Accidents close M-14 Saturday

Plymouth Township police reported that M-14 was closed for about 1 1/2 hours late Saturday morning due to minor accidents and fender benders.

None of the accidents were considered serious and none involved serious injuries, said a police spokesman.

When the accidents were cleared, the roadway was reopened to traffic.

Is there a sixth grader living in your house?

We'd like to meet him or her. The Observer Newspapers staff is putting together a series on pre-teen life. We want to know how area kids feel about school, their families, friends - and their perceptions about their world and the adult world they'll be a part of in a few, short years.

We're interested in the fun stuff too - like video games, sports, music, clothes and fast food.

We're setting up a panel discussion at our office in February, with panel members chosen from Observer communities.

Additional stories will focus on a typical day for an average sixth grader and pre-teen "style." We'll even let some of our subjects turn the camera on themselves, giving readers a up-close look from a sixth grader's perspective.

If your child is interested in participating, please call Tedd Schneider at (313) 459-2700 during business hours or fax us at (313) 459-4224 with your name and daytime phone number.

Fourteen Plymouth and Canton teens are going to Washington for President Bill Clinton's inauguration Jan. 20, to perform with the Mid American All Star Pompon Team.

"I'm really excited," said Stacey

Barbosa, a Plymouth Salem High junior from Plymouth who is also on the Rockettes pompon team. "I've never been there before, we're going to do sightseeing and stuff."

"I was so excited, I was overwhelmed," said Rockettes captain Kelley See of Canton, upon learning the Mid American team - she's also a member - was invited to perform. "It's going to be so much fun."

The Mid American team, selected at pompon summer camp programs at Grand Valley State College, will perform to the John Mellencamp song "R-O-C-K in the U.S.A."

Are you ready for some ice, bud? The carvers are arriving, the ice is on its way, and preparations are on track for the 15th Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular, which opens Wednesday.

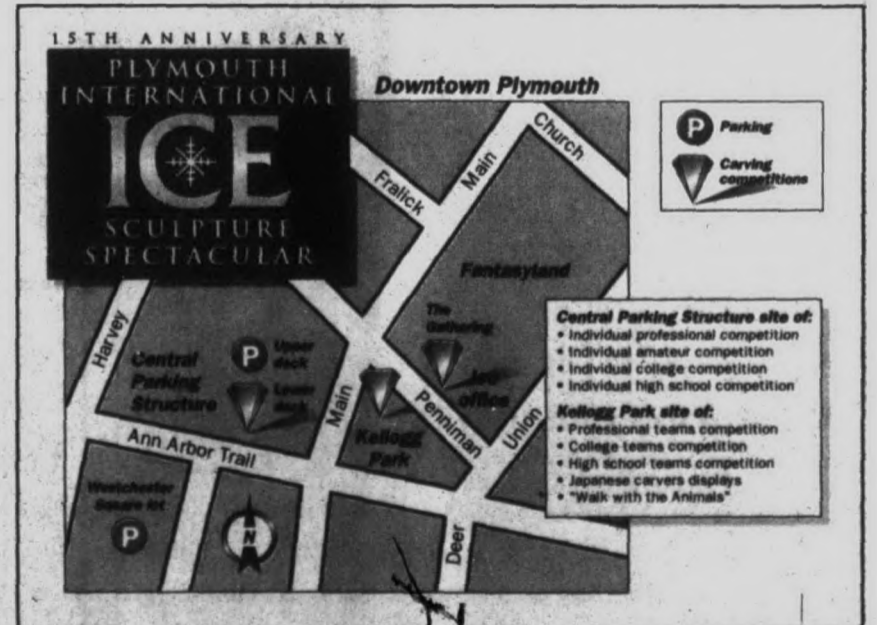

The weather is also cooperating, so far. Nighttime low temperatures Tuesday were to hover around 10 degrees, the National Weather Service reported.

This year, 80 sculptures will be displayed on downtown streets, in addition to those displayed in prime exhibit places - Kellogg Park and the lower level of the central parking deck.

Of those street sculptures, event coordinator Mike Watts said, "If it looks like a child designed it, they probably did." That's because several were designed by students at Smith Elementary School, then carved by culinary art students at Henry Ford Community College.

Help sought for poor school-labor relations

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Labor relations between administrators and union employees in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are so poor that the district wants to hire a consultant to work on the problem.

Superintendent Charles Little told the board of education last week that teachers union president

"Chuck Portelli and I - in an effort to improve contract negotiations and day-to-day labor relations - have interviewed four groups of individuals who can provide guidance, input and direction as to how we can improve in both areas."

Little warned trustees that it's an expensive proposition. "I don't want anyone to be stunned by the amount of money that may have to be spent.

"We're talking about a fee in the $1,300 - $2,000 per day range. I see this as a lot of meetings with the consultant. No one has said they'll analyze this in a two-day session," said the superintendent. "There needs to be some real frank discussion and evaluation done of things that aren't going to lend themselves to public discussion."

Portelli, president of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association, concurred. "It's not cheap. Everyone we've talked to is pointing in one direction. No one is low-balling anyone else. They're all pretty expensive."

Acrimony grew in 1996 as contract negotiations that began last winter dragged on into October. After a settlement was reached, PCEA leader-

City officials are mulling upping recreation fees for township residents

BY KEVIN BROWN

Plymouth city officials are talking again about raising softball, soccer and other recreation fees charged to Plymouth Township residents.

City Manager Steve Walters said the city administration is putting together a report for Plymouth city commissioners, to be presented at their meeting Jan. 21.

The report, Walters told commissioners, "Will discuss how this impacts the budget. We're looking at two quarters of continuing to operate under a deficit."

City officials approved some increases in recreation fees for non-city residents last spring, as the annual city budget was put together. After protests from the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, city commissioners agreed to put the increases on hold, pending a resolution of the issue.

But after waiting for three quarters of the fiscal year - in which the city subsidized recreation with $75,000 from the general fund - Walters said the time has come to raise non-city resident fees.

"We can't go through another two quarters in the same position, the tax dollars just aren't there for the city," Walters said.

Township Supervisor Kathleen Keen McCarthy couldn't be reached for comment Friday on the proposed fee increase.

When city officials first announced they'd increase fees last spring, the city commission and township board began meeting once or twice monthly, to find a way around the fee increase.

Both sides agreed to pay for a community-wide recreation survey to determine if residents wanted recreation programs paid for by government or by private user fees.

They also agreed to a review of recreation opportunities provided around the community, by the YMCA, churches, the schools, Ply-

Jaycees offer award in honor of Mary Childs

BY JOANNE MALISZEWSKI
STAFF WRITER

Anyone who knew former Plymouth Mayor Mary Childs would undoubtedly remember her dedication to improve her community:

In honor of Childs, who died Oct. 9, 1996, the Plymouth-Canton Jaycees will present an annual award to a local resident for outstanding civic involvement.

"It is definitely in her honor," said Tim Fedewa, Jaycees management development vice president. "The recipient should be someone who espouses to make the community a better place like she did."

The Mary Childs Memorial Award grew out of the Jaycees' annual Distinguished Service Awards program, which recognizes outstanding local police, firefighters, emergency medical technicians, teachers and religious leaders.

"It was sort of a spirit of the moment thing," Fedewa said.

The Jaycees are asking residents in the Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township to nominate anyone whom they believe should be recognized for their contributions to the communities.

Nominations may be made in writing by Jan. 31 to P.O. Box 700123, Plymouth, 48170, Attn: DSA Committee.

"They should include the reasons why they are nominating the person," Fedewa said. "It is basically to honor someone who has made the community a better place to live much like Mary did."

The recipient will be honored at the Jaycee Recognition Dinner March 1 at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton. The Jaycees also will present their annual Distinguished Service Awards.

Childs was well-known as Plymouth's goodwill ambassador and community activist, who did all she could to promote Plymouth. She served as mayor 1979-81.

Childs was instrumental in bringing Tonquish Creek Manor and Plymouth Opportunity

House (for mentally retarded adults) to Plymouth.

When her sons visited, Childs, who was also a substitute teacher, would proudly point out Plymouth's green belts, trees and flowers.

Said one of her sons: "Everyone who comes in here has some special way in which Mom touched them. She knew how to get things done. She was one of the most politically astute people around."

ship recommended working in a formal way to improve poor labor relations.

Little and Portelli expect to recommend the hiring of a specific consultant at the next board meeting, set for 7 p.m., Jan. 14 in the board office at 454 S. Harvey, Plymouth.

Board treasurer Sue Davis asked, "Have we defined any expectations regarding the outcome of this process? How do we measure our investment? We're talking a lot of time and a lot of money."

Little said, "We want to have negotiations in the future be much more amenable. Secondly, we want day-to-day operations to be less contentious. We will be starting from scratch in a lot of areas. That's how de-railed we are in some situations. In our organizational behavior, we aren't acting like we're 24; we're acting like we're 10."

Among the ongoing disputes are substitutes' pay; building assignments; seniority issues; and long-standing grievances.

In some cases, teachers are refusing to take on non-contractual duties for which they formerly volunteered. For example, sixth-grade teachers at West Middle School have decided not to take students to overnight science camp this year.

Board president Mark Horvath agreed with Davis that there needs to be a way to measure progress along the way "before we are going to commit to spending $50,000 or $60,000."

Board vice president Mike Maloney agreed. "I don't want to embark on an expensive process if we're not going to get results. Is there a way we can set aside a small amount of money and then assess whether we are going where we want to go?"

Carrie Blamer, board secretary, said, "If relations are so bad, maybe this isn't the time. If we don't have buy-in, there's no reason to do this."

"You have the PCEA leadership's buy-in," said Portelli, adding that labor relations are on a "downhill slide. We think the problem is serious enough that it's only going to get worse if something isn't done."

"It's part of our commitment to education and keeping the art of ice carving alive and well in our area," Watts said.

The event even has its own web site <http://oeonline.com/plymouthice>.

"We've had a very good season in fundraising, there's more stuff we're able to do this year than in the last 10 years, it should be one of the best ever," Watts said.

Each day, Farmer Jack's Fantasyland "A Walk with the Animals" will be displayed along with the Bud Ice 24-Hour Light Show in Kellogg Park.

Another prime festival event is the Celebrity Carving Competition at 5:30 p.m. Thursday in The Gathering off of Kellogg Park. Celebrities this year include DJ Danny Bonaduce and Channel 7 weatherman Chris Bradley, who'll do a weather report on live TV from the competition.

Beginning Wednesday, Main Street will be closed between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman.

"We're asking as many people as possible to leave their lights on so people who are visiting can find their way around, and find their cars," Watts said.

When getting ready to get out and view sculptures - especially if it's cold as festival organizers hope - Watts suggests wearing several layers of clothing. "You should even wear some nylon to keep the wind from blowing through your clothing," he said. Hats and insulated boots are also recommended to retain heat. Four-color sweatshirts commemorating the 15th ice festival will be on sale at downtown booths, to raise money to support the event.

Walking maps will also be available, as will horse and carriage rides through Northville Carriage.

Festival goers can also fill out forms to qualify them for a gift basket. Prizes include airline tickets to Chicago through Carlson Wagonlit Travel of Plymouth, and a year's supply of Lipton Brisk ice tea.

Festival organizers urge those attending to seek parking in some larger lots. They include the area behind Westchester Square, the upper central parking deck and the lot behind Central Middle School.

If you're not bothered by walking several blocks, organizers suggest parking at West Middle School on Sheldon Road at Ann Arbor Trail, or East Middle School off of Lilley Road north of Ann Arbor Road. There will be limited street parking available in residential areas near downtown.

Those seeking food or warm drinks can seek out restaurants and coffeehouses downtown along Main, Penniman, Ann Arbor Trail and Forest.

For more information on the festival, call Watts-Up at 459-6969 or Plymouth City Hall at 453-1234.

mouth Cultural Center and Schoolcraft College.

Walters said the city can't wait for the survey results to come in before acting. "It's just a dollar thing," he said.

If approved by city commissioners, a recreation fee for township residents would take effect this spring.

"An equitable financial solution would be a joint general fund contribution partly by the township and partly by city," he said.

Fees would increase from 50-100 percent for activities now costing township residents $20 to $50.

Walters said he expects the fee increase will turn off some township users, who could choose not to pay the increase. "What will happen is we'll have a big drop in participation and some programs will be terminated - it's a dilemma," he said.

Spring could bring facelift for park fountain

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

The Kellogg Park fountain could be in line for a serious facelift, come spring.

"What we're hoping to achieve is to not only improve the visual appearance of the fountain but improve the mechanical operation," said Steve Guile, downtown development authority director.

"Basically what came about is about four months ago a donor who wants to remain anonymous stepped forward indicating their desire to take a look at the renovation of the fountain," Guile said.

The fountain was presented by the Plymouth Rotary Club Foundation as a gift to the city in the early 1960s. Guile said in recent months, he's been working with the Rotary Foundation to get some cost estimates on a redesigned fountain.

A first draft of a three-tier fountain has been done by Plymouth architect David Schaff, also a Rotary Club member.

■ 'What we're hoping to achieve is to not only improve the visual appearance of the fountain but improve the mechanical operation.'

Steve Guile
—DDA director

"I agree with our benefactor - we have got a pretty sorry looking fountain now with our beautiful downtown streetscape," Schaff said.

He's suggesting the fountain be redone in limestone and brick masonry. "And it should have a feature in it other than the big snowman at Christmastime," Schaff said.

The effect would be a 14-foot high three-tiered fountain in the middle, to help create the feel of a turn-of-the century fountain. Schaff said the cost would be $72,800. That cost would include the fountain, a new pump, redone wall around the fountain and possibly redoing the bowl of the fountain to create a black mirror effect. "Exactly what gets left in is yet to be decided," he said.

Guile said some mechanical parts to the fountain are also wearing out, and city municipal services crews report that finding replacement parts is getting harder.

"We have to get some costs set and discuss those costs with the Rotary Foundation and the person who's willing to donate some money," Guile said.

"If there's agreement on everything, we could start construction as early as April this year," he said.

Plans would have to get the OK of the Rotary Club and the city commission.

Popular science camp canceled for some middle schools

BY M.B. DILLON
STAFF WRITER

Last year, West Middle School teacher Jodi Ring confronted what seemed an insurmountable challenge: working with a student from Bosnia who spoke no English.

"He had a difficult time with the word 'the,'" recalled Ring. "He couldn't read, so even the basics were tough."

Ring was amazed at how things began to click when West students attended a science camp in Gregory, Mich. "He held a snake in his hand, and said, 'snake.' He could identify a turtle," said Ring. "We don't have all those things in the classroom. For him to put his hands on these animals and be able to speak about them was real exciting for him."

Students at West and their parents are disappointed that science camp - traditionally a district-wide sixth-grade field trip and part of this year's curriculum at Central, East and Pioneer middle schools - isn't being offered.

Lowell Middle School sixth-graders aren't going either. The field trip isn't contractually required for teachers. Staff at Central, East, and Pioneer volunteered to go.

Camp, which in earlier years was a week long at Proud Lake, is now a three-day activity at Camp Sarah Grindley in Gregory, with side trips to nearby Howell Nature Center. Cost is $65 per student.

West parents raised the issue at a recent board meeting. They said teachers have told them bad feelings remain due to the many months it took to reach a contract agreement; and that teachers are refusing to take on duties not required by the contract.

"I'm not sure there is any one reason. I think it is multifaceted," said West Middle School Principal Judy Stone. "Sixth-grade teachers have decided as a group not to go, at least at this point. Contractually, it's not a requirement to go."

Ring, 39, who attended science camp as a Plymouth-Canton sixth-grader herself, also is at a loss to explain.

"Kids keep asking, 'Have we done something wrong?' One thing I tell them is that they're

■ 'I'm not sure there is any one reason. I think it is multifaceted.'

—West principal not at fault. I tell them, 'I don't know why, but don't ever think it's something you did.'

"All the sixth-grade teachers here are good; they're not lazy, and I sincerely mean that. I have a lot of faith. I haven't given up yet," said Ring, who accompanied Central students and teachers at camp this past fall.

Ring and fellow teacher Lynn Gordon have offered to take West students on their own in the spring - something they think is feasible given all the parents who've volunteered to help.

"We never got an answer," she said. "I don't know if there is a magical number of teachers the district would like to see before they'd say it's okay."

Parent and nurse Joanne Lamar told the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education she is willing to chaperone and take responsibility for whatever medical concerns would arise at camp.

"One of the teachers told me it means a whole lot of work and responsibility. I asked why the teachers don't ask parents to help. Parents are very responsible," she said. "We're willing to help teachers in any way we can. Everyone talks about the parent-teacher partnership. We're disappointed the teachers didn't even consider us in the thought process."

Lamar said that while she

realizes some teachers are still "quite upset about the contract and still have a dispute with the district, my daughter is not the district. She is a student." Parent Del Templeton also is looking for answers.

"As a parent, I'm very upset when some get to go, and some don't. My daughter would like to know why, and so would I," he told the board.

Stone is hopeful something can be worked out. "It is something I am very supportive of. I'd like to see it continued if there's any way we could facilitate that," said Stone.

"Within the scope of the K-12 years, camp can be one of those top highlights. Frequently, students at class reunions talk about camp as one of their favorite memories."

Board president Mark Horvath asked administration for clarification on the issue.

Board member Dave Artley said, "If we can do it, I think kids are entitled to the experience."

Mayflower focus of city meeting tonight

An update on the Mayflower Hotel renovation project will be presented to Plymouth city commissioners at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today at the Mayflower Hotel dining room.

The special meeting, open to the public, has been scheduled with the hotel's owners and architects.

Among items for discussion are proposed hallway changes and the impact renovation will have on the driveway adjacent to the south hotel entrance.

COP CALLS

Vandalism

Two Plymouth residents reported vandalism incidents to police which occurred between 8 p.m., Jan. 5 and 9 a.m., Jan. 6.

A 69-year-old McKinley Street resident told police someone spray-painted his white garage door, causing $50 in damage. In blue paint, he found the words "goat nuts live," and an inverted pitchfork believed to be a gang symbol.

His garage door was vandalized in a similar manner Dec. 23.

Police went to the home to photograph the graffiti, and gave the man a case number.

A 63-year-old Byron Street resident told police that someone spray-painted his 1989 red Cadillac while it was parked in the 1000 block of Byron.

He returned to the vehicle to find squiggly black and blue lines all over the car, and his license plate painted a shade of blue closely matching the plate.

Scrawled on the trunk was a pitchfork symbol and "luv."

He also noticed a small dent in the driver's side rear fender.

The resident told police he thinks he was randomly selected as a target for vandalism, and could suggest no suspects. He was given a victim's rights card and a case number.

Drunken driving

A Plymouth police officer assisting a motorist in front of the Mayflower Hotel made a drunk driving arrest shortly after 5 a.m., Jan. 5 after a red Fiesta approached his car at a high rate of speed.

He said the Fiesta nearly rear-ended his patrol car before backing up and driving around the car. The officer followed the driver and pulled him over. He said both the driver and his passenger appeared to be intoxicated.

The Plymouth resident failed several sobriety tests, and was unable to get past the letter 'G' while trying to say the ABC's. His blood alcohol level was .178 percent.

As the officer handcuffed him, the suspect made a fist in a threatening manner, police said.

The driver told police his insurance had expired.

He was taken to the station, where he complained of pain in his right shoulder. He claimed he was injured while the officer was placing him in the squad car.

A blood test at the station showed a blood alcohol level of .22 percent. A level of .10 is considered legally drunk in Michigan.

While in his jail cell, the man complained of a headache and asked for aspirin and an ice pack. He also said he wanted to have his shoulder examined at the hospital.

He was transported to Oakwood Healthcare in Canton, where x-rays were negative.

The man was returned to the station and re-jailed. He placed $100 bond and was released after he was sober.

He was cited for driving while under the influence of liquor and for violating driver's license restrictions. The man is not to drive during specified hours or to consume alcohol.

Larceny

A 45-year-old Northville woman told police that Christmas gifts to be picked up at her office by UPS never reached their out-of-state destinations.

She spoke with relatives in Irvine, Texas, and Richmond, Virginia, who never received the $525 in goods she bought them.

Among the gifts scheduled for pick-up Dec. 22 were two savings bonds (for $50 and $100); two J.C. Penney gift certificates in denominations of $50 and $100; a $40 bracelet; Chanel perfume valued at $40; a $25 nightgown; two pair of men's pants with a $100 value; and a golf shirt worth $20.

Other Plymouth and Canton girls performing with the team are Plymouth Salem pompon squad members Jennifer Dormitorio and Robyn Novak; Plymouth Canton pompon squad members Angela Bernard, Libby Birchmeier, Kelley Frader, Molly Noonan, Cathy Tervo, Katie Tolbert and Danielle Voyles; and Mercy High School of Farmington pompon squad members Dameka Ross, Megan Reil and Jenny Styles, all of Canton.

Karen Blazaitis who directs the Mid American team said this is the second trip to Washington to perform at an inauguration. The group also performed at Clinton's first inaugural.

"It's a great honor. The first time it was a huge surprise when we were accepted," she said.

Blazaitis decided to apply again this time. "I thought maybe it was an asset that we performed there before, we were pleasantly surprised."

There are 212 team members, chosen from 500 applicants. "A majority are from the Detroit area, some are from as far north as Farwell, they are also from the Chicago area, Indiana and Grand Rapids," Blazaitis said.

Practices are in Farmington Hills. The girls pay $250 each for travel and lodging costs.

To make the team, girls must be sophomores, juniors or seniors and pass two auditions at pompon camp. They are judged on showmanship, precision and timing, knowledge of routines, kicks, school grades and they must have a recommendation from their coach.

The routine will be choreographed with 15-inch metallic hoops covered in red, silver and blue streamers lines. The parade route is 1.9 miles.

The squad will assemble on Friday, Jan. 17 at the Farmington Hills recreation center, stay the night and leave for Washington the next morning.

Included in their schedule in Washington is a tour of the White House and a visit to the Hard Rock Cafe.

They're scheduled to return Jan. 21.

Area programs to honor life, work of Martin Luther King Jr.

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

It's hard to imagine someone celebrating a holiday by hanging wallpaper, painting and installing light fixtures.

But that's how Westland resident Judy Kennard plans to spend Jan. 20 to commemorate Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

That's just one of scores of activities planned throughout Wayne County by schools and universities.

Kennard, the chair of a committee to commemorate Martin Luther King Jr. and a staff member at University of Michigan-Dearborn, has helped coordinate and organize about 600 students, faculty and staff members from UM-D and three other universities to volunteer to fix up various facilities throughout Wayne County.

Kennard plans to be among volunteers hanging wallpaper, stripping and waxing floors and install light fixtures at the Association for Retarded Citizens in Redford Township.

About 40 volunteers also will visit the Thomas Gist Academy in Westland to paint a mural at the entrance of the building, refurbish several lab tables and other maintenance work, Kennard said.

Program expands

UM-D's program has grown since it began four years ago, Kennard said. Once activities to commemorate King were held on-campus, but organizers looked for a more "tangible" way to remember King and his sense of unity and community.

"We decided (volunteerism) would be more of a service to the community, so we targeted the metro Detroit area," Kennard said. "The unique thing is many of these students have never done volunteer work and here you have the campus so involved."

UM-D chancellor James Renick called the project "a wonderful opportunity for all of us to celebrate the spirit of mutual support, community and caring."

"It is an excellent way for us to emulate the example set by Dr. King throughout his life, and to connect the energy and skills of our campuses with the needs of this region," Renick said.

UM-D, the Detroit College of Business, Henry Ford Community College and the University of Detroit-Mercy are working with United Way Community Services to plan the volunteer activities.

Since the initiative was launched by UM-D and United Way four years ago, students, faculty and staff members at the schools have painted, cleaned and renovated schools and other facilities; tutored children; supervised art and recreation programs; and coordinated activities for senior citizens at several area agencies.

Volunteers also will work at Salina Elementary School in Dearborn, the Detroit Rescue Mission and Detroit's Coalition on Temporary Shelter.

The effort has been endorsed by the leaders of the participating institutions including Andrew Mazzara, president of HFCC; James Mendola, senior vice president of DCB; and Maureen Fay, president of UDM.

"It's exciting to work collaboratively with people from all different backgrounds who, through this day of service and reflection, continue to represent the spirit of Dr. King," said Geneva Williams, chief operating officer of United Way Community Services. "This event is one of the many activities sponsored by our volunteer center in support of its mission to maximize effective involvement of volunteers year-round to solve community problems."

Local activities

Regionally, there are several activities planned. Madonna University will co-sponsor the second annual Martin Luther King Jr. Observance on Jan. 20 with People of Livonia Addressing Issues of Diversity. That event features a commemorative march with participants carrying flashlights, a storyteller performing a half-hour sketch on the civil rights movement and choral groups from four Livonia high schools.

March participants will gather in the lobby of the Civic Center Library for the 6:30 p.m. walk, which will take them east on Five Mile to Hubbard, and then to the auditorium at Livonia Public Schools' Bentley Center. Walkers will light their way with flashlights.

La Ron Williams, a professional storyteller from Ann Arbor, will perform in a half-hour sketch he wrote on the civil rights movement, beginning with the 1950s bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., and leading up to King's assassination in 1968.

Choral groups from four Livonia high schools — Stevenson, Franklin, Churchill and Clarenceville — will perform, and poet Debby Mitchell, also of Ann Arbor, will read her poem "The Wall," whose theme is breaking down barriers.

In area schools

In many Wayne County schools, teachers will bring King into lessons and the curriculum that day, including Redford Union and Plymouth-Canton schools.

"We have a tribute read to all of the children, and teachers have an opportunity for activities at each school," said Ken Johnson, Redford Union's superintendent.

The tribute will inform students that King was the leader of the civil rights movement, leading a

High court sides with local officer in worker's comp suit

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

The Michigan Supreme Court, splitting along ideological lines, handed a worker's comp victory to a disabled former Plymouth Township police officer.

Shawn Corbett was 29 when he "cashed out" his pension fund, into which the township had paid nearly $11,000.

Under a worker's comp magistrate's ruling, Corbett's weekly benefit should have been reduced by 43 percent, from $283 to $161, for a full year, allowing the township to recoup its after-tax pension investment. An appeals board upheld that ruling, 2-1.

But under the Supreme Court's 4-3 ruling Dec. 27, the township would be able to "coordinate" only $4.63 a week of its $283 weekly worker's comp payment.

The court's liberal majority — independent Charles Levin plus Democratic nominees Michael Cavanagh, Patricia Boyle and Conrad Mallett Jr. — ruled against Plymouth Township, Stroh Brewery and McLouth Steel in three cases that were argued together.

"We conclude," wrote Levin, in his last week on the bench, "that where a lump sum is received on early withdrawal, weekly compensation payments should be reduced by an amount that will amortize, in weekly payments, the amount to be offset over the employee's life expectancy" — 42 years in Corbett's case.

"And we thus have also rejected the defendant employers' contention, at the other extreme, that the weekly compensation payment is to be eliminated entirely until the aggregate of the weekly compensation payment equals the lump sum ($11,000) withdrawn," Levin said.

Corbett's attorney, Robert F. James of Southfield, said during Oct. 8 oral arguments that Corbett "was rewarded for having been seriously injured while protecting the public in the line of duty by having his pension fund misappropriated by the (township) to cover its worker's compensation payments."

Dissenting indignantly were Republican nominees Dorothy Comstock Riley, Elizabeth Weaver and Chief Justice James Brickley. Wrote Riley:

"Under the life-expectancy approach, the court (majority) pretends that the employee is only receiving a small amount of his pension payment periodically, despite the fact that he has received the entire amount. . .

"The employee who elects to receive his lump-sum pension payment while still relatively young will have only a tiny percentage of his pension payment coordinated with his worker's compensation payments. . . Thus, it would take 42 years for Plymouth Township to fully coordinate the after-tax value of its pension payments."

The Levin opinion, Riley said, "ignores the fact that the statute was designed to encourage some disabled workers to return to work, not to encourage them to remain idle while receiving double payments of wage-replacement benefits." (Italics hers.)

Corbett joined the township police department in June of 1985 and in February of 1987 suffered a badly fractured leg and gashed chin when his police car crashed as he was answering a call to an armed bank robbery.

Five months later, Corbett returned to work but left a year later, in July 1988, because of what doctors termed psychiatric "panic attacks."

In March of 1991, Corbett cashed out his pension and got a check for $14,800, including $11,000 contributed by the township and $3,800 of his own contribution. He paid tax on the $11,000 and had about $8,400 left. At stake in this case was the township's contribution.

Designer's a hit with 'power' ties

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

If it's true the tie makes the man, Sherry Wolf could be on a winning track with the creation of neckwear meant to ensure a successful climb up the corporate ladder.

Best known for her contemporary Super Realist paintings, the 40-something artist recently made an appearance at The Tie Man in Livonia to introduce her neckwear collection. Made in Italy, the silk ties are available in more than 70 designs ranging from bold abstracts to conservative classics with elements reminiscent of Neoclassical architecture and mosaics.

"I want my ties to be CEO ties. If someone walks into a board meeting wearing one, others are going to listen. A tie makes a statement about a man's personality," said Wolf, whose paintings are in the permanent collection of the Albright-Knox Museum in Boston and Museum of the City of New York.

While most ties are printed with three to four separate color screens, Wolf's ties go through 14 screenings to achieve the vivid yellows, reds, blues, and purples. However, design remains the essential ingredient targeted when producing sketches for new neckwear patterns.

Mark McClellan, owner of The Tie Man in Livonia, decided to offer the Sherry Wolf Collection to his customers for just these reasons. So far, the ties have been best sellers.

"I wanted these ties in my shop because of their brilliant colors from the screenings, and also for their aesthetic and art value. At The Tie Man, we choose only the best quality neckwear. Sherry Wolf's ties are 100 percent wool-lined, hand-stitched silk jacquard so they're resilient as well. Besides that, the way Sherry designs, the art draws attention to the face and neck assuring eye contact, one of the most important principles for a successful businessman," said McClellan.

Designing is nothing new for the Maryland artist whose clothing accessories drew rave reviews from buyers at Neiman Marcus, Bloomingdale's, Bergdorf Goodman, and Saks Fifth Avenue in the late 1980s. Three years ago when Wolf became fascinated with precious metals, the result was a line of 18 karat gold jewelry. Now, it's ties, at $59.99 each.

While her real love remains painting, Wolf's evolution from the world of fine art to design was a natural one. After graduating from the fine arts program at the University of Maryland, her whirlwind career took off after being hired as a commercial illustrator for NBC Nightly News anchor David Brinkley. Her portraits of the day's newsmakers were seen by millions of viewers.

It wasn't long before she was deluged with commissions for cover art and illustrations for Simon & Schuster publications, and magazines like Time, National Geographic, Rolling Stone and Ladies Home Journal. A highlight of these years was a request from The White House to paint a series at Tricia Nixon Cox's wedding in the early 1970s.

Unsatisfied with life as a commercial artist, Wolf turned to full-time fine art painting. A series of portraits of Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra and Humphrey Bogart were first on her easel followed by a satirical commentary on characters found in everyday American society. With these came notoriety from the Today show and People Magazine, The New York Post, and The Baltimore Sun.

In addition to her design work, Wolf continues to paint large-scale Realistic works as well as reinterpretations of Neoclassical paintings. Look for more of the same from her in the future. A line of Sherry Wolf men's shirts is scheduled to debut this spring.

Mall walking:

It's time to sign on!

In January, mall workers are busy with two projects: eliminating year-end stock with sales and clearances, and registering shoppers with resolutions to keep fit for indoor Walking Club programs.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

Walking programs at the area's larger shopping centers allow you a free fitness workout in a climate-controlled environment and the chance to earn prizes for your efforts.

And since the neighborhood medical center usually co-sponsors the walking club, you get free monthly health tests and information seminars as an added bonus.

At Twelve Oaks in Novi, the mall even arranges for low-impact aerobic classes for its walkers each Monday and Wednesday from 9 to 10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor court. The class is instructed by staff from the University of Michigan's Health Education Department and is well-attended by regulars who have incorporated the morning program into their weekly routine.

Mall spokeswoman Elaine Kah points out that Twelve Oaks' walking regulars have formed a private club of sorts, meeting for breakfast and coffee as new friendships unfold. As walkers keep track of their "miles," many malls reward them for milestones reached with fanny packs, T-shirts and water bottles.

The malls with organized walking clubs urge interested shoppers to register for membership now, through the management office or Information Desk. An identification badge is usually issued to members along with a newsletter and outline of the program. You may be requested to sign a waiver.

Temple gets mall holiday decor

STAFF PHOTOS BY JOHN STORMZAND

Ready to go: Lakeside security officer Mike Downey with parts of the decor.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
EDITOR

When Lakeside's marketing director Janita Gaulzetti learned that Temple Beth El in Birmingham was interested in acquiring the mall's holiday decor program, she admits she was amused and confused.

"What would a temple want with our set of 16, 25-foot-tall purple, orange and green buildings celebrating holidays around the world?" she laughed. "What would they do with our Big Ben, Eiffel Tower and Sydney Opera House?"

"Well, you guessed it, the very unique pieces will be used for theatrical productions - saved from the dumpsters."

Gaulzetti explained that Lakeside's decor program was scheduled to be scrapped in January. When the word got out to Taubman mall employees, community groups and shoppers, her office was besieged by requests for the trees, 75 large stars, ceiling streamers, pillows and even the small elves!

"When Robert Kayes of our leasing staff and his wife Susie, heard the decor was up for grabs, they requested it on behalf of the Temple Beth El. Old mall decor is typically donated to civic or community groups anyway, except for the keepsake items that go to those who work on a special event or promotion."

Kayes said that the temple's cantor is busy producing a Broadway revue slated for April. The mall's display, which has several New York references, will be worked into the show's scenery.

Gaulzetti said Lakeside spent $350,000 on its holiday decor package a few years back, refurbishing and modifying the set-up, including the 36-foot high centerpiece tree, each year since.

"It's like we leased the program from the Becker Group of Baltimore that created the concept for us," she said. "Now it's time to have a meeting of the minds with them again to come up with Holiday 1997. The theme must suit our market, appeal to our customers, and work into our stage area and Santa photo operation."

Gaulzetti said 1996 was a record-year for Santa visits at Lakeside. She based the 18,000 figure on the number of calendars Santa Claus gave away.

Where can I find?

Thanks to all the readers who phoned in locations for hard to find items! We'll run the solutions two or three weeks in a row so everyone has a chance to see them. Because of the growing popularity of this feature, it's become impossible to call readers individually with solutions.

- A Birmingham tailor said she would be happy to repair laundry chute bags with zippers on the bottom. She can also sew new ones if the old bags can be used as a pattern. She reports she will "tailor" old drapes to new windows, too. Inquiries welcome at Metropolitan Tailoring, 267 S. Woodward, (810) 594-8465.

- A reader said she spotted some dry bars at Billy Bob's Recreation. The company confirms they do carry the item at four locations in Westland, Royal Oak, Commerce Twp., and Sterling Heights.

- Another reader called to say she buys Strollachair parts by mail from Babyhood Industries Corp. in Shrewsbury, Mass. She made a call on behalf of the quest for an older model highchair tray as was informed by the customer service representative that the item is available, but if the highchair is really old, the side slides might need to be ordered as well as the tray. The number is 1-508-791-7355.

- Doreen Wood suggested the Inkor stainless steel cookware line might be found at home and garden shows like the ones coming up at Cobo Hall and the Novi Expo Center. She said she has seen waterless cooking exhibit booths at these shows.

- Pearl Schaening said a source for Guardian Cookware covers is the Stevenson Co. of Anaheim, Ca. 1-714-220-9678. She said the metal covers are no longer manufactured, but glass lids will fit the 1-, 2- and 4-quart pots, small fryer and roaster pans.

We're still looking for:

- "Jennifer" wants to know what retailer carries clothing by Smooth Ones. "I purchased a pair of Smooth Ones trousers at Loehmann's a month ago and found them to be the best-fitting pants I've ever owned. I want to buy more, but I don't know where to find them."

- Mary Blazo wants to find men's knee-length Suppo-Hose stockings. She said she's purchased them for years and now can't find them locally.

- Ruth Clapp of Birmingham is looking for a roller cover for the old Ironrite mangle. She would appreciate any tips or ideas where to find this very hard-to-locate item!

- A reader is looking for a copy of "Boy on a Dolphin" by David Devine. Since it is now out of print, she'd be willing to buy someone's old copy.

- Another reader is anxious to locate an old album "The First Nine Months Are The Hardest." She said it came out in the 1960s, but can't recall the recording artists.

- Ever see Magic Baking Powder made by Nabisco of Toronto on your grocery shelf? A caller doesn't want to travel to Canada any more to buy it.

- A Bloomfield Hills mother was advised to buy her daughter Math To Go, Math Tutor by Texas Instruments and she can't find a place that sells the item.

- A Birmingham resident can't find the Almay hypo-allergenic all-over body splash that she used to buy at Montgomery Wards.

- Two callers are looking for out-of-print sheet patterns - king-size flat sheets from Martex in the Trade Blanket pattern, Wamsutta king-size sheets and pillow cases in the Textura pattern.

- Someone hopes to track down an April 1945 edition of Ford Times magazine.

- "Beverly" wants to locate Picarelli hamburger relish but can't find a store that stocks it anymore.

- Linda Stockton has heard about clothing made from recycled plastic and is curious about any store locally that has the line. The plastic is turned into fibers that are woven for T-shirts and sweats.

If you've seen any of these items in your travels, let Malls & Mainstreets know and we'll print the answers. Please call (810) 901-2567.

If it's January, this must be The Franklin Quest stores!

While every other retailer is slashing prices this month, Franklin Quest stores can't keep their newest product on the shelves! Customers are grabbing new calendar pages right out of shipping boxes as the New Year begins!

One amazed customer was over heard at the store on Square Lake at Livernois to remark, "Didn't these folks plan for this?"

The report brought a chuckle from manager Gregory Randall.

"Ugh! Last Monday alone, I waited on 1,000 clients!" he said. "It happens every year at this time and it's because all those auto executives who've been off since Dec. 20 get back to their offices around Jan. 7 and notice there are no pages in their Franklin Planner for the new year! They race in here and it's wild!"

Randall said the rush is now over until next year. . .

ARE YOU A MORNING PERSON?

An early riser?

Someone who is up at the crack of dawn?
One of those people who are out and about before the dew is off the grass?

If you send the rest of your household around the bend because you rise and shine before the sun is up, we have a job that you'll love. We're looking for newspaper carriers to deliver the Observer or Eccentric every Sunday morning and Thursday afternoon.

Westland resident is new exec of western Wayne conference

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

The Conference of Western Wayne's new executive director believes 1997 will be a hot year for legislative issues.

Marsha Bianconi, CWW's assistant director since 1988, was selected Friday by the CWW board of directors, an 18-community group of elected leaders, to become executive director.

Bianconi, a Westland resident, officially begins her new position today (Monday).

The CWW meets monthly to discuss state, federal and regional issues of concerns to local municipalities, including legislation, state and federal funds available to communities, solid waste and public transportation.

Bianconi was approved by 16 community representatives present. Two were absent.

Bianconi was recommended by a search committee of Northville Mayor Chris Johnson, Westland Mayor Robert Thomas and Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack.

The search began with 63 applicants interested in the post, which was vacated by Dan Gilmartin in October. The field

The CWW meets monthly to discuss state, federal and regional issues of concerns to local municipalities, including legislation, state and federal funds available to communities, solid waste and public transportation.

was narrowed to 10 candidates, who then were sent questionnaires. Four finalists were interviewed by the committee.

"The committee felt strongly that she was the best candidate to fill the role," Johnson told the CWW board.

Bianconi, who expects to receive a bachelor's degree later this year in business management and English, will receive a salary of $39,000 this year.

As an assistant director, Bianconi developed and initiated new municipal programs, monitored and reported on federal and state legislation and communicated the CWW's position on various issues. She helped initiate an enhanced 911 emergency telephone district for 14 communities and developed a regional recycling public education program with a state grant.

She also has coordinated a regional job placement program for low income and disadvantaged youths, created a salary survey of communities and a firefighting testing consortium which transferred costs from local communities to test candidates.

Bianconi believes the CWW will take a stronger position on legislative activities this year. "I think you will see the CWW work with the Downriver Community Conference and other legislative organizations," Bianconi said.

She expects one of those issues will be the state's gasoline tax. Monies raised from that tax are earmarked for road improvements.

"What happens with that issue, revenue sharing and cultural tax bills will be back in the new year," Bianconi said. "Many environmental issues also will be important to Wayne County."

SC exhibit spotlights computer graphics

Computer-generated posters are on display at Schoolcraft College, part of an international exhibit of student graphics art work. The 47 award-winning posters will travel to 13 sites in the United States and Japan.

The exhibit includes a poster by Josh Craven, a Schoolcraft student and one of the competition winners. The posters were winning entries in the 1996 Student Poster and Animation Competition Exhibition sponsored by the Association for Computing Machinery, an international organization dedicated to promoting the advancement of computing.

"We are excited that Schoolcraft College is a stop on this prestigious computer graphics tour, which includes examples from multiple disciplines such as architecture, CAD-CAM and art and design," said Colleen Case, computer graphics instructor and a member of an ACM educational committee.

In addition to the posters, the exhibit includes student animation and instructor slide sets from all over the world. The animation is also on exhibit at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington D.C.

The posters are hung in the Bradner Library through Tuesday, Jan. 21.

A WAY TO AVERT GUM SURGERY

Adults in particular should practice good oral habits to avoid gum disease, which is caused by bacteria in the sticky film (called plaque) that coats teeth. If caught early, gum disease is treatable. In advanced cases, though, infected gums pull away from the teeth and the supporting jawbone weakens, causing teeth to loosen or even fall out. To avert tooth loss, surgery has often been necessary to remove the hardened plaque. Now, there may be a way to avoid surgery. According to researchers at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor who studied 90 people with advanced gum disease, short-term use of antibiotics (applied to the gums and taken orally), combined with deep cleaning of root surfaces, reduced the need for gum surgery and tooth extractions by 88%. The best course to follow to prevent gum disease, however, still involves brushing, flossing, and getting regular dental checkups.

When is the last time you had a professional dental checkup? At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we are currently accepting new patients and welcome you to call 478-2110 to schedule an appointment. We believe in preventive dentistry for the whole family. LOIS THIELEKE

Homemade soup, hot bread, tonic for winter blahs

Homemade soup and hot bread are pure medicine for the winter months. If you're not feeling well, or just want to warm up after winter out-door activities, a bowl of steaming homemade soup and a slice of hot bread may be what you need.

Soups can take the edge off your appetite or it can be the meal. Homemade soups can be made filling without adding lots of calories, fat or salt. Soup is also a great way to use leftovers.

The best and most tasty soup is made from homemade stock. Beef bones cooked slow will develop a deep, rich flavor and color, while chicken, turkey or fish stock have a more delicate flavor. To make good stock, start with cold water, this helps to draw out the juices and the nutrients from the meat and vegetables.

Keep the stock pot at a low steady heat, do not boil. Simmer four to six hours, then strain through several layers of cheese cloth. Cool the stock in the refrigerator or freezer to skim off the unwanted fat. Now you have stock, the base for soups or flavorful additions to a casserole. Stock is perishable, so don't keep in the refrigerator more than two days. Freeze for use later.

If you don't have the time to do a stockpot, start the soup with a canned broth, bouillon granules or cubes. Add browned onion or roasted garlic to give the canned broth a real flavor boost. Tomato skins also lend flavor and color to a soup. Select a single main ingredient or a combination of main ingredients, add liquid and complement with one or more seasonings. A main ingredient could be asparagus, carrots, potatoes, mushrooms, celery, cauliflower, green beans, spinach, peas, cabbage, rice, noodles, broccoli, tomatoes, fish beef or chicken. Add these to a liquid such as broth, bouillon, tomato juice, milk, or homemade stock. Seasonings are onions, garlic, parsley flakes, Tabasco sauce, soy sauce, Worcestershire sauce, pepper, herbs and spices.

There is an old saying that goes, "Use parsley lavishly, but dried herbs discretely in soups." Always add seasonings at the end of the cooking time for better flavor. If the soup is too spicy, simmer three to four medium potato slices in the soup for a short period of time, then discard the potatoes. However, this is not always guaranteed to work, you may have to start all over.

Thickening

Thicken soups with noodles, pasta, dumplings, oatmeal, barley, rice, raw potato, or dry crustless bread. If you are adding uncooked pasta, rice or cereal, make sure there is enough liquid for these to expand. Pasta and rice especially absorb lots of liquid as they cook.

The flavor of stock improves overnight, so make it one day and the next day it will make a real pick-me-up cup of broth. Another advantage to having homemade stock is that it can be used to dilute condensed soups. To make cream soup, the broth is thickened with cornstarch or flour and then adding cream, yogurt, milk, or half and half. Do not boil after adding the milk product or you'll ruin your soup. A cream soup contains more fat and calories so use skim milk to keep it lighter. Garnish the hot steamy cream soup with lemon or orange slices, float small slices of cheese or meat balls, pieces of fresh herbs sprinkled on the top, a sour cream dollop, grated egg, nuts or croutons. Just before serving add the garnish so it looks fresh and attractive. Put popped popcorn on the top of cream of tomato soup, the kids will enjoy it.

Better crust

The rest of the medical prescription is hot crusty bread served with the soup. Aromatic breads hot from the oven are easy and so inviting. Use a regular yeast bread recipe and make the crust just the way you like it, by choosing the right pan. Glass, dark tin, or dull aluminum will give you a thick, heavy, brown crust because the pans absorb and hold more heat, but the oven temperature has to be lowered by 25 degrees. Setting a pan of warm water on the bottom of the oven while baking the bread will help harden the crust. Brushing the tops when the bread is partially baked with salted water also makes a crusty crust.

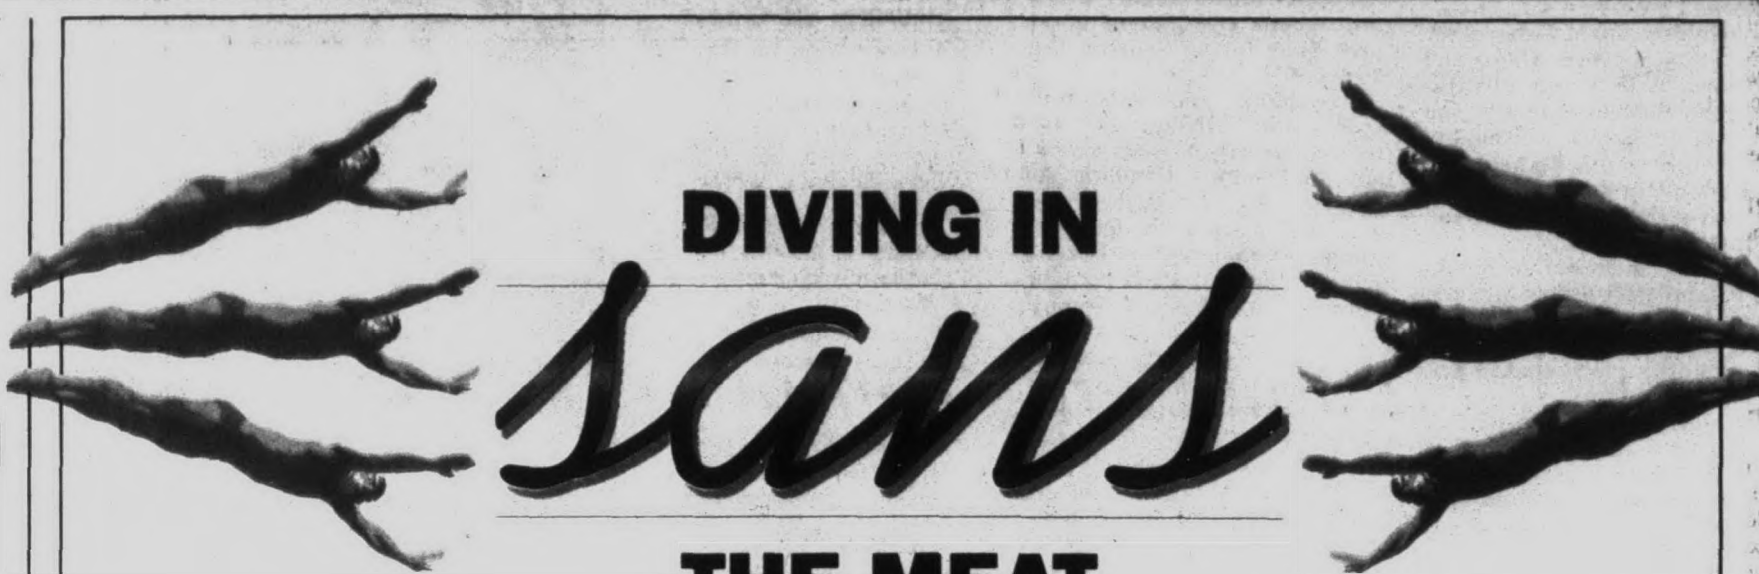

If you don't want to make your own bread from "scratch," there are hot-roll mixes, bread loaves in a tube in the grocery refrigerator case, or frozen bread dough.

THE MEAT

BY PEGGY MARTINELLI-EVERTS • REGISTERED DIETITIAN

If you decide to try eating a vegetarian diet, plunge right in!

More and more people are taking meat out of their diet. This trend is particularly strong among teens and young adults. HDS Services, the company I work for, provides food service management for numerous private schools including Interlochen Academy for the Arts in northern Michigan. The call for vegetarian meals among these young, talented kids is overwhelming.

The reasons people give for omitting meat from their diet vary greatly. Some do it strictly for humanitarian reasons; others to reduce fat or cholesterol; still others, I suspect, do it because it is currently fashionable to shun meat. Regardless of why people become vegetarians, there are benefits:

- It is healthful. People who eat vegetarian style have lower incidences of heart disease, diabetes, high blood pressure, obesity and certain forms of cancer.

- It is good for your pocketbook. Grains, legumes, vegetables and fruits are normally less expensive than meat and animal protein. (Plus, you may also save on medical bills because a healthier diet leads to a healthier you.)

- It adds spice to your life. Without the "hunk-of-meat-in-the-middle-of-your-plate" constraints, vegetarians tend to become more creative in their food choices, trying interesting grains and exotic fruits and vegetables from around the world. Think of the exciting dinner conversation. Plus, you'll be in good company. Famous vegetarians include Benjamin Franklin, Mohandas Gandhi, Albert Einstein and Paul McCartney.

- It is environmentally correct. Feed fruits, vegetables and grains to humans instead of feeding livestock to slaughter for food takes one step out of the food chain and makes our food supply go much farther. Additionally, it's estimated that it takes 2,500 gallons of water to produce one pound of wheat. Plus, no more greasy broiler pans or animal carcasses around after dinner.

Truly, there is nothing mystical or difficult about vegetarian eating. Research now shows that by eating a variety of grains, legumes, seeds, nuts, fruits and vegetables, and by eating sufficient calories, vegetarians can get all of the required nutrients for good health.

If you decide to try eating a vegetarian diet, plunge right in! The only special considerations for nutrients may be for infants, children, pregnant women and lactating mothers. They need to get enough calories, iron and vitamin D and should be able to do this with small, frequent meals and snacks. For these people, or for those who must restrict their diet due to other medical reasons, I recommend consulting your doctor or a registered dietitian.

You can learn more about vegetarian cooking at Great Meals - Cooking and Nutrition School, 2-6 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 23, Metropolitan Adventist School Auditorium, 15585 Haggerty Road, (north of 5 Mile Road). Each participant will receive a vegetarian cookbook loaded with practical ideas and recipes. A delicious vegetarian buffet will be served. Suggested donation $15 per person, $25 for couples. To register, call (313) 531-2179 or (313) 495-0538.

Goulash sticks-to-your ribs not hips

BY LAURA L. SYKES
SPECIAL WRITER

Goulash has always been known as a "stick to your ribs" type of meal. Unfortunately, it also will stick to your hips, backside and stomach! But, there is still hope for this recipe that has been a long standing favorite in many kitchens.

A newer product from Green Giant called "Harvest Burgers for Recipes" helps reduce the fat, cholesterol and sodium of this month's recipe while still maintaining flavor and protein.

Harvest Burger is derived from soybeans. Green Giant Co. conveniently made this tofu product to look and taste similar to ground beef. It is usually located in the breakfast food freezer section of the grocery store.

The wonderful aspect of vegetable protein is that it takes on the flavor of anything added to it. For example, if you add beef bouillon, it will taste like beef. If you add chicken flavoring it will taste like chicken.

We begin reducing the fat in Goulash by sauteing onions in water in a nonstick skillet. This step completely eliminates the need for butter, and immediately reduces the amount of fat by 44 grams!

Next, substitute tofu for beef. I think everyone should at least try the Harvest Burger product. Two pounds of ground beef has 2,814.8 calories, 241.1 grams of fat and 772 milligrams of cholesterol. Tofu contributes only 727.3 calories, 0 grams of fat and no cholesterol.

But, if you are still not convinced about using tofu, substitute 100 percent ground turkey breast. The turkey will add only 960.9 calories, 12.0 grams of fat and 440 milligrams of cholesterol. Turkey meat is considerably lower in sodium than the tofu and beef but, higher in cholesterol than the tofu.

There are fat-free gravies on the market now that are wonderful. The only drawback is that they tend to be high in sodium. So, if your sodium level is an issue you may need to consult your physician about finding alternatives to these products.

To reduce the sodium even more in the Goulash recipe, simply use "no salt added" tomatoes, decrease the amount of Worcestershire sauce and eliminate the 1/2 teaspoon of salt. These easy steps will almost reduce the sodium by one half!

Being open-minded to new products will provide us with more menu choices. More importantly, being open-minded can lead to open arteries! Wishing everyone a safe, healthy and happy 1997!

Creamy macaroni and cheese low in fat

BY MELANIE POLK
REGISTERED DIETITIAN

The chill of late January can make anyone yearn for the rich taste of comfort food. Nostalgia for grandma's meatloaf or old-fashioned macaroni and cheese can also bring back a desire for foods that are simple, filling and delicious. With a few substitutions and flavor enhancers, you can create modern versions of these traditional dishes that keep all of the wonderful taste without all of the fat, salt and calories.

Although meatloaf seems an improbably part of low-fat fare, it can be made much leaner by using a low-fat cut of beef such as ground sirloin instead of ground chuck.

Decrease fat even further and add fiber by substituting a whole grain for some of the meat. Combine 1 pound lean ground beef with 1/3 cup unprocessed wheat bran and 1/3 cup unsweetened applesauce, 1 egg, 1 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, a tablespoon of chopped onion and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Form the mixture into an oval and place it in a lightly greased loaf pan. Make a long, narrow indentation along the top of the loaf and spread with a mixture made from 5 tablespoons applesauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons brown sugar, and 2 tablespoons of prepared mustard. Bake for an hour at 350 degrees F.

If grandma's apple crisp was always your favorite treat, try this version with a scoop of low-fat vanilla yogurt: Combine 1/3 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons of cornstarch, 1 tablespoon ground cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. Place 3 pounds peeled, cored and sliced Granny Smith apples in a 2-quart shallow baking dish lightly greased with nonstick cooking spray. Sprinkle with the sugar mixture, tossing to coat evenly. Cover the dish with foil and bake at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes. Meanwhile, combine 3 tablespoons of flour, 3 tablespoons rolled oats and 1 1/2 tablespoons brown sugar in a small bowl. Mash a tablespoon of margarine into the dry mixture with a fork. Remove the baking dish from oven, sprinkle with the crumb mixture and bake uncovered for another 40 minutes.

Macaroni and Cheese doesn't have to be high in fat or come out of a box.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

- 1 3/4 cups elbow macaroni, uncooked
- 1 tablespoon margarine
- 2 tablespoons all purpose flour
- 1 1/4 cups skim milk
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/8 teaspoon hot sauce
- 1 1/2 cups shredded reduced-fat cheddar cheese
- 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 3-4 cherry tomatoes, halved
- 1/4 teaspoon basil

Cook the pasta according to directions, omitting salt and fat. Drain and set aside.

saucepan over medium heat; add flour, and cook on low for 1 minute. Remove the pan from the heat and stir in dry mustard and the next three ingredients. Add reduced-fat cheddar cheese and stir until melted. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese on top and garnish with cherry tomatoes and basil. Serve immediately.

Each of the six 3/4 cup servings contains about 253 calories

MEDITERRANEAN ORANGE SALAD

- 1 red bell pepper, cored, seeded, and cut into thin strips
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 4 large navel oranges
- 1/2 small red onion, peeled and sliced paper-thin
- 1/2 cup Nicoise olives
- 2 garlic cloves, peeled and coarsely chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sherry vinegar

In a small skillet saute the red bell pepper strips in the olive oil for 10 minutes, until softened.

Meanwhile, peel the oranges and remove the white pith. Cut them into thin rounds, discarding any seeds, and arrange in overlapping circles on a serving plate. Scatter the onion slices over the oranges. Remove the peppers from the oil with a slotted spoon, reserving the oil. Strew the peppers over the oranges and onions. Scatter the olives on top. In a mortar with a pestle pound the garlic with the salt to make a paste. Mix this paste into the oil remaining in the pan and add the vinegar, stirring to mix well. Pour the dressing over the oranges and leave the salad to sit for 1 hour at room temperature before serving. Serves 4 to 6.

Sarnia "Stings" Whalers

For the first period at least, it seemed as if the Detroit Whalers had shaken loose their offensive shackles.

Against a formidable Sarnia Sting squad, the Whalers took the early lead Thursday in Sarnia, getting first-period goals from Harold Druken and Julian Smith. With Robert Esche back in goal after representing Team USA in the World Junior Championships, it seemed the Whalers were back on track.

Not so. The sluggish offense (two goals in two previous losses) was not at all cured; Detroit did not score again, and after frustrating Sarnia for one period to carry a 2-1 lead into the third, the roof fell in. The Sting scored four unanswered third-period goals to gain a 5-2 Ontario Hockey League West Division victory.

The loss dropped Detroit, the West's fourth-place team, to 14-22-4. Sarnia is second at 22-13-4, three points behind division leader Sault Ste. Marie.

Esche made 37 saves in the game to keep the Whalers in it for the first two periods, but the Sting got a power-play goal from Jon Sim 43 seconds into the third to tie it at 2-all, then got two goals from Brad Simms to pull away.

Detroit plays at the London Knights Wednesday, then returns for back-to-back home games against Sault Ste. Marie Saturday (7:30 p.m.) and Sunday (6 p.m.).

Indoor champs

The Canton Strikers won the fall championship with a 7-1 record in the U-10 Boys Division at Wide World of Sports in Ann Arbor.

Hawks soar

The 1982 Michigan Hawks won the U-16 Girls Total Soccer Holiday Challenge 1996.

The Hawks drubbed the Canton Flames, 8-1, in the semifinals and drilled Ohio's Coas Express, 5-1, in the championship contest. The outscored their opponents, 32-6, in the tournament.

Salem jostles John Glenn in WLAA duel

No Marc Dugas was good news for Plymouth Salem's wrestling team but the Rocks might have had enough anyway because they scored an overwhelming 49-24 victory Thursday night over host Westland John Glenn.

"It was a good meet," Salem coach Ron Krueger said. "All the matches were hard-fought."

"We knew it was going to be a close meet. When got there and saw their heavyweight (Dugas) was out, that gave us a little break."

Two outcomes Krueger was pleased with came at 103- and 152-pounds.

John Mervyn pinned the Rockets'

WRESTLING

David Teets in 4:39 in the lower weight class while Anwar Crutchfield finished with a flourish, putting a three-point fall on Matt Biddinger at the buzzer to earn a 14-13 decision at 152.

"My 103-pounder did a real good job and my 152-pounder came from behind and did a real good job," Krueger said. "We turned a close meet into a not-so-close. If they have their heavyweight in there — I don't want to say they would have won but they've beaten us before."

(Dugas) was second at our tournament."

Salem's Dan Morgan took just 35 seconds to pin Jesse Purdon at 112 pounds and Eric Coburn, at 125, pinned Andy Bass in 3:02 as the Rocks improved to 6-0-1 overall and 1-0-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division.

Salem's Sean Hughes registered a 13-2 decision over Andy Glenn at 130 pounds and Dan Hamblin edged John Fedulchak of John Glenn, 1-0, at 140.

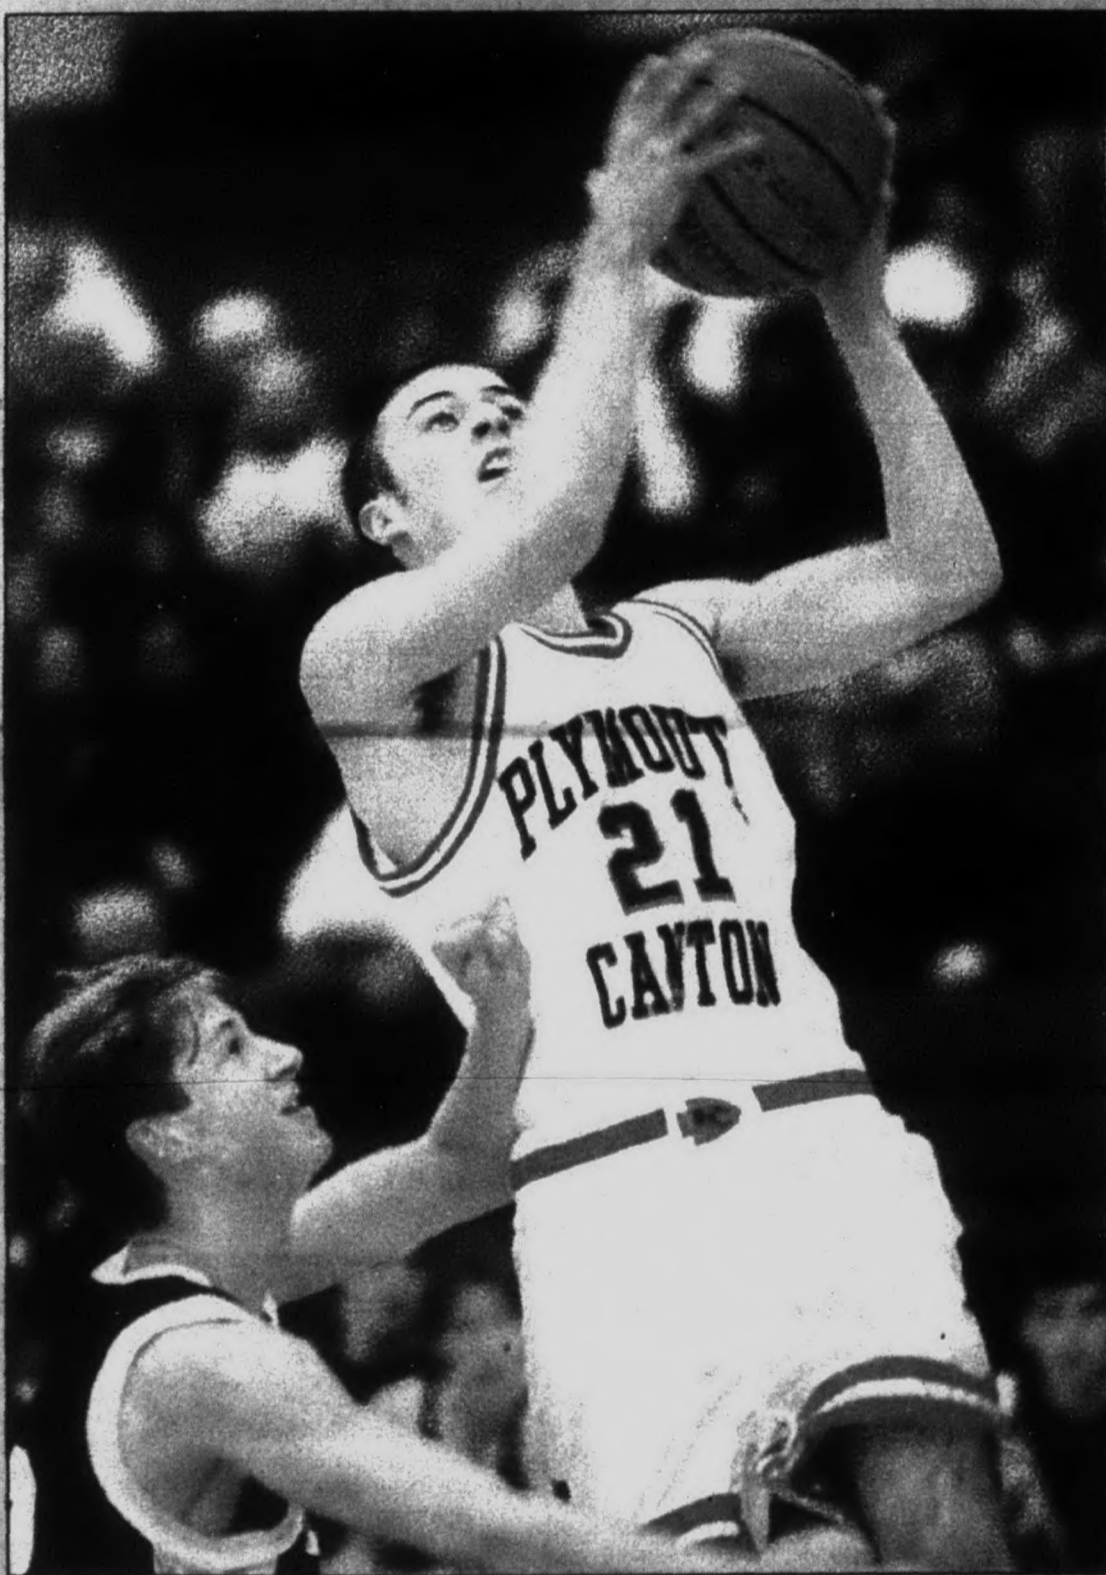

The Rockets got a pin from Greg Anderson at 119 pounds, in 1:52 over Dominic Valeri, and Richard Donahee took just 1:25 to pin freshman Michael Popeney at 160. Tim Reeves won by injury default over Jason Bedoun at 171 pounds while Ryan Cox, wrestling at 215 pounds, pinned Mike Kozma in 2:15.

James Green of Salem pinned David Mason in 1:27 at 135 and the Rocks' 145 wrestler, Jeremy Wollschlager, took an 8-4 decision from Bob Probst. Teono Wilson, at 189, pinned Glenn's Don Guenther in 2:34. Glenn voided heavyweight.

"We wrestled pretty good," Krueger said. "We have a real big one this week, Walled Lake Central. They won the Oakland County Tournament; they've been thumping everybody."

Central clips Canton

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK
STAFF WRITER

You can't beat good defense. Unless, of course, you run up against good defense.

Two of the better defensive teams in the area ran into one another Friday night at Plymouth Canton.

And by the time the turnovers, steals and missed shots had settled, Walled Lake Central found itself going home with a 50-47 victory.

"Canton plays hard, physical defense," Walled Lake Central coach Steve Emert said. "You've got to be ready to play defense when you play down here."

"They're quick. They have size. And they can jump. We don't have the big kids like they do."

True enough, but the Chiefs don't have a shooting guard like Vikings' junior Todd Negoshian.

Ever hear the old joke about the guy who was so quick he could turn the light off and be under the covers before the room got dark?

Well that's how quick Negoshian is at getting a shot off. Watch out when he taps his left shoulder, though, because he's calling for a screen.

Negoshian scored 33 of Walled Lake Central's 50 points including a run of 10 in less than a minute midway through the fourth quarter that turned things around for the Vikings.

"He's a good player," Emert said. "He plays the point, takes it to the hole and shoots it for us. We had to ride him out."

It wasn't like Canton wasn't guarding him, either. Nick Hurley did a good job overall and Donte Scott effectively checked him the final four minutes.

But Negoshian scored 19 points in the first half, four in the third period and that 10-point run in the fourth that included five straight free throws from one trip to the line.

"Walled Lake Central did a great job. Give them all the credit," Canton coach Dan Young said. "Defensively they were good -- as they always are."

"And we never got Todd Negoshian under control."

The Chiefs held a 39-31 lead with 5:43 to play after Matt Ammons slipped in a basket off a nice feed from Hurley as he was going out of bounds.

Brad Burlingame got a goal-tending call to cut the margin to 39-33 with 5:37 left and, following a missed Canton shot, Negoshian came down and buried an NBA three from Antarctica (well, beyond the top of the key, at least).

Rob Johnson muscled in a layup to make it 41-36 with 4:47 to play and Negoshian scooted down the right side and put up a quick triple try from the right wing.

Or at least he tried to put up a triple. Hurley hurred out of nowhere and pounded the ball

Nothing easy: That's what Canton's Nick Hurley found when he tried to drive the lane against Walled Lake Central. Both teams thrive on throttling defenses; Central won because its offensive star, Todd Negoshian, was unstoppable.

Victory balance

Salem depth wrecks Northville; Agape rolls to win

For three quarters of its Western Lakes Activities Association basketball opener Friday at Northville, Plymouth Salem was in a dogfight.

Fortunately for the Rocks, the other quarter was a blowout — favoring them.

Salem ran its overall record to 6-1 with a convincing 72-55 triumph at Northville. The Rocks are 1-0 in the WLAA.

"We put a little pressure on them and stepped up our offensive attack," said Salem coach Bob Brodie of the second-quarter onslaught, during which the Rocks outscored Northville 19-6.

That gave them a 36-22 halftime lead and put them on their way to the victory.

Nate Gray led Salem with 17 points and six assists. Jeff McKian chipped in with 12 points, seven rebounds and four steals, and Matt Mair had 10 points. Andres Lopez collected six points and eight boards, and Andy Power had six points, three steals and three assists.

Dave Terakedis' 21 points, including five three-pointers, paced the Mustangs. Jeff Aroenz added 10.

Once again, the Rocks' balance was pivotal. "We're getting a lot of contributions from different players," said Brodie. "That's the nice thing about this team — there are a lot of players with experience, who can score and contribute in different ways."

Against Northville, 10 players scored for the Rocks — including seven in the second-quarter rally.

Mair's five points was high in the period.

"They share the ball real well," Brodie added. "There are no selfish players on this team."

Salem won't have to wait long to see how it rates in the WLAA. The Rocks host Farmington Warrant (6-1 overall), expected to be one of the league's contenders, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Agape 74, Saline Christ. 57: The first half belonged to the defenses. The second half was owned by the offenses.

And Plymouth Agape Christian won both battles.

Agape ran its Metro Christian Conference record to 2-0 (3-2 overall), while Saline Christian fell to 0-1 in the MCC (2-2 overall).

Agape managed just 26 points in the first half, but limited Saline to 18 over the same span. The second half was another story; Agape poured in 23 points in the third quarter and 25 in the fourth, outscoring Saline 48-39.

Adam Martin led the winners with 26 points and 11 rebounds. Martin did most of his damage in the second and fourth quarters, scoring 10 in the second and 14 in the fourth.

Rick Guttersohn had 22 points and 10 boards, getting 12 points in the third quarter, and Matt Major scored 11.

For Saline, Robert Smith scored 19 and Ross Gordon 15.

The Eagles (4-4 overall, 0-1 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference) had the eighth-ranked team in Class D on the ropes for the entire game Friday at PCA. A 24-11 second-quarter surge gave PCA a 43-31 halftime lead.

But Allen Park Inter-City Baptist narrowed the gap to 57-52 after three quarters, then caught the Eagles with just 1:20 left.

The difference: turnovers (PCA had 33 of them) and free throws. Inter-City converted 14-of-16 from the line — in the fourth quarter alone. For the game, the Chargers made 29-of-45 (64.4 percent); the Eagles were 18-of-22 (81.8 percent).

Three starters fouled out for PCA, and two other players had four fouls.

Mark Hovermale led the Eagles with 20 points and nine rebounds. Chris DeRenzo had 17 points and Nathan Bryan scored 10.

David Harrison led Inter-City (5-0 overall, 1-0 in the MIAC) with 26 points, including 10 in the final quarter, when the Chargers outpointed PCA 27-16. Jason Marshall added 20 (11 in the fourth) and Chris Moore had 18.

out of bounds. And nearly sent Negoshian's hand with it.

Tweet! Let him try three from the line.

Oops, make it five from the line. Hurley was whistled for a technical foul on the play. It was just one of those things that happen in athletics.

It was an unfortunate situation that didn't go our way," Young said.

Anyway, Negoshian drilled five free throws in a row to tie the score at 41, then banked in a short shot off the glass on a baseline drive after the Vikings got the mandatory in-bound that accompanies technical fouls to complete his 10-point run.

Both teams made four free throws to drag things down to 2-0 with a 45-45 score but Central's Jeff Mathison broke the tie with a solitary free throw with 1:39 to play.

Hurley hit a runner in the paint to make it 47-46 with 1:18 left but Burlington banked in an eight-footer with 54 seconds left and freshman Nick Hall popped in a 9-foot shot from just outside the lane with 13 seconds left to seal the win.

"We ask him (Negoshian) to do a lot of things for us," Emert said. "We did a better job of playing defense in the second half."

"We've got a nice group of kids," Young said. "But if we can't loosen up, continue to attack teams and not step up and do the things you have to do, we're not going to beat anybody. We're not going to beat any good teams, at least."

"We've got to do a better job of passing, attacking. If you don't do those things, you don't win."

Defense overcomes a lot of things but it can't cover up everything every time.

And Negoshian did what the good players do -- he made plays when everybody in the gym knew he was going to make them.

Sooner or later he'll need help, though. He can't cover up everything every time.

CC whips rival

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Detroit Catholic Central had a whopping 50 shots on goal Saturday night, but the puck wasn't always headed toward Livonia Stevenson goaltender Anthony Alfonsi.

CC coach Gordie St. John couldn't get out of the way of a clearing attempt by goalie Rickey Marnon that sailed into the bench in the first period of the Shamrocks' 7-2 victory at Redford Ice Arena.

"It hit me in the back," St. John said. "I'm fine. The only place it would have hurt me less is my head."

It was a bad sign early on for the Shamrocks, who must have figured if the puck can't get past St. John, who can it get past?

Alfonsi was fabulous in net, knocking away 18 of the Shamrocks' 19 shots on goal in the first period.

He made point-blank saves on shots by Greg Berger, Mike Sharpe, Keith Rowe, Nick Lewarne, Brad Karabelski and Mike Porter before Eric Bratcher finally scored on what seemed like the most harmless shot at 8:24 of the first period.

Bratcher, using a Stevenson player as a screen, beat Alfonsi on the stick side with a wrist shot from just inside the blue line. Bratcher had another goal waved off in the first period because the whistle had already blown.

"I just tried to put it on net low," said Bratcher, who finished with a hat trick. "I guess he just missed it. I didn't see it because I was getting hit as I let it go."

The win improved the No. 1-ranked Shamrocks to 10-0 as they enter a tough week, featuring a game Thursday at Grosse Pointe North and Saturday at home against defending Class A champion Trenton.

"At the start of the season we knew we'd have a pretty good team," Bratcher said. "We want to go all the way and do it undefeated. We'll find out how good we are against Trenton."

Nick Lewarne scored two goals and had one assist for the Shamrocks, who led 4-0 after two periods. Brad Karabelski, Nick Kale-niecki and Tony Keshishian each scored one goal.

Matt Van Heest led with three assists, while Porter, Scot Curtin, Pat O'Dea, Keith Rowe and Jim Melton assisted on one each.

Stevenson's Darin Fawkes broke Marnon's shutout bid with a short-handed goal, assisted by Billy Marshall and Andy Domzalski, 37 seconds into the third period. The Shamrocks regained a four-goal lead with Lewarne's goal less than two minutes later.

The Spartans cut the deficit to 5-2 at 5:59 of the third period when David Nanas scored, assisted by Fawkes and Jason Ward, but that's as close as it got.

Stevenson, which lost to the Shamrocks 5-3 earlier this year at Eddie Edgar Arena, fell to 7-3-1 overall. The Spartans had 21 shots on goal.

"They beat us in every phase of the game and came ready to play," Stevenson coach Mike Harris said.

"We had great goaltending or it could have been worse. The kids never quit. I wish CC well."

After a relatively-clean first two periods, the penalty box was crowded throughout the third period.

The Shamrocks, who had six players in there at one time, were called for 12 minor penalties to Stevenson's seven. Each team had one 10-minute misconduct penalty in the third period.

"It wasn't that close and when it isn't that close you find guys chopping at each other a bit," St. John said. "Both teams showed a lack of discipline. We'll deal with ours and I'm sure Mike will deal with his. This is a big rivalry. Our game is banging people around and they don't like getting banged around."

Raptors gain national team title

The Raptor Racing Team, which features cross country runners from throughout Observerland, came away with one national title and some other outstanding performances at the U.S. Track and Field Federation championships Dec. 16 in Kentucky.

The Raptors' young women's team (17-18 years old) came through with a national championship, scoring a mere 19 points.

They were led by Marjorie Brooks (Westland John Glenn), who was first in the team race in 19:52; Nicole Bolton (Plymouth Salem), third in 20:03; Jody Wermer (Lutheran Westland), fourth; Kelly McNeilance (Livonia Stevenson), fifth in 20:24; Theresa Derwinski (Farmington), sixth in 20:54; and Bianca Vannmeter (Southfield), eighth in 21:54.

Kristi Giddings (Salem), who ran well for the Raptors at the state and regional meets, missed the national meet because she was competing for Salem's volleyball team.

The Raptors 17-18 men's team placed ninth with 212 points. Their scorers: Jared Biniacki (Salem), 23rd in the team race in 16:56; Jared Roth (Farmington Harrison), 30th in 17:06; Josiah Middaugh, 47th in 17:25; Jason Aspinall (Walled Lake Western), 53rd in 17:32; and John Bruder, 59th in 17:37.

Other individuals from Observerland who performed well: Joshua Burt (Livonia Franklin), 94th in the 15-16 boys individual race (17:44); Kim McNeilance (Stevenson), 62nd in the girls 15-16 individual race (20:52); Ellen Adams (Farmington), 63rd in the girls 15-16 individual race (20:54); Christy Tzilos (Stevenson), 97th in the girls 15-16 individual race (21:28); Andrea Parker (Stevenson), 45th in the 13-14 girls 4,000 meters (16:05); Diana Refitti (Redford Union), 83rd in the 13-14 girls 4,000 (16:33); Leslie Knapp (Stevenson), 164th in the 13-14 girls 4,000 (17:37); and Maria Karadimas (Redford Union), 216th in the 13-14 girls 4,000 (18:13).

The teams were coached by Geoff Baker, Dave Gerlach, Kevin Psik and Paul Holmberg.

Joe Pruchnik, a senior forward, led the Warriors with 17 points. Kevin Wade and Jake Hatten chipped in with 13 and 11, respectively.

•STEVENSON 55, W.L. WESTERN 49: Livonia Stevenson jumped out to a 34-18 halftime lead Friday and held off host Walled Lake Western in the second half to post the Western Lakes Activities Association victory.

Senior guard Tyrone Davidson and senior forward Mike Potempa each scored 15 points to pace the Spartans, now 3-3 overall and 1-1 in the WLAA.

Scott Babinski and Wayne Bowers added eight and seven, respectively.

Davidson hit five of six free throws in the decisive fourth quarter and Babinski added three of four down the stretch to halt a 16-11 Western run.

"Western made six or seven good runs at us and our kids hung in there," Stevenson first-year coach Tim Newman said. "Our kids played well and they're getting the hang of what we're doing. We're starting to believe."

"They're playing hard and smart, and we're not living or dying by the three-pointer. We're being more selective."

Western, which dropped to 2-4 overall and 0-2 in the WLAA, got 16 points from Mike Massey and 15 from Mike Mitchell.

•FARMINGTON 56, CHURCHILL 54: Trevor Gaines scored 18 points as the Falcons flew Friday into Livonia Churchill's gym and gained a Western Lakes victory.

Farmington, which made three of five free throws during the final two minutes, is 2-4 overall and 1-1 in the WLAA.

Adam Weber added 13 for the Falcons.

Churchill, led by senior guard Shawn Woloszyn's game-high 20 points, drops to 0-6 overall and 0-2 in the WLAA. Woloszyn also had six rebounds, five assists and five steals.

Lamar Smith added 14 points and eight rebounds for the Chargers, while Kevin Renaud netted 10 and four assists.

The Chargers had two shots in the final four seconds to try to send the game into overtime. They also missed a pair of free throws with 1.6 seconds.

•WAYNE 58, FORDSON 45: Lorenzo Guess scored 20 points and Wayne Memorial got the rust out from its holiday break in knocking off host Dearborn Fordson.

The Zebras were playing their first game since Dec. 26 and had trouble finding the hoop Friday in the Tractors' smallish gym.

Wayne shot 10-for-25 in the first half, then managed to make fewer shots in more attempts in the second — going 9-for-28.

Finding the basket from the free throw line proved a little easier, though, as Wayne made 18-of-24 from the line. Fordson was 17-for-30.

Rodney Hurst added 10 points as the Zebras improved to 5-2 overall and 2-0 in the Michigan Mega Conference's Red Division. Fordson, which got 15 points from Nick Smith, is 0-2 in the Mega Red and 2-5 overall.

Wayne played some good defense right off the top to get out to a 15-8 lead, but Fordson sliced it to 24-20 at the half. The Zebras outscored the Tractors 13-9 in the third quarter and 21-16 in the fourth.

•REDFORD CC 71, DeLaSALLE 69: Redford Catholic Central remained unbeaten in the Central Division as 6-10 junior center Chris Young scored a game-high 26 points Friday to lead the Shamrocks past host Warren DeLaSalle.

Young, who scored eight in the first quarter and eight in the final period, helped CC improve to 4-2 overall and 3-0 in the Catholic League Central.

Joe Jonna, a junior guard, added 16 points, including four triples. Sophomore guard added 12 points, while senior sharpshooter Marc McDonald had 10.

Junior guard Kevin Whitton scored 22 from the Pilots, who rallied from a 38-22 halftime deficit. DeLaSalle (3-4, 1-2) outscored CC 47-33 in the second half, but fell one basket short.

•BETHESDA 63, HURON VALLEY 43: Gabe Wordell and Tom Gehart scored 24 and 22, respectively, leading Warren Bethesda Christian (3-3, 1-1) to the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference victory over host Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (0-6, 0-1) in a game played at Marshall Middle School.

Jason Bytner scored 13 and Jeremy Zahn added nine points for the Hawks, who couldn't overcome a 38-22 halftime deficit.

Earlier in the week in a game played at the Palace of Auburn Hills, Plymouth Christian Academy romped to a 73-43 victory as senior guard Chris DeRenzo had 14 points and junior guard Nick Brandon added 11 as 12 PCA players scored.

Eight of 11 Huron Valley players scored led by Zahn's 12.

The prep game was a prelim to the Pistons-Bucks game.

•LUTH. WESTLAND 62, CRANBROOK 48: On Wednesday, Lutheran High Westland (4-2, 3-1) struggled through three quarters before putting away host Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook (1-4, 0-4) in a Metro Conference matchup.

Junior forward Brad Woehle led the winners with 18 points, while junior guard Jake Hatten and senior forward Joe Pruchnik added 15 and 14, respectively.

Lutheran Westland, which outscored Cranbrook 26-18 in the decisive fourth quarter, attempted 28 free throws on the night and made 20.

Praveen Duggal led the Cranes, who pulled within two in the final period, with a team-high 15 points.

Ocelots lose 4 for season; Madonna lands a stud

BY C.J. RISAK
SPORTS EDITOR

It's become a rite of the new year — as January rolls around, basketball players on Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team roll out.

Some are academic casualties, others leave for other reasons.

Those who were on the Ocelot roster as the season began who aren't any longer are Scott Allen, a 6-foot-5 forward from University of Detroit Jesuit; Luther Buie, a 6-5 forward from Detroit Cooley; Stanley Cavin, a 6-3 guard from Dearborn Crestwood; and Kevin Melson, a 6-6 forward from Detroit Communication and Media Arts.

Neither coach Greg Thomas nor athletic director Ed Kavanaugh would indicate which players were lost due to academic troubles, but for more than a decade SC has suffered severely from players lost to grades after the first semester.

Thomas, in his first season as head coach, instituted a mandatory study table that players are required to attend. Although it wasn't a 100-percent success, it did help; the Ocelots weren't hit as hard as they have been in the past. Only one of the players lost was a starter.

But the roster casualties together with guard Pete Males (from Garden City) suffering a possible broken finger left the Ocelots seeking help — and they got it. Thomas picked up Eric Hall, a 5-9 guard from Livonia Franklin, and Ian Zajar, a 6-0 swingman from Garden City, to add depth to the roster.

Kavanaugh, who coaches the SC women's team, was also hit by academic woes, but not as hard. The Lady Ocelots will lose one player — which is good news for them, after their 11-3 start (2-0 in the Eastern Conference).

"I'm pretty pleased with where we are right now," said Kavanaugh. Still, some major conference challenges remain for SC; Kavanaugh figures St. Clair (whom the Ocelots played last Saturday), Mott and Henry Ford will all prove difficult hurdles.

Kavanaugh has not added any-one to his roster.

FOR MADONNA University's men's team, the semester break news was all good. The Fighting Crusaders picked up Narvin Russaw, a 6-5 freshman forward from Milan with strong rebounding skills.

Russaw was lacking the proper academic credentials to be eligible his first semester. His impact has been immediate: Madonna won the first two games he played in last week, with Russaw collecting a combined 25 points and 19 rebounds.

SC remains unbeaten in league

It's still early in the season, but you'd have to check the last time Schoolcraft College was atop the men's basketball standings in the Eastern Conference of the Michigan Community College Athletic Association.

Maybe the last time was 1983 when Carlos Briggs, who led the nation in scoring and went on to star at Baylor, paced the Ocelots to an Eastern Conference title.

Schoolcraft made it two straight in conference play Wednesday with a come-from-behind 76-73 homecourt victory over Delta.

The Ocelots, 5-9 overall, had five players score in double figures, led by Naron Burks' 14 points. Rudy Hatfield (Livonia Churchill), Tykie Reeves and Bruce Goode each added 12, while Tymon Marshall had 11.

Schoolcraft rallied from a 43-29 halftime deficit and overhauled Delta with eight minutes to play.

Delta's Mike Neely tallied a game-high 25 points. Steve Booker added 16 as Delta fell to 0-2 in the conference.

The Ocelots finished 0-2 earlier in the week on their Florida trip, but gained some valuable experience.

In the opener Jan. 4, Florida Community College of Jacksonville trimmed SC, 115-79, as 6-foot-8 Marquise Gainous scored 30 and Desmond Walker added 20.

MEN'S HOOP

Burks led Schoolcraft with 16 points, while Richard Johnson (Wayne Memorial) and Reeves each contributed 15. Dwaun Warmack added 11.

On Jan. 5, Schoolcraft lost to Daytona Beach CC, 93-79; Reeves had 28 points and Marshall scored 16.

It was a costly loss. Guard Pete Males (Garden City) suffered what appears to be a fractured finger.

MADONNA 73, UM-DEARBORN 62: Kristian Magro pumped in 22 points and Narvin Russaw added 19 Wednesday as Madonna University won its second straight against host University of Michigan-Dearborn.

The Crusaders are now 6-13 on the season. UM-Dearborn (3-15) got a team-high 16 points from Will Marcoux (Redford Catholic Central), 12 from Charles Johnson and 10 from Pat Hughes.

Madonna took control quickly in the game, building a 12-point lead by halftime. The Crusaders' front-line players — Magro, Russaw and Mike Maryanski (nine points) — combined to make 20-of-36 floor shots (55.6 percent) and totaled 26 rebounds, leading Madonna to a 42-32 edge on the boards.

Russaw, playing just his second game since becoming eligible, made 8-of-14 shots and grabbed a team-best 10 rebounds. Magro was 9-of-14 and pulled in nine boards, and Maryanski got seven rebounds, four assists and two blocked shots.

MADONNA 90, CONCORDIA 74: On Jan. 7, the 6-foot-7 Magro scored 25 points to lead Madonna University to a victory over visiting Concordia College.

Madonna was up 10 at the half, 44-34, and stretched its lead out to as much as 18 points, 58-40, before easing to the victory. Concordia is now 4-12.

Magro made 9-of-15 shots plus 7-of-11 free throws in leading Madonna. Christian Emert had 16 points and 12 assists while Brandon Slone also had 16 points.

Maryanski scored 14 and John-Mark Branch 10. Derrick Nelson scored 23 points and Aleks Selmanovic 20 for Concordia.

Madonna had a 60-35 edge in rebounding with Maryanski getting 16 and Magro 13.

Lady Ocelots rout Delta

There's nothing like a nice blowout to take the chill out of a nippy winter's night.

Which was how Schoolcraft College warmed up Wednesday night, breezing to a 77-55 victory over Delta College.

Alan Caver and Sheilah Coulter each scored 14 points to pace Schoolcraft to its 11th victory in 14 tries this season.

Julie Schmidt and Kristi Engel each contributed a dozen points to the Ocelots' cause while Christine Edwards scored 11.

Erica Kaweck paced Delta with 23 points and Christie Thomas added 10.

Schoolcraft held a 40-22 lead at halftime.

MADONNA 89 SPRING ARBOR 80 (OT): Dawn Pelc, Katie Cushman and strong defense were a nice overtime combination for Madonna University's women's basketball team.

Madonna blew a five-point lead in the final two minutes of regulation Wednesday night but recovered in overtime to edge Spring Arbor to improve to 7-9 on the season. The visiting Cougars fell to 6-9.

Penny Supiran hit three free throws with four seconds left in regulation to forge a 76-76 tie but the Lady Crusaders limited the Cougars to just a solitary three plus a free throw in the overtime.

Pelc broke a 79-79 tie with a basket with 3:15 left in the extra period, then Cushman made a shot. Mary Murray followed with a layup and Cushman sank a pair of free throws to put Madonna ahead, 87-79, with 1:26 left.

Meegan Zann led the Lady Crusaders with 17 points, Chris Dietrich had 16, Pelc and Murray 14 apiece and Cushman scored 13.

Supiran led the Cougars with 16 points.

Murray grabbed a team-high seven rebounds while Zann, Dietrich and Pelc combined for 15 assists.

The Lady Crusaders won despite being outshot 46 percent (29-of-63) to 39 percent (31-of-79). However Madonna made 10-of-29 three-point attempts while Spring Arbor had only 1-of-11.

Spring Arbor led by as much as six points three times in the first half but Madonna came back and was up by as much as 10 in the second.

Pelc's two free throws with 21 seconds remaining in regulation made it 76-73 but Supiran was fouled on an attempt to tie the game with a three-pointer and made all three shots to force the extra period.

Whalers' Esche chosen for OHL All-Star game

Goalie Robert Esche of the Detroit Whalers has been named the starter for the Jan. 21 Ontario

Hockey League Bell All-Star Cup at the Molson Centre in Barrie, Ont.

Esche, sixth-round pick of the Phoenix Coyotes last year, had a 3:43 goals-against average with two shutouts in 32 games for Detroit.

He also represented Team USA in the World Junior Championships earlier this season.

"We're very excited for Robert," Detroit Coach and General Manager Peter DeBoer said. "He has continually improved over the season and is one of the finest goalies in the league. We're very proud of him."

Players for the Bell Cup were selected by fans through the interactive Bell Three Star program during each game.

Legislature returns rights to bowlers

TEN PIN ALLEY

Al Harrison

The long wait is over.

Michigan bowlers have officially won the battle against the bureaucracy. Gov. John Engler signed Jaye Bill HB 6114 into law last Friday in a bowling setting at Continental Lanes in Roseville.

There were many interested parties present to witness the act, such as Scott Bennett, Don Williams and Eric Bogodin, officials from the local associations and the media who helped make it happen.

The bowling community owes a great big "thank you" to all who worked so hard to bring this about and to demonstrate how the democratic process is supposed to work.

It was not just to bring back the mystery games, but in all reality an act to correct a wrong. A special thanks is due from all league bowlers to Rep. David Jaye of the 32nd district in Macomb County, who wrote the bill and sent it to the State Legislature.

Also, a thanks is due all the state's other legislators who co-sponsored the bill, rushed it through at the eleventh hour, brought about nearly unanimous support in the final day of the legislative session and made sure that it was all finished in time, with final approval coming at the end of an all-night session.

With the full support and endorsement of Gov. Engler, we can legally have our "side games," which add a little more fun to league bowling.

GAMBLING and bowling have always gone together, most of it involving simple jackpots or mystery games. These have added another dimension to the sport, providing that option of putting up your money to win that little extra prize.

The game supposedly had its origins in Europe during the era of Martin Luther, and there have been hundreds of variations through the years and in many different lands.

John Berci of Livonia is an avid senior league bowler who recalls his days growing up in Canada where the popular games were 5-pin bowling and duck pins.

In both games a smaller ball is thrown, usually by palming it. The balls are about the size of a softball and weigh 2 1/2 pounds.

In 5-pin bowling, the shorter scabbier pins are rubber-banded for a little more bounce. A bowler is given three shots to make a spare; it's much more difficult to strike or spare.

Scoring is 15 points per frame, with a top possible score of 450. A score of over 100 is pretty good.

We get to see the Molson Tournament on Canadian TV at various times. This sport is still popular in Canada along with Duck-pin bowling.

In "Ducks," 10 pins are used. The ball is still smaller, and scoring is difficult because of the wide gaps between pins, which we don't have in our 10-pin game.

The Canadians run lots of "hot games" with Duck pins, and they have many variations like "Duck Pin Poker." Another variation is "Candlepins," which Berci has played while in the New England area, where it is popular.

Candlepins are two-feet tall. If you're good you might average 120 or so — nobody has ever rolled a 300 (perfect game).

They have some big money tournaments around the Boston area. John Berci recalls a day back in the '60s when the great Andy Varipapa was watching him practice and remarked that he would not be a good bowler.

Berci challenged Varipapa, and when he explained that they would have to go across the river and bowl Duckpins, the great one chickened out.

Berci finally did learn to be a pretty good 10-pin bowler.

It's Sunday.

This means no alarm clock clanging in your ear.

No grabbing a quick cup of coffee before fighting the freeway.

Sunday seems slower-paced for all of us, even if we don't have to dash out the door to work. It's a day to spend time doing what you want to do, not what you have to do.

Like discovering what's happening right where you live. And beginning Sunday February 2, you can do just that because we've moved our Monday papers to Sunday.

Your hometown newspaper will now be on your doorstep bright and early Sunday mornings.

It'll be filled with some familiar features, a few new ones and some that you've been used to seeing on Thursday. It'll be like sitting down and spending what they like to call "quality time" with the whole town. You'll be able to make a career change, find a new place to live, plan your leisure hours, check the sales, a whole lot more, without feeling pressed for time.

And here's another plus: on Monday morning, you'll be the one that starts the conversation with, "Did you read about..."

NBC is hoping viewers can handle The Naked Truth

By Jocelyn Beard
TVData Features Syndicate

Is there room on one network for two sitcoms that center around the wacky exploits of an attractive young journalist with a penchant for slapstick?

Programming executives at NBC apparently think there is, based on their decision to pick up ABC's floundering series The Naked Truth, which premieres Thursday, Jan. 16, in NBC's most coveted time slot: between Seinfeld and E.R.

With its tabloid magazine office setting and its gutsy-goofy heroine, Nora Wilde (Tea Leoni), The Naked Truth begs comparison with Suddenly Susan, the show it's replacing in the Thursday night lineup. Susan (Brooke Shields) is a novice staff writer at an upscale San Francisco-based magazine. Nora is a novice staff writer at a soon-to-be upscale New York-based magazine. Susan is surrounded by the usual assortment of oddball co-workers, as is Nora. Both are single. Neither has a love interest.

One may wonder if a handful of viewers might think that Shields has merely cut and dyed her locks and moved to New York City.

The Naked Truth has undergone significant changes since the move to NBC, including better Christmas gifts for its outspoken star.

"The people at ABC give awesome Christmas presents," Leoni says. "Especially the luggage. The luggage was great." But a moment later she wisely adds, "I got better luggage for Christmas from NBC."

To be fair, the Thursday time slot is as awesome a Christmas present as one can hope to receive, and Leoni knows it. "We couldn't be in a better slot," she says.

And what about the pressure that goes with being the new kid on the "Must See TV" block?

"What pressure? There's no pressure! What do you mean, pressure?" Leoni says. "Yeah, there's pressure. It's like, 'You better be funny. You better be deserving of this time slot.'"

Among the many changes made by NBC is the addition to the cast of George Wendt (Cheers) as the Comet's new owner and editor in chief, who has decreed that the once-sleazy tabloid will now only publish the truth.

A tabloid publishing the truth? Is such a thing possible?

"The idea that the Comet will go legitimate is great news," Leoni says. "For Nora, this is a dream come true."

And Leoni is quick to heap praise upon her new co-star. "If there was anything missing from the old show, it had to be George," she says. "What a sweet, sweet guy he is."

But NBC must have thought that a bit more than Wendt's character was missing, since it wasted no time in enlisting the writing and producing talents of Maya Forbes (The Larry Sanders Show) and Jay Daniel (Cybill) to ensure the show's success. Also on hand to help give the show some bite are producers Brad Grey and Bernie Brillstein (NewsRadio, The Larry Sanders Show).

One of the first changes made to Leoni's character was to turn her from a photographer into a writer.

"Nora never was a good photographer," Leoni admits.

So how will Nora fare as the writer of the magazine's advice column?

"Nora isn't as sane as Dear Abby," Leoni says, "so you can figure her advice will be a bit odd."

Other staff changes at the Comet include the demotion of boss Camilla Dane (Holland Taylor, Romancing the Stone, How to Make an American Quilt) to gossip columnist; the promotion of "stupid" Dave (comic Mark Roberts) to just plain "Dave"; and the advancement of the snappy-dressing T.J. (Darryl Sivad) to fashion editor.

Worries about pressure aside, it looks as though Leoni and company have their work cut out for them: The Naked Truth will have to shine brightly to stand out in a field of uncomfortably similar formulaic fare.

Will The Naked Truth flourish in the catbird seat? Probably. And with a little bit of luck and good ratings, Tea Leoni will be raking in those great NBC Christmas presents for years to come.

WEDNESDAY

Jennie Garth heads to the hills as Kelly Taylor, a young woman struggling with relationships and her parents while trying to make it in the real world, in Beverly Hills, 90210, airing Wednesday on Fox.
