Breen out of judicial contest

The race for the 35th District Court judgeship has one less candidate. Maurice Breen, former Plymouth Township supervisor, is out of the race because he didn't have enough valid names on his petitions.

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Maurice Breen has been knocked out of the 35th District Court judgeship race by a challenge from fellow judge candidate Ron Lowe.

The state board of judges, after hearing on Monday, ruled that Breen did not file enough valid petitions that are to keep his name on the November ballot.

They follow their own policies and have to do by the rules," Breen said.

He is disappointed, but said he will accept the loss. Breen has not been challenged in the past.

It was the attorney's challenge, according to Breen. Breen was Plymouth Township supervisor from 1980 to 1984 and served as a Wayne County commissioner from 1984 to 1986.

When the judge race was announced, Breen has been active in local Republican Party politics and Lowe had supported Breen at his campaign for township mayor.

Lowe's first work challenged some petition signatures filed by Breen at the time. Lowe said he had contacted the petition signers and was not sure Breen had enough valid signatures. Lowe said he had contacted the signers and was not sure they had signed the petitions.

It was difficult to challenge Breen because he and Lowe spent a lot of time at the Republican Party meetings to discuss that petition drive, Lowe said.

On further examination, Breen said he had contacted the signers and was not sure they had signed the petitions. He said he had contacted the signers and was not sure they had signed the petitions.

Omnicom to televise honors convocation

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Omnicom Television Inc. has agreed to televise the annual honors convocation at the University of Michigan, a move that would allow students to watch the ceremony from their homes.

The agreement, announced Tuesday by the university's director of television, James H. Smith, would allow Omnicom to broadcast the ceremony on its cable channels.

The convocation, which is held annually in May, is a ceremony in which the university honors its top students. It is one of the most important events on the university's calendar.

Smith said the agreement would allow students to watch the ceremony from their homes, a move that would be a significant step in making the ceremony more accessible to students.

Truck damages building

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — A truck driver who didn't realize he'd hit a building was westbound on Ann Arbor Trail and turning onto northbound Fleet Street when the top of his trailer struck the awning.

The driver, who was driving a semi-trailer truck, was traveling westbound on Ann Arbor Trail and turned north onto Fleet Street. The top of the trailer struck the awning of a building on Fleet Street.

The driver was not injured in the accident. The truck was damaged, and the awning was destroyed. The driver was cited for driving on a highway with a defective load.

Man, 45, killed in auto accident

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — A 45-year-old man was killed in a head-on collision with a truck on Ann Arbor Trail on Tuesday.

The man, whose name was not immediately available, was driving a car when it was struck by the front of a truck. The truck was traveling in the same direction as the car.

The man was pronounced dead at the scene. The truck driver was not injured and was released from the hospital.

The Michigan State Police are investigating the accident. They are looking for witnesses and are reviewing the driver's license and driving record.

Board hopefuls ready to speak

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Eight candidates for the two-year term of the Board of Trustees at the University of Michigan are ready to speak at the annual meeting of the board.

The candidates are: Carolyn Bradley, Susan Davis, Mark Horvath, Peggy Kulis and Steve Kulanowicz. Running for the one-year term are incumbent Susan Fein and challenger Valerie Foster. Trustees Les Walker and Carl Battistulli are not seeking re-election.

Horvath, Bradley, Davis and Greene will speak from 7:15-10:25 a.m. Wednesday. Jim S. Horvath and Bradley will speak again from 12:30-2:00 p.m.

On Friday, June 10, Kulanowicz and Kulis will speak from 7:15-10:25 a.m. Addressing students from 12:10-2:00 p.m. will be Kulanowicz, Davis and Fein.

Bradley didn't return calls from Close-Up teacher Mike McCauley and isn't scheduled to speak.

The intent of the forums is to enable students to go back to their homes and let their parents know what they think of the candidates. The forums are a chance for students to voice their opinions on the candidates.

New Old Village eatery still on tap, owner says

By KEVIN BROWN, Staff Writer

As Old Village property owner who last year announced plans to open a restaurant on Liberty Street said the project is still a go.

But Kim Guenther, who grew up in Old Village, said he could use some help from the city in relaxing parking requirements for restaurant owners to help make the restaurant happen.

When I am right now with it, we're talking with a couple guys, we've narrowed it down to a couple of investors who want to see that area change, Guenther said.

The plan is to create an American-style restaurant with 300 square-foot space, which could be expanded to 1,000 or 2,000 square feet.

We're hoping it will happen before the year's end, Guenther said. What we're hoping to see go in there is American fare, steak, fish, seafood, some things family-oriented.

Guenther, who grew up in the area, prefers the old name, Lower Town, to the more recent, Old Village, and he describes the oldest section of town as the north end, along M.H. and Starkweather near the railroad tracks.

The concept of what it's going to be is very much in place, we have the issue of parking to address, Guenther said.

In Lower Town, we can achieve the same status on parking that the city manager and city commissioners had the wisdom to apply to downtown proper then, we will be decidedly closer to bringing in a truly strong and vibrant entity to Lower Town, Guenther said.

Bringing in such a restaurant would have a greater impact and do more to accomplish the development and restoration of that part of the city than any other single consideration I can think of, he said.

In April, the city commission eased its on-site parking requirements for downtown businesses as prospective restaurateurs said the requirements were driving them out of town.

In December, the city commission voted to allow Guenther to have a liquor license at the proposed Liberty Street restaurant site.

Guenther said he plans to renovate the building at the site in keeping with its historic architecture.

Children's author writes book

By JUDITH BROWN, Staff Writer

Elizabeth Osbold, Galbraith's wealthy Lincoln, Wis., home, Plymouth, however, retains a special place in her heart.

She grew up in Plymouth, graduating from Our Lady of Good Counsel School and Plymouth High School. Galbraith, daughter of the late Charles and Gertrude Osbold, has family in Plymouth and Livonia and comes back regularly to visit.

I was back last year for my 30th high school reunion," she said in a telephone interview. "It was really fun."

She'll make another trip to Michigan soon for the 1994 Midwest Conference of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators, to be held June 10-12 at the Novi Hilton. For registration information, contact Ellen Howard at (616) 345-6906.

Galbraith will do workshops on how to write a kids' picture book from a writer's point of view, and on short chapter books.

She has a new book out, Roommates, Agony, published by Margaret K. McElderry Books/Macmillan Publishing Co. The book, for first-through third graders, is the last in a trilogy which includes "Roommates" and "Roommates and Rachel."

The newest book, which came out in March, tells the ongoing story of sisters Mimi and Beth. The girls go to summer camp together when Mimi's best friend gets the chicken pox and has to cancel. So they are roommates again at camp. The girls discover that each is picky about something.

I'm just delighted, of course," she said in describing the book's publication. All three books were done by the same artist, Mark Graham.

"There's no Plymouth in this book. The camp is a camp I strictly created," Galbraith had never been to a sleep-over camp, so she sought the advice of her nieces, who live in Washington state and have been to camp. The book is dedicated to them, to Galbraith's husband Steve and to her sister-in-law.

The newest book is Galbraith's 10th for children. Her 11th is due out next spring and is also for early elementary youngsters. "Holding Onto Sunday" tells the story of a girl who lives with her grandmother and father. She and her dad can only spend Sundays together, due to the requirements of his job.

It's just really dear," said Galbraith, who earned an undergraduate English degree and a master's degree in library science from the University of Michigan.

She keeps busy with her writing, but also finds time to serve as executive director of the Tacoma Philharmonic. She's looking forward to her upcoming visit to Michigan, and to seeing her family. Three of her four brothers live in the area.

"Coming back for the reunion was fun. A lot of the people I hadn't seen literally in 30 years. It was just wonderful to see how people were thriving."

We pointed that out to some of our own staff. We were informed nothing would be done with that, unless a firm change was made. I would...

Lowe said he and his committee discussed whether to accept the change in the first place.

It actually is a matter of the party, he said. He earned money from it. Was it the challenge or that record? But I kept running into one problem. The law is pretty clear on this, Lowe said, adding, "I'm asking people to hire me to be a judge and that role I'm asked to approach the law is swayed."

Lowe said he was not like the law. He sees that it has harsh consequences but he couldn't go out in front of the people to hire me to be their judge if I didn't have the back bone to apply the law when it came to something like this, Lowe said.

"I was in a position where I saw alternatives," Lowe said.

Activities are being asked to provide complimentary services for the evening of June 12 in recognition of the graduating classes of 1994 in Plymouth Canton Educational Park all night Senior Class Party set for June 12.

An event of this magnitude requires the support and help of the entire community. We are soliciting donations from all business and community leaders to assist in ensuring a successful party, said Del Furmanek of the party committee.

Cash donations will be used to help defray the expenses of the party. Gift donations will be awarded as prizes throughout the evening. Items for gift donations can be any item suitable for use by a high school graduate, such as small appliances, electronic equipment, jewelry, sporting goods, gift certificates, tickets and discount coupons.

Help is still needed on the chaperone games, prizes and decoration committees," said Pam Shepley. "Any help you can offer, even for an hour or two, would be greatly appreciated. Interested parents are asked to call Shepley at 455-0255.

The 1994 party will continue a CEP tradition in which parents throw an all night celebration in a safe environment at the high schools. "The main purpose of this event is to eliminate graduation night tragedies resulting from drinking and driving to numerous private celebrations," said Furmanek.

About 1,000 graduates are expected to attend this year's party.

Donations should be made payable to the 1994 CEP Senior Class Party and sent to 1400 Kingsbridge Canton 48187.

Sponsors will receive certificates and/or brightly colored stickers identifying them as CEP Senior Class Party sponsors. Sponsors' names will be prominently displayed at the party. Names will be published after the event.

For more information, call Furmanek at 455-1619 or Linda Grube at 459-8264.

The party is open to 1994 CEP graduates only. Tickets are $20 per person in advance and $22 at the door. If students leave before the party ends, they will not be readmitted.

Township and city police say they will vigorously enforce all local and state laws during the next few weeks.

The intent is to avert problems at motels rented by graduates. Complaints in the past have ranged from underage drinking to disorderly conduct and malicious destruction of property.

The first session of the course will be held 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday, June 6, at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 925 Farmer in Plymouth. The second session will be held Tuesday, June 7, at the same time and location. The fee for the course is $8.

ROLL CALL REPORT

Knollenberg opposes Great Society initiatives

Here's how Observer & Eccentric area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the week ending May 13

Knollenberg, R Birmingham

Appalachian Commission: By a vote of 143 to 261, the House rejected an amendment to HR 2442 (above) to kill the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), a Great Society agency that has spent $6 billion since the mid-1960s to combat rural poverty in 13 Appalachian Mountain states from New York to Alabama.

A yes vote was to kill the Appalachian Regional Commission. Area representatives voting yes were: Joseph Knollenberg. Voting no: Bob Carr, Dale Kildee, Sander Levin and William Ford.

SENATE

Bosnia: By a vote of 50 to 49, senators approved the weaker of two bills they were considering to provide American arms to Bosnia Muslims. This measure (S 2040) was sponsored by Majority Leader George Mitchell, D Maine, with President Clinton's backing. It directed the president to work through NATO to get the United Nations to lift its ban on the outside world arming outgunned Muslim forces against Serbs and Croats.

Most senators who voted no favored a stronger measure by Minority Leader Bob Dole, R Kan., that also was passed by the Senate. Dole sought to provide American arms immediately and directly to Bosnian Muslims regardless of the UN embargo. Some other senators voting no objected to any lifting the UN embargo.

Supporter Paul Simon, D Ill., said, "We should not be a Lone Ranger in the world. You have to work with the community of nations. But the administration has to understand that we feel their policy has been anemic and we have to do better. The administration has to lead or I am ready to vote for a Dole type amendment."

Carl Levin, D Mich., who opposed the Mitchell substitute, said, "We and the nations of the world, acting through the U.N., are unwilling to take actions necessary to protect the civilians in Bosnia against ethnic cleansing and aggression. If we are not willing to defend them, we must surely allow the primary victims of aggression to defend themselves, a guarantee that is in the United Nations charter."

A yes vote supported the weaker of two pending measures for arming Bosnian Muslims. Michigan Senators Carl Levin, D, voted no. Donald Riegle, D, voted yes.

1995 Budget: By a vote of 53 to 46, the Senate approved the conference report on the Congressional Budget Resolution (H Con Res 218) for FY 1995-99. For 1995, it sets spending at $1.51 trillion while anticipating revenues of $1.34 trillion and an annual deficit of about $175 billion.

About half of the budget is entitlement spending that by law cannot be cut. About 14 percent is mandatory spending to pay interest on the national debt. The remaining one third of federal spending is for discretionary international, defense and domestic programs that can be cut. By category, the largest outlays are $337 billion for Social Security, $251 billion for defense, $214 billion for debt service and $161 billion for Medicare.

A yes vote was to approve the Congressional Budget Resolution. Carl Levin voted yes. Donald Riegle voted yes.

Gift Ban: By a vote of 95 to four, the Senate passed a bill (S 1935) that bans nearly all meals, gifts, travel, hospitality at resorts, campaign contributions and other financial favors that many members of Congress and their staff routinely accept from special interests, including registered lobbyists.

The bill was sent to conference with a less-strict House measure. The House bill, for example, permits lawmakers and staff to contin-

HOUSE

Economic Development: By a vote of 328 to 89, the House passed HR 2442 to fund the Economic Development Administration and the Appalachian Regional Commission at a budget of $1.6 billion over three fiscal years, beginning with 1994. If the bill becomes law, it will mark the first time since 1982 that Congress has reauthorized the two Great Society agencies that dispense federal grants and loans to build infrastructure and spur economic development. Presidents Reagan and Bush tried to kill the EDA and ARC, but Democratic Congresses have kept them alive with annual appropriations.

A yes vote was to pass the bill. Area representatives voting yes were: Bob Carr, D-Pontiac, Dale Kildee, D-Flint, Sander Levin, D-Southfield and William Ford, D-Ypsilanti. Voting no: Joseph

When you have a baby it should be a joyous time. You want to make sure you have the best care possible for your baby. At St. Mary's Hospital, we have the Maternity & Neonatal Center at St. Mary's Hospital. It's a place where you can get the best care possible for your baby.

WHY A LOT OF BABIES SEEM LIKE DISTANT RELATIVES

It's not that babies seem distant. It's that you're not spending enough time with them. At St. Mary's Hospital, we have the Maternity & Neonatal Center at St. Mary's Hospital. It's a place where you can get the best care possible for your baby.

All private rooms
We believe you know best when you want visitors, and when you need time alone with your baby. That's why all the maternity rooms at St. Mary's are private. So a family member can even stay overnight if that's what you want.

Real family care
Your baby can stay in your room even when family members are visiting. We accept your definition of family. Grandparents, children, aunts and uncles.

Your best friend. If you call them family, so do we. It's that simple. Our physicians even examine babies at your bedside so you and your family can watch and ask questions. So if you want real family-centered care, call St. Mary's Hospital. Call 313-591-2882 for a free brochure, personal tour, or a physician referral.

Long sentences for parole violators sought

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Parolees who commit felonies while on parole will spend a lot more time in prison if Wayne County chief assistant prosecutor George Ward has his way.

Two Wayne County Circuit judges have sided with Ward in his interpretation of a 1988 law that has never been widely enforced.

The law, MCL 768.7a(2), says that parolees convicted of a felony while on parole must serve "the remaining portion" of the initial prison sentence before serving any part of the second sentence.

Ward contends that "the remaining portion" means the maximum sentence. Other attorneys argue that "the remaining portion" is the minimum sentence or something in between the minimum and the maximum sentences.

Usually, reoffending parolees are incarcerated only for the minimum sentence to the second crime. The remaining portion of the first crime's sentence is waived.

Wayne County Circuit judges Susan Bieke-Neilson and Kaye Tertzag agree with Ward's interpretation of the 1988 law.

Tertzag wrote a 17-page opinion on the subject in the case of a

'Enforcement of this principle will do more . . . to stop repeat offenders than all the repetitious re-prosecuting of the same individuals by all the . . . county prosecutor's offices across the state can ever hope to stop.'

George Ward

man with 10 prior convictions who committed a crime while on parole. The opinion is dated May 2.

"This case involves facts which should make those involved with the criminal justice system blush," Tertzag wrote. "State lawmakers have adopted strict rules and regulations which should govern all who are involved with the criminal justice system. Unfortunately, those rules and regulations have not been enforced and, as a consequence, the legislative purpose is thwarted and the will of the people abrogated."

In conclusion, Tertzag wrote, "This court holds that MCL 768.7a(2) mandates that a reoffending parolee must serve the maximum term of his first sentence prior to serving his sentence for the subsequent offense."

Ward is also appealing the case of Gregory Lee Young, who has been in and out of state prison 15 times. Young committed a break-in while on parole for armed robbery.

Wayne County Records Judge

Lawrence Silverman sentenced Young to consecutive prison terms in accordance with MCL 768.7a(2) on Aug. 7, 1992. When the state Department of Corrections balked at Silverman's interpretation of the law, a declaratory judgment by Judge Bieke-Neilson was requested. Bieke-Neilson backed Ward, and the case went to the state Court of Appeals.

Ward filed a brief with the Court of Appeals March 11 to argue his case for MCL 768.7a(2). "Enforcement of this principle will do more, directly and effectively, to stop repeat offenders than all the repetitious re-prosecuting of the same individuals by all the special Repeat Offenders Bureaus created in all the county prosecutor's offices across the state can ever hope to stop," he wrote.

The Court of Appeals is expected to issue an opinion on the appeal this year. If the court sides with Ward, judges throughout Michigan will be compelled to sentence reoffending parolees to consecutive sentences.

Local U-M club to host meeting

The University of Michigan Club of the Plymouth Community will host its annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 6, at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer.

Ken Fisher, director of the University of Michigan Musical Society, will be master of ceremonies for the event.

The evening's highlights will include the naming of the club's scholarship winner and approval of the 1994-95 slate of new officers.

Members will have a chance to visit with the scholarship winner. Coffee, tea and cookies will be served.

Fisher also will give away prizes to trivia contest winners.

"Ken likes to give away lots of prizes. He'll ask all kinds of questions," said the U-M Club's Kathy Gooze.

There's no charge for attendance.

Each year, the University of Michigan Club of the Plymouth Community honors a deserving student from the Plymouth-Canton-Westland area. Last year's winner was Andrea Jakubiak, a 1993 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School.

Jakubiak enrolled at the University of Michigan-Dearborn with plans to major in engineering.

This year's recipient will be given $1,200 toward tuition. Most of members' dues are used for the scholarship fund.

Dues for 1994-95, $10 per person and payable to the U-M Club of Plymouth, may be sent to Ken Holmes, 9548 Terry St., Plymouth 48170.

Physical exams planned

Physical exams for Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools and middle school athletes are available on Wednesday, June 8, at the Salem High School balcony.

Pre-physical forms may be picked up at the athletic director's office in Canton and Salem high schools. Middle school athletes may pick up forms at the principal's office. Physicals are sponsored by the athletic department.

Forms need to be filled out and signed by a parent or guardian.

The physicals will be given by Orthopedic Surgery Associates' Dr. Robert Gordon and Dr. Donald Wild.

The cost is $12. Any student unable to afford the cost should contact Sue Heinzman at 416-7751 for assistance.

The "Rouge RiverWatch" adoption program was made possible by the Friends of the Rouge, a group that organizes the annual cleanup of the Rouge, which will occur on Saturday, June 4. Groups of 10 or more people are eligible to adopt part of the Rouge or its tributaries. Those interested can call Friends of the Rouge director Jim Graham at 961-4050. The duck hunters group has about 30 members and meets once a month to shoot skeet at the Point Mouillee Shooting Range in Brownstown Township. Members also put metal bands on the legs of ducks, build decoys and stay informed on conservation issues. They publish a monthly newsletter and often hunt together. Dues are $18 a year. For club information, call Cindy Gerat at 283-9590. Livonia resident Denise Henderson-Bills, a teacher in Garden City schools, is the association's representative to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. She heard about the adoption program at a MUCC meeting and made a commitment for the duck hunters. "People associate the Rouge with contamination, but at the same time you don't see the people who complain about contamination or there cleaning it up," Henderson-Bills said.

ue receiving meals and gifts from special interests other than lobbyists, and to continue accepting free travel and accommodations for lobbyists' outings at vacation spots. A yes vote was to pass the bill. Levin and Riegler both voted yes.

Race and Sentencing: By a vote of 58 to 41, the Senate repudiated the House-passed Racial Justice Act, which enables minorities to avoid the death sentence if they can show it is being applied against them as part of a discriminatory pattern. The House, but not the Senate, put the measure in the pending 1994 crime bill (HR 3355). With this non-binding vote, senators urged Senate representatives in the crime bill conference committee to reject the House language. A yes opposed the House-passed Racial Justice Act. Levin and Riegler voted no.

AROUND PLYMOUTH

Sunrise Sale

The annual Sunrise Sale from 5-10 a.m. Saturday, June 18, features bargains for shoppers willing to get up early and head to participating Plymouth merchants.

Bargains of 50 percent off are available at 5 a.m. That percentage drops to 40 percent at 6 a.m., to 30 percent at 7 a.m., 20 percent at 8 a.m. and 10 percent at 9 a.m. Some stores offer 20 percent off all day.

A bargain-hunting blood-pumping low-impact aerobics class is offered at 8 a.m. in conjunction with the event.

The sale is sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Playscape benefit

To benefit the Plymouth Dream Playscape Project, a fund-raiser titled "You Are Someone Special" is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Saturday, June 11, at Fox Hills Country Club.

WNIC DJ Linda Lanci will host the event, which focuses on women's physical and emotional well-being with topics ranging from skin care to fashion and exercise.

The playscape project is a 15,000-square-foot wood play structure to be built in Plymouth Township Park in spring 1995. Tickets for the event are $25 and tax deductible and available at the Outback Cappuccino Bar on Main Street.

To help the project effort by volunteering, call 453-9614.

Michigandering

Members of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will hear about the travel bargains in Michigan during its lunch noon Wednesday, June 8, at Ernesto's, 41661 Plymouth Road.

Also at the event, Beyer Drugs of Plymouth will be honored for being the oldest business in Plymouth and the winner of the Positively Plymouth Business Beautification Award will be announced.

For more information about the event, contact the chamber at 453-1540.

Remembering vets: The Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps marches down Main Street on Memorial Day.

Gathering downtown: Joanne Ferguson - her husband, Bill, is a Vietnam veteran - holds a teddy bear as she gathers with hundreds of others for Memorial Day ceremonies.

Veterans honored Monday

Memorial Day means much more than just backyard barbecues or trips to the beach for fun in the sun. It's a time to honor those men and women who have served with distinction in the armed forces.

Vietnam War veterans and those from World War II and other wars participated in Memorial Day ceremonies Monday in Plymouth. A ceremony was held in downtown Plymouth's Kellogg Park, following the annual Memorial Day parade, which attracted throngs of parade-goers along Main Street.

Placing a wreath: Veterans Greg Huddas, Angel Cruz and Joe Dorey participated in ceremonies honoring veterans at Kellogg Park.

Levin appoints student intern

U.S. Sen. Carl Levin, D-Mich., announced his appointment of Tim Zelek to an internship in his Washington, D.C. office.

Zelek, 20, is a Canton native and is a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. He attends the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, majoring in political science, and recently finished his sophomore year. He plans to graduate in May 1996.

"I am excited to work for such a prominent U.S. senator. This internship should be a great experience and is sure to be quite beneficial in my pursuit of knowledge and understanding of U.S. politics," said Zelek.

"Tim has already proven to be a valuable asset to the office, and we're proud to have him working with us this summer," said Levin.

Zelek will research a variety of issues for the Michigan lawmaker, including human rights and foreign affairs policies. On July 1, he will begin a second internship with the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.

Levin's office is currently accepting applications for unpaid internships this fall for students who are able to work full or part time in his Washington, D.C. office.

Those interested in such an assignment should mail a letter expressing their interest and explaining what they hope to achieve during their internship to Barbara Cantrell, Office Manager, Office of Senator Carl Levin, Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510-2202. The application should include a resume, or list of accomplishments and references.

Business supports graduation program

To encourage high school seniors to celebrate graduation safely by not drinking and driving or riding with a drinking driver, Walker-Buzenberg Furniture of Plymouth has joined with Students Against Driving Drunk and The Lane Company, a national furniture manufacturer, to promote a safe graduation.

Each senior signing the SADD Commencement Commitment pledge will be given a free Lane keepsake chest.

William Cullinane, executive director of SADD, said Walker-Buzenberg Furniture's participation in the program is evidence of a strong community commitment to caring and saving lives.

Douglass Lane, president of The Lane Co. of Altavista, Va., said, "This joint sponsorship with the furniture retailers such as Walker-Buzenberg and SADD is the most exciting and sweeping change in the Keepsake Chest Program's 64-year history."

"Alcohol-related accidents are a major concern among parents and school authorities, especially during graduation festivities. We and Walker-Buzenberg are anxious to join in an effort to call attention to the problem and hopefully save lives," he said.

Fair to feature bereavement books

The Curious Child Book Store of Plymouth and Hospice of Southeastern Michigan have joined forces to offer support to children who have loved ones who are terminally ill or have recently died.

From 7:30-8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 9, a special book fair will be held in Christ Our Savior Lutheran Church, 14175 Farmington Road, north of School craft. The event will provide grief and loss books for children and adults. The book fair is open to the public. Some titles will be sold at a discount.

The book fair will complete a six-week children's grief support group sponsored by Hospice of Southeastern Michigan which was held at the church.

The support group was led by a professional therapist who encouraged children to play and express their feelings on issues related to loss. A grief recovery group for parents and other adults coincided with the children's group. More than 40 children and adults attended the sessions.

The Curious Child Book Store, 795 N. Mill in Plymouth, has a complete section on death and dying and children's bereavement issues. The store also is providing individuals the opportunity to donate books to Hospice of Southeastern Michigan's bereavement library in the memory of a loved one.

Grief support groups for children and adults are ongoing programs provided by Hospice of Southeastern Michigan. For information on these groups, call 291-9700.

Olive Garden provides menu on cassette

The Olive Garden Italian Restaurant in Canton has introduced a new program to meet the needs of more than 50,000 Michigan residents who are visually impaired.

"Menu on Cassette" provides guests with a detailed description of menu items and price ranges on audio cassettes.

"People are losing their sight at an older age and are not learning to read advanced Braille," said Carl Blackwell, field marketing director for The Olive Garden.

"Braille menus are great for those people who are born blind or who lost their sight at an early age, but most Americans who are visually impaired became so at a later age and therefore don't learn Braille and instead depend on hearing for information."

The "Menu on Cassette" program was developed in co-operation with the Center For Independence Technology and Education (CITE), a non-profit organization based in Orlando, Fla., that provides services to people who are visually impaired.

Guests who visit the restaurant receive an audio cassette player and four cassettes describing drinks and appetizers, lunch and dinner entrees, as well as desserts and specialty coffees.

Each cassette has a Braille title and is numbered with large fluorescent dots. Cassettes are less than five minutes in length.

Guests can select cassettes individually or listen to the entire set. Each Olive Garden restaurant is equipped with two cassette packages and two tape players. In addition to the cassette tapes, The Olive Garden introduced a combination large print and updated Braille menu in early 1994. "It's important that all of our guests feel welcome in our restaurant, and that includes the ability to learn what we have to offer," said Blackwell.

Sweet Adelines name new officers

Several area residents are being installed as officers in the barber-shop-singing Spirit of Detroit Chapter of Sweet Adelines. Ruth Pencak of West Bloomfield was elected president, Maureen Maher of Westland vice president, Laura Loacano of Garden City, corresponding secretary, Mary Lou Howlett of Walled Lake, recording secretary and Pam Lauer of Westland, treasurer.

New board members are Nora Conn of Huntington Woods; Faith Massey of Allen Park; Harriet McAvoy of Lincoln Park; Mary Thompson of Plymouth; Ellen Segni of New Hudson; Sandy Pastor of Birmingham and Linda Clements of Plymouth.

Retiring board members are Grace Roberts of West Bloomfield, Betty O'Connor of Farmington; Margaret Lockard of Detroit, and Jan Dillon of Redford.

The 90-woman, 1993 regional champion Spirit of Detroit Chorus offers free group singing lessons to women of all ages at 7 p.m. every Tuesday when Spirit of Detroit rehearses at the VFW Hall at 1-96 and Inkster in Redford Township. Reading music is not required. For more information, call (313) 534-4468.

Spirit of Detroit is preparing for the first of its summer music series, set for 8 p.m., Thursday, June 9, in Heritage Park on Farmington Road north of 10 Mile in Farmington Hills. Dust off your lawn chair and pack the picnic basket. Admission is free.

Also on the calendar, is Spirit of Detroit's return engagement at Tiger Stadium, where they will sing the U.S. and Canadian national anthems at the Detroit-Toronto game June 17.

Sweet Adelines — an international organization boasting 28,100 members with 607 chapters in 12 countries — is launching "Young Women in Harmony," a new program by which they'll enlist future Sweet Adelines.

Last month, Sweet Adelines Gayle Smith of Bloomfield Hills and Margaret Lockard of Detroit visited the Hampton School in Detroit where they taught four-part harmony to a large class of enthusiastic students. It was such a hit they'll be returning each Thursday.

Spirit of Detroit is rehearsing for November's international competition in Reno.

June sun strength merits watching for burns

RAYMOND E. BULLOCK

SKY WATCH
At precisely 1:15 p.m. on May 20, the collective voice of the crowd that had gathered to witness the annular eclipse of the sun dropped to a whisper. It was an appropriate contrast to the excitement that had been building up to the moment of annularity; the drop in voices coincided with a drop in temperature.

The sudden quiet enhanced the weird cast that the sky had taken as more than 90 percent of the sun was covered. It wasn't as dark as some expected; Venus and Mercury were not visible to the naked eye, but the surroundings definitely looked different in the subdued sunlight.

Some people applauded; others, who had been holding their breath, exhaled with oohs and ahs. A very fast five minutes later it was all over and, surprisingly, a lot of observers immediately lost interest. Granted, the invisible moon was no longer illuminated by a ring of sunlight, but the sun was still undergoing partial eclipse, and it was a far better partial eclipse than observers in our area had been able to see in quite a long time! Had this been just a partial eclipse, observers would have been ecstatic at the sight but, now that annularity was over, many turned their backs and got on with life.

The weather for the eclipse was nearly perfect: A stray cloud blocked a portion of the sun at times, but for the most part viewing was superb. Alas, many people in the United States and Canada did not believe the warnings about looking directly at the sun and observed the eclipse with the naked eye. A number of people in Quebec (and, no doubt, elsewhere) now have permanently impaired vision.

The sun, the nearest star to us, is a mixed blessing. Without it, life on this planet would not be possible; however, without the earth's ozone layer, that same life-giving sun would eradicate nature.

Even the ozone layer doesn't provide complete protection, and that's why it is a wise decision to wear sunscreen when outdoors. That goes without saying in July and August, but few people realize that the sun's rays in June are as potent as those in July.

The sun's altitude on June 1 was 70 degrees, and that's exactly what it is on July 10. The difference is that in June the sun will be getting higher as the start of summer approaches, while in July it will be getting lower.

Why is it so much hotter in July than in June? Because there is a lag while the planet absorbs the solar energy and heats up. Believe it or not, the sun's altitude in August closely matches that in April, but what a difference in temperature!

Besides welcoming the arrival of summer in June, skywatchers will be treated to the most excellent evening appearance of Mercury in 1994 and the year's "lowest" full moon.

Facing west after sunset on June 3, skywatchers will have no difficulty spotting Venus. It will look like a very bright star. Directly above Venus will be the star Pollux in Gemini; to the right of Pollux will be Castor. Fast-moving Venus will form a straight line with the two stars and the moon in just nine days.

If we imagine that Venus marks the center of a large clock, then Pollux will be at 12 o'clock, and Castor will be at 1 o'clock. Down at 5 o'clock will be another planet, but nowhere near as bright as Venus. The planet will be Mercury, making its finest appearance in the evening sky. Binoculars will help you locate star-like Mercury. Once you have spotted it and know its general location, you should be able to see it without using binoculars. But it won't be visible for long. By mid-month this fast-moving planet will be too close to the horizon to be seen.

The bright star below and to the left of the moon on the morning of the 5th will be the orange-red planet, Mars. On the following morning, the moon will have passed Mars and will be located to the left of that planet.

New moon will be at 4:26 a.m. on June 9. The moon will be located between the earth and the sun and will not be visible.

about five degrees (10 full moon diameters) to the left of Pollux. Venus will be slightly below a line drawn from Castor through Pollux. On the following evening Venus will be slightly higher, a little closer to the line. Notice the moon, directly below Venus. On the evening of the 12th a beautiful alignment will occur: A line drawn from Castor through Pollux will pass directly to Venus and then over to the moon.

Coming up later in the month: Venus will pass through a star cluster called the "Beehive," and the official start of summer.

Getting their number

Legislation would fight telephone fraud

Ensuring the validity of those claiming to represent charitable organizations is critical to maintaining public trust and support for the most worthy causes, said state Rep. Deborah Whyman, co-sponsor of legislation cracking down on unscrupulous solicitation practices.

The Canton Township Republican said House Bill 5571 is patterned after a law enacted during the previous legislative session. It regulates fund-raising activities by law enforcement organizations.

"This legislation is designed to uphold the integrity of our most reputable charities by curbing the growing number of scam artists who feast on them to line their own pockets," Whyman said. "These charlatans, who annually steal millions of dollars from Michigan residents, will no longer be tolerated."

"Some questionable solicitors claiming to represent well-known groups reap more than 8 percent of the money collected. I am confident that with the appropriate information, residents can distinguish legitimate charity from a shady operation."

The lawmaker said unscrupulous solicitors often invoke a respected cause and then construct a name that dupes people into believing the money will go to that cause.

"Everything from child abuse prevention, AIDS research and heart disease is used to lure generous folks into making a donation," Whyman said. "It's appalling to see these bold individuals take advantage of such admirable enterprises. The corruption they spread generates mistrust and anger, stifling a legitimate organization's ability to garner support for programs and services imperative to many communities."

HB 5571 would:

- Require solicitors of charitable

- organizations to register with the attorney general's office.
- Prohibit false statements that imply funds will be used for a specific purpose, such as child abuse prevention, when in reality they won't.
- Prohibit solicitors from using a name that would lead someone to believe they are representing a reputable group, when in fact they have no ties to that organization.
- Prohibit leading a person to believe that there is an obligation to make a contribution.
- Require all donations exceeding $1,000 to be reported to the attorney general's office.
- Allow contributors three business days to demand their money back.

Forum to focus on school issues

United We Stand America-Michigan 13th Congressional District will host a public education seminar entitled "Outcomes and Quality" at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 8, at the Canton Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center.

Tom Tattan, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools executive director for kindergarten through 12th-grade instruction, will speak on outcome-based education, a controversial teaching method which among other things enables students to meet goals by retaking tests and redoing assignments.

The session is open to the public. For more information, call 459-2195.

Hospital offers course

An eight-hour course to assist participants in developing the knowledge and skills to obtain and interpret an 18-lead EKG and the relationship it has to a critically ill patient is being offered by St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

The course will be from 1-3 p.m. or from 4:15-6:15 p.m. on June 7, 9, 14, and 16. The charge is $55. To register call 591-2922.

Candidates will debate Saturday

Area residents may question candidates for the 13th District congressional seat 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, June 4, at Gallup Park in Ann Arbor.

The 13th District contains the following Observer communities: Canton and Plymouth townships, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City, and the southeast quadrant of Livonia.

The candidates will debate the merits of a national health care plan in an event sponsored by the Gray Panthers of Huron Valley. The moderator will be retired teacher Eugene Feingold, who is president of the American Public Health Association. A picnic lunch will follow the debate.

The Democrat candidates are David Geiss of Wayne, Fulton Eaglin of Ann Arbor, and Lynn Rivers of Ann Arbor.

The Republican candidates are John Schall of Ann Arbor, Dennis Fassett of Belleville, and Cynthia Wilbanks of Ypsilanti Township.

Each speaker will make an opening statement addressing the advance questions and then will have a chance for rebuttal. The session will conclude with questions from the audience.

To reach the debate site, enter Gallup Park from Fuller Road opposite Huron High School. Cross the river, then proceed left to the last parking lot. A footpath leads to the wooden shelter. Call 662-2111 for more info.

Adopted kids get insurance coverage

By TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Health insurers must cover adopted children from the day they're placed in their new homes under state Senate-passed legislation.

"The adoption of a child is a special moment in the lives of the parents and the child involved and needs to run as smoothly as possible," said Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, sponsor of part of the package.

"Passage of the insurance bills caps off the adoption package which the Senate Family Law Committee has concentrated on throughout this legislative session," said Geake, who is a member of that panel.

Some health insurers had required a one-year wait. Adopting parents complained they had to take birth children to one doctor and adopted children to another who accepted Medicaid payments.

The three bills also will reduce state Medicaid payments slightly. They apply to private insurers and health maintenance organizations (HMOs).

One House, sponsored by Rep. Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, goes back to the House for concurrence in amendments. Geake's two Senate bills must go through the entire House procedure.

Sister Leona Sullivan, chair of the Michigan Catholic Conference's social services committee, said, "These bills will enable couples contemplating the adoption of a child, particularly a special needs child, to achieve that goal without undue financial burden. Many of our agencies process adoptions and are acutely aware of the problems that can arise if health insurance is not immediately available to new adoptive parents."

"The passage of adoption insurance bills is an important step in making adoption more accessible to interested parents," said John Schmidt, executive director of the Methodist children's Home Society in Redford Township.

The insurance bills represent several years of legislative work. They were successful when they became part of a program to lower barriers to adoption, a goal of Lt. Gov. Connie Binsfeld's Commission on Adoption in 1991-2.

School election Kilijanczyk, Feiten top list

The June 13 Plymouth-Canton school board election is one of the most important in recent years because the board will have a new school superintendent for the first time in 23 years, new state educational mandates and operate under a new school financing system.

The school board will have two or possibly three new members because incumbents Carl Battishill and Les Walker chose not to run for re-election.

Voting will be complicated. There are three races: Two candidates are vying for election to a one-year term and six for two four-year terms in the June 13 election.

In the race for the one-year term we recommend Susan Feiten of Plymouth Township. In the race for the two four-year terms, Steve Kilijanczyk of Canton Township and Mark Horvath of Canton Township are solid choices.

Kilijanczyk's voice is needed on a board that lacks leadership and the vigor to ask tough questions about curriculum and finances.

That's why Kilijanczyk tops our list of candidates. With a background in accounting, he has the skills to probe past the initial answers given by school administrators.

Such questioning would go a long way toward restoring the board's credibility as a "watchdog" of public finances.

Although we recommend Kilijanczyk, if elected, he must remember when to stop questioning and take action.

Horvath is a surprise candidate. He hasn't run before. With two children in elementary school, he has a grasp of educational needs. Also, he is well aware that the school board has communication problems with the public and the media.

Those qualities alone would make him a good board member. In addition, he has a technical background, working as a reliability engineer at Ford Motor Co. That grasp of advanced technology would make him an asset to the school board as it puts computers and interactive television to work in classrooms.

Horvath is aware of the technical skills needed by students looking for employment after graduation. He is a breath of fresh air.

Feiten was appointed to the school board in November and has proved herself under fire. As a board member she has helped handle the selection of Charles Little as school superintendent and the fall out from the voter passage of Proposal A.

An activist when it comes to reducing class size, Feiten has broadened herself and learned about the other issues facing the school district. And while pushing for the best possible education for students she keeps the cost of education in mind.

When voters go to the polls in the Plymouth-Canton school board election, they will best serve the students and the taxpayers by casting their ballots for Kilijanczyk, Horvath and Feiten.

On the road to transportation

It's critical that the Big Four give more than lip service to the delicate connection of Detroit with its suburbs.

Several times in the last few weeks, area leaders went on the road together over mutual concerns.

Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer, Oakland and Wayne county execs L. Brooks Patterson and Edward McNamara, and Macomb County Commission chairman Mark Steenbergh all addressed the first annual meeting of the Eight Mile Boulevard Association.

Each admired the association's goals - to improve both the image and actuality of the border that spans Detroit and 12 of its suburbs.

Three days later, they were in Southfield for the first joint meeting of Leadership Oakland and Leadership Detroit. Both groups were finishing up a year-long program designed to educate them on community assets and problems.

The Big Four talked about a new spirit of trust and cooperation between Detroit and its suburbs - an attitude that is crucial to a thriving southeast Michigan.

But soon will come the time to put money and mouth together.

And it will happen over the issue of mass transportation.

Archer brought it up. McNamara repeated it. Patterson didn't dispute it.

Most major cities have subway systems. We don't. We don't even have a metropolitan bus system.

In fact, we have two separate bus systems, one based in the city and one in the suburbs, mirroring what have been two separate societies.

And SMART, the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation - although cutting costs and improving efficiency by listening to its customers and metro area businesses - continues to operate close to bankruptcy.

Currently dependent on a survival grant from the state, SMART is desperately in need of a more permanent subsidy. For, in fact, no transit system can make it on turnstile sales alone.

Merging SMART with the Detroit Department of Transportation is what's needed, keeping a rejuvenated system on track through an areawide funding plan and utilizing both public and private resources.

Michael Duggan, an executive deputy for Wayne County and the interim director of SMART for more than two years, has done an excellent job of helping put the agency back on track. Cost-cutting measures, recent route consolidations, and a renewed spirit of teamwork which allows unions and management to work together has benefited the agency and its customers.

The agency has a plan to service the area and from the little bit we've seen, it appears to be a solid approach recognizing job and education centers throughout the metro region.

The southeastern Michigan economy is way ahead of many other regions of the country. Help-wanted signs and ads abound, but the jobs behind them often go unfilled because those who most need the work lack the means to get there.

This hurts both the city of Detroit's economy and that of the suburbs.

It's a welcome change to see the heads of our region appearing around and about together, and something concrete will come out of it all down the road.

And that something must be a regionally organized and funded transportation system that will benefit us all.

Kalis supported

As the school board election draws near, I would like to take this opportunity to voice my support for Peggy Kalis. I have done volunteer work with Peggy in the school district and in the community. These opportunities have not only led me to realize that Peggy is a kind and caring person, but also truly dedicated to the community, especially the children. Among the things found on Peggy's record are work in the schools, work on citizen committees, and work in the education program at her church. These tremendous accomplishments, however, are not the most important factor when considering Peggy for the school board. It's Peggy's ability to realize that it takes an entire community to educate a child. Therefore, I feel that Peggy will do a great job for everybody in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, from the senior citizens to the preschoolers. A vote for Peggy Kalis on Monday, June 13, will benefit us all both now and in the future.

Leslie Corpolongo, Canton

Candidate support

This is a very exciting time in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. We will be welcoming a new superintendent very soon, and with his charismatic leadership abilities hopefully we will see many positive changes in our schools. As the parent of four children in PCCS, I am very interested in those changes, and in the changes that will come with the school board election on June 13.

I have known candidate Peggy Kalis for several years. Peggy's first concern has always been the children. Peggy is always willing to listen with an open mind before making decisions. If she doesn't know the answer to a question, Peggy is not afraid to admit that and then follow through to find the answer. I believe that Peggy sees the many strengths in our schools, and will work very hard on the Board to support those strengths and to find realistic solutions to problems.

Please join me in supporting Peggy Kalis for school board and give her the chance to work for the best possible education for our children.

Patricia M. Wong, Plymouth

A welcome

We welcome Dr. Charles Little to the Plymouth-Canton school system and the community.

The Educational Excellence Foundation appreciates the work of those involved with the search for the new superintendent. The Plymouth-Canton School Board, the Criteria Committee and the Search Committee have spent many hours dedicated to finding the right candidate. Cooperation of citizens in school affairs often goes unnoticed. We applaud this community spirit.

Judy Morgan, secretary
 Educational Excellence Foundation

Experience

I was pleasantly surprised to learn in your May 12 publication that Gerry Law is again throwing his hat into the political arena. His candidacy as a Michigan State Representative offers this community an experienced competent alternative to our current representative.

When Gerry Law served as our state representative a few years ago I was impressed with his ability to grasp the short and long range impact of an issue. Today's issues demand careful thought and a cool head. Gerry Law has proven he can do the job. I wish him good luck in his efforts to return to Lansing.

Dennis Joyce, Plymouth Township

Quality care

The discussions surrounding health care reform do not appear to give serious consideration to the issue of quality of care. Discussions and analysis of various plans consistently describe efforts to measure and assure quality of care only as an afterthought.

Incentives in any managed care model weigh on the side of efficacy of operations. Clearly, quality of care oversight and improvement should not depend entirely on a competitive marketplace. Quality of care would almost certainly be used as a marketing tool and not seen as the subject of a desirable continuous quality improvement process. While the national association of managed care organizations has developed measurements of individual plan performance, these are basic in nature and address a mere fraction of the health care delivery opportunities.

Both internal and external approaches to quality oversight and continuous quality improvement have merit and complimentary roles. As government develops plans to expend huge sums of money for the delivery of health care, both federal and state governments must assume part of the responsibility to protect and improve the current level of quality and assure the public of this status.

Thank you for consideration of my comments.

Mary Ellen Gies, Canton

Parents of teens need to factor safety into graduation plans

For those of us who are the parents of teen-agers, particularly high school seniors, spring means more than the annual budding of trees and the moving of clocks forward one hour. It means doing our part in preparing for two "once-in-a-lifetime" experiences for our sons and daughters — senior prom and high school graduation.

Many of us will confine our involvement to financial assistance. We will "lend" money for prom tickets or formal, recognizing that the debt is unlikely to be repaid and not really minding if it isn't.

Many of us will assume a more proactive role with respect to graduation or prom, however. We will agree to host a pre-prom party or will plan a graduation party which will be designed to provide a social outlet for 50 other seniors, and not Aunt Doris and Uncle Wally from Okemos or Dearborn Heights. If we choose not to host such events, almost certainly our senior offspring will be attending functions given by other parents who do.

The problem that each of us may choose to ignore is the role that alcohol and other drugs play in these two significant "rites-of-passage" events for our children. Whether we recognize it or not, the problem of adolescent drinking and recreational drug use is rising once again after a period of modest decline over the past several years.

This column is not about assigning blame but, rather, is about a discussion of shared responsibility.

Over the past dozen years, most of our local school districts have implemented broad-based curricula which

GUEST COLUMNIST

JOHN FARRAR

address topics related to chemical dependency. Educational specialists (student assistance specialists, SAFE workers, DARE officers) have been added to work with students on this issue. Community-based organizations have networked into task forces aimed at seeking ways to change the climate of our neighborhoods and discourage substance abuse.

Ultimately, however, the most important and effective monitors of our children are their parents. We have the uncontested power and authority to create a safe environment and set of expectations for our kids. With that in mind, I would like to suggest a few guidelines for parents to consider for senior prom and graduation festivities:

- State unequivocally that no illegal substances will be served or tolerated in your home. (Alcohol is illegal for 18-year-olds.)
- Inform your child that you expect that he/she will not be using those substances in the homes of others, and that they will not be part of their prom or graduation experience. (The limo to prom is meant to be an elegant means of transportation — not a rolling bar.)
- Discuss these issues with the parents of your son or daughter's prom date or with parents hosting a graduation party. (You may be pleasantly surprised to learn that they share your concern.)

If these suggestions make you uncomfortable or seem out of date, consider what those thoughts and feelings may be saying. If it is difficult to follow through with our own beliefs about adolescent use of alcohol and other drugs, then let's at least recognize that peer pressure and the desire to be liked have a powerful negative influence on adults as well as kids.

Power struggle pits MEA, teachers against governor

Question: As a Michigan teacher in today's atmosphere, I feel we teachers are being looked upon as incompetent and greedy. House Bill 5128 (now Public Act 112) which literally does away with negotiations is a clear sign that Gov. John Engler and those legislators that voted for the bill are out to destroy our profession. Teacher bashing seems to be at an all-time high. What are your perceptions regarding what is happening in education in Michigan?

Answer:

A major battle has been waged between Engler, some legislators and the MEA. The MEA believes this movement is to destroy the union; Engler and many legislators believe the MEA has become too strong and there is a need for a "Balance of Power."

The MEA, which has represented teachers superbly over the years, doesn't wish to give up the rights, salaries and conditions it has negotiated since 1965. Engler and many Lansing lawmakers believe they represent the majority of Michigan tax paying citizens who want a stronger voice in teacher salaries and working conditions.

This power struggle was really inevitable. Everything seems to cycle and recycle in this world.

This is the same power struggle I experienced as president of the Plymouth Teachers Association (dues $5) back in the '60s. We had zero power. The officers met a couple times a year. Frankly we didn't know there was a power base to go after. We were public servants and frankly, most of us were quite happy; maybe dumb, but happy.

You see, prior to 1965, there were no negotiations; we were told we were getting a 2 percent raise (that was about $100) and that was it. Case closed!

We were told when and where we would have lunch room duty, hall duty, school dance duty, parking lot duty (no stipend) and we did it. I coached the golf team at Grosse Ile for free golf on caddie day.

DOC DOYLE

But some of us began thinking... is this fair? My high school dropout classmate, a truck driver, was making $7,800 while I was making $3,900.

So we borrowed a contract from the City of New York AFT (American Federation of Teachers) and were shocked to discover teachers did have some rights.

We stood on the steps of the Capitol Building in Lansing and demanded the right to negotiate. And indeed did win the right and negotiated a $1,300 teacher raise... a huge jump from $100 or $150 in each of the previous five years.

It all played out and Michigan teachers rightfully won their battle for decent wages, benefits, sick days and pay for extracurricular activities.

Like it or not the pendulum has now swung. Many citizens are tired of teacher strikes that they say hold the public hostage. Many people who have supported education in the past, i.e. IBM professionals I know, have been laid off.

The question is: "Has the MEA lost its Lansing power base?" If the MEA has, the power base will obviously dissipate at the local level. Teachers could be taken back to 1964 when, with hat in hand, we shuffled our feet on the superintendent's carpet hoping for a 1 or 2 percent raise.

You ask what my perceptions are. If the teacher voting block and teacher supporters remove enough of those legislators from office who supported HB 5128 (the negotiation bill), the MEA could emerge as strong as it presently is. If the MEA and its voting constituency don't remove those legislators who have deserted them, it indicates to me a major shift in power.

It means many citizens... who, at one time, supported teachers and thus the MEA have now moved into Engler's camp.

What is most unfortunate is that the great majority of teachers and school administrators are decent human beings, people committed to children and to education.

And the vast majority of teachers will continue to perform well on a daily basis regardless of the power struggle. Indeed, some of the abuse dedicated teachers are taking on radio shows is totally unfair.

The MEA and Engler are in a major power struggle. Yet that power struggle in our democracy is what makes this the greatest country on the face of the earth.

Thoughts on guns, MEAP and idling over judgeships

Pulling together some loose ends:

■ Tom Washington, Michigan's contribution to the National Rifle Association, is the most unusual and best person I've run into in the natural resources ranks.

Washington, raised in Dearborn, is executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. He's a rarity because he (1) is an old-fashioned hunter and fisherman, the Teddy Roosevelt types that begat the conservation movement, and (2) has a foot in the modern environmental movement, populated by bird watchers, tree huggers, hikers and other believers in non-consumptive enjoyment of natural resources.

Members of group 2 frequently sneer at Washington as some kind of red-neck, particularly since he will now head NRA. Actually both groups need to talk to each other and read each other's literature. MUCC's magazine publishes both kinds of articles. It's why the centrist MUCC has more political clout than the leftist environmental groups.

In the State Capitol, Washington has championed the ban on throwaways, the natural resources trust fund, the attack on Gov. John Engler's reorganization of the Department of Natural Resources, and the current rejuvenation of state park funding, as well as the traditional fin-and-fur issues.

Washington, as NRA chief, is the person best qualified to straighten out the effete, impudent, intellectual snobs who populate the District of Columbia's news bureaus. Pay attention: The gun issue isn't crime control. It's about Big Brother wanting to keep entire populations under his weighty thumb. To run a dictatorship, you first must disarm the populace.

Washington has a multi-century and world view of guns. He will need to make that view respected.

■ A Michigan Education Association type sent along some ideas to "Reform Lansing." Most are predictable fulminations against the Legislature for curbing the union's misuse of power, but one deserves comment: "All legislators and the governor shall take the high school MEAP test in reading, math and science... Politicians who do not pass will not receive 'endorsed public servant' status. Beginning in 1997, anyone who does not pass all three tests will be terminated from office."

That's a good one, similar to my suggestion that legislators should be able to pass a civil service test. Unfortunately, it will take a major state constitutional amendment.

You see, the Michigan Constitution says a legislator "must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, and an elector of the district he represents" (Art. IV, sec. 7) — in other words, a registered voter. But federal law says states can't impose literacy tests on people wishing to register.

So without a constitutional amendment, no MEAP tests for politicians. Sorry, MEA — you flunk civics this week.

■ Boo and raspberries to the Legislature for dawdling 17 months on a bill to establish new judgeships. Filing deadline for judicial candidates was May 10. Lawmakers didn't decide to add circuit judges in Oakland and Cheboygan counties until this May 24-25. To get candidates, they had to push the filing deadline back to May 27, almost screwing up the elections process.

That bill could have been passed back in February of 1993.

Oakland dedicates veterans memorial

BY LARRY PALADINO
STAFF WRITER

There were red eyes aplenty at the dedication of the Oakland County Veterans' Memorial in Pontiac. Even those who kept their emotions harnessed let loose when retired Navy bugler James Doan blew taps to conclude the hour-long ceremony.

Some 300 people gathered Saturday under blue skies before the 20-foot high brushed stainless steel rendering by the late Don Snyder.

Men wearing garrison caps of their veterans organizations tried valiantly to be stern and tough during speeches that touched on valor, patriotism, loyalty and sacrifice.

They failed. There was no way for war veterans — and others — to remain stoic in the face of so many invocations of deceased warriors and bygone glories.

Decorated heroes like Medal of Honor winner Robert Simanek of Farmington Hills and former Vietnam prisoner of war Donald "Digger" Odell were among the honored guests. So was Dirk Vlugg of Grand Rapids, another Medal of Honor winner, and Hazel Moyer, mother of deceased Medal of Honor winner Donald Moyer.

The principal dedication speech came from former astronaut Jack Loumsa, a retired Marine Corps colonel. O'Dell and Simanek also spoke.

They all stood at the podium haltingly reciting the value of such memorials. There were moments of unplanned silence as the speakers tried to regroup following tugs of emotion.

"There is no gift so great as the gift of life, and no sacrifice so noble as to relinquish that gift so another might live," Loumsa said. "Yet this was the risk our comrades in arms accepted as a fact of life."

Such heroes, he said, sometimes "were vilified by those who failed to realize that military people do not start wars; they fight them. That those who carry the rifles wish more for peace than do their critics."

O'Dell, too, cited the need for peace, but said, "This is the land of the free only because it's been the home of the brave."

He quoted the comment from a Marine scribbled on a c-ration box at Khe San: "For those who fought for it, life has a special flavor that those who didn't fight for it will never know."

O'Dell enlisted in the Air Force in 1955 and became a pilot. In August of 1967 he was shot down over North Vietnam while on a bombing mission. He was captured and suffered extensive abuse during interrogation. During his 18th consecutive day of being questioned, a guard broke his neck.

O'Dell stayed in the "Hanoi Hilton" prison for 5 1/2 years before being released to the U.S. Among his decorations are two Bronze Stars, a Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross and a Silver Star.

Simanek spoke of war's horrors and said, "Wouldn't it be nice if none of our children had to endure any of that?"

He jumped on a grenade to save some buddies during the Korean War. Somehow he survived. It took him five months to recover. Now he is one of just five surviving Michigan Medal of Honor winners and the only one from southeast Michigan.

Guests at the ceremony included representatives of the various armed forces and Jo Ann Snyder, widow of the memorial's artist.

Karen Newman sang the National Anthem early in the ceremony and God Bless America near the end just before three Vietnam-era helicopters piloted by Michigan Army National Guard members flew over.

O'Dell called it, "a great day for Oakland County."

Meanwhile, among the spectators sat Gilbert J. Dysarczyk of Waterford, state commander of the Polish Legion of American Veterans who was drafted into the Marines in 1969 soon after graduating from Birmingham Brother Rice High School.

Dysarczyk remembers with bitterness anti-war demonstrations during his time in the service. "Back then they looked at you like you're the baby killers," he said. "I guess we've come a long way. Back then they didn't really know what was happening."

Beside him sat Faustin Dobski of Pontiac, an infantry veteran of World War II and past commander of the Pontiac AMVETS post.

"The country isn't as patriotic as it should be," he said, "but a veteran feels it more on Memorial Day."

Perhaps the day's feelings were best summarized by Vietnam veteran David "Doc" Maloney during the invocation: "People die, not memories. . . We are forever joined through memories and emotions. It matters not when they served, where they served — only that they served."

Memorial Day began in 1868 as Decoration Day, which was an occasion in which people placed flowers on the graves of Union soldiers killed in the Civil War.

Reporter Larry Paladino is a veteran of the Vietnam War. He saw combat in the Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade.

Salem finishes off Canton

Draftable

Tom Davey, a 1991 Plymouth Salem graduate and a pitcher/first baseman at Henry Ford Community College, is expected to be selected in the Major League baseball draft which begins today.

Davey has become a professional pitching prospect because of his 6-foot-7, 215-pound frame and a fastball that reportedly was clocked as high as 93 miles per hour at last month's National Junior College Athletic Association regionals in Battle Creek.

Davey, who did not start pitching seriously until a couple of years ago, had a 4-3 record for Henry Ford, which was runnerup in the NJCAA national tournament last week in Millington, Tenn.

Davey also batted .300 with eight home runs and 44 RBI for Ford but knows his future is as a pitcher. He's hoping to go in the first 10 rounds of the draft.

"I always, as a hitter, wanted to go pro because I've enjoyed it more," Davey said. "But now I realize if I want to move on, pitching is what I have to do. Until this year I never really wanted to pitch, but I like it now."

Davey has two years of college eligibility remaining and said he will consider Memphis State, Tennessee, University of Michigan and University of Detroit-Mercy if not drafted in the first 10 rounds.

Title try

The University of Michigan baseball team reached the finals in the Big Ten Tournament before falling to Ohio State 9-7. The Wolverines completed their season with a 29-29 record, and junior catcher Scott Niemiec (Plymouth Salem) caught 21 of those wins.

Niemiec also topped U-M in hitting with a .331 batting average. He had six doubles, a triple, two homers and 15 runs batted in.

Anyone wishing to submit something to the Sports Scene should send it to C.J. Risak, Sports Editor, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150, or fax it to 591-7279.

It won't be easy, but it will be attainable — that had to be the attitude both Salem and Canton carried into their baseball district opener Tuesday. The winner would be favored to capture the district crown.

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

Being ready to go from the start matters in state tournament play. It's a lesson Plymouth Canton's baseball team learned too late.

The first six batters to step to the plate for Plymouth Salem Tuesday reached base safely. Four of them rounded the bases with impunity, staking Salem starter Mike Marsella to a 4-0 lead.

It was more than enough for the Rocks' ace. Marsella stopped Canton on four hits and boosted Salem into the Class A district semifinals with a 6-1 triumph at Salem.

The Rocks, now 21-8, advance to host Livonia Franklin at 11 a.m. Saturday. Livonia Churchill and Livonia Stevenson meet in the other district semifinal, at 11 a.m. at Canton's field. The championship game is slated for approximately 1 p.m. Saturday at Salem.

"I think our guys want to do well in the state tournament," said Salem coach John Gravlin. "More so than in the conference. And this team is capable of beating anyone."

The truth to that statement was readily evident. Salem's four-run first inning was more than enough for Marsella, who did not walk a batter and struck out five. He threw 89 pitches; 63 were strikes.

And, according to Gravlin, "He didn't have his good stuff today. He wasn't throwing as hard as he can. I'll tell you, the key to Mike Marsella is that he throws his off-speed stuff for strikes."

Kazuki Karisu, a junior designated hitter, started the Rocks' first-inning rally by walking and stealing second. Senior right-fielder Matt Abbott delivered the game's first run with a triple; Abbott scored the second on senior third baseman Dave Knight's single.

After junior catcher Ahmande Grimes walked, junior first baseman Brad Lear reached on a bunt single, loading the bases for Eric Kida. The senior second baseman wasn't even supposed to play, after getting spiked against Northville last week and taking nine stitches in his forearm.

The Rocks were happy to have him. Kida came through with a single that scored two runs and pushed Salem's advantage to 4-0.

Scott Valimont avoided further trouble in that inning, but the Rocks got to the Canton ace again in the second. And once again, Karisu got it started, this time singling to open the inning and going to second when left-fielder Sean Romanowski bobbled the ball.

Abbott knocked in his second run

Hawks edge Rocks for title

BY DAN O'MEARA

Farmington Hills Harrison athletes were in the mood to celebrate after winning the Western Lakes Activities Association boys track meet Tuesday — and deservedly so.

In winning their first title since 1988, the Hawks survived some uncertain moments and a late surge by favorite Plymouth Salem to win by a half point at Farmington, 138-137½.

"We pulled it off, the pressure is off," Harrison coach John Reed said. "We're thrilled to beat a team like Salem because they're awesome."

"Our goal was to win and we trained for it the last three weeks. The kids thought this meet was the most important meet of the season."

Salem coach Geoff Baker and his athletes were naturally disappointed to have come so close and fallen short.

The Rocks were nearly 30 points behind with only three events remaining, but they out-scored Harrison 45-2 in the 300-meter hurdles and 3,200 run to take a 131½-128 lead entering the final race.

But the Hawks finished second in the 1,600 relay while the usually-strong Rocks were fourth, allowing Harrison to jump ahead of Salem in the final tally.

"We expected to be right there in the 1,600 relay, but the guys didn't have any gas left," Baker said. "They gave it their all; it just wasn't enough."

"I planned on winning it, making it close wasn't on my mind. The guys have come back from such big deficits all year, and I was hoping they could do it one more time. I had every intention of winning it even when we were down that far."

Harrison's Kevin Bryant ran a strong first leg of the relay despite having pulled a groin muscle in the 400 dash, and Tom Sokol, Doug Bacon and Matt Zimmerer nailed down the meet win.

"Bryant ran on plain guts," Reed said. "We Band Aided it at the end. We had to patch kids up and hang in there."

Harrison looked like an easy winner after doing well in the field events and sprints where Salem is weaker.

Jason Granger, who ran eight races, including sprint heats, won the 100 dash, was nosed out in the 200 and anchored the winning 800 and 400 relay teams.

Churchill clips Chiefs in OT

BY BRAD EMONS

Lizz Szkyrbalo had to do a double take to make sure the ball had gone into net.

"It might have hit off my shoulder. I don't know," said the poised freshman, whose clutch goal gave Livonia Churchill a dramatic 2-1 overtime win over long-time nemesis Plymouth Canton in the Class A regional semifinals held at Walled Lake Central.

Szkyrbalo took Margaret Wirth's corner kick and somehow punched the ball past Canton sophomore goalkeeper Sarah Warnke for the game winner, just 53 seconds before the first 15-minute sudden death OT period had expired.

"I didn't know it was in until I looked back into the net," Szkyrbalo said. "Usually I hang back and let (Aimee) Cousino go in front of me and I'm right behind her. Just before the kick, Aimee told me to move back and follow her."

The victory gives Churchill (15-3-2 overall) a berth in Saturday's regional championship against Northville (game time is 1 p.m. at Central).

Canton, coached by Don Smith,

bowed out at 16-3-2 overall. (The Chiefs have finished second the past two years in the state Class A finals and won it under Smith in 1988.)

"It's great getting by them because we haven't beaten them in three years," Churchill coach Nick O'Shea. "Canton just keeps coming and coming. Once you make mistakes, they're good at gaining momentum. And with all their substitutions, they bring people off the bench and they come in all fired up."

Canton seized the momentum after tying the game at 1-1 on Erica Anderson's 25-yard boot. The shot eluded the out-stretched arms of Churchill keeper Kristin Kammerer.

"We were hoping Churchill would be worn out by the end of regulation," Smith said. "We had some nice opportunities to score, but we didn't go after it when the ball was in the box."

Churchill applied the pressure early, but didn't score until 1:25 remained in the first half when Cousino drilled a shot into the upper right-hand corner from 15 yards out off a nifty drop pass from Szkyrbalo.

Marie Spaccarotella's pin-point pass set up the score.

But the high-scoring sophomore, who had four goals in two district wins, was kept off the board, especially in the second half, thanks to the tight marking of Canton defender Stacey Miller.

"We didn't use her (Miller) the last time, but she did a pretty good job," Smith said. "We didn't fare too well in the first half, but in the second half we seemed to play with a lot more zest."

"Churchill played a good ball game and they had to earn it."

Canton won the regular season meeting between the two teams, 1-0, on a controversial goal as the clock ran out.

"They were sad for a while on the bus trip back," Smith said. "But they recovered quickly. They're good kids. They knew they could have done a little better, but they didn't give up."

Szkyrbalo, the hero, also echoed those sentiments.

"They played with all their hearts," she said. "They're a really strong team."

SOCCER CHAMPIONS

The Plymouth Wildcats' annual 9 boys soccer team collected a first place finish in the Blue Division at the Canton Invitational Tournament last weekend. The Wildcats tied the Canton Rockets 3-3 and the Perrysburg Yellowjackets 1-1, then beat the Rochester Renegades 1-0 to finish as the division's only unbeaten team.

IRISH WINNERS

The Plymouth Kicks under-13 boys premier soccer team made their trip to South Bend, Ind., last weekend a worthwhile one by capturing their sixth tournament in the past year — this one the Junior Irish Memorial Day Soccer Tournament.

Only one of their games was close. The Kicks won their opener 7-1 over USA of Illinois, then they defeated the Fraser Booters 4-0. Their third match ended with a 3-0 triumph over the Ann Arbor Arsenal.

Yahara United of Wisconsin gave the Kicks a challenge before losing 1-0. That put the Kicks into the tournament semifinals, which they dominated, beating the Elkhart, Indiana, Flames 8-0. The final was against the Kalamazoo TKO; the result was another shutout, 3-0.

The Kicks outscored their opponents 26-1 in six matches, posting five shutouts. Team members are: Jacob Gray, Patrick Griffin,

The team is coached by Paul Kogut, with Dan Kogut assisting.

Also, The Plymouth Kicks '77 reached the finals in the under-17 boys division before losing to the MPGW Lions of Arlington Heights, Ill. The Kicks were the only club out of 60 to have finalists in two divisions.

MAGIC WINS INVITE

The Canton Magic defeated the Okemos Storm, 4-1, to win the under-13 boys division last weekend at the Canton Invitational soccer tournament.

Opening with ties against the Flint Rockers (1-1) and the Clinton Silver Bullets (0-0), Magic then defeated Grand Rapids United (3-1) and the Grand Haven Tri-City Strikers (5-0) to reach the finals.

The team is coached by Jerry Parent, John Boots and Dave Andreoli. The team manager is Barb Fair.

LETTER-WINNER

Jason Grimm made his first year at Hope College a memorable one.

Grimm, a freshman from Plymouth South Salem, was a member of the Flying Dutch tennis team. He was awarded a letter for his performance with the Dutch, who ended up winning the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association's all sports trophy for the 11th time in the past 15 seasons.

Salem rips Franklin to keep season alive

Plymouth Salem kept its softball season alive by rolling past Livonia Franklin 10-3 Tuesday in an opening-round district game at Salem.

The difference: defense. The Rocks did not commit an error in improving to 10-19. Franklin errors led to six unearned runs. "I thought we played well today," said Salem coach Al Campbell. "We put it all together and played a good game. Now we get another chance against Plymouth Canton Saturday."

The Rocks host Canton at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Livonia Churchill meets Livonia Stevenson at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at Canton's field. The championship game will be at 12:30 p.m. at Salem.

Denise Krolczyk got the pitching win for the Rocks, striking out four. Tina Allen absorbed the loss for Franklin, which finished at 10-20, striking out three and walking one.

"She pitched much better than the score would indicate," said Franklin coach Joe Epstein. "It was terrible. It was the same story as all year — too many errors. I like what we have coming back (next year), but obviously we have to work on defense."

Stacy Sinke led Salem with two hits. Lynn MacLeod contributed a two-run, pinch-hit triple in the fifth.

SOFTBALL

■ PCA 20-31, BETHESDA 1-0: Warren Bethesda was never competitive.

Plymouth Christian (now 10-5) used an eight-run third inning to win the opener. Kristina Tilly tossed a one-hitter in improving to 7-2; she walked three and struck out six. Karin Reed, Shruti Nandani and Carrie Whitaker each had three hits, with Reed getting two triples and three runs batted in.

Melissa Yoder added two hits and four RBI, and Nancy Kobernik had two hits and two RBI.

In the second game, Yoder hit grand slam and solo home runs, going 5-for-6 with eight RBI. Lisa Erickson was 5-for-5 with four RBI; Kobernik was 3-for-4 with four RBI; Christy Walker was 3-for-5 (two triples) with five RBI; and Karen Atkinson was 4-for-5 with four RBI (including a three-run homer).

Tilly was the winning pitcher, surrendering two hits and one walk, fanning five. The Eagles finished second in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference to Southfield Christian; PCA merced every one but Southfield.

dles and contributed to the 800 relay win. Ehsan Allos and Gil Chavez also were on both relays and scored in the open sprints.

Brock Gove scored in both throwing events, and Jeff Aschoff replaced injured Scott Gurke (hamstring) on the 400 relay team and was second in the long jump.

"That's the kind of kids we have," Reed said. "If somebody goes down, we're able to find someone else and pick up the pieces."

Baker told his team to expect an onslaught of Harrison points early but make the most of its opportunities.

The Rocks did with Dan Miller, Brian Herc and Yu Kobayashi placing in the 300 hurdles. Salem picked up 20 points in the 3,200 run with Scott Pengelly winning and Jared Biniiecki finishing third.

Biniiecki earlier won the 1,600 run and teammate Adam Bakowski the 400. Russ Polcyn, Dave Karmann, Andy McDonald and Josh Stickney also gave the Rocks first in the 3,200 relay.

"We were ranked 1-2 in the 3,200 and 3-6 in the 1,600, so we knew that would be where we would have to make up our points," Baker said.

"I can't say enough about our distance guys. They poured their hearts out on the track. We were lucky the weather broke the way it did. If it had been 85 and humid, they might not have done as well."

Canton's Jeff Keith won the 800 for the second straight year, and John Martin was first in the 300 hurdles. Churchill, always strong in the field events, had wins from Greg Koehler (pole vault) and Dave Elenich (discus).

Other Observerland champions were Matt Syverson, Livonia Stevenson, high jump; Chris Bouschet, North Farmington, long jump; and Shawn Arbogast, Westland John Glenn, shot put.

Team effort: Salem's Jared Biniiecki (left) and Scott Pengelly provided quite a one-two punch in the 3,200. Pengelly finished first, Biniiecki third.

of the game with a base hit. Valimont struck out the next two batters, but Abbott moved to third on a stolen base and a wild pitch. Lear then came through with his second hit, making it 6-0.

Canton got its only run in the top of the third when junior shortstop Mark Biro led off the inning by bouncing a double down the left field line. Biro got to third on a ground out, and scored on Marsella's wild pitch.

"We played well," said Ed Turek, Canton's first-year coach.

"We just started slow."

That applied in particular to Valimont, who finished the season with a 5-5 record for the 15-12 Chiefs. "Yeah, he started slow and didn't find his rhythm until the fourth inning," Turek said.

Against Salem, that was too late; no such bounties can be allowed. "Especially against a team like this," admitted Turek. "The way they're coached, you just know they won't make many mistakes."

Canton's T.C. Gators take 2nd at tourney

Canton-based T.C. Gators finished second Monday in the prestigious BP's National Invitational for men's modified fast-pitch softball teams in Atlanta, Ga.

Gators (13-2) won its first three games before losing to the defending champion Warriors of Chapel Hill, N.C., the 1992 nine-man national champs and fourth-place team in the '93 majors tourney.

Gators bounced back with three straight wins, including a 9-5 victory over the Warriors, but lost 5-4 to Wallen of Bean Station, Tenn., in the finals.

Al White was named the all-tournament pitcher, and Curt White, Johnny Longridge and Greg Haeger were selected for the all-tournament team.

Gators opened with a 6-4 win over Don Swan Car Sales of Atlanta, a two-time national champion. Haeger drove in three runs with two hits, and Rich Roy had two hits and one RBI.

East Tennessee Insulation fell to Gators in the next round, 6-2. Gators rallied from a 2-0 deficit with the help of a five-run inning.

Longridge had two hits, including a solo homer, and two RBI, Curt White two hits and one RBI.

Doug Kirkpatrick was 3-for-4, had two RBI and scored two runs as Gators crushed the Atlanta Astros in its next game, 12-4.

Dave Brubaker had three RBI and Haeger a two-run homer.

Curt White, Mike Kesson, Sal Demilio and Bill Rowley had two hits apiece. White also had two RBI and Demilio scored two runs.

Roy and Sean Maloney were 3-for-4 with one RBI in the 13-12 loss to the Warriors. Kevin O'Connor and Curt White had two hits and two RBI each.

Jim Lukenecha, a pitcher added to the tournament roster, started but had to leave after being hit in the shoulder with a line drive. That meant a rare loss for the legendary Al White.

Kirkpatrick had another three-hit game as Gators crushed Texaco of Monroe, La., in its next game, 10-2. Longridge, Curt White, Roy, Dave Brubaker and Mike Kesson had two hits each.

Lukenecha returned to pitch an 8-0 whitewash of Atlanta-based Lindaman. Curt White, Haeger and Roy led the hitting with two hits each.

Al White earned the pitching win in the rematch with the Warriors. Gators had only four hits, two by Mike Greener, but benefited from 11 walks.

Curt White scored two runs and had an RBI after being hit with a bases-loaded pitch.

Haeger was 3-for-4 with an RBI in the final game against Wallen. Longridge had two hits and scored two runs. Lukenecha was the losing pitcher.

End of season means it's time to salute all league champions

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

More league champions are listed in today's column.

These are the men and women from the local leagues who have taken home the trophies and earned whatever point monies were to be won.

They go through the season with the usual "ups and downs" but at the end they are champions. Special mention is due for the men's all-stars.

They are known as the Metrostaff Hall of Fame Classic which bowls at Thunderbowl Lanes and the Stroh's Beer All-Star Traveling Classic. They compete in a different house each week.

These leagues are without a doubt, the nation's strongest in terms of pure bowling talent. The combined averages on the Metrostaff League was 214.44 and the Stroh's League carried a season's average of 207.44.

In Metrostaff, team No. 9 Goebel Light won the championship while the Ansara's Big Boy captured the crown in the Stroh's All-Star Traveling Classic.

The winning team included Redford's Tony Stipeck who averaged 204.9. In the Metrostaff League, there were 15 perfect games and 11 800 series, including an 813 by Larry Walker of Garden City.

Super Bowl in Canton is enjoying great success with the Rock-n-Bowl for ages nine to 15 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. every Friday. They offer prizes, dancing to the live DJ and unlimited fun. The program is sponsored by the Canton Police Department.

Merri-Bowl Lanes in Livonia is running a Wednesday Singles No-Tap Tournament weekly. Check-in time is 7:30 p.m., bowling at 8 p.m. and it's only $11 to enter. They are also offering a Thursday walk-in during the summertime in which anyone can bowl all they want for $3 between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Enthusiastic bird watchers begin turning to butterflies

NATURE TRAILS

Watching birds at your backyard feeders, in local forests or in foreign countries is reported to be the second most popular outdoor activity in the United States. Gardening is considered number one. But if birding is considered number two, then watching butterflies could easily become number three.

At the first annual meeting of the North American Butterfly Association near Atlantic City, N.J., there was a sizable contingency of birders. The location of the meeting also happened to be near the Brigantine National Wildlife Refuge and only 45 minutes from Cape May. Both of these places are meccas for birders.

It was enjoyable networking with people who have the same interest and to learn from those who are experts in their field. Many of the trip leaders were able to point out species of birds and butterflies that are unfamiliar to those of us from other states.

I was thrilled to see that many birders have become interested in butterflies, as I have. Actually, it's not too surprising; watching butterflies involves many of the same skills needed to identify birds. In fact, there are many parallels between the two.

Both animal groups are very colorful. That is probably the feature that attracted me when I first started bird watching. Butterflies are equally as colorful, with striking patterns that rival those of birds.

There are about 800 species of birds found in the contiguous United States, and there are about 700 species of butterflies in the same area. It's not that hard to learn that number of species with some concerted effort. Worldwide, there are about 9,000 species of birds and about 10,000 species of butterflies.

In 1937, Roger Tory Peterson developed a book that showed people how to identify birds in the field, not dead in the hand. He pointed out field marks and distinguishing characteristics to separate one species from another. Butterflies can be identified in the same manner with practice and a good pair of close-focusing binoculars.

Like birds, butterflies are seen at different times of the year, they fly in different ways, they prefer particular habitats, and they have limited ranges.

For those people who are not morning people, butterflies become active about 10 a.m. For birders who are up early, butterflies become active by the time bird activity subsides. One can stay in the field and enjoy some smaller spectacular sights by shifting from birds to butterflies.

There are even butterfly counts like there are bird counts that provide information on their populations. As with birds, it is not necessary to kill butterflies to identify them and enjoy them. Spending time with butterflies to learn their techniques is a natural extension of the skills learned while birding. Try it. Now is the time.

Madonna hosts retirement planning talk

Retirement Planning for the 21st century will occur 7-8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 9, at Madonna University. It's free and open to the public.

Michael Iacopelli and Donald Mayberry, certified public accountant, both of the Baker Financial Group in Southfield, will address several topics. The cost of retirement, sources of retirement income, investing for retirement, qualified retirement plans, non-qualified retirement plans, Social Security benefits and more will be on the agenda.

Time will be allotted for a question and answer period. Seating is limited and a response is needed by Monday, June 6. Call 591-5123 for more information.

The only thing as pleasant as buying a Saturn is leasing one.

We hope you've heard how unstressful we try to make it for you when you visit a Saturn showroom. (Because who needs more stress, right?) Anyway, we take the same approach to leasing as we do to everything else. So if leasing a Saturn is better for you than buying one (and we can help you figure that out), then great. ## Readers share memories of Birmingham Theatre

One of the classiest New Year's Eves Mary of Farmington Hills ever spent was in 1986 at the Birmingham Theatre. "My husband and I were just married, and my mom was recently widowed. We all went to see 'The Fiddler on the Roof.' My mom and I were in awe of the stage, the set, the ladies in their furs and jewels. Afterwards we had a wonderful dinner."

Other readers also called to say how much they'll miss the theater which is scheduled to close after the Birmingham Jazz Fest performance starring Joe Williams on July 30. "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," continues its run at the theater through June 12.

Lois and her husband subscribed from the day they opened. Her husband passed away four-and-a-half years ago, but Lois retained the seats, and look friends along to see the shows. "I deeply regret the closing," she said. "I love my theater and the convenience of having it in the heart of Birmingham. I hope whatever happens brings back live entertainment."

A longtime usher called and said she wasn't surprised by the closing. "The talent was poor and uneven, and the tickets sometimes as much as $35, were too much for some people to afford," she said. "In my experience the theater was rarely half full. I never felt the Nederlanders had their heart in it."

These were just a few of the comments, I appreciated hearing from all of you. I've said it before, and I'll say it again, this is your newspaper, we're here to serve you, and be your sounding board.

Readers who called last week learned from my Voice Mail message that I was on vacation. I'll embarrass my brother Mike Kaleski a little by mentioning that I was visiting him in Nashua, New Hampshire to attend his graduation from Franklin Pierce College. We're all very proud of his accomplishments.

If you've never been, New Hampshire, called the "Granite State" is beautiful. There are rolling hills and lots of pine trees. You can get a great lobster dinner, but there aren't outdoor concert venues like Meadow Brook and Pine Knob, which Mike says he misses a lot. You know that old saying about not appreciating what you have in your own backyard? It's true.

The Meadow Brook Music Festival in the 7,500-seat outdoor amphitheater on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester opens June 18 with Fred Penner and the Cats Meow Band. Shows 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. Dionne Warwick performs on June 19. This year's schedule includes a variety of

Festival celebrates community spirit

Area business leaders have teamed up with St. Hugo of the Hills and Temple Beth El to present a chamber music festival.

By KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Here's an event you won't want to miss — the first Great Lakes Chamber Music Festival, a series of six concerts to be held June 11-18 at Temple Beth El and St. Hugo of the Hills in Bloomfield Hills.

Festival organizers are confident that it will become an annual event that celebrates the spirit, diversity and character of the people in our area. The 2 p.m. Sunday, June 12, outdoor concert at St. Hugo of the Hills is free.

Season tickets for the festival are $60 ($50 for students and senior citizens). Single tickets range from $10 to $18. Series concert tickets are available by calling (810) 362-2622 and all Ticketmaster outlets.

Area business leaders Joseph Antonini, chairman of Kmart Corporation, Dean Friedman, President of Robert Solomon and Associates Advertising Agency in Bloomfield Hills, have joined with Rabbi Dan Polish of Temple Beth El, the Rev. Monsignor Anthony Tocco of St. Hugo of the Hills, and the Chamber Music Society of Detroit to create the summer musical event featuring internationally acclaimed pianist, James Tocco.

James Tocco enjoys a worldwide career as a recitalist, orchestral soloist, and chamber musician. Born of Italian parents in Detroit, his love of music, especially opera, began in childhood. At six he started studying the piano and made his first orchestral appearance, performing Beethoven's Concerto No. 2 at 12. He is eminent scholar/artist-in-residence at the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, and Professor of Piano at the Musikhochschule in Lubeck, Germany.

"This festival enhances the quality of life in the communities we serve," said Antonini at a festival preview reception. "We're happy to launch a tradition."

Like most great things, the festival was an idea, a seed that sprouted roots and was nourished by Antonini, Friedman, Polish, Tocco, his brother, James, and the Detroit Chamber Music Society.

While visiting his brother, James said "What a wonderful place this would be for a festival, but we need a temple"

"I said I have the rabbi and the I have the temple, and we went to work," said Tocco. "There is a lot of discussion that goes on before you reach a consensus, this project got instant support."

The concept of a collaboration between St. Hugo of the Hills and Temple Beth El began with discussions between Tocco and Polish. Secular in nature, the festival is intended to be an ongoing event.

"There is no place in the U.S. where a Jewish congregation and a Catholic Church are working together on a project of this magnitude, and this deserves to be celebrated," said Polish. "It's important on a human level to see these two communities blend together and form friendships. It's an important musical and civic event, we are bringing the community together."

Hosting a festival is an enormous task. An advisory committee was formed comprised of volunteers from each of the collaborating organizations. Chairing the committee from St. Hugo's are Kathleen and Joseph Antonini, along with Aviva and Dean Friedman from Temple Beth El. James Tocco is the festival's artistic director.

He will be performing at the festival with a cadre of remarkable performers including the Detroit Chamber Winds, an ensemble of musicians drawn from the ranks of the Detroit Symphony and Michigan Opera Theatre orchestras; violinist Miriam Fried; violinist/violist Paul Biss; cellist Nathaniel Rosen; the Amernet String Quartet; and Gail Hirschenfang.

Here are highlights about the featured performers.

Fried has played with virtually every major orchestra. She won the Paganini International Competition and was the first woman to win the Queen Elizabeth International Competition. Rosen is the first American ever to win the Gold Medal at the Tchaikovsky International Competition.

Outstanding chamber music groups, soloists to perform

Don't miss the opportunity to hear outstanding musicians perform a variety of music at the Great Lakes Chamber Music Festival, June 11 to 18. A series of six concerts are planned, three at Temple Beth El and three at St. Hugo of the Hills.

Temple Beth El is on the corner of Telegraph and 14 Mile Road. St. Hugo of the Hills is on the corner of Odysse and Hickory Grove. Call (810) 362-2622 or Ticketmaster, (810) 645-6666.

Here's the concert schedule.

8 p.m. Saturday, June 11, Temple Beth El — Detroit Chamber Winds, James Tocco, piano. Fanfare from 'La Peri' by Dukas, Suite from 'Don Giovanni,' Mozart; Concerto for Piano and Wind Instruments, Stravinsky; Summer Music, Barber; and Rhapsody in Blue, Gershwin.

'Renaissance Man' inspires Army recruits to learn

BY BARBARA WILSON
SPECIAL WRITER

Writing clever ad copy to sell Roach Motels to the masses was hardly in Bill Rago's grand career plan. But after being dumped from his lucrative job as an advertising executive he discovers he's not exactly qualified to do anything else.

This sudden outrageous reversal of fortune finds Bill down and out and suffering the slings and arrows from an imperious unemployment office counselor who, after going to great lengths, can only find one job for which Bill may be vaguely suited — a short-term assignment teaching basic comprehension to a group of borderline washouts at a nearby Army post.

Desperate times call for desperate measures and Bill has no choice but to accept the job.

This is the premise for the newest Danny DeVito film, "Renaissance Man," appearing in local theaters starting this week.

"Renaissance Man" was written by Plymouth Township resident Jim Burnstein and is a

PREVIEW

Touchstone Pictures release.

The origins of the story can be traced to the hallowed halls of learning at the University of Michigan where Burnstein remembers he was first captivated by the power of reading Shakespeare.

"It was so challenging. Like climbing Mt. Everest," he said.

After graduating from the university, Burnstein taught Shakespeare to soldiers at Selfridge Air National Guard Base.

In the movie, Bill (Danny DeVito) has difficulty adjusting to the regimentation of life on an Army post and initially, he has an equally difficult adjustment in the classroom. He doesn't want to be there, and neither do the recruits. He butts heads with the Drill Sergeant (Gregory Hines) who tells him, "The difference between you and me, Bill, is I care about about what I do."

Taking up the challenge, Bill finally starts to teach. What he ends up with teaching is a big surprise. By accident he has a copy of "Hamlet" with him in class, and the students, hoping to waste time, cajole him into reading from the play.

Much to their surprise, they find something that connects them. As his teaching methods begin to inspire and motivate this class, made up of kids passed over and abandoned by our educational system, Bill proves to them and to himself that they can achieve more than they ever dreamed.

Producer Sara Colleton developed "Renaissance Man" with Burnstein as part of her Colleton Company production deal with 20th Century Fox. Touchstone Pictures picked up the project, partnered with Cinergi and put the film into production.

Penny Marshall was tapped to direct the film.

"I especially liked that the story has something to say about the lack of education in our society, and how the teaching system has fallen apart," Marshall said.

In addition to DeVito, the film stars Gregory Hines as a career noncommissioned officer whose dedication to the training of recruits runs counter to an English literature class being run by DeVito's character.

Breaking through: Danny DeVito stars as a burned-out ad salesman turned Shakespeare instructor for a group of Army recruits in "Renaissance Man" opening this week in area theaters. The screenplay was written by Plymouth Township resident Jim Burnstein.

Fox announces summer releases

Here's a sneak preview of Twentieth Century Fox releases coming to big screens this summer.

■ "Speed," opening June 10 — stars Keanu Reeves as SWAT cop Jack Traven, who is given the challenge of his career when a crowded bus — wired to explode if it slows to under 50 mph — is set loose on the freeways of Los Angeles. The film also stars Dennis Hopper and Sandra Bullock, and is directed by Jan De Bont. The producer is Mark Gordon; the script is by Graham Yost.

■ "Airheads," opening June 17 — is about three rock 'n' roll musicians who inadvertently take a radio station hostage in an attempt to get their demo played. The film stars Brendan Fraser, Steve Buscemi and Adam Sandler, and is directed by Michael Lehman. The producers are Robert Simonds and Mark Burg, and the screenplay is by Rich Wilkes.

■ "Baby's Day Out," opening July 1 — is a big-scale comedy in which 9-month-old Baby Bink becomes the target of a big city search. The film stars Joe Mantegna, Lara Flynn Boyle and Joe Pantoliano, and is directed by Patrick Read Johnson. John Hughes and Richard Vane are the producers, and the script is by John Hughes.

■ "True Lies" opening July 15 — stars Arnold Schwarzenegger as Harry Tasker, who is a special agent for Omega Sector, a top-secret government agency charged with nuclear terrorism intervention.

Thriller: Keanu Reeves is Jack Traven and Sandra Bullock is Annie in "Speed" a thriller about a cop who must remove a bomb planted beneath a bus.

PREVIEW

Fluent in six languages and skilled in all forms of counter-intelligence, Harry is an international spy who has kept his real profession secret from his wife, Helen, for as long as they have been together. Harry has the skills, the resourcefulness and the courage to save the country. Now if only he can save his marriage. "True Lies" also stars Jamie Lee Curtis and Tom Arnold. The film is written, produced and directed by James Cameron.

■ "The Scout," opening Aug. 3 — is a comedy in which Albert Brooks plays floundering New York Yankees scout Al Percolo who is sweating bullets as his new discovery — rookie phenom Steve Nebraska (Brendan Fraser) — shakes up the sports world with his baseball brilliance and his thoroughly eccentric behavior.

The film also stars Dianne Wiest and is directed by Michael Ritchie. The producers are S. Ruddy and Andre E. Morgan, and the script is by Andrew Bergman, Albert Brooks and Monica Johnsen.

UPCOMING MOVIES

There's something for everyone at the movies. Here's a list of what's in the wings:

- Opening Friday, June 3
  - "The Princess and the Goblin" — An animated magical fable of mystery, excitement and innocent romance based on the book by George MacDonald. Focus on the coming of age of a naive young girl who learns to overcome her fears. Directed by Jozsef Gemes.
  - "The Cowboy Way" — An action-comedy about modern day rodeo cowboys from New Mexico taking New Yorkers for the ride of their lives. Stars Woody Harrelson, Kiefer Sutherland, Dylan McDermott, and Ernie Hudson. Directed by Greg Champion.

- Opening Friday, June 10
  - "City Slickers II" — The city dudes are getting into the saddle again in search of a lost treasure and along the way must overcome many obstacles.
  - "Speed" — A thriller about a cop who must remove a bomb planted beneath a bus and is set to explode when the speed of the bus drops below 50 miles per hour. Stars Jeff Daniels.
  - Opening Friday, June 17
    - "Wolf" — A romantic thriller about a book editor who is bitten by a wolf he was trying to help. From that moment on, nothing, not his job, his marriage or any part of his life will ever be the same.

- Opening Friday, June 24
  - "Wyatt Earp" — An epic of the American West from the 1860s to the turn of the century seen through the exciting and tumultuous life of Wyatt Earp from youth to middle age. Stars Kevin Costner.
  - Opening Wednesday, June 29
    - "Little Big League" — A 12 year old ardent baseball fan inherits the slumping Minnesota Twins and becomes the youngest owner-manager in baseball history.

Madonna offers computer courses in DOS, Windows

For people who need to expand their knowledge of DOS and Windows, Madonna University's continuing education department is offering two courses beginning in June.

Intermediate Windows 3.1 uses a hands on approach to Windows programs. Topics will include File Manager, Windows clipboard, cut and paste, Windows Paintbrush, Windows Write, Windows Calendar, Notepad and DOS applications under Windows. The class will be held from noon to 4 p.m. on Friday, June 17. Cost is $95.

Scheduled for 6 to 8 p.m. Wednesdays, June 8 and 15, Intermediate DOS 6.2 will provide an opportunity for students to learn more DOS commands, like PATH, MODE, ATTRIB, PRINT, GRAPHICS and XCOPY, and redirection commands and DOS filters. Cost is $65.

Each class is limited to 14 students and includes materials which the student retains.

In June, the continuing education department will offer Managing Networks with NetWare 3.1X-3.2, a hands-on introduction to the skills necessary to manage a NetWare 3.1X through 3.12 LAN.

Each student is required to have a working knowledge of DOS and some knowledge of PC hardware. Seating is limited to 10 people and the instructor is a Novell Certified NetWare Engineer. To enroll, teacher approval is required.

Topics will include command line utilities; console commands; network printers; NetWare menus; NetWare utilities; system configuration (SYSCON); file management systems (FILER); print console (PCONSOLE); and Session management (SESSION).

The following issues will also be addressed: Network security, login scripts, application software, common problems and solutions, networking legalities, file server and operating system installation, troubleshooting and the network operating environment for sharing PCs and peripherals. The seminar will be held five consecutive days from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 6 to 10. The cost is $965 for 3.5 continuing education units.

The continuing education department will hold several courses dealing with various aspects of business.

Sales Training for the '90s will provide someone entering the sales field or an individual who wishes to tone their abilities an opportunity to sharpen their salesperson skills. It will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Wednesdays, June 8 through June 22, and the cost is $50.

Students in Negotiations and Conflict Resolutions will learn to create a more pleasant and productive working environment. Topics will include recognizing attitudes and conditions which can create conflict, standing up for personal rights without violating the rights of others, handling praise and criticism and developing appropriate verbal and nonverbal communication skills for confronting conflict situations. Scheduled for 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 11, this class will cost $95.

Slated for 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 9, How to Prepare and Conduct a Quality Performance Appraisal is a new course, and it will be taught by an instructor who is well versed in both management and employee sides of the topic. Students will learn to use the performance appraisal as a positive technique for employee growth. Cost is $95.

For information on any of these courses or to register, call the continuing education department at 591-5188. Madonna University is located at I-96 and Levan road in Livonia.

Science workshops offered

The Detroit Science Center is launching the Breakfast Club, a continuing series of Saturday morning science workshops held on the exhibit floor and in the center's Discovery Theatre from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. the last two Saturdays of every month.

The programs are intended for middle school students, high school students and adults and will combine science and art themes for specific subject areas. Pre-registration is required. Cost is $7 for members, $10 for non-members. Price includes the 12:30 Omnimax feature, Search for the Great Sharks.

Upcoming programs include Sharks: From the Inside Out on June 18 and 25. Under the supervision of the center's education staff, workshop participants will examine and dissect real sharks and learn about their anatomy, habits and special sense organs. The workshop will be followed by an art project. The session is limited to 12 participants. For more information, call 577-8400.

House weatherization available

You stay in your room. Your baby stays in the nursery. And you're each cared for by a different nurse.

A better way

At St. Mary Hospital we offer a better way to begin. A personal nurse takes care of you and your baby together to encourage the best possible start. So your nurse can tell how your comfort level, moods and medication may be affecting your baby. And how your baby's behavior influences you. This new way of caring is called mother-baby nursing. Mother-baby nurses With mother-baby nurses, you can learn by watching the nurse care for your newborn at your bedside instead of out of your sight in a nursery. If you have a question about your baby, the nurse can answer it immediately. You won't have to wait for the "baby nurse." The Miracle of Life Maternity Center at St. Mary Hospital has mother-baby nursing all the time.

More support, more education. It's a better way of caring. To learn more about the benefits of mother-baby nursing call 313-591-2882. Ask for a free brochure, tour, or physician referral.

Group says Edison posts safest employee record

Detroit Edison had the best employee safety record among the nation's largest electric utilities last year while posting its safest year ever, according to the National Safety Council.

The NSC, in its 1993 Occupational Safety/Health Contest, found Edison's lost-workday incidence rate of 0.07 per 100 employees topped 20 other comparable-size utilities.

The Edison incidence rate was well below the electric utilities' average rate of 0.37. The 0.07 rate represented six lost-workday accidents, nine fewer than 1992.

Edison is the largest utility in Michigan and the nation's seventh-largest investor-owned electric utility.

Workshops to focus on care of aged

For those interested in gerontology, the study of aging, Madonna University's continuing education department is offering two courses in June.

Following a six-hour training session, students will take part in a three-day outing with special care residents will spend three days and two nights at a camp with residents diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease.

Participants will gain first-hand experience in working with the many facets of dementia. The course will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 15-17. Cost is $95 for three continuing education units or $157 for one academic credit. Add approximately $60 for room and board.

Supporting Family Caregivers is an overview of the various formal resources available to the caregiver responsible for the mental, physical and emotional well-being of an aged family member. Class meets from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Friday, June 17, and continues on Saturday, June 18 from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Cost is $95 for 1.2 continuing education units or $157 for one academic credit.

For more information or to register, call 591-5188. Madonna University is at I-96 and Levan roads in Livonia.

How to manage volunteers

The continuing education department at Madonna University is offering a course designed to help people with the challenge of managing a volunteer work force.

Managing Voluntary Organizations will address many factors involved in acquiring, dealing with and achieving productivity with volunteer workers. Ideal for fire departments, hospitals, churches, youth groups or any fund-raising organization, this course will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, June 18. Cost is $50. Once two people from the same organization have registered, each additional participant from that same organization will be charged $30.

For more information or to register, call 591-5188.

MHS program examines wolves

Beth Duman of the North American Wildlife Park Foundation will speak at the Michigan Humane Society annual meeting 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 9, at the Holiday Inn of Farmington Hills.

The public is invited. Call (810) 852-7420 for additional data.

Duman's presentation, "The Wolf Hybrid Fantasy," explores the history of wolves, the many facts and fallacies surrounding the wolf hybrid and the liabilities of keeping one as a pet.

The society is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to serving the animals since 1877, and operates three full-service shelters and charitable animal hospitals in the metro Detroit area, as well as the Paw Pourri gift shop in Royal Oak.

Foster families needed here

The Methodist Children's Home Society and Youth Living Centers are looking for foster families to temporarily care for children.

For information call MCHS at 531-4060, or YLC at 728-3400.

FAMILY LIFE

EARTHA DEYAMPERT

Kids at work: A time to learn

If the kids are already out of school or have one more week before they blast off into the summer, give them a little taste of work. Plan a day where your child can go to work with you - if your employer permits it. It can be interesting as well as a learning experience for your child.

Children can see for themselves where you spend your day and earn money for the family. They'll get a chance to meet your boss. They can relate to that, since their other bosses, besides you, are their teachers and the principal of their school (School is perceived to be a child's workplace.)

Children can meet their parents' co-workers and now place familiar names with not so familiar faces. And if your child's not careful, he or she may take a liking to several of your co-workers. Imagine that!

If you decide to treat your child to your work environment, take heed: Your child should be at least school age - 8-9 years or older. The real challenge of taking your child to your place of employment, however, is keeping him or her busy without diverting too much of your attention from your job responsibilities. If your child is not yet mature enough, wanders off or has trouble keeping occupied, then spending a day at work is not a good idea.

And while this may seem like the perfect learning experience to you, your child may choose to stay at home or visit friends that day. That's OK, too. Just because they didn't "wow" the idea the first time, ask again another day. The response may be positive. If you force your child into going to work with you, that defeats the purpose, which is to really learn something and get something out of the experience while having a great parent-child outing.

Keep in mind before exposing your child to your working environment, people have a tendency to judge without having all the facts, so make sure it's approved by your boss and agreed upon between you and your child. It's not fair for your child to be a target for questionable stares and asked questions they're not prepared to answer.

Also remember, if your child chooses not to go and you take him or her anyway, your child may be looked upon as whiny and uncooperative, if he or she decides to rebel at the workplace.

Planning the day

Before reporting to work, your child probably will get a real charge out of the idea of dressing for work, especially if it means dressing in attire similar to yours. Whether it's a starched white shirt and tie, a crisp blouse and skirt, your child's attire should be suitable for the work place. If casuals are worn, kids can get with that, too, and be comfortable as well.

Take along plenty of small table toys, books, Crayons, pencil and paper to occupy your child between showing him or her around the work place and having him or her involved doing other things. Your child may help in stuffing envelopes, sorting and collating papers, learning to use the copier with supervision and sharpening pencils.

Since many schools are equipped with computers, most youngsters are already familiar with the keyboard and simple commands. Children will also enjoy learning how to use other office equipment like the fax machine, postage meter, printer and more.

Your child can learn how your particular job connects with the overall productivity of the workplace. They can get a first hand view of how one person's job can make a difference - and that person being their parent.

If a short meeting has already been scheduled by your employer, find out if it's OK for your young future worker to quietly sit in. There, they'll learn about following an agenda, planning, negotiating and how adults other than their parents communicate and problem solve. Kids, too, can relate this group session to their classroom at school.

Time together

To break up the day, quick snacks together or breaks are good. At lunch time, there's plenty to talk about over a bag lunch from home or a hearty cafeteria meal. If you brown bag lunch from home, find a good spot outside to chow down.

This time together is probably well deserved and appreciated by lunch time. Your little worker and you can do a brief recall of the morning's activities. It's also a good time to reiterate what else is planned for the rest of the day. If there's enough time left after eating, take a brisk walk around the building.

When the work day ends, while riding home or at the dinner table, have your child share his or her experience with the rest of the family. Ask what he or she liked best and least about going to work. Ask if he or she would like to do that type of work when older.

Chronic Fatigue support goes on-line

■ To the average person, they look OK. But they're not. And as a result, people suffering from Chronic Fatigue Immune Dysfunction Syndrome find support and understanding lacking in their lives. A group of CFIDS patients is working to change perceptions.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Kathy Hopkinson feels like her life has been on hold since she woke up with what she thought was the flu in October 1988.

"I was digging raspberries out of my garden; the next day I woke up with a horrible flu," she said.

When she didn't recover after a week, she sought medical help. The doctor prescribed three rounds of antibiotics, but the nausea, low-grade fever, extreme fatigue and muscle weakness prevailed. She saw a handful of doctors and practically each one dismissed her problem as psychological.

"To hear, 'Well, my dear, it's all in your head,' that's such a slap in the face," the Canton resident said.

Eleven doctors and nine months later, she was diagnosed as having Chronic Fatigue Immune Dysfunction Syndrome (CFIDS). Although her diagnosis is firm, family members and friends still have a hard time accepting the fact that she is ill.

"You look OK and so people look you over and say 'you can't be sick,'" she said. "That's a common thread for all the people. A lot of their families and friends don't give them the support they need because they don't understand it."

Hopkinson isn't alone with her frustrations, according to the "Guide to CFIDS," published by the CFIDS Association of America in Charlotte, N.C. "Unfortunately, most physicians are not very familiar with CFIDS and have difficulty diagnosing it. Many still do not even know that the illness exists. As a result, PWCS - people with CFIDS - are often misdiagnosed, sometimes as having a psychological or affective disorder because such conditions are also diagnosed by exclusion in many cases."

Electronic support

To make coping with the disease somewhat easier, Ann Arbor-area patients Peggy Morgan and Andy King are creating an electronic forum on the Internet system, devoted entirely to CFIDS. The CFIDS Forum will be accessible through the Huron Valley Free Net (HVEN), a public access computer system designed to provide a community center for information, when both go on-line in mid-June. It will offer support group information, a CFIDS

Showing support: Kathy Hopkinson of Canton, who suffers from chronic fatigue immune dysfunction syndrome, wears a blue ribbon to draw attention to the disease library, calendar of events and medical disability information. Patients can also talk on-line or attend an electronic support group meeting with others who have CFIDS.

King came up with the idea after reading a book about Internet and running across an information number for the Huron Valley Free Net. "I saw they had a health area, they had AIDS and nothing else," recalled King who has had CFIDS for six years. "A little light bulb went off in my head and I thought, 'Hey, why don't I do something with chronic fatigue?'"

He hopes to not only educate CFIDS patients but the public as well.

"I think the public needs education on it," he said. "Like, for instance, my sister, she's studying to be a doctor. If anybody should know about it, it should be her. People are kind of ridiculing her, saying her brother's just lazy because there's no tests for it. She couldn't come up with anything information."

Unable to work for most of the six years he has suffered from CFIDS, he finds this project fulfilling.

"I really enjoy doing this kind of stuff. I'm learning about Internet and I get to use computers," he said.

With this type of information and public awareness activities available, the patients hope that this clears up common misunderstandings about the disease.

Complex illness

The disease's most common name, Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, trivializes the illness, the CFIDS Association says. It is a complex illness characterized by incapacitating fatigue, said Janet Bohanon, co-founder of the National Chronic Fatigue Syndrome Association.

"The fatigue, which is the 'hallmark' of the syndrome, might be a little easier to comprehend, if described as 'morbid exhaustion,'" said Bohanon, who has been plagued with CFIDS for more than a decade.

Other symptoms of the disease include headaches, memory attention problems and muscle and joint pain.

On a recent "Good Morning America" show, Dr. David Bell said the illness affects people of all socioeconomic groups.

"It seems to strike people that are very active and very healthy," added Hopkinson after watching the videotaped program.

In order to be diagnosed with CFIDS, a number of ailments must be eliminated, such as mononucleosis, multiple sclerosis, fibromyalgia, AIDS-related complex, Lyme disease, post-polio syndrome and autoimmune diseases. To date no virus has been conclusively shown to be an essential element of CFIDS, according to the "Guide to CFIDS."

Dennis, who asked that his last name not be used, co-leads a support group with Hopkinson. He became ill in September 1989, shortly after graduating from the University of Northern Colorado with a degree in economics.

He realized he was becoming ill when "weird things were going on like laying down in the middle of the day and not getting up till the next day." Before he fell ill, Dennis was an active cyclist who biked about 150-200 miles per week.

WWII veteran searches for fellow Blackhawks

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Mention Omaha these days and most World War II veterans will think you mean the Normandy invasion, what with all the attention focused on the 50th anniversary of the Allied landing.

But when Ellis Ehrstine hears the name Omaha he thinks of Omaha, Neb. That's where the U.S. Army's 86th Blackhawk Division Association will hold its annual reunion in September.

Founded in 1985, the association holds reunions at different cities throughout the country. Membership is open to those men who served with the U.S. Army's 86th (Blackhawk) Infantry Division during World War II.

Ehrstine, who began attending the reunions in 1986, is interested in getting the word out to Michigan residents who served but are unaware of the annual get-togethers.

The association has more than 1,400 members, about 10 percent of the number of men that made up the division during its four years of active duty, but even considering the age - most are in their late 60s and 70s - Ehrstine thinks there's still plenty of potential association members out there.

"I'm surprised they waited until 40 years after our discharge before someone went to the trouble of starting an association," said the Plymouth Township resident. "I know we won't be able to reach all of them. Some aren't the least bit interested and a lot, when they get to our age, aren't with us."

Many of the members of the Blackhawk Division came from the Midwest, and Ehrstine recalls "getting close" to men from Grand Haven, South Haven, Kalamazoo and Detroit. It is those guys he would like to reach.

Association dues are only $15 yearly and include a subscription to the Blackhawk Bugle, a quarterly newsletter, and the association roster, distributed at the annual reunion.

Ehrstine has been to reunions in Florida, St. Louis and New York, where a memorial service for fallen comrades was held in the chapel at the U.S. Military Academy. He's found two members of his outfit and admits that while he remembered the names, it took a while with the faces.

See BLACKHAWK, 5C

'Filler': Ellis Ehrstine was just 19 when he was drafted into the U.S. Army and assigned to the 86th (Blackhawk) Infantry Division.

'Sing Praise' offers the 'best' in Christian music

If you're looking for the best in contemporary, traditional and gospel Christian music, St. Maurice Church in Livonia is the place to be Sunday, June 5.

The St. Maurice Contemporary Choir will host "Sing Praise," a concert featuring a variety of talent from the Detroit metropolitan area. Included will be Irish folk singer Will Derry, a jazz guitar stylist Rob Bourassa, the John Eberhardt Gospel Choir, the contemporary Christian duo of Tapestry and R&B sax virtuoso Herb Russ.

The concert will be at 3 p.m., doors open at 2:30 p.m. Tickets, available at the door, are $5 each. Proceeds will go to the new keyboard fund.

The concert is produced and directed by Joe Podorsek and the St. Maurice Contemporary Choir as a project to raise the awareness of contemporary and traditional Christian music. The title, "Sing Praise," was taken from a song by the Rev. Carey Landry.

The choir will perform "Sing of the Lord's Goodness," a spirited song reminiscent of Dave Brubeck's "Take Five," an old Protestant hymn, "This Is My Father's World," juxtaposed with the Louis Armstrong hit, "What a Wonderful World." The final song, "De Lord," a bluegrass gospel favorite, will feature Rob Bourassa on five-string banjo.

Derry, an Irish pub singer, has performed in Ireland, Canada and the U.S. as well as on television and radio. He has done some studio work and is currently working on a new album, reflecting his faith in Jesus Christ.

Bourassa is a multi-talented composer, arranger and instrumentalist who is equally at home with country, classical, jazz, blues and rock. He plays the banjo, cello and classical guitar and has a new album due out on the Palladin label that will feature favorite hymns like "How Great Thou Art" and "Old Rugged Cross."

Tapestry — Dee Walsh and Patsy Gynys with Edith Scopone on the keyboards — members have been singing together for about four years since joining St. Maurice's choir. Although they sing primarily religious music, their influences include Wilson Phillips, the Mamas and Papas and some of the doo-wop groups of the '50s and '60s.

The John Eberhardt Gospel Choir is one of the oldest organized choirs in Detroit. Formed originally as a Bible study group in 1955, the group expanded to include music as part of studies. The expansion soon outgrew the city of Detroit, with the choir making concert appearances in Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New York, Mobile and most recently Bowling Green, Ky.

St. Maurice Contemporary Choir, directed by Podorsek, is a 17-20-voice choir, with guitar and keyboard accompaniment. It provides the music for the 10 a.m. Mass at the church.

Especially large for a folk group in a Catholic church, the choir has been together for 10 years and still has many of the original members. The choir's repertoire includes a variety of styles — gospel, Jewish, folk and classically influenced music — to support the liturgy.

Podorsek has bachelor of science and master of science degrees in music and has taught at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. He also was a studio musician at Motown Records and has performed all types of music for Detroit Symphony, rock, jazz, ethnic and country concerts.

For more information about the concert or the St. Maurice Contemporary Choir, call 522-1616.

Facing the challenge of the stranger

MORAL PERSPECTIVES

REV. DAVID STRONG

Not until I spent a week alone in northern Michigan did I realize how our environment affects us. I had no television or daily newspaper. The only sounds were birds and the hum of a refrigerator. Our environment molds us.

The central city in which I live is fading from my awareness. My mind is no longer filled with the complex problems of Detroit. My concerns have simplified. What will I wear? Will I avoid mosquito bites?

In the woods of northern Michigan, I am not bothered by the crisis of casino gambling. Here, I am more racist simply because I only encounter white people. For days I forget the war in Bosnia. I am cut off from these problems and pains of the world. I am more centered upon myself. In the Bible, we are asked an important question. Who is my neighbor? This question is always there to challenge us. If I look to just those close by, my environment will determine my answer. For most of us, our answer to this question will be "people like me." If it is a spiritual question, the answer must be different.

Who is my neighbor? The spiritual answer is "the stranger." A story from the Bible tells how the spirit of God entered a room full of strangers. In spite of their many languages and without translators, they each understood what the other was saying. The most wonderful love is that which unites those who were strangers.

We become a better person when we have crossed beyond the familiar and welcomed the stranger. There are stories in all ages which celebrate this fact. The stranger challenges us spiritually regarding the quality of our humanity.

There is a challenge and a mystery to life. How will we hold to our own convictions and at the same time welcome the stranger? In Chaim Potok's book, "My Name Is Asher Lev," the young Jewish boy is continually warned about "The Other Side." Asher grows up in an environment which comes into striking conflict with his talent as a painter. Asher wants to remain a faithful Jew at the same time he enters the secular world, "The Other Side."

There is irony in the fact that his orthodox theology calls God "The Master of the Universe." Yet, there is no place for a modern painter in this religion. Asher Lev must pay a terrible price for his decision to live beyond the limits of his heritage.

We must seek to live beyond the limits we place upon God. This is the challenge of the stranger. The religion we follow will demand that we conform. Yet our spirituality will be sacrificed if we fail to love the stranger.

There are many forces which would prevent us from giving love to the stranger. There is fear, selfishness, traditions, peer pressure and the desire to fit in. Persons of different races who have married will tell of the obstacles.

As God moves this world inexorably toward unity in diversity, the question — "Who is my neighbor?" — shall be the spiritual challenge. If this question is in our hearts, we will be ready for God's leading presence.

The Rev. David Strong is pastor of Central United Methodist Church in Detroit. If you have a question or comment, call him at 953-2047, mailbox number 1878, on a touch-tone phone.

KID'S CHOIR

The Kettle Creek Kid's Choir from Canada will be featured at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday, June 5, at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile Road, Livonia. The 31-voice choir will perform "All Things Bright and Beautiful" and "For the Beauty of the Earth," both arranged by John Rutter, "Allunde Alleya," an African folk lullaby, and "Hymn to Freedom" by Oscar Peterson.

St. Paul's also will offer a guided reading course, focusing on questions of Biblical ethics. Participants will read four books during the summer months that meet for six consecutive Wednesdays, beginning Sept. 21. The classes will be 7-9 p.m. The course costs $60, and the first book and reading guide is currently available. For more information, call the church office at 422-1470.

SING INTO SPRING

The choir of St. Colette's Church along with the Glenn Singers and members of the Livonia Symphony Orchestra will present a concert, "Sing into Spring," at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 7, at the church, Newburgh Road at Six Mile Road, Livonia. The concert will honor Fr. Joseph Feren for his 24 years of dedicated service to the parish and the community. A free will offering will be taken.

EAT YOUR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

According to the Health and Human Services Secretary, including five or more servings of fruits and vegetables in one's diet can reduce the risk of cancer. A National Cancer Institute nationwide survey of 2,800 adults, however, shows that Americans eat only about three daily servings of fruit and vegetables. A serving is defined as one medium fruit, three-quarters of a cup of 100 percent fruit juice, a half-cup of fruit or vegetables, one cup of raw leafy vegetables, or one-quarter cup of dried fruit. Not surprisingly, the survey suggests that healthy dietary advocacy begins with youngsters. Nearly half the adults surveyed claimed to eat more than five servings of fruits and vegetables daily had been in the habit of doing so since childhood.

Eating organic foods makes good sense. Why ingest foods that you know are contaminated with pesticides and other toxins? At the GOOD FOOD CO., we offer a superb selection of quality natural foods, organic fruits and vegetables, free range chicken and beef, and an array of vitamins and supplements. We are dedicated to promoting healthy eating in our future generations! Feel free to call us with any questions that you may have at 981-8100. Our store is conveniently located at 42615 Ford Rd. We are open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 to 9:00 and Sundays from 10:00 to 6:00. Come by and give us a try!

P.S. Adults of 65 years and over eat nearly four servings of fruits and vegetables daily, while the 18-34 age group eats only three servings daily.

GRAPHOLOGY PROFILES

LORENE GREEN

Dear Lorene, I've always hated my handwriting, so I thought it would be fun to have it analyzed. I've always thought my handwriting looked too sloppy, too thick/coarse. I'm struggling with what are the appropriate descriptive words that accurately describe my perspective. I think if someone looked at my handwriting that they would think it was written by a man, not a woman. All the women I know write more delicately and fine.

I've always had difficulty writing capital letters in script, so I often print them. It's not unusual for me to change back and forth between printing and writing. I think I really prefer my printing, but it takes too long. I look forward to your response. Thank you.

E.K. Allen Park

This is the handwriting of an independent young woman, one who can take care of herself. She can go her own way rather than always following the crowd.

Unfortunately, she is her own worst critic, so I won't take up space pointing out faults. She is probably quite aware of them already.

She has a deep sense of responsibility. She can see and act on the essentials and is dependable and sincere. Duty's clarion call is rarely still within her. Her daily life is organized and orderly. She can both plan and implement her plans.

Words and ideas seem to flow for her. She likes smooth relationships and is not without charm. Often, she has a ready empathy and intuitive understanding of others. She also has the ability to maneuver out of difficult situations.

So this next statement may sound like a contradiction, but co-existing within our writer is a dominant, sometimes domineering personality. She has a strong need to be in control and has little problem taking the lead. She wants others to do her bidding.

She can see and act on the essentials and may have literary interests or aptitudes.

Good concentration is an asset with which she has been blessed. She is able to give her undivided attention to a priority assignment. She likes doing one thing at a time and dislikes distractions.

Feelings of good self-esteem seem to fluctuate. Our writer perceives herself differently at various times. Often she has a tendency to underrate herself. She sometimes suffers inner conflicts and experiences discord between feelings and behavior. She can bring situations to the point of conflict, and wastes time and energy defending issues that need no defense.

She has a desire to make a good first impression. And while she does not need the limelight, she does like attention.

At the time of this letter, she was experiencing discouragement or possible depression. Perhaps there is something about the family name or the person it represents that is a problem for her.

She tends to rebel against the tradition of a dominant male role. Perhaps, she wants to escape a situation or person from her past.

Basically, she is not a wasteful person. However, she sometimes gets carried away and ends up spending more than she originally intended. Material interests are in evidence in her handwriting. She clings tenaciously to some things.

She is inclined to be reticent about her personal life and also has a little habit of rationalizing. When things do not go as she would like, she can rationalize them away with all sorts of reasons. Does she refuse to recognize unpleasant facts by denying their existence?

She appreciates the creations of nature and probably finds relaxation and enjoyment in their beauty.

Our writer is versatile and has a good imagination. She can also be both practical and romantic at the same time.

May I suggest that you cease being so critical of your handwriting. It is neat and legible and those are two important considerations.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. And objective feedback is always welcomed.

"It doesn't really hit couch potatoes, (but) it turns us into couch potatoes," said Dennis, who prior to the interview hadn't left his home in a week.

To him the worst part of the disease is the overwhelming exhaustion.

"I usually sleep 10-12 hours and then spend the rest of the day sleeping or laying around. It's not very much fun," he said. "It's like a kid who has been watching the world go by. You wonder what the hell is going on."

Dennis, like many other patients, goes through periods of remission. The change during that time is "radical," he said. However, CFIDS is likely to strike again at any moment. When it hits, he goes from "bouncing off walls" to sleeping practically incessantly. During both periods, he looks healthy to the average person, he said.

"It's faceless; you can't see it. It's a hidden ailment," he said.

Life changes

Nonetheless, coming down with CFIDS has drastically changed their lives. Deciding what to eat becomes a chore to the patients because hypersensitivity is another symptom.

"People with this are so in tune with their bodies. If they're going to have a chocolate shake, they have to sit down and think long and hard about it because they might react to it."

It even becomes difficult to plan vacations. Because CFIDS patients spend so much time sleeping or resting inside their home, seeing things like cars whizzing by on a freeway leave their heads spinning.

"A simple thing like sitting in the backseat of a car can be so overwhelming; you can't process the stimulus," Dennis said.

The key to dealing with CFIDS, they said, is to keep a positive attitude. Dennis said he "focuses on the fact that he's going to beat this illness."

Twenty year-old Sandy Becker shared her beliefs about it in a letter: "On any given day, I experience well over a dozen symptoms, so I feel lousy most of the time. Why don't I look sick? I really can't say. Maybe because I take good care of myself, paying lots of attention to proper rest and nutrition. Or it could be my positive attitude. I've lived through some rough times, when my body seemed to be losing its battle. Perhaps the smile on my face comes from just being happy to be alive."

"You look around at these old fellows and, like me, they're bald, and you say 'gee,'" Ehrstine said.

In the Army

Born in Detroit in 1924, Ehrstine was working at Cadillac, building tank turrets, when he was drafted into the Army in February 1943. He had completed one year at Highland Park Junior College, but had to take on the job to raise money for a second year. He believes that had he stayed in school, "they might have left me alone."

Then 19, he reported to Ft. Custer in Battle Creek for several days before being shipped to Camp Howze near Gainville, Texas, for basic training. Outside of going to a Boy Scout camp, it was his first time away from home. It was, he said, a bit of an adventure and a bit scary.

"It was a little of both," he said. "It wasn't bad here in the States going through training, but when we got overseas, it was no longer an adventure, especially at night when you couldn't see anything and you didn't know how close you were to the Germans."

"Most men treated it as an adventure and didn't show any signs of fear. We knew what we were being trained for, and that was always in the back of our minds."

Ehrstine was among the "fillers" who arrived during January and February 1943 to beef up the reactivated Blackhawk Division, named after the Sauk Indian warrior Black Hawk. Black Hawk led the Sauk tribes in their war against the Osages and then in raids against white settlers who were attempting to force his tribe from the upper Mississippi valley.

Basic training and unit training was supplied at Camp Howze before the division shipped out to Louisiana for maneuvers and more training. In September 1944, it moved to California for amphibious training in preparation for the Pacific war. But with a show of strength by the Germans in Belgium and Luxembourg and mounting Allied casualties, the Blackhawk Division was ordered to Europe in February 1945.

'Fortunate ones'

Ehrstine was in Company H of the 343rd Infantry Regiment. A heavy-weapons company, he drove a Jeep that had a water-cooled .30-caliber machine gun mounted on it. Ehrstine talks matter-of-factly about his stint in Europe. His division, he said, was one of the "more fortunate ones." France had been freed by the time it landed in LeHarve in March.

"We were only there four months to see action," he said. "They'd move us around to where they needed us."

Where they were needed was with the 15th Army's XXII Corps along the Rhine near Cologne to Bonn, with the XVIII Airborne Corps of the First Army in the Ruhr River valley, with the III Corps of Patton's Third Army in Bavaria, and with the Seventh Army's XV Corps in Austria.

The war in Europe came to an end for the division in Austria, and within a week of Germany's surrender, the division was on its way back to the U.S. for more training at Camp Grubber near Muskogee, Okla. It was in the midst of "Pacific-type training" when the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima on Aug. 6. The next day the division was ordered to California; it was on troop trains headed west when Japan surrendered.

The division was shipped out to the Philippines, where it was "used to mop up remnants of the Japanese Army," said Ehrstine, who returned to the States in February 1946 and was discharged the next month.

"I was in just about three years and one week," Ehrstine said. "I practically went around the world, all at Uncle Sam's expense."

He came away with more than a tour of the world. A private first class, he was awarded the European Theater of Operations and Pacific Theater of Operations ribbons, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, two Battle Stars, and the Bronze Star.

Now a General Motors retiree, Ehrstine has one lingering impression of his time in the service: "I still think the ordinary foot soldier took the brunt of it (battle). Over there, I rode more than I walked."

For more information about the 86th Blackhawk Division Association, call Ellis Ehrstine at (313) 416-3848, or write to membership chairman Alyn N. Dull, 1226 Killian Blvd., St. Cloud, Minn. 56304.

Good Food Is In The Bag... Naturally!

In today's world of health conscious consumers, it has become a top priority in healthy living to be aware and selective of natural ingredients when purchasing food, supplements, produce, and even cosmetics and beauty products.

The Good Food Company - West, Michigan's largest natural food supermarket, offers the finest quality and largest selection of all natural organic produce, grains, vegetarian foods, healthy snacks and beverages, baby foods, as well as juices and frozen foods.

Located on Ford Road in Canton in a brand new store, Good Food Company - West provides its shoppers with a spacious, modern motif that lends its shoppers a comfortable and relaxed atmosphere with more than ample room in its wide, well lit aisles to browse through a variety of departments, each of which contain an abundance of items that are clearly labeled with their natural ingredients to assure the consumer of exactly what they are buying.

Customers curious about natural food products are encouraged to visit the Deli at Good Food Company - West. Here you can taste a large variety of foods that are prepared fresh daily - all, of course, using 100% natural ingredients.

"What we are trying to do", stated Sandra John, General Manager, "is show people that natural foods are not only good for you, but they taste great too!". Sandra added, "We have no artificial colors, preservatives, or sugar in any of our Deli items. We read the labels for you and offer a wide selection of healthy alternatives in all of the products we carry."

Good Food Company - West also is the type of store that chooses to educate its clientele on the differences between organically grown products and those products that are most commonly found in other stores. Sandra explains, "Organic produce, for example, has a higher content of minerals than commercial produce because most farmers deplete the soil of natural nutrients by overuse of petrochemical products. So when it comes to organically grown vs. commercially grown, the healthiest selection can only be organic." A variety of free booklets are also available to the shopper that further explains the vast differences.

You might expect all natural products to be more expensive than commercial products. "Not so!", says Mrs. John, "Our prices are very competitive, and as a matter of fact, we discount 75% of our prices across the board to offer an unbeatable combination of selection and value".

Good Food Company - West also has a lot more than organic food and produce. They offer a complete line of all natural cosmetics, natural spring waters, herbal teas, books, as well as gourmet gift items.

One of the most refreshing (and we mean that literally) points of interest in this brand new store is the Juice Bar. Here you can relax and enjoy a delicious, all natural Organic Carrot Juice, with or without other goodies like Apple, Cucumber, Wheatgrass, Lemon, Pineapple or other all natural ingredients. But our favorite is a blended frozen fruit drink called a Smoothie. A Smoothie resembles an ice cream drink, but without the ice cream. Only the finest all natural ingredients are used to make this great summer refresher. There are many varieties to choose from... Peachy Pina Colada, Cherry Banana Blossom, Blueberry Hill and Orange Fruit Grove are some of our favorites. Another very popular item at the Juice Bar is the Gise (pronounced Jih-zay). This fat free, cholesterol free, sugar free and lactose free dessert contains only 9 calories per ounce, but the frozen yogurt consistency would have you believe it to be sinful to any diet plan. It is delicious! So, from a refreshing dessert or snack to a complete and nutritious lunch featuring homemade, all natural entrees, the Juice Bar at Good Food Company - West is the place to go!

A full service restaurant is expected to open within the next month inside Good Food Company - West. Named appropriately the Good Day Cafe, this bright and airy eatery will feature everything from vegetarian entrees to free-range chicken, expertly prepared by chefs dedicated to providing you only the finest in all natural foods. Based on the preparations we have seen, the Good Day Cafe is sure to be a hit.

Good Food Company - West is, in a word, impressive.

That statement is not limited solely to the beauty of the store and the fine products that they feature, but we were equally impressed by the people that work there and the philosophy each of them share. As you enter the store, that philosophy is proudly displayed upon a large wall. It reads, "Our philosophy at Good Food Company is dedicated to providing alternatives to traditional food stores and ways of thinking. We advocate no one particular way of eating or thinking, but rather present choices for individuals to choose for themselves." Spend just a few minutes talking to any of the people that work at Good Food Company and you will soon learn that these people truly care about you, your family, and what they eat. They are proud to represent a store that carries only products that are good for you and your family...products that can only be referred to as "Good Food."

For those customers interested in learning how to cook natural foods or learn more about natural products and their ingredients, classes are offered every Monday at 7:00 p.m. at Good Food Company - West. To learn more about these classes, or to request their newsletter, Sandra John invites you to call the store at 981-8100.

Good Food Company caters to their customers from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Staffed by over 50 knowledgeable and very personable employees, Good Food Company - West invites you to stop in and get to know more about all natural foods and products. One thing is very clear, with every purchase at Michigan's largest natural food supermarket, you can be certain that Good Food Is In The Bag...

BOOK BREAK

VICTORIA DIAZ

Stocking illuminates state's nooks, crannies

"Lake Country," by Kathleen Stocking. 1229 pp. The University of Michigan Press. Cloth, $29.95. Paper, $14.95.

I am not exactly sure how to categorize this book. In a sense, "Lake Country" is a travel book. At the same time, it's definitely something other than that. Whatever it is, it is engagingly written in Stocking's thoughtful, highly textured style - and, if you're a tourist (armchair or otherwise), you won't want to be without it this summer.

Stocking ("Letters from the Leelanau") claims to have put together these 21 essays about journeys in order "to understand (herself) in relation to something larger."

"All journeys are journeys of the self," she writes. All are attempts "to get beyond what's known into something that will shift the perspective."

What's best-known to the 49-year-old writer is Michigan's Leelanau Peninsula, her home base for most of her life. To "shift the perspective" here, she sets out to examine some of the lesser-examined places around her.

So, by all means, hop in. Get an up-close, often exquisitely detailed look at the nooks and crannies of Michigan, while you discover some surprising bits of history.

Usually, Stocking travels alone. Occasionally, she is accompanied by her young daughter, Gala. Sometimes, a dog or two comes along. Once, a mouse hitches a ride in the glove compartment of her Plymouth Horizon.

In the often-poetic opening essay, "The Moose in Negaunee," she finds herself "in the low-ceilinged . . . loft bedroom of a cottage near Negaunee." The lights are out. The house, in which she is a first-time guest, is quiet, there "on the edge of gigantic and cold Lake Superior."

The owner of the house sleeps downstairs on a sofa, having given up her bed to Stocking. The next morning, the two women will share hot coffee and saffron bread "the color of marigolds" before setting out to explore the perhaps-doomed village of Negaunee. Built over once-prosperous copper mines, the town, in places, is literally caving in as the mining timbers beneath it slowly rot and give way.

One of the darker sides of Michigan is revealed in "Storm Light on Bois Blanc Island," as Stocking rides out a magnificent storm on the tiny island near Cheboygan. Trapped in a deserted motel restaurant at water's edge, she finds a tepid pot of coffee in a corner of the room and, as if they were shields, gathers her books about her. "I look out onto the water, where the storm is raging," she writes. "I read Blake. I read Homer. I feel . . . so small a bird could swallow me."

In one of the more thought-provoking essays, "Ann Arbor Again," Stocking sets out one cold November morning from her home on the Leelanau, headed south toward Ann Arbor "to see how much the campus has changed in the 25 years since (she) went to school there." Even if you don't always see eye-to-eye with Stocking, this essay will give you pause, especially if you're an alum. If you're not an alum, go along for the ride, and see what you think. Of all the essays, this may be the one which, as she looks outward, reveals the most about Stocking's inner landscape.

In addition to Stocking, on these trips you'll come across some mighty interesting characters. Auto parts tycoon J. Oliver Black, "From Car Parts to Karma", at 93, dispenses "yogic wisdom" from his Golden Lotus camp on the banks of the Pigeon River near Vanderbilt. Wes Maurer ("Mackinac Island Beacon"), also at 90-plus years, dispenses a different kind of wisdom from the cluttered offices of the Mackinac Island Town Crier. O. ("Tent Ladies"), a single mother, lives in a tent on a little plot of land she owns, somewhere in the hills of northern Michigan. U-M student Kyra Keene, "tall, black, and stunningly good looking," seems to have walked onto campus from The Cosby Show and "lately has started listening to Malcolm X tapes."

And then there's Sunny Swanson at his vegetable stand near Sugar Loaf Mountain. Or, at least, there is his vegetable stand. Sunny, still a hard-working farmer at 73, is not always on hand - customers are asked to serve themselves broccoli, tomatoes, squash and Sunny's famous

Craft show to benefit Westland mill

Spring Elegance, a crafts show to raise money for the restoration of Nankin Mills in Westland, will add a festive air to Edward Hines Park Sunday, June 5. Items will range from quilts to wreaths - and clothing for cement geese.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

The accent is on fun at the sixth annual Spring Elegance crafts show and country fair Sunday, June 5, across the park from historic Nankin Mills, 33175 Ann Arbor Trail and Edward Hines Drive, Westland.

The Friends of Nankin Mills, in conjunction with the Wayne County Parks Division and the Westland Cultural Society, have scheduled a day full of activities for the family, including a country and western concert at 6 p.m. The juried crafts show, a benefit to raise money for continuing restoration and development of the mill, runs noon to 5 p.m.

"This year, the show is going to be by the baseball diamonds in the blue Ford Motor Co. tents donated to the county for the Rouge Rescue years ago," said Denise Mehleisch-Johnson, show co-chairwoman.

There will be no fine art this year. Instead Mehleisch-Johnson and show co-chairwoman Kathy Myers have sought to keep prices low at the country fair show by exhibiting only high-quality crafts.

Topping the list of handmade items offered for sale by crafters will be country dolls, shelf sitters, music boxes, birdhouses, wreaths, needle crafts, quilts, and clothes for cement geese.

Yes, clothes for cement geese, all original designs made by Marie Wheeler and Patty Randolph of Westland.

"We've both been sewing for a long time and were wondering what could we do to bring in a little extra money. We were looking through crafts books and we saw this goose dressed up," said Wheeler, 35.

At the same time the goose ladies, as they've come to be known, were looking through books, a girlfriend came to Wheeler in search of an outfit for her mother's goose. She knew Wheeler was handy with needle and thread, having made many clothes for her children, and wondered if she could stitch up a cow costume.

Although this is the first crafts show, Wheeler and Randolph have exhibited the work at Countryside Craft Mall & Antiques in Livonia since May 1.

"People come up and ask could you do this. This is just our summer clothes. We have clothes for spring, the seasons and all of the holidays, Halloween and Valentine's Day," said Randolph, 30.

Uncle Sam and Betsey Ross have never looked quite like this before. Besides patriotic flag-waving costumes, Wheeler and Randolph also deck geese in yellow rain slickers, a Hawaiian number complete with grass skirt, a weekend chef all set to barbecue, and even as a bride and groom.

"This is real popular in Ohio," Wheeler said. "It's fun, it's whimsy, it's a riot to do. We've been doing it since the end of February. We just wake up in the morning and say why don't we make a fisherman or farmer today. It's scary when you stop and think about it."

Both Wheeler and Randolph keep a goose on their front porch to showcase their handy work, rotating outfits with the seasons, holidays or by whim.

"It's almost wait till the neighbors see this. It's a conversation piece. People drive by just to see what the geese are wearing."

Wheeler and Randolph's geese sport apparel that's one-of-a-kind because the two design and make their own patterns. The duo produces about 80 different outfits that are available for regular-size as well as baby geese. Their designer ware is weatherproof to boot.

"We pay attention to detail and craftsmanship," said Wheeler, a Brownie leader.

Added Randolph: "We wouldn't sell anything we wouldn't put on our own porch."

Another element that makes their clothes different from everybody else's is the addition of wings stuffed into the sleeves of outfits.

"Our geese clothes have the little wings so they can hold things like watering cans, flowers, a crochet hook, or a basket full of bread

Plymouth store helps decorate designer house

BY JANICE TIGAR-KRAMER
SPECIAL WRITER

Somehow, 23 enthusiastic interior designers, including two from Walker Buzenberg in Plymouth, made the 8,500-square-foot Towsley Design House in Ann Arbor Township look homey and warm. Working separately, local designers tied together 31 spacious rooms in the $15 million estate that sits on 2.5 acres. More than 30 other businesses donated appliances, floral arrangements and other supplies to the first-time fund-raiser for Washtenaw Community College in Ann Arbor.

The show house benefits the college's health sciences scholarship fund.

Four hours are 1-6 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday through June 19, at the Towsley Farms development, about a quarter mile east of U.S. 23 on Goddes Road. Admission is $10. Group tickets and admission for seniors, age 65 or older, are $8 each. For group ticket information, call 313-973-3492 weekdays.

Henry Landau, the developer and builder, came up with the show house idea to honor his longtime friend Dr. Harry Towsley, an Ann Arbor physician and philanthropist who died last year. Both men had been on the college's board of

IRISH FLAVOR

Cathy Hankey brings the magic and peacefulness of the Irish countryside to life in an exhibition of color photographs at the Livonia Civic Center Library, Farmington Road and Five Mile.

The Livonia photographer's exhibit, located in the circular showcases on the library's second floor, continues through June 30.

Although Hankey's images are predominantly of Ireland, she also touches upon the beauty of England, Scotland and Wales. From sheep grazing, the fields below Magillacuddy Reeks in County Kerry to the magnificent stone structure of Kylemore Abbey in County Galway, her photographs leave us breathless.

Hankey took up photography 10 years ago as a way to unwind. Since then, she has shared her love of Ireland and its landscape at art shows throughout the area, including the Livonia Arts and Crafts Festival and Farmington Farmington Hills Founders Festival.

Library hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday, and 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

VIEW TARKAY

Israeli artist Itzhak Tarkay's portraits of beautiful ladies come to life in a retrospective exhibition of paintings, watercolors and serigraphs at Park West Gallery, 29469 Northwestern Highway, Southfield.

The 200-piece show includes examples of almost all of his graphic works. Especially for this exhibition, Tarkay created a series of four serigraphs for patrons. They include "Reader," "Suzanne," "Pretty Woman" and "Lady in Blue."

Master of color, line and the female form, Tarkay uses a rich palette not unlike Toulouse-Lautrec. His work has been compared to French Impressionists Henri Matisse, Paul Gauguin and Edgar Degas, along with other post-Impressionists and Fauvists.

In a simple studio in Tel Aviv, Tarkay paints his long elegant ladies in pure red, green, yellow and black after sketching from models. The vibrant color, flowing line, and mystery in the beautiful faces lacking detail is distinctly Tarkay.

trustees Landau helped found the scholarship foundation in 1985.

"The project was fun for us because of its good purpose," Landau said. "We didn't want to stifle the designers, but we did have one criteria—we said the house isn't a mausoleum, it's a home designed for a family."

Showgoers won't be disappointed with the result, says Ellen Kerans, WCC's major gifts coordinator. She expects the tour to raise up to $50,000 for the scholarship foundation.

"The rooms showcase the designers, but they've been done with love because this is a worthy cause," Kerans said. "This project touches so many because almost everyone has attended a community college or knows someone who has."

The transitional-style estate is on wooded acreage in a development of upscale homes that start at 7,000 square feet. There are many classic, traditional features, but the builder used lots of glass throughout the show house. All rooms are open and airy and many have cherry wood floors. An Elan home electronic system supplies music to all rooms.

The architect is Carl E. Gaiser of Farmington.

"We had a blast doing the house," said Lisa Wolfe, a designer for Walker/Buzenberg. Wolfe and store owner David Buzenberg

"All the designers knew the house was for a family with children and a grandparent living at home. All the rooms seemed to come together so nicely. It's a large house, but so cozy and livable inside," she said.

Wolfe designed a custom-made signature area rug in earthy tones for the family room, which blends nicely with the adjoining kitchen handled by another designer. Generous seating in the casual family room faces the outdoors, the patio and eating area.

The room showcases mission and prairie styles, with some distinctive Frank Lloyd Wright influences. The comfy sofa boasts a landscape fabric in warm earthy tones. The chair and ottoman's rich bronze-tone is picked up in the metal torchiere and mission style cherry wood tables.

"It's unbelievable to see the house open today because we remember when it was just a hole in the ground," Kerans said. "The project is so exciting because it benefits the students."

for the Little Red Riding Hood," said Wheeler.

"People usually don't have wings on their geese. We have white wings, and gray wings for people with gray or natural geese. As far as which is the most popular, they're kind of neck and neck."

What do their husbands think about their clothes for geese business? Well, you might say it's changed them.

"At first, our husbands thought are they going out of their minds," they answered in chorus.

Now Wheeler's husband, Michael, volunteers to stop at the fabric store while Randolph's husband, Jeff, has started doing the dishes after dinner so that she is free to sew.

Where do they find the time to sew with Wheeler's two daughters, Holly, 9, and Kelly, 5, and Randolph's 4-year-old daughter, Jessica, and son, Bobby, age 7, involved with activities ranging from hockey and ballet, to figure skating for which Randolph sews costumes.

"We do a lot of night sewing after the kids are in bed," said Randolph.

Wheeler was quick to add, "Holly and Kelly are an inspiration, too. They want a hard rocker with the hair all spiked."

If you've passed the white clapboard Nankin Mills structure lately, you'll notice the rigging has gone up for construction work. Plans for the Civil War-era gristmill, once part of Henry Ford's water-powered village industries, include an addition to serve as offices for Wayne County Parks now housed in the mill.

Built in 1863, Nankin Mills was one of 20 village industries run by Ford to ensure the preservation of rural life because he found industrialized city life unnatural. Ford strove to provide farmers with mass production work in winter by operating village plants along the Rouge, Huron and Raisin rivers. He bought the three-story Nankin Mills in 1918 to manufacture stencils used to make car parts. Kathy Myers' grandfather, Floyd Bassett, sold the mill to Ford.

"We'd like people to come out and appreciate the park, to get some history on the mill and to see how far the construction has come along," said Myers, Friends of Nankin Mills vice president.

"If they haven't been to the mill, to come and learn about the mill and its history because it's the neighborhood history."

The county acquired the mill in 1948. In 1958, it became Nankin Mills Nature Center under the care of naturalist Mary Ellsworth. Many adults who grew up in the area remember when mill grounds served as a home for wild animals, and a haven for sick and injured raccoons, owls, fox and deer. The nature center was closed in 1979 due to cuts in the parks department budget.

"It's pretty exciting to see all the rigging going up for the building," said Mehlich Johnson. "County Executive Ed MacNamara has gone so far as to say he would be seeking a full-time naturalist once the work is completed."

Madonna displays Polish art works

Madonna University presents an exhibition of paintings by Polish artist Stefan Derbich June 3 to July 5 in the Exhibit Gallery on the second floor of the library, Schoolcraft and Levan, Livonia.

An opening reception to meet the artist, who immigrated to this country in 1987, will take place 1 p.m. Sunday, June 5. The public is invited.

Derbich studied at the Academy of Fine Arts in Warsaw from 1925 to 1931. He has created 300-foot murals in churches throughout Poland.

"We're very pleased to show his work to the Livonia community. He's an expressionist who does realist work," said Ralph F. Glenn, arts department chairman.

Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Friday and 1-4 p.m. Saturday-Sunday.

To June 15 — "A Garden of Artful Delights," a garden show of art suitable for the outdoors, continues. Dozens of exciting artists have created bird houses, sculptures, furniture, fountains, wind chimes, whirlygigs, weather vanes, garden stakes and more in a natural blend of artistic nurture and nature. The gallery is at 119 S. Main in Royal Oak. Call (810)

■ BARCLAY'S
To June 16 — "The Monuments of Egypt, 1812," created and published at the direction of Napoleon, is featured at 280 W. Merrill in Birmingham. Hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Saturday, to 8 p.m. Thursday, noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, call (810) 645-5430. Also to June 16, Barclay's in Ann Arbor presents "A Reverie of Color," breathtaking, hand-painted botanicals by Joseph Paxton, the 19th century botanist and architect of the Crystal Palace; call (313) 663-2900.

■ ANN ARBOR PUBLIC LIBRARY
Through June 16 — The Ann Arbor Women Painters' spring exhibit continues in the lower level at the library, 343 S. Fifth. Call (313) 994-2333.

■ DONNA JACOBS GALLERY LTD.
To June 18 — An exhibit featuring Greek and Etruscan vases and Etruscan and Roman bronzes provides a fascinating glimpse of the ancient world. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursday-Friday, 1-5 p.m. Saturday, 574 N. Woodward, Birmingham, (810) 540-1600.

■ SWEETWATERS CAFE
Through June 18 — "Debutante," the premiere exhibit of sculpture in Ann Arbor by Valerie Mann, continues. The exhibit, presented by the Matrix Gallery in Ann Arbor, consists primarily of wall sculpture executed in the past two years. Mann uses such materials as wood, steel, corn husks, paint, wax and powdered graphite and pigment. The cafe is at the corner of Washington and Ashley in downtown Ann Arbor. For information, call the Matrix Gallery at (313) 663-7775.

■ MICHIGAN GUILD GALLERY
Through June 24 — "Speaking from the Heart: Women of Nicaragua," a showing of photographs and life stories, continues. The exhibit is the work of Ann Arbor resident Phylis Ponvert, who lived in Nicaragua for nine months 1991-92, working with a women's health project. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday, 118 N. Fourth, Ann Arbor, (313) 662-3382.

■ BIRMINGHAM BLOOMFIELD ART ASSOCIATION

To June 25 — Barbara Dorchen of Farmington Hills is Artist of the Month, showing prints, etchings, monotypes and mixed media on paper. The works, which are for sale, are black and white abstracts. Dorchen teaches advanced experimental watermedia at the BBAA. Also to June 25, brightly colored landscapes in oils and acrylics and abstract watercolors by Dolly Traicoff of Waterford are exhibited and for sale. Several jewelry designers are exhibiting and selling their work in June. They include Charlotte Quinn and Steven Leonard of Birmingham; and Barbara Kelley, Pat Ogne and Pat Senecoff of Bloomfield Hills. The BBAA is at 1516 S. Cranbrook Road in Birmingham. Call (810) 644-0866.

■ ROCHESTER HILLS CITY HALL
During June — Else Pedersen displays her paintings in an exhibit sponsored by Rochester's Paint Creek Center for the Arts as part of its Art in Public Places program. ■ THE WETSMAN COLLECTION
An exhibit of silver jewelry by Georg Jensen continues at 132 N. Woodward in Birmingham. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday. Call (810) 645-6212.

■ THE ART GALLERY

During June — Catherine Buffett and Joanie Ugelow are featured artists at the gallery of the Pontiac Oakland Society of Artists. Buffett's current acrylic works reflect her travels to the Southwest and gardens everywhere. Her style ranges from impressionist to abstract. Ugelow's pottery, both stoneware and raku, often features leaves and flowers. She will introduce her new series, faces in clay. The gallery is at Great Oaks Mall, Walton and Livernois in Rochester, and is open seven days a week during mall hours. Call 651-1579.

■ THE PRINT GALLERY
Throughout June — New works by Brazilian artist Romero Britto and works by Chinese native Quan Sun are exhibited. Britto, born in 1963, began painting at age 8. His work is often compared to Andy Warhol and Keith Haring although he possesses a distinctive voice and style all his own. Quan Sun, born in 1942, has also had a lifelong interest in art. She has been exposed to a tremendous diversity of media, and the minority people of China and ancient murals in stone caves have affected the development of her style. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Saturday, to 9 p.m. Thursday, 29203 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, (810) 356-5454.

■ PRIVATE COLLECTION GALLERY

Through June 30 — A show for Michigan painter Jodi Caden and Oregon glass artist Roger Thomas continues. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Friday-Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and noon to 3 p.m. Sunday, 6736A Orchard Lake Road, West Bloomfield, (810) 737-4050.

■ YAW GALLERY
To June 30 — A first showing by Peggy Bannenberg continues at 550 N. Woodward in Birmingham. Call (810) 647-5470.

■ WARREN CITY HALL GALLERY
To June 30 — Pastels, watercolors and oils by Clare Wolfe, an accounting administrator for Ameritech in Southfield, are exhibited 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday at 29500 Van Dyke.

Special sculpture

Artist at work: Artist Sergio DeGiusti of Redford stands by the wall relief he was commissioned to do for the new clubhouse at the Pine Lake Country Club in West Bloomfield. The work was to be unveiled at a special presentation Sunday. The piece tells the story of the country club, with the lake, trees and challenging golf course, and a bit of the history when it was known as an automobile club in the early 1900s.

Bonsai group to meet

The 21st anniversary show of the Four Seasons Bonsai Club of Michigan will take place 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday-Saturday, June 17-18, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 19, at the Washington Square Plaza, Washington and Fourth in Royal Oak.

Demonstrations will be given noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. June 17; 10 a.m., 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. June 18; and 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. June 19. Admission is $2 per adult.

REAL ESTATE LISTINGS

Listings feature news and notes about suburban real estate. To list an announcement, write: Listings, Real Estate Editor, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Our fax number is (313) 591-7279.

REALTORS APPOINTED

Realtors from The Michigan Group of Realtors, Livonia, were appointed to the Western Wayne Oakland Association of Realtors' professional committees.

Chuck Mills, broker/manager of the Livonia office, is association vice president and a member of the strategic planning committee; Nancy Austin and Zana Diehl were appointed to the education committee; Barbara Brunette was appointed vice-chair of the grievance committee; Betty Bjarnason will vice-chair membership relations; Paul Maceri will be public relations vice-chair, and Dave Mathius joins the risk reduction committee.

GRI DESIGNATION

Paddy Kutchey, a Realtor associate at Chamberlain Realtors Birmingham, has achieved the Michigan Association of Realtors GRI designation.

This designation, like a college degree or professional designation, shows that the 30-year sales veteran has the highest quality real estate credentials and training.

She also recently attended a seminar sponsored by Republic Bancorp Mortgage Inc. on "How to Stay on the Cutting Edge... Without Losing Your Balance."

HELPING KIDS

Broker/owner Dan Shanoski of RE/MAX Troy has signed up all of his associates as life members in the RE/MAX Miracle Home program.

Through this program, RE/MAX Realtors throughout the metro area contribute part of their income from each transaction to exclusively fund the RE/MAX Communication Station preschool for children with speech and language difficulties at William Beaumont Hospital.

"We're extremely proud to say that each and every one of our agents is actively helping children in our community," Shanoski said. "It's a unique program where we can immediately see the results of our efforts."

All RE/MAX Miracle Home contributions combine as a scholarship fund for the preschool and are available on the basis of need. Last year, more than 170 RE/MAX associates contributed over $30,000 to the fund.

Agents hone skills via advanced training

By DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

Real estate agents must complete 40 hours of training and pass an exam to obtain their licenses and get into the business. After that, they need six hours of continuing education annually to stay active.

Licensing in and of itself doesn't necessarily make a good agent. That initial training generally focuses on real estate law.

Agents who excel often obtain more specialized training and professional designations while gaining experience in the field.

"Sometimes, we get put in the same category as used car sales," said Nancy Austin, a Realtor with the Michigan Group in Livonia. "I hate that. By elevating our education, I think we can elevate our image with the public."

Agents who specialize in residential sales basically pursue two professional designations — GRI, Graduate Realtors Institute, and CRS, Certified Residential Specialist.

GRI requires 120 hours of classroom instruction covering a spectrum of topics, including ethics, real estate law, mortgages, appraisal, closing, fair housing, property management, taxation and investment property.

It can cost upwards of $1,000 for books and materials beyond the time commitment.

CRS, a graduate degree of sorts, focuses on business development, listing strategies, sales strategies and investment strategies.

Candidates must first acquire GRI designation, then show evidence of being involved in at least 25 sales transactions with total sales volume of at least $3 million or 50 transactions of any value.

Again, costs can approach $1,000 with a time commitment of a couple years.

Most active agents don't have either designation.

"They think it takes too much time, they don't think it benefits them and they don't want to spend the money," said Michelle Michael, an associate broker with Re/Max Executive of Farmington Hills.

Michael, who has both a GRI and CRS, is chairwoman of the education marketing committee for the Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors.

Michael sees things a little differ-ently. "Going through the classes heightens awareness of problems that can arise, teaches how to ask questions. Believe me, it just makes you sharper."

Kathleen Redilla, director of professional development for Professional Association Services, administrative arm of the Birmingham-Bloomfield, Rochester Area and South Oakland County realty boards, concurs.

"I focus on the point that the more knowledge, information you have, the more confidence you'll have in the field," she said. "Higher producers, higher incomes generally have the education."

There's another big plus, Redilla added.

"It's demonstrating these people are committed to the profession. They're not just getting the bare minimum."

Austin, a GRI, said she finds that agents without professional certifications do all right, but those with additional training do better.

"A lot don't understand the value. You have to nudge them along," she said.

"I think better-informed, better-educated agents are more professional. I think they are interested in being the best they can be. You get more respect from your peers," Austin said.

Allen King, an associate broker with Prudential Great Lakes Realty in Farmington Hills, has a GRI and CRS.

"The point is you're preparing yourself to offer the best service possible," King said. "The ins and outs of our business are very important. We have to be knowledgeable in many fields."

Penny Trabbic, sales manager for Max Brock West Bloomfield, also has a GRI and CRS.

"I can't say enough about how important it is," she said. "It opened a broader-based knowledge and horizon to the industry for me as a new agent. It got me to see beyond the limited amount of information I was getting with experience."

Classes for GRI are offered on a continuous basis.

"It is worth the time invested," Michael said. "It will help you more professional, and that, in turn, will help you earn more money. Those who hold these designations are at the top of the field."

Contract directly; know what disclosure means

CONDO QUERIES

ROBERT M. MEISNER

Q. We are concerned as a board about our management company, which apparently has not been paying the subcontractors, the contractors whom we presumably have retained. We had an arrangement with the management company where we would pay the management company a certain sum and then it, in turn, would subcontract the work out to our contractors. Apparently, the management company is falling on hard times or has a cash flow problem.

A. You have a legitimate concern. First, every association should contract directly with the contractors of the association and the management company should be no more than a conduit through which the checks are issued.

Secondly, the association should maintain tight controls over the expenditure of funds made by the management company in terms of the management agreement that it enters with the management company but should be based obviously on the financial abilities of the association to meet its obligations.

I am legitimately concerned that you may be left holding the bag and if your management has this type of an arrangement, you should consider your options of terminating the management company under the apparent circumstances of the case, assuming you have the right to do so.

I would consult with an attorney who can best serve your needs and who, of course, is not tied with the management company, and is prepared, if necessary, to litigate against the management company.

Q. Can you please advise me as to whether home builders are covered by the new seller's disclosure statute, which went into effect in January?

A. The new legislation regarding seller's disclosure applies only to transfers of any interest in real estate, which consists of one to four residential dwelling units. A vacant lot does not contain "any residential dwelling units."

The statute provides that the seller's disclosure need not be made by licensed builders when they sell "newly constructed residential property that has not been inhabited." If you are a home builder, make certain the entity that owns the newly constructed residential property has title to the property and sells the property; then they should not have to comply with this statute.

If the builder carries a license in his individual name and constructs a home titled in the corporation's name, then the builder opens itself up to a claim that the competition would have complied with the seller's disclosure law.

New amenity: Clubhouses, like this one under construction at Village Park of Beverly Hills, can add a new luster to older apartment complexes.

Village Park: rejuvenated apartments

Lack of available real estate in prime suburban locations, restrictive land-use regulations and unfavorable economics have stalled construction of new rental units here. Existing properties, however, change hands. Improvements often follow.

BY DOUG FUNKE
STAFF WRITER

Just because apartment construction continues to lag, don't get the idea that things are stagnant.

Less new can result in more upgrading of old.

That's what's happening at Village Park of Beverly Hills, formerly Cranbrook Place, built in several phases from the mid 1970s through the mid '80s, on Thirteen Mile just west of Southfield Road.

Village Green Companies, owned by Jonathan Holtzman and headquartered in Farmington Hills, and the Prudential Life Insurance Co. purchased the 205 units last October.

The partners intend to spend about $500,000 to build a clubhouse, pool, landscape and update the nine two- and three-story buildings on the site, Holtzman said.

"The Birmingham and Royal Oak area is a very popular area for renters," he said. "There's a tremendous amount of demand. There is no available land to build new. Even if we wanted to build new, we couldn't.

"Essentially, we were looking to buy one with an excellent location, well-built but in need of modernization," Holtzman said.

"We're finding that quite a few families and older individuals approach us. They want to sell due to estate planning issues or it's time to rehabilitate and they don't know how to do it.

"The opportunity was to buy and reposition to Village Park standards. Access to highways, employment, shopping, social life—that's what made the location so special."

Holtzman had built and co-owned the most recent phase of Cranbrook Place with the Lockwood Family, which had developed the first two phases. Holtzman had also managed the entire complex.

Beverly Hills is the second Village Park for Holtzman, who purchased and upgraded the former Royal Coachman Apartments in Troy about five years ago.

Village Parks are a lower-cost alternative to newer luxury Village Green Apartments owned by Holtzman in Canton, Farmington Hills, Southfield and Troy, said Kathryn A. Hepler, director of new market development for Village Green Management.

While Village Greens target second- and third-time apartment move-ups, Village Parks aim for the first-time renter.

Rents at Village Park of Beverly Hills start at $525 for a studio, $550 for a one-bedroom and $685 for a two-bedroom. The only utility included in the rent is water.

Partnering

Teaming up can help cut disputes

STAFF WRITER

What "goes without saying" sometimes results in a construction dispute. And if disagreements escalate to threats, delays and lawsuits, all parties in a project can experience time, money and aggravation woes.

The answer lies in partnering and dispute review boards, says the Michigan Region of the American Arbitration Association.

The association will offer a day-long seminar, "Partnering and Dispute Review Boards: New Dimensions in Dispute Prevention and Resolution for the Construction Industry," Thursday, June 23, at its offices in Southfield.

It's designed for owners, general contractors, architects, designers and subcontractors. Cost is $165 for arbitration association members, $190 for non-members. To register, call the association at 352-5500.

The seminar will educate and train building principals how to establish a partnering program, which, if effectively managed, will prevent the need for a dispute review board.

"Partnering is really a joint, cooperative effort where people agree to meet on a regular basis," said Jeff Enyart, construction coordinator for the AAA. "There are no formal rules or guidelines. It's more about communication than anything else."

Regular huddles involving key people from architect to subcontractors and everyone in between to review progress, timetables and budgets can eliminate erroneous assumptions and misunderstandings along the way, Enyart said.

The seminar will teach how to:

- apply the process to contracts
- open channels of communication
- create a cooperative management team
- focus on cooperation and mutual interests
- problem solve.

"It encourages parties to change adversarial mind sets, to recognize common interests," said Nadine Slowik, spokeswoman for the arbitration association.

"In some form or another, every project has some form of partnering," Enyart said. "Hopefully, it eliminates arbitration or litigation down the road."

When partnering links aren't forged or the process breaks down and problems arise, dispute review boards are an alternative to litigation.

A three-person panel can act quickly and base recommendations on practical field experience, Enyart said.

"The idea is to bring outside expert opinion, to provide analysis and advise the parties what's appropriate," he said. "They don't bring any binding authority. They consult, advise, make recommendations."

However, consensus of a panel acceptable to all sides in a dispute generally carries tremendous weight, Enyart said.

"Parties who opt for these procedures want to avoid further litigation and arbitration," he said.

It costs $3,000 to establish a panel, with additional hourly or daily charges tacked on as needed.

"They (principals) may never need their services. They're basically on call if necessary," Enyart said.

Co-sponsors include the Associated General Contractors of America-Greater Detroit Chapter, Construction Association of Michigan and American Subcontractors Association-Southeastern Michigan Chapter.

Marketing society elects new leaders

The Michigan Chapter of the Society of Marketing Professional Services has elected officers and directors for 1994-95.

Officers from the Observer & Eccentric area include:

- Vice President - Gerald Belian, vice president, Soil and Materials Engineers Inc., Plymouth.
- Treasurer - Dorine Kurkowski, marketing coordinator, Barton Malow, Southfield.
- Secretary - Anita Crisman, promotion resources coordinator, Barton Malow, Southfield.
- Directors - Susan Arneson, vice president/marketing and business development, Testing Engineers & Consultants Inc., Troy. Dawn Black, marketing director, Luckenbach/Ziegelman & Partners Inc., Birmingham. Susan Witkowski, marketing coordinator, Giffels Hoyem Basso Inc., Troy.

"There are singles, roommates, couples here, empty nesters," Hepler said.

"The younger market loves the location, being close to work and for entertainment purposes. The pluses are being close to Royal Oak and Birmingham but not paying the Birmingham prices to rent."

And older tenants? "What they find attractive is the peaceful setting," Hepler said. "Their whole life ties are to the area, a four to five mile radius. Family is in the area, their hospital, church, synagogue. Obviously, they want to stay close to the area."

Beverly Hills had a vacancy rate of about 6 percent prior to the purchase, about 3 percent now, Hepler said. A 5,500-square-foot clubhouse that will include a fitness center, billiards room, racquetball court, business center with computer and fax, club room, kitchen and showers is under construction. An outdoor pool, hot tub and waterfall will go in next to the clubhouse.

The front entrance to the complex has been spruced up with landscaping including a fountain. Improvements like carpeting, light fixtures, window blinds, mirrors and microwaves have been made in the older buildings on an on-going basis, Hepler said.

Village Park of Beverly Hills is served by the Southfield Public Schools.

Wendy and Darren Hayward moved from the Village Green of

'There's plenty of trees, greenery, wildlife. I can hear birds and see lots of things, rabbits and squirrels, from my apartment.'

Sharon Grove
Village Park resident

Madison Heights to Village Park of Beverly Hills about four months ago.

"It's an older complex and the buildings are a lot more attractive," Wendy said. "There's more space, more grass, more trees. It's more open."

"It's a much more mixture of ages, not just business types," Wendy added. "There's a nice little shopping center just over the road."

"I'm looking forward to the pool when it's there. The gym in the clubhouse is going to be very useful to my husband."

Sharon and Fred Grove took up residency in April.

"There's plenty of trees, greenery, wildlife," Sharon said. "I can hear birds and see lots of things, rabbits and squirrels, from my apartment. It's not noisy even with the windows open."

"I was going to join Vic Tanny, but when I found out the clubhouse here had a fitness room, pool, aerobics classes a couple of times a week, why pay money if you don't have to," she said.

Walter F. Coponen of Northville is the new construction architect for Village Park of Beverly Hills. Harriet Brandt of Candle Lite II Interiors of Farmington Hills is the interior designer for the clubhouse. Kenneth Weikal of Sylvan Lake is the landscape architect.

Mel Kaftan, a Southfield-based apartment builder/manager and president of the Apartment Association of Michigan, confirmed that very few new apartments are going up now.

"First, the market was soft and lenders weren't lending," he said. "Now, lenders are talking about lending, but we haven't been able to get rent increases to cover cost of materials, sales tax and additional (building) codes."

The leasing center (644-0059) at Village Park of Beverly Hills is open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Job prospects looking better

Positive employment prospects are expected for the Detroit area this summer, based on company responses to Southfield-based Manpower Inc.'s Employment Outlook Survey for the third quarter.

"Plans to recruit more workers during July, August and September are expressed by 30 percent of local businesses surveyed while 13 percent anticipate smaller staffs," said Jeanne Heller of Manpower.

"Additionally, 54 percent expect current workforce levels to prevail and the remaining 3 percent are uncertain."

"Hiring activity typically peaks during the summer months," Heller said. "In our area, the outlook was somewhat better three months ago, when 35 percent of those interviewed projected increased hiring and 10 percent predicted cutting back. Last summer, 25 percent intended to add personnel while 12 percent reported planned reductions."

This summer, job prospects appear best in durable goods manufacturing, services and public administration. Cutbacks are planned in finance/insurance/real estate, education and construction. Mixed intentions are voiced by wholesale/retail merchants and non-durable goods manufacturers.

On a national scale, the survey shows a clear continuation of increasing employment with hiring at its highest level in five years. A total of 29 percent plan to increase employment and just 7 percent expect workforce reductions. Another 61 percent will remain at current levels and 3 percent are not yet certain.

Manpower Inc. conducts the Employment Outlook Survey on a quarterly basis. It is a measurement of employers' intentions to increase or decrease the permanent workforce, and during its 17-year history has been a significant indicator of employment trends.

The survey is based on telephone interviews with more than 15,000 public and private employers in 452 U.S. cities.

Manpower Inc. is the world's largest temporary help firm, annually providing employment to nearly 1.5 million people through more than 1,900 offices in 36 countries. Office services account for more than half of the assignments in which its temporary workforce is engaged.

Housing hotspots outward bound

STAFF WRITER

Suburbia's residential housing boom stretched further into the green fields in 1993. Some familiar names dropped out of the top 10 list of building permits.

Novi, which led the pack in 1992 by issuing permits for 947 housing units, fell to seventh place last year. Farmington Hills, in 10th place in 1992, also dropped out of the top 10, according to a report compiled by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

In part the listing was disturbed when 13 communities had to observe a state moratorium on water taps during a lawsuit over construction of a new water main. Observing the moratorium were: parts of Detroit, Redford Township and Livonia in Wayne County; and the western Oakland communities of Farmington, Farmington Hills, Novi, Northville, Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield Township, Orchard Lake, Keego Harbor, Walled Lake and Commerce Township.

1992, dropped out of the top 10 last year.

"Improved employment levels, population growth and decreasing mortgage rates lead to stronger development activity in 1993," said SEMCOG, a seven-county planning agency. "Residential building permits were issued for 17,293 housing units... a 3.4 percent increase over 1992."

SEMCOG predicted the boom will continue into 1994 and residential construction will surpass its 1993 levels.

Here were the region's top 10:

1. Clinton Township, in Macomb County's second tier of communities north of Detroit, led the pack by issuing permits for 703 new residences, more than half multiples.

2. Canton Township, in Wayne County's third range of townships west of Detroit, moved into second place from fifth with 699 units, of which just 161 were multiples.

3. Shelby Township, in Macomb's third tier, permitted 676 units, nearly half for multiples. It stayed in third place in the region.

4. Troy, in eastern Oakland County, moved to fourth place from seventh with permits for 512 units, mostly single-family houses.

5. Macomb Township, in Macomb County's third tier north, permitted 466 units, moving back into the top 10.

6. Sterling Heights, just east of Troy in Macomb County, permitted 448 units, moving up from ninth place the prior year.

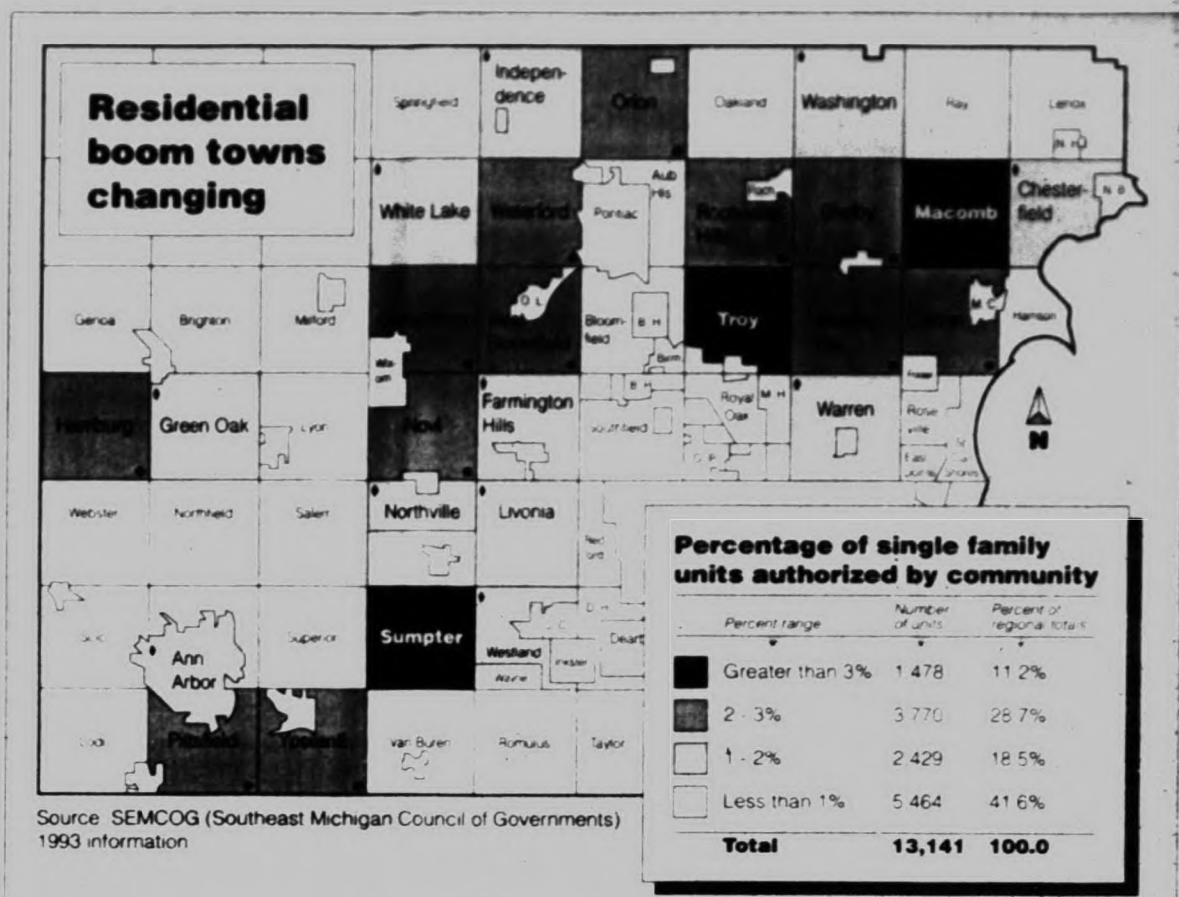

7. Novi permitted 444 units, three-fourths of them single-family houses.

8. Pittsfield Township, south of Ann Arbor, permitted 400 units and made the top 10 list for the first time. It also helped Washtenaw County show the biggest percentage year-to-year growth — 41.2 percent — of any of the region's seven counties.

9. Waterford Township, west of Pontiac, permitted 397 units and got back into the top 10 list.

10. Orion Township, north of Pontiac, permitted 375 units and also made the top 10 list.

Also noteworthy: Hamburg Township in Livingston County, permitted 268 units, putting it on the leading edge of residential growth in the region. All were for single-family houses. Hamburg was ahead of Ann Arbor, where a net total of 285 housing units were permitted.

Detroit, long considered fully developed, issued permits for 243 new housing units but also issued 3,204 demolition permits — a net loss of 2,961 units. Detroit's housing stock loss was almost equal to the total new permits in the top five communities.

Naico Salon Marketplace, a wholesale distributor of beauty salon products worldwide, will move its world headquarters from Livonia to Farmington Hills sometime this year.

Naico held a groundbreaking ceremony May 16 at the new site on Haggerty Road, north of Nine Mile. The general contractor is Schonsheck, Inc. of Wixom.

The 100,000-square-foot facility will include showrooms, offices and a warehouse. The facility eventually will employ more than 200 people.

VALASSIS APPOINTMENTS
Livonia-based Valassis Communications, a producer and distributor of more than 55 million freestanding newspaper inserts every week, announced several key appointments.

Marcia Hyde of South Lyon becomes vice president of new business development for the Fortune 500 firm. Rick Herpich of Farmington Hills was promoted to Midwest sales division vice president. Paula Wygonik of St. Joseph was promoted to director of marketing, new business development. Hyde, who joined the firm in 1982, will manage research, development and implementation of new business ventures nationally and internationally. She's held several positions, including vice president of Valassis Inserts' Midwest sales division, assistant to the chief operating officer, new product development manager and sales account manager.

Herpich is responsible for maintaining and expanding market share, hiring, training and developing the division's sales personnel. He joined the firm in 1978 as an account manager.

Wygonik will concentrate on the firm's growth and diversification. She joined Valassis in 1989 and has had several positions, including sales services supervisor, marketing, research and development specialist, and customer service representative.

Valassis has eight sales offices and three printing facilities in the U.S. and last year reported revenue of more than $660 million.

ance Agency, Garden City, Sheldon Road Corporation Insurance Agency of Canton and Bloomfield Insurance Agency, Southfield, have joined the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, a statewide trade association that represents 10,000 independent insurance agents and industry employees.

PRESIDENTIAL HONORS
Pratik Shah of Canton, a sales representative with Prudential's Livonia office, 17197 N. Laurel Park Drive, has received the company's President's Citation Award for outstanding sales and service achievements in 1993.

The award goes to the top sales representative in the company. This is the second year that Shah has won the award.

ON THE MOVE
Stratford Funding Inc., a residential mortgage banking firm that closes more than $150 million in home mortgages annually, has moved its office from 29398 Northwestern Highway to 28588 Northwestern Highway, Suite 290, in Southfield. The phone number is (810) 355-2700.

The company will occupy 4,876 square feet on the building's second floor. The move was necessary to accommodate a growing staff, said Bruce Tennen, president. The staff has grown from two in 1989 to 40 today.

The firm's principals, Tennen and Pat Wolohan, come from management positions at a large local bank.

CERTIFIED CLEANER
Steve Kalbfleisch, co-owner of Birmingham Cleaners, at 1253 S. Woodward, Birmingham, earned the certified environmental dry cleaner designation after passing a written exam on environmentally safe dry cleaning practices.

The Birmingham resident was one of five Michigan dry cleaners who took the International Fabricare Institute exam. IFI is the dry cleaners trade association based in Silver Springs, Md.

FIBERCRAFT/DESCON, Rochester Hills, received Saturn Corp.'s 1993 Outstanding Achievement Recognition Award for quality, service and price and the automaker's Quality Recognition Award. Suppliers were awarded at Saturn's manufacturing and assembly facility in Spring Hill, Tenn.

FIBERCRAFT provides advanced design, engineering and program management to the automotive market.

Romulus-based Kelsey-Hayes received General Motors 1993 Worldwide Supplier of the Year Award for quality, service and price at a ceremony in London. It's the second consecutive year the supplier of brake system products has received the award.

The Woodbridge Group, Troy, a producer of polyurethane foam products, received GM's 1993 Supplier of the Year Award in London, which also is based on quality, service and price.

WINS PRESS AWARD
For the third consecutive year, Southfield-based Corporate Detroit Magazine picked up a Detroit Press Club award in the specialized publications category. The 1993 award goes to its October cover story, "The Incubator That Never Was."

In the past three years, Corporate Detroit has received more Press Club awards in the specialized publications category than any other publication. Last year, the magazine won third-place honors. In 1991, it took first- and second-place awards.

Corporate Detroit has more than 30,000 Detroit area subscribers.

SIGN AGREEMENT
Auburn Hills-based ABB Paint Finishing said it has signed an agreement with the Big Three's Low Emission Paint Consortium to design and build a prototype powder coating line at Ford Motor Co.'s Wixom facility.

The $20 million project calls for a 60,000-square-foot expansion to test painting materials and processes for automotive applications.

The consortium, formed by Chrysler, Ford and General Motors, shares information and costs to study reductions in paint shop emissions.

ABB Paint Finishing, a unit of ABB Inc. in Stamford, Conn., will work in partnership with the automakers in Wixom.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...
