Roundtable Club faces crisis

BY DIANE GALE

A cloud of despair looms over the Roundtable Club with a legal hearing today that could decide the fate of the 35 year old Plymouth institution

The Roundtable Club is a tenant of the Mayflower Hotel and pays rent for the space in advance

Ron Wilson, president of Hotel In vestment Services, is trying to terminate the lease and exict the Roundt able Club without refunding the advance rent, according to Scott Lorenz. a Roundtable board member

The Roundtable Club is an inte gral part of the community | Lorenz said. It has a strong social calendar of events that the the Roundtable ('lub members together as a group and it would be a tremendous loss should the club be exicted, not just to the community but to the hotel it

The show cause hearing today will determine whether the Roundtable Club is entitled to stay in its present location or not, Lorenz said.

If Roundtable Club members boy cotted the Mayflower. "it would create a public relations nightmare and a significant decline in revenues," ac cording to a board of directors position statement

Existing the club will create a rent refund liability of approximately $100,000, a liability the hotel is in no financial position to create or satisty," the statement said.

Further, just as the Japanese awakened a sleeping giant with Pearl Harbor, the Mayflower will be the ultimate loser because Mr. Wilson un derestimates the membership's response to eviction and his refusal to refund their advance rent payments." The prestigious club has 1,291 members, some of whom are original members when the Roundtable opened 35 years ago

Wilson was appointed by the court last year. Heritage Federal Savings holds the mortgage.

As receiver for the Mayflower Ho tel, Wilson took over the Roundtable Club lease with the hotel, that in cluded managing the food service op erations for the hotel.

The receiver has been providing the food and beverage service to Roundt able Club members, Lorenz said, adding the receiver collects dues and

Autumn offers ample cause to celebrate

A color tour of Michigan in the fall is a tradition. But you need not drive all the way "up north" to see the brillant oranges and yellows used by Mother Nature to color our autumns. A drive in the Plymouth and Canton area can satisfy that yearning.

BY DIANE GALE

Forget about long, boring northern treks on the expressway in a quest to catch a glimpse of Michigan's fall colors

A canopy of colors that no canvas can copy are displayed on common roads in Canton, Plymouth and Plymouth Township. Keep your eyes on the roads you drive everyday, like Wilcox Road near Edward Hines in Plymouth, Warren west of Canton Center in Canton and North Territorial in Plymouth Township. to name a few.

If you want to take a walk, check out Miller Woods. The nature preserve is at Powell and Ridge roads.

Cash in on your tax dollars and stroll through Plymouth Township Park, on Ann Arbor Trail east of Beck, with geese, birds and trees as the setting. Or, take to the pathways around the ponds and gazebo behind Canton Township Hall. Down town Plymouth offers Kellogg Park replete with a cobblestone walkway and fountain comfortably shaded by trees in an old-fashioned setting.

Don't forget the old mainstay, Ed ward Hines. A picturesque setting of water and trees winds through the park that takes in parts of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and a number of other communities.

Mount your bicycle and take in the fall colors on the I-275 bikepath through Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton, among an array of other communities.

And, there's Holliday Park, at Koppernick Road in Canton, with plenty of trees, critters and areas to walk or run. Or, take a picnic lunch and head out to Wilcox Lake on Hines Drive at Northville Road in Plymouth. The color of the leaves reflects their hues on the Rouge River, home to a flock of geese and other birds.

Just outside Canton in Superior Township, the vista is adorned by open land and nature's beauty that is never more glorious than during

School budget picture not all that bleak

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

Despite the failure last summer of a 4 mill tax increase and fears that the state would decimate Plymouth Canton Community Schools' budget, the 1993-94 financial picture doesn't look too bad

After revising its 1993-94 operating budget Monday night, the Plymouth-Canton board of education is looking at total revenues of $78,814, total expenditures of $77,611, and a fund bal ance, or rainy day fund, of $1 million

Enrollment, at 15,000 students, is virtually the same as last year when the district's budget was $77 million

The district's coffers received two shots in the arm. The first was a parents' coalition plan drafted after the millage defeat to raise money to save jobs and extracurricular activities The second was $2.9 million con siderably more than expected state aid.

District officials figured they'd be socked with most of Plymouth Canton's retirement and Social Security costs, which previously were picked up by the state. The district learned it will receive $1.4 million in Social Security funds this year Budget restorations decided on by the board Monday included staff and equipment restorations totaling $751,800. Restorations made Sept. 27 in the amount of $815,000 bring the total restorations to $1.6 million.

Being added to the budget are

- $40,000 for a teacher at Miller Ele mentary School to bring average class size throughout the district to 30,
- $168,000 for four support staffers and $150,000 for five custodians,
- $34,800 for one and a half secretari
- $42,000 for block grant building
- supplies ■ $100,000 for staff development.
- 132,000 for replacement and repair
- of equipment.

■ $85,000 for assessment Earlier, the district spent $680,000 to hire 17 teachers. Approved for text book purchases was $100,000.

We've cut 26 maintenance people the last two years, and we are down to bare bones," said Superintendent John Hoben. "We're cleaning on an every other day basis. It's unacceptable to have our students coming into a dirty school in the morning.

The restorations will make it possi ble to resume the same cleaning schedule the district had before, Hoben said.

The $85,000 in assessment funds will be spent on third, sixth and ninth grade testing Trustee Les Walker asked whether the testing would address concerns raised by parents concerned about the controversial "developmentally appropriate practices" being used in the early elementary grades. Hoben said ves "This will dovetail with the MEAP (Michigan Educational Assessment Program) test, giving us the same type of picture of achievement and where we are going," he said.

Walker also questioned whether all the restorations were necessary hate to always reach out and spend money just because it's there. Board president Roland Thomas agreed to the restorations, but said, "I think we need to look at restructuring, particularly in this (administration) building. I struggle with the number of people we have right now We should look at restructuring wherever it's appropriate.

Resident Ted Bohlen objected to a recent decision by the board to rehire two athletic managers at the high schools instead of calling back the Salem High School nurse.

Still unfilled are administrative jobs, including a purchasing position, energy management post, the community education assistant's position and an assistant superintendency.

Local officials tell state legislators 'leave us alone'

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW

On three rented buses they came, an army of local officials from Livonia, Plymouth, Redford, Westland and Garden City bent on telling state government officials that they don't like Gov. John Engler's school finance tax plan one bit

The ringleader was Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, who paid for the buses with his office holder's expense fund. What message did he hope to deliver to state officials? Our whole theme about this trip up here is, 'Leave us alone,' "he said from the back of the bus.

Like all the other local government officials, McNamara said Engler's plan to have an assessment freeze and wipe out state subsidies to local government will ruin local government if enacted.

"What the hell does the state provide?" McNamara asked. "The basic services people want and need come from local government."

Wayne County Commission Vice Chair Kay Beard, D West-land, who rode the bus with McNamara, said she "can't believe the legislature would seriously consider adopting the measures (Engler) is suggesting." But, she added, it's important to let the state representatives know how Engler's plan would affect local government.

Lobbying lawmakers

Once in the capital, the local public servants visited the state public servants. For example, 21 folks from Redford, Plymouth, Livonia and Northville had a meeting with Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville. "My perspective is, Leave us alone," said Livonia Councilman Fernon Feenstra. "We pick up the garbage."

Northville Township Supervisor Karen Baja echoed the sentiments of many of the others when she said local government is hurting already. "We are so bare bones, it's disgusting."

Redford trustee Frank Bradley

Jr complained to Geake that state government too often compels local government to do things, but doesn't pay for it "We get mandates for recycling and everything else, and the funds aren't there," he said.

Meanwhile, down the street at the Lansing Civic Center, the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan Association of Counties were having a rally to oppose Engler's plan. With attendance pushing 1,200, the Michigan Townships Association president said, "This meeting hall reminds me of a smelt run up in the U.P."

Teacher honored as 'Extra Miler'

Margaret House, a secondgrade teacher at Farrand Elementary School, was named an "Extra Miler" at the Plymouth Canton school board meeting on Monday.

House has been a teacher in the district since 1970 and has worked at Allen and Farrand elementary schools, as well as Tanger. She holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from Wayne State University. She was nominated for the award by many staff members and parents at Farrand.

A participant in school committees, House has served on the district's math and social studies committees, as well as the "I Care" committee. She is a member of the Farrand Building Management Team and she often helps plan the school's learning celebrations and other annual events. She also has worked in support of millage campaigns. "Mrs. House has had positive relationships with parents over the year," said Ann Kuhn, Farrand Elementary School principal. "She always has a number of volunteers and has supportive comments from parents.

Kuhn explained that every year, House asks students to write books about what they feel is important about themselves. House develops a book about herself as a model for the children. One of the items she always includes is "The most important thing about House is that she is a mother.'

House and her husband, Mel, live in Northville. They have one daughter named Mel-

"House is always learning," Kuhn said. "She attends many more district inservice sessions than she needs to meet contractual requirements. Over the years, she has continued to take university coursework in education.

The award was presented to House by Trustee Barbara Graham. Graham presented her with an "Extra Miler" certificate, a cloisonne pin of the Flag of Learning and Liberty and dining certificates for two donated by the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth.

Real estate sales tax draws fire from agents, local lawmakers

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

A 4 percent real estate sales tax may be the first casualty of Gov. John Engler's proposed school finance reform plan.

Suburban lawmakers don't like it, and real estate agents are strongly opposed.

"It's inequitable. It would be a burden on a small percentage of residents," said Owen Broock, president of the Michigan Association of Realtors.

We would support a reasonable increase in the income tax, a reasonable increase in the sales tax, or a combination of them,' said the president of Max Broock Realty in Bloomfield Hills. "This (transfer tax) focuses on a segment of the public. We support a broad-based tax.'

"I was on a radio talk show last week - you'd be surprised how many people listen at midnight," said Sen. David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield - "and most callers complained about the real estate transfer tax."

'Philosophically, I don't like said Rep. Deborah Whyman, R-Canton. "But he (Broock) hurt their cause by saying they'd ac-"cept an income tax increase."

Broock was leadoff witness We inesday as the House Taxation on, littee in the morning and Senate Finance Committee in the afternoon started hearings a day after receiving the bills that would implement the governor's plan to replace a net $6.3 billion local school property tax cut with $6 billion in state taxes.

'Volatile, regressive'

Of all the tax hikes Engler proposed Oct. 5 - sales tax, small single business tax, 16 mill business property tax, 16 mill tax on second homes, and 50-cents-apack on cigarettes - the real estate transfer tax so far has drawn the most fire. Broock gave the real estate industry's reasons:

"It's volatile. Home sales are cyclical. You (state government) risk a serious revenue shortfall," he said, noting that house sales dropped 50 percent in 1981-82, the bottom of the last recession. Treasury officials, he noted, already are modifying downward the proposal's revenue estimates from $700 million to less than $400,000.

"It reduces the seller's equity for reinvestment." Example: The owner of a $100,000 house may have only $20,000 equity and an $80,000 mortgage. A 4 percent tax would take $4,000 of his price, reducing his equity to $16,000.

"That's a 20 percent hit," he said. "It's regressive. It would weigh more on the lower and middle classes. Some people are forced to move through economic necessity - a job transfer, death of a spouse or divorce."

In the House committee, Rep. Michael Bennane, D-Detroit, asked if real estate agents won't reap a "windfall" through inflated real estate values with the elimination of the property tax.

"The 'windfall' goes to the homeowner, not the real estate industry," Broock replied.

In the House chamber afterwards, Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, said a real estate transfer tax would be almost as burdensome as the school property tax it would replace.

Take the same $100,000 house, assessed for $50,000, in a district with an average school tax rate of 35 mills. Its school property tax is $1,750. The real estate transfer tax would be $4,000 - the equivalent of nearly 21/2 years of school property taxes.

In a separate interview with managers of this newspaper, Thomas B. Ricketts, CEO of Standard Federal Bank, the region's biggest mortgage lender, opposed the real estate transfer tax for similar reasons.

Nevertheless, two lawmakers from the west side of the state defended Engler's proposal.

"Mayor (Richard) Daley of Chicago and the Wrigley family get a big break on their Michigan homes - on the backs of the income taxpayers of Michigan,' said Rep. Dale Shugars, R-Por-

"Where you don't have a lot of resort property, you have a lot of support for the income tax," said Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, who does have a lot of resort property in his Lake Michigan shoreline district. "Some 73 percent of Saugatuck is owned by out-ofstate money. Bill bans smoking in child care facilities

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Bills to ban smoking in all child care facilities are on their way to Gov. John Engler after a divided Senate last week approved the House bills.

Two dozen senators in both parties lined up in favor, while a dozen opposed the four bills.

"These would cover day care centers and homes and affect anyone handling infants and small children," said Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, a vocal anti-

The bills came from the House Public Health Committee cochaired by Rep. John Jamian, R-Bloomfield Township. Current state law places no restriction on smoking in child day care homes and allows smoking in child care centers with a smoking lounge.

The Observer/ Thursday, October 14, 1993

Lining up against one or more of the bills were Sens. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, and the Senate's two party leaders — Republican Dick Posthumus and Democrat Art Miller.

"When a neighbor might snitch on someone who is smoking a cigarette — how far are we going to go here?" said Miller, of Warren.

"You are listening to a person who has suffered serious health damage because I smoked."

"How far are we going to go when we go into someone's private home - even though it is a business during the day as a daycare center?" asked opponent Jim Berryman, D-Adrian, a nonsmoker. "We are saying that the individual (smoker) cannot even smoke at night unless the parents have given written permission that they may do so. "We don't say a damn thing about the boozer," objected Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph. "You can have beer in that house and he Plymouth Symphony Society will continue a longtime program offering tickets to people who wouldn't otherwise have access to the concerts.

The angel ticket program is simple: People who have tickets, but at the last minute can't make it to the concert donate them to people who would like to attend.

Some "angels" even send money to buy tickets for the program.

"I have a list of people who wouldn't otherwise buy the tickets," said Katharine Alberts, project coordinator

She usually only needs 24-hour notice before a

"It's better than having them go to waste," Alberts said, adding that she has 45 people who would like to receive tickets.

A single ticket costs $12.

There's no distinction between the regular tickets and "angel tickets," Alberts said, adding that "other people don't have to know that the receiver can't afford them.'

"In some cases, transportation can be provided for the receiver," Alberts said. "Sometimes, they will go to several people in a nursing home."

Anyone who would like to donate their tickets to the angel program can call Alberts at 453-1713 or send checks to 10106 Hillcrest Drive, Plymouth

Owner Melanie Jeong said she opened the children's consignment store because she was having a hard time finding top quality children's clothing at a reasonable price.

'Children outgrow clothing so quickly that it doesn't make sense to buy new clothing that can only be worn a couple of times," she said. "So I thought that there must be other parents that feel the same way.

Baby llama has a proud mama

■ While most of us are content with our dog or cats, a Canton couple has a new twist on four-legged friends — llamas. They have a new arrival that they'll soon be parading around.

By Joanne Maliszewski Staff Writer

Having baby llamas is a lot easier than having kittens as far as Kay Rowe is concerned. "They normally give birth without a lot of trouble," said Rowe, owner of the four-acre Timber Ridge farm on Ridge Road.

Rowe and her husband, Rich, are the proud new surrogate parents of a 19-pound llama named Prima Donna. The baby, called a cria, was born Friday sometime between 11:15 a.m. when Rowe left the house and 1:15 p.m. when she returned.

'We knew the due date. There really weren't a lot of signs except she was laying different," Rowe said.

Sure enough, the 111/2-month pregnant mother, named Precious, gave birth when no one was watching. The baby is white and brown. "Llamas come in a variety of colors. You just don't know what you're going to get," Rowe said.

The Rowes have another llama, a male named Bandit, who isn't the father. The Rowes bought Precious and Bandit in June from a farm in Irish Hills.

"Llamas are becoming very popular. They're booming," Rowe said.

Though the South American animals are often used as pack animals and their wool can be used for clothing, the Rowes bought the llamas as pets. "We take them for walks every night. They are very gentle animals," Rowe said.

BILL BRESLER/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Feeling proud: Kay Rowe is pleased to be taking care of the llamas.

Bandit was a bit curious while Precious and her baby were getting to know each other in the days following the birth. "He's going crazy. He wants to be in there with them," Rowe said.

Not long after Prima Donna was born, she was up on her feet. "She's running around now. We're so lucky it was a female," Rowe said, adding the females are prized.

But there's no rest for Precious. She's already on her way to another farm where she will be bred again. "The baby will go with her. Ten days after birth is the optimum time for breeding. We don't want the baby born in the winter," Rowe said.

If the Rowes end up with a certain number of llamas they might sell some. But for now, they — Kay is a musician and artist, Rich, a teacher — are happy just to have the animals as pets. They are a great addition to their other animals — chickens, rabbits, dogs and cats — that fill their family farm.

"They (llamas) are sweet, gentle animals and they hum. This is a lot easier than when my cat had kittens. I had to get in there and help family farm. her," Rowe said.

A Redford educator for the hearing impaired learned a great deal about her profession as well as her own feelings about freedom on a recent trip to Russia.

Sandy North, director of the county's regional program for the hearing impaired in Redford, recently returned from a two-week trip to Russia as part of an Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Hearing Impaired delega-

North, and the 53 others who were part of her group, were in a hotel across the street from the Russian White House when leader Boris Yeltsin announced he was dissolving Parliament.

The delegation returned home Sept. 26 just as conditions in Moscow were worsening, but North said she never felt she was in danger.

"Really it was such a small portion of the population involved. There are more than two million people living in Moscow and most of them were going about their normal business. We never felt democracy was really in jeopardy or that we were in danger.'

A tour guide for the group talked to North about her feel-

'She talked about watching Yeltsin speak that first day he was in power on the roof of the Parliament building, with the people standing between the tanks and the government building," North said. "It was their first glimpse of freedom and she couldn't say enough about the feelings of the people. She said the people would not stand for losing their freedom again.'

A profound impact

This conversation and the story unfolding outside the doors of her hotel made North feel she had underestimated the importance of the freedom she has in this country. "It really had a profound impact on me.

While this political action was taking place, North and the remainder of her delegation were busy learning about the Russians' work with the hearing impaired.

'I have to admit I went in with a bit of arrogance that we would be ahead of them, but when they announced that their program goes back more than 100 years and mine is only 35 years old, I took two steps back," North said.

In fact, when establishing programs for this country, leaders traveled to Russia to study their

North visited Moscow, St. Petersburg and Stavropol. At each stop she met with and observed teachers in centers for hearing impaired children.

The hearing-impaired programs in Russia are residential ones because of the unavailability of transportation, but North said they are a far cry from institutions which are sometimes still found in this country. The schools are warm, friendly places, and the students are given the best possible opportunities.

Arts are used

North was impressed with how the Russians incorporated the arts - music and dance - in the hearing-impaired students' curriculum. It was especially noted that a former Olympic gymnast was serving as a movement coach for the children. "I was impressed to find that hearing-impaired children were given the same opportunities as regular kids."

She also added that although the technology in Russia was not as prevalent as here, the children appeared to be slightly more advanced in the types of materials they were reading and the work they were doing. She attributed this to the notion that the Russians perhaps have higher expectations for the students.

A frequent traveler, North said she has never encountered a more hospitable group of people. Everywhere they went, she said she was greeted warmly and felt welcome.

North is now charged with continuing the relationship developed with the Russian educators through further partnerships. They hope to plan future trips and are even expecting the Russians to send a group here before the year is out.

"We hope to match up programs in Russia with ones here so that teachers might share materials and information," North said.

Sandy North

"We also hope to share technology by sending used hearing aids for their students' use."

Hearing aid donations should be directed to North at the Pearson Center in Redford.

North has also been asked to join in a research project with some of the educators she met on the trip.

The program for the hearing impaired is operated by the intermediate school district in 12 school districts and 87 school buildings, including the center administered by North in Redford Union School District.

North was just last week named as the recipient of the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Hearing Impaired 1993 Charter Award. Her name will appear on a plaque in the association's offices in Washington, D.C.

Session covers health topics

African-Americans are at high risk for hypertension, coronary artery disease, prostate cancer, breast cancer and other diseases. Participants will discover what they can do to prevent these diseases by attending a presentation at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 28, at the University of Michigan Health Center in Plymouth, at 9398 Lilley

Dr. Denege Ward, internal medicine physician at the Plymouth Health Center, will present the program. She will discuss the health status of the African-American community and give recommendations on disease prevention. Ward will also give insight on how you can obtain health care with limited resources.

Enrollment is limited. Pre-registration is requested by calling the center at 459-0820. A $5 fee is payable at the door.

Area lawmakers split on support for clean air bills

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Drivers in southeastern Michigan will detect little or no change in the vehicle inspection system as the nation moves to comply with the federal Clean Air Act.

The state House of Representatives last week passed two watered down I&M (for inspection and maintenance) bills. The House battle followed months of arguments and phone calls from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

"We are preparing to ask for redesignation from a nonattainment to an attainment area for ozone," said Drew Schmidt, a staff member in the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. "Meanwhile, the Legislature must supply contingency measures, and one must be an I & M program.

"It sure is in a state of flux," said E.J. Buss of the governmental affairs office in the Michigan Department of Transportation.

What bill does

Here is what House Bill 5016, the I&M bill covering southeastern Michigan, looks like as it heads to the state Senate:

Cost will be $11 for an enhanced vehicle emissions test compared to the current $10. (Earlier versions would have required a $30 test every two years.) ■ The program still applies just to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Unless EPA rules differ-ently, Livingston, Washtenaw, St.

Clair and Monroe counties will stay out.

You will go to your neighborhood service station annually. Earlier versions called for twoyear inspections at a handful of centralized stations - a provision fiercely opposed by service station

 People on Medicaid get their tests free.

 If your car or truck flunks, you will have to have repairs up to a $200 limit, depending on need. Current limit is $83.

Once you've spent the limit and your vehicle still fails, said MDOT's Buss, "you can get a waiver that says you really tried." Vehicles need a passing grade or a waiver before owners may purchase new registration plates.

A second bill, HB 4165, brings the western counties of Kent (Grand Rapids), Ottawa and Muskegon into an I & M program.

Western lawmakers blame their air pollution on winds from Chicago and the steel mills of Gary, Ind. "In western Michigan, motors will never be able to attain compliance because they can't control the pollution," com-plained Rep. Jessie Dalman, R-Holland.

MDOT's Buss said a Lake Michigan ozone study, due next April, will determine the truth of that hypothesis. Meanwhile, said Buss, "we have to enforce the (Clean Air) law as written.'

Southeastern Michigan's original goal was to reduce air pollutants 15 percent from 1990 levels by 1996. SEMCOG officials call it "a moving target" because each year traffic and emissions get

'Federal blackmail'

If the two regions fail to comply with EPA's latest interpretation of the Clean Air Act, the state could lose $500 million in federal highway aid and be ineligible for smokestack permits for new facto-

That's "federal blackmail," said Rep. Greg Kaza, R-Rochester

Kaza also objected to "the multi-million dollar taxpayer subsidy for welfare recipients who need car repairs.

Rep. Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, came within two votes of breaking the tiebar between the two bills. A tiebar is a section that says the southeastern Michigan bill doesn't become law unless the western Michigan bill also becomes law.

Commission sets hearing on tax levy

The Wayne County Commission will hold a public hearing from 10 a.m. to noon Friday on a proposed 0.241 mill (about onefourth mill) increase in operating tax millage to be levied in 1993.

The hearing will be in Room 402, 4th Floor, Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph Street, downtown Detroit.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from property taxes 3.25 percent. If the county does not approve the additional millage, the maximum permitted millage rate would generate an increase of 1.29 percent compared to the 1992 levy.

School activities

Common sense needed

he playing fields at Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools are busy this fall. The band is playing on, and the sidelines are busy with the sounds of cheerleaders.

Sports, band and other after-school activities are alive and well for another year at Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools. The reason: Parents and kids.

The contributions made by coaches, band directors, students and parents were celebrated last week at a pep rally sponsored by the Coalition of Booster Parents. It was good to see the football team, cross-country runners, golfers and band members from the two high schools celebrating instead of sitting idle.

That could not have happened if a pay-toplay program hadn't been instituted after voters rejected a 4-mill property tax increase Aug. 17.

The challenge to schools, parents and students is keeping sports and after-school activities going in the future without using pay-toplay and without shorting the academic side.

After-school activities account for only about $800,000 of the district's $77 million budget. However, they were the first to go under the budget ax that fell after the June and then August voter rejection of the 4 mill proposal.

Those activities could take a whack again next year. Plymouth Canton schools won't be able to ask for additional local millage if Gov. John Engler's plan is put in place. That means the schools will have to run whatever program it | not on par with academics.

■ Also, the value of sports and activities are being oversold in the Plymouth Canton community by people who refer to them as co-curricular activities. It's an attempt to have those activities seen as being on par with math, science and English. They aren't.

can, with the money available.

To us that means taking a realistic look at the level of spending on sports and activities. There are limits. The number of teams and participants could be cut to ensure that those activities survive.

Also, the value of sports and activities are being oversold in the Plymouth Canton community by people who refer to them as co-curricular activities. It's an attempt to have those activities seen as being on par with math, science and English. They aren't.

Sports, music, stage productions and club activities are good programs, but they aren't what students are in school for.

It's time for the Plymouth Canton community to determine how much value will be placed on school activities and how much will be spent. Such activities are valuable, but they are

The U.S. embargo has failed in its basic mission — to bring home POWs.

It has only been successful in causing untold suffering among millions of Vietnamese, mostly children who are unable to receive the most basic of health care or even enough food to eat. Approximately 50 percent of children in Vietnam suffer from malnutrition.

Seventy percent of the entire population is infected with malaria, which can lie dormant for years but can strike at any time. In Vietnam, the onset of a malaria attack often means death.

The U.S. embargo has included prohibitions on the sale of medical supplies and badly needed drugs. The country's population has nearly doubled since 1975, yet its ability to deal with that burgeoning population has been crippled because of our foreign policy.

Kids cry foul

e are very disappointed and angry at our local newspaper, The Observer, to see such poor coverage of the Plymouth Salem High School homecoming which the football players won 21-0 against North Farmington. On the same page, the coverage of a Canton loss was covered with 21 large paragraphs versus six tiny paragraphs of the Salem homecoming win. The Ann Arbor News had more coverage, which was 12 paragraphs, of this event than our local newspaper.

You can imagine how the Canton football team feels reading 21 paragraphs on a devastating loss. Salem played such a great homecoming game and we feel this would be more positive news that the community should and would want to read. Along with the no vote endorsement for the millage, this is another example of poor coverage and journalism against the children of this community. Thanks, Observer.

Political signs

find it distressing that several city commission candidates have chosen to "uglify" the landscape with their political signs. Are they so unsure of their background that they must drumbeat their names into the minds of the voters?

I hope the citizens of Plymouth will give first choice to those who value the attractiveness of the community and work for their election.

Bill Baumgartner, Plymouth

No littering

special and resounding thank you to each of the candidates for Plymouth City Commission who agreed not to litter our landscape with his or her political signs. Is there a message here? What cost name recognition? And, recognized for what?

Health report puzzling

ary Rodrique's glowing report of Canada's health system leaves me puzzled in light of the following:

In May I tuned in to Channel 9 news and saw a report on women with breast cancer in Toronto. Women in the Toronto area who developed breast cancer have to go to Thunder Bay or another city whose name I didn't catch. The reason? Toronto doesn't have the equipment to treat any more women and won't have that equipment for TWO MORE YEARS!

I recently saw a newspaper report that said 50 percent of people in Buffalo hospitals for elective surgery are Canadians.

Then I read in Detroit papers that no bypass surgery is done in Windsor - you have to go 157 miles for that. There seems to be a waiting list, usually months long, for most so-called 'elective surgery," and "elective" seems to mean anything from bunions to bypass surgery. Canada is rationing their health care more and more as costs skyrocket.

It is very telling when Canadian politicians come to the U.S. for health treatment. Their actions seem to indicate they find Canada's health care lacking.

Canadians can escape to the U.S. for treatment when they feel Canada's care is failing them. Where will Americans escape to if we adopt the Canadian system?

POINTS OF VIEW

Education conservatives wear 'free market' mask

ohn Engler gets his school "reform" doctrine from the Mackinac Center for Public Policy, Midland. President Lawrence Reed describes its approach as "free market" rather than conservative or right wing.

Engler's Oct. 5 address to the Michigan Legislature uses much Mackinac Center verbiage. Both describe public schools as a "Berlin Wall" and "monopoly." They favor "choice" and "charter schools."

Mackinac Center is connected to a group called Teach Michigan Education Fund. The latter's president, Dr. Paul DeWeese, is on Mackinac Center's board of contributors.

Until recently, Teach Michigan was gung ho for a voucher system under which the state would pay every kid's parents a check to spend at any school — public, proprietary or church related.

Vouchers, of course, are specifically prohibited by the Michigan Constitution (Art. VIII Sec. 2). Moreover, our state constitution prohibits state "support of any minister of the gospel or teacher of religion" (Art. I Sec. 4).

To do a voucher system in Michigan would involve massive constitutional amendments. Mackinac Center, Teach Michigan and Engler didn't want to take on that chore. They'd never get the votes. The "parochiaid" referendum in the early 1970s demonstrated that Instead, Engler's message is a back door approach to parochiaid and vouchers for private schools. They call it "charter schools." A school district issues a charter to a private group to run a school within the district's borders.

To sell it, Mackinac Center, Teach Michigan and Engler, with a willing assist from Pat Robertson's fundamentalists, have launched a savage attack on public education. Engler used not only "Berlin Wall" but "gulag" and "company store" to describe public schools

TIM RICHARD

Take Mackinac Center's 1991 volume, "Educational Choice for Michigan." Co-authors Reed and Lawrence Hutchinson blister public schools for turning out functional illiterates. They bash falling test scores from 1965 to 1980 (they rose from 1981 to 1985).

They cite the National Geographic Society's finding that young Americans have "an astonishing lack of awareness of the world around them." They say kids don't know math, science and ther basics.

Mackinac Center identifies four factors separating good schools from bad:

■ Student aptitude — worth 1.5 years of achievement.

School organization — worth one year.

Family background — one year.

Peer group influence — a half year...
At this point, the voucher gang —
let's scrap this "charter" sugarcoating
— makes an enormous leap in logic:
Kids aren't learning, therefore we must change the way schools are organized.

The key sentence:
"Private schools, almost regardless of their circumstances, tend to be free from excessive central controls by administrators, boards and unions. The main reason appears to be market com-

Yippee! Just put the free market to work and presto! Kids will learn math and geography and other good things. Simply implement charter schools with no unions and no bureaucratic certification rules that would keep Lee lacocca from teaching, and everything will be hunky dory.

be hunky dory.

Sure, I've boiled down 89 pages of ideology and half of Engler's speech into a few paragraphs, but I have tried to do it honestly.

No sale. A slavish devotion to free market ideology won't turn bad schools

No sale. A slavish devotion to free market ideology won't turn bad schools into good. Adoring the tin god of Competition won't teach kids about theorems, valence charts and continental drift.

Rather, the voucher gang seems to be assuming what it set out to prove — that private schools deserve public money — and it's maligning public schools in the process.

We elected Engler as a conservative, but we inaugurated an ideological hard liner.

Columnist's ideas on education are on the 'fishy' side

o what if "I wasn't sitting in an Upper Peninsula bar with visions of brook trout rising to a dry fly and sipping on something much wetter."

Rather, I spent part of the last few days of my vacation on my feet, unpacking boxes and cupboards in the 95-degree heat of a cinder-block classroom, thinking about "bigger fish to fry." Feeling like I was getting a little "grilled" myself (most schools aren't air-conditioned), I decided to "sip on something wet" also, a glass of warm water from the rusty pipes.

And just like you, Mr. Counts, my conversation with the teacher next door was about "trout" — my very own "school of fish" — all 30-plus of them — who would be sitting here "wiggling" next week, waiting for some direction from the big "Mahi Mahi." But the teacher next door wanted to talk about the "Big Boss" — er, Big Brass; you know, those "local superintendents who walk around in three-piece suits, make $50,000 a year, and won't teach a class."

In two editorials, "School Compromise" and "Folks Who Just Don't Get It," Mr. Counts complained about "the administration and board playing hardball... blaming Lansing for the district's woes," and said, "They just don't seem to get the message that the community didn't want a 4-mill property tax increase on the ballot again."

Maybe I "just don't get it," but it seems that a pep rally was held, and thousands of signatures were presented to the superintendent and the school board. When they agreed to put it back before the voters, you "carped" about them doing so — saying "they just don't get it."

I "just don't get it," why Roland
Thomas and other school board members and Superintendent Mike Hoben continue to work so hard to resolve school issues in the crowded "fishtank" that education has become, what with the "piranhas" from Lansing, and the public waiting to take a bite out of them at every turn. Do you suppose they just might care?
I "just don't get it" when Mr. Counts says, "Lansing has nothing to do with the mess the school board has made GUEST COLUMNIST

out of the district." Read some other newspapers, Mr. Counts. Every school district in this state is bracing themselves for the year ahead. The Free Press reports "questions and unknowns about school financing have complicated virtually every aspect of this school year. . . (Aug. 27, 1993).

When John Engler and other legislators "reeled" in funding for public schools "just for the hal-i-but," all school "fishtanks" sprang sizable "leaks." And this year's budget from the state to every school district is still tied up in Lansing, so local officials have no idea what they're working with for the 1993-94 school year.

And you don't think "something fishy" is going on in Lansing.

A few weeks ago, when you ran a photo on the front page of the Observer showing children looking dejectedly into their new school which will not open, you should have placed those same words — "I Just Don't Get It" — over the photo.

I wonder if anyone said to M. Peter McPherson, the newly announced president of Michigan State University, "I just don't get it." Didn't anyone tell him that he would have to take a pay cut (and a sizable one at that) in order to enter the field of education? Public school secretaries, custodians, and educators have never made what their counterparts make in the private sector.

And your opening line about "the superintendent of the small district in the Upper Peninsula, walking around wearing a blue three-piece suit, making $50,000 a year and (who) won't teach a class" — maybe he or she wants to look professional. Then again, maybe he or she was on the way to a second job — perhaps selling real estate or selling clothing in a retail outlet to "make ends meet." And which executive at Ford Motor Co. or General Motors works "on the line," or "down in the trenches" as you would like school superintendents to do?

I "just don't get it" — isn't that what the people of ancient Troy said one morning, when they awoke to find a stately wooden horse within the walls of their fortified city? We all "know the rest of that story."

Let's just hope that the people of Plymouth-Canton and other school districts throughout our state don't awake to find a "gift horse" from the state of Michigan in our midst. If so, we had better take care when we open our present, or we could be saying — "Holy Mackerel."

Keep students in mind as reason for school change

emember the old story about the guy who was so busy stomping alligators that he forgot the reason he was there was to drain the swamp?

We will make the same mistake, if we forget the reason for the intense debate over school financing is to improve the quality of education we give our kids.

Every special interest in Michigan — small business, big business, property owners, second-home owners, senior citizens, teachers' unions — has come out in full cry this week after Gov. John Engler presented his message on education to a special session of the state Legislature.

Most comment so far has been self-interested. The message: "Don't tax him. Don't tax me. Tax that fellow behind the tree!"

Fine. There will be plenty of time to debate tax policy. But we need to keep firmly fixed on the main outcome: what our kids learn and how they're prepared for the world of work.

It's here that Engler's message deserves the most praise and the most scrutiny.

To my mind, he gets full marks for his proposed report card for every school building. Including such information as test scores, staff-to-pupil ratios, salary levels and percent of budget devoted to actual education, the report card idea offers parents essential information. It shouldn't get lost in the shuffle.

Nor should the governor's proposals to "reform" — by elimination, I suspect — the State Board of Education. For years, some members of the board have meddled, playing patron and micro-manager to various parts of the Department of Education. That's bad.

Worse, the board's power to select the superintendent of public instruction obscures responsibility and dilutes accountability. Let the superintendent be nominated by the governor and confirmed by the Legislature. And if the governor's appointee screws up the schools, blame the governor.

The part of Engler's plan that merits the most careful examination is his passionate belief that education will be improved by providing each child with a portable "foundation grant" and parents with the ability to move their children to better schools.

I'm of two minds about this.

PHILIP POWER

Every special interest in Michigan — small business, big business, property owners, secondhome owners, senior citizens, teachers' unions — has come out in full cry this week after Gov. John Engler presented his message on education to a special session of the state Legislature.

Certainly, monopolies do not serve customers well, whether in business or in public services such as schools. Turning kids into customers by allowing them to take their money with them when they choose to attend a different school makes a whole lot of sense in theory.

But will it in practice? I wonder whether this portion of the governor's plan, so ideologically charged, will wind up affecting only a couple of thousand kids.

What may prove more fruitful is the idea of "charter schools" — schools started by any public body to meet a particular need. Imagine one at a Ford-UAW skills center for kids to learn high-tech manufacturing or one emphasizing history at Greenfield Village. Schools for kids with discipline problems have already gotten much support.

In any event, the schools as we know them in Michigan are certain to change. The key is to keep pushing to make that change for better education, not just better economics.

Park walk program heats up for fall, winter

The Wayne County Park System has announced its October to December Walk Michigan events.

Walk Michigan is a fitness program organized to promote good health. Walkers of all ages have the opportunity to participate in the walk, which is sponsored by their local recreation departments.

Upcoming area events are: ■ Noon Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Holliday Nature Preserve in Westland.

- 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 30, at Nankin Mills in Westland.
- Noon Saturday, Nov. 6, at Holliday.
- 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 11, at Warrendale.
- 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at Warrendale.
- 3 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 2, at Warrendale.
- 3 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, at Warrendale.

■ 1 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 12, at Holliday.

One of the most practical forms of cardiovascular exercise, walking reduces blood pressure, conditions the heart and lungs, improves oxygen consumption, burns calories and strengthens muscles and bones.

For each sanctioned Walk Michigan event, participants can register to win a trip for two to Mackinac Island and the annual bridge walk on Labor Day. Livonia resident Lucille Thielen and Stuart Adams of Westland represented Wayne County last month at Mackinac.

Other area residents who traveled to Mackinac Island and the 1993 Labor Day Bridge Walk as part of the Walk Michigan group were Phyllis and George LeFevre of Livonia, Eleanor and Robert Mullins of Garden City, Ingeborg and Joseph Albolov of Detroit, Peter Thielen of Livonia, Shirley Adams of Westland, and Joan and Everett Mullins of Garden

Also in the group were Wayne County Park System recreation manager Anastasia "Tessie" Pitses and her husband Chris of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Between August 1992 and July 1993 Wayne County Park System offered 54 Walk Michigan events with 712 walkers strolling more than 1,423½ miles.

For more information on the walking program, call 261-1990.

Holiday mail sought for military

Each year, thousands of men and women serving in the U.S. armed forces have to spend the holiday season away from their family and friends.

As an ongoing program to bring holiday cheer to military men and women stationed abroad, local students, organizations, retirement homes, etc. are being asked to write notes to "Mail for Our Military."

The letters and cards directed to members of the armed forces will be collected and then divided and sent to units, bases and support services around the world.

Many service people have expressed gratitude for the letters and have even taken time to write back

Last year, Mable Burgess of Canton Township was recognized for sending more letters than any other single person in the U.S. as part of the program.

Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary Unit 114 of Livonia and Amvets Auxiliary Post 171 of Westland were recognized for their top performance during the last holiday season.

To learn more about the program, send a first-class stamp to Mail For Our Military, P.O. Box 997, Fort Knox, Ky. 40121-0997.

Groups can tour parade company

The inner-workings of the Detroit Thanksgiving Day Parade will be open for examination by interested groups and organizations.

Tours of the Parade Company warehouses will offer visitors insight into the incredible amounts of preparation that go into organizing this one-day event.

Groups of 25 or more will have the opportunity to look up-close at many of the floats built in the warehouse for the parade. Craftsmen and artists involved in designing the floats will be available to answer questions.

Visitors will even have an opportunity to try on one of the papier mache character heads that were made in Italy for the Carnevale D'Italia and then passed along for use in the parade.

The sewing room will also be open so that visitors might have the chance to watch seamsters as they create the hundreds of costumes that are worn in the parade.

Tours of the Parade Company are available from Detroit Upbeat to groups of 25 or more, Monday through Friday with some Saturday times available through November. No tours are available Nov. 17 through Nov. 28. Tours last one hour and are $7 per person. Student groups, scouts and seniors may be admitted for $5 each. For more information, call 341-6810.

Canton girls sweep invitational honors

Plymouth Canton looks rather invincible in girls cross country these days. The Chiefs ranked No. 1 in Class A and have won every invitational they have entered

The Plymouth Canton girls cross country team achieved one of its preseason goals Saturday with a firstplace finish in the Ypsilanti Early-Bird Invitational.

It was the sixth consecutive invitational victory for the No. 1-ranked Class A Chiefs, who made it their goal to win all of them.

Canton scored 35 points to win the meet for the first time. Brighton had 73, Monroe 89, Ann Arbor Huron 94, Dearborn Edsel Ford 106, Toledo Whitmer 156, Livonia Stevenson 174, Belleville 238, Adrian 255 and

Temperance Bedford 258. "Four other teams rated in the state were there, and it was an absolute must for us to win that meet," Canton coach George Przygodski

"We wanted everybody to realize we're an established team in the state. We set out to do a little proving."

The Chiefs placed five runners among the top 12, and little more than a minute separated them.

Lana Boroditsch was second (20:21), Kathleen Landelius fourth (20:43), Laura McWilliams eighth (21:00), Becky Wolfrom ninth (21:06) and Beth Knight 12th (21:22). Tracey Cavin was 40th (22:56) and Meghan Barresi 43rd (23:00). Stevenson's Bridget MacKinnon was the individual winner at 20:17.

"It was definitely our best race of the year," Przygodski said. "Under the conditions we ran (40 degrees and raining), you have to throw the times away and just race. Our kids were extremely competitive.

"Kathleen has been establishing herself as a fine No. 2 runner, and Laura also has been coming on strong. Lana has been running well out front, and the two freshmen (Wolfrom and Knight) are gaining race experience and becoming better and better runners.'

Canton boys 6th

The Chiefs finished sixth in the boys race behind champion Monroe, Brighton, Bedford, Warren DeLaSalle and Huron.

"It was a good meet in terms of the quality of teams that were there.' Canton coach Mike Spitz said. "We scored 20 fewer points than we did last year, but we slipped two spots. So that tells you about the quality of teams.

The Chiefs were led by Todd Smith, who was 18th in 17:42. Casey Moothart was 23rd (17:54), Matt Demey 24th (17:54), Jeff Keith 33rd (18:01) and Brian Crocket 38th

CC wins division

Redford Catholic Central clinched its 15th-straight Catholic League Central Division championship Monday with a 25-30 victory over Warren DeLaSalle at Cass Benton Park.

The Shamrocks are 5-0 overall, 4-0 in the Central Division. They have not lost a Central Division dual meet

CC ran without Mark Leo, who coach Tony Magni is hoping to save for Saturday's Sturgis Invitational.

Canton's Stibel rising star among American gymnasts

BY DAN O'MEARA STAFF WRITER

When former Olympic gymnasts perform at The Palace this weekend, Doug Stibel of Canton will be there to share the stage with them.

As one of the top young gymnasts in the country, the Plymouth Canton High School senior is certainly a possible future

Stibel, the only junior elitelevel gymnast in Michigan, recently placed fourth in national competition and made the U.S. Junior Olympic National team. He was one of two local gymnasts from Conrad's Gymnastics Academy in Farmington Hills invited to participate in the touring show, which visits The Palace at 2 p.m. Sunday. Ticket prices are $22.50 or $12.50.

Stibel will perform his specialty the high bar - on which he won the gold medal Aug. 25-29 at the USA Gymnastics Championships in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"I've competed at big meets, but I don't think I've competed in front of as many people as will be at The Palace," Stibel said. "Usually, I try to block out the audience and concentrate on what I'm doing. It's like they're not even there.

The former Olympic stars who will be appearing include Vitali Sherbo, who won six gold medals in 1992 for the Unified Team;

Doug Stibel

Mary Lou Retton, the star of the '84 Los Angeles Olympics; Kurt Thomas, a former two-time world champ and three-time U.S. champ; and Shannon Miller, a member of the U.S. women's world championship team in '93.

Stibel, who spent last week at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, also earned a bronze medal on the parallel bars and finished fourth in the allaround competition in Salt Lake

He was one of 12 junior elites from across the nation to qualify for the Utah meet. The top seven made the Junior Olympic team.

'The meet went real well," Stibel said. "I hit 10 sets (routines) out of 12, which is really good. Mentally, it was the best meet of my life. I was prepared for it, to go out and do my routines. I was just

The 18-year-old Stibel, who has a higher skill level than many college gymnasts, has been training and competing for 131/2 years.

Stibel, who hopes to make the Senior National team next year, made the rare jump from Class II gymnast to elite three years ago, skipping Class I altogether.

There wasn't enough competition in Class II, but it wasn't always about winning," he said. "Most of it was for personal achievement.

"I don't measure (his own skill) on what everybody else does. I measure it on what I do. Each year I want to achieve a higher level. I want to get better.

Though he has been at the elite level for several years, Stibel has to keep upgrading his skills and routines since the scoring system keeps getting more difficult.

'This year they revised the code of points - a book of all the skills that have been done," Stibel said. "Each year you have to do a higher level of gymnastics to get the same score.'

Stibel hopes to earn a college scholarship and would like to perform for one of the nation's top programs, either the University of

Walos paces Catholic Central victory

Rich Walos continues to carry the scoring load for state-ranked Redford Catholic Central's boys soccer team.

The senior All-Area forward had three goals Monday, including a penalty shot, as the No. 9 Shamrocks (9-2-3 overall) downed host Mount Clemens Chippeway Valley, 3-1.

Walos now has 14 goals and 12 assists on the season.

Dan Mulvihill and Adam Borchert drew assists in the nonleague win.

Matt McGivney was the win-

Ocelots swamp Lakeland, 8-1

In other words, Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team had some, but not a lot, of difficulty handling Region 12 foe Lakeland CC Saturday. The Ocelots wore down the home team in the second half, scoring seven times in an 8-1 triumph.

Last Wednesday (Oct. 6), SC blanked non-region foe University of Toledo 5-0 at SC.

The two wins raised the record of the NJCAA's seventh-ranked Ocelots to 12-0-1 overall, 7-0 in the region going into Wednesday's match against the only team with a chance at preventing their capturing a region title - Macomb CC.

SC coach Van Dimitriou was impressed with Lakeland's performance, but still thought his team should have put the game away earlier. "(Lakeland) has good personnel, they just don't have the staying power,' said Dimitriou. "And we were relentless going after them.

"Plus we missed some opportunities (in the first half) when we just didn't finish properly. But it was inevitable, really. We got it in gear a little bit later. Midfielder Andy Cosenza accounted for the only goal in the first half, and it came just five minutes before the break. Fadi Bazzi assisted.

The second half was entirely different. The Ocelots put five goals in the Lakeland net in the first 20 minutes of the half. Bazzi scored three of them; the first two came after SC shots were deflected by Lakeland defenders. Bazzi finished a Cosenza shot in the 52nd minute and a Tim Lampi shot in the 57th minute.

Lampi took a Matt Lee pass and scored in the 63rd minute, and Bazzi made it 5-0 in the 65th minute on a cross from Armando Andoni. Vince Troiani scored in the 70th minute, and Matt Lividini drilled in two goals in a two-minute span (assists by Craig Hauswirth and Troiani) to complete SC's scoring.

Lakeland's only goal came on a penalty kick with two minutes remaining, awarded after SC sweeper Billy Joker dragged down Lakeland's Paul Robb. Maro Gorgio converted the shot.

In the win over Toledo Oct. 6. the Ocelots scored twice in the first seven minutes, then lost their intensity. Bazzi scored at the five-minute mark on a cross from Troiani and Lividini got the second two minutes later following a steal.

After a halftime talk, the Ocelots recaptured their focus and scored three times. Troiani got the first with an assist from Adam Carriere in the 50th minute: Bill Binkiewicz made it 4-0 in the 83rd minute; and Hauswirth got the final goal in the 85th minute. Joe Perron assisted on the last two goals. Matt Stabile and Gordie Collins split time in goal for the shutout.

Stover ready for big game

Game of the week. Last Saturday, everyone in the state would have stuck that tag on the college football contest in East Lansing

But that was a game without serious ramifications. Really. Both Michigan and Michigan State will end up in a bowl game, somewhere. But neither can win an NCAA title.

This Saturday's tussle - that's something else again. This game could indeed decide an NCAA championship.

It will take place in Big Rapids, and it will pit schools whose smaller-scale rivalry has become as heated in the past decade as U-M vs. MSU.

Ferris State, 5-0-1 overall, hosts 4-1-1 Grand Valley State. Both teams are 4-0-1 in the Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference; Ferris is ranked 10th in the NCAA II, Grand Valley is 12th.

FOOTBALL

The winner will have the inside track toward an NCAA II playoff berth. Ferris is third and Grand Valley fourth in the Northeast Region poll.

"I keep thinking about it," said Eric Stover, a Westland John Glenn graduate who will be in a pivotal position come Saturday quarterbacking for Grand Valley. 'Anything I do, this comes to mind. It's going to be a big game. People come up to you that you don't even know and ask you

"This game can make or break us. If we don't win, we'll have to win every game and hope they

Not an enviable position. But even though Ferris State - which qualified for the NCAA II playoffs last year thanks in great part to a shocking 23-0 whitewash of the home field advantage, it won't mean much.

Last year's upset by the Bulldogs wasn't the first in the series. Indeed, the last time Ferris cashed in on its home field advantage against Grand Valley was

Knowing that is a boon to Stover, a junior who spent two years as the starting quarterback at Grand Rapids Junior College before enrolling at Grand Valley in January. "I think it will help some," he said. "We'll go in there and know what we have to do . . . we just have to play smart. Ferris has that regular-season win streak to think about.

"I think there's more pressure on them. Stover has been dealing with pressure throughout his athletic career, from Glenn's regional final loss to Birmingham Brother Rice in 1990 to his NJCAA bowl games with Grand Rapids. It's been no different at Grand Valley; Stover did not win the starting quarterback job initially. It wasn't until the third game at Northwood University that he took over.

The change has worked wonders. The Lakers are 3-0-1 under Stover's guidance, and he leads the MIFC in passing efficiency. Stover has completed 54 of 108 passes (50 percent) for 808 yards, with nine touchdowns and six interceptions.

Still, he's far from satisfied. He figures he'll have to do better Saturday to beat Ferris. "We're going to have to play smart," Stover said. "We'll have to control the ball and keep their offense off the

'For me, personally, I'm going to have to lead the offense because it all starts with the quarterback. That's what coach (Brian Kelly) has been getting on me about - make good decisions.

VOLLEYBALL

Van Deusen makes it 3-straight Crusaders as player of the week

It was that kind of week

Nothing out of the ordinary. Madonna University's volleyball team won all of its matches and moved up in the NAIA's national rankings, and a Fighting Crusader collected top honors as District 23 player of the week - again.

This time it was Kari Van Deusen who cashed in. The 6foot-1 senior middle hitter from Waterford Mott and Schoolcraft College collected 55 kills (with a .465 kill percentage) and 51 digs in 11 games for Madonna, averaging five kills and 4.6 digs per game. She also had seven solo blocks and 28 block assists, with five service aces and a 92.5 serve percentage.

Van Deusen was the third Crusader in a row to be named district player of the week. Julie Martin, a freshman middle hitter from Livonia Stevenson, was the first; Mazie Pilut, a senior setter from Redford Bishop Borgess,

Madonna started the week with a win over non-district foe Northwood University. After that came bor Thursday, then another district win at Tri-State University, 15-10, 15-6, 12-15, 15-4, last Fri-

Martin's 14 kills (.465) led the Crusaders against Tri-State. Mo Paulin (Livonia/Farmington Hills Mercy) had 11 (.333), Van Deusen 10 (.303) and Marci Laurencelle seven (.350). Pilut had 29 assists to kills in three games (9.7 per game); Laura Fisher (Wayne Memorial) had 10 assists.

Paulin's 15 digs led the defense; Van Deusen and Julie Wood (Schoolcraft) had 14 apiece.

The win over Tri-State was Madonna's fourth-straight against district competition. The Crusaders were ranked fourth in the NAIA in the latest poll, released Monday.

Henry Ford CC rips struggling Ocelots

The skid continues for Schoolcraft College's volleyball team.

The Lady Ocelots, forced to forfeit eight match wins earlier this season for using an ineligible player, have not been able to right themselves since. They traveled to the Jefferson College Tournament in Hillsboro, Mo., last weekend and lost their first three matches before rallying to win their final four.

Did that provide the Ocelots with any momentum? Not really on Tuesday, they traveled to Eastern Conference rival Henry Ford CC and performed listlessly in a 15-17, 15-9, 15-11, 15-11 loss. SC is now 9-17 overall, 2-4 in the conference.

"It's not good," admitted SC coach Tom Teeters. "It's still not the right lineup. We don't have enough attack from the outside.

'We just didn't have that much offense (against Henry Ford). If we had more of an offense, I think we would have been more inspired."

Danielle Sheehy and Kristen Barnes were the only effective offensive weapons for SC against

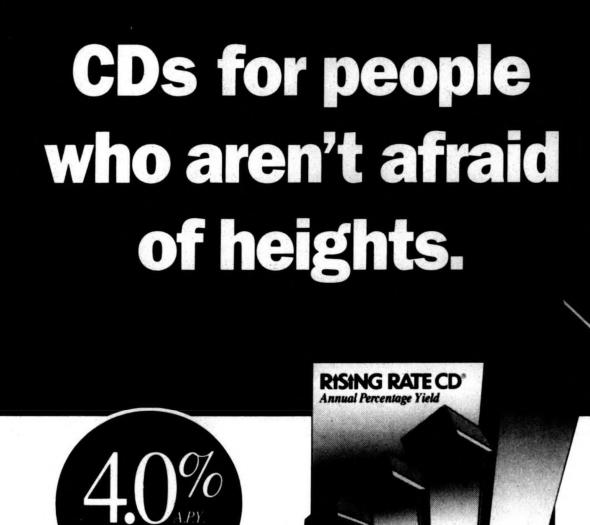

SCHOOLCRAFT

Henry Ford. Sheehy had 16 kills (.277 kill average) and six block assists; Barnes finished with 13 kills (.128). Danielle Pfeffer totaled 30 assists to kills and had 13 kills (.181), and Shannon Capstick had 17 digs.

At the eight-team Jefferson College Tournament, SC started abysmally, losing all three of its matches Friday. Southwestern Michigan College (Dowagiac) ripped the Ocelots 15-4, 15-2, in both teams' opener; Barton County CC (Great Bend, Kan.) followed with a 16-14, 15-7 triumph; and host Jefferson finished a poor day for SC with a 10-15, 15-6, 15-13 victory.

Saturday was better for the Ocelots. They topped Johnson County CC (Overland Park, Kan.) 15-7, 15-8; Illinois Central College (East Peoria) 15-8, 7-15, 15-10; Miami-Dade South 15-8, 15-4; and Lake Michigan 15-2, 15-7.

Saturday's four wins allowed SC to salvage fourth place and a 4-3 tournament record.

Hawks achieve win over Rocks

Farmington Hills Harrison pulled off one of its bigger wins of the season Tuesday by defeating visiting Plymouth Salem 38-30.

"This is the first time we beat Salem since . . . I'm not sure if we ever beat them," Harrison coach Pete Mantyla said. "This was a big accomplishment for us and a big league win."

Things looked easy for the Hawks early as they took an 11-2 lead into the second quarter and extended the margin to 22-10 at halftime. But the Rocks blanked Harrison in the third 7-0.

"Salem had a great defensive quarter and shut us down," Mantyla said. "We had our opportunities to score. It was just a tough and physical game."

The Rocks closed the gap to two twice in the fourth, but Harrison was able to hold on to the lead thanks to the free throw shoting of senior Amanda Ault, who was 6-for-6 at the line.

"As a team, we were 12-for-21 at the line in the fourth (14-for-30 total) but Mo (Ault) made some big ones," Mantyla said.

The Hawks were led by senior Carey Perkins, who scored a game-high 17 points. Ault added eight points and Krista Snow ripped down 11 rebounds for Harrison, 8-4 overall and 4-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Associ-

"We struggled offensively tonight," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "But Harrison played well and they earned the win.

Kelly Lukasik and Karen Gundry scored eight points each for the Rocks (5-7 overall and 3-3 in the WLAA). Salem was only 2for-2 at the free throw line.

ECANTON 67, FARMINGTON 18: The Chiefs, the No. 4 team in Class A, opened an 18-5 lead in the first quarter Tuesday and coasted to their 11th victory in 12 games.

"As crazy as this sounds, I thought we played very well in the first four minutes," Farmington coach John Verdura said. "The score was 8-5 and all of a sudden they cranked it up a notch defensively and had a 10-0 spurt.

"From that point on, they were the Dream Team and we were Croatia. They're an awfully good basketball team. They do all the things you'd want your team to do.'

Britta Anderson had 17 points and seven rebounds to lead Canton, which is 6-0 in the WLAA. Erica Anderson added nine points and six rebounds, Amicie Crayton eight points.

Amanda Porter scored seven points and Andrea Salyer five for the Falcons, 0-6 and 3-9.

33: Plymouth Agape Christian survived a fourth-quarter rally by visiting West Highland Christian and avenged an earlier loss Mon-

Agape led 18-13 at halftime and 27-21 after three quarters before being outscored 12-8 in the finale. West Highland, which won the first meeting 46-42, never had the lead. Both teams are 5-1 in the Metro

Christian Conference. Sophomore Gretchen Baisch scored 12 points and senior Teraneh Baisch six for Agape, 7-2

ROEPER 47, PLY. CHRISTIAN 37: Bloomfield Hills Roeper outscored Plymouth Christian 11-0 in the first quarter, and the host Eagles never recovered Tuesday at Fairlane Christian.

PCA outscored the Roughriders 37-36, in the last three periods but couldn't overcome the early deficit. PCA got as close as 36-30 with three minutes left.

The Eagles are 2-5 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference and 4-8 overall.

* Karin Reed scored 13 points and Nancy Kobernik 12 for the Eagles. Reed also had four assists.

Sarah Lukkides netted a gamehigh 20 points for Roeper (9-2), which included making 10 of 12 free throws.

The high school football season is two-thirds complete, which means some teams are beginning to think about championship games and possible post-season

For the sixth time in nine years, two familiar foes - Westland John Glenn and Farmington Harrison - will meet next week to decide the Western Lakes Activities Association title.

With Birmingham Brother Rice out of the way, Redford Catholic Central is the favorite to win the Catholic League Central Division again. Garden City and Wayne Memorial hope to gain a share of their respective Mega Conference division honors.

As for the playoffs, Glenn, Harrison and CC are the best bets. Livonia Stevenson (with only one loss) is a strong possibility, and Redford Thurston, Garden City and Wayne - each with two losses - still have a chance.

In the prediction contest, it looks as if Dan O'Meara has little chance of catching Brad Emons, who was 13-2 last week and is 73-16 overall. O'Meara went 12-3 and slipped to 67-22.

FRIDAY GAMES (all times 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

W.L. Central at Liv. Stevenson: The Vikings (1-3, 3-3) rebounded from their loss to Farmington with a big win over North Farmington. But can they hang with the surprising Spartans? Stevenson (3-1, 5-1) needs a win to guarantee second place in the Lakes Division and keep its playoff chances afloat. PICK: Good things keep happening for these Spartans, too.

Farmington at Ply. Salem: The host Rocks (2-2, 3-3) were the latest team to receive a beating from mighty John Glenn but can move above .500 with a win this week. Salem is having a good year, considering it began with a lot of inexperienced players. The Falcons (1-3, 1-5) are more competitive but still trying to reach the next level. With a lot of young players, who tend to get better as the season goes on. Farmington is capable of winning. PICK: The Rocks grind out another den City just missed the playoffs last year and must win its last three to keep those hopes alive in '93. The Eagles (2-2, 2-4) have their eyes on the NL playoffs this week with Kennedy alum Steve Avery pitching for the Braves. PICK: The (Garden City) paw is mightier than the (Kenne-

Redford Union at Southgate: This game represents RU's best chance for a victory. The last-place Panthers are 0-4 in the Mega White and 0-6 overall, but Southgate (1-4, 2-4) is just one spot ahead of RU. The Titans edged Taylor Kennedy last week for their first division win. 10-9. PICK: An RU win remains as elusive as the mysterious Milford panther.

Red. Thurston at Taylor Center: This Mega Blue Division game is important for both teams, which are tied for third place at 3-2. Both are 4-2 overall and need a win to maintain any playoff hopes. The ball should be in the air a lot since both are good passing teams. Taylor Center's Jason Bartos passed for 263 yards and two TDs in a 27-0 win over Crestwood. The Eagles were 12-0 winners over Melvindale. PICK: Emons predicts a Taylor Center win: O'Meara calls it Thurston's

Wayne Memorial at Belleville: The winner gets sole possession of second place in the Mega Red Division and remains in title contention, trailing firstplace Fordson by one game. Both teams are 3-1 in the Red and 4-2 overall. The Zebras had a four-game win streak stopped by Wyandotte, 27-22. The Tigers whipped Woodhaven 47-20 and have improved since losing the season opener to Plymouth Salem. PICK: Emons goes with Belleville, but O'Meara sticks with Wayne.

Hamtramck at Clarenceville: The Hamtramck Cosmos (3-3) are staying in orbit with a 3-1 record in the Metro Conference East, having defeated Harper Woods 12-7 in their last game. Clarenceville, 2-2 in the Metro West and 2-4 overall, will try to rebound from a two-overtime loss to Lutheran East, 26-20. If this game ends like it did last year, the Trojans will forget about last week in a hurry; they destroyed Hamtramck 44-0 a year ago. PICK: The Cosmos enjoy a better result

Bishop Borgess vs. Aquinas at Southgate Anderson: The Spartans (0-3, 0-6) remained winless but came close to getting their first win Saturday when they lost 19-18 to Benedictine. Borgess could strike paydirt this week when it plays Catholic Tri-Sectional foe Southgate Aquinas (2-1, 2-4). The Raiders defeated struggling Allen Park Cabrini 19-0. PICK:

O'Meara will take Aguinas.

SATURDAY GAMES (all times 1 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Churchill at Farm. Harriso 12:30 p.m.: The Hawks (4-0, 5-1), who clinched the Western Division title last week, will try to give coach John Herrington his 199th career victory. Harrison, ranked No. 5 in Class A, has won the division 11 of a possible 12 times. The lastplace Chargers (0-4, 0-6) are looking for their first win in their last 34 games. PICK: Herrington moves closer to No.

Ply. Canton at Liv. Franklin: The Chiefs (2-2, 3-3) gave Harrison a battle last week before losing 28-21. Canton must win two of its last three games to improve on last year's 4-5 record. Franklin (1-3, 1-5) should be a good match for the Chiefs but will have to contain their passing attack. The Patriots, who won 28-0 last year, have fared well but lost to several quality opponents, including Harri-

Westland Glenn at N. Farmington: In past years, this rivalry has produced some bruising battles, but the Raiders (1-3, 1-5) will have their hands full with Glenn. The Rockets (4-0, 6-0) are ranked No. 3 in Class AA and have already clinched the Lakes Division for the seventh time in nine years. PICK: The Rockets remain on course.

Lutheran East at Luth. Westland: The host Warriors (1-3, 2-4) got their first Metro Conference West Division victory Saturday, 18-9 over winless Lutheran Northwest. The Metro East's Lutheran East (2-2, 3-3) edged Clarenceville 26-20 in two overtimes. PICK: The East Siders get the nod.

Redford CC at U-D Jesuit, 2 p.m.: The biggest obstacle facing the Shamrocks (2-0, 5-1) this week is a possible letdown after their 17-7 win over Brother Rice in the Boys Bowl. CC is in the driver's seat to win another Central Division title, but it can't take the last-place Cubs (0-2, 3-3) too lightly. PICK: The Shamrocks add a bear to the trophy list.

St. Agatha vs. St. Clement, 7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field: It doesn't get any easier for the Aggies (1-2, 3-3), who lost 40-0 to first-place Waterford Lakes in a Catholic C-Section game. They face another Class D power this week in Center Line St. Clement (2-1, 5-1). Quarterback Mike Dzikowski directs a fine passing attack for the Crusaders, who whipped Shrine 32-0. PICK: St. Clement wins.

Steelers win 2 games from Cougars

Plymouth-Canton Steelers football program won two of three games Sunday against the Belleville Cougars at Central Middle School.

The varsity gained a 24-0 shutout as Kevin Salla ran for 79 yards on five carries with touchdown runs of 4 and 29 yards. Salla combined on defense with Corey Helchowski for a two-point safety, and Paul Connolly also recorded a safety on defense.

Chris Movinski returned an interception 22 yards for a TD, and Brandon Urban and Mike Alessandrini also had intercep-Helchowski led with seven tackles and Urban contributed five. Anwar Crutchfield had 33 yards rushing on 12 carries as the varsity improved to 3-1-1 on

The junior varsity suffered a 14-6 defeat to fall to 2-3 overall. Andy Kocoloski gained 67 yards rushing, picking up 43 on the JV's only score of the game. Kyle Entsminger had 51 yards rushing and Shawn Nicoloff ran for 38. Brad Wells led with nine tackles.

Bobby Curtis had seven tackles, and Kocoloski had six tackles with an interception. Mark Dasher had a fumble recovery. The freshmen recorded a 6-0 victory to move to 2-3 overall.

Chris Pisani gained 74 yards on 12 carries and scored the only TD of the game. Chris Hardy had 42 yards on 13 carries, and Jeff Hoganson gained 27 yards on six attempts.

The Wildcats scored first, but the Lions came back to tie 6-6 in the second quarter on a 8-yard run by Evans. Ann Arbor went ahead in the third and led until Evans' heroics.

The Canton defense received outstanding play from Scott Archer, who had one interception to record seven tackles each. Andrew Sieber, John Deboe, Tom Mazur and Wanniger also played well on defense.

Chris Trott excelled on both sides of the line of scrimmage to lead the freshman to an 18-6 win. Trott put the Lions on the scoreboard with a 71-yard touchdown run and led the defense with eight tackles and a fumble recovery.

I'd like to see Ladywood's 6foot-4 junior center Anne Poglits attack the basket more.

If Catholic Central is looking for non-league opponents next

Concert showcases Irish song, dance

■ Get a Taste of Ireland without leaving home Oct. 16 when the Irish Comhaltas Concert Tour stops at Mercy High School in Farmington Hills.

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

For centuries, the Irish have been known for their considerable talents in music, dance, and storytelling. Detroit-area audiences will be able to see and hear why Saturday, Oct. 16 at Mercy High School, 29300 W. Eleven Mile Road in Farmington Hills when the Irish Comhaltas Concert Tour stops in Detroit on its 19-city North American tour.

Tickets are $12 per person, and $10 for children and retirees. Tickets may be reserved by calling 255-7677 or Performing at 6:45 p.m., before the Irish Comhaltas entertainers take the stage at 7:30 p.m., will be local Comhaltas musicians.

An afterglow will follow the concert at the Ancient Order of Hibernians Hall at Telegraph and Grand River.

"The general public is in for a treat," said concert co-chair Mickey Neenan of Redford Township. "Audiences will hear traditional Irish music; not the pub kinds of things you hear on St. Patrick's Day. It really is a taste of Ireland with music, dance, and songs.

The All-Ireland performers hail from the four provinces of Ireland and represent the country's finest talent.

They're the best of the best," said Noonan. "The entertainers compete against each other across the country for the privilege of touring. It's very well written. Although the subject matter is Catholic,

"Mass Appeal" has a wide range of human appeal that non-Catholics will appreciate as well. Each scene creates tension and defines the characters which furthers the story.

Director Judie Rosati finds the delicate balance necessary to plant tension or laughter within the audience, all the while maintaining a brisk pace a difficult task when directing a two-character play.

Father Tim Farley is performed with excellence by Ralph Rosati. Rosati's expressions often tell more of the story than the script, an important element in getting to know and believe in a character.

Early in the show, Father Farley is listening to and revising his taperecorded sermon. As he reminisces about his early street corner sermons, the recorded words "I haven't been as close to Christ since" trouble the Father.

Rosati's troubled expression in this scene sets up the rest of the show as it indicates that Father Farley is no longer the type of priest he intended top of the summer action movie heap. His latest effort, despite the jokey and implausible script, may just keep him there through the holi-

Stallone battles villain in 'Demolition Man'

MONAGHAN MONAGHAN

put Sylvester

Stallone back on

Simply put, "Demolition Man' is the best time I've had at a truly bad movie this year.

It's 2032. An earthquake has finally leveled Southern California and paved the way for the peaceful, but dull megalopolis of San Angeles. Murder has been wiped out, along with everything else deemed bad for you - cigarettes, caffeine, alcohol, salt, and even Police officers now shrink from violence, which makes it all the more difficult to deal with Simon Phoenix (the ever-watchable Wesley Snipes), a super-villain literally put on ice in the 1990s who escapes the deep freeze.

Only one man can stop him -Stallone's John Spartan, the hotheaded LA cop who put Phoenix away in the first place. The prison system froze him when his apparent carelessness led to the deaths of hostages, and now, 40 years later, they put him back in uniform.

REVIEWS

This big budget battle of good and evil eventually leads underground, where free-thinking radicals cling to old-fashioned all-American vices like hamburgers and muscle cars. If this isn't strange enough, Stallone falls for the female officer (Sandra Bullock) you just know will turn out to be his daughter in the inevitable "Demolition Man" sequel.

While Stallone does his most convincing acting while encased in a large block of ice, Snipes has a great time playing the bad guy. Outfitted with blond hair, a blue eye, and attitude to spare, he energizes the movie and makes you forget how shakey this roller coaster really is.

Take the running gag about profanity, which has also been outlawed in the future. Whenever you swear, an omnipresent machine issues a ticket and a verbal warning. After while, as the action grows more and more intense, characters can cuss a blue streak without consequence.

But "Demolition Man" isn't about logic or even about the forseeable future. Like most science fiction, it's a reaction to events today, specifically about our fear not only of police brutality, but also our fear of a world without it.

Any serious social discussion ends here in a flurry of explosions and car chases

To his credit, first-time director Marco Brambilla stages some excellent fight scenes, pitting Snipes' convincing martial arts moves against Stallone's still-impressive bulk. Moreover, this former TV commercial director has managed to work in product endorsements in the cleverest and most shameless ways possible.

Imagine the feeding frenzy among ad execs when it was announced that old TV advertising jingles would now become the stuff of oldies' stations circa 2032. The Jolly Green Giant and Oscar Meyer wieners are just two of the big winners.

And we can only guess the price tag paid by Taco Bell to become the one restaurant which, according to the movie, came out on top after the "food franchise wars" of the early 21st century. Now all restaurants are called Taco Bell.

Most critics will crucify "Demolition Man" and they'll be justified on most points. I'll stick with the crowd on this one. It's no masterpiece, but fans of high-octane action won't walk away dis-

Cultures collide in 'Beverly Hillbillies'

When Clampetts Jed, Granny, Elly May and Jethro - strike oil in the swamp behind their Ozark mountain shack, their new fortune inspires them to relocate to the stuffy city of Beverly Hills, where cultures collide with hilarious results on both sides.

Twentieth Century Fox presents a Penelope Spheeris Film, "The Beverly Hillbillies," opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters. The film stars Diedrich Bader, Dabney Coleman, Erika Eleniak, Cloris Leachman, Rob Schneider, Lea Thompson, Lily Tomlin and Jim Varney, and is directed by Spheeris and produced by Ian Bryce and Spheeris.

It was during casting for "The Beverly Hillbillies" that Spheeris got her surest sign that movie audiences were primed for a reunion with the Clampetts and their Beverly Hills neighbors.

"It was a Saturday morning at the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, an open casting call for the part of Elly May," recalls Spheeris. "Over 250 girls showed up to read; some were ideal for the role, and some were obviously inappropriate. But what I got that day was proof that everybody loves the Clampetts. Everybody wanted to be part of the 'Beverly Hillbillies' spirit.'

For Tomlin, who plays the impossibly efficient Jane Hathaway, the same discovery came a little later. "We'd be filming on Sunset Boulevard in the Clampett's jalopy," the actress recalled, "and you could see the affection on people's faces as they watched us drive by. They just lit up when they saw that old car.'

Jim Varney (who plays Jed Clampett) has become well known to audiences over the past decade as know-it-all Ernest P. Worrell in scores of commercials and in four "Ernest" movies.

Cloris Leachman (Granny) is

well-remembered on the big screen for her work in the Mel Brooks films "History of the World: Part I," "High Anxiety" and "Young Frankenstein" and in the Peter Bogdanovich film "The Last Picture Show," which earned her an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress.

Erika Eleniak (Elly May) costarred last year as Jordan Tate. the birthday surprise who found herself unwittingly teamed with Steven Seagal in "Under Siege."

Diedrich Bader (Jethro) makes his motion picture debut as the dim-though-enthusiastic Jethro Bodine. He has made over 20 episodic guest appearances on shows such as "Fresh Prince of Bel Air," and "21 Jump Street."

Dabney Coleman (Mr. Drysdale) has made a career of playing loveable bad guys in such films as "On Golden Pond," "Tootsie," and "9 to 5," in which he played the sexist boss of Jane Fonda,

Dolly Parton and Lily Tomlin. For the role of Jed, the unflappable mountain man who finds good in everyone, Speeris found a natural in Jim Varney. Varney, it turns out, is descended from Appalachian Kentucky hillbillies, and the Clampetts hail from the Ozarks. The fit was perfect.

"Jim's a real hillbilly, so half my work was done," said Speeris. 'And he really knows comedy.'

"Jed is an American from the last frontier," said Varney of his character. "He is a remnant of a bygone age. He's Daniel Boone, he's Davy Crockett.

"Being from Kentucky, I remember my dad taking us kids up to West Virgina, where he was born. It was pretty far back into the woods, very similar to where the Clampetts start out. So as I got into this character I tried to remember the people I met there real hillbillies, people who lived in shacks on stilts with tin roofs. It was an interesting life.

Clampett reunion: Diedrich Bader is Jethro, Cloris Leachman, Granny; Erika Eleniak, Elly May; and Jim Varney, Jed in "The Beverly Hillbillies."

Good food, service at Farwell & Friends

They're planning Halloween parties 9 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 29-31. There will be a kiddie party 3-6 p.m. Sunday Oct. 31. Kids eat for 99 cents, and have their choice of hamburger, spaghetti, grilled cheese or chicken strips.

We decorate for every holiday. You should see it at Christmastime," said owner Bill Farwell. "It's like a fairyland. People come from as far away as Ohio.

Farwell & Friends is a fun place where waitresses greet newcomers and regulars with the same -'Hi, how ya doin?" You instantly feel at ease in this restaurant which over the years has evolved from a neighborhood pub to a res-

The picture window facing Middlebelt is brand-new, they just installed it. "It helps give us more of a restaurant look instead of a bar/tavern look," said Farwell of Livonia who got started in this business the old-fashioned way washing dishes at the age of 15 at Huck's Bavarian Village in Redford Township.

Farwell eventually became manager at Huck's and credits the late Emil Huck, Jr. with training him in "every aspect of the business.

Opened in November of 1979, Farwell & Friends, like Huck's, has earned a reputation for good food that's reasonably priced.

"I come here twice a week, and I've never had a bad meal," said

You're treated like family at Farwell & Friends, and so are the help, which helps explain why there's such a low turnover at the restaurant. Three of the employworked with Farvell at Huck's, Chef Alan Wasinski of Redford, a graduate of Schoolcraft College in Livonia, has worked at the restaurant for eight years.

"We try to make a place where everyone likes to come to work," said Farwell. "We believe in promoting from within." An example is former manager Vince Spica who Farwell made a partner. Spica spends most of his time at JB Bamboozles, a tavern Farwell recently opened at 14323 Michigan Avenue in Dearborn.

Getting back to the food. They've changed the menu to satisfy customer requests for more chicken and fish. "We probably have as many things off the menu as on the menu," said Farwell explaining that there are lots of daily specials like lemon chicken and turkey stir-fry. "We go out of our way for customers. We're here to make people happy.

Farwell & Friends is known for their steaks which are cut at the restaurant. The 20 ounce New York Strip for $12.50 is very popular. So is the prime rib - 16 ounce, $11.95 or 24 ounce, $15.95.

Factory brings supplier closer to Ford

Auto makers and their suppliers continue to forge new relationships. Each wants to squeeze the best return on the dollar without antagonizing the other or breaking the business bond. Here's why one national supplier set up a small operation here.

ar and truck buyers can be fussy about sound systems in their vehicles.

Drivers of Ford series F trucks built during the past year and Ford Escorts that have come off the line since August don't have to look far to give a big thumbs up or point the finger of blame.

That's because audio speakers on those models received a final assembly attachment and one more quality control test at a small Livonia facto-

International Jensen, a publicly owned company headquartered in Illinois, opened a value-add facility here in August of 1992 to get closer to its automotive base.

Previously, entire speaker systems were assembled and tested in Lumberton, N.C., then shipped directly to Ford plants in Wayne for in-

Things have gone reasonably well since the detour, said Dick Heinisch. Jensen's Livonia plant manager.

'This operation is an experiment . . to see if we can satisfy our customers and respond to their needs quicker," he said. "The success we have is very tight control over inven-

Since August, when final assembly of Escort speaker parts was moved here, production/shipping jobs in the Livonia facility have increased to 22 from eight.

Workers now put finishing touches - brackets, grilles, flanges - on about 110,000 speakers every week, double the production before the Escort piecework arrived.

The potential exists for even more work and upwards of 10 more jobs in Livonia if the plant completes a long application process and wins Q1 status from Ford to supply speakers for a new minivan.

'Our documentation is this high," said Heinisch, holding his hand three feet above the floor. "It's detailed," and subjective as well. It's something we've worked on for a year now."

Jensen established a sales office in the metro area in 1986 and moved to Bingham Farms a year later. Previously, independent sales reps cultivated clients for the firm, Heinisch

"Our competitors are American and Japanese companies," said Jim Ross, vice president of sales and marketing for original equipment manufacturing at Jensen.

"What's unique about us is we make our own components - magnets in Dallas, speaker cones in Lumberton, bracket housing in Punxsutawney, Pa.," he said.

Credit unions

Members to celebrate power of partnership

BY MARY RODRIQUE STAFF WRITER

While the economic rebound remains sluggish, and consumer confidence remains shaky, one industry continues to grow slowly but steadily - credit unions.

Survey after survey indicates members are satisfied with their credit unions while the stability and growth of credit unions are the envy of the financial world.

"For over 40 years, credit union members have set aside a day to celebrate their history and philosophy," said Ken Bixby, president/ CEO of the Southfield-based Michigan Credit Union League.

On Thursday, Oct. 21, Michigan Credit Union League will join credit unions around the world in celebrating International Credit Union Day.

This year's theme, "Credit Unions: The Power of Partnership," communicates that members, through credit unions, have the power to strengthen the financial future of their families and communities. Consider that 88million members from 41,777 credit unions appreciate how credit unions work to improve the quality of their lives, Bixby said.

'We are owned by our depositors. We're here for service, not profit.

> Marty Hansen general manager

"We offer a full package of services - from savings, checking, holiday savings, certificates of deposit, retirement accounts," said Marty Hansen, general manager of the Bloomfield Hills School Employees Credit Union, which has 2,275 members.

The credit union is open to employees of all schools in the Bloomfield Hills school district, both public and private, and their families.

"We're 36 years old and we still have many charter members,' said Hansen, also a chapter chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of Credit Unions.

We are owned by our depositors. We're here for service, not profit. We offer a competitive package for loan service. We help the person - offering financial counseling if needed. We keep interest rates on loans as low as possible. We have new car loans as low as 6 percent and VISA at 12.6."

Credit unions offer services and financial opportunities for consumers such as convenient savings plans, credit cards, home mortgages and low-cost consumer

The purpose of International Credit Union Week is to renew the credit union movement's commitment to the future - the commitment to invest in the needs of their members rather than the highest profit to be made.

To mark the special recognition week, Co-Op Services Credit Union is adding up the money it would've spent on advertising and throwing a party for its 47,000 members in five branch offices, including Westland and Livonia.

"Our members own their credit union. We are there to serve them," said Jim Jeffries, senior vice president of the marketing department for the 40-year-old credit union.

"You can serve in a voluntary capacity on the board of directors. You have a strong say in what goes on. Anytime you walk through the door, I work for you. We've made changes on the basis of what one member had to say when he walks through the door, said Jeffries, also chairman of the Michigan Marketers Network and Metro West Chapter of Credit

Co-Op Services is open to members of Cooperative Services Inc., a consumer co-op started during the Great Depression.

"Ninety five percent of our members come from a 50-mile radius," said Jeffries, whose office is in Dearborn.

Many credit unions offer members extended business hours through membership in Family Service Centers, which has 19 locations open weekdays to 7:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In Michigan, credit unions serve 3.6 million members and hold over $12 billion in assets. One out of every three people in the state is a member of a credit union. The Michigan Credit Union League, founded in 1934 and based in Southfield, is the primary trade association representing credit unions in Michi-

"More and more is getting attached to the speaker," he said. "It's changing from the size of a pocketbook or a small book to the size of a tennis racquet. "We're attaching brackets, grilles. If we shipped them like that from Lumberton, we would be shipping a lot of air," Ross said.

"Complexity lends itself to Heinisch's operation, where he is very light on his feet and can switch over to various colors and brackets very quickly," Ross said.

"Being here in Livonia, we've never had to make an air shipment to Wayne Assemby," Heinisch said. "We can get it out of here and it will be to them in 20 minutes. It cuts transportation

"My accountant tells me we're making money now," Heinisch said. "More parts through the building would reduce our overhead. One more job, we'd definitely be competitive with the big plant (in Lumberton).

A MESSAGE TO MICHIGAN'S SMALL BUSINESSES:

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF SELF-FUNDING YOUR COMPANY'S HEALTH PLAN, THINK TWICE.

At Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, we know there can be advantages to self-funding. In fact, we administer group plans for hundreds of companies that self-fund. But selffunding is not right for everyone. There can be pitfalls, especially for smaller companies.

While large companies often take the risk of paying their own health insurance claims, small companies may be on thin ice that can crack under the weight of a single catastrophic

So-called third party administrators (TPAs) will try to sell you on self-funding—but there's something they may not tell you. Once you self-fund, it can be financially difficult to return to an insured plan. Why? You end up paying claims still coming in under the self-funded plan, as well as premiums and start-up costs for a new plan, all at the same time.

The bottom line? If you're thinking of self-funding, think twice. Remember that self-funders are at risk for all claims. This can work for you or against you. Go over the numbers carefully and talk with your staff and advisors. If you're still interested, and you have at least 100 employees, talk to us.

THERE'S ADDED VALUE IN USING THE BLUES' ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES.

While TPAs may offer lower prices, you must consider the costs they may leave you to pay. With the Blues, stop-loss coverage automatically protects you when your claims dollar limit is reached. We don't cancel people who are higher risks. We guarantee renewability. We won't nickle-and-dime you for expenses beyond basic claims services, as some may do. And most importantly, our unique agreements with hospitals, physicians, and other professional providers bring you savings that TPAs can't match.

Finally, Blues administrative services include everything you need, from I.D. cards and benefit books to cost management and fraud detection. We process claims quickly and accurately. And, of course, there's the comfort of carrying a Blue Cross Blue Shield card, recognized everywhere.

For more information about our administrative services for self-funded plans or other options from Blue Cross Blue Shield and Blue Care Network of Michigan, call your local independent insurance agent or a Blue Cross Blue Shield sales representative.

"If self-funding is right for you, consider the added value of Blues administrative services."

Helping kids know what they can't do iscussions in previous columns have focused on what children can do and how adults can help them develop skills. I thought of this after going through my files and finding a five-yearold conference brochure.

As I browsed through it, I began to focus in on one particular workshop description that sparked my memory. I remembered how the speaker captured my attention and interest. During his presentation, he talked about what young children

To me, turning the attention away from what children "can do," which in my mind is a positive, seemed daring. However, it did make sense to examine realistically a child's total growth and development by looking at the "can't do." Therefore, adults can attempt to use appropriate techniques and practices while working with children. In other words, let's get real.

I often say to people, "Just because a child can do some adult-like things and has developed many skills that mark maturity and display a sense of self-confidence, doesn't mean you treat him or her as a fully grown person.'

It is important to remember as hard as it may be for adults at times to see that sassy, yet articulate, four-five-year-old or that rambunctious sevenyear-old as individuals, yes, but better yet as seeds needing continuous nuturing. It can then grow to its fullest potential.

As with flowers and plant life, you can see budding during the process of growth, even some small leaves and flowers, but as time passes you can see complete maturity . only through the course of time. Such is true with children going through stages of development.

So, let's look at what young children can't do:

"I can't sit down very long." Preschoolers and toddlers are wanders. Children at this age are curious. Often they tell themselves, "I must sit down," but their muscles say different. As a result, they wiggle, twist and move around.

"I can't take turns." It's hard for young children to wait and take turns. Remember they're egocentric and feel they should be the center of attention. It's better to have toddlers and preschoolers in small groups, so turns can come around fast.

"I can't help it if I'm a little clumsy." It may seem that where there are young children you can expect spills, falls, breaks and so on. But remember, fine and large motor skills are being developed and challenged. Coordination is at work here.

"I can't express my feelings well." Chlidren may bite, scream and kick because they don't have the words to express their feelings. Help by saying to children, "Please use your words," or help by giving them the words.

"I can't reason well." Most young children can't think in terms of right and wrong or cause and effect. Many times little children will just do it! They are basically subjective thinkers rather than being objective. Feelings are foremost.

"I can't outthink you." Because their past experiences are few, young children aren't as capable of making comparisons or seeing beyond the present. They are trusting and become confused when adults send mixed messages. Therefore, "be fair with me because you are the adult.

"I can't succeed if you set me up." Help children to be successful, not to fail, by giving them responsibilities and duties they can be successful at doing. Again, children should be able to trust adults to assess their skill levels and work within them as they relate to individual needs. Techniques and methods of applying learning skills should be in sync with their ability to learn.

Breast exam: Women's lifesaver

Self-examinations, mammograms. They are the tools that help detect breast cancer in its early stages, if, and it's a big if, women take advantage of them. Some have and it's been a lifesaver.

BY DIANE HANSON

Sandra Durand had no reason to believe that she was at risk for developing breast cancer. Everything about her family history and lifestyle pointed to minimal risk for this Livonia resident. Her two grandmothers were in their 90s and neither they, her mother nor anyone else in her family had ever had breast cancer.

Durand herself was only 31 and had two young daughters. Even so, she conducted breast self-examinations fairly regularly.

"I can't say that I was consistent," she said. "I might have skipped a month or two. But I was very conscious of breast exams and I was very conscious of my breasts and watching

"But I had really no reason to think it might happen to me. It wasn't like I had a parent or a sister or somebody else that there was a reason for watch-

Not so, according to the Michigan Cancer Foundation. While the risk of developing breast cancer increases if a first-degree relative has had it, 90 percent of women who get breast cancer have no family history of the disease.

Then one day, some time after Durand's last self-exam, "it just happened that my 3-year-old sat on my lap and leaned back and hit my breast and it felt tender. I rubbed it and I kind of felt a lump.

Neither she nor her husband, Larry, had never noticed it before and he urged her to go to the doctor to have it checked. Because an ultrasound revealed a solid lump that was well-contained and well-defined, it was thought not to be serious

The surgeon Durand saw next was not alarmed and believed she could wait a month, if she wished, to have the lump removed and biopsied.

"My worst fears were that it was cancer," Durand said. "I just had that gut feeling and something just told me that this is something we should take care of and that we shouldn't wait. It's a good thing that I didn't."

Even after the lump was removed, "the doctor didn't feel that it was anything to worry about," said Durand. "But the results didn't come back that way."

Worst fear

Durand's worst fears were confirmed with the diagnosis of cancer and it was then that she had her first mammogram. Fortunately for Durand because she found it early, the cancer was in an early stage and had not spread. Still, a mastectomy was recommended with removal of lymph nodes and was performed in May 1990.

means of self-examination and mammography is exactly what a coalition of breast cancer organizations promotes each year by designating October as National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. This year, there will also be a specific day to focus attention on the need for regular mammograms and to encourage millions of American women to receive or make a commitment to receive screening mammography. Tuesday, Oct. 19, has been chosen as the first National Mammography Day.

Durand's experience has encouraged other women to go in for a baseline mammogram.

didn't think that I would be a good mother that way. So, I just realized that life still went on and there were a lot of people that survived this and I just had to be strong enough to be one of those people.

Durand did become one of those people with the support of her family. Two years after her mastectomy, Durand decided to go through reconstructive surgery. While her husband was reluctant to have her go through any more pain, he supported her once again because she wanted to do that for herself.

Oct. 19: A day for women only

Take a room of 30 women and try to figure out which 10 will develop breast cancer. Or, perhaps, get a little more personal. Line up eight women and make one of them a sister, a friend, a mother, a wife or maybe . . . yourself. Now try to figure out which one of those women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime.

A little too close for comfort? A little like playing Russian roulette?

Awareness of such facts is exactly what a coalition of breast cancer organizations hopes to achieve during October's annual Breast Cancer Awareness Month. This year, in the state of Michigan alone, almost 7,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer. Nearly 2,000 will die of breast Nationally, that figure is a staggering 46,000 women's lives snuffed out as a direct result of breast cancer.

This year, to call attention to the benefits of early detection, the coalition is promoting the first National Mammography Day to be held Tuesday, Oct. 19. As part of that day's activities, some area facilities will be offering low-cost mammograms.

"I think this is going to be an annual event," said Rob Schweers, Michigan Cancer Foundation spokesperson. "Although we've had Breast Cancer Awareness Month for some time, having an actual day to focus our attention on, I think, is kind of beneficial."

Long way to go Schweers pointed out that while more women are getting mammograms now than ever before, "we still have a long way to go in educating all women, especially those in low income groups and medically underserved populations who often times have an increased mortality for breast cancer."

Area facilities offering reduced cost mammograms Oct. 19 include the Farmington Medical Arts X-Ray Clinic in Farmington (471-0675) and the McAuley Health System in Plymouth (454-9830) and Ypsilanti (572-5900).

While St. Mary Hospital in Livonia (591-2922) will not be participating, it does have a grant providing free mammograms, year-round for women over 50 with inadequate health insurance. They must also meet certain other criteria.

On the fashion scene, the look of the '70s with a '90s twist is coming on strong. So it only stands to reason that hairstyles also reflect the shift to a softer, more romantic look.

But don't go get your hair cut in the gypsy shag, so popular back then. Today's shaggy look is more rounded as opposed to the '70s blunt layered style. The crown is longer and there's more free cutting with the revival of the razor cut.

"It's because the '70s look has hit really strong the last few years and people are making more of a statement with their clothing," said stylist Nadwa Yono Breda of Livonia.

Shags can be any length, but more and more this season, the move is to shorter hair. The razor cut reigned until the '70s when it was replaced by the precision scissor cut. Now back in vogue, the razor cut shag has different lengths to the layers.

"It fits the head with a very soft, casual whispy look that can be styled many different ways," Breda said. "With the razor cut, they can have longer sideburns and longer hair on the neck.

Barb Isserstedt, client service representative for the department of radiology at the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth, said appointments for Oct. 19 are "almost all filled up." However, appointments for the reduced-cost mammograms are still available at the Washtenaw Medical Arts Building in Ypsilanti.

'The objective of this program is to really try to get women who may not have been having mammograms up to this point, either to come in for a low cost mammogram or to make an appointment to have a mammogram another day," said Isserstedt. "Just to increase awareness among women of the importance of mammography for the early detection of breast cancer.'

Schweers emphasized that "if all women followed the screening guidelines set forth by the National Cancer Institute, breast cancer mortality would decrease by 30 percent immediately, even if all the research stopped, even if everything else stopped."

Those guidelines are monthly breast self-examinations for all women beginning in their teenage years at the onset of menstruation, a baseline mammogram by age 40 (younger if there is a history of breast cancer), a mammogram every other year for women ages 40 to 50 and every year for women 50 and older.

Best tool

"Right now, mammography is the best tool we have in an attempt to detect cancer at an early stages," said Dr. Andrew Nizzi, radiologist at Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills. "It's been known to detect cancer even before it can be palpated when a physician does a physical examination or when the woman does a breast self-examination. Mammography has been found to be effective picking up lesions that are small enough that we are not able to palpate them.'

While a lesion can be felt at approximately one centimeter in size (less than a half inch), a mammogram can pick up a lesion even smaller.

"In fact, a mammogram can pick up signs of a lesion," Mizzi said, "not necessarily a tumor itself but the effects a tumor might have." Those, he added, would be microscopic structures.

"In some cases, it is estimated that if a lesion is one centimeter in size, it has been present for five director of McAuley Breast Care, early detection leaves a woman with many more options. The earlier you find it, she said, the more chance you have for more conservative treatment, breast-conserving surgery. She strongly recommends that women in the 40-50 age group have mammograms every year rather than every other

Last year, a Canadian study brought up concerns about the danger of radiation from mammography itself.

Odds are . . .

"With the techniques that we use now, the amount of radiation is very minimal," Mizzi said. "You have to try to put it in perspective. I think the odds that are quoted now are that women are at risk of one in eight of developing breast cancer sometime during their lifetime. It has been estimated that the theoretical risk of developing a cancer from the radiation of the mammogram itself is like one in a million. So, to me, there is no comparison.

"It's like, if we drive in a car, there is a certain risk of being involved in an accident. So, in order to eliminate that risk, are we not going to drive that car at all?"

Schweers added: "You want to make sure that wherever you go to get a mammogram that the equipment is accredited by the American College of Radiology. That's the standard. Most places in this area are up to code.

The Cancer Information Service, sponsored by the National Cancer Institute, has a list of all accredited facilities. They also have a list of all facilities registered to participate in the lowcost mammograms on Oct. 19. Individual facilities may also be contacted directly. It's important to have the name of a doctor where the results can be sent.

There are also special programs available through the Oakland County and Wayne County Health Departments for women who cannot afford the low-cost mammography.

"Whatever it takes," said Schweers. "Some people can afford to pay half so they pay half. Some people can't afford to pay any, but no one is turned away from mammography services.

"Right now, the best way to detect breast cancer and to get it in its earliest, most treatable stages is through mammography, a doctor's exam and breast self-examination.'

For information on cancer detection services, call the Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER, the Oakland County Heaith Department at 424-7100 or the Wayne County Health Department at 467-3300.

Early detection

Dr. Maureen Fleming, an obstetrician/gynecologist, stressed the fact "that breast cancer is a lot more treatable, if it is picked up early." Fleming, on staff at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia and William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, recently opened an office in Canton.

"If we can increase women's awareness of the importance of breast self-exam, I'd be happy," she said. "I would also like women to understand the recommendations for mammographic screening; a baseline exam sometime before their 40s or sooner, if there's a family history of breast cancer in a first-degree relative. every two years in their 40s and then every year when that woman is in her 50s.

Last year, Fleming had a practice in Omaha and her 46-year-old neighbor decided to break her physician abstinence and came to Fleming's office for an exam.

"She had no family history of breast cancer, no signs. She hadn't been to the doctor for about 11 years since the birth of her last child," Fleming said. "I asked her to go for her first mammogram. She was kind of reluctant to do that.'

The neighbor did get the mammogram, probably because "she was afraid that since I lived next door to her I'd get on her case," Fleming said. The early stage of breast cancer was detected and she was treated with a lumpectomy and radiation.

"It really was very fortunate that, by chance, she decided to go in," Fleming said. "A lot of women will have mammogram recommended to them and they just don't follow through."

Even women who find a lump on self-exam often have difficulty in seeking treatment, according to Fleming. A lot know it's something dangerous but experience denial and say, "Oh, it will go

"In addition to breast selfexam, if they find something that they are concerned about, we need to get them past that denial and go in and have it checked," she

Pat Durham, 42, fell victim to both postponement and denial. Durham's mother was a victim of breast cancer and underwent both a mastectomy and a hysterectomy in the 1950s.

Because of her history, Durham had a baseline mammogram at the age of 35 and yearly thereafter. Then she slacked off for the last couple of years, even though she works on the computer system for St. Mary Hospital.

"I always put it off and said, 'Well, maybe next week or maybe next month,'" she said. "Always something came up and then . . . it just happened. They always told me I was a high risk for a breast tumor, but I always thought it would never happen to me. But it does happen."

Fortunately, Durham found her tumor just this summer by doing a breast self-exam. Yet, even with her history she still experienced

"When I first felt it, I thought, Why did I do this? If I wouldn't have done this I wouldn't have felt it and maybe it wouldn't have been there.' I think there is that kind of logic, but it doesn't mean that it will go away."

Durham knew that was the kind of logic that kills women. Once again, because of early detection, the prognosis was good.

Durham was thankful for her modified treatment

"I think part of it, too, is that you have to have a positive attitude, a very positive attitude," she said. "You can't let this get you down. You need to go through this and you know you keep telling yourself you're going to lick their presence known. Large issues usually hold more interest than the little details. With maturity, this young woman has become rather independent and can stand on her own two feet, and yet she still has a real need for nurturing from the mother figure at times. This tends to keep her tied to what she knows best and prevents her from letting herself go. Ambivalence probably results from this contradiction.

She is often interested in making a big impression on others. She has a strong need to be admired by those around her.

There is an intensity about our writer. Hers is a competitive nature and she can be aggressive to realize her goals. Determination and inner strength are assets which weave throughout this handwriting.

Her large, firmly written numbers suggest a natural interest in working with figures or the money these numbers represent to her.

I strongly suspect our writer has had some experiences which have left her cautious and on guard with others. Very few people are allowed to know her inner feelings. Sometimes she becomes defensive, trying to conceal personal problems from people. Other times, she is evasive and ers when things do not turn out well. On other occasions, she resorts to silence to evade the truth. This type of behavior can be closely involved with feelings of insecurity and real or imaginary Ostensibly, she fears personal criticism and is easily hurt by it. She is also self-conscious. It is quite possible she felt the sting of great deal of criticism earlier in life. It might be helpful if she could only realize that most people are not as critical of her as she imagines them to be.

Outwardly, our writer presents a picture of poise and control. She probably good at keeping a calm head in emergency situations. However, there is a high de-

Even bangs are shrinking as eyebrows become more prominent. Don't look to hide your eyes behind long bangs or cast coy looks from behind lanky, misplaced locks of hair. The in look is bangs that come to an abrupt halt at mid-forehead.

"Accenting brows, enlarging eyes and highlighting cheek bones, bangs are becoming a cornerstone in fall and winter fashion," Breda said. "The new bang has many different variations, but most often being worn much shorter, fringy or blunt, for a fresher, more gamine look.'

That's not to say, that longer bangs won't be found this season. Those that do turn up will be very texturized with the razor cut, giving them a more whispy look.

As for the color, well, that's something Breda knows a lot about. One of the top hair color artists in the metropolitan area, she divides her time between the Ron Daniels Salon in Farmington and working as a training stylist for Joico products.

She's been in the business for 11 years and as an educator for Joico coloring products, she travels to salons throughout the area, training stylists on how to achieve the hair colors that are popular these days.

She also has done several guest spots on local TV talk shows and was one of the official hairdressers for Miss Michigan for the 1992 Miss America pageant.

Brunette and red are still hot hair colors and makeup is shifting to shades of pink and burgandy, strong colors for lipstick and blushes. Eyelashes have a softer look while eyebrows step to the forefront. Very high, defined eyebrows - the "plucked" look are the rage this year.

And with a little of this and a little bit of that, those short hairstyles can be dressed up for evening soires. Breda uses an ice gel on wet hair. When it dries, the hair can be fluffed for a fuller look. Using a polisher can give the hair a nice shine and separate strands for a whispy look.

"You can primp up a crown a little bit by teasing . . . yes, we're back to teasing, but it's a lot more softer and more polished look than back then," she said. "The mall hair of the '80s is out completely; everything now is a more feminine, more polished look."

Curls also are still popular, cashing in on the romantic 18th century stylings in clothes blazers with tons of ruffles, for example. The curls are more defined and softer looking and can be done with pin curls or curling irons. Even finger waves are turning up, according to Breda.

Other styles on the rebound are braids and even corn rows, but not used as strongly as in the past. French twists made a comeback the last two years, but again the uplifted look is shifting to another '70s standby - the bun.

"Everything is swept up to the crown area," Breda said. "I love doing up do's because you can really get creative. My mind goes on and on when I do them."

So, if you're looking to update your looks, it's best to look to the past for ideas. That way it will all tie in with the updated stylings for fall and winter 1993.

HFCC offers smoking cessation class for a Henry Ford Community College staff member, thanks to a seven-night smoking cessation seminar. The seminar featured Dr. Arthur Weaver, a cancer surgeon at Harper Hospital and a professor of surgery at Wayne State University's School of Med-

Ron Bodurka of Livonia, director of HFCC's Health Careers Division, smoked 21/2 packs of cigarettes a day for 18 years. He had tried to stop smoking on his own at least once a month. Unsuccessful, he decided to try Weaver's seminar with a close friend. "I never thought my friend would quit smoking," said Bodurka. "As it turned out, he had an easier time quitting than I did."

Bodurka credits Weaver's seminar as being successful because of the methods used. Weaver approaches the situation from all sides and tells participants to imagine themselves training for the Olympics, exercising and eating right to make themselves as fit and healthy as possible. The films, lectures and being around people in the same situation are very effective, Bodurka added.

"Misery loves company," he

Although Bodurka has been smoke-free for two years, he still craves a cigarette.

"Some nights I go to bed hoping someone will invent a safe cigarette," he said.

The HFCC Respiratory Therapist program will present Weaver's free smoking cessation seminar for smokers who are tired of trying to quit on their own. In addition to lectures, Weaver uses graphic visuals, presenting films showing operations patients have had for throat cancer and other diseases related to smoking.

The seminar will start Thursday, Oct. 21, with an introduction and continue Monday through Friday, Oct. 25-29. The program will end with a graduation ceremony on Monday, Nov. 1. Each session will be 7:30-9 p.m. in Room L-14 of the college's liberal arts building.
Recognized as Detroit's leading anti-smoking crusader, Weaver has been involved in a wide range of community-based programs for promoting a healthier lifestyle for more than 20 years. He is responsible for organizing and conducting more than 400 stop-smoking clinics and influencing as many as 100,000 people to kick the smoking habit.

The lecture is free and open to the public. A request for donations will be made at the completion of the seminar.

Do you know who killed Goliath in your Bible? Most modern Bible versions deny that David killed Goliath! That's right, most modern Bible versions have another man killing Goliath in I Chron 20.5. But we all know that David killed Goliath! Modern Bible versions identify themselves as fakes by this and other internal contradictions. Only the King James Version gets it right every time. New focus: Archbishop Adam Maida in a pastoral letter has asked churches and buildings in the Archdiocese of Detroit to work toward making structures more accessible, physically and spiritually, to the disabled.

Archbishop focuses on disabled

Archbishop Adam Maida has issued a call to churches in the Archdiocese of Detroit to bring persons with disabilities into the parish communities.

Maida chose Sunday, Oct. 3, to issue a pastoral letter on living and ministering with the persons with disabilities. The letter, "On Sharing God's Presence," marks the 15th anniversary of a special pastoral letter on persons with disabilities, issued jointly by the American bishops.

It also comes 10 years after Cardinal Edmund Szoka promulgated an archdiocesan policy on accessibility for persons with disabilities.

"It seems appropriate to take the occasion of these anniversaries to re-affirm our commitment to this dimension of pastoral life here in our church," Maida said. "Again and again, each of us needs to examine our patterns of thinking, acting and speaking. While our country and church have become much more sensitive to persons with disabilities, the true and lasting inner conversion has yet to take place in many of our hearts. A deeper attitudinal change and commitment are

According to Maida, the strength and worth of the human person are not granted by govern-ment decree or by the judgment of the community. Over the centuries the Scriptures and the church have consistently proclaimed that every human being is a gift of a loving God.

The archbishop asked parish churches, all parish facilities and archdiocesan buildings formulate a plan to become fully accessible. While state and federal legislation have created standards and expectations of accessibility, the church's "ultimate motivation should be our interior convic-

"Again, it is not just a question of protecting or assuring rights that have been legislated," he said. "As a people of faith we are recognizing God-given rights and equality. Whenever the opportunity for full access for persons with disabilities is denied, the community is diminished."

Full participation

He went on to say that accessibility means much more than doors that will accommodate a wheel chair or ramps for passage. A spirit of accessibility entails doing everything possible to ensure full participation of all parish members in all activities and

Realizing that some parishes will find accessibility easier to achieve than others, Maida pointed out that parishes and schools with limited means will not be asked to impoverish themselves in a short-term effort to provide total accessibility rather that parishes, schools and Catholic agencies make progress toward accessibility along three lines - attitude, accommodation and architecture.

According to the archbishop, a fully Christian attitude about disabilities begins with recognizing that people with disabilities are present and active in the church community. It means looking at all people as co-equals who have something to give as well as being in need of receiving.

"Attitude requires moving from a simple acknowledgment of the existence of persons with disabilities to a genuine willingness to serve the total community with respectful and gracious hospitality," Maida said. "Attitude does not deal with capital outlay or brick and mortar; it flows from our minds and hearts."

To assist parishes with the many challenges of attitude, accommodation and architecture, Maida has directed the Office of Life and Dignity in the Department of Christian Service to send to all parishes and institutions a copy of the Archdiocesan Accessibility Plan. The plan outlines suggestions for both long- and short-term changes in buildings and, "more importantly, also addresses the necessary conversion of heart."

Ongoing process

The archbishop acknowledged that making the buildings accessible will take years, but has asked that there be at least one totally accessible parish in every vicariate by 1995.

He has asked that the Vicariate Councils assess and prepare an accessibility plan for their buildings and that vicariates that already have one accessible parish or more should work toward increasing their list on a realistic timetable until they achieve total accessibility. The effort will coincide with the accessibility projects already in progress in the vi-

"What we do now will be of continuing importance for years to come as our communities age and our communities welcome persons with disabilities," Maida said. "Once we can recognize the reality of our limitations and our need for the support of the community, we will also grow in our eagerness to welcome all others into full membership and partnership in the life of the commu-

Accommodation refers to those simple things — painting blue lines in the parking lot to delineate handicapped parking or a sign providing accessibility information for persons with disabilities that can be done to make a buildings more accessible.

"These things, while simple in themselves, exhibit a sensitivity to all persons in the parish community," Maida said. "By adopting an auto-to-altar approach to accessibility, parishes are extending to all members of the parish community an equal opportunity to take part in parish liturgical roles.

Architecture refers to major parish construction or remodeling which takes into consideration the special circumstances of persons with disabilities. Such work will follow the standards provided by the federal Americans With Disabilities Act and the state Handicapper Civil Rights Act, he

In closing, Maida quoted from the 1978 challenge of the American bishops: "'People with disabilities are not looking for pity. They seek to serve the community and to enjoy their full baptismal rights as members of the church. Our interaction with them can and should be an affirmation of our faith. There can be no separate church for people with disabilities.'

We must be cautious at the crossroads very little trust is reposed in leaders of government, business, the academic world and even religion. It is not easy to call upon the individual citizen to follow the moral preachment when he observes the wrongdoing of those who wear the mantle of authority. The most serious aspect of all this is that the capacity to be shocked by corruption or wrongdoing has been progressively diminishing. "If everybody's doing it, then maybe there's nothing wrong with it after all."

In an age of uncertain guideposts and disappearing landthat we ought to ask ourselves before we make a moral decision.

The first is: Can the decision I make stand the test of public knowledge? What if everyone knew what I was going to do? The decision about which I am uncertain, does it need secrecy? Does it require coverup? Could I tell my mother or my child what I did? A golfing friend pointed out that nothing increases your golf score like a witness.

The second question: Will my best self approve the action I am contemplating? Does it satisfy my own highest standard of behavior? Is it compatible with my conscience? Will it leave me with guilt or pride?

The last question: What if everybody did what we are contemplating? What kind of society would it be? Would we like to have our action become a universal law? Is it right to tell a lie? What would happen if all persons told lies whenever it was their advantage to do so? Do you believe that sexual promiscuity can be indulged in without harm? What do you think would become of our homes, our families, our children, our society, if promiscuity and not fidelity became the universally recognized standard?

An instructive story tells how a great sage invited the people of a legendary town to a banquet. He told each guest to bring a flask of formed eac wine would be poured into a large vat. Each guest thought, "What will my small flask of wine mean? I will bring a flask of water, and no one will know the difference."

When the guests were assembled at the banquet, the sage summoned his servants to serve the guests with the contents of the barrel and out came water for they had all said, "What will my small flask of wine mean?'

We sometimes try to maintain our moral neutrality by saying that there are two sides to every question. True enough, and there are two sides to a sheet of fly paper, but it makes a difference to the fly which side he chooses.

In every profession, occupation or business we will be called upon as never before, to consider the ethical implications of our work. The decisions we make will have a great impact.

In our families, our friendships, our community, our city, our role as citizens of a democracy, we must become more aware and responsible than our grandparents needed to be. At life's moral crossroads, let us proceed with caution. We are being followed.

Gallery fine art show trailblazer for Canton ake it from Canton Project Arts activist Elaine Kirchgatter: Canton's first juried gallery showing and sale of fine art, coming up in November, won't be the last. As she put it: "This show is a sign of what's to come in Canton in terms of artistic cultural experiences. It'll set the tone for future arts programming in our community as we move into Summit on the Park. We want to reinforce that art is a vital part of Canton's culture.'

When Summit on the Park opens in Heritage Park in 1995, the multipurpose center will include a fine art gallery.

Project Arts was created last year to develop an enriched environment of cultural artistry within Canton.

The gallery show will be its first test.

The show runs Saturday-Sunday, Nov. 6-7, in the Canton Administration Building, 1150 Canton Center. Admission is free. Artists, patrons and dignitaries will attend a by-invitation reception

Former president of the Plymouth Community Arts Council, Kirchgatter eagerly awaits the festive weekend.

"It'll be the first major cultural event pertaining to the visual arts within our community," she said. "Our intent is to present what we consider very good art from within our community and from other communities.'

The juror is Susan Froelich, coordinator of the wildly popular Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, former Ann Arbor Art Association exhibit gallery director and past executive director of the Plymouth Community Arts Council. She'll jury original Michigan artwork in clay, drawing, jewelry, mixed media, painting, photography, sculpture and textile.

Respected juror

Show chairwoman Sharon Dillenbeck, a professional artist, art teacher and gallery owner, knows Froelich from when both served the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

'She's not a painter, but she certainly knows what's good and what isn't," said Dillenbeck, a Project Arts member. "I've heard her speak to arts groups and she's involved in many of them. Her background should pull in some very good art-

When evaluating art, Froelich looks for solid technique and a fresh viewpoint. "I'm always looking for someone a little more adventurous, someone technically adept in handling their media and approaching their subject, but who also tries to push the edges and do something others may not normally try. A professional art administrator, Froelich enjoyed drawing and printmaking most while earning a teaching certificate in art education from Eastern Michigan. She earned a bachelor's degree in art history from the University of Michigan.

Her stints as a juror include shows in Ann Arbor, East Lansing and Tulsa.

Because of her strong reputation, Froelich should generate lots of entries in Canton - from experienced to emerging artists.

One such artist is Connie Lucas. She didn't seek an application to enter the show until she knew who the juror was. A stickler for quality, the Michigan Watercolor Society member wanted assurance the juror "was somebody knowledgeable about art and who has the right background to help educate the public to what fine art is.

A professional artist for 25 years, Lucas plans to submit for jurying paintings and perhaps a threedimensional piece. Her themes include war, violence and peace; women's work (sewing, quilting, weaving); and travel.

"Art should speak to every person at their level," Lucas said.

'I want everybody to get something out of every piece I do. I want everybody to learn something from each piece they see and apply what they learn to their lives or the world around them.'

Show prizes will include a $250 Jurors Choice Award, a Canton Project Arts Special Award and

Gala art auction to benefit needy kids

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN SPECIAL WRITER

Art is a vehicle to the soul, a nonverbal form of communication, a sharing of personal feelings and expe-

Artists (75 alumni, faculty and students of the Wayne State University Fine Art Department) and their works join with the community to help children in need Wednesday-Saturday, Oct. 20-23, at The Somerset Collection in Troy. Artists include Sergio De Giusti of Redford and Dennis Jones of Westland.

ArtShare '93, a fine art auction and exhibition, will benefit the St. Vin-

Farmington Hills, where more than 700 children, youths and families in crisis receive assistance each year.

Honorary hosts John Kelly and Marilyn Turner of the WXYZ-TV morning show, "Company," will kick off the gala (black-tie optional) reception featuring live and silent auctions 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Somerset Collection.

Tickets are $50 and include champagne courtesy of Merchant of VINO. hors d'ouevres by Sebastian's and desserts by the Golden Mushroom. The general public and metro art community are invited to attend. For tickets, call Betty Speyer at the center, 626-7527, Ext. 283.

'The auction and preview exhibition helps let the community know about the center and what we do for children and lets us share the talents of young artists in the community,' said Speyer, director of agency relations at the non-profit center.

ArtShare '93 boasts the works of ceramicist John Glick of Farmington Hills and sculptors Sergio DeGiusti of Redford and Ray Katz of Pontiac, along with large-scale abstract paintings by Dennis Jones of Westland, hand-colored lithographs by William Bostick of Bingham Farms, tapestry by Urban Jupena, associate professor of art and art history at WSU and birdhouses by Andrea Striewski of Farmington Hills, as well as works by the late William Woodward and George Zambrzycki. DeGuisti and Jupena served as this year's honorary art advisers.

"I believe art work should be donated instead of just sitting around. I think the cause is very good, the abused children," said DeGiusti, and focusing on one particular art department is good because it showcases the institution.'

WOMEN IN ARTISTRY

591-7279.

Women of Artistry will showcase their different styles of artwork 1-6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17, in the Marriott Hotel, 30559 Flynn Drive, Romulus, across from Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The exhibition will feature a new body of work for each artist.

Sharon Lee Dillenbeck of Plymouth offers watercolors, freshly painted with light impressionistic strokes of broken color. Julie Giordano of Northville has a new series of pastel paintings, a new media for her.

Susan Argiroff of Livonia creates classic and contemporary marbling techniques on paper and cloth. Carol Lynn McCreedy of Westland uses watercolor in a lifelike aproach to her garden paintings. Norma McQueen of Garden City has a style all her own in oil paintings and watercolor.

New Concept will provide jazz entertainment. Refreshments, champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

To attend, call J. Giordano Studio, 348-0282, or D&M Studios, 453-3710.

W VIEW SURREALISM

Nelson's Gallery in Livonia kicks off the new exhibition season with "Evolving Concepts: A Decade of Surrealism," a one-person show of paintings by Redford Senior Center painting instructor Carl Angevine. The show continues to Oct. 31.

A reception to meet the awardwinning artist takes place 5:30-9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15.

Angevine's surrealist style evolved over 40 years of painting. His work creates windows to undiscovered dimensions.

He studied at Center for Creative Studies in Detroit under Sarkisian, Palazzola, Kozlow and

"I'm most interested in color. It's very good if you can have complementary colors,' Weidel said. "If it's a swampy or tropical scene, I'm going to have a lot of green in it and it will have red to balance it."

Weidel designs the setups for her still life. One, painted in white, is particularly striking for its yellows, pinks, blues and a myriad of other colors. White is never really white. I like to paint studies in white because there's so much color

A smattering of portraits, primarily of the Weidel's two daughters and six grandchildren show influences of her love for not only her family, but impressionism and music.

A Vincent van Gogh exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts in the 1960s scored big points with Weidel. "Impressionism is my favorite kind of ppainting, the feeling of light and color," she said. "The color is so wonderful, it creates a mood, an emotional response

Music strikes a full chord in Weidel's painting and life. The sound of classical and big band music plays softly in the background at all times, especially when painting.

"I love music. Music evokes a memory. When I hear a certain piece, I see a picture,' Weidel said.

Weidel picked up her first brush in 1960, after receiving an oil painting kit for Christmas from her father, himself an avid painter. She has studied with Elsie Deehan, Robert Ruckevena, Carmen Enriquez and at David Messing's Art Store & More. She also has attended various workshops, her most memorable with Helen

A combination of classes and memberships in the Palette Guild, Artifacts Art Club and Farmington Artists Club provide stimulation to keep her painting and the opportunity to enter exhibitions. Weidel is vice president of the Palette

The hardest part of preparing for her first one-person show, she says, was titling her works. "In a way, I don't like to name pictures because everybody sees something else. Children are always very fresh and imaginative in what they see." Lobby hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Color free: From an experimental abstract series, June Weidel lets loose to express a spectrum of hues.

Warm up to fall color photography leaves begin to change and colors creep gently southward. Here's a fall color checklist: Best film to use: I prefer slide film. If you've never used it before, now's the time to start. Slides have a greater contrast range than color negative films and will produce more vivid, satu-

No matter what your choice of films, use ones with low ASA numbers. You'll get finer grain and your enlargements will be sharp and crisp.

Best days to shoot: Contrary to what you may think, cloudy days are best. Contrast and glare are reduced and colors will appear more vibrant. And don't pass up rainy or foggy days. Moistened autumn leaves after a rain or foggy morning provide good possibilities for your camera. Dark clouds formed by a receding storm also are an excellent backdrop for a stand of brilliant trees. If nature doesn't cooperate, use a spray grouping of leaves.

Use good composition: Place your main subject off center for a more dynamic appearance in your shot. "Frame" your pictures with overhanging branches and place foreground subjects in the viewfinder. Use roads, fences and streams to your advantage as lead-in" lines.

Use a small aperture: The smaller the aperture, the greater the depth-of-field, meaning everything will appear sharp and in focus in your finished print.

For those of you with "program" cameras, use an aperture priority mode with the smallest aperture on your lens. For manual camera users, simply select an aperture/shutter speed combination to maximize depth-of-field.

Which lens to use: Remember that wide-angle lenses will give a greater expanse to your shot, while a telephoto will "move you in close" to isolate a particular tree or capture a splash of color in a cluster of fallen leaves. A macro lens or close-up filter will enable you to highlight the texture and details of an individual leaf.

Look for other opportunities: Cider mills, football games, Halloween festivities and patches of pumpkins all offer exciting fall picture possibilities. Keep your eyes open for these and more.

LIVONIA CITY HALL

Continuing - June Weidel exhibits 80 paintings in a Livonia Arts Commission-sponsored show that brings the flavor of the tropics to the city hall lobby to Nov. 12. The Livonia painter captures birds, florals and landscapes, with many featuring tropical topics like extinct volcanoes in watercolor and oil. A few colored pencil and ink pieces add diversity. The show spans 20 years of creativity. Weidel is a member of the Palette Guild, Artifacts Art Club and Farmington Artists Club. Farmington Road and Five Mile. Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

ILIVONIA CITY CENTER LIBRARY ART GALLERY

Continuing — West Bloomfield artist Nora Mendoza exhibits "Spirits of the Fourth World" to Nov. 6. Sponsored by Livonia Arts Commission. Southeast of Farmington Road and Five Mile. Hours: 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-

Saturday, 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

LIVONIA CIVIC CENTER LIBRARY SHOWCASES

Opening — Contemporary dolls created by Plymouth dollmaker Ingrid Dijkers are displayed in the circular showcases on the library's second floor to Oct. 29. Included are fairies, elves and mystical figures handmade by the Netherlands-born artist. Southeast of Farmington Road and Five Mile. Hours: 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday, 1-5 p.m.

HENRY FORD CENTENNIAL LIBRARY ROTUNDA HALL Opening - Watercolor monotype

prints by area artists, including Marge Masek, Eileen Bibby, Billie Thompson and Audrey Harkins of Livonia, to Oct. 29. 16301 Michgan Ave., Dearborn. This is the second year Lily Dudgeon, who teaches monotypes printmaking at the Visual Arts Association of Livonia and the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, has sponsored the show featuring work of artists who have attended her workshops. Hours: 9:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday.

DETROIT ARTISTS MARKET Friday, Oct. 15 - "Still Life: Motif - 10 Painters" will run through Nov. 12. Opening 5-8 p.m. Friday. Curated by Robert Wilbert, the exhibit features works by Mary Aro, Elizabeth Crank, Peter Gilleran, Lila Kadaj, Michael Mahoney, Nancy Mitter, Jens Plum, Julie Seregny, Athir Shayota and Claudia Shepard. The artists were selected because their work "is marked by a sustained belief in the continuing relevance of this traditional motif." Hours: 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Thursday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday, 300 River Place, Suite 1650, Detroit, 393-

SUSANNE HILBERRY GALLERY Saturday, Oct. 16 - An exhibit of new paintings by native Detroiter John Corbin will continue through Nov. 13. Dialogue between Corbin and poet Lynn Crawford 5 p.m., reception to meet the artist 6-8 p.m. Saturday. Corbin creates unusual and exciting paintings using the jigsaw puzzle. Hours: 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Tuesday-Saturday, 555 S. Woodward, Birmingham, 642-8250. SYBARIS GALLERY

Saturday, Oct. 16 - A one-person exhibit of new fiber works by Gerhardt Knodel, including a site-specific installation, will continue through Nov. 13. Reception for the artist 6-8 p.m. Saturday. Knodel, artist-in-residence and head of the fiber department at the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills since 1970, initiated the genre of modular suspended fabric environments that played on cloth's flexibility, movability and sensitivity to light. Hours: 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday Saturday, 202 E. Third, Royal Oak, 544-3388.

■ G.R. N'NAMDI GALLERY
To Oct. 17 — Works of Detroit native Al Loving. Loving has described himself as a "material abstractionist," having moved from the tradition of brush toward "the making of art." Hours: 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday, 1-4 p.m. Sunday, 161 Townsend, Birmingham, 642-2700. ■ DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

Sunday, Oct. 17 — "Step Lively: The Art of the Folk Cane" continues through Nov. 28, featuring 92 canes from the collection of Bloomfield Hills attorney George Meyer. Meyer and his wife, Kay White Meyer, wrote the awardwinning catalog, "American Folk Art Canes - Personal Sculpture." "Defining the African-American Cane," a free, slide-illustrated talk by Art Institute of Chicago associate curator Ramona Austin, will take place 2 p.m. Sunday in the Lecture Hall. The Meyers will present a free, slide-illustrated lecture, "Handcarved American Canes: Personal Sculptures that Poke into History," 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 28, in the Lecture Hall. A book signing will follow the Meyers' talk. Also, "Once Upon a Matrix: The Variable Nature of Prints," a didactic exhibit illustrating the diverse choices and conditions that influence the final appearance of a print, continues through Jan. 2. Included are more than 100 woodcuts, engravings, etchings and lithographs from the permanent collection, featuring duplicate impressions, multiple states, related drawings and blocks and plates from which prints are pulled. Douglas Semivan, artist and assistant professor of art at Madonna University, will give a gallery talk in the exhibit 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5. Hours: 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday-Friday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends, 5200 Woodward, Detroit. Recommended admission is $4 for adults; $1 for children, seniors and students; free for members. Call 833-7900. THE COMMUNITY HOUSE Wednesday, Oct. 20 - The eighth annual Our Town Art Exhibition and Sale will present works by 199 artists from around Michigan Thursday-Sunday, Oct. 21-24. Special events are a gala preview Wednesday, a breakfast with a talk by juror Allen Rubiner of the Rubiner Gallery in West Bloomfield, a luncheon with a tour of private art collections in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, a party with live jazz, a children's workshop and an artists reception and awards ceremony. Exhibit hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., 380 S.

used for other "greens" Sweet Sour Sauce for Greens

The recipe is simple and can be

6 slices bacon, cut into small pieces (I used grease from Italian sausage)

1/2 cup onion, chopped 3 teaspoons sugar

1/2 teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons flour 1/2 cup vinegar one-third cup water

Brown bacon and remove from pan. Fry onion in drippings until golden brown, blend in dry ingredients, add liquids, stirring until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat. Add bacon, pour sauce over your choice of raw spinach. (I removed the rib from the chard, cut the leaves coarsely and cooked them in a bit of water for about five minutes before pouring the sauce over. I omitted the bacon.)

Three other books, the latest in Van Patten's Organic Gardener's Series, are "Organic Gardener's Basics" by Barbara P. Lawton and George F. Van Patten, "Composting" by Steve Solomon and Annuals" by Peter Loewer. Each well-written, informative, softcover book is $12.95 and can be obtained by calling the distributor, Login Publisher's Consortium, at 1-800-626-4330.

I lecture on a number of gardening subjects and would be happy to speak to your group. When I meet my readers, I find what various clubs are doing and it is always a pleasure to meet face to face.

When I visited the Orchard Lake Garden Club, I learned that the members are selling handmade birdhouses for a bench to be installed at the West Bloomfield Woods Nature Preserve. The birdhouses are also available at Parmenters Florist in Birmingham.

PEWABIC POTTERY

To Nov. 13 — "A Gentle Touch" — an exhibit of work by Larry Bush, Victoria Christen, Kim Dickey, Jacquie Rice and Catherine White - continues in the first floor gallery. Works by Todd Johnson are shown in a solo exhibit in the second floor Stratton Gallery. Pieces in "A Gentle Touch" play on the tactile qualities of clay. By texture, by unusual form and with an unself-conscious attitude, the works show the traces of the maker's hand and invite the viewer's touch. The juxtaposition of physical opposites in Johnson's art creates dynamic and intriguing pots. Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Saturday. 10125 E. Jefferson, east of downtown Detroit across from

Waterworks Park, 822-0954. ■ DETROIT INSTITUTE OF ARTS

To Nov. 14 — "A Private View: American Paintings from the Manoogian Collection" features 37 paintings from one of the greatest private collections of American art. Call 833-7900.

SHERRY WASHINGTON GALLERY

To Dec. 30 — Detroit artist Gilda Snowden exhibits paintings in "Abstract Visions," at the gallery in the L.B. King Building, 1274

Library, Detroit. Snowden, who earned three art degrees at Wayne State University, has taught art since 1979. She's now assistant professor of fine art at Center for Creative Studies, College of Art and Design in Detroit. Influenced by the Cass Corridor artists of more than 20 years ago, Snowden is part of the second generation of this movement that emphasized process and materials and was characterized by a vitality and fascination with surface texture. As an artist, Snowden found greater depth and purpose following the death of her parents in 1987. The message became more personal. First, using charcoal and pastel on paper and later oil on canvas, Snowden developed her signature image: the tornado. The tornado is a symbol of the sudden storm that without warning shatters the equilibrium of the human psyche. Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays, 1-6 p.m. Saturday. PAINT CREEK CENTER FOR THE ARTS

Friday, Oct. 8 - "Disguises: Artists' Masks," an all-media exhibition focusing on artistic interpretation of "the mask," will continue to Nov. 5. REAL ESTATE NEWS

Own or rent? Each has its advantages

Before buying a house, the Michigan Association of CPAs recommends that you take the time to explore other housing alternatives and to consider how such a purchase will affect you personal financial plan and lifestyle goals.

Opting to rent

For some people, no matter how low interest rates fall, renting makes the most sense. Choosing to rent frees you from worries about property values declining and from incurring the costs associated with buying or selling a house. Instead of tying up your money in the down payment for a house, you can place it in other investment vehicles that might offer you greater liquidity or a higher return. What's more, because you can simply move when your lease expires, renting also gives you increased flexi-

Additionally, renters have the luxury of not bearing the entire financial burden of home repairs. Despite these advantages, renting has no investment value or tax benefit. No matter how much rent you pay, you never build equity in the property - and you can never experience the security that homeownership often brings.

Homeownership advantages

The tax benefits begin even before you move into your personal residence. You can take a tax deduction for the points paid to secure a mortgage on the purchase of your house. Once you move in, you can deduct property taxes and interest paid on your mortgage.

If you put a lot of money into your house to make improvements, such as adding a bedroom or bathroom, you get another tax break. These capital improvement costs are added to the basis of your house and help to offset the gains you may realize when you

When you sell your house, you not only have the opportunity to make a profit, you can also shelter that profit from taxes. To defer the capital gains tax, you must sell your principal residence and buy and use a new one of equal or greater value at least two years before or after the date of the

If you are at least 55 years old, homeownership may open the door to an even bigger tax break when it comes time to sell your house: You are entitled to a one-time exclusion of up to $125,000 of gain ($62,500, if married filing separately) realized on the sale of your principal residence.

To qualify for this exclusion. you must have owned and used the house as your principal residence. To qualify for this exclusion, you must have owned and used the house as your principal residence for a total of three of the previous five years before the

Finally, homeowners have the option of borrowing against the equity in their houses. What's more, you can take a tax deduction for the interest on home equity indebtedness of up to

Homeownership disadvantages

There's little question that buying and owning a house requires substantial financial resources. You not only need a sizable down payment - usually 20 percent of the purchase price you must also set aside money for closing costs, such as bank fees, appraisals, surveys and termite inspections. Once you own your house, you then face the ongoing responsibility, and cost, of maintaining and repair-

Making an investment in a house also brings the risk of losing money if you are ever forced to sell your house at an amount less than the purchase price. And if you do lose money on the sale of your house, you may not take a tax deduction for the loss.

Despite these disadvantages, CPAs suggest that in most instances homeownership is still a smart investment. As long as real-estate appreciation at least keeps pace with inflation, buying a house will allow you to accumulate wealth and give you the security that comes from knowing you own the roof over your head.

The Farmington Hills-based Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants provided this report.

Condo board should do more than

CONDO

ROBERT M. MEISNER

board has just learned that managing our agent (who has since been terminated) charged the association more money for a subcontractor's bill than was actually incurred by the subcontractor.

The procedure that the management company would use would be to bill us for the subcontractor and then pay the contractor directly. We then discovered, by accident, that the contractor's bill actually was less than what we were charged by the management company and that there was no basis in his management agreement to do so.

What can we do at this point?

You should determine what the difference is between the amount paid by you to the management agent and the amount billed to the management agent by the contractor(s) for the period of time in which the management company was your manager.

It would also be appropriate, if you have not already done so, to have a certified audit of the association's books and records. This type of occurrence is one of the items that could be discovered by a certified audit, which is generally recommended by me to my association clients.

To the extent that the managing agent may have committed fraud, you may wish to consider filing a complaint with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation to the extent that the managing agent has a real estate license, as well as pursuing your legal remedies for damages in

I have heard of an island resort in South Carolina called Kiawah, which is similar to some condominium developments in northern Michigan. Do you have any knowledge concerning this development?

Kiawah Island is about 21 miles from Charleston and contains a number of condominium projects, singlefamily houses, golf courses, a hotel and other residential amenities.

It is similar in composition to condominium developments in the Leelanaw Peninsula of Michigan and contains a combination of residential communities overlooking the water.

As in the purchase of any other residential property in this situation, you must be fully aware of the consequences of the purchase of your property, particularly if you don't plan to live in your condominium throughout

That would include checking with the neighboring real estate companies as to what type of return you will get on your investment should you choose to lease your unit.

Also, the same issues that come up in regard to the purchase of any condominium unit apply if you buy into a condominium community here.

Of course, if you buy a single-family house, make sure that you have checked to determine what the deed restrictions are with regard to the community development. Robert M. Meisner is a Birmingham attorney concentrating his practice in the areas of condominiums, real estate and corporate law. You are invited to submit questions by writing Robert M. ■ Affordable housing can be a subjective phrase. But three well-known builders have combined to offer what they say is a great deal for buyers in West Bloomfield. Their plan? Quality construction on 100-foot lots with sidewalks, tree-lined streets and a series of interconnected parks.

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

ut together new houses of 2,100 square feet in West Bloomfield with strict architectural controls at prices starting in the low $200,000s and what have you got?

Spring Meadow, a subdivision developed and built by a partnership involving Ivanhoe-Huntley of West Bloomfield, S.R. Jacobson Development of Birmingham and MJC West of Macomb Township.

Ninety lots have been platted in the first phase of the development and 20 already have sold. An additional 52 houses are planned for phase two.

"It's unbelievable," said Gary Shapiro, Ivanhoe president. "There's nothing selling faster that I know of. The thrust of the development was to create a community, something different... a family-oriented community."

That includes sidewalks throughout the subdivision, three trees evenly spaced in front of every house to one day give a leafy canopy effect and several vest-pocket parks.

"Each of the parks is different,"
Shapiro said. "A nature preserve has picnic tables, barbecues, a trail around a pond where people can enjoy nature and a more passive use.

"English Oaks is a playground with swings and monkey bars. The third one has a quaint gazebo and a picnic table, barbecue and deck. All are geared for interconnected use."

Each of the partners has built one model at the sales center, but all three can build any model and will do so on a rotation basis. All models offer several exterior elevations and a three- or four-bedroom option.

The partners combined outstanding elements of previous individual models into brand new offerings for Spring Meadow.

The Grand Cypress, constructed by S.R. Jacobson, has all bedrooms including the master suite and a second full bath upstairs. A living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast area, family room, library, powder room and utility room are on the main

The three-bedroom model, 2,400 square feet, carries a basic price of $218,500.

The Turnberry, built by MJC, has the same basic elements and configuration as the Grand Cypress, except it's a little smaller. The 2.150-squarefoot, three-bedroom model is priced at $207,500.

The Augusta, erected by Ivanhoe-Huntley, places the master suite on the main floor, two bedrooms and a full bath upstairs. The main level also has a kitchen, breakfast area, dining room/great roomand library. The model, 2,150 square feet, costs $219,500.

Two other models — a two- or

Round columns support a welcoming front porch that spans the front of the Hemlock and wraps around to the left. One the second level, two decorative columns flank a dormer with a graceful arched window.

The entry is vaulted to the second-floor ceiling and brightened by the overhead dormer. An open balustrade on the right curves up to the second floor where a landing overlooks the foyer. Three bedrooms, each with a built-in desk, share a compartmentalized bathroom on this level. A linen closet, two storage closets and a clothes chute to the utility room below line the hallway.

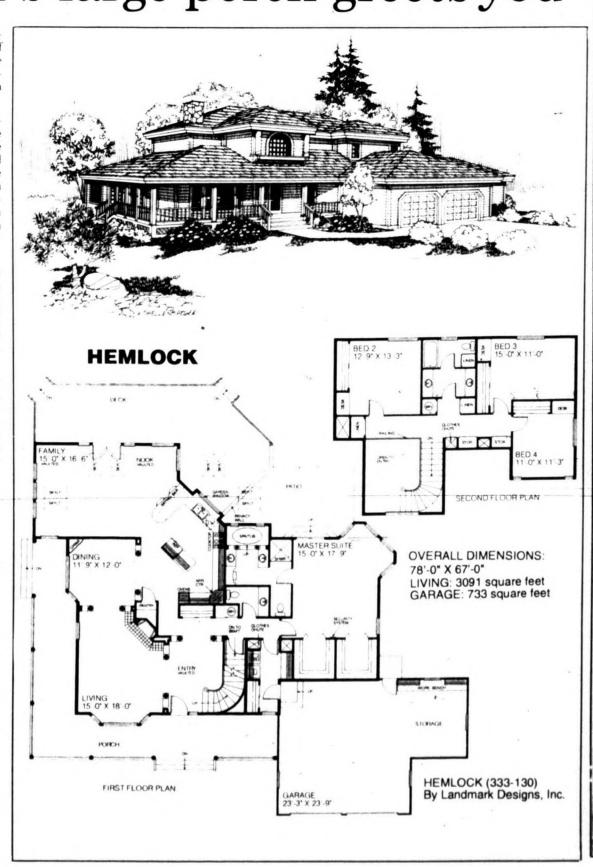

Stately columns similar to those on the exterior mark the passageways that separate the living room, entry and dining room from each other and from the informal living areas at the back of the home. The shape of the hearth mirrors bay windows in the dining room and living room.

The family room/kitchen is large and bright. In the family room, skylights add to the illumination provided by windows and French doors. Tropical plants thrive in the garden window in front of the sink and the nook is windowed on two sides. Other features in the kitchen include generous counter space, an appliance center, built-in appliances, a pantry and an eating bar.

The sumptuous master suite has a boxed-out sitting bay, ideal for reading, sewing or even a desk. Matching walk-in closets provide abundant storage for clothing. Luxury features in the master bathroom include an oversized shower, twin toilets, a vanity and a raised spa tub flanked by columns. Sliders open onto a private patio, separated from the deck by a privacy wall.

A small powder room is just a few steps away, across from a large utility room complete with cabinets, a counter and a closet for hanging up freshly ironed clothes.

All houses provide high ceilings, rooms that flow into each other, foyers that open up to the second level, fireplaces and basements.

Three-car garages are offered in the standard cost during early-construction stages, Shapiro said.

The one thing about the subdivision is it's West Bloomfield and Walled Lake schools,' said Michael A. Chirco, MJC president.

And affordability. We're fortunate enough we bought land at the right price," he added. 'We're offering a house on a 100-foot lot for what some places in West Bloomfield you'd pay for just a lot.'

Architectural requirements include requiring side garage entrances, some brick on all four sides and wood siding. Adjacent houses won't be allowed to have the exact exterior ap-

A large percentage of buyers are parents with children, Shapiro said. "It's a cross section. You have a lot of move-up people, firsttime new buyers, too. We're also getting empty nesters.

The first move-ins could arrive by the end of the year.

The property tax rate in Spring Meadow is now $54.66 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation (half of market value). That means the owner of a $220,000 house would pay $6,000 in property taxes per year.

A mandatory annual association fee of $200 will cover maintenance of common areas, parks and snow removal.

'The nice thing about this development is the allure, the beauty of it, starting with the ponds, trees," said Scott Jacobson, president of Jacobson Development. "We're also doing things like offering three-car garages as a standard feature and I don't think you'll find that at this price point. We came up with a product size in tune with the marketplace.'

■ CLEANUP CONTRACT A series of pilot-scale tests performed at a site on the Manitowoc River in Wisconsin has resulted in the award of a full-scale site remediation contract to Millgard Environmental Corp. in Livonia.

The cleanup site is the current headquarters of Wisconsin Fuel and Light, a privately owned utility in Manitowoc. The remediation project is a private action undertaken by the owner, Wisconsin Fuel and Light, which has worked closely with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources to develop a remediation plan. The owner retained WW Engineering of Grand Rapids to assess the contamination and develop a remediation plan.

Residual coal tar from a former coal-gasification plant has heavily contaminated surrounding soil. Millgard will treat 26,000 cubic yards of shoreline soils to depths of 40 feet in an area that includes a high water table and buried obstructions.

Grasp fine points of sizing up antique finds

Schoolcraft College is offering "Treasures From Yesterday," a program series that can help identify and evaluate antiques, whether the pieces are at an auction, in a gallery or tucked away in an attic or basement.

Prominent professionals will discuss what's "out there" in the marketplace as well as what items to look for. Art work, furniture and accessories and fine jewelry (antique and new) will be discussed.

The four-session series will begin Wednesday, Nov. 3, and continue through Wednesday, Dec. 1. The classes will meet 6-8 p.m. at the college, Haggerty and Seven Mile in Livonia. For a descriptive brochure or registration information, call the college at 462-4448.

Those attending the program may bring handheld items for the instructors to evaluate. The sessions may be attended individually or as a series. Prices are $64 for the series and $21 for individual sessions. Registration is being ac-
