Vorva raps school tax-hike pla

State Rep. Jerry Vorva is working against a tax increase for Plymouth-Canton schools. He calls school boards and administrators 'cowards' for not standing up to teachers' unions. The school board seeks a 4-mill increase in an election Aug. 17.

BY KEVIN BROWN

Those who run public schools are cowards for giving in to teachers' pay demands, says state Rep. Jerry Vorva. R. Plymouth.

And because residents shouldn't be asked to bail out the schools. Vorva said he's against the 4-mill tax increase being sought by the board Aug.

"There's a big difference between the pay raises teachers are getting and what people are getting in the private sector," Vorva said.

"In the past five years, teachers have gotten a 25-percent pay raise in Plymouth and Canton," Vorva said, adding, "It's a problem that permeates the whole industry.

He said that, for example, the Kalkaska schools closed early this year, saying they'd run out of money. Yet, the district had earlier approved a 6percent pay raise for teachers.

Michigan Education Association spokeswoman Kim Brennen Root responded, "We generally don't apologize for bargaining good contracts,' adding that a 4- to 5-percent raise "is not out of line with other pay increases in the public and private sector."

She added, "The representative is aproaching things from a pretty irresponsible manner," in coming out against a millage increase.

Plymouth-Canton schools officials were unavilable for comment.

State clears Mettetal contract for takeo

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI STAFF WRITER

It didn't take long for state aeronautics officials to give their blessings to changes in a contract with the state over the purchase of Mettetal Airport.

Canton Township officials got their answer about certain changes in the contract less than a day after they approved it June 29.

After a few weeks' postponement, the State Administrative Board Tuesday approved state transportation and aeronautics officials' contract to purchase Mettetal. The contract includes some parcels, such as the one north of Joy Road, that have been planned for state purchase. 'That was the last stop in the brutal process. It should go smoothly from now on," said Bill Gehman, Michigan Aeronautics Commission director.

The approved contract is between MDOT and the airport's current owner. The administrative board also approved MDOT's contract with Canton Township.

Gehman said a purchase agreement for Mettetal should be completed within the next week, with a closing scheduled for the following

Most of the changes in Canton's contract with MDOT were requested by the Concerned Citizens group, which included Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township residents. including many who said they felt the proposed contract was not tough enough. According to Township Supervisor Tom Yack, changes that will be incorporated into the township's contract with the state include:

Identifying the parcels of land around Mettetal that the state plans

Involving Canton in selecting members of an advisory committee, to which the state must report when it wants to make improvements or operational changes to the airport.

At the height of the cruise, teens were spilling into residential areas past midnight, sparking angry complaints from residents to the city commission.

"It certainly has alleviated a lot of the noise problems, it's seemed to alleviate a lot of the trespass ing," Scoggins said.

Why has the cruise settled down in recent years? "The only thing I can think of is we have tried to take the glamour out of the cruise," Scoggins said.

Canton cop helps train Saudi police

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI STAFF WRITER

This past weekend's heat and humidity were enough to send anyone to a colder climate. But imagine waking up at 6 a.m. to 85 degrees and 95 percent humidity.

Thankfully, everything was air-conditioned," said Canton police officer Kevin Rize, who spent nine days in June teaching in Jedda, Saudi Arabia.

Rize is an instructor trainer of pressure-point control tactics for the Canton Police Department. In fact, he's one of only about 150 instructor trainers in the United States and one of five in Michigan. He is certified to train police officers as well as instructors.

Not too long ago, Rize was asked by a company called Lexus International if he wanted to teach a basic course of defensive tactics to the military police in Saudi Arabia.

There was no question about it. After a 141/2-hour plane trip, plus a host of layovers along the way, Rize arrived in Saudi Arabia.

"It was a good learning experience for me. But I had to work through an interpreter," said Rize, who stayed in a compound secured by an eight-foot wall.

Six police officers ran what was like a police academy in Jedda. Classes included investigation, motorcycle school and defensive tactics. Rize's class was the shor-

"I found that their skill level is not the same," he said.

Rize also discovered that fastpaced American ways don't always fit into other cultures. 'Their idea of time is that they live for today. What happens tomorrow will happen.

cludes among other things how to another topic. "You use the joint handcuff properly and how to take a suspect to the ground without injury or with minimal injury.

Rize also teaches pressure points on the head and neck, as well as how to strike with hands and legs. Joint manipulation is to get the proper compliance from someone," Rize said.

Also included is how to safely secure a weapon in a holster, using and justification for a straight baton, as well as subject control.

"These techniques allow an of-least amount of force," Rize said. 'These techniques are considered the state of the art for police officers. They are all based in the martial arts.

The Middle East won't be Rize's only trip this year. In August he will go to Orlando for recertification, which will allow him to continue teaching officers. He also is a firearms and driving instructor, is trained in knife defense, and is a former motorcycle officer.

Rize's nine days in Saudi Arabia weren't only a teaching experience but a learning one as well. Before landing in Jedda, he and others were informed of appropriate behavior and dress. For example, in the compound he could wear shorts, but not outside the compound.

Though his students asked about America, religion and women, Rize's supervisors asked that he and other American officers keep comments to business.

But his nine-day experience gave him time - after work - to learn a little about Jedda, though he didn't have time for sightsee-

He discovered, for example, that because of the heat, most people aren't out during the day. Though Jedda — a half-mile from the Red Sea - was not totally what he expected - he was impressed with the good, two- and three-lane roads. He also found that certain American restaurants, such as Pizza Hut and Kentucky Fried Chicken, had made their way to Saudi Arabia.

"I would do it again," Rize said. 'It helped me as an instructor. I take for granted the skill level here in the United States compared to other countries."

reckless discharge of a firearm, and charged both occupants with possession of marijuana, as two marijuana cigarettes were found in the car.

Both were arrested then released, the Plymouth Township police report continued.

Plymouth's July 4 parade wowed scores of kids and adults, but the shorter than usual fireworks display that evening sparked complaints. The parade featured Gov. John Engler, first lady Michelle Engler, Barney the dinosaur, Grand Marshal Esther Hulsing, the Plymouth Fife and Drum

Fred Eagle of the Plymouth-Canton Jaycees, which organizes the parade and fireworks show, said he's received plenty of complaints over the 12-15 minute fireworks show.

He said last year's show was 30 minutes long. "We don't actually know what happened, there were a lot of disappointed people," Eagle said.

On Tuesday he was trying to get in touch with the U.S. Traditionals fireworks company, hired to put on the show behind Massey Field at Plymouth Road

"I don't know if they ran out of fireworks, we're going to try to get the cost adjusted in some way."

Donations raised by the Jaycees pay for the cost of the $6,000 fireworks show.

The parade also featured Plymouth city commissioners, the East Middle School band, cheerleaders, a baton twirler, pompon girls and a calhope.

Accident fund: For sale?

GOP wants state out of insurance business

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Michigan would sell the Accident Fund, its government owned workers compensation insurance company, under a bill passed by the state Senate.

"Small business will have substanially increased costs," predicted Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, who led opposition for months.

'Private insurers, solely through greed, want it sold. Instead of selling it, the Legislature should lower workers compensation costs (premiums)," Faust said at the end of a two-hour losing battle.

Republicans said the state didn't belong in the insurance business and won a 21 to 14 battle. All yes vote came from Republicans. Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, again broke ranks and voted with 13 Democrats in opposition.

All area lawmakers voted with their parties except George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, who missed the recent Wednesday afternoon

Which history?

The two parties couldn't even Republican version: It was formed in 1912 when employer compensation of all worker injuries was a new idea. "There was uncertainty at the time whether the private sector would enter the state to provide insurance coverage. . . The original reason for creating the Accident Fund no longer exists," said GOP policy analyst Kalmin Smith of the House staff.

Democratic version: "It was created because private insurers didn't want this business," said

The battle was complicated when two of Gov. John Engler's departments refused to release financial and client documents under Faust's Freedom of Information Act requests. Faust is suing for them in Ingham Circuit Court. A hearing is set July 7.

If the House passes a package of bills, the state Administrative Board will take bids from a halfdozen prospective buyers. The winner will organize the AF as a Michigan stock company, guarantee jobs of present workers for a period and continue dealing with cludes Engler, Lt. Gov. Connie Binsfeld, Secretary of State Richard Austin, Attorney General Frank Kelley, State Treasurer Douglas Roberts and Superintendent of Public Instruction Robert Hiller. Austin and Kelley are Democrats; the other four, Republicans or their appointees. The sale process is expected to take four to six months.

On paper, the AF has equity reserves (the equivalent of the book value of stock) of $134 million. Many expect that will be the approximate selling price, but estimates range from $100 million to $300million.

AF carries about 25 percent of the small business workers comp insurance in Michigan, including the state's own policy and many unions'. The AFL-CIO denounced the plan. About 200 other companies share the rest of the market, none with more than 11 percent.

AF has 34,000 policy holders, including nearly 4,800 in Oakland County, 4,800 in Wayne, and 304 in Livingston.

No changes

With three members absent, Faust's Democrats were unable to win any proposed amendments. Democrats wanted to:

■ Give the Legislature, rather than the Ad Board, final sale authority. "If this were an idle piece of land, it might be all right" (not to give legislative approval), said Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills. "But this is an asset."

Require the Ad Board to set a minimum bid price. "The governor did it when he sold his own airplane," said Faust. Republicans said it would invite a "low ball" bid, not the highest price.

Declare excess reserves the property of the state, not to be sold. Faust said an audit report shows excess reserves (amounts held for future claims for past accidents), "but the insurance commissioner denies us access to the information."

Democrats argued that the AF in recent years had raised rates and boosted reserves so that a buyer could use excess reserves to help pay for the purchase - a

Restrict the winning bid to a company domiciled in Michigan for five years if the next highest bid were within 5 percent. "It's an employees' amendment. I don't want to see jobs moved out of the state," said Sen. Michael O'Brien,

State Sen. William Faust will be in court this week to pry state Accident Fund data out of Gov. John Engler's administration under the Freedom of Information

The Senate last week finished work on a package of bills to auction off the Accident Fund, a state-owned workers compensation insurer for the last 80 years. Faust led the Democratic charge against the plan. The bills now are in the House.

We are asked to cast votes on these bills without knowing how much the Accident Fund is actually worth, and without knowing if policy holders are fully aware of the ramifications of this sale,' said Faust, D-Westland.

Faust's suit is aimed at the Labor and Commerce departments. H is scheduled to be heard Thursday (July 7) in Ingham Circuit

"It's wrong to deny information on the Accident Fund to legislators but give it to bidders," said Faust.

In Senate debate, several Republicans argued that the data Faust was seeking on AF's value was irrelevant because the free market bidding process would establish its true value.

punched cards, discs, drums, or other means of recording or retaining meaningful content.'

In the Commerce Department, insurance commissioner David J. Dykhouse denied the Coopers & Lybrand report in a three-page letter which said, in part: "There is a serious question as to whether individual senators or the Seante itself may, in connection with legislative responsibilities, invoke the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.'

Dykhouse said a Senate request should come from a committee or the full chamber "in a form that

Ron DeCook, a Faust aide, said the FOIA covers "all persons," including non-citizens, and can't be used to exclude a legislator.

The aide said AF, as a state agency, isn't governed by the Insurance Code. Faust will argue that AF, as a public agency, can't hide its records the way a private business can.

AF was subject of a 1984-89 lawsuit on its status. Gov. James Blanchard's insurance commissioner sought a ruling on whether it was a private or governmental agency. The Court of Appeals ruled it was a governmental agency. The state Supreme Court declined to hear the case, upholding the appeals decision.

In 1990 AF employees were brought into the state's Civil Service system, and AF was made an autonomous agency administraty of the Senate.

Dykhouse added that the Insurance Code appears to prohibit release of confidential data on in-

Family Fun rerun

Senior center ready for 2nd fund-raiser

By Joanne Maliszewski Staff Writer

Canton Place high-rise apartment complex is getting ready for its second annual Family Fun Festival Saturday. And everyone is invited.

Beginning at 1 p.m., Canton Place manager Ginnie Hauck and the senior residents will pull out all the stops for a good old-fashioned family day of fun at the complex at Ford and Sheldon roads.

And it's all for a good cause. All proceeds from the event, which will run until dark, will go directly into the Canton Place "Helping Hand Fund."

Proceeds are used to help Canton Place residents who may fall short financially for groceries, prescriptions and other needs.

This is to help alleviate the stress that goes along with living on a fixed income, and these people don't want to tell anyone, including their children." Hauck said.

The fest is designed for children and adults. Specifically for the kids will be Sunshine the Clown and Friends, who will run carnival-type games. Kids can have their faces painted and buy some balloon animals.

The Canton Fire Department will provide the Fire Safety House and the police department will have a patrol car to show. Plymouth-Canton Drug Abuse Resistance Education will fingerprint

A dunk tank will feature the "Star Studs" - school board member Dave Artley, Canton Community Foundation executive director Bill Joyner, Plymouth city commissioner Dennis Shrewsbury and Canton Chamber of Commerce president Tom Adamusik. Kids and adults can take their turn at the fab four.

Also on tap is a moonwalk, entertainment by Silver Sounds DJs, and Jan's School of Dance in

Belleville will put on a recital at 2

A teen group of mimes from the Full Temple Gospel in Westland will do their thing beginning at 3:30 p.m. The Sixth Gate Cloggers of Northville - comprised of women aged 65-72 - will do a show at 6 p.m. Square dancing will begin at 7 p.m.

Meanwhile, six teams with six people each will do battle in a volleyball tournament. "And there's still room for more," Hauck said. The entry fee is $25. The grand prize will be a home-cooked meal by Canton Place residents.

Food - hamburgers, hot dogs and sausages - cooked by Canton's very own Supervisor Tom Yack and Clerk Loren Bennett will be available throughout the day. Potato chips, pop and ice cream also will be available.

To top off the Canton officials' cooking, Canton Place residents will sell their home-baked des-

"Whatever they want to do at the festival, they will buy tickets," Hauck said.

Tickets range from 50 cents to $1.50. If you buy $10 worth of tickets, you'll get two free. For example, the moonwalk is a dollar, so you need two tickets.

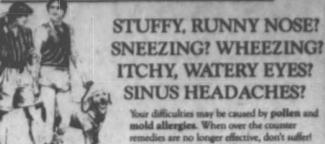

Because the event will be in the parking lot of Canton Place, parking will not be allowed. But Kmart across the street, on the north side of Ford Road at Sheldon, has offered its parking lot. Canton Police Department Explorers will help patrons across

"Please realize that the parking lot at the Mexican Fiesta is for their patrons," Hauck said.

If rain cancels Saturday's event, it will be on Sunday. "I see this as a wonderful opportunity for people to come together as families. Come early and stay late," Hauck said.

The non-smoking Amann, who also represents Canton Township, said he was tired of "smelling like an ashtray" every time he visits

Many smokers have told Amann, he said, that they like this ordinance because they could never figure out where the smoking areas at Metro were.

The ordinance also establishes fines for people caught smoking in the wrong place and makes it easier for non-smokers to rat on smokers. Until now there have been no fines for smoking in the wrong place at Metro.

There's no word yet on whether or not the new non-smoking area will be called the "Amann cor-

Brothers celebrate prom 50 years late

It was June 1943, prom time for high school graduates, many of whom would soon be marching off to World War II. But the last dance was cut short for Cass Tech students by the race riot.

For Stan and Leonard Kovacheff and their classmates at Cass Tech High School, 1943 would have been a good year to forget if it hadn't been when for many high school seniors the military, not college, was the next stop — riots erupted in Detroit on June 20, 1943. Thirty-four people were killed and hundreds injured in the city's blood-stained streets. More than 1,000 were arrested. Businesses were looted and homes ransacked.

"The riots of 1943 caused the cancellation of our commencement and prom. They mailed us our diplomas," said Stan Kovacheff. "After that, all the males went into the service. Many of them didn't come back. Many wound up in the infantry. The Germans were advancing and there were a lot of casualties."

Cass Tech's class of '43 isn't one to be slighted. Fifty years after leaving the high school halls, they hosted a prom for themselves at the Festooned through the room were balloons, banners and signs. Old classmates danced to the sounds of a band that played favorites from the 1940s.

"We had a lot of engineers, lawyers, ministers, a bank president, doctors and a mortician who has a couple funeral homes. It was a unique experience seeing people af-ter 50 years," said Kovacheff. "It was a warm, satisfying experience knowing you had this opportunity in life to see these folks you knew so well in high school."

Kovacheff kept in touch with five or six high school friends. "The rest hadn't seen in 50 years. A lot of them were in good physical shape. It was quite a shock to see the changes that occurred in 50 years. Some people you'd immediately recognize. ### PROPOSED VACATING OF EASEMENT

Social Security...You Get What You Pay For...

You may not have thought about this before, but right now you are earning disability insurance, survivors benefits, a retirement program, and future Medicare coverage. It's all paid for by the Social Security taxes withheld from your paycheck-and matched dollar for dollar by your employer.

And now you can find out just what those taxes are earning for you. It's easy to do and it's free. Just call 1-800-772-1213 and ask for a Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement. When you get it, you'll see a complete history of your earnings, the Social Security taxes you've paid, and estimates of what you and your family could receive in Social Security retirement, disability, and survivors benefits. And if there's an error or omission in your earnings record, Social Security will help you correct it.

Social Security-the best deal in town.

Millage election

Schools make serious mistakes

he Plymouth Canton school board and administration need a quick, basic course in public relations, if they hope to persuade voters on Aug. 17 to cast their ballots for a 4 mill property tax increase.

The board last week listened to booster groups and put the defeated 4 mill proposal back on the ballot. It was a mistake. This is the second time voters have sent the schools the message that they won't pay more taxes for schools. A 1.5 mill tax increase was rejected last

School board members should have had enough sense to scale back the request. A 3.5 mill proposal would have had a much better

But there have been more public relations mistakes. The schools recently revealed that administrators will receive a 5 percent pay increase this fall.

That pay hike, along with a 3 percent increase for teachers, is the last thing the schools should

To compound that, the schools are not taking seriously a signal from the teachers' union that concessions are available.

The teachers' union claims that early retirements could finance the 3 percent pay hike. Meanwhile, some teachers say they're willing to give the 3 percent back. We'll believe that when we see it.

However, it's clear money could be saved if teachers and the administration would sit down to talk. We urge both sides, if they're serious about the Aug. 17 election, to sit down and come up with a wage cut package.

Our position is that both administrators and teachers should forego wage increases this year.

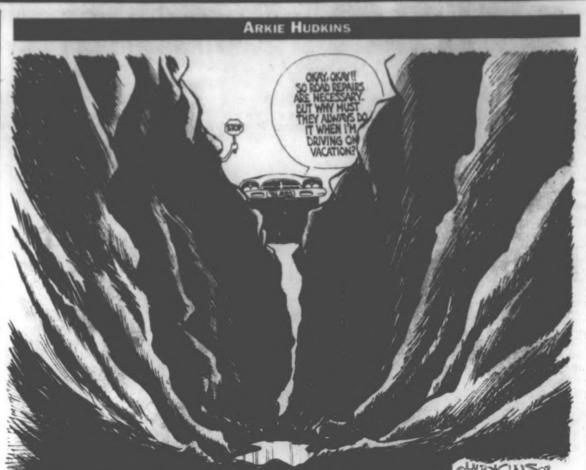

But those weren't the only public relations flubs made by the schools. The school board last week attempted to slip a fast one on the public by putting the rehiring of 10 teachers and six administrators on the consent calendar.

The calendar is where routine items are placed for blanket approval. Rarely are items of such importance on the calendar.

If it not been for board member Barbara Graham's request to cut the call backs out of the herd of routine items so that the board could vote on it separately, the public would never have been aware of the action.

Such actions are deceptive, slippery and show the contempt with which the school board and administration hold the public. But there's more. Such treatment of the public when the schools are trying to pass a 4 mill tax increase is dumb public relations.

The school board and administration should do a better job, if they want voters to go along with them on Aug. 17. It's the very least they can do for the kids.

Millage needed

s we understand it, the primary purpose of township government is to provide public safety, collect taxes and provide for the administration of the township.

Some years ago township voters provided special millage for police and fire departments. Because of the growth in the township, perhaps this millage for public safety is no longer adequate. Its existence, however, reflects the values of township voters.

We request that the trustees set the priorities for the township and fund them accordingly. Surely trustees would place residents safety, provided by police and fire departments, as the highest priority. We have Fire Station No. 3, paid for by tax dollars, sitting on Beck Road. The thought of closing an existing facility, which now serves the western part of the township, does not seem logical. Timing for fire, police, and ambulance service can be a matter of life and death. When a unit of government (with the exception of the U.S. Congress) finds itself low on funds, they have two choices — cut somewhere or go to the people for additional funds. If trus tees cannot identify appropriate cuts, perhaps a tax increase is required. Considering Plymouth Township has the fewest mills of any in the surrounding area, possibly an increase is in order. Step up, trustees, make the unpopular decision. If not additional funds, then cut, but not where a human life might be in the balance.

When we pay taxes, the last budget items we taxpayers want cut are those that may affect us most directly - our personal safety. Please keep station No. 3 open and our police department fully staffed.

It would indeed be an unexcusable tragedy if a single life is lost because a fire engine or ambulance had to journey from the other side of Plymouth, past an existing unused facility, to complete a run and they were too late.

State produce is real tastefest

emember when you were a kid and your parents would drive down a country road and see a sign that said "Fresh sweet

They'd pull over and buy a few ears, then see those juicy peaches that looked so inviting and, before you'd know it, they'd "bought the farm."

Fresh fruits and vegetables grown in this area are not only a treat at this time of year, but they are probably better for you than produce grown anywhere else.

Michigan has some of the toughest food-safety standards in the nation, thanks to a 25-year effort to control pesticides in the state's food supply, according to Michigan Department of Agriculture Director Bill Schuette.

Out shopping: A shopper fills her bag with produce at an area farm market.

That should be food for thought when you check out the Farmington Farmer's Market or the farmers' markets in Livonia, Canton or Plymouth on a Saturday morning.

While it's nice to have the choice of fruit and vegetables from sunny California or Texas when you can't get them here, Michigan has the most variety of any state its size, and at this time of year, those fresh beans, tomatoes, corn and cucumbers are plentiful and inexpensive.

Because farmers truck in their own produce, consumers save a lot of money on high-quality fruits and vegetables while supporting the area's agriculture.

And according to results of testing by the state's department of agriculture in 1992, 100 percent of Michigan fruit and vegetable samples had no or very low detectable pesticide residue levels. That puts Michigan at the head of the class when it comes to consumer protection, a goal the National Academy of Sciences targeted in a recent study.

Those impressive results include foods frequently eaten by children - baby food, apples, grapes and milk. The state also updates its testing methods to make them even more sensitive to pesticides and other chemicals that can get into the food supply.

New farming practices in Michigan that decrease the need for pesticides were used on 36,000 acres, reducing the use of pesticides by 22,000 pounds.

So your parents were right to shop locally for farm products. Farmers' markets are not only a bargain, they are the right choice to make when the emphasis is on healthy eating.

And the tradition of a car ride in the country is worth preserving not just for families anymore, but for the bumper crop of those singles and young 'uns who suffered through Mother Nature's angst last winter.

Time to rethink teachers' salary goals

urry up please it's time. School districts across our communities are firing pink slips in all directions as they scurry to operate within their budgets, a requirement under Michigan law

What this means, if it's allowed to happen, is that the newest teachers, fresh out of college and brimming with enthusiasm, will again be victims under the seniority system that is the heart and soul of unionization. In fact, as many as two of them will be pushed out to save a single job at the top where the highest paid teachers may be making twice as much as those at the bottom of the salary scale.

Many of these highly paid teachers are worth every penny. Not only do they treasure their role in the classroom and the students they have helped to fulfill their potential, but they also serve as mentors and examples for new teachers.

Probably as many aren't worth a dime. They dread the end of summer vacation as they count the school days until their retirement. They haven't changed their lesson plans for years and fail to give students enough work or encouragement. They eye new teachers with suspicion and jealousy. And their attitudes and shortcomings are well-known to the students they pretend to teach.

The headlines are all over our newspapers. "Board eyes dipping into surplus" shouts the Rochester Eccentric. 'Schools find money to recall 16" say the Plymouth and Canton Observers. "School cuts down to the wire," cries the Livonia Observer. "School board cuts 150 jobs" reports the Southfield Eccentric.

Hurry up please it's time. It's time for teachers to do their part

- to recognize they are among the few people in this country who have enjoyed yearly pay hikes in this recession/ depression; to recognize that if either there's no room for new teachers or that new teachers are hired on and promptly laid off, their profession will deteriorate and children will lose.

Some local teachers unions are defying past practice and facing reality.

Community Schools agreed to reopen their contract to take reduced raises. Instead of the 6-percent hikes they negotiated for 1993-94 they'll get 3.9 percent, 4.9 percent the following year.

For example, a teacher with a master's degree and 10 years of service in the district will get $1,199 less than he or she would have received. That teacher currently earns $57,106 a year. They'll earn $59,333 this coming year.

Overall, the cuts will save the district about $1 million, which should result in fewer layoffs.

Although the Rochester teachers union downplayed the pay rollback, in fact it is to the best of my knowledge a first for any of our suburban districts.

Meanwhile, Troy School District teachers, who went through a bitter strike during the last contract negotiations, this time signed a three-year contract six months ahead of expira-

Times alter perceptions of school-related problems

QUESTION: As one of your former high school students who graduated in the late '50s, I enjoyed having you for classes. But as I look at what is going on in schools today, it makes me wonder. What are the major differences in school from when we were a small town to now with our exploding population growth?

ANSWER: I've pulled out a list of teacher-perceived problems from a high school principal/teacher's meeting. The list of major problems discussed at that meeting in 1957 included students: 1. throwing paper in the waste basket; 2. running in the halls; 3. not bringing books to class; 4. chewing gum in class; 5. being late for class; 6. having an unexcused absence; 7. talking back to the teacher; 8. team teaching; and 9. taking field trips.

Following are some of the issues presently discussed at teacher/principal meetings in our enlightened, modern culture: 1. guns in school; 2 how to detect students on LSD and cocaine; 3. gangs and their goals; 4. should we teach the use of condoms and should we hand them out; 5. the importance of having an open door policy and a witness if you meet alone with a student;

6. what constitutes sexual harassment, i.e. a third grade boy lifting a girl's shirt on the playground, telling a peer female teacher an off-colored joke; 7. how to deal with an angry student cursing you; and 8. how to deal with a physical attack on you.

Yes, times have changed. Back in the late '50s, when you were a student, my colleagues and I, as young teachers, said and did things that would have put us in front of a judge, if not in jail,

For instance, I remember two expelled 17-year-olds (one ended in Jackson, the other shot and killed) crashed a school dance and began intimidating young freshmen and sophomores. I walked them out to the hallway and asked them to leave. They refused. I sent a student to get the football coach, a huge man. One of the expelled gate crashers got behind me with an empty Coke bottle and was ready to split my head open.

The football coach arrived in time, picked up the one behind me (with the Coke bottle), dragged him to the door (which I opened) and threw him head first into a six-foot snow bank.

As a young teacher, I taugist science, math and some gym classes in the junior high. I had a big, tough (for that era) junior high kid — about 165 pounds - in gym class who would knock eye glasses off smaller boys in the locker room and step on them. I didn't warn him; I caught him. He said nasty words. I turned him around and hit him with an open hand in the kisser hard enough that if he had been on Roller Blades, he would still be rolling. A few years later, he ended in jail.

I was not proud of this action, nor was I a young, macho man. I just blew a fuse! I'm sorry he ended in jail and I visited him on occasion. But I know this: He didn't pick on any smaller kids in my class. My classroom was a safe environment. After the incident,

He was the only kid I ever struck. Even as a 25-year-old, I instinctively knew this was not the way to handle such situations.

Today, that football coach who threw the punk (excuse me, socially maladjusted child) into a snow bank would be in court. I can hear it now, "How do you know he was going to strike Mr. Doyle with the Coke bottle? Was Mr. Doyle struck with the bottle"? Answer

Yes, the football coach and I lose in today's society — possibly lose our jobs and face a heavy lawsuit. Times have changed, some say for the better.

Today I would never slap nor grab a kid, never have a conference with a female student without witnesses nearby, never hug a 13-year-old middle school student - male or female, and if a kid cursed me, I'd tell him to go to the office. There we would work out his inhibitions and rationalize how evil society has been to him, how outdated respect is, how rules and regulations can be made up as we go along.

Times have changed, I guess for the good. What do you think?

Arrogant attitudes are unfair to school district taxpayers

ocal educational leaders are having a tough time living with the democratic process.

After getting walloped a couple of times last month with the defeat of Proposal A, and a few weeks later with millage defeats, they find themselves faced with following through on their own threats.

This is the season of which Michigan taxpayers are most weary.

The maelstrom is upon us with promises of washing out the most sacred of cows: sports, band, academically talented programs, after school activities, new textbooks, busing and - horror of horrors — cutting back classes by one hour.

The latter is paraded out, of course, to scare parents into believing they will have to face the choice of either letting their children wander the streets alone or a parent giving up a job and having to sell the suburban dream home.

Lower tactics have yet to be imagined by Lucifer, himself. But voters are fed up with the educational blackmail, the exploitation of their children all for the sake of school bureaucrats maintaining their petty fiefdoms.

Tough words, true. But taxpayers are tired of the charade. Looking through the local editions of the Observer & Eccentric, letters abound from those who rankle at the arrogance.

Dan Holton exemplifies this disgust. The Plymouth Township resident wonders why, after voters turned down a millage increase in June, the school board arrogantly comes back with a millage election in August.

fund that pays people to quote the Bible in commercial papers, awarded $1,000 to Rev. Jerry Paradise for an article tracing all current evils to 1962 and the U.S. Supreme Court's school prayer decision.

'Our national SAT scores verify this," wrote Paradise, an assistant pastor at Calvary Chapel of Philadelphia. Violent crime, up 554 percent. Sexually transmitted diseases, up 226 percent. The divorce rate, teen pregnancies, the unwed birth rate, sexual abuse of children - all began rising in 1963.

Reason: "We made it unconstitutional to ask God for help in our schools, and tragically, it looks like He honored our request."

Pat Robertson, the TV evangelist, is using that line in his current fund-raising campaign.

They exaggerate, of course. The Supreme Court said the New York State Board of Regents, "a governmental agency," couldn't establish a government prayer in public schools. The court never said we couldn't pray for the schools. (Engel v. Vitale, 370 U.S. 421.)

A far different view comes from Forbes Magazine's June 7 article on the National Education Association. A graph shows teacher unionization starting at zero in 1961 and rising to 80 percent currently; SAT verbal scores dropped from 480 to 423 in the same period.

Forbes hopes you will connect the two and conclude that unionization caused pupil scores to fall. It never offers a shred of evidence of a cause and effect relationship.

Ditto with the religious right's connection between the school prayer decision and a Pandora's box of social ills. No one shows how ending governmental prayers actually caused the increase in ills. You're supposed to jump to the unproven conclusion yourself.

If there were a connection, how would they explain falling SAT scores and rising illegitimacy rates in Michigan and states which never had governmental prayer in public schools? What happens when you isolate the sins and crimes among graduates of parochial schools where prayer, presumably, did occur?

You see the pitfall of taking two events that occur about the same time and assuming there's a link.

In days of yore, specialists studied the link between the stars at the

The first batch of kids raised entirely on mind-rotting television graduated from our high schools. Visual imagery and ad slogans replaced paragraphs and statistics as tools of thought. The United States got sucked into an Asian land war it couldn't win. Veterans felt they had fought in vain and weren't appreciated. All authority found itself challenged.

Long before prayer was privatizedand teachers unions rose to prominence, Fortune magazine spotted a phenomenon it called "social dynamite" - young black males, without fathers, and lacking repect for female-run education, cutting loose in our urban centers.

Some economic conservatives blame the Great Society welfare state, which paid women for raising babies without male help. There's a clear connection between a fatherless kid, poor school scores and prison populations.

Ira Levin found his own explanation. In "Rosemary's Baby," the horned son of Satan is born at New York City on June 25, 1965. Levin's book is fiction, but some days one

Liquor bill sparks debate

Schoolcraft may qualify for full-year license

Schoolcraft College and four other Michigan colleges could qualify for full-year liquor licenses under a hotly debated bill passed by the state Senate.

Senate Bill 83 won a bare 20-14 victory recently and was sent to the House, where action is unlikely before fall.

"Two weeks ago we took the smokers out of the schools. Now we're gonna let the drunks into the colleges," said opponent Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo.

"We're not setting up drinking places for students," replied supporter Robert Geake, R-Northville. "Schoolcraft College has one of the best culinary arts centers in the U.S." Geake called serving of wines "absolutely appropriate and has nothing to do with student par-chairman of Schoolcraft, a community college. Schoolcraft has served dinners to both political parties. It hosts a series of gourmet dinners that are advertised by word of mouth and are usually sellouts.

But opponent Doug Carl, R-Utica, equated the bill with rising casualty costs, acts of vio-lence and broken homes. "It sends a bad message," he said.

"There will be nowhere near the horrors described by the Prohibitionists here," added supporter Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills. "These are the convention facilities of a civilized society."

"They can get a 24-hour license," said opponent Jim Berryman, D-Adrian.

That is what Schoolcraft and other colleges with banquet facilities currently do. The bill would remove the need for oneday applications and allow the licensing of college-related conference centers.

Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, who said he never has touched beer, wine or whiskey in his life, sponsored the bill on behalf of Lake Michigan Community College. With the demise of major hotels in downtown St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, LMC set up a business conference center.

Otherwise, said Gast, there isn't a good spot unless one travels 35 miles to South Bend or 50 miles to Kalamazoo.

As the bill came through the State Affairs Committee, others were added to the list: Eastern Michigan University's corporate education center, Schoolcraft's Waterman Center and Macomb Community College.

On the Senate floor, Phil-Hoffman, R-Jackson, sought to have Jackson Community College's Potter Center added to the list. On first try, Hoffman got only 13 votes, with 20 needed. So Hoffman voted against the entire bill, and it lost.

An hour later, supporters cut a deal with Hoffman. Jackson was added, Hoffman supported the bill, and it had the necessary 20 votes.

Here's how area senators

No - none, though Hart later tried to get a second reconsideration and lost.

Absent - Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

A secondary issue was whether the publicly supported colleges will compete with private business.

The 1993 All-Observer softball team represents the last high school hurrah for one of the area's all-time great players: Plymouth Canton pitcher Kelly Holmes.

The future University of Michigan player is one of only a few athletes to make an all-area team four times.

Holmes, a straight-A student, also won the Michigan High School Athletic Association scholar/athlete award in softball this year.

She compiled a 73-12 record, 958 strikeouts and 0.49 earned-run average during her career. Holmes also hurled 15 no-hitters and had 21 onehit efforts. She pitched a total of 610 innings.

Canton teammate and shortstop Dani Mortiere, who also played four years on the varsity, is the only other all-area repeat first-team selection.

Livonia Churchill pitcher Karen Jose and catcher Chrissy Daly and Livonia Ladywood pitcher Mary Jo Kelly made the second team last year and are among the top 12 players in Lisa Parsons, who guided Livonia Ladywood to the Central Division title and a Class A district championship in her first year, was named Coach of the Year. The Blazers were 22-12-1.

FIRST TEAM

Kelly Holmes, pitcher, Plymouth Canton The future University of Michigan pitcher completed an outstanding four-year career with a fine senior season.

Holmes was 20-3 with 321 strikeouts in 165 innings, and her earned-run average was 0.20. She allowed 43 hits and 15 walks.

She led the Chiefs to their second-straight Western Lakes Activities Association championship this year and a runner-up finish in the Class A tournament last year. Holmes will play in the high school all-star game Saturday, July 31, in East Lansing.

'She's done everything for us," coach Jim Arnold said. "She's a team player and a lead-er in every respect. I'm sure she'll walk into U-M and contribute right from the beginning.

'She helped us in many ways, not just in pitching but with the bat, her attitude and also helping the younger girls.'

Mary Jo Kelly, pitcher, Ladywood: Kelly led the Blazers into the Catholic League and Class A regional playoffs. She was 22-11 with a 1.07 earned-run average. She had 257 strikeouts and 89 walks in 235 innings.

Kelly also figured prominently in the Ladywood batting order, hitting .313 with 31 hits. Her 12 extra-base hits included seven triples and one home run. The All-Catholic player also scored 24 runs and had 30 RBI. Her on-base and fielding percentages were .500 and .973, respectively

'She's real consistent, a real solid player,' Parsons said, "and she's always a threat when she's at the plate. She was a leader on our team, being one of two seniors."

Karen Jose, pitcher, Churchill: Jose compiled a 15-3 record, with all three losses being to Canton. She posted six shutouts and threw one no-hitter.

In 126 innings, she had 187 strikeouts and only 22 walks. Jose also had an impressive 0.78 earned-run average.

She also was one of Churchill's top hitters, batting .339. In 20 games, she had 21 hits (five doubles and two triples) and 13 RBI. Jose led the defense in assists with 32.

'She's a strong pitcher with good control,' coach Dana Hardwidge said. "She worked hard in the off-season to improve her pitching selection. Her strength has to be her consistency. She's really good at hitting the cor-

RBI (16). She had two doubles, one triple and one home run.

Daly, who had a .463 on-base average, was 44-of-46 in stolen bases the past two years and was successful every time this year.

"She made people nervous when she was at the plate," Hardwidge said. "She put a lot of pressure on infields. Defensively, she has a guick release, and teams didn't attempt to steal much on her.

"Chrissy was a big part of our success the past two seasons. She was always a threat defensively and offensively because of her speed and aggressiveness.

Danielle Mortiere, Infielder, Canton: The senior shortstop was a mainstay in the field along with teammate Kate Strahan for most of her high school career.

Mortiere batted .362 this year, scored 27 runs and had 21 RBI. Her 34 hits include six doubles, one triple and two home runs. She was 18-of-20 in stolen bases. Mortiere made only four errors at a demanding defensive po-

Canton duo leads Concealed

Concealed Security scored five runs in the first inning and that's all that was needed Tuesday to beat Kensington Valley, 5-2, in a Little Caesar Connie Mack baseball game at Madonna Park.

Concealed starting pitcher Craig Benedict (Plymouth Canton) cruised to his fifth win in six decisions, scattering four hits and striking out six. Benedict struggled with control, however, walking eight.

Eric Marcotte (Canton) and Tim White (two RBI) each went 2-for-3 to lead Concealed. Craigh Peterson (Madonna) had one hit and an RBI.

The win kept Concealed in the hunt for the league championship with a 5-1 record. Concealed plays at NFWB 2 tonight at 6 p.m. and at Plymouth Canton at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Concealed hosts NFWB 1 at 1 p.m. Sunday at Madonna.

Concealed traveled to Cincinnati last weekend to play some of the finest Connie Mack talent in the country.

Concealed finished with a 1-5 record, including a double-header loss to Cincinnati Midland, the defending national champion and the best team in the nation five of the last 10 years.

Concealed lost to Midland, 8-6 and 14-4. Peterson made a big impression, however, going 7-19 for the tournament with three homers, including two against Concealed split a doubleheader with Grand Rapids, winning the first 8-1 and losing the second 8-1. White finished 7-17 at the plate and also was Concealed's only winning pitch-

Summer hockey players fight heat

Barbecuing is nice but no doubt the coolest places to be over Fourth of July weekend were the ice rinks that host the Metro Summer Hockey League.

The MSHL got into full gear despite the holiday weekend with three games played Monday followed by two on Tuesday.

The Wildcats moved into sole possession of first place at 3-0 (six points) in the Bakes Conference (which seems like a proper name considering the recent heat wave) with Monday's 13-1 victory over the Spartans.

Redford Bishop Borgess graduate Larry Pilut was missing from the Spartans' lineup but it wouldn't have mattered much the way Bobby Davis played, scoring three goals with two assists. Dave Matthews added a goal and four assists.

Brian Schemotti had the Spartans' lone goal.

The Spartans remained in second place in the Bakes at 2-2 with skins. Jim Mitchell, from Wayne, scored the hat trick and Matt Corriveau of Livonia had a goal and five assists. Jeff Mitchell, also of Wayne, a recent thirdround draft pick of the NHL's Los Angeles Kings, had two goals and two assists.

"We atoned a little from the debacle a day ago," Spartans' coach A.J. Baker said.

The Bulldogs, meanwhile, notched their first win of the season, 8-5, over the Lakers on Monday. The Bulldogs (1-2) and Lakers (1-3) are tied for last place in the Bakes with two points each but the Bulldogs have a game in hand.

Chris Smith, formerly of Plymouth who plays at Michigan State, led the Bulldogs with two goals and an assist. Matt Allen had three assists.

The Huskies scored a goal with 3:39 left in the third period to break an 8-8 tie and beat the Wolves 9-8 in an Eagle Conference game. The Huskies have five points at 2-0-1 in the Eagle, one point behind the first place Broncos 43-1, six points).

Grant Patterson scored four goals and assisted on another for the Huskies. Matt Brush and Tim Vosnick led the Wolves with three goals each.

The Broncos moved into sole possession of first place in the Eagle with a 14-5 win over the Lakers. The Broncos have six points and a 3-1 record.

Darin Evans had four goals for the Broncos. Tim Osborn added two goals and four assists and Keith Aldridge of West Bloomfield had four assists.

The high-scoring games should continue, according to Baker, who doubles as league commissioner.

"There are a couple defensemen who stay home and an occasional forward who busts his butt for 40 seconds and gets back on defense but everyone knows it's an offensive game," Baker said. "The goalies love it. They want more action.

Tuesday's 10-4 win over the Red-Schoolcraft site of soccer tournament

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

It will never match World Cup proportions, but the 14th running of the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association Ford Wolverine Soccer Tournament is going to be quite a jamboree.

Over 130 teams will converge this weekend on Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Teams from Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Ontario will vie for boys and girls age-group titles in competitive and recreational divi-

All-day action begins at 8 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The divisional finals are scheduled to go off at 9 a.m. Monday. (Livonia's Bicentennial Park will also host games.)

Boys competitive titles up for grabs include under-11, -12, -13, -14, -15, -16, -17 and -19. The Michigan Wolves, MSYSA Cup under-17 champs, will be in the field. Boys recreational titles will also be decided for under-10, -12 and -14. Girls competitive crowns on the line include under-12, -14 and -

"We appreciate the fact that both Schoolcraft and the Livonia

Parks and Recreation Department have donated their facilities." said Irene Saucedo-Smith, tourney director and president of the MSYSA. "This is the only tourney our organization runs in the state. The money we raise goes toward our Olympic Development Program.'

Chiquita Challenge

Rick Davis, former 10-year captain of the U.S. National Team, will conduct the Chiquita Challenge, a soccer skills competition, from noon to 3 p.m. Saturday at Schoolcraft College. The challenge is being held conjunction with the MSYSA Wolverine Soccer Tournament.

Davis, now 34, played for the New York Cosmos where he was named North American Soccer League Player of the Year (1979).

He is currently involved with national team development and broadcasting.

The Chiquita Challenge is a test of soccer skills, combining ball control, dribbling, passing, and shooting elements in a single training course.

The event is open to youngsters ages 6-14. Competition will be broken up into eight age groups: boys and girls 8-and-under, 10and-under, 12-and-under, and 14and-under.

Registration includes a free Chiquita T-shirt and a Rick Davis autographed photo (with Chiquita proofs-of-purchase).

Other soccer prizes to be given away include a complete and authentic U.S. World Cup Team uniform (courtesy of Adidas and Soccer Corner and Soccer Locker). Drawings will take hourly during the challenge.

Registration forms are available at Soccer Corner and Soccer Locker and at all participating area Meijer stores.

Completed sign-up forms should be brought to the Chiquita tent from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Schoolcraft College, which is located off Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile roads.

a dependable batter. The senior second baseman and Mortiere formed the area's best keystone combination the past three Strahan made only two errors and had a .983 fielding percentage. She hit .330, scored 34 runs and had seven RBI. She had 32 hits and was on base 50 percent of the time.

'She's probably the best second baseman I've seen at Canton," Arnold said. 'She's a steady player. She wants to play all the time, wants to be in the position to knock in the winning run. She plays extremely well under pressure."

Jenny Kintz, outfleider, Garden City: The team most valuable player set a school record for single-season RBI with 65 in 32 games, breaking the record of 44 by Krystal Matesic.

Kintz batted .400 and scored 39 runs. Her 46 hits included seven doubles, 13 triples and six home runs - the last two being school records, also. She will play enry Ford Community College.

"Jenny is by far the best power hitter we've ever had," coach Barry Patterson said. "She's very powerful, yet fast; and she has an aggressive style of play. She hit in every big situation. She is certainly a big-time player.

Lisa Rozum, outfielder, Ladywood: The sophomore center fielder was the leadoff batter and made things happen for the Blazers. The switch-hitting Rozum hit .266, received 23 walks and scored 30 runs.

She struck out just 10 times in 113 atbats. She made only three errors in the outfield and had a .900 fielding percentage while making 35 putouts. Rozum made the All-Catholic and all-district

Amanda Tubaugh, outflelder, Salem: Tubaugh finished her career with an outstanding senior season. She batted .468, scored 29 runs and had 42 RBI. Her hits included 10 doubles, five triples and two home runs. "Amanda was the real leader on the team," coach Al Campbell said. "She was real dedicated and came every day to play. She was always the first one on field, the last one off the field. She's a prime example of someone you really want to coach. 'She struggled her junior year but came back as a senior, really put her mind to it and worked really hard. She had a lot of achievements; she hit the ball well and fielded well."

a real nice one." The lunker made another run for deep water, doing its best to shake the hook. But Sanders' patient persistence won over in the end as I slipped the net beneath a beautiful 20-1/2inch, five-pound largemouth bass.

"What a beautiful fish," Sanders exclaimed. "He's a nice one, but he's not the one I wanted. Seconds later the bass swished its tail as he bade us farewell and disappeared back into the murky water below the boat.

In the past, a night spent in hot pursuit of walleye on the St. Clair River was enough to pacify Sanders' angling urges, but not any more. That all came to an end a few years ago when he fished in his first bass tournament. "I sold my walleye boat and bought a bass boat," Sanders explained. "Walleye fishing is a lot of fun and I still enjoy it, but bass fishing is great, too. I really like the excitement of bass tournaments."

Excitement is what Sanders wanted and excitement is exactly what he got.

The Southfield resident registered last fall for the Goodyear/ Bassin' Big Bass World Championship. The BBWC, billed as the 'World's Richest Fishing Tournament," runs Sept. 1-July 15. Anglers enter their largest single bass caught during the tournament dates. The winner (biggest fish) from each state in the country wins an all-expense-paid trip to the Big Bass World Championship Tournament on Tennessee's Percy Piest Lake, featuring a top prize of $250,000.

Way back on Sept. 1, opening day of the tournament, Sanders caught another monster largemouth from the same lake on his very last cast of the day." The bass measured 211/2 inches, tipped the scale at 6.5 pounds, and gave Sanders an early lead in the Michigan Division of the BBWC. Last year an 8-pounder won the division. Two years ago a 7-pounder won and three years ago a 51/2-pounder won. With just one week left in the tournament, Sanders remains in the lead as the excitement and tension mount.

"The fishing has been tough this year because of the cold spring," Sanders said. "But I'm really not counting on that sixand-a-half-pounder to hold up. There are some big bass in here and I'd like to catch one for a little insurance.

Which is exactly why Sanders was out on his favorite lake recently, "looking for that 10-poun-

The lake, which is more of a large pond perched in the midst of an affluent subdivision, has produced a number of large fish for Sanders.

"My best day was six 5-pounders, some fours, threes, twos and ones, all catch-and-release, of course," he explained.

As we headed out in his 8-foot plastic Bass Hunter Sanders explained the lake held a variety of fish — including a number of "big pike." He suggested I try a rubber worm or a jig with a rubber skirt as opposed to a crankbait to lessen the odds of hooking up with a feisty, heavy-toothed pike.

It was midday as we launched the boat, and before I could tie a three-pound largemouth. "This is an average one," he said, as he released the fish. Five casts later he had a similar fish on the line. The real monsters weren't cooperating this day, but we managed to bring better than 20 bass to the boat. The largest weighed close to five pounds while most were in the 21/4- to 31/4-pound

"There's at least one bass in here that could be a state record," Sanders explained. "Between myself and two friends we have hooked and lost this fish four times. There's no way to be sure until someone catches him, but he could be close to 10 pounds. He's got to be 28 inches long. He's twice as big as that five-pounder.

So far six-and-a half pounds has been big enough for Sanders. If his luck holds up, he'll be fishing for 10-pounders in Tennessee.

New company to present 'Godspell'

BARBARA

When the rock musical "Godspell" begins a four-week run at the Birmingham Theatre on July 8 it will also be the debut of Stage Door Productions, an independent company of regional talent.

MICHALS Based on the Gospel according to St.

Matthew, "Godspell" takes a look at Jesus' lifetime. In keeping with the Biblical theme, one could say that the Birmingham Theatre "begat" Stage Door Productions.

Members of the Birmingham's backstage crew formed the new company to provide employment during summer months when nearly every major theater in the metropolitan Detroit area is shut down.

James Manduzzi, the producer of "Godspell," is the production manager for the Birmingham Theatre during the regular season.

Paul Hopper, the show's director, has been an actor at Meadow Brook Theatre for the past 11 years. He has also been an assistant stage manager at the Birmingham Theatre, acted and directed with the Attic Theatre.

"It's harder than ever to find work in Michigan due to cuts in the state's arts budget," said Hopper during a recent interview at the Birmingham Theatre offices. "Sometimes even local producers think they can't find sufficient talent here, but it's just not true. There's a real talent base out there; just look at all the stars with Detroit-area origins."

In addition to Hopper, the creative team for "Godspell" includes musical director Dan Roth of Southfield, and choreographer Wendy Shapero of West Bloomfield. Eddie Sugarman of Southfield and Lynne Sherwood of Birmingham are among the cast members. Only two are from out of

While Stage Door Productions at present plans only summer shows, Roth said he hopes they might also inspire other fledgling companies.

A recent graduate of Wayne State University with a degree in acting, Roth comes from a musical family.

days, through Aug. 1. Tickets: Range $15 to $19.50 per ticket. Tickets for 2 p.m. Thursday, July 8 performance are $9.50. Tickets available at the Birmingham Theatre box office, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Ticketmaster outlets. Call 644-3533. and said he finds his musicality surfacing more and more. His mother is a music and vocal coach at Birney Middle School in Southfield, and recently Roth helped her form a jazz combo of sixth graders. He has also done musical direction for the Hilberry Theatre and composed for the Attic.

"Godspell," chosen by the producer with advice from the Birmingham Theatre staff, reflects the renewed interest in 1960s rock operas. "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" recently had a major revival in Toronto. "Jesus Christ Superstar," had a successful revival at the Birmingham a few seasons back, and "Tommy" is currently a big hit on Broadway.

Hopper and Roth found they shared the same ideas about updating the music. "Godspell" first opened in 1971, with Stephen Schwartz's music and lyrics encompassing rock, folk

"We're trying to bring the 1960s rock sound up to the 1990s," Roth said. "I'm re-treating many of the numbers. Giving a reggae sound to 'We Beseech Thee' is about the most radical departure, but I have many tricks up my sleeve.

"The show is easy to update," Hopper said. "This time it will be set in an old abandoned theater. We'll update the make-up and references to popular culture. The show works best in a small house, but we'll compensate by having cast members working out in the audience."

That's a formula that has worked well at the Birmingham for both 'Nunsense I and II,' "Roth added.

Hopper sees the ensemble as both the production's greatest strength and greatest problem. "This is not a star vehicle; everyone in the cast gets a solo but otherwise serves as backup and is on stage at all times," he said. "I have great faith in this cast, but I've only got two weeks of rehearsals to get everyone working as a

The orchestra will be on stage instead of in the pit, and Roth will be the drummer as well as conductor. Shapero is the choreographer, and in the cast. Everyone connected with the production is juggling many jobs on both sides of the curtain.

The advantages are two-fold, Hopper said. "We're doing everything possible to save money, and the more experience an actor has in many aspects of theater the more marketable he is in today's tough job market."

Barbara Michals is an inveterate playgoer who regularly catches up on all the New York productions.

Bernie's back, and still dead, in new comedy

'Weekend at Bernie's II," the sequel to the 1989 summer hit, comes to the big screen Friday, July 9. Andrew McCarthy, Jonathan Silverman and Terry Kiser reprise their roles while Robert Klane, who wrote the first "Bernie's," returns as both writer and director. Barry Bostwick, Troy Beyer, Tom Wright and Steve James round out the cast.

Victor Drai, who also produced the first "Bernie's," and Joseph Perez are the producers. Angiolo Stella is the executive producer of the film, a TriStar Pictures and Victor Drai Productions presentation of an ArtimM Production.

the late Bernie Lomax (Terry Kiser), junior insurance executives Larry Wilson (Andrew McCarthy) and Richard Parker (Jonathan Silverman) return to New York City.

Dropping Lomax's body off at the morgue, they report to their insurance headquarters only to discover that they've been fired. Not only does the company suspect them of helping Lomax embezzle $2 million, but it's assigned persistent investigator Arthur Hummel (Barry Bostwick) to trail them until they reveal the location of the lost funds.

Stunned by the circumstances - they expected promotions, not severance pay - Larry and Richard resort to drastic measures. With a vital clue in hand — a mysterious safe deposit box key capade on Hampton Island with linked to a Virgin Islands bank -

they head for the West Indies to recover the money and clear their

But they're not traveling alone .. they've had to sneak back into the morgue, nab Bernie's body and bring him along for the ride, because the bank will only deal with Bernie in the flesh.

Unbeknownst to them, the mob haś its own plans for poor Bernie Lomax, plans which involve the sinister arts practiced by a Virgin Island priestess of black magic. The Mobu, as she is called, knows a magic ritual that will get Bernie back on his feet. Once he's ambulatory, the bad guys think he'll lead them to the missing $2 mil-

The trouble is the Mobu entrusts the task of carrying out the ritual to two bumblers (Tom Wright and Steve James), who accidentally put a completely unforeseen spin on the magic.

Will Bernie end up helping

Larry and Richard, or the mob? Will the two friends find the cash in time before Richard runs afoul of a deadly ritual?

Will our heroes be able to keep Inspector Hummel at bay while they search frantically for the missing loot? Will Larry ever get a date with island beauty (Troy Beyer)? And what will Bernie Lomax do next?

As Richard and Larry race against time, mysterious rites and mob killers, these questions are answered in one of the wackiest comedy escapades in years.

"Weekend at Bernie's II," is rated PG (Parental Guidance Suggested: Some Material May Not be Suitable for Pre-Teens).

Opens Friday at these suburban movie theaters: Americana West, AMC Laurel Park, AMC Southfield City, General Cinema Canton, Quo Vadis, Showcase Auburn Hills, Star Rochester and United Artists West River.

Unfortunately, the new film version may disappoint the book's many fans while he less-well-read (myself included) will wonder what all the adoation was about in the first place.

"The Firm" sinks in its own importance. While director Sydney Pollack and his battery of writers ("Chinatown's" Robert Towne among them) reportedly made changes, they should have gone farther to ensure that the movie wouldn't become the cinematic equivalent of a longwinded legal document.

enough as Mitch (Tom Cruise) and his wife Abby (Jeanne Tripplehorn) have second thoughts about their newfound dream life. The firm prides itself on promoting family values and encouraging the stability that comes from children. Abby should be grateful that company wives "aren't discouraged" from having jobs.

The young lawyers especially have the glassy-eyed gaze of pod people from "Invasion of the Body Snatchers." They've been taken over, not by aliens, not by Communists, but by the epic greed that we often associate with the legal profession.

When a pair of partners die during a diving mishap, Mitch finds himself at the center of intrigue. He's torn between government agents who want him to testify and the legal oath that states he must protect the secrets of his firm and its clients.

"The Firm" climaxes with a TV movie-style chase through city streets between Mitch, the hardnosed security chief (Wilford Brimley) and his evil whitehaired assistant (Tobin Bell).

A movie this big has the luxury and Star Rochester.

of recruiting top-flight actors even for smaller parts. Gene Hackman brings his usual edge to Avery, the suave, likable but jaded partner who Mitch knows he could easily become in time.

Cruise, meanwhile, proves with this and "A Few Good Men" that he was born to play green Ivy League attorneys taking on the big boys. You wonder if he's capable of doing anything light again.

Wilford Brimley, Hal Holbrook, Gary Busey, Holly Hunter, David Strathairn, and Ed Harris flesh out the many character roles. But when Paul Sorvino ("GoodFellas") arrives as a Mafia kingpin, the movie almost degenerates into an unintentional parody.

Despite the best efforts of a talented cast, "The Firm's" downside rests mostly on Pollack, the director of "Out of Africa" and 'Havana." Wowed by the seeming importance of Grisham's book, he stretches a mildly clever premise to over 21/2 hours.

In addition to "Day By Day," Stephen Schwartz's lyrics and music include "We Beseech Thee," "On The Willows," and "Turn Back, O Man," ranging from rock to folk to jazz rhythms.

Although the show takes a witty and entertaining look at Jesus' time, Shapero said it's not just about religion.

Volunteers, restaurant owners jam for festival

night-only fundraiser for Birmingham Community House, the inaugural Jazzfest '93 will now feature an ebullient array of local jazz artists in its three day schedule, July

"It's now a festival in the truest sense of the word," said Lesley Drolet, Jazzfest '93's director of public relations. "We hope to have people everywhare in the streets, happy and moving from place to place. The idea really came out of the Community house fund development program. The original plan called for one night of jazz at the Community House - period."

The festival will run 5-9 p.m. Thursday, July 29; 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and pick up at participating Birmingham restaurants throughout the evening Friday, July 30; and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and throughout the evening at participating Birmingham restaurants, Saturday, July 31.

Comprehensive festival passes are just $20; patron passes which include a champagne and afterglow at the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham are $50.

Tickets can be obtained by calling 433-FEST, or at the Birmingham Community House, 380 South Bates, the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce, 189 W. Merrill, all participating restaurants, or any Ticketmaster outlet.

Given how rapidly and quietly the event was developed, the list of scheduled performers is more than representative of metro Detroit's divergent jazz styles - it's amazing, a compendium of this area's most time-honored jazz performers.

'We thougt 'Let's put music in places that should have music,' said Dawn Rassel, chairman of the Jazzfest '93 committee. "People can see different acts in unique settings with some real intimacy. I hope intially for the obvious — that it brings people into town for those three days. Then i hope they leave saying, 'Birmingham is fabulous,' And lastly, I hope it becomes an example of the kind of event that can happen when different organizations collaborate.

Among those scheduled to appear are - big band trumpeter, Johnny Trudell, Ursula Walker and Buddy Budson, the Paul Vornhagen Trio, singer Shelia Landis, boogie woogie piano master, Mr. B. Charles and Gwen Scales and the venerable Harold McKinney.

"Johnny Trudell is a great foundation for any event," said Rassel. "Then you look at a guy like Mr. B. Here's a guy who's virtually carrying an entire genre boogie woogie piano — and has become one of the best at it in the country.'

Presented by the Birmingham Community House, in conjunction with the Birmingham Restaurant Collection, Jazzfest '93 promises to be a joyously inclusive indoor/outdoor event.

"One of the things that is unique about this is that we're using local talent, yet it's talent of a world class caliber," said Drolet. "From a business standpoint, the restaurant collection is only two years old and already they're working on a major project. This all came together since April. It speaks to the dedication of those involved. It's a true coalition of people.

Corporate sponsors include the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Chrysler, Time Inc., AAA, Gail and Rice Productions, Kelly Services, Machus Sly Fox, Merrill Lynch, Selectcare and the Handleman Charitable Foundation; proceeds will go to fund varied projects coordinated by the Community House.

"As a resident of Birmingham, the Jazzfest is something that simply makes our community a nicer place to live," said Kevin Sterling, a member of the Community House Steering Committee. "There aren't a bunch of people taking down big promotional dollars. It's the community workng - volunteering - to make this a better place.

"Montreaux Detroit is really the anchor for jazz festivals in this area," said Rassel. "We wanted to provide another opportunity to highlight Detroit jazz musicians.

Volunteers are needed. Interested people should call the Community House, 644-5832 to become involved.

Who needs background in business? Not the women of the Plungers Club

BY R.J. KING STAFF WRITER

Wall Street and the prospect of riding the next blue-chip stock from the ground floor up isn't so far away for a group of savvy female investors who meet every month to review stocks and bonds over coffee and tea.

"We bought Wal-Mart stock way back when, and now the value of our investment has increased over 1,000 percent," said Mary Jane Snow, one of the original members of the Women of the Plungers Investment Club, which was founded 12 years ago in Bloomfield Hills.

"Some of our members put in $20 a month, others invest up to $200. We have 12 different stocks in various numbers of shares with a total value of around $130,000. I've learned quite a bit since I joined. It also came in very handy when I became a widow and had to manage my own money.

Another stock winner the group profited from - AFLAC (American Family Life Assurance Co.) - increased in value by 421 percent since an initial investment a decade ago, said Snow.

AT&T, McDonald's Corp. and Emerson Electric have been in the group's winner circle as well.

Bonded by their membership in the American Association of University Women, a national group of females holding four-year college degrees, the 16 members of the Plungers Investment Club live in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township or West Bloomfield.

"We started out together in AAUW by studying under the to-pic of Money Talk. One of our members happened to be familiar with investment clubs, so we just went from there," said Joyce Manby, assistant financial officer for the Plungers Investment Club, and a West Bloomfield resident.

Said Snow: "We were all non-working, and we had very little background in business. In fact, we had quite different majors; political science, education, chemistry. I mean, no, we were not business-women. And we made some mistakes along the way."

Not too many, apparently.

Meeting on weekdays from 9 a.m. to noon, Snow said the group was timid at first, with each member investing $20 a month on average. Today, though, members are more willing to plunk down three-figure amounts based on group research or a strong hunch.

"I know some of the husbands have their own investment clubs, and once in a while we'll compare notes, but we do pretty well on our own," said Snow. "We have a waiting list right now (for new members), and we have our own portfolios that we manage outside the club as well.

"But it's not all fun and games. Each of us watch the markets very carefully, and we rely heavily on our own research, whether it be from the Wall Street Journal, money magazines or periodicals. We also belong to a national investment association which evaluates individual stocks."

Typically each member of the group takes a turn hosting a meeting, said Manby, though the club will gather at an area restaurant to celebrate a landmark event, for instance, most recently when the portfolio reached $100,000.

The next portfolio milestone is the $150,000 plateau, said Manby. Meanwhile, the allure of investment clubs - apart from education and camaraderie - stems from bypassing traditional bro-kerage fees, which can reach as high as $45 for a single share of

"You can go into a Sears store and buy any retail item at face value, but when you go to buy a single share of Sears stock you have to pay a large brokerage fee," said Barry Murphy, director of marketing for the National Association of Investors Corp. in Royal Oak, of which the Plungers are a member. "We have over 10,000 investment clubs in our membership who represent over 170,000 people. We also have 40,000 individual investors. All of our members avoid brokerage fees by buying their first share of stock through us (for a $5 fee). After that, they deal directly with the respective corporation."

Playtime is learning time for children

It's always interesting to adults when working with children the variety of ways children learn. A child can position himself - or herself - in a section of dirt or mud and have not only a great time playing, but will learn something, too.

The next time you see your child or a group of children's fingers, face and clothing covered with dirt or mud, smile and think to yourself "Learning is taking, or has taken place.'

Physical skills - digging, gathering, scooping and patting (large and small motor skills) - are being developed. The fun and learning takes place when a child is given the opportuntity (without being scolded) to make messy, explore in a relaxed, non-hurried environment.

Parents, here are some examples of the skills your child will learn and practice during a typical day at home, at day care or at school:

Finding toys or learning materials to work with by himself or with others — The child learns to make decisions and self-help himself. He also learns about sharing, bartering, managing conflict and asking for help and about acceptance and expressing needs.

■ Block play — The child learns to balance blocks and line them up (small motor coordination), build and plan structures and match blocks that look alike, not to mention sharing and coop-

■ Dramatic play — The child learns to play adult roles, develop self-image and coordinate with others. He also learns to express himself in another role, deciding appropriate dress and appearance and using visual perceptions to assess himself, others and play environment.

Among other things, the child learns to remember behaviors to imitate, develop abstract thinking abilities, how to dress himself, set up a play environment and find the props.

 $\blacksquare$  Setting the table — The child learns to count with the silverware, glasses and napkins and follow the pattern of place settings. He also learns to cooperate with other children and can teach younger children to help. In addition, the child develops small motor coordination by picking up and placing objects.

■ Sitting down to eat — The child learns to pour milk and pass dishes (small motor coordination), how to measure to pour and understand directions. Another plus is learning appropriate table conversation and manners.

■ Story time and listening to music — The child learns to listen and retain information, follow the story line (sequencing) with his eyes and/or ears) and recognize words, pictures, instruments and rhythms.

■ Fingerplay and songs — The child learns words, gestures and melody (sequencing, repetition, speech and listening skills), how to follow directions and coordination (small and large motor) for gestures and fingerplays.

■ Dance — The child learns to listen to music and rhythms, understand simple movement directions and their relationship to music and coordinate movements (large motor skills).

■ Climbing and riding — The child can learn to count the rungs of a climbing structure and plan his climb. He also learns to map out direction and distance to ride, watching for others in the path, large motor coordination and balance as well as taking turns and interacting with others.

■ Sand play — The child learns to measure sand and map out roads (spatial relationships), pour, dump, push, gather, scoop and pack (small and large motor skills) not to mention sharing, interacting and cooperating.

■ Putting away toys — The child learns to sort toys and follow directions, place objects on the shelf, replace lids, open and shut doors, take turns and how to handle toys carefully. And you thought playtime was just playtime.

It wasn't that long ago Steve Sandalis was a struggling model. Now he has women fawning over him. Sandalis is "The Topaz Man," the cover model for Topaz Books line of historic romance novels.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO STAFF WRITER

Two years ago, Steve Sandalis was a struggling model.

Every agency turned me down because of my (long) hair. I was too muscular," said Sandalis with his thick East Coast accent.

Now women throughout the United States are fawning over Sandalis, who models for the covers of Topaz Books' historical romance novels.

Recently, he stopped by Paperbacks N' Things in Westland to autograph Topaz books, calendars, photos, poster, and whatever else women suggested.

"I've had to sign bras - of course they weren't on — tattoos and other things," Sandalis said grinning.

Sandalis wasn't the only one smiling. More than 500 women with novels in hand flooded the Wayne Road bookstore. Some sighed, others shied away from him, a few just plopped down right on his lap.

Mary Denning of Mary Denning's Cake Shop in Westland brought in a yellow sheet cake with picture of Sandalis drawn with frosting.

Even Westland's Jessie Farley, 3, and Alex Felton, 4, and Ryan Felton, 2, both of Taylor, were captivated with Sandalis. Farley initially hid when given the opportunity to be photographed with Sandalis. By the end of his appearance, the three were devastated that Sandalis hadn't said good-bye. (He was in the restroom and did return to bid fare-

"They didn't want him to go,"

said the store's owner and the kids' grandmother Joan Adis.

Even the nervous Adis got caught up in the hype.

"I would love to have him come back. He'd stay at my house . work out with my son," she said. Although he finds the attention humorous, he gets a kick out of the job he's had for about 11/2 years.

"It's fun. It's exciting," said Sandalis, decked in black Spandex pants, knee-high black patent leather boots and a white Hamlet shirt.

He became "The Topaz Man" after he won first place in a national model search sponsored by "A Current Affair." Since then, he's appeared on national TV on "Entertainment Tonight," numerous talk shows, and had parts in "Revenge of the Nerds, Part II" and "Beauty Academy.'

His cover boy job, however, immediately conjures up comparisons to "People compare me to Fabio. There's no comparison. Fabio represents Fabio. Steven represents To-Adis said she believes Sandalis' soft features are the main attraction.

"Fabio is rougher looking. A lot of the ladies . . . the grandmas, the older ladies . . . they were so impressed with meeting this guy,' Adis said.

Sandalis politely agreed to all photo requests, most of the time pulling the women on his lap. He also seemed genuinely pleased with Denning's cake.

"I assumed he'd say 'Nice thought. Thanks a lot, enjoy the cake.' But he took it on the plane with him," Adis said.

Topaz chose Paperbacks N' Things because of Adis' persistence. Everytime a promotional Topaz item arrived in the mail, Adis sent a thank you card. She also mentioned that women who frequent her store enjoyed looking through the promo tional copy of Sandalis' calendar hanging on the wall.

"They said that if I thought he was handsome on paper, maybe one day I'd see him in person," Adis

The next thing she knew, Penguin books, which runs Topaz, was phoning her to schedule an in-store appearance for Sandalis.

"Joan had been so enthusiastic and written so many letters that we chose her store," said Penguin spokeswoman Laura Baker.

That kind of enthusiasm is what's keeping Sandalis on the road and book covers.

"As long as people keep buying Topaz novels, I'll keep showing up at a bookstore near you.'

Financial assistance doesn't flow from young to old

mericans between the ages of 25 and 34 net an average of $500 a year from their parents, while Americans age 65 or older receive no net financial support from their children, a University of Michigan study shows.

Younger adults also net an average of 35 hours of help from their parents each year, but parents don't average the same net amount of help from children until they reach the age of 75.

The study findings, recently reported at the annual meeting of the Population Association of America, contradict the popular belief that the elderly are a major drain on a family's energy and finances. The study also suggests that social isolation increases dramatically with age.

"In all but the oldest age groups, adult children tend to give less to their parents than their parents give to them," said search scientist at U-M's Institute for Social Research.

In the midst of an increasingly strident debate about the grow ing public burden of caring for the nation's elderly, the U-M study documents the contributions older Americans make to the economy in the form of private intergenerational transfers of time and money.

The study is the first to use a national sample to quantify the amounts of time and money given and received by all ages of American adults, both within and without the family. The sample of 6,542 families was drawn from ISR's ongoing Panel Study of Income Dynamics. The data is derived from 1988, when detailed questions about time and money transfers were first included in the study.

Among the study highlights: ■ In the course of a year, the av■ 'More than 60 percent of Americans over age 65 do not give or receive help from anyone in the form of either time or money.'

Martha Hill

erage American family spends 120 hours helping others, including friends and neighbors as well as members of their extended family not living in the same household. The typical family receives 86 hours of help.

■ Middle-aged Americans give more and receive less help than any other group. About 30 percent of Americans ages 45-64 gave help to others in the form of either time or money, but received no help in return.

Although the elderly are net receivers of time help, they do not receive as much time help as young adults do. And when it comes to money, the elderly do not get as much as they give. Starting at age 65, Hill points out, the average amount of money received each year from family members hovers close to zero.

"As you age, your parents are more likely to be deceased," Hill said, "so you lose that source of support and receive much less, but you continue to help your own children." As retirement approaches, the pattern changes. Many older people reduce and then stop giving money and time help to their adult children, and as a result, become increasingly isolated from intergenerational transfers of time and money as they age.

"More than 60 percent of Americans over age 65 do not give or receive help from anyone in the form of either time or money. By comparison, only 30 percent of Americans ages 25 to 34 are neither givers nor receivers.

As to why help in the form of time and money seldom flows from children to parents, Hill can only speculate: "It may be that parents are reluctant to accept help from their adult children, either because they don't want to be a burden to their children, because they don't want to relinquish their position as head of the family or because they find it easier to keep their independence when they're not taking help from their kids.

"Or it may be that adult children are selfish and just don't want to help their parents, or that they feel public programs of various kinds are providing their parents with whatever help they require. Since we don't have any historical data showing what level of support older parents received from their adult children before public programs for the elderly, such as Social Security and Medicare, it's impossible to say how the existence of public programs has affected the private help provided by the younger generation."

Collaborating with Hill on the study were U-M colleagues James N. Morgan, professor emeritus of economics and research scientist emeritus at ISR, and Regula Herzog, research scientist

LORENE

Green, You have a fun column to read and I am interested in graphology for fun. I am 30 years old and am interested in what goes on people's minds also. I am right handed and my

Garden City

Before I begin the analysis of this handwriting, I feel it is important to mention that graphology is a serious science. Since 1980, most books on this subject are listed in the library Dewey Decimal System under 155,282 (Individual psychology) Classifications are 155.282 (Diagnostic graphology), 363.2565 (Documentary evidence) and 658.3112 (Selection of Personnel by management).

As we mature our handwriting often makes changes. However, I cannot comment specifically on her changes because I do not have any of her previous handwriting for comparison sake.

Today's handwriting is very well spaced, including the lines, words and margins. This is evidence of good organization of the writer's mind. She is able to make plans and then has the necessary discipline and determination to implement them.

Appearances are important to our writer. Usually, she can be counted on to put her best foot forward.

Her heavy pressure suggests intense feelings that remain with her for a long time. It also hints at energy and stamina to withstand

show of her emotions

Our writer dislikes unpleasantess and does not usually rock the boat in interpersonal relationships. Empathy for other people can be seen. She can feel both for and with them. Then she carefully decides if she can lend a helping hand.

There is loyalty here to friends as well as to her beliefs. She appears to be satisfied in this area and is not actively seeking anything new in the spiritual realm.

Our writer is a logical thinker and oriented toward common sense. She assimilates new information carefully and methodically, building one idea upon another. Once the information is in her mental computer, it is there to Currently, she seems dissatisfied with either her work or social role. She may want to step back and analyze this so she can work toward remedying the situation.

An inner need for financial secur-

She is rather secretive about her personal life. She will share only as much as she wants other people to know. If pressured for answers, she will probably sidestep or evade the issue. While she may be a confidant to some, few people know her on an intimate

She is aware of the accepted behavior for her social set and can be counted on to abide by it most of the time.

The candlesticks were different, so was the processional cross on June 13 at Good Hope Lutheran Church in Garden City.

Those used that day were the same processional cross and candlesticks used when Good Hope pastor the Rev. Arthur Wilde was ordained June 16, 1968.

The candlesticks were made for his ordination by his father, Roland, while the cross was designed and made by his sister Barbara McComas.

Class 'saves' a year

Time is standing still in a way at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Members of the seventh and eight grade Sunday School class sealed a time capsule in the wall of the church June 13. The capsule will be opened in 35 years when the church celebrates its 100th anniversary.

Some of the items included in the capsule were pictures, a video of all the children in the church Sunday School, a history of the church and letters from Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett, Gov. John Engler and President Bill Clinton.

The class learned a lot in working on the project. They also feel they can live up to the advice offered by the president.

In his letter, the president told the students that "the future can be better than the present and that each of us has a personal moral responsibility to make it so."

Tic, tock: Working on the time capsule were Brad Elstone (from left), Jason Falardeau, Rob Canham, David Millerwise, Joel Stage, Tim Baden and teacher Dixie Elam.

We need to refocus our energy on kids

REV. DAVID STRONG

Attorney General Janet Reno spoke recently in Southfield. One of the things she said was that her great concern was to search out the causes of violence in our nation. It is a great relief to hear a national leader speak to such an issue. For too long our leaders have focused upon punishment I am not advocating that we stop convicting and jailing criminals. A far more important question, however, is how do we produce criminals in our society? A United Methodist minister tells me that most of his childhood friends are either dead or in prison. What we need to know is how this one child was influenced to become a very creative, successful person? The greatest influence upon his early life was a church and a minister of that church. Think carefully about the people who had a positive influence upon your life. The world has changed. There are one-parent families. There are kids with hardly any parental influence. Creating positive influences for children and youth is of vital importance.

The effective raising of our children is more than an individual concern. Communities must be committed to raising the young. This means that schools, churches, temples, scouts and neighborhoods must renew their efforts to positively influence our next generation.

Back in the 1960s, I saw people and institutions turn away from responsibility for children and youth. Especially in the churches, we saw a falling off of youth ministers. Our institutions ignored the fact that exciting youth programs ended. It was fashionable to ask the kids, "What do you want to do? Well, go ahead and do it." During these years, youth followed the lead of college kids, they rebelled against their parents. The use of drugs drove many adults away from a commitment focus of the event was to share the

to work with youth. We abandoned young people.

Before those days, I could list a number of very effective youth leaders in the church. Those days are gone. We no longer place a priority upon quality programs for youth and children. We see where our bad judgment has led to. Those few who are committed to our children and youth are overworked and often discouraged.

As a society, we need to re-allocate resources toward raising and preparing our youth for effective lives. A friend has stated that at one time many institutions committed themselves to the cause of civil rights. Now we need to commit equally to the needs of our children and youth.

Recently, I attended a recognition event for volunteers who staff a school library. The library had been closed for 10 years. The

We are bombarded by the view that a killing or a bombing is more important to our society than 20 children who may check out a book and read it this week. We must emphasize the prime importance of building our children and our youth. If we do not hold such values dear, we as a society will pay the cost.

season that we have not seen be-

In spring we saw a red-breasted nuthatch at our feeders for a couple days. It was probably a migrant that was heading north but we were pleased it stopped so we could observe it.

Then, about the time we saw a carolina wren singing in our yard, which was also a new species, a pair of gray catbirds arrived. Catbirds are not as colorful as some birds, but they do have a distinctive plumage. They are basically gray all over, except for a black cap on top of their head, and a red patch at the base of their tail on the bottom side.

Probably the most distinguishing feature of the gray catbird is its song and its catlike call, for which it is named. Listening to the song of a catbird is reminescent of a mockingbird. In fact, they are cousins in the bird world. A catbird's song will have many different phrases that are given, but each phrase will be given only once. Some of those phrases will sound like songs or calls of other

Much of their time is spent in dense underbrush. That is also where they prefer to build their nest. The pair in our yard chose the hedge between our yard and our neighbors. Many other species have used this same hedge to build their nests in, too.

It was fun watching them gather nesting material. They

Westland ceramicist preserves memories

ortar holds buildings together but memories give them character. Just ask Susan Horstmann.

Her business is to immortalize those memories as original collectibles for a curio shelf or cabinet. The Westland artist sculpts custom clay models of favorite buildings, using photos she or clients snap as architectural road maps.

"I'm real proud of my finished pieces and really enjoy the reaction of people who receive them," Horstmann said. "Each building is a challenge.

She'll be one of 350 artists and artisans in the 13th annual Art in the Park in and around Plymouth's Kellogg Park Saturday-Sunday, July 17-18.

Horstmann makes ceramic reproductions of houses, businesses and churches - often as gifts. She hand paints each piece. Her clients come from several states as well as Ontario.

"I get a lot of satisfaction starting with a square chunk of clay and turning it into a model that looks like somebody's home," the 1980 Plymouth Salem High School graduate said. "I like the detail and working small."

Landmarks she has sculpted into collectibles as gifts include First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth and Home Sweet Home in Novi.

Original creations

Every piece Horstmann sculpts is original. "When the staff at Dunleavy's Pub & Grub wanted a gift for the two owners, I had to make two identical models of the same building. I didn't use

Prices range from $80 to $250 or more. A typical colonial house, six inches in diameter at the base and up to three inches tall, takes 10 to 15 hours to sculpt, fire and paint, depending on detail desired. Horstmann's work is three-dimensional so photos must be supplied of each dimension, including the roof. Aerial shots help but Horstmann doesn't hesitate to improvise. When the bell tower didn't provide a clear view at First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, she went up the skylight onto the roof. "Usually I can get far enough back to photograph roof angles," Horstmann said. "When I sculpt, I work from the top down. So I need to know how angles work together. The church was unusual because I had no way of knowing the highest point. I needed to get myself up. Armed with a bachelor of applied arts degree from Central Michigan University, Horstmann started Layton Lane Ceramic Homes in 1991. The business came after she sculpted a model of her sister-in-law's house on Layton Lane in Appleton, Wis. She gave the model to her sister-inlaw, an avid collector of Lilliput Lane and David Winter ceramic cottages, as a birthday present. Her sister-in-law "was very surprised and pleased," Horstmann recalled. "She really loved that home and had to move a few months later, so was very happy to 'take the home' with her.' Citing an uncrowded field, her family urged her to market the unique miniatures. With family support in tow, she entered the Founders Festival in downtown Farmington and Art in the Park in downtown Plymouth in the summer of 1991. She's still receiving orders from folks who got her phone number at the 1991 shows or who got her name from satisfied clients. The shows have generated 70 direct or referral orders.

One Art in the Park client from Plymouth, who later moved to Milwaukee, commissioned a fivepiece series: an old family-owned store in Canton, a family cottage up north and the three houses the family has lived in.

Horstmann skipped the show circuit last summer while pregnant with her first child. But she'll be back in Farmington as well as Plymouth this year with photos and examples of her work.

Childhood beginning

Her interest in art dates back to elementary school when her dad, a middle-school band instructor, brought clay home for her to play with. She made vases, faces and little animals. "He'd then take them to his school and have the art teacher fire them.

Graphic printing drew her interest in high school in addition to band and theater.

At CMU, commercial art, printmaking, drawing, ceramics and graphic design captured her fancy. Certified to teach art, she substitute taught for two years in Plymouth-Canton and Wayne-Westland.

Dianne Quinn, Art in the Park director, is especially fond of Horstmann's work. She bought a clay model of Saranda Hair & Tanning Salon in Westland to give as a gift in 1991. "It's a one-of-a-kind thing," Quinn said. "You can't buy them elsewhere. They make a special, unique personal gift and are something you'll never get again. Sue makes precious little pieces.'

Photographer searches for beauty

■ Canton photographer Randy Gerwatowski triggers the imagination with striking compositions in his first one-man show at Groove Gallery in Royal Oak.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Randy Gerwatowski creates a world of beauty through the art of photography. Instead of documenting the death and decay surrounding us every day, his photographs romanticize life, instilling a peacefulness that invites you into his world.

In his first one-man show, Gerwatowski exhibits color and black and white photographs through July 11 in the newly opened Groove Gallery and Boutique, 1203 Lincoln (101/2 Mile), Royal Oak.

"Randy's composition is very intriguing. I like his choice of materials that aren't necessarily new,' said gallery owner Dawn Hulme.

Old fishing lures, a mouse skeleton, diseased leaves cut from a dumb cane plant, Gerwatowski focuses on found objects to trigger the viewer's imagination.

"I look for the things that people discard. I look for their color, texture, design. It's the concept of taking something ugly, discarded, and turning it into something beautiful. Dead flowers, dead animals are all fair game," the Canton Township photographer said in an interview at the gallery.

Artists strive to spur 'Imageination'

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Sculptor Steve Handschu and painter Virgil Grady hope their art gives people a lot to think about.

The two Detroit artists exhibit their latest work in "Imageination," a show sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commission through Aug. 7 in the Livonia Civic Center Library Art Gallery, Farmington Road and Five Mile.

A public reception for the artists will take place 7-9 p.m. Monday, July 12, with music provided by jazz pianist Kenn Cox. The Livonia Arts Commission received a matching grant for $580 from the Detroit Council for the Arts and Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs to help pay expenses for this show and the following one.

"Steve Handschu's and Virgil Grady's work deals a lot with music," said Livonia arts commissioner Jack Olds, who books the Art Gallery shows. "Steve's work is abstract. It's an inner type of exploring he does. Virgil's paintings reflect the jazz trend and how he interprets the jazz trend. You look at his work and begin to pull out figures, dancers and instrumentalists.

Handschu's wood and stone sculptures primarily deal with the figure, two of which emphasize the hands in an exaggerated scale.

"I'm a legally blind sculptor who, by disposition, prefers carving," said Handschu in an interview in the Art Gallery. "Carving is a more time-consuming process. It causes me to be a lot more serious. I like the struggle between the artist and the material.

"The hand is a very ancient symbol," he added. "Throughout history, the fist has symbolized power. My sculpture has to do with laboring. I'm interested in exploring human poten-

Carved from a butternut tree off a Detroit street or of cherry wood from a

New York mill, the pieces speak about life, war and man's struggle to survive.

"Terminal Conception" focuses on a figure that bends backwards, enveloping a 70mm artillery shell from World War I. It took 25 pieces of laminated cherry and 10 months to create this stirring peace.

"I think art affects people, moves people, in different ways," Handschu said, nodding toward the cherry figure. "Hopefully, it's uplifting and not degenerative. If I deal with negativity, it will have a positive effect."

Hands-on art: Steve Handschu polishes "Forest Birth," one of six sculptures created by him in the "Imageination" exhibition.

Jazz influence: Artist Virgil Grady uses a collage of shapes and color to create the abstract imagery in his mixed-media paintings.

Artwork from page 1D

A professional artist for 26 years, Handschu has exhibited at Detroit Focus Gallery, Kalamazoo Institute of Art and Detroit Council for the Arts. He also has exhibited at Swords Into Plowshares Peace Center Gallery and Scarab Club in Detroit.

It was a show put on by the Detroit Institute of Arts in the early '70s, however, that changed his life, said the sculptor, who lives in an old southwest Detroit firehouse.

"I simply thought that carving was magic. It knocked me out when I was 12 to see a black piece of marble from 4,000 years ago in Egypt that made you want to respond to it, that made you want to touch it. The magic never left.

Grady works in Prismacolor pencil and draws in airbrush to render the mixed-media paintings featured in the show. A collage of color and shapes produce the abstract image-

For many of the pieces, Grady first spray painted a board, came back a week or so later to "look for imagery" and add the Prismaco-

"As far as choice of colors, it's what feels good, what's soft, what's hard, what would pull that out. I like the perceiver to pick up the spot and run with it," he said.

Grady's mixed-media diptych, "TV Wasteland. City Shark." features a series of images that lead the eye from a boy, his mind dwindling away in front of a TV set to a shark, mouth wide open, ready to swallow him whole.

In between the boy and the shark, Grady said, sexual and gunplay images combine with images of "a teacher with a row of books in front of her warning about the shark," accentuating the reverie that expounds on the dangers of the medium. When Grady took the work to Detroit's Clark Park recently, he said the kids came up to see it and proceeded to tell him exactly what it meant.

Television is strangling young minds like an octopus, Grady said. "I hope we have a lot of young people going through (the exhibit)." Grady, who half-jokingly said he learned to draw figures from bottles, began displaying his work in the late '70s. He has exhibited in all the same spaces as Handschu plus Cobo Center in Detroit.

'Good relaxation and thought, and something to unwind with," said Grady, is what their art's all about.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday to Thursday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Sat-

DIA restores YouthArt

Calling all Observerland students in grades 4 to 12: Detroit Institute of Arts' summer YouthArt program has been restored, thanks to money provided by the museum's current Partnership for Renewal campaign, announced campaign general chairman Joseph Hudson Jr.

Twelve different one- and three-day workshops are offered to July 30 by certified art teachers from the Bloomfield Hills, Pontiac and Detroit school districts.

Enrollment in the DIA YouthArt program is limited; advance registration is required. Call 833-7978 or 833-7977. A registration fee of $8 to $30 is charged, depending on the workshop. Classes will meet in the DIA studio at the Farnsworth entrance of the building.

"Students in grades four through 12 from throughout the state will be able to participate in workshops at the museum this July because of special gifts from members of the community," Hudson said.

"The program is special because the teachers use the museum collection of paintings, sculpture and artifacts to illustrate the concepts they will be teaching in the studio classes. This adds a dimension to the educational experience that's usually unavailable in traditional studio art classes.

"The richness of our collections makes the DIA an extraordinary place to study art, and we're delighted to be able to once again provide this instruction to students on summer break.'

"It's the aesthetics that are important to me. It's the concept that you want to show that becomes primary. There's always reasons for the things I put together in a photograph.

A burst of light surrounds a bird, its wings suspended for a fi-nal flight in "Pigeon in Roses." The curve of its wings pull the viewer's eye upward to a handful of scattered rosebuds. The flowers seem to nurture the creature, enveloping it in delicate pink and red petals, revealing a certain beauty suspended in eerie desola-

"The concept was, 'Here's a discarded, spent piece of nature found by the roadside, run over by a car. I know with my photography, I can turn that back and make it beautiful again.' Even in death, there's beauty," Gerwatowski said.

"For me, photography is not the technical end of it, how it's produced, it's the aesthetic end. I'd rather see a great concept poorly executed than a poor concept greatly executed.'

Gerwatowski uses line, form, balance, color and contrasting light and shadow to draw the viewer into his striking compositions. Many of the images blur, diffused by reality.

In college, Gerwatowski studied not only photography but graphic design, painting and sculpture. It has influenced his work.

"As a kid, I always had a need and desire to reproduce images, to draw, make clay models, wood models. My definition of art is to create individual interpretations of reality," Gerwatowski said.

"Photography is my medium of choice - the colors, inherent texture, the mixture of shadow and light you can't find anywhere

A long lone stem leads the eye upward to an ethereal looking. "Sunflower." The straight line of the stem sharply contrasts the lyrical, flowing lines of the background's discarded tropical leaves, creating interest and keeping the eye moving around the composition.

Since earning a bachelor of fine arts degree from Northern Michigan University in 1985, Gerwatowski has worked as a commercial photographer in the Detroit area. He has created images for elients including Detroit Monthly, Ford Motor Co., Saturn Corp., Northland Mall and Detroit Motorcycle Co. In April, a cover Gerwatowski created for a golf supplement appeared in Detroit Monthly and Crain's Detroit Business.

As brash and bold as his images appear, there is no denying there is an artist struggling to emerge. Gerwatowski strives daily to portray commercial photography as an art form just as the legendary Ansel Adams did in 1932 when he founded Group f/64, an organization dedicated to creating straight photography as art.

"I am a commercial artist whose working towards a goal. Part of my vision for showing this is it's more acceptable and more desirable to people. I'm trying to wake up commercial art, commercial advertising. There doesn't have to be a crossover. My work is delineated as art now but I don't think there has to be that line,' Gerwatowski said. "I am a commercial photographer but have a fine art prerequisite. I want to incorporate fine art into my com-

The Groove is an unconventional gallery, a gallery with a purpose," said Hulme, who before opening the Groove worked as a costumer for Michigan Opera Theatre. "I basically wanted to showcase local artists who are not well known but are high quality. A lot of galleries are not interested in showing your work unless you're well known. But I also wanted to have cultural items from other parts of the world."

The Groove spotlights ceramic pins patterned with fabric by Glenny Merillat of Plymouth, ceramics by Becky Bailey and earrings by Leesa Mark of Royal Oak, custom fish tanks in a variety of geometric forms by Bill Hulme of Livonia, raku by Diane

Appleton and ceramic dragor and cats by Noelle Appleton of South Lyon, ceramics by Barbara Hulme Pfeiffer of Brighton and watercolors by Kelly Schmidt of Elsa Trevino of Wixom sews bolts of Guatemalan fabric into Americanized versions of wrap skirts, vests, shorts and caps for kids. Laurie Many of Royal Oak creates lamps from already fallen birch trees and also chairs and tables with encased facial masks. Jim Caldwell, who co-owns Gotham City Cafe in Ferndale with Dawn Hulme, crafts ceramic mailboxes problem of would-be homeowners who can meet a monthly mortgage payment but don't have a But if the borrower doesn't draw on the contingency, the bank doesn't charge interest, the loan amortizes quicker and the ending balance The Purchase Opportunity Program (POP), can be applied to the original mortgage, Wenzel established by Michigan National, enables

Bank lets closing fees go 'POP'

"I think the ideal candidate is someone renting with good credit, a good job, but doesn't loan origination fees, prepaid property taxes, have the ability to come up with the total cash to close," he said of POP. "A lot of people come in and say they've been renting, they can make a payment up to $600." cent down payment, good credit and a stable

Unlike conventional mortgage applicants, buyers going the POP route may use a gift, loan of relatively low rates to encourage home sales or grant from someone else as the source of their down payment rather than having to come up with the money from their own resources,

However, POP isn't for everyone. Credit history must be good and the job situation stable for at least two years, he said.

"There are no geographical restrictions," Detroit or a low income areas.

'But with a cap of $50,000 (on the original mortgage), this will keep us out of a lot of areas. When you think of the maximum loan amount, Co. in New York. this won't do much in Birmingham, West Bloomfield or Bloomfield Hills," he said.

The latest mortgage-rate average, down from and 132 agents.

7.38 percent the week before, was the lowest since the week ended May 5, 1972, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp. said.

Rates had previously hit a low of 7.38 percent in late April but spiked up to 7.52 percent by late May after the release of government reports showing more inflation than expected.

However, last week the Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index rose just 0.1 percent in May. That caused many economists to dismiss the earlier price increases as transitory. Increasing prices generally push interest rates up because investors demand more interest to compensate for the inflation. Economists are counting on the continuation and housing construction during the rest of the year, but they cautioned that rates probably will not go significantly lower. If overall economic growth improves during the second half of the year as anticipated, most economists expect mortgage rates will begin slowly drifting higher. "Until now it's been a period for home buyers Wenzel said. "It's not specifically for inner city to wait for prices and rates to come down. But now may be a good environment to consider locking in those low, long-term rates," said

economist David Jones of Aubrey G. Lanston &

Condo seekers beware: Don't buy site unseen

da but I'm concerned about obtaining adequate protection from hurricane dam-do site before I buy? All I have is some literature I received at a boat show here in Michigan. Hopefully you are not purchasing a condo on swamp age. Should I

visit the con-

land. It is always a good idea to learn as much as you can about a condo project before you purchase one. You should definitely visit it and carefully review the documents with an attorney. Inquire about the types of insurance that are in place and available, as well as insurance you might have to purchase which is not covered by the association to cover anticipated

I bought a piece of property, I think, and I have been making payments on it over a period of time. The seller is now claiming that I don't have an interest in the property because there was no contract, only some canceled checks. Can I get around

Under Michigan statutes, a contract to buy land is void unless it is in writing and is signed by the person by whom the sale is to be made. Since there was no written contract in this case, and apparentley the canceled checks are the only written evidence of an agreement, it is probable that the court would rule the checks alone were insufficient proof of a purchase agreement.

You may have a claim against the seller for fraud, but you probably won't get your property.

Not just a way in anymore

Entrances in modern achitecture, be it on residential or commercial structures, have gone from practical to elegant. They no longer merely let you in, they welcome you, shelter you and entertain you.

"Early impressions are hard to eradicate from the mind. When once wool has been has been dyed purple, who can restore it to its previous white-ever underestimate the power of a good entrance. Be it a house, mall, store, office building or any other type of structure, the entrance does a lot more than merely let you in. It catches your eye, welcomes you, entertains you, provokes you. Few aspects of a building are renovated more often or with as much enthusiasm as the entrance. But heck, it's only a door, isn't it?

Yes and no. James P. Ryan, AIA, president of commercial architectural firm JPRA in Farmington Hills, said an entrance can help to define the identity of a project. Twenty years ago, people entered a major mall through its anchor stores. It was the anchor stores that reaped the benefits of a larger entrance. Smaller entrances to the mall were built merely for utilitarian reasons. Today, the malls have gained in importance and tenants in the mall want to achieve some balance. Realizing this, more malls have impressive entrances. "A good entrance makes you feel good when you come in and when you leave as well so you'll come back,"

The same thing applies to office buildings. Tenants want to impress people who come to see them and demand a more upscale entrance.

Not just a door anymore

Entrances perform a number of practical, psychological and aesthetic functions, Ryan said.

Obviously, they allow entrance into a structure, but they also provide shelter. Many of his designs incorporate a covered walkway to shelter people from the weather as they approach a structure.

A well designed entrance also utilizes the environment. For example, the entrance to the JPRA-designed Somerset Collection in Troy is facing north and gets very little light. The entrance was designed with large transparent areas to allow as much light in as possible.

The JPRA-designed Somerset North, however, will face south, Ryan said. As such, there will be a lot less glass so the building will not overheat.

A well designed entrance also introduces a building, extends an invitation and offers a sense of security. With the demand for ever more opulent entrances, Ryan said designers have to be especially sensitive to the urge to go too far. "There are a lot of entrances that are so monumental they tend to overwhelm the pedestrian scale." Another common mistake made by designers of these grand entrances is to forget the most important rule in part of a design like an entrance, needs to reflect the area. "If you try something like (the work of contemporary architect Ludwig) Mies van der Rohe in the south. you're not going to get away with it,"

Frontal elegance: One of the highlights of the Farmington Hills-based James P. Ryan Associates' architectural portfolio is this entrance to the Plaza of Birmingham located on Woodward at Maple.

Non-union carpenters halt work in Canton sub

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

A fledgling association of carpentry contractors took the Fourth of July weekend to declare their independence from what their organizer said is an inferior wage and benefit package provided by some residential builders.

Work stopped at several houses under construction in Canton's Glengarry Subdivision Friday and again Tuesday as non-union carpenters protested a lack of health care benefits and comparatively lower wages.

"Enough is enough," said Ralph Toreson, a Garden City contractor who is organizing the United Residential Carpentry Contractors Association. "All we're looking for is a couple of dollars an hour to give these guys health benefits and cost of liv-

Vic Bays, a Farmington Hills carpentry contractor and Toreson ally, said he pays his carpenters an average of $12 per hour with no benefits. Toreson pays $12-13 per hour — "$14 if a guy is really good." Again, no benefits.

Union carpenters in the metro area, who account for about only 10 percent of the residential work, are paid an hourly wage of $14.18, plus additional payments of $2.45 for health and welfare benefits, $1.60 for pension and 75 cents for vacation, said Buck Walters president of Local 1234.

Health care is the big issue now, Toreson said.

"The goal is to unify the carpentry industry and make it stronger so we at least have (health) insurance," he said. "We would all like to go union tomorrow, but builders can't adjust to that package. Contractors would like them to adjust to our pack-

But a specific package hasn't yet been developed, Toreson said, because his association is just forming. An organizational meeting of prospective members was scheduled for late this afternoon.

Pulte of Michigan, headquartered in Royal Oak, and Lenwal Building and Uniland Corp., both of Farmington Hills, were among the residential builders hit by the work stoppage in Canton.

The only comment I can make is that we bid all of our jobs competitively and award contracts to the person who offers the most competitive bid, union or nonunion," said Deen Hyde, marketing director for Pulte.

Hyde said it was too early to determine the impact of the work stoppage.

Lenwal has agreed to comply with an insurance package when one is formally established, Toreson said, but officials at Lenwal couldn't be reached to confirm.

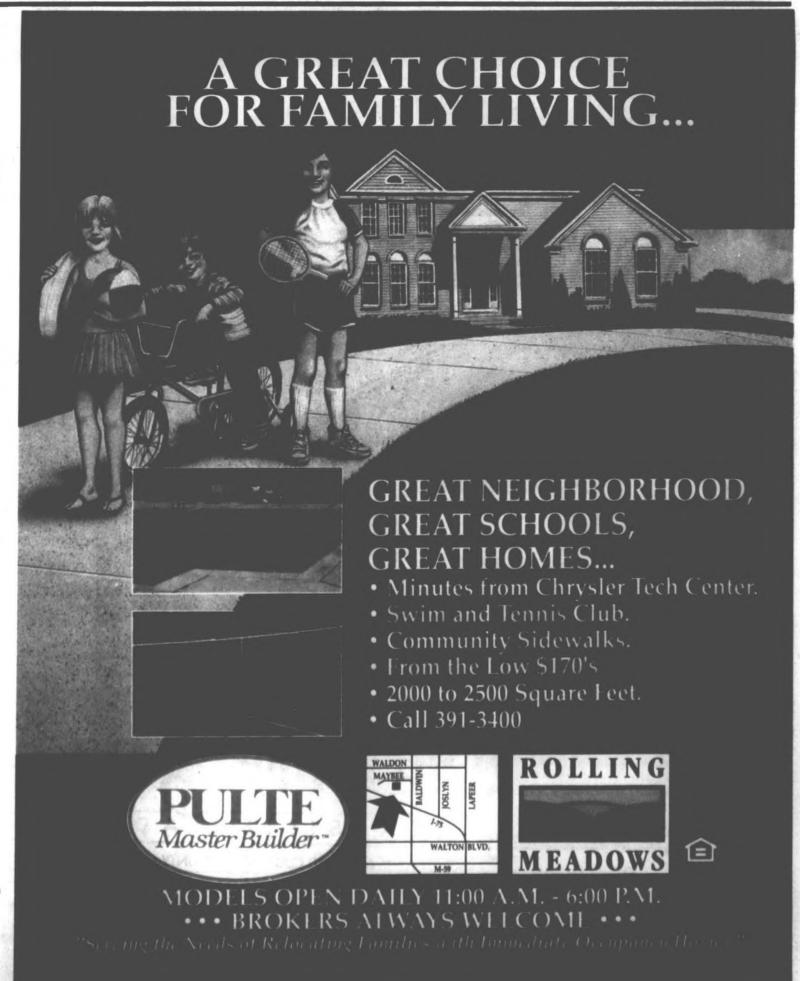

Other builders couldn't be reached for comment.

"It seemed like a very opportune time now," Bays said of the recent work stoppage. "Builders are under pressure to get homes

Toreson conceded, however, that his carpenters can't afford to remain off the job indefinitely.

"Now, we're between a rock and a hard place," he said. "They need work. This is just a start. We're going to do more rallies.'

More work stoppages could be held throughout the metro area as the association grows and negoti-ations continue with selective builders, Toreson said.

Twin peaks enhance the ranch

How about this for glorifying the ranch concept? Twin gables, connected by a covered front porch providing access to a large foyer with open rail stair down to the basement. An area from which you can obtain entry to almost every part of the home.

Nice. It's Feature Home No. 2556 from W.D. Farmer of Atlanta.

Here's the tour:

Walk into the foyer and to your right are two bed rooms, each with its own private bath. One of the bathrooms connects to the hall for daytime use.

Back into the foyer and go left. There is a formal dining room with an octagon shaped tray ceiling. An entry is provided to the kitchen and breakfast areas from the dining

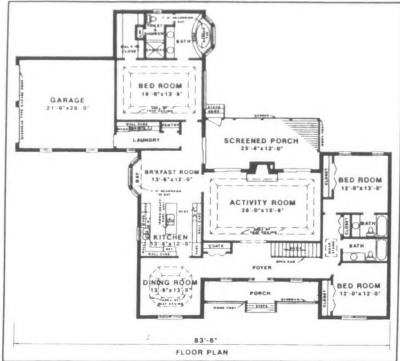

The kitchen features counter top and cabinets o'plenty. There is also an island with a down draft surface unit. The breakfast room (breakfast room?) is notably marked with a bay window.

From here, walk a short hall to the long laundry room with pantry and double garage access, to a screened porch and then to the master bedroom suite.

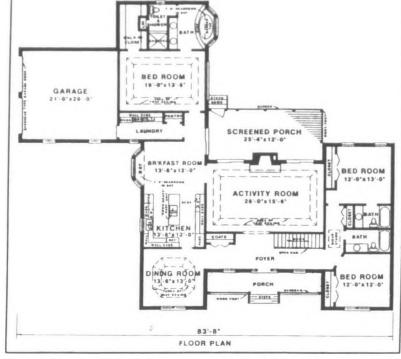

The master bedroom suite, off by itself as is the rage these days, has a tray ceiling and triple windows overlooking the backyard. A large walk-in closet and a master bath with a step-up garden tub extending into a bay window highlight the suite.

The exterior is brick with combined roof styles and shutters.

So much for your boring old ranch, hey?

Twin Peaks: W.D. Farmer has taken the ranch style to new heights with this plan (No. 2556). The 2,523 squarefoot house features an isolated master bedroom suite, twin dormers connected by a covered porch with access into a spacious foyer. For more information on the plan, write to W.D. Farmer, Residence Designer Inc., P.O. Box 450025, Atlanta GA 30345.

Grand entrance: Entrances, like this one to the Scott Shuptrine store in Troy, done by Southfield-based Jon Greenberg and Associates, do more than just welcome

Entrances

Not that long ago, it wasn't uncommon to see a house with a small door atop a small concrete porch, but customers are demanding more, he said.

'People will actually come in and say they want a big entrance," he said. "People feel they've climbed up the ladder and they want something to show for it," Tringali contin-

"A grand entrance makes a statement. "A large entrance gives presence — it adds drama to a house," he said.

While large entrances started in the large expensive houses, they have slowly been creeping down into the mid-income range, he

"Builders are trying to second guess the market. You'll find a lot of knock off houses done by builders (trying to capitalize on the trend) and sometimes the entrance dominates the whole house."

Best foot forward

Tony Camilletti, director of visual communications at the Southfield-based retail designer JGA, said retailers recognize the importance of an impressive entrance.

When we work in retail, the first 20 to 25 percent of the store is where the largest portion of the budget is spent," he said. "It's where you put your best foot forward."

The first rule of entrance design is to make it obvious, he said.

"Let's be honest, if you can't get into a store or restaurant, you put a bad taste in someone's mouth. People don't to have to guess," he said.

Beyond that, there are several other physical characteristics designers employ when designing an entrance.

"A wide entrance welcomes everyone and a narrow entrance asks, 'Is this really for you?" " Camilletti said.

Some stores in malls even have doors, he added, which requires the customer to make a conscious decision to enter.

Designers also consider sight lines when considering an overall entrance. In the past, a lot of stores employed window displays, but that is fairly uncommon today.

The demise of window displays is partly do to the unwillingness of retailers to pay professional window designers, but opening up the front more also permits customers to more easily grasp what the retailer is all about, Camilletti said.
