Myers backs Liljestrands

Pat Liljestrands

First Rev. William Myers was in the school board race, then out, then in again. But now he says he'll stay in, and if he wins he won't take the job, but will push for the appointment of a member of the pro-millage campaign.

BY DIANE GALE
STAFF WRITER

The Rev. William Myers is making an all-out attack on the Plymouth-Canton school administration and school board candidate David Artley in an unconventional campaign for school board.

Get out your score pads for this one: Myers said he will run for the one open seat on the school board even though he will leave town in July to take the helm of Lakeside Methodist Church near Muskegon.

The twist is that Myers said, if he is elected, he will ask the school board to appoint Pat Liljestrands, past president of the Plymouth-Canton Music Boosters organization. She is also serving on a committee to pass a 4-mill tax increase for schools on June 14. It's past the filing date for Liljestrands to get on the ballot.

"I feel very badly Bill is leaving, because I thought he was the person we needed, and I was honored he would nominate me to take his place if he had the opportunity," Liljestrands said.

Walkout: Students who didn't want to be identified hold up a flier distributed at the schools to encourage the walkout.

Students take a walk on the out side

About 1,000 Plymouth and Canton high school students congregated at the bleachers, running around the football field and tackling each other during a walkout Friday afternoon at Plymouth Canton Educational Park.

Fliers circulated at the schools announcing a walkout set for "Friday, May 21st before fifth hour. You pick the reason," it said. "Meet by the Salem baseball field."

Word got around about the time and day, but not the location. Students instead met on the football field.

Depending on who you talked to, the reason for the walkout varied. "They're trying to ban stuff, like people wearing hats. They want to make them wear name tags," said Ron Roebuck, a Salem junior, while walking out onto the field.

Two seniors who said they organized the event said the idea was "just to see how many people would come out here. We had no intention of everything going nuts. I'm a senior; I can't handle getting kicked out of school."

"We were in advanced composition class, and what started it all is we just wanted to see how many people we could get to leave class," he said.

"There are rumors this was about the dress code. We just wanted a peaceful way for people to come out here. If you had a reason for it, fine. If not, fine. A lot of people think it's about the ID cards."

"I came out to skip class," said a

Vorva petition seeks to ground airport sale

BY KEVIN BROWN

State Rep. Jerry Vorva is getting some support from fellow legislators in his opposition to the state purchase of Mettetal Airport.

But Vorva, R-Plymouth, said that support still may not be enough to stop the planned government buy of the Canton airport, on the Plymouth Township border.

Vorva has gotten 48 legislators to sign a two-paragraph letter. It reads, "We the undersigned disapprove of the (Michigan) aeronautics commission attempt to circumvent legislative power and authority."

"We oppose its attempt to purchase Mettetal Airport against the wishes of the citizens and local officials of the area."

Vorva, who collected the signatures over a two-week period, said, "They recognize that they don't want the aeronautics commission or MDOT (state department of transportation) coming to their district and telling local officials what to do; they recognize the danger of it."

In an accompanying letter to the legislators, Vorva outlined the evolution of the controversy over the airport, highlighted by the failed Plymouth city-township effort to buy it with a federal grant after the challenge posed by the anti-airport Concerned Citizens group.

This year, the state renewed the effort to get a federal grant to buy the small airport.

The federal government has offered the state $4.6 million to buy and spruce up the airport.

"Has the state aeronautics commission become a renegade department which feels it can step on our rights?" Vorva asked.

"Yes, they feel we have lost some of our power and control over them because of term limits. They believe we can't stop them," he added.

"We are still the elected officials and still give our allegiance to the people and are duty bound to hold in check improper departmental behavior," Vorva said.

The joint House-Senate capital outlay committee is scheduled to meet Wednesday. Vorva said he has brought the letter circulated among legislators to the committee's attention, but is unsure if the committee will raise the issue Wednesday.

The state would pay 10 percent of the airport purchase cost, from a fund created by landing fees levied at state airports.

A citizens committee organized by Canton Supervisor Tom Yack recently detailed pros and cons of a federal-state purchase of Mettetal and forwarded results to MDOT Director Pat Nowack.

State officials haven't said when the airport ownership might revert to the state.

Cable talks delayed

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Scheduled negotiations for a new contract between the Plymouth-Canton communities and Omnicom Cable have been delayed.

"They asked for a little more time," said Phil LaJoy, Canton trustee and member of the Inter-governmental Cable TV Committee, referring to Omnicom.

The consortium — representatives from Canton Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and the City of Northville — and Omnicom were scheduled to kick off negotiations May 20. Omnicom's existing contracts with the communities expire in 1995.

But Omnicom representatives aren't quite ready to begin bargaining. "We have not received the wish lists from the governments. We need time to review them," said Lisa Boland, Omnicom general manager.

The cable television company also wants time to consider the 1992 federal cable television act. "There are literally thousands of pages we are digging through," Boland said.

How long the next contract with Omnicom will be up for discussion, as are many other issues which both sides don't want to discuss during negotiations, LaJoy said.

But residents voiced their concerns and issues of importance regarding cable TV at a public hearing last year, scheduled for local government officials to get an idea what should be the priorities in negotiations, LaJoy said.

"Based on all that people told us, we have put together a whole list," he added.

The communities also hired consultant Larry Monroe to help get the best deal possible for residents.

Driver survives crash: A Redford woman, 26, was treated for injuries at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia Thursday after her car went end over end before coming to rest in Wilcox Lake. Plymouth police were called to the scene at 10:40 p.m. as the car lay in shallow water after it left westbound Wilcox Road at Hines Drive, hit a concrete wall and went end over end. Rescue units had to pry the door open to remove the driver. There were no other passengers in the 1993 Dodge. Police are investigating.

A $5,000 trailer was reported stolen Wednesday from a Plymouth Township business.

The black 1990 Pace America closed trailer used to haul cars was discovered missing May 15 from a business at 45657 Port. A check of employees revealed none of them had borrowed it, according to the report filed with police. Police are investigating.

There was no damage to the vehicle, and police have no suspects, according to the report filed with police.

Credit card fraud

A Plymouth Township man got a call Wednesday from Dearborn police, telling him that they had a man in custody who had been using his credit card.

The victim, 27, had earlier reported his wallet stolen, which contained the credit card, according to the report filed with township police.

Club hearing continues

A Wayne County circuit judge last week continued a hearing to today to determine the fate of the Mayflower Hotel Roundtable Club.

The hearing opened on Thursday before Judge Paul Teranes. A court clerk said the hearing was continued to allow both sides in the matter to continue to present arguments.

Hotel receiver Ron Wilson is trying to close the club and use the space it now occupies as a banquet room. "The bottom line is the receiver has been charged with the responsibility of operating the hotel, increasing revenue and cutting costs," said Mark Demorest, attorney for the receiver.

But Mayflower co-owner Scott Lorenz on May 17 sought and won a restraining order to keep that from happening, saying the club, founded in 1960, is a Plymouth institution.

The club has more than 1,400 members in the area.

City candidates consider signing on to ad pledge

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The first issue major issue to arise in this year's fledgling city commission campaign is campaign signs.

Traditionally, city commission candidates have not used signs to get the word out. But that changed in the 1989 commission race, when top vote getters Jerry Vorva and John Vos III made significant use of signs.

In the 1991 commission election, candidates agreed not to use signs, saying that signs sprouting around town looked bad.

But while some candidates are seeking agreement among those vying for commission seats not to use signs, others suggest they'll probably use them this summer.

In August, city voters in a primary will choose from a slate of nine candidates, to narrow the field to eight for the November general election.

Vos, who decided to run for reelection the day before Tuesday's filing deadline, said signs help to get the word out.

"I understand the other side; they think they are an eyesore," Vos said. But he added, "I always get them down the night of the election."

Commission incumbent Stella Greene, with the help of another commission candidate, Rosita Smith, is asking candidates to agree to forgo signs again this campaign year.

"Cluttering our streets and lawns with political signs for as much as six months is not the type of burden we feel is necessary to impose on our friends and neighbors," Greene wrote in a statement she and Smith are seeking to have signed by city commission candidates.

Former city commissioner and current candidate Ron Loisele said on signs, "I'm still undecided, but I'm leaning to probably using them."

"I have no plans to use them at this time," said city commissioner and commission candidate Doug Miller.

"I would support a general agreement among the candidates not to use signs. I think it increases the cost of the election, I think it adds to visual pollution in the city, and I think it encourages voters to vote on name recognition alone rather than understanding who the candidates are and what they stand for," Miller said.

Commission candidate Glen Mackie said past agreements not to use signs "seem to have worked pretty well."

"Personally, I'd rather not use signs; I think the cost of the signs is another issue," Mackie said.

Commission candidate David McDonald said he's signed the pledge circulated by Greene and Smith, adding that signs shouldn't be necessary in a political campaign in a small town like Plymouth.

"I plan on campaigning door to door, face to face with people. And frankly, there are a lot of McDonalds around the community; I have a lot of free advertising," he said.

Candidates Tom Prose and Michael Caffery were unavailable for comment Friday.

HAVING ARTHRITIS AND FEELING 'LAZY'

Others may chide you for letting your arthritis "get the best of you." They criticize you for not getting out and for acting lazy. What outsiders do not understand is that arthritis causes more than painful joints; arthritis creates fatigue.

In part, fatigue represents strain on your unaffected joints as they try to compensate for arthritic ones. In part, the tiredness is a message from involved joints which may look alright but are closer to flare than you realize. In part, fatigue comes from chemical changes generated by the inflammation associated with arthritis itself.

You cannot ignore the message of fatigue; you must slow down. Arthritic joints need relief, a strained body requires rest, and therapy for inflammation includes being immobilized. People who urge you to go out, may act from good motives, but provide you bad advice.

No state of mind can override fatigue. At best, medicine can slow the intensity of inflammation that accompanies your arthritis. Thus, you must ignore those who say exhaustion is merely an attitude, a reflection of a lack of will. You feel tired because you are.

In sum, you must not act on the admonishments of others but on the information you receive from yourself.

Border games

Casinos draw suburbanites

BY PAT MURPHY
STAFF WRITER

It's a good bet the suburbs are part of the reason casino gambling is expanding in Windsor.

Charity gambling — run by a professional management company with proceeds going to a charity — became available six days a week, rather than three.

That expansion is significant. But it's also a hint of things to come. Sometime in 1995, the Ontario government plans to open a $200 million casino with a 75,000 square foot gaming area, restaurants, marina and hotel.

Some of the companies bidding to go into partnership on the so-called Windsor Project are Donald Trump and Mirage Resorts from Las Vegas.

Ontario is betting an already bountiful market will get even richer.

That market is fueled by dozens of free-spending suburbanites having fun betting $1, $5, or $10 a clip.

Since a casino opened in Windsor March 26, an average of 4,000 people have trekked to the border city each weekend to gamble, according to Aubrey Zidenberg, president and owner of Casino Amusements Canada, a marketing company.

Of those, about 75 percent are from the United States, said Zidenberg, with most of them being residents of metro Detroit.

Debbie Kraus of Livonia said she likes to go to Las Vegas and, occasionally, Mt. Pleasant. "But gambling in Windsor is really fun."

Kraus said she never takes more than she can afford to lose and strictly adheres to her self-imposed limit. "Sometimes I win; other times I lose. I'd say it's pretty even."

A companion, Mike Meloche, said he doesn't particularly like gambling. But he likes to watch Kraus have a good time. "I'm her rabbit's foot. When I come around, she wins."

A Plymouth couple, who preferred to be identified only as John and Sue, said they have the perfect system. "He wins, and I lose," explained Sue.

Michael Thomas of Rochester Hills said he has played Vegas, Atlantic City and even Paradise Island in the Bahamas. "But I've never seen dealers as friendly as these."

Wanda Groom of Canton Township agrees. "Nothing beats Vegas. But everybody here is so nice, so friendly. I like it a lot better than Mt. Pleasant... especially the dealers."

For Edith Poirier, casino gambling in Windsor is exciting, or glitzy, enough to keep luring her back. "It's a lot more fun than gambling at St. Mel's."

She was referring to St. Mel's Catholic Church in Dearborn Heights which, like numerous other nonprofit organizations, offers gambling — or Las Vegas nights — occasionally as a fundraiser.

Poirier, a worker at the St. Mel's fund-raisers, said she enjoys those games, but they're not as exciting as gambling in Windsor. "My husband (Floyd) is home washing windows," she said. "I leave him at home and really enjoy myself."

Recovery group stresses caution

BY PAT MURPHY
STAFF WRITER

Gamblers Anonymous of southeast Michigan doesn't have a formal position on casino gambling either in Windsor or, if it happens, in Detroit.

But the availability of gambling does mean more temptation... GA's 300 active members in the area as well as dozens of other people who may become addicted, according to a spokesman.

"As casinos are more available, more people will have a problem," said Ron C., who, like other members of GA, prefers to remain anonymous.

Another is a cleric, who asked that his name and religious denomination not be used.

"I've been clean for five years," he said. "But I realize how insidious gambling is. It (the addiction) just doesn't jump up and bite you over night. Getting addicted is a gradual process. You don't realize there's a problem until suddenly it's an overriding concern in life."

While he didn't condemn — or embrace — casino gambling, the cleric had a word of caution. "Everybody won't be tempted to become compulsive gamblers. But casino gambling in Windsor (and possibly Detroit) will broaden the potential for problems."

"More people will have the opportunity to become addicted. And that creates problems for their families as well as on the job."

Police worry over gaming in Detroit

BY PAT MURPHY
STAFF WRITER

Next week Detroit residents for the third time will vote on whether casino gambling should be licensed in the Motor City.

While many suburbanites — as well as Detroiters — would like to see gambling on this side of the river, a note of caution is being sounded by members of two groups — police chiefs and Gamblers Anonymous.

The police chiefs as a group have not taken a formal position, but individually they are wary.

"You can't have gambling without the possibility of organized crime moving in," said Jerry Tobin, director of public safety in Southfield.

"You just can't get away from it," said Tobin, a former vice squad sergeant in Detroit who spent three years as head of the Michigan Attorney General's Organized Crime Division.

Another police veteran, Emery Price, chief of the Westland Police Department, insists voters — and gamblers — should take a realistic approach to casino gambling in Detroit.

No dice: Blackjack, a faster version of the game called rapid blackjack, and a game similar to roulette are the only forms of betting currently offered in Windsor.

"If people recognize the problems associated with gambling up front — and take a realistic approach — it might work over here," said Price.

"But have you ever seen that happen?" Price asked.

"Somebody other than the companies running them (casinos) must exert tight control and insist on strict accountability," said the 26-year police veteran.

Snags hinder gambling in Windsor

Casino gambling in Windsor is not glitch free.

Partly because of Ontario law and partly because of problems associated with any business, customers often have to wait and they don't have the gambling options available at casinos in Mt. Pleasant or Las Vegas.

Right now, Windsor gambling isn't even a floating crap game.

The games float from location to location — because of a law against a casino operating in one place for more than three days. Consequently games are rotated between hotels and nightspots.

But the Windsor games don't offer dice.

Neither do they offer roulette, poker, slot machines or other gaming variations usually available elsewhere.

The only games available in Windsor are blackjack, rapid blackjack (described as "tournament blackjack") and "wheel of fortune," which looks like roulette but lacks the options.

The Windsor games are called "charity gambling" because various non-profit organizations obtain the casino license, then hire professional managers for day-to-day operations.

The Windsor games are not exclusively run by Indians, as is sometimes the case in Michigan and elsewhere in the U.S. They can be operated by any charity willing to obtain the license and take a chance — with proceeds going to some worthwhile cause.

One major concern, according to Sean Higgins, casino operations manager for B.J. Games, is the availability of dealers. His company is one of several that provide equipment and offer operating expertise.

Earlier this month, when the games were at the Hilton Hotel in downtown Windsor, Debbie Kraus of Livonia had a difficult time finding an open chair.

When she arrived, around 2 p.m., about 125 people were already there, and she waited about 30 minutes.

Many of these problems will be worked out, according to Aubrey Zidenberg, president and owner of Casino Amusements Canada, a marketing company. Especially when Ontario builds its $200-million casino with hotels, restaurants and a marina.

In the meantime, people wanting more information about the games in Windsor can call the casino hotline, 1-800-567-2121.

student. "I just came out to support them," said Kelly Goodfellow of the organizers. Other students said the walkout was linked to a meeting teachers had May 18 to address several concerns. They included the increasing number of fights and confrontations at school; worsening language in the hallways; an increasing lack of general respect; the growing litter problem; more gang activity; and inconsistency in the enforcement of rules at Canton and Salem, students said. Students expected to see fights, objects like garbage cans being thrown and other activity. It didn't happen. Things calmed down as testy-looking administrators walked through the crowd with megaphones and walkie-talkies, doing their best to dispel the rumors. Tom Tattan, executive director for instruction, said, "It's a misunderstanding on the part of students. They think there is a change in the dress code. Nothing is changed for next year. We will get to the bottom of this." A student asked Tattan about the "rules Salem teachers put out." "Administration has done nothing," he said. "What is happening is based on rumor," said Tattan. "This is just an outgrowth of all the cuts. It's the emotions of a bad time in school financing. Kids think they aren't going to have athletics and other things. That's one of the causes of this."

The school board wouldn't be bound to act on Myers' recommendation. "The question is: Are they going to listen to the people in the community?" Myers asked. "Or are they going to continue to live in their ivory tower?" Traditionally the board has filled vacancies with the candidate with the second-highest vote total, Myers said, adding that Artley, who has served on the board since 1983, will probably be that person. "Countless people within the community have told me they have caught the incumbent (Artley) speaking in favor or in opposition to the same issue, and it depends on what group he's speaking to," Myers said. Changes the district needs, he said, include better communication between the community and the school administration; a change in attitude "so people are more important than money;" and a change in leadership, and "I'm talking about the superintendent" (John Hoben).

Myers said the easy thing for him to do would be to pull out of the race. "I tried to bow out," he said, referring to his short-lived withdrawal from the race early last week. "People started calling, and they said, 'I'll vote for you anyway,'" Myers said. "The school board needs to know people want change." Myers said he would like Liljestrand on the school board, because she has proven her commitment to the school district, "she's very capable, competent, bright, articulate and is a very principled lady." He said he would like to support other school board candidates if they were "well versed, but they're not." Besides Artley, the other candidates are Robert Burger of Plymouth and Canton residents Steve Kilijanczyk and Terry Churhan. Neither Artley nor Hoben were available for comment.

City of Plymouth NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING 1993-94 PROPOSED CITY BUDGET
Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on Monday, June 7, 1993, at 7:00 P.M. in the Commission Chambers at City Hall, 201 S. Main Street, for the purpose of discussing and receiving public comments on the proposed 1993-94 City Budget.
PROPOSED 1993 CITY MILLAGE RATES: The following statements are provided as required by State law, concerning the 1993 proposed millage levels for the City of Plymouth:
The 1993 tax rate for City operating millage is proposed to be 11.05 mills, which is a reduction of 3.8% from the 1992 operating tax rate of 11.49 mills. The City Commission has the authority under the City Charter to set the operating millage rate within the maximum allowed rate of 12.38 mills, as adjusted by the Headlee millage roll-back formula.
The 1993 tax rate for City debt retirement millage is proposed to be 0.21 mill, which is a reduction of 70.4% from the 1992 debt retirement tax rate of 0.71 mill.
The 1993 tax rate for City solid waste and recycling millage is proposed to be 1.82 mills, which is an increase of 32.8% from the 1992 solid waste and recycling tax rate of 1.37 mills.
The total City millage for all purposes is proposed to be 13.08 mills in 1993, which is a reduction of 3.6% from the 1992 total City tax rate of 13.57 mills.
EQUALIZATION FACTORS: Wayne County established the 1993 equalization factor for residential classes of property at 1.10, and the 1993 equalization factor for commercial and industrial classes of property at 1.00. Since the City must levy the same millage rate on all properties, and the equalization factors for 1993 are different, this will result in the proposed 1993 millage rate having a different impact on each property class. The 1993 proposed millage rate will result in an increase of 6.0% in the average residential property's City taxes; and a 3.6% decrease in the average commercial/industrial property's City taxes.
IMPACT OF STATE PROPOSAL A: The voters will be deciding whether to approve Proposal A at a special election on June 2, 1993. If Proposal A is approved, the City's 1993 proposed millage rate will be changed to 13.58 mills to levy the same amount of tax dollars, and the impact on properties will be changed. The 1993 proposed millage rate under Proposal A will result in an increase of 3.1% in the average residential property's City taxes; and an increase of 0.1% in the average commercial/industrial property's City taxes.

Critics say schools create Stepford teachers, children

BY TIM CARVELL
STAFF WRITER

Angry and upset over a program which they feel has endangered their children, about 50 parents and educators gathered Wednesday night to protest the statewide policy of outcome-based education.

The meeting, held at Southfield-Lathrup High School, focused on such outcome-based educational practices as the abolition of the conventional grading system and an emphasis on multicultural learning, values and group work. The meeting's speakers said these practices resulted in a shift away from the basics of academics and allowed the schools, rather than parents, to teach children about morality.

A handout was distributed outlining the view of outcome-based education held by the meeting's sponsors, Friends of Michigan Schools and Concerned About Responsible Education (C.A.R.E.).

"The ultimate aim or goal (of OBE) is the development of the politically correct attitude of all children regarding the environment, multicultural diversity — including acceptance of homosexuality as a lifestyle and the elimination of heterosexism, responsible sexuality — safe sex and birth control rather than self control, the feminist agenda and the elimination of nationalism and the acceptance of the New World Order," the handout read in part.

Public act targeted

A major target for the speakers

was Public Act 25, a 1990 act of the State Legislature which made outcome-based education part of a new core curriculum for Michigan's public schools; several speakers encouraged active political involvement to repeal the act.

"I refuse for my tax dollars to be used for the deliberate programming of this nation," said Vanessa Thrasher, a candidate for the Southfield School Board. "I suggest that you, as parents, rise up, rise up before it is too late."

The meeting's keynote speaker was Cheri Yecke, a former Teacher of the Year, who argued that outcome-based education has lowered standardized test scores and destroyed initiative.

"The truth about OBE and similar reforms is that they are not what the reformers masquerade them to be," Yecke said.

Yecke added that outcome-based education is largely untested, and that it could take years to evaluate the results.

"We could lose a whole generation to this experiment," she said. "And just imagine what we will have lost."

One of the evening's organizers, Carol Pope of Birmingham, echoed Yecke's concerns.

"If we could refocus our resources on academics, that's all we need to do," Pope said. "We've wandered. We've squeezed out the traditional curriculum."

Pope, who founded the Friends of Michigan Schools to fight against teaching a three-hour unit on homosexuality in Birmingham schools last December, explained the link between the sexuality curriculum and OBE.

"The Birmingham schools had a homosexuality curriculum, and I couldn't imagine why we were spending time and resources teaching that when 67 percent of our students were failing math," Pope said. "I started asking questions, and it all led back to the core curriculum."

The Birmingham schools will soon send a fact sheet to parents giving them information on outcome-based education, or what they term as performance-based education, according to schools spokeswoman Shirley Bryant.

It describes performance based education as using a management system to establish student performance outcomes utilizing the participation of community members and educators. It then aligns programs, courses, standards and evaluation strategies with the desired results to assure student success.

"The best and most up-to-date research on education and instruction supports this concept," according to Bryant. Outcomes will be gradually integrated over the next 10 years into the curriculum as teachers are trained.

After the meeting, a teacher who declined to give her name said she had seen the effects of outcome-based education firsthand.

"I know what they're doing," she said. "They're creating Stepford teachers and Stepford children."

Planning commissioners resign

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

The Wayne County Planning Commission became extinct like a dinosaur last week when all eight active members resigned en masse.

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has no plans to replace them, according to deputy executive Michael Dugan.

In a letter to county commission Chairman Arthur Blackwell, the planning commissioners charged that they haven't been given anything to, so they might as well quit.

"Your commission and the office of the county executive have not deemed it important enough to give the (planning) commission the opportunity to be of service, and over the years we have gradually come to the realization that, under the present impasse, we cannot function for the good of the county," the letter said.

The county planning commission's job has been to review the decisions of township planning commissions.

Former planning commissioner Abe Munfakh, also a former Plymouth Township trustee, said the county planning commission had become a "political football."

"We wanted to get involved, but the executive office doesn't want us to do that. We talked with the board of commissioners several times and there was no interest there either."

Belle Isle attracts fans of all ages

Hands down holding flags of encouragement—the usual montage of smiling faces trying to squeeze into the camera view at major sporting events. However, this year at First of America Free Prix Day on Belle Isle, you may see a number of fans shying away from the camera.

Since the event is annually held on a Friday, many of the expected 60,000 race enthusiasts will be escaping from a day of work or school hoping not to be caught by the watchful eye of the camera. Dedicated fans are expected to travel from as far as Canada and northern Michigan to enjoy a day of racing.

"I am excited and joyed by the turnout into Free Prix," said Detroit Grand Prix President Robert McCabe, sponsor of the three-day race. In addition to the record-setting number nearly 45,000 are expected to view the Grand Prix race on Sunday.

Race fans range in age and social backgrounds, from high-powered businessmen and women to fathers and sons reliving memories of past generations of racing legends. "The attraction of Indy car racing seems to stem from inside race fans and isn't definable by gender, race or social status," commented McCabe. "The diversity of the audience itself plays a major role in the success of racing."

McCabe hopes track conditions continue to be as favorable as in past years.

New tax earmarked for schools

Answers to readers' questions about Proposal A on the June 2 statewide ballot.

Q. Will the sales tax increase revenue go into the school fund or somewhere else?

A. Into the school aid fund. Proposal A is a constitutional amendment that earmarks all the new sales tax revenue for schools after Oct. 1. It continues to earmark half the old sales tax revenue, too. All Lottery proceeds would be earmarked for schools.

The sales tax increase would be levied beginning July 15 but wouldn't be dedicated until Oct. 1. For two and a half months, it would go into the state general fund.

Q. Why does state law say the state will share half the cost of teacher retirement? The number is fudged because of the flexible number of teachers.

A. Until now, the state has picked up the full cost of teacher retirement contributions. Between Proposal A and the school aid act, that cost will be shifted to the district districts. In return, schools are guaranteed a minimum of $4,800 per pupil (phased in). Those spending more are guaranteed a 3 percent increase next fiscal year.

The Engler Administration's budget philosophy is to eliminate messy "line items" categories. The governor wants to give schools a single sum and let them manage the line items after that. He did that with arts funding — eliminated the many line items for most specific groups and let the state Arts Council distribute the pot.

Q. Proposal A won't lower the property tax rate (millage) in my school district. Why will some districts' millages be lower than others? It confuses me tremendously.

A. It's complex. We'll try to make it easy.

Proposal A requires every district to levy 18 mills and guarantees at least $4,800 revenue per pupil (phased in).

The problem is that your school district is spending far more than $4,800. Observer & Eccentric area districts generally spend $5,000 to $9,300 per pupil. They can't afford to cut spending to $4,800. Therefore, Proposal A allows them to levy up to 9 additional mills — no more than 27 operating mills.

Statewide, 244 districts would get cuts of 16 mills or more; 200 districts would be cut 10 to 15.6 mills; 81 districts, 2 to 9.9 mills; and 41 districts, less than 2 mills. A very few districts — including Bloomfield Hills — would likely see a property tax increase.

Q. Proposal A isn't a 2 percent increase in the sales tax, as you've said three times. It's a 50 percent increase. You prefer to lie. Thank you.

A. The ballot language says Proposal A would "increase the state sales and use tax rates from 4 percent to 6 percent."

That would have the effect of increasing the total tax you pay on any item by 50 percent.

It is unlikely to raise the state's total sales and use tax revenue 50 percent, however, because consumers will have less money to spend. You're welcome.

Q. I'm a renter, and half my salary goes to rent. What's in Proposal A for me?

A. Nothing specific. Your landlord's taxes would be reduced. Maybe he would reduce your rent. Ask him.

If the market forces of supply and demand work, the landlord will reduce your rent voluntarily.

Q. I'm 79 and retired. I get the $1,200 homestead property tax rebate. How will I be affected by Proposal A?

A. For every $1 your property tax drops, your rebate will drop.

In short, seniors — as well as younger people getting state income tax rebates for their high property taxes — won't get much of a property tax cut.

For you the property tax proposal is likely to be "a wash." And you'll still pay the higher sales tax.

The Engler Administration says you're already getting property tax relief. This cut is for everybody else.

Q. Everybody concentrates on what their districts will get in revenue the first year. What about the second and subsequent years?

A. It depends on tax collections. If they go up, school money goes up. Historically, sales tax revenues almost never drop.

Lately the Lottery has lost popularity. Unless Lottery officials fix the damage, those revenues could drop and cut school aid.

Q. Under this proposal, school districts are limited to two millage elections a year. Does that include the regular June school election?

A. Yes, said Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port Huron. It covers the schools' fiscal year, July 1 to June 30.

Q. My district collects a millage for construction bonds. Will it be cut, too?

A. No. Bonds are a lien against property, and those taxes can't be cut by a ballot proposal.

Q. It seems all the interest groups are supporting Proposal A. Who's against it?

A. Locally, Taxpayers United for Michigan Inc., based in Southfield and headed by Bill McMaster, (313) 4435533. He speaks at every opportunity.

Former planning commissioner John Stock, a Livonia resident, said the planning commission has "been trying to get some direction" from county officials, but having no luck. "We're not sure who we work for," he said. "We're not quite sure what they want us to do."

Now they have their answer: nothing.

Duggan said new commissioners will not be appointed and the planning commission will be dissolved. In its place will be a panel of three current planning staffers who will do everything the planning commission did.

"I don't think this will go down as a great loss," Duggan said, adding that the county planning commissioners had been lobbying for expanded control over township planning matters, which McNamara opposed. The commissioners, Duggan said, "wanted to be the super planners for the county."

Robert Shefferly, a Canton Township trustee and former township planning commissioner, said the demise of the county planning commission won't make a big difference to township planning commissions.

"I can't remember that they've ever had that much power," he said.

Athletes who drive

Athletes come in many shapes and sizes, yet constant visions of physically superior "super-beings" pushing themselves to the limits seem to plague the minds of most Americans. This fallacy has led to the exclusion of many deserving athletic groups, one being race car drivers.

The argument is a test of athletic ability? The car expends all of the energy, not the driver.

The rationale becomes clear when you examine the word "athlete." An athlete is someone who takes part in competitive sports. No one can deny that racing cars is a competitive sport. So although race car drivers like Scott Brayton, for example, may not be able to run a mile in under five minutes or bring in the winning run in the ninth inning, they can make hundreds of life-threatening decisions throughout a challenging three-hour race, displaying a level of concentration worthy of any athletic event.

Brayton set his sites on car racing early in life. The son of former Indy car driver Lee Brayton, Scott has been racing cars since he received a go-cart for his fifth birthday. Scott moved up from racing go-carts to open-wheel formula cars and the Formula Ford series. In 1981, Brayton, who hails from Coldwater, Mich., began racing Brayton started his Indy car career by driving partial campaigns almost exclusively for his family's team. However, he made his mark in 1985 when he set a track-record lap time of 214.99 mph and qualified with a four-lap average speed of 212.354 on opening day of the Indy 500. This year, Scott, sponsored by First of America Bank, will drive No. 22, Amway's Winning Spirit Indy Car in the Detroit PPG Indy Car race, the Indianapolis 500, the Milwaukee 200 and the Michigan 500.

Second City: Hopefuls worked in pairs during recent auditions for the new Detroit troupe.

Second City finds Detroit does improv

BY BOB SADLER
SPECIAL WRITER

They say that a prospective employer can look at a resume and know in less than a minute whether a candidate has the right stuff to do the job. Sometimes, it can take only 10 seconds. Those hardy souls who handled the recent auditions for the Detroit cast of the Second City at the Fox Theatre certainly had to be that efficient. After all, about 700 starry-eyed folks showed up for two days worth of tryouts, aspiring to be a part of the eight-or-so-person sketch and improv comedy ensemble that will make its Detroit debut late this summer.

"I'd love to find the whole cast here (Detroit)."

Goldtones ride a musical wave

■ There won't be a call of "Surf's up," and there won't be any rides on wild waves. But Sunday the surfing sound will be the mainstay for The Goldtones' second annual Beach Rave at Industry in Pontiac.

BY KYLE GREEN
SPECIAL WRITER

A number of summer traditions have become a staple in the Detroit area, including the Taste Fest in the New Center Area, Concert in the Alley in Greentown and Freedom Festival fireworks over the Detroit River.

The Detroit based group The Goldtones hopes to edge itself onto this list Sunday with the band's second annual Beach Rave at Industry in Pontiac.

The three-member band plans to kick off the summer with a beach party complete with their own brand of instrumental rock sound, which has come to be known as "surf music." Last year the club was packed with beachgoers and the band foresees even more excitement this year.

"It'll be better than last year," said bassist Joseph Zito. "Last year was great for what we did, but... we tested the waters and (felt) everything out to see how we'll do it if we have a next time."

"Last year was the first one so we have to top it off," drummer Chad Evert Lewis said.

To complete the beach party motif, 100 beach balls with gift certificates from area businesses attached will drop from Industry's ceiling, as a token of the band's appreciation.

Besides celebrating the beginning of summer, the Beach Rave also kicks off the release of The Goldtones' first full-length compact disc, "Atmosphere."

"This is what we have been looking for over the last two years; we've just been saving all of our money up to buy recording time and equipment to get the CD out," said Joseph's brother Dominic Zito who plays Fender Jaguar guitar.

The CD was recorded at area recording studios with the help of local producers. Making "Atmosphere" a local venture between the band, studios and other musical talent was the intention.

The release took almost a year to record with the sole purpose of capturing the band's high energy, live performance onto immortal plastic, accomplished through one-takes or all playing at once. The members feel it's the best way to represent them.

"The main ones we got down in one take are some of the first songs we ever wrote," Lewis said. "Since we've been playing them we have changed them, but as long as we have been playing they have been part of our blood. I guess we just started jamming and we ripped right through it."

"I always hated getting an album from a band then go see them live and because they did so many tracks or what ever — played around in the studio, their live performance didn't stand up," Dominic added. "I was kind of disappointed when I saw them live."

STREET BEATS

"I don't want people to be disappointed when they see us. I want us to be better than the studio recording."

Prior to "Atmosphere," the band had a five-song release on Icon Records, a local independent record label, which has brought the band acclaim from around the nation and as far away as the United Kingdom.

The band has acquired a number of local followers of the instrumental music. Fans recognize the song "Lolly Vegas" as the theme song of the "Homeboy Show" on CIMX (89X) FM.

The focus of the band's sound is modeled after the 1960s guitar/instrumental bands and members feel they must defend their "surf music" title.

"The music speaks for itself. You can call it what ever you want to call it, but just go listen to it for yourself before you put a label on it," Lewis said. "We only call it surf music because when we first started playing we were trying to play songs that sounded like the Ventures and Dick Dale and bands like that which were original surf bands and then anything instrumental (rock)."

"(It) was started in California by Dick Dale and surf bands like that. It was a surf subculture and other music spawned off of that. We are doing surf music, but it is nothing like the original."

"It's surf music with an edge," Joseph added.

The Goldtones Beach Rave will be Sunday, May 30, at Industry, 15 S. Saginaw, Pontiac. For more information, call 334-1999.

Back again: The Goldtones — Dominic Zito (left), Joseph Zito and Chad Evert Lewis — are riding the wave to success as a surf music band.

Billy Sunday: What's in a sound? Plenty

Billy Sunday: Has established a name for itself with its unique style of rock meets funk and slams into soul and rhythm and blues.

BY KYLE GREEN
SPECIAL WRITER

Performing in empty bars, cheated out of pay, watching fights break out in the audience during sets and playing dingy venues are some of the dues groups have to endure.

The band Billy Sunday has, but its five-members know they have more to pay.

"It's silly to whine about it, but this is what we decided to do," keyboardist and lead vocalist Steve Guthrie said. "If everybody had a choice we would all be doing it because we all love to play," explains bassist William Pope.

Billy Sunday has established a name for itself with its unique style of rock meets funk and slammed into soul and rhythm and blues. With their style spear-heading them, the members are now ready to give their all and plow their way into the recording industry.

"I don't think it's just getting a record contract... getting a good record deal is the idea," said guitarist Mike Routledge. "I feel real comfortable. It's on the way; it's just that everything takes time and developing our own patience"

The band has no choice but to refine their endurance because dealing with the recording industry is nothing new. A year ago the band was ready to sign a deal and quit their day jobs when their dream contract never materialized.

Named after the turn-of-the-century baseball player turned evangelist William Sunday, who is noted for his flamboyant manners, the band lives up to the same characteristics which they feel will assist them in the industry.

Nevertheless, in the musical world of titles and subtitles, the band realized their sound needed a description, something that would capture the essence and character of their sound which today is simply known as... groovalicious.

"Some people label us as a funk-rock band and we don't want that label at all," explained guitarist Torrence Carey.

REVIEW: "I can't believe they can even try to sell this album."
BY: Clark Smithers of Novi

Short and to the point. That's Clark Smithers' opinion of the Screaming Trees' release. It's the first of our Reader's Choice reviews and how accurate depends on your feelings about the group.

Smithers had an opinion and we're sure others do, too. So why not let us know. Reader's Choice is for you, the reader. No high brow critic telling you what to think; just you expressing your opinion about today's music.

It's an easy process. Listen to a newly released album, tape or CD - and then let us know what you think - by calling 953-2030, by mailing it to Street Scene, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150, or by faxing it to 591-7279.

Of course, we need a bit of information like your name, address, phone number, title of the release, the band or individual, record label and whether it's a CD, album or tape. We've even included a handy coupon inside Street Scene to help you organize your thoughts.

As for the opinion, three or four sentences (about 50 words) will do. And hey, we're even interested in reviews of concerts. Just tell us who performed and where.

Reviews will appear in Street Scene on an ongoing basis. All calls and letters will be verified, so please, no wild pseudonyms... or profanity. Don't delay. You could be our next Reader's Choice.

Recovery means being objective about experience

STREET SENSE

BARBARA SCHIFF

Message from voice mail: Barbara, This is in response to Lois' comments about incest in your May 3 column. I've been in recovery for six years and there is hope. It starts just about the time Lois is at now. I didn't feel any recovery until the fifth year and then suddenly I started feeling better.

So it is scary, and it is terrible, and it is awful, but it is part of our reality. That's all I have to say.

Dear Caller,

Thank you for sharing your success with the readers of this column. Without intending to criticize or to burden you, I wish you had said more. Inspiring stories are infrequent. Without your words, only guesses can be made about your recovery process that could help others.

On the phone, you sound matter of fact. It is without anxiety in your voice that you say of sexual abuse "it is part of our reality." I imagine that you have become objective about your experience. In order to get well, many people must become objective about their experience. In this process, one recognizes the abuse occurred, feels the pain and then can think about it without feeling overwhelmed by emotion.

This seems contradictory because, often, abuse victims have used various forms of dissociation (which is sometimes misunderstood as an extreme form of objectivity) in order to cope with their painful feelings and memories. It is this denial or dissociation that makes them sick.

While they may seem alike, dissociation and objectivity are different. Dissociation means disconnectedness while objectivity means treating the fact without distortion.

Recovery begins through the process of owning up to these feelings and memories that one has dissociated. One becomes connected to them and then unafraid of them. This is a painful experience.

However, through honestly facing them and making them your own again, strength is gained.

Congratulations to you and to others who have succeeded.

Barbara

'Ju' depicts complex Chinese life

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

Watching paint dry may seem preferable to watching a peasant woman trudge from town to town vainly in search of justice. For some, this will pretty much sum up "The Story of Qiu Ju," the intentionally slow-moving Chinese film playing for a second weekend at the Detroit Film Theatre.

Patient viewers, however, will find a film completely uncompromising in style and focus. It's also controversial.

Zhang Yimou, the acclaimed director of "Ju Dou" and "Raise the Red Lantern," knew full well that a movie that looks honestly at the nature of justice and bureaucracy in contemporary China would undoubtedly meet with opposition.

So it's not surprising that Yimou's films are banned in his native country. Chinese movie audiences instead see government-approved stories that are safe and politically correct.

Yimou's previous films, with their lush pagentry and symbolism, took place comfortably in the past. With "Qiu Ju," reminiscent of 1940s Italian Neo-realist films, he comes crashing down to earth. The effect, while at first startling, proves equally satisfying.

As the film opens, an extremely pregnant Qiu Ju (Gong Li) literally carts her husband (Liu Pei Qi) to the doctor. The chief (Lei Lao Sheng), or village head, got angry with the husband and kicked him square in the crotch. Although he will probably be fine with rest, the wife demands an explanation from the chief.

MOVIES

She takes her case to the local policeman, Mr. Li (Ge Zhi Jun) and he rules that the chief must pay medical expenses and compensation for time missed from work. Qiu Ju, still not satisfied, takes the case to the larger town and finally the big city. The answer comes out invariably the same.

Perhaps the most fascinating thing about "The Story of Qiu Ju" is the way it shows us every facet of life in China. When you see the conditions that the protagonist and her family live in, you may think you're looking back at the turn of the century.

Quite a contrast to the teeming modern city, where Qiu Ju and her sister-in-law (Yang Liu Chun) stare up at the tall buildings. A kindly hotel owner advises them to get different clothes because they make themselves such a target for unscrupulous taxi drivers and street vendors.

Gong Li, the beautiful star of Zhang's previous films, looks like she's going to bust the seams of her thick winter coat. We watch her grow in more ways than one and admire her grim-faced fortitude even when we sometimes think she should just leave well enough alone.

The judgment, after all, may appear fair, since her husband was partially at fault. Ambiguity remains one of the film's many assets. Just as Qiu Ju breaks the stereotype of the passive Chinese woman, the chief and bureaucrats are far from one-dimensional bad guys.

The movie bills itself as a "revenge comedy," but the story is ultimately very sad and contemplative. The funniest thing for me was somehow picturing an American version of the story with Roseanne Arnold in the title role.

The movie tells us that in China (or anywhere for that matter) justice doesn't always turn out the way we plan. This is brilliantly shown in the film's final image, a frozen frame a la "400 Blows," that answers any question at all about why we've been watching this laborious but ultimately masterful story.

Perhaps one of those people on the stage could be the next Bill Murray. Or Gilda Radner. Or John Candy. Dreams of such stardom are not so far-fetched for Second City cast members. Alumni from the group dominate "Saturday Night Live," many top-rated sitcoms and blockbuster feature films.

On the first day auditions were held, groups of 15 to 20 filed into the theater and took their places on the stage, opposite a table where the three judges were seated. Among the things they were asked to do by Anne Libera, director of training for The Second City and another of the judges were to line up in various lines — alphabetically by their first name, in order of their birthday month and day (without speaking) and from tallest to shortest (with their eyes closed). These tasks proved to be quite amusing to watch.

Once each person introduced themselves the real fun began. Libera laid out the ground rules for a "conducted story," an improv exercise in which the entire group takes a basic premise and each hopeful molds the story by building on the previous person's idea.

That was followed by another common improv game known as "scene tag." Pairs of actors built a story from a basic premise until the director yelled freeze. The actors remained in their positions until being replaced by the next pair who continue the story.

The whole audition cycle took about 25 minutes to complete. The judges then huddled, choosing three or four people who merited a second look.

"You're looking for basic stage-worthiness," Libera said. "Do they have stage presence? Can you hear them? Are they creative? Do they provide support to the other players? Those are the real basics."

"Second City is an ensemble; we all have worked together as a team," said Lynn Okkerse, also co-executive producer of the Second City-Detroit and the third judge. "You're looking for people who listen to the directions being given to them. Listening is the key to improvising."

As the judges huddled, those who finished their tryout breathed a sigh of relief and waited to hear if they have made the cut.

"It's like going to the playoffs," said Jim McLean, a comic from Westland. "You don't know what to expect until you get there."

"I was fairly confident going in. I'm not as nervous as I was when I got married," said Tim Pryor of Farmington Hills, who has performed in improv groups and comedy clubs for about six years. "This is living life to the fullest."

'You're looking for basic stage worthiness. Do they have stage presence? Can you hear them? Are they creative?'

Anne Libera

It's rewarding in itself just to be here. We always hold out to make it big, though.

Both McLean and Pryor moved on to the next stage, which featured more advanced improvisational exercises. Knowledge of current events was paramount, as the auditioners were asked to perform sketches on topics as diverse as gays in the military and aid to Bosnia.

It was quite a long day for both the judges and auditioners alike.

"By the time we were called in for the last time, I was too tired to be nervous," said Ken Brown of Lathrup Village, a former General Motors Corp. engineer who now is a professional comic.

"The caliber of the talent has been much higher than we expected," Libera said.

"I'm encouraged, but to make any conclusions right now would be premature," said Ilitch, admitting a couple of native Detroiters elsewhere in the Second City talent pipeline may also be brought in for the cast.

The original 700 were pared down to 45 after the two days of tryouts were over. Then, those on the list met at the Fox again for yet another round — the most intense yet. Brown, McLean and Pryor were all there.

Divided into four groups, the remaining auditioners were given 30 minutes to read over some old Second City scripts, which they would read through once called on stage.

"People were scattered around the Fox lobby, intensely reading their scripts," Pryor said with a laugh. "I had done the same thing when I auditioned for Second City in Chicago two years ago."

"They had some old Mike Myers sketches," McLean said, mentioning a recent alumnus of the Toronto and Chicago Second City stages who has a weekly TV gig and had some success on the big scene with a little film called "Wayne's World."

By now, all those who have strutted their stuff on the Fox stage have learned their fate. A small group of 15 will now begin the intense improv training required to make Second City happen in Detroit in less than four months. Not all of them will grab the limelight on that opening night, but they sure will do a lot of laughing in the meantime.

Stay tuned.

A sampling of what's playing at alternative movie theaters across metro Detroit as reviewed by John Monaghan.

DETROIT FILM THEATRE
Detroit Institute of Arts, 5200 Woodward Ave., Detroit. Call 833-2323 for information. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"The Story of Qiu Ju" (China — 1992), 7 and 9:30 p.m. May 28-29, 1, 4 and 7 p.m. May 30. When a rural woman's husband is wronged by a neighbor, the wife decides to tackle a sea of bureaucratic red tape in her quest for justice. This latest work from Zhang Yimou, the director of "Raise the Red Lantern" and "Ju Dou."

HENRY FORD CENTENNIAL LIBRARY
13671 Michigan Ave., Dearborn. Call 943-2330 for information. (Free)

"Victory at Sea" (USA — 1954), 7 p.m. May 24. The popular television series is edited into a feature-length film about America's navy operations during World War II. Richard Rodgers provided the rousing musical score.

MAPLE THEATER
4135 W. Maple Road, Bloomfield Hills. Call 855-9090 for show times. ($5.75 evenings; $2.95 twilight)

"Like Water for Chocolate" (Mexico — 1992). A lonely woman puts all her energies into creating unforgettable meals in this blend of fantasy and drama. As with the Danish hit "Babette's Feast," you won't want to catch this on an empty stomach.

"The Living End" (USA — 1993). A darkly comic look at the relationship between a pair of young, HIV-positive outcasts with nothing to lose, on the run from the law. Written, directed, shot and edited by Gregg Araki.

MICHIGAN THEATER
603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Call 668-8397 for information and show times. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"Leolo" (Canada — 1992), through May 27. This disturbing new film from across the border finds a confused boy trying to escape from his eccentric family. We know we're in for weirdness when the boy, convinced that his father was actually a sperm-laden tomato, is the relatively sane one in the bunch.

"Volere Volare" (Italy — 1991), May 29-31. The director of "The Icicle Thief" also stars as a shy voice artist for cartoon shows who finds himself slowly turning into a cartoon.

"Reservoir Dogs" (USA - 1992), 11:30 p.m. May 28, 11:40 p.m. May 29. Harvey Keitel, Steve Buscemi and Tim Roth play color-coded crooks whose simple jewelry heist goes haywire. A bloody, stylized first feature from Quentin Tarantino remains the most visceral film of last year.

REDFORD THEATER
17360 Lahser Road, Detroit. Call 537-2560 for information. ($2.50)

"Maytime" (USA — 1937), 8 p.m. May 28, 2 and 8 p.m. May 29 (organ overture begins a half hour before show time). Gorgeous black-and-white cinematography (and a sepia-toned sequence) help make this one of the best-loved pairings of Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald. The Sigmund Romberg score asks the musical question "Will You Remember?" while co-star John Barrymore provides the melodrama.

STAR JOHN R
32289 John R (at 14 Mile), Madison Heights. Call 585-2070 for show times. ($6 evenings; $3.75 twilight).

"Bodies, Rest and Motion" (USA — 1993). Bridget Fonda, Eric Stoltz, Phoebe Cates and Tim Roth play four young people whose lives change dramatically over the course of just two days.

"Bad Lieutenant" (USA — 1993). Harvey Keitel's lead performance is apparently the best thing about this nasty exploration of a New York detective who indulges in reckless nights of sex, violence and drugs when he falls into debt. Directed by Abel Ferrara ("King of New York").

"With everyone in the band we can go from one end of the spectrum to the other; we can go from reggae to you name it, we can do it, but it will be ours," Pope added. "It won't be like we have to go out and play someone else's stuff."

"To me most albums you hear, if you heard one album and you go to the next one, you know them because you are expecting them to sound like that, whereas you might not know what you are going to get (with Billy Sunday). It will groove because you don't know what we are going to do."

As groovacious as they are, the members know their sound may not appeal to all. And even though they will always be dissected and compared to others, the members are sure they will find a following.

"I feel we spend a lot of time musically writing our songs and lyrically, too, making intelligent and sensible lyrics to express what we believe, and I'm not really sure a 12-year-old girl can get into all that too much," Routledge said. "Not to say a 12-year-old won't hear a song by us and not like it; I think it's possible."

"I think the ultimate compliment for bands is to say, 'Oh man, they sound like so and so... I feel comfortable when people say, 'They sound like Billy Sunday.' That's what I want. I don't want people to compare us to someone else, I want someone to compare themselves to us."

POINTS OF VIEW

No 'Cheers': It's last call for corner bars in suburbs

In these days of cable television, reruns and nostalgia television, we'll probably never see the end of "Cheers." The episodes will become like well aged bourbon. And in our minds Norm and Cliff will always be at the end of the bar talking to Woody. There will never be a last call.

The trouble is the corner bar is just about doomed. "Cheers" reruns will become about as realistic as "Star Trek." The reason is the demise of the corner bar.

They're falling victim to the Benjamin's syndrome. Corporate America has taken over the pub scene in suburban Detroit, replacing the Sam Malones of the world with a woman with an MBA from Harvard who is more interested in a spread sheet than in making a decent martini.

I noticed the near demise after returning to the Detroit area after a 15-year stint outstate where the neighborhood bar is still the gathering spot. My wife and I were at a party in Livonia and she lamented that there wasn't a cheeseburger bar in our neighborhood.

She received stares as though she had fallen off planet Mars. It was really off planet Green Hut, a neighborhood bar in Bay City where we had watched the Tigers win the World Series 1984 and where I had taken my sons to watch the college basketball playoffs.

Like many outstate taverns, the Green Hut bends state liquor laws to the delight of the locals. Ladies bring in their culinary best to the tavern on nights of big sporting events and kids regularly sip Cokes at the bar. This keeps folks on their best behavior.

JEFF COUNTS

Having too many martinis and putting the proverbial lamp shade on your head will catch up to you the next day.

The local television station even caught on and would send crews to film the bar action during sporting events. Unfortunately for me, the crew one night caught me on film hoisting a beer and showed it on the 11 p.m. news. My excuse to my wife that I was working late washed about as smooth as a shot of William Penn whiskey with a chaser of Blatz beer. It was a rough night.

However, it wasn't as dangerous as the afternoon the samurai swords hanging over the entrance way of another bar suddenly fell off the wall. Perhaps it was the discussion of Japanese cars.

And then there was the embarrassment one night when my wife sent my kids into the bar to drag me out. They were successful. They came in without their mother and started begging me not to spend any more money because the house payment was due.

But these little guys knew how to get into the corner bar. One Mother's Day they decided to run away from home. Their destination was the Hub Bar where the bartender, Joe, no kidding, always gave them suckers when they sat on the stools. Joe called and we retrieved the young miscreants, but not until after spending a couple of hours toasting Mother's Day.

Somehow life has never been the same again. And it probably won't unless visiting a rural town with a tavern. For us in the suburbs it's more than last call for Cheers, it's the last call for the corner bar.

Like Norm on the last episode, I want one more beer before calling it quits.

Jeff Counts is the editor of the Plymouth and Canton Observer newspapers who sees himself as Sam Malone, but looks more like Norm. He can be reached at 459-2700.

No fashion hipster, he'll just stick with the 'classics'

The news came as quite a shock to me. I heard it first when I was getting my hair cut, but I dismissed it as merely a hair salon rumor. A day or two later, the gruesome truth became much more real to me while watching CNN. The disquieting video images gave credence to the ugly rumors I had heard earlier. Right before my eyes and ears a news report warned of the return of bellbottom pants and platform shoes to the World of High Fashion.

I couldn't believe it until a trip to the mall confirmed that the Charlie's Angels look was back. Groovy.

Despite having the reputation of not being a major fashion hipster, I do take a keen interest in cultural trends. I never actually participate in them, but I do take an interest. I have never owned a CB radio or a fondue pot, nor have I ever had sushi or non-alcoholic beer. My non-involvement notwithstanding, I like to keep my finger on the faint and thready pulse of our ailing society.

The appeal of trendiness has always escaped me, especially when it comes to fashion. I have long held the belief that today's fashion statement is tomorrow's bad joke. If you doubt what I'm saying, check out some of your old home movies and put the style-o-meter on the duds you were wearing 20 years ago. I know our family movies look a lot like "The Brady Bunch goes psychedelic." The more stylish someone looked at the time, the more foolish he or she looks in retrospect.

Despite the constant pressure to maintain a certain level of sartorial proficiency, it is difficult not to have a grudging respect for those individuals with Fashion Immunity Syndrome. These are the people who dress in the dark and go out in public completely oblivious to the fashion law violations they are committing.

They have no problem with wearing a plaid flannel shirt and string tie to a funeral, or wearing their nylons rolled down below the knee to a wedding. (Warning to Fashion Immune Women: The rolled-down-nylon look is extremely difficult to do with pantyhose.) Most of us are not quite so secure in our self-image, so we plod along near the middle of the fashion road, striving more to avoid looking stupid rather than trying to look stylish. Looking stupid comes in two examples: One is the above-described oblivious bumpkin look, and the other is the ultra-chic maven of haute-couture. Some of the ugliest looking stuff I have ever seen was displayed at fashion shows.

The designers, who usually have names like Salvatore Fraudulenti or Jacques Strappe, drape their incredibly skinny models in everything from chiffon to aluminum siding and accessorize with live animals, artificial flowers or auto parts. To the untrained eye, this stuff may look absurd, but to those in the know, it is "what the well-dressed woman will be wearing this season."

Apparently, the designers have run clean out of fresh ideas so they are getting in on the recycling craze. They are simply dredging up old styles and, as usual, changing them just enough that the old bellbottoms you have stuck in the closet will not meet today's strict fashion requirements.

Worse than the lack of new ideas is the more suspicious notion that these people are merely yanking our chain. I can picture a whole bunch of designers getting together after a fashion show and just laughing their fool heads off.

Despite the pressure to give in, I will remain trend-proof. I've been afraid of being a fashion victim ever since my brother purchased a Nehru jacket and a red velvet suit, which gave him the slick image of Santa Claus meets the Prime Minister of India.

It was a fashion accident which changed his life forever. It taught me to stay with my trademark apparel — bellbottom shirts and Lardache jeans.

Like they say, the classics never go out of style.

Everyone goes nuts over peanut butter

Some people are just plain nuts about peanut butter. It's every mother's mainstay as a kid's sandwich filling. It will combine with jelly, honey, bananas and other accents. It has also been a long-popular ingredient in the cooking of several cultures.

Peanut butter is a simple substance — shelled peanuts, with the addition of hydrogenated vegetable oil as a stabilizer to keep the mixture from separating, and sometimes salt and a sweetener such as corn syrup or dextrose.

Brands labeled "natural" use only peanuts and oil that is usually from the peanuts themselves. This kind can be easily created in a blender or food processor. Natural types should be kept refrigerated while the commercial store bought varieties can be stored after opening for up to six months at room temperature.

Those with a penchant for peanut butter find it a food that fits every course, "from soup to nuts." Although no one may ever really choose to serve peanut butter from the beginning to the end of a meal, it can be done. Such a meal might begin with a peanut butter fruit dip, followed by a peanut butter soup, a salad with peanut butter dressing, a main course of spicy Chinese chicken with a peanut butter sauce, and, of course, ice cream topped with hot melted peanut butter for dessert.

Nutty history

As far as Americans are concerned, peanut butter came into existence around 1890, when an anonymous physician in St. Louis, Mo., persuaded the owner of a food products company to process and package ground peanut paste as a nutritious protein substitute. The popularity of peanut butter escalated during World War II, when soldiers stationed overseas found it to be a tasty treat in C-rations. The postwar baby boom boosted sales of peanut butter even higher.

Today, more than 40 million Americans consume some 800 million pounds of peanut butter a year. By the time he or she graduates from high school, the average American is said to have consumed more than 1,500 peanut butter sandwiches. Believe it or not, folks, the Peanut Advisory Board claims that today, adults consume more peanut butter than kids. This is probably the reason for the formation of the Adult Peanut Butter Lover's Fan Club, which now has more than 70,000 members including Julia Roberts, Cher, Madonna, Tom Selleck, and Jack Nicholson.

Food bargain

For the money, peanut butter has always been a real food bargain at about 7.5 cents per tablespoon. However, be aware that in order to serve as an adequate meat substitute, peanut butter needs to be paired with grains and/or legumes. You can consider spreading it on bread or crackers, then topping it with some alfalfa sprouts for an extra nutrient boost.

On a good note, peanut butter has always been cholesterol free, mainly because of its vegetable origin, but it is still very high in fat. However, because the fats are primarily polyunsaturated and mono-unsaturated, it has been approved by the American Diabetes Association and Weight Watchers, according to the Peanut Advisory Board.

Peanut butter is most typically made from runner-type peanuts grown predominantly in Georgia, Alabama and Florida. These are preferred because of their uniform size, flavor characteristics and competitive costs. It takes about 550 peanuts to make a 12-ounce jar, and half the peanuts harvested in the United States, enough to cover the bottom of the Grand Canyon, go into making peanut butter.

Home version

You can make peanut butter at home using salted or unsalted canned cocktail peanuts, typically the Virginia creamy colored varieties. Your home version can be cut with peanut oil or vegetable oil and must be refrigerated. It will separate and need to be stirred before serving.

Peanut butter lovers can get 143 ways to celebrate their favorite food by sending for The Official Peanut Butter Lover's Centennial Cookbook by sending $8.00 to the Peanut Advisory Board, Centennial Cookbook, P.O. Box 7528, Tifton, Ga., 31793. Also available by mail is a brochure titled "Peanut Butter Passion." For a free copy, send a self-addressed, stamped business envelope to "Peanut Butter Passion," Department NPR, Suite 525, 1950 North Park Place, Atlanta, Ga., 30339. A brochure offering five recipes kids can prepare plus membership in the Texas Peanut Kids Club with a certificate and two stickers can be had by sending $1, name and address to Texas Peanuts, P.O. Box 398, Gorman, Tex. 76454.

'ALIENS' LAND IN PRODUCE SECTION

Be adventurous, nibble on raw jicama sticks instead of raw carrots. Substitute sunchokes for water chestnuts in salads and stir-fry combinations. These, and other exotic fruits and vegetables can now be found at your favorite supermarket.

BY JOAN BORAM
SPECIAL WRITER

According to Don Matelson, president of New Day Distributors, a marketer of specialty fruits and vegetables, there are an estimated 4,000 edible fruits and vegetables in the world.

If you start counting strained peas and carrots right on through to last night's chopped broccoli, most of us have about 3,967 as yet untested.

Matelson's goal is to change all that. In a well-attended seminar, sponsored by A&P/Farmer Jack, at Southfield's Plaza Hotel, Matelson introduced some of the 300 items that his firm supplies to retailers.

Flanked by tables loaded with such uncommon items as cactus leaves, red and plantain bananas, cherimoya and taro root, Matelson explained the culture and use of each item as it passed from hand to hand around the room.

"I'm trying to get people away from the idea that these items are exotic," said Matelson. "After all, they're diet staples in their countries of origin. Just think of them as new flavors. Why not nibble on raw jicama sticks instead of raw carrots? The USDA five-day program is urging us all to eat five servings of fruits and vegetables a day. Be adventurous — make at least one of those servings something new and exciting."

Among the culinary cognoscenti in the audience was Leopold Schaeli, master chef and instructor at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Schaeli's students were expected to attend because, the chef explained, "It's important that they should know about what's available today. Ten years ago, you never saw any of these produce items. Now, many of them are becoming

Bite into something exotic

Among the items discussed by Don Matelson at the exotic produce seminar were:

■ Tomatillo (to-mah-TEE-yo). Matelson explained that it doesn't matter whether the membrane surrounding the fruit is dried or not. If it's dried, chances are it was transported to the Mexican market in the back of a pick-up truck. If grown in California, it's been treated gently on a shorter trip to market, so the membrane hasn't dehydrated.

Choose tomatillos that are firm and dry. They should be hard — they don't give like tomatoes. Like tomatoes, tomatillos are great for sauces, compatible with all kinds of spices and herbs.

■ Cactus leaves (Nopales). You can put them in a broiler and burn off the prongs. Or you can "shave" them with a potato peeler. Soft but crun-

Give your recipes a low-fat makeover

Editor's note: You can reduce the amount of fat in your family's favorite recipes without sacrificing flavor. Laura Letobar of Livonia, publisher of "Laura's Fat-Free Kitchen," and a radiation therapist at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, will show you how.

"Laura's Fat-Free Kitchen" is a sponsor of the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society. Look for her column on the Taste front the fourth Monday of each month.

LAURA LETOBAR

As a radiation therapist, I know it is very important to restrict the amount of fat in our daily diets. Studies have shown that we may be able to reduce our risks of certain types of cancer and heart disease by modifying our diet. Unfortunately, this can be difficult to achieve.

Instead of buying expensive pre-packed low-fat convenience foods, try to control the amount of fat in your daily cooking. Substitute low fat products for high fat products.

This month's recipe makeover was submitted by Dolores Harris of Livonia. She retired 1 1/4 years ago from the City of Livonia Water Department. She's a widow with nine adult children, 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

When I asked what motivated her to submit a recipe for a makeover, she said she always liked this recipe, but prefers not to eat high-fat foods.

At 37.9 grams of fat per serving, Crescent Chicken Squares exceeds the maximum daily allowance of 30 grams of fat recommended by the American Heart Association and the American Cancer Society.

With a few substitutions, we were able to reduce the total in the recipe from 151.6 grams of fat to only 11.3 grams.

Here are a few suggestions for making the transition to a low-fat kitchen easier:

chy, cactus leaves are said to combine the flavors of green pepper, string beans, and asparagus.

Matelson describes them as "slimy, like okra." Okra lovers, this one's for you!

■ Red bananas. A much richer banana flavor than the yellow fruit we're used to. The red banana is very sensitive to cold and develops black spots when chilled, but the spots won't affect the flavor.

Hardness is an indication of freshness in red bananas. They keep better than yellow bananas. Matelson suggests that you peel a red banana, freeze it, and eat as a snack in hot weather.

■ Plantains. In their native countries, plantains are used more like a vegetable than a fruit; they're usually baked or fried, and served like potatoes. They are not suitable for eating raw unless they're very ripe, when they turn completely black.

■ Cheromya. The name comes from the ancient Quechua (Incan) language, making cherimoya the oldest recorded New World fruit. The plant has been cultivated for centuries in Central and South America and the Caribbean, primarily for local use. Most of the Cheromya sold in the United States is imported from Chile, where they are grown on trees that peak in production at the age of 50. (Trees established in California are only 14 years old.)

But there's a catch, cheromya is fertilized in tropical climates with the help of insects that are not found in North America. This means that the California crop has to be fertilized by hand. When you consider that a mature tree can produce 1,000 pounds of fruit, with the help of a whole lot of little tiny paint brushes, you'll understand why cheromya are somewhat costly.

However, the flavor as been described as a mixture of mango, pineapple, papaya, and vanilla custard, and it doesn't cost any more than "gourmet" ice cream, so it's worth a try. Serve chilled.

■ Sunchoke. Also known as Jerusalem artichoke. Sunchoke are related to sunflowers, and in 1605 French explorer Samuel de Champlain sampled the vegetable, which was cultivated by Native Americans in Massachusetts, and reported that it tasted like artichokes. Beneath their knobby, brown-skinned exterior, sunchoke have crisp, white flesh with a mellow, nutlike flavor. You can enjoy them raw or cooked, hot or chilled.

Sunchokes make a good substitute for water chestnuts in salads and stir-fry combinations.

ing common, and many more of them will be in the near future. It's important to constantly update your knowledge — something like this seminar is wonderful. Look at how many people are here to learn about new fruits and vegetables. That proves that people are interested in varying their diets."

Certified Master Chef Milos Cihelka, of The Golden Mushroom, in Southfield, serves exotic fruits and vegetables only when they're available in peak condition. "I'm not interested in how pretty or exotic they are," said Milos, "If it doesn't taste good, forget it. As these unusual fruits and vegetables become popular with the general public, the quality in general improves. Many of them are being grown in Florida or California now, so they can be left on the tree longer and harvested when they're in their prime. Shipping time is shorter, so they reach the market when they're still fresh.

"It's great that supermarkets are carrying produce that they would never have considered just a few years ago. The public is aware of items like arugula, anise bulbs, and exotic mushrooms. In just a few years, these 'exotics' have become commonplace."

■ Invest in a large non-stick skillet. I never use oil or cooking spray in mine. Most foods have enough naturally occurring fat in them that extra oil for browning or cooking is not necessary.

A one-second spray of vegetable cooking spray contains about 2 grams of fat.

When you need to sautee vegetables, use the non-stick skillet with a ¼ cup of water or defatted chicken broth. This will work just as well as oil, but drastically reduce the fat.

■ Substitute imitation powdered butter for butter. Imitation powdered butters are wonderful. A few sprinkles in the water you are cooking your vegetables in will add a nice buttery flavor without all the unwanted fat. I sprinkle imitation powdered butter on mashed potatoes, popcorn and cooked vegetables.

KEELY WYGONIK

Congratulations to Leopold Schaeli, certified master chef, and former executive chef at the Machus Red Fox Restaurant. He was named Central Regional Chef of the Year by the American Culinary Federation, Inc.

Schaeli is currently serving as a chef instructor at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

The American Culinary Federation is the largest professional organization for cooks and chefs in the nation. It is comprised of more than 20,000 members in 261 chapters throughout the United States and the Caribbean.

Schaeli, one of four regional winners, will go to the American Culinary Federation National Convention and have a chance to become the national Chef of the Year.

■ Tune in WXYZ-TV Channel 7 for Chef Keith Farnie's Adventures in Cooking, 2 p.m. Saturday, May 29. He'll take a behind-the-scenes look at Disney's Epcot Center with special guest Chef Keith Keogh.

■ Hudson's Westland Chef Genoviar's Southwest Pan Barbecue was chosen a winner at a competition which challenged Hudson's chefs to create delicious recipes using products from the gourmet foods department.

Customers had a chance to sample the dishes and voted for their favorite recipe. More than 800 customers tasted the recipes and chose the winning dishes.

Here's one of the winning recipes — Southwest Vegetarian Enchiladas, created by Kari Larson at Southland.

SOUTHWEST VEGETARIAN ENCHILADAS

- For sauce
- 3 tablespoons minced onion
- 3 tablespoons minced green bell pepper
- 3 tablespoons minced celery
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic

- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 8 ounces drained canned tomatoes

One 16-ounce jar Lone Star Salsa

- For the filling
- ¼ cup thinly sliced onion
- 1 red bell pepper, thinly sliced
- 1 green bell pepper, thinly sliced

- 3 tablespoons El Paso Chili Company — Cactus Salsa
- ¼ cup peanut oil
- 8 six-inch blue corn tortillas (substitute yellow if not available)

- ¼ pound Monterey jack cheese shredded
- ¼ pound cheddar cheese, shredded

To make the sauce, saute vegetables in olive oil until soft. Add tomatoes and salsa and simmer for 20 minutes.

To make the filling, saute the sliced vegetables in ¼ cup peanut oil until softened. Transfer with slotted spoon to paper towels to drain; when drained, place in bowl and mix with cactus salsa.

Add remaining oil to skillet, heat to moderate and cook tortillas one at a time for 5 seconds to soften them.

Fill with some of the vegetables and 3 tablespoons cheese. Roll and top with salsa — top with remaining cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes.

Serves 8 as a first course or 4 as an entree.

Here are some tips from Betty Crocker.

Improvise a cover for a charcoal grill by placing heavy-duty aluminum foil over the food and the grill, pinching it to the edge of the grill. Covering food while grilling helps to ensure even cooking, and meats will be more moist than if they had not been covered.

If honey has crystallized, warm it in a microwaveable glass or plastic container for ¼ to 2¼ minutes on high until honey is fluid and crystals have melted.

Dishes made with exotic produce uncommonly good

See related story "Aliens' Land in Produce Section," on Taste front.

SUNCHOKE SALAD

- 1 pound sunchoke
- 1 cup sliced celery
- ½ cup thinly sliced green onions, including tops
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
- 5 slices crisp bacon, crumbled
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard

Peel sunchoke with a vegetable peeler. Cut into ¼-inch slices and steam on a rack over hot water. Let cool.

In a large bowl, combine sunchoke, celery, onions, eggs and bacon. Stir together mayonnaise, relish and mustard. Pour over sunchoke mixture and mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cover and refrigerate for about 4 hours. Garnish with parsley.

TOMATILLO, DRIED CHILI, AND CILANTRO SAUCE

- 2 large, dried New Mexico chilies
- (Note: You can substitute other dried chilies)
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ pound fresh tomatillos, husked and rinsed
- 2 very large garlic cloves, sliced
- 1 medium-large bunch cilantro (3-4 ounces)

Stem and seed chilies, break up pods. Combine in a saucepan with the boiling water. Let stand for 15 minutes.

Add tomatillos and garlic to saucepan. Separate cilantro stems and leaves. Chop stems and add to pan. Bring to a simmer, then lower heat and cook, covered, until tomatillos are soft, 10-20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Transfer contents of pan to blender or processor. Add cilantro leaves to container; whirl to a coarse puree. Cool completely. Refrigerate or freeze.

Combine yogurt with peanut butter, orange juice, lime juice, honey and ginger and mix well. Serve with assorted mixed fruit. Makes 4-6 servings

PEANUT BUTTER DRESSING FOR SALADS

- ½ cup plain yogurt
- ¼ cup chunky peanut butter
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon fresh grated ginger
- dash ground cumin
- dash paprika

Whisk yogurt with peanut butter, orange juice, ginger, cumin and paprika. Mix until smooth. Spoon dressing lightly over greens. Toss to serve.

SAUTEED NOPALES, PEPPERS, AND CORN

- 2 large red bell peppers
- 1 medium onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 3 or 4 ears of small summer corn

½ pound fresh firm nopales, depringed, cut in ½-inch dice

Finely minced cilantro or parsley
Halve peppers, then remove seeds and stems. Cut into ½-inch squares. Cut onions the same size.

Cook both vegetables in butter in a heavy pan over moderate heat until just softened.

Shuck corn and cut from cob (about 1½ cups). Add nopales and corn to peppers and onion. Stir over high heat until vegetables are cooked through, but firm-tender, about 5 minutes. Sprinkle with herbs and serve at once.

All of the recipes are from "Uncommon Fruits and Vegetables, a Commonsense Guide," by Elizabeth Schneider. (Harper and Row Publishers, $20).

Here's how to bake yellow-ripe plantains. Pierce with a fork in several places. Do not peel. Place on a baking sheet and bake in a 400-degree oven until tender when pierced, about 1 hour. Pull back peel and season to taste with butter, salt and pepper. Eat from skin. (Note: You may grill plantains also.)

Low-fat blintzes perfect for Shavouth

Shavouth, the Jewish Feast of Weeks, will be celebrated beginning at sundown on May 25. As it is customary to eat dairy foods, Shavouth offers a perfect opportunity to not only enjoy a favorite dairy recipe — cheese-filled blintzes — but to rediscover why dairy dishes play such an important role in this spring festival.

A look into history uncovers several reasons for the custom of eating dairy foods at Shavouth. Perhaps the simplest is the fact that during the spring, cows, goats and sheep began to graze more and produce more milk so cheese production increased.

Other explanations are more biblical in nature. Mount Sinai, the mountain upon which Moses received the Ten Commandments, is called by six different names in Psalm 68:16-17. One of those names, gavnunim, means "gibbous, many-peaked," but it has the same root as gevinah, which in Hebrew means cheese. In this context, Mount Sinai could be called Cheese Mountain and the eating of cheese on Shavouth a reminder of the giving of the Law.

According to another rabbinic source, the Israelites who had fasted during their journey to receive the Ten Commandments were so hungry when they returned home, they drank milk rather than take the time to prepare a meat meal. And then there's a second more practical explanation. By the time the Israelites had returned from the mountain, their milk had turned sour, which is the first step in cheese-making.

Regardless of the exact reason, cheese-filled blintzes are popular during Shavouth. Very Berry Cheese Blintzes, developed in the Quaker Kitchens, lend themselves to either a dairy brunch or supper. And, just a few simple ingredient substitutions make them considerably lower in fat and higher in fiber than traditional recipes.

First, to reduce the fat and cholesterol, skim milk and egg whites are used in the blintz batter. The blintzes are cooked in a non-stick skillet, and a combination of non-fat dairy products — ricotta cheese, cream cheese and sour cream — give the cheese filling all of the creamy richness you expect without the fat.

Second, to increase the fiber, wheat germ is substituted for part of the flour in the batter and added to the cheese filling. Because it is the "heart of the wheat," wheat germ contains protein and six essential vitamins and minerals in addition to two grams of dietary fiber per two-tablespoon serving. Serve the blintzes topped with fresh berries or your favorite no-sugar-added fruit spread and a dollop of nonfat sour cream.

VERY BERRY CHEESE BLINTZES

- Batter
- 4 egg whites or ½ cup egg substitute
 - 1 cup skim milk
 - ½ teaspoon salt (optional)
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - ½ cup wheat germ
 - ½ cup all-purpose flour
 - 2 tablespoons margarine, melted
- Filling
- 1 cup nonfat ricotta cheese or nonfat cottage cheese
 - ½ cup nonfat cream cheese
 - ¼ cup nonfat sour cream
 - ¼ cup wheat germ
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 tablespoon margarine, melted
 - 2 cups fresh or frozen mixed berries (strawberries, blueberries or raspberries)
 - Nonfat sour cream (optional)

For batter, combine all ingredients in blender or food processor; cover. Blend about 1 minute or until smooth. Pour batter into bowl; let stand 10 minutes to thicken slightly.

Heat 7- to 8-inch non-stick skillet over medium-high heat; grease lightly. For each blintz, pour scant ¼ cup batter into hot, prepared pan; immediately tilt pan to coat bottom evenly with thin layer.

Cook 45 seconds or until top looks dry. Turn; continue cooking about 20 seconds. Stack blintzes between sheets of waxed paper. (Blintzes may be wrapped securely and frozen up to 3 months. Thaw overnight in refrigerator.)

Heat oven to 400 degrees F. Lightly spray 13 by 9-inch baking dish with no-stick cooking spray or grease lightly. For filling, combine all ingredients; mix well. Spoon about 2 tablespoons filling onto center of each blintz. Fold 2 sides over filling; fold up ends to form rectangle.

KRETSCHMER WHEAT GERM

Cheese blintzes: Lower in fat and higher in fiber than traditional cheese blintzes, Very Berry Cheese Blintzes make a healthful as well as delicious addition to a Shavouth brunch or supper menu.

Place blintzes in prepared dish. Brush lightly with melted margarine. (At this point, filled blintzes may be covered tightly and refrigerated several hours or overnight until ready to bake. Uncover; proceed as recipe directs.)

Bake 10 to 15 minutes or until heated through. Top each blintz with fresh fruit. Top with additional nonfat sour cream and wheat germ, if desired. Makes 12 blintzes.

Ginger adds Oriental flair to grilled turkey with salsa

AP — Once upon a time, salsa meant traditional Mexican ingredients — hot peppers, onions, tomatoes, tomatillos and cilantro — period. Now, anything goes. You'll see what we mean when you try the zesty salsa with turkey below. It's made with fresh ginger and Oriental flavorings.

GRILLED TURKEY WITH GINGER SALSA

- ¼ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons dry sherry

- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon grated gingerroot
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon seeded and finely chopped dried red chili pepper or 1 teaspoon crushed red pepper

- 4 turkey breast tenderloin steaks (about 1 pound total)
- 1 medium tomato, peeled, seeded and chopped
- 1 green onion, sliced
- ¼ cup chopped green sweet pepper
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro

Four 6-inch flour tortillas (optional)

For marinade, in a medium mixing bowl combine vinegar, sherry, soy sauce, gingerroot, garlic and red pepper. Set 2 tablespoons of the mixture aside. Pour the remaining marinade into a plastic bag set in a bowl. Rinse turkey steaks; place in the bag. Close bag; refrigerate for 1 hour, turning once.

For salsa, in a small mixing bowl combine the 2 tablespoons reserved marinade, tomato, green onion, green pepper and cilantro. Cover and chill until serving time.

Drain turkey, reserving marinade. Grill on an uncovered grill directly over medium coals for 12 to 15 minutes or until no longer pink, turning once and brushing often with the reserved marinade.

To heat tortillas, place in a single layer on the grill rack about 1 minute or until warm. Serve turkey with chilled salsa and warm tortillas. Makes 4 servings.

New styles help pack your pouch

Let's talk bags. Not just handbags, but luggage, attaches, duffels, even a strappy little holder for your bottled water ($18-$24 at The Icing). A bag can be a case, a container, a pouch or a sack. It could be crafted of paper or leather, canvas or nylon. Above all, a bag should be functional, innovative and aesthetically pleasing.

With those qualities in mind, I searched the malls and main streets for some notable examples of extraordinary bags.

If you're looking for a handbag that makes a dramatic fashion statement, scan the display cases at Jacobson's for outrageously unique Tu-Khan purses. Designed in Italy by Istanbul native Arzu Gunuc, these bags are meant to amuse the wearer and astonish the admirer.

Interestingly, Jacobson's buyers stumbled upon Arzu's boutique while window shopping one day in Florence. They arranged an appointment to meet with Arzu at her studio, which resulted in the initial order of these conversation pieces. Handbag collectors will love their sculptured shapes and finely detailed fittings.

Crafted of calfskin and suede with brass, silver or frosted plexiglass hardware, the bags retail for $200-

$350 and are available at Jacobson's Birmingham, Livonia and Dearborn stores. A new fall shipment is expected soon.

Expandable briefs

What's new in briefcases? Though aluminum cases are a symbol of status in California, the brief of choice in our area is the soft, expandable organizer, according to Rita Cutler at Baggit in Applegate Square, Southfield. Two favorites are the Piel leather bag ($174) and the handsome Tumi case made of ballistic nylon, the most durable luggage material available. Both of these styles are lightweight, casually elegant and expand to accommodate a laptop computer, unlike the traditional rigid, hinged attache.

The hottest product at Baggit is the Rollboard Travelsystem, the luggage leader of the travel industry. If you're making summer vacation plans, stop in and see these remarkable bags. If you're a frequent flier, you've probably seen aircrews wheeling them around airports. The small 20-inch carry-on ($135), perfect for a three-day weekend trip is pictured. It has built-in wheels, a telescoping handle and it is the exact width of the aisle of an airplane. It easily fits under the seat or in the overhead bin and, the most important feature, it is designed to "piggyback" other luggage pieces through a unique clip and hook system. You never have to lug anything through an airport again. It's also water repellant and rip-proof and the attachments are patented, though knockoffs abound.

Pile 'em on

Iris Lewiston of Birmingham is one satisfied customer. She travels extensively and has lots of luggage but raves about her Rollboard. "I went to New York for five days with my 20-inch," she bragged. She also bought the large duffel ($162) and a hanging bag, both of which hook to the Rollboard so that she can wheel around three large pieces. "My husband has a bad back, so this is perfect. We love it."

In case you're skeptical about squeezing all of your clothing into what appears to be a small compartment, Baggit owner Arlene Slinger conducts packing demonstrations. Some of her tips include rolling all of your garments except jackets, which should be folded on top and placed in a plastic bag, and utilizing every available space. For instance, the Rollboard system cases have a special divider shelf to keep clothes wrinkle free, but there's just enough space underneath this tray to stash all of your undergarments. A back pocket holds three pairs of shoes, a small top pocket accommodates a jewelry roll and the large pocket in front is perfect for an umbrella and a coat or sweater.

Of course some people, like Iris, are experts at space planning. She showed us all of the basic necessities that she fit into her micro-sized shoulder bag — everything from keys to credit cards and cosmetics. Baggit carries these "wallet/purses" in fun colors for $40.

Linda Bachrack is a Birmingham resident. You can leave her column ideas at 963-2047, mailbox 1889 or fax them to her at 644-1314.

Now and then: The neo-classical structure on the corner of Grand River and Farmington roads is a landmark. Opened on March 18, 1922 as the Farmington State Bank, it was sold and turned into the current Village Mall in 1959. Some of the stores use the bank's old vaults in their new back rooms.

Celebrity stuff at MDA auction

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

The Livonia Mall, which bills itself as the "neighborhood family mall," is sponsoring several events that shoppers need to prepare for now.

The fourth-annual Celebrity Auction for the Muscular Dystrophy Association promises to be the best ever with over 300 items sent and autographed by Madonna, Cher, Barbara Streisand, Richard Nixon, Mark Fidrych, Wayne Gretzky, Chevy Chase, Bob Hope and Doris Day, to name a few.

"The celebrities are doing their bit, now we need to hear from local merchants," said Bill Checks, promotions director at the mall. Checks needs donated items and services for bid at the Saturday, August 28 auction.

"Last year we raised $16,800 for MDA," he said. "That's triple the $5,300 we earned in 1991." The money was presented to the MDA during the televised Labor Day telethon. For two weeks prior to the auction, shoppers can make silent bids on the celebrity items displayed throughout the mall. The highest silent bid sets the opening bid during the auction.

"Last year we got a hammer autographed by Tim Allen, a giant Pink Flamingo autographed by Jason Priestly of Beverly Hills 90210, and a hard covered novel autographed by Stephen King," Checks said.

The big draw this year will be a big, cream-colored box autographed by Madonna which holds a video cassette, poster and several photographs.

Times change Main St.

Main Street metamorphosis. That's when old banks, former farmhouses and out-dated post offices become mini-malls, coffee houses and craft shops. To see how it works, just look at your favorite landmarks in Birmingham, Plymouth, Farmington and Rochester.

Farmington kids ride their bikes up to the Village Mall at Grand River and Farmington roads after school, park, lock, and scramble into the Comix Plus shop.

After buying Spiderman's latest adventure or a pack of Marvel Universe trading cards, they hop back on their bikes for a cone at the Baskin-Robbins 31 Flavors across the street. A little card-swapping of doubles, takes place among friends, and then, it's home for soccer practice, dinner and homework.

The kids are unaware that their corner destination was once The Farmington State Savings Bank, which was robbed in 1924 by six bandits wearing scarves over their heads.

The bank robbers got away with $11,000 in cash and $75,000 in Methodist Church bonds even though their get-away tires were shot out. To this day, the crime has never been solved. Many of the new shops use the bank's original vaults. Where is Spiderman when you need him?

Businesses come and businesses go through the years as new entrepreneurs create niches in a community with their dreams. Those lucky enough to live near these downtowns, say downtowns enrich their lives, stabilize their property values and give their hometowns a focus. "I remember coming home from Plymouth High," recalled Mary Arbour of Westland, "and we never went right home. We'd either stop at the bakery or Cloverdale's Dairy or the Rexall's Drugstore for a treat. Those places are gone now, just like the Kresge and the D & C."

The downtown Plymouth shopping district changed most dramatically in the early 1970's when Rucker's Stop and Shop Market on Forest became the Westchester Mall and the old Hines Park Mercury dealerships became the Forest Place Mall. These two mini-malls were divided up to house craft shops, stationery stores, lingerie and fashion boutiques, the Christian Science Reading Room and a computer school for kids, to name a few tenants.

Another Plymouth landmark will be changed soon when the old post office on Penniman is renovated. Steve Guile of the Downtown Development Authority said the DDA is purchasing the building for $360,000 to insure its "highest, best use."

"Now we need to have a developer look at the property and evaluate its possible uses," he said. "Then we hope to find a co-partner." Guile said he'd like to see the two-story, 11,000-square-foot building become two unique restaurants, preserve a public gathering space, and retain 3,000 square feet for limited postal business.

In downtown Rochester the old library was purchased last year for $1 million by Hepplewhite's and Generations Furniture owner Mary Lujan who outgrew her shops on Main Street. She said she spent an additional $1 million transforming the old book den into a series of high-style vignette showrooms that whimsically highlight her specialty, replicas of historic furniture.

"I remember waiting for my youngest daughter to return some books at the library and thinking to myself how the various levels would work for me as showrooms. When I heard the library was for sale, I moved quick."

Lujan's work of art did not come easy, she cautioned. "Modern municipal building codes, especially with fire department regulations, made some work tedious. I almost lost heart when I realized I would never have the elegant entrances I dreamed about because of code restrictions."

The old post office at Fourth and Walnut Streets in Rochester was also purchased by entrepreneurs who opened the 4th Street Bistro in the summer of 1991 but went belly-up a few months later. Senor Frogg's, featuring south of the border dishes, opened a few weeks later at the site and is doing well.

In downtown Birmingham, the Peabody Mansion at Brown Street and Woodward currently houses law offices. A cluster of art galleries occupies the former servants quarters at Maple and Peabody.

"The Birmingham Gallery used to be where the help stayed when the mansions had servants. We were the low rent district," said Rick Laney, gallery owner. The failed two-story Picadilly retail mall at Woodward and Brown Streets in Birmingham was sold six months ago to Central Park Properties. Owners propose a parking and office mix with some retail shops, according to city planner Patti McCullough.

McCullough said plans often look promising on the drawing board, but reality is something else.

Plymouth's Guile warned shoppers not to take downtown businesses for granted.

"If residents spent their money in their own hometowns, many of the old businesses would still be here," he said. "Downtown merchants face stiff competition from nearby malls and all the new discounters in strip centers."

Garden plots for seniors

Wayne County is again providing senior citizens an opportunity to participate in a world-class, countywide gardening program.

Situated in Westland on a part of the Eloise Complex, the gardening program is in its 19th year. In 1988 and 1990, the program was listed in the Guinness Book of World Records as the largest community garden. Seniors wishing to participate can sign up for a garden plot through Memorial Day through the Wayne County Office on Aging at 728-5330 or 326-4736. The fee is $15 for a 50-foot by 50-foot plot, which includes plowing, irrigation installation, watering hoses and seedlings.

Photographers take aim

Amateur photographers are invited to compete for a $300 best of show award in the mall's annual Photography Contest July 20-25.

"Prints submitted must be 8 x 10 or larger, black and white, mounted, matted or both," Checks advised. "There is no limit to the number of entries an individual may submit. We will display the works throughout the mall. First-, second- and third-place winners will be announced, and there may be some honorable mentions."

Each entry must be accompanied by a form, and $4 fee. Forms are available at the mall management office. Deadline is 5 p.m. July 16.

Artisans compete

Arts and crafts aficionados may want to begin working on a project to submit to the mall's Crafts

Contest in August.

"This grand prize will be $100," Checks explained. "Crafters must be 18 years and older to enter. Again, registration forms must accompany the entry, but only one entry per crafter is permitted."

Deadline is 11 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 21.

There will also be an arts and crafts sale Aug. 21-22. Crafters who want to participate should call Checks for details at 476-1166.

Ewald stars for Bobcats

Sophomore Tracey Ewald of Canton had a fine season playing baseball for the School of the Ozarks in Branson, Mo.

The 1990 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, who was red-shirted last year, batted .301 with five home runs and 28 RBI.

The 6-foot-6, 235-pound first baseman, who was named to the All-NAIA District 16 second team, led the Bobcats with a .983 fielding percentage. He had six errors in 297 chances.

Ewald also had 10 doubles, six game-winning hits, an on-base percentage of .466, and he set a school record for being hit with pitches the most times (13) in one season, including six during a doubleheader.

Ozarks won the best-two-of-three NAIA district tournament from Missouri Valley University, and Ewald hit a two-run single to win the third game 6-5. That was after he was hit in the elbow in the first game and didn't play the second because of a swollen arm.

The Bobcats were eliminated in the regional by Lindenwood College of St. Louis and finished with a 28-12 record. Ozarks had 22 games rained out.

During the regular season, Ewald hit a leadoff homer in the seventh to beat Southwest Missouri University 2-1, and he hit a three-run homer in a 5-1 victory over Southern California College.

Bozyk boosts Bulldogs

A comeback effort secured a piece of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association baseball title for Adrian College, its first first-place finish.

A pair of Redford Catholic Central graduates played key roles in the Adrian success.

Junior righthander Keith Bozyk of Canton tossed a one-hitter in Adrian's 5-1 win over co-champion Albion College.

Albion had won the first of three games in the final MIAA series 7-2, making a win in Bozyk's game imperative.

Bozyk struck out nine to improve his record to 7-3 overall, with a 1.43 earned run average. He led the Bulldogs in wins, innings pitched (68%), strikeouts (67) and saves (two). Opponents batted just .219 against him.

Brett Welling, a junior first baseman from Livonia, was on his way to a superb season before a dislocated shoulder sidelined him for the final five games.

He was leading the MIAA in hitting prior to the injury and finished with a .372 batting average, six doubles and 19 RBI.

The Bulldogs finished with a 10-5 MIAA record, 17-15-1 overall. The wins were the most by an Adrian team.

Canton JV unbeaten

The Plymouth Canton junior varsity girls' soccer team completed an undefeated season (16-0-1) Wednesday with a 1-0 victory over Livonia Stevenson.

The Chiefs, who had tied Stevenson earlier in the season 1-1, allowed just two goals all season. Canton goalkeeper Tracy Lute had 15 shutouts.

Rebecca Vachow and Alissa Briggs were Canton's leading scorers with 18 and 11 goals, respectively.

Other members of the team are Jodi Barker, Becci Brown, Erin Burns, Amicie Crayton, Laura Dean, Kristie Drinkhahn, Shelly Camilleri, Katie Heckel, Lis Layman, Kelly McCarthy, Melissa McNamara, Sandra Opasik, Katie Ray, Jennifer Ripp and Tara Schuler.

The Chiefs are coached by Jeff Neschich.

Kicks win tournament

The 1981 Plymouth Kicks Premier boys' soccer team won the Midland Invitational earlier this month with a 2-0 victory over the Novi Jaguars in the final. The Kicks also blanked the Canton Magic 1-0 in the semifinals.

Led by the goaltending of Brian Wozniak, the Kicks didn't allow a goal from the field in games against the Saginaw Sidekicks, Waterford Warriors and Midland Magic.

Other team members are Nick Bostic, Jacob Gray, Patrick Griffin, Jeremy Hornak, Andrew Kogut, Chris Longpre, Aaron MacDonald, Jason Mayol, Brett McKee, Aaron Rypkowski, Michael Slack, Brett Stinar, Ken Szydlowski, Dan Wielechowski and Tim Zdrodowski. Paul Kogut and Watson Zdrodowski are the coaches.

Rocks defeat Mustangs

It might not have been an upset, but Plymouth Salem got plenty of satisfaction Wednesday with a soccer win at Northville, 2-1.

The Rocks (7-2-4) entered the week ranked No. 7 in Class A and had tied (1-1) the No. 9 Mustangs (9-2-2) earlier in the season at Salem.

"I'm very pleased with the win," Salem coach Ken Johnson said. "It was two good teams playing good soccer, and it's a good win to have going into the districts."

The deciding goal was a hard drive off the foot of junior Mackenzie Emmett, who received a long pass from Caryn Tatterton and redirected the ball hard past the Northville goalie.

The Mustangs scored first on a goal by Sue McQuaid. Salem tied the score way through the first half on a tip by freshman Mari Hoff, who took a cross from sophomore Sue Parrish.

Freshman keeper Julie Bucsek made eight saves for the Rocks, who outshot Northville 9-6.

Spartans sign pair of soccer stars

The Plymouth-Canton girls soccer teams have always produced quality players, but this seems to be a banner year for local talent. Four seniors will play Division I soccer as college freshmen at Michigan State, the University of Detroit-Mercy and George Mason University.

Leah Hutko and Kris Goff take opposing sides in high school soccer since one plays for Plymouth Canton and the other Plymouth Salem.

But it hasn't always been that way, and it no longer will be when they enter college in the fall.

The two will be not only teammates but also roommates at Michigan State University, which offered both scholarships to play women's soccer.

Hutko (Canton) and Goff (Salem) are among six players who plan to continue in the sport at the collegiate level.

Canton goalkeeper Jori Welchans is going to the University of Detroit-Mercy, Canton forward Colleen Connell to Missouri Valley College, Salem defender Michelle Cronan to George Mason University and Canton defender Kelly Reeves to Schoolcraft College.

Goff and Hutko have been on opposite sides in the Salem-Canton rivalry for four years, but their paths rarely crossed on the field. Hutko plays forward, and Goff had been a center midfielder until being moved to sweeper this year.

"We've been friends for a long time and played soccer together on the same team," Goff said. "This is the first year we've actually had to play against each other."

The two have been teammates on the Michigan Hawks the last two years and were members of the Plymouth Lightning for five years before that.

Both considered one other school but decided separately on MSU. Butler University was Hutko's second choice, and Boston College lost out on Goff.

"I was real stressed out trying to decide," Hutko said. "I talked about it every night with my family. I made my decision because of the people there."

"I liked the school and the coach was nice," said Goff, who also visited Colorado College. "I know some of the girls at MSU. It was closer, and I liked the fact I'd know people. I felt a lot more comfortable there."

Hutko led the Chiefs in scoring last year and does so again this year with 19 goals and nine assists. She had 14 and four a year ago, and her respective career totals are 43 and 18.

"I'm sure she can stand up with most (college players)," Canton coach Don Smith said. "She won't have any problem at all. She definitely has the skill and the determination."

Goff, who was a forward in her freshman year before moving to half-back for two years, has 44 goals and 30 assists in her career. Goff, who expects to play sweeper for the Spartans, has nine of each this season.

"From the sweeper position, she can save everything at the last minute and she does," Salem coach Ken Johnson said, adding Goff made one such play Wednesday to stop a Northville shot. "The Western Lakes has a lot of good forwards, and she defends them well."

Welchans was an all-state goalie last year when she had 12 shutouts and allowed just 10 goals in 21 games. In four years as the Canton starter, she has 41 shutouts and a 0.55 goals-against average.

"It will be neat to start a new program and help to get it started on the right foot," said Welchans, who will be a charter member of the first Detroit-Mercy women's soccer team.

Canton extends its reign

Plymouth Canton finished with a perfect record (10-0) in Western Division softball Thursday when it crushed host Walled Lake Western 17-5.

Colleen Baker pitched a complete game and was the leading hitter for the Chiefs (23-3).

She scattered four hits, walked three and had two strikeouts. She was 3-for-4 with four RBI.

Michelle Metzger and Heather Schafer hit two-run singles, and Tracey Ligner had two hits.

Canton suffered its third loss of the season Friday in tournament play, 6-5 to Brighton in eight innings.

Using the international tie-breaker with an automatic runner at second base, the Chiefs scored a run in the eighth to break a 4-4 tie.

Brighton had a runner at third with two outs in the bottom half and won the game with a two-run homer.

Canton ace Kelly Holmes got the loss, allowing nine hits and three walks, but the Chiefs committed five errors. Holmes struck out 10.

Baker had two hits and two RBI, Holmes an RBI triple, Metzger two hits and Heather Lagrow one RBI.

Ladywood's softball title hopes melt in the rain

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

After Farmington Hills Mercy's chance of winning the Catholic League softball championship was thrown away, Livonia Ladywood's was washed away Friday at King Boring Field in Dearborn.

Mercy exhibited little offense and made costly defensive mistakes in its 3-0 semifinal playoff loss to Dearborn Divine Child.

Ladywood then wasted a one-hitter by Mary Jo Kelly in the other semifinal, a 3-1 loss to Riverview Gabriel Richard. Ladywood surrendered all three runs in the second inning as Richard capitalized on four passed balls in the pouring rain.

Kelly breezed through the first inning but had trouble in the second as the rain picked up. After the senior right-hander hit the leadoff batter, she allowed her only hit — a swinging bunt single by Carlisle Guzicki.

Both runners advanced on a passed ball with one out. After a walk, the Pioneers scored on another passed ball. Another walk and another passed ball allowed another to score. The third Richard run was scored on a groundout by Jennifer Mildser.

"I told Mary Jo it's too bad that passed balls resulted in the loss and that's unfortunate," said Richard coach Bob Wilkerson. "We took advantage of those and played through the weather. That was the only difference in the game."

"This is the way it's happened to us in close games this season; we beat ourselves," said Ladywood coach Lisa Parsons. "I think we played well but you have to hit the ball to win games, and we didn't put the ball in play. Mary Jo struck out 10 and gave up one hit and we lost. We had five looking strike threes and that's five too many."

Kelly controlled Richard the rest of the way, but Ladywood couldn't capitalize on its chances against senior Carrah Gizicki, who also struck out 10 and gave up only two hits.

The Blazers loaded the bases with one out in the soggy second, but Gizicki pitched out of it. After a double by Kelly opened the sixth, Gizicki struck out the next three Blazers — two on called strikes.

Ladywood scored its lone run in the seventh as Christie Soter lined a double down the left field line, scoring pinch hitter Allison Woodruff who had walked.

Richard is 25-8 overall and the Blazers, who were 12-0 in the Catholic League Central Division, 20-11-1.

Mercy had trouble figuring out right-hander Dawn Barszczowski, who who walked one and struck out six. She allowed harmless singles to Kathy Misteravich and Jackie Rajkovich and retired the final 14 Marlins in order.

"She's usually that tough or tougher," DC coach Marylou Jansen said. "She wasn't throwing her best today, but she was doing a good job moving the ball around. We haven't given up more than two runs in any game this season, so as long as we score three we'll do well."

The Marlins also had trouble getting the ball past the stingy DC defense, especially past junior shortstop Cindy Lehnis. The three-year all-league performer made several outstanding plays.

All three of DC's runs were unearned. The first run off Debbie Dziekan (four strikeouts and two walks) came in the third as Jennifer Jansen singled home Jill Danak.

The Falcons (30-3) increased their lead to 3-0 in the fourth as Dziekan fielded a bunt but threw the ball into left field allowing one run to score. Sara Nieman then singled home another run.

"This (regular) season hasn't lived up to my expectations," said Mercy coach Beth Burgess, whose Marlins are 6-22. "Our record doesn't indicate the type of team we have. We just didn't play up to our potential."

Mustangs repeat as tennis champs

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Northville left little doubt last week who's No. 1 in boys tennis for the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Mustangs won five of eight flights and reached the finals in two others en route to a 27-point first-place performance in the 12-team field.

It was Northville's second straight WLAAs crown.

Host Livonia Stevenson, which had visions of overhauling the Mustangs, finished a distant second with 19, while North Farmington took third with 16. See statistical summary.

"We knew that Northville had outstanding singles players, but their doubles teams played better than any of the rest of us thought they would," Stevenson coach George Croll said. "They played very well."

Northville went 11-0 during the dual-meet season, while Stevenson suffered only one loss in 11 WLAAs duals, a 5-3 setback to the Mustangs.

"I would say this team rates with last year," Northville coach Dick Norton said. "This is my 17th year and we've had only two unbeaten teams."

With 10 of the top 12 players returning next season, it's a good bet Northville will three-peat.

But No. 1 singles player Mark Schwagle, only one of two seniors, will be sorely missed. The nationally ranked player graduates next month and will be heading for Michigan State.

"Our singles have been carrying us all year, but our doubles teams really played well," Norton said. "It was a pleasant surprise."

At No. 1, Northville's Eric Allenspach and Ryan Moak upset the top seeds, Matt Gerlach and Justin Lozo of Stevenson, in a semifinal match, 6-6, 6-2, 7-6 (8-6).

But North's duo of Jason Wendorf and Brad Martin went on to win the title, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Stevenson came away with titles at Nos. 2 and 3 doubles.

Seniors Mike Miller and Ben Moriz, the top seeds, finished an unbeaten regular season with a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 win over North's Jeff Speer and Dave Migdal.

At No. 3, another Stevenson senior tandem, Ryan Schmidt and Scott Sibel, the top seeds, also capped an unbeaten campaign with a 6-4, 7-5 triumph against Northville's Rob Kukaris (the team's other senior) and Matt Telepo.

In somewhat of a surprise at No. 4 doubles, unseeded Richard Bell and Vivek Mohta topped Stevenson's Chad Crosby and Mark Magnusson, 6-4, 6-2, for the title.

"They (Northville) deserve a shot at the state meet," Croll said. "They're better than a lot of teams that will make it out of the regional."

Northville needed to beat out either host Ann Arbor Pioneer, ranked No. 2 in Class A, or No. 3 Ann Arbor Huron, over the weekend to qualify for the state Class A tourney.

Marlins 3-peat as league champions

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

It was just like having candles on a birthday cake for the Farmington Hills Mercy soccer team Saturday.

The Marlins scored three goals to celebrate their third consecutive Catholic League championship with a 3-2 win over Livonia Ladywood.

But neither the third goal nor the victory came easy, as Mercy needed a shootout to beat the Blazers at University of Detroit-Jesuit High School.

"It's a really good feeling, but the pressure builds each year to do it again," said Mercy junior Flannery Campbell, a member of each championship team, who hit the deciding shot. "But it is very rewarding."

Mercy goalie Amy Watroba stopped a shot by Kelli Colliton, who scored both Ladywood goals in regulation, to leave the shootout tied 3-3.

Jamie Colliton kept the Blazers alive with a 4-4, but Campbell made the fifth and final shot for Mercy, putting the ball in the upper right corner.

"That's where I wanted it to go, but it's not the way I usually do it," Campbell said. "I usually kick with my left foot, but it was hurt (sprain) and I didn't want to use it so I went with my right."

Having played two hours of competitive soccer, neither coach liked the idea of ending with a shootout.

"I don't watch those; I refuse to watch," Ladywood coach Ron Predmesky said. "I never have as a coach. It's no way to end a game."

"There's too much pressure on the kids whether it's the goalie or the one taking the shot. Nobody will remember that it was a 2-2 game through 110 minutes."

It was the second shootout in one week for the Marlins (13-4-1), who beat Birmingham Marian the same way in the first round Monday.

Mercy was pushed to the limit because of an inspired effort by the Blazers (10-4-1), who had lost twice to Mercy in the regular season by 3-1 scores but rallied around the superb play of senior goalie Liz Gunn.

"I think that's where the Theresa Cisco factor comes in," said Mercy coach Deepak Shivraman said of the senior sweeper who has a knee injury that will require surgery.

"She's one of those players who carries a lot of the burden and is very demanding on the other players. If she had been healthy, there's a chance we would not have gone to a shootout with Marian or Ladywood, because she's just a big presence out there."

Following a scoreless first half, Heather Richards gave Mercy a 1-0 lead, but Kelli Colliton scored the next two and had the Blazers thinking upset.

All three goals were floaters that hung in the air before dropping under the crossbar on the far side of the net. Colliton's second was even more difficult, coming from a sharper angle near the corner.

"We work on those in practice," Predmesky said. "There's no way to defend against those unless you have a super goalie, and there are no super goalies in high school. The goalie has to play the short post."

Mercy's Margaret Wirth tied the score with 17 1/2 minutes left in regulation time, getting ahead of a defender just far enough to put a foot on the ball.

Gunn's play in the remaining time and two sudden-death overtime challenges Predmesky's statement about super goalies.

"I'd like to have a winning season. I know it will be tough next year because the team will be so young, but I still think it's possible."

Connell, like Hutko and Welchans, has been a four-year varsity player for the Chiefs. She missed 10 games this year while recovering from meningitis but has scored four goals.

Connell had her best season in 1992 when she had 11 goals and seven assists. Her respective career totals are 27 and 18.

"She might not play right away, but I'm sure Colleen will adjust to it very well," Smith said. "(The play) might not be as physical; they might rely more on skill level."

Cronan has been a three-year starter for the Rocks. George Mason won its last six games last fall to finish 8-6-3. The Patriots are the only team other than North Carolina to win a women's NCAA Division I national championship since the tournament was started in 1982, accomplishing the feat with a 2-0 victory over the Tar Heels in 1985.

Saturday's Catholic League A-B Division baseball semifinal at Wyandotte's Memorial Field turned out to be quite a chess match.

Redford Catholic Central, however, finally managed to take the queen, scoring the game-winning run in the top of the ninth inning to beat River-view Gabriel Richard, 2-1.

Catholic Central, 23-8 overall, now moves into the A-B Division championship game, 12:30 p.m. Friday at Tiger Stadium against Central Division nemesis Warren DeLaSalle.

The game had all the strategy of a Bobby Fischer-Boris Spassky encounter. The game featured a total of nine successful sacrifice bunts, five by CC and four by Richard.

"Both coaches were making all the moves they could," said CC coach John Salter of his counterpart Pat Sieszputowski. "We work on bunting every day in batting practice. We worked on it Tuesday (May 18) at practice more than usual. It's important to get a run early, especially with the good pitching we've had all season. It helps if you can get a couple of runs early because we just don't hit as well as we did last year."

With the score deadlocked at 1-1, CC left fielder Jeff Gutt struck out to lead the ninth, but the ball got away from Richard catcher Dan Kilburg and Gutt reached first safely.

Andy Slankster then laid down a sacrifice bunt, moving Gutt to second.

With two outs, shortstop Eric Justice slapped a shot up the middle. The ball skipped over the glove of Richard shortstop Jason Gombos and through the infield for the game-winning hit.

CC lefty Dave Susalla then retired Richard in order in the bottom of the ninth to preserve the victory.

Susalla, who got out of a bases-loaded jam in the fifth, pitched 4 1/2 innings of scoreless and hitless relief to raise his record to 5-2.

"Brian (Paluk) was getting a little tired even though he only threw 45 pitches," Salter said. "We wanted a bring him (Susalla) in on a lefty-versus-lefty situation (against Richard batter Terry Hayden), plus we knew Dave had pitched well his last two outings."

Paluk (8-2 record), who recently recovered from a week-long bout with bronchitis, struck out eight in 4 1/2 innings. He allowed five hits.

The Pioneers scored their only run in the fourth on Brad Affholter's suicide squeeze bunt, scoring John Scotta from third.

CC got a run back in the fifth on a single by Justice, a sacrifice bunt by Mike Brusseau and a single by catcher Juan Sanchez, who went over the fence for three.

Things, however, looked bleak for CC in the bottom of the seventh.

Richard's Ted Hughes led off the inning by reaching second on a CC infield throwing error.

With nobody out, Richard's Kevin Foley tried to sacrifice pinch-runner Vince Jesus over to third, but CC first baseman Aaron Babicz made a perfect throw to Justice, cutting the lead runner down at third.

The Shamrocks also got a bonus out of the play as Foley, breaking for second, was gunned down on a tag by Brusseau, who sprinted over to cover the second base bag.

If anybody left the park feeling rooked, it was Gabriel Richard pitcher Gary Mroz, who went the distance.

Mike George will always remember that one play, in the last inning of Madonna University's 1993 baseball season.

A ground ball up the middle . . . Joe Brusseau ranging far to his right to stab it . . . a quick turn and flick . . . batter retired.

Seeing Brusseau make that play forced perspective into George's thoughts. His team was losing badly to Aquinas College, a loss that would end the Fighting Crusaders' season.

It would also end Brusseau's collegiate playing career — and the careers of Bill Terski, Rich Roy, Steve Coffell and Shaun Hayward.

The five seniors' seasons came to a close with a 16-4 defeat suffered May 16 against Aquinas in the NAIA District 23's championship game.

Madonna, meanwhile, must be content with the memories of a record-setting year (43-22) that fell one victory short.

The Crusaders were close — so very, very close. But after three consecutive strong pitching efforts to start the district playoffs, they ran out of steam. They beat Siena Heights 15-13 Friday, but couldn't outscore Aquinas Saturday.

By the Aquinas game, George had no one left to call upon. He was just as painful: 3-2 to Spring Arbor in their second game Thursday.

"I don't think we got caught with our pants down, without enough pitching," insisted George. "I think we had all the right pieces. We could have gone all the way to the (NAIA) World Series."

Indeed, Madonna got strong pitching efforts from Joe Jentzer in a 10-2 playoff-opening win over Tri-State; from Jeff Kugelman in the loss to Spring Arbor; and from Hayward in a 4-3 win over Northwood University.

But injuries to Sean Henkel and Mike Grah, and Mike Coleman's academic ineligibility, handicapped George's mound corps. He went with sophomore Ryan Grabetz against Siena Heights, but he was ineffective. Madonna had to rally from a 9-5 deficit after six innings to win.

Louie McKaig, a seven-game winner for Madonna, tried to provide relief help but he was only moderately successful. Siena Heights hit back-to-back homers off of him, tying the game in the seventh, before Roy won it for Madonna with a solo shot in the eighth.

By the Aquinas game, George had no one left to call upon. He tried freshman Chad Zann, but he couldn't get out of the first inning. Relievers Grabetz and T.C. Raptis weren't much better. Madonna was down 8-0 by the end of the first, a deficit too large to overcome.

Leaders lost
It was hardly a fitting way to end the season, George thought. "Pitching also got us there," he said, defending his staff. "I'm not making any excuses for anybody, but we had to use more people than we wanted to on Friday."

McKaig's coming out of the pen to relieve Kugelman against Spring Arbor proved costly. Madonna still lost, and McKaig — whom George had tentatively pencilled in to start Saturday's final — was already used. When Siena Heights jumped all over Grabetz, forcing George to bring in McKaig again, the pitching picture was really scrambled.

It proved too big a mess to straighten out.

George refused to be disappointed by the outcome. "In no way am I disappointed with this team," he insisted. "The only thing I'm disappointed in is that we had five guys that we built the program around, and we didn't win it for them."

Brusseau, in particular, will be a tough loss for George to absorb.

Brusseau played for George when he coached at Redford Bishop Borgess prior to starting the program at Madonna. One of his first recruits, Brusseau has proven to be one of George's best: He's been all-district at second base the last three years.

The other four seniors — Terski (Livonia Churchill), Roy (Livonia Clarenceville), Coffell (Garden City/Bishop Borgess) and Hayward — have been productive, too. Indeed, as George suddenly realized on that ground ball up the middle that Brusseau snared in the last game, replacing them won't be easy.

"We're going to be in good shape," he said, noting 22 players who will return. "Part of any successful program is to have players waiting in the wings."

"But they're going to be hard to replace. I'm proud of these kids. They made something out of nothing."

Leadership may be the hardest void to fill, although George thinks this year's seniors instructed the underclassmen well. "Our young kids learned something from them," he said. "You have to learn how to win. I think our seniors taught our younger kids that — how to win."

It will be a year before George knows if this year's juniors mastered their assignment.

Warriors topple Chiefs

Plymouth Canton was in the fortunate position of being able to afford a loss in baseball Friday.

After clinching the Western Division title Wednesday, the host Chiefs were upset 8-4 when Walled Lake Western rallied for five runs in the seventh inning.

Canton finished 7-3 in the division (15-9 overall) and will play host to Westland John Glenn in the Western Lakes Activities Association championship game Wednesday.

John Gibson singled to tie the score at 4-4 in the seventh, and Derek Lindsay won it with a grand slam.

David Watkins was the winning pitcher. He allowed six hits over seven innings, walked none and struck out two.

The Warriors are 5-5 in the division and 12-12 overall.

SALEM 2, STEVENSON 1: John Klask hit a game-winning, bases-loaded single in the seventh inning Wednesday as the Rocks edged visiting Livonia Stevenson.

In the bottom of the first inning, Salem's Brian Zarosely tripled and scored on Dave Knight's double after the Spartans had scored in their first at-bat.

Mike Marsella tossed a two-hit complete game for the Rocks, striking out five and walking three. Brad Morgan went 6 1/2 and was the loser.

Salem whipped North Farmington 20-3 Friday in its last Lakes Division game in which the Raiders committed 15 errors.

The Chiefs clinched their second straight Western Division title Wednesday by defeating Livonia Churchill a second time 5-2 at Canton.

Holmes tossed a one-hitter and struck out 11. She walked only one. The Chiefs had six hits off Churchill pitcher Karen Jose, who fanned eight and walked two.

Tina Schafer had a double and Dagi Mortiere two hits for Canton.

NORTH 7, SALEM 5: The Raiders scored six runs in the bottom of the fourth inning Friday and beat visiting Plymouth Salem a second time.

North Farmington's Melanie Cheney and Salem's Jenny Garvey pitched complete games, allowing six hits each. Cheney walked four and Garvey three.

In the North fourth, Becky Thur-

sam and Courtney Carlson knocked in runs with a single and fielder's choice, respectively. After Cheney walked to load the bases, Kate Mackie forced in a run with a walk and Amy Kelman hit a two-run single.

Kelman had two hits and Thur-sam also had two RBI. Salem's Jamey Viau hit a two-run single and Amanda Tubaugha a two-run double to make it 6-5 in the seventh.

Jenny Coleman had two hits for the Rocks, 6-4 in the Lakes Division. The Raiders finished 5-5 and stand 10-13 overall.

On Wednesday, Salem trounced host Livonia Stevenson 14-4 behind a two-hit effort by Garvey, who struck out 10 and walked two.

Tubaugha had four hits, Viau three (including a home run) and Christy Parimucha two. Laura Krol was the losing pitcher.

Helpful hen assists turkey hunter

OUTDOOR INSIGHTS

BILL PARKER

There's no better teacher than the source.

A tom turkey was gobbling boisterously from a large oak on the edge of a nearby orchard as I snapped on my fanny pack and removed my 12 gauge from its case. I had received permission to hunt a farm in southern Montgomery County with the stipulation that I "stay on the property and away from the orchard, the barns and the horses."

"Just my luck," I thought, as a second tom let loose with a low-volume call from the midst of the forbidden zone near the orchard. It was pre-dawn and the birds were active, but they were centered too close to the house.

I tried to ignore the enthralling chorus and headed away from the house along the edge of the barns to a stand of jack pines at the far end of the property. There were plenty of tracks and fresh signs of both birds and roosting trees in that area and my plan was to intercept a tom as he came down from the roost.

Engulfed in darkness, I snuck cautiously and quietly along the wooded property line. As I passed under large maple a pair of roosting hens erupted into flight with the roar of a stealth jet. After regaining my breath and allowing my heart to settle back down to a normal rate I continued toward the back of the property.

I set my decoy on the top edge of a small knoll and positioned myself 20-yards away beneath a large jack pine. I could still hear the concert in the orchard which was now two hay fields and some 350-yards away. As daylight trickled through the budding trees I picked up the source of the music with my binoculars. Four toms — two in full strut — and three hens. My adrenalin raced like a sprinter, but common sense calmed my nervousness. "I'll never be able to call them this far. Plus, they seem pretty content in the forbidden zone."

Still, I had to try.

I gave a few yelps and was amazed at the response. Tail feathers fanned out, necks stiffened and gobbles came roaring back.

"Well, at least they can hear me," I assured myself. "Now if I can lure them my way."

"Fat chance," I argued. "The toms were with hens."

Help on the wing

Despite the response, the small flock wandered through the orchard then disappeared from sight. I was almost ready to give up when one of the toms appeared at the edge of the hay field.

As the decoy swayed in a cool morning breeze I offered a series of yelps.

"GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE," responded the tom.

He started across the hay field at a slow, methodical pace, fanning his tail and gobbling along the way, particularly when the decoy moved in the breeze. But about 75 yards away he stopped to stand his ground.

He gobbled and strutted and pranced back-n-forth, but would come no closer. After waiting several minutes I decided to play my trump card and let loose with an urgent cackle. The tom gobbled once more and proudly fanned his tail feathers but still wouldn't come any closer. Finally he turned around and started back toward the rest of the flock.

"#$%!" I grumbled, at the prospect of slipping to 0-for-5 years of spring turkey hunting. But Lady Luck was at my side and a local hen came to the rescue.

Now I've studied several turkey calling tapes and received tips from expert callers, but there's no topping a lesson from a real professional.

The hen was close behind me and as the tom turned away, she immediately began cutting — something I hadn't tried. The tom responded immediately.

"GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE, GOBBLE."

The hen called twice then abruptly fell silent as the tom moved to within 50 yards then hung up again. I started cutting like the hen had and the ol' boy fanned his tail, gobbled and came trudging toward my decoy.

He gobbled aggressively as he neared the base of the knoll I was perched upon. After a moment of eternal silence a small white head bobbed above the grassy crest of the hill.

"Patience," I thought. "Let him come all the way in."

He disappeared beneath the crest but reappear moments later. This time he came all the way to the top of the hill. It was 6:55 a.m. on the last day I could hunt when my 1993 spring wild turkey season came to an end. The tom dressed out at 17 pounds. He had a small four-inch beard but a full fan and a pair of healthy 1/4-inch spurs.

(Hunters and anglers are urged to report their success. Questions and comments are also encouraged. Send information to: Outdoors, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, Mi. 48009 or call Bill Parker 6-10 p.m. Monday at 644-1101, ext. 241.)

Marsalis celebrates a year with Leno and 'Tonight'

By John Crook

If anyone out there is contemplating a major lifestyle change, Branford Marsalis has a few words to offer on the subject. On May 25, 1992, he took over as the host's hand-picked music director on The Tonight Show With Jay Leno - and, to paraphrase the famous Chinese curse, he's lived in interesting times ever since.

Not that he has any regrets, as he phones from his Burbank office two weeks before his one-year anniversary with Leno. In fact, he's very proud of the show, even if he doesn't have a lot of time to brag about it. "It's been a strange year, just in terms of making the adjustment to being on television. I'm still making that adjustment," he says.

Things weren't made any easier by the storm of controversy, however unjustified, that soon broke over Leno and his team. Helen Kushnick, the original executive producer, was replaced late in the year by NBC after she was accused of using strong-arm tactics to keep prospective guests away from rival talk shows. At about the same time, gossip hinted that disgruntled Johnny Carson friends and colleagues were trying to make things tough for his successor, and David Letterman went public with his displeasure over being passed over for the Tonight job. Weeks passed before NBC formally confirmed that they were sticking with Leno and company, as originally announced.

Now that the dust has settled and the tension dissipated, the 32-year-old Marsalis can be philosophical about what was at the root of the controversy.

"Change," he says quietly. "Change is a hard thing for a lot of people to deal with. To accept change is to accept that the way some things were when you grew up is becoming outdated. I mean, my grandfather had a hard time accepting that a man had been on the moon. He had a real problem with that. But change is the way of history. It's just going to happen."

Leno moved quickly to make some sweeping changes, the composer/saxophonist acknowledges, adding that "some people" were just too thin-skinned about the new look and sound.

"Early on, someone asked me how our new band would differ from Doc's (Severinsen)," he recalls, "and I said, 'Well, we're going to have a hipper band.' And all hell broke loose.

During what he now drily refers to as "the Quandary, Decision '92," he tried to concentrate on his musical chores and let Leno handle the bigger issues. For his part, Marsalis knew that he would remain loyal to Leno.

Marsalis celebrates a year

"Look, we're friends. I knew he was upset, but mainly we just talked about regular day-to-day things, like about how we're feeling. I had enough to handle just with the music," he explains. "But my allegiance always was and is with Jay. I go where Jay goes. And I'm glad that we won."

His faith in Leno is boundless, and that leaves him free to concentrate on his musical chores. It's a subject Marsalis takes great pride in, and he sounds a confident note when he looks to the future - and to the present, for that matter.

"Hey, we've got a whole lotta bands playing on our show that never would have been on The Tonight Show before, groups playing with us that won't play with any other band on TV. I am very proud of the fact that we are still here. And not only are we here, but we're doing quite well."

Geography whizzes find their way to D.C.

BY SCOTT WHITE

When the National Geographic Society presents The 1993 National Geography Bee on PBS Wednesday, May 26, it will be moderated for the fifth straight year by Alex Trebek, host of the popular syndicated game show Jeopardy!

The show was first produced after a 1988 Gallup poll revealed that one in seven Americans couldn't locate the United States on a map, and that one in four couldn't find the Pacific Ocean. Believing that strong geographic knowledge leads to positive social involvement, the Society began the Bee in 1989 to restore emphasis on geography as an important educational element.

"It gives me great hope for the next generation," says Trebek, who is a member of the National Geographic Society's Education Foundation board. "The more we know about the earth, the more likely we are to protect it."

The Bee involves more than 6 million children from fourth through eighth grade. Ten finalists will compete for $50,000 in college scholarships in the one-hour televised round, which is taped at the Society headquarters in Washington, D.C.

"Geography is just plain fun," says National Geographic Society President Gilbert M. Grosvenor. "The success of the competition has accelerated our efforts to restore geography to its rightful place in the curriculum."
