MEA didn't recruit me — Law

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Gerald Law stresses an ability to work with state House Democrats to get things for the district.

Law is trying to get his old job back. He served as a state representative from 1983-91.

"I was not recruited by the MEA

The Republican primary for 20th district state representative has turned into a showdown between a former legislator and incumbent Jerry Vorva. Vorva claims the teachers' union recruited Gerry Law for the race, which he denies.

(state teachers' union), they have supported me in the past, so have many groups," Law said.

Law faces incumbent Jerry Vorva in the Aug. 2 Republican primary. The winner faces lone Democrat Carolyn Blanchard in the November general election.

"I bring a lot of qualities to the job.

I understand education because I've taught, I understand business because I've worked there, I understand how government works," said Law, 50. He is on leave from the state lottery commission.

To demonstrate how he differs from Vorva, Law shows a ranking of state legislators done by the newsletter "Inside Michigan Politics." It rates Vorva as the third most conservative legislator in the state, and Law said that's not good for Plymouth.

"I have worked with Democrats on some issues," Law said, maintaining that Vorva has not worked with Democrats representing Wayne County. "If you push these people aside and refuse to work with them, I've learned there are other issues coming down the road."

"That's where I feel I have a big difference. He's pushed Democrats away, he's pushed teachers away. How do you represent the district when something comes up, who do you go to for support?" Law asked.

"There are a lot of Democrats in Wayne County, I can work with them. I think that's the best way govern-

Series returns to park

The Plymouth Community Arts Council's Music in the Park got off to a great start Wednesday.

Local business people on lunch breaks joined mothers with strollers to jam Kellogg Park for the popular summer music series. Performers Hugh Brock and harpist Kimberly Rowe entertained for over an hour as concertgoers enjoyed near-perfect weather.

"We had an excellent turnout. The weather was beautiful and the crowd was pleased," said Arts Council volunteer Julia Hoglen.

A welcomed addition to this year's program was the Plymouth Kiwanis' popcorn and juice box cart. "Everyone seemed pleased with the popcorn and hot dog carts," Hoglen said.

Also this year, the Arts Council will highlight some local performers. On June 29, Plymouth city attorney Ron Lowe and Debra Christian, otherwise known as "Oral Magic," will entertain the crowd with stories and songs. On July 6, jazz guitarist Ray Kamalay will perform.

The Wednesday afternoon performances begin at noon in Plymouth's Kellogg Park.

Vorva runs on record

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

State Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth, said he'll stand on his record as a fiscal conservative in running for reelection to the state House.

"Look what has changed — we've abolished officeholder expense funds, caused greater openness, we've put a huge gaping crack in the system where they control the Legislature by seniority, caused a lot more openness — these are some of the most historic changes in the history of the Legislature," Vorva said.

"We demanded change. Look at the taxes we cut, the cost containment measures in the schools," he said, adding he co-sponsored the bill now being considered to toughen laws against underage drinking drivers.

Because of his strong support for school funding reform legislation, Vorva — and some other Republican legislators have been harshly criticized by the Michigan Education Association, which represents unionized teachers in Michigan.

While Vorva said he has some support "from teachers who know what I'm doing is right," he charges the MEA recruited Law to run against him. Vorva said the MEA will spend money in hopes of defeating him. Law rejects the charges.

"I won't be able to match him (Law)," Vorva said. "The MEA put out the call for all the teachers to give him $25," he charged.

Parade features governor

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

It's going to be a July Fourth to remember in Plymouth.

The traditional parade at 1 p.m. features a non-traditional grand marshal, or grand marshals: the Fred Hill Briefcase Drill Team.

Also scheduled to appear in the parade is Gov. John Engler.

They'll be joined by clowns, politicians, cheerleaders, bands, horses, bicycles, displays of military equipment, and plenty more.

Then at dusk, it's time for the annual fireworks display at Massey Field.

Fire fighter promoted

Douglas Eldridge of the Plymouth Fire Department was promoted to fire captain, effective July 1.

He joined the fire department June 1, 1977. His training has included certification as an emergency medical technician, heart defibrillator technician, CPR certification and as a level I and II firefighter.

His primary responsibilities will include supervision and training of personnel and maintenance of fire department apparatus.

services when needed to avoid possible conflict of interest charges.

The commission agreed to hire John Donahue for the post. He's current city attorney for Farmington, Farmington Hills and Walled Lake. Lowe will continue to perform most duties assigned to the city attorney, until the election is over.

Distributor change

Tommy's Hardware, 40674 E. Ann Arbor Trail, will no longer be a distribution outlet for the paper compost bags offered by the Plymouth Township government.

The packages of 25 compost bags for $7.50 will continue to be available at Kroger, 44505 W. Ann Arbor Road and the township Solid Waste Department, 46555 Port Street, while supplies last.

School awards

At West Middle School on June 9, the annual school awards ceremony honored outstanding student achievement.

Kristen Brooks received the Bob Smith Award for the student with the highest academic grade point average. Andy Merrick and Nicole Mashni each received the Bob Jones Citizenship Award.

Erika Kleinow received the MEMPSA Principal's Award, Nic Kato received the Betty Szilagyi Citizenship Award, and Julie Stafford and Kevin Conte each received the Outstanding Athlete Award.

Register for summer park program

Children may register for the Plymouth Recreation Department Summer Park Program beginning Tuesday, July 5, at five locations: Kiwanis Park (Auburn and Junction), Jay Cee Park (Hamilton and Joy), Garden Club Park (Sutherland and Forest), Rotary Park (Wing and Herald), and Fire House Park (Holbrook and Spring). Each location will provide a schedule of supervised activities from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Arts and crafts, active games, street showers, bowling, miniature golf and quiet games will accent the daily program. Friday field trips are planned for the Detroit Zoo, the Skatin' Station, Rolling Hills Water Park, Kensington Metro-Park and the Oakland County Wave Pool. A gala, fun-filled field day is planned for the final date on Aug. 19. Further information may be obtained by calling the Plymouth Recreation Department at 455-6620.

ment should work." "A few years ago I had a battle with the state on the proliferation of prisons in Wayne County," Law said, adding area Democrats helped him to get a moratorium on prison building.

Law said Vorva did not act quickly enough to head off recodification of railroad regulations. By legislation passed earlier this year, the time trains can block crossings has been extended from five to seven minutes.

"When you know a major recodification is coming, not to alert your local unit of government is not representing your local community. He had all that opportunity for many months," Law said, adding Vorva got involved when it was too late.

Of major issues facing the district, Law said there will be "an all-out fight over who gets the money from Proposal A. All the tax money is being shipped up to the state," he said, adding some school districts are getting 30 percent increases. "To keep Livonia and Plymouth and Northville where they are is going to be a real battle," he said.

"How are you going to put together your votes? You've got to get together with Wayne County and out-state Republican reps. I haven't seen him deal with them at all," Law maintained.

Law said other major issues include getting more state support for local race tracks, as support has eroded; working with Detroit legislators to improve the bus system; and keeping state department of natural resources hearings on environmental matters public.

"Do you want special interests to rule the day? I'm running on my record but he's trying to downplay his record," Vorva said. He criticized Law for being part of "the good old boy network that ran this town."

"Do you want someone who's really working for the taxpayer, or someone who has a history of abusing his officeholder funds?" Vorva said.

In the next term, Vorva said the legislature should continue and refine policies established in the last term. "We've got more revenue now with less taxes," he said.

On the state paying for improvements to support a new Tiger Stadium, Vorva said he's against a quick-fix: "It took 25 years for people to leave Detroit, it's probably going to take 25 years to get them back," he said.

Vorva said that legislators lead by example, and that's why he voted no on a legislative pay raise. When it passed, he donated it to various community groups.

Vorva said he cut the operational cost of his office by $25,000 and challenges other legislators to do the same.

DDA's downtown fix-up plans are back on track

BY KEVIN BROWN STAFF WRITER

Backers of the proposed $2.4 million street and sidewalk renovation project downtown say they hope to still begin work on the project this year - even though the legislature has yet to resolve how to back such projects.

City and Downtown Development Authority members early last week said they anticipated the legislature finishing work by week's end on a compromise bill related to DDA project funding.

But the legislation - first passed by the House and then by the Senate in a different version - has been returned to a House conference committee.

"They're expected to work out the differences and send it to the governor to sign in the next couple of weeks," said Plymouth DDA Director Steve Guile.

As now proposed, the bill would allow DDA's to capture millage paid by businesses or others in a downtown development district to use to pay bond debt on planned projects or those already being paid for.

To pay that debt, DDA's could first capture state education millage, then local government millage, then non-school tax millage, up to 24 mills. The state picks up any bond debt not covered by the other taxing entities, said state Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth.

Vorva said projects that qualify are those approved by March 1 this year. The Plymouth city commission approved its streetscape plan last year, so it qualifies. How much is left for DDA operating programs, such as business recruitment and retention? "We don't know right now," Guile said, as the plan is still being worked on by House and Senate negotiators.

"It looks like once the bugs are worked out of this thing the governor will sign it," Guile said, adding some in the Engler administration are backing the legislation.

"We're still hoping on getting a shovel in the ground this year," Guile said.

"I see it coming to a finality because of the upcoming elections, they're settling up a lot of issues.

"That's one that was dangling in the air and needs to be settled," he said.

While the Plymouth City Commission was studying moving the fireworks, they decided to keep them at Massey Field near Riverside Cemetery.

After last year's fireworks show, Plymouth resident Georgia Hill complained that the fireworks were fired too close to graves and that showed disrespect for the dead.

Cameron Miller, who runs the fireworks show for the Jaycees, told city commissioners June 20 he'd met with her.

"She had some valid concerns," Miller said, adding the Jaycees decided to hire another fireworks firm to do a better job.

The new firm, Independence Professional Fireworks of Michigan, uses all American-made fireworks, Miller said.

"Pretty much everything is ready to roll," he said.

City Commissioner Stella Greene said she'd like to see the fireworks display moved to the Centennial Education Park in future years. Miller said the Plymouth-Canton schools administration turned down that idea for this year.

The fireworks display includes 576 1-inch rapid machine gun salutes, 270 2 1/2-inch aerial shells, and 200 3- to 8-inch shells.

On picking the Fred Hill Briefcase Drill Team to be parade grand marshals, parade organizer Scott Kappler said, "I believe this is the first group grand marshal we've had."

"They are a very enjoyable group to watch, the crowd always likes them, and I think it's be enjoyable for everyone."

The group's ranks include an attorney, advertising executive, optician, Realtor, accountant, mortgage lender, dentist, and auto executives. Money the drill team earns is donated to charities including the United Way and the March of Dimes.

The drill team has appeared in the Fiesta Bowl parade in Tempe, Ariz.; the Indianapolis 500 parade; the Detroit Thanksgiving parade; and more.

Of other notable features in this year's parade, Kappler said, "We haven't had clowns in the parade for some time."

Some firms are to exhibit large machinery in the parade, decorated with streamers.

"We try to entertain the crowd," Kappler said, adding this year's parade will be longer than in recent years.

Malone set to leave airport

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI STAFF WRITER

After about three years at Canton-Plymouth Mettetal Airport, Dan Malone will close the doors to Emerald Aviation on June 30.

His final day at the airport was agreed to in a consent judgment between Malone and Desert Sand before 35th District Court Judge Charles Kaufman June 14. Desert Sand - from which the state bought the airport - continues to manage the facility while state officials hammer out a contract with Doug Kitz, the new manager and new fixed base operator, who replaces Malone.

Malone is ready to go, but still has some bad feelings. Right after the consent judgment he received a notice from the state Bureau of Aeronautics that he has to stop providing his flight school because his license is revoked and he no longer has a lease for Emerald Aviation.

"They had only two weeks to leave me alone," said Malone, who is headed to Australia. "I pursued a settlement to end arguments. Now they've inflamed it. They take punitive action and vicious tactics against me. Is it because I resisted their authority?"

The consent judgment ended a disagreement between Malone and Desert Sand. Both sides said the other owed money. But at issue was a 1991 lease for 15 years, which Malone said had a 90-day termination clause. In mid-1993, Desert Sand notified Malone that there would be a 30-day termination notice. But Malone said he never agreed to that.

When Malone was notified he didn't get the FBO/manager bid at the end of March, he received a 30-day notice to get out. Desert Sand and Malone filed suit against each other, including for money owed each other for rent and utilities.

"We don't have to wait 10 days for him to leave," said Randy Collier, state bureau of Aeronautics licensing and enforcement manager. "If he's not out he will be evicted July 1."

Tova Shaban, attorney for Desert Sand, acknowledged that after repeated attempts to reach agreement before the June 14 court date, negotiations broke down. "The parties after June 30 will part their ways," she said.

The consent judgment makes a wash of the money Desert Sand and Malone owed each other. But Malone wanted some dollar value for improvements he would leave behind in the Emerald Aviation hangar. He received approximately $4,000 in value for the improvements, which took care of about $2,000 rent. Malone valued the improvements at more than $7,000. In a tentative agreement, Malone was to rent a T-hanger where he could repair a plane. That wasn't included in the consent judgment.

"They've taken more merchandise for less value. They have taken more from me than I have from them," Malone said.

Before the court date, a tentative agreement was reached between Desert Sand and Malone.

When the state - which is involved because it owns the airport - sent him a formal agreement, which was drafted by state attorneys, Malone rejected it.

"They wanted me to sign off all liability on the process they used that put me out of here," Malone said. "They also wanted me to sign off the rights of my employees."

Malone continues to take exception to the way he feels he was been treated, including the attempt to get him out before his time was up, as well as compensation for the improvements he made, not to mention the manager/FBO bidding process and the latest notice that he couldn't continue his flight school until he leaves June 30.

"When it comes to dealing with the little guy like me, they give you a hard time," said Malone.

Collier doesn't believe the state or Desert Sand gave Malone a hard time. "We bent over backward to reach an agreement," Collier said.

Meanwhile, Malone said he has worked with Kitz who is operating out a part of the hangar in which Emerald Aviation was housed. "I've referred some of my customers to him," Malone said.

Collier said he expects to have a completed contract with Kitz sometime in July. "We really would like to get Kitz in place. He's offering maintenance and fuel sales and flight school already," Collier said.

Plymouth radio club on the air

Hundreds of Michigan amateur radio operators, many of them from Wayne County, worked around the clock on Saturday and Sunday, June 25-26, to set up field radio communication stations, get on air, and contact thousands of other operators in the United States and Canada as part of participation in the American Radio Relay League's annual Field Day.

Field Day is the annual "shakedown run" for the ARRL's national field organization, explained Dick Marks, president of the Stu Rocafellow Amateur Radio Society, which is based in Plymouth.

"Field Day is a way for hams to get outdoors and have fun under some difficult conditions," Marks says. "But it's also a chance to fine-tune emergency communications skills. We use generators and battery power, and we set up antennas in the field. The idea is to put together a self-sufficient, working station quickly and begin making contacts."

The ARRL Field Organization has been effective in establishing emergency communications during floods, hurricanes, fires, earthquakes and other major disasters. In addition, local club members provide two-way radio communication for Halloween "Spook Patrol," Magic Ride and other long-distance bicycle rides.

Members of formal emergency organizations such as the Amateur Radio Emergency Service (ARES) and the Radio Amateur Communication Emergency Services (RACES) regularly participate. The league estimates that more than 35,000 hams participate in Field Day each year.

Local Field Day operations were at Plymouth Township Park. For more information, call Dave McCarthy at 454-4061.

SHOPPING CENTERED

LINDA BACHRACK

Plymouth shops sell Americana

The stars and stripes aren't just for the Fourth. If you're drawn to Americana, you'll use the flag and other reds, whites and blues to accessorize every room in the house. This patriotic scheme can even add some punch to your flower garden.

Just as primary colors brighten interior spaces, they make an eye-catching impact in the flowerbed or hanging basket. "People are always asking for color themes for their gardens," says master gardener Cindy Richardson, the senior designer at Four Seasons Garden Center in Oak Park. The bicentennial year sparked an interest in red, white and blue flowers, but pastels reigned until now. "This year there are more flags, more patriotism. Monet is out and American colors are in," says Richardson.

She's created flowering flags and seals using white begonias, alyssum or petunias, blue ageratum and salvia, and red geraniums. The effect is dazzling. Imagine an American Eagle topiary in red, white and blue or moss-lined baskets spilling petunias, geraniums and lobelia. The colors of the flag make an electrifying statement when mingled together in the landscape.

Richardson also suggests perennials such as blue hosta, larkspur and ajuga for the patriotic garden. Four Seasons is at 14471 W. 11 Mile Road.

Plymouth Rock

I traveled to Plymouth in search of fresh country-style Americana, and found some wonderful examples of contemporary designs and traditional folk art. At Sideways, Inc., 505 Forest Ave. a handcrafted wooden birdhouse beckons our feathered friends. White stars on a bright blue ground decorate the front, while the sides are striped in red and white and the roof is made of pinecones ($39.95).

Flag painted doorstops are actually old bricks and would make great bookends or paperweights ($11.95). The stars and stripes decorate oven mitts ($6.95) and dish towels ($5.95), and dance across a hand-painted clay flower pot ($14.95). Don't allow a summer shower to dampen your picnic plans. Let a flag be your umbrella ($59.95).

The folks at Country Charm, a home-furnishings and accessory store, 322 S. Main, arranged an Americana sampling atop a Shaker console table. Included are a wicker flag basket lined with navy and white stars ($92.95) and a primitive Uncle Sam, complete with hat and striped trousers ($49.95). Uncle Sam stands guard over a slate flag wall hanging ($21.95); a Boyd bear ($14.95) outfitted in a red, white and blue striped sweater ($13.95); and wooden cutouts depicting a fife and drum corps ($6.95). Days Gone By...at 550 Forest Ave., is a unique country store and lace gallery. Their window features a wooden folk art lamp base painted in an Old Glory motif. Complete with white shade, it sells for ($290.95). I also spotted a soaring American eagle against a flag background on a cotton throw by Goodwin Weavers (48 by 68-inches, $52.95).

Tennis works

If you think the stars and stripes might inspire your tennis or golf games, the cutest sports tees I've seen are at Tennis Time, 3627 Maple Rd. in Bloomfield Hills. The artful shirts are entitled Flag Bag and Racquet Red Glare, and they take the American flag look to new heights. They're worth a peek in Tennis Time's window ($26-$30).

LOOKING AHEAD

What to watch for in Malls & Mainstreets next week:

- Linda Bachrack shops for the season's best picnic baskets.
- Added Attractions lists special events at the Malls and Main Street shops.
- Meet Joyce Carriers of Graham & Gunn, another super salesperson nominated by an appreciative shopper in More Than You Bargained For.

Malls' fun events cool off shoppers

When the temperature soars, it's good idea to cool off for a while in the air-conditioned comfort of your favorite shopping center. There's always a cool drink available and in July, some very special events.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Already bored with the sun and shore?

Find that summer's heat is not a treat?

There's lots of cool fun coming up in July at your favorite shopping center.

Livonia Mall at Seven Mile and Middlebelt, has two contests, big band concerts, and a daylong Celebrity Auction for Muscular Dystrophy scheduled.

The Glenn Miller Orchestra will perform 5:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 12, on the stage near Crowley's. The Tommy Dorsey Band will also perform there 5:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16. The concerts are complimentary.

Amateur photographers are invited to submit either color or black and white photos for judging toward a $300 grand prize and mall-wide exhibition July 20-24. The deadline for entries is 5 p.m. Friday, July 15. There is no limit to the number of entries an individual may submit, but the fee is $4 per photograph. Prints must be 8 by 10-inch to 24 by 30-inch maximum. Forms are available from the mall management office.

Call for crafters

Also at Livonia Mall, craft lovers are invited to enter their creations in an Arts and Crafts Contest and Show set for July 30-31. The grand prize is $100. Crafters must be over 18 years of age. One entry per artist. No entry fee. The craft contest deadline is Saturday, July 30 before 11 a.m.

Another feature of the crafts contest is an mall-wide show and exhibit. Interested crafters will pay $25 to set up a table. Forms available through the management office.

Volunteers are needed for the Livonia Mall's annual MDA Auction on Saturday, Aug. 4. Musicians, magicians and anyone who can entertain the crowds bidding for celebrity items are especially sought. Organizer Bill Checks reports that he still needs local services and merchandise to add to his growing list of auction block items. For more details call Checks at 476-1166.

Fairy Tale Theater

At the Oakland Mall in Troy, the Giggle Gang is forming. The three-week children's event features a live theater performance and free kids meals on Wednesdays; July 20 (Snow White), July 27 (Rumpelstiltskin) and Aug. 3 (The Emperor's New Clothes.) Showtimes are 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. in center court.

Kids eat free when accompanied by an adult at the Oakland Mall's Arby's, Big Boy's, Bruschette Cafe and Tubby's performance dates only.

Business series begins at Westland Mall

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

When the movers and shakers get together to talk about a town's retail future where else should they meet but the mall? So the Westland Shopping Center at Wayne and Warren Roads will host Good Morning Westland, 8:30-9:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 29.

"This breakfast meeting is an opportunity for the mayor and his staff to meet with the retail leaders of the city in an open forum," said organizer Scott Veldhuis of the city's Office of Economic Development. "You never know how many people will show up at a program like this, but we've invited all local store managers and national district managers to attend. We're hoping for a great turn-out."

If the meeting goes well, look for others to follow on a quarterly basis.

After a continental breakfast, Alan Richardson from Wayne County's Engineering Division will discuss plans for the resurfacing of Wayne Road between Warren and Cowan, and the resurfacing of Warren Road between Wayne and Venoy. — key links to Westland's retail hub. He will also discuss other road projects planned for the future.

Pat Kukula from Wayne County will then describe Health Choice, a health care program for small businesses. There will be question and answer periods after each presentation.

Veldhuis said his department hoped Good Morning Westland would foster the development of city and business relationships. An earlier meeting with city officials and leaders of Westland's Industrial Park went well with 40 people attending. Mall spokeswoman Claudia Frederick called the meeting a "good idea" and said the shopping center was glad to provide the space at no charge. She offered the mall's community room for future meetings.

"While the meeting is geared for the business community, interested citizens are also welcome to attend," she said.

Questions about Good Morning Westland can be handled through the Office of Economic Development at 467-3165.

STAR-STUDED CAFE

Lots of changes at The Midtown Cafe, 139 S. Woodward in downtown

Birmingham. A permanent exhibit of more than 60 celebrity photographs by Linda Solomon now lines the walls floor to ceiling, and a new menu by chef Brian Dennington is available featuring more pastas, gourmet pizza and seafood.

There is a new downstairs lounge, The Tap Room, featuring a billiard table, jukebox and televisions. Owner Bruce Cameron says the photo exhibit is "a tremendous opportunity for the restaurant and Birmingham which needs more galleries to complement the wonderful restaurants and coffee houses that attract so many people to our downtown."

Some of the celebrities captured in 30 by 50 inch glory around the eatery include Bruce Springsteen, Barbra Streisand, Candice Bergen, Elizabeth Taylor, Aretha Franklin, Alec Baldwin, and Kevin Kostner.

Jeans round-up benefits homeless

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

In spite of the sweltering heat Friday, June 17, 400 pairs of jeans were collected and donated to a Pontiac shelter for the homeless, June 17 at the Guys 'N' Gals shop in the Orchard Mall in West Bloomfield.

"Zip Up The Homeless," the store's fifth annual clothing benefit, offered shoppers half-off a new pair of jeans for every old pair they brought in for the needy.

"We had a great day and I think everyone felt good about what they were doing," said Sheri Levenson-Stav, co-owner of the shop. "We had staff members from the New Bethel Baptist Church in Pontiac working along with us and they took calls about pick-ups from people who called offering clothing, but who were put off by the heat."

In addition to jeans, customers from the tri-county area brought in bedding and books — a first for the event. The director of shelter said everything would come in handy because clients were primarily mothers with young children.

"Next year we'd like to collect 600 pairs of jeans," Levenson-Stav said.

Co-chairs of the event included Lois Levenson of West Bloomfield and Julie Feldman of Farmington Hills.

STREET SOUNDS

Woke Up With a Monster — Cheap Trick

"Woke Up With a Monster," Cheap Trick's first album for their new label, Warner Brothers Records, goes from one bad song to another.

They seem to have espoused the old punk motto of "three chords, no waiting." Their only problem is that the songs lack the energy and passion and relevant lyrical content that made punk rock a musical force in the late 1970s. The lyrics, at their best, reach the sophomoric level of the song, "You're All I Wanna Do."

Cheap Trick often points to the fact that guitarist Rick Nielsen has an extensive collection of distinctive guitars and that bassist Tom Petersson plays 12-string basses which he designed himself. "Woke Up With a Monster" is proof that no matter how cool your guitar is, it can not write a good song.

Cheap Trick is lucky it has built a reputation over the last 17 years with songs like "I Want You to Want Me" and "Dream Police" because it will give them another opportunity to make a good record. If they can recapture the spirit of rock'n'roll they once had, they could go on to record something worth a listen. Until then, they will just have to continue riding on their reputation.

— Eric Darling

"Carotid" — Walk on Water

The band's five-song debut for Detroit's Rustbelt Records proves once again that Walk on Water is one of the area's alternative rock bands most likely to hit it big.

Although Mark Kahaian's vocals aren't flawless, he controls them well enough that there's no doubting the emotions he wants to share.

The horns on the opening number "Six a.m." add new dimension to Walk on Water while the groovy "Lower Me" has hit potential.

The release is available through Rustbelt Records, 1145 Griswold St., Detroit, MI 48226.

— Christina Fuoco

Whatever — Screwface

There are two curses common to the early recording efforts of too many rock bands: either the songs all sound exactly the same, or they're so diverse that the sound of the group is lost. Detroit's own Screwface, after only about one year together, has deftly warded off both of these evils with its debut release, "Whatever."

Band members Clay Brown, Steve Wisner and Brian Foley run the gamut of contemporary grunge/metal in this cohesive compilation of 10 tunes.

The Screwface sound is dark and heavy without sinking to the lugubrious, while the lyrics often display a subtle black humor. "Whatever" opens with the sledgehammer riff of "Needle" and closes with the uncompromising thrash of "Porno Movie" and "M.D.Y.M."

In between, Screwface conjures the spirits of Primus, Soundgarden and Tool. The instrumental "Cat Daddy" tips its hat to the Eric Gales Band with a punchy punk-funk groove.

The one change Screwface might want to make would be to add a lead vocalist to the line-up. Guitarist Clay Brown currently covers most of the vocal chores, and he's not bad at all, but the musicianship and arrangements deserve vocals of the same superior caliber.

"Whatever" is anything but the after-thought the title implies. On the contrary, it's an extremely impressive piece of work.

"The Flintstones' Soundtrack — various artists

It's a relatively mundane sound to the film dubbed the "movie of the summer." Parody songs by Green Jelly ("Anarchy in the U.K.") and "Weird Al" Yankovic ("Bedrock Anthem") are good for a laugh.

As for the rest of the soundtrack, it's weird to hear bands like Big Audio Dynamite ("Rock With a Caveman"), Screaming Blue Messiahs ("I Wanna Be a Flintstone") and Shakespears Sister ("Prehistoric Daze") sing serious songs about the stone-age family.

Overall, the MCA Records release won't provide for a gay old time.

Sprocket lights up St. Andrew's

From Toad the Wet Sprocket to Jeff Buckley and a New Orleans style funeral for a well-known barman, the metro Detroit music scene will be as exciting as the Freedom Festival fireworks Wednesday night.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Having hit singles and albums has been inspiring to Toad the Wet Sprocket's drummer Randy Guss. But within the last few years he has found touring especially enlightening — literally.

During a set by opening band Geggy Tah, Guss was at the helm of the lighting board. It's a fascination he's had since Toad toured with the Gin Blossoms two years ago.

"One night the house lighting guy wasn't there; I said 'I'll do it,'" said Guss via telephone from CNN headquarters in Atlanta where his bandmates were being interviewed by cartoon characters. "It's actually really fun. It reminds me of being in an opening band."

Controlling Geggy Tah's light show allowed him to help turn Toad fans on to the "avant soul" duo while mingling with his own fans, he added.

Toad is touring in support of its latest album "Dulcinea," a more mellow effort than its platinum-selling predecessor "Fear." It's filled with Toad's trademark alternapop ("Fly from Heaven") but this time around the California quartet dabbles in country ("Nanci") and straight-forward rock'n'roll ("Fall Down").

Guss said that although there's a slight sound change with "Dulcinea," it's a fairer representation of the band's sound.

"It's not necessarily off the regular path. It's just that we're farther along."

Toad the Wet Sprocket and Geggy Tah perform at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 30. Tickets are $15 in advance, $17 at the door for the all-ages show. For more information, call (313) 961-5451.

Be forewarned, June 30 is the rain day for the Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival fireworks downtown.

Jeff Buckley

Jeff Buckley has played in bands for most of his life but when he found himself broke last year, he decided to go out on his own and rethink his musical career.

"I needed money and I needed to find out exactly what the music is, what it feels like, what it looks like," said a mumbling, groggy Buckley who had just woken up.

He planned to play solo for awhile but just like love, his band members came into his life unexpectedly.

"I think the romantic in me was trying to send out a pheromone hoping that the right band would smell me and marry me," he said. "If I wasn't playing (with the new lineup) I'd be pretty devastated."

Guitarist/vocalist Buckley and his relatively new band — bassist Mick Grondahl, drummer Matt Johnson and guitarist Michael Tighe — will make their Detroit-area debut Friday, July 1, at the Gem Theatre in Detroit. The set will feature material from the quartet's first full-length studio album "Grace," due to hit stores on Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Earlier this year Buckley released his debut solo EP "Live at Sin-E" and since then, music industry insiders have been abuzz about Buckley's raw talent. Does that add any pressure to Buckley who said currently his life is in a major upheaval?

"No, not really. It makes me feel kind of buzzy," he said. "You get to a place and it's like walking into the village of the damned (where) they already know who I am. But really nobody knows what I'm doing 'til I get there."

The soft-spoken California guitarist admits that fans of his solo album haven't been quite sure how to take his new project. But, he said, they haven't been disappointed.

"I think they've been skeptical but then when they come in and see . . . It's not like a pickup band or . . . These are session guys. They're gonna be around for awhile."

For more information about tickets, which are $6, call (313) 963-9800.

Fond farewell

Friends and family of former Alvin's manager Herman (Willie) Landt will say good-bye to him Saturday, July 2, the way he wanted it — with a New Orleans-style funeral on his birthday in front of the Detroit restaurant/bar.

"Walk With Willie" will pay tribute to Landt who died May 24 of heart failure.

"This is what he wanted," said Bernadette Kurkowski, who co-managed Alvin's with Landt, her companion of 17 years. "He made us

Proclaimers hit the highway 4 years later

Look-alikes: The Proclaimers — identical twins Craig and Charlie Reid — play the Majestic in Detroit July 7 with Greenberry Woods.

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

The Proclaimers were confident that they were going to have a hit in the United States some day. They just didn't think that it would be nearly four years after the song was originally released.

"We always expected that if we were going to have a hit in America that you'd be on the road somewhere, sitting in Texas or New York when you found out," said Craig Reid who makes up The Proclaimers with his brother Charlie. "But I was in my house in Edinburgh (Scotland) and we'd recorded live for years."

The acoustic ditty "I'm Gonna Be (500 Miles)" sold nearly a million copies after it became a part of the soundtrack to "Benny & Joon" in 1993.

The album on which it was originally released "Sunshine on Leith" sold another 450,000.

"We were shocked; they told us they wanted to use it in the movie and we thought they were just doing a soundtrack album and only 10 seconds in the middle of the song (would be in the movie)," Reid said.

The only drawback to the song's popularity was that The Proclaimers weren't prepared to tour when it hit, Reid said.

Now, they've hit the highway in support of their new album appropriately titled, "Hit the Highway."

The Proclaimers and Greenberry Woods will perform at the Majestic, 4140 Woodward Ave., Detroit, on Thursday, July 7. Doors open at 8 p.m. Tickets are $13.50 in advance. Call (313) 963-7680 or (810) 645-6666 for more information.

'Lion King' has slightly muffled roar

BY JOHN MONAGHAN
SPECIAL WRITER

The songs sort of fizzle. The humor relies too much on farting and burping. Even the youngest audience members will find the story predictable. That said, "The Lion King" is still the best family entertainment you'll find this summer.

Disney has animated itself into an impossible corner. "The Little Mermaid," "Beauty and the Beast" and "Aladdin" were among the best animated features ever produced. Aside from state-of-the-art graphic work, they incorporated laughs, Broadway-caliber music and characters you really cared about.

"The Lion King" has a lion's share of these elements as well. Simba, the lion cub, must grow into his destined role as king of the jungle. His father, Mufasa, uses his wisdom and good judgment to prepare the boy for the challenge of taking his place in the great "circle of life."

Scar, the king's evil brother, has other ideas. He teams with a pack of hyenas to start a wilde-beest stampede that will trample the king and his son, leaving Scar heir to the throne.

MOVIES

This is by far the most exciting part of the movie. Simba stays just ahead of the thundering hooves, shown in a clever mix of traditional and computer-generated animation. Mufasa manages to scoop Simba up to safety but dangles precariously beneath a ledge while trying to save himself.

The comedy comes when Simba leaves the kingdom and meets up with a warthog and his weaselly companion. They convince the young lion to adopt their motto of "Hakuna Matata" (meaning "no worries") and embark on a care-free existence of idleness and insect suppers not unlike the Falstaff/Prince Hal drinking and debauchery bond in Shakespeare.

"The Lion King" uses little-known actors Ernie Sabella and Nathan Lane for these important comic parts, a surprise considering the high profile, hugely successful cameo by Robin Williams as the voice of the genie in "Aladdin." These Broadway performers are fine, but even better are the familiar voices of James Earl Jones' Mufasa and Jeremy Irons' Scar.

Tim Rice and Elton John collaborate on five original songs, with middling success. Syrupy ballads like "Can You Feel the Love Tonight" bore me as much as when I was a kid, while "I Just Can't Wait to Be King" compares weakly with similarly frenetic and colorful numbers from previous films.

Probably, the most effective music is found in the opening "Circle of Life," which incorporates African rhythms with the main theme of the movie. In a clever Disney marketing strategy (which grew tiresome for avid moviegoers), the song was used in its entirety in lengthy trailers for the film.

The message behind the movie comes across loud and clear. Simba must find his place among previous kings that now look down from the stars. He has help from a wise old monkey named Rafiki (voice by Robert Guillaume) who uses mysticism, primitive drawings and a bob on Simba's head to put it all in perspective.

Give thanks to the Disney screenwriting crew for steering clear of overt political correctness. The movie could have easily turned into a timely reproach of evil poachers or the vanishing rainforest, but the all-animal story has an agenda of its own, especially about the importance of fathers as role models.

Though no classic, "The Lion King" is proof positive that Disney makes the best animated features on the planet. Some kids have been known to watch movies like "Aladdin" more than 100 times on video. Maybe they'll watch "The Lion King" only 70.

5020 John R (at Warren), Detroit. Call (313) 577-8400 for information. ($6.50-$10)

"Rolling Stones at the Max" (USA — 1990). Weekends through June (call for show times). The "world's greatest rock band" captured live during their European Steel Wheels tour. What makes this different from the other half dozen Stones films is that it was filmed for the all-encompassing OmniMax screen.

KINOTEK
Capitol Theatre and Arts Centre, 121 University Ave. W., Windsor. Call (519) 971-5160 for information. ($4)

"Kwaidan" (Japan — 1964), 9 p.m. July 3-4. A four-part adaptation of American writer Lafcadio Hearn's ghost story collection, as told by Masaki Kobayashi. In one, a musician is summoned nightly from his home to play for a phantom assembly. In another, a samurai is taunted by a maniacal face that appears in any water reflection.

MAIN ART THEATRE
118 N. Main St. at 11 Mile, Royal Oak. Films play through at least Thursday, unless noted otherwise. Call (810) 542-0180 for information and show times. ($6.50; $4 students; $3 twilight/matinee)

"The Cannes Festival of Humor," June 28-30 (call for show times). More than 100 funny, award-winning commercials from the Cannes and Venice film festivals. While sex is the main persuader, one actually uses an assassination to show the importance of a good cigar to each new head of state.

"8 1/2" (Italy — 1963), July 1-3 (call for show times). A brand new 35mm wide-screen print of Fellini's very autobiographical masterpiece. Marcello Mastroianni stars as a bemused film director struggling with his latest project and the various women in his life.

"Fear of a Black Hat" (USA — 1994). This new comedy does to rap music what "Spinal Tap" did to rock'n'roll. In it, a hapless group of gangsta rappers find a rocky road to success in the debut feature from Rusty Cundieff.

"Red Rock West" (USA — 1993). Film noir Texas-style starring Nicolas Cage, Dennis Hopper and Lara Flynn Boyle. While the story gets a little old after a while, the movie has some visual flair and quirky performances.

"Little Buddha" (USA — 1994). Bernardo Bertolucci ("The Last Emperor") directed this story of an American family en route to spiritual awakening in Asia. Starring Keanu Reeves, Bridget Fonda and Chris Isaak.

MAGIC BAG THEATER
22918 Woodward, Ferndale. Call (810) 544-3030 for information. ($5)

"Best of the Three Stooges," 8 p.m. July 1-3. Five more classics starring the slapstick trio, based on suggestions from previous shows. Including "Boobs in Arms," "Healthy, Wealthy and Dumb" and the World War II Hitler spoof "You Nazy Spy."

MAPLE THEATER
4135 W. Maple Road, Bloomfield. Films play through at least Thursday. Call (810) 855-9090 for information. ($5.75; $3.95 matinee; $2.95 twilight)

"Widow's Peak" (USA — 1994). Mia Farrow stars in this comedy/mystery set in 1920's Ireland about a gossiping group of well-to-do widows and one young, glamorous widow who comes to town and stirs up trouble.

MICHIGAN THEATER
603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Call (313) 668-8397 for information. ($5; $4 students and senior citizens)

"Bitter Moon" (Britain/France — 1993), through June 30 (call for show times). Roman Polanski's best movie in 20 years finds a strait-laced Brit (Hugh Grant) drawn to the ramblings of an embittered American expatriate (Peter Coyote) aboard a luxury cruise. Told mostly in flashback, the story of sex gone sour is full of bizarre twists.

New attitudes are cause for confusion

STREET SENSE

BARBARA SCHIFF

Voice Mail Message: Hi. I'm 16 years old and I have a question for you that I really need answered. I have been talking to this boy ever since we've been in elementary school — second grade, to be exact. For the past year, he's changed. Now all he talks about is sex. When he gets around his "boys" or his "fellas" or whatever you want to call them, he seems to change. He's not all sweet anymore. We haven't had sex yet. I don't know about him, but I'm still a virgin. I really want to know what should I do about it?

Dear Caller,

Hi. I listened to your message very carefully to try to understand the question you are asking. Is it that you have decided to have sex some time in the near future, but you want to know that this is the boy with whom you will have sex? Your confusion seems to be caused by the difference between the way he is now and the way he used to be.

If this is your question, you have already answered it. Your friend's current attitude does not warrant having sex with him. If you ignore his current attitude, you have accepted a contract between the two of you which may encourage him to be unkind to you.

It is important for you to understand that sex is not an isolated experience. It is part and parcel of the nature of the relationship between the two people. You do not mention love. Is this not a consideration in your decision?

If I am correct in understanding your question then my response, which brings up love, is pertinent. If I am not correct, please leave another message that clarifies your question.

In general, girls' first sexual experiences stay with them for their lifetimes. Their first choice of a partner can raise their self-esteem, if they choose with thoughtfulness and good judgment, or can tear down their self-esteem, if they choose carelessly. In sexual relationships without love, girls often feel used. This makes them feel ashamed.

Researchers of gender differences find that the greatest discrepancy in men's and women's attitudes are found in sexuality not in mathematics and science, as people so often believe. This is most often the case on the issue of first partners.

Stabbing Westward

Opening for Depeche Mode and Primal Scream, this industrial-laden rock band doesn't exactly fit in with either band's pop rock glam reputation. But Stabbing

"Even though we're noisy and dark, we arrange our songs so they build in an exponential rather than linear way. . . That way the music doesn't exhaust itself. Maybe it's not the "alternative underground thing to do," but if we don't have to give up any of the anger, why not give the songs more structure."

Westward lead singer Christopher Hall said it finally hit him what his band's mission is for the tour.

"It is to burn off everyone's negative energy so they can have a happy peaceful experience," said Hall, whose band plays the Pine Knob Music Theatre July 3-4, with the two bands. For most of the tour so far, Stabbing Westward hasn't been listed in advertisements promoting the show. Regardless, that really doesn't bother Hall, a former touring member of Die Warzau,

"We're achieving what we set out to achieve which is to get name recognition." In February, the Chicago band released its debut album "Un-god," produced by John Fryer who has also worked with the Cocteau Twins and Nine Inch Nails. Unlike some industrial music, guitarist Stuart Zechman said there's a definite structure to his band's songs.

"Even though we're noisy and dark, we arrange our songs so they build in an exponential rather than linear way," he said. "That way the music doesn't exhaust itself. Maybe it's not the 'alternative underground thing to do,' but if we don't have to give up any of the anger, why not give the songs more structure."

Tickets for Stabbing Westward's show with Primal Scream and Depeche Mode are $25 for pavilion, and $15 for lawn. Call (810) 377-0100 for more information.

Edible flowers make summer dishes blossom

In May, on a trip through Napa Valley, friends and I enjoyed an incredible lunch at the Simi Winery in Healdsburg, Calif. Chef Mary Everly adorned our salads with fresh sage flowers. Our Thai beef stir-fry was sprinkled with lilac blossoms, and the dessert chilled grape sorbet, was literally flocked with violets.

Now we all know that they do crazy things in California, but eating flowers isn't as wacky as one might think.

I tasted my first edible flower in cooking school back in the early 1970s. It was a gigantic fresh zucchini blossom, dipped in tempura batter. It was as light as an angel's wing.

The flower was fried in just enough oil to coat the bottom of a frypan to a golden tinge. Ask me to recall the taste, and I would describe it as a burst of the freshest wilted lettuce with a subtle hint of zucchini, I had ever tasted.

Edible flowers have been around for much longer than I have. Think about it for a second: we've been eating basil leaves and drinking rose scented tea for centuries. Dandelion wine has been brewing in Uncle Charley's basement since I was knee-high to a grasshopper. Little did he know but Euell Gibbons with all his bark and berry eating strategies brought the edible flower business out of fancy European kitchens and into back yards.

In her book "Edible Flowers," Claire Grafton, (copyright 1983, McGraw-Hill), Grafton offers recipes for flower butters, flower vinegars, flower pickles, stuffed flowers, fried flowers, flower salads, flower drinks and flower marinades.

Chef Elder at Simi Wineries says "use flowers not just for decoration on plates but also to heighten the taste of salads, entrees and desserts."

If you're thinking about wandering out to the backyard to cut a few blooms to spice up tonight's salad, there are a few things you need to know.

Flavorful blooms

First off, when planning to use flowers to eat or simply touch food, it is imperative that they be organic and completely free of any residue from fertilizers, insecticides or fungicides. Plant foods, Miracle Gro or any other additive that is sprinkled directly on the flower or blossoms should never be used. Also, be aware that there are naturally poisonous flowers around every house.

Lilies of the Valley, and Stars of Bethlehem have natural poisonous properties, but there are many more safe flowers like wild daisies, nasturtiums, primroses, carnations, lavender, clover, rose petals, violets, lilac and any and all squash blossoms.

If you have an herb garden and allow your herbs to flower, fresh rosemary, thyme, chives, sage, basil and oregano not only taste great in a fresh summer, salad, but they also are aromatic and increase the sensation of smell for the diner.

Vinegars

Vinegar delicately tinted and flavored with flowers is delicious and very simple to make. "Steep the flowers or their petals in a good white vinegar in the sun for two weeks before straining, and bottling the finished product," says Clifton in her book. Use these flowery vinegars with lighter oils to dress up salads and use in marinades.

Those who enjoy "high tea" will appreciate a tea sandwich made with flower butter. You can accomplish the flowery butter two ways, blend them together in a food processor or allow a pound of butter to soften for two days between layers of flowers, covered. Thinly spread the flower butter on good bread and trim the crusts, then decorate the plate with the flowers as well.

If you make pickles, you use the seeds from a dill flower to spice it up. If your summer garden has decided to bolt during the last blast of hot, humid weather, after the flowers fade you can use the seeds from onions, shallots, nasturtiums, broom and alexander buds for pickling and/or canning. And if you think that flower blossoms should only be fried, steeped, mashed or pickled, larger blossoms, especially those from any type of squash plants can be stuffed with a subtle blend of ricotta, parmesan, eggs and herbs and then baked in a tomato sauce for a luxurious treat.

Lastly, fresh flower blossoms can grace anything from a basic carrot cake to an elegant wedding cake. Just a reminder, make sure that all flowers weather edible or just for garnishing have not been sprayed with anything.

COOL SUMMER SUPPERS

Don't let the "summer stickies" get to you. Pack up the kids and head off to a park for a picnic featuring goodies for the kids and special treats for Mom and Dad, too.

When it's hot and sticky and everyone feels, well - icky, pack a picnic supper and head to your favorite park. Going to the park to cool off was common before air conditioning was invented. My family often reminiscences about picnics at Rouge Park and Belle Isle. Sometimes a change of scenery, even if it's just a park in the community, can offer relief from the heat. Plan your picnic on a night when there's a free "concert in the park."

Debbie Cox of Livonia has three children ranging in age from 18 months to 7. "When we go to the zoo I always pack a picnic,"

Cut fat in family favorites with healthy substitutes

LAURA LETOBAR

Summertime is a great season for casual, carefree meals. It is also a time for getting together with friends and family and enjoying a good meal. We all can picture the setting. Everyone gathered around a smoking barbecue grill, filling our plates with family favorites. The potluck meal is one of the most common means of feeding a large group.

Unfortunately, we do not always know just how many sticks of butter are in Aunt Mary's mashed potatoes, or exactly how many jars of mayonnaise are in Uncle Bob's world famous potato salad. But, before all hope is lost of ever enjoying a cookout again, read on for some great suggestions to lower the fat in some of our favorite picnic recipes.

Marnie Britcher of Garden city sent in a recipe for Swedish meatballs. In my family, these have been at almost every gathering I have ever attended. Unfortunately, they always had a layer of grease about half an inch thick floating on top! This is due to a combination of high fat items in the recipe.

For example, regular ground beef has 120 grams of fat per pound. Healthy Choice extra lean ground beef has 16 grams of fat per pound! That substitution alone removed 114 grams of fat and 1,026 calories from the recipe.

Fat free mayonnaise or fat free sour cream can be used to replace the regular mayonnaise. This eliminated 96 grams of fat and 864 calories. One of my favorite brands is Land O'Lakes No Fat

Swedish Meatballs Original Recipe

3 slices white bread, crumbled
1/3 cup milk
1 pound ground beef
1 small onion, grated
4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Dash of ground nutmeg
1 packet (7/8 ounce) powdered brown gravy mix
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Add bread to milk. Mix in next 6 ingredients. Shape into 1-inch balls. Brown in an electric frying pan. Prepare gravy according to package directions, using 1 1/4 cups water. Blend gravy into mayonnaise. Add to meatballs and heat. Makes 45 meatballs. Serves 5 (9 meatballs per serving).

Swedish Meatballs Reduced-Fat Recipe

GAZPACHO

- 1 clove garlic
- 2 cups chopped peeled fresh tomatoes
- ½ cup diced green pepper
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 large cucumber, pared and chopped
- 1 cup V-8 juice
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- salt and pepper
- dash of Tabasco
- ½ cup crisp croutons

Cut garlic in half and rub onto bottom and sides of large bowl. Add tomatoes, cucumber, green pepper, onion, tomato juice, olive oil and vinegar to bowl and stir until evenly mixed. Season to taste with salt, pepper and Tabasco. Chill in refrigerator at least one hour before serving. Serve soup in chilled bowls and top each with a few croutons. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Recipe from La Petit Fleur in Birmingham.

BLACK BEAN SALSA

- 1 can (15 ounces) black beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 can (4½ ounces) chopped ripe olives, drained
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

- 2 tablespoons lime juice
  - ¼ teaspoon salt
  - 1 tablespoon chili powder
  - ¼ teaspoon ground cumin
  - ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Mix beans, olives, onion, garlic, oil, lime juice, salt, cumin and pepper. Cover and refrigerate 2 hours.

Recipe from La Petit Fleur in Birmingham.

TARRAGON DRESSING

- 1¼ cups vinegar
- 1¼ teaspoons dry mustard
- 2½ cups salad oil
- 4 teaspoons crushed garlic
- 2½ teaspoons salt
- 2½ teaspoons pepper
- ¼ cup capers
- 1¼ cups honey
- 2½ teaspoons tarragon
- 5 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
- 5 teaspoons chives
- large splash of lemon juice

Whisk together the lemon juice, mustard, olive oil, garlic, salt and pepper. Add tarragon and blend well. When ready to serve, add parsley, chives and capers; mix well. Toss with assorted lettuces and serve with red onion, dries cherries and honey roasted peanuts. Also good with assorted seasonal fruits such as raspberries, peaches, blueberries and strawberries.

This is the house dressing offered by La Petit Fleur in Birmingham.

POLKA DOT CHICKEN PASTA SALAD

- 6 ounces uncooked no-egg pasta, any shape (half of a 12-ounce package or 1 cup)
- 1 cup cooked chicken or turkey, skin and fat removed, cut into ½-inch chunks
- 1 red Delicious apple, unpeeled and rinsed
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 celery stalk
- 3 green onions
- 1 medium carrot
- ¼ cup drained pineapple tidbits, canned in fruit juice
- ½ cup raisins
- ¼ cup low-fat lemon yogurt
- ¼ cup reduced-calorie mayonnaise
- ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon ground white pepper
- Lettuce (optional)

Cook pasta according to instructions on package, leaving out butter and salt. After pasta is cooked, drain in sink and rinse with cold water. Pour drained pasta into a large bowl. Add chicken or turkey and toss with a wooden spoon. Set aside.

Cut apple into quarters and remove seeds and core. Cut apples into ¼-inch chunks. Place apple in a small bowl, add lemon juice and toss to coat apples evenly.

Rinse celery and dry with paper towels. Cut celery into thin slices to make about ¼ a cup. Rinse and cut green portions of onions, and discard white part. Add apple, celery and green onions to pasta mixture and toss.

Peel and grate carrot and add to pasta mixture. Drain pineapple and add to pasta. Add raisins to pasta and toss to combine.

In a medium bowl, combine yogurt, mayonnaise, lemon rind, salt and pepper for dressing. Mix with wire whisk until evenly blended. Add dressing to pasta and with a rubber spatula stir to combine. Cover and refrigerate for several hours before serving. Can be served on a bed of lettuce.

BRIGHT PINK FRUIT DIP

- 1 10-ounce package sweetened raspberries, defrosted
- ½ cup (4 ounces) softened cream cheese
- 1 cup firm yogurt
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice

Place raspberries, including all their liquid, and cream cheese in a blender or food processor and puree until uniform. Transfer to a bowl. Add yogurt and lemon juice and whisk until it is all one color. Pour the dip into a bowl (or into individual small bowls). Cut spears of cantaloupe, honeydew, fresh firm bananas and apple and pear slices.

Recipe from Pretend Soup and Other Real Recipes by Mollie Katzen and Ann Henderson.

she said. "You can freeze juice boxes to keep things cold and enjoy as a cold drink. I cut up apples and put lemon juice on the slices to keep them from turning brown. We make our own snack mix with gold fish crackers, Fruit Loops, raisins, Cheerio's and nuts. I just look to see what's in the cupboards and toss something together. Chocolate chips and M&Ms are good to toss in, but they can get messy."

Her children like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, but sometimes Cox adds a little zip by mixing peanut butter with applesauce.

Dale Allmayer of Farmington, executive chef for La Petite Fleur, a catering and carryout business at 818 Bowers in Birmingham has plenty of good ideas for pick-up-and-go dinners and lunches.

"Hollow out an orange to make a basket for fruit salad," suggests Allmayer. "Fill it with blueberries, strawberries, raspberries and grapes."

"Rolled sandwiches made with flat bread will hold up very nicely. They won't get soggy. Fill them with chicken salad made with dried cherries instead of grapes or with avocado, lettuce, tomato, and sprouts."

Other good sandwich combinations are turkey, roast beef or ham with honey mustard.

His children, Lauren, 9, and Sydney, 3, like the sandwiches he makes by cutting out bread shapes with cookie cutters. He fills them with their favorites — peanut butter and jelly or tuna fish. Dale Allmayer prepared the foods featured in our photo at La Petite Fleur.

Dale's parents, Wilma and Bruce Allmayer of Farmington Hills have years of experience packing picnic suppers. "We packed the sandwich fixings and bread separately and made our own sandwiches at the park," said Bruce Allmayer. "Chunks of ice last longer than a bag of ice, and you can use the water for drinking or cleaning up. We made our own chunks of ice by rinsing out milk cartons, filling them with water, and freezing overnight."

Some other picnic ideas Dale Allmayer offers are to stuff seasonal vegetables with seasoned cheese, make fruit kebabs and serve them with a dip.

Mike Thibault and Don Moore of the Cook's Garden Cafe in Birmingham like to pack a lot of fresh fruit for picnics. For a dip, they use nonfat yogurt with granola and ground pecans. "Use lots of fresh herbs," said Thibault. "Make a potato salad with red skin potatoes, carrots, celery, Vidalia onions and a vinegar and oil dressing."

Hard cheeses like Swiss, mild cheddar, Colby, are their choices to pack with crackers and bread because they hold up well.

Instead of the usual pasta salad with curly noodles and mayo, Ron Coucke of Cookie's carryout and catering, 35558 Grand River, Farmington Hills, (810) 473-8300 recommends trying different shapes of pasta like sea shell or bowtie. Mix pasta with chunks of turkey, grilled chicken, and try different kinds of sauces.

Or, as Coucke says with a chuckle, get to know caterers. "You'd be surprised at what they can do, and it doesn't have to cost a lot of money," he said.

In addition to catering lunches, dinners and special events, La Petite Fleur offers box lunches. They also offer carryout items at 818 Bowers, and recently prepared a box of goodies for a couple headed to a bed and breakfast. For more information, call (810) 642-2491.

One of Cookie's specialties is a candle light picnic dinners for two, complete with china and choice of entrees.

Keep your picnic safe

There are some basic guidelines to follow that will keep your picnic fun and worry free.

- Keep everything clean. It's best to use paper products when proper dish-washing facilities are unavailable.
- Use a well insulated cooler.
- Freeze water in empty milk cartons or use blue ice or freezer pack inserts. Make extra ice.
- Put ice on top of food because the cold will travel down through the food.
- Keep your ice chest out of the sun and avoid unnecessary opening. It's also important to take it out of the car trunk as soon as possible because it is hotter than the outdoors.
- Do not re-use leftovers from a picnic. Eat the food there or throw it out if it cannot be kept very cold.
- Pre-freeze everything possible, such as boxed drinks, hamburger patties, chicken or other uncooked meats. Salmonella is possible when chicken cannot be kept cold enough.

- Do not leave any food out in the hot sun. Put the food out and eat it. Cooked food should only be left out one hour in 90-degree heat. Under 90 degrees, two hours is the rule.
- Do not save marinade from raw poultry or meat, or re-use same utensil for serving purposes.
- Leave cream-filled desserts, custards and mayonnaise high-protein combination foods at home. Mayonnaise itself is not the culprit, but the combination of high-protein foods mixed with it is.
- Make sure meat is cooked with no pink showing but also do not over-broil meats on grill. Remove before blackened. Choose low-fat meats.

MILKING IT FOR ALL IT'S WORTH

Many people believe that milk is best source of calcium. In addition, many have shied away from milk products due to the rBGH that the FDA has recently allowed to be injected into dairy cows without any notification on the label for consumers.

While it is true that half of a girl's bone mass is gained between the ages of 12 and 20, it is a matter of great controversy as to the superiority of milk as a source for that calcium. One study says that by increasing a girl's intake of calcium in the amount of 354 mg. of calcium citrate malate, the result was a one percent increase in bone mass per year, which, if maintained over five years, could reduce future fractures due to osteoporosis by 50%. While supplements offer a simple way to be sure calcium intake is adequate, other natural sources include greens (except cooked spinach) and tahini (which is a creamy butter made from sesame seeds).

If your daughters are turning away from milk, it is imperative that you start them on a high quality calcium supplement. The GOOD FOOD CO., a natural food supermarket, offers quality natural foods, along with vitamins, minerals, and supplements to keep you and your family in peak condition. Give us a try — we offer great food at a great price! Please call us with your questions at 981-8100. We are conveniently located at 42615 Ford Rd. Our business hours are Monday through Saturday from 9:00 to 9:00, and Sunday from 10:00 to 6:00. We present this information in the interests of good health for our community.

P.S. Most 12-year-old girls in this country get only 70% of the RDA for calcium.

BAKED STUFFED SQUASH BLOSSOMS

- 1/2 pound (about 1 cup) fresh ricotta cheese
- 3 tablespoons fresh chopped parsley
- a pinch of fresh grated nutmeg
- 3 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
- 1 egg, beaten
- 8 squash blossoms, rinsed
- 2 cups tomato sauce

In a bowl, combine ricotta cheese with parsley, nutmeg, Parmesan and egg. Mix well. Divide mixture evenly and stuff into squash blossoms. Place stuffed blossoms in an oven proof dish and add tomato sauce to the dish. Bake at 325 degrees for 20 minutes and serve immediately. Serves 4 for an entree or 8 for a delicious appetizer.

ROSE FLAVORED VINEGAR

- 3 cups rose petals, stems and heels removed
- 1 quart good quality white vinegar
- 1 quart jar

Place rose petals in the quart jar

and cover with white vinegar. Place in a sunny spot and allow to steep for 2 weeks. If desired, vinegar can be strained and rebottled. Chef's secret: different color roses will make different hues of vinegar. I made mine with white rose buds and no one could discern the "secret" in my vinaigrette.

MARINADE

- 1 cup flower flavored vinegar
- 1 cup sweet red wine (i.e. sweet red vermouth)
- 1 teaspoon crushed coriander seed
- 2 tablespoons dijon flavored mustard
- 4 tablespoons olive oil

Combine all ingredients in a non-reactive bowl and mix well. Pour mixture over beef, chicken or pork and allow to stand at room temperature for 1 hour. Remove meat from marinade and cook as desired. If desired, you can cook down the remaining marinade and flavor with a little lemon juice for an outstanding sauce. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Entertain at a Sunday brunch

AP — A brunch on Sunday is often the best time for relaxed entertaining. After a hectic workweek and a crazed Saturday of running errands, your guests have time to kick back and relax. Plus it also gives the host a little extra time to get ready for company. Following are two egg-based dishes that are suitable for brunch, even if it is just for your immediate family. To complete the menu, add a fruit salad made of cut-up seasonal fresh fruits and a basket of homemade muffins, quick breads or scones.

Here are some other ideas to make your brunch special:

■ Before preparing, add a cinnamon stick to the coffee in the filter of your coffee maker for a delicately spicy brew.

■ Set up a coffee-espresso-tea bar including granulated sugar, brown sugar, honey, whipped cream, milk, lemon wedges and peel, chocolate curls, ground cinnamon and flavored liqueurs such as kahlua and Grand Marnier.

■ Create a theme for the day, beginning with the invitations and carrying right on through to the decorations. For instance, make it a "star-studded" event and use stars as the overall motif for the party. Put miniature sparkling white lights in your houseplants and/or the trees or bushes leading to your home.

■ If you are a collector, display your collectibles as a centerpiece that is sure to start conversation. Seasonal produce also makes an interesting centerpiece. Make sure that guests can see each other over the table decorations so they don't inhibit conversation.

RED PEPPER POTATO FRITTATA

- 4 medium red potatoes (1 pound), scrubbed
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium red bell pepper, seeded and diced
- 8 large eggs, lightly beaten
- 1/4 cup chopped scallions
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water for about 20 minutes, or until they are almost tender (they should resist a little when they are pierced with the point of a sharp knife). Cool slightly. Cut the potatoes into 1/2-inch cubes.

In a large, 10- to 12-inch non-stick skillet, heat 1 tablespoon of the butter. Add potatoes and peppers; saute over medium-high heat 4 to 5 minutes, or until the peppers start to soften.

Meanwhile, in a medium bowl, whisk together the eggs, scallions, salt and pepper until just combined. Preheat the broiler.

Add the remaining 1 tablespoon butter to the skillet, and when it is bubbling, pour in the egg mixture. Stir a little bit until the mixture begins to set, lifting the edge of the frittata to let the uncooked egg run underneath. Then place the skillet under the broiler for 1 to 2 minutes or until the top of the frittata puffs and starts to brown lightly. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

ITALIAN SAUSAGE MUSHROOM STRATA

- 1 pound hot Italian sausage, with casings removed
  - 2 medium onions, sliced
  - 1 pound mushrooms, sliced
  - 1/2 cup sliced scallions
- Enough Italian bread cut into 1-inch cubes to measure

- 9 cups (about 1 1/2 loaves) 3 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
- 12 large eggs, lightly beaten
- 1/4 cups milk
- 3 tablespoons Dijon-style mustard

Butter a 15- by 10- by 2-inch baking dish (4 quarts). In a large skillet, heat the sausage, onions, mushrooms, scallions for about 20 minutes, or until the sausage is cooked and the vegetables are tender. Drain off the fat.

Arrange half of the bread cubes in the prepared baking dish. Spread half of the sausage-vegetable mixture over the bread cubes. Sprinkle half of the Cheddar cheese and half of the Parmesan cheese over the top. Repeat layers.

In a large bowl, whisk together the eggs, milk and mustard. Pour the egg mixture evenly over the strata. Cover and refrigerate the strata overnight.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Bake for 50 to 60 minutes, or until the strata is puffed and golden and cooked through. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Pears and pork are a zesty stir-fry

AP — With a lean cut of pork and a minimum of oil, this kind of frying is well within low-fat eating guidelines. The delightfully bold flavors come from a combo of plum preserves, horseradish, lemon, ginger and a pinch of red pepper.

PORK AND PEAR STIR-FRY

- 1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen pea pods (about 4 ounces)
- 1 pound pork tenderloin
- 1/2 cup plum preserves
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 2 teaspoons grated gingerroot
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 1 medium yellow or green sweet pepper, cut into julienne strips
- 1 medium pear, cored and sliced
- 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
- 1 to 2 tablespoons sliced almonds, toasted (optional)

Hot cooked rice

Thaw pea pods, if frozen. Cut pork into thin bite-size strips. Set aside.

For sauce, in a small bowl stir together preserves, soy sauce, lemon juice, horseradish, cornstarch and red pepper. Set aside.

In a wok or large skillet stir-fry gingerroot in hot oil for 15 seconds over medium-high heat. (Add more oil if necessary during cooking.) Add sweet pepper and pear; stir-fry for 1 1/2 minutes more. Remove vegetables from wok. Add pork to wok; stir-fry for 2 to 3 minutes or until no longer pink. Push pork from center of wok. Stir sauce; add to wok. Cook and stir until bubbly. Add water chestnuts. Return vegetables to wok; stir to coat. Cook and stir about 2 minutes more. Top with pea pods; cover and heat through. Sprinkle with almonds, if desired. Serve with hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Don't get mud on your shoes

...until you've called our new BUILDERS HOT LINE DIRECTORY

It's worth a little mud to find the right new home, but why not check out what's happening in the new home construction business before you trek out into the building fields?

All you have to do is call our new Builders Hot Line Directory number from your touch-tone telephone and take a "talking" tour of what's being offered. A lot of builders plan to include their Hot Line numbers right in their ads, so if you should see an interesting advertisement in the Real Estate section of our classifieds look for the builder's Hot Line number there, too.

PLYMOUTH SPORTS SCENE

Polecats streak

With Joe Saah doing double duty, the Plymouth-Canton Polecats collected their third-straight win in the Washenaw Amateur Baseball Association's Sandy Koufax League (14-year-olds) Wednesday, beating Pinkney 11-6 in Pinkney.

Saah, leading off in the batting order, had four hits in five trips, including two triples, scored three times and drove in another run. He also relieved starter and winner Brad Clifton, who allowed four runs in five innings to improve to 4-2. Saah pitched the final two innings to earn the save.

Joe Wedesky added two hits and four runs batted in to the Polecat attack, and Bryan Boyd had two hits, two RBI and three runs scored. The Polecats had 11 hits total in improving their record to 6-5. Pinkney is 3-6.

Second best

Dolly Vettese of Plymouth matched Doris Rudd stroke for stroke on the back nine during Wednesday's Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament at Warren Valley in Dearborn Heights.

Both shot 43 on the last nine holes. But Rudd's 41 over the opening nine was two shots better than Vettese, who settled for second-best low gross with an 86.

Collegiate baseball wrap

Little Caesars defeated Hines Park, 6-2, in a Livonia Collegiate Baseball League game played Wednesday at Ford Field in Livonia.

Caesars scored three runs in the third inning and winning pitcher Dave Roman (Livonia Franklin and University of Detroit-Mercy) threw a three-hitter with five strikeouts and three walks in a complete game.

Scott Benedict suffered the loss for Hines Park despite allowing only four hits, fanning three and walking one.

Chris Champanois had a two-run single in the third and an RBI single in the seventh for Caesars.

Soccer tryouts

Tryouts for the Typhoons, an under-16½ boys team (birth date: August 1978 to August 1979), are scheduled for 6:30-8:30 p.m. July 7-8 at Bicentennial Park in Livonia. For details call Derek Williford at 477-1932.

The Plymouth Kicks under-14 boys soccer team will have its final tryouts 6-8 p.m. Wednesday at Hines Park.

Recreation news

Sand and volleyball leagues are taking shape in Canton, with the two-man men's league starting June 28 and the four-person co-ed league beginning July 10. Cost for each is $40.

The men's league will play Tuesdays starting at 6:15 p.m.; there is a four-player limit per team. The co-ed league plays Sundays, starting at 1 p.m.; there is an eight-player limit per team.

All matches will be at Heritage Park. Call 397-5110 for more information.

Tennis lessons for all ages, all levels get under way July 11 at Griffin Park Courts.

Cost for the three-week classes (two lessons per week) is $29 for Canton residents, $35 for non-residents.

Kristen Harrison, a certified professional, and her staff will instruct. Ages range from Little Swingers (4-6 years) to adults (16 and over). Call 397-5110 for information.

The first annual Race Day in the Park will be July 16 at Heritage Park. Featured will be the 16th annual five-mile run, a half-mile run for kids and a five-kilometer walk.

Advance registration for the five-mile and five-kilometer $10; late registration is $12. The fun run costs $2. Special long-sleeve shirts will be presented to the first 150 participants in the five-mile and five-kilometer races, with plaques and medals to the top three in each of 10 age groups (men and women) in the run.

Call 397-5110 for details.

Volleyball camps

Registration for Schoolcraft College's summer volleyball camps, conducted by Tom Teeters, comes to a close Friday. The camps are open to both males and females, 8 to 18 years old. There are four camps offered: all skills (July 11-14, July 18-21, July 29-31), setters (July 15-17), spikers (July 22-24) and defense (July 29-31).

Participants can select morning (9 a.m. to noon) or afternoon (1-4 p.m.) sessions. There will be swimming at the end of each day, and each participant will receive a T-shirt. Cost is $75 per camp, or $140 for two camps, $200 for three or $260 for all four. Team rates are also available.

For information, call Tom Teeters at 462-4400, ext. 5252.

DRC's biggest race is canceled

Ladbroke DRC is canceling the famed $250,000 Michigan Mile Handicap horse race, which was scheduled for Saturday, July 16, due to significant attendance and handle losses as a result of the opening of the Windsor Casino in Ontario, Canada.

That announcement was made last week by William J. Bork, executive vice president, Ladbroke DRC in Livonia.

Since the casino opened May 17, attendance at Ladbroke DRC has declined more than 18 percent while handle, the total amount wagered, has dropped nearly 9 percent compared to last year's comparable dates.

The state's entire horse racing industry is in jeopardy as a result of the tracks' inability to compete, Bork said. Smaller track purses and closures of tracks mean less money for horse owners to run their farming operations and pay suppliers, and decreased funds for various 4-H, county fair and agricultural programs, he said.

It is estimated that more than 40,000 jobs and millions in state tax revenue to fund 4-H programs, county fairs and agriculture in Michigan will disappear should horse racing no longer exist.

Michigan track owners, employees, vendors and horsemen organizations have banded together in an effort to save racing by introducing legislation allowing tracks to compete with casinos and other entertainment options.

The decision to cancel this year's Michigan Mile will help to protect the "overnight purse" structure for DRC's horse owners. Horse track purses are divided into two main categories: overnight and stakes. A portion of the total purse money available is set aside for stakes purses, which go toward special stakes races such as the Michigan Mile.

"The substantial attendance and handle losses we've experienced since the opening of the Windsor Casino is depleting money from our existing purse pool," Bork said, "We cannot support a race of the magnitude of the Michigan Mile without seriously harming our overnight purses and, therefore, the races for the rest of the year."

The Michigan Mile, a Grade II event for 3-year-old horses and upward going one and one-eighth miles, began as a $7,500 turf race in 1949 and has been run at DRC every year since that time. The race is the only one like it in the state and is simulcast around the country to more than 30 outlets.

The Michigan Mile's Grade II signifies the high caliber of horses that compete each year, second only to a Grade I race such as the Kentucky Derby. If Ladbroke were to reduce the amount of purse money for the Michigan Mile, the quality of the race and its grade designation would drop, according to Bork.

"While the Michigan Mile has been an extremely prestigious event for us, the fact is we would weaken our everyday purses substantially for one major event," Bork said. "We felt by continuing to support our everyday races, we are supporting more Michigan horses and keeping as much of the money in the state as possible."

The Westland John Glenn coach was the manager of the victorious East team in the 13th annual Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association All-Star Game at Tiger Stadium.

Observerland pitchers Bryan Besco (John Glenn), Dave Susalla (Redford Catholic Central) and Mike Marsella (Plymouth Salem) each threw two scoreless innings as the East beat the West, 4-1.

Hoenes, who led Glenn to a 27-4 record this year, plans to be back next year for his 29th season with the Rockets.

"Everybody gave us two nice innings and it just worked out that way," said Hoenes, who skipped the East squad from the Tiger dugout. "We decided to give Bryan (Besco) the start, give him a couple of at-bats and let him leave early because he had to be back in Battle Creek for a tourney."

"All of our pitchers had decent control and we made all the plays on defense. Everyone looked so smooth."

Besco was the winning pitcher. That makes him 11-1 this season in high school games.

The lefty, headed to University of Michigan next fall, along with his twin brother Derek, gave up a pair of hits, including a first-inning double to Kevin Kernen of Holly.

Kernen, however, was thrown out at third trying to take the extra base.

Hawk clearance: What Henry Ford CC's Hawks need from Erica Anderson is just what she provided Salem — rebounding, defense and basic overall team play.

It won't be the same. Not this fall.

For the eight years prior to this one, as Erica Anderson described it, "If I didn't know anyone else in the gym, I knew Britta."

Since both joined the fifth-grade team at Our Lady of Good Counsel, Erica and Britta Anderson have been more than just cousins. They've been teammates.

They met Plymouth Canton's basketball team to the pinnacle of the Western Lakes Activities Association. They were pivotal parts of a strong senior class that insisted the team win.

"Erica and Britta were kind of typical of our team," said Canton girls basketball coach Bob Blohm. "They're very versatile, they could do everything. The kids had a great career. They were very good role models for us."

The Chiefs were 21-2 last season — which is what it was, their last prep season. In the fall they'll begin their collegiate careers.

Separately, Britta, who led Canton in scoring last season (14.9 points per game) and was second in both rebounding (5.8) and assists (2.2), is headed to Wayne State.

"I like the conference they're in — the GLIAC," said the 5-foot-9 Britta, referring to Wayne's Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. "And I thought (NCAA) Division II would be a good challenge for me."

Other factors played a role in Britta's decision.

State qualifiers lead all-Observer team

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

You could separate one team from the rest when it came to girls golf this season in Observerland.

Farmington Hills Mercy distinguished itself as the area's premier squad by winning 14 of 15 dual meets, the Catholic League championship, and a berth in the state Class A finals.

The Marlins, guided by Observerland Coach of the Year Vicky Kowalski, qualified for the state finals by finishing second in the regional at Sylvan Glen in Troy.

Mercy, led by the only repeat performer on the All-Area squad (Amy Schulkins), placed two on the first team.

Western Lakes Activities Association runner-up Livonia Stevenson also landed two along with Livonia Ladywood, the only team to beat Mercy in a dual meet this season. (The Blazers missed qualifying for the state finals by one place).

Presenting the 1994 All-Observer Girls Golf Team as selected recently in a meeting of area coaches:

FIRST TEAM

Amy Schulkins, junior, Farm. Hills Mercy: The varsity co-captain boasted a nine-hole scoring average of 48 this season, including a low of 40 at Pebble Creek. A medalist in 10 of 15 matches, Schulkins also led the Marlins with a 107 in the state finals and a 94 at the regional, good enough for seventh place.

She added a third in the Monroe-Jefferson Invitational (91) and took a seventh in the Catholic League finals (97).

"Amy practices golf constantly," Mercy coach Vicky Kowalski said. "If she feels she did not hit the ball well with the team, she goes to the driving range that evening."

The highlight of Amy's season was playing in the state finals (at Michigan State's Forest Akers-West) for the third year in a row.

Sommer Woods, junior, Farm. Hills Mercy: The three-year letter winner, a co-captain, averaged 48.5 this season with a low of 46 (vs. Birmingham Marian at Tanglewood).

Her best result occurred in the Catholic League championship when she took medalist honors with a 47. Woods also finished second at Monroe-Jefferson (90) and finished 11th at the regional with a 98.

"Sommer is a very good tournament player, earning medalist honors four times this season," Kowalski said. "The highlight of her season was being Catholic League champion and leading the team to the title."

Sarah Andersen, junior, Liv. Ladywood: The Blazers' team captain averaged 52.1 this season, earning medalist honors three times. She had a low score of 45 against Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes.

Andersen shot a 97 in the regional and finished fourth in the Catholic League with a 49. She added a 101 at the Brighton Invitational.

"Sarah worked very hard to improve her game during the 1994 season, lowering her average by three strokes," Ladywood coach Phil Heyer said. "Sarah is also an excellent student with a 4.18 GPA, ranked number one in her junior class."

Maureen Drabicki, senior, Liv. Stevenson: The Spartans' team captain and MVP took home several honors this season including All-Division in the Western Lakes Activities Association and WLAA Scholar-Athlete Award. She was also voted Stevenson's Top Female Athlete.

In only her second golf season, Drabicki earned medalist honors seven times. She averaged 52.3 per nine holes.

"Miss Drabicki served her team and her school with honor and distinction both as a student and athlete," Stevenson coach John Wagner said. "She has been an intense competitor and a positive example to her teammates on and off the course."

Drabicki, who won seven high school letters at Stevenson, will continue her athletic career on a basketball scholarship at Valparaiso (Ind.) University.

Laura Kowalski, sophomore, Liv. Ladywood: The 10th-grader's score counted in all 15 matches (including tourneys) this season for the Blazers.

She averaged 52.5 with a low of 46 vs. Northville.

Kowalski finished second with a 47 in the Catholic League tournament (losing to Mercy's Woods in a playoff).

She shot a 100 at the Brighton Invitational and a 102 at the Class A regional.

"Laura has an excellent future in golf, being only a sophomore," Heyer said. "She works at her game year-round. She is also an excellent student with a 4.14 GPA."

Kelly Kristy, freshman, Liv. Stevenson:

The ninth-grader made an impressive showing in her inaugural high school season with an average of 52.1.

She was medalist at the Stevenson Invitational and took All-Conference honors in the Western Lakes by finishing second with a score of 101.

Kristy was also named Stevenson's Rookie of the Year.

"Kelly was the most consistent low-scoring golfer on our team this season,"

Wagner said. "Her skills are solid; her work ethic exceptional and her desire and spirit will most certainly be of great importance to the future of our girls golf team for the next three years at Stevenson."

Katie Collins, freshman, Ply. Salem: Another rising star, Collins was the Rocks' foundation and most consistent golfer this season.

She finished 12th at the Class A regional with a 97 — lowest score among all Observerland-area golfers — and took second with a 101 in the Western Lakes meet to her sister, Kelly, en-route to All-Conference honors. A junior, Kelly was the Western Lakes medalist with a 96.

According to coach Jim Stevens, Katie was medalist "in more than half her dual meets" and had a nine-hole average of 51.7. She also shot an impressive 47 against Farmington Hills Mercy.

All-Stars from page 1C

"It's a great opportunity to start . . . I love that," said Besco, who hadn't thrown since Glenn was ousted in the regional on June 11. "I felt good even though my back was a little sore."

"I was nervous because I knew I was playing against the best players in the state. The five, six, seven, eight and nine batters are just as good as the first four."

Besco, who participated in a tryout camp last year with his brother at Tiger Stadium, knew what to expect.

It also helped that Hoenes was nearby.

"It makes it a lot more comfortable having someone to talk to," Bryan said. "And the mound is great to pitch on. You can't go wrong."

Marsella pitched the fifth and sixth innings after Susalla held the West scoreless in the third and fourth.

"I felt good," said Marsella, a smooth-shooting right-hander who is still up in the air about his college choice. "I used a fastball, a curve and a split-finger."

"The mound is a little lower than Salem's, but a hole doesn't develop when you step down. I guess it's better dirt they use."

He also found the stadium intriguing.

"Once you're on the mound you're concentrating on the batter, but once in awhile you get caught looking around because it's so big and spacious," Marsella said.

The Salem hurler also got a crack at the plate in the fifth, fouling off several pitches before striking out.

"I was just trying to make contact," he said. "I just didn't want to strike out."

Besco, who hit 11 homers this season for Glenn, went hitless in his two plate appearances.

"I've been pressing in summer ball," he said. "I wanted to get ahead of one and send one out."

One Observerland player who found aluminum was Redford Thurston's Jeff Lance, a second baseman headed for Henry Ford Community College.

He delivered an RBI triple to right field to give the East its first run.

The East added another run in the third and one more in the eighth on a double by Detroit Southeastern's speedy Ed Gregori.

DRC from page 1C

The Michigan Division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA) has indicated its support of the action based on Ladbroke's assessment of the situation.

"We concur with Ladbroke DRC's decision to cancel the 1994 Michigan Mile," said David Darby, president of the Michigan Division HBPA. "We are hopeful that the Mile will return in 1995 and that the entire horse-racing industry will get the legislation it needs to continue."

Ladbroke DRC, the union representing its employees; vendors; the horsemen; and the other seven Michigan racetracks are supporting legislation which would give horse racing an opportunity to compete with such entertainment options as casinos and the state lottery.

The legislation would allow simulcasting and video gaming terminals (VGTs) at the racetracks. Simulcasting means that in between live races, TV screens at the tracks broadcast races from other tracks and take bets on them.

VGTs are betting machines people can play on the track premises, identical to those found at casinos. Except for very limited simulcasts, neither of these options is allowed under current regulations.

Andersons from page 1C

She's a somewhat questionable NCAA Division I talent, which means she'd have to walk on and work her way up the roster, a process that could take a couple of years before it results in playing time.

Division II would be better suited to her, Britta felt — simply because she wants to play right away. Of course, it was also important that WSU had the field of study she was interested in pursuing, physical therapy.

"I think Britta will start immediately," predicted Blohm. "What Wayne State needs right now is just good basketball players. She'll fit into that mold."

Central Michigan was where Britta thought about walking on. Other Division II schools that expressed an interest were Grand Valley State and Northern Michigan.

Erica had fewer choices — although she led Canton in rebounding (8.6) and assists (2.8), was second in steals (1.5), third in scoring (9.0) and led the team in field goal percentage (54.6 percent).

"Siena Heights or Madonna," Erica said, listing the four-year schools that showed an interest. Siena Heights wanted her to play both basketball and soccer, but Erica wasn't sure that's what she wanted to do. Also, Siena didn't offer the field of study Erica wanted — pre-med.

So Erica decided upon Henry Ford Community College, where she'll play for Dan Henry. "This way, if I don't like (playing) I can stop after two years," Erica said. "If I don't like it I can leave."

Erica's thoughts toward college are hardly just athletically-based: "I just want to get through as fast as I can and as cheaply as I can."

Blohm had high hopes for Erica's playing career. "She'll be playing for a good coach in Dan Henry. I think Erica will go on to a four-year school and play."

Heading in different directions won't be easy for the longtime teammates who have also played soccer together since third grade.

"We had this dream in the eighth grade," said Britta, "that we'd both go to UCLA and play basketball. We'd get a dual scholarship or something."

That won't happen, but their playing days are far from over. "It'll be different," Britta said of the separation. "We'll get over it, but it'll be different."

Lanes close; a friend lost

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

It's like saying goodbye to an old friend. But how do you say goodbye to a 48-lane bowling center?

West Bloomfield Lanes, opened by Larry Sisson in 1976, has been sold to the Barnes & Noble Co., which will soon open the largest bookstore in the world.

The last ball will be thrown Friday, July 1.

West Bloomfield Lanes was unique. Under the innovative leadership of Sisson, this center became one of the nation's busiest and led the nation in daytime traffic according to Brunswick Corp. statistics.

They also led the way in charity events, leading the state every year in the BCA Bowler's Charities. According to Sisson, the success of West Bloomfield Lanes was due to his employees who "helped me as much as I helped them."

It was very important that all customers were treated right, that they enjoyed the amenities and the bowling house offered. General Manager Laura Burns was invaluable in coordinating the many corporate parties that took place, while Ed Harris and Angela Swan worked to see the bowlers had fun.

Mae Davis has been the babysitter since the place first opened and has since gone through three generations of kids to care for while the mom was bowling. Norm Buyikian and Gary Suchanek kept all the automatic pinsetters in good working order and are considered among the best pin mechanics around. Norm has actually been with Sisson for 40 years.

Taryn Tucker has been a blessing as the beverage and assistant corporate party planner.

Last year, West Bloomfield Lanes had 4,087 league customers. Add to that the uncounted open bowlers and the idea soon hits that the loss of this house will leave a huge void in this part of Oakland County. Where will all these people go to enjoy their sport?

Laura Burns has been working with other area establishments to place as many of their customers in suitable times and places as possible. Many leagues have been going on since they first opened such as Michigan Bell, Adcraft, Compuware and B'Nai Brith Pishgah Lodge to mention a few.

They also came up with some innovative leagues such as the Bad Bowlers League and the Flex a Bowl which attracted 197 bowlers who would bowl weekly when they could find time, report scores on the honor system and work within a league system, including a weekly sheet.

There were many celebrities who bowled here, including sports figures such as Bill Laimbeer, Isaiah Thomas, Gordie Howe, Sergei Federov, Shawn Burr, Bob Probert, Alan Trammell and Wayne Gretzky. Lady Pro bowlers Cheryl Daniels and Aleta Sill practiced there.

Sisson only had one formula for success and that was to "keep the customers happy."

In the final week, all who bowled at West Bloomfield Lanes are invited to come in and bowl for free. There's unlimited bowling for all until the doors close and that's Sisson's way of saying goodbye. Don't be surprised if a new place opens to replace West Bloomfield Lanes.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...

WITH COUPON - EXPIRES 7-31-94 - MARCH TIRE CO.

HOROSCOPE

By C. C. Clark

Aries (March 21 - April 20)
It might be a good idea to think about what you say before you say it. Words could get you in more trouble than you ever imagined if you are not careful.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)
There is someone who wants to help you out of a situation, but this person isn't sure how to go about it. Open your heart and mind to new possibilities.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)
A situation may not be as clear-cut as it looks. Check the details carefully and leave no task undone. You have what it takes to do the job.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)
The scales of justice may not lean in your favor this time. Patience will be needed. You should stay away from stressful situations.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)
There is a good chance you are going to receive something that you have wanted for a long time. Take time to appreciate those around you.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)
You will share your goodwill with those closest to you. Keep an eye on your financial statements, but there is no need to be stingy.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)
You may receive a message concerning a new job opportunity or promotion. Good news is also on the way concerning a family member.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)
While your family life may be deficient in some ways, for the most part things are going well. You may think about learning a new hobby or trade.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)
A love relationship may have taken a different turn or may have become stale. Liven things up with a shot of good old-fashioned romance.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

A time of depression and anxiety will be ending, and it doesn't come a moment too soon. It is time to take a look at your life and make some changes.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
A foolish choice could send you down the wrong path. Listen to your heart and do what you know is right. There is a new love interest on the way.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)
Life never seems to go quite the way you plan, but you make the best of it. When you really think about it, things aren't too bad.

Big Four networks gear up for 1994-95 ratings battle

BY JOHN CROOK

Watch for ABC to pull into first place next season, based on the fall TV lineup recently unveiled by all four networks.

ABC's victory seems likely as the network plays it relatively safe, adding a spartan six new primetime series to its fall lineup.

Among the missing are "America's Funniest People," "Phenom," "Thea," "George," "Birdland" and "Byrds of Paradise." "Matlock" and "Sister, Sister" are expected to return midseason.

New series include: "On Our Own," with six real-life siblings playing a family of orphans: "Blue Skies," a sitcom starring Corey Parker ("Flying Blind"); comic Steve Harvey in "Me and the Boys"; "All-American Girl" with Asian-American comic Margaret Cho; "My So-Called Life" starring Bess Armstrong, from the "thirtysomething" team; and "McKenna" with Chad Everett.

"These Friends of Mine" has a new title ("Ellen"), while "Thunder Alley" has axed mom Diane Venora (the part is being recast).

CBS, striving to minimize damage from Fox's raid on its affiliates, keeps Sundays and Tuesdays intact, but drops "Evening Shade" on Mondays in favor of "The Boys Are Back," with Hal Linden and Suzanne Pleshette.

Two freshman series, "Daddy's Girls" with Dudley Moore and "Touched by an Angel," a gender-switched "Highway to Heaven"-esque drama, are on Wednesday.

"Christie" will return as a mid-season replacement, losing its Thursday berth to "Due South," the Canadian Mountie series. Also new on Thursday is "Chicago Hope," a hospital drama from David E. Kelley ("Picket Fences").

The police mystery "Under Suspicion" joins the lineup on Fridays (replacing "Burke's Law," which will return later). "The Five Mrs. Buchanans," Judith Ivey's new sitcom, fills half the slot vacated by "Harts of the West" on Saturday, along with the last-minute-reprieved "Hearts Afire."

Missing in action are "The Road Home" and "Tom," as well as "In the Heat of the Night," which will air only as four two-hour TV movies.

NBC brazenly moves "Wings" and "Frasier" (with "The Martin Short Show" sandwiched in between them) from Thursdays to Tuesdays, opposite ABC favorites "Full House" and "Roseanne" - fueling industry speculation that Roseanne Arnold's highly publicized personal travails may leave her series vulnerable to strong challenger. Expect NBC to move "Frasier" to a safer berth, however, if ratings drop too sharply.

"Earth 2," a new Steven Spielberg series, joins "seaQuest DSV" on Sundays. "The Cosby Mysteries" gets a Wednesday berth.

On Thursdays, "Mad About You" and "Seinfeld" are joined by Courteney Cox in "Friends," "Madman of the People" with Dabney Coleman and "E.R.," a medical drama from Michael Crichton ("Jurassic Park").

"Dateline NBC 2" precedes the reprieved "Homicide" on Fridays, while "Young at Heart" with Gene Wilder and "Sweet Justice" with Melissa Gilbert and Cicely Tyson are new on Saturday.

Among the missing are "Nurses," "Winnetka Road," "Saved by the Bell," "Getting By," "Cafe American" and "The Mommies," which may return later.

Fox, flush with its new VHF affiliates and seven-nights-a-week programming (plus the NFL games), moves "The Simpsons" to Sunday, slides "Martin" and "Living Single" to Thursday and adds several new dramas:

The spy caper "Fortune Hunter," starring Mark Frankel, formerly of "Sisters"; "Party of Five," yet another "orphans" drama; Linda Gray in "Models, Inc.," the superhero series "M.A.N.T.I.S.," and "Uptown Undercover," a New York variation on "Miami Vice."

Also new are two sitcoms, "Hardball" with Dann Florek (Dave Meyer from "L.A. Law") and a Generation X comedy, "Wild Oats." "The Critic," dumped by ABC, is set to be a midseason replacement for Fox.

Casualties include "Roc," "In Living Color," "Sinbad," "The George Carlin Show" (which may be back), "South Central," "Herman's Head" and the acclaimed but low-rated "The Adventures of Brisco County, Jr."

U.S. vs. Romania looks even on paper

BY SARA BENNETT

With the World Cup well under way and the round of 16 soon to be decided, the U.S. team faces an imposing Romanian team Sunday, June 26, live on ABC.

All 52 games of the tournament are being carried, mostly live, by ABC, ESPN and ESPN2 through the final on July 17.

The U.S. players have to contain Romanian midfielders Ilie Dumitrescu and Gheorghe Hagi if they want to gain three points in the group standings (three for a win, one for a tie, zero for a loss).

Romania comes off a strong 1990 World Cup performance, having advanced to the round of 16 before being beaten by Ireland on penalty kicks.

"Romania, we've got a shot to beat," says ESPN play-by-play man Bob Ley. "But we've got a lot of things to iron out in the defense."

"They always have great individual players," observes analyst Ty Keough, who will team with Ley for the network's continuing coverage of the World Cup. "The Romanians probably on paper are not as ominous (as other members of the group). Sometimes they don't seem to be as well organized as a team."

Perhaps the U.S. team will find the holes, score a few goals and wind up in the Sweet 16.

Monday on HBO, Drew Barrymore is the kind of "Poison Ivy" that makes you do more than itch.

HIGHLIGHTS

Linda Gray stars in "Models, Inc.," the newest series from prolific TV producer Aaron Spelling ("Melrose Place," "Beverly Hills, 90210"), premiering Wednesday, June 29, on Fox.

Hillary Michaels (Gray) is the owner and CEO of the successful modeling agency Models, Inc.

After abandoning her husband and daughter years ago to focus on her career, Hillary now attempts to transfer the love she once had for her family to the models who work for her.

Active Reynolds loves his work on 'Days'

BY CANDACE HAVENS

James Reynolds has worked as a news reporter, film reviewer, dock worker, orange picker and, most notably, as police Capt. Abe Carver on "Days of Our Lives" for the past 11 years. His life experiences have made Reynolds the man he is today: talented, kind and generous.

In the last 10 years Reynolds has been involved in more than 300 fund-raising events. He is the host of an annual bowl-athon for the National Asthma Center and a celebrity basketball game in South Pasadena, Calif., for the city's schools.

Despite his heavy schedule, the actor also finds time to head La Famille Films, a film and television company. He has been encouraged by the success of recent hit Westerns, because it is his favorite genre.

"I have always been a fan of Westerns, and I'm working on some ideas for a couple of movies now," says Reynolds.

With his wife, actress Lisa Layng, Reynolds also owns a company called Classes Unlimited. It is a learning center with facilities in South Pasadena and Sherman Oaks, Calif. They offer classes in Spanish, novel writing, wedding consulting and more.

Reynolds admits that his job on "Days" is one of his main priorities, and he enjoys playing Abe.

"He is full of purpose and integrity, and for the most part he is always on top of situations," says the actor. "He is one of those guys who can observe the undercurrents in a room and figure out what is going on right away."

Contrary to the rumors that there are huge egos and even bigger fights on the set of "Days," Reynolds says he finds it a very enjoyable place to work.

"I've worked here for several years, and it has always been a nice place to work. The actors are great, as are the production people."

"I've been in places where you were afraid to open the door because you never knew what the set was going to be like, but this isn't one of them," Reynolds says.

The actor also enjoys playing basketball and racquetball. Reynolds and his wife have a 14-year-old son, Jed.
