1/4 cup butter, melted
 6 carrots, cut into chunks
 2 onions, chopped coarsely

Rinse turkey and pat dry. Place whole lemons, garlic salt, pepper, carrots and onions in bird. Truss to close turkey, if desired. Roast, brushing with melted butter every 20 minutes or so during roasting time.

Need a great cornbread stuffing that can be baked in the oven while the bird is roasting? Try this!

JALAPENO CORNBREAD STUFFING

1 stick butter or margarine
 1 onion, chopped finely
 1 1/2 cups chopped celery
 5 cups crumbled cooked cornbread
 2 jalapeno peppers, chopped finely
 1 red or green bell pepper, chopped

1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
 1 teaspoon crushed sage
 4 eggs
 Turkey stock as necessary for moistening

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Heat butter in a large skillet; add onion, celery, pepper and saute over medium heat until vegetables are wilted but not quite browned. Crumble the cornbread and combine with the vegetables and seasonings. Toss with a fork.

Add eggs and mix well with a fork. If dressing seems too dry, moisten with turkey stock, water or wine. Bake in an uncovered, shallow baking dish until golden brown, about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

Produce pointers offered

Here are some produce pointers from "Fruit and Vegetable News," a publication of the Produce Marketing Association.

■ To determine if a mango is ripe, sniff the stem end; there should be a pleasant scent. A light scent is just fine, but no aroma usually means no flavor.

If it smells a bit sour or alcoholic, the mango has begun to ferment and should not be eaten. When held in the palm of your hand, the mango should yield slightly to pressure (much like a ripe peach). Mangos do not do well in the cold; ripen them at room temperature and eat as soon as possible.

■ Prune puree can be used in a one-for-one substitution (1 cup puree for 1 cup butter) in brownie, cake, and cookie recipes. You will cut fat 75 to 99 percent and boost vitamins, minerals and fiber at the same time.

■ Kiwi fruit, once known as Chinese gooseberry, can be eaten directly out of hand without peeling it. The peel is edible.

Potatoes go low fat

AP — If you want to take the fat out of your favorite "meat and potatoes" main dish, try the following recipes for marinated flank steak, roasted garlic potatoes and three bean salad. The recipes, created by Best Foods, passed the "taste test" with a group of firefighters in Englewood, N.J.

Marinating, teamed with broiling or grilling, makes flank steak tender and flavorful. Roasted garlic potatoes replace traditional French fries. And three-bean salad, with a sweet and tangy corn dressing, complements the meal.

MARINATED FLANK STEAK

1/2 cup corn oil
 1 1/2 cup wine vinegar
 1 1/2 cup soy sauce
 2 tablespoons chopped onion
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 tablespoon minced ginger-root or 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 2-pound flank steak

In a shallow baking dish combine corn oil, vinegar, soy sauce, onion, garlic and ginger. Add steak. Cover; refrigerate, turning occasionally, several hours or overnight. Remove steak from marinade. Grill or broil 6 inches from the heat, turning once, 8 minutes for medium-rare, or until desired doneness. Thinly slice across diagonally across the grain. Makes 8 servings.

Nutrition information per serving: 290 cal., 25 g pro., 2 g carbo., 20 g total fat, 9 g polyunsaturated fat, 5 g saturated fat, 80 mg chol., 600 mg sodium.

ROASTED GARLIC POTATOES

Corn oil cooking spray
 2 tablespoons corn oil
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 teaspoon dried rosemary, crushed
 4 medium potatoes (about 1 pound) unpeeled, sliced 1/2-inch thick
 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Spray large cookie sheet with cooking spray. In a small bowl combine corn oil, garlic and rosemary. Arrange potato slices on cookie sheet. Brush with corn oil mixture. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a 400-degree F oven for 30 minutes or until lightly browned and crisp. Makes 4 servings.

Nutrition information per serving: 200 cal., 4 g pro., 29 g carbo., 8 g total fat, 4 g polyunsaturated fat, 1 g saturated fat, 5 mg chol., 55 mg sodium.

THREE BEAN SALAD

1/2 cup corn oil
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 16-ounce can white kidney beans, rinsed and well drained
 16 ounce can red kidney beans, rinsed and well drained
 1 cup cooked cut green beans
 1 small red onion, thinly sliced

In a large bowl, combine corn oil, cider vinegar, sugar and salt. Add beans and red onion; toss to coat well. Cover; refrigerate several hours or overnight. Makes about 4 1/2 cups.

Nutrition information per serving: 210 cal., 6 g pro., 19 g carbo., 13 g total fat, 8 g polyunsaturated fat, 2 g saturated fat, 0 mg chol., 470 mg sodium.

gion's wines." To fully appreciate the-wines of Zind Humbrecht, the consumer needs to understand the influences of terroir, the French term denoting much more than just the soil.

The vineyard known as Herrenweg has the advantage of an exceptionally hot, dry microclimate and long hours of sunlight. The grapes ripen early in the rocky soils, are precocious in their youth, and best consumed when young.

Gewurztraminer grown in Herrenweg has a delicate aroma without aggressive fruit and spice. A Zind Humbrecht Gewurztraminer Herrenweg represents a good introduction for those who have little tasting experience with Alsace gewurztraminer.

The Brand vineyard is composed of hard granite and mica with deep fertile soils retaining the heat of the day. Riesling grown in Brand produces a delicate wine with elegant body and low acidity.

The Clos St. Urbain vineyard is the most southerly vineyard in Alsace; with stony, volcanic soil. Here, riesling and tokay-pinet gris produce wines with racy acidity that accounts for their ageability. The wines are full and powerful yet balanced, with remarkable fruit and finesse.

The vineyard known as Clos Hauerer is noted for its riesling grown in limestone soil. "Wines from this vineyard always have a high acidity, austere fruit and good aging potential," Humbrecht said. "They don't show well to nonriesling lovers who don't understand a wine from an austere terroir."

The semicontinental climate of Alsace, with its reduced rainfall and sunny, warm autumns is suited to the development of pourriture noble (also known as botrytis cinerea or noble rot) which concentrates fruit sugars in the grapes to produce a sweet, dessert-style wine. These wines are produced only in great years and are known as Vendange Tardive and Selection de Grains Nobles. There is truly no better way to end a meal than with a rich Alsace dessert-style wine.

The wines of Zind Humbrecht are remarkable for their character and flavor. We tasted a collection of 20 recently released and available wines with Olivier Humbrecht. We think you'll agree that these wines are masterpieces of liquid art.

Spruce up summer meals with a variety of greens

LOIS THIELEKE

Potherbs are collard greens, dandelion greens, mustard greens, Swiss chard, turnip greens, and kale. In Italy potherbs are cooked in olive oil with garlic and served hot with pork or seasoned with wine vinegar to make a lukewarm salad.

Collard greens are served with buttermilk curds for a traditional Ethiopian stew, while in Brazil cooked kale or collards are a national dish. These greens are rich in beta carotene, vitamin C, and a good source of fiber. They can be eaten raw when young and tender, but as they mature their flavors become stronger and will taste better cooked.

Collard greens are a member of the cabbage family, and has a flavor somewhere between cabbage and kale. Choose bunches of crisp, green leaves with tender stems and use as soon as possible. Wash well before cooking. If any of the greens are dirty, wash in warm water to loosen any dirt, bugs or worms.

Don't worry, washing really works to get rid of bugs and dirt, then rinse well in cold water until they are clean. Collards are an excellent source of calcium, they are also high in vitamins A and C, potassium, iron, niacin and protein besides being low in sodium and calories. Collards greens can be used as wrappers in place of cabbage leaves in recipes like stuffed cabbage.

Mustard greens

Mustard greens are also a relative of the cabbage and have a more pungent flavor. Choose small, young, crisp leaves with a deep green color and no insect holes or seed heads. Seed heads are a sign of over maturity. Store for three days in the refrigerator in a plastic bag. Wash well and remove any tough stems before cooking.

Mustard greens are low in calories, rich in vitamins A and C, potassium, calcium, protein and iron.

Swiss chard can be substituted for spinach in most recipes. Chard is a milder flavor green and can even be used for filling for ravioli. Because the ribs take longer to cook, trim away from leaves and cook separately, combine before serving. Keep chard refrigerated in plastic and use within a few days. Before cooking wash well, steam in a saucepan using just the water that clings to the leaves.

Chard is very high in vitamin A and is a good source of potassium, iron, calcium and protein. Chard is fairly high in sodium so cook with out salt to prevent discoloration.

Dandelion greens come from the common lawn weed, which is a member of the sunflower family. Before going out into the yard or stopping on the road side to pick dandelions, be sure the area has not been treated with weed killer or fungicides.

When dandelions are young, they are delicious in salads, especially with a hot bacon dressing. As they get older, they do become bitter and then need to be cooked.

Turnip greens are slightly sweet, a highly nutritious relative of the cabbage family. As they age, they have a strong flavor and will need to be cooked to tame that taste. Turnip greens are rich in vitamins A and C, calcium, iron and protein. Choose crisp, fresh looking leaves, refrigerate and use within a couple days.

Kale is a member of the cabbage family, and one of the more nutritious, rich in vitamins A and C, potassium, protein and iron. Avoid buying limp, wilted or yellow leaves. For wilted tired greens, dip in hot water, then in ice water with a dash of vinegar. Shake the excess water from them and chill in the refrigerator for about an hour.

Storing greens

Rusting of lettuce and greens is caused by the way they are stored. Store away from all fruits and keep in a plastic bag with a couple paper towels to help absorb the excess moisture.

Do not wash greens until you are ready to cook them. Cook greens quickly to help preserve color and nutrients. Greens can be steamed, boiled, microwaved, or blanched. If the greens are too bland for your taste, add some marjoram or rosemary to the cooking water. Topping with poppy seed or sesame seed before serving will add another flavor the greens. To raw greens, add anise, basil, chervil, caraway or savory.

Chopped greens can be used in stuffing for other vegetables such as green peppers or add them to bread stuffing for poultry or fish. Torn greens can be added to soups, brown rice, mashed potatoes, or layered into pasta casseroles. Try to use potherbs (greens) for meals for a new flavor treat and for the nutritional benefits they can provide.

Leisurely Sunday breakfasts still provide a healthy start

QUAKER OATS

Sunday breakfast: Make Sunday breakfast a family tradition. Start by popping a from-scratch coffeecake into the oven. The aroma of Very Berry Breakfast Cake baking is sure to rouse the sleepest sleepyhead.

It's Sunday, the one day of the week when most of us have the luxury of starting the day slowly and spending time with family or friends — over a relaxed breakfast.

On weekday mornings, we usually eat in a rush, before dashing out the door. On the weekends, when time is on your side, "breakfast with its easy, wholesome honesty is an opportunity to be with and share oneself with friends and family," according to Marion Cunningham, author of "The Breakfast Book."

One way to ease into Sunday breakfast is to relax over a freshly brewed cup of coffee while a made-from-scratch breakfast bread bakes in the oven. Even if you have little baking experience, you're sure to find simple, homey coffeecakes well within your capabilities. They're typically mixed in a single bowl, baked in a single pan and served warm.

Very Berry Breakfast Cake, developed in the Quaker Kitchens with weekend breakfasting in mind, offers easy preparation along with old-fashioned flavor. A crispy, crumbly oat streusel topping covers a moist and tender oatmeal cake swirled with raspberry preserves and dotted with blueberries.

Use either quick or old-fashioned oats, whichever you happen to have on hand. Both contribute wholesome goodness to this light-textured coffeecake. By using reduced-fat sour cream and egg whites in place of whole eggs, you'll trim both fat and cholesterol.

If you prefer to make breakfast a more substantial meal by adding a berry-topped bowl of oatmeal or an omelet to the menu, choose a breakfast bread that benefits from being baked ahead. Banana Orange Date Loaf will slice more easily and have a more developed flavor if it's allowed to cool completely, wrapped and stored overnight.

Good-for-you oats replace part of the flour in this moist breakfast bread, and the combination of fruits gives it a tropical flavor. The simple orange glaze is optional.

The coffee (or tea) and juice that no Sunday breakfast can be without also deserve to be dressed up. Try an oversized cup of cafe au lait (strong coffee and steamed milk), foam-topped cappuccino, brewed spiced tea or cafe mocha (strong coffee and hot chocolate). Freshly squeezed orange juice is always a winner, but don't overlook more exotic juices like guava and mango or a juice blend. Then sit back and enjoy the morning — and each other.

VERY BERRY BREAKFAST CAKE

- Streusel
- 1/2 cup oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons margarine, melted
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- Coffeecake
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine, softened

- 4 egg whites or 2 eggs
- One 8-ounce carton light sour cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 3/4 cup oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup raspberry preserves
- 3/4 cup fresh or frozen blueberries

For streusel, combine all ingredients; mix well. Set aside.

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. For coffeecake, spray 9-inch square baking pan with vegetable oil cooking spray or grease lightly. Beat sugar and margarine until fluffy. Add eggs, sour cream and vanilla; mix until smooth. Add combined flour, oats, baking powder and baking soda; mix just until blended. Spread into prepared pan. Spoon preserves over batter; swirl through batter with knife.

Sprinkle blueberries evenly over batter. Sprinkle streusel over blueberries. Bake 50 to 55 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Serve warm. Store tightly covered at room temperature. Makes 12 servings.

BANANA ORANGE DATE BREAD

- Bread
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

- 1 cup oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt (optional)
- 3/4 cup chopped dates or raisins
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 3/4 cup mashed ripe banana (about 2 medium)
- 3/4 cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- Glaze (optional)
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 3 to 4 teaspoons orange juice
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. For bread, grease and flour bottom only of 9- by 5-inch loaf pan. Combine flour, oats, sugar, baking powder, baking soda, salt and dates; set aside. Beat eggs and oil with fork or wire whisk, blending thoroughly. Mix in banana, orange juice, vanilla and orange peel. Add to dry ingredients, mixing just until moistened.

Bake 60 to 70 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely.

For glaze, combine powdered sugar, orange juice and orange peel. Drizzle evenly over loaf. Makes 12 servings.

Lookin' at you

Arty shades by potter Arlene Schultz are strictly conversation pieces. The Farmington Hills artist, whose wares sell by the name Contemporary Clayworks, started making the whimsical ceramic glasses several years ago after admiring a friend's real novelty shades. She experimented for months before coming up with the shape of life-sized glasses, which have become her trademark. The latest batch is decorated with colorful beach and golf scenes ($35). They can be seen at the Oakland University Meadowbrook Gallery Art Fair Saturday and Sunday, June 19-20. For information, call the artist at 553-8954.

Yard goods

These days, the "thirtysomething" crowd would rather till soil than jog around the block, says Mark Brewer of metro Detroit Nature Nook stores. Since we're hanging around the yard anyway, why not decorate it with stone statuary like these barnyard animals? The life-sized pig ($59.99) and goose ($34.99) are new offerings, but this spring you'll see a range of affable rabbits, dogs, lions, cherubs and gargoyles on more than a few lawns and porches. Adorning our surroundings with statuary is nothing new, but we haven't seen so many yard decorations since the 1930s, says Brewer, who believes the current trend is for nostalgia's sake.

LIVE REVIEW

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

INXS
St. Andrew's Hall, Detroit, on Thursday, May 13.

In the beginning of his band's two-hour sweaty show, INXS lead singer Michael Hutchence warned the fans about what they will need after it's over:

"Lots of fluids and plenty of rest."

The Australian sextet should have warned the sound engineers to keep an eye on the equipment as well.

In its first club appearance since its early years, INXS blew the speakers while ripping through its set which included songs from its formative years ("Don't Change"), its "arena" years with "Suicide Blonde" and new material the group plans to record.

The seven songs from the as-if-yet-untitled new record returns to the INXS sound reminiscent of its 1983 album, "Shabooh, Shooobah." During a pre-show interview and performance, Hutchence said that's the aim they had.

"It's a lot less complicated and stuff. . . I hate to say this because it's so cliché, but we're going back to our roots," he explained.

Returning to those days — with clubs and music — brought back good memories for Hutchence. "I remember this place. I think I fell down those stairs," said Hutchence, laughing while pointing at St. Andrew's back stairs.

Nightlife features new look at 3 sites

The Royal Oak Music Theatre, the Metropolitan Music Cafe and 3-D nightclub have taken on three distinct looks during their respective remodeling projects, leaving patrons some colorful choices.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Royal Oak nightlife is taking on a new face as two of its popular spots — 3-D nightclub and the Royal Oak Music Theatre — have taken on a new look.

The Royal Oak Music Theatre is set to reopen Friday, offering its first weekend dance club nights titled "Fourth Street Asylum." It will also host concerts and private parties.

"With the new layout, we are flexible as to the types of programming we can accommodate. We can host a dance party, a dinner party, or offer concert events with reserved seating," said Bob Fox, president of Brass Ring. The company owns the Royal Oak Music Theatre and books shows into others like the Fox, Joe Louis Arena, Meadow Brook Music Festival.

The project began in May 1992 but has been planned for 10 years. Fox put the project on hold, however, to help Olympia Arenas, Inc.'s Mike Ilitch with the renovation of the Fox Theatre.

The Royal Oak theater's new look offers a sort of history lesson into the venue. The lobby is a recreation of the original, when the theater opened on March 6, 1928. The Ukrainian-style stencils were repainted over the wooden cabinets which will house works by rock 'n' roll artist Gary Grimshaw. The box office was recreated from its 1920s concept.

"It was a painstaking process in the interior," Fox said.

The theater itself has a modern look with aqua, black and burgundy carpet, and black, gray and charcoal art deco bars. The dance floor is two tiered with a "wall of lights," lasers, Intellebeams, and strobe lights overhead and floor level.

Makin' changes: The Royal Oak Music Theatre (above) restored the lobby to its original look. Meanwhile, 3-D club in Royal Oak recruited Waterford artist Chris Wirth (at left) to paint table tops.

Aside from dance nights, the Royal Oak Music Theatre will hold concerts beginning with an appearance by comedienne Ellen Degeneres on May 26. Other performers scheduled this summer are: Jenny Jones, Ronnie Laws with Rachelle Farrell, Richard Jeni, The Strangers, Louie Anderson and Dennis Wolfberg. The theater is located at the corner of Fourth Street and Lafayette, six blocks east of Woodward Avenue and two blocks south of 11 Mile.

In response to the theater's renovation, its neighbor, the Metropolitan Music Cafe is planning a little work itself.

"(We're going to) rearrange the memorabilia, some new paint . . .

just rearrange things so it will look new again," said owner Nino Cutraro.

Cutraro said he is speaking with designers about the new layout.

"(They'll) make some recommendations and we'll go for it from there," he said.

A few miles north of the Royal Oak Music Theatre and the Music Cafe, the alternative dance bar 3-D is finishing its remodeling job.

Once resembling a fraternity house basement, the club is now anchored by artworks by Waterford artist Christopher Wirth. He took the standard bar tables and painted the tops of them with watercolors. Bar employees and club frequenters also helped out by painting socially conscious phrases or by creating other designs on them. The back room is now cordoned off with beads and features movies on a wall.

This is Wirth's first club undertaking. He primarily films commercials and music videos with clients such as performers Jeffrey Dean Marlow and The Charm Farm, along with GM, Chrysler and Ford. Having his works displayed in a club is satisfying but sometimes disheartening to Wirth.

"People are always discovering something new. It's an ongoing process. . . I just wish the people who see saw it weren't slobbering drunk," Wirth said with a laugh.

Jes Gru tunes up celebration of life

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Through the Jes Gru's live shows the band has set out to become what its name means: "A celebration of life that makes one want to dance."

"You'll see some bands and you'll see maybe one guy who someone's super focused on," keyboardist Mike Palazzolo said. "There's really a lot to watch (with the Jes Gru). There's five guys independently putting on the show."

The five guys, dressed in 1970s garb, cover the entire stage during the show running around while not missing a beat. Apparently, it's that type of energy which attracts their "Army of Red Ants," the loyal following which they've collected through local and out-state college shows. During the school year the "Ants" sometimes drive hours to see the Jes Gru.

Now that most college students have returned to their area homes, the band has decided to release its debut CD "Mumbo Jumbo." The CD release party is Saturday, May 22, at Club X at the State Theatre in Detroit.

"One good thing is a lot of our fans are traveling from the college towns now to see us so when we have our release party they should all be back in the Detroit area," said singer Tom Bieniewicz.

"Mumbo Jumbo" was recorded at an independent studio in Southfield

Bad rap tracks 'Posse' to the big screen

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
STAFF WRITER

Some critics branded "The Unforgiven" a revisionist Western because it redefined the basic character of the cowboy hero and villain. Wait'll they get a load of "Posse."

Independent director Mario Van Peebles contends that African-American cowboys and outlaws made up a large percentage of the pioneer population in the West, much more than the history books and movies lead us to believe.

And while it would be great to say that the ambitious "Posse" is a landmark film, it adds up to little more than an excuse for rap singers to pose in Western duds.

Van Peebles the director also stars as Jessie Lee, the black-clad hero who says little and smiles even less. He's out to avenge the murder of his preacher father, lynched by white townspeople for his belief that education is freedom.

With Jessie rides a rag-tag band of outlaws, including gambler Father Time (Big Daddy Kane) and Weezie (Charles Lane). In an appropriate switch, there's a token white posse member played by Stephen Baldwin

MOVIES

(yes, Alec has yet another brother.)

Western cliché might seem a bit of an oxymoron, but Van Peebles mines every overused line and camera trick, from horses trotting off into the sunset to deep-focus showdowns in the street. He directs as if his audience has never seen a Western before, which may be true for the young audience the movie is aimed at.

The script does present a message, placing the sensibilities of South Central Los Angeles into the saloons and dusty streets of a traditional Western town. The familiar plot device of greedy land-grabbing railroad speculators now becomes a metaphor for urban gentrification.

"This town may still be standing in a year," Jessie says to the townspeople of Freemanville, a black settlement in the path of the iron horse. "But I guarantee you there won't be a black face in it."

Also at odds are the philosophies of Martin Luther King and Malcolm X, Characters who profees turning the other cheek end up either two-faced or dead. "Posse" is first and foremost about kicking butt, especially when it belongs to an evil white man.

The action scenes are lumbering and noisy. The MTV-style camera movement only promotes a headache while the climactic showdown between Jessie Lee and his Custer-like Colonel Graham (Billy Zane) couldn't have turned out more predictably.

Handsome Van Peebles does make a striking action hero, the African-American answer to Clint Eastwood's "Man With No Name." His supporting cast, meanwhile, blends independent black film pioneers with rappers and even professional wrestlers.

Pam Grier, who played "Foxy Brown" in the '70s, only gets to fire off a round or two as one of the fed-up townspeople. Melvin Van Peebles (Mario's father and a maverick black director in his own right) plays a wise old guy, a mentor of sorts for Jessie Lee.

Tone Loc, the raspy-voiced rapper of the short-lived mega-hit "Wild Thing," gets killed off early on. Too bad the same can't be said for Charles Lane, whose bespectacled opportunist Weezie is just as cloying and irritating as

Lane's directorial debut in "Side-walk Stories."

"Posse" professes historical accuracy, but some of its scenes border on the absurd. The Bessie Smith-style saloon singer doesn't pounce out some lurid torch number; she warbles like Anita Baker in Dolby Stereo. The dialogue too often sounds like left-over lines from Van Peebles' overrated gangster epic "New Jack City."

Forget masterpiece for a moment. It would be great to simply say that "Posse" is a wild good time. It's not. Each decade someone tries to resurrect the Western genre for modern audiences. Movies like "Young Guns" and now "Posse" make us realize that most good Westerns truly are history.

DETROIT FILM THEATRE

Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Avenue, Detroit. Call 833-2323 for information. ($5; $4 students/seniors)

"The Story of Qiu Ju" (China - 1992). 7, 9:30 p.m. May 21-22; 1, 4, 7 p.m. May 23. When a rural woman's husband is wronged by a neighbor, the wife decides to tackle a sea of bureaucratic red tape in her quest for justice. This latest work from Zhang Yimou, the director of "Raise the Red Lantern" and "Ju Dou," plays two weekends at the DFT.

HENRY FORD CENTENNIAL LIBRARY

13671 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn. Call 943-2330 for information. (Free)

"Captain Kidd" (USA - 1945). 7 p.m. May 17. Charles Laughton plays the title character, whose disloyalty to England turns him into a notorious plunderer of the high seas.

"Like Water for Chocolate" (Mexico - 1992). A lonely woman puts all her energies into creating unforgettable meals in this blend of fantasy and drama. As with the Danish hit "Babette's Feast," you won't want to catch this on an empty stomach.

"Ethan Frome" (USA - 1993). Liam Neeson and Patricia Arquette star in the tragic story of a New England farmer who falls in love with the young woman who's caring for his sick wife. Based on the novel by Edith Wharton.

MICHIGAN THEATRE

603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Call 668-8397 for information and showtimes. ($5; $4 students/seniors)

"Mac" (USA - 1993). 7 p.m. May 17 - 18. Three Italian brothers decide to open their own residential construction business during the post-War housing boom of the 1950s. Actor John Turturro ("Barton Fink," "Do the Right Thing") directed and co-wrote this tribute to his father, a first-generation Italian carpenter who instilled in his son a pride in craftsmanship that obviously carried over into this moving film.

"El Mariachi" (Mexico SA - 1992). Through May 20. Originally destined for rental in Spanish-language video stores, this amazing new film, shot for a paltry $7,000, finds a young mariachi, or singer, mistaken for a hitman in a dusty border town.

MUSIC NOTES

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Atwater Spring Fest will feature three days of alternative music in a parking lot at Atwater and St. Aubin streets one block west of Chene Park. Single day tickets are $10. They are available at TicketMaster outlets. Three-day passes for $25 are available by calling 557-6264. Doors open at 4 p.m. each day with the first band hitting the stage at 4:45 p.m.

Detroit rock band Rhythm Corps will headline the first day, Friday, May 28, with Walk on Water, Thunderharp Choir, Tick Weasel, The Howards, Heckyl & Jive, Crowbar Hotel and Verve Pipe as supporting acts.

School of Fish will perform Saturday, May 29, along with Screw Tractor, Rakes Progress, The Civilians, Vudu Hippies, Birds at the End of the Road, The Jes Gru, Park The Karma and Stonehead opening.

May 30 the fest will turn into the Atwater Beach Party with Identity, Baaro (Ziggy Marley's former backup band), Claim 2 Fame, and the Trinidad Tripoli Steel Band.

TicketMaster and Yamaha are looking for unsigned bands to perform in a local showcase at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 15, at the State Theatre in Detroit.

The demo tapes will be screened by members of the record industry, and five bands will be selected to showcase before a live audience and a panel of industry insiders.

One band will be chosen to advance to the regional semi-finals in Detroit in August. That winner will go onto the nationals in Dallas in mid-September.

The winner will be flown to Japan to perform at "Musicquest," the Yamaha International Music Showcase. Winners of each round will also have the choice between a cash prize and Yamaha equipment. Official rules and regulations and entry forms are available at some TicketMaster centers at Harmony House and Sound Warehouse. For more information, call 1-800-451-ROCK.

Tickets to the show are $5 and available through TicketMaster outlets.

Tina Turner and Chris Isaak at Pine Knob Music Theatre on June 30. Ticket information soon.

and produced by bassist Tom Nixon's brother John, a graduate of Boston's Berklee College of Music. His credits include a project with William Calhoun, drummer in the rock band Living Colour.

The nine-song CD focuses on the band's ability to write catchy melodies coupled with funky rhythms, Tom Nixon said. It also includes a sweet ballad "How to Say Goodbye" to guitarist's Bryan Horvath's mother Carol Horvath, who died two years ago of cancer.

"I think our sound is slightly different," he added. "Other bands go with a lot of rhythm and a lot of guitar or go the other route like the Cure. We try to combine the two."

That came with John Nixon's help who canned nearly the entire first version of the album.

"He said 'It's not good enough to be an album.'" Tom Nixon said.

"At first we were like, 'What do you mean this isn't good enough?' Then we had to step back and look at it and say, 'He's right.'"

In response, the group wrote its first song together, the aptly titled "Brotherhood."

"The turning point was 'Brotherhood.' Everything just seemed to mesh. We liked it and said, 'Let's go in that direction,'" Bieniewicz said.

The new direction included taking Bieniewicz off of drums so he could concentrate on his vocals. They replaced him with drummer Heath Moore of West Bloomfield.

"In terms of a live performance aspect, it wasn't as effective having me on a drum kit singing and playing; it took away from the show," Bieniewicz said.

Since revamping the band, the Jes Gru has achieved high acclaim in the local music industry and will compete for $2,000 in a local band competition at the State Theatre Friday, May 21. Bassist Nixon, of Grosse Pointe, said his group's live show has helped the band get notoriety.

"I think our live show says a lot for us. Our sound is one thing. We're not mimicking anything else," Nixon said.

The Jes Gru celebrates the release of its CD "Mumbo Jumbo" with a performance on Saturday, May 22, at Club X at the State Theatre, 2115 Woodward, Detroit. Call 961-5450. Other performances include: Friday, May 21, at the State Theatre during the Modern Rock Jam finals (961-5450); Wednesday, May 26 at Alvin's, Detroit (832-2355); May 29 at the Atwater Spring Fest (645-6666); June 5 at Paycheck's Lounge (874-0909); June 9 at The Ritz in Roseville. (778-6404); June 24 at Industry, Pontiac (334-1999); and July 10 at Twenty-36, Detroit (961-5471).

The show is one of 10 club shows it's doing around the United States this month. Hutchence said although his band can fill 20,000-plus seat arenas, INXS decided last year to play smaller shows.

"We got a bug for it while we were doing a bunch of charity shows in Sydney (Australia)," Hutchence said.

They said, however, they realize that it's "selfish."

"It's not very fair to the people who want to see you," he said.

The band will return to play a bigger show in the fall.

PLYMOUTH SPORTS SCENE

Mavericks win hoop title

The Motor City Mavericks, an under-14 basketball team comprised mostly of boys from Observer & Eccentric communities, won the AAU state championship May 9.

Shane Battier of Birmingham was named the most valuable player in the tournament after leading the Mavericks to an 84-76 victory over Flint Affiliation in the final at Monroe St. Mary-Catholic Central High School.

The 6-foot-6, eighth grader at Detroit Country Day School scored 32 points, grabbed 20 rebounds and made 10 blocks in the game.

He also had a big game against the Metro Basketball Association with 21 points, 21 rebounds and six blocks in the 94-53 victory.

Other area players on the team are Kevin Bambenek, Farmington Hills; John Borovich and Jeremy Vann, Bloomfield Hills; Justin Hoener, Livonia; David Madden, Birmingham; Lorenzo Guess, Wayne; Ray Pope, Southfield; and Nate Gray, Plymouth.

Kris McNeal (Oak Park), Larry Pierce (Detroit), Greg Scott (Highland Park) and Kilo Jones (Pontiac) round out the Mavericks roster. The team is coached by Norm Oden.

Battier and Guess were named to the all-tournament team. The Mavericks also defeated Hazel Park 106-29 in the first round and the Motor City Mavericks II in the semifinals, 75-54.

The Mavericks will go to Yakima, Wash., for the national tournament July 18-25.

Marlins win 2nd title

Farmington Hills Mercy repeated as Catholic League champion in girls golf Thursday, winning the four-team tournament at Tanglewood Golf Course in South Lyon.

The Marlins broke 200 for the first time this year and finished with 199, followed by Livonia Ladywood (222), Birmingham Marian (242) and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes (277).

"We've been trying to break 200 for two weeks," Mercy coach Vicky Kowalski said. "It's the first time all the girls played to their potential."

The Marlins had five of the top eight golfers, and Mercy senior Dana Deshaw was match medalist with 48. Karen Porter was second (49), Amy Schulkins third (50), Tina Madej fourth (52) and Lynette Santiago eighth (57).

Canton golfers prevail

Plymouth Canton had three golfers shoot under 60, and that enabled the Chiefs to edge rival Plymouth Salem 236-241 Thursday in girls golf at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

Christine Wertanen shot 55 to lead Canton, 6-3 in dual meets. Audrey Meissner recorded 56, Val Smith 59 and Michelle O'Brien 66.

Salem's Kelly Collins was the match medalist with a 53. Becky Koehl shot 60, Beth Cleland 62 and Jenny Massey 66.

The Western Lakes Activities Association will have its 18-hole tournament Tuesday at Huron Meadows in Brighton beginning at 9:30 a.m.

"We lost to Walled Lake Western, Northville and Livonia Franklin, and all three meets were close. So it could be up for grabs," Canton coach Dan Riggs said.

Catholic League dinner

The Catholic League Coaches Association and Catholic League Hall of Fame will induct five area members during a reunion dinner Monday, June 14, at Warren Chateau. The event coincides with a golf event earlier in the day at Maple Lane Golf Course.

The 1993 inductees for coaches include former Redford Bishop Borgess High basketball coach and athletic director Mike Fusco.

Livonian Dan Wandzel, a longtime member of the Redford Catholic Central Dad's Club, will be honored for distinguished service.

Area athletes also to be inducted: Michigan State offensive tackle Toby Heaton, former Redford Catholic Central griddler and wrestler; University of Detroit Mercy four-year starting guard Dwayne Kelly, a Bishop Borgess High alumnus; and University of Michigan All-Big 10 cross country and track runner Matt Smith, a Westland native and Borgess graduate.

For ticket information, call 237-5960.

Gymnasts earn places

Area gymnasts earned medals recently at the U.S. Gymnastics Federation state meet in Flint.

Representing the Oakland Gymnastics Training Center, Livonian Katie Mitchell placed ninth on bars (9.35) and 10th on floor (9.0) in the Level 6 Junior Division (ages 12-14). Mitchell was seventh in the all-around with a score of 36.05.

Jean Sullivan, another Livonian, took a sixth on vault (9.2), seventh on floor (9.06) and was ninth in the all-around (35.45). Teammate Kristin Levin (Novi) was first on beam (9.35). Plymouth's Marcie Emerick added an all-around score of 35.46.

In the Level 6 Children's Division, Farmington's Amy Russo took sixth on floor with a score of 9.25. Her all-around score was 35.15.

Livonian Courtney Draughn took 10th on vault (9.1) and finished with an overall of 34.2. Other all-around scores were garnered by Plymouth's Allison Bracht (32.4) and Novi's Kristina Kennedy (33.85).

Canton boys rally for track victory

Everything went right for the Plymouth Canton boys track team Thursday in the second half of its dual meet with Farmington Hills Harrison as the Chiefs overcame an 18-point deficit to win by nine, 73-64.

Plymouth Canton came from behind late in the meet to defeat Farmington Hills Harrison 73-64 in a dual between two of Observerland's top boys teams Thursday.

"We were up by four going into the 1,600-meter relay, so everything was on the line," Canton coach Bob Richardson said. "It was winner-take-all and our kids answered the call."

With the Chiefs leading 68-64, Canton got all five points in the relay when Matt Demey, Marques Nelson, Mike Erickson and Kevin Gudeth finished in 3:39.6.

Jeff Keith had earlier won the 1,600 run (4:37.9), beating Observerland Relays champion Justin Dreyer; however, the Chiefs still trailed Harrison 50-32.

But Canton upset the Hawks in the 400 relay and began its rally. Mike Gurchak, Neil Haremaki, Damon Collier and Rob Lemasters were even with Harrison for three quarters and then capitalized on a bad exchange to finish first in 45.8.

"I don't think they're used to being neck-and-neck with anybody," Richardson said. "They struggled on the exchange and we didn't. In fact, it was probably our best of the year, and it came at the right time."

That win started the Chiefs on a roll that saw them outscore Harrison 41-14 in the last seven events. The Hawks got eight of those points in the 200 dash, which Scott Gurke won (23.8).

Canton took first and second in the 400 and 800 runs. Nelson won the 400 (54.5) and Gudeth the 800 (2:01.5) with a season best. Justin McClain and Demey were second, respectively.

In between those races, John Martin upset Harrison's Don Bryant in the 300 hurdles. He also ran a season best (41.1) and nipped Bryant (41.2) at the wire.

The Chiefs led 58-56 after the 800, but Harrison regained the lead (64-59) following the 200 dash.

Canton responded with a sweep of the 3,200 run by Dave Yack (10:18.5), Ian Bedford (10:20.4) and Shawn McNamara (10:31). That put the Chiefs up 68-64 and set the stage for the finale in the 1,600 relay.

Gurke was a double winner as he upset Canton's Tom Raven in the shot put, throwing 44-3 on his final throw. Raven, who threw the shot 43-10, won the discus with a season and area best (153-5).

Canton's Mark Koziol won the high jump (5-10) and Harrison's Marc Ferguson the long jump (20-11) and Matt

Citrin the pole vault (8-0).

Bryant was first in the high hurdles with a season and area best of 14.5.

Jason Granger won the 100 dash (11.2) and teamed with Ahsan Allos, Gil Chavez and Ferguson to give the Hawks first in the 800 relay (1:34). Canton had stacked its relay, believing it had a better chance to beat Harrison than in the 400, but was a close second at 1:35.

Canton began the running events with a victory in the 3,200 relay (9:08.4) from McClain, Todd Smith, Demey and Keith.

The Chiefs, who have another big dual Tuesday at home with Northville, are 3-1 in the Western Division and 5-1 overall. The Hawks are 2-2 and 3-2.

PLYMOUTH SALEM

The Rocks won 11 events, including the four relays, and improved to 3-1 in Lakes Division duals Thursday when they defeated host North Farm-

Chiefs share lead; Rocks in picture, too

Plymouth Salem can gain a share of first place in the Lakes Division baseball standings today should the Rocks defeat Westland John Glenn.

The Rocks got help from Walled Lake Central in the form of a 5-2 win over the Rockets while Salem took care of business with a 14-2 rout of visiting Farmington.

Glenn leads the division with a 6-1 record, but Salem and Central are right behind at 5-2.

The Rocks totaled 12 hits and jumped on Farmington with an eight-run first inning.

Brian Zarosely, Charlie Winstel, David Knight and Eric Kida had two hits apiece for Salem (12-10).

Knight had a pair of doubles and four RBI, and Zarosely hit a two-run homer in the first inning and had three RBI.

Jay Danek smacked a two-run triple, and Kida, who hit a solo homer, and Winstel also had two RBI each.

Mike Marsella pitched four innings for the win in the five-inning mercy game. He gave up two of three Farmington hits, walked two and struck out two.

Dave Schall started for the Falcons but didn't last the first inning in which Salem had five hits and five walks. Farmington is 2-5 and 7-11.

Salem scored a run in the bottom of the seventh inning Wednesday to defeat visiting Walled Lake Central 2-1.

"The last two times we played they won the game in their last at-bat," Salem coach John Gravin said, "so we paid them back this time. We lost to them 4-3 earlier in the year when Marsella had a two-hitter going into the seventh."

The Rocks outhit the Vikings 12-6 but found it harder to score runs. Salem loaded the bases in the first and sixth innings but failed to score.

"We made a few base-running mistakes that cost us," Gravin said, adding the Rocks threatened in every inning but the second.

Salem took a 1-0 lead in the third, but Central tied it in the fifth. In the seventh, Kida and Brandon Los hit safely and Eric Stryker hit the first pitch from reliever John Cherfoli for a game-winning RBI single.

Stryker and Kida had three hits each, Jamie Owens (solo homer) and Los two apiece.

Nirav Kher went the distance on the mound for Salem, striking out six and walking none. Mark Ross pitched 6½ innings and was the loser.

CANTON 5, HARRISON 2: The Chiefs are tied for first place in the Western Division as of Friday when they defeated host Farmington Hills Harrison and Walled Lake Western upset co-leader Livonia Churchill.

Canton and Churchill are 5-2 in the division, one game ahead of the Hawks (4-3) and two ahead of Northville (3-4) and Western (3-4).

Craig Benedict (4-5) pitched a complete game for the Chiefs, striking out 12 and walking two. Keye Smith went seven innings for Harrison (7-5). He fanned six and issued three walks. Canton had a 9-3 advantage in hits.

Matt Paupore, Mike Stafford and Adam Gilles had two hits apiece for the Chiefs (13-8). Mark Schankowski had an RBI triple and Ryan Fordham and RBI double.

Stafford pitched a one-hitter Wednesday as Canton blanked visiting Northville 5-0. He struck out 10 and walked none.

Fordham, Brad Paskievitch and Chris Johnson accounted for Canton's six hits with two each. Johnson also had two RBI and Fordham one.

Benedict also pitched a fine game Monday in a 5-1 defeat of host Walled Lake Western. He allowed just two hits, struck out 12 and didn't walk anyone.

Fordham also had two hits in that game and one RBI. Eric Marcotte had an RBI single, and Stafford singled and scored a run.

Canton pitchers mow down Harrison

Plymouth Canton's softball team stayed undefeated and Farmington Hills Harrison remained winless in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association Thursday.

Canton pitchers Colleen Baker and Kelly Holmes limited Harrison to one hit and pulled out a 10-0, six-inning mercy victory.

The win improved state-ranked Canton to 7-0 in the Division and 17-2 overall. Harrison is 0-7 and 3-11.

Baker allowed one hit to Holly Foster and a walk with seven strikeouts in four innings of work. Holmes pitched no-hit ball with four strikeouts in two innings.

Kate Strahan had two hits, a pair of walks and two runs scored; Karris Drinkhahn was 2-for-2 with a two-run triple in the fifth.

Erin Lacosse suffered the loss for Harrison.

Harrison on Wednesday lost at Walled Lake Western, 10-9.

Western scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh off Harrison losing pitcher Amy Geary. The game-winning run was scored on a passed ball with two outs in the seventh.

Heather Marley, who led Western with two hits, tripled to start the seventh inning.

Lacosse scored three runs and stole three bases for Harrison, which had 11 stolen bases. Jenny Myslinski had a hit, scored two runs and stole two bases.

Canton cruised on Thursday to a 7-1 victory over host Northville.

Holmes scattered four hits, struck out 13 and walked none.

The Chiefs scored in the first five innings, including three times in the second.

Tina Schafer led the Chiefs, going 4-for-4 with two RBI and one run scored.

Strahan had two hits and scored three runs, and Drinkhahn added an RBI single.

CHRISTIAN 23, FAIRLANE 3: Kristina Tilly allowed three hits and struck out 11 Thursday as Plymouth Christian pounded Dearborn Fairlane Christian in a five-inning mercy game.

The Eagles, who improved to 5-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Association and 6-1 overall, had 23 hits.

Nancy Kobernik was 4-for-4 with six stolen bases, three runs scored and two RBI. Karin Reed also went 4-for-4 with four stolen bases, three runs scored and two RBI.

Lisa Erickson was 3-for-3 with three stolen bases, four runs scored and two RBI; Shrutti Nandani had two hits, two RBI and two runs scored.

LADYWOOD 8-6, MARIAN 1-5: Livonia Ladywood completed a 12-0 Catholic League Central Division season with its double-header softball sweep Friday, defeating host Birmingham Marian.

Mary Jo Kelly won both ends of the twin bill for Ladywood, striking out 13 in the first game and 10 in the nightcap. She gave up two hits in the first game and four in the nightcap.

Rocks preparing for post-season

Plymouth Salem is stoking the fire and building steam for post-season play in girls soccer.

The Rocks gained added momentum Wednesday with a 4-3 victory over host Livonia Churchill.

Salem improved to 5-1-2 against Western Lakes Activities Association teams and 6-2-3 overall. The Chargers are 6-3-2.

"The turning point was when we played well against Northville, in the 1-1 tie," Salem coach Ken Johnson said, adding seven of the 11 teams the Rocks have played have been ranked at one time.

"So we felt we were getting there. This last week we turned the corner. We're still giving up a few goals, but we're scoring them, too."

Salem trailed the Chargers 3-2 until Stacey Delong tied the score in the 68th minute, and Kris Goff got the winning goal on a free kick with eight minutes remaining.

For the first 15 minutes of the game, Churchill wasn't in the Salem end but scored the first time through to take a 1-0 lead.

Caryn Tatterton tied the score at halftime and later assisted on a pair of Delong goals.

Andrea Zawislak scored twice within an eight-minute span to give Churchill a 3-2 lead in the 55th minute before Salem rallied to win.

The Rocks have made a change in goalkeepers, too. Meshia Chicon, who was converted to keeper, last year, asked to return to a field position following a 4-3 loss to Troy Athens, according to Johnson.

SOCCER

Mandy Blumberg has become the starting goalie, and Johnson has brought freshman Julie Buczek up from the JV team. Both played a half during a win over Farmington last Monday.

Blumberg sprained her fingers midway in the first half against Churchill, and Buczek took over until she was hit in the face with an elbow in the second half. Chicon returned to the nets for 10 minutes until Buczek was able to resume play.

CANTON 3, NORTH 0: Amy Westerhold, Leah Hutko and Colleen Connell scored goals Wednesday for the No. 2-ranked Chiefs in their win over visiting North Farmington.

Hutko and Alyson Nouné also had goal assists. The additional three points raised Hutko's team-leading total to 37 with 16 goals and five assists.

Melissa Tomei has 20 points (six goals/eight assists), Mandy Salin 15 (four/seven), Angie Page 12 (five/two) and Nouné 10 (three/four).

Jori Welchans and Sarah Warnke split time in goal for Canton, 8-0-1 in the WLAA and 12-0-1 overall.

Plymouth's Paluk signs with Saginaw Valley St.

Redford Catholic Central senior Brian Paluk has signed a national letter of intent to play basketball and baseball at Saginaw Valley State University.

The 6-foot-5 Paluk, a first-team All-Observer basketball player, is 7-1 with a 0.91 earned run average as a pitcher for CC's baseball team.

Paluk turned down a 3/4 scholarship offer to play only baseball at Western Michigan.

At Saginaw Valley, Paluk will receive a full-ride scholarship to play both sports and be reunited with his brother Jeff, a junior pitcher on the Cardinals' baseball team.

The offer to play baseball at Western was tempting, Paluk said, but he wasn't ready to give up playing basketball in college after averaging 23 points and 10 rebounds as a senior.

Paluk, who carries a 3.3 grade point average, said deciding between Saginaw Valley or Western was the hardest choice, he's ever made.

"By far, nothing comes close," he said.

Paluk's junior year was filled with injuries. He missed half the basketball season with a broken thumb and was sidelined during part of baseball season with a knee injury.

But as the leading returnee in basketball and a key pitcher on the baseball team, Paluk showed he has potential in both sports.

"I know I have a chance now (to play sports) and I might as well give it a shot," he said. "I just didn't want to regret it a few years down the road."

"I feel real comfortable (with SVSU). My brother is happy. He's been pulling for me to come there. I'm happy it's over with and now I can move on."

Jeff Paluk, who graduated from Plymouth Salem, has a 5-5 record as the Cardinals' No. 1 pitcher this spring. Jeff said he looks forward to pitching on the same team but also watching him play basketball. The two Paluks plan on being roommates.

"I didn't want him to quit basketball," Jeff said. "It would be unfair for him to give it up now."

Paluk's parents, Mike and Laura, won't have to worry about driving to two separate campuses to visit their sons.

"We get to watch them both for a year and that'll be interesting," Mike Paluk said.

Salem takes win over North girls

Plymouth Salem and North Farmington were tied for first place entering a dual meet Thursday in girls track, but the host Rocks turned the contest into a one-sided event.

Salem improved to 4-0 in the Lakes Division and 6-0 overall while the city champion Raiders dipped to 3-1 and 3-2.

Sarah Hamilton won the 200-meter dash (26.7) and the 400 with an excellent time of 58.8 for the Rocks and started the winning 800 relay team.

Sarah Makins had her usual double victories in the long jump (16-2 1/4) and 100 hurdles (15.5).

Melissa Hopson, Courtney Sheldon, Vanessa Benning and Stacy Witthoff had one individual victory and were on one winning relay each.

Dana Driscoll and Marcia Parker connected with Hopson and Benning to win the 400 relay (52.5) and Hamilton and Tonya Wheeler the 800 (1:48.8).

Witthoff and Sheldon were part of the 3,200 relay unit along with Kelly Stankov and Lynda Sebestyen, the Rocks finishing in 10:41.7.

Hopson won the high jump (5-4), Sheldon the 300 hurdles (49.4), Benning the 100 dash (13.3) and Witthoff the 800 run (2:24.9). Salem's Kathryn Ryan won the discus (104-8).

North's Keegan Keefover had the best time in the 1,600 run (5:47.2) and combined with Heather Burcar, Carrie May and Lee Nelson for first place in the 1,600 relay (4:19.7).

The Raiders had other firsts from Alisha Gordon in the shot put (32-8) and Emily Shively in the 3,200 run (12:16.2).

FARMINGTON
The Falcons had two winners Thursday in their 99-29 loss to visiting Livonia Stevenson.

Amber Reiseron won the 100 hurdles (16.4) and Liz Quenneville the 400 dash (1:04.2).

Stevenson's A.J. Koritnik and Cathy Bacile were double winners. Koritnik ran the 1,600 (5:34.8) and 3,200 (11:48.3) runs while Bacile did the long jump (15-7 1/4) and 100 dash (13.1).

Farmington is 0-4 in the Lakes Division and 0-5 overall.

Madonna thrashed in district title game

Certainly, Mike George wasn't trying to be prophetic. Anything but.

And yet, after his Madonna University baseball team survived the second day of the NAIA District 23 Playoffs last Friday in Grand Rapids, advancing to the championship game the next day, George said, "I don't know who we're going to pitch tomorrow."

Getting there was the first priority. And, as it turned out, the one element George figured his team to be deeper in than anyone else in the tournament — pitching — let them down in the end. Aquinas College, which finished runner-up to Madonna in the district's regular-season race, trounced the Fighting Crusaders 16-4 in Saturday's final game.

Which means Aquinas will get the opportunity to host the NAIA Regional Tournament this weekend. And Madonna? It must satisfy itself with a 43-22 final record.

BASEBALL

"Aquinas scored eight runs in the first inning and we were behind the eight ball all day," said George.

The Crusaders got three strong pitching performances to start the tournament: a 10-2 win over Tri-State and a 3-2 loss to Spring Arbor Thursday, then a 4-3 victory against Northwood Friday. But after that, the arms disappeared.

Madonna advanced to Saturday's final after outslugging Siena Heights 15-13 in Friday's second game. Aquinas then eliminated Siena Heights in Saturday's first game.

In the championship game, George was forced to go to a freshman, Chad Zann, and a sophomore, Ryan Grabetz, first. They were tagged for a total of 12 runs in 4½ innings — Zann retired just two batters in the first, giving up seven runs, before giving way to Grabetz. T.C. Raptis finished up, allowing five runs in 3½ innings.

Jeff Pendell and Jeff Miller each had two hits for Madonna, with Miller slugging a solo home run to lead off the fourth inning. The other three runs scored on ground outs.

In the slugfest win over Siena Heights Friday, Madonna rallied for six runs in the seventh to overcome a 9-5 deficit, then got a game-winning home run from Rich Roy leading off the eighth. Miller's two-run homer was the highlight of the six-run seventh; Craig Overaitis also hit a solo shot leading off the sixth.

Siena Heights actually outslugged the Crusaders, clubbing five homers. But every Madonna starter had at least one hit and one run batted in.

Joe Brusseau and Pendell each had two hits and an RBI; Roy had two hits, an RBI and scored three times; Bill Terski had two hits, an RBI and scored four times; Overaitis and Scott Anderson each had three hits, an RBI and two runs scored; Miller had a hit and three RBI; Jim Solak had a hit, two RBI and two runs scored; and Steve Coffell had a hit and an RBI.

Grabetz started but got hit hard this time, too. He lasted 2½ innings, giving up five runs on seven hits. Louie McKaig relieved and was bounced around for six runs (five earned) on six hits and two walks in 3½ innings. Raptis pitched the final three innings and got the win, giving up two runs.

Chad Cilley, the second of six pitchers, was the loser for Siena Heights.

Earlier Friday, Madonna stayed alive by rallying for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to edge Northwood, 4-3. After Roy walked and Terski singled to start the ninth, Jim Kurlinski was summoned to relieve Northwood starter Robert Jamerson.

Overaitis sacrificed the runners to second and third, and Solak followed with a single, scoring one run. But Steve Zann, running for Terski, was tossed out at the plate, with Solak taking second. Anderson came through, however, singling to deliver the winning run.

Terski and Solak each had two hits, Terski getting one RBI and Solak two. Shaun Hayward improved his pitching record to 7-0 with the win, allowing three runs (two earned) on 11 singles and four walks. Kurlinski was the loser.

On Thursday, Joe Jentzer got Madonna off to a good start with a strong first-game pitching performance. Jentzer allowed two runs on eight hits and three walks. Miller's four hits and two RBI, and Terski's two hits and three RBI, paced the attack. Pendell and Brusseau also had two hits each.

In Thursday's second game, Madonna's Jeff Kugelmann locked horns with Spring Arbor's Jim Knight. Knight won the pitcher's duel, 3-2. Madonna outhit the Cougars, 9-6, but Kugelmann (6½ innings) and McKaig, who followed him, issued nine walks between them. Kugelmann took the loss.

The eventual game-winning run scored in the seventh without benefit of a hit — three walks and a ground out. Still, the Crusaders — who got two hits from Miller — had their chances. They had two on and no one out in the first, but Roy hit into a double play and Terski grounded out. And in the fourth, Hayward hit into a triple play.

It was that kind of game.

CC remains division leader

Redford Catholic Central junior right-hander Andy Kummer threw five innings of scoreless relief Wednesday as the Shamrocks came from behind to beat host Harper Woods Notre Dame 8-5 in the first game of a Catholic League baseball doubleheader.

CC also won the second game 10-5 to remain in first place in the Central Division at 11-3.

The Shamrocks (21-7) had to split a doubleheader Saturday against Warren DeLaSalle to become the first seed in the Catholic League semifinal playoff game.

Kummer came on in relief of starter Jerry Nozewski, who struggled with control and left after 1½ innings with Notre Dame ahead 2-0.

Kummer earned the win after allowing four hits, six walks and striking out five in 7½ innings of work. He allowed two runs, both unearned. Nozewski, who was 5-0 prior to the game, walked four in the first inning and gave up a leadoff single and walk in the second before being lifted.

"Andy really did a good job holding us in there," CC coach John Salter said.

CC trailed 5-1 after five innings but forced extra innings after scoring four in the top of the sixth. The Shamrocks, who sent 10 batters to the plate, benefitted from two ND errors and three walks. Mike Brusseau highlighted the rally with an RBI single.

CC scored three in the top of the ninth to seal the victory. Brian Hicks delivered a leadoff home run for a 6-5 lead. Aaron Babicz singled and Jeff Gutt doubled to put runners on second and third and both came home on Eric Justice's single.

Dave Susalla led the Shamrocks' 14-hit attack with three hits, including two doubles, and two RBI. Gutt and Brusseau had two hits apiece.

Brian Paluk, who earlier in the week signed a letter of intent to play basketball and baseball at Saginaw Valley State University, earned the win in Game 2. Paluk, who allowed one earned run on three hits, left after the fourth inning so he would be ready to pitch in Saturday's double-header against DeLaSalle.

Paluk struck out seven and walked three to move his record to 8-1.

Hicks continued to swing a hot bat, going 3-for-4 with a homer, his fourth of the year, and three RBI. Brusseau was 3-5 with a double and an RBI and Paluk was 2-3 with a double and three RBI.

Susalla struck out eight batters and walked only one in three innings of hitless relief for the Shamrocks.

The cost is $85. For a brochure, call coach Tom Mach at 531-7251.

Mustangs favored in WLAA tourney

By BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

At least on paper, Northville appears to be the team to beat once again in Western Lakes Activities Association boys tennis tournament.

But when the defending champion Mustangs take the courts Tuesday at Livonia Stevenson, it will be the host Spartans, bolstered by its four top-seeded doubles teams, which could have the final word.

"We have a chance, but Northville is the favorite," Stevenson coach George Croll said. "We've got to sweep the doubles and pick up some points in singles. Arguably, Northville has the top three singles players in the league. They're the opposite of us, they need to pick up points in the doubles."

Matches begin at 8:30 a.m. with the semifinals and finals of each of the eight flights scheduled to start at approximately 2 p.m.

Northville, considered by many to be one of the state's top 10 teams in Class A, finished its WLAA dual meet season with a perfect 11-0 record. Stevenson took second with a 10-1 mark, followed by Livonia Churchill (8-3), Plymouth Canton (7-4), North Farmington (7-4) and Plymouth Salem (7-4).

In an early-season dual meet, Northville beat Stevenson, 5-3. The Mustangs went that day without No. 3 singles player Brad Smith, who was out because of illness. He returns to the WLAA meet as the top seed in his flight.

"We should have been able to win that day," Croll said. "I think our doubles teams are stronger now than we were back then."

Croll's confidence has been bolstered the return of Justin Lozo, a senior who just recently regained his eligibility.

Lozo will team up with senior Matt Gerlach at No. 1 doubles where they have combined for a 6-0 record.

TENNIS

Mark Magnusson, another Stevenson senior who teamed up with Gerlach part of the season at the top doubles slot, moves down to the No. 4 position with freshman Chad Crosby. They are also top seeds in the 12-team field.

Stevenson's No. 2 doubles team of Mike Miller and Ben Moricz, both seniors, are also undefeated with an 8-0 record.

Seniors Ryan Schmidt and Scott Sibel, Stevenson's No. 3 doubles squad, are also unbeaten at 14-0 overall. At recent the Sterling Heights Invitational, Schmidt and Sibel moved up to the No. 2 flight and finished first.

"Realistically we can win the meet with Lozo back," Croll said. "If we do that, we can finish as co-champs."

Northville features the league's top two singles players in brothers Mark and Matt Schwagle.

Mark, a senior, is a two-time runnerup in Class A at No. 1 singles. Headed for Michigan State, Schwagle is gunning for his fourth straight individual title.

Livonia Churchill's Martin Knecht and Plymouth Salem's Jason Grimm, the co-second seeds at No. 1, reside on the other half of the draw and will most likely decide who will be Schwagle's opponent in the final.

"Matt Schwagle, a junior, is also undefeated in the WLAA at No. 2 singles. Smith is the defending league champ at No. 3.

Ben Sommers of North Farmington, meanwhile, is the top seed at No. 4 singles.

"With the two Schwagles, you're talking about nationally-ranked players," Croll said. "Your going to see some outstanding tennis."

Kelly had two hits, including a home run, in the first game, finishing with three RBI.

Katie Wright and Tara Wasiak each had two hits and one RBI for Ladywood. Christie Soter added two RBI.

In the second game, Wasiak doubled in the seventh inning to score Kelly, breaking a 5-5 tie. Wasiak went 3-4 with four RBI in the nightcap, while Stacey Judd was 2-4 with two RBI. Soter added two hits.

Ladywood also swept a doubleheader earlier in the week at home over Harper Woods Regina, winning 9-0 and 1-0. Kelly struck out five and gave up two hits in the opener and fanned seven in her four-hitter in the nightcap, winning both games.

In the first game, Lisa Rozum, Katie Law and Soter each had two hits for Ladywood. Judd added two RBI.

Katie Wright had two hits for Regina in the opener.

Ladywood scored its only run of the nightcap in the sixth inning.

Kelly reached base on a fielder's choice and advanced to third on Judd's hit. Regina committed an error on Kelly Stokes' bunt, and Kelly scored to win.

Melissa Campeau had Ladywood's only other hit.

SALEM 6, CENTRAL 4: The Rocks scored twice in the top of the seventh inning Wednesday to break a 4-4 tie and give Walled Lake Central its first loss in the Lakes Division.

The loss dropped the Vikings to 5-1 and moved Salem into a second-place tie with North Farmington — both at 4-2 going into another round of division games Friday.

With two out in the seventh, Amanda Tubaugh and Jenny Coleman hit consecutive singles. On the ball hit by Coleman, Central pitcher Jenny Czach threw into center field, and both runners scored on the error. The center fielder came into to back up the second baseman, which allowed the ball to roll.

Tubaugh had three hits and two RBI, and she scored two runs.

Fastest-Moving Cars In Town.

People tell us that all the time. "My ad appeared on Monday and by 2 o'clock on Tuesday my car had been paid for and driven away by its new owner," said Mrs. Carol Robertson of Garden City. Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...

NBC hurries first movie account of doomed cult

By Dan Rice

NBC sifts through the dust of disaster in the final week of the May sweeps with three docudramas drawn from top news stories. Of the three — In the Line of Duty: Ambush in Waco, Hurricane Andrew and Terror in the Towers — the first, airing Sunday, May 23, may be the most controversial in that production began weeks before David Koresh and his Branch Davidians met their fiery end.

Executive producer Kenneth Kaufman says the movie's story line "will not go very far into the standoff. The single thread in all the In the Line of Duty movies has been the story of the law enforcement officers killed in the line of duty. Our movie will cover events surrounding the assault and the four agents who tragically lost their lives."

Timothy Daly, known to TV

audiences as happy-go-lucky pilot Joe Hackett in the NBC sitcom Wings, takes on a much darker role as cult leader David Koresh. Daly, who was still shooting scenes for the movie in Tulsa, Okla., at the time of the cult's demise in a puzzling inferno, says the news was disheartening.

"It's made me very, very sad, about the whole situation, really," Daly says. "I think it's really tragic that it had this kind of end. Hindsight is always 20/20, and I guess a lot of people thought that it might end this way, but I was one of the people who held out hope that it could be resolved in a peaceful way and that these people would come out alive."

Dan Lauria (The Wonder Years) plays a federal agent in the film, which was produced and directed by Dick Lowry (In the Line of Duty: Street War).

Daly, whose other credits include the feature film Diner and the miniseries Queen, found the role of Koresh multi-dimensional.

"This guy's a fascinating character," Daly says. "I was reading about all the horrendous things this guy did, on and on and on about these terrible things, but on the other hand I would see these (cult members) on television and they seemed so normal to me. They seemed intelligent and well-spoken and they didn't seem like glazed-eyed automatons or anything, and I started thinking, 'How did these people get involved with this to begin with?' And I kept seeing this word 'charismatic,' everyone kept calling him 'charismatic,' and I thought, 'What does that mean?' So my exploration of the character really has been to try to find out what it was that attracted people to him initially, how he got people in and was able to manipulate them the way that he did."

Daly's research for the role included conversations with cult members.

"What I had to ask them as an actor was, 'What did you like about the guy?' And they all said that he was incredibly smart, that he obviously had a temper, but that he was real normal — he swore, he drank beer, he went out to listen to music at bars. He could be very friendly, loving, kind, but he was incredibly argumentative — he hated to be wrong, and he used his encyclopedic knowledge of the Bible to sway people to his point of view. One of the interesting things about the Bible — I've been studying it, and I never have before — is that if you have a specific agenda that you are trying to put forth, you can use the Bible to prove just about anything." Daly recalls hearing Koresh's radio sermon from inside the compound, and finds a simple irony in its tone. "What's pretty frightening is," Daly says, "the other day I found a radio station here in Tulsa, it was a religious station, and someone was giving a sermon, I don't know who it was, I don't know what it was on, but the scary thing is it really didn't seem any different. It was not that far away."
